SCORES KILLED, MILLIONS IN PROPERTY LOST, BY TERRIFIC STORMS

WORST WIND STORM IN YEARS CAUSED HEAVY LOCAL DAMAGE WIDE AREA IS SWEEPED BY GALE

Moving Picture Theatre Partly Demolished, Houses Unroofed, Fences and Billboards Blown Down and Streets Strewn With Shingles and Roofing—All Sections of the Province Cut Off From Telephone or Telegraphic Communication, and Heavy Damage Reported From All Parts of Ontario and Quebec—Middle, Western and Eastern States Visited by 80-Mile Gale and Damage Amounting to Several Million Dollars Caused—Hundreds of People Reported Dead—Crane Weighing Several Tons Carried Thru Air at Hamilton.

More than sixty persons are reported killed, and hundreds were injured, some mortally, by a storm of tornado intensity which raged over central, western, southern and parts of eastern states yesterday.

Definite advices have been received accounting for at least forty persons dead, with reports from points temporarily cut off from wire communication by the storm adding hourly to the list.

Reports from Alabama show the loss of life was heaviest in that state, the number of dead there being already definitely placed at twenty-eight, with additional fatalities reported, but not confirmed.

Accompanying the death lists are estimates of injured totaling more than 200, with additions coming in at brief intervals.

WIRE SERVICE DEMORALIZED.

Wires fell in all directions before the storm. Not in many years has there been such prostration of telegraph and telephone service. Chicago was cut off for hours from communication with points east.

The wind which whiped out so much property and cost so many lives attained a record velocity at some points. Detroit reported 88 miles an hour, the weather bureau high record in that city.

Cold weather is trailing the destructive blow. The storm seems to have spent its force, and to be taking the accustomed route of such disturbances out the St. Lawrence Valley.

Not for many years has Toronto, as well as all parts of Ontario and the United States been visited by such a wind storm as struck the country early yesterday morning and continued all day and well on into the night.

BAD IN THE UNITED STATES.

In the United States the storm was most severe. In Indiana a million dollars' damage was caused and several people were killed. In Michigan the damage also was estimated at about a million, and deaths are reported.

In Toronto extensive damage was done. A moving picture theatre in course of erection at the corner of Bloor and St. Clares was partly demolished, and at Kew Beach a new house was completely destroyed.

The wind blew gently in the morning, but towards noon it started to hustle along at 50 miles an hour. The final spurt in the last lap touched 60 and 65 miles an hour.

Official Report.

To state the case officially: "The high wind accompanied the rapid development and movement of the depression from the Mississippi Valley, passed over Ontario today and centered in Quebec last night. It is losing force as it goes."

Picture Theatre Wrecked.

The partial demolition of a three-story building at the corner of St. Clares avenue and Bloor street was caused by a terrific gust of wind.

House Demolished.

Getting the full force of the gale that roared in from the lake, a frame house on Kew Beach avenue was torn loose from its concrete foundations.

LIVES IMPERILED BY STORM IN HAMILTON

Huge Crane Weighing Several Tons Carried Thru Air, Section of Steel Roof Crashed Into Hotel Dining Room, Signs Lifted and Windows Smashed—Power Off.

HAMILTON, March 22.—(Special.)

Hamilton was visited yesterday afternoon by one of the worst wind storms experienced here in a great many years. Starting at noon, the high wind continued until late at night, doing damage all the time.

The power went off at noon, owing to wires being blown down, leaving the people without lights for the rest of the day and way on into the night.

Many people had narrow escapes from serious injuries in this way, and some were unluckily enough to be under a falling chimney or a volley of shingles or boards from some roof which came down without a moment's notice.

Many Narrow Escapes. Many people had narrow escapes from serious injuries in this way, and some were unluckily enough to be under a falling chimney or a volley of shingles or boards from some roof which came down without a moment's notice.

Detective Goodman and a young lady who were walking along King street to the Temple Theatre early in the afternoon, narrowly escaped being hit by a flying piece of steel roofing, which

TENDERS FOR HYDRO EXTENSIONS TO BE CALLED FOR AT ONCE

LONDON, Ont., March 21.—(Special.)—Announcement was made by Hon. Adam Beck this afternoon that the Hydro-Electric Commission will at once advertise for tenders for the construction of the transmission line from Dundas to Windsor.

FRENCH CABINET FORMED BY BARTHOU IN CYCLONIC STORMS

PARIS, March 21.—(Can. Press.)—Jean Barthou, who was requested by President Poincare to form a ministry to succeed that of Premier Briand, which resigned last Tuesday, this evening went to the Elysee Palace and submitted to the president the personnel of the new government.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 21.—(Can. Press.)—Probably fifty people are dead from the violence of the storm which last night raged in the Mississippi and Ohio valley states, sweeping northward to the great lakes.

Today's reports bear testimony as to the violence of the storm. Usually it was electrical and accompanied by high winds, which, at Louisville for a moment, reached a maximum of seventy-five miles an hour.

The office of under-secretary of the postoffice has been eliminated from the cabinet and a new under-secretaryship of mines created by the cabinet. This position will be taken by Deputy A. P. De Monzie.

WINDS WROUGHT TWO DROBLED HAVOC IN GUELPH NEAR BUFFALO

Destructive Swath Cut by Worst Storm in the History of the City.

GUELPH, March 21.—(Special.)—Damage running into thousands of dollars was done here today by the worst tornado in the history of Guelph. The rain came down in torrents all the forenoon, accompanied by a wild wind.

Reports are coming in from all parts of the city and out in the country of damage to property, and telephone and telegraph wires are down in the country, badling crippling the service.

In the city the damage will reach many thousands of dollars. In St. Patrick Ward, where a number of new buildings are in course of erection, the result of the storm is felt the most.

About fifty fishermen were fishing thru the ice on Lake Erie, off Buffalo breakwater, when the storm broke. The danger of the ice breaking up soon became apparent and all started for shore.

In the central or business portion of the city many electric signs have been blown down, windows blown in and other damage done. The big stained glass window in the front of Knox Presbyterian Church was completely blown to pieces, the fence surrounding the bowling green is down, trees are lying across the street, and all over the city flagpoles are down and havoc played generally.

BRUTE FORCE OR DISSOLUTION ONLY MEANS TO END DEADLOCK LAURIER MAKES VAGUE THREAT

Government Accused of Using "Extreme and Arbitrary Measures" to Force Naval Bill Thru, While Opposition Merely Insists on Freedom of Speech—No Mandate Given Borden by People.

OTTAWA, March 21.—(Can. Press.)—In the working of parliamentary institutions it has not infrequently happened that deadlocks have occurred between the government and the opposition. Experience has shown that there are only two methods of providing for a solution. One is the use of brute force and the other is an appeal to the people.

The above is the concluding sentence of a statement of the Liberal position on the naval debate, authorized by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the opposition, in reply to a manifesto issued by the government on Thursday last. Sir Wilfrid's announcement follows:

The present issue between the government and the opposition is clearly and easily defined. The government is asking for a contribution of thirty-five million dollars out of the Canadian treasury to the imperial navy, under the pretence of an emergency. The discussion has shown that such an emergency does not exist, and it would seem that this is the first of periodical permanent contributions.

The policy of the Liberal party is the same as it ever was: A Canadian navy built (as far as immediately possible) by the people.

LOVE IS GUILTY FLESHERTON, ONT., Saturday, March 22, 2 a.m.—(By Long Distance Telephone) —After three hours' deliberation the jury returned a verdict of guilty in the Love case at Owen Sound.

LAURIER'S STAND DISAPPOINTS LIBERALS Manifesto Doesn't Show Fighting Spirit Aggressive Supporters Would Like to Have Displayed—The Statement Seems to Point to Ultimate Surrender of Obstructionist Forces.

OTTAWA, March 21.—(Special.)—The Laurier manifesto, or the "authorized statement," as it has come to be called in up-to-date parlance, will come as a disappointment to the Liberal members of parliament and their supporters throughout the country who have been lining up for a big fight. In tone it is tepid, and when one reaches its close he is tempted to say, "O lame and impotent conclusion."

The manifesto concerns itself mainly with petty incidents and details of the parliamentary struggle up to date. Mr. Borden in his manifesto counted the columns of Hansard; Sir Wilfrid replies by counting the number of speeches in an assertion of Canadianism, but it is not linked up with the rhetorical references to the empire which usually adorn the utterances of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Signs of Surrender. Sir Wilfrid says the present deadlock can only be ended by brute force or an appeal to the country. Whether "brute force" he means merely the brutal majority of numbers or force-shadows violent resistance by the Liberal members of parliament is uncertain. His manifesto will be interpreted as a first sign of surrender. But it must be remembered that the ultimate decision of what the Liberal policy and program is to be will rest with the Liberal members and not with their titular chief.

Just why the manifesto was issued at all is a mystery.

CHATHAM SCHOOL BADLY WRECKED Big Chimney Crashed Thru Roof—Extensive Damage Thruout Kent County Reported.

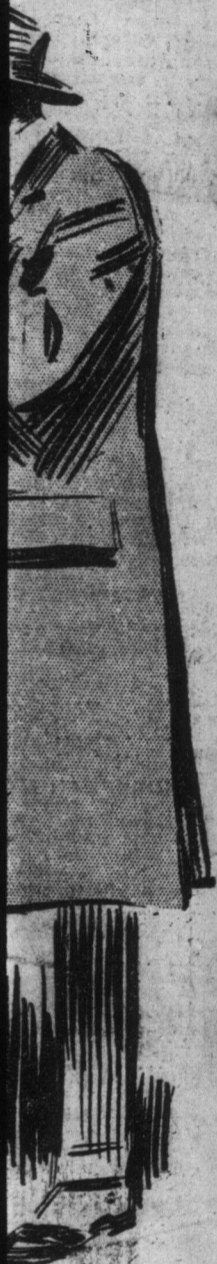

CHATHAM, March 21.—(Special.)—A terrific windstorm passed over this district today and thousands of dollars' worth of damage has been done. The wind has been blowing a hurricane all day. Trees have been blown down all over Kent County, roofs taken off, houses and public buildings damaged, fences blown down and other untold damage created.

The central school in Chatham was badly wrecked. A huge chimney was blown down, crashing thru the roof of a corner tower. The top of the tower was blown off and landed on the street. The chimney crashed thru the building and completely demolished a room on the third floor and was badly demolished on other parts of the building. Fortunately it was a school holiday, or otherwise many children would have been killed and injured. R. S. Dunlop, the janitor, was in the building at the time, but escaped.

It Pays to Have a Good Company in a Good Play. "Milestones" is a superb play, but in the hands of an inferior company would not have achieved the great success that it has with the splendid cast of English artists, now presenting it at the Princess. The engagement closes with two performances today, matinee and evening.

RAIN AGAIN FOR THE KELLEYITES

Leafs Forced to Do Another Day Indoors—Meyer Signs With Brooklyn—Notes.

"It never rains but it pours," is an old adage, and Manager Kelley can vouch for the truth of this old-time saying. Joe comes from Baltimore, where they get their share of wetness, but the weather handed out to Kelley and his luckless band in the south this year is a new experience for the Toronto leader.

Here is the latest from Macdonald, received last night, and it would make you weep: "Another of those torrential rainstorms peculiar to the south prevails here this morning. Outdoor work for the Leafs is out of the question, and the downpour will make the Macon Park and Mercer University field in worse condition than ever. It is doubtful whether the champions will be able to use their training camp diamond of the past two years at all before leaving Macon. Kelley will send his squad to the army for morning and afternoon work inside.

Benny Meyer, after making a statement late last fall that he was thru with baseball, has returned his signed contract to the Brooklyn Club.

Toronto sold the "Noisy One" to the Dodgers at the end of the playing season last year. Meyer was the classiest-looking all-round man in the International League last year and should make a name for himself in the big show.

DELLOW WINS ROAD RACE BY TWO FEET

ST. CATHARINES, March 21.—(Special)—The Martin road race, emblematic of the ten-mile championship of Ontario, had the most exciting finish this afternoon of the ten years that the annual event has been running. The yellow of St. Mary's captured first place from Stuart Allan of St. Catharines by a margin of but two feet, after Allan led for over nine miles. In the final mile the two fought it out in a succession of sprints. A terrific battle was going on at the time, which interested greatly with the time, which is considered extraordinary under the conditions. The runners finished in the following order (with time):

- 1. Dellow, St. Mary's..... 54.52 2-5
2. S. Allan, St. Catharines..... 54.52 2-5
3. J. Duffy, Hamilton..... 56.55
4. W. Allan, Hamilton..... 58.39
5. Attwater, Broadview, Tor..... 57.37
6. W. Hinman, Buffalo..... 58.10
7. Phillips, Hamilton..... 59.10

BASEBALL IN BERMUDA.
Chance's Highlanders took revenge from the Skeeters for the defeat in the first game at Hamilton, Bermuda, when the big leaguers were shut out by the Jersey City team by a score of 4 to 0. Main and Dosecher pitched for Jersey. The next day, something under the shut-out, the charges of Frank Chance tickled the Jersey City Club with an appetizing craved revenge and got it in the satisfactory proportions of a 4 to 1 victory. Good pitching by McConnell and Caldwell, especially the latter, overlastingly powerful speeding up in the base running and more concerted team work all went towards building the top heavy score.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 22, '13.

THE EUROPEAN SITUATION HAS CHANGED.

A mighty change has suddenly come to Europe: and Germany finds herself caught between wind and water in a most surprising way.

The Balkan war has made the Slavs masters of European Turkey—certainly masters of their own countries—and an immediate menace to Austria, the ally of Germany.

Russia is behind the Slav States—Roumania, Servia, Montenegro, Bulgaria, all allied with Greece.

Russia supplied officers, money, munitions for the late war. Austria has her own race problems: the extreme age of the emperor aggravates the situation.

Germany lent officers and strategy to the Turks, and the Turk is a lost cause. Germany got in wrong in that quarter.

France, with the best equipped army in Europe, is at this moment mope of a menace to Germany than Germany is to France. And France has stores of gold.

Germany thus finds herself in a few days without any assistance in sight from Austria, with Russia not well-disposed, France hostile, and England only recovering from a three-year German scare that has kept her on tenter-hooks and under an enormous expense to outbuild the German navy. And Germany is extremely hard up for gold, and is not able to borrow.

The selling of American securities, including C.F.R., was forced in order to meet her engagements maturing abroad. Hence the sudden war measure of an income tax, yielding a quarter of a billion of dollars, to strengthen her defences against Russia and the east and France to the south and west. The bankers will not lend her money for war.

There is no talk in Germany now of destroying the British fleet, of invading England.

A stupendous change has come over the situation. It may mean peace or it may mean a continental conflagration. But it will not be an invasion of England.

England is none the less forced to keep herself strong; but she is getting a breathing spell and she has a freer hand in settling the affairs of Southeastern Europe.

The illness of the Pope, the extreme age of the emperor of Austria, the assassination of the King of Greece are more personal incidents in a stirring situation. Socialistic unrest in many of the countries, party strife, materialist crises in others, money stringency in them all except Britain and France, are further factors in the make-up.

President Wilson, as we said yesterday, has wisely decided to keep clear of the situation in Asia, that centre in China; Mexico and Cuba and Central America are enough for Washington in these days of national and continental earthquakes.

Why should our Canadian politicians not find a way of avoiding political strife at home in times such as these? We want to develop our country and to get the money for that work from England if we can. We ought not to be getting, as we are getting, into undesirable limelight that Mexico now occupies!

POWER AT COST. When Hamilton was first quoted an estimated price on power by the Hydro-Electric Commission, the electric corporations and their friends declared that the figure was ridiculous and could not be sustained. Then they changed their tune, reduced their own rates, and declared that the hydro estimates were too high. The Hydro Commission, like Frier Rabbit, lay low. The Hamilton people, or rather the Hamilton Aldermen and councillors, were hard to convince, and for a time Hamilton held back from the hydro union. Every month of that delay meant money out of pocket to Hamilton. When the city finally did contract with the commission, the rates were found to be very favorable, while the city had already got the benefit of the 50 per cent. cut in rates from the private corporation as a result of the competition. And now the latest announcement is that Hamilton will have a 15 per cent. by next October. The hydro rates are constantly being lowered.

Aurora and Newmarket ought carefully to study the situation in Hamilton and Brantford and other places before trying themselves up to a private contract of which, as in Brantford, they will surely repent. The figures quoted by the hydro not only include power at cost, but provide for the payment of the transmission plant, which becomes the property of the towns; and as the consumption of power increases, the rates are lowered all along the line.

The corporation rates will never be lowered. The corporation will continue to own the plant. At the end of 30 years the municipalities would have paid thousands of dollars more than their neighbors; they would have nothing to show for their money; and they would be getting no reduction in prices.

A REFORM NEEDED IN STREET AND ROAD WORKS.

We must carry on our municipal works better than we've done in the past.

Take Wilton avenue bridge. That structure has been completed nearly two years, and yet hardly used because of the mud approach to its east end. The interest cost in this unused period of time took up over $70,000!

The inconvenience to the public bulks much larger. The loss in injury to vehicles that had to use the road was a lot. Surely it is possible to do better than that hereafter!

Next take the new pavement and street car track put down on Danforth avenue last fall. Our new works commissioner, Mr. Harris, had it in charge and once he got it under way he made a record. But he failed to keep a traffic gang on the job, to make the street more passable for the teams handling the material and for the public who had to get along the roadway in the meantime. A small gang of men with tools and gravel and on the job all the time would effect not only a saving in money to the city, but in inconvenience and loss of time to the public. Because of the rainy weather surface water pooled all along the line. It should have been run off. At the intersections of north and south streets better approaches should have been the constant care of such a gang. It costs a little money to let the traffic move alongside a great public work, but there are times when this must be done.

Nor can anyone give a reason for the ragged piece of roadway of a hundred yards that exists between the asphalt of the head of Broadway and the new pavement on Danforth or that existing between the old pavement and the new one on Gerrard street east.

Two men with tools and gravel and chinders always on the job could make the east approach to Wilton avenue bridge passable.

But this was only a patch to the slowly way in which the highways commission (good roads) provided for the farmers getting by their works when under way. The side of the road should have been plowed in places, graded, culverts temporarily bridged, water let off!

Another common error is failure in making provision ahead in the way of supplies and labor and wherever possible getting the material on the ground before work is started. Mr. Harris excelled in this respect on the Danforth job. The St. Clair pavement shows the lack of foresight on the part of Mr. Harris' predecessors in office.

Mr. James of the highways commission was up against the railways' failure to deliver broken stone and gravel last year, but we believe he will make, by reason of the experience of the past, a better showing this year.

Then here is another thing: wherever possible three shifts of men working continuously should be kept by the Toronto Railway Company when relaying rails and street blocks.

We are confident that Mr. Harris is about to inaugurate big improvements in the way of speed and public convenience in all these directions. Let the men in charge of other works follow his example.

SKY-SCRAPING.

If the city council thinks it has settled the skyscraper question by passing the bylaw making the limit of buildings in the commercial district 130 feet, then the aldermen are very much out of touch with public opinion. How long it will be before the bylaw is abrogated, as it has indeed already been on a number of occasions, depends on the weight and influence of the interests behind the next projected skyscraper. Toronto has set a precedent for building skyscrapers up to 250 feet in height, and as long as it is commercially profitable to erect such buildings, they will be put up. You can't "keep a good thing down."

Mr. Arthur Meighen, who is to address the Canadian Club today, on the navy question, is one of the most interesting speakers in the political is a thing of beauty and a joy forever. The man or woman in possession of two perfect feet is very fortunate, but due to the modern methods of living most of us are bothered and tormented with aching feet, weak ankles and flat foot, all of which tend to make the feet not only painful but ugly and more or less deformed.

The Philosopher of Folly

By Sherwood Hart. THE MILLINERS' STORES.

How it unsettles the masculine mind looking in milliners' stores when this time round the window we find ladies by dozens and scores! There in the windows are wonderful hats fresh from New York and Paris—melons and punk uns and turn-ups and flats—many strange bonnets we see. Yet they are nothing but ribbons and lace, fixings and feathers and flowers. Why do they bring such a look to each face? What are their magical powers? Fanciful fidgets of trimmings and straw—how can they do us a harm? Oft in our busines munter, "Oh, pshaw! Why should we show our alarm?" Yet when we meet with this innocent slight, often we'll turn and retreat—breaking all records for speed in our flight, heading we'll dash down the street. There is a something we cannot explain—spite of how people will talk—rather than enter we'll stand in the rain, feeling six kinds of a gawk. Nothing could force us to enter the stores where the new hats are displayed; sadly we stand at the milliners' doors watching them ply their trade. Inside they're showing the newest spring fashions and bulging and bulging Turkoman yellows and and torma blues; outside we stand in the storm. There at the milliner's window we stand, nervously clenching a bill in our hand, groaning and tearing our hair. Inside they're talking of whereof and tones, while outside we're sobbing and heaving huge sighs, saying goodbye to our bones—bidding farewell to our dough. Oh, it is a nervous scene, filling our bosoms with woe.

THE NORTH SEA SCARE HERE.

Editor World: How many are we that the fact that there are near a quarter of a million trained men, military and naval, right here on the spot and if the first lines of defence were broken, British fleet defeated, what would we do? Some may say or think hot air, but say, search any block, especially near the border there you may find the means. Again, what about arms or munitions? Why look in the double bottoms of any of their first-class liners and you will find all they need. The crews that man these first-class liners are all naval reserve men. Why the opportunity may present itself any day to send them to sea with arms and ammunition going to be conveyed to them? How did Oom Paul get his? With all due respect to O. Paul, it's too late to send him wireless to congratulate.

YONGE ST. WIDENING.

Editor World: The widening of Yonge street from Bloor street north will prove to be one of the best strokes of municipal enterprise that have been undertaken in a decade. It only needs to be supplemented by the extension of Victoria street to Bloor to secure for the citizens what is a very necessary and to a widened Yonge street from end to end.

Yonge and Victoria streets being not more than twice the width of Spadina avenue apart, a single line of cars could pass down one street and up the other without serious inconvenience to passengers, thus increasing the capacity of both streets for carriage traffic and making it much safer for pedestrian traffic.

A diversion from the line of Victoria street, at Charles street, by a short diagonal to the corner of Bloor and Yonge would almost imperceptibly merge the two streets into one at that point and prevent the congestion incidental to right angled intersections.

If the owners of property along the line of the proposed extension are alive to their true interests, they will not attempt to extort high prices from the city, but will instead get enthusiastically about it and co-operate with Yonge and Victoria owners to bring about an improvement which will not only increase the value of their holdings, but will be of lasting benefit to the entire city.

NEW BUSINESS BOOK

The World, in connection with a syndicate of publishers in other cities, has issued a new business book for Ontario. The original books by Seymour Eaton. The original books by this author were well received by the business public as a very necessary adjunct to their business literature. The new book is a concise synopsis of business methods, which is equivalent to the successful business man of today. This edition of "100 Lessons in Business" will be obtainable for a short time at a very necessary convenience in all these directions. Let the men in charge of other works follow his example.

BRASS WAS STOLEN YOUNG MAN CHARGED

Five Hundred Pounds of Metal Was Found in Joseph Evans' Room.

Joseph Evans, a young man employed at the Toronto Electric Light Co.'s station on Scott street, was arrested yesterday on the charge of stealing a quantity of brass from his employers.

Evans was on the way home to his boarding house on Duchess street at noon, when the arrest was made. Detectives Armstrong, Miller and Strome had followed him from the power station and on examining him after the arrest it was found that he had about 50 pounds of brass castings hidden in his pockets. A search of his room followed, and about 500 pounds of brass was recovered. Evans had been spotted by a private detective for some time previously. It is stated that he was trying to sell the brass and had arranged for a trip to the old country.

SALVATION ARMY HELD SERVICES

Grand Review and Parade Before Massey Hall Celebration.

CHRIST AND THE CROSS

Impressive Music Harmonized With the Spirit of the Day.

The Salvation Army celebrated Good Friday in the militant and picturesque manner which is characteristic of their active and zealous spirit. Fifteen hundred members of the city corps of the army marched upon the review ground at the Armories at ten o'clock yesterday morning, and drew up in military precision in company formation, with flags flying and bands playing. There were ten bands, with 250 bandmen.

Commissioner Rees, head of the Salvation Army in Canada, reviewed the assembled contingents, who marched past in martial order, headed by their bands, giving the military salute as they passed the saluting point.

Afterwards the column marched along a short street to Yonge, up Yonge to Wilton avenue, along Wilton to Victoria, and along Victoria to Massey Hall.

Every seat in Massey Hall was filled. An illustrated service, appropriate to Good Friday, entitled "Christ and the Cross," was a part of an extensive program, in which the territorial staff and the male choir, the Echo Choir, which consists of 30 young women from the training college, the massed bands and other musical organizations of the city corps took part. Commissioner Rees led the service, assisted by Colonel Rees, Colonel Maidment and the headquarters staff. The massed bands played for twenty minutes before the opening of the service. After the opening prayer the commissioner addressed the audience for fifteen minutes from the text. "He saved others, himself he could not save." The pictures followed, and were much enjoyed by the 3500 people present.

"Jesus keep me near the cross" "Come into me" were given by Mrs. Ensign Hanagan and Ensign Marsden. Other vocal music was a part of the entertainment, and the whole of the service harmonized with the spirit of the day.

On Easter Sunday Commissioner Rees and others will address a meeting at 3 p. m. in Massey Hall, musical service, at which the massed bands and a children's choir will render Easter music.

Women's health depends on the kidneys. If the kidneys are not right the result is weakness and weariness and a burden of pain almost too great to bear. But when Dodd's Kidney Pills make the kidneys right the result is that all poisons are strained out of the blood, the seeds of disease are removed and the purified blood carries new health and vigor to all parts of the body.

Almost any bright, healthy woman can tell you why Dodd's Kidney Pills are known as women's best friend.

Told of a Recent British Trip in North Toronto Church.

The Rev. Dr. W. F. Wilson delighted a large audience at the Edlington Methodist Church last night with an interesting talk on "The British Isles and the Continent." Dr. Wilson is an Irishman, and he handled his subject with characteristic wit and humor. He dealt kindly with the Scotch, however, and had many nice things to say about the "beans and lochs" and "heather." In concluding he gave a vivid description of Napoleon's tomb in Paris, where the flags of conquered nations drape the walls. "There was no Union Jack there," he said. "Britannia might leave her blood on the battlefield, but not her flag."

Couldn't Breathe Through His Nose Stuffed With Catarrh

Catarrhozone Inhaler the One Means of Relief, and it Cured Quickly.

The extraordinary efficacy of Catarrhozone is without a parallel. A sneezing cold is cured in ten minutes, a harsh cough is eased in an hour, the most offensive catarrh is thoroughly drawn from the system. In case of asthma and bronchitis the relief and certain cure that comes from the healing balsamic extracts in Catarrhozone is simply wonderful.

"For more than twenty years I suffered with a cough, bronchitis, asthma, and nasal catarrh," writes J. F. Fenwick of Staunton P. O. "Every attack I had seemed to grow worse and I could hardly breathe on account of an accumulation of phlegm in the nose and throat. One day I tried Catarrhozone and in ten minutes was wonderfully relieved. I could breathe freely and naturally through the nose, and blood spitting was stopped—the phlegm was cleared away and my regular breathing restored. No remedy can do more than 'Catarrhozone.' There is no remedy so certain and safe as Catarrhozone, but being a good remedy it is limited. Beware of the substituter. Large Catarrhozone lasts two months, price $1.00. Smaller sizes 25c and 50c. At all stores, druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Some Mysteries of the Nervous System Explained

THERE are two sets of nerves in the human body—those which have to do with external objects, and control seeing, hearing, feeling, moving, etc., and the involuntary nerves, which control the action of the vital organs, as the heart, lungs, stomach and bowels.

Illustration No. 1 shows how at sight of an apple the message is carried by the optical nerve to the brain, which receives, thinks and decides on some form of action, and sends out its command through the nerves which lead to the hand.

Simple as it may seem to see and pick up an apple, this act cannot be carried out if there is anything wrong with any of the nerves involved.

Injury to or weakness of the optical nerve means defective sight; disease of the brain or nerves may mean paralysis of the nerves which control the movement of the arms or fingers.

The brain is the source of all nervous energy, for here it is that blood is converted into nerve force, and for this purpose fully one-fifth of all the blood in the human body is consumed. This explains the necessity of looking to the condition of the blood at the first sign of nervous trouble, and shows how it is that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great blood-builder, is so remarkably successful in curing diseases of the nerves.

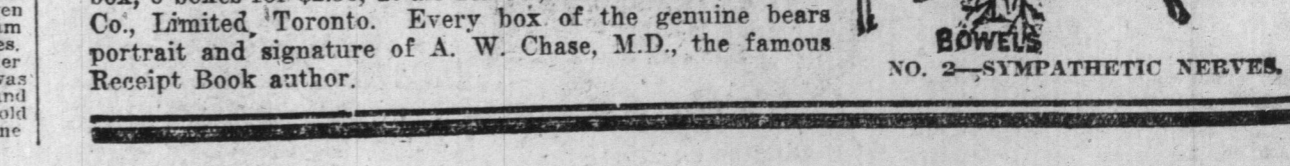

Now, when we turn to the great sympathetic nervous system, Illustration No. 2, by which are operated the vital organs of the body, we find conditions somewhat different. For who, by taking thought, can cause his heart to beat or his stomach to digest food?

To be more definite, consider the stomach, which is a regular network of nerves. Some of these report to the brain sensations of hunger, others keep up the peculiar churning motion, and again others control the flow of the all-essential gastric juices by which digestion is brought about.

From this you can readily understand that when nerve force is consumed by excessive mental strain, worry, intense emotion or disease, the supply to the stomach becomes limited, and nervous indigestion is the result, and similarly other organs are deranged and weakened when the nervous system becomes exhausted.

cures nervous exhaustion and resulting derangements by supplying to the brain an abundance of pure, rich blood, the material from which alone nerve force can be manufactured. Because exhaustion of the nerves leads slowly and surely to locomotor ataxia, paralysis, and even insanity, it is most important that effective treatment, such as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, be employed just as soon as warning symptoms appear. IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Your prospects will be improved by a little more attention to the changing standards of modern times and a careful study of details which are now left to others. A journey or change is in store for you which promises good fortune.

Those born today will be too fond of frivolity to give serious attention to anything worth while. This tendency should be allowed to run itself out early in life, for too much restraint will only strengthen it. Shallowness is well understood if seen from the inside and explained without harshness by those who are not shallow.

More Than Three Thousand From Toronto, Montreal and Elsewhere.

NEW YORK, March 21.—(Can. Press.)—Twelve special trains from Montreal last night and today brought over three thousand Canadians to New York for an Easter pilgrimage. It is a record, over a thousand more than last year.

Most of the visitors explain their coming as due to "just plain spring fever." Said one: "New York is becoming to Montreal and Ottawa what Simla is to India."

A canvass of a number of the prominent churches shows that Easter floral displays are to be greater than ever. At least a dozen of the churches will spend from $500 to $1000 on flowers. It is estimated, incidentally, that $2,250,000 worth of lilies and bulbs are imported into this country annually.

NURSES GETTING MORE

Three Years Since Increase in Salary Was Granted to Women.

It ever it were clearly demonstrated that women stand in need of votes, it was, at the special meeting of the Toronto board of education, held last Friday, to determine the new salary schedules for this year, says Industrial Banner.

Fancy bits from college, starting in at the maximum salary of $1,000 a year, and the best of the best, capable women giving the best years of their life to the community, and at the end receiving only the wages of a domestic servant, who has never taught a year in his life! No need to ask whether these things are just or even honest. They speak for themselves. Time women had votes.

Equal pay for equal work. Let that be the slogan of women teachers. School boards composed of men are everywhere discriminating against women—not because they are women, but because they are an unfranchised class, and therefore a class without power and without influence. In Toronto a man assistant and a woman assistant do the same work of the same grade, side by side; yet in their salaries just double the wages of the woman. Why? Because disfranchisement means always degradation, and a degraded class will not stand without a degraded sort of absolute cruelty, that their masters choose to put upon them. Time women had votes.

Wind Blew in Detroit at Eighty-Six Miles an Hour.

DETROIT, March 21.—(Can. Press.)—A terrific windstorm, at times reaching a velocity of 86 miles an hour, the highest point ever recorded in this city during any five minute period in the history of the local weather bureau, swept Detroit and practically all of Michigan today, leaving death and great property damage in its wake. It is estimated that the property damage would reach nearly a million dollars.

In many sections miles of telegraph and telephone poles were down. The police and public utility companies in Detroit said this afternoon that the storm was the most severe and destructive of any that have visited the city in years. The wind struck the city about 3 o'clock this morning. By noon every policeman on the local force had been ordered on duty until further notice, and every precaution was being taken to prevent possible loss of life.

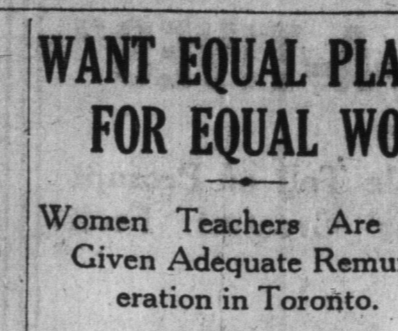

The streets downtown were swept with cyclonic force. Women were thrown to the street, buildings unroofed and all frail structures practically demolished. It was flying debris that injured most of the persons who were taken to hospital.

DEBRIS PILED STREETS

Indianapolis Was Like Besieged City—All Wire Services Crippled.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 21.—(Can. Press.)—A storm of tornado and property damage, which swept Indiana early today, did damage estimated at a million dollars. Late reports from over the state increased the damage, but the total list remained at two million dollars.

The dead are: Omar A. Veech, cab driver at Frankfort, crushed by a falling roof, and Henry Walters, Lafayette, killed by a falling sign. Walters was on an errand for his sick wife when killed.

Among the more seriously injured are: Eva Miller, Terre Haute, struck on the head by a falling brick while asleep in bed; Mrs. M. Clark, Indianapolis, who was internally when an outbuilding fell on her; and Bettie Hill, a negro, Indianapolis, skull fractured.

Several others here and in various parts of the state were slightly injured and many had narrow escapes. The wire service of the state was entirely without communication. Trees were blown across trolley wires, delaying interurban lines.

DAMAGE IS SEVERE AROUND INGERSOLL

INGERSOLL, March 21.—(Can. Press.)—Reports from every direction tell of damage from the high wind that prevailed for several hours today. At times the wind attained cyclonic proportions, and although details from the outlying districts are very meagre, owing to wire interruptions, it is believed that several barns have been blown down and much damage caused to other property. Windmills were an easy prey, and many of them have been levelled. Through the town considerable damage has resulted, but at the present time the extent cannot be estimated. Many buildings have suffered to some extent, and a number of trees have been blown down. The damage in the rural districts will likely be very heavy.

EXCITING STORY OF LOVE AND WAR

"Sally Castleton, Southerner," Depicts Life in Virginia in 1864.

SISTER'S MAD STRUGGLE

One Wanted to Shoot the Other to Save Her Lover.

Lippincott's have just published a good story called "Sally Castleton, Southerner," which depicts life in Virginia in 1864, when the regiments of the north and south were encamped in the valley of the Shenandoah. It was summer. The fields were waving with grain; trees were fruit-laden. In a cove of level land in the Rockfish Valley, rich and deep with loam washed from adjacent tree-clad heights, lay the farm of General Castleton. The farm house stood in the center of the cove, roses trailed over the lattice verandas, and jasmine dropped its purple blossoms across the windows. The broad lawn fenced about the house and there with tall cherry trees, on which masses of crimson fruit shone like live coals. Farther back were the barns and stables, the orchard and the negro cabins. Before the house ran the cove, winding down the face of the ridge, following a lazy, limp, rippling creek that flowed beneath overhanging foliage. Around the house were rich fields with ever-renewing freshness of the spring and summer. The wind rushed thru the emerald roofs of young oats and stretches of corn. It was thus that, according to Crittenden Marrott, the Northern army marching on Richmond, found the farm of General Castleton. The place at that time was forsaken but for Uncle Glabam, the old darkey servant, and Genie and Sally Castleton. Up the slope the road lay like a whip-lash, brown and curling, slipping behind trees or rocky point, only to emerge again and again, at last it vanished close to the summit. Well up this road, a horse and rider were plunging headlong downward. Now and then a splash of mud flung into the sun, giving token that the rider was a soldier. His uniform looked gray, but it might have been mud-stained blue. As he drew nearer, they saw that the rider was not sitting upright, but was bowed over his saddle, clinging to the horse's mane. The horse plunged, reeling from side to side. The three ran to meet him. The horse stumbled; horse and rider went down together in a crumpled heap. The rider was Philip Byrd, lover of Genie Castleton, and he bore a message to General Lee who was encamped across the Blue Ridge. The Yankees were sweeping up the Shenandoah behind that blue barrier. The woods that fringed the Devil's Knob, seemed to lift like a curtain from beneath long lines of horsemen came rushing. Battery flashed into view, gun after gun, muzzles depressed, cannon clanging like files to the ladders. Across the lower hills, men and horses came in heavy columns. The shining carbines and bayonets of the men and the trappings of the horses caught the sunlight and flashed it broadcast in myriad prickles of fire. Flugs of red, white and blue flapped in the wind.

"RANCHING FOR SYLVIA" IS FULL OF ADVENTURE

Harold Blinliss Has Written a Stirring Tale of Western Canada.

"Ranching for Sylvia" by Harold Blinliss, is an exciting story of adventure, which, like many others by the same author, begins in England and ends in Canada. George Lansing, a young Englishman, comes out to the northwest to manage a farm for his cousin, Mrs. Sylvia Marston, recently widowed. His ranch life is enlivened by encounters with cattle rustlers and liquor-runners. Having lived for many years in the West, Blinliss portrays very faithfully conditions which existed there decades or so ago. This story, as all others from the same pen, has the merit of being written in a simple, direct and entertaining style. It is published by McLeod & Allen.

A CHILD'S LOVE AND ITS EFFECT

Lead to Marriage of Boy's Father and "The Parasite."

A WELL WRITTEN STORY

Helen R. Martin Chose Clever Theme For Her Latest Book.

"The Parasite," by Helen Reimensnyder Martin, published by the J. B. Lippincott Company, is now on sale at the leading book stores. It deals with the unhappy married life of Judge Randall, a handsome, clever man of good social position. After two years of happy married life a divorce is obtained, the two separate. There is a boy who is much loved by both parents. The father retains the child, and the mother, who is particularly fond of him, goes to live with a young man, who makes prolonged visits with her relatives, and is getting her living out of the room she occupies in a hotel. A more recent or an unexpected arrival, at the time of the story this young lady, Joan Latre by name, is visiting at the home of Mrs. Randall, a sister of Judge Randall, where the little boy is also staying. The Parasite is not a favorite with either parent, but she is getting her living out of her more wealthy friends without better her own circumstances. Strange to say, the child becomes passionately fond of her in fact, one day she manages him. The father has become a woman hater, and this one woman he particularly hates. One day, however, when strolling thru the grounds of his sister's country house, he suddenly comes upon Joan and the child, and he hears their conversation. Hears the child's declarations of love and devotion for his older companion—hears his queries as to his own mother and why she will not be his mother, so that the father and boy may live happily together. And it is this that starts the man thinking that perhaps he does not dislike this particular woman quite as much as he thought. The story ends by the divorced wife dying of a cancerous tumor, and the child becoming the wife of Judge Randall. A. Van B.

BOOK NOTES

Henry James' new book, "A Small Boy and Others" (Scribner's), has just appeared. It is an autobiographical account of his own childhood, largely in New York, and originated in Mr. James' intention to bring together some particulars of the early life of his brother, William James. In recalling these "aspects began to multiply and images to swarm" in his memory; "to knock at the door of the past, was, in a word, to see it open to the quite wide—to see the world within begin to 'compose' with a grace of its own round the primary figure, see it people itself vividly and insistently. Such then is the circle of my commemoration, and so much these free and capacious notes which so loved and loyal. We are labor of the soul, the best group of us, such a picture of differences, and which so loved and united and interlocked, that each of us, to that fond fancy, pleads for commemoration."

"Frank Danby's 'Concert Pitch' is reprinting. In view of this one recalls with some amusement the statement which Mrs. Frank made a year or two ago that she positively would write no more fiction."

Harper & Brothers announce the publication of three new books: "The Wings of Bird" by Louise Kennedy Mabee; "Scientific Auction Brides," by E. V. Shepard, and "Motor-Boating for Boys," by Charles G. Davis.

At a recent meeting of the trustees of the Century Company, William W. Ellsworth was elected president, to succeed the late Frank H. Scott, who died on November 25, 1912, after having held that office for some 20 years. Ira H. Brainerd was elected president; Douglas S. Doty, secretary; Josiah J. Hazen, assistant treasurer. Donald Scott continues treasurer of the company. George Innes, jr., was elected a trustee to serve with Mr. Ellsworth and Mr. Brainerd in the reorganization in 1911, when the company changed its name from Scribner & Company to the Century Company, with the founder, Adolph Smith, as president. Mr. Ellsworth was made secretary, and held that post for 32 years. He was made vice-president in 1911. Mr. Innes, the well known artist, is son-in-law of the founder of the company.

ROMANTIC STORY OF LOUIS' REIGN

The Justice of the King Covers Exciting Period in France.

HELPED BY A WOMAN

Friend and Protector of Young Dauphin Plays Important Part.

Those who like history served up in a picturesque and romantic setting, will find much to their taste in "The Justice of the King," a story of the times and intrigues of the great Louis of France, by Hamilton Drummond. The incidents of the plot cover a period of two weeks towards the close of the life of the king, and they grow out of the suspicions of the monarch, who, old, weak and moribund, can be scarcely said to trust any, and suspects the majority with an intensity that stretches out even to his own son, the Dauphin Charles, a lad of twelve years. About this distrust and its results the author has skillfully woven a romance, the interest of which is sustained thruout and reaches its climax only in the very last pages of the book.

The young Charles is brought up apart from his royal father at Amboise, in surroundings so plain, dull and rigid, that there is little to develop a child of nature in the boy, who is afterwards to govern France. He knows he is neglected, and he has no love for the parent to whom, no child as he is, he knows, his neglect is due. The king, on the other hand, has become so impregnated with ambition and love for France that everything else, even parental affection, has become subservient to these master passions, and he but a living brain in a heartless body, the thought of having a successor is so great a terror that it invades every cell of his mind, and under the impression, feigned or actually believed, that the dauphin and friends are plotting against his life, Louis devises a counter plot, the carrying out of which furnishes the episodes of the romance.

Monsieur La Mothe, a youth of 24 years, is the instrument selected to perform the mission of the king. His instruction, however, is so obscure and involved in mystery, that he starts on his errand with but a vague idea of details, only knowing that he has pledged himself body and soul, to serve his royal master. Unconsciously, he carries with him, however, the spirit of his own nature, which, which, if it had reached its intended destination, would have deprived the little Charles of life; but not only that, but he has a noble Molebrals, who was dead a short time previously, according to "The Justice of the King." This justice was the sort that held out royal gibbets, to public view, making them instruments which did not refuse as victims even the child of tender years.

La Mothe, who has not yet become hardened by the atmosphere in which he lives, commenting on one of these hangings, says: "One of today's couple is a boy of twelve. Twelve years of life, twelve years of pinched stomach, and the justice of the king to end it all." The justice of the king is a woman, gathered nettles for the pot from the river bank? The archers shouted, "Starved soul, and gathered on, bent to all-ours, like a beast. Then they shot her—like a beast. Down she went between his thin lips, his dull eyes, he believes side with that son against himself."

A woman's help. In the days of Louis the women of France were no unimportant factors in the affairs of state, and the one who comes into the story is Mademoiselle de Vesse, the friend and protector of the young dauphin, who resides with him at Amboise, and believes that no good can come out of Valmy, the home of Louis. In pursuit of his mission, La Mothe meets Mademoiselle de Vesse, and the first she suspects his intentions towards her young charge, the circumstances which lead to La Mothe saving Charles from the hands of his enemies in the contrary direction, and she responds to the affection of the youthful courtier, who from the first had been deeply enamored by the charms of his beautiful young countrywoman. The strength of the story lies in its wealth of graphic detail, which furnishes word pictures that bring men and things before the reader with the freshness and vitality of life itself.

Here is a picture of the king, "Louis sat back in his chair as he spoke his blotted gums showing in a grin behind his thin lips, his dull eyes half veiled by the drooping of the leaden-lidded lids. More than ever he was a mask of death, but of a death that possessed a grim humor, malevolent in its satirical cynicism. The justice of the king! Who should know that justice so well as Commines, its minister for almost a dozen years, or who so testify to its stern implacability? None escaped the rigid iron of its almost royal blood saved neither the Duke of Nemours nor the Count of Armagnac. Saint-Pol, constable of France, perished throughout the world in the fourth international congress on school hygiene, which will be held in Buffalo, in August. It is expected that about 2,000 foreign delegates will attend, representing all of the countries of the world, with at least 5,000 of the best known scientists and educators from Canada, the United States, Mexico, and South America.

ada and also in every country in the world, so that it is expected that the forthcoming gathering will be the most successful ever held.

First Time Here. This is the first time the western hemisphere. The first congress on school hygiene was held in New York in 1904. Three years later the second was held in London, and the last congress was held in Paris in 1910, under the patronage of the French minister of public instruction. The objects of the congress are to bring together men and women engaged in health of school children, to organize a program of papers and discussions covering the field of school hygiene; to assemble a scientific exhibit representing the best that is being done in school hygiene, and to secure a commercial exhibit of practical and educational value to school people. Dr. Helen MacMurchy of Toronto is a member of the permanent international organizing committee of the congress.

How We Develop Property

Hundreds of brick houses—miles of sidewalks and improvements—the results of our method of developing every survey we sell.

Contrast ours with any of the surveys put on the market by others in the past few years, and which are as barren now as the day they were first opened up.

We are owners—not agents. We not only sell—we develop. We have done more to build up the east end of Toronto than all the other realty companies in the city combined.

As examples of McEachren development and consequent increase in property values, we might mention the following—a few only of the surveys we have developed:

- Danforth Survey, opened in Fall of 1911 at $17 a foot. It is now selling at $35. Built up with 3000 houses.
- Eastmount Park, opened up in Fall of 1911 at $19 a foot. Now sells at $40 and $45. All built up with 3000 houses.
- Strathcona Estate, opened in Spring of 1911 at $18. It is all built up, and cannot be bought.
- Wineva, Hambly and Lee Avenues, opened in 1910 at $15 a foot. Today it is worth $60 to $75. All built up, and very few lots to be had.
- In 1911 we sold 20,000 feet of land at $340,000. This is now worth $800,000.
- In 1912 we sold two subdivisions—25,000 feet, for $700,000. This property is now worth a million dollars.

RABBITS WOULD CUT LIVING COST

Municipal Rabbit Farm Will Be Established in a German Town.

Special Cable to The World. STUTTGART, Germany, March 21. (Copyrighted)—A municipal rabbit is or was—being considered by the Stuttgart city council as a solution of the high cost of living problem. As is well known, rabbits multiply almost as rapidly as mosquitoes, and when the proposition to cut out expensive beef and pork, in favor of rabbit, was considered, the council discussed the scheme with enthusiasm. Then up rose one of the members of the council, a former deputy in the imperial parliament, with the knock-out statement that rabbits frequently crossed with rats.

The council was in an uproar at once, and the rabbit farm project was voted down amid a chorus of howls.

Now comes the member who raised the muss with a statement that he was totally misinformed on the subject of rats. He produces a letter from a naturalist, who declares the rat story is a Munchausen fable.

So there is still a chance for a Stuttgart municipal rabbit farm.

Forest Hill Railway Charter Approved

ELMWOOD

On March 18th, the Railway Committee of the Ontario Legislature passed the bill to incorporate the Forest Hill Electric Railway. This means that the construction of this important line along Forest Hill Road and up Bathurst Street right past and on to a point two miles north of Eglinton Avenue will be proceeded with at once. In fact, the bill demands an expenditure of $50,000 within a year, or the forfeiture of the charter. The promoters say that they will have the whole line, which will cost about $250,000, completed within two years.

Nature has made Bathurst Street North very beautiful. It only requires street car service to make it one of the most desirable of residential sections. And, with that now an assured fact, building in this district should proceed on an extensive scale, and real estate values advance rapidly.

Many have already seen which way the wind is blowing, and have bought in ELMWOOD, which, at today's prices, is, we are sure, the best buy in this district. Selling by the lot at about the same price per foot as others are paying for acreage in surrounding properties.

EVERYBODY IS GETTING INTERESTED IN OSHAWA

It is amazing how much inquiry has recently sprung up regarding Oshawa. The people of Toronto are certainly alert, and up-to-date, for Oshawa has only just begun the big growth that is ahead of it, and Toronto people realize that Oshawa is pregnant with opportunities for investment in well-selected lots. Hillcrest subdivision is the best proposition there to-day, price and location being considered. Read these facts about Oshawa, and decide for yourself whether you ought not to invest AT THE BOTTOM PRICES.

FACTS FOR INVESTORS

Oshawa One of the Most Active Industrial Centres in Canada.

Actual conditions in Oshawa go to show that buying well-situated vacant lots in that liveliest, fastest growing and most substantial of the smaller cities is a first-class investment. Oshawa is alive. You cannot go into it without feeling the thrill of the active enterprise which distinguishes it. The great factories, with their thousands of employees, the railroads, and their competition for Oshawa's traffic, and the sidings into every factory, and the promise of an individual siding for every future factory which locates in Oshawa, are a tremendous drawing power for new industries, and they are going in, too. Several new ones have already expressed their intention of locating in Oshawa.

ESTABLISHED INDUSTRIES

The McLaughlin Carriage Company, 800 employees; Ontario Malleable Iron Company, 300; Fittings Limited, 400; S. Williams Piano Company, 300; The Pedlar People, 250; Robson Leather Company, 250. Other industries are: Oshawa Canning Company, producing 75,000 cases annually; T. Eaton Company, shirtwaist factory; Brick's Limited, Canada Malleable Steel Range Company, Oshawa Interior Fittings, Schofield Woolen Mills, J. Sykes & Son, R. Wood & Co., H. Gray & Sons, R. H. James, Original Textile Company, R. Dillon & Son, mfgs. hay forks. There are also others, but the above make a bigger showing in invested capital and value of products than any other town or small city in Canada.

RAILWAY FACILITIES

The Grand Trunk has until recently been Oshawa's only railway. Now the C. N. E. has a line right through the town, with a station set many hundred feet from the Hillcrest subdivision. The C. N. E. spur line runs into Oshawa from its station just north of the town, connecting with the Toronto & Eastern.

CHEAP POWER

Electric power is delivered in Oshawa at prices which leave nothing to be desired for cheapness. This power is in great abundance at all times, and has given a perfectly satisfactory service year in and year out. The Seymour Electric Power Company have installed a new plant, consisting of a new type of engine, which will be able to produce full current in 30 seconds.

FACTORY GROWTH

Every large factory in Oshawa to-day started as a small concern. All of them have grown very big, some of them as big as anything of their kind in the British Empire. These big concerns grow bigger every year. The McLaughlin Carriage plant has added in three years, and by 1915 will be manufacturing every part of their automobile. We understand that The Pedlar People are going to spend nearly a quarter of a million increasing their plant in relative proportion to its normal factory growth, but several new concerns have arranged at some near future date to locate in Oshawa.

MANUFACTURED PRODUCTS

Consider some cold figures about Oshawa's manufactured products in comparison with other industrial centres: Oshawa, $6,200,000; St. Catharines, $5,000,000; Stratford, $5,000,000; Galt, $5,000,000. The three following cities combined, Kingston, Belleville and Brockville, only manufacture about $300,000.00 more than Oshawa alone. The following from a reliable source: Whitley, Bowmanville, Port Hope, Cobourg and Orillia, produce about $28,000.00 less than Oshawa alone. Yet Oshawa is only just now beginning the growth that has been long prophesied by those who are good judges of town development.

INCREASE IN POPULATION

The population has increased more in the last five years than in twenty years previous, and more in the last two years than in the five years before that. Oshawa's population has already outgrown its housing capacity, and at the present moment there is crying need for a hundred more houses. Rooms of the factories have been converted into houses in order to give their workmen places to live. This is a great opportunity for builders. It is also a great opportunity for real estate men to get in the ground floor in the purchase of lots in a location not ten minutes' walk from the big factories, and at prices that are exceptionally reasonable. Hillcrest subdivision is between the old city centre and the new factory sites belonging to the municipality. It is on a main thoroughfare, and in a short time will be covered with homes.

OSHAWA A CITY OF 25,000 IN FIVE YEARS

Oshawa has just started to grow. It need not increase any more rapidly than it has been doing to have a population of 25,000 five years from now. It has more imports and exports, more business actually transacted than in many other cities with a larger population. This means that Oshawa is only starting to acquire a population in relative proportion to its normal capacity for inhabitants. 25,000 in five years is not at all too big an estimate for Oshawa. It has just started to grow.

GOOD PRICES PAID FOR DORSET SHEEP
 Hasteins Also Disposed of at R. H. Harding's Sale at Thorndale.

THORNDALE, March 20.—(Special)—"Good prices for the Dorset sheep" was the popular comment on R. H. Harding's sale here today. Ten head of registered Hasteins were sold. The aged wethers brought fair prices, while the young heifers and bulls sold very cheaply. Four aged cows averaged $125. Two rising two-year-old heifers averaged $135 each. Two yearling bulls averaged $55 each. A bull calf sold for $20 and a heifer calf for $37. The Dorset sheep taken all there was a sound lot and realized all they were worth, prize winners at last year's Gulph and Toronto shows being among those offered. A pair of yearling ewes, first and second yearling at Toronto, brought $25 each; a yearling wether, first prize as a lamb at Gulph, Winter Fair, $16. A yearling buck brought $20. A registered Clydesdale mare sold for $300. Thomas Clarke of London County was the auctioneer.

TO BEGIN MANUFACTURING AT NEW YEAR'S.
 Abitibi Pulp and Paper Company Ltd Contract.

The Abitibi Pulp and Paper Company announce that their pulp mill will be in operation in January, 1914. The contract for this work was let some days ago and work at once started on the mill. The plant will have a minimum daily capacity of 180 tons of dry pulp. Later on the company will erect a modern paper mill, but for the first year or two their operations will be confined to the manufacture of mechanical ground woodpulp. Careful estimates made by engineers show that they have sufficient pulpwood to do them for 80 years. Their mill will cost $1,800,000.
