30TH YEAR

LABORERS WILL CALL A STRIKE

Building Employers Who Refuse to Grant Increased Pay Will Be Up Against it on Wednesday.

An unfavorable reply, in which the Builders' Exchange have refused to consider their demand for an increase in wages to 28 cents minimum and to recognize the union, resulted in the Builders' Laborers' Union practically declaring a strike at a mass meeting in the Labor Temple yesterday afternoon.

About 1500 builders' laborers are employed in the city, and 1200 of them belong to the union. Nearly 300 bosses will be affected.

The decision was that all builders' laborers whose bosses did not accept the agreement by to-morrow night will quit work, so that by returning to turn up on Wednesday morning it will mean that the strike will be officially declared on June 1. In the meantime a committee of eight, which was appointed at yesterday's meeting with intent to see the bosses and members of the Builders' Exchange individually and present the agreement for signature. Refusal to sign means a strike, but for those who do sign there will be no trouble.

A willingness to pay the minimum wage of 28 cents per hour, but refusal to sign the agreement will not satisfy the union, and the laborers employed by a boss who agrees to pay but refuses to sign will declare war.

At present the wage paid to builders' laborers is 25 cents, altho some are getting as high as 30 cents an hour. The increase demanded is three cents.

Met Again To-Morrow.

By Tuesday night the committee appointed to interview the employers will report at another mass meeting at the Labor Temple. It is expected that about half of the individual exchange bosses will sign, as it is the exchange that is causing the trouble, with some having refused to pay men.

The painters' strike has won.

The painters were asking for 25 cents an hour, and in obtaining it they claim that they have won the strike. This wage is the minimum rate. The official statement handed down from the union on Saturday night is as follows:

"The painters of this city have won their fight. Their wages are now 25c per hour (minimum rate). They have a large number of their men working in 'fair' shops, and the association will continue to insist on their intention to pay the rate, altho they will not sign the agreement."

HAMILTON HAPPENINGSADVISES LABOR UNIONS TO CAPTURE CHURCHES

Would Then Have to Help the Workingmen to Secure His Rights.

HAMILTON, May 29.—(Special)—Silas Murphy, 21, Duxbury, this morning fell down the stairs of the Salvation Army Metropole and fractured his skull. He was hurried to the hospital, where he died at 10:30 a.m. during the morning. Canon Abbott, in the course of his sermon at Christ Church Cathedral this evening, alluded to the question of what the churches could do in the labor movement. He argued that the church was unable to do anything but to condemn the lack of a disposition among its members to take up the matter, the ignorance of what it were best to do, and the indifference of the church toward the churches of the world. He protested against the holding of meetings and services which drive labor unions to walk alone, and where exclusive canons were passed, and pointed out that only a universal church could meet the labor trouble. He stated that the unions should try and capture the churches which would then have to help the workingmen to secure his rights.

Liquor Raid. The police made a raid on the premises of the corner of Park and Market-streets, kept by William Brady. He may be charged with keeping liquor for sale.

The death occurred on Saturday night at Ryckman's Corners, or Mrs. George Winkinchester's home. Mrs. Winkinchester had suffered from blood poisoning. She is survived by her widower, who is 80 years old, in the Methodist Shoe Factory here, and three small children.

Andrews, Augustus, brother of James Andrews, died Saturday night at the home of his brother William, 275 Robert-street. In his 65th year. He had been ill several weeks.

Charles Dell has been arrested on an information laid by George Irwin, and will be charged with a second assault. Mr. Irwin boarded together at 84 Robert-street, and got into a fight on the street on Saturday night.

The 100th anniversary of the formation of Christ Church Sunday School was celebrated this afternoon. Archdeacon Forster, Dr. Clegg, added 100 new children, who gathered in the Sunday school.

The Thirteenth Regiment, 500 strong, accompanied by the A. C. C. college cadets, and the veterans of 1865 attended divine service at All Saints' Church, St. George's Major and Chapel. Formerly preached the sermon.

Varsity at Brooklyn Beat the Crescents By 6 Goals to 3

BROOKLYN, May 28.—(Special)—University of Toronto lacrosse team added a third victory to their list this afternoon by defeating the Crescent Athletic Club of this city, by a score of 6 to 3. The game was played on a very bad field, and Varsity scored soon after the face-off, and in five minutes Crescents evened up. Play was well confined to the two ends of the field, but with the club well off the field for shots. Hetherington finally broke them for a good one, which was followed shortly after by a third from Varsity. The second half the college boys kept their lead and added three more, while Wall, the huge Crescents' hooker, was a terror to the officials. The weather was ideal and a large crowd watched the game. The Crescents have a much heavier team than Varsity, but the latter played in speed and stick-handling.

Varsity (6)—A. Hinds, T. Hanley, Gandy, Wood, Manning, Thomson, Gandy (captain), Hinds, F. H. Hetherington, T. McSoy. Goals: McSoy 2, Hetherington 2, Park 2.

Crescents (3)—Allan, DeSassieres, Madge, Deacon, Key, Cyphert, Lifton, Keating (captain), Tough, Wall, McInroy, O'Rourke. Goals: Wall 3.

For the Hough Cup.

LISTOWELL, May 28.—The football game played here this afternoon between Listowel and Virginian high school teams was a close contest, resulting in a score of 4 to 2 in favor of Listowel, which allows Listowel to still hold the cup.

Lessons From the Mormons. Addressing the Theosophical Society last evening R. A. Elgood, an elder of the Church of Latter Day Saints, stated that the Mormon children note the special talents of their children, and train these gifts to their maximum perfection in the hope of saving the community. No man, he said, is allowed to marry under a certain specified income, and under their law all must practice chastity, the wife and child being the only ones which have practically eliminated the curse of polygamy. Prostitution among their adherents is practically unknown.

TORONTO TRIM INDIANS FOR THE CITY HONORS

Score Was 12 to 4, With the Blue Shirts Always in the Lead—The Game.

Toronto are still city champions, as the result of their defeat of the Tecumsehs Saturday afternoon at the island by the score of 12 to 4. A fair-sized crowd turned out to witness the match with more than 5000 people being in attendance, a great many of whom went away at the end of the third quarter. The quality of lacrosse was not of the best, neither team being particularly good. The Indians started off with a great clip, and the Blue Shirts, guessing for a while, but they did not stand up, and when the Indians chased him, he was in retirement. Murphy's men ran in for goals. After that, the result was a draw, and at half-time had the score 10 to 2. In the third quarter, the Indians, who had been leading, showed all-round superiority both on the attack and the defense, and practically outclassed their opponents. Kinnear, Talbot, and Menary especially starred for the Tecumsehs, while Fitzgerald, Warwick and Menary especially starred for the Indians.

The match played on Saturday between the Albion Cricket Club and Grace Church was the feature of the afternoon. The Indians started off with a great clip, and the Blue Shirts, guessing for a while, but they did not stand up, and when the Indians chased him, he was in retirement. Murphy's men ran in for goals. After that, the result was a draw, and at half-time had the score 10 to 2. In the third quarter, the Indians, who had been leading, showed all-round superiority both on the attack and the defense, and practically outclassed their opponents. Kinnear, Talbot, and Menary especially starred for the Tecumsehs, while Fitzgerald, Warwick and Menary especially starred for the Indians.

A Specially Priced Lot of Elegant Ostrich Plumes

The table cover blouse is an institution of Paris, though the Paris folk call the materials of which the new blouses are made Oriental squares. These squares are in every material, from Shantung silk to prints, cotton, and are selected for the soft blending of colors, a broad border on a plain-colored ground being the favorite design. The blouse is built in the peasant fashion, without shoulder or arm seams, and to make it the gay square is doubled through the centre, crosswise, the front and back of the pattern being laid out on this, with the fold forming the top of the shoulder and the outer edge of the sleeve. There are only two seams—under the sleeve and down the side of the blouse. The material is slit up the centre in the section that forms the back, and the two edges faced or hemmed, and a round opening five inches in diameter cut precisely in the centre of the pattern, making a round Dutch neck, which may be finished with a pleated frill. Similar frills trim the loose elbow sleeves, which come exactly to the edges of the sides of the square. In this way the border pattern on the table cover, or square, crosses the bust gracefully and forms a pretty trimming band on the sleeves, the plain material showing around the neck opening and below the border, at the waist line.

The Cult of Beauty

Socrates called beauty a short-lived tyranny; Shakespeare called it a brittle glass "that's broken presently"; Bacon likened it to Summer fruits that cannot last; while Aristotle affirmed, on the other hand, that beauty was better than all the letters of recommendation in the world. And certain it is that beauty is all-powerful while it remains, but that it passes away soon if we are neglectful in tending it, and watching it well. For though, strictly speaking, good looks are a gift of nature, they depend frequently upon the exercise of wise care. The fairest skin is quickest prey to scorching sunbeams, and wrinkles come as readily to the lovely face as to the homely. Moreover, is not beauty frequently the direct result of intelligent cultivation, in the sense that blemishes can often be charmed away, and vast improvement wrought by the sundry means and mediums which skilled knowledge has placed in our hands—which brings us to the text of our discussion: toilet table requisites.

The Complexion

The following is a partial list of the preparations the Store specializes: Firstly, let mention be made of "Excelsa," a cold cream of absolute purity of concoction, to be employed for all purposes of massage, and for the thorough cleansing of the skin from the grime of daily exposure to our dust and smoke-laden atmosphere. The application of "Excelsa" should then be followed by a gentle rubbing in of the lotion known as "Cream of Almonds and Witch Hazel," a delightfully fragrant and agreeable prescription for the softening and whitening of the complexion, and for the general toning up of the skin. The ingredients of this, too, are strictly wholesome, and prove an effective antidote against the ravages of stinging winds and blistering heat on sensitive cheeks and noses.

About Powder

The need of a good face powder is a compelling one with many. Its adoption in moderation is the necessary finishing touch in the process of drying the skin, which would otherwise become rough, or display an oiliness that is of all things most objectionable. Our "Floral" face powder, or that entitled "Bloom of Canada," is a production that answers the highest demands of purity and effect. Either is obtainable in flesh, white or brunette tints.

Two other preparations worthy of note are the Store's own Talcum Powder and a "Powder for Soothing the Feet," both especially appropriate in mention by reason of the approach of the hot days of Summer. The former possesses in largest measure all the soothing, cooling properties demanded of a talcum powder, and the latter has proved a remedy for the most aggravated cases of the burning and swelling to which the foot that treads the hot city sidewalk is particularly subject. Too much eulogy cannot be placed to its credit.

As reliable aids to beauty and comfort, these creams and powders cannot be excelled.

MONDAY MORNING, MAY 30, 1910.

THE MEDICAL OFFICERSHIP.

It is about time that the city generally, and perhaps Sir James Whitney in particular, sat up and took notice of what is going on in connection with the delay in the appointment of a successor to Dr. Sheard as medical health officer for the city.

There has been a good deal said lately about running the civic elections on political lines, with the resultant boss rule. But boss rule is already established and flourishing to an extent that few realize. The situation arising out of Dr. Sheard's resignation is sufficient evidence of the realization of all this.

At the present time the man before the public with the greatest amount of public and professional support for the appointment is Dr. Amyot, the bacteriological expert of the government. There would have been no question of his appointment but for the fact that he has not commanded himself to the present political boss of the city.

It is no secret to those acquainted with the situation that the bossing which was formerly done from Berkeley-street fire hall, has not been abandoned. There was an understanding that when the government office was given to the gallant fire captain, he would relinquish his political activities. His attendance on executive meetings and his interest in ward matters, is unabated, and at the present juncture the councilmen and the controllers who are lined up against Dr. Amyot ought to know, if they are not aware of it, at whose behest they are acting.

Mayor Geary is away, and is unable to take any part in the struggle at present. It is stated that the insiders expected to rush the appointment of another than Dr. Amyot thru the mayor's absence, so that he would have a clean sheet when he came up in the future for nomination in North Toronto. But there has been unexpected delay, and a trip to France makes the North Toronto nomination more problematical than it was before.

It has always been a question with some people, whether Hon. Dr. Pyne was a willing or a reluctant agent of the second ward machine. The appointment of his brother-in-law, Mr. McQueen, over the heads of others entitled to promotion, was a rude shock to many, and there are more who are unable to decide whether the intention to appoint Dr. A. R. Pyne to Dr. Sheard's position is a move of the ward boss or of the minister of education.

In any case, there is a close connection between provincial politics and Toronto civic government, which the people ought to understand, and if it be agreeable to them they will no doubt fall in with the scheme of political civic elections. If it be not agreeable to them they may perhaps consider some form of commission for the government of the city.

It is altogether intolerable that an important appointment like that of the medical health officer should be made a matter of political manoeuvring, instead of the ripe consideration of the council in the endeavor to get the best man available for the position. The mayor and council made a mess of their business when they approached Dr. Hodgetts. They appear likely to make a mess of themselves if they go farther in the direction in which the machine has them headed.

There was a great deal of complaint under the Ross Government about political partisanship on the part of civil servants. Sir James Whitney would be well-advised to save himself from this reproach, which is just as obnoxious from a Conservative as from a Liberal.

Toronto, all constituents, should be free of it, where the strength of the party should insure justice, if not generosity. But if the strength of the party is to be made an excuse, not only for political partisanship, but for personal discrimination as well, then it is time we all realized that a good custom has corrupted our man, and that we need to get a new grip on affairs.

PRESIDENT TAFT AND THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

President Taft and the Republican party of the United States stand just now in a distinctly critical position. Indeed unless something is done and done early and effectively to restore a measure of harmony in the disordered ranks, the prospect of the November elections cannot be satisfactory to the bosses. In New York State the party conditions are far from reassuring and a Democratic victory seems to be regarded as not only possible but probable. Governor Hughes failed to get his direct nomination bill passed in a shape that commanded itself to him and promptly called an extra session of the legislature for its reconsideration.

President Taft has not so far exhibited the political independence and fearless regard for the public interest that has distinguished Governor

Hughes. As has been well pointed out the president, as regards the commanding elements in the Republican party, occupies a position exactly contrary to that of Mr. Roosevelt. The latter relied on the radical section of the party and got sufficient Democratic support to force his measures thru to the stage when he could effect a compromise, but President Taft rests on the Conservative base and thus is deprived of the driving power exercised by his more advanced and strenuous predecessor.

OUR MEDICAL BRITHREN.

On Wednesday the forty-third annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Association will begin its four days' sessions in the Convocation Hall. The occasion is one of great importance, not alone to the city, but to the whole Dominion. Medicine and surgery in Canada have attained a rank which enables the country to take its place without abasement among the nations of the world, and the men who have been trained and sent out from our colleges are not inferior to any.

It has also been to the honor of Canada that her medical representatives have not only excelled professionally but have shown themselves to be men of humanitarian breadth and sterling character, and in many instances possessed of endowments which would distinguish them apart from their professional eminence. Canadian medical men have therefore a high responsibility as well as an honor in their association, and in the meetings to be held on Wednesday there will no doubt be evidence of the realization of all this.

Dr. Adam H. Wright of this city is the new president and his address will be one of the features. Dr. Herringshaw of London, England; Dr. J. B. Murphy, Chicago, and Dr. Henry C. Cox will give special addresses respectively on medicine, surgery and obstetrics. Prof. J. C. Connell of Queen's will speak on medical education, and many technical subjects will be treated by authorities in their respective departments.

A point that will appeal to the general public, and more especially at this time when the city council do not seem to appreciate the fact that ability in science rather than theological predictions is necessary in the public service, is the report of the mills commission, on which a full discussion has been arranged.

The London correspondent of The New York Evening Post, in describing the funeral march of the late King to Westminster, commits the curious error of describing the "Flowers of the Forest" as a Jacobite lament for the Scots who fell at Culloden. The Funeral of the late King of Scotland.

He would be well advised to check his facts.

Perhaps it is just as well that our quondam truculent but now chastened neighbors should be allowed to realize that Canadian reciprocity is not to be had jimp on the asking.

They can easily take the first long step—reduce their import duties to an equality with the Dominion's. It will be time enough then to talk reciprocally.

DR. SHEARD HOME AGAIN

Says It Is Impossible to Guarantee Perfect Hospital "Isolation."

"Some of the newspapers seem to be much exercised as regards the manner in which preventable diseases are being dealt with in this city. One would think things were all going to pieces. A doctor who has been doing the papers up, but he is somewhat very energetic."

So spoke Dr. Sheard, city medical health officer, on his return from Atlantic City last night. The doctor says he never left home in his life, but that his mind is not altered in the matter of his resignation.

Asked concerning the reiterated charges that children have contracted diseases at the Isolation Hospital, Dr. Sheard said: "The state of affairs there is not peculiar to that institution. It is the same with all the homes and hospitals and it always will be so. As long as there are children with the people of these provinces, and with whom to have none but the most friendly relations."

One now, however, has little known to the general public. O'Neill was asked about his wife's thoughts. He is leaving Ireland, and the son of the British America," announcing that "we come among you as the foes of British rule in Ireland." Looking for us an enemy, we find them here in your midst, where he is most vulnerable and convenient to our attack."

He pointed out that a great mistake was being made amongst a great many who thought that considered that men were really better machines.

For instance, when a man says that he employs so many hundred "hands" in his business. Man was much more than that, and is here for a purpose.

"God sums up His answer," said the preacher. "In Genesis, 'The Lord God made man in His own image, after His own likeness, and He gave him dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living creature.'

He pointed out that a great mistake was being made amongst a great many who thought that considered that men were really better machines.

For instance, when a man says that he employs so many hundred "hands" in his business. Man was much more than that, and is here for a purpose.

"God breathes into man the breath of life, and he became a living soul."

Father Pearce concluded by showing that the body was merely an abode for the soul, and that the soul was the inhabitant of the body. Spiritually urging that man should make this dwelling place as habitable as possible for Him, the greatest of all tenants.

PASTOR RUSSELL'S SERMON

TEXT: "As the waters cover the great deep." (Isaiah xi. 9).

Pastor Russell is returning to America in good condition after having addressed the public at Berlin, Canada, Ireland, Germany, Warsaw, Russia; Rome and Jerusalem—in all forty times. His largest audiences were at London, about 7000, with Glasgow a good second.

Mid-Ocean, May 22.—As I look abroad and see water, water everywhere, without a speck of land in sight, and as I reflect that we are passing over varying depths, some of which are as deep as five miles, I am reminded of the promise in the Lord's Word that ultimately the whole earth, the world of mankind, shall have such an abundant knowledge of the Creator and the Redeemer, as to be fitly illustrated by the depth of the sea. We have therefore chosen as my text the words, "The earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea." I remember also the very similar promise by the Lord to His people (Habakkuk ii. 14). "For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea." I am reminded also of the prophet's declaration that the time will come when "Every man shall bow, and every tongue shall confess" (Isaiah xiv. 23). And again "That at the name of Jesus every knee shall bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth; and every tongue shall confess that Jesus Christ is Lord to the glory of God the Father." And I am also reminded that in that day, "They shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know ye the Lord, for they shall know me, even the Son of them unto the greatest of them saith the Lord" (Jeremiah xxxi. 34). The question properly arises, to what extent shall we consider these statements literally true? What kind of fulfillment should we expect them to have?

If we look out upon the heathen world, however sympathetic we may be in respect of foreign missionaries who do all in their power to make known to the heathen the grace of God and the great Redeemer, we are nevertheless compelled to admit that there is absolutely no hope of our ever causing the heathen to turn and ever turning to confess Christ in their lands, even as we have long ago given up hope of accomplishing such work in civilized lands. The work is too great for us, and the errors of heathenism and of heathen people are too deeply eradicated. Government statistics show us that there are twice as many heathen to-day as there were a century ago. If, therefore, any of us had been flattered ourselves with the idea of the truth in the statement of Timothy, "It is neverise whereof is the necessity for it?" Is knowledge really indispensable to salvation? Is it not written in the Scriptures of the Apostles Peter and John, that "the people perceived that they were ignorant and unlearned"? That is to say, the ignorance and lack of learning did not hinder the receiving of God's favor, and obtaining salvation thru Christ, and even obtaining apostleship, why should so much stress be laid upon knowledge? Does He care for knowledge? Has He predetermined all who would be His apostles must be educated? That He cares naught for the ignorant? We do not read to the contrary that, "Not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called; but God hath chosen the foolish of the world to confound the wise" (Corinthians i. 26, 27). "Hath not God chosen the poor of this world rich in faith?" (James i. 5).

Very true, we answer. With God the wisdom of this world is foolishness and with this world, the wisdom of God is foolishness. Knowledge may therefore be viewed from two standpoints. So far as worldly knowledge goes, it is the most destructive of all, as respects the work of salvation. But God and the true knowledge of God, which is essential to salvation and eternal life. We therefore sharply discriminate between earthly knowledge and heavenly knowledge, and between the wisdom of men and the wisdom of God.

Our Lord Jesus gave us the key to this question of the importance of knowledge in relationship to our attainment of eternal life. He said, in praying to the Father, "And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent" (John xvi. 31). Only such as attain to this knowledge may have eternal life. Consequently we see at a glance that remarkably few of our race have thus far attained to the degree of knowledge which God intended, pleased to recognize. At first this might seem peculiar to us; we might say to ourselves or to others, Why does not God give it out freely to all? The reply of the Scripture is that God is giving knowledge freely, but to those who expect the man to do everything—all the serving, earning, worrying and lavishing of care and affection. Once he falters or looks for a return and she holds him up to her friends as an impossible creature.

The Church excluded from the work of shilling up and enlightening the world and scattering its darkness. The Master gave us to understand that the Church with Himself will constitute the Sun of Righteousness, which will then arise with healing in its beams. Thus in the parable of the Wheat and Tares. He pictures the entire work of this world and its consummation, which He styles "The harvest—the end of the age." His word respecting the separation of the wheat from the tares is that the wheat shall be gathered into his barn—changed from the earthly to the heavenly nature, and He adds, "Then shall the righteous shine as the sun in the Kingdom of their Father." "He that hath an ear to hear, let him hear."

The figure of the rising sun scattering the darkness, ignorant and superstition of the world, harmonizes with the picture placed which represents the kingdom of God superseding the kingdom of Satan, and those indulged by Satan, styled in the Scriptures, the kingdom of this world.

the heavenly nature, and He adds, "Then shall the righteous shine as the sun in the Kingdom of their Father." "He that hath an ear to hear, let him hear."

The figure of the rising sun scattering the darkness, ignorant and superstition of the world, harmonizes with the picture placed which represents the kingdom of God superseding the kingdom of Satan, and those indulged by Satan, styled in the Scriptures, the kingdom of this world.

We may well sympathize with our forefathers, to whom it was not granted to see as clearly as we may now, the glorious fulness of the divine purpose to eventually enlighten the whole earth by causing the light of the gloom of Satan to fill the whole earth, until the waters cover the great deep. To us, therefore, is especially applicable the prophetic words, "Be ye glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create. For behold, I create new heavens and a new earth, and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind" (Isaiah lxi. 18, 19).

Thus does the Lord picture the new dispensation in graphic language. The new heavens symbolically represent the Church in its new and glorified condition, exercising superior control over the affairs of men, and serves the new state or condition of society—the new social order of things which will be introduced as a part of the New Dispensation. Imperfection is noticeable among some few American men, too, that they may be common and widespread, especially in the immediate relations of the home than women. However, it may be that they do not have so much cause for dissatisfaction. Still, as a rule, I believe men are more reticent in such matters and that they feel the confusion and disgrace of them more keenly.

SMALL CROWD MEETS TO TALK OVER STIBBARD DEAL

Opinion Fairly Divided on Matter
—Big Grist of County and Suburban News.

NORTH TORONTO. May 29.—(Special)—The small crowd that met in the town hall in response to the mayor's proposal last night, and among even this small number there was some vigorous criticism of the measure. Apart from the council, and even Councillor Howe is not enamored of the project, while D. R. Reid is flatly opposed, the meeting did not produce any definite result.

Probably less than two score citizens of the town hall in response to the mayor's proposal last night, and among even this small number there was some vigorous criticism of the measure. Apart from the council, and even Councillor Howe is not enamored of the project, while D. R. Reid is flatly opposed, the meeting did not produce any definite result.

It transpired during the progress of the meeting that the council have secured no option on another property, a half acre or so, and each is said to contain as much water as the Stibbard land. W. G. Ellis brought this matter up after it had been decided to postpone action in retaining the information stated. It also appeared that the engineer had been restricted in his quest for information to the Stibbard land alone, and had not been accorded a free hand in the matter generally. As pointed out by Councillor Reid, the report submitted was favorable to the purchase of the land, is supported by any particular data and cannot in the circumstances be accepted as in any sense conclusive.

The matter is not so urgent as to justify the ratepayers in rushing headlong into the enormous expense involved in the dictum of two or three members of the council, who have no practical experience in the matter in hand.

S. W. Armstrong was in the chair and Mayor Brown stated that the engineer's report showed a net gain on the Stibbard land of $13,000 a gallon-day, and which could be increased to $20,000 by the sinking of wells on the property, the cost of capturing the water being placed at $500, and the purchase price $20,000, making in all $25,500.

In response to a question by Mr. Ellis as to the test results of water, Councillor Reid stated that they anticipated no reduction in dry weather. Engineer Brooks' report showed more flow last year in June than in the rain or snow months.

Councillor Reid was opposed to the whole scheme, while Councillor Lawrence favored it, and inclined himself on record as antagonistic to the idea of annexation to the city, as thrown out by Councillor Reid.

Councillor Murphy wanted the by-law put thru, not as an ideal project, but the best available. He declared that in the event of its acceptance six weeks would make the increased supply available.

W. G. Ellis criticized the action of the council: "This is not the last resort," said Mr. Ellis. Further the report of the engineer was not backed up by any particular data.

"We must get to learn," said Mr. Ellis, "that the engineer was given a free hand to fully investigate the sources of the water supply of North Toronto."

Councillor Muston was not present.

DE LHORBE TELLS ABOUT FLOATING THE COMPANY

Claims Gurofsky Said Declaration Would Not Be Used Till Property Was Paid For.

Milton W. De Lhorbe, who with Athol G. Robertson and Joseph Gurofsky is the managing director of the company conspiring to defraud thru the Canadian Estates Co. of the Canadian Estates Co., declared, in giving evidence in his own behalf, that he never had any intention of defrauding the company and that he himself had paid $100 in cash.

Simply Held Options.

De Lhorbe was the first to take the stand in the afternoon court. He was president of the company and said that the company simply had an option on the property, and that he had no intention of defrauding the company. The assets as described were not wholly owned by the company. He told that his original intention, when he first went to see Robertson, was to trade his West Toronto property for a good dairy farm and the manufacture of cheese. Robertson, he said, suggested the incorporation of a company as a means of securing capital. The result of the conference, he said, was that Robertson had agreed to do with the Canadian Estates Co. what he could do with the company.

Each director was presented with a large silk Union Jack, bearing the scouts' insignia, and the motto "Be Prepared" worked in gold in the center. The presentation was made by Mrs. Constance Boultou, regent of the Chambord Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, on behalf of the Peterson Lake camp.

DID REGIMENTAL HONORS.

The Weston band did the regimental honors during the formalities of the review.

General Cotton evinced surprise at the carriage and conduct of the little men.

"I am now convinced it is an intelligent movement of immense value," he told the officers. "Your ideals are high and from what I can see the boys have already learned the value of discipline and have benefited in every way."

The royal salute was executed with a precision that reflects much credit upon those who have been schooled in the small units. The troops were first marched around the track, then formed up to review under the "present state." They marched past the column of patrolmen; then in Indian file and scouts' pace. The latter maneuver is a matter of walking and running 100 yards alternately. Following the review the boys gave displays of tent pitching, fire lighting, cooking, wrestling, first aid to the injured, single sticks and physical drill with staves.

BIG SPREAD.

Afterwards they were marched to the horticultural building to lunch. Fifteen hundred plates were spread.

SCOUTMASTER HAMPTON.—Mr. C. R. Hampton, scoutmaster of the 48th Highlanders and scout commissioner for Toronto. The mayor of Guelph was an interested spectator.

Considering that the movement was only started last November, a turnout of 400 scouts is remarkable.

The movement appears to have a definite stimulus throughout Canada and it is said that in England there are 400,000 boy scouts, and thousands who have banded themselves together that are not yet under control.

ODD AND INTERESTING.

Phases of the organization are very odd and interesting. Every troop is an independent unit composed of three or more patrol leaders and a corporal.

Their ages range from 12 to 18 years.

The scouts meet once a week, over 20 years. Each patrol is designated by a queer little flag bearing the silhouette of an animal or bird. Each patrol is called after the animal or bird thus represented and the boys must all be able to imitate that being's call. There are foxes, crows, cuckoos, wild cats, etc.

HAD NO INTENTION TO DEFRAUD.

He declared that at no time had he any intention to defraud any party.

To Mr. Hall, counsel for Robertson, he said that he may have been misled on the Manitoulin plan after the payments on the option had fallen due.

CROSS EXAMINED BY MR. BAIRD.

In the Money Markets

AN OBSCURE SITUATION

Uncertainties Are Noted in London, Paris and New York Markets.

The London cable to The New York Evening Post says:

In connection with this week's official announcements of your two large bond negotiations at Paris, present indications point to the fact that bonds on the market have been so far removed that they can no longer be placed.

It is becoming more notorious. It is questionable whether much more of this financing can be done on a reasonable basis.

Our explanation of the sharp break in the exchange market, three weeks ago, followed by the end of the period of half-yearly and the renewed decline this week, is that exchange was first sold prematurely, in anticipation of the immediate closing of the Paris negotiations and of a series of further sales of drafts. These expectations failing to materialize, rates were bound to rise. Now, however, in light of actual credits for your account in Europe, exchange is weakening again. All this time, however, French exchange on London has been very strong, and in account of pound sterling credits it is expected that it will remain so for some time.

Irrespective of these Paris negotiations, the London feeling seems to be that the trade position in the United States has become somewhat overextended, especially in the west and south, and some unusual financial and real estate situation caused largely by the unfavorable view expressed by conservative people arriving from the United States. Our knowledge regarding the aspects of your situation is not particularly good.

An early reduction in our bank rate does not now seem improbable. In the money market ought to have good effect in averting stringency in the autumn.

This is the second reason in the Bank of England's favor in an indirect effect of the long delay in passing the budget of 1909 and collecting the income tax. The treasury's balance due to the Bank of England is now actually at the highest point ever known. So far as the money market is concerned, the position dictated by this condition is that the government is aggravated by the fact that £200,000 treasury bills, issued to bridge the deficit during the hold-up of the budget, will mature before June 18.

The government has no power to redeem these treasury bills before the due date.

At the time, far shown no disposition to lend its redundant money in the market. The Bank of England is not so far advanced, but its corn fields prove well everywhere. Similar reports are received from Roumania, Servia and Bulgaria.
