MAYOR WHITE FAVORS ALDERMANIC PLAN

WOULD INCLUDE OUTLYING AREAS IN CITY LIMITS

His Worship Believes Overhead Could Thus Be Reduced

GIVES REASONS

Proposes Civic Power Board be Abolished and Work Done by City

"WE SHOULD go back to the aldermanic form of civic government, with the aldermen elected by the ward they represent, and not put up any longer with an experiment from the United States which had its birth in the south, where conditions are altogether different," said His Worship Mayor White this morning when discussing civic matters.

"I would like to be in absolute charge of civic affairs for about a week and in that time I would put into effect changes which I believe would be for the best interest of the citizens and they would see to it that they had been in operation for a short time.

EXTEND BOUNDARIES

"I would extend the boundaries of the city to take in Beausoleil, Fairville and East Saint John and cut loose from the parishes altogether; have one civic administration; get rid of executive officers, thus cutting down the overhead expenses. All the money expended in money have paid out through the City Chamberlain, including that for schools. I believe it would be good business to do away with all the separate boards which now handle civic work and centre the administration in the civic departments. I would also abolish the Civic Power Commission and place the lighting under the department of public safety where the people would realize it is what theirs and patronize it."

DENIES "LOG ROLLING"

In support of his proposition for a return to the aldermanic system His Worship said: "I was a member of the Common Council when the members were elected by the wards which they represented and I wish to state most emphatically that the charge of 'log rolling' made against it was not true. Under the old system the aldermen were able to give the necessary time to look over the best of the whole but under the present system with each man his share of the whole a big department has not the time to study questions affecting the welfare of the city as a whole."

N. B. TUNGSTEN MINE REMAINS INACTIVE

No Prospect of Operations While Market Price Stays so Low

Special to The Times-Star FREDERICTON, Oct. 9.—No prospect for the Tungsten Mine at Burnt Hill being operated until the world price of tungsten improves is held out by L. H. Timmins, Jr., of Montreal who is in Fredericton with friends to hunt big game in the vicinity of Burnt Hill. Mr. Timmins superintended the operation of the tungsten mine during the years of the great war, the wolframite which was mined being used for the production of tungsten which blended with steel to form the tiner tubes of British and allied naval guns.

PRICE DROPS

Even while the Timmins interests were operating at Burnt Hill the price of the metal began to drop and today is away below the figure which would make it profitable to operate at Burnt Hill.

That locally although producing a rich ore is far distant from rail transportation and could be reached readily only by expensive road construction. Concerning general business conditions in Canada Mr. Timmins says that improvement is on the way and arrived already.

MAY SURRENDER CITY TOMORROW

Scenes of Horror in Wuchang Told by Correspondent

Wuchang, China, Oct. 9.—Ten thousand people have died, most of them from starvation, in the horror city of Wuchang since the Cantonese Red army began its siege at the end of August. The figures are those of Chinese officials. No white man could penetrate the barred buildings, within which thousands succumbed in secret misery.

STARVING THE CITY

Falling in their efforts to carry out hand-to-hand fighting in the city's streets, the Cantonese, at a safe distance, maintain a war of attrition—starvation their weapon.

120 Miners Trapped in South Africa Blast

CAPETOWN, South Africa, Oct. 9.—Four white men and 116 natives were entombed by a gas explosion yesterday in the Durban Navigation Company's coal mine at Darnhauser, Natal. Rescuers, working through the night, succeeded only in bringing 11 bodies to the surface. The smoke and flames from the shaft at the time of the explosion, were visible for two miles. There is little hope of reaching the entombed men.

LAWYERS CLASH IN MURDER CASE AT JOLIETTE

Trial of Maguire Brothers Set Over Until Monday

WITNESS BALKS

Refuses to Swear to Statements Contained in Deposition Made Before

JOLIETTE, Que., Oct. 9.—The trial of Patrick and Edward Maguire for the murder of Robert Tyhurst, at St. Michel Des Saints on the night of December 4, 1925, ended its fifth day yesterday and for the first time since the opening, lawyers for the defence and crown abandoned the examination of a witness to enter into a legal tilt to determine the right of the crown to have one of its witnesses declared hostile.

TROUBLE WITH WITNESS

Some time after the preliminary enquiry into the charge against the Maguire boys, Desureault went to Montreal to be interviewed by chief Dan Larrain of the provincial police. He made a sworn deposition concerning this and Dr. Charrier's meeting with the Maguire brothers on the road from St. Michel Des Saints to St. Zenon. He admitted on the stand today that he had made such a deposition, but he would not admit that parts of it quoted by the crown today had been made according to fact. He did not deny that he had made them, and, while protecting his good faith at the time they were made, would not swear again that they were entirely true.

HEARING ADJOURNED

The witness became reluctant to answer questions put to him, and time again was had to the witness to speak up by the jurors, who sat only a few feet away from him. As Philippe Brins attempted to quote from the sworn deposition, all three of the defence counsel were on their feet with objections, and throughout the remainder of the hearing objection followed objection until the court, called upon to make a judgment on a point of law, decided to call it a day and adjourned the trial until Monday morning.

PERLEY IS LIKELY CHOICE AS LEADER

Toronto Paper Says He is Not Inclined to Accept Onerous Position

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 9.—The Mail and Empire today publishes the following dispatch from its staff reporter in Ottawa:

"On Monday Sir George Perley will be chosen House leader of the Conservative party if he will accept the position. Sir George does not desire the leadership, and the close application and hard work it will entail, but his former cabinet colleagues are urging him to subordinate his personal wishes to the party welfare."

CRUCIAL GAME

The Cardinals must go into the crucial game without the services of Taylor Douthit, sensational young California outfielder. He came to New York with the St. Louis team, but unless he stages a remarkable recovery, he will see the remainder of the series from a place beside Ray Blades, another fast but disabled Cardinal outfielder. Douthit was injured in a collision with Chick Hafey in the fourth game of the series. The crash left Douthit's ribs in poor condition for further play, although he completed the game in which the injury occurred, throwing out a Yankee runner at the plate and later getting a base hit. Rube Holt will play centrefield in St. Louis Thursday. Holt played one of the deepest centrefields on record, almost a sub centre.

Fair weather was forecast for today, but should the weather prospect later prove displeasing, the game will go over for consideration tomorrow.

Mother of 17 Fussed When 15 Take Measles

THIS is the Barini family, largest in all Montana, with Papa Barini at the left and Mama Barini on the right. Only once has Mrs. Dan Barini, champ mother of the great open spaces, been a bit fussed, as it were, by her 17 children. That was when 15 of them had measles at once! It was rather difficult for Mrs. Barini to get them all cured without the aid of a doctor, she confesses. But she did it. The family roster runs—Daniel, 21; Joseph and Peter, 20; Olympia, 19; John, 18; Alexander, 16; Mary, 15; Emile, 14; Carolina, 12; Inez, 11; William, 10; Sylvester, 8; Renaldo, 7; Rudolph, 6; Ida, 5; Emilia, 4; Theodore, 3.

Youth Shelved; Old Timers Picked For Mound In Crucial Series Game

Alexander and Shawkey to Start in Sixth Contest; Both Teams Set for Ding-Dong Struggle, as Cardinals Face Last Hope of Victory

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—With a realization that the situation has narrowed to a question of now or never, the St. Louis Cardinals declared today that they would fight desperately for the sixth game of the world series, that a seventh may be necessary.

The New York Yankees, with the world's baseball championship theirs if they can win today, made no secret of a determined opposition to be offered to the Red Hoed invasion from the west. The Yanks think a game in the glove today better than a possible base hit tomorrow.

Fans Shiver Waiting For Game To Start

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Clear skies and a bracing air, more suitable for football than baseball, greeted fans today for the sixth game of the world's series. The weather man said the sun would make things a little more comfortable for the spectators, by the time the umpire shouted "play ball," but the early arrivals at the Stadium took no chances, bundling themselves in sweaters and overcoats. Chatting with the cold, 14 fans stood at the gates of the Stadium at dawn, waiting for seats in the bleachers. Fifth in line was Dr. Samuel Ogden, trading post keeper, from Fort Edward, Canada, who was wrapped in a blanket.

HUGGINS FAVORS SHAWKEY

Miller Huggins frankly favored Robert J. Shawkey, three years Alexander's junior, with 19 major league seasons behind him. Shawkey will celebrate his 38th birthday December 4. He has been a member of the New York pitching staff ten years.

SOVIET LEADERS FACE PUNISHMENT

Trotzky, Zinovieff and Piatokoff Faced For Opposition to Party

MOSCOW, Oct. 9.—Disciplinary measures against Trotsky, Zinovieff and Piatokoff, for their recent attempts to exercise the views of the opposition when the communist party meets, are foreshadowed in a resolution adopted yesterday by the political bureau of the party. This resolution characterizes their action as "unprecedented and a flagrant violation of the basic principles of party life."

LINERS CRASH

GLASGOW, SCOTLAND, Oct. 9.—Great excitement was caused today among several hundred passengers on board the outward bound liners Caledonia and Aurania, when the two steamers collided at Greenock in a heavy sea and gale. The only damage inflicted was above the water lines, and the vessels were able to proceed.

The Weather

SYNOPSIS: Pressure is high over the Great Lakes, and Eastern States, also over the Far Northwest States, and a fairly deep depression in the Middle Pacific coast. Showers have occurred in some sections of New Brunswick, and Saskatchewan; while in other parts of the Dominion the weather has been Fair and Cool.

Hodges, Blaming Leaders, Says Mine Strike Will Never End

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Blaming the leaders, Frank Hodges, Secretary of the International Miners' Association and former secretary of the British Federation, said today that there would never be a settlement of the British coal strike.

In a statement issued to the press, Hodges, who was A. J. Cook's predecessor, said: "As things are now, there never will be a settlement. All the great, yet fleeting opportunities for an honorable peace have been thrown away by the leaders, who seem bent on obtaining, not the best, but the worst possible, economic terms."

EXPRESS SAYS AREA SOUGHT IN ASIA MINOR

Greece to Co-operate by Attack Through Thrace

PEACE EFFORTS

Britain, With Aid of United States, May Prevent Clash, Paper Thinks

MUSSOLINI CONFIDENT

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Daily Express, without quoting its authority, declares that "Mussolini is planning war on Turkey." His object, the newspaper says, "is to seize the sphere of interest on the Adalian coast, Asia Minor, which the secret London pact of 1916 promised to Italy, but which pact subsequently was declared null and void. The Turks have mobilized army corps in the threatened area."

MUSSOLINI CONFIDENT

The Daily Express declares that Greece has promised activity to co-operate with Italy, Rumania is understood to have promised to remain neutral; Jug-Slavia has asked to be permitted to remain neutral.

MINIMIZE PERIL

Mussolini, the paper says, believes the methods he has developed cannot possibly fail if put into operation. Greece would attack Turkey through Thrace, while the Italians attacked in the south. Greece's reward would be the re-possession of the Smyrna territory. Rumania's neutrality was secured by a promise of support regarding Bessarabia.

BRITISH VIEWPOINT

Certainly, it is not believed that Italy is preparing for war with Turkey. No attempt is made to discuss the anxiety in other circles where there is a tendency to believe that Sir Austen Chamberlain, Britain's foreign secretary, is too closely linked with Mussolini for the good of Europe. In labor circles, it is asserted that Chamberlain has used Mussolini's threat of war to force Turkey to be reasonable regarding Mosul, but this has always been strenuously denied.

Burglars Take Jewelry From Byng Residence

THORPE-LE-SOKEN, Essex, England, Oct. 9.—Baron Byng's welcome home Thursday after five years as Governor General of Canada, when the villagers dragged his car two miles, had a melodramatic climax last night. Burglars visited his residence, Thorpe Hall, and made away with a quantity of jewellery and other valuables.

Burglars Take Jewelry From Byng Residence

It is understood that the value of the articles stolen does not exceed $50 ($2450). The stolen stuff consisted of articles of everyday use, including cuff links and a fur coat. A piece of silverware also was taken.

HOW BAD IS BREAD AND WATER?

When a Nebraska judge sentenced two bootleggers to bread and water or diets, he set the whole nation talking. Great punishment, cried some; not at all, replied others of the U. S. navy, where bread and water punishment long has been the rule. These two department of justice attorneys, at Washington, decided to live on bread and water for a few days and see for themselves. At the left is Howard T. Jones, chief assistant to Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, who handles all liquor cases, at the right is Arthur W. Henderson.

PLAN TO ASSIST IN HALLOWEEN EVENT

Organizations Co-operate With Y. W. C. A.—Names Announced at Meeting

A number of different organizations in the city are giving splendid co-operation to the Y. W. C. A. for its Halloween festival to be held at the end of this month and at a meeting of the members of the committees in charge the workers were greatly encouraged by the reports received.

Mrs. E. C. Weyman, general convener and president of the Y. W. C. A., was in the chair. It was reported that there was every prospect of securing the volunteer services of a band for each of the evenings of the festival and an orchestra for each of the afternoons.

Mrs. Walter W. White was taking charge of the tea on the first day and on the second day DeMonts Chapter of the I. O. O. F. will have charge, with Mrs. G. K. McLeod, Mrs. J. U. Thomas and Miss Edith Skinner as convener.

The Gyrò Club had undertaken to conduct the social enjoyment of the last evening of the festival and the Y. Men's Club would do the decorating of the hall. The pupils of the Saint John Art School, through the kindness of Miss E. R. Holt, were to make the posters for the advertising and Mrs. John Travis had offered to do the decorating of the tea room.

452 ARE VICTIMS OF FISH SEASON AT LUNenburg

Most Disastrous in Years; 200,000 Quintals in Harvest

LUNenburg, N. S., Oct. 8.—The summer fishing cruises of the Lunenburg fleet was one of the most successful in point of fish caught and one of the most disastrous in loss of men and ships.

Of the 92 vessels sailing out of Lunenburg county ports, all but three returned safely with their crews and of the 2,100 odd men who make up their crews, 62 were victims of storm and disaster.

The catch was 200,000 quintals, 50,000 greater than the previous year. The greatest tragedy of the fleet came on August 8 when a tropical hurricane that started the previous evening, swept the Sylvia Mosher and Saddle Knuckle to their doom near Sable Island, leaving no trace of the 47 men who made up their crews.

While the Sylvia Mosher piled up on North Star Island, a couple of days after the storm, only small traces of the Saddle Knuckle ever re-appeared and two or three sea-wrecked bodies were picked up on the island weeks later and identified as being those of the wrecked schooners.

Other vessels of the fleet suffered more or less in the same storm.

IN the days of the old naval auxiliary service one skipper had much trouble with his first mate because of the latter's fondness for strong drink. After innumerable warnings the skipper on day entered in the ship's log that the first mate was drunk and unfit for duty. The mate protested and demanded the removal of his entry, but the captain insisted that no power could remove any remarks once entered in the ship's log.

Next day there appeared in the log "The captain came on the bridge and was sober."

"I SCRUB him for a match and got a light reply."
"Well, what did you expect—fire-works?"

SAINT JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 9, 1926.

AN INDEPENDENT VIEW.

Willsons Monthly for October has a temperate and extended view of the federal elections. While the King Cabinet is described as "one of the best that has come into office at Ottawa since the first Laurier Administration," Willsons fears that Hon. Mr. Porke at the head of immigration, and Hon. Mr. Stewart as Minister of the Interior, while both are "respectable public figures," may lack the energy to deal boldly and vigorously with the vital problems of immigration and settlement. Hon. Mr. Eulder's protectionist views commend him to Willsons, "in view of other influences which are certain to press for control in any Liberal Government."

Willsons hopes for a stable tariff, because, "with the assurance of tariff stability and an energetic immigration policy the country may again make steady and substantial progress."

The opinion of the Toronto monthly the Conservatives would have been written to commend the King Government for reducing the income taxes, and promised further reductions; for, "in face of American policy there must be continuous reduction of the taxes upon incomes and upon industry in the Dominion if we are to attract capital, expand industries and develop the resources of the country."

Willsons believed too much emphasis was placed by one party on the constitutional issue, and by the other on the customs scandal. It notes with satisfaction "that there was far less inflammatory speaking and writing in Quebec than in some former contests" and instead there was "a good step towards racial unity and national unity." Regarding the Conservative party and the assertion of the Toronto Mail and Empire since 1911 "Conservative leaders have at times taken a little too much on themselves in the matter of shaping policy," Willsons says: "The truth is that the Conservative party, by an unusual combination of events and circumstances, has been driven into a position in which they now find themselves." Of the leaders of the two great parties in the last campaign the view is expressed that Conservatives were too contemptuous of Mr. King's leadership, while Mr. Meighen is described as "a fine parliamentary figure who gave all that he had of energy and capacity to the Conservative party."

With regard to the Imperial Conference, Willsons holds that no advantage should be taken of Mr. King's absence by his opponents; for, "if there is an obligation upon Mr. King to go to London there is also an obligation upon his Conservative opponents to deal generously and broadly with any situation that may arise when he is out of the country."

Looking to the future the possibilities are set forth in the following striking paragraph:

"Mr. King has full opportunity to establish himself as a constructive national statesman. He will be judged in history by what he does in the next few years and not by what he failed to do in the curiously difficult political situation in which he found himself during his first years in office. The Conservative party, one thinks, will do well to refrain from factious attacks upon the new Administration. It will do well if it discovers that to praise good measures is as much a duty of citizenship as to condemn bad measures. It will be wise if it seeks to compete with its opponents in constructive legislation and progressive public policies, if it remembers to be generous as well as resolute in criticism, and if it determines to be broadly tolerant in its attitude towards all sections of the country and all elements of the population. The Conservative party has an opportunity to rebuild itself upon the old foundations with such changes as the times and conditions demand, while the Liberal party has just such an opportunity as faced Sir Wilfrid Laurier thirty years ago to show courage in legislation and administration, to breathe optimism and confidence into the people, and to give new strength and cohesion to the Imperial partnership."

It is gratifying to observe that no vigorous a Conservative newspaper as the Ottawa Journal takes an equally broad view of the political situation, when it says:

"In a British democracy there is but one thing to do about an election verdict. That thing is to accept the majority decision and to try to help those entrusted with the task of governing to carry on their duty. The people of Canada can be depended upon to do that."

This does not imply any abandonment of policy, or indifference to the public welfare. It is merely doing the sportsmanlike thing, and setting an example the effect of which in the long run will command respect and inspire confidence. It is no less the duty of a government than of an opposition to regard first the public interest. Canada has entered upon an era of better times, and of a material progress which can be accelerated by wise statesmanship. The people are ready to do their part. To an administration marked by honesty and courage and resource they will add enterprise and energy and a genuine national spirit. Of feeble administration they have had too much, and now there is a Government with a clear mandate they will look for adequate results.

GRADING AND PACKING.

G. H. Ward, manager of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in London, is in Canada, telling exporters they must pay strict attention to the grading and packing of goods. He quotes P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner, with approval when the latter said: "One Canadian shipper can damage the reputation of Canadian butter, bacon, eggs, apples or cheese, and bring down the price for all other shippers."

Mr. Ward points out that all Canadian food products must be graded and inspected before being sent to the United Kingdom, and adds that good results are already apparent. By keeping the products up to a high standard confidence is won and a steady demand ensured.

British exporters themselves learned this lesson long since. As long ago as 1803, Josiah Child, a leading East India merchant in London prepared a document telling British traders that by attention to grading and packing they could contend with the merchants of the Netherlands, who were then their chief rivals. Mr. Child, we are told, commended "the very exact marking of all their native commodities and their packaging of their herring, cod fish, and all other commodities which they (the Netherlands) send abroad in great quantities; the consequence whereof is that the reputation of their said commodities abroad continues always good, and the buyers will accept them by the marks without opening; whereas the fish which our English make in Newfoundland and New England, and herrings at Yarmouth, and our pilchards from the West Country, often prove false and deceitfully made."

The phrase "Made in Canada" should be one to inspire absolute confidence in the British and Continental markets — and wherever Canadian goods are sold. This remark has been often made, but it will bear repetition.

One hopes that there is some mistake about the statement from Ottawa that the publication of the Duncan Commission report is to be delayed, since delay will disappoint the people of the Maritimes who look to see beneficial results during the coming winter from the steps the Dominion Government is pledged to take. The whole Maritime section is steeped with expectation and public opinion is expressing itself very strongly already, resulting in telegrams from the Saint John Board of Trade and from the Premier of Nova Scotia protesting against further delay in this matter.

Seaworthy Advice, and Landworthy.

(The Governor of the Muscovy Company to the captain of the "Elizabeth," 1611.)

"Inasmuch as industry and diligence are two principal steps to achieve great enterprises, and negligence and idleness are enemies to the same, we would have you in this charge committed unto you, to embrace the one and to avoid the other; and to show that example of painstaking to the rest of the company of your ship in your own person, as well in setting them on work as in putting your own hand to the business when need requires, as that there be no idle time spent, but that every one be employed in some business or other."

Queer Quirks of Nature

INNOCENT LOOKS, DESTROYED IN REALITY

BY AUSTIN H. CLARK

YOU must have noticed this apparently innocent and harmless small white butterfly. It is one of the commonest butterflies in the United States.

Innocent as it looks, it is one of our most pernicious insects, for the ravages it takes on our crops are enormous.

White Butterfly

ages of its caterpillars in our cabbage beds take an enormous toll each year. It is not a native butterfly but came from Europe; we do not know just how. It was first captured near Quebec in 1860 and was probably brought over in that year or at the close of 1859. In the United States it was first found at Norway, Me., in 1865.

It was again brought from Europe, this time to New York, in 1868. From Quebec and from New York it gradually spread westward and southward. It first appeared at Washington in 1872. In 1874 it appeared at Charleston, S. C., where it seems to have been brought on a coasting vessel.

By 1881 it had covered the eastern United States as far as Gloucester and Fremont, Neb.; Salina, Kas., and Bastrop, Tex. Soon after it was at home practically everywhere.

Does it look murderous? It does not. Yet, as it spread over the eastern United States, our native white, of much the same appearance but not destructive to our cabbages, disappeared before it and now is quite extinct over nearly all its former eastern range.

The invader as it spread killed out the native white. How? We do not know for sure, but probably by greatly increasing the number of parasites that feed upon them both, to the attacks of which the scarcer one succumbed.

POEMS OF LOVE

"A Vagabond Song," by Bliss Carman.

MR. CARMAN, now in California, is a Canadian, long resident of the United States. He is one of the greatest of nature's poets, and when, some twenty or more years ago, his "Songs from Vagabondia," written in collaboration with the late Richard Hovey, appeared, they created a literary stir. He has remained true to his highest ideals, and has never written one careless line. The roving spirit is strong in him, and gets magically into his poetry.

There is something in the autumn that is native to my blood—
Tough of manner, hint of mood;
And my heart is like a rhyme,
With the yellow and the purple and the crimson keeping time.

The scarlet of the maples can shake me like a cry.
Of bugles going by,
And my lonely spirit thrills
To see the frosty asters like a smoke upon the hills.

There is something in October sets the gypsy blood astir;
We must rise and follow her,
When from every hill of flame
She calls and calls each vagabond by name.

Suppose This Widow Had Been Your Wife

SHE was the daughter of a refined, well-to-do family when she married. He was a young man with a brilliant future, who had just established himself in the practice of medicine.

They lived comfortably from the first and enjoyed the life of the day. Life insurance he postponed.

Upon the death of the husband, after the funeral expenses were paid, the doctor's widow realized that she must depend upon relatives or face the world alone. And she chose to face the world. Her appeal quoted above is an exact copy of an advertisement as it actually appeared, changed only enough to prevent identification.

What sort of an ad. could your wife write for the "Situations Wanted" column, if your support should fail?

Winterport Getting Big Coal Trade

Winter importations of Coal from Wales and Scotland will hereafter find its way to Upper Canada cheaper through Saint John than Portland.

The dominant position of Eastern Coal Docks, Ltd., provides this. Development work now going on expands the unmatched advantages of their combined rail and deep water docks. Single action unloading and screening equipment, being erected on their properties, will enable them to import and reship hard coals below outside routes.

Stockholders Benefit More

Holders of Preferred Stock in Eastern Coal Docks, Ltd., will gain by additional dividends and bonuses by these cut costs and widened markets. The Preferred Stock of this company is unusual in these dividend additions. They are able to show security for same in the shape of Fixed Assets 5 times the amount of the issue. A total of 13 1-2 p. c. is shown to be earned on such investment by progress to date. This will naturally grow when facilities which are being improved, increase sales by reason of handling economies. To help finance this some $50 shares of Cumulative Participating Preferred are offered at par, irrespective of dividends accrued from May 1, last.

District Scoutmaster O. J. Lawson writes: "I am back on my job again inspecting troops. It is almost impossible to visit all troops, so if there is any troop that wishes a special visit from me, if the scoutmaster will notify me I shall be only too glad to pay that visit."

NOW BACK TO HEADQUARTERS

Well, Scouts and Cubs, here we are well away for another season of good scouting and cubbing, which promises to be as successful as last year if not more so.

DO YOUR CHILDREN CROW FAST ENOUGH?

Are They Sturdy, Healthy and Strong, or Pale, Weak and Run Down?

Growing children need a great deal of food, and sometimes they will not eat the kind of food that they need for strength—then they become thin, pale, and run down.

This condition of undernourishment can be corrected by taking Father John's Medicine which does contain just the food elements such children need, and that is why so many children gain weight regularly while they are taking this old-fashioned family medicine.

Should the Married School Teacher Return to Her Profession and Hire Someone to Care for Her Child?—The Problem of the Philandering Husband—The Sutor Who Doesn't Know Whether He Suits.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young married woman with one child and before my marriage I was a teacher. My husband earns only enough to give us a decent living, but he and I, both college graduates, want more of life than just a decent living. He feels that my profession and let a capable nurse attend to the baby. I would love to teach, and the only hindrance I see is that I feel it an injustice to my child, for I know that no one can, or will, take the pains to train the little mind and body that I would. My husband is in a profession that throws him into contact with the most important men in our city, but his salary does not enable us to get out of the rooming-house class. What shall I do? In the end, what is best and fairest to my baby? MRS. B. G.

DOROTHY DIX

Undoubtedly a child misses much that does not have its mother's brooding tenderness always about it and its mother to form and mold its plastic little character.

But these advantages are more than offset by a poverty that forces it to be brought up in the wrong environment, that denies it the right associations and advantages of education.

It would seem that this is the crux of the dilemma in which you are impaled. If you stay at home and act as your own nursemaid you give your child the benefit of your personal care and influence, but you doom it to a strata of life to which you feel that you and your husband do not belong and you cut it off from social and educational advantages that you will want it to have later on. If you go back to work you will leave your child in the hands of hirelings, but you help your husband to get a better job in the world and you give your child comforts and opportunities that it would not otherwise have.

So it seems to me, under the circumstances, that the lesser evil will be for you to resume your profession, for the money you make will be of more advantage to your child than your personal services. Especially is this true while it is still small, for it makes little difference to a baby who takes care of it so long as it is well taken care of.

And you will be far more likely in this way to obtain a happy home for your child to grow up in, because your husband is evidently getting discouraged and rebellious at the way of life his lack of money forces upon him, and not many men's love survives that.

As a well-dressed teacher in a proper home setting you will be much more attractive to him than you will be as a shabby household drudge.

After all, when you hire some one to take care of your child instead of doing it yourself, you will only be doing what rich women do when they have nurses and nursery governesses for their children.

Your teaching will not keep you more hours away from home every day than the average society woman spends in ambling herself.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a faithful wife and mother who loves her husband and her children and have tried to do my duty to them. Now I have found that my husband is unfaithful to me, yet he says that he loves only me and that he has no other men or women in his life. What does he mean? Does he really love me? What am I to do? BEWILDERED WIFE.

ANSWER: What he means, poor Bewildered Wife, is what the poet expressed in one of the most beautiful and passionate lyrics ever written, when, after describing his many other fiery loves, the hero exclaimed: "I have been faithful to thee, Cynara, in my fashion." He means that very few husbands are absolutely true to their wives in thought and deed as a loyal and devoted wife is true to her husband. There are not many men, even men who consider themselves good husbands, who do not have at least passing flirtations, of which they think so little that they do not even account them sins.

And that makes it possible for a man who really loves his wife and admires and esteems her above all other women, still not to be quite faithful to her. This is something no woman can understand, because a woman is faithful to a man as long as he has a particle of affection in her heart for him. It is only after her love for her husband is dead that she betrays him.

As to what the wife of such a man should do, that is a problem that she must solve for herself. No one else can do it for her. But I think she makes a great mistake if she lets her sense of wrong, her estranged pride and her heart drive her to divorce. That breaks up her home and orphans her children and deprives her of her place in society. Often it forces her to go out and struggle with the world for her daily bread, and there is no balm to her soul in knowing that she has revenged herself on her disloyal husband.

The philanthropist, after his little excursion into forbidden fields, often comes back to home and mother, and somehow God, who knows that women would have to deal with men, has given wives a miraculous power of forgiving and forgetting, so that many a wife is still able to love her erring husband, and even to be happier with him than she would be without him.

After all, there are lots of compensations in having a pretty home, one's friends about one, to be able to give one's children the proper background and to have somebody to pay the bills on the first of the month.

DEAR MISS DIX—As you are a woman, I suppose you understand a girl's mind better than a man ever can no matter how much he tries. I am in love with a girl who says that she regards me only as a friend. I have tried to make her jealous, but she apparently doesn't notice when I go with other girls. She is always pleasant and agreeable, but not sentimental; yet when I try to break away from her she always brings me back. What do you think of the situation? JUST A MAN.

ANSWER: I think that she is uncertain of her own feelings toward you and perhaps she doesn't want to marry anybody just yet. Evidently she cares a great deal for you, or else she would not keep you dangling on for nothing, boring a girl more than a sutor who doesn't suit.

You will win her if you have the patience to play a waiting game. The man who camps on a girl's doorstep and refuses to be dislodged almost always gets her in the end.

Always New Ideas Pop Out of Fashion's Pandora Box

ONE would surely think that in due course of time that nature Dame Fashion would run out of new ideas and leave us to wear our old clothes and carry our last year's accessories while she searched for more. Nothing of the kind happens, however. She opens her Pandora box ever such a wee way, and a whole flock of ideas issues forth for the new season. And, unlike the things that came out of Pandora's box of old, these are all of the world a more cheerful place in which women may live.

One of the new ideas this season is anent the muff-handbag pictured in the center above. It is a large bag of black velvet, the upper section—the bag—large enough to carry a complete set of toilet articles for an overnight trip. The lower part is a roomy muff to keep milady's hands warm. Both bag and muff are lined with black silk. Milady may also have her monogram in silver on the outside of this novel accessory if she wishes. This whyness, of course, comes from Paris.

Less novel but striking nevertheless, is the evening wrap (left). It is a jersey model with wide sleeves and is constructed of crepe satin metal cloth lined with Baghdad velvet. It wraps closely about the hips.

Still another original idea produced the evening frock (right). Only a slender person would dare attempt this frock of Chinese red satin crepe trimmed with silver braid. A flowing jockey made on the reverse side of the material is worn over an underpiece of the material used on the right side. The running long in front, the bottom edged with silver braid. The skirt also has a line of braid running down the center of the edge of the hem. The gloves are brightly colored silk embroidery combined with beaded motifs on both sides and glaze finish such striking motifs as owls or parrots' heads are embroidered. Stich velvet cuffs are noted also, tan gloves trimmed with green or orchid being among the popular color combinations.

Light shades, such as mode and nude, are said to be the best sellers.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

ANOTHER Follies girl has answered the call of the camera and is to be seen in Marshall Hall's production, "Everybody's Acting," for Paramount. Jocelyn Lee, known two years ago as the most beautiful girl in the Follies, she is seen in a cast headed by the star, Betty Bronson, and featuring Louise Dresser, Ford Sterling, Raymond Hitchcock and Henry Hathall among others.

"THE KING OF KINGS" One of the largest, if not the largest stage ever built for movie purposes has been constructed at Culver City, California, where Cecil DeMille is filming the biblical spectacle, "The King of Kings." It will be used for the elaborate interior scenes.

DeMille has finally succeeded in casting the twelve apostles, a difficult task, since upon them largely depends the success of the picture.

Judas Iscariot, one of the most prominent figures in Jeanie Macpherson's scenario, is being portrayed by Joseph Schildkraut. Peter is characterized by Ernest Torrence; John, the beloved disciple, by Joseph Striker, and Matthew, the publican, by Robert Edison. Although the other disciples do not play as important a part as these four, they are conspicuous, nevertheless. James is portrayed by James Neil, Thomas, the doubter, by Sidney D'Ambrosio; Simon, the Zealot, by Robert Ellsworth; Andrew, by David Imboden; Philip, by Charles Belcher; James, the less, by Charles Hooper; Thaddeus, by John Prince, and Bartholomew, by Clayton Packard. Other featured members of the cast of "The King of Kings" are H. B. Warner, Jacqueline Logan, Rudolph Schildkraut, Victor Varconi, Dorothy Cumming and Majed Coleman.

Jocelyn Lee has been crying pictures for the past few months.

Small onions sliced thin, sprinkle with salt and let stand for three hours. Drain. To the above add one-half cup sugar, one cup strong vinegar, one teaspoon mixed spices (more if desired). Let cook for three minutes. Seal in jars.

Cucumber Slices—Peel and slice one quart of large cucumbers, add two Minard's Liniment for Chapped Hands.

"TERRIBLE INDIGESTION BESIEGED ME after every meal. After trying all the home remedies, as well as many patent medicines and even starving myself, in vain, to cure my trouble, I began to eat Fleischmann's Yeast. Fifteen days afterward, I had only one very slight touch of indigestion and have not had a repetition since. That was five weeks ago. I am now a walking testimonial of what Yeast can do and did do in my particular instance."
C. H. Wotta, Jr., Fort Smith, Ark.

"WHEN MY LITTLE DAUGHTER WAS RUN DOWN Fleischmann's Yeast gave her strength and energy. Now she has perfect health, enormous vitality and her complexion is a joy to behold. She eats the Yeast as though it were chocolate. I also have obtained very satisfying results from Yeast when I was run down in health."
Mrs. C. A. Palmer, Brooklyn, N. Y.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaels

Why ask, for the way, when the way is shown, why call for help when sure help is known? To trust always through the darkest hour, to trust when its seems that no hope can flower, by trust, naught else, can man reach his goal, by trust that the ship of the human soul which drifts alone on life's restless tide, will safely at last in the harbor ride. The help which is needed is ever near, the staff is ready, the way is clear, yet all these things will a man forget when he yields to fear and to vain regret. But trust, naught else, is the way to peace, to an endless calm, and a sure release; just trust that some day every ship that sails will find its course safe from the waves and gales.

A Thought

A merry heart doth good like a medicine, but a broken spirit drieth the bones.—Prov. 17:22.

Little Joe

"I WAS TROUBLED WITH CONSTIPATION. My life for three years as an aviator was a pretty hard one, as you can imagine. The food generally was not of the best and was usually gulped down in a hurry. With the constipation, my face broke out. Physicists afforded but slight temporary relief. Finally I commenced taking Fleischmann's Yeast regularly. I had no more trouble. My face cleared and constipation became a thing of the past."
Alfonso Gomez Inquero, San Francisco, Calif.

How's Your Health?

Constipation, stomach and skin disorders can be banished—your whole life made happier—by One Simple Food

NOT a "cure-all," not a medicine—Fleischmann's Yeast is simply a remarkable fresh food.

The millions of tiny active yeast plants in every cake invigorate the whole system. They aid digestion—clear the skin—banish the poisons of constipation. Where cathartics give only temporary relief, yeast strengthens the intestinal muscles and makes them healthy and active, daily releasing new stores of energy.

Eat two or three cakes regularly every day, one before each meal: on crackers, in fruit, juices, water or milk—or just plain, in small pieces. For constipation dissolve one cake in hot water (not scalding) before meals and at bedtime. Dangerous habit-forming cathartics will gradually become unnecessary. All grocers have Fleischmann's Yeast. Buy several cakes at a time—they will keep fresh in a cool dry place for two or three days.

And let us send you a free copy of our latest book on Yeast for Health. Health Research Dept., L-739, The Fleischmann Company, 208 Simcoe St., Toronto, Ont., Canada.

WALTER JOHNSON, WORLD'S GREATEST BASEBALL PITCHER

"THE ONE THING a ball player must do is keep fit. For several years now, whenever I have felt out of condition or run down, I have used Fleischmann's Yeast—two to three cakes daily on bread or crackers. I find it tones up my system and gives me 'pep.' My wife and four of my children also use Fleischmann's Yeast to help them keep fit."

GOOD REPORTS OF PLAYGROUNDS WORK GIVEN

Association Makes Plans for Boys' Club Work This Winter

Reports of the closing of the city playgrounds and preparations for the opening of the East End Boys' Club occupied the meeting of the Playground Association held yesterday afternoon in the Health Centre with G. Fred Fisher, president, in the absence of the president, F. T. Lewis. It was decided to open the Boys' Club about Oct. 20 or 22, and Miss E. Heffer will be in charge. Arrangements were made for having some minor repairs done to the club premises.

MISS HEFFER'S REPORT.

The report of Miss Heffer, as general superintendent for the playgrounds, was most satisfactory. The average daily attendance of children during the month of August had been 809 for all grounds, and was divided among the various grounds as follows: East End, 210; Carleton, 187; Centennial, 178; Allison, 90; King George, 52; and Alexandra, 62.

The special events for the closing of the season had included a boys' field day, a girls' field day, and a general public closing on the Allison grounds. The association expressed its indebtedness to the New Brunswick Power Company for free transportation of the children, and the teachers from distant playgrounds to the Allison grounds for the closing, and its indebtedness to Capt. A. J. Mulachy for a donation of candy for the children.

A students' field day was also conducted, and the student teachers wrote an examination on their course, receiving marks for theory of playgrounds, methods of teaching, theory of play and general observation. Those who made highest marks were Miss Phyllis Wilson and Miss Margaret Ryan.

PLAYGROUNDS BOOTH.
A report was also received of the playgrounds booth at the Saint John Exhibition, which had been in charge of J. H. Hamilton, Mrs. A. D. Wilson

"GREATEST PLANE," UNUSED, DROOPS UNDER RUST

The great Barling Bomber in flight and, inset, Walter Barling, inventor and designer of the giant plane.

A $400,000 giant of the air stands idle in its hangar at Fairfield air depot, near Dayton, Ohio. Unused for almost three years, the "greatest airplane in the world" is rusting indignantly away. At the time of its construction much was said and written of the Barling Bomber, the dream and design of a quiet young Englishman in the employ of the United States Governmental experimental service. It was a triplane of majestic proportions, motored by four Liberty engines.

It passed its tests "perfectly," from Dayton down to St. Louis at the time of the Pulitzer races there, made one or two other flights—and then was "forgotten." Army officers explain that the plane was an experiment and a number of important lessons were learned from it.

Dr. Joseph H. Marcus, a former resident of Saint John; John D. Hillman, son of the owner of the famous hotel in Atlantic City, and Eugene S. Beckman are visitors in the city and are registered at the Admiral Beatty Hotel. All three are from Atlantic City.

PORTLAND FEARS COMPETITION OF CANADA PORTS

Protection for U. S. City Promised by U. S. Shipping Board

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 8.—Canadian competition with United States ports, particularly the port of Portland, had a prominent place today in discussions at one of the first of 20 hearings to be held by the United States Shipping Board in leading ports of this country.

Admiral W. S. Benson and Colonel Edward C. Flimmer, the commissioners present, were told of the need of protection through adequate merchant marine service here, perhaps more than in any other United States port, because of the close proximity to Canada and the increasing encroachments of Canadian trade.

PROBLEMS APPRECIATED.

Assurances were given that the Shipping Board members appreciate Portland's problems and that they believe in her protection, even to the extent of retaliatory measures against Canada because of the withdrawal from this port of some British ships.

The thought was stressed throughout the hearing that the competition instituted by Canada, herself, is friendly, but keen, and the United States government would be untrue to the interests of its citizens if it did not recognize this competition and strive as hard to ensure the shipment of United States goods in United States bottoms as Canada has done to ensure the shipment of Canadian-originated commodities in ships flying the British flag.

U. S. CARGOES SOUGHT.

Harry F. Merrill, chairman of the State Pier directorate and of the Maritime Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, suggested the securing of adequate United States cargoes for United States ships through the sending of traffic men, representing the Shipping Board, to see the manufacturers and producers and educate them to the necessity of shipping their goods through United States ports in United States ships.

He also suggested the establishment from leading ports, including Portland, of a definite and regular, not a spasmodic service of Shipping Board ships.

PARTY FAVORS 1927 NATIONAL MEETING

Conservatives Pick June; Session at Winnipeg, Toronto or Montreal

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—Conservatives will probably choose their new permanent party leader and formulate a policy for the party at a Dominion-wide convention to be held in June, 1927.

Party executives of eight provinces have replied to the circular from the Dominion president, John R. MacNicol, of Toronto, asking if it is the wish of the rank and file of the party to hold a Dominion convention and adopt a new policy and in every case the reply is favorable to the holding of such a gathering.

The replies are all favorable to June of next year as being the best time, and either Winnipeg, Toronto or Montreal as the best place of meeting, Mr. MacNicol announces. Executive has not yet replied, but it is expected to be strongly for a convention.

PLAN OPENING MEETING.

The executive of the Ladies' Morning Musical Club at a recent meeting at the residence of the president, Mrs. F. J. Hodgson, made plans for the opening of the new season and decided to hold the first meeting on Oct. 27, at 10:30 a.m., in the Admiral Beatty Hotel. For the meeting an interesting program of the works of Canadian composers is being prepared and it was decided to have the meeting a luncheon gathering also. Mrs. Harold McKay was elected secretary-treasurer to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. M. H. B. Good.

Auto Court Case Is Heard in Maine

BANGOR, Me., Oct. 8.—Attorney General Raymond Fellows, of Bangor, will appear before the U. S. Supreme Court in Washington to argue a Maine case of considerable importance, to the automobile business in the state. Litigation was initiated against an auto mobile corporation and the Bangor selling agents of the corporation by the insurance commissioner of Maine on the ground that the selling agent of cars included fire and theft insurance for a year, such insurance being in a company not licensed to do business in Maine. Application for an injunction restraining the insurance commissioner from enforcing the state law against doing insurance business without a license was referred to three Federal court justices, who denied such an injunction.

The auto corporation now takes the case to the U. S. Supreme Court with the contention that the Maine dealer are in no sense insurance agents, do not write the insurance contract or place it on the cost of the car which includes the insurance; it is also contended that the Maine law, if enforced, is unconstitutional, impairing freedom of contract, taking property without due process and denying full faith and credit and that the Chrysler plan is valid and not an infringement on the state laws.

CHILDHOOD AILMENTS

Can Be Quickly Banished With Baby's Own Tablets The ailments of childhood are many but nine-tenths of them are due to one cause and one cause only—a disordered condition of the stomach and bowels. To quickly banish any of the minor ailments of childhood and childhood the bowels must be made to work regular and the stomach must be sweetened. No other medicine for little ones has had such success as Baby's Own Tablets. They banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers; correct diarrhoea and colic and promote healthful sleep by regulating the functions of the stomach and bowels. Concerning them Mrs. I. M. Brown, Walton, N. S., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Baby's Own Tablets as I have found them excellent for childhood ailments." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail at 25 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ONTARIO'S HISTORY TEXT BOOKS SCORED

BRANTFORD, Oct. 8.—In his capacity as Minister of Education for the province, Premier G. H. Ferguson, visiting Brantford education institutions today, took occasion to strongly criticize the present history text books in use in Ontario public schools. They were merely a diary of events and dates, lacking in romance and deadeningly uninteresting. History, he said, should be written as a romance, telling of the gradual moulding of a country's development.

CLOSURE OF SOVIET AGENCIES URGED BY BALDWIN PARTY

End of Russo-British Trade Agreement Demanded at Conference

SCARBOROUGH, Eng., Oct. 8.—The Conservative party conference ended today after all phases of radicalism had been denounced in resolutions or from the platform.

Today the delegations adopted a resolution urging the termination of the Russo-British trade and diplomatic agreement and the immediate closure of all Soviet agencies in Great Britain. The foreign personnel should be compelled to return to Russia, the delegates decided. The resolution emphasized the "alarming continuance of subversive propaganda in Great Britain and the Soviet agents' flagrant breaches" of the agreement. Sir William Bull, M. P., who moved the resolution, said the Soviet government had openly declared itself the enemy of Great Britain. James Gardner, of Stockton-On-Tees, said that all Russian Communists were "blood-suckers who were at the bottom of all British industrial disputes of the past three years."

Another resolution stated the opinion of the delegates that any general strike was unconstitutional and treasonable, and that the participants in such a strike should be prosecuted by criminal indictment or by a bill of impeachment. Increased production and higher wages comprised the problem now before Great Britain, Premier Baldwin told the meeting. The premier did not refer to the miners' resolution to withdraw the safety men from the pits, but he said "those who caused the general strike as well as the coal strike learned their theories abroad."

The stoppage had necessitated new laws with respect to trade unions, but the system of collective bargaining, he said, was still necessary to society.

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—Col. J. L. Ralston was this afternoon sworn in as Minister of National Defense at Government House in the presence of the Governor-General, Premier Mackenzie King and Hon. Ernest Lapointe. The new minister delivered his first Cabinet meeting later in the day.

COMMUNITY ROOM IS PRESENTED TO CLIFTON VILLAGE

Mrs. Julia Bates Crozier of Los Angeles Gives $200 For Purpose

CLIFTON, N.B., Oct. 8.—A very representative gathering assembled in Clifton Hall on Thursday evening, when the formal presentation was made to the community, from Mrs. Julia Bates Crozier, Los Angeles, Cal., of $200 to be used in renovating and refitting a room in this hall as a library and community room. In making the presentation Mrs. Carmichael recalled incidents of girlhood friendship and happy school days in that very room—of eager reading by the little girl, Julia Bates, of books from the school library, such as Hugh Miller's and Macaulay's—a taste for good reading that has never failed. Others spoke of the high ideals and splendid enthusiasm characteristic of all Mrs. Crozier's life, and of her hope that this room might prove not only a pleasant social centre, but make for broader and finer living to all, but especially the rising generation.

NAMED AFTER DONOR. Suggestions were asked for a name and popular vote decided on "The Julia Bates Community Room."

The village library, which has steadily outgrown its quarters in a private house will be placed in the Community Room, when renovation is completed. Announcement was made that an organ would be placed in the room. After the singing of Auld Lang Syne a short programme of readings and musical selections was given, and the serving of refreshments brought the delightful evening to a close. Work on the room will be undertaken at once. "Yankee Doodle" an Old Irish Tune. (London Despatch) The tune "Yankee Doodle" is not American at all, but Irish, says Dr. Gratton Flood, an Irish authority on musical history. He asserts that "Yankee Doodle" was originally an Irish air known as "All the Way to Galway." Also "God Save the King," the British national anthem, Dr. Flood says, is an old Irish tune which originated about 1595.

LOCAL HEBREWS TO GREET VISITORS

Arrival for Mrs. Freiman and Rabbi Klotnik Not Until Sunday

The arrival of the two distinguished visitors expected by the Jewish community of the city has been deferred for one day and it was announced last night that the guests, Mrs. A. J. Freiman, of Ottawa, and Rabbi J. L. Zlotnik would reach Saint John at noon on Sunday instead of arriving today. The delay has been occasioned by the illness of Mrs. Freiman. Mrs. Freiman is president of the Dominion Hadassah organization and chairman of the Kerem Hayesod, or Palestine Foundation Fund, while Rabbi Zlotnik is the executive director of the Zionist organization of Canada. This delegation is coming to Saint John primarily in the interests of the Kerem Hayesod or Palestine Foundation Fund. Isaac, Mrs. J. Goldman,

In the evening at 8 o'clock a community social and reception will be held in their honor in the vestry of the synagogue and Rabbi Zlotnik will deliver an address before that mass meeting on the subject of Palestine Progress.

For the reception the junior Hadassah girls' chorus will sing a number of the Hebrew national songs under the direction of Cantor Mandelblatt.

Covers Over 4,000 Miles in Two-Year Trip Into Interior; Unmapped Nettilling Lake Visited in Voyage by Dog Sled, Boat and Canoe

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—Some of the results of a "one-man" expedition into the interior of Baffin Island—a previously unexplored part of Canada—were known today with the return to Ottawa of J. Dewey Soper who has been two years in the north.

Mr. Soper covered more than 4,000 miles and has returned with some 3,500 scientific specimens. The department of mines, which sent Mr. Soper into the Arctic, has expressed itself as "very well satisfied with the results attained and adds that many larger expeditions have been out for years and brought back much less scientific information and material."

LAKE EXPLORED While the complete results of the expedition will not be known until Mr. Soper makes his official report, in an interview today he told of the exploration of Nettilling Lake in the interior of Baffin Island with four Esquimaux. The lake has always been unmarked on maps of Canada.

TOURISTS LEAVE MANY ARTICLES IN HOTEL ROOMS

"Lost and Found" Department of City Hostel Interesting Spot

A short tour of the storeroom at any of the city hotels will quickly reveal that they are well filled with all sorts of articles left in the rooms by guests. Overcoats, hats, straw hats, caps, shoes, ties, jerseys, club bags, walking sticks, umbrellas, etc., are the greater portion of the things left by male guests.

MEN MORE FORGETFUL. "Men," said one hotel man, "are more forgetful than women. We have much more paraphernalia here belonging to male guests than we have to female guests. Ladies take more care of their belongings than men for the simple reason that they are used to arranging things around a house while men are content to throw everything they get their hands on into some convenient corner."

VALUABLES WELL LOOKED AFTER. "Do you ever find anything of value?" he was asked. "Once in a while," replied the hotel manager, "we find something of value, money, watches, bracelets or things like that. Men go to bed and sometimes put their valuables under their pillows. When they get up in the morning they are generally in a hurry and forget it. The same applies to watches and bracelets, but more often watches. Women for the most part do not forget their valuables. While they might once in a while leave a coat hanging on the back of the door, particularly in the case of jewelry, they have too much use for vanity cases and the like to leave them. We rarely find anything of value in the case of jewelry left in the room. If a woman takes any valuables with her they are generally left in her chest and nearly always are left in the office."

ARTICLES STORED. "All the forgotten articles are stored in a room in the hotel until called for. Oftentimes we get letters asking for some article of clothing left behind but for the most part it remains unclaimed. We keep it for a stated period of time and either give it away or destroy it."

There is only one thing to forgive. With a whole lot to forgive. There is only one thing to forgive. And that is, abjectly, completely. And so I beg pardon. And will you forgive me. Sweetly?

2,000 PEOPLE VISIT ORPHANAGE FAIR ON CLOSING NIGHT

Several Drawings Take Place Friday Evening—The Winners

Close to 2,000 people attended the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage fair on the closing night last evening and there was a brisk business in all of the games. Practically everything in the way of stores was disposed of, the small amount of supplies remaining will all be taken to the home and used at the orphanage.

The drawings, with the exception of the model yacht, the hope chest and the automobile, all took place last evening and the crowd was much interested. While the objective of the fair was to clear the $22,000 deficit the committee in charge can only roughly estimate the total proceeds, but has placed them at about $8,000 or $10,000 behind that amount and since it has the pledge of two good friends of the orphanage to each give $1,000, if the proceeds amount to nearly the objective, the committee has appealed for any of the people who are able to do so to assist with further money contributions to wipe out the debt. One man in response to that appeal last night gave a pledge of $100.

The workers at the fair have won highest praise for the devotion with which they carried through a very arduous task. Among the workers who have already been mentioned are the members of the K. K. Club, a war time organization whose initials letters stand for "Kitchener and Knit-

"Sleep in peace and wake in joy"

Nature never intended your nervous system to bear such tremendous strains as those of our present day high-speed, high-tension living. Medical authorities point out that the indispensable safeguard of your nervous strength is truly restful sleep.

The mere fact that you sleep every night is far from enough. You may find sleep on a hard, unyielding mattress, or even on what apparently seems a soft mattress, from force of habit, but you are getting only partial rest because your body is only partially supported on hips, shoulders and head. Do you toss and turn and wake up tired? Vital organs have been placed in positions of strain just serious enough to make you restless.

Thousands of people have found in the Marshall Mattress a new kind of sleep—the profound slumber only possible when every square inch of the body is firmly supported in its natural position. It means the refreshing, invigorating sleep of perfect relaxation, the healthful sleep that cleanses your system of the poisons of fatigue, that makes you a new person for another day!

If you do not always rest or sleep well it is a sign you should improve your sleeping habits. Give a serious thought to this vital matter of healthful sleep. It affects your sleeping comfort and well-being for the rest of your life. Is it not worth a visit to your furniture dealer who sells Marshall Mattresses?

CORRUPTION TRAIL TO HIGH PLACES IN HALL CASE HINTED

Bribery Inquiry to Reveal More Scandal Than Murder Probe

BIG U. S. POLITICIAN IS UNDER SUSPICION

New Jersey Checks Up Story That County Officials Aided Defence

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Oct. 8.—With the trial of Mrs. Francis Stevens Hall, Henry Stevens and "Willie" Stevens for the murder of the Rev. Dr. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills only a month away, the state is now bending every effort to uncover corruption reported "to extend to very high places."

It was learned today that a politician of national reputation might be questioned in connection with the fruitless investigation four years ago of Inspector John J. Underwood professional surprise when the man's name was mentioned.

"I have reason to think," he commented, "that we shall find more scandal in this phase of the investigation than has been uncovered about the murders. I can admit this much—that there is no doubt the corruption extended into very high places."

Inspector Underwood intimated that the murder case is now in such shape that Alexander Simpson, Assistant Attorney General, feels he can present his evidence before "any kind of a jury." Four indictments for accessories after the fact will be sought from the grand jury convening here on Thursday—three for men, one for a woman. The names of Ralph V. Gossline, Felix di Martini and Mrs. Minna Clarke have been prominently mentioned in this connection. Di Martini already has been arrested on this charge and is free on $10,000 bail pending extradition proceedings.

REVERSES AT ALBANY.

An adverse ruling for the state was handed down today in Albany by Attorney General Albert Ottinger, who found that a witness in New York State could not be compelled to appear and testify in a criminal action in New Jersey unless New Jersey has a reciprocal law. So far as the Attorney General could learn, it has not.

This ruling was made in connection with the inquiry Senator Simpson addressed to State Comptroller Vincent Murphy as to the status of Di Martini and Walter Burnley, the detective who says he was employed by Dr. Hall to protect him shortly before the murder. Both of them claim privilege, since they are licensed detectives of New York State.

With the murder inquiry virtually closed the remaining weeks will be devoted to following up the leads furnished by Henry L. Dickman, former state trooper, who swore in an affidavit that he had taken a bribe to disappear after making important discoveries in the case.

Captain Harry J. Walsh, one of the chief investigators for the state, gave additional details today of Dickman's admissions. He had just returned from a check-up on some of them and reported that he had found them to be absolutely true. He found that within an hour after he accepted the alleged

Marine Fliers Ready To Seek New Dawn-Dusk Record

Major Ross Rowell, with a group of other marine officers are nearly ready for their dawn to dusk air race against time in an effort to better the time made by Russell Maughan in the first dawn to dusk flight from New York to San Francisco. The marines will hop off from Quantico, Va., naval base with San Diego, Cal., as their goal, with stops for fuel at St. Louis, Mo.; Lawton, Okla.; and El Paso, Tex. The flight is expected to demonstrate the feasibility of establishing a daylight trans-continental mail service along the southern airway. The fliers are, left to right, Major Rowell, Lieut. W. J. COUNTY AIDED DEFENSE.

The state investigators are now checking up reports in their possession that Somerset county authorities assisted the defense four years ago in bringing to an end the original investigation. County Detective Joseph Hanlon has reported that on February 7, 1923, three months after the grand jury failed to indict, Mrs. Hall sailed for Italy, returning seven months later. On February 22 the late Alexander Beckman, then prosecutor of Somerset county, departed for Bermuda. A year later Mrs. Hall again went to Italy. Within a week after she had sailed Beckman sailed for Bermuda.

Hanlon was instructed to get these dates, but no indication was given of their bearing on the investigation. Senator Simpson today personally questioned the late Mr. Beckman's stenographer and a lawyer who worked in his office four years ago. He came here with a Hudson county stenographer and, in addition to questioning these two, saw Judge Frank L. Cleary about the indictments he will seek on Thursday.

Miss Charlotte Southwick worked for Mr. Beckman from August, 1922, to March, 1923. She was asked if she loved to approach her. Miss Peters kept reporters away. Like di Martini, she lived in the Hall home. Mr. Pfeiffer was constantly back and forth. Miss Peters was Mrs. Hall's bridesmaid and an old school friend.

Since this investigation opened, two months ago, she has not been seen in New Brunswick. In an interview the other day Mrs. Hall warded off questions about Miss Peters merely by remarking that she had seen her recently. The authorities are anxious to question her about her knowledge of the movements of Pfeiffer and di Martini.

Inspector Underwood revealed that Joseph H. Porter, president of a New Brunswick bank, was questioned two weeks ago and denied having been in De Russy's Lane on the night of the murder. Mr. Porter announced he would file suits for damages against a morning tabloid and an afternoon newspaper.

Dr. J. Mervin Pettit was questioned this afternoon by Captain Walsh, Sergeant Burke and Captain J. J. Lamb. He succeeded Dr. Hall as rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist.

Dr. Pettit was drawn into the case when Gossline and Miss Catherine Rastall were being questioned. He was extremely active while his two parolers were undergoing examination. He was seen by Inspector Underwood in a car with Miss Rastall and two of the defense lawyers immediately before the girl went to state trooper headquarters for questioning.

While Gossline was being grilled Dr. Pettit went up stairs and disappeared. He was going to discontinue their New York-Hamburg services was hailed here as a great triumph for German shipping. German financial writers recall how, after the war, Allied statesmen predicted that German shipping would be driven off the high seas as a serious trade competitor.

GERMANS HAIL END OF HAMBURG RUN

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—The report from New York that the White Star and American Lines were going to discontinue their New York-Hamburg services was hailed here as a great triumph for German shipping. CAPTAIN AND 3 MEN FREED AT SYDNEY

SYDNEY, N. S., Oct. 8.—Captain Maxwell Vatcher and three members of the crew of the schooner Green were acquitted in a court of North Sydney yesterday of charges of attempting to ram and sink a United States customs patrol boat 90 miles off New York on May 26.

Captain Edward Hahn of the United States patrol vessel 2004 testified as to the alleged attempt to ram his ship, while Capt. Vatcher and his men swore that they were not on board the Green at all at the time. Dismissal for lack of sufficient evidence followed. The charges were laid by North Sydney customs officials on instructions from Ottawa, following a formal complaint from the United States government.

CABINET CAN'T GET COAL FOR ONTARIO

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—The Dominion Government could do nothing toward getting a supply of Alberta coal for Ontario at present, because the railways are congested with grain and the report of the commission investigating freight rates has not yet been furnished, Mayor Foster states he was informed by Dr. Charles Cammell, Dominion Deputy Minister of Mines. Mayor Foster conferred with Dr. Cammell here today on the subject, the Deputy Minister having come in response to the Mayor's query to Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Mines.

DARLING REFERS TO VIEWS OF DEAN

Says Inge's Words Deserve More Heed Than Lady Astor's Optimism

QUEBEC, Oct. 8.—That the "Gloomy" Dean Inge should not be taken any more seriously here than in England, was the advice given by Lord Darling, prominent English jurist, in the course of a short address in reply to an official welcome extended to him by members of the Bar and Bench in the local court house today.

Lady Astor, said His Lordship, had been commenting upon the remarks made recently by the Dean, she had criticized him for his pessimism, but Lord Darling thought the Dean's words deserved more attention than the optimism of Lady Astor.

B. Hawthorne, upon 10 witnesses to attend Monday morning in police court.

GERMANS HAIL END OF HAMBURG RUN

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—The report from New York that the White Star and American Lines were going to discontinue their New York-Hamburg services was hailed here as a great triumph for German shipping. German financial writers recall how, after the war, Allied statesmen predicted that German shipping would be driven off the high seas as a serious trade competitor.

With the arrival of these big English companies from the Hamburg run shows how quickly Germany is regaining its old place in the shipping world, is the joyful comment made in this city.

The action of the United States government, it is pointed out here, following that of the United States Lines last winter in removing nearly all of its ships from the Hamburg service.

CAPTAIN AND 3 MEN FREED AT SYDNEY

SYDNEY, N. S., Oct. 8.—Captain Maxwell Vatcher and three members of the crew of the schooner Green were acquitted in a court of North Sydney yesterday of charges of attempting to ram and sink a United States customs patrol boat 90 miles off New York on May 26.

Captain Edward Hahn of the United States patrol vessel 2004 testified as to the alleged attempt to ram his ship, while Capt. Vatcher and his men swore that they were not on board the Green at all at the time. Dismissal for lack of sufficient evidence followed. The charges were laid by North Sydney customs officials on instructions from Ottawa, following a formal complaint from the United States government.

CARDINALS LED IN HITTING AND FIELDING IN FIVE GAMES

O'FARRELL IS SWAT LEADER WITH .437 MARK

Pennock, Ruth and Card Catcher in Line for Stardom

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—With five games tucked away in the world series battle resuming today in New York, the St. Louis Cardinals have out-hit the New York Yankees by fourteen points, and by the narrowest of margins have outfielded their American League rivals according to the composite box score.

With the return from at least one county not yet in, there is a three-cornered neck and neck race for the nomination as the so-called hero of the series, Pennock, Ruth and O'Farrell claim prominent consideration among the score of more eligibles.

Cardinal fans, anticipating a possible brilliant pitching performance from Alexander's still strong right arm, point with pride to the fact that the Nebraska will enter the game with an unbroken string of 21 Yankees retired in order.

YANKS BACK SHAWKEY The Yankee camp can claim that there is nothing in the work of the athletically ancient but "nod" decrepit Shawkey to view with alarm.

Bancroft and Rudolph Visiting Saint John

Saint John had two very interesting sport visitors yesterday in the person of Dave Bancroft, manager of the Boston Braves, and Dick Rudolph, his right hand man, and former star hurler of the National and International Leagues, and a pitcher who figured in two victories for the Braves when they turned back in sensational manner the one-time famous Athletics with their $100,000 infamy.

BOLTER: Why didn't you hire a lawyer to look after your case? Bancroft: Oh, I thought that if I won I'd like to make a little something out of it myself.—Answers, London.

Sentiment Plays Its Part

SENTIMENT always plays a leading role in every sporting event. This year's baseball classic is overshadowed by the death of Mrs. M. D. Hornsby, mother of the slugging manager of the Cardinals, Babe Ruth also gets his share of the spotlight due to his remarkable comeback this year.

Hagen Is Only Star To Save Faces of Experts In Year Of Unusual Sport Upsets

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—A year of startling upsets, the defeats of Bill Tilden, Bobby Jones, Paavo Nurmi and Jack Dempsey, gave experts who were brave enough to make predictions an awful beating.

Only one star came through for the prophets and he was Walter Hagen, who won the professional golf championship for the third straight time.

It's always safe to pick Hagen in a money contest, however, as the expert takes about as much chance in picking him as in sitting down and writing on Saturday that the next day will be Sunday.

Tilden blamed his defeat in the national tennis championship on a bad knee but as it was pointed out from Paris earlier in the season, Tilden or no other player can beat Cochet when he is right.

Perhaps Tilden did have a bad knee but it is not stretching a point to assume that he is through. Perhaps he suffered an interior collapse like Dempsey did. They both looked fine on the surface but when the test came the fire within seemed to have burned out.

A review of 1925 and 1926 records will inform the baseball fan that only two clubs repeated in the eight leading leagues of the country to retain the championships they captured a year ago.

In the National League Pittsburgh stepped out to let the St. Louis Cardinals march boldly to the front. The American League race saw this year the American Association, the Louisville Colonels, despite the loss of Manager McCarthy, who took over the Cubs, fought through to throat back Milwaukee and retain its championship for another year.

The International League race found the Baltimore monopoly being fractured, Toronto grabbing off the pennant and all the glory that goes with it.

In the Texas League, the Port Worth Panther was forced to meet a natural death, the Dallas Steers taking 1926 honors.

In the Southern Association, the Atlanta Crackers failed to repeat their 1925 achievements. Larry Gilbert's Pelicans of New Orleans took the flag this year.

RICKARD PLANNING OUTDOOR STADIUM

Would be Built in New York and Used For Football and Boxing

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Tex Rickard's next big undertaking will be to push through to completion his plans for a giant outdoor stadium which he hopes to erect next year somewhere in the metropolitan district. This was revealed by the promoter yesterday. He said he expected to make an announcement soon on the site for the prospective arena.

According to Rickard's tentative plans, the arena is to be essentially a football stadium which at the same time would be suitable for important boxing contests. It is to be patterned after the Yale bowl, only on a much larger scale, having a seating capacity of 100,000 for football games and about 125,000 or possible 135,000 for lights. Flooding the field and installing a freezing plant in order to put on outdoor hockey games also would come within Rickard's scheme.

Rickard also discussed other plans he has in mind and which he hopes soon to put in effect. For one thing, he is considering staging a featherweight tournament that will bring out a successor to Louis (Kid) Kaplan, who recently graduated into the light weight ranks and vacated his world's 126-pound championship. Rickard has four contenders in mind who, he believes will be conceded by all to be the foremost in the featherweight division. They are Benny Bass, Red Chapman, Chick Suggs and Andy Rouss, the Frenchman, who has shown as impressively in his first two starts in this country.

Another bout Rickard has in mind for the Garden this winter is a lightweight championship between Jack Deane, the titleholder, and Harry Greb, the former middleweight champion.

Neither Joyce Wethered nor Cecil Leitch, the two outstanding stars of British women's golf, competed.

MISS JOURLAY WINS ENGLISH GOLF TITLE

WOODHALL, Spa, Lincolnshire, Oct. 8.—Molly Jourlay today won the English women's golf championship, defeating Elsie Corlett, of St. Annan, in the final, six and four. The former title holder, Doris Fowler, was defeated in the first round by a cousin, Judith Fowler.

IT'S TOUGH TASK

KEN WILLIAMS, who a few years back took the home-run crown temporarily away from Babe Ruth, has got an entirely new slant on baseball this season.

Recently, after he had popped up with a couple of runners on the bases, he remarked to me: "Pinch hitting is the toughest job in baseball. Without a moment's warning you are pulled from the bench to face some star pitcher who is going at top speed.

"In nine cases out of ten the situation is just as the name pinch hitter implies, the old pinch. Naturally you are lightened up and a batter never does his best unless he is natural.

"I would rather play for $5,000 as a regular than get $20,000 as a pinch hitter."

Deaths in the Saint John district board of health, for the ending today numbered 15, from following causes: Myocarditis, 1; strangulated hernia, 2; senility, cephalic, malnutrition, locomotor ataxia, arterio sclerosis, chronic endocarditis, entero-colitis, cholera infantum, laceration neonatorum and tuberculous peritonitis, one each.

And then she proved her love by a ghastly sacrifice that provides the greatest climax a film audience ever witnessed!

BOARDS URGING DUNCAN REPORT GIVEN OUT NOW

Saint John and Maritime Trade Organizations
Wire Ottawa

PROTEST FOLLOWS ON FIRST REPLY

Desired to Have Full Details
Before Canadian Meeting Here

The Saint John Board of Trade and Angus McLean, of Bathurst, president of the Maritime Board of Trade, have been in correspondence with Premier King and Hon. P. J. Veniot, postmaster general, in connection with the immediate publication of the Duncan report and urging that, in deference to the wishes of the people of the Maritime Provinces, this report be given to the public at once.

Immediately upon the publication, Thursday morning, of a despatch from Ottawa that the Duncan report was not to be made public until parliament met, a meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade was called and met at noon that day. It was the unanimous opinion of those present that the report should be published at once and that representations should be made to the Government.

Following the receipt of a telegram from Thomas Mulvey, under secretary of state, that Premier King had given orders that the report was not to be made public until presented to parliament a further protest was given to the premier direct and to Hon. P. J. Veniot.

FROM MARITIME BOARD.

This morning word was received by the Board from Angus McLean, president of the Maritime Board of Trade, that he had wired a protest at the withholding of publication of the report.

After the noon meeting of the council on Thursday the commissioner of the board, P. MacIntyre, telephoned in touch with the Halifax Board of Trade, by long distance telephone and informed them of what had been done by the local board and asked them to take similar action and co-operation in the matter was promised by the Halifax Board.

COPIES OF TELEGRAMS.

The telegrams exchanged between the Board and Ottawa were as follows:

Saint John, N. B., Oct. 7, 1926.
Thomas Mulvey, Esq., Undersecretary of State, Department of State, Ottawa:

Maritimes are expecting Duncan report to be published promptly and in view of popular opinion and desirability of having this report made public before meeting of Canadian Board of Trade in this city, October 19 to 22, we trust press despatch is incorrect. Please wire reply.

SAINT JOHN BOARD OF TRADE.

Saint John, N. B., Oct. 7, 1926.
Hon. P. J. Veniot, Postmaster General, Ottawa:

We have wired Mulvey, Undersecretary of State, as follows:

SAINT JOHN BOARD OF TRADE.

October, 1926, 8 p.m.
Ottawa, Ont.

Saint John Board of Trade, Saint John, N. B.

Your telegram seventh. Prime Minister has directed that Duncan report is not to be published until laid before Parliament.

THOMAS MULVEY,

Undersecretary of State,
Right Honourable W. L. McKenzie King, Premier, House of Commons, Ottawa:

Greatly regret to learn of your instructions that Duncan report is not to be published until laid before parliament. This would mean a most grievous disappointment to the Maritimes where its prompt publication has been confidently expected and looked forward to with intense anticipation. As the immediate publication of the report would not commit the government in any way and in view of very widespread Maritime feeling on the matter, hope that on second consideration and prior to your departure you may still see fit to order the immediate publication of the report and shall be very grateful to hear from you to that effect. May we take this opportunity to wish you bon voyage.

SAINT JOHN BOARD OF TRADE.

Saint John, N. B., Oct. 8, 1926.
Hon. Peter J. Veniot, Postmaster General, Post Office Department, Ottawa:

Mulvey just wires that Premier has directed that Duncan report is not to be published until laid before parliament. This would mean a most grievous disappointment to the Maritimes and in our opinion is regrettable in the most serious sense. We have wired Premier King to foregoing effect and earnestly urge your strongest influence toward obtaining from him prior to his departure authority for immediate publication of report. Entirely apart from attitude of our public, board recognizes how important it would be in Maritime interests to have report au-

Ham, Bologna and Tea Taken at J. A. Driscoll's Wall St.

A meat and grocery store, owned by J. A. Driscoll, 84 Wall street, was broken into after last midnight and a ham, two bolognas and a quantity of tea stolen. Entrance was gained by breaking the lock. It is believed the same thief tried to gain entrance of the Valley Pharmacy, owned by J. A. Webster, as the lock was found to have been tampered with.

Another Partridge Found At Door

Saint John seems to have been adopted by the partridge of this vicinity as a haven of refuge and seem to be under the impression that here they have nothing to fear from humans. This morning when Mrs. J. V. McLellan opened the door of her home, 10 Padlock street, she found a fine plump partridge facing her. Some time later it was still there. Earlier this week a partridge was found at the door of No. 4 Engine House.

PETITION FOR RECALL OF CIRCULATION

States Reasons for Action to Retire Four Commissioners in City

Petitions for the recall of Commissioners Frink, Wigmore, Bullock and Harding were placed in circulation for signatures today. The action follows the presentation of a petition recently at City Hall requesting the appointment of an auditor or firm of auditors of "undoubted experience and recognized standing" to be named or approved by a committee of the petitioners, to audit the city's books and accounts of the last five years, all departments, including the assessor's also to make recommendations, etc.; also the appointment of an efficiency expert in the same manner.

FOUND SET OUT

The petition for recall refers to the period that has intervened since the first petition was sent in and sets out as the grounds on which recall is sought the following:

"The neglect and refusal of the said commissioners to grant the request contained in the said petition of the taxpayers for the appointment of an independent auditor and an independent efficiency expert as asked for by the said petitioners."

"The contemptuous treatment that was accorded the said petition of the taxpayers by the said commissioners."

"The attempt on the part of the said commissioners to frustrate the object of the said petition of the taxpayers by the appointment of Dr. Horace L. Brittain, who is not an auditor nor an efficiency expert, but is said to be a municipal research authority, and whose appointment would entail, as your petitioners believe, probably a large and unnecessary expense upon the taxpayers without any adequate compensating or satisfactory results."

"The petition concludes: 'Your petitioners therefore request that the said four commissioners may be removed from office respectively, and demand that an election of successors to the persons sought to be removed shall be held according to law.'

ONE OR FOUR ELECTIONS?

Asked this morning whether one election would suffice if the recall movement were successful, or whether there would have to be an election for each commissioner, the Common Clerk would not express an opinion. He had referred the matter to the City Solicitor. The City Solicitor said the matter had been referred to him to study it and until he had done so would not express an opinion.

Chickens and fowl were cheaper at 45 to 55 cents respectively.

Celery was 10 cents a head, three for 25; lettuce, native curly, two heads for 15 cents; iceberg 20 cents a head; cauliflower 15 to 20 cents each; tomatoes 10 cents a pound; onions 6 cents a pound; Spanish 8 cents a pound; squash 5 cents a pound; carrots and parsnips 5 cents a bunch.

As Hiram Sees It

THE SETTLEMENT:—The next thing me an' the towns fellers seen crossin' 'n' the patch o' moonlight on Long Reach was some big boats that hed guns an' a lot o' men aboard.

"Them," says 'n' the towns fellers, "is the ghosts of Arson an' his Dutch pirates that hed 'em up to sack Soulanges' fort at Jimsag."

The done it, too—me an' the towns fellers—'n' they soon let him go—an' hed on to all the stuff they stole from the fort. That was in 1674.

The government at Quebec paid Soulanges by givin' him a grant o' what's now Fred'cton an' Devon an' Marysville—besides Jimsag an' what he hed at the mouth o' the Saint John River. He was made Governor of Acadia—but didn't live long in that office. He died in 1678 an' his widder got a grant o' what's now Gagetown—along with what he hed afore. But the family moved to Quebec—an' never got no good o' their lands on the Saint John River. Soulanges' grandson was the last Governor General o' New France—'fore he passed to the English. Them was the ghosts o' the Dutch pirates that looted Fort Jimsag two hundred an' fifty-four year ago that we just seen in the moonlight on the river."

"Well," says I, "when I used to go up 'n' down the Reach in the old steamer Soulanges I never knowed who she was named after."
