So far Ontario and Quebec have subscribed $100,000 each. British Columbia, $10,000, and New Brunswick $7,500, making a total of $217,500. It is believed when the other provincial governments have been heard from a quarter of a million will be the contribution of these provinces. News coming from the Motherland indicates that at least $50,000 will be brought over by the prince. The balance required to be raised by private individuals and corporations is about $300,000. Outside of Ottawa and Montreal, where about $15,000 each has been raised, other cities and towns have not yet shown any activity in connection with the fund. The committee urges that an extra effort should be made from now on so that the splendid patriotic scheme may not fall through.

The jury after short consideration brought in a verdict, the substance of which was that the body was that of the late Edward Currie and that deceased met death by accidentally falling into the river and drowning.

FREDERICTON GIRLS
HAD NARROW ESCAPE IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

FREDERICTON, June 10.—A serious runaway occurred here at a late hour this afternoon. While the Misses Thompson, daughters of Hon. Senator Thompson, accompanied by two young lady friends, were driving down Queen street in the senator's dog-cart, the horse took fright at an automobile at the head of the street and became unmanageable. Miss Margaret Thompson, who was driving, used her best endeavors to control the frightened beast, but without effect. The horse came down Queen street at a furious rate, the occupants looking on in terror with the greatest difficulty. When near the Barker House the animal ran towards the sidewalk and missed striking a telegraph pole by a few inches. In front of Hunt and Macdonald's drug store the wheel of the dog-cart struck the iron post on the sidewalk. Fortunately the post gave away and the jar was sufficient to check to some extent the horse's speed, when it was captured by a number of persons. The escape was a miraculous one.

The young ladies, who were considerably shaken up, were assisted from the carriage and driven to their homes. Both shafts of the dog-cart were broken and the vehicle otherwise injured.

GOOD WORK DONE AT MONCTON HOSPITAL; A SERIOUS ACCIDENT

MONCTON, June 10.—The annual meeting of the hospital board was held this evening, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, F. W. Sumner, vice-president, James Doyle; secretary, H. F. Hamlin; treasurer, J. H. Macdonald; terms of the trustees, Senator McClelland, Messrs. Hamilton and E. Girouard, having expired. Messrs. Hamilton and Girouard with John E. Lyons were chosen to fill the positions. There were 388 patients during the year, 230 discharged cured, 11 improved, three not treated, three incurable and twenty deaths, an excellent record. The largest number of cases of any one disease was typhoid fever, of which there were 21 and in the surgical list appendicitis had the largest number with 21.

A regrettable accident occurred last evening by which James Humphrey, second son of James Humphrey, the former well-known sprinter and ball player, may lose his right eye. The little lad, who is aged about ten years, was playing with some companions, one of whom had a bow and arrow, which he declared he would use in the falling arrow struck young Humphrey, piercing the ball of his right eye. It is possible that the eye may be saved, but it is feared that the sight will be permanently impaired.

JUDGE FORBES ON DOMINION PROBLEMS

WINNIPEG, June 10.—Judge Forbes of St. John was lunched by the Canadian Club today, and in his address, which he delivered, he dealt with "Problems of the Dominion."

He gave his opinion that one of the greatest of these arises out of immigration, and the law which enables foreigners to be naturalized before they have learned to appreciate democracy or to place a proper estimation on the franchise.

In St. John they were invited by the same attorney stating that they were good citizens. As judge he was compelled to naturalize them. He did not think it was right. Judge Forbes considered there should be an educational test before allowing half breed Slavians to vote for or against a Canadian man. Another thing that should be guarded was that these foreign people should not be allowed to settle in colonies. What was allowed in the United States showed that it took three generations to make citizens of them. The English language should be taught in all schools, and was the best medium for building up a nation.

BRINGS DEATH TO 30,000 CHILDREN

OTTAWA, June 10.—A number of valuable papers on subjects relating to the medical profession were given at today's session of the Canadian Medical Association.

Dr. C. J. O. Hastings of Toronto, in a paper on the improvement of pure milk, read before the section on public health, declared that impure milk was primarily responsible for the loss of 15,000 of the 30,000 children annually in Canada. He strongly urged a more stringent inspection of the milk supply in every municipality, and he emphasized the paramount importance of proper pasteurizing of milk in all dairies.

At the conclusion of the paper a committee was appointed to wait on the government, with a view to securing stringent regulations governing municipal inspectors.

The formation of a Canadian Ambulance and Red Cross Association was advocated in a paper read by Lieutenant Colonel Jones of Ottawa before a section on military medicine. A committee was named to consider the formation of the association.

This afternoon the members of the association went as guests of the C. P. R. to Caledonia Springs.

This evening at a general meeting of the association Dr. E. H. Russell of London, England, gave an address on medicine and Dr. J. C. Munro of Boston, Mass., spoke on Surgical Rights of the Public.

LARGER DIVIDENDS FOR YORK SHAREHOLDERS

TORONTO, Ont., June 10—The vast holdings of land by the defunct York Loan Company in Western Toronto are turning out to be very valuable, and will help to pay off the shareholders. It is estimated that the dividend may finally reach forty or even fifty per cent to the shareholders. The land has been selling steadily at increased prices, and what sold for fifteen dollars a foot a year ago now readily commands twenty dollars or over.

DEATHS

T. B. WINSLOW.
FREDERICKTON, June 10—T. Bradshaw Winslow, for nearly forty years secretary of the department of public works, died at his home here at 6.45 tonight after a lengthy illness from asthma and heart disease. For some months he had been unable to attend to his duties and suffered greatly in the past few weeks.

Deceased was 69 years old, a son of the late Sheriff Winslow, of Carleton County, and a native of Woodstock. He spent some years of his early life in Australia. Shortly after Confederation he was appointed to the office he filled very satisfactorily for so many years. He was the last of his family, his deceased brothers including the late E. Byron Winslow, barrister of this city, and Frank E. Winslow, for many years manager of the Bank of Montreal at Chatham, and John C. Winslow, postmaster at Woodstock. His wife, who survives, was Miss Bull, of Woodstock, and his four children living are Mrs. W. E. Smith, and Miss Grace Winslow, of this city, Bruce Winslow, of South America, and Donald B. Winslow, of the public works department.

JOHN WILSON.
ST. STEPHEN, N. B., June 10.—John Wilson died at his home here, at noon today after a brief illness of paralysis. He was a member of the Maritime Edge Tool Co., a skilled workman and excellent citizen. He was sixty years of age and leaves a wife, one daughter and two sons. Interment will be on Friday afternoon.

MEMBERS OF THE ROYAL FAMILY SING IN PUBLIC

Princess Christian and her daughter, Princess Victoria, are both prominent and regular members of the Windsor Glee Society, and have several times sung in public at its performances in Windsor. Indeed, the popularization of glee singing, which has amounted to a musical revolution in England of late years, is due to the efforts of the Queen and the Princess. The Queen attended the concert given by the Blackpool Glee and Madrigal Society, the Queen's Hall some little time ago, and one of the Welsh choruses was specially commanded to sing at Windsor Castle.

WHEN THE KING SANG.
King Edward has only been known to sing in public once, and that occasion was only semi-public, so to speak, for it was on the occasion of a "Wine" at the "Variety" in his undergraduate days. He chose the long-forgotten song, "The Rose Tree," and it is recorded that he had a most boisterous bearing, which anyone who has had the experience of such an occasion will well understand. They are no respecters of persons at the "Variety."

The present half-apparent might have made quite a name for himself as a singer of comic songs. Being a sailor by profession, he sang man to man the rollicking type of ditty, and during his cadetship he won great fame among his messmates for his old-time songs. When a more boy, during his famous trip around the world on the Bacchante, no concert on shipboard was considered complete without Prince George's contribution, and perhaps his most popular song was that old-time pantomime air, "Champagne Charlie is my name."

TRADITIONAL LIKING.
His young and promising son, who if he is spared, may some day become King of the Britons, the Prince of Wales, is early following in his father's steps, for he made his first public appearance as a vocalist at the age of thirteen at a concert at the Naval College at Osborne. It is said that ere he began to sing he said, with the

FINEST ROYAL VOCALIST.
The King's brother, the late Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, better known by his earlier title of Duke of Edinburgh, was never known to sing in public, but he was an extraordinarily fine executant on the violin, and has many a time given brilliant displays of his skill in public. He was probably the most musical member of the Royal Family, and he and the late Sir Arthur Sullivan, W. S. Gilbert's famous collaborator, were the closest friends. Although the Prince never sang in public, he has frequented the studio of his uncle, the composer's flat in Victoria street.

Of the Royal Princesses, Queen Maud of Norway has probably the best voice, and she takes a great interest in the folk-songs of her adopted country. The Princesses of Wales often charms her own company by singing to her own accompaniment on the piano. But undoubtedly the daughter of our own King's sister, Princess Alice, the Countess of Russell, is the finest Royal vocalist in the world. Were it not that she is the Empress of Russia she might have made a world-wide name for herself as a singer, and at least once has sung in public on behalf of a Russian charity.

IN BOHEMIA.
There was little money spent on the education of Armand Fallieres, because his parents—the greatest of French nobles—were rich. It is said that he could raise half a hoghead of wine to his lips and drink from the bumper, and that he was able to sing to the accompaniment of a fiddle. He was a student of law, and he was appointed clerk to a Mezin notary, and then in due course he went to Paris to study at the law. But in Paris his studious habits forsook him. His books remained on the shelves, and he gave himself over to enjoyment. The examination followed, and the nature of the law he had to study at Mezin, waiting and believing in his own power to come through with honors, that possibly set the whole trend of Armand Fallieres' life.

He studied the rollicking life of Bohemia. His friends in the Quartier Latin knew him now as a "duff fellow," who preferred the seclusion of his own rooms. He eventually passed his examinations, then meeting the daughter of a provincial lawyer, fell in love with her and speedily married her. From that moment Mrs. Fallieres has been the brilliant, beautiful, and turbulent moments of his political career, and he has since then been known as a "duff fellow."

HIS RISE IN POLITICS.
For long after he had become a fully fledged barrister he showed no promise of ever rising from the obscurity of provincial life. He was a French lawyer, and he was not particularly distinguished. But when he was elected mayor of his little native town, he showed a keen sense of duty, and he began to show signs of becoming a great public man.

When Fallieres was President, he raised the dignity of that post to a state nearly approximating that of monarchy. He loved the wonderful performance of Howard, together with the fine picture programme will continue to crowd the Princess for the remainder of the week. Remember that Howard will appear at the Saturday matinee, and give a special performance for the children. Uncle Tom's Cabin will also be shown at this entertainment, the price being five cents to children and ten to adults.

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ailments, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, headachy, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham writes all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

has carried on his hobby of book-collecting more vigorously than before, and the consequence is that he has two libraries packed with volumes, many of them thumbed and ragged volumes—volumes which, in the days of pomp that marked the reign of Napoleon III, would have been thrown on the rubbish heap. But to the President these books are dearer than the Gobelin tapestries that adorn the palace walls.

HIS STRINGENT ECONOMIES.
The pay of a President of France is not large as the salaries of European rulers go, but it is more than ample for his needs. He receives $120,000 a year and a large sum for expenses. This would be insufficient to maintain the state which surrounded Felix Faure, but M. Fallieres reduced the cost of living to about half.

ONE DAY IN HIS LIFE.
To illustrate the simplicity in which the First Citizen of France lives, one cannot do better than take a day in his life. He rises early. Winter and summer, it is all the same. Six o'clock finds him in his study, where he goes through State papers for an hour before eating his breakfast of a well-salted crust and a cup of coffee. Most of the morning is taken up in walking, but the weather what it may, for he is troubled with his stoutness, and finds considerable exercise necessary to keep him in condition.

At breakfast several sharp rings are sent by his secretary to his study, but he does not rise. He goes on reading. He has a good dinner, and then he goes to the theatre. He is seen in the street, but he does not stop to talk to anyone. He goes to the theatre, and there he is seen with those who can afford it, but he is generous to a fault, and the generosity of others is concerned. He is genial and bluff, and slow to take offence. Master of diplomatic subtlety, he never will be but when matters extend the glad hand of friendship as he has just done to the British nation, one may say that there exists a mixture of intrigue, and that what he says he means.

AMUSEMENTS.
At the Unique.
The principal topic of conversation around town is the excellent pictures shown at the Unique last night. Lionel Lincoln is beyond doubt the best picture ever produced. It was taken from real life and the marching soldiers while taking it were in danger of their lives. This picture has been well spoken of by the press throughout the United States and Canada. The Emory of a Dream, an interesting and exciting drama. The Unfortunate Pickpocket, a bright and interesting sketch.

Happy Half Hour.
The pictures at the Happy Half Hour yesterday, as promised, were all new to this city. The Moon has Its Eyes on You, by Wm. Lanyon. Special souvenir matinee Saturday afternoon at 2.15 for ladies and children.

Howard in Entire Change of Programme Tonight.
Howard scored another big success at the Princess last evening, the same large crowds attending, and all leaving expressing surprise at the possibility of securing such a wonderful artist. This evening the great ventriloquist will give an entire change of programme again, introducing the Wee Magregor in several most amusing situations. Magregor has become a prime favorite with the audience, and they lose sight of there being any connection with Mr. Howard in his performance. Howard will also give his laughable musical sketch, entitled A Country Concert. The low price of admission, combined with the wonderful performance of Howard, together with the fine picture programme will continue to crowd the Princess for the remainder of the week. Remember that Howard will appear at the Saturday matinee, and give a special performance for the children. Uncle Tom's Cabin will also be shown at this entertainment, the price being five cents to children and ten to adults.

Da Witt Collins' Masterpiece Tonight.
Tonight at the Nickel St. John's premier baritone, Mr. Devitt Collins, will be heard in his most effective number, the strongly emotional ballad, "Good Night, Beloved, Good Night," a ballad in which he made a most favorable impression last autumn before he left for his studies in Boston. Special notices have been imported for this number and the audience will be enabled to sing the chorus in honor of the new success of Alice Lloyd, English comedienne, namely "Over the Hills," with pictorial accompaniment for which Miss Lloyd herself posed. The new picture programme is a dandy. A Trip on China's Impoverished Coast, Poverty and Prosperity, a drama; The Mission of a Flower, pathetic and a Good Medicine, comedy.

Thursday's train brought to St. Andrews from South Africa, Mr. Edwin P. Mallory and family, who came to spend the summer with Mr. Mallory's parents. Mr. Mallory was the only St. Andrew's man who volunteered for South Africa during the war. This circumstance moved the people of the town to give him a little demonstration of their esteem on his arrival. Flags were hoisted throughout the town and when the train pulled up at the station the school children with their teachers were on hand and sang a number of patriotic hymns. At the close of the ceremony Mr. Mallory was taken completely by surprise. After briefly thanking the children and the people he got into a barouche and was driven to his parents' home where a hearty home welcome awaited him. Stretched prone upon the floor was the dead body of the caretaker of the farm, Mr. Samuel McIvor. He had been dead for several days, having apparently fallen from his chair in a fit of apoplexy. He was a very old man and had no relatives in the vicinity. He would not go to the Town Home, preferring to live on the farm alone. Mr. Grinter kept him supplied with an abundance of food, and some members of the family usually visited him several times a week. He has a week's days cleared without any visit being made.—Beacon.

BRAZIL'S ADVANCE.

Up in this northern country we are inclined to look upon South America as a land of yellow fever and revolutions, but Brazil is teaching the world the meaning of advanced civilization. This southern republic which has in the past 200 years had a checked career has taken within the past few days the most forward step in the fight against consumption that has been made by any nation. Brazil has had a hard time since 1807 when it became the refuge of Portuguese royalty and it really never settled down to a sensible growth until it was in 1889 declared a republic. Since then its progress has been remarkable and it has managed to avoid many of those mistakes into which young countries even of the present day have fallen. The government of Brazil not only administers a carefully framed constitution but exercises full control over the educational system, and this goes farther than in our own country, in that it applies not only to primary but to advanced education, colleges and universities being controlled by the federal government. The government also administers the railways and other manages them itself or leases them to private corporations. The telegraph system is administered in the same way and indeed the principle of government ownership and operation is found to be more general than in any other countries of the American continent. The latest project, that of checking consumption, will involve an immediate outlay of $1,200,000 and the plan to be adopted embodies all the best ideas of modern medicine. Indeed Brazil is introducing these regulations which even the United States, Germany and Britain are only now beginning to discuss. Every case of tuberculosis must be reported to the health authorities and those public boards will assume complete control of such cases. As the disease is contagious the patients will be supported out of the public funds and will be quarantined. Special hospitals with complete isolation for invalids, hotels and boarding houses, agricultural colonies and sanatoria will be established. For the prevention of disease there is the absolute refusal of admission into Brazil of any person or animal having tuberculosis, the inspection of all forms of material likely to carry germs, the betterment of food, housing and other conditions of life, and so on. To these will be added an educative campaign by which the people will be taught to protect themselves.

A THIEF UNPUNISHED.

John Spedakos is a young Greek who has for some years conducted a successful fruit and confectionery business in St. John. A week or two ago he found that his cash register was being robbed. When this happened two nights in succession he left two of his clerks in the store all night to watch for the thief. The plan was successful. After midnight the watchers observed a stranger coming through the cellar hatch. This visitor went to the register and forced open the drawer taking out what change was there. He was seized, bound and given to the police, and when placed on trial in court admitted that he was the one who had robbed the till on the two previous occasions. Naturally Mr. Spedakos might expect that this thief would be punished. The public might also look for some such development, as the purpose of the law is to protect property. Yet this self-confessed burglar is large and so far as can be ascertained will not be arrested, although the police authorities have power to arrest him. He was let out of jail by Sheriff Ritchie owing to the fact that he is not brought into police court for a hearing within the time fixed by law. Some one is to blame for this. Mr. Spedakos is not responsible. He caught the offender for the police. Sheriff Ritchie is scarcely responsible for discharging a man who had no right to be left in jail without trial. This case should be further explained.

TOURIST TRAVEL.

Transportation companies doing business to Maritime Provinces ports are looking forward to an exceptionally good tourist season. Their expectations are based upon the fact that this is election year in the United States, and chiefly that the prevailing financial depression will tend to divert to Canadian coast resorts much of that travel which in other seasons has gone to Europe. The belief has been that a good many Americans cannot afford sufficient money for a continental tour. This contention has been put forward in St. John several times of late by various officials but it is not borne out by statements made in the offices of Atlantic steamship companies. A few weeks ago steamship men who were inclined to be pessimistic regarding the Atlantic cabin passage business now predict that the rush to Europe will be as great as that of last year. They base this opinion on the fact that the figures for May and on the advance bookings for the month of June. The present month has always been regarded as a good index to the season's travel and reports from the larger companies show that all the liners eastbound during June will sail with full passenger lists. They express little fear that business depression is going to have any effect on travel.

LIVELY FIGHT OVER RAILROAD BILL.

New Haven Must Dispose of Holdings
Nine Separate Amendments Adopted to Railway Regulation Bill—Senate Opposes Changes

BOSTON, June 10.—By a vote of 138 in the affirmative to 75 in the negative, the Massachusetts House of Representatives late this afternoon ordered to a third reading the railroad regulation bill after the adoption of nine separate amendments, one of which provides that the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company shall dispose of all Boston and Maine stock held by it before July 1, 1910.

The amendments adopted were opposed to the committee on railroads hostile to the original draft as passed by the senate.

The bill as reported by the committee and passed by the senate, provided in the main that "unless otherwise ordered by some federal court of competent jurisdiction, the New York, New Haven and Hartford may continue to hold until July 1, 1910, the stock of the Boston and Maine, not exceeding 100,000 shares."

The board of railway commissioners were given the absolute and sole right of voting this stock.

The amendment adopted today takes away the right of the commission to vote the stock and provides for its disposal by the New York, New Haven and Hartford.

Of the several amendments adopted one offered by Representative Norman H. White, of Brockton, providing for the sale of the Boston and Maine stock was most important. Another offered by Representative C. H. Brown, of Meadville, embodied the suggestion of William B. Lawrence, a minority stockholder of the Boston and Maine, and limited the rights of stockholders in any railroad corporation from voting more than one-tenth part of the whole capital stock.

Chairman Walker, of the committee on railroads announced after adjournment tonight that an endeavor will be made tomorrow to reconsider the action taken today and if possible strike out the White and Brown amendments. If this fails it will be returned to the senate for concurrence in the amendments.

The upper branch passed the bill as it came from the committee without change, and senate chairman W. O. Faxon announced tonight that under no consideration would the senate concur, neither would it ask for committee on conference.

MISSOURI RISES AND COUNTRY IS FLOODED.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 10.—All calculations of the weather bureau and river experts as to the duration and extent of the flood at the junction of the Kaw and the Missouri river were upset today by the continued rise of the Missouri, due to heavy rains in the Dakotas and in Nebraska. There will be a steady rise in the Missouri for the next 24 hours. It will then remain stationary for 24 hours, when it will fall slowly.

The flood today was spectacular as viewed from the bluffs of Kansas City. On the Clay County bank of the Missouri, the village of Hartam was surrounded by water and the river was flowing a mile wide behind the village over cornfields. The Kaw has overflowed most of the railroad yards near the river bank.

YOUNG WOMAN KILLS HER FATHER'S SLAYER.

TUNICA, Miss., June 10.—T. Love, an attorney, was shot and probably fatally wounded in the street by Mrs. Jacob Weinstein, on March 31 last. Love shot and killed Perry M. Houston, father of Mrs. Weinstein, in a street fight, growing out of Houston's election as secretary of the Yazoo League board.

Mrs. Weinstein is 35 years old. She pointed a revolver from her waist, drew Love fell with a bullet through his back.

BUSINESS QUARREL ENDS IN ATTEMPTED MURDER.

BANGOR, Me., June 10.—H. W. Sanford, a prominent resident of Bangor, was assaulted by a man named Kow, who knocked him down with a stone and beat him with a stick until he was insensible. Sanford was arrested and arraigned before a trial justice, charged with assault with intent to kill. He pleaded guilty and was held in $5,000 for appearance at the September term of the Supreme court. The assault is said to have been the outcome of a business quarrel.

GOES FROM PRISONER'S DOCK TO INSANE ASYLUM.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 10.—It was learned here today that Frank Irvine, formerly connected with the auditor general's department, who had been a defendant in the Capitol conspiracy case now on trial here, has been committed to the state insane asylum. Irvine broke down mentally during the third week of the trial.

J. E. Wilson, M. P., of St. John, was in Harrisburg this week. He is furnishing the metal roofing for the new saw and rolling mill which is being erected by the Dalhousie Lumber Co., Ltd. Mr. Wilson now believes the statement, made by the members for Restigouche during the session, that their country was a great one for game and that the game should be protected. It was a great treat for Mr. Wilson to see for the first time a fine live moose from the windows of the car on the Dalhousie branch railway. Your correspondent also saw a large one near the railway track on Sunday morning. A cow moose was found caught in a wire fence below Dalhousie Junction yesterday, and several moose have been seen by others in this vicinity. There is not a single game warden on duty in this country.—Graphic.

BREWERS PLEDGED TO FIGHT INTEMPERANCE
And to Abolish Immoral Saloons—Form National Association to Fight Prohibition

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 10.—The United States Brewers Association at its closing session today adopted a platform of principles, in which it pledges itself to the abolition of the immoral saloon and to the cause of temperance in the use of intoxicants, wherever it flourishes, and demanded to know why the saloon should be tolerated in connection with it.

A new national organization was formed as a result of the fight on prohibition. It will be known as the United States Manufacturers Association.

While not distinctly stated in the constitution, the organization plans to help the brewers in their war on prohibition. Temporary headquarters will be established in Chicago.

EMPEROR OF GERMANY AS AN ARCHITECT.

Emperor William is the busiest man in Germany. President Roosevelt resembles him much, but the Kaiser is the more versatile of the two. If there is anything going on in the empire that the Kaiser does not find an opportunity to take a hack at, it has escaped the notice of those who watch him closely. He revises all public findings, supervises all architecture, lectures everybody and is a general all-around Little Father in every sense of the term.

When they want to illustrate his ceaseless activity as well as his restless power they tell the story of the star above the cross on the spire of the Emperor William Memorial Church. This is the tale as it is told: Of course, the Kaiser insisted on revising the plans of the church. That is one of his fondest prerogatives—revising everything and especially plans. The architect brought the plans to him, and the Kaiser scratched out what he didn't like and made such additions as he fancied before he gave them the imperial O. K. The church was built. There was to be a big gilt cross on the spire, and it appeared in its proper place. But, much to the general astonishment, when the cross was put up a large many-pointed gold star was raised above it, on a heavy rod. The Berliners could not understand the star. They inquired. The architect said the Kaiser had added the star to the plans. The plans were examined. Then it was found that, in revising them, the Kaiser had let fall a drop of ink from his pen, which hit the paper just above the cross. The architect studied a long time over this blot of ink. His Teutonic mind grappled with the problem for weeks. There was no appeal. There could be no inquiries. He finally decided the blot of ink signified a star above the cross, and he put the star there, making it to correspond as nearly as possible with the outline of the blot. The star is still there.

A VISIT TO BISMARCK. When at Klesingen, we were fortunate enough to make the "Iron Chancellor's" acquaintance. We dined with him at the old Schloss where he was living, his picturesque red roof making a landmark in the flat Bavarian scenery. We were only a party of six: the Prince and Princess, Count Herbert Bismarck and his wife (who was of English origin) and ourselves. We dined in a large room which had a vaulted ceiling, and seemed to be used as a general living room. At dinner I sat on one side of the Prince, and Randolph on the other, the huge boar hound, our host's constant companion, lying on the ground between us. Conversation was animated. Bismarck spoke excellent English, but very slowly, and if he could not find the word he wanted, he would pause and think until he did. His family looked up to him with awe and admiration, and listened with the greatest attention to every word he uttered. The old Princess, who seemed very feeble, did not take part in the conversation. After dinner we adjourned to another part of the room, where we sat round a long table covered with books and newspapers. There were a great many illustrated papers, full of caricatures of Bismarck, which, in answer to a question, he assured me he did not mind in the least. Later, however, Count Herbert contradicted this, saying that his father was really very sensitive and disliked being caricatured.

Speaking of the country and the long walks he took daily, Bismarck said he loved nature, but the amount of life he saw awed him and that it took a great deal of faith to believe that an "all-seeing eye" could notice every living atom when one realized what it meant. "Have you ever sat on the grass and examined it closely? There is enough life in one square yard to appall you," he said. When we were about to leave his great dog fixed his fierce eyes on mine in so persistent a manner that I became alarmed and thought he was going to spring upon me, but the Prince reassured me, saying, "He is looking at your eyes, because he has not seen any like them." This was said in a grave voice and without a smile, leaving it doubtful if he intended to pay me a compliment.—Mrs. George Cornwallis-West, in The Century.

HELLO GIRLS CAN'T SIT AT THEIR WORK. BOWLINE, Pa., June 9.—Several young women employed in the telephone exchange invested their savings in the new close fitting gowns, and now they are in distress because they cannot sit at the switchboards. This is the most unpleasant feature about the dresses, and for working girls it really becomes a hardship to be in style. The telephone operators are now compelled to remain on their feet during the greater part of the day, and when their duties are over they are thoroughly exhausted. Remaining on their feet so long, more shoe leather is worn out, and this is an additional expense to the poor girls. A few days ago a restaurant keeper thought it would improve business to equip his waitresses with the gowns. His judgment was excellent, and great crowds flocked to his place. Unfortunately he forgot that this rush also meant more haste. The girls were hampered so badly that they could not wait on the patrons so that after a few hours' trial the order ordered a return to the old attire. SQUAW AMAZES HER NOBLE CHIEF. RIPPING STYLES IN SHEATH GOWNS ALMOST GIVE THE RURAL FOLK FITS.

Miss Leggett Has Embarrassing Experience—Choir Girls' Tight Dress Amazes Congregation—Professor Finds That Cleopatra Wore a Directoire Robe.

SHEATH GOWN RIPE: HOW SHOCKING! TAYLOR'S CAMP, Pa., June 9.—Mrs. Jane Leggett, a comely young widow, figured yesterday in a most distressing accident, which was due primarily to a newfangled tight-fitting gown such as has become popular in Paris and the larger cities of this country. Mrs. Leggett, who is a prominent member of the Civic Club, had been invited to visit a club meeting in a neighboring town and read a paper on "Raising Bread by Hand." Desiring to make a favorable impression, she ordered a new sheath gown. She spent much time in decorating for the meeting, utterly regardless of the time table, indeed it lacked only four minutes of train time when she completed her toilet, and standing in front of the dressing glass, sweetly murmured, "Well, I guess that will hold the antiquies for a little spell." She heard the locomotive whistle and hastened to the station. Under ordinary conditions she could have made the train in season, but the clumpy garment retarded free action and handicapped her. Mrs. Leggett tripped several times to the exceeding great joy of envious women. She was almost a full block from the station when the train pulled in and since it remained only a minute Mrs. Leggett got excited. In her agitation she made a longer step than she should have, and with a sigh and a rip the goods parted. She did not read the paper. TIGHT FITS AN OLD EGYPTIAN STYLE. HITTITE, Pa., June 9.—Professor Augustus Dobbs, the famous Egyptologist, has returned to his native town after two years' researches along the Nile. One of the most interesting discoveries announced is that the sheath gown was popular in the days of the Pharaohs. Professor Dobbs brought back a fine assortment of mummies, among them one of the Princess Scynpl. Upon unwrapping the many enshrouding cloths he came to a gown that had a familiar appearance. It was of fine texture and highly embroidered, but the most remarkable thing about it was the tight-fitting cut. The resemblance to the modern sheath gown was most striking. The professor says that he has evidence which would tend to prove that at a later period in Egypt, the gown was worn by the women, and ancient records tend to show that the Queen of Sheba wore it to make a favorable impression upon old King Solomon, and it also found a place in the outfit of Cleopatra. The single, tight-fitting gown worn at the present day by eastern women is a modification of the same gown. HELLO GIRLS CAN'T SIT AT THEIR WORK. BOWLINE, Pa., June 9.—Several young women employed in the telephone exchange invested their savings in the new close fitting gowns, and now they are in distress because they cannot sit at the switchboards. Remarkable Case Discovered by Nerve Specialist

In One Young Woman Half a Dozen Personalities are Blended

CHICAGO, June 10.—The strange case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde was outlined in a paper on a remarkable case of multiple personality given by Dr. Morton Prince, of Boston, before the section of the American Medical Association on nervous and mental diseases at the Calumet Club here.

Not two personalities, but three, each of which was capable of being hypnotized into another with definite characteristics and emotions, all existing as the same young woman of Boston, were described by the doctor.

"C," the normal personality of Miss X., splits up into A. and B., said Dr. Prince, whose lecture sounded like a high problem in algebra. "C. is a philosophical young woman of ordinary talents and A. and B. are dissociate personalities who are extremely different from each other. A. is a veritable Mrs. Gummidge, while B. is a smart, frivolous, madcap girl who enjoys life to the full, has affairs of the heart and is always up to some escapade or other. She is nothing like Mrs. Gummidge and, of course, there is a great deal of friction between the two. A. is very emotional, easily depressed and takes everything very much to heart.

"C. knows about both A. and B., while A. has no knowledge of C., but has an acquaintance with B., whom she cordially dislikes. B., on the other hand, knows both A. and C., and the reason that B. is both an alternate and subconscious personality, while A. is only the former.

LITTLE A. B. C.

"The three personalities which can be called into being by hypnotizing each of the other into the physicians named 'Little A., B. and C.'"

In the experiment conducted by Dr. Prince with Dr. Frederick Peterson, of New York, a galvanometer was used, changing emotions being registered on a chart just like changes in temperature are recorded in pen and ink by the weather bureau devices. The subject took an electrode in each hand, and when the emotions were aroused perspiration increased, lessening the resistance to the electrical current.

"Miss A., Miss B., Miss C. and the Misses A., B. and C. were all subjected to this test. The idea was to show that

Island of Samaan Group Is Overwhelmed

The Volcano on Sarali Island Again in Eruption—Inhabitants Preparing for Flight

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—According to a report brought to this city by the steamer Aeon, just reaching here from Apia, Samoa, the volcano, Atua, which broke out in August, 1933, on the island of Sarali, one of the Samaan group, is again in violent eruption and covered a large and fertile part of the island which previously was the most productive of the district which is known as Mafanatu. It has been reported that the lava flow has advanced to the river of molten rock and took refuge on adjoining islands. For some time after the first great eruption three years ago Atua has towered slowly and steadily above the sea, but one month ago a fresh outbreak came that devastated some of the most productive land on Sarali. The flow is approaching the village of Salaale, and its inhabitants are preparing to leave. When the Aeon left Apia nineteen days ago, the lava flow had covered more than seven square miles of land and was spreading fast.

PREFERRED SUICIDE TO SAILING ON THE 13TH

Believing That He'd be Drowned, Felix Palmer Fired Bullet Into His Head.

NEW YORK, June 10.—For a fortnight Felix Palmer, twenty-three years old, of No. 133 Thirteenth street, Williamsburg, had been telling his friends they would soon bid him farewell as he sailed from Saturday he would sail for Naples. He had purchased his steamship ticket and showed it to many acquaintances. One of those who saw it yesterday called Palmer's attention to the fact that the date of his sailing was June 13.

"Don't sail on the 13th," counseled a friend, "the ship will sink and you will lose all you have and your life as well."

Palmer hastened to the office of the Petro Marzello, No. 186 Johnson St., where he had purchased the ticket, made known to George Corning, his clerk, that he had changed the date of his sailing to June 13, and requested that the ticket be changed to this Saturday or another date, or that his money be refunded.

"The clerk refused. The ticket was completed for this week, he said. It was against the rules of the office either to change the date of a ticket or refund the money."

Palmer, "I'd rather die by a bullet than by drowning."

The clerk attempted to show Palmer his fear was foolish. So did several men in the place.

"I know what it is to be," Palmer insisted and before any hand could restrain him he drew a big pistol from his pocket and in sight of all in the office shot himself in the head. He was dead when an ambulance doctor arrived.

MEN WITH IDEAS ARE WANTED.

BRAINS MORE THAN MIGHT.

Thoughts are mightier than armies, and principles achieve more victories than horsemen and chariots. Ideas boom louder than cannons roar. Ideas put into execution have overcome time and space. Morse transferred from continent to continent, Edison has guided the world with electricity; Bell by the telephone has enabled mankind to converse with one another as one family under one vast roof as if sitting face to face. A young man—Marconi—has subdued the ether to his will and through it has enabled the European to talk to the American as if they were next-door neighbors.

Yet the ideas of these intellectual giants were as well as creators, and might have been put into practice in the days of Abraham.

Fifty years ago men were required to toil and slave sixteen hours a day for results that can now be accomplished almost in so many minutes by mechanical inventions. Now the smarting locomotives can cover as great a distance in an hour as the old lumbering stage coach could do in the longest day from sunrise to sunset, yet James Watt was regarded as a fanatic when he first projected the steam engine.

COMPELLED A HEARING.

Many of the heroic and self-sacrificing souls whose labors enriched the world, and made progress possible were looked upon as madmen, and so their ideas were strong enough to denounce them for what was deemed their folly.

In the early morning of time the earth was thought by all to be flat, but in the course of years a few men began to observe the revolutions of the stars, and night after night studying from the mystery of the heavenly bodies in their own primitive way finally came to the conclusion that it must be round.

These blackbearded seers of an eastern race were looked upon by their fellows with pity for their absurd ideas; they were considered crazy to put forward such a theory, which plainly was confuted by the evidence of the naked eye, but Ptolemy arose and compelled a hearing for his thesis on the laws of the universe.

NOVEL AERIAL CRAFT

St. Louis Inventor Says He Will Sail to Chicago in Ten Hours.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—In a dirigible balloon of his own make, one of the strangest aerial craft in the country, John Berry, a St. Louis inventor, will sail from his workshop to Chicago in less than ten hours, he declared.

"The start will be made early next week, and one passenger besides the inventor will ride in the car. The steering and other apparatus is below the balloon. It consists of two pairs of three-foot fans on a revolving aluminum shaft, geared to the envelope of the balloon, propelled by a six-horsepower engine. They have a lifting power of 100 pounds and are equal to 200 pounds of ballast."

His last flight was made in the teeth of a storm that frightened people on the ground. The dirigible was abandoned after a few minutes of flight, and as he ascended a large hole was blown in the envelope. He has since after a 75-mile flight.

"If my trip is successful," said Berry, "I will have the greatest machine ever made, for it can be attached to any balloon and will work under any conditions. It is strong and light."

A. W. ROBB WILL BE SECRETARY OF Y. M. C. A.

St. John Boy Now in Sydney Will Come Here Early in the Autumn.

A. W. Robb has accepted the position of general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., and will probably take up the duties of the office early in the fall.

At a meeting of the directors of the Y. M. C. A. held last week to arrange for a secretary, it was unanimously decided to ask Mr. Robb to accept the position. A telegram to that effect was sent him and this morning word was received that he had decided to accept. Mr. Robb belongs to St. John and before taking up Y. M. C. A. work as a profession he was prominently identified with the local institution.

In 1888 after taking a course at the Lake Geneva training school he took the position of physical director of the St. John Y. M. C. A. After a year in that position he served for a while as assistant maritime secretary.

Since then he has been general secretary, first of the Charlottetown Y. M. C. A. and lately of the Sydney association. He comes to St. John highly recommended for the excellent work he has done in the latter town.

ARE YOU COMING OUT TONIGHT, MARY ANN?

"Nix" Says Mary, But She Made the Air Tuneless With Popular Melodies.

Persons walking along King street east this morning heard a rather mixed chorus coming from the police station. Mary Ann Reid, who was arrested for exhibition of a cell on one end of the central station corridor and, as she reclined on the wooden couch of the cell, she sang as sweetly as she could some old love songs, in which several of the male prisoners joined. High above the song sounded the pitiful cries of little ten-year-old Charles Carlgen in a cell at the other end of the corridor. The boy was calling for his mamma, and promising that in future he would attend school. The uproar only ceased when Mary Ann gracefully slid off the bench in a drunken slumber, and it then Charlie had no more tears to shed. Mary Ann won't be out tonight.

BODY OF GEO. CONNOLLY NOT FOUND YET

At a late hour this afternoon the body of George Connolly, who committed suicide by jumping off the ferry boat E. Ross yesterday morning, had not been found.

Searchers were out in boats until late last night grappling for the remains and the efforts were diligently continued this morning, but with no result. Those who have familiar with the river at Indiantown have little hope of the body being recovered there and think that if it is ever found it is more likely to be below the falls in the harbor.

HAMPSTEAD AGAIN IN DIFFICULTY

Rudder Unshipped at Gagetown—Came Down Without Making a Stop as Far as the Narrows.

The steamer Hampstead returned to St. John last night in a disabled condition due to an accident to her rudder. The steamer was laid up for repairs last week after sinking at her wharf at Gagetown, and left for her first trip up river on Tuesday morning. Yesterday after leaving Upper Gagetown for St. John it was found that the rudder was not working and on examination showed that the rudder was not making any stops the steamer could navigate under its own steam. Accordingly the steamer came as far as the Narrows without making a stop. Here she was taken in tow by the tug W. H. Murray and taken to her wharf. Repairs will be made as rapidly as possible in order to enable the steamer to take her place on the route again without delay.

BOYS SENT TO JAIL TO BE KEPT FROM STARVING

No Lunch Would Be Sent to Them in the Station Cells—John Smith Given Another Chance.

In the police court this morning Wm. Rogers pleaded not guilty to obtaining goods under false pretenses and was remanded to jail.

John McLean, aged 21 and Michael O'Donnell, aged 18 years were charged with fighting on Sheriff street last night. It appears that McLean called O'Donnell some bad names and the men had hardly got well mixed up when the magistrate gave Smith a warning, told him to get out of town immediately and if arrested again he would be sent to jail for a year.

Charles Carlgen, aged 10 years and Harry McNally, aged 12 years were remanded on the charge of playing truant from school. McNally is an old offender. The magistrate ordered that the boys be placed in separate cells in the police station and that they be given something to eat as they were locked up last night. As breakfast is not served in the police station the little chaps must have been hungry when dinner time arrived and the prisoners in jail were to get their dinner. Officer Howell went into jail and asked for some food for the boys. He was told that the food had not been sent to the station to them. In order that the boys could get their dinner the magistrate was obliged to remand them to jail which was done.
