ENTENTE POWERS WILL SEND IDENTICAL REPLY TO PRESIDENT WILSON'S SUGGESTIONS OF PEACE; DOBRUDJA ONLY REAL BATTLE AREA YESTERDAY

ALLIES STAND ABSOLUTELY TOGETHER ON PEACE QUESTION

"The Answer for One Will Be the Answer for All," is Reply to Pres. Wilson—This Will be Decidedly Different from Germany's Method of Procedure—Attitude of Russia and Italy Gives Especial Pleasure to London.

London, Dec. 22, 4 p. m.—In official and diplomatic circles in London it was generally predicted today that President Wilson's note to the belligerents would be met by an identical reply from the Entente Powers. This method of answering the note will differ from the reply to be made by the Entente nations to the German peace note in which it is understood that, while agreeing to the principles, each member of the Entente will be free to express any individual views which they may feel desirable to utter.

For the foregoing reason it is hardly likely there will be an early reply to President Wilson's note as it is expected full consultations between diplomats of the Entente countries will take place before a formal reply is made.

The attitude of both Russia and Italy in regard to the German peace note was received in official circles with the utmost pleasure, especially that of Italy as expressed in the speech of the Italian foreign minister, Baron Sonnino.

While declining to make any official statement, it is readily apparent that the British foreign office feels that the solidarity of the Entente never was stronger than it is today.

MESSAGES TO THE SOLDIER BOYS AT THE FRONT

Leading public men of New Brunswick in the Governments at Fredericton and Ottawa have sent forward from this city cables to the gallant sons of New Brunswick at the front, extending the warmest season's greetings from the people of the province to those on the firing line. Hon. Mr. Hazen, Hon. Mr. Clarke and Hon. J. B. M. Baxter last evening despatched cables to those who are not with us at this joyous season congratulating them on the great services they are rendering to the British Empire, and expressing the hope that their Christmas may be as joyous as possible under all the prevalent circumstances.

MESSAGE FROM HON. J. D. HAZEN.

Hon. Mr. Hazen's message is as follows:
F. W. Sumner,
Agent General New Brunswick,
London.

Please convey to our New Brunswick boys who have brought such undying honor and glory upon their Province my appreciation, in common with that of all citizens of New Brunswick, for the way in which they have done their bit. New Brunswick feels intensely proud at the conduct of its gallant sons who have so nobly upheld its best traditions and proved themselves such worthy representatives of the great races from which they have sprung. I wish them all success and happiness during the coming year and a safe return to their native land.

NEW BRUNSWICK'S PREMIER SENDS GREETINGS.

Hon. Mr. Clarke's message is as follows:
F. W. Sumner,
Agent General for New Brunswick,
London, Eng.

Please convey to all those from the Province who are engaged in any capacity with the Canadian Expeditionary Force, the most cordial greetings from the people of New Brunswick.

We trust that Christmas may prove a pleasant respite from the arduous work in which they are engaged, and that the New Year may bring victory to our arms.

New Brunswickers with the sons of Empire from all climes are fighting for the principles on which are based the highest ideal of civilization, and these must ultimately prevail.

FROM HON. J. B. M. BAXTER TO THE 26TH.

Hon. Mr. Baxter's message is as follows:
Lieut.-Colonel A. E. G. McKenzie,
Commanding 26th Battalion,
C. E. F.,
France.

Wishing the officers and men of New Brunswick's distinguished Battalion fighting for a stable and glorious peace a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

JOHN B. M. BAXTER.

RUSSANS AGAIN FIRE ON THE SACRED FLAG

Rome, Dec. 22, via London.—The war office communication today says: "Along the whole front there has been desultory artillery activity. The military hospital in Gorizia was again shelled, despite its protection by visible Red Crosses. Of the military personnel two were killed and four wounded.

The Fight at Tarnopol.

Petrograd, Dec. 22.—"North of the Zolotchev-Tarnopol railway the enemy after an intense artillery fire attacked our detachments in the region of Zvishin. Notwithstanding our fire he occupied a portion of a demolished trench belonging to one of our companies. He was driven back by a counter-attack launched by our companies occupying adjacent positions.

ONLY WAR ZONE IS IN THE EAST

Northern Dobrudja the Scene of Yesterday's Fighting.

RUSSO-ROUMANIANS STILL BATTLING

Though Troops of the Central Powers are Now Pressing them Hard—Vigorous Campaign on Tarnopol Railway.

Except in the Northern Dobrudja, where the troops of the Central Powers continue to drive the Rumanians and Rumanians towards Bessarabia, there has been little important activity on the battle fronts of Europe.

The Russian troops in Dobrudja, Petrograd announces, were forced to retire northwards under heavy attacks from numerically superior hostile forces. Berlin states that the Teutonic army in the Dobrudja continues to advance successfully and announces the capture of 800 Russian soldiers. East of Lake Salsburgh a Russian regiment, Petrograd records, drove a force of Bulgarians into Lake Bolata. A great number of Bulgarians were drowned and 1,000 were made prisoners.

The artillery bombardment continues at various points on the eastern front. Berlin reports increased activity, especially in the Somme sector and on east bank of the Meuse in the Verdun region, the scene of the latest French advance.

In Galicia near the Zlochov-Tarnopol railway there has been a spirited engagement. Berlin reports the breaking in of the advanced Russian line northwest of Zalostse, while Petrograd says the Austro-Germans were compelled to retire after occupying some trenches. Some fighting has taken place in the Trosna Valley on the Moldavian frontier and along the Bystritsa river in the Carpathians.

El Arish, 90 miles east of the Suez Canal, in Egypt, has been captured by British troops. The town had been occupied for two years by the Turks, who had built strong entrenchments around it. The defenders fled from El Arish on the approach of the British army.

Russians Retire.

Petrograd, Dec. 22, via London.—(British admiralty per wireless press)—Russian troops in the northern part of the Rumanian province of Dobrudja having been attacked yesterday along the whole front by superior numbers of Teutonic forces, says the Russian official statement issued today, they have begun a further retirement to the northward.

The French Report.

Paris, Dec. 22.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads: "In the course of the day rather spirited artillery fighting took place in the region of Hasmont work, Louvemont and the Chabrettes Farm (Verdun region). Several surprise attacks, which were carried out to the east of St. Mihiel, in the Gerechtants Wood, at Chapelette, north of Celles (Voeges), and in the Fave Valley, enabled us to destroy small enemy outposts and to bring back some prisoners. On the rest of front there was intermittent cannonading."

The Belgian communication.

"On the southern portion of the Belgian front the bomb and artillery

WHERE THE L N TRAINS OF CHRISTMAS GIFTS WEND THEIR WAY TO OUR BOYS AT THE FRONT

A Strange Procession on the Travel-Scarred Roads of France to Where Mightiest Armies in World are Locked in Life and Death Struggle.

Parcels for Every "Tommy" Regardless How Humble his Station—Our Boys Received Most of Their Mail Last Week and are Finding it Difficult to Obey Injunction Not to Open Before Christmas.

With the British army in France, Dec. 22, via London, Dec. 23.—(From a staff correspondent of the Associated Press)—In these last days before Christmas, it is a strange procession, indeed, that winds its way on the travel scarred roads of Northern France to where the greatest armies the world has ever known are locked in a life and death struggle.

Veiling with the seemingly endless trail of motor trucks groaning under capacity weights of powder, shells and all the varied and sinister material of war, are numberless other trucks fairly bulging with presents and greetings of the Yuletide. It appears now that no soldier, regardless of how humble his station, will be forgotten.

The handling of the vast amount of mail for the English, Canadian and Australian troops, fraught with great difficulties, for powder and shell assert their prerogative of preference, and the holiday season will bring no lessening of the gun pressure on any part of the front. Despite the complex problems connected with the task, the organization behind the British front makes it possible for letters and parcels to reach the men in the front line trenches forty-eight hours after their posting in London. One reason for this is that the mail is being handled and distributed by "Tommys" who formerly were postal employees.

The Canadians received the bulk of their mail last week, most of the soldiers obeying, with childish impatience, instructions not to open the parcels until Christmas. The mail of the Australian troops necessarily was posted six or seven weeks ago, and naturally there were many casualties in that period, so that the authorities are confronted with a number of parcels which never will reach their intended owners.

A feature of the Christmas army mails is that the outgoing post is almost as heavy as the incoming, with a strange cross current of money orders going home and coming out. Some idea of the army postal problems may be gained from the fact that normally the British army sends 1,100,000 letters and postcards and 11,000 parcels daily. This number is being doubled and trebled during the Christmas rush. Another interesting fact is that a soldier receives an average of four letters a week, and writes one.

The packages being sent from the front contain all manner of souvenirs from the battlefields and trenches. Letters and parcels for the men on the very front line are sent to them with their rations. The favorite Christmas card that the "Tommys" are sending home is one on which loving mottoes are woven with various colors of silk threads.

THE GOVERNMENT APPOINTS COMMISSION TO INVESTIGATE THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Dec. 22.—A new and important development in the fight against the high cost of living—The Department of Labor and Justice have arranged for co-operation in the working out of the recently enacted regulations designed to reduce prices and at the instance of Hon. T. W. Crothers, the minister of labor, W. F. O'Connor, K. C., of Halifax, has been appointed to investigate into certain conditions which are assumed to have much to do with the prevailing high prices of necessities of life.

Mr. O'Connor until last spring was one of the foremost and busiest legal practitioners of Eastern Canada and is a skilled accountant and cross-examiner. Since spring he has been engaged in the justice department in connection with war legislation and other matters of great importance.

He will immediately undertake to delve into the doings of the barons who control Canada's food supply and other necessities of life and he will proceed to a quarter within Canada where in the opinion of the minister struggle has been very violent. Our field and trench batteries silenced the enemy artillery.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN ENTHUSES TORONTO AUDIENCE AS HE TELLS WHY CANADA IS FIGHTING TODAY

Waves of Enthusiasm as Premier Discusses Germany's Peace Terms—The Purpose of the Nation will Never be Fulfilled Until Canada's Glorious Objects are Attained R. B. Bennett Makes Splendid Impression.

Toronto, Dec. 22.—Sir Robert Borden, at a meeting in Massey Hall here tonight in connection with the national service commission discussed the question of peace.

He spoke very slowly and with much deliberation, emphasizing every phrase until warning up to his subject, and allowing a measure of expression of his feelings, he carried his audience into an enthusiastic outburst of applause that lasted several minutes.

"In the last few days," he said, "there have been heard suggestions about peace and about that I would give, and there is no need of emphasizing it, that the people of Canada were and are a peace-loving people. Before August, 1914, they were immersed in the development of their country and engaged in the solution of the tremendous problems that will remain to be settled after the great conflict is over. But Canadians have shown that they were not afraid to fight in a great cause for the security of the Empire and for the ideals of civilization. There is not one but earnestly desires that we shall have peace, and that on the northern half of this continent we shall continue working out our destiny as in the days before the war. But there is not a man here tonight who would not shrink from any peace that would not fulfill the purpose for which this was undertaken.

Belgians' Heroic Choice. "We have seen some rather remarkable statements lately. I may only allude to them, as one must use certain restraints in such matters, but I had thought that the cause of the war had been made abundantly clear more than two years ago. If I have a correct recollection, a distinguished statesman of Italy said that his country had been invited to join Germany and Austria in making war on Serbia, and she had refused because it was a war of aggression. When Austria sent its note to Serbia and the latter country yielded to all the demands, excepting one, and on this point offered to submit to the judgment of The Hague, Austria declared war on Serbia, and, with the sanction of Germany, precipitated a war for which it had long been preparing. It has been said that the warring nations are fighting for the same object, the protection of weaker nations, but none of you would regard the action of Germany toward Belgium and Serbia in that way. When the ultimatum was presented to Belgium, Germany gave that nation the alternative of going to war with her or with France, and all honor to her for the choice she made.

"When I read of 100,000 Belgians being torn from their homes and forced into worse than slavery, I can't hold myself in the ranks of those who say Germany is fighting for the rights of the weaker nations. Some publicist has said of late that the causes of the war are now only of historic significance. I say that the causes are of world-wide significance, and will continue till the end of time. We cannot yield while military aggression goes unchecked in pursuit of world domination, for the purposes of the war would be useless unless the result be an absolute triumph for the Allies. We seek peace, but not a mere truce, of which Germany and Austria will take advantage to sharpen their swords to renew the conflict. The message I bring to you from the great western country is that the purpose of the nation will never be fulfilled till every resource and every power is organized to bring about a complete realization of the aims and objects with which Canada entered upon the war."

A great wave of enthusiasm spread over the hall at the conclusion of Sir Robert Borden's speech, many of the audience rising in their seats and cheering him for several minutes.

Mr. Bennett Also Impresses.

An equally strong impression was made by Mr. R. B. Bennett, chairman of the commission, who impressed upon the audience the vast importance of the conflict in which Canada is engaged. He came into conflict with his audience when he insisted that any measure of compulsion at the present time would be liable to result in insurrection and civil war.

There were cries of "No, no," from all parts of the hall, but Mr. Bennett reminded his hearers that they must not judge all of Canada from the local atmosphere. They must think in larger terms. He had just completed a trip of 6,500 miles and a week ago in Vancouver, he had been waited upon by delegations insisting that there should be no compulsion now. They must allow for differences of opinion and afford every man an opportunity of measuring what his responsibility was.

BARON DE REUTER KILLED IN ACTION IN SOMME FIGHTING

Son of Head of Great News Gathering Association Meets Death on the Battle Front.

London, Dec. 22 (3.30 p. m.)—Baron Hubert De Reuter, only son of the late head of Reuter's Telegram Company, Limited, was killed at Beaumont Hamel on the Somme battle front November 13.

He was born in 1878, and was serving as a private in the Black Watch Regiment. With a small detachment Baron De Reuter captured 62 Germans in a trench and carried three wounded men away, under a heavy fire in the course of the action. The news of his death was received in a letter from the colonel of his regiment.

BERLIN "NOT ON THE MAP" OF CANADA

Ottawa, Dec. 22.—Many persons continue sending letters to Berlin, Ont., instead of to "Kitchener," regardless of the fact that the name of that place and post office has been officially changed. Today the post office department announces that no letters addressed to "Berlin" will be delivered but will be returned to the senders marked "No such post office in Ontario."

NEW ZEALAND MINISTER GIVES HIS OPINION

London, Dec. 22 (4.30 p. m.)—"There should be no such thing as a misguided expression of opinion in regard to the war," said Sir Joseph Ward, financial minister of New Zealand, speaking in London today.

"We should not allow any suggestion emanating from a great country that we should knock down before this war is over."

ASK WILSON TO END WAR BY "PEACE"

Unique Letter to President From British Pacifist Who Opposed Conscription.

New York, Dec. 22—A girl who came to America as a messenger from Bertrand Russell, a British pacifist, famous as a philosopher, delivered to the American neutral conference here today an open letter from Mr. Russell, addressed to President Wilson, appealing to him to "bring peace to Europe." The letter was sent by messenger to evade the British censor. The name of its bearer was not disclosed, through fear of making trouble for her should she return to England.

Three members of the conference committee, George Foster Peabody, Paul Kellogg and Miss Emily Greene Balch, were selected to carry the letter to President Wilson, and left here tonight for Washington. Mr. Russell, who is the heir of Earl Russell, and was a lecturer and fellow of Trinity College Cambridge, recently was fined $500 for having written a pamphlet opposing conscription in England. He also was prohibited from coming to the United States to lecture at Harvard, and was forbidden to enter any prohibited area in London.

VANGUILDER'S HOUSES

Another beautiful Vanguilder dwelling has been recently completed and is attracting a great deal of attention. It is situated on Wright St., at the head of Stanley St., where it can be seen to great advantage and makes a decided improvement in the appearance of that locality.

When the fact is known that these dwellings, so attractive in appearance, and having such numerous advantages over wooden frame constructions can be built for a small advance over the cost of wooden houses, there is no doubt that we shall see more of these cozy, fireproof homes building.

At Meadham, N. B., the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. have erected extensive shops and railway buildings during the past few months. Their contractor, Mr. H. Post of Woodstock, states that the Vanguilder system is something he has been looking forward to for years, and the C.P.R. engineers express themselves as greatly pleased with the construction. We learn from good authority that there is a strong probability that the Vanguilder system will be adopted by them for further railway building in the future. The fact that a big corporation like the C.P.R. are constructing in this system proves conclusively the merits of the style of construction, their shops requiring great strength of side walls which they found this method save them.

St. John has too many wooden houses and the fire menace is constant and insistent; it will therefore be a great relief to those who have the cares of protecting us from conflagrations, such as Summerside is now suffering with, to see the introduction of concrete buildings into this city and suburbs.

The introducers of this system of building into the Maritime Provinces, Messrs. Gandy & Allison, tell us that besides the Wright St. house, they have built a third dwelling at Lancaster Avenue, which will be furnished and occupied on the first of May next, also United Baptist church annex at West St. John, and that they have an extensive programme of building operations for the new year.

Arrested for Fighting.

Last night two Austrians, N. Tanzer and George Tanzer, were arrested for fighting in a house on Pond Street. One of the men received several nasty gashes from a knife in the hands of the other in the back of the neck. A doctor was summoned and dressed the wounds.

CITY COUNCIL CONSIDERS STATEMENTS FROM TWO OF THE LOCAL MILK DEALERS

F. D. A. Boyle, of Red Head, and Primcrest Farms Submit Figures of Their Business. — Mr. Boyle's Statement Shows Him to be Losing $3.30 per Day. — Primcrest People Declare They Cannot Estimate Cost of Delivery and Commissioners Wonder.

After the City Council had finished the business to come before it, yesterday afternoon, the members resolved themselves into the committee of the whole and took up replies from the milk men. The session was brief as Commissioner McLellan had to leave at 4.15. The statement of F. D. A. Boyle, of Red Head, was the first taken up and according to his statement, which was not sworn to, he is losing $3.30 per day on his milk route.

He is a producer and handles about 120 quarts per day, 32 of which he sells wholesale at 8 cents and 88 quarts at retail at 10 cents per quart. He does not buy milk only when he is short. He gives as the cost of production:

Food & Meal	Hay	Roots	Labor	Delivery	Total
$5.40	$3.26	$2.00	$1.50	$2.50	$14.66

Receipts 32 qts. at 8cts, $2.56; 88 qts at 10 cts. $8.80 . . . Total, $11.36

Loss on each day's operations . . . . . $3.30

He gives as the cost for December, 1915, the following figures:

Food & Meal	Hay	Roots	Labor	Delivery	Total
$3.68	$3.50	$1.60	$1.65	$2.50	$12.73

FROM PRIMECREST FARMS.

They next took up the answer from the Primcrest Farms, Ltd., to which affidavit had been made. They were doing both a retail and a wholesale business, and sold about 120 cans a day in each department. They sold the milk at from 48 to 64 cents per can wholesale, and at ten cents per quart retail. They handled about eight cans of cream per day wholesale at $2.40 per can, and 5 cans per day retail at $3.20 per can.

This item came in for considerable criticism as the commissioners were of the opinion that this was a very small amount for a concern the size of Primcrest, and one of them made the statement that some of the firms recently absorbed by Primcrest had handled much more cream than that.

They produced about 400 quarts per day of the milk which they sold at their farm, which was located at Primcrest, and bought the balance of what they used each day from other parties.

They paid 44 and 45 cents per can for their milk and the freight added to this brought the cost up to 47 or 48 cents per can landed in St. John. Their cream cost them $2.20 per can landed in St. John. In answer to the questions in regard to cost of delivery they claimed that it was impossible to give a correct estimate of this cost.

This item also came in for considerable discussion and it seemed to be the opinion of the commissioners that any good business man should be able to tell the cost of his delivery system.

As the time had come when Commissioner McLellan had to leave the committee adjourned and will take up the matter again on Tuesday next.

ITALIAN AIR-FORCES BOMBARD POLA PORT

Rome, Dec. 22, via Paris.—An official announcement by the Italian admiralty today says: "A section of our hydro-airplanes threw bombs on the military works and warships at the port of Pola. All our hydro-airplanes returned safely, notwithstanding they were subjected to a violent cannonade and attacks by enemy aircraft."

FEDERAL WORK ONLY FOR R. N. W. POLICE.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Dec. 22.—The Royal North-west Mounted Police will do no more provincial work until after the war at any rate. The men of this famous force are required for federal and special war work. The provincial governments of Alberta and Saskatchewan will therefore have to do their own policing. The change has been rendered necessary owing to the additional boundary patrol work necessitated by the war, and it has also been found difficult to keep the force up to strength owing to the number of enlistments by men who only joined the force for the three years' term.

ST. JOHN BOARD OF TRADE ASKS POWERS TO PURCHASE STOCK.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Dec. 22.—A notice appears in this week's Canada Gazette to the effect that application will be made to Parliament by the St. John Board of Trade, next session, for power to enable that body to invest its funds in the purchase of stock of the St. John Board of Trade Building Company, Ltd.

The game was well contested with the Specials in the lead for three. The next game will be on Wednesday when the Nationals and Sweeps will cross bows.

The scarcity of khaki clad men on the streets for the past several days has been very noticeable. There are not more than 400 soldiers in the city. One would almost think that peace had been declared to visit the different military quarters in the city. The men who are remaining on duty during the Christmas holidays will not miss their Christmas dinner, as arrangements have been made so that each member will partake of a special dinner. In conversation with an officer of the Siege Battery on Partridge Island last night The Standard was informed that elaborate preparations were being made for the Christmas dinner for the men who were remaining for the holiday season. Turkey dinners are also being planned for the troops at West side, and the numbers of the 165th Battalion at the Army.

HON. H. A. CONNELL SERIOUSLY ILL

Prominent Woodstock Resident Who Held Portfolio Under Blair Government Stricken With Paralysis.

Special to The Standard. Woodstock, Dec. 22.—The Teachers' Institute for Carleton and Victoria counties closed this afternoon. It was one of the most successful meetings yet held by that body, 145 school teachers being present and much valuable information was brought out during the discussions. Dr. W. S. Carter was among the chief speakers. The following officers were elected this afternoon: F. B. Meagher, president; Bessie Fraser, vice-president; W. S. Daley, secretary-treasurer. Additional members of executive, Bessie Fleming, Alice F. Thayer, Gaynell E. Long, Hon. H. A. Connell, one of Woodstock's best known citizens, is confined to the house with a paralytic stroke and owing to his advanced age fears are entertained for his recovery. He held a portfolio under the Blair government and was in the United States on several occasions. Many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

FUNERAL OF FORMER ST. JOHN WOMAN

Mrs. G. Herbert Lamb Daughter of Late Henry Rowan of St. John, Buried at St. Andrews.

A. M. Rowan returned yesterday from St. Andrews, where he had been attending the funeral of his cousin, Mrs. G. Herbert Lamb, of that place. Mrs. Lamb was a daughter of the late Henry Rowan, well known in this city. She had made her home in St. Andrews for many years, and was one of the best known and respected residents of that town. Her death took place in New York, where she had gone for an operation which proved unsuccessful, and the body was brought to St. Andrews and the funeral held from All Saints' church on Thursday. The services were conducted by the rector, Rev. G. H. Elliott. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Dorothy, four sisters and three brothers.

ARBITRATION CASE CONTINUED.

Before Chief Justice McKeown, in the Valley Railway arbitration proceedings, Ross Thompson testified yesterday that while the Valley Railway was to be used in connection with the Transcontinental it was also to connect with a line of railway running through Mathe. Had the road been completed from St. John to Grand Falls the railway would have been a paying proposition. P. R. Taylor, K. C., for the government, asked the witness if it was not true that the Valley Railway stock would have been worthless if the government had not taken the road over and worked it on the forty per cent basis. Mr. Thompson said that it was quite correct that if the government had not taken the road over the Valley Railway stock would not have been worth very much.

Pedestrians Narrowly Escaped.

About 8.15 o'clock last evening a piece of ice, weighing about fifty pounds, was dislodged from the roof of the Hotel Dufferin, falling to the sidewalk. Several people passing by had narrow escapes but, fortunately, no one was struck by the falling ice.

Mrs. C. W. Joy, of Roslinville, Mass., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Minihan, Coldbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Banks, of Annapolis, N. S., and family are spending the holiday with Mrs. Banks' mother, Mrs. E. J. Carpenter, 50 Winter street.

DIED.

SCHOOLS CLOSING FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Fine Programmes of Music, Readings and Addresses in the Schools—Presentation of Prizes for Good Work.

The closing of the schools for the Christmas vacation was as usual an occasion for presentations and congratulations. The High School auditorium was crowded in the morning and a fine programme of music, readings and addresses was provided. The prizes presented were as follows: 1. Grade XI, prize of books, leader of class 1916, Horace Wetmore. Presented by Dr. J. H. Frink. 2. Parker silver medal, highest marks in mathematics, Sam. McCavoy. Presented by Mayor Hayes. 3. Grade X, Governor General's silver medal, highest marks, Doris Barnes. Presented by Rev. Ralph Sherman. 4. Prize of books, second in grade X, Marjorie Manning. Presented by Superintendent Bridges. 5. Grade IX, Alumnae gold medal, highest marks, Marjorie Fitzpatrick. Presented by Mrs. G. A. Coster. 6. Grade XI, Ellis gold medal, best English essay, Vivian Dowling. Presented by Rev. Mr. Dowling. 7. Grade XII, Fortnightly Club prize of books, highest in English, Gwendolyn Ewing. Presented by F. A. Dykeman.

8. Grade VII, Chairman Emerson's gold medal, highest marks in High School entrance, Fred McGovern. Presented by Commissioner McLellan. 9. Grade VIII, Lieutenant Governor's silver medal, highest marks in St. John county, High School entrance, Margaret Cronin. Presented by Brigadier General McLean.

The closing exercises at St. Vincent's High School in the music room followed the programme published yesterday, Miss Mary M. Chaisson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Chaisson of Kings street East, being the recipient of four medals. His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc presided at the exercises, and those in attendance included Mayor Hayes, Dr. S. H. Bridges, superintendent of city schools; R. B. Emerson, chairman of school board; Mrs. James Dever and Thomas Nagle, members of the school board; Rev. M. F. Howland, Rev. H. L. Coulthart and Rev. Francis Walker of the Cathedral staff.

Mayor Hayes, who was called upon to present the Corporation medal, said it was a great pleasure for him to be present on such an occasion. On behalf of the citizens he extended most hearty congratulations to Miss Chaisson, the daughter of his old friend. Bishop LeBlanc in making the presentation of the Alumnae gold medal, congratulated the winner. Dr. Bridges, in presenting the Ellis medal to Miss Chaisson for excellence in mathematics, paid a high tribute to the cleverness of the winner. He also congratulated Sister Francesca on the good showing made by her pupil. Dr. Bridges extended the season's greetings to the girls of the High School.

In the King Edward School the programme was much enjoyed. It included a one act comedy by four of Rex Comier's boys in grade 8. The Fairview schools and the school at Union Point closed for a fortnight with no special observance of the holiday.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS.

Recent transfers of property in St. John and Kings counties have been recorded as follows: St. John county—J. C. Baker to Isabelle E. wife of J. G. Baker, property in Union street; J. N. Bradshaw to F. E. Bradshaw, property in St. Martins; F. E. Bradshaw to Beattie V. wife of F. E. Bradshaw, property in St. Martins; W. P. McDonald to J. M. Donovan, property in Simonds. Kings county—Acheson Carson to G. M. and W. S. Harding, property in Rothesay; J. B. Crane to T. J. Mercer, property in Sussex; W. A. Kelstead to J. W. Ganong, property in Springfield; John Turney to Margaret Turney, property in Havelock.

Another Boy Scout Troop Organized in the City.

A further step in the progress which the Boy Scout movement is making in the city was evidenced by a new troop being formed. For some time a great number of boys connected with the Main street Baptist church have expressed a desire to join the Boy Scouts, and last evening the district scoutmaster, B. C. Waring, met the boys and in the presence of the Rev. Dr. Hutchinson and Mr. Erb, organized two patrols to be known as the Beaver and Wolf patrols. It is expected that during the next two weeks this newly formed troop will number some sixty members.

Mrs. Fred MacRae, of Campbellton, is spending the Christmas vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Tippett, Main street, Fairville.

Why You Should Read The Standard

DO YOU READ THE PAPER REGULARLY? If you do and if you are now a subscriber the following will not interest you; but if you are in the habit of taking another paper and just chanced to see this issue we have something to say which will be of much interest to you.

We take it for granted that you read some paper each day. Everybody does, of course. If you take some other paper regularly, just stop for a moment and consider why you always read that particular one. Is it through habit?

Many folks do get the habit of asking for the same paper day after day, and they never have an opportunity to learn just what they are missing by failing to give some other paper a trial.

Possibly your failure to be a regular subscriber is caused by the fact that you only know this paper as it was a few years ago. Quite likely you were not pleased with it then; but The Standard of today is vastly different from the paper you read then. A glance through the columns of this issue will convince you of that.

The St. John Standard of today is the ideal family newspaper. We carry, on leased wires, the entire Canadian Press service, which completely covers all war news and other happenings the world over; we have special correspondents in every town and village in New Brunswick, and we carry more provincial news than any other daily. In addition, our paper contains features which appeal to every member of the family, both old and young. Glance over the following list and see for yourself.

- The War on All Fronts.
- Canada's Share in the Great Struggle.
- What Neutral Countries Are Saying and Doing.
- Personal Mention of N. B. Boys.
- Local and Provincial Happenings.
- Finance and Shipping.
- Sporting Events.
- A Woman's Page.
- Stage and Movie Stars.
- Fashions.
- Society in All Provincial Centres.

CANADIANS SMILING FIGHTING COST OF

A few weeks ago the frugal wife who had been battling against the high cost of living one morning to find that flour was $10 a barrel and the price of bread was reducing the standard of living. The morning after the New York Times. Within a month there has been another rise from $1.50 to $2 a barrel. Saturday the highest grades were selling at retail for $11 a barrel. The average family flour is $10 a barrel and in still higher prices. Flour is higher today any time since the civil war immediately after that cost about $15. One of the larger states that all indications to a return of that price will not be long.

Within the last few weeks have started to make a new record. A month ago good potato selling at about $1 a bushel. In time they have gone up more per cent. Long Island potatoes are about the best coming from New York market, are bringing a peck, which is at the $2.40 a bushel. Some are charging 70 cents, and when in small quantities the house at the rate of 75 to 80 cents.

Never before in the history of the country have potatoes been so scarce. The best Jersey and Maine are selling at the same price. Long Island, Maine has also famous for high grades, but there has been poorer than and dealers are now paying farmers $2 a bushel for the best. The Long Island and Maine who have had good crops a rich on their potatoes, and farmers are reported to be back a large proportion of the further advance.

"The limit of potato prices yet been reached," said the one of the large grocers. "While the actual crop is less than a year ago the quality—that is the potatoes are big. That is due to a large scarcity of potato for as the price got so high that the farmers refused to buy. Shipments are coming to the great distances. Fortunately potatoes are plentiful and cheap, and these are showing larger sales.

Unlike flour, which, notwithstanding its high price, continues to be exported at the rate of 1,000 tons a day to Europe, the price of potatoes has curtailed export and about the only places this country to which they are Cuba and Bermuda. It costs $2 to $2.25 to send a barrel abroad.

The increase in flour over represents from $4 to $5 about 100 per cent. on the grades.

Farmers Get the Best. "Despite the high cost of a large dealer, recently, it is as the cheapest article of food. The average consumption of the country is about a half individual and although he gets two cents a pound more than ago, he gets more for his money for any other article of food. Paid western farmers with a few weeks $1.55 for wheat. It is benefiting by the high price. There is no combination of middle-men. With our crop two-thirds of normal, which million bushels short of it actually needed to feed our nation, and yet with Europe us at the rate of 1,000,000 a day, the reason for this is plain to see. In our own countries are willing high price for flour prices high, and to keep it in our country we have got to pay just price."

Sugar has remained about during the last year reached its highest wholesale July 12 last, when the best granulated sugar were quoted a pound. Saturday cents per pound. At retail more while Diamond sold from ten to 12 cents a tall. A year ago granulated which is now selling for 5.55 cents a pound.

New records in America prices have also been reached, turnips, carrots, and other of the common vegetables as well as cheese and in a ducts. Cabbages have reached so high. Where one a good head of cabbage for cents, the cost is now from cents. The red cabbage is was quoted in Washington 15 cents a head recently, cabbage at 18 cents. Last time cabbages were half. The high price is not due to, for practically no cutting sent away, but to poor yield of turnips and carrots as great as usual and nips, which a year ago were Washington market for 15 peck, are now bringing 25 cents. Cheese 100 Per Cent. Cheese has never been America before. The best full cream American cheese cent. higher than a year ago by the pound range from cents, as against 18 to 20 cents last year. # CARDINAL HITS SOCIAL SERVICE

Declares It Can Never Be Charity And Is At Best An Avocation, An Easy Sob.

Boston, Dec. 22.—"Social service is not charity—never can be charity. Social service is at best an avocation, often, in fact quite generally, it is an easy job. It has its use as every play no hypocrisy? We know very well the infinite unfathomable distance between social service and Christian charity."

Thus declared Cardinal O'Connell of Boston in an address before more than 200 representatives of the various Roman Catholic charitable organizations and societies of the diocese. The meeting was called for the purpose of uniting the various Roman Catholic charitable societies and organizations.

Does Not Condemn

The cardinal was careful to say, however, that, "I am not condemning social service, much less the social servant. I am only pointing out that it is not the whole story, not everything. The perfect thing, pretty nearly everything, would be the combination of both—social worker and Vincentian, whether male or female. That is the experienced and intelligent, and good Christian." Continuing, the cardinal said:

"You may keep, if you will, your terminology, but you will never again destroy ours. That game is gone for ever. It will never succeed again. The vogue of that particular verbal two-step is passe.

"What is needed today among all classes of Catholics here in America is more confidence in themselves and less weak imitation and spineless subservience to what is called the spirit of the age. This up-to-dateness, this yesterday-civilization with its coarse methods and its empty boastfulness. By this time, the world ought to realize that a new batch of fads but placed backward to the ages of faith. The two great nations which for half a century had claimed the monopoly of intelligence and its cleverness and learning are now, God help them, both in the last throes of the bitterest life and death struggle the world has ever known."

Mere Data to Some

"To grasp the real import of human life one must have sentiment as well as intelligence. He must, in a word, have soul as well as mind. Intelligence, mind, is always seeking to reduce everything to a formula, the dead level of mere abstraction, with the result that the whole world is converted into a schoolroom, and a very uncomfortable one at that.

"To the men of mere mind, all the wonderful experiences of life are mere data from which abstract deductions are drawn with the inflexible logic of the grim pedagogue, and these rigid deductions are again grimly applied to all emergencies, whether or not they fit. The results, satisfactory and very often utterly stupid.

"This is invariably the attitude of the schoolmaster unless corrected by a very large dose of wholesome human sentiment. The more the schoolmaster attitude prevails in any community, the more inevitably will prevail this utterly tyrannical and utterly stupid method of dealing with human life and all its various forms and incidents.

Policeman to Apply It

"Behold the process. Nothing is simpler and also nothing is more ineffectual. You sit at your desk, tabulate records, add up the column, strike the average, and then send out a policeman to apply it to every man, woman and child he meets.

"That ought to produce results, and so it does—perfectly ludicrous ones, ludicrous to all except the pedagogue who has lost all sense of humor long ago. Now there is one institution in the world which has always resisted the attitude of the schoolmaster in dealing with human life. It is the church. As a consequence, the schoolmaster, as a rule full of his own importance, has cherished a secret spite for her influence upon real human life.

Family, Not Formula

"The church is a mother. She consciously knows and sympathizes with her family and keeps her eye on the pedagogy with his myopic vision, rigid face, and his hand on the ruler, when, as often happens, he attempts to make round plus fit square holes, she reminds him that the world is not a little red schoolhouse, and that humanity is a family, not a formula.

"Put on your glasses and look out of the window," she says to him. "Do you see the landscape? How lovely it stretches out before us with its rolling hills and pretty valleys? The very essence of its beauty is variety, and variety means inequality. You, with your stupid averages and tabulated figures, would you ruin the glory of nature by pulling it all down to a dull monotony? My children, God's precious gifts, would you deal with them as if they were wooden images? Can't you see that the poverty of some of them is infinitely more beautiful, yes, more splendid, than the guilty wealth of others? Can you not understand that there are some weaknesses which are far less harmful than many boasted virtues? Do you think you can make all men equally efficient? Even if you could, what would you do with this perfectly equalized efficiency? Do you think there are to be no valleys in human life, as there must be, if there are to be any hills?"

The Perfect Plan

"If the schoolmaster can have his way the beauty of human life will consist in putting us all on perfectly symmetrical benches before him and getting us all to recite in perfect unison the multiplication table—first forward and then backward; and for complete relaxation from this somewhat fatiguing task we should, at perfectly exact intervals, be allowed to rise in our places, our hands by our sides and our heels well together, and say with perfectly well regulated voices: 'The Origin of Species.' What a world this would be if the perfect pedagogue had his perfect chance!

"Now, we are in real danger of this sort of thing in American life unless we are well on guard. When the mother gives up her rightful place to the schoolmaster, alas for the child. There is a penalty lurking behind exaggerated material prosperity. It is the extinction of human sentiment. When men are too busy counting money to pay for their children they must pay for it. When they have finished the counting they will have lost their children. When a community is so occupied as to turn over its human problems to the professional social worker, trained along purely mathematical lines, it will find at the end of a certain period of time that all the problems of crime and poverty and unrest have been solved completely—on paper—the reports are all perfectly accurate, and if it then gets a moment to put on its spectacles and look out of the window instead of at the report, it will find that the same problems are still there and nothing much really has been accomplished, except the printing.

Reports Settle Nothing

"I am perfectly well aware that it will be hard to get this into some people's heads. With schools for the tabulating and classifying of every evil under the sun and the advertising that gets and the well paid posts they fill, the people are growing into a silly sense of security that reports are everything.

"Now, I do not want to be misunderstood. I do not believe that reports are everything. I do not believe that reports are nothing. I think they are between everything and nothing—something. They are a beginning; of themselves they settle nothing. They may be a source of information if read aright. They may be completely erroneous if not read aright. The whole difference lies in just that which is between the attitude toward humanity of the exacting, perfectly mathematical schoolmaster, and that of the intelligent, kind hearted Christian mother. It is the difference which exists between the exceedingly clever and perfectly methodical social worker, and the Sister of Charity.

"I am not condemning social service, much less the social servant. I am only pointing out that it is not the whole story—not everything. The perfect thing, pretty nearly everything, would be the combination of both—social worker and Vincentian—whether male or female. That is the experienced and intelligent and good Christian.

Prattling About Fads

"What is needed among us is less prattling about fads and more real work along approved lines. Do you remember the occasional youngster among us who talked through his nose with a twang to pretend he was a Yankee? What a surprise it must have been to him afterwards to learn that educated Yankees do not talk through their noses! He had, therefore, to unlearn the twang.

"Well, the same thing is happening among that sort of scaphant in everything. The weak-kneed Catholic who is now so eager to run after every fad in social service will find after awhile, if he has fastened enough to finally reach the higher strata in sociology, that the fad he has been so anxious to learn the twang of is a silly thing.

"What is needed today among all classes of Catholics here in America is more confidence in themselves and less weak imitation and spineless subservience to what is called the spirit of the age. This up-to-dateness, this yesterday-civilization with its coarse methods and its empty boastfulness. By this time the world ought to realize that what is most needed today is not a new batch of fads but a glance backward to the ages of faith.

"I wonder how the authors of all the new philosophies and the new religions predicting universal happiness immediate and unending in this wonderful 20th century, now feel as they look out over a world of devastation and ruin. According to them, the whole world was to be transformed suddenly by the brilliant light of modern learning into a blooming Paradise. Well, it has been transformed—into a desert waste.

"The two great nations which for half a century had claimed the monopoly of intelligence and its cleverness and learning are now, God help them, both in the last throes of the bitterest life and death struggle the world has ever known. Do you think that the intellectuals will at least feel humbled and diffident?

"It is only all the parlor philosophers and the parlor sociologists and the glass-house optimists could be ordered to go to the front and stay there long enough to become genuine and sincere, and lose their false halos in the blaze of artillery, the world would be rid at least for the rest of this generation, of some up-to-date fallacies and cure-all sociologies.

"The one thing that England and Germany will both realize before this is all over is, that the application of the latest up-to-date philosophy has landed them both back before the Middle Ages.

"What sort of progress is this new up-to-date sort? Where is the advance of these modern nations which are content to rush blindly two steps forward and then take four backward? This is precisely what they are bound to do in a civilization without God. That is precisely what modern sociologists will do when they attempt to substitute social service for charity. We want first of all Christian charity, and then all we can learn of really tried and proven and approved modern methods. We want absolute unity in well—shall we say Waldorf or Oswald names which means as much to Celt as Chin-Chin does to a Bostonian. Nevertheless, the trick works and little by little the noble and beautiful and illustrious name of Patrick disappears, until a generation arrives that sees through the cosmopolitan trick and brings back the proud name into its old high honor again.

"Now you begin to see what is going to happen to the word charity if we allow this trick to be worked under our eyes. Charity means love. In the Christian sense, love has for its highest object God. In that sense nothing can exclude God from love. Charity, therefore, means love of God prompting love of our fellow-man. This was the word which thrilled Christianity in the ages of faith, which rescued the slave, which aided the unfortunate.

"It is a word sanctified by 20 centuries of noble and noblest use. No other word means the same. But it must go. The decree is launched. By whom? By those who would, if they could, put blind force in the place of God and the university president or the professor of psychology in the place of Christ. Well, the word charity still will not go. We know the trick now. Charity will stay. It is not, and you shall not be put by your two-step process, a vanished noun.

An Easy Job

"Charity is as dear to us as God, for God Himself is charity. Social service is not charity, never can be charity. Social service is at best an avocation. Often, in fact quite generally, it is an easy job. It has its use, as every avocation, even every job has. Well play no hypocrisy! We know very well the infinite unfathomable distance between social service and Christian charity. You may keep, if you will, your terminology, but you will never again destroy ours. That is gone forever. It will never succeed again. The vogue of that particular verbal two-step is passe.

"But I wish you could be sure that we had entirely escaped the contagion all about us of putting mere human service in its place. I have not once, but several times, noted with pain that some of those immersed in the atmosphere have suffered, if not asphyxiated, at least some symptoms. The time-honored and venerable tradition of Catholic work among the poor are not quite up to date. We get a few pages quoted to us from the text books to prove the superiority of scientific methods.

"We want to know and we do know that whatever there is to be known about everything of real value in sociology, I say we do know them, and when they are of real value, we mean to apply them. But it is the merest nonsense to ask us to approve and experiment with every fad that the newest fadist puts into print.

"I wish the Vincentian to learn even today from any of your modern professionals:

"Alas! must I say it? We have those also who have grown more and more wealthy every year until they are now rich, and yet continue to dole out the same half-penny alms of earlier days.

"We are all glad when our people at least come into a share of the good things of the world, if only it does not serve merely to congeal their blood and freeze their better natures. No one in the whole history of the world ever lost anything by Christian charity. It is only those who never give or who refuse to act out a good impulse that lose inevitably.

"I do not hesitate to say, much as I want our good people to succeed in prosperity, that there are some now rich to whom the loss of their money would be the very best thing that could happen to them. At least the crust of selfishness and silly pride which property has raised around their former selves would be broken, and they would be again genuine, sincere and truly refined—qualities which money seems to have entirely destroyed in them. Be not deceived. We must keep our hearts warm, our blood red, our love aglow, or pay the penalty.

"That penalty only begins here in arrogance and coldness. It ends in blindness. Many a woman is utterly destitute with plenty about her. She has filled her life with vain things and she sits amid the ashes of illusion.

"No one in the world had ever to regret a good service to the poor. No one, not one.

"So let our men and women already interested in our charities redouble their zeal and enlarge their field. Let them awaken in their friends and acquaintances a similar love for activity and unselfishness. We want, above all things, good will. We want, with that willingness to work under direction, to work according to approved methods, to work as energetic, warm-hearted Christians.

"The world has its philosophies, which generally arrive at nowhere. We have the gospel of charity. Its end is God."

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" Brought the Joy of Health After Two Years' Suffering

MADAM LAPLANTE,
35 Rose St., Montreal, April 4th.
"For over two years I was sick and miserable. I suffered from constant headaches, and had palpitation of the heart so badly that I feared that I would die. There seemed to be a lump in my stomach and the constipation was dreadful. I suffered from pain in the back and kidney disease. I was treated by a physician for a year and a half and he did me no good at all. I tried 'Fruit-a-lives' as a last resort. After using three boxes, I was greatly improved and twelve boxes made me well. Now I can work all day and there are no headaches, no palpitation, no heart trouble, no constipation, no pain or kidney trouble and I feel like a new being—and it was 'Fruit-a-lives' that gave me back my health."

all the works of Catholic charity in the diocese. With that unity, with the spirit of true charity well organized and well ordered, we can accomplish with hundreds what others fall to do with millions.

"We want those who have means—the means which God has given them, not for luxury or waste or selfishness or greed, but the welfare of others as well as of themselves—to co-operate with those who have the will to aid others but lack the means.

"We have right among us wonderful examples of both the well-to-do who never forget their duty to others, and the poor who give themselves because they have not money. God will bless them both, does bless them both abundantly.

"Alas! must I say it? We have those also who have grown more and more wealthy every year until they are now rich, and yet continue to dole out the same half-penny alms of earlier days.

menials, etc.—whose disposition is friendly, but who come under the same restrictions as the Germans through being subjects of enemy Powers. In both classes a large proportion consists of men who have been accustomed to work on the land at home, and are quite fit for agricultural employment here. To take them out of prison and give them such employment would be a humane thing in the interest of the men themselves. It would relieve their minds of the inevitable strain that accompanies prolonged confinement in idleness and disaffection. The practical value of so employing them would be considerable in mitigating the danger, of which I wrote last week, of a serious deficiency in food production. It is estimated that, even with fork and spade—to say nothing of a plough—a man can dig an acre in a fortnight. Every 100 acres of land, growing the present average of only thirty-two bushels of wheat per acre, could keep more than 1,000 people in bread for six months. At this rate 40,000 of these aliens could dig in six fortnights 240,000 acres, which would feed 2,400,000 people for six months.

Rules For Employing Prisoners

Early in the summer, on the initiative of Lord Newton, a scheme was arranged with the Home Office for employing farmers to employ prisoners on the land. As regards military and naval prisoners, the War Office insisted on the condition that they should be sent out in groups of not less than 100 under a military guard. Lately this restriction has been relaxed, and much smaller parties can now be used by the employer being held responsible for their custody, housing, and feeding. All applications are considered by a special committee at the War Office. The suggestion has been made that the Volunteers might serve as guards, but this is scarcely practicable, as comparatively few Volunteers are available for duty until after the ordinary hours of business. Lord Newton, who has taken an especially keen interest in the whole question, thinks the difficulty of guarding is much overestimated. He declined to believe, he told the Lords, that a prisoner of war was a dangerous anarchist, whose first idea would be to cut his employer's throat. There is, of course, a certain risk of escape, but experience has shown that the chances of getting safely away are very slender. A prisoner, too, would think twice before he did anything that would entail his being sent back to the confinement of jail or camp.

Would Import Labor

Simultaneously with this wasteful neglect of resources accessible close at hand there has been an agitation for importing a supply of labor from the ends of the earth. Sir Harry Johnston calculates that the British possessions in Africa could provide 25,000 laborers. Commander Wedgwood, M. P., has no patience with such miserable parsimony. "I will only interpose to say," he writes to the Daily Chronicle, "that we have 25,754,000 Africans to draw on, without going to the Congo or to Portuguese East Africa, and excluding the unwelcome Egyptians." Another 25,000,000 could be taken from the Congo and Portuguese territory, by arrangement with the Belgian and the Portuguese Governments. These 61,000,000 Commander Wedgwood would not employ in the sordid and uninspiring drudgery of producing food or in any other civilian task. He would have them trained as fighting men and sent into the trenches. He wants them to fight, because, in the first place, "we do not want all the whites killed," and, secondly, because he is a negro and wishes to see the colored man get his due honor. "Comradeship in danger will do what the education of centuries would never effect—it will break once for all the routine work of a farm. Besides, many of the men concerned can already speak English, having been employed before the war in England or America. The one hindrance that is likely to prove a serious, and it may be an insuperable, obstacle is the anti-racial prejudice of the English countrymen.

MANY IN BRITAIN OPPOSE PLAN TO IMPORT NEGROES

It is pointed out that the situation in England with regard to colored men would be quite different from what it is in France.

London, Dec. 20.—To meet the present grave shortage of labor, especially in agriculture, there is one obvious expedient which as yet has been scarcely utilized at all. It is officially stated that there are in this country 25,000 naval and military prisoners and 31,000 interned civilians. The latter class includes several thousands who are only technically "enemies"—Hungarians, Poles, Czechs, Croats, As-and so on. It would be non-combatant work, but carried out under military discipline.

Cape "Boys" to France

Cape "boys" have already been brought to France, and Kaffirs from South Africa are on their way thither, in reply to a question in the House, the Prime Minister has stated that Government departments are "considering in all its aspects" the question of importing colored labor into England for building and other constructional work. This proposal raises issues distinct from those involved in the use of colored labor in France. There they would be directly employed as an adjunct to an army in the field and could easily be subjected to the military discipline imposed on all white men connected with the army. In England this status would not be so easy to maintain, for their work would be essentially civilian work and in competition with—or, at any rate, in substitution for—the normal employment of the English workman. It is suggested that in the docks and on the railroads there will be opportunities for such substitution.

Attitude of the Government

How far the Government has committed itself to this tempting but suicidal course is not yet known. There are members of the Cabinet who ought still to retain a very lively memory of the general election of January, 1906, when the debacle of the Conservative party at the polls was largely due to its folly in employing Chinese labor in the South African campaign. In these days, as the history of the conscription controversy has shown, Labor protests have to be heavily discounted. But one may note, for whatever it may be worth, the following resolution passed at a meeting of the Labor Department: "That, having regard to the serious moral, social, industrial, and economic considerations involved in any introduction of colored labor into this country, this party enters its emphatic protest against such introduction, and warns the Government Department concerned that the step said to be in contemplation."

ODD LITTLE NOVELTIES

IN THE windows of art needlework shops are displayed many attractive articles decorated with embroidery combined with tinting done with oil the chatelaine is attached to the sewer's belt.

Make a tiny thimble bag of linen and draw a design showing a mouse nibbling grain of corn. Tint the mouse gray by mixing a little lampblack with white. Outline the body with black silk and use solid stemstitch for the legs and tail. Make black French knots for eyes and yellow ones for the kernels of corn. Through the top of the bag run a drawing of narrow elastic or ribbon and attach it to a strand of the chatelaine. Using the same design, fashion a pin disk by covering two circles of cardboard, first with sheet wadding and then with the linen. Whip together, stick full of pins and sew it to another strand. To the third strand tie a small mercerized cotton in solid stitch. Outline the leaves with fine outline stitches and use French knots for the cluster of stamens between the petals. A cluster of French knots in the center will fill the little circle.

Outline the stems, wrapping the overlapped stitches. Pad the leaves of the maidenhair and work down in satin stitch.

The scallops can be padded very easily by holding soutache braid along the edges. I have had the designer make allowance for this idea at the points of the scallops. The braid can be passed over to the next curve. Buttonhole over the braid. You will find that a quick, raised scallop will result. If you wish, the usual padding with darning cotton will give good results, although it will take more time.

An all-white treatment is beautiful. I have seen these flowers worked in white and given a touch of color by yellow stamens. Pale green might be combined with white, the color used in the slender stems and on the maidenhair fern.

To embroiderers there are no limitations in color schemes. Your own wishes or the general coloring of the decorative arrangement of your home will decide what tones are best. That is the beauty of being an embroiderer.

Perhaps the newest method of working this design, especially the petals of the flowers, is the Venetian rose stitch, which every embroiderer is glad to use on the slightest provocation.

This is the making of the petals by looping the thread in rows, as you filed in when you did renaissance work. The stitches, or loops, are not attached to the material except at the top and bottom of each petal. The first stitch is a horizontal one across the top of the petal.

The thread is brought through to the right side and looped up over the stitch, the needle point being over the thread, as you hold it in buttonholing. Make two loops for the first row. From the left end swing down and work across, again making loops, two stitches in each curve of the upper line. The next row works from right to left, two stitches on each loop of the line above. This widens the shape as you go. If you wish to have a petal the same width, do not add, but repeat the same number of stitches. A narrowing of a petal is gained by decreasing the stitches. The last row is a single stitch, which is attached to the goods. The result is a woven effect which is like the roses in relief on Irish crochet, the petals standing out, but caught down at the extreme points.

Flowers formed entirely of French knots are easily made and quickly done. You have such a choice before you that I know you are anxious to begin, so I shall stop. Let me know if you like it.

HOW often have you gathered the lovely white blossoms in the parks or the meadows? Stars brought down within your reach are not to be ignored, whether they be in fragrant form or in a lovely design. The centerpiece, fifteen-inch size, will give you a little constellation that will shine out from your dining table in decided beauty.

After tracing the design according to directions on another part of the page, pad the oval petals of the blossoms with darning cotton, using lengthwise stitches. Work across the ovals with oil paints. Tan linen is the material used for lovely picture frames, square, oblong or circular in shape. A wistaria design is transferred to the square frame, using a sheet of carbon paper for the purpose.

Prepare the oil paints for tinting by mixing with gasoline in an old china plate and use an artist's small round bristle brush. The paint and brush may be obtained at an artist's supplies shop or the needlework departments of large stores.

Use very little paint, wiping the superfluous moisture on old cloth or a piece of blotting paper. The color will not spread and spoil the design if this precaution is taken. Tint the leaves green, the blossoms two shades of wistaria and the stems a darker green. When thoroughly dry, outline the design with heavy embroidery silk.

The circular frame has a design of birds sitting on a branch. Color the birds an orange brown with a splash of red on their breasts. Outline the leaves and stems with black silk. Work the branch solid with brown.

Put a foundation of Bristol board and cover with cotton wadding. Over this frame is covered with plain linen and the two are whipped together. The design is now ready to be photographed between its folds.

To make a pretty sewer's chatelaine, take three strands of half-inch ribbon, any color desired, and weave them through twenty-four ivory rings and finish at the top with a ribbon bow. This conceals the safety pin with which pair of embroidery scissors and the chatelaine is complete.

A notepaper case for the woman who travels is made of tan-colored linen and painted with a conventional design, using brown and green paint for tinting. Outline the design with dark brown or black silk and line the case with pongee silk. Two small oblongs of linen are hemmed and feather-stitched to the case to form pockets.

Extremely attractive is a handkerchief case of tan-colored linen showing a design of holly. Color the leaves a holly green and the berries red. Use black silk to outline the design, and if preferred, work the berries solid, padding them first with darning cotton.

Line the case with pale pink, blue or tan silk and tie together with ribbon.

If you desire to accent the case with sachet, place an incriming of cotton wadding, sprinkled with sachet powder between the linen and silk before whipping them together.

Many artistic gifts may be made in this manner—magazine covers, table runners, window and door draperies, sofa cushions and centerpieces. You will find the work most interesting and the finished product well worth the time spent in fashioning it.

How to Transfer

HERE are suggestions for transferring the pattern before you to any material before working. Perhaps the easiest way is the "window-pane" method. This is successful when the material is thin like linen, and the material together and link them up against the glass of a window. With a sharp pencil draw on the material the design, which can be easily seen through the glass. If one-half of the design only is given, apply the paper and turn the other side to the fabric. The strong light behind will make it plain.

If you have carbon paper, you should place it between your fabric and the newspaper. The latter is on top. With a sharp pencil go over the outline of the design. The impression will be made. This method is successful on heavy material.

The last way is also easy. On wax paper or ordinary tissue paper trace the pattern before you. When the design is completed, turn over the paper and outline the pattern with a heavy lead pencil. Then place the design down on the fabric and redraw the outline, pressing hard with the pencil. The pattern will be transferred without difficulty.

ATTRACTIVE MONOGRAMS

IF YOU have them especially designed, you will find that you must pay for this luxury; but there are clever ways out of the monogram puzzle. Here are some of them.

Have the future owner of the article you are making write his favorite way of combining initials. If you do not care to ask for this, wishing the marking to be a surprise, resort to a letter or note and trace the initials from this.

Combine separate letters by placing the first one higher than the others, having the rest slant down to the right.

Another clever way is to take the initial of the last name and form around it the first one higher than the others, by the way, should be the largest.

Monograms are very attractive if arranged inside conventional figures, such as the square on the diagonal, diamond, circles and hexagons. These forms should be drawn first and the letters placed inside, their outer lines conforming to the shape of the frame. A little spray of tiny flowers twined in and out of a single letter raises it to a decorative feature. The wreath of forget-me-nots is another way to ornament a simple little monogram.

Bobknots of the delicate twisted type can be placed at the top of an oval, the ends drawn down to the lower part. These should be worked in solid stitches or outlined and filled in with seed stitches.

The broken wreath of leaves is excellent for inclosing monograms. It is two stems of leaves joined at the base of a circle and curving around with a small space at the top.

Of course, the monogram should be the important part of any decorations just described, so all flowers, leaves and stems should be delicate and small, forming a pretty background, but not overbalancing in effect the letters.

Monograms in solid white work, outlined in colors, are very effective on white goods if colored ribbons or colored flowers be used as decoration. Then again, the white cord outline of a letter forms a good band on which to work French knots or seed stitches for filling in.

Regular letter forms are purchasable and can be overlapped in basing on material, thus making the monogram required. They are always more effective when placed in a slanting line, and this disposition makes it more easy to work.

Monograms for pincushions, bureau covers or dressing-table covers are now being cleverly duplicated from the engravings on the silver or ivory sets.

This is easily done by tracing on tissue paper and transferring to the fabric by carbon paper. This idea gives a completeness to the furnishing of a bureau that cannot fail to please.

A dainty monogram on a jewel case, powder-puff bag or traveling kit can be added to a bought gift, thus giving it a personal touch that is always appreciated.

Handkerchiefs have handworked medallions and crests in the corners, which can easily be filled in with tiny letters in a few minutes. A box of these especially marked kerchiefs will be greeted with joy. Do the same on any little article that you must buy and you will find that your work will depart quickly from the hundreds of duplicates in the shops and assume an individuality that should never be lost on a hand-embroidered article.

For the Baby

WHEN you visit the shops where lovely articles for baby's wardrobe are sold, you are tempted to pay the exorbitant prices asked because you desire to have baby daintily dressed. Many of these lovely things can be made at home and not appear a bit amateurish. A pretty kimono is made of white albatross cut over a onesie pattern, which can be purchased at any pattern department. Embroider a border of tiny flowers and foliage with pale pink silk. Line the kimono with pink china silk and tie the sleeves and fronts together with pink ribbon.

A very Frenchy effect is obtained by using pink and blue silk to embroider the design.

Every little baby requires from three to six blankets. To fashion these, purchase a yard of silk flannel and embroider it with twisted embroidery silk, white, pink or blue.

When stamping the blanket, transfer the design to the reverse side of the upper half, so that when the blanket is folded over the design will come right side out. A more elaborate design should be embroidered in the upper corner; for example, a wreath containing a small slipper bag or a spray of flowers. Scallop the edges with a heavier twisted silk, and instead of padding in the usual manner, take from eight to twelve single strands of darning cotton and run this along the scallops, buttonhole-stitching over it. This will prove an easy and successful method of padding.

A great variety of rib is shown, embroidered on handkerchiefs, linen with solid and eyelet stitches. These have rounded, pointed or square corners, with scalloped edges, and are embroidered in small flower designs. Many are attached to bits of heading, through which ribbon is run to tie about the waist, thus eliminating the use of pins.

Articles like these make useful gifts for the tiny baby and are fascinating work for spare time. If picked up now and then, a few stitches added each time, it is surprising how quickly they are completed.

Slipper Bags

YOUR young friends probably need many dainty accessories which are necessary to the party frock.

A party scarf is always acceptable. Purchase white crepe de chine, chiffon or mousseline de soie the desired length. Fringe the ends and knot the fringes, so that it does not become matted. Work from pale pink silk or satin cut wide and applique them to form a border on the scarf ends. To accomplish successfully, use the long-and-short stitch with pink embroidery silk. The centers and stems should be worked with green silk. The border may be of any color to match the gown with which the scarf is to be worn.

Slipper bags always are much admired by girls. If one were much to match the scarf the gift would be complete. From the white material make a bag in the usual way and applique several wild roses on one side. Line it with white silk and run a cord or narrow ribbon through the top.

The exquisite squares of Japanese embroidery for sale in all art departments make lovely party bags.

At the remnant counters you can procure odd lengths of gorgeous brocaded silks too small to use for anything but slipper bags. If these are daintily lined and drawn together with a cord to match the brocade, they are most effective.

Short lengths of lovely ribbon can be joined by overcasting the selvages together, forming a strip wide enough for the slipper bag. Plain and figured ribbon are frequently combined in this manner. Two or three strips of ribbon are required to produce the necessary width. Strips of lace insertion joined to ribbon also make a pretty bag.

A visit to the remnant counter will supply you with materials to fashion a party bag for each of your young friends, and they will cost you a comparatively small amount.

NEWS AND COMMENT FROM THE FINANCIAL WORLD

WALL STREET RALLIES FROM 3 TO 10 POINTS

New York, Dec. 22.—Rallies of three to ten points in active stocks, with 13 for Gulf States Steel and 26 for Bethlehem Steel denoted the extent of today's rebound of prices from the hysteria of the preceding session. As the high level many stocks showed full recovery from their reversal of that memorable period and others registered actual gains over final prices of the midweek.

Improvement began at the outset, overnight developments affecting the international situation being a potent factor. The advance was impartially distributed among standard shares no less than speculative issues and the shorts covered with far more alacrity than they had sold. Investment buying of the character which waits for such opportunities as yesterday's market offered also helped, by their steady buying to bring about a speedy readjustment.

Realizing sales to effect quick profits and occasional very cautious short selling caused reactions of one to three points before midday, but these were more than regained in the final hour, when the general average of prices was highest. Total sales aggregated 1,775,000 shares, some 14,000,000 unregistered, the almost unprecedented turnover, the difference, however, being wholly in favor of the constructive side.

United States Steel led the recovery in greater measure than it did yesterday's decline. At the best quotation of the day—107 1/2—it made an extreme gain of 7 1/2 points on transactions amounting to about 400,000 shares. Allied stocks like Crucible, Lackawanna and Sloss Sheffield Steels and Republic Iron regained five to seven points, the shipping dividend, 8 to 13; equipments, five to thirteen; Central Leather, 11 3/8, with eight for American Hide and Leather preferred, an average of about 6 points for coppers and other metals, five to twelve for sugars and almost as much for American Woolen, General Electric and various miscellaneous or unclassified stocks.

Rails of virtually all descriptions—dividend payers and low priced issues—were higher by two to four points, the latter being in especial demand. International bonds made further gains, except Paris 6's which forfeited some of yesterday's advance.

Total sales, par value, $4,150,000.

MIDVALE STEEL EXPECTS YEAR OF BIG EARNINGS

$35,000,000 Expected to be The Net return, Up to December 31st—Stock Will Run to 12 per Cent.

Special to The Standard. New York, Dec. 22.—Midvale Steel and Ordnance for the year closing on Dec. 31 next will show net earnings of $35,000,000. At present the earnings are running at the rate of $50,000,000 annually. When the directors meet in January it is expected that the stock will be out on a 36 per centum or 12 per cent. dividend basis.

Special to The Standard. New York, Dec. 22.—Stories of ruin for smaller traders who were caught yesterday, and tales of big killings by professional plungers, divided attention today. Rumors that big bankers planned to meet and form some organization for supporting the market today was denied, while big bankers declared it yesterday's market was a panic, it was a safe and sane panic. Brokers' offices were ablaze into the early morning today while clerks caught up the mass of work involved in the recent transactions.

BRITAIN MAY TAKE STEEL PLANT OVER

Inspectors Have Examined Dominion Steel Plant and It May Be Taken Over.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, Que., Dec. 22.—Some time ago reference was made to the presence of a corps of inspectors or appraisers going over the plant and books of the Dominion Steel Corporation, but an official of the corporation was quoted in The Star as authority for the assertion that there was nothing unusual in the incident. The inspectors, however, apparently think differently as a report has been current for some days that the British government was contemplating taking over the corporation. This could not be traced to any authoritative source, but there was a disposition in some quarters to believe that there might be something in it. The presence of the inspectors is still associated with the idea.

PRESENTATION TO POPULAR MANAGER OF OPERA HOUSE

W.C. McKay Presented With Camera by Employees of The Opera House; And Thoroughbred Dog by Friends.

A very pleasing event took place at the Opera House last night after the show when the employees of the house gathered in the large waiting room and sent for the manager, W. C. McKay. When Mr. McKay arrived on the scene Joseph W. Stackhouse on behalf of the assembled gathering presented Mr. McKay with a handsome Eastman autographic camera and read the following address:

W. C. McKay, Esq., manager, Opera House, St. John, N. B.:
Dear Sir,—We, the Opera House employees, namely: J. W. Stackhouse, James Campbell, David Latimer, Edna E. Dowdeswell, Silas W. Casson, Wm. E. McKinley, John Brown, William H. Casson, G. Titus, Harry Rouse, Andrew Bonada, James Whitebone, William Whitebone, Gerard Daley, Geo. Trainor, Geo. Lane, feel that we cannot allow this festive season to pass without expressing to you our feeling of gratitude and goodwill for the many kindnesses and courtesies that have been extended to us by you during the year that has past. We also recognize that your position here has been very trying, and it is for that reason that we do so appreciate your patience and courtesy at all times. We do hope that the coming year will bring to you many good things, and that each succeeding year will be better and brighter for you than the last, so please accept this camera as a slight token of our esteem, and wishing you every success for a merry Christmas and a happy New Year. We are, Sir, faithfully yours,

Some Catch.
Eight drunks were gathered in last night by the police. This is the largest catch for some time.

"We are fighting for a worthy purpose, and we shall not lay down our arms until that purpose has been fully achieved."—H. M. The King. TO THE PEOPLE OF THE EMPIRE—Every fighting unit we can send to the front means one step nearer peace.

OUR BOYS OVERSEAS.

As a rule Christmas Day is the occasion for great merriment in the home. Loved ones return to enjoy, if but for a short time, the environments of home life. The busy commercial man from the city, the students from the university invariably strive to get home to enjoy that day of days. But this year the situation is different. There will be many of the absent ones who cannot come to their native province to be with the old folks at this important season of the year. These are the gallant sons of New Brunswick who have consecrated their lives to the service of the Empire in the present great crisis. There is hardly a home in the province that is not represented on the firing line. The father, the brother, or the son, has gone to "do his bit" to bring about the triumph of the cause of civilization. They were only too willing to make the great sacrifice which the needs of the nation demand. Is it any wonder that the thoughts of those at home will turn on Christmas to the loved ones overseas? Our men in khaki would dearly love to return to their homes for this day of days but they have a great duty which forces them to forego that pleasure. They will, however, be with us in spirit, and when the war has been happily terminated will return to the old province of New Brunswick and we trust live to enjoy many a merry Christmas.

Leading public men such as Hon. Mr. Hazen, Hon. Mr. Clarke and Hon. Mr. Baxter do well to extend the season's greetings to the boys at the front. New Brunswick is intensely proud of her sons in khaki whose achievements have served to write large the name of this province in the history of the war. Our gallant sons can always be counted upon to do their full share in the conflict for the preservation of British ideals and British institutions. On Christmas we will miss them but with that feeling is one of pride that in the greatest crisis the world has known they are playing well their parts.

GERMANY AND SPARTANISM.

The Cologne Gazette says that Germany now is reaching the Spartan national ideal. Every individual is made to serve, not himself or herself, but the state. The stern discipline, the hard sacrifices, the robust will of the ancient Spartans are duplicated in the Teutons of today.

That is one way to put it. Another way is indicated in an appeal of the minority of the German Socialist party, an appeal that is published in the Berne Tagwacht, entitled, "The Limit." Regarding the new "chain and whip" law, industrial conscription of the civil population, it says: "All those rejected from military service—cripples, children and old-age pensioners, are to be put under the military lash. The wages question is to be settled by the sword, and woe to those who, like the Hamburg workmen, cross their arms to show that the power of the State of Siegf has its limits. If the squeezing of the last ounce of strength from those worn-out victims of imperialism will not suffice to make up for the healthy and able-bodied wage-earners, insatiable militarism will drive to its altar the last working girl or woman."

The German system of slave-driving a nation, as a mahout drives his elephant, far exceeds Spartan practice. It is a brutal example of the power of scientific national compulsion, the much-lauded Kultur. Germany is getting a full dose of it.

DURABLE PEACE AND ALLIED VICTORY.

The New York Times has published sixteen extensive articles by a distinguished publicist on the subject: "All Want Peace, What Must Be Its Basis?" The concluding article reaches the determination that a durable peace depends upon the victory of the Allies and upon the establishment in public policy of the principles for which they are contending. These must, says this author, be a withholding of all acts of vengeance and reprisal and the establishment of an international institution that will preserve peace among the nations. Durable peace, he says, is

It that our least concerned people have is hardly better than no knowledge. None but persons with the heedlessness of insanity could go on in their old selfish ways and at the same time be possessed of the right idea of the gravity of the Prussian peril. There are many degrees of knowledge. It is but a shallow knowledge that many Canadians have of the dangers our overseas forces are helping to shield us from. So far from setting the more careless ones thinking and resolving, the war has scarcely scraped the surface of their consciousness. There will need to be tremendous things done, incredible hardships suffered by many armies, and great numbers of our brave men slain, if our easy-minded stay-at-homes are not to have a rougher acquaintance of the trials of this war than they now dream of.

There surely will be a great awakening of Canadian spirit before long. When our unenlightened young men capable of serving in the field get the right idea of the war, we are convinced they will hasten to face the enemy. Nor will it be so much by the impulse of heroic feeling as at the prompting of reason they will be moved to do so. It will be because they have come to realize the danger and to see their duty. It is not by bombastic talkers and not by incompetent recruiting sergeants, that the process of education in the real meaning of this war can be carried on. Every man of mature years who has a due sense of the danger should exert himself to spread that sense among the eligible men about him. The churches are expected to do their part. Some of them are doing it, and others fondly imagine they are doing it. Nobody can do much to rouse others who himself is not tremendously in earnest.

52 MILE GALE IN ST. JOHN LAST EVENING

One of Heaviest Storms of Season Last Night, But Mr. Hutchinson Promises Better Weather.

With the velocity of the wind reaching fifty-two miles an hour St. John experienced last evening one of the heaviest storms of the present season. The storm set in early in the evening and became most severe at nine o'clock when rain fell in heavy torrents. At eleven o'clock the total rainfall amounted to three-quarters of an inch. At midnight the storm had practically abated. The storm came from the southeast. D. L. Hutchinson, "the weather man," told The Standard about eleven o'clock that the probabilities then were northwest winds and clearing, possibly cooler. The reporter pointed out that the weather was not pro-

Considerable damage to telephone and telegraph wires has been reported as a result of the storm. Damage to the local telegraph call wires resulted in the placing of Charlotte, Germain and King streets in temporary darkness last evening. The wires on Charlotte and King streets were repaired in half an hour, while it took about an hour to restore the lights on Germain street. In the Lower Cove section the lights were also out for a time, due to damage to the wires from the storm, while some of the moving picture theatres had darkness thrust upon them as the result of the heavy storm.

ROUTINE BUSINESS TRANSACTED AT CITY COUNCIL YESTERDAY

Reports of Various Departments Submitted and Payments Authorized Until Next Year's Appropriations Have Been Taken Up.

The City Council met yesterday at 3 p. m. in transaction of routine business and then resolved themselves into committee of the whole to consider the replies from the milk dealers.

The comptroller was authorized to make payments during the month of January to the different departments until the appropriations have been made up for 1917. A barn and wagon shed on the West Side was ordered insured for the sum of $1,200 and $300 was placed on the contents not covered by the schedule. Engineer Melness was re-engaged for a further period of two months, the commissioner of water and sewerage was given authority to enlarge the garage on Carmarthen street, and $300 was voted to pay a part of the expenses of the recent survey of the city by the fire experts.

The mayor called the meeting together at 3 o'clock and there were present Commissioners Wigmore, McLellan and Fisher.

Finance and Affairs.

The commissioner of finance and public affairs recommended that, until the appropriation for civic expenditures for the year 1917 are adopted the comptroller be authorized to make payments after the first day of January next, up to the following named amounts, that is to say: Streets, $10,000; maintenance, etc., of fire hydrants, $1,000; sewerage maintenance, $2,000; ferry, $4,000; lighting, $5,000; fire department, $45,000; police department, $45,000; schools, an amount equal to 1-12th of the warrant for the year 1916; hospital commissioners, an amount equal to 1-12th of the warrant for the year 1916.

Public Works.

The commissioner of public works reported, that during the months of February, March and April expenditures were made by the public works department for labor on the eastern part of Victoria Square preparing same for use as a playground, that the amount so expended was $269—and that a grant of $1,000 for North End playground was made by the council on January 14th last.

He recommended that the above amount, $269, be placed to the credit of the public works department and charged against the grant of $1,000.

That insurance to the amount of $1,200 be placed on the barn and wagon shed on Wiggins' wharf on the West Side and $300 on the contents, with the London Underwriters. Adopted.

Water and Sewerage.

The commissioner of water and sewerage recommended that he be given authority to complete the extension of the sewers on Carmarthen street now being made at an estimated cost of $400, for such extension; that he be authorized to re-engage Mr. Frank A. Melness, C. E., the acting engineer for the water and sewerage department for the months of January and February next at the same salary as he is now receiving.

That an amount of $300 be paid over to the New Brunswick Board of Fire Underwriters as a contribution by the city towards the cost of making survey, etc., in connection with the report recently made by the board on the fire protection services in this city, payable two-thirds from water maintenance and one-third fire and police fund; that the comptroller be authorized to pay the bills of James Fleming for special castings over and above the quantity ordered. These recommendations were adopted.

In connection with the last clause of his report Commissioner Wigmore explained that on account of the number of vaults built around stop cocks and shut off, this year, the overrun on this item would be about 40 tons. Authority had been given at the first of the year for 60 tons but the department had used nearly 90 tons and they were getting the castings nearly two cents per pound cheaper than the market price today.

Aid Asked for Syrians.

A communication from Arthur Wakeham, asking for aid for the Syrian Mt. Lebanon Relief Fund was read.

In this connection the mayor suggested that as the city was going to assess for the patriotic fund for the coming year and the amount required from the city and county would be in the vicinity of $200,000 all other appeals be left to private subscription.

Commissioner McLellan thought that appeals of this kind should be very thoroughly investigated before the city granted any aid. The communication was laid on the table.

A bill for two years' dues to the National Conference on City Planning, amounting to $10, was referred to the mayor with power to act.

A communication from the Duncan, B. C. Board of Trade asking the council to endorse a resolution in favor of building a nickel refinery in Canada was received and placed on file.

A communication from the Monastery of the Good Shepherd asking for a grant for their work, was laid over to be considered with the other grants at the usual time.

Special mention should be made of the comedy put on by the pupils of grades 6, 7 and 8, it being the first time anything of the kind has been attempted by the pupils of the grades under the High School, and was a credit to those taking part, as well as to the teachers who directed their efforts.

STANDARD BOYS WRITE FROM FRONT

Letters in Last Mail from Lieut. Willard McGinley and "Little Jim" Gaulton

With the arrival of the recent English mail many homes in the city have been gladdened by cheerful letters from their loved ones at the front. Notwithstanding the cold winter, which has already cast its dreary shadow over the battlefields of Europe, the boys, in their letters, express no word of discontent with their lot.

In a letter from Lieut. Willard G. McGinley, a member of The Standard staff, he stated that Fritz was very quiet and a little trench mortar activity was about all they had to contend with. He is at present in a hospital suffering from a severe cold. Extracts from the letter are as follows:

"Our lot is much better than scores of others. It is remarkable how cheerful, or perhaps resigned would be a better term, the men are under the existing hardships. Men are scarce and those we have are called upon to perform double duty, but you never hear a kick. You can work a man all night and he will get up with a grunt and a grin after a scant two hours rest, and carry on just as though he had slept all night. The thing that is worrying the men out here is why are more men not forthcoming."

Lieut. McGinley writes that Lieut. A. W. Thorne, formerly city editor of The Standard, who went overseas with the 140th Battalion, but later transferred to taking a special course at a divisional training corps.

Both Lieut. McGinley and Lieut. Thorne have applied for transfer to the 26th Battalion.

In a letter to his friends in The Standard, "Jimmie" Gaulton stated that he was very much pleased with the parcel sent to him from the office. He said that he was very sorry indeed that he was unable to send Christmas cards, owing to pressing "business" engagements.

Social Notes of the Week

A merry Christmas! Again has come the season when we celebrate the advent of the Prince of Peace, and it is indeed hard to realize amid the tramp of martial men to say nothing of the knowledge of the terrible conflict that is convulsing Europe—the haunting headlines of our daily press, which tell us of the cruel outrages inflicted, and the casualties bringing such sadness to so many homes in our province—the condition of the keeping with the Angel's song of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men." But let us look up and believe, that out of all this carnage and slaughter brought about by the great German War Lord's thirst for power, then shall come a lasting national peace when nations shall study war no more. Meantime many and varied are the efforts being put forth to make Christmas a happy day, not only for the inmates of our charitable and philanthropic institutions, but for the brave soldier boys now in St. John. The soldiers' children, too, had a real visit from Santa Claus on Wednesday when hundreds gathered in the Opera House and enjoyed the pictures and received the good things provided under the auspices of the Soldiers' Wives' League, and if the desires of the many unselfish hearts of our responsive citizens are granted, they shall even in war time, be rays of Christmas cheer in every heart and home.

Mr. H. A. Powell left on Thursday evening on a business trip to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kimball left last night for Montreal to spend Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. Dodds.

Miss Nellie K. Melrose returned from Sackville Thursday to spend the vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Melrose.

The many friends of (Dr.) Nurse Sister Margaret Parks are giving her a welcome home from overseas, having arrived in the city last week. Nursing Sister Domville, from Rochesay, arrived home at the same time. Both these young ladies left St. John in the fall of 1914, and were attached to No. 1 Canadian General Hospital in France, which Dr. Murray MacLaren was in charge of for a time. They are on a furlough and will return to duty shortly.

Mrs. William Murdoch, of Crossfield, Alberta, arrived home on Tuesday and is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Armstrong, St. James street.

Mrs. Homer Forbes leaves this evening to spend the Christmas holidays at Fredericton. While there she will be a guest of Mrs. Eber Turnbull.

Major A. A. Bartlett, Charlottetown, P. E. I., is expected today and will be a guest at the LaTour, where his wife has been several weeks. Major Bartlett will give an illustrated lecture on "The Path of the Hero" before the Art Club on Thursday evening, December 28. This lecture will be most interesting, as Major Bartlett before the war had travelled all through the country in which he will take his audience, which, without doubt, will be a very large one. The proceeds will be given to the Patriotic Fund.

Mr. Clarence B. Allan, who was a visitor at Montreal this week on patriotic business, returned home on Thursday.

Mrs. D. J. Seely and Miss Seely left this week to spend Christmas with relatives in New York.

Mr. Walter H. Golding, as president of the Maritime Provinces Exhibitors' League, spent a few days in Halifax this week and to attend the opening of the Casino Theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Russell arrived in the city on Monday and are guests at the LaTour. Mr. Russell is attached to the Army Service Corps.

Mr. H. A. Powell was host at a very enjoyable dinner at his residence, Queen Square, on Friday evening of last week in honor of Judge Andrew of Quebec. The guests were: His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Wood, Chief Justice McKeown, Attorney-General Baxter, Mr. Justice Grimmer, Mr. Justice Armstrong, Mr. Daniel Mullin, K. C., Mr. Hewson, K. C., Moncton; and Mr. E. W. McCready.

Mrs. W. K. McKean, Wellington Row, entertained a number of young folk at her residence on Tuesday afternoon, it being her little daughter, Miss Allison's eleventh birthday. The drawing rooms were tastefully decorated with Christmas greenery and a tree upon which a pretty gift was hung for each little guest. A delicious supper was enjoyed and games thoroughly enjoyed by the children.

Miss Ruth Gilbert, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Griffith Bishop, left on Friday last for her home, Bathurst.

Mrs. Charles Palmer, who has been a guest of Mrs. Robinson at Sussex, returned to St. John the first of the week and leaves today for Hampton, where she will be a guest at the Wayside Inn for the Christmas season.

Mr. W. H. Purdy arrived home from Montreal to spend Christmas. Mr. Purdy's many friends will be glad to know he is greatly improved in health.

Master Parker Rae Sancton is spending his Christmas holidays with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Sancton, German street.

On Wednesday the new dining room of the LaTour Apartments was opened for its guests. The dining room which is on the ground floor, and is one of the handsomest rooms in our city. The walls have three-quarter natural wood panelling, while from the ceiling to the panels is lined with white to lawn, blended so well with the woodwork. Four large electric dome light the room. The large plate glass front windows will be curtained with net panels with "LaTour" worked upon them in fancy braid designed by Mrs. C. J. Coster. The very artistic hangings of French cretonne with colorings of old blue and green will complete this very up-to-date and delightful dining room. The well arranged butler's pantry and fine kitchen has been greatly admired. In a few weeks several more suites of rooms with baths will be finished. The "LaTour" under the able management of Mrs. C. J. Coster has become an ideal up-to-date apartments.

Mrs. Frank Young entertained informally at the Sign of the Lantern at the tea hour on Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Leslie Russell, the guests being a few of Mrs. Russell's school girl friends, whom with her had attended Havertal College, Toronto a few years ago.

At a special meeting held by the Royal Standard Chapter, I. O. D. E., in their room Orange Hall, on Monday afternoon, the regent, Mrs. E. Atherton Smith presiding, $25 was voted to be sent to Nursing Sister Mary Barnhill, of No. 2 Canadian General Hospital at Treport, to provide delicacies for the soldiers in the ward, and $100 to the Seamen's Mission to help with their expenses. It was most gratifying to hear that at the recent Fete, given in the Union Club that $1,850 was made and after all expenses were defrayed there was a balance of $1,200 net for Patriotic purposes. On Wednesday evening another special meeting was called when the regent, Mrs. Smith announced that word had been received from the secretary of the Union Club that it had been decided by the members that the Royal Standard Chapter, I. O. D. E., could give the money proceeds from the Fete to any patriotic purpose the Chapter thought advisable. The following monies were proposed and carried: $50 for a "Soldier's Treat," that every sailor in port on Christmas night enjoy a treat; $50 to be sent to the Good Fellow Fund for the poor fund; $25 to purchase a suitable Christmas gift for each patient in the St. John County Hospital; $10 for the Siege Battery on Partridge Island to provide smokes and fruit; $10 to buy fruit for the Convalescent Soldiers' Home; $10 to provide a treat for the Soldiers' Club for Christmas Day. It was unanimously passed that the Royal Standard Chapter, I. O. D. E., should provide all the turkeys for the Christmas dinner at the Military Hospital.

Mrs. W. S. Thomas, Fredericton, arrived in the city on Tuesday and is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Crawford, Spring street. Mr. Thomas is expected this evening to spend Christmas.

Mr. Henry F. Morrissey, C. E., Ottawa, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Morrissey, Hazen street.

Captain and Mrs. Robertson are spending Christmas with Captain Robertson's mother at Sydney, C. B.

Mr. Fred A. Estey and Miss Grace Estey leave this evening for Sackville to spend the Christmas season with Mrs. Estey's sister, Mrs. Knapp.

Mrs. William S. Allison, who has been under medical treatment in Boston returned home on Friday.

Captain Lionel Hamington is at the Prince William Apartments for the winter.

The many friends of Mrs. James S. Harding will be glad to hear she will be able to return to her home, German street, from the General Public Hospital and is daily convalescing.

Mrs. A. E. Prince and son, Byers, who have been visiting in Montreal, and Toronto, arrived home on Thursday.

On Friday of last week Dr. W. W. White was given a genuine birthday surprise dinner at the Bungalow by his wife. Covers were laid for forty. The two beautifully decorated dining tables presented a delightful scene. Mrs. White arranged the table to represent a winter scene. The huge snow balls, with their crystal trimmings, and at each place an appropriate favor called forth much admiration from the guests present. The health of the popular guest of honor was proposed by Dr. Walker and others present and responded to by Dr. White. Three cheers and a tiger were given heartily for the host and his charming wife.

The Royal Kennebecasis Yacht Club opened their new rooms in the Purloin building on Wednesday evening. The rooms are those formerly occupied by the Brown Betty tea shop.

Mrs. H. A. Powell was hostess on Saturday afternoon last at a very delightful tea given in honor of Lady Guinness. Mrs. L. P. D. Tilley presided at the prettily arranged tea table, assisted by Mrs. Hewson (Moncton), Miss Clements, Miss Madeline deSoy, Mrs. H. B. Schofield, Mrs. H. B. Robinson, Mrs. J. W. Robinson, Mrs. P. S. ## SHEDIAC

Shediac, Dec. 21.—The Red Cross Society is meeting weekly, but owing to bad weather, the attendance has not been as large as usual. The reports of the secretary and treasurer, at the meeting on Tuesday, showed the society to be in good standing. After all the bills had been paid the funds on hand amounted to $135.00. Some weeks ago Christmas boxes were sent to our boys overseas. A shipment of boxes took place this week to our lads in khaki, still in the province. By tea, oyster suppers, donations, etc., over $157.97 had been raised for the Christmas box fund. This also included a gift from the Shediac branch of the Red Cross. The merchants of the town were very liberal in the discount on their goods, where the purchase of Christmas box supplies were concerned. The branch here has recently sent $25 to the drug fund in Toronto, and consignments are shipped to our boys in the hospital in Paris, the recent gift of the Canadians in France. As the Red Cross Society in Shediac is the only patriotic society, its members frequently raise money for other worthy causes and have sent $25 to the branch in charge of the branch has received a letter of acknowledgment from Captain Martin, secretary of the Seamen's Institute at Halifax, for $25, sent to be used for a Christmas treat to the sailors in port at the festive season. The tea held last week in Tipperary Hall did not have its usual success, owing to stormy weather. The receipts in full amounted to over $32. This included a sale of tickets by Mrs. E. R. McDonald and Mrs. H. McDonald on a donation of a centerpiece from Mrs. Livinstone and a cake from Mrs. Patrice. The ladies in charge of the tea were Mrs. Patrice and Mrs. H. McDonald, assisted by Mrs. Jas. Stewart, Mrs. E. R. McDonald, Miss Lena Melanson and Miss Minnie Tait. The home-cooking was looked after by Miss Bray and Miss Herbert, Miss M. Harper collected the tickets.

Miss Annie Sprague leaves today for St. John, where she will spend a few days.

Col. F. B. Black left Sackville on Thursday evening for Halifax, en route to England.

Mrs. Nash who has been spending several weeks in town, with her sister, Mrs. Stephen Ayer, left Friday for her home in Melrose, Mass. She was accompanied as far as Moncton by her niece, Miss Etta Ayer.

Rev. H. E. Thomas who has been spending a few days in St. John, returned home yesterday. Dr. Liddy occupied the Methodist pulpit on Sunday morning and Dr. Line in the evening.

Miss Jennie Milner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Milner of West Sackville, and Miss Marjorie Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carter of the town, who are attending the Provincial Normal School, have lately been promoted to first division; and Miss Milner made highest average in her class, also led the school in grammar.

Hon. P. G. Mahoney returned last week from a two weeks trip to New York and Boston.

According to a recent letter received by a friend in Sackville, Professor R. B. Gates left Middleton on the 15th inst. to sail on the Scandinavian for England, where he will offer his services in the army. Professor Gates is a son of Mr. A. B. Gates of Middleton, and a graduate of Mount Allison.

Mr. Percy Gillis who is stationed in Moncton at the present, spent the weekend at his home here.

Mrs. Josiah Wood was hostess at a very enjoyable bridge of four tables last Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Gordon of Moncton. The prize was won by Mrs. F. B. Black. The guests included were Mrs. B. A. Triles, Susan; Miss Borden, Moncton; Mrs. Raleigh Trites, Freeman-Lake; Mrs. J. F. Allison, Mrs. D. S. Campbell, Mrs. F. B. Black, Mrs. H. E. Bigelow, Mrs. Harvey, Miss Gretchen Allison, Miss Lou Ford, Miss Dorothy Hutton and the Misses Gladys and Elaine Borden.

Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey F. Pickard announce the engagement of their daughter, Clementina Moore, to Capt. Rev. William S. Godfrey of the 236th New Brunswick Kilties Battalion, the wedding to take place this month.

The concert given by the students of Mount Allison Conservatory last Thursday evening was well attended. The programme afforded great pleasure to the audience and displayed in a marked degree the wide range of studies at the conservatory, and the training along individual lines which each student receives. The work of the orchestra and choral class was especially good and delighted the crowd.

It is understood Lieut. Governor and Mrs. Wood have taken the Allen house in Fredericton for the next session of the legislature.

Mrs. Raleigh Trites and Miss Kathleen Fawcett spent Tuesday in Amherst, guests of Mrs. McCully.

Mrs. C. J. Mersereau and two children leave Saturday for Fredericton, where they will spend the holidays with Col. Mersereau's sister, Mrs. Scott.

The Sackville High School Athletic Association intend holding the first skating party of the season, ice and weather permitting, on Tuesday evening, Dec. 26th in the University Rink at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. H. H. Woodworth spent Tuesday at Amherst, guest of friends.

At a special meeting of the board of regents at Mount Allison University here, on Thursday afternoon, Rev. Hamilton Wigle of Charles Street Church, Halifax, was appointed principal of Mount Allison Ladies' College, the appointment to take place about the middle of July next.

Mr. C. W. Fawcett returned Saturday night from a trip to Montreal and Ottawa.

The Misses Mollie and Bessie Wright, teachers at the Sackville High School, leave Saturday for their home in Rexton, N. B.

Mrs. David Allison and son David, left yesterday for Chipman, where they will spend the holidays with Mrs. Allison's sister, Mrs. R. C. Ritchie.

Mrs. B. A. Triles who has been visiting at the home of her son, Mr. Raleigh Trites, left yesterday for her home in Sussex.

Miss Lillian Hart left Tuesday for Kentville, N. S., where she will spend a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fawcett left Sunday on a week's trip to Montreal. The Fredericton Gleaser, referring to the wedding of Capt. W. S. Godfrey of the Kilties and Miss C. M. Pickard, which is to take place at the bride's home here on the 27th inst., says:

The groom prospective is one of the best known athletes in the Maritime Provinces, and is a graduate of Mount Allison University, Sackville. He enlisted with the 236th Battalion here early in the fall and was later appointed chaplain, having entered the Methodist ministry soon after taking a theological course at Mount Allison. He is a native of Chatham and figured prominently in hockey, football and basketball, while at Mount A., having been captain of both the hockey and football teams. Capt. Godfrey is popular with the officers and men of the Kilties and during the time he has been in Fredericton, has made a host of friends. The bride-to-be is a graduate of Mount A., having an M. A. degree. She was a member of the graduating class of 1914 with Capt. Godfrey.

The first meeting of the Reading Circle of the Woman's Missionary Society at the Methodist church, met at the home of Mrs. Hutton, on Monday evening. The book selected for this winter's study is "The Story of the Years," by Mrs. H. L. Platt, a former president of the Bay of Quinte Branch, and is the history of the W. M. S. from its organization in 1840 to 1904.

Mrs. D. Hart opened the circle with a most impressive prayer. Mrs. Hutton then read the introductory chapter of the book, followed by Miss Stewart who gave a concise history of the pioneers of the W. M. S., Mrs. Strahan, Mrs. Ross and Dr. Sutherland, and was followed by Mrs. Mersereau who sang "Ave Maria," very sweetly. Mrs. Wood then read a most interesting article on Africa, written by a lady missionary. After a solo by Mrs. Line, refreshments were served and social hour enjoyed.

Miss Mary A. Farrell, principal of Salem School, left on Thursday, to spend the holidays at her home in Fredericton.

The final meeting of the First Aid and Home Nursing class, under the direction of Mrs. B. Liddy was held at the home of Mrs. C. W. Fawcett on Thursday evening last. Mrs. Liddy was presented with a sterling silver card case by the members of the class as a token of their appreciation of her work. The presentation was made by Mrs. Wiggins.

The First Aid Class contained fifteen members of whom twelve wrote the examination. The results were most satisfactory, not one paper falling below the very creditable percentage of seventy-five.

The Rhodes Scholar from Mount Allison is to be appointed sometime this year, namely Wilfrid T. Dawson, graduate in '14, son of Rev. J. A. Dawson, and now with an overseas battery in England; Harold Fawcett, graduate in the same year, in a vocational training school for maritime convalescent soldiers. The matter was seriously considered by members of the board, those present feeling that Mount Allison which had sent so many men to the front, should not be tardy in offering the use of her buildings for such a worthy purpose. The matter was left to heads of the institution and to the faculties, later to be submitted to the executive of the board and subsequently, if a feasible scheme can be worked out, referred to the full board for confirmation.

Announcement of definite has been arranged about the matter, it is probable that the academy building will be turned over to the military authorities for the purpose mentioned, and the academy students, housed in the residence. It is understood that the plan includes a course in vocational training for the soldiers in hospital, in which the class rooms of the university would be utilized as far as possible, though the Military Hospitals Commission would probably supply the greater part of the teaching staff.

A meeting of the university executive will be held in the course of the present week to settle the question and to make arrangements for the disposal of the students, should the project meet with a favorable reception.

FREDERICTON

Fredericton, Dec. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Fitz-Randolph returned home on Wednesday from Montreal and Ottawa. They were accompanied by their daughter who is home from boarding school for the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. E. Hillson of Amherst, is the guest of Mrs. Warren Grant.

Miss Blanche Bishop spent Wednesday in Sackville.

Give the "Kiddies" All They Want of

CROWN BRAND CORN SYRUP

It is one of the delicious "good things" that has a real food value. A slice of your good homemade bread, spread with "Crown Brand", forms a perfectly balanced food, that is practically all nourishment.

So—let them have it on biscuits and pancakes, and on their porridge if they want it.

You'll like it, too, on Griddle Cakes—on Blanc Mange and Baked Apples. And you'll find it the most economical sweetener you can use, for Cakes, Cookies, Gingerbread and Pies.

Have your husband get a tin, the next time he is in town—a 5.10 or 20 pound tin—or a 3 pound glass jar.

WELSFORD

Welsford, Dec. 22.—On Wednesday evening of last week the members of the I. O. G. T. Lodge, Clarendon, had an open meeting in the hall which was largely attended. Strirr, Lewis and Jenkins performed the operation assisted by Nurse Jessie Fowler.

Mrs. Kirtly's many friends will be pleased to know that the operation was successful and that she is doing as well as can be expected.

Henry Brown of Bath, Clarendon met with a bad accident in the woods on Friday last. Mr. Brown was working with Silas Kirkpatrick's crew. The injuries received were caused by a falling tree. Dr. Lewin was called to the camp.

A heavy snow storm with terrific wind visited the locality Friday and Saturday nights with the result that the roads were blocked. The roads were not remembered to have been in such an impassable condition for many years.

The funeral of the late Mrs. John Scott of Headline took place on Monday afternoon last. Interment was

GENERAL BONDHOLDERS REFUSE NEW SCHEME

Action Results in Appointment of Receiver to Take Over the Business.

Special to The Standard. Montreal, Dec. 22.—The bondholders of the Central Railway of Canada have declined to accept the scheme of arrangement proposed by the directors of the company and the trustee was called upon to take steps for the appointment of a receiver. The bonds issued amount to $427,000 which are largely held in England although some are held in France and in Canada.

This was decided on at a meeting held here yesterday to consider the plan of the directors to conserve the interests of the company and the refusal supports similar action taken at a meeting of the bondholders in London in August last.

Bonds to the par value of $189,000 supported the action taken by the local meeting.

Meaning of Thrift and Practice of it "To be able to manage one's resources so that they yield the best results, is Thrift," exclaims Everywoman's World in an illuminating article, under the head "My Greatest Experience With Thrift." A series of letters from readers are published—readers in all sections of the Dominion with miscellaneous resources, aims and objects.

In an introduction to these, the article continues: "Thrift and Economy are not the same. Economy is a 'disposition to save or spare,' and freedom from extravagance or waste. Economy is a negative virtue. It enjoins us not to spend, not to be extravagant, nor wasteful. Thrift is more than that. It is positive, and is 'care and prudence in the management of one's resources,' and 'Thrift is the best means of thriving.' "Our resources are money, time, strength, ability and all those other things, both tangible and intangible, which go to the making of the full stature of man and his life.

"A thrifty nation is a wealthy nation, wealthy in brain, brawn, and in the handling and development of all its resources, both human and natural."

Of the several letters from Canadian citizens on this subject, one brief epitome, brought right home, will be sufficient as an example of what others have done in the practice of thrift: "I wanted hardwood floors downstairs, and not being able to buy them, I set about to improve the old ones. This I succeeded so well in doing, that my friends think I did lay down new floors.

"I made a thick flour paste—very thick—and filled it up with old newspapers torn into little bits, until it became a pulp, no paste being seen. Then I set the young people working with case knives. They filled in all the cracks and knot holes with the pulp, which dried as hard as flint. If took the stain as well as the wood. Now I have a lovely smooth floor, over which I have thrown a rug made from my worn-out carpet.—Mrs. R. L. S."

The Canadian Government is going to no end of pains to inaugurate a thorough Thrift campaign, and such an insight into the experiences of Canadian housekeepers, as that above, is bound to have widespread effect.

ROTHESAY

Rothestay, Dec. 23.—The principal events of the week have been the closing of Rothestay Collegiate School for boys, and Netherwood School for girls. On College Hill, Saturday evening, the annual Christmas turkey supper took place, everything going off splendidly, one hundred and four persons being seated in the large dining hall, which was attractively decorated with greenery, etc., appropriate to the occasion. The presence of seven of the "old boys" wearing the khaki lent additional interest and pleasure to the occasion. They were Young, Nash, Dibblee, Clouse, Williams and Trites of the 9th Siege Battery, and Serret, Major Barle Scott, who went overseas with a Western Battalion early in the war, and has returned home to St. Stephen, wearing the military cross. He received a great welcome and made a most interesting speech. After completing a special course, he expects to return to the front. Each of the soldier lads had something interesting to say, and all were able to remain as guests at the college over the week-end and join in the march to St. Paul's church, on Sunday evening over seventy being in line, and led by the school band. Besides the soldiers, Rev. Canon Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cudlip and Miss Alice Davidson were invited guests at the supper and the two gentlemen made interesting speeches. Prizes for the Cross Country Run were presented to Coster, (senior); Thomas, (intermediate); and Sanction, (junior). The prizes were cakes baked by devotes. During the evening the school orchestra gave selections which were greatly enjoyed. The boys have all gone home for the holidays. Of the staff Mr. Bent went to Amherst; Mr. Murray to St. Stephen; Mr. Caswell to Lennoxville; and Mr. Weston to Montreal. Rev. W. R. Hubbard, his co-master, Mr. Cooper and Miss Sewell are in Rothestay.

On Tuesday Rev. Canon Cowie of Fredericton was with Rothestay friends. To spend Christmas here with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bell, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Calhoun of Halifax, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cudlip, who are expected to arrive at the end of this week. After two years spent in France, ministering to the needs of wounded and sick soldiers, Nursing Sister Miss Mary L. Donville, second daughter of Senator and Mrs. Donville, "The Willows" arrived safely home on Friday last, and although tired, is looking well. Her sister, Mrs. John W. Davidson, has invited the Red Cross members to her home on Friday, at half past four o'clock, there to meet Miss Donville and perhaps hear something of her work overseas. This opportunity is greatly appreciated.

Yesterday, Wednesday, Mrs. Walter Fleming left for Boston, hoping to return home again this week. Miss Hooper has temporarily closed her cottage, and gone to St. John to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson, Carleton street. His many friends here are glad to welcome Mr. Dick Gilbert, who arrived home this week from King's College, Windsor.

Mr. Kenneth Forbes who has been some weeks in Montreal, is expected back to Rothestay today. Mr. Forbes is at the Kennedy House.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Gibbon have recently heard from their soldier son Arnold, who has been in England, where he passed an examination as marks. He expected to be back in France for Christmas.

Senator and Mrs. Donville expect their son, Mr. Edward Donville and his wife from Montreal to spend Christmas. Their daughter, Mrs. W. Z. Barle and Mr. Barle are coming from the west a little later.

To assist in the entertainment given to over nine hundred children of our splendid soldiers, at the Opera House, by the Soldiers' Wives League, Mrs. J. Royden Thomson was in St. John on Wednesday afternoon.

As always, the annual Christmas supper at Netherwood, on Monday evening, was a very delightful affair. The dining hall was decorated with greenery and Japanese lanterns, and the tables around which were seated sixty-five guests, had runners of hotly red, over a white cloth, and many candles giving a charming effect. The guests were dressed in white, and happily gaily dressed in white, and a Christmas tree bearing a gift for each girl and teacher, was one of the principal attractions and shouts of laughter greeted the presentation by Miss McKinley, who read the little personal joke attached to each.

Members of the staff present were Miss Ganong, Miss Pither, Miss Evans, Miss Thorn, Mademoiselle Le Cocq, Miss Paddington, Miss Ayer, Miss McKinley, Mrs. Davidson, Miss Lee, Miss Davidson and Miss Gillis. A number of the school graduates were also present, which is always a happy feature of these gatherings. Among these were Mrs. John Belyea, Miss Catherine McAvity, Mrs. Alexander Fowler, Mrs. H. Y. Haines, Mrs. Leibel Jack, Miss Irene McArthur, Mrs. Muriel Sadler, Miss Marion Moore, Miss Doris Sayer, Miss Dorothy Miller, Miss Lella Moore, Miss Edith Miller, and Miss Edith Gilbert. A gift was sent home to each of the grandchildren, of whom there are seven. There were toasts and speeches by the teachers and older girls, and several Christmas carols were nicely sung by the school.

The Christmas holidays began on Tuesday.

Last Thursday Mrs. Silas Alward of St. John, was here guest of Mrs. Fred Foster.

Among those who are expected to come to Rothestay for the Yuletide, are Mr. and Mrs. Heber Daniel of Montréal, who it is hoped will arrive on Saturday as guests of Rev. Canon Daniel and family.

Rev. Mr. Holmes, rector of Hammonds River parish, and Mrs. Holmes, spent part of Monday and Tuesday here with Dr. and Mrs. Peters.

Miss Grace Ayer has been at the Kennedy House for a few days.

Afternoon tea hostesses at the Red Cross on Tuesday, were Mrs. Harry Gilbert and Miss Allison. As an extra to add funds to the society, Mrs. Harold Brock, and Mrs. Walter Leonard, presided over a very attractive candy table, which proved very popular, the proceeds being over $18. The sincere thanks of the ladies in charge are extended to the kind friends who contributed sweets or helped in any way toward the success.

Mr. Tom Gilbert who has spent a month here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilbert, expects to leave next Tuesday for Winnipeg to resume his duties in the Montreal bank there. Mr. Gilbert spent some time attending to banking business at the Military Camp near Brandon.

Friends of Miss Zela Morton, of Bonfleur, are interested in her work at the South End Free Kindergarten, St. John, where today she has been helping to make the little pupils specially happy with a Christmas treat. For all contributions cordial thanks were expressed. A large pair of candy from Ganong Bros. was most welcome.

Tomorrow, Friday, Mr. Blumer Pundington is expected home from Fredericton university, to spend the Christmas holidays.

A large number of friends were sorry to hear of the death of Miss Ann McCrea, which took place at the home of her brother, Mr. Hugh McCrea, on Saturday morning, after a long illness. She was greatly beloved and will be sincerely mourned. Rev. Mr. McPherson of the Central Baptist church conducted an impressive service at the house, after which the remains were taken to Fern Hill Cemetery. The hymns "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," "The Sweet By and By," and "Abide With Me," were sung.

Over the last weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Fleming of St. John were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fleming at Riverside.

There are hosts of friends who will feel great pride in the success attained by Mr. Rupert Turnbull, who has designed and introduced a propeller for sea planes, which being tested in competition with other designs, established its superiority, both for speed and height, and is now the standard on British seaplanes. Mr. Turnbull has his home in Rothestay, but is now in England. Mrs. Turnbull is at the Prince William Apartments, St. John, for the winter.

Miss Pitcher left on Wednesday for Montreal to be with friends during the holidays.

Miss Evelyn Cogswell of Ottawa, and Miss Nita McDonald of Campbellton, spent a day or two with Miss Gladys Gibbon at Riverside this week. All three young ladies are students at Wolfville, and members of the Acadia Concert Company, which is giving entertainments for Red Cross so successfully.

To Keep Skin Healthy, Youthful, Wrinkleless

Now that the social season is here, be especially careful to keep your skin in fine condition. You know how conspicuous complexion defects appear under the bright light of the drawing or ball room. Also how very evident are some makeup when similarly illuminated. I have myself discarded cosmetics entirely, using a process which gives far better results, and which leaves no trace on the skin. At night I smear on a thin coat of ordinary mercurized wax, washing it off next morning. This wax naturally absorbs the dehydrated particles of surface flaking, and leaves the skin smooth and delicately tinted as a young girl's. Get an ounce of mercurized wax at your drug-store and try this remarkable treatment. Remember, too, that wrinkles, even the finer lines, are not easily concealed in the brilliantly lighted room. You can quickly obliterate these hateful marks by bathing your face in a solution of powdered salicylic acid, once dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. And your face won't look sticky, as after using paste. —Anti-Sun's Beauty to Women's Realm.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL THE KIDDIES

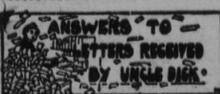

Something to Puzzle Over.

Can You Do This?

Write down in a list all of the different countries you know about. Place the countries now at war in one column and the ones at peace in another. See if the one represented in this picture can be found in either column. The answer to this puzzle will appear next week.

Zella Gorham, Greys Mills, N. B.—Very glad you like the prize so much, and also the special Christmas number.

Myrtle Thompson, Dalhousie—You tried hard Myrtle, and I welcome you to the Corner.

Kenneth Haines, St. Mary's Ferry—You are quite a clever artist, and I shall watch for more of your work.

Wesley Stewart, 25 St. James St.—You certainly did well to send in such a long neatly written list.

Cynthia Pyper, 4 Queen Street—I was surprised to see that such a number of words could be found.

Flora Fay Outhouse, Black's Harbor—Very pleased to have you as a member of the Corner, Flora.

George MacRae, Rothesay—Hope you did well in the exams, George. The printed coupon always has to be enclosed, remember that in future.

Marion Lunan, Campbellton—Thanks for the nice letter, and things you say about the Corner.

Hilda E. Chown, Milltown—No, of course not, why you are one of the old members. I hope to have some soon.

Stanley Johnson, Mizonette—Very pleased you are enjoying the Corner. Myrtle Adams, Campbellton—I was pleased to see that you were enjoying the contests.

Edna Haines, St. Mary's—Thanks for nice little note, write again soon.

Douglas Wickham, 27 Elliot Row—Pleased to see you tried so hard Douglas.

Percy Brewster, Sussex—Thanks for nice little letter, Percy.

Roberta Bayle, 224 Prince Wm. St.—Very sorry to hear that you have been sick, but hope you will soon be better.

Charlie Longmire, Bridgetown—Glad you like the contests.

Erma Macaulay, 270 Pitt Street—That's right, if you never try you will never win.

Elizabeth McFadden, St. Francis—Yes certainly, only to please to have you and your interesting letter.

Apauline Richard, St. Anne—Glad to have nice letters, and interesting content.

Roy Hayes, Lower Millstream—You made a good attempt.

Beulah Craig, Gordonville—Yes, you must have been quite busy at school. How did you get on?

Robert Jennings, Newbury Jct.—The list was well written out Robert. I shall watch for more of your work.

Dorothy Oatey, 108 Somerset St.—Very pleased to have your letter and welcome you to the Corner.

Dorothy Davenport, California—You seem to be enjoying the contests.

Fred Harris, Tracey Mills—The list was well written out. Try again Fred. G. D. Murphy, Tracey Mills—Glad you are enjoying the contests.

Eva Thomson, Centreville—You are quite a clever little artist.

Beatrice Short, Glenwood—You tried hard Beatrice, but were not successful.

Alma McCarthy, Black Rock—Glad to have your nice letter, and read what you say about the Standard. Write soon again.

Lawrence Roy, Elm Tree—It is the part which you have to fill in, known as the coupon. You have to enclose with contest, Lawrence.

Emile Solesse, Eel River Crossing—Glad to see you are enjoying the contests.

Enrica Fanjey, Hibernia—Yes, call, sorry I cannot promise a personal letter, but will always answer you through this column, as I am always pleased to get letters.

Cecilia Grist, Mineral—The contests seem to interest you very much Cecilia.

Audrey Bell Myers, Norton—The drawing was nice, but the usual coupon must always be enclosed.

Thelma Steeves, Edgett's Landing—Very pleased to have your letter after so much. Yes, the Christmas number was fine. That was a good idea regarding an unknown friend.

My Dear Kiddies:—

Willie Somerville, Inverness, N. S.—Sorry you made the drawing so small Willie.

Mary Hoyt, Hampton—Glad you liked the Christmas number so much, and to get your letter.

Garnet Phillips, South Minto—You are a clever little artist.

Jessie MacArthur, Newcastle—Why did you make your nice drawing so small Jessie.

Christine Wheelhouse, Campbellton—You are quite a neat writer.

Phyllis Barber, 42 Broad Street—The list was both long and most neatly written out, Phyllis.

Muriel Baldwin, Bathurst—Very glad to see you are enjoying the contests.

Kenneth McKenney, Leonardville—Was very pleased to get your nice letter, Kenneth.

Hilda Godwin, 137 St. James Street—You were able to find a remarkable number of words, Hilda.

Effie Green, Plaster Rock—Now try much harder next time, Effie.

Mabel Perry, Upper Kent—The list was not long, but nicely written out.

Gladys Short, Browns Flat—A big welcome, you should always send them in, as then perhaps you might be successful.

Eileen Davis, 264 Prince William St.—You did very well indeed in the contest Eileen, and the work was neat.

Ruby Etta Moorehouse, Centreville—Very glad to get your first letter Ruby, and welcome you to our large Corner.

Evelyn Marrow, Grand Bay—Pleased to hear you find such interest, and am herewith giving you a big welcome.

Gertrude Saunders, Kingston—No, I don't, because there are so many words to be found, and I am always delighted to have another, and get your nice letter.

Katherine Ellis, 187 Duke Street—You nearly got the prize Katherine, and tried hard. You are a clever little girl.

Minnie Hetherington, Grand Falls—Very pleased to see that you are enjoying the contests.

Marjorie Slocum, City Road—That was a good idea, to get into a nice easy chair and then read all the pages.

Frederick J. E. Colpitt, Moncton—I guess when you see the results given in another column, you will think it little different as to the dollar, eh Frederick? You type neatly.

Alice Woods, Armstrong's Corner—You tried very hard Alice, but there were others who did better.

Renetta English, Jacques River—A big welcome and I will often write to you, have joined, you will now write me.

Dorothy Lane, 87 Broad St.—The list you sent was both long well written, in spite of not being able to get the most.

A number of letters received within the past few days will be answered in next week's Corner.

Birthday Greetings

Uncle Dick wishes many happy returns to the following kiddies, who will be celebrating their birthdays during the forthcoming week:

Beatrice Spittel, 70 Queen St. Mary Lewis, 154 Britain St. Susie Bayes, St. Martins.

Mabel Wright, Cumberland Bay.

CHRISTMAS EVE

Oh, hush thee, little Dear-my-Soul, The evening shades are falling; Hush thee, my dear, does thou not hear

The voice of the Master calling? Deep lies the snow upon the earth. But all the sky is ringing.

With joyous songs, and all night long The stars shall dance, with singing.

Oh, hush thee, little Dear-my-Soul, And close thine eyes in dreaming, And angels fair shall lead thee where The singing stars are beaming.

A Shepherd calls His little lambs, And He longeth to caress them; He bids them rest upon His breast, That His tender love may bless them.

So hush thee, little Dear-my-Soul, Whilst evening shades are falling, And above the song of the heavenly throng Thou shalt hear the Master calling. —Eugene Field.

Santa Claus and His Whip.

Oh, Santa Claus is on his way! His prancing steeds are near. We hear the sounds of the silver bells; His sleigh is almost here.

A load of gifts is stored for all Securely in his pack, For he travels like the lightning. .. While his whip goes crack!

Through all the year with plane and saw He worked in his wondrous shop; So much there was for him to do That he never dared to stop.

But when the gifts were all complete They made a mighty stack— He will surely bring them with him When his whip goes crack!

Now, when we light our Christmas-trees, Oh, what a glorious sight! With countless waxen candles lit, Our good old friend will lead it down. There will surely be no lack; He always keeps his promise When his whip goes crack!

So hang your stockings, large and small, On the bed-post in a row, For they will look so tempting when They're filled from top to toe.

Our generous saint will never fail; He has a splendid knack Of giving right good measure When his whip goes crack!

Everything seems strangely still again, except for the ticking of the clock in the hall, and that frightfully loud noise his little heart makes as it beats against the sides of the ribs. No wonder it's thumping so loudly, when it's owner is in such an excitable state.

How long he waits, he can hardly think, and gradually the sound of the ticking, which seems to get more faint as it goes away from him whilst his heart ceases it's thumping. Suddenly he is aroused by a voice saying "Merry Christmas, Merry Christmas," and thinking it must be Santa Claus at last he jumps quickly out of bed, and makes a dash for the door, almost tumbling over in his half asleep state, when lo and behold, his sister appears in the doorway, with her arms full of lovely gifts. "Why, whatever is the matter Charlie? I was just coming to show you what I got, and wish you a Merry Christmas, and also see what good old Santa had filled for your stocking, when lo and behold, his sister appears in the doorway, with her arms full of lovely gifts. "The True Significance of Christmas."

The bright and blessed burden which the Christmas celebration unites before an attentive and discerning world is found in the fact that the Infinite and Unconditioned stoops to wear our human form in order that we may know Him, whom to know is life, rich, rare, abundant and enduring. This is beyond all other considerations. The fact which invests the Christmas season with supreme and surpassing interest, and which constitutes the crowning amazing fact of Christianity and Christendom. Man has seen God in Christ as man never saw God before. The one word which declares God is Christ. God is essentially and eternally Christ-like. The revelation of God in Christ has been the pot star of the world, and is and will continue to be the guiding principle, the inspiring hope and the dominant note in humanity's great and complicated life and history. It was this revelation in Christ which imparted a new impulse in the world's history, and the day after Christ's advent was a new day in the annals of the race. It was not the same day before. It was really and truly a changed world which that birth in Bethlehem had accomplished. A new era was fixed, and no power in time's pitiless years, and no chance, however great and terrific, could for a single day eliminate that boundary line between the old and the new. And so the matchless and winsome story never grows old; the centuries have never lessened its charm and stamped it indelibly upon the mind and heart of a struggling world. Some one has said that on the first Christmas morning a few poor Syrian shepherds were the only ones who knelt near the manger to pay homage to the New Born Babe. Now nineteen hundred years bring their train of treasures, and the wisest and the mightiest and best join with the humblest to pay tribute to the world's greatest born, the Redeemer and Saviour of men. Of all the discoverers and disclosers which have astonished mankind, this unveiling of the Unseen in the human personality of Jesus claims the palm and crown of all. In the month of May, 1858, the reef on the southern Pacific, an assemblage of the most distinguished astronomers from the chief cities of Christendom. To reach their isolated spot they had spared no expense of time or toil or treasure. They had crossed tempestuous oceans, carried the most delicate instruments, and for five minutes and twenty-three seconds should the day be cloudless, they hoped to look upon a total eclipse of the sun. The power of human resolve and human endeavour could do no more. Hespered in their attempt by telescope and spectroscopy and the photographic camera, the studies of the observations made, exact pictures of the event are to be found in a hundred observations and may be examined at leisure. There is something inspiring in the thought of those great men crowded upon that inhospitable shore, with the great compensation that they had their hearts in the work. When, however, the object to be known is not the sun, but the personal Being who by His sovereign power created the sun and the far extended universe, shall not some high resolve to know Him possess our hearts?

BAPTIST

As the season that commemorates the birth of our Lord returns, His followers turn with joy to the second chapter of Luke's Gospel, upon which rests the eternal light. The Son of God submits Himself to absolute identification with humanity. The motherhood of Mary in poverty and under misapprehension brings her child into oneness with the severest human conditions. Henceforth God becomes a partner in the lot of man, that man may become a partaker of the life and blessedness of God.

PRESBYTERIAN

The following has been issued by the moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. The churches in Great Britain are observing the last Sunday of the year, December 31st, as a day of national prayer for the war. There will be no question about the appropriateness of similar action in Canada, and I am pleased to know that already in several quarters there are movements in this direction. I ask, therefore, that the ministers of the Presbyterian Church make this theme prominent in their ministrations on that day, and so give a united and national aspect to a service which in any case should move our hearts profoundly.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND

An artist once painted a picture setting forth his idea of peace. It showed a waterfall, and hanging very close to the dashing spray was the branch of a tree. In the center part of the waterfall, the bird sat upon its eggs, secure and heedless of the swirling waters around it. That was the artist's idea of peace, and it is the true one. Life is like the swirling waterfall. We are living in a wild, fearful time, when the waters of the discharge are being shaken. But, though living in the midst of distractions, it is possible to possess a peace which passeth understanding. It is that peace which comes from a firm trust in the Heavenly Father, who "Himself is thy keeper, and thy defense upon every side." He will discharge us, then, strive to acquire this habit of peace in the midst of conflict. It is said that in the centre of every whirlwind there is a place of perfect calmness, and in the heart of every flame there is a spot where the fire does not burn. So, in the midst of the discharge, we can have the true child of the Father there is a peace which nothing can disturb. Let us think more of this now at this blessed season when our minds are being turned upon the birth of the great Prince of Peace. Let us go to Bethlehem as we never went before, and find there what the bleeding hearts need, and what our aching hearts need, the true peace which Christ alone can give.

MISSION AT ST. MARTIN'S

The Reverend G. F. Scovill recently returned to the city after holding a ten days' mission at St. Martin's. The way had been well prepared by excellent work of the Rev. F. J. LeRoy. The attendance at the early celebrations was most gratifying. Great interest was shown in the children's service, as well as in the men's mass meeting held in the Masonic Hall Sunday afternoon. Altogether, the mission was a success, and those who conducted it felt themselves to be but instruments in the Divine hands, and that the good results which followed were not from them, not from their efforts, but from the Bestower of all good and perfect gifts. On Monday night following the mission, Dec. 18th, the Bishop of the Diocese administered the sacred rite of confirmation to a class of candidates at St. Martin's, thus bringing to a worthy close a mission long to be remembered in that parish.

SERVICES AT MILITARY HOSPITAL

It is interesting to know that arrangements have been made whereby the various churches have undertaken to hold regular Sunday services at the Military Hospital on St. James St.

THE RECTOR OF ST. MARY'S

On Sunday night last the Rev. R. Taylor McKim, B.A., was inducted rector of St. Mary's Church, St. John, by the Bishop of the Diocese. Owing to the fact that the clergy of the Diocese were busy in their own churches, it was impossible for them to be present at the service. Nevertheless, the rector-elect was welcomed by the newly-inducted rector-elect in his future work at St. Mary's.

THE RECTOR OF ST. GEORGE'S

Heartly congratulations are due the Rev. W. H. Sampson, the worthy rector of St. George's Church, St. John, West. Next Sunday, Dec. 24th, will be the thirty-fourth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. It is a long time, and there are few men in the diocese today who have given such a length of service. For over twenty-six years Mr. Sampson has been rector of St. George's church, and in this time he has been more than a passing notice, for when a man remains that long in one parish, and retains the affectionate goodwill of his people it certainly speaks well both of parson and people. Mr. Sampson is the Rector of the Diocese of St. John, and has the full confidence of his clerical brethren, who unite in wishing both him and Mrs. Sampson, health, happiness, and many years granted them to continue their excellent work.

As Baptists we are unalterably opposed to any union of Church and State. Yet we do not feel that there is any contravention of that principle in calling attention to the prominent positions now being occupied by some Baptists, both in England and the United States. The new Lord Mayor of Hull, Alderman Francis Askew, J. P., is a descendant of the central Baptist church of that city. But Baptists throughout the empire have the greatest reason for pride in the fact that the foremost man in Britain today is a staunch Baptist. Had not Lloyd-George turned his attention to the law he would probably have become eminent as a Baptist preacher. In spite of the heavy burdens of state which he has borne for many years he has found time for active participation in Christian work. While in London he attends the Welsh Baptist Chapel at Castle St., Oxford-circuit.

THE RECTOR OF ST. GEORGE'S

We have learned with deepest regret of the serious illness of Dr. G. R. Camp of Mauerville, N. B. Dr. Camp has ever taken a deep and intelligent interest in all the work of the denomination, although his exacting duties as a country physician have prevented regular attendance at our annual gatherings. He is a brother of Rev. W. Camp, of Campbellton. A son, Rev. G. Forster Camp, is pastor of the Baptist church at Adamsville, R. I. The attending physicians have pronounced the trouble internal cancer, and hold out no hope of recovery.

Lieut. Arthur H. Chute, son of Professor A. C. Chute, of Acadia, has seen considerable service in Flanders. Recently he met with a peculiar and painful injury which may cause his return home. He was standing near a 9.2 gun while it was in action, and the concussion caused by it struck one of his ears drums.

THE RECTOR OF ST. GEORGE'S

The death of B. H. Eaton, K. C., LL. D., which occurred at his home in Dartmouth on Thursday, December 7th, removes one who for many years was prominent in the life of the denomination. For some time he was a member of the Board of Governors of Acadia University, and was President of the Maritime Convention for 1886-7. A man of strength and integrity, he has entered upon his great reward.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke, well-known poet, preacher and professor, at one time minister of the Breck Presbyterian Church, New York, has resigned to the Netherlands, to which he was appointed by President Wilson. His main reason for the resignation is, in his own words, because he wishes "to return as a writer with full freedom to say what I think and feel."

It was during the recent prohibition campaign in Michigan. When the committee from Jackson asked him to speak there the next day after closing his campaign in Detroit, he told them he would be so exhausted after speaking four times the last Sunday that $5,000 would not tempt him to comply with their request. The committee replied, 'We do not care you go if you can.' Without a moment's hesitation he said, 'Gentlemen, I'll be with you.'

Around the City

NO STANDARD MONDAY. On Monday, Christmas Day, The Standard will not be published.

Horse Caught in Trestle. Shortly after six o'clock last night an alarm was rung in from Box 155, corner of Hilyard and Sheriff streets. The firemen responded only to discover a horse caught in the trestle near Hilyard's ship yard. The animal was removed with very little trouble. Evidently the horse had got on the railway track at the Portland street crossing and walked to the trestle.

In Hospital With Fever. C. Dowling of Brantford, Ont., brother of the Rev. F. S. Dowling of St. Andrew's church in this city, who went overseas with the 4th C. M. R.'s but later transferred to the Royal Flying Corps, has been admitted to Winchelsea Hospital, suffering from a severe attack of fever. This is the third time Mr. Dowling has been in the hospital, once for three months with a fractured skull, later for three days as a result of a fall from a horse since when his respirator saved his life. In November he was called to the Royal Flying Corps, and while in training was taken with fever.

Council of Board of Trade Meet. The council of the Board of Trade met yesterday morning in the Board rooms, Prince William street. A resolution expressing the sympathy of the council with the family of the late P. C. Smith was passed, and a copy will be sent to Mrs. Smith. They endorsed the proposal to collect the mails in the city by automobile under the direct supervision of the post office department. LAUNCH VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN TO FILL UP RANKS OF 165TH

French Acadian Citizens Decide on Systematic Campaign—Major Legere Expresses Appreciation to St. Vincent's Alumnae—The Christmas Leave.

The leading Acadian representative of the Maritime Provinces at a conference with Lt.-Col. D'Algie, officer commanding the 165th French-Canadian Battalion, now stationed in St. John, decided to launch a vigorous campaign to fill up the ranks of the battalion. The meeting was held on Thursday evening and was characterized by a spirit of optimism that the ranks of the battalion could be filled up by a systematic recruiting campaign. Major Legere had a conversation with Col. D'Algie over the telephone yesterday and the colonel expressed himself as delighted with the decision of the meeting and the prospects for a successful campaign. Major Legere told The Standard that the battalion's strength at the present time amounted to 750 men and that 300 men were needed to bring the 165th to full strength. "As a part of the campaign the men of the battalion have undertaken to bring in as many new men as possible during the holiday season. It will be the endeavor of each private to secure at least one recruit during his visit home and we are looking forward to satisfactory results from the efforts the men propose to make," said Major Legere. As a result of the recent enjoyable dance under the auspices of the St. Vincent's Alumnae, the ladies of the alumnae handed Major Legere yesterday a cheque for $100. This amount will be used to supplement the funds of the battalion. "Please be good enough to convey to the ladies of the alumnae the genuine appreciation of the officers and men of the battalion," said Major Legere in expressing his satisfaction at the success of the function which resulted in the 165th receiving such a handsome amount of money. Col. D'Algie plans on spending Christmas at his home in St. Louis, Kent county. Major Legere will be in command of the battalion in the colonel's absence. The major will enjoy his vacation at New Year's, going with Mrs. Legere to his former home at Richibucto. The battalion is planning on a big dinner for the men who are remaining here on Christmas Day. The army will be appropriately decorated for the occasion. The sergeants also contemplate enjoying a special dinner on Christmas. Their mess room has already been appropriately decorated with flags and greenings.

MUST BE NO CHANGE IN NAME OF KITCHENER TO BERLIN

E. C. Stuenkel, Prominent Business Man of Ontario Manufacturing Centre, in City, on Business, Says People Aside From Few Agitators are Loyal.

Business in Ontario Was Never Better—Factories Working Night and Day—Further Development is Expected

"The people of Kitchener will not tolerate a change in the name of Ontario's busy industrial centre to Berlin," said E. G. Stuenkel of the Canadian Consolidated Felt Company, Ltd., who was in the city on a business trip yesterday, a guest at the Royal Hotel. "Aside from a few agitators, the German population of Kitchener is as loyal as the people of any other section of Canada," continued Mr. Stuenkel. "The Citizens' League are the moving spirits in the campaign to change the name. These were the same body of men who so earnestly fought the proposed change in the first instance, but who were unsuccessful in their efforts to defeat the bill before the Ontario House, authorizing the taking of a plebiscite. They again sought to defeat the wishes of the people, expressed at the polls by urging their customers in different parts of the Dominion to address them 'Berlin' instead of Kitchener. "The Citizens' League have gone so far as to threaten to turn out the City Council if the members of that body would not agree to change the name. They refused all offers from our citizens to come to an amicable settlement of the matter. "Considering the fact that a large number of the Germans in Berlin have enlisted in the Canadian Expeditionary Force and that many have laid down their lives in the cause of civilization we do not appreciate the actions of the members of the Citizens' League, so called. These men may not be actuated by pro-German sentiments, but I would not describe their conduct as being proper in the present great national crisis. I am a son of a German myself, but I can tell you frankly that I am wholeheartedly in sympathy with the cause of the Allies in the present war—the cause of democracy as opposed to Prussian autocracy. "Mr. Stuenkel said that business conditions in Kitchener were never better than at the present time. Factories were working night and day. His own company operated three plants, two in Kitchener and one in Elmira, about twelve miles from Kitchener. They refused all offers from our citizens to come to an amicable settlement of the matter. LOYAL N. B. IRISHMEN RESENT NATIONAL HIBERNIAN ARTICLE

A past provincial president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians has repudiated the effusions appearing in the National Hibernian and wants that paper excluded from the mails of Canada. "The Postmaster-General of Canada should take immediate steps to prevent the coming into Canada of the National Hibernian, a monthly newspaper published at Camden, N. J., and purporting to speak for the Ancient Order of Hibernians and the Ladies' Auxiliary of that order," said the gentleman in question, who is a well known St. John member of the order, and an occupant of the position of provincial president on two distinct occasions. Continuing he said: "Although the Canadian Hibernians have protested against the publication of pro-German utterances in a newspaper which pretends to speak for the members of the A. O. H. of America, the National Hibernian continues its nefarious work of attempting to create hatred towards Great Britain and her allies. The most offensive article I have yet read in that paper is one appearing in the current issue under the caption: 'Ireland and the European war—a philosophical analysis of conditions affecting Ireland and its future.' It is written by the Rev. James F. Cassidy, who, no doubt, is a Catholic priest. The article occupies over three columns of space in the paper. "There is no reason why Irishmen in the United States should not sympathize with Germany if they want to. That is their own business, although like Irishmen in Canada they should know that England and her allies are fighting for the principles of Christianity as opposed to the doctrine that might is right. But there is every objection to their views being circulated through the Canadian mails for distribution among Canadian Hibernians. As a matter of fact the Hibernians of Canada are as loyal as any other of the King's subjects. In common with men of other races and creeds they have willingly consecrated their lives to the service of the Empire in the present great war crisis, but the writer of the Hibernian article seeks to make it appear that Irishmen throughout the British Empire and in other parts of the world have no sympathy with England and her allies. "Rev. James F. Cassidy, the writer of the article, seems to have forgotten that his church teaches and places above every other virtue loyalty to one's country as the highest of all virtues. He seems to have forgotten that with an Irishman in every part of the Empire devotion to the flag under which he lives is his first duty. "That there are some Irishmen in the United States, who, having no longer any connection with the British Empire, are sympathetic with the Germans, no one can deny who intelligently follows the newspaper reports, but their sympathy with the enemy will disappear as soon as Premier Lloyd George successfully settles the Irish question, as there is no slightest doubt that he will. That great statesman no doubt fully realizes that the German propaganda in the United States seeks to cause dissatisfaction among the Irishmen there and in the mother country, as well as in Canada and Australia, and everywhere else where Irishmen and their descendants are. "The Hearst newspapers have been excluded from Canadian mails by a prudent administration. That newspapers such as the National Hibernian should also be excluded there is no question, and I may tell you with all sincerity that no people in Canada will be better pleased by its exclusion than the members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. I may say that prominent members of the order in St. John, Fredericton, Woodstock, Mon-

BLAZE IN DOLAN BLOCK KEPT THE DEPT. BUSY

B. A. Smith, Fish Merchant Sustains Heaviest Loss in Last Night's Fire—Origin of Blaze Unknown.

The three story building owned by Henry Dolan on Union street was slightly damaged last night by fire which broke out at the rear of the store occupied by B. A. Smith, fish dealer. The cause of the fire is unknown. The building is occupied by Henry Dolan, who conducts a liquor business; P. A. Smith, fish dealer, and a shoe shine parlor. The upper part of the building is occupied by Mrs. Bell, who conducts the Stanley Hotel. All the occupants of the building have their losses covered by insurance.

According to Mr. Smith, when he left the store shortly after six o'clock with his son there was very little fire in the store. The cause of the fire, said Mr. Smith, when interviewed last night by The Standard, "may have been due to electric wires." Owing to the fire being concealed between the walls it was impossible for the firemen to fight the fire as they would have liked to. The fire worked up through the first floor and gained the roof, where the firemen had a better opportunity to cope with the blaze. For the most part the damage was done by water. The furniture and household effects of Mrs. Bell were badly damaged, but it is covered by insurance amounting to $500. Mr. Smith is probably the greatest loser, as he had on hand a large stock of goods for the Christmas trade. He carried $1,000 insurance with R. W. Prink. The building adjoining the Dolan block, owned by John Hopkins, who conducts a meat business, was also slightly damaged. The stock at the rear of the store suffered by the fall of water. Both the building and stock are fully covered.

The upper part of the Hopkins block is occupied by William Crawley, who also suffered loss from water and smoke.

CHRISTMAS CARD AGENT LEFT CITY IN HURRY

The advantage of buying at home was never so clearly demonstrated to as many prominent citizens as it was this week. About a month ago a house to house canvasser, signing his name as R. Q. Riley, called upon many people in the city soliciting orders for Christmas greeting cards. On each order he requested a payment ranging from fifty to seventy-five cents, and, in some cases, a dollar. Besides the uniformed buyer was to have received his cards on December 10th. But when the day arrived the travelling salesman did not put in an appearance. He was reached by phone later in the week, and in the conversation he stated that the cards had not arrived, but as soon as they came from Toronto he would make delivery. As the cards were purchased for Christmas and the day was swiftly drawing near, the salesman was again called upon. This was on Monday. One of the buyers was to have received his cards on Tuesday. The next day the "travelling" salesman called at the purchaser's house and told the party that the boy would be delivering the cards in the afternoon and he was collecting the money. With this story he succeeded in relieving several people of amounts ranging from $1 to $4. But in the afternoon neither did he or the boy put in an appearance. On Wednesday the whereabouts of the man could not be ascertained. In the meantime the cards were placed under the control of R. G. Dunn & Co., who left them with A. C. Fairweather for distribution. Most of those who purchased cards have been able to secure them from Mr. Fairweather, but in some cases the order had not been sent in, and the purchasers not only are minus the cards but also the amount of money they paid to the agent.

It is understood that one of the victims is contemplating action against the company.
