Are always liable to sudden and severe colds, to croup, sore throat, lung fever, etc. Remedies, to be effective, must be administered without delay. Nothing is better adapted for such emergencies than Ayer's Cherzy Feetoral. It soothes the inflamed membrane, promotes expectoration, relieves coughing, and induces sleep. The prompt use of this medicine has saved innumerable lives, both of young and old.

"One of my children had croup. The case was attended by our physician, and was supposed to be well under control. One night I was startled by the child's hard breathing, and on going to it found it ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, NOTARY PUBLIC. &C Barrister, Notary Public, &c.

It had nearly ceased to breathe. Realizing that the child's alarming condition had become possible in spite of the medicine it had taken, I reasoned that such remedies would be of no avail. Having a part of a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses, at short intervals, and anxiously waited results. From the moment the Pectoral was given, the child's breathing grew easier, and in a short time it was sleeping quietly and breathing naturally. The child is alive and well to-day, and I do not hesitate to any that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved its life."—C. J. Wooldridge, Wortham, Texas.

Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher's "Reminiscences" of her late husband, which she is now writing, has been purchased by The Ladies' Home Journal of Philadelphia, and the articles will shortly begin in that periodical. The series will have for its title "Mr. Beecher as I knew m," and will cover the whole period his fifty-seven years of married life, from young Beecher's first acquaintance with his wife, his college life, their courtship and marriage, his first public with an income of $300, and so all through the great preacher's life until is later triumphs, his last sickness and days, and his death.

—At its next meeting the Toronto board of trade will discuss the question of Canada's winter port, to which its attention has been called by the St. John board. It is stated that the views of the latter have had a marked impression upon members of the Toronto beard.

trovert our statements beyond stating that the Post had been committed to Reciprocity by the Government, but Reciprocity by the Government, but the Halifax Chronicle answers us in its leaders on the 27th ult., somewhat warmly, in these terms:

warmly, in these terms:

It is an extraordinary circumstance if farmers can sell everything they produce at satisfactory prices that farm land shoul not have increased in value one single particle within the last twenty-five years but that on the contrary it should have depreciated. How will the Post manage to explain this extraordinary feature. Why is it that the most eminent authorities on political economy in the United States are all dwelling upon the fact why is it that the most eminent authorities on political economy in the United States are all dwelling upon the fact that agricultural industry is depressed and the value of farms steadily declining. Why is it that the protectionist are compelled to explain away the fact and attribute it to other causes than that of she protective system. Why is it that every free trader is dwelling upon this fact as an illustration of the evils of protection. Every intelligent farmer in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick who reads the paragraph in the Post will regard it with scorn and contempt. A more ludricrous piece of absurdity was never uttered * * There is not a farmer in this province that is not sighing for the day when the barriers between this country and the United States will be removed, and he will have free access for all his surplus products to the great cities of New England.
