London, Feb. 11 .- King Edward's first levee since his accession to the throne, was held in St. James' Palace at noon today, and was an exceptionally brilliant function. The Prince of Wales, the Duke of Connaught, and other members of the royal family were present, and the gathering of the members of the diplomatic corps, cabinet ministers and naval and military officers was unprecedentedly large. The King, who wore a field marshal's uniform, drove from Marlborough House to the garden entrance of the palace, escorted by Life Guards. On his arrival there His Majesty was reach them were unavailing. received by the high officers of the household, and was conducted by the lord chamberlain and the lord steward to the royal retiring-room, where the King was subsequently joined by the other members of the royal family. A procession was then formed and proceeded to the throne room, where the members of the royal family took up positions on the left of His Majesty in order of precedence.

London, Feb. 11.—In the House of Commons yesterday the war secretary, Mr. Brodrick, confirmed the report that the government had decided to withdraw the British troops at Wei Hai Wei, and to proceed no further with building fortifications at that place In the House of Lords, Lord Onslow added that the government had no intention of giving up so valuable a colony as Wai Hai Wei. It was extremely useful as a small arms store, for gunnery practice and as a sanitarium. The naval and military officials there had every reason to believe Wei Hai Wei would become increasingly useful and valuable. The Chinese regiment at Wei Hai Wei, Lord Onslow added, would be gradually dis forts to stop. Mrs. Fichinon saw her daughter's peril and ran after her.

Mabel was blown over the edge of the banded. It had been found that the precipice just as her mother grasped position could only be forfeited at great at her skirts. Mrs. Fichinon could not expense. The colonial office took over the administration of the place Jan. The rumors that Wei Hai Wei, would be returned to China or handed over to any other power were entirely unfounded. The decision had been reached from the view-point of naval strategy, and there had been an extraordinary concensus of naval opinion in favor of the course adopted. DECISION AGAINST KENSIT, ET AL. Lord Chief Justice Baron Alvertone yesterday dismissed the matter of the objection against the confirmathe Right Rev. Charles tion of A. Gore as bishop of Worchester. The Lord Chief Justice held that the obectors (John Kensit and other anti-Ritualists) had no right to interpose, pointing out that no such interference in the crown's prerogative to nominate bishops had been tolerated since the reign of Henry VIII. The court suggested, however, that it might be lvisable to modify the form of public citation in the case of the confirma-tion of the election of bishops, with TERS, solicitors, notaries, etc., 78 Dundas street, London. $500,000 private and trust funds to loan on first mortgage, 5 per cent; also on notes and other the view of removing the temptation

BOERS MEET A DISASTER

After Capturing Supply Train From British.

Substantial Results of Kitchener's Round-Up, Though Dewet Escaped.

Greatest Single Capture of the Enemy Since the General's Arrival in South Africa.

London, Feb. 11 .- A strong force of Boers attacked and captured 60 donkey wagons under the escort of 100 infantry and 60 district mounted troops, thirty REACHED THE miles from Fraserburg. The Boers were unable to move the wagons except twelve, and the remainder were burned. Col. Crabbe arrived and drove the Boers north after a severe engagement. In the attack on the convoy two officers and eleven men were killed and one officer and forty-seven men were wounded. The Boers lost twenty-four killed and forty-seven wounded. None were captured. One hundred men of Doran's column were rushed at night near Calvinia. During their retirement on the main body three officers and three men were killed and seventeen wounded.

LAAGER SURPRISED. Major Von Donop surprised Poet-geiter's laager at Rhenoster Spruit and a Free State laager at Zandlingsfontein, simultaneously at dawn on Feb. 8, killing two Boers and capturing 36. Poetgieter escaped in his shirt-

GREATEST SINGLE CAPTURE. Lord Kitchener's great plan, which he has been elaborating for months past, failed by the escape of Dewet, but was successful in the greatest single capture of Boers since Kitchener arrived in South Africa. Altogether 23 columns were employ ed in an immense irregular parallelogram formed by the lines of blockhouses and the railroad between Wolve Hoek, Frankfort, Londley and Kroon-stadt. It is estimated that Dewet's died on Sept. 20, 1901, was 104 years forces amounted, roughly speaking, to

2,000 men. Kitchener personally superin tended the final preparations for the expedition, and the great move was Chancey, who passed away on July 25, made over a front of 40 miles, with 1896, was 102 years old. the object of driving the Boers against It is doubtful if any of the railroad line, where armored trains ity in Canada can point to a similar were patrolling, and were repeatedly record of longevity. in action shelling the Boers to prevent their crossing the railroad. Dewet succeeded in slipping through the lines to the westward. The whereabouts of Mr. Steyn is unknown, though one report says he is with Lord Kitchener gives the Boer casualties a total of 69 killed, 17 wounded, 57 surrendered and 574 taken prisoners. The British captured 480 rifles, one pom-pom, and the usual grist of munitions and live stock.

OPINION IMPROVED. Lord Kitchener's report shows last week to have been the liveliest week, with the heaviest losses on both sides, for several months past. The Vienna correspondent of London Times sees improvement in the continental opinion of England. suggests that domestic politics are a sad weight in the peace proposals. Public opinion in Holland is awakened to the fact that it had been misled regarding the war. The Cologne Gazette has exposed the wholesale manufacture of lies which has been contributing to the continental Anglophobia.

A dispatch from Cape Town to the London Times says that the leading Germans there protest that they were not aware of the nature and extent of the slanders against the British army until the receipt of the recent numbers of the Times.

ANOTHER CANADIAN DEAD. Ottawa, Feb. 10.-A cable was received at the militia department today from Cape Town notifying the department of the death of Thomas Trickey, of the South African Constabulary from enteric fever. He was reported dangerously ill a few days ago. His father is Henson Trickey, of Beulah, Manitoba. Egan Hodgekinson, of Kincardine, Ont., and Robert Thomas Stobo, of Scarboro, Ont., also committee.

TRIBUTE TO DEWET.

The newspapers, while expressing disappointment at the failure of Lord Kitchener to capture Dewet, pay just tribute to the skill and daring of the Boer general. The Daily Telegraph says it is quite impossible for any Englishman to refuse admiration for the latest exploit of the most extraordinary personality by far whom the war has produced upon the Boer side. PROTEST AGAINST SLANDER.

At a mass meeting in Cape Town a resolution of protest against the slanders upon the honor and conduct of the British forces in South Africa was adopted. The meeting expressed its warm appreciation of the complete refutation by Mr. Chamberlain of the continental slanders, its cordial concurrence in the attitude of the government concerning the prosecution of the campaign and its adherence to that policy which the meeting alone considered, could bring lasting peace and public freedom to South Africa.

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE JUDGE LISTER.

Toronto, Feb. 11.-Mr. Justice Lount, at Osgoode Hall, yesterday, paid a tribute to the strong sound sense of the late Mr. Justice Lister, and expressed on behalf of the bench the deepest regret at his death. The position of some 5 cases before the court of appeal on which judgment is pending is very pe-culiar as a result of Judge Lister's death. Two of Them Had Reached the Extraordinary Age of One Hundred and Four Years.

The death of Mr. John Toohey yesterday, at the remarkable age of 102 years, again calls attention to the fact that, despite the nostrums designed to cure all human ills and the multiplicity. of "treatments" for prolonging life, very few people reach the century mark. Death has a habit of disregarding nostrums. Stories of the extraordinary longevity of negroes in the south occasionally go the rounds of the newspapers, but for the most part they are unreliable. Cases of extreme longevity recorded in Ontario are, however, usually to be relied upon. City Clerk Kingston's register shows that, in addition to that of Mr. Toohey, during the past six years the deaths of four persons who lived beyond the hundred-year mark, have been recorded in this city. Patrick Delay, who old. Mary Goff, who died Jan. 1, 1899, had reached the age of 100 Miles McLaughlin died on Oct. It is doubtful if any other commun-

Work of Rev. T. E. Harrison. At a meeting of the official board of the Empress Avenue Methodist Church, held last night, the following resolution was unanimously carried by a standing vote of the members:

"Rev. T. E. Harrison, "Dear Sir,-It is with a spirit of thankfulness to our Heavenly Father that we review the past two years. Truly the lines have fallen to us in pleasant places, and he have a goodly heritage. God has wonderfully blessed the efforts of yourself and your esteemed wife since coming among us. Your faithfulness in your duty; your clear and forceful presentation of the truth from Sabbath to Sabbath; your most helpful ministrations in the homes of our sick and bereaved ones, where your services have been required so often during the past year; your earnest desire to win souls for the Master, have all been instrumental, under the divine blessing, of deepening the work of grace in the hearts of our people and lifting them into a purer and higher atmosphere of Christian life, as well as winning many from the darkness and degradation of sin into God's own marvelous light. We therefore request the stationing committee to return you to us as our pastor for the coming conference year."

Mr. Harrison accepted the invitation, subject to the action of the stationing The anniversary services were held on Sunday, Jan. 26. Revs. C. T. Scott, of Dundas Center Church, and B. lement, a former pastor, occupied the pulpit morning and evening respectively. As is now the custom, an appeal was made to the congregation, asking for $100. As usual the appeal met with a generous response, $125 being placed on the collection plates during the day.

MR. THOS. J. SMITH, Caledonia,

The Western University was the center of attraction last night, on the occasion of the fifth annual conversazione given by the students. From the large attendance, and from the excellent quality of the programme, it is evident that such functions are destined to fill a prominent place in the social life of London. The medical students were present in large numbers, showing that there existed that unity which should be an ever strengthening bond among the different departments-arts, medical and theological.

The building was appropriately decorated with flags and bunting, and the presence of the Stars and Stripes, side by side with the Union Jack, lent a certain cosmopolitan spirit that should characterize halls of learning. The lights shone over a brilliant assemblage of students and friends, numbering about 500, and the evening was spent with no small amount of pleasure and

COLD AFFECTS

Severe Headache, Constipation sult-Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver tering and Excretory Organs.

The liver is very easily affected by change of temperature, nervous strain and over-eating, and is the cause of more pains and aches than any other organ of the body. It is the duty of the liver to filter from the blood the poisonous bile, which is passed into the intestines to act as nature's cathartic. One of the first results of a sluggish, congested liver is constipation, alternating with looseness of the bowels and what is commonly call-

Bitter taste in the mouth, sallow complexion, a coated tongue, severe headaches, pain under shoulder blades, fullness in right side, dizziness, ill-temper peevishness and depression of spirits are indications of an ailing liver. The remarkable effectiveness of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in regulating the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels, easily places it first as a treatment for derangements of these organs. There are few people who are not subject more or less to biliousness in the winter season, when more or less confined to the house, and so rendered sensitive to change of temperature. Meat diet and the artificial foods of winter also tend to make the liver sluggish, the kidneys inac-tive and the bowels constipated. The promptness with which Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills correct the action of the filtering and excretory organs and rid the blood of poisonous bile impurities commend them to the reasoning people as a suitable family medicine to be kept in the home all the time. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are prompt, pleasant and natural in action, far-reaching in effect and Detroit Feb. 11.—Shortly before 9 of thousands of cases, many, no doubt, in your immediate locality.

"My druggist advised me to try a 50 cent box of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, because he said he had so many customers who had been cured of catarrh by the use of these tablets, and he felt he could honestly recommend them. I took his advice and used several boxes with results that surprised and de-

"With our children we think there is nothing so safe and reliable as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets to ward off croup and colds, and with older people I have known of cases where the hearing had been seriously impaired by chronic catarrh cured entirely by this new remedy."

People who have used sprays, inhalers, salves, and washes for catarrh and have found how useless they are, will be agreeably surprised at the results following the use of a pleasant internal remedy in tablet form. Druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Tablets, which they sell at 50 cents per package, is the safest, most effective and popular of all catarrh remedies.

Acworth, Ga., Feb. 10 .- Safe blowers forced the vaults of the Lemon Bank- PAINE'S CELERY ing Company here early yesterday morning, securing $5,000 in gold, a $5,000 Georgia state bond and a large amount of stock certificates. HAMILTON'S DEFAULTING LIBRARIAN.

Hamilton, Feb. 11.—No word has been received of Mr. Richard T. Lancefield, the missing librarian and treasurer of the public library board, and there have been few developments in the case since Saturday. The auditor has not made much progress, on account of the books being so badly mutilated. The most important discovery made in the last two days is that the minutes of the board for the last two years have been destroyed. In the eyes of the law this is a more serious offense than stealing, the maximum punishment being 21 years in much at sea as it was at the annual meeting.

UNDERMINED THE BANK. Muskegon, Mich., Feb. 11.—One of the coolest bank robberies ever occurring in this section was discovered yesterday morning, when the big vault of the Muskegon Savings Bank was opened by Cashier Hammond. Amid wreckage near the center of the strong room was a hole which had been bored in the thick cement floor, just large enough to admit of the body of a man. The authorities were notified, and an inventory of the contents of the safety deposit boxes was begun. All that has been found missing is $329 in bills and old silver coin and a gold watch. The burglars gained entrance to the vault through a tunnel dug beneath the building. The steel doors of the inner vault, where thousands of dollars of the bank's funds lay, were not touched. The work of tunneling must have begun soon after the bank closed Sat-

THE WRECKED DETROIT BANK. Detroit, Mich., Feb. 11 .- The directors of the City Savings Bank yester-day afternoon issued the following statement: In justice to ourselves, our depositors and stockholders, the undersigned directors of the City Savings Bank make the following statement: Early on Saturday morning we learned for the first time that Henry R. Andrews, cashier of the bank, had allowed Frank C. Andrews to overdraw his account in the sum of over $300,000, and had also, without consideration, certified said Frank C. Andrews' checks for over $700,000, all of which checks were outstanding. The bank was immediately put into the hands of the banking commissioner, and we set about to get all the security we could. Mr. Frank C. Andrews has turned over to the bank a large amount of securities, from which we hope to pay our depositors in full. The banking commissioner has deemed it the wisest policy to close the bank for the present, for the best interest of all depositors. Outside of the Frank C. Andrews indebtedness and checks, the bank was never in a better condition. The officers of the bank, which was organized in 1889, are: President, Frank C. Pingree; vice-president, Frank C. Andrews; cashier, H. R. Andrews: assistant cashier, Joseph A. Schulte. The capital stock of the bank is $150,000. According to the statement of the bank's condition, printed Dec. 17, the bank had total deposits of $3,-

So far as the actual as a positive cure for wasting strength, shortage is concerned the board is as, nervous debility, sleeplessness, liver complaint, kidney disease, rheumatism, and neuralgia, and the marvelous medicine has saved tens of thousands from death

Paine's Celery Compound is the only true nerve and tissue builder; it quickly fortifies the weak parts of the body and promotes the healthy activity of the organs that make the blood and keep it pure. Let us urge you to test the power and virtues of one bottle; it cannot disappoint you; it has cured others suffering as you now suffer, and it will most assuredly do the same for

Mr. J. Ralston, Nixon, Ont., testifies as follows: "It gives me great pleasure to add my testimony to the everincreasing popularity of your preparation known as Paine's Celery Compound. It is now a year past since had a severe attack of nervous prostration caused by chronic dyspepsia, and for a year I could not sleep at night. This condition of sleeplessness brought on delirium. I was attended by four of the best doctors of the country, and took a great quantity of medicine, but all failed to do me any good. I then decided to try your Paine's Celery Compound. After I had used four bottles the nervousness and dyspepsia left me, and I have done more work since than for years past. I now enjoy excellent health and consider myself completely cured. I have highly recommended your Paine's Celery Compound to others."

Taxing Corporations.

The bill introduced by Mr. H. J. Pettypiece, M.P.P. for East Lambton, having as its purpose the taxing of corporations, was withdrawn. From an educative view-point the subject is worth discussing, even though any extensive legislation in that line may not be a matter of the immediate future. The member for East Lambton, in discussing his bill for the amendment of the assessment act, pointed out that there were three great classes that should pay a larger share of revenue, namely, the railway, telephone and telegraph companies. Under existing conditions railways have been granted special privileges, such as the right to exaided by Dominion, Provincial and municipal grants. He gave statistics showing the actual assessment of railways. In Ontario there are 7,000 miles of railway lines, with a capital of $500,000,000. The assessed value is $14,-700,000, or less than three per cent of their real value. The amount of taxes received is $300,000, which is less than three-fifths of a mill on the dollar. The agricultural interests of the Province, with a capital of one billion dollars, are assessed for 45 per cent of their full value, at the rate of four and one-half mills on the dollar. If a tax were levied on corporations at the same rate, and on a corresponding assessed value as other interests, the tax would, from the corporations alone, amount to $2,391,00. This would, after deducting working expenses, leave the province $357,000 with $2,023,000 to be distributed among the municipalities, thus reducing the taxes on individual property from $6 to $5 per head.

Mr. Pettypiece's bill applied to other as well as railway corporations. A clause provided for the appointment during the whole of that time, he had of an assessment commission, and never been associated with a fairerother clauses in the bill define the duties of the commission.

The statistics advanced by Mr. Pettypiece are convincing, and the inways, involves a large question, namely, that of transportation. Complaints have already been raised in regard to excessive freight rates. An increased tax rate or assessment on railway corporations might tend only to increase the burden, since the control of transportation rates lies with the companies themselves. The evils that might arise several States of the Union, by the fact that rates are controlled by an interstate commission, a protection which does not exist in Ontario.

clause regarding the taxation of mortgages in the hands of mortgage holders, was embodied into the Patron of Industry platform. The weakness of the position consisted in the fact, that | Cormick Seminary, Chicago. since we have no laws against usury, the result would be a greater rate of interest to be paid by the person against whom the mortgage was

The Spirit of Union.

In the Contemporary Review for last December, under the heading "Our Unhappy Divisions," Canon Hensley Henson deals with the relations of Non-Conformists to the Church of England. He quotes with approval the words of an eminent congregational minister, "We are as tired of unqualified competition in religion as in trade. We are sick of class churches. Methodism for the poor. Congregationalism and Presbyterianism for the middle classes, the Church of England for the aristocracy. There is an earnest desire in all the denomination to bring the reality and blessedness of Christian fellowship to the whole people."

He then deals with the attitude of the Church of England, pointing out | Fifth Avenue Church, is a young man that the real barrier to members of compared with Dr. Parkhurst, he will non-Episcopal churches communicating in the Church of England is the doctrine of apostolic succession as taught by the Tractarians, while the formal barrier is provided by the in- 30 years with regard to New Ontario? terpretation of a single rubric. He then goes on to show how unreasonable this attitude is. It is unfair to demand that all shall accept "the historic episcopate." "I submit that the time has fully come for us to recognize what I apprehend to be the clear. testimony of historic science, that the episcopate is itself a development from an earlier system, a development very early indeed, so early perhaps as to be probably apostolic, but still a development which was triumphant over the condemnation of non-episcopal min-

We have no problem of precisely that kind in Canada, as we have no Established Church: but it would be well, even here, if there was such a clear discrimination between the essential spirit of Christianity and its temporary forms as to favor a truer fellowship among all the churches.

Mr. Gilmour's Letter.

Mr. James Gilmour, M. P. for East Middlesex, wrote a letter to the chairman of the Hospital Trust, which was read at the last meeting, giving the facts concerning the Thomas investigation. Mr. Gilmour's letter claimed that the Free Press had dealt unfairly with both Mr. McCormick and himself.

We supposed the Free Press had given the matter up, but yesterday they returned again to the attack, and are apparently firm believers in the old theory that a lie well stuck to is as good as the truth. The fact is, the | content to have Ontario alone repreonly member of the Trust who opposed | sented over there." investigation was Mayor Beck, and he was in favor of condemning without investigation. The one man who did suggest to Mayor Beck investigation was ex-Mayor Rumball, and the Free Press has been persistently stating laudable activity on the part of those propriate land; besides they have been that he looked upon investigation as an "abominable" attempt to ruin the character of a private citizen. Nothing could be further from the truth. What ex-Mayor Rumball described as abominable was Mayor Beck's expressed desire to condemn unheard. So far as Mr. McCormick is concerned, he voted in favor of the investigation, and not only so, but he went to Miss McDonald and asked her to furnish any further proofs she could, so that the matter could be thoroughly investigated. He also interviewed Mr. Thomas, and told him to be prepared with any explanations he could give in the matter. It is very hard to understand why the Free Press should so persistently libel men like Mr. Mc-Cormick and Mr. Gilmour, who are recognized by the public as entirely fair-minded men and above reproach in every respect.

Mr. McCormick stated at the last meeting of the Trust, when Mr. Gilmour's letter was read, that he had during the past forty years been connected with many public bodies, but minded or more clear-headed man than Mr. James Gilmour.

We do not suppose that the public will be at all misled by this equality of taxation of the property further evidence of the persistent of corporate bodies, compared with desire of the Free Press to that of private individuals, cannot be misrepresent and libel everybody congainsaid. When a pulpit like that of Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York, is filled, it is of more than ordinary consequence. It stands out very prominently, and the people look to it as a leader. There are, of course, city like New York, many very able men; and perhaps, today the most prominent and the ablest Presbyterian preacher is Dr. Parkhurst. His voice gives no uncertain sound. He is a giant preacher and puts a great deal into a short sentence. His book, "The Sunny Side of Christianity," has many samples of

This is all very well, though of course it is well known that no Government can divest itself of full and I final responsibility and follow the lead of any section of the community, however enlightened. It must consider the needs and interests of all. So when the passing of prohibition is anticipated, and it is next proposed that the Government should take the management of the sale of liquor, that will the present public school system. still be necessary. We have to say this also may be good, but it requires careful consideration. It is a step of such importance that its practicability needs to be well canvassed, and its effect well examined on all sides. We must hasten slowly in matters of this kind, if reform is to be sure and lasting. Let us unite caution with boldness.

Enact What Can Be Enforced.

[Correspondence in Toronto Press.] Beyond doubt the people of Ontario demand a more stringent liquor law. If there is to be a more stringent law, it will need the support of the moderate men of the community, and to get that it must be a moderate law. To enact a law along the line of the recent Dominion plebiscite would simply be to throw down the bars, and to leave the traffic in the large cities the other educational systems at the of Ontario without any effective regulations, as has been practically the delphia before disinterested judges, Oncase in Bangor for many years.

What then would be a moderate prohibition measure? There are such laws in existence in various countries. Inder these laws the barroom is abolished, and with it the treating habit is scotched. Liquor stores are established where liquor may be purchased in stated quantities, but not to be consumed on the premises. These stores are kept open during limited hours, and are free from any temptation to conviviality or "loafing," deed they are provided with no facilities for these things.

This system largely accomplishes the great end of removing temptation from the young, and is at the same time reasonably free from the tion commonly made to prohibition laws, that they are an interference with the rights of the individual. Such a law in Ontario would only carry the existing prohibition law-for that is in reality what our existing license law is—one step further. Is that step not as far as the sentiment of this province would warrant the legislature in going at present?

ONTARIO'S ADVANCE

Under Progressive Policy of the Government.

Thoughtful Speech by Mr. Taylor, of North Middlesex.

What Has Been Done for Education and Agriculture—Settlement of New Ontario.

Following is a complete report of the speech delivered last week by Mr. W. H. Taylor, M. P. P., for North Middlesex, in the debate in the legislature on

Mr. Speaker,-I will ask the indulgence of the house for a short time in discussing the budget. I did not purpose occupying the time of the house were it not that some of the honorable members on the opposition side say that the members on this side who are newspapermen, were doing all the talking, to the exclusion of farmers. I may say that I don't pay much attention to raillery of that sort. The government has shown its practical sympathy with the farming interests in many ways-(applause)-some of which I will refer to later on. Mr. Speaker, the honorable member for East Sim house, and to the country, that the opposition had a policy with which to go the country. I may say, sir, that listened to the honorable member's eloquent speech with interest, but I must confess that I discovered nothing new in his policy. The honorable member said that this policy was to have the public school system complete in itself, as there were 95 per cent of the school population who never entered the high schools; but he did not say in what way he would improve believe. Mr. Speaker, that the youth of our province who avail themselves of the education that they can acquire at our public schools have a good foundation to work upon, and the proof of its efficiency is in the high standing in education which the young men and women of the province hold in comparison with those of other provinces of the Dominion, or states of the Union. The honorable member would have a consultory board in order to consult with the minister of education. Why, Mr. Speaker, the minister has such a board, the composition of which, I think, the hon-orable member will not take objection to. On that board there is a representative from the various colleges, collegiate institutes, high schools, public schools and public school inspectors. And as further proof of our school efficiency of our school system, I need only refer you to would fact that where our educational system was placed in competition with > tario's educational system was victorious. (Applause.) Now Mr. Speaker, I cannot give the honorable gentleman credit for trying to be fair in criticising the government's immigration policy. He took two years when the whole country was in a state of stagnation, instead of taking the year after the premier's speech at Whitby, when he enumerated his olicy for settling the northern part of Ontario. We find that in 1895 only 38 persons settled in Temiscamingue district, while the last year their number was 957. (Applause.) This large in crease, as compared with preceding years was due in great measure to the government's policy of development. There was a large number of persons who went to the Temiscamingue district from the county which I have the honor to represent, and they are well satisfied with the arrangements that the government has made for the settling of that district. The honorable member takes exception to the report of the royal commission on the finances of the province, because it was appointed to examine the treasury's books only. If he will examine instructions that were given he commission, he will find that they had power to go into any department and have any person examined under oath or otherwise. I believe that they were given all the power that could be given in order to make a satisfactory statement. If the honorable member desired to know the financial standing of the municipality he represents, would it not be to the treasurer's books that he would go. I think that if there was one act above another for which the honorable premier should be commended, it was the appointing of the commission on the finances of the province. It has set at rest the question of a substantial provincial surplus. The honorable member wants to know what about the remount station that the premier was going to have established for the purchasing of horses for the British army, which he mentioned in his Whitby speech. I think that we have had a splendid response to the request of the premier when he suggested to Lord Strathcona and members of the British Government, that they should purchase some of their army horses in Ontario. Why, sir, they have already bought over 8,000 horses for artillery and cavalry purposes, and are still buying them. Now, sir, this is a class of horse that was not sellfor a good price before being purchased for the British army. We were getting a good price for our draft and carriage horses, but now all classes are commanding high prices. The honorable member does not appear to be satisfied with the honorable premier's explanation for not estabishing an abattoir for the purpose of shipping dead meat to the British markets. When Mr. Flavelle, who represents one of the largest companies in Ontario, and has established a good trade in bacon, undertook to make the experiment of shipping dead beef, the premier was willing to give a reliable company a chance to assist him: otherwise we would have heard more fault-finding from the opposition. Mr. Speaker-I think the opposition should try to come to an agreement on some of the leading questions that come up in this house. We find one member sneering at New Ontario, while another is so enthusiastic about it that he blames the government for not taking its present course 30 years The honorable member for Lanark denounces the sessions duties act as a robbery of the wealthy man; the honorable member for North Ontario is not opposed to the succession duties in themselves, but, knowing that the opposition record is somewhat equivocal on that point, he explains why some of his colleagues have maintained this critical attitude. He says that taxation is never resorted to except

Now, Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to see that the members of this house have ceased to give opposition to the requirements of our Agricultural College at Guelph. I believe the cause for the change in the tactics of the opposition is partially that there are some new men in their ranks who would not support any move in direction; also the splendid work done by the honorable minister of agriculire with Prof. Mills and his staff at the college is demonstrating to the farmers and others the splendid work that they have done and are doing for this province. I was surprised to hear the honorable member for Stormont give the credit to the Dominion Government for the dairy products of this province. Well, sir, I believe they did pay 20 cents a pound for a few tons of butter and sold it in the British market for 14 cents pound-(applause)and that was on the eve of a general election. But the minister of agriculture of this province established traveling dairy in order to have a uniform quality of butter made, and, with the aid of our dairy schools, we are placing a quality of butter on the British market that will command the best price. In addition to the educational work at the college, there is an experimental work under the management of Prof. Zavitz that has added millions of dollars to the wealth of our farmers in this province. Farmers' institutes were also established by Prof. Mills, of the college, which have done a splendid work, and which

The latter term, though it would seem to include the former, is defined as instruction in the use of tools, processes of agriculture, and modeling in clay, wood or other material. Domestic of "household" science has to do with the principles of well-ordered household, including hygienic methods of preparing food.

Three student "housekeepers" were appointed to deal out raw material to those who were at work at the tables, and in a few minutes eggs in their various forms-poached, boiled and as omelets-appeared. The lady students-in-training showed considerable skill in their work, a fact which would go to indicate either that they were not novices, or that their training had enabled them to grasp the details by intuition. The question as to what use an education can be put is still as strong in the minds of the people as it was at the time John Ruskin appealed so strongly and so fervently for an "education good in itself," as opposed to the education which "will put a coat on my son's back." Considering the fact that the average man is not a millionaire, the utilitarian phase of the subject cannot be overlooked. But this is not the phase that appeals to educationists; to him the highest object of an education is a symmetrical development of all the faculties of the pupil. Apropos of the subject, is the following from the pen of Dr. Creighton, Lord Bishop of London: "The point at which knowledge will cease to make man a better wage-earner may soon be reached; but the point at which it will cease to make him a better man and a happier man will never be reached. The subject of domestic science has received the favorable attention of the National Council of Women for several years past, and Mrs. Boomer, of this city, while a member of the school board, did all in her power to get the other members to see as she did. Resolutions were passed favoring the introduction of the subject in connection with the London schools, but owing to lack of funds and a suitable room properly equipped the matter was waived. Principal Merchant has recently communicated with the school board, offering to place at their dis-posal the classroom kitchen referred to above. So that the only extra expense would be in connection with the remuneration of the instructor, and in purchasing supplies. It would seem in keeping with the spirit of the times if the board of education were to take advantage of this excellent opportunity to make experiment of the possibilities of domestic science.

PANCAKE TUESDAY

Today is Pancacke Day, or Shrove Tuesday, and tomorrow will be Ash Wednesday, the first day in Lent. The bell rung on this day was popularly known as the Pancake Bell.

"NEW LONDON."

When spring opens a number of persons from the vicinity of Ailsa Craig will move to Armstrong township, in the Temiskaming, says a Toronto dispatch. The intention is to form a colony of people from this neighborhood, with a town to be called New London as the center. In the same section will settle many people form-erly of Western Ontario, who are returning from the United States. These latter include people from Dakota, Kansas, Wisconsin and Michigan. These people's attention has been brought to Ontario as a desirable place to locate by the New Ontario pamphlets. Frank Atkinson, in a letter to the directors of colonization from Allsa Craig, says that some of those from his district will start up

LATE SPORTING.

IN FUTURE EDITIONS. The reference in Kipling's latest poem to sports continues to call forth sarcastic and other comment. The Westminster Gazette says:

The list of British sports to which Mr. Kipling has recently made such graceful allusion is unfortunately very incomplete. The following lines will (possibly) be inserted in futures editions:

The rubber-shod rough with a racquet; the ass on the asphalted path;
The half-witted hurler of hammers, the lubber that leaps at a lath.
The rufflian riding in red and the gaby in gaiters that shoots.
The fatuous flapper of flies, and the scoundrel with skates on his boots.
The lout that loars on the links with his lingo of "lies" and "the like."
The blundering bent-backed bounder that buckets along on a bike.
The bare-legged boobies in boots, each bent on becoming a "blue."
The crass-headed crocks playing croquet, the crapulous cad with a cue.

The crass-headed crocks playing croquet, the crapulous cad with a cue.
The maniacs mounted on motors that murder a man every mile (And I think you will freely admit that I've bettered my earlier style).

ERNE FAILED TO SHOW UP. Philadelphia, Feb. 11. - Frank Erne. of Buffalo, failed to put in an appearance at the Penn A. C. last night, where he was to have met Joe Gans, of Baltimore, in a six-round boxing bout. Erne arrived here in the afternoon, accompanied by his backers and trainers, and at 6 o'clock the entire party left for New York without notifying the club management or explaining their action to anyone. There was a fair house at the club, but when it was learned that Erne had left town the management returned the admission money to its patrons. It is said that Erne was not satisfied with the prospect of obtaining the money that had been promised him for the bout.

JOCKEYS, OLD AND YOUNG. After commenting upon the fact that 80 or 90 per cent of the favorites, especially in the 2-year-old events, are beaten for stake events. "The Man in the Saddle," in theNew York Telegraph writes: "You can't make me see where the present day rider excelled the old-timers in any way, shape, manner or form," said the "veteran." by way of starting up the conversation again.

per Garrison. Ponder on the record and the present status of probably the most brilliant and at the same time the most erratic rider of modern times. He had the so-called 'crouching' seat long before Tod was ever thought of, and he could do everything he undertook well, but his bump of variety of self-conceit covered about the entire surface of his cranium.

Probably more real money has passed through his hands than any jockey that ever rode in this country, before or since his time. He always got enormous fees for his outside mounts. The wagering of money for the jockeys was not forbidden in his day, and the 'Snapper' had a large and wealthy string of clients. He was a money-spender of the first water, and his personal expenses were somewhat appalling.

SIGNED WITH NEW YORKS. New York, Feb. 11 .- Roy E. Clark, captain of the Brown University baseball club for two seasons, has been signed to play center field for New York during the coming season. AMENDING THE RULES. The meeting lasted until midnight, most of its time being taken up with consideration of section 3 of rule 44, the section added last year 3 of rule 44, the section added last year by the National League rules committee, defining the foul strike.

A modification of this rule is decided upon, and its effect is virtually to make all short fouls strikes, and to remove the penalty in case of a long foul fly. The plan is to start at second base and draw the base line past first base to the stands doing the same on the other side of the diamond. A foul ball hit inside this line is a strike. Beyond this line it A line was added to section 1 of rule 32, allowing the pitcher not more than one minute to deliver not exceeding five balls to warm up.

Section 7 of rule 46, defining when a batsman is out, was changed to read:

Increasing Output of the Transvaal Gold Mines-Prince Henry's Visit to the United States.

Belfast, Feb. 11.-The bulletin issued this afternoon from Clandeboye, regarding the health of Lord Dufferin, the former governor-general of Can ada, shows he has been continually growing weaker since the morning, and that the end is near.

SOUTH AFRICAN GOLD OUTPUT. A cable message received here from the Transvaal Chamber of Mines, at Johannesburg, announced that the output for the month of January was 70,340 ounces of fine gold, as compared with 52,897 ounces in December last. PRINCE HENRY'S VISIT.

Prince Henry of Prussia will sail for the United States on Saturday as arranged, even though young Theodore Roosevelt continues to be critically ill. The prince has been urged to bear in mind that his visit was not a per-sonal one to President Roosevelt, but to the United States; that while a fatal ending to young Roosevelt's illness would limit the president's part in the hospitalities to a strictly official basis, the remainder of the programme might be carried out.

A NEW DEPARTURE. Mademoiselle Jeanne De Villeneuve, a French Government clerk, has been appointed secretary of the French consulate-general in New York. Her ap-pointment marks a new departure, as it is believed to be the first time a woman has been appointed to a post in the diplomatic service.

The under secretary for the British foreign office, Lord Cranborne, replying in the House of Commons today to a question of Henry Norman (Liberal), who asked whether the government's attention had been called to the statement in the German press, and alleged to have received official confirmation at Berlin, to the effect that Great Britain, on April 14, 1898, through her ambassador at Washington, proposed a fresh note, in which the powers should declare that Europe did not regard the armed intervention of the United States in Cuba as justifiable, and that in consequence of Germany's refusal to cept this proposal, the step was aban-

TWO FASHIONABLE WEDDINGS. The most picturesque wedding yesterday was that of Ivor Churchill, Lord Wimborne's son, and Miss Alice Sibell Grosvenor, Lord Ebury's daughter. The two mothers-in-law are at opposite polls of churchmanship, but Peter's, Eton Square, offered a middle ground for the ceremony. There were fourteen bridesmaids, and the bride was a lovely figure in embroidered lisse over white satin. The church was crowded with duchesses and countesses. Many members of parliament also attended the wedding of their colleague. The ceremony at St. Paul's, Knightsbridge, was simple, when Sir William Hart-Dyke gave his daughter away to Mr. John Scott-Gatty, eldest son of the York Herald of the College of Arms, but the reception in Lowndes Square was attended by a very large company of titled and fashionable peo-

In a Mountain Torrent.

Drowning is not a danger which seems to belong to the business of mountain-climbing, yet Mr. Fitzger-ald, the author of "The Highest Andes," relates an adventure which befell one of his party in descending the Aconcagua, and by which one of the guides came near losing his life in a swollen mountain stream. We reached the first ford, says Mr. Fitzgerald, and I saw with anxiety that the torrent was thundering down in immense volumes, making the passage difficult and dangerous. How my little horse managed to steer through that wild torrent remains a mystery to me, but we got safely over.

Zurbriggen followed me on a powerful mule. In mid-stream I was horrified to see him turn the animal's head down-stream. This was fatal, the horse lost its balance and rolled over. precipitating its rider into the raging Poor man! The instant the mule

It was necessary to move the mule before we could help the man. I seized him by the head and tried to press him away, while Tomas, in a wild frenzy of excitement clung to his tail. The heast was too terrified to move, so was reduced to pushing him bodily. And his desire was all the stronger, since it could not possibly be gratified. He had written five letters in case of accident—one, full of explana-tion and of gratitude, for Miss Clare; one full of thanks and exhortations to fight the battle still upon his own account—making him in effect his political heir; one to an old college friend, full of kind remembrances to everybody; one to his servant, full of commissions; and one to Angelique, full of love. But this was but a sorry substitute for what he longed to say and do, after all; and his cigar tasted bitterly. Nevertheless he slept well, and in the morning was as cool and as well prepared as a man who thinks he doing his duty should always be. In fact, the morning was always his best time.

At all events I like to say so; seeing that the latter, in my own case, is the only birthday that I am able to keep. For anything that I know to the contrary, I may be as old as the Great trary, I may be as old as the Great Pyramid, and have passed the first few thousand years of my life in a slumber from which I one day suddenly woke up o see-some clothes hung out to dry in a back garden.

Of course, if I had my own way I would give my memory a more poetical origin; but, as I have not my own way in the matter-indeed I have, in the course of my life, had it very seldom, except in my very earliest very seldom, except in my very earliest years, when I had it rather too much—I must be satisfied with facts, however unpoetical they may be. Besides, I might have done worse. These same clothes—petticoats and such things—were not, I remember, without their merit as a spectacle to untried eyes, whether in point of color, or of the form bestowed upon them by the wind, as it shook them and puffed them out into the semblance of the waveline of an angry sea; and I distinctly remember the rhythm of their flapping—an unmusical sound which, however, has been suggested to me a hundred times since by music in many cases as devoid since by music in many cases as devoid since by music in many cases as devoid of either body or soul as the clothes themselves, but which has often, for that very reason, affected me, not by any inherent suggestive power of its own, but by calling to mind a thousand other things.

gard. The negro, if his horse is equal to the task, always seeks to get the lead just before making the last turn. If he can get around the final corner in front, it is three to one no other horse can pass him. He takes his mount just far enough from the in-ner rail to admit of another horse passing on the inside. A boy coming from behind, seeing this opening, will naturally make a jump for it. If he does, it is all off with him. Just as e thinks he can get through, Winkfield hunches his mount over, shuts the other boy out, and the latter has to pull up almost to a standstill to keep from being put over the fence. If a boy tries to pass on the outside, he has to give Winkfield a wide berth, thereby losing ground. If he attempts to pass without pulling out to the center of the track, Winkfield will pull over on him and try to gradually drive him to the outer rail. This will explain in a measure why Winkfield is such a good jockey at New Orleans, and he is hardly to be blamed for his tactics. All the star jockeys of recent years have been noted for just such tactics, especially Burns, and the fickle public, while condemning foul riding as a matter of principle, invariably applaud the boy who succeeds, no matter what unfair advantages he uses against his vivals. AT NEW ORLEANS. New Orleans, Feb. 11.-Navasota's stumble at the start in the St. Charles Hotel stakes yesterday was the hard-est blow the talent has yet had. The filly fell to her knees, throwing Jockey Landry over her head. Both boy and sota backed from twos to 8 to 5 was at all times choice in the betting, while Gold Ornament, despite reports of good work was held at the long price of 25 to 1. With much the best of the start Gold Ornament led all the way and won by two lengths, though Brennan rode her out at the end to beat Merry Sister, who was bearing her down. Musical Slipper and Princess Tulane, the second choice, were never prominent. Granton and Intrusive were the only winning favorites. Weather cool and clear, track good. A speed committee was appointed to select the date for the annual meeting, and it was decided to held but one race meet during the year. The classes for the ice races in Port Huron, which open today and continue on Wednesday and Thursday, are filling fast, and entries from different cities in the state and Canada have been received. The date of the catch-as-catch-can wrestling bout between George Both-ner, light-weight champion of the world, and Charles Leonhardt, has been fixed for Feb. 14. The men will meet Edward Hanlan, the 11-year-old son of Ned Hanlan, the famous oarsman, has inherited his father's talents with on Feb. 22. The punch is called "The Mauser," and its peculiar characteristics have not yet been set forth. Diligent practice with the older and generally reliable blows will profit Mr. Suilivan more than study of newer devices. McGovern is an unaccommodating fellow in the ring, and will probably refuse to set himself to receive any fancy blows. Antagonists are not sparring partners. The Mr. Jardine Referred to Lives in the Queen City.

Well-Known Throughout Canada as One of Canada's Commissioners to the Paris Exposition - His Stat ment Is a Very Valuable One and

Has Been Read With Much Interest. Toronto, Feb. 10.-Mr. J. G. Jardine, whose statement as to the wonderful curative and tonic properties of Dodd's Kidney Pills has been published in many of the papers, is a resident of this city. His home is at 305 Craw gord street. Mr. Jardine was chosen as one of the Canadian commissioners to the Paris Exposition two years ago, and performed the onerous duties of that office with honor to himself and credit to his country.

It is to his experience in the French capital at that time that Mr. Jardine makes particular reference in the published statement in which he says: "During my stay in Paris I felt many times run down, owing to the complete change and to the worries and work his mount escaped injury. The stake of our business there. I suffered not a little with backache, with general feeling of depression, and I found Dodd's Kidney Pills invaluable.

"I had learned the value of this medicine before going to Europe as I used very successfully for backache, which I found it relieved almost instantly. So when I went to Paris I was careful to take with me some of this my favorite remedy. "Every time I was threatened with return of the trouble I used a few Dodd's Kidney Pills and can say they did not disappoint me. They are the best medicine I know of to tone up the system generally, and they do certainly relieve backache instantly." What Mr. Jardine has said is amply borne out by many others in this city whose experiences have been and are being published from day Dodd's Kidney Pills are certainly without an equal as a medicine for those who are "tired out," "run down" or Dodd's Kidney Pills have been in-dorsed most heartily by all classes.

The 2.000 Mormons in Germany are total abstainers from alcohol, coffee, tea and worldly amusements. Russia now possesses a school military ballooning.

TESTED BY TIME.—In his justly-celebrated pills Dr. Parmelee has given to the world one of the most unique medicines offered to the public in late years. Prepared to meet the want for a pill which could be taken without nausea, and that would purge without pain, it has met all requirements in that diit has met all requirements in that direction, and it is in general use not only because of these two qualities, but because it is known to possess alterative and curative powers which place it in the front rank of medicines.

The Place of the Select School in Educational Work.

Modern Systems of Instruction Have Passed Tentative Stage in These Schools.

[By J. J. Baker Principal of Harding

Hall.] The fact that every year thousands Monday's St. Thomas Journal says: of our young people are receiving saturday a large party left on the 1:05 training in schools that are without state aid and are in their manage-ment wholly apart from provincial systems, is sufficient evidence that such schools hold a very important place in our educational work. Among men arrived at the opera house the first and women of culture who are especially interested in the education of the young, with few exceptions, there is now generous recognition of the work of select schools. Half a generation ago even, that recognition was not so marked. Then it was not uncommon to refer to the work done in these schools with an innuendo. To-day I am glad to find those who are engaged in teaching in the schools of the provincial system often the most appreciative of work done not strictly after their own order. And this is as it should be; it is but the confession that all things human are imperfect and in matters educational we are still some distance from the point beyond which there is no advance. This article is in no sense a criticism of our public school system. I yield to no one in my appreciation of all that has been and is being accomplished through its agency in spite of the criticisms that are sometimes offered. At the same time, unless we are prepared to natural capabilities of pupils, and insist that the end in so called primary education shall always be one and the same, we must at once see that there is a very large field for extra-provincial system work. If in any case the provincial authorities, heeding the call of a number of citizens, introduce, even in a limited measure, technical or special work, in primary education, Council of Women Praise His then the plea that primary education has only one end is thereby given up. I thinks it will be generally conceded that our public system is largely built on a commercial basis. I am not find-the methods through which we can best accomplish what we have in view. It is significant that from the highest criticisms on our public system have recently emanated. Those criticisms.

in a word, are to the effect that we are people; and that this is true because we have practicaly built our system on a mathematical basis. What was counted its glory is now pointed point where most select schools have done valuable supplementary work. If scribed public course under quite dif-ferent conditions, they would fill an important place. But they have done, and are doing, much more than this.

Emphasis has been put upon literature and the languages as means of culture, evident that they have put the emphasis in the right place. Young people may perform great feats of memory, and do much imitative work before they are able to carry forward any extended courses of reasoning. That is to say, they may learn the elements of a foreign language-long before they can solve the fifth proposition of Euclid. I have heard very young children been privileged to spend several years select schools being free in their man-agement, have been forward in trying

'educational experiments." Manual training, for instance, was used for years in several of our select schools as a means of general culture, and its value proven beyond a doubt, before it was introduced into any of the schools under public or government now being introduced into public in-perimental stage in the select school.

These considerations, without mention being made of many incidental means of culture, will indicate the influence of

The indications are that their influ-

Criticism. Mrs. Boomer, president, occupied the chair at a well attended and representative meeting of the Local Council of Women. Action was taken to appoint and duly instruct a woman, resident in Ottawa, and acquainted with council work, to act as the representative of the London Local Council at the executive of the National Council, the meeting of which takes place the day after the opening of parliament there. A resolution of profound regret at they did nothing other than the prethe resignation through illness of Lady

Taylor, as president of the National Council, will be forwarded from London, and another to Miss Teresa Wilson, expressive of appreciation of her valued services, which it is feared will be lost to the council when her three years' term of office expires in September next. The name of Mrs. M. G. Gibson as successor to Lady Taylor will be submitted from the London branch, Mrs. Gibson having been in unbroken active and intelligent membership from the first inception of the National Council until now. Reports of successful work were given verbally from the London Art of training in a select school appreci-club, and the plan for extending its ates the advantages of those years less usefulness and educational value was as time advances. And still further, the stated. The Froebel Society also mentioned, by request, its exhibition and sale of statuary to be held shortly in promotion of its work. The Aberdeen Society brought forward a resolution asking that the attention of the National Council executive be called to the injurious copyright and postal regulations, by which Canadian interests are being sacrificed to control. Some other departments are those of British and American authors and publishers. The public press in stitutions that have passed the exmany quarters are stirring in the matures in proof of the one-sidedness of article in the Boston Transcript of the 31st of January, congratulating itself upon the fact that "United States magazines and periodicals have crowded British literature of the same class out of the market." The article quoted from s headed "A Lesson in Liberality," and is well worth studying. The last resolution conveyed the approbation of the meeting, coupled with its desire to support it, of the recommendation of the city engineer to obtain a bylaw to prohibit expectoration in the street railway cars, and also of its appreciation of the many untiring efforts of Mr. Graydon to improve the city. A copy of this resolution will be forwarded to him. It was stated as an encouragement to the members, that on petitions from the Local Councils of Women of Halifax, St. John, N. B., and Charlottetown, P. E. I., expectora-tion in prohibited places had been made a penal offense. The secretary was requested to convey as a message from the Local Council its good wishes to their patriotic young townswoman, Miss Cameron, so lately gone to South Africa upon the nursing staff of the Canadian contingent. Pleasure was expressed at the opportunity being offered by Principal Merchant for the teaching of domestic science to at least a limited number of public school children at the Normal School. Mention was also made of the sympathetic greeting and the cross of red and white carnations, forwarded to the family of the late Mr. Chester McLaren, one of London's young heroes, by the Red Cross Society, and a notice of an early meeting of that society was announced. Finally was submitted Mrs. Gahan's report as convener of the committee upon pernicious literature, which gave

The civil servants who may receive or whose families may receive gratuities upon death, shall be those appointed on or before the first day of January, 1898."
