This morning they received another wire. The Dominion secretary thought that co-operation was advisable. However, he stated, that the decision rested with the different locals.

On receipt of the wire the local clerks discussed the question quietly. They took it up with Mr. Duncan. He showed Continued on Page Three.

CAVALRY HAS TAKEN IMPORTANT ROLE IN ALLIED OFFENSIVE

Mounted Columns Have Done Great Work On the Aisne-Marne Fighting Line.

Washington, D. C., July 23.—Skillful use of French cavalry has marked Gen. Foch's tactics ever since he took over control of the allied armies as supreme commander, according to information commander, according to information reaching military circles here. The horsemen have played an important role in the whole battle of 1918, as the struggle which began on March 21 with the first German drive has come to be known.

The employment of the swift-moving mounted columns in the present counter-stroke from the Aisne-Marne line has been noted in the dispatches. Again Gen. Foch took advantage of the great mobility of the mounted arm to throw them in wherever his advancing infantry units threatened to lose touch with each other in the heat and confusion of the contest. No gaps have been left where the enemy might strike back, for always the horsemen came up to fill the hole until the infantry line could be rectified and connected in a solid front.

could be rectified and connected in a solid front.

Fought it Out Afoot.

The same tactics marked the first use of French cavalry in the battle of Picardy, when the French took over 8k kilometres of front from the British in order to permit the latter to mass reserves at seriously threatened points of the line farther north. A French cavalry corps, complete with light artillery, armored cars and cyclists, arrived first on the scene in Picardy and relieved the British. They fought it out afoot until the heavy French artillery arrived and took over the task.

Three days later the horsemen were on the move again, this time hurrying to the front, where the enemy was hitting hard at the Lys line. The cavalry rode hard as the advance guard of the French infantry columns marching toward Stomer. In the first 24 hours, despite the long strain of fighting in toward Stomer. London, July 23.-The German artil London, July 23.—The German artillery showed great activity last night with gas shells in the Villers-Bretonneux sector, east of Amiens, the war office announced today.

Advances in local operations were scored by the British last night, today's war office report shows. The line was pushed forward slightly south of Hebuterne, on the front between Arras and Albert, and south of Merris and Meteren on the Flanders front. The British positions also were improved in the Hamel sector and north of Albert.

Enemy's Main Efforts Now Concentrated in Pulling Forces From Trap as Allies Drive at Him From Three Points of Compass.

London, July 23.—The battle, though an obstinate struggle is deepen ing and extending, with the news continuing most favorable for the Allies. The Germans have not yet recovered from their surprise and confusion, and have given no signs of attempting to create a diversion elsewhere. The enmey's main energies are concentrated on the defensive fighting and a series of desperate rearguard actions in the hope of extricating the bulk of their forces from the clutch of the Allies who are advancing simultaneously from three points of the compass. The position of the enemy is critical in view of the relentless pressure maintained by Foch. whose tactics may still turn the enemy retreat into an enemy rout. To avoid this, experts are of the opinion that the enemy must draw still further upon the reserves, probably from the forces facing on the British

GOURAUD'S BIG BIT. Nevertheless the advance effected by the British in collaboration with the French forces was most important, as it necessitated the calling of reserves by the Germans. The inactivity of the infantry north of Ource, the Champagne sector yesterday, is semi-officially ascribed by Paris to the enormous German losses, the extent of which can be calculated. On the front with Gouraud's army alone 50,000 Germans were put out of action by hundreds of guns which were unmasked only when the assaulting waves crossed the covering zone and approached the real line of Paris is lavish in her praise of the presence of mind and

The men are now receiving $3.10 per day, and on Monday they notified the city engineer that they would demand an increase of 25 cents per hour, claiming at the same time they had not been given the same increase as other city departments had. A special meeting of the board of works was held on Monday evening for the purpose of adjusting the matter, but at the COLINGUI OF PARIS.

GERMANS HAVE Germans Are Putting Up Stubborn Resistance to Advance of French Troops—Americans Have Captured Town of Buzancy, French Have Taken Oulchy-Le-Chateau, and British Occupy Petitchamp Woods --- Many Prisoners and Guns Are Taken In the Captured Towns.

London, July 23 .- The French, at 8:15 o'clock this morning, began a new attack in the region northwest of Montdidier, according to advices received here shortly after noon today.

At 11 o'clock this morning the French were reported to have advanced a mile on a front of four miles. It was thought, on the basis of the advices, that the attack in the Montdidier region might be on a wider front than the one mentioned. In their fighting along the Marne the French are reported to be experiencing great difficulty in making a passage of the river at some points, being stubbornly opposed by the German infantry, well supported by artllery and machine guns.

In the Montdidier fighting today, the French, besides capturing the villages of Aubvillers and Sauvillers, swept to the crest of Mailly-Reineval and captured it.

The capture of Aubvillers, Sauvillers and Mailly-Raineval was reported by the French war office in today's statement, which ordinarily covers only the events up to midnight, although occasionally reporting early morning happenings. Apparently the French operation was begun at a very early hour, and only its early stages covered in the war office report the later progress being indicated in the news advices.

DRIVING BETWEEN RIVERS. London, July 23.—Franco-American troops are continuing to make progress on the battlefront between the Ourcq and the Marne. Advices today are that attacks carried out by the French have restored all the ground which they lost on Monday in the region of Grisolles, seven miles northwest of Chateau Thierry.

GERMANS BRINGING UP GUNS.

London, July 23 .- The Germans are stiffening their resistance between the Ourcq and the Aisne rivers and are bringing up guns.

SLOWING UP A LITTLE.

London, July 23.-Well-informed opinion in London regards the situation on the battlefront as going well for the Allies. It is not expected, however, that the advance will be so rapid as previously, the Germans having now had plenty of time to get their reserves into position. They are also displaying a disposition to fight for all they are worth.

FRENCH TAKE OULCHY-LE CHATEAU.

this city farmer sells to the neighbors.

Perhaps this is not so remarkable considering the spur that has been given during the past two years to the cukivation of even square inches of ground, but this husband and father is employed by day at hard labor in a manufacturing concern, so his farming is a twilight process. Besides this, he has found time this spring to build cement walks around his house, to excavate in his cellar for a furnace, and to build a coal bin of cement. He is the neighborhood cobbler, and by mending the shoes for his own family he saves an average of $15 per month.

A word should come in here for the wife of this enterprising citizen, who keeps six little children clothed with excellent taste and neatness. The two eldest girls, 12 and 14 years of age, take music lessons besides attending school regularly.

Altogether this appears to be a family that can well be taken as a model of thrifty progress, and it is hoped as a true type of the ambitious Canadian citizen.

Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop is one of the representatives from twenty Canadian fraternal societies who will meet at Belleville on July 25 and 28 in a "better understanding" conference. The object of the meeting is to bring about a better understanding between the English and French-speaking Canadians. The question is being taken up by the fraternal societies of the Dominion, and the meeting was called by W. C. Mikel, K.C., president of the Canadian Fraternal Association.

Among the prominent fraternalists of Ontario who have signified their intention of being present are J. B. McKillop, county crown attorney, London; C. J. Foy, ex-mayor of Perth and grand councillor of the C. M. B. A.; Sheriff Morris of Pembroke; Dr. Edwards, M.P., Frontenac; J. A. Stewart, K.C., M.P., Perth, Fred J. Darch, George Mitchell Rev. A. MacGillivray, Toronto, and W. F. Montague of Hamilton. A large delegation is coming from Quebec, which will include ex-Mayor Lavalle, Ald. J. A. R. Brodeur, Henri Roy, Rodolph Bedard, Charles Duquette of Montreal, and Dr. Rochon of Ottawa.

WEDNESDAY MORNING SALES

PROVE MORE THAN EVER BEFORE THE VALUE OF ECONOMY

Economy is the backbone of the country today—and this is true economy. These Wednesday morning sales are planned each week with the object of crowding a full day's business into the forenoon, so you may readily understand that we realize the effort required to accomplish this. To more than double sales in the forenoon means double values in many cases, and the nearer we draw to the end of the half-year, July 31, the stronger and more determined we become to accomplish this purpose, also to clear all odds and ends of summer merchandise before stocks are listed. These Wednesday morning half-holiday sales is our opportunity for this, and yours to economize.

Second Offender Quit Because

Two members of the 1st Battallon, Western Ontario Regiment, appeared before a district court-martial at Wolseley Barracks this morning charged with desertion. Both pleaded guilty, and the court had no alternative but to convict, although the extenuating circumstances in each case will, it is said, somewhat mitigate the sentences which will be promulgated in a few days.

Pte. John L. Fournier was charged with deserting on September 1, 1917, and remaining absent from his unit until apprehended on June 27 last, in civilian clothes. He was also charged with losing his equipment, but this has since been recovered. He stated thas some been recovered. He stated thas since been recovered. appeared before the court on a smitar charge and also pleaded critics in statement the accused testified that he deserted because by wife was getting no separation allowance and was without support. Evidence was introduced to show that Hamilton, although a married man, was arrested by Dominion police, having no marriage certificate on his person at the time.

The accused had been married five years, and was the father of two children, but had lost his marriage certificate. However when arrested he expressed a desire to serve, and was cellisted as a volunteer, but owing to the fact that he had produced no propers to prove his marriage, separation allowance was delayed, and he described in June last, and was apprehended in Peterboro one month later.

Hemilton explained to Lieut.-Col. H.

L. Millican, D.S.O., president of the court, that he now realized his mistake, and was willing to go overseas in the next draft if his wife would get her proper allowance from the Government. He has two brothers and two brothers-in-law serving overseas, and did not wish the court to consider him a slacker. # GREEK CLAIMING IMMUNITY FROM M. S. A. DRAFT CALL

A case of wide local interest is to come before the military authorities within a day or two. A young Greek who has been called up for service, and is now wearing the uniform, is appealing against his conscription.

The point of law which is to be advanced is that any Greek who has signified his willingness to serve in the army of his country cannot be called up for military duty in Canada.

The case will be to a large extent a test of the law in regard to the Greek colony. Practically all of the young Greek have certificates indicating their willingness to serve the Greek nation. The home government is not calling them up, however, and this makes them practically immune from service.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

ACCIDENT CAUSES DEATH Mrs. Lucy A. Logan, widow of William Logan, died at St. Joseph's Hospital at 5 o'clock this morning.
Mrs. Logan, who was 88 years of age, resided at 731 Wellington street. She came to this city from Thorndale several years ago. About two weeks ago she tripped over a piece of matting and fell, breaking her leg. She has been failing ever since this accident, which is thought to have caused her death is thought to have caused her death.

One son, Frank, of this city, survives.

About six weeks ago he was afflicted with blood poisoning in the face which after careful care and treatment, was believed to have been cured. About a week ago, however, the trouble returned, causing his death.

Mr. Archer will be greatly missed by his host of friends throughout this city. He had lived in the north end all his life. He was very popular, and was a participant of almost every sport which only went still further in gaining him his many friends. He was a member of St. John the Evangelist Church.

Besides his parents he is survived by one sister, Marjoric, and one brother. Harry, both of whom are at home.

The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon from the family residence to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock at the house by Rev. Canon Craig.

MRS. ANNIE MOORE DIES.

The death occurred at the family residence, 2 Woodward avenue, West London, on Monday evening of Mrs. Annie Moore, wife of James Stewart Moore, Mrs. Moore had been in failing health for some time. Besides her hisband, Mrs. Moore is survived by two sons, Pte. John Stewart at present in an English hospital, and formerly of the 135th Battalion, and George Ernest Donahue, returned veteran of the 1st Battalion. One sister, Mrs. F. Simond of Pittsburg, Ohio, also survives.

The funeral will be private, and takes place on Wednesday afternoon. Services will be conducted by the Christian Science Society at 2 o'clock, and interment will be made in the family plot in the Mount Pleasant Cemetery. MRS. ANNIE MOORE DIES.

Four fresh divisions faced them. One German division which held the line against the Italians had been annihilated. The Germans had a large number of machine guns in this vicinity, but the British captured 40 of them in the course of a strong attack, in which they made progress and took more than 200 prisoners. Altogether the day was very satisfactory for the Allies, who are threatening the German communications everywhere. There is every reason to believe that the Germans are hurrying forward more divisions to add to the 60 they already have thrown into the

Mrs. Charles H. Christie, formerly of London, and a daughter of the late George F. Durend, who was one of the most prominent architects of the city, died in California last week in her 38th years, according to a telegram received here today from her brother-in-law, Al E. Christie.

Mrs. Edna Christie only left London several years ago for Holywood, California, where her husband and his brother are so prominently connected with the moving picture world. A short time ago she underwent an operation and never recovered from its effect. Death resulted shortly afterwards. Interment was made in Holywood Cemetery.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS BECOMING RESTLESS

TORONTO, July 22.—There is reason to believe that the railway mail clerks are becoming restless, because the Government has not paid any attention to demands made upon it for increased wages. It is understood that these clerks ask that the maximum be raised from $1,400 to $2,000 per annum, or else that the bonus this year should be greater than it was last year.

Thought She Would Lose Her Little Girl With DIARRHOEA

Thousands of infants die annually who could be saved by the timely use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. In a word, having lost the road to Paris, there remains now, as in 1914, the opportunity to seek the channel ports and reopen the contest which he lost decisively to Gen. Foch in the battles of the Yser and Ypres in October and November, 1914.

What is going on now in the quadrilateral between the Marne, the Aisne, the Rheims salient and the Soissons-Chateau Thierry front in series of violent rearguard attacks by the Germans, designed to hold back pursuit while the territory is being evacuated of heavy artillery, munitions and troops. The German seems to have abandoned all hope of regaining lost ground or of holding imperilled positions permanently. What we are seeing are the normal circumstances of a forced retreat, after a military defeat, which has not resulted in the destruction of the losing army.

Heavy Enemy Losses.

So far the German has had his of the seventy-two years that this wonderful remedy has been on the market, it has been proved conclusively that it is the best for diarrhoea, dyson-tery, colic, cramps, cholera infantum, and all looseness of the bowels, or in the children are teething. Many of the imitations of "Dr. Fowler's" being offered to the public to-day are positively dangerous, as they often check the diarrhoea too suddenly, cause inflammation and leave the bowels in constipated condition. "Dr. Fowler's" will not do this, but will impart a healthy tone to the mucous surface, and stop the diarrhoea in an easy and natural way.

Mrs. M. Tyler, Orland, Ont., writes: "I have used your wonderful medicine for nine years with great satisfaction. There can be no doubt about it.

TORONTO, July 22.—Andrew Crawford is a horse breeder on Sir Henry Pellat's farm, where he has charge of thirty brood mares and draft horses, including a number of registered horses. During the past year fifteen horses had been sold to the Government for the army. Crawford has four brothers in France, but claimed exemption from tribunal sitting at Osgoode Hall today. He was allowed exemption until November 1 next, but Mr. Armstrong, public representative, was granted leave to appeal the case. case.

pullers, to arrange a scale of prices. The local flax manufacturers ask that flax pullers pull the flax under three standard grades, so that the flax industry can be brought up to a higher standard grade to meet the Government request to have raw flax material suitable for the manufacture of aeroplane linen. There will be a great demand for the next twenty years or more for aeroplane linen, it is stated.

(Beauty Notes.)

Women are fast learning the value of the use of delatone for removing hair of tuzz from face, neck or arms. A paste is made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on the hairy surface. In 2 or 3 minutes it is rubbed off, the skin washed and every bit of hair has disappeared. No failure will result if you are careful to buy genuine delatone.—Advt.

Munitions Workers

By two things we rise to the pinnacle of effort: one is love and the other is patriotism, which is love of country.

Experience shows that the keen, enduring munitions workers are those who have been scorched by the flame of war's sacrifice.

Mothers, wives, sweethearts and sisters, whose men are "over there" work with tireless energy. Fathers and brothers whose flesh and blood has enriched the fields of battle put eternal spirit and enthusiasm into their labour.

What we need is that same spirit in every worker.

You who have felt the bitterness of sacrifice; you who know the loneliness of waiting for a loved one's return,-you must inspire your fellow-workers by precept and example.

"Tut! Tut!" laughed a tiny voice, and Betty's little friend, Gocomeback, the travel elfin, lighted on the ground at Betty's side. "I guess you'd like living in Lapland."

Before Betty could ask any questions she was whisked through the sir and found herself in a strange country.

"This is the northen part of Norway where the Mountain Laps live," said Gocomeback.

Great crowds of short, dark people, dirty and with hair uncombed, went slowly by. Betty thought them very ugly, and she didn't hesitate to say so. "Now, then," laughed Gocomeback, "if you lived here you'd never have to change your clothes nor comb your hair. Some haven't had their clothes off in years. They even sleep with them on."

them on."
All along the mountainside were scattered queer little tent houses that looked like wigwams. They stopped to look at one. Long poles were stuck up in a circle, with the ends fastened fogether to form a sort of cone. Over the framework was stretched a covering of coarse material. At one end there was a loose flap for a doorway, and the whole top of the tent around the ends of the poles was open, and from it came a thin line of smoke.

Betty Was Whisked Through the Air.

Betty peeked inside. The room was about 15 feet wide and 10 feet high in the centre. There was no furniture, only a few cooking pots, wooden spoons and wooden bowls stood around. Before a fire which blazed in the centre of the room sat a quaint little woman hair uncombed, her face dirty and grasy. On her head was tied a blue bandana kerchief, around her shoulders was thrown a reddish brown shawl. But in her lap lay a queer-looking lay die, and from it peeked a rosy baby face.

that's a komse, a kind of cradle made of strips of wood covered with leather." whispered Gocomeback. "It's just large enough to hold the baby. The little one is rolled up in sheepskin and put into the cradle. Moss is stuffed all around it and the leather covering is laced securely, so only the baby's faceshows. The wooden piece is to protect the baby's head. The straps fastened from the head to the foot of the komse the mother throws over her shoulder. from the head to the foot of the komse the mother throws over her shoulder when she walks about."

Gas and wind in the stomach ac-companied by that full, bloated feeling after eating, are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid indigestion.

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate ling of the stomach, often leading to stritis, accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart. organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation, and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. London, Ont. Tuesday, July 23. A MORE EFFECTIVE DEMOCRACY.

NADA IS as free and as democratic as any country in the world, but is it as effective as it should be? It is a common saying in Canada that we got our politics as we got our religion. There is quite sufficient proof of this fact, and it is time that a better and more effective democracy ruled us.

The history of the province of Ontario is ilinto the laws until the laws of the province of the organization of a union has improved the and laughed at her, and one morning Ontario were as near perfect as possible. There force both in spirit and personnel are no party questions to be dealt with in the Ontario Legislature, and there are no Tories, in the early sense of that term, in the House. The last Tory was the Hon. Matthew Crooks Cameron.

The dangers still threatening are real dangers. They are not Tory dangers, and are more likely to be Socialistic dangers, dangers that come from an appeal to the gallery, and that is why we need a more effective democracy. One of the greatest, if not the very greatest, questions likely to engage the attention of Canada is, "Shall the railways be owned and operated, or only controlled, by the people?" This is a great and difficult question, one requiring thought and study. Another question akin to it has been started by the resolve of the premier of Ontario to set apart $2,000,000 to be loaned to the municipalities for build houses.

When peace is restored and the boys come home there will be many new questions to solve. We speak lightly of "government of the people, by the people, for the people." We see the people voting with scant knowledge of the meaning of their vote. They do not realize their responsibility. There is not a sufficient body of independent, reading, thinking voters. This is necessary in order to form a more efficient democracy than we now have. If every voter studied the public questions and used his own judgment, the Government of the country would be very much more careful and reliable. We would soon have every member of Parliament a student, a probable statesman, and not a mere politician. The best motives and high-minded purposes would guide the destiny of

There appears to be a lull in the production of statesmen equal to these in Canada. Sir George E. Foster is of the old school and is easily first as a Conservative, while Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Hon. W. S. Fielding, as Liberals, Belgium. It's coming. quite meet all expectations. There are no doubt other good men coming to the front. We are not, however, so much concerned for leaders in Parliament, as for an educated, reading, independent electorate. When the franchise was lowered the character of the member was lowered, and if the knowledge and capacity to decide of the elector is increased and improved, we will soon again have leaders quite equal to those named. The danger, that seems real, from the introduction of the spirit of socialism, public ownership, and the various questions likely to follow the war, will be averted. They are all great questions requiring much study, questions which, if once carried, will be hard to get rid of, questions that will introduce elements of danger that will make democratic government a farce. There is nothing truer than that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," and at no time was eternal vigilance more necessary than now.

It would be in the public interest if all the political associations throughout Canada discussed these coming questions.

N OTHING HAS been more pronounced since the United States entered the to do its utmost to facilitate and assist in the winning of an early and decisive victory. Magnificent lead has been given by Samuel Gompers, and labor has stood solidly behind him, refusing even to meet or hold any dealings with enemy labor agents. The latest manifestation of that spirit comes in the notification from the American Federation of Labor to Canada's railway shopmen, that failure to accept the terms of the MeAdoo award and decision to strike would mean the ean celling of the federation eharters with every one concerned. This has had tremendous weight with the shopmen and the danger of a strike is over. While emphasis is laid on the belief of the Americans that the award is fair and just, one cannot doubt that the threat was dictated by the feeling that a strike would be inimical to the feeling that t determination of American organized labor to do its utmost to facilitate and assist in the win-was reached quickly. It may be that many will contend that the award does not do justice to the shopmen, and that they were justified in making further de-mands, while others will argue against such views; but none with the interests of the country at heart will fail to rejoice because trouble has been averted. Any strike in essential industries at this time is a misfortune, and the nation suffers. It is the duty of each side in a dispute to go to the limit in concessions to avoid stoppage of work, and in this instance a large proportion of railwaymen, both in the Dominion and across the border, seem to have felt that the companies had gone more than half-way and it was the duty of the men to meet them. There is, by the way, trouble among Can-ada's mail-carriers now which demands a different view, and there is a popular belief that the Government, in its dealings with them, is showing a strikingly bad example to employers of labor.

POLICE CHIEFS AND UNIONS.

F COURSE it is not proper for the policemen of the country to organize themselves into making a living. And she had made unions. But it is perfectly proper for the her living very credibly indeed, as the constables of Canada to have an association.

No doubt the staff. if they believed the scale of chiefs' salaries were too low, they would take some action. If one young man first came under her critichief hears of a good position open, membership cal eye, Alicia Randall sniffed a very in the association will not injure his prospects of superior snift. She was at that point getting in touch with that position.

Police unions have been organized in many picton—and upon those under thirty parts of the country principally for the better—with scorn. She placed Web Rhodes at ment of working conditions. In London the con- twenty-five, when, in fact, he was nearluminating. Less than a hundred years ago the stables have been able to secure one day a week as a harmless impertinence, a mere off as a result of their organization. Further than off as a result of their organization. Further than this they have made no important demands. But filed. He sensed her attitude at oncee

the both in spirit and personnel, and shouted disrespectfully, "Hello, Auntile! How's life?" policemen would not take up their clubs to protect property attacked by other union men. This tect property attacked by other union men. This argument is absurd and insulting. In the first place, very few unions in Canada have ever attacked private property, and in the second no union man would expect the comradeship of labor to make cowards or traitors to their oaths of the policemen who are pledged to protect property and maintain the peace. Rather will their duty become more a matter of honor than before.

The policemen of Canada will not use the club of organized labor upon the communities, nor will they expect the club of insinuation to be levelled upon their right to organize for fair and sensible working conditions. The chief who is afraid of his union men must have some good a reason, and London's chief is not to be counted among these, so far as can be learned.

"How can you be such an impertinent kit?" she demanded angrily.

"You're lucky, young woman," he grined. "The next time I'm planning to kiss you right on the nose. Now, what do you think of that?"

Whereat she laughed. How could she heip it? It was impossible to stay angry at the ridiculous boy. However, she avoided him as much as possible, for he took the most starling liberties with such an ingenuous charm that it was most disconcerting to the reserved Miss Randall, although she knew it was just the overwhelming exuberance of the spirit of his youth. No one could look into his clean, fine eyes without liking him instantly, and, in spite of herself, she could not resent his free-dom as much as she felt that she should, for, you see, Alicia was just a girl-woman, after all.

Jimmy Coon Spoills Groundhog Day.

That was an immense joke on Guy Woodchuck, when Jimmy Coon and Bobby Skunk kept him all day a prisoner in his own house. Guy Chuck and he lets me have carrots, turnips, stood just inside the back door, and threatened to shoot Guy's head of if he dared to show his frouzied head! And the lets me have carrots, turnips, and the stunbourn Guy to his bed-drated to show his frouzied head! And thereated to show his frouzied head! And the lets me have carrots, turnips, and the fit cone took hold of Guy's right ear and Jimmy Coon stood guard in Guy's front hall.

And the rumpus was so terrible that front hall.

And the rumpus was so terrible that front hall.

And the rumpus was so terrible that ground in the rumpus was so terrible that front hall.

And the rumpus was so terrible that ground the at the rumpie of Guy Chuck, and he shouted: "Your a dead Guy, if you don't stop your hollering, and go to your bed-room and lie down!"

SPRINGFIELD .- The W. I. held its July meeting at the home of Mrs. W. I. Atkin, After the business session, Mrs. Davies, whose husband is at the front and who has spent the last two years in England, gave a splendid talk on conditions in the old land. Her description of the air raids was a revelation to the ladies. Mrs. Davies had photos to illustrate her address, which made it especially interesting.

TALBOTVILLE.—The patriotic women of Talbotville held their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon in the schoolroom and report a good month's work, having knit 32 pairs of socks, made 6 suit of pajamas, 3 grey shirts, also paid $10 to the general fund for Christmas supplies for the boys and $2.50 to the prisoners' fund.

And Guy Chuck is very stubborn and pig-headed; and he tried to scarc and bluff Jimmy Coon. And Guy Chuck pushed out his furry chest and shouted to Jimmy Coon, "You let me out of this front door of my house, or I'll knock you into the middle of next week! Don't you know that today is Groundhog Day, My Big Day in all the year, and that I have an engagement with Farmer Jones and the other Farmers; and that I must get out or the Farmers will have no weather?"
"You'll have to walk over my dead body, if you ever get out of this door!" snapped out Jimmy Coon. "I don't believe you have any more to do with the weather than I have. That is all nonsense about your influence over the weather!"
And Guy Chuck gritted his terrible teeth, and started for his front door,

A Rush of Thoughts On the War and Other Things

CAESAR, we who are about to die salute thee," was the gladiators' cry in the arena, when face to face with death and with the Roman populace. Let it be the spirit of every young soldier about to step into the world's broad field of battle to combat the forces arrayed against a true but untried nature! Let him throw his challenge to the Spirit of the World; buckle on his armor of faith in the powers above, with confidence in his own integrity, and good-will towards men. With the planet of truth, the gauntlet of honor and the sword of righteousness, he is armed for the good fight. His enemies are countless—malice, sloth, lust, greed—how many and how terrible are the foes that strike at every turn. But the Allies stand to, ready to do their parts, in faith, hope, love, honor, truth. Make a solid pledge with each and be prepared faith, hope, love, honor, truth. Make a solid pledge with each and be prepared to fight to victory. Constant fighting against unseen foes makes heroes of the stay-at-homes in times like these. Tear out the feeling that life is a grind. You are not fighting; then you are shirking.

To all red-blooded men and women the desire for action in times of tenseness is supreme. Monotony and routine are torture when real deeds are being performed, real lives lived and real and glorious deaths offered for great ideals. They long to get into it, perhaps only subconsciously, but their feeling is the cause of restlessness and discontent. But the officer commanding is duty, and the adjutant responsibility, and they are doomed to guard duty or fatigue at the adjutant responsibility, and they are doomed to guard duty or fatigue at irksome tasks.

Just a constant round of petty duties, isn't it? Pegging away at a type-writer, measuring off yards of silly ribbon, making queer feet fit in new places: bathing, feeding, rocking babies, cooking, sewing, sweeping, dusting; it is not an inspiring array, but it can be made, if not a means of inspiration to you, at least a source of inspiration to others.

If you don't do your part here and now, even if it is only sewing buttons on a man's shirt, you will never get a chance at your great offensive. It may be all defensive warfare for you now, keeping your weapons of confidence, charity and cheerfulness ready to strike back. Some day, in one way or another, each one will go over the top, and your chances for gaining your objective or for coming out alive depend upon the resistance to temptation you The little parts make up the whole, and the cog is as necessary to the wheel as the wheel to the cog. Not even the most menial task can be slighted, but the way the work is done and the spirit you show while doing it prove the kind of soldier you are. There's a morale for us at home, as well as for the army over there. And each one of us by our attitude of hopefulness, spirit of self-sacrifice and grim etermination to carry on must do our share to keep the line unbroken. Once I saw a pair of pictures painted by the same artist and bearing direct relation to one another. One showed a huge lion ready to spring upon an unarmed man, in whose face and whole attitude could be seen wild-eyed terror and an insane fear of death. In the other picture, a crouching lion, in adiness to spring, was held back by the calm, forcible man before him, who readiness to spring, was held back by the calm, forcible man before him, who held a gun poised and a finger on the trigger. The significance could be easily guessed. Each one of us has an enemy to face somewhere in the course of a lifetime. Your lion is lying in walt for you or you are in the hunt for him. Are you going to be the creature half-crazed by fear at sight of the menacing beast? Or will you go after your lion as a well-trained hunter, knowing that before he gets to you your gun can do its work? See to it that your lion comes out into the open; don't let him find you in the jungle.

vice-president, Miss Nellie Cousins; secretary, Miss Doris Liddicoatt; treasurer, Miss Ila Hayman; resident member of executive, Miss Mary Manley; con-resident member of executive, Miss Eertha Fraser.

Meetings will be held on the first Monday of each month. The object of the association is to keep the graduates in closer touch with the university, and to cement the bonds that exist between It to enable the association to display activity in the intellectual and educational life of the city. The society will be a great factor towards a bigger and better London, mentally and morally.

and better London, mentally and morally.

At the conclusion of the meeting yesterday it was moved by Miss Katherine Wardrope and seconded by Miss Martha Weir that the Alumnae Association hold a reception on Thursday, August 8, for the summer school students of the university. This will also be an opportunity for reunion for all the graduates. The Alumnae Association of Western Usiversity wish to express their appreciation of the work of Dr. K. P. R. Neville; registrar of the university, in managing so completely all the details connected with their organization.

The Wedding March was played by Miss Irene Hilbert. After the ceremony 50 sat down to a dainty lunchedn. An enjoyable evening was spent with sing and dancing. Miss Lorette Hilbert gave an exhibition of fancy dancing, which was greatly appreciated by the guests. The bride received many beautiful and useful gifts. The young couple left on their honeymoon trip for points west. The groom is a returned soldier and other returned soldiers present were Sergts. Wm. Taylor, Davis and Smith, Corps. Wm. Chivas, Griffin, Beli, Ptes. Alex Lawrence, Elrick, Burgess and Britton.

THE MAN WHO DOES THINGS.

Let us look for a moment at the man of action, the man of bone and muscle, the man of brain and vision. He built the pyramids and temples of Egypt, raised up the monuments and artistic triumphs of Greece, crossed the plains of Arabia on horses and camels before the dawn of history. He wore the coat of mail of the Roman legion; he penetrated through the northern forest of Europe, he pioneered in barbarous England. Thousands of years ago he built ships and sailed them, and finally drove them across the sea. Thus he found two new continents. On this continent of America, he cut down forests, built roads, established industry and government. fought battles for freedom, invented and built thents. On this continent of america, he cut down forests, built roads, established industry and government, fought battles for freedom, invented and built steamships, telephones, telegraphs, cotton gins, aeroplanes, railroads, submarines, thousands of electric light and power stations, harnessed our great warterfalls, organized giant corporations for availing of the riches of the bowels of the earth and producing all kinds of material for the use of man. He explored darkest Africa; found both the North and South Poles, and rolled back the map of available to restore thousands of miles. This man drives his stampships at thirty knots. able territory thousands of miles. This man drives his steamships at thirty knot an hour, his locomotives at 70 miles an hour, his automobiles at 100, and his aeroplanes at 120. He climbs mountain grades with his 2,000-ton freight trains by planes at 120. He climbs mountain grades with his avoice to the electric power, fills valleys and levels, mountains, tunnels, our great rivers, and large cities with a network of transportation facilities. He climbs the highest mountain peaks, digs into the depths of the earth for her treasures of gold and other precious and useful metals, and brings coal to the surface to make millions of homes cheerful with genial warmth. He tills the fields and the broad prairies, manufactures all fabricated products, and braves all dangers of the elements to carry the results of his labor to the farthest ends of the earth. He mans our navies and faces death in all the modern and awful phases of our present warfare, navies and faces death in all the modern and awul phases of our present warfare. This man loves action. He is not satisfied with slow languid motion, but demands speed, greater and ever greater speed. And so his horses, his locomotives, the machines in his factory, his automobiles, his aeroplanes, his farm implements, his ocean liners, his motorboats are being constantly studied, constantly improved, and constantly raised to higher and higher performances in speed of production, speed of transportation, speed of accomplishment.

This man not only demands speed, but he demands space. The man who can travel at one hundred miles an hour, needs many hundreds of miles in which to travel. This is why nearly all of his activities are in the big out-of-doors; this is why he is constantly exploring and pioneering in order to extend his boundaries. He is craving for more space in which to breathe, more scope of action. When he has made a success of a small venture in a small community, he seeks the he has made a success of a small venture in a small community, he seeks the larger environment, the possibilities of greater opportunity. When he has demonstrated the possible profits of the development of an enterprise with a small capital, he seeks the greater capital with which to create and develop the larger possibilities to the business he knows. He must and will progress. This is the man who does things. He is the man to whom we owe so much for what we use and enjoy in the betterments and greater privileges of the life we live. All hail to

RESOLVE TO SAVE—IT PAYS.

RESOLVE is what makes a man manifest; not puny resolve, not crude derminations, not errant purpose, but that strong and indefatigable WILL, which treads down difficulties and danger, as a boy treads down the heaving frost-lands of winter, which kindles his eye and brain with a proud pulse-beat towards the unattainable. WILL makes men giants.

Practically the WILL is just a way a man has of being and doing. The WILL is man's inherent nature-tendency to act—to do something. Have the WILL to save and you will save, something, every week, no mat ter how small the income. The smaller the income the smaller the saving must of necessity be, but the practice and habit of saving will be maintained as well with the few cents as with the few dollars. Besides the mastery of WILL over inclination is maintained, and that is an asset to character.

In the early years of the writer's first experiences in employment he was closely associated in office with a young man who had previously saved just enough to bring him from Lancashire, England, to Toronto, where he was imenough to bring him from Lancashire, England, to Toronto, where he was immediately employed by the Grand Trunk Railway at a salary of $28 per month. It was six weeks before he received his first pay, during which his board and lodging was vouched for by the agent at the station where he was employed as night switchman. When he came from the pay car with his $28 the agent asked him how he intended distributing the money, to which he replied: "I owe six weeks' board, $21: washing, $2.50; a pair of shoes, $3.50; and will deposit the other dollar with the Canada Permanent in Toronto." Some years after the writer had occasion to make inquiry about the young man, and learned he was one of the most successful farmers in the county of Hastings, and a raiser of thoronghired cattle. The possession of money makes its own opportunity. How thoroughbred cattle. The possession of money makes its own opportunity. How few are willing to save even the small amounts necessary to grow a fund with which to "do things"? Doing things makes the man who finishes one job ready which to "do things"? Doing things makes the that will be arn is developed.

To create and save is noble; to spend before creating is as ignoble as it is dishonest. Our actual needs rarely strain the rewards of service, but our wants more often exceed our maximum income. The continued exercise of the WILL TO SAVE not only paves the way to better things in the enjoyment of life, but builds a character that will stand erect and unswerving in the fiercest storm that blows. It pays to save, and when done systematically as a part of duty to your-self and the community in which you live and enjoy the privilege of work, be-comes a pleasure and establishes a dignity of manhood that spurns niggardli-

THE WAR AND ITS EFFECT ON WORLD TRADE.

Our thoughts at present are centred on the great world struggle and the scenes which are being enacted across the sea. Brave men have been holding the line under great pressure, and, to the faint hearted, the margin between Government under a democracy, or that under an autocracy, has appeared to be growing thin. The pressure of the central powers continues as they have apparantly reached the conclusion that it is much better to sacrifice one million or more men within a few weeks than to lose, through a waiting policy, one million or more distributed over each year.

The France-Prussian war resulted disastrously for France, which, as a condition of peace, was obliged to pay the German empire an indemnity of five billion francs and code to her the important provinces of Alsace and Lorraine. The misfortunes of France represented a new future for the German nation as she came into possession of rich iron and coal deposits which have been leading factors in her industrial development. These made it possible for her to enter the present war, for without them the great Krupp and other war manufacturing concerns war, for without them the great Krupp and other war manufacturing concerns would have been helpless. The German empire has further strengthened her position by obtaining more coal and iron in French and Belgian territory, also oil position by obtaining more coal and iron in French and Belgian territory, also on in Rumania.

Prior to her participation in the war with France, Germany was a comparatively small country, having a population of less than thirty-nine millions, the greater part of whom were dependent upon agriculture. The nation was favored by the largest amount of potash owned by any country. Certain of her capitalists also controlled vast deposits of nitrates in Chile, which was freely used for fertilization. Under intensive cultivation the land has been made to produce its full quota for home consumption.

The neutral countries have charged the German Empire with the entire responsibility for the present war. This has been emphatically disclaimed, and she has stated that it was due to English intrigue inspired by trade jealousy. The Lichnowsky memorandum, recently published, shows that during the years he was ambassador to Great Britain, down to the declaration of war in 1914, the attitude of the British Empire was friendly, and that it made every possible effort to avert the war. He tells us of the now-famous meeting of the German and Austrian military leaders, also statesmen, at Potsdam on July 5, 1914, at which time, while all the rest of the world was ignorant of the impending storm, the aggressive policy was agreed upon, and the final preparations for war were the aggressive policy was agreed upon, and the final preparations for war wer

WALL STREET CONDITIONS.

The collapse of Russia had a tendency no doubt to greatly raise the hopes of The collapse of Russia had a tendency no doubt to greatly raise the hopes of the German people, and recent developments must have been equally disappointing. However, what command Germany has of Russian resources has been of material assistance to her and will doubtless prolong the war. But it is evident that already Germany has reached the zenith of her triumphs, and we may expect to see a lessened military power from now on to say nothing of fomenting internal troubles and a depreciating financial strength.

The United States, having proffered Russia moral and financial support, awaits further developments before going further into the enterprise of rehabilitating an unstable people. It is evident that a nation composed as Russia is of a majority of weefully ignorant population, must lean upon a strong habilitating an unstable people. It is evident that a nation composed as Russia is of a majority of woefully ignorant population, must lean upon a strong leadership which must come from a nation of intelligent direction and financial strength, and it seems as if this burden can only fall upon America since the Russian people would necessarily fear less from national selfishness on the part of the United States than any other.

The stock market is daily developing more stable strength, with forward and back movements, but always with gradual enhancement of values in every adjustment, and is perceptibly reaching a higher range of prices that augurs well for safety in every commitment or recessions.

adjustment, and is perceptibly reaching a higher range of prices that augurs well for safety in every commitment or recessions.

While the Government and the railroad owners have been a long time getting together on final points of agreements the assurance of dividends no longer occupies the attention of the experienced investor. The present wheat crop showed a little falling off in the last Government report, but the expectation still remains around $30,000,000 bushels, an increase of $240,000,000 bushels over last year. Corn shows an expectation of $,160,000,000 bushels, which is equal, if not a little better than 1917 crop. War requirements are calling for and practically absorbing every available dollar, but excessive profits are being made in almost every industry, and the Government's admirable system of collecting the excess to litself, promises well for its ability to avoid any marked stringency.

This preventive is materially helped by the continued disbursement of treasury notes in the amount of $750,000,000 every fortnight, and the people's confidence in the Government and its splendid financial organization for meeting every untoward condition as it materializes, remains unabated. On the whole investors still refuse to notice any clouds on the horizon if there are any, especially when the war sky is daily brightening, and good stocks continue going into strong hands for the favorable yields assured.

As the present war news is daily brightening, the prospects for an early victory for the Allies along the west front, this confidence will remain only to increase the determination of investors not to let all the good things get away from them.

DELAY IS DANGEROUS

A certain doctor refused to recommend a middle-aged man for life insurance recently. He said: "I would like to help you, but I cannot. You have waited too long. It is impossible for you to get insurance.

The man almost begged for a favorable opinion. He said that he had been thinking about taking out insurance for a number of years, but felt that he was in good health and that he would make application a little later.

These cases are of daily occurrence. Men who want to carry life insurance and who know that they ought to do so, have put off taking out a policy until it is too late -the doctor must refuse to pass them.

It is the duty of every man who has a family to carry a reasonable amount of insurance. He strives to accumulate property to leave to his widow and children. Life insurance is property, yes, more than that, it is eash, money in hand at the end of life. Then, too, life insurance goes direct to the wife and children for their support and pro-

Don't put this off until too late. Get insurance now while young and in good health, and at a much lower rate than postible if you wait until some future time. Every year of delay lessens your chance of passing.

Can any man guarantee that after the war is over he is going to have more cash to spare for life insurance than he has today? Fill out and return the coupon below:

Argument That Gove. Did Not Sanction April 30th Orderin Council.

BOWS TO SUPREME COURT.
CALGARY, Alta., July 22.—Before Chief Justice Harvey in chambers today, the application of J. E. Varley, asking for a stay of proceedings pending the hearing of the Lewis appeal, was refused by his lordship, stating that the judgment of the supreme court of Canada must be upheld. Notice of appeal was then given by Mr. Varley, and it was suggested that the men could formally be released by the military order given and they could at once be taken under the M. S. A. The court stated that the previous order made by Mr. Justice Stuart could only be enforced by order of the court or flat from the judge.

small output of barley flour will be the only other substitute that this company will attempt.

Mr. Hunt said that he believes it is the intention of the Canada Food Board to insist upon 20 per cent substitution in the manufacture of all food demanding wheat, in order to release as much wheat as possible for overseas utilization. At present the substitution is on a ten per cent. basis, or million and a half to demanding the barrels will be necessary. Just twice as much wheat must be allotted for the army's use in order to compensate for submarine loss.

The Canada Food Board, according the army's use in order to compensate for submarine loss.

The Canada Food Board, according the army's use in order to compensate of white corn flour to confectioners and biscuit manufacturers, urging bakers and householders to use the white and yellow blended variety.

The drain upon the countries' reserve supply of wheat has been very great, and this together with the comparatively small crop this season, makes it probable, Mr. Hunt believes, that even if peace were declared, wheat flour substitutes will be necessary for several years.

Jam Must Be Used Largely This Winter as Butter Substitute

OTTAWA, July 22.—The Canada Food Board calls upon the people at summer resorts and residents in suitable areas to make an immediate drive on the wild berry patches. Small fruits in general are scarce this year, but the wild berries are as abundant as usual. The main argument for gathering the wild berries freely is the shortage of butter in Europe. During the winter of 1918-19, jam must be used extensively on this continent as a substitute for butter and the finest flavored jam in the world is that which is made from wild berries.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A MORAL RIGHT.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

If the employees of a factory are asked to contribute to a picnic are they not entitled to know how their money was spent and what becomes of the surplus, if any?

The writer works at a place where there are a great many male and female employees, who were asked to double their subscriptions for their annual picnic. Outsiders gave many of the prizes to be competed for, and the company buys the tickets for traveling. Under those circumstances, don't you think the employees are entitled to know exactly what becomes of their money? Yours truly.

Anxious.

Ans.—Certainly. While the employees may have no legal right, unless they gave the money with an understanding as to its disposition, they have the strongest kind of moral right to the information, and there can be no logical reason for withholding it.

OF NATURAL GAS NOW

Clayworkers' Association Is Granted Extension.

C. S. Parker, president of the Western Ontario Clayworkers' Association, received word last night from Chairman McIntyre of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board that the use of natural gas to the plants making tile and brick represented in the appeal of the association had been extended to November 1 matter of continuing the supply to these plants under consideration. The urgency of making tile as an aid to greater production has been a strong factor in inducing the board to make the decision.

The tile and brick makers will, it is reported by the officers, speed up production as never before, with the result that more of their product, especially tile, probably will be manufactured before November, than in any previous year. Farmers are clamoring for tile in all parts of Western Ontario.

C. S. Parker, president of the Western Ontario Clayworkers' Association, received word last night from Chairman McIntyre of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board that the use of natural gas to the plants making tile and brick represented in the appeal of the association had been extended to November 1.

This is the best news the tile and brickmakers have had since the agitation commenced to cut off the supply of natural gas. The association has advanced its claims for natural gas advanced its claims for natural gas rigorously, and has been represented at the hearings by J. M. McEvoy. Extension was first granted for two weeks following the recent hearing at Chatham, and the railway board took the control of the metal industry in America has been wiped out by Alien Property Custodian Palmer, in the seizure of several of the largest metal concerns in the United States with ramifications to South America, Mexico and Canada. Mr. Palmer said that he had taken over the business of L. Vogelstein & Co., Inc., of New York city, with assets of more than $3,000,000, and Berr Sondeheimer & Co., Inc., also of New York city, with assets of Soloo,000,000.

German Control of Metal Industry in America Throttled

In addition the custodian has seized Phones Personal States in the America, Metals Company, controlling some sixteen companies in this country, and South America, and Staliforth & Co., of New York city, dealers in silver bullion with capitalization of $1,000,000.
