Council Tackles the All Absorbing Problem.

The Ghief Recommends an Increase of 14 Men in the Paid Department.

On Wednesday the board of fire commissioners met at the Yukon commissioner's office to consider the momentous matter of preparing a fire department which would protect Dawson. There guests at the McDonald. were present Messrs. Ogilvie, D. W. Davis, Girouard and Chief Stewart.

The first matter brought up was the preparation of the engines for work. It was decided to erect two engine houses on the ice at once.

The chief stated that two horses could be secured for their keep this winter. city. He was directed to procure them at once. Two stables will be necessary.

The fire limits were extended south to the Klondike river, thus taking in the new business district south of the barracks, which has sprung up since the passage of the fire ordinance.

The chief put in a requisition for 14 more men, which, added to the six already in the department, will make a total of 20 men, 10 for each station. The chief was asked to furnish a list of the men wanted, the duties for which they were desired, the remuneration expected and the degree of imperativeness of the requisition. The commission decided to recommend the filing of the requisition by the council.

The amount of the appropriation required from the revenues to properly protect Dawson was discussed and $70, 000 agreed upon as the least for which it could be done. Recommended to the Boers Meet Defeat.

Skagway, Oct. 26. - Advices just arrived by steamer give the following of the Boer war.

On October 14th the Boers marched on Mafeking 8000 strong. The British garrison, consisting of light artillery, cavalry and gatling guns numbered less than 4000 all told. The British advanced to meet the enemy and engaged them for two hours, after which they retreated into the town, drawing the Boers after them. The triumphant Boers were seen to be massed over a mine loaded with high explosives. At a signal the button was touched and a dearening report was immedately followed by an eruption as of a volcano. It is rumored that fully a thousand Boers were killed.

An escaped friendly from Johannesburg reports the capital filled with the wounded Boers, they having been brought in from Mafeking by train.

Col. Baden Powell is credited with having slaughtered fully 300 Boers with Maxim guns in the engagement at Mafeking.

In Natal the home troops have engaged bands of marauding Boers at Besters station, ten men being reported injured.

At Ampers 20 dead tell the severity of the skirmish. The injury to the enemy is not known. All agree that the Boer attack at Bester's was both illy planned and poorly carried out, the rapid firing guns quickly discouraging the foolhardy rushes of the burghers. The Basutos are reported to be aiding the Boers and were in the skirmishes with them.

At Kimberly the word is that the skirmishing lines are within 12 miles, with the enemy meeting severe repulses. Armored trains have been attacked but saved. Lieutenant Gallemy, oldest son of the chief justice of Natal, is missing.

Selwyn, Oct. 25.-The situation of the shipwrecked crews and passengers of the Stratton and Irving 1s distressing. The police are issuing rations to the Irving people, and are feeding the Stratton unfortunates.

The police are advising Commandant Perry that the utter destitution of the Stratton passengers may require government aid to bring them to Dawson. It is reported that Commissioner Ogilvie has cabled the minister of the interior for permission to draw on him for $5000 to relieve the destitution.

Selwyn, Oct. 25.-The barracks are filled with destitute to overflowing. Observations have been made of the spot where the wreck of the Stratton oc curred. It happened in 13 feet of water, about 350 feet from shore, a trifle inside of the main channel. MAIL.

Much misunderstanding is prevalent among our American friends as to what constitutes the American mail which is debarred from passage by the Canadianmail contractors this winter. General Supervisor Wilcox was seen by The Nugget the past summer and granted a long interview on American mail mat ters, he being the special United States emissary to straighten things out in the great Northwest. Mr. Wilcox stated positively that there had been a mutual arrangement between the two govern ments by the terms of which there would be absolutely no discrimination in any mail matter for the Skagway-Dawson route, inluding all way points. The American mail which the Canadian government cannot possibly be expected to handle through its contracts is that addressed from one United States point to another, as for instance San Francisco to Circle City. Letters originating in the United States and addressed to Dawson, Selkirk or other river points, become Canadian mail as soon as delivered across the boundary to the proper officials.

We are promised a service this winter much superior to last. The new trail avoids all open water excepting Lakes Lebarge and Bennett. Steamers will ply on these waters, carrying the mail, the rollicking amusement of coarse bufuntil frozen in. The overland trail is even now in working order, and the mail can be rushed right through just, as soon as the river permits of passage to Selkirk.

VULGARITY.

It is probable that no two men in Dawson could agree upon just where to draw the line between common decency and vulgarity or indecency. One man goes into hysterics to see a lady on the street in bicycle abbrevsations, or an actress on the stage in a trifle of lingerie and little else; while another, who believes his feelings to be just as refined, passes indifferently by the nude pictures in the saloons or art galleries, forgets a ribald witticism as soon as heard; is unaffected by the thousand and one shocking indelicacies of everyday life, and sees naught to excite censure in the modern variety stage.

The subject of decency is brought to mind by several communications received from our friends. Several of them, to our knowledge, are new arrivals in Dawson. On the outside they patronized good theaters attended by ladies and gentlemen indiscriminately, where everything that could possibly be construed as a suggestion was rigidly exor. cised. In Dawson they drifted into a they were highly entertained, they would resolve themselves into a committee of the whole for the enforced accordingly.

Dawson varieties are just as they are outside, excepting perhaps that they are better. A man is not worldly wise who goes there with the expectation of hearing a sermon on the virtues of celibacy.

Theaters are like merchants, in that they strive to give the public what it wants and what it is willing to pay for. Performers are very sensitive to public approbation and public deprecation, and their salaries depend upon their foonery, witty impersonation, "risque" songs-in fact the low comedy of the theater to the refined humor of Charles Lamb, it would appear to us as if our heart. correspondents have a huge field open for them in the "elevation" of the audience, after which the stage will be found to have quickly "elevated" itself in conformity with the improved public tastes.

VAGRANCY.

In nineteenth century civilization the courts of the land are supposed to be devoted to justice. Whenever they miss the ob ect for which they are established, it is for the public and the press to call their attention to the fact of their wandering from the purpose of their establishment. It was never intended in the economy of government that its courts of justice should be debased to revenue raising. Assessors and tax collectors and sheriffs are provided for this end-not courts of justice. It is as out of place to reduce a court to the level of a profit making machine as it would be to compel the Yukon council to take in washing to increase the public revenues. If a man is charged with any offense which brings him before the magistrate he is either guilty or not guilty. If not guilty, he should go variety theater, and while they admit scott free, without having to settle the costs. If guilty, the record should say so and the man should be dealt with

The incongruities of the case are apshun their fellows; stuff their ears with share of the necessary taxes to run the territory. Though a free miner, he is arrested under the sweeping charge of vagrancy. Not 500 men in Dawson could free themselves of that ambiguous charge if arrested. One may have quit his last job or have been fired a week ago and have money to burn, yet be a vagrant. So it happens that though Lightpost proved himself a trustworthy working man, guiltless of aught but patronizing games which are tolerated in Dawson as long as run on the square, it was optional with Magistrate Perry to discharge, mulct, or imprison. By paying the costs Lightpost secured an

Fines under this vagrancy law have amounted to over $7000 in a single day, the men paying their fines and immediately returning to their tables and their games. Gaming is considered legitimate in Dawson, and is probably run more open and square here than in powers to please. If a crowd prefers any place in America. That the laws, the courts and the machinery of justice should be debased to the level of taxcollecting is a sorry sight to anyone having the dignity of those courts at

Harry B. Jones and Joseph Kelly Convicted of Theft.

They Robbed the N. W. M. P. Canteen of Beer-William Sykes Sentenced to Six Months.

Harry B. Jones and Joseph Kelly, the latter a private soldier in the Yukon judge alone. The facts of the case snowed that on a night during the past week the prisoners entered the Canteen watchouse of the N. W. M. P. in the Barracks square, and stole several bottles of beer. The accused were detected in the actual commission of theft by Constable Cobb, one of the night quards. Entrance to the building was had through an open window, through which Jones entered and passed the beer out to Kelly. The prisoners offered no substantial defense to the accusation; but pleaded in paliation of their offense the fact that they were drunk. Mr. McCaul, their attorney, success fully contended that the evidence failed to establish house-breaking in that all the testimony tended to prove that the window had not been broken open by the prisoners; but that the sash was raised sufficiently when they arrived to admit the entrance of a person.

Judge Dugas decided that he was not

The evidence showed that Sykes bought from the soldiers one box of sugar, four boxes of canned beef, one can of coffee, one case of vegetable soup extract, one box of biscuits, one box of soup, one sack of beans and one sack of rice. It was not disputed that these provisions had been stolen from the government cache at Selkirk, but the prisoner contended that he was not aware of this fact when he made nis purchase. THE STROLLER'S

Nellie Cashman, who was wrecked on the steamer Stratton last Tuesday, has led every stamped for the past 25 years, and will be seen, without any doubt, in the early spring at Nome. At one time Nellie was running, as she usually did, the leading miners' boarding house in Kingston, New Mexico, during the big silver excitement of 1886.

McGoverin was playing in hard luck and owed Nellie Cashman several months' board. He gained the reputa-tio of being a "hoodoo," as he had been furnished one grub stake after anbeen furnished one grub stake after another and always wound up at the losing end. He made one last desperate effort, however, partly through the influence of Nellie and particularly by favore come of a local celebrity called "Pug Faced" Harding," a store keeper and local sport. McGoverin disappeared immediately and was not seen for several weeks, when one day the town was thrown into the most intense excitement by the reappearance of "Mac," who had relocated the property and started a drift from the bottom shaft due east and had worked in but five feet when he discovered the mineral. A peculiarity about the ore was that it seemed to party went with "Mac" down the shaft to see for themselves and sure enough there was the ore, and they scraped and scraped it through the hole until half a ton lay in the drift before them. sight all sacked and ready for shipment to the smelter. It dawned on the crowd gradually that the drift led into an-ther cross cut from the adjacent mine and that the ore was stored there pre-paratory to shipment. "Mac" climbed up the ladder and shot into Nellie's, packed his blankets and shook the dust of Kingston from his feet forever, and the big strike of the Calamity Jane became a byword in Kingston, as Moose-hide is a jest in Dawson.

Ceremonies That Marked the Laying Away of Constable W. L. Purser.

On Monday afternoon, at the Barracks hospital, Constable William Leigh Purser, of the N. W. M. P., died of quick consumption. The deceased was a native of Bristol, England. During the summer of 1897 he was stationed at the police post at Linderman, and afterwards he was assigned to duty at Tagish. About two months ago, he was transferred to Dawson, and almost ever, since his arrival here he was an inmate of the hospital. An impressive military burial was given to his remains on Wednesday. The funeral procession was comprised of his comrades in the police service and a squad of soldiers of the Y. F. F. At the grave three volleys were fired, and the last reveille

TEN DAYS FROM BENNET.

Ran Night and Day and Escaped Untold Dangers.

Counted 156 Scows in Perilous Positions-Saw Some Sink-Goods Piled Up on Bank.

John Smallson and Jake Ives arrived in Dawson afoot on Thursday morning, having made the remarkable time of ten days from Bennett, most of the distance being made in a Peterborough canoe. Mr. Smallson was interviewed by a Nugget man on the condition of affairs up the river:

"On the 15th we left Bennett against the advice of everyone. We had a fair wind and were lightly loaded, so that our sail carried us to Cariboo very rapidly. Here we found 14 scows tied up waiting for a temporary blockade of ice to go out. The ice had blown in from the lake, but we carried our canoe around and lost less than a half an hour. The nights were moonlight and we ran almost continually.

Counting the ten scows which were to leave Bennett immediately behind us, we have passed 156 toaded scows between Bennett and Dawson. At Bennett it was the presumption that navigation would not close until about November 10, and acting upon that theory they were hurriedly building a lot of more boats at Bennett, and there may easily be 40 or 50 more than we counted on the way to Dawson. The teeling against the C. D. Co. at Bennett was running high when we left. A good many of the belated merchants claim to have been guaranteted delivery of the goods which are now either on bars, sunk or frozen in "all the way between Bennett George Tompkins pleaded guilty to plain drunkenness and to sleeping on the public thoroughfare. When arrested he submitted quietly, and this fact extenuated his offense, Ouly a nominal fine of $1 and costs was imposed.

At Hootalinqua, the ice was running so strong that we sledded our cancer along the shore and edge ice. The Linguist scow was crushed against the left bank and most of the goods were lost, the trunker of $1 and costs was imposed.

Donaldson, Hatton and Lydian each secured judgment for $34 wages and costs against the Victoria-Yukon Trading Company.

The Lablin scow was badly twisted and will go down if the ice gives may. At Selkirk we saw four boats on a long floe, and from the actions of the crews they were preparing to desert them. They were on a bar above Selkirk and ware pushed accusing to the control of the parties. On Thursday, Frank Lightpost had a sudden jam of ice on which they floated off. The rough handling had evidently injured the boats.

On August 11th, Robert Bruce gave J. D. French $1300 in trust to be expended by the latter in buying an outfit at Skagway for the former. French went outside and returned recently, but has made no accounting in reference to the money. French is now accused of misappropriation of funds. What struck us as remarkable was the number of abandoned scows we saw.

In many cases I believe the crews had attempted to escape and had been swamped.

But Woodworth Makes His Point and Deputy Sheriff Carter Has Ten Days in Which to Settle Affairs.

Deputy Sheriff Carter was before his lordship Monday on a demand made by the judge that he at once render an accounting of his office. Carter was represented by Attorney Woodworth, who Sheriff Harper, as assistant. Moneys running up into the tens of thousands were handled there, and to say the least the system of bookkeeping was lax. But there had been absolutely no at- sives tempt at concealment, and his attorney believed if sufficient delay could be se-

On Monday his lordship became irri tated at the delays, and peremptorily ordered a final settlement. Woodworth replied that to order a settlement by the sheriff was the privilege of the j dge, but that, as shown by numerous author ities, the sheriff had ten days in which to render his account, after being order ed to do so

His lordship immediately ordered ex-Corporal Carter arrested, but reconsidered it afterwards upon Carter's agreement to be in court each day at 10 a. m.

It was at this point his lordship wondered why Woodworth had not spoken of the ten days grace before, and hear ing that some funds cabled from England were in the possession of the lawyer, remarked that he had "better look to himself also."

The attorney replied that he wasn't afraid for himself, and he hadn't considered it necessary before to refer to the ten days of grace allowed by the

The system which allowed of such a state of affairs as has developed in Carter's case is egregiously wrong. Magpaltry bond of $2000 for an office which often handles more than that amount in a single day. His magisterial and po lice duties required so much of his time that Carter was appointed deputy sheriff without bonds. Besides the funds which Carter handled as sheriff, numerous police moneys were placed in his custody for many months at a time. His term of enlistment was out a short time ago, and an auditing of those accounts showed them correct to a pen-ny, and he was accordingly honorably discharged from the police service.

Carter is known on the force as a 'remittance' man, which being interpreted, means one who does not rely upon his small wages entirely for means to live, but receives an additional and tegular remittance from his home, which in this case is in far away England. He has evidently lived well up to his income, a thing easily done in Dawson, even without extravagance, but it is believed the $3000 which is still due in a settlement of the sheriff's accounts will be forthcoming before a final settlement is made.

"It has taken many years," said Gen. Miles, "to bring a fort like Wadsworth into perfect condition, where all of these modern appliances can be operated as one system and utilized to the best possible advantage for harbor and coast defense.

Gen. Miles spoke with much satisfaction of the practical headway that had been made in the experiments at Sandy Hook with heavy ordnance and the newest and most powerful explosives.

Governor Bushnell has been appealed

Hoon, of Belle Center, O., who enlisted in the regular army. He has been sentenced to dishonoralbe discharge and imprisonment in the Bilibad prison at Manila, because, it is claimed, he technically and unintentionally offended Gen. Otis.

Through private letters it is learned that Hoon, hearing that there was to be an opportunity for promotion to a lieutenant's commission, addressed to Gen. Otis a letter requesting an opportunity to pass an examination. There is a provision prohibiting a private soldier from addressing any communication to his commander in-chief without first securing permission to do so from an in-termediate officer. The boy was in ignorance of this, but he was arrested and thrown into jail. Later he was tried and convicted.

The prisoner managed to get a letter to his father smuggled into the mails by a sympathizing comrade. Governor Bushnell has reterred the matter to President McKinley, with an earnest request that the sentence be modified.

The Thursday evening "Entre Nous" club closed its membership books with the Thursday evening dance. Hereafter applicants will have to submit their names for the approval of the members. At the regular Thursday evening dance it was discovered that the hustling manager, Mr. P. Smith, had been to conin the hall. Rugs two inches deep entirely covered the floor. The musicians stand was also covered with rugs, che nile rugs being again in evidence at the doorways to the ante room.

The hall being filled with merry dan-cers, the whole brilliantly illuminated with Welsbach torches, presented an en-joyable scene of happy sociability, and festive garty, which will make these terpsichorean gatherings the particular event of each fleeting week. The services of Dancing Master W. S. Hawley have been secured for a Tuesday night closs of 'beginners' and finshers.

Who Is He?

A great deal of comment has been raised by the appearance in the windows of a local drug store of an exquisitely painted water-colored calendar, which is placed on sale there. The peculiarity of the case is that no one can be found who will acknowledge being where the calendars are placed on sale, but that gentleman would not disclose the name of the designer. The calendaintily bound with ribbon, to which hangs in a pendant a small nugget.

There are several dainty sketches shown, typical of the country, and it is evidently designed with the intention of making it a souvenir of the Klondike. Mr. Reid said he had received orders for a number of the calendars, which he will ship to the outside via the Nug get Express, with which company he had made special arrangements to get them to their destination by Christmas. On the first page of the work is painted a clever sketch showing a squaw and papoose, on the next a Yukon winter scene, then a canoeist, and followed by splendid picture of a moos

The work is happily designed in all its details, and will make a handsome and appropriate gift to anyone interested in this country.

A Steam Laundry.

Messrs. Johnson and Stumer are to open their new laundry next Monday. Mr. Stumer has had years of experience in the laundry business, he founding the largest steam laundry in Seattle, which he named the Cascade Steam laundry. The same name will be given to the plant here, and it is the intention of the gentlemen to conduct this business after the manner of any first-class metropolitan laundry, using imto in a case of alleged military persecution that for cruelty is akin to that of Dreyfus.

The reason the United States did not assume the debt, or any part of it, was that the debt was incurred almost wholly by Spain to crush the several insurrections. The United States might have assumed to guarantee this debt if the funds named had been expended in internal improvements in Cuba. This government, as is well known, consented to pay Spain $20,000,000 in the case of the Phillipine Islands, solely on the ground that approximately that amount had been expended by Spain in improvements in pended by Spain in improvements in the islands.

From Millions to Poverty.

In Tacoma, Wash., James Collister was burned to death in his room at the Ohio house a few weeks ago. rt is probable that he fell asleep with his clothes on after putting his ipe into his pocket, and that the fire gained considerable headway before he awoke to his danger.
