WHEN NUMEROUS CASES WERE HEARD.

Merchants Must Not Obstruct the Streets With Their Buildings.

AN INDIAN IN GOLF PANTS

Arrested for Being Drunk—Where Did He Get the Hooch?—Two Fines for Not Cleaning Premises.

In police court this morning a large portion of Dawson's population was in attendance. Some were there for obstructing streets and alleys, some for neglecting to clean up their premises, some for throwing garbage on the streets and others for being drunk. As a whole, it looked to the casual observer more like a Democratic convention than a police court, for the reason that people were present from all the walks and shady avenues of life.

The first cases called were a batch of charges of obstructing the streets and alleys with merchandise, buildings, stairs, verandas, et cetera, which to the eagle eyes of Sergeant Wilson and Constable Borrowers did not look good. Those up were all business men, namely: J. P. McLennan, W. H. Twohy, James Hall, D. A. Shindler, O. J. Anderson and J. H. Ward. They one and all wore a conciliatory look that bespoke no intent to violate in any way a law of the land. Capt. Scarth, the presiding magistrate, explained that such practices could not and would not be tolerated, and dismissed the cases. That batch of Dawson's population melted out into the summer sunshine as the cases were severally dismissed.

Greater than the capital of the Banks of England, France, Germany and Russia combined. FALCON JOSLIN, Managing Agent for Yukon Territory and Alaska.

Dolphus S. Leggett was the next man on the list. Dolph was charged with having, in the Gold Hill hotel at Grand Forks yesterday, cultivated an uproarious jag—a jag which caused him to not only be disorderly, but to ruthlessly break a pane of glass of the value of $8.80. A fine of $10 and costs, also the cost of the glass, was imposed. The total, $23.80, was paid and Dolph followed the merchants down town.

William Pelly, a steersman on the good ship John Cudahy, is to "the manor born, sah," in that his veins are wholly uncontaminated with the blood of the white man. William is a full-blooded Indian, but is civilized to such a degree as to wear golf pants and very loud hosiery. At any early hour this morning he had been found in a condition very much the worse for fire-water and was taken by a policeman to the skookum house. In court he looked as though harmony prevailed between the taste in his mouth and the color of his face, both being the color of a well smoked '88. Rex ham. "Tell me," said the court, "where you got the whisky?" William grinned like a ground-hog but said nothing. A fine of $5 and costs was imposed and an order made to hold the Indian in jail 14 days, or until he revealed the particular saloon in which he procured whisky. The latter part of the sentence appeared to move "Lo," as he said he could point out the place where he had obtained the whisky. An officer was sent out in his company to locate the part store that has so flagrantly violated the Indian act as to sell whisky to one of the race.

J. H. Weiter, of the Criterion hotel, was up on the charge of not cleaning up the alley in the rear of his premises. Weiter explained that his premises do not open upon the alley and that he is not responsible for the condition of that thoroughfare. The case was continued until 2 p. m. in order that the premises might be more rigidly investigated.

For throwing garbage on a Second avenue alley, Edward F. Wood was fined $100 and costs; the court declaring that such practices must be stopped.

Chester C. Hull, one of the proprietors of the bath house in the rear of the Fairview hotel, contended that, owing to the peculiar lay of the country by his place, it is not possible to keep the place clean and dry for the reason that water has to run up hill to get out of the slough which is the recipient of the excrement from five different drain pipes. As this is known to exist, Hull was instructed to arrange for the carrying off of the water from his own place of business and informed that the authorities will look after the slough.

Wilson Foster, charged with putting garbage in an alley succeeded in satisfying the court that he is not responsible for its presence. The case was dismissed.

Alex McDonald appeared by proxy to answer to the charge of failure to clean up a lot in the rear of McLennan's dry goods store, which lot Constable Borrowers stated, is in a very filthy condition. The constable further stated that he had warned Mr. McDonald three weeks ago to clean up the lot and that inspection made by him yesterday evening had showed conclusively that the warning had not been heeded. The proxy said the lot would now be put in good sanitary condition at once. But for not already having attended to the matter, a fine of $100 and costs was imposed.

ROUGH RIDERS

Hold a Frontier Demonstration at Oklahoma City July 2nd.

ROOSEVELT THE CENTRAL FIGURE.

Sec. of Local Committee Thrown From His Horse Fatally.

ANOTHER FIRE IN HOBOKEN.

Two Tenement Houses and Twelve Lives Are Destroyed—Seven of One Family Dead.

Oklahoma City, July 3.—A real frontier demonstration and a rousing welcome from Rough Riders, cow punchers and citizens of all classes, white, black and red, were accorded today to Gov. Roosevelt, of New York. The second annual reunion of Roosevelt's famous regiment brought 10,000 strangers into this little Western city. Of the 1100 who originally composed the Rough Rider regiment, about 200 were here to greet the colonel. The surprising part of it is that the city took care of her guests so well. Of course there was some inconvenience, but everybody was in the mood to take things good naturedly, and the second day of the reunion can be described as a great success, with but one distressing feature. That was an accident to Clifton George, secretary of the local committee on reception, who was thrown from his horse and is thought to have sustained fatal injuries.

The central figure was the New York governor, and the guests of the city vied with each other in extending to him a true western ovation. The governor himself rode a black charger in the procession, which passed through the principal streets. He was cheered all along the line, the cry "Hurrah for Teddy" being the prevailing sentiment. He was not attired in the garb of the Rough Riders, but wore a plain black cutaway coat. The brown sombrero and spurs on his boots alone marked him as the colonel of his famous regiment.

The procession was formed by members of the Grand Army of the Republic and the United Confederate Veterans' cavalry from Fort Reno, a band of red men in their native garb, members of the Twentieth Kansas, First Tennessee and First Colorado volunteer regiments and civic organizations of Oklahoma City and Guthrie.

Another Hoboken Fire.

New York, July 3.—Fire in the crowded tenements, Nos. 127 to 131 Adams street, Hoboken, early today caused a loss of 12 lives. Up to noon four of the bodies had not been identified. Three were bodies of men and one was that of a girl about 16 years of age. The names of the identified dead follows: Joseph Nicolas, 28 years; August Bachman, 24 years; August Bendl, 25 years; Ella Winkler, 1 year; Edith Winkler, 5 years; Charles Winkler, 11 years; Frederick Winkler, 9 years; William Winkler, 3 years.

Out of nine members of the Winkler family but four were saved, Mr. and Mrs. Winkler and their two children, John and Martha. Mrs. Winkler was badly burned while clinging to her infant. Her husband had to drag her and the infant through a window to save their lives. The building was a frame structure, three stories high, and several families lived on each floor. When the fire started it burned rapidly, and the firemen could do little either to extinguish the fire or to save life.

Volume of Alaska Trade.

Washington, July 3.—The treasury department bureau of navigation states that in the fiscal year of 1900 the total tonnage officially numbered, added to the United States merchant marine, amounted to 417,34 gross tons. About 33,000 tons of Hawaii vessels and less than 1000 tons of Puerto Rican shipping were admitted to American registry. It is estimated that complete figures will show that the actual additions to the merchant marine fleet during 1900 have been greater than any year since 1856. The vessels built in the United States officially numbered during the year, aggregate 318,863 gross tons, a record surpassed in 1874, when 432,725 gross tons were built and documented. Of the new vessels, 58 per cent have been the large steel vessels built for the lakes. The only vessel built exclusively for the foreign trade has been the Maracaibo, of 1771 tons, for the Venezuelan traffic, while three steamships, of an aggregate tonnage of over 8000 tons for the Puerto Rican trade, are the first maritime results of the annexation of that island.

Full returns probably will show that the total documented tonnage of the United States on June 30, 1900, for the first time since 1865, has again reached 5,000,000 gross tons. The tonnage registered for foreign trade, however, will probably be slightly below 848,000 gross tons, the figures for June 30, 1899. The increase of the Alaskan trade, carried on mainly by registered vessels, has checked somewhat during the year the steady decline in American tonnage registered for foreign trade.

Losses in Boer War.

London, July 3.—The following dispatch has been received at the war office from Lord Roberts:

Pretoria, July 3.

Gen. Hunter's division has crossed the Vaal and should be at Frankfort today where he will be joined by Col. MacDonald's brigade from Heilbron.

Gen. Buller's leading brigade has left Standerton for Graylingstad.

Both here and at Johannesburg several families of the men who have been fighting around us are being fed.

At Heilbron where the food supplies ran out, groceries, meat and other supplies of food are being distributed among the inhabitants under the supervision of the relief committee. Arrangements are being made for the distribution of oats for seed purposes to farmers actually in need of it, those who are unable to procure seed oats in any other manner.

This dispatch was received this afternoon at the war office from Lord Roberts:

Pretoria, July 3.

Gen. Hunter reached Frankfort July 1 without opposition and Hamilton joined him there yesterday. He found two men of the Seaforth's and eighteen of the Derby militia in the hospital. They had been well treated by the Boers.

Metheun reports from Paarde kraal on the Hillbron Kroonstad road, that he has captured the commander of Dewet's scouts, two other prisoners and Andrei Wessels, the head of the Afrikaner bund.

The war office today issued a return of the British casualties in South Africa since the beginning of the war. The total losses, exclusive of sick and wounded, have been 29,706, of which the killed in action were 254 officers and 21,403 noncommissioned officers and men; died of wounds, 70 officers and 619 noncommissioned officers and men; missing and prisoners, 85 officers and 2642 noncommissioned officers and men; died of disease, 133 officers and 4204 noncommissioned officers and men; invalidated home, 844 officers and 18,433 noncommissioned officers and men.

LEGATIONS HOLDING OUT JULY THIRD.

Dreadful Threat of the Young Emperor of Germany.

HAS SWORN DIRE VENGEANCE.

Says German Colors Will Fly From Peking Walls—One Jack Wade Verdict Set Aside.

Washington, July 7, via Skagway,

July 13 — Consul-General Goodnow cables that on the 3d of July the legations were still holding out in Peking, but the situation was most desperate.

The foreign powers had fixed the 7th as the date on which the Japanese troops, which are arriving in large forces, would begin operations. Japan now has 22,000 troops on Chinese soil.

America has ordered 6000 troops to report in China at once, and England, Germany, Russia and France have done likewise.

It is rumored that Japan from use of money has been indemnified by the Chinese powers.

For Germany the situation is a serious one. The young emperor sails on the 9th with an iron-clad division for China. Germany is worked up to the highest pitch over the dastardly murder of her minister to Peking. The young emperor says:

"I go to establish peace with the sword and take vengeance in a manner never before seen by the world. I go to eradicate the dishonor done my fatherland by barbarians. I shall not rest until the German colors fly from the wall of Peking."

Stevenson Vice-President.

Kansas City, July 9, via Skagway,

July 13.—The main fight before the Democratic convention was settled last night by the nomination of Adlai E. Stevenson for the office of vice-president.

Ex-Senator Hill, of New York, and Congressman Towne, of Minnesota, the latter being the candidate of the Populists and silver Democrats as well as having the support of Bryan himself were also before the convention. It is the opinion of the best political judges that Stevenson's nomination will cause a third ticket to be placed in the field.

The western delegates resent Stevenson's nomination. Bryan was nominated unanimously.

FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1900

AN OFF YEAR.

As noted some time ago in these columns, the Democratic national convention has relegated the question of free coinage of silver to a secondary position in the platform and will conduct the presidential campaign largely upon the anti-imperialism and anti-trust issues. It has been a matter of difficulty for the Democracy to formulate a platform of any considerable strength by reason of lack of material with which to work. Instead of bringing national disaster upon the country, as was so freely predicted four years ago, President McKinley's financial policy produced a wonderful effect upon business and gave the states four years of almost unexampled commercial prosperity. As long as general prosperity continues the people will not complain of the national financial policy, and in consequence the cry of 16 to 1, which produced so much enthusiasm in 1896, now provokes but little interest.

The scandals which have been brought to light in connection with the New York Ice Trust have also had the effect of placing a damper upon the ardor of the great unwashed Democracy.

There is scarcely a Democrat of prominence in New York who was not in some manner or other connected with the ice trust, either as an officer or shareholder. When the trust was securely organized the price of ice was doubled in the midst of the very hottest of hot New York weather. This action provoked an investigation, which resulted in an exposure and collapse of the trust, which leaves the Democratic party in a bad way when it becomes a question of seeking support from the country upon an anti-trust platform.

What avail the anti-imperialism plank will be remains an open question. The country in general has accorded such cordial support to President McKinley's Cuban and Philippine policy that it is scarcely probable that a proposition to annul what American arms and American prowess have achieved during the past three years will be very heartily supported. Altogether conditions seem to be very much against any hopes of Democratic success, which accounts largely for the fact that Bryan met with no opposition for the presidential nomination. The year 1900 will certainly go down in Democratic annals as an "off year."

Late issues of newspapers published at Nome give detailed accounts of the wreck of the bark Alaska, which occurred in plain sight of the business portion of the town. Contrary to rumors which have gained circulation in Dawson, no lives were lost in the wreck. The revenue cutter Bear, which was in port at the time, proceeded to the rescue and succeeded in taking off all the crew and passengers in safety. There were all told forty-five persons aboard the ship.

Local devotees of outdoor winter sports will hold a meeting in the rooms of the Board of Trade tomorrow night. It is the intention of the promoters of the movement to organize early and prepare for the construction of an ice rink in front of the city as soon as the river closes this fall. The Nugget wishes success to the idea and hopes that all athletic enthusiasts will attend the meeting.

Every boat which arrives in Dawson brings its quota of heavy machinery to be installed on the creeks. Together with the supplies, which will be forwarded to the diggings, the amount will run into thousands of tons. Notwithstanding this fact, there is still no public bridge for crossing the Klondike, and the ferries and toll bridge still continue their grafts upon the public.

Dozens of inquiries are made daily in Dawson for men who have disappeared from all knowledge of their friends on the outside. Many of these have left for Nome or other parts of the lower country without giving any information to their friends as to their intentions. Such negligence is inexcusable.

During the past few days Dawson has held the distinction of possessing a full-fledged chicken ranch with about 200 inhabitants. Considering the fact that "culled gemmen" are a scarce commodity in Dawson such an institution ought to be a paying investment.

The Paris exposition must have resulted in something like a frost. The festivities should now be at their very highest, but it is very seldom that mention is made of the exposition in the outside newspapers. The Dreyfus affair apparently had its effect after all.

Many Letters From Nome.

The steamer Cudahy which arrived yesterday from St. Michael brought many letters from Nome and, while a very few of the letters state that it is a great country and a good mining camp, the majority of the writers advise their friends to shun the place as they would the shade of the deadly upas tree.

E. B. Condon, of this city, received two letters, both written in Nome on the same day and by men who left here after the opening of navigation. One of the letters describes Nome as being the greatest and richest mining field on earth and says a man can get rich there at almost anything he undertakes. The second writer says that Nome is not a fit place for the abode of either man or beast; that there is little if any snow there for a man to make a living; that pillage and starvation will soon stalk rampant unless the government sends relief boats before fall and lastly, that the writer expects to come back to Dawson without delay.

The reason for the divergence in the tone of the two letters is that the man who saw refulgence on every weed and pebble has a good paying position, while the other man, the man who sees nothing ahead but gloom, with an occasional spoonful of beans on the side, has not been able to secure work.

Chas. T. Suter, of this city, was yesterday in receipt of a postal card containing the following:

Nome, June 24, 1900.
Dear Charles: Don't think of coming down. Beach is very spotted. Only one out of a hundred get anything; lots of disgusted men; people are starting for home; the creeks may show up yet, but they lack water; the climate is cold and windy; couple of smallpox cases in town; typhoid fever is increasing. They say next month the rain starts in. Had a few jobs, but not steady. Might be back soon. Tell Bill Burke not to come.
HENRY WHITE.

A. V. Buel, the young man who attained name and fame in Dawson by the cartoons and caricatures published in the Nugget during the past year, and who left for the beach city six weeks ago, writes back to old associates and says "Don't come, as the place is no good."

The Nugget, if it cared to print all the letters from Nome which were yesterday and today brought to the office, would be able to put out a "Special Nome edition," filled with discouraging news of that place.

BACK FROM THE TANANA.

Conditions Which Now Prevail in the Diggings on That Stream.

Good Pay Struck but No Grub to Be Had—Mosquitoes Hinder Operations—Hard Country to Reach.

G. E. Ward, formerly employed in a local grocery store, returned on the steamer Cudahy from a brief trip into the Tanana country. Mr. Ward left Dawson on June 4 and proceeded to Circle City. At the latter point he purchased a horse with which he packed 150 pounds of grub up to the diggings. He looked over the principal creeks, viz: Homestake, Faith, Hope and Charity, and is of the opinion that considerable gold will eventually be taken from them.

The principal operations were confined to Homestake and Faith creeks, upon each of which he saw men shoveling in from $60 to $100 per day. The diggings are located 60 miles above the confluence of the Tanana and McManus rivers. There is little or no grub in the country and it is so difficult to get in during the summer season that in consequence but little work is possible at the present time.

The mosquitoes are something frightful and several instances are reported of men being driven insane as the result of attacks from the pests. On some of the claims work had to be abandoned on account of the mosquitoes.

Ward's party met a man who was entirely without grub excepting an owl and a camp robber, which he had killed and with no clothing save a badly torn suit of underwear and a worn-out pair of gum boots. His face was literally eaten up by mosquitoes, and the man apparently was out of his mind, being unable to tell his name or from what part of the country he hailed. He was given some salt pork which he devoured raw. In spite of invitations from the party he refused to accompany them along the river and went his way alone.

Mr. Ward says there is much open country still unstaked, but until better means of communication are established the development of the country will be slow. The Tanana, in his opinion, will never prove a Klondike, but will give employment to a great many men as soon as natural obstacles have been sufficiently overcome to admit of free access into the country.

Circle City will be the supply point for the Tanana country, which in winter time can be reached very handily from Circle.

The Stars and Stripes.

"There goes what I should call an unintentional charade," said a man who stands around and looks wise, as Marion Tracie and a member of the N. W. M. P. passed along the street.

"How do you make that out?" asked another man who always wants to know what is going on.

"Easy enough," was the answer. "The solution of the charade that couple are unconsciously presenting is 'Stars and Stripes.'" Then both the theater bands played at once and chaos reigned supreme.

THE YUKON IN PARLIAMENT

Sir Charles Tupper Anxious for Representation.

Alex. McDonald's Royalty Discussed—Major Walsh's Official Acts Referred To—Amendment Defeated.

A late Ottawa telegram to the Victoria Colonist says:

Sir Charles Tupper yesterday gave the leader of the government notice that it was his intention to propose at some future date, on motion to go into supply, the following amendment: "That this house is of the opinion that the time has come when provision should be made for an advisory council—partly elective, partly nominative by the crown, as in the case of the Northwest territories up to 1888—for the administration of the affairs of the Yukon district; that this house is of the opinion that immediate provision should be made for the representation of the said district in the parliament of Canada." The leader of the opposition remarked that he made his suggestion in no hostile spirit to the government policy. He hoped to be able to convince the government and the house that his suggestion was a wise one, that should be acted upon at once.

The prime minister replied that he had already announced the government's policy to give the people of the Yukon representation in the Yukon council.

Sir Charles replied that in that case he would drop the first part of his amendment.

Sir Wilfrid added that he would await with interest the grounds on which the leader of the opposition based his request.

The prime minister moved that by reason of the inability of Mr. John Costigan to serve on the emergency ration committee owing to his unavoidable absence from the city on private business, that he be excused from serving on the committee, and that Mr. Campbell (Kent) be appointed in his place.

The bill to amend the civil service act was put through the committee stage, and stands for third reading. A provision was inserted that where a vacancy occurs among second class clerks, a junior second-class clerk may be appointed to it at $800, instead of $1100, which is the minimum for second-class clerks.

The government bill in amendment of the bank act was finally disposed of by concurrence in verbal changes made by the senate.

On motion to go into supply Sir Hibbert Tupper once more engaged the attention of the house upon another Yukon amendment, referring to the extension of time given to Alexander McDonald, "the king of the Klondike," for the payment of his gold royalty. He set up the plea that small capitalists and mine owners had been driven out of the country, through the rigorous enforcement of this extreme gold royalty, and that the distinction made in favor of Mr. McDonald was therefore a most unjust step. "Sir Hibbert's resolution, by the way, repeated charges against Major Walsh and other officials of having accepted bribes to aid parties who had business to transact with the government to get what they wanted. In conclusion his resolution called for an expression as to whether it would not be desirable to have an independent audit made into McDonald's royalty accounts and an investigation into the treatment he had received."

Mr. Sutherland, the acting minister of the interior, thought that Sir Hibbert was this session giving to the house in instalments his speech of last session, generally regarded as a very foolish effort. The whole case in this instance with all its talk of bribery and corruption was based upon the extension of time given to Mr. McDonald for the payment of his royalty. There was the very best of evidence that Major Walsh and the others had acted honestly, while there was every evidence that every cent due the government by Mr. McDonald had been paid. It was hardly the thing to hear day after day this repetition of condemnation of reputable officials on nothing better than newspaper paragraphs and hearsay trash of one kind and another.

Mr. Duncan C. Fraser, of Guysboro, pointed out that while the proceeding might not have been perfectly regular, the government had never been in any danger of not getting the money owed it. Mr. McDonald was not able to pay the money at the time, but when he got a chance paid it back. He was a man who had done more for the Yukon than any other man there, and nothing that could be said against him there would hurt his credit in the Yukon. The statement that small miners were driven out of the Yukon were utterly unfounded and untrue. Mr. Fielding, minister of finance, laid stress upon this whole attack on Major Walsh as against a man no longer in the government employ, so, that even if the government wanted to punish him they could scarcely do so.

When a division was reached at 11 o'clock the amendment was defeated by 33 yeas to 63 nays, a government majority of 30.

Who Is to Blame?

The city editor of the New York Sun recently picked out one of his smartest reporters and told him to go down to Wall street and see if he could locate some of the big Klondike mining companies, which three years ago were filling the advertising columns of the newspapers and covering many acres of good stationery with glowing descriptions of their wonderful mines in the newly discovered gold fields. In the course of time the reporter returned to his city editor and told him that out of a dozen addresses given him he could not find one of the companies. Ordinarily when a reporter brings in this kind of a report on his assignment, his name very suddenly drops from the payroll, but this was not the case in this instance, for the young man backed up his statements with the testimony of so many janitors, elevator men and directors that he was told to write a "spread story" on what he could not find.

City editors of newspapers are not the only ones who have for a year or two been trying to find some trace of the score or more evaporated Klondike companies. The number of persons who would like to have some information about the companies, and more particularly about the money, they poured into them, would make up a big time in the forthcoming census report. The census bureau would perform a great service to humanity if it would instruct its enumerators to gather information on this point and also to ask the poor unfortunates who plead guilty to the charge of investing whether they ever heard from their money after they received their "stock certificates."—The Mining and Metallurgical Journal, New York.

Succumb to the Heat.

Chicago, June 26.—This was the hottest day of the year, the mercury at the street level reaching 87 degrees, while in the government office in the tower of the Auditorium it was four degrees cooler. There were six prostrations due to the heat, one of which proved fatal.

Sioux City, Ia., June 26.—Today was the hottest of the season, 96 degrees. Several prostrations were reported.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 26.—Two deaths and four prostrations from the heat were reported up to noon. The mercury at noon registered 88 degrees and was rising rapidly. There was great suffering among the mill workers and many plants had to close down.

Sweet Revenge.

She sat in a car with a little smile of satisfaction on her face, for she was well and tastefully dressed, and that means a great deal to a woman. As she moved up to make room for a newcomer a man entered, and as he sat down he said to the comfortable one:

"Why, Jane, this isn't your afternoon off! How did they come to let you out today?"

The young woman grew very red in the face, for all the occupants of the car were looking and listening, and stammered out as she half rose and then fell back in her seat:

"Now look here!"

"How well you're dressed, too!" continued her tormentor. "They must give you $20 a month. Eh? Is your mistress about your size?"

"Now, do be quiet!" cried the uncomfortable one. "If you think—"

"Diamonds, too," went on the miserable man as he caught a flash from her waving fingers. "Or, are they artificial?"

The tormented one sprang up, stopping the car and made a rapid exit, followed by the cause of the trouble, whose farewell remark to the inmates of the car was:

"Well, well, but some people are too sensitive!"

They were husband and wife, and this was his weird idea of taking his revenge for a certain lecture.—Philadelphia Times.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The joint cigarmakers' unions of Chicago unanimously agreed to assess each member 50 cents a week for the benefit of the New York union cigarmakers who are on strike. The assessment will amount to $1,800 per week. Six thousand strikers will be benefited by the donations.

The Pacific Coast Borax Works, controlled by "Borax" King Smith, have been shut down indefinitely, throwing 100 men out of employment. The shut-down is attributed to a heavy advance in the freight rate on crude borax from Death Valley, which hereafter will be refined in New York.

The will of Frederick M. Mooers, the Yellow Aster mining king, who died suddenly in New York city last month, is to be contested by the widow, Frances L. Mooers. The estate, valued at $780,000, was left to Eliza Mooers, mother of the deceased; the widow, a son, three brothers and an aunt.

Eight thousand dollars in gold, inclosed in canvas bags, has been dug up in the garden of the late Capt. R. T. Thomas, president of the Standard Soap Company, to which the money belonged. Capt. Thomas drew the money from an Oakland, Cal., bank two days before his death, on May 28 last.

The reduction in wages at the Brooklyn navy yard will be from 6 to 25 cents a day in the following grades: Plumbers, tin roofers, wireworkers, pattern-makers, toolmakers and boiler-makers. There has been an increase of about 25 cents for the wharf builders and ordnance men.

The carefully planned tariff pools from which the executive officers of the Western roads expected great results are in a fair way of collapsing before they have been made effective. Great difficulty is being found in securing competent men to accept the position of joint agents for the various committees of executive offices.

Work on the construction of the sheathed protected cruiser Denver has been begun. Ninety per cent of the matter to be used in the cruiser is already in the yard. The six cruisers of the Denver class will be seventeen knot boats, and their chief peculiarity is that they will be sheathed with yellow pine and coppered. The advantage of this construction is that the vessels will not have to be docked so often.

Complaint has been filed with the collector of the port of San Francisco by Surveyor Speyer against the Japanese steamer Nippon Maru, for a violation of the shipping laws, the offense being the transportation of two passengers from Honolulu to San Francisco. It is averred in the complaint that the steamer violated the act of congress declaring Hawaii a port of the United States by taking passengers from one port of the United States to another port in the same country.

Short Cabinet Meeting.

Washington, June 26.—The cabinet meeting today lasted only an hour and developed nothing of special interest. It was stated that no troops, in addition to the Ninth infantry have been ordered to China, and while this is literally true, there seems to be no doubt that the government is quietly taking steps looking to the early reinforcement of our small company of marines on Chinese soil.

Secretary Hay took with him to the meeting a message from Consul Fowler at Chefoo, but it was asserted that it threw no light on the general situation. Secretary Long also had one or more dispatches, but they were not made public.

Postmaster-General Smith stated at the meeting that Mr. Rathbone was no longer connected with the Cuban postal service.

CUDAHY SAILS TOMORROW.

A Fast Boat Out to Make a Record-Breaking Trip.

The Columbian Arrives With Freight and Passengers Early This Morning—Her Passenger List.

The sailing date of the steamer John Cudahy has been definitely set for Saturday (tomorrow) afternoon. The boat will be dispatched to St. Michael and in all probability a record trip will be made as the N. A. T. & T. Co. intend to rush the boat through. She is the fastest vessel on the lower river.

The steamer Columbian arrived early this morning and will be dispatched Saturday at 4 a. m. The following passengers came in on her: A. G. Cunningham, Carrie A. Cunningham, Mrs. Cunningham, E. D. Batton, Mrs. M. Hanson and children, Jos. Philanders, Mrs. E. T. Wilburn, Miss Annie Wilkins, Mrs. Annie Lutro, John Berg, P. H. Palmer, M. McDuel, W. B. Ross, J. D. McGreor, T. A. Collins, G. A. Antone, F. McGarvey, Ed McGarvey, Jas. Dugrum, G. Gustavson, Mrs. Temple, Mrs. Loyd, L. O'Brien, Sergt. Graham, Const. Rodgers, L. Anderson, Wm. McDonald, Charles Lane, R. Burch, J. Richardson, Mrs. T. E. Bond, C. E. Hodde, Mrs. Hodde, Jas. Asackbar, C. Nelson, Chas. Minto, M. Hessing, Chas. Wockrow, Gus Hank.

The steamer Ora and Bonanza King sailed last night for Whitehorse.

The A. E. Co. and A. C. Co. are each expecting a boat from the lower river today or tomorrow.

The Empire Line will not have a boat up the river for several weeks, in all probabilities, as the rush to Nome has filled their first ocean steamers with goods for that country to the exclusion of freight for up river.

Frank Luthimer Shot.

Frank Luthimer, a painter and paper hanger, formerly of Dawson, has been shot and killed at Nome.

Luthimer left here early this spring and went out over the ice, buying a stock of wallpaper and other goods of that kind which he shipped to Nome on the steamer Humboldt, taking passage on the same boat. When he got his goods onto the Nome beach a row was in progress, and in the course of the argument arising between the parties in dispute, soon shots were fired. As is often the case, an innocent party got shot. Luthimer was struck in the neck by one of the bullets, and soon died. He is remembered here as a particularly inoffensive and quiet young man.

The Citizens Committee.

At the meeting held by the citizens committee in McDonald hall last evening, Col. McGregor, Alex McDonald, McMullen, Woodworth, Proudhomme and Noel were present.

A resolution was offered by McMullen and seconded by Proudhomme, to telegraph his excellency the governor general, asking what steps had been taken for the holding of an election to elect members to the Yukon council, and the probable date of same. The resolution was adopted, and after some little discussion of minor matters, the meeting was adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

Territorial Court.

In the territorial court this morning the cases of Williams vs. Faulkner and Raymond vs. Faulkner were again before the court.

Mr. Arthur Davie appeared as counsel for the plaintiff in the first named action and Mr. Wade for the plaintiff in the latter, while Attorney Clark looked after the interests of the defendant. Mr. McGillivray's findings, which were published long ago, as the case has been in court several months, was the theme of legal argument during the morning session of court.

Preparing for Winter.

Thousands of cords of wood for fuel are now being rafted down the Yukon to this city. The majority of the wood comes from near the mouths of the Indian and Stewart rivers where there is considerable heavy timber. Each year it becomes necessary to go farther up the river farther back into the interior to procure fuel, and ere the elapse of many years the supply will be practically exhausted. But by that time there is no doubt but coal will have been discovered and developed in sufficient quantity to supply the fuel required not only for domestic purposes, but for the river fleet.

Stock at Large.

A number of persons in Dawson assert that the law which provides for the impounding of dogs should be extended so as to embrace horses, mules and cattle which are allowed the free run of the city. The complaint is made that in the residence portion of the hillside loose stock is very much of a nuisance during the hours of the night when constant tramping and rubbing against cabins is an annoyance to those who are striving to woo nature's sweet restorer. These people do not hesitate to say that the cattle and horses are much more offensive animals to be at large than dogs, besides, dogs do not ruin the sidewalks by traveling over and through them.

CHINESE BLOOD

been allowed the plaintiffs. The defendants have offered to compromise and have asked a postponement until September, pending negotiations. W. B. Allen and Messrs. Jamison and Wells left for the interior this morning on business connected with the case. By the verdict given by the jury claim 5 was awarded to the defendants, but the court set aside the decision by reason of failure on the part of the jury to follow the court's instructions.

Claim Jumping at Nome.

Capt. Dobler, pilot on the Cudahy, while at Nome last fall located and duly recorded a claim on one of the creeks on which gold is known to exist. He spent the winter at his old home in Washington, and when he arrived at Nome on the Roanoke, one of the first steamers to reach there from below, he found his claim had been jumped on an average of three times each week since last fall, and until the outsiders began to get in this spring when it was jumped several times every day. However, none of the jumpers have presumed to work the claim, and the captain does not anticipate any trouble when he gets ready to work it himself.

Thaggard in Hard Luck

J. D. Thaggard who reached Dawson the fall of '97 with the reputation of being the biggest thing that ever crossed the Chilkoot and who afterwards founded the Northern hotel here, naming for the Northern in Seattle of which he was for a long time proprietor, has been unfortunate in his Nome venture, having lost $8000 worth of liquor and bar fixtures by the sinking of the old steam schooner Alaska on which his stock was shipped. "Thag" has hundreds of friends in Dawson who will regret to hear of his hard luck.

Many Fish Being Caught.

The Lake Lebarge fish monopolist no longer controls the Dawson fish market; in fact, Dawson is now taking all the fish she needs from her own front yard. At any hour of the day or night hundreds of people are to be seen fishing from scows and rafts along the edge of the river in front of the city, where greyling are being caught in abundance. King salmon are also being taken by the hundreds through the use of gill nets, and as fine fish as exists is now for sale at dozens of stands in the city at 25 cents per pound.

Apropos to Smallpox.

"Dr. Knowlton departed this morning for parts unknown, having reluctantly arrived at the conclusion that this was not the proper field for a physician who could not tell the difference between measles and smallpox."—Arizona Kicker.

Dominion Subscribers Warned.

If the Dominion creek patrons of the Nugget notice anything unusual in the appearance of the carrier—if he wears a smile when asleep or punches himself in the ribs and snickers when walking along the trail, they are notified to not take it seriously, as there is nothing serious in the wind further than that a pretty young lady is now en route from Seattle and will arrive in two weeks, when John will secure the services of a minister. A cabin has been already secured.

Large Shipment of Dust.

The Seattle papers are making a great ado over a shipment of gold dust which recently arrived in that port on the San Blas from St. Michael.

There was an even million dollars in the consignment and it was shipped by the Bank of B. N. A., of Dawson to the assay office of Seattle. One-half million dollars was dispatched from here on the Rock Island and the same amount on the Seattle No. 3, both operated by the S.-Y. T. Co., from which boats it was transferred to the San Blas. This is the largest single consignment ever sent from this country. It was landed in Seattle 19 days after being stored on the S.-Y. T. Co.'s boats.

SENDING TROOPS TO CHINA.

America has no sympathy as a nation with plans for the dismemberment of China or ill-advised attempts of superzealous persons to carry on political schemes under the cover of religion. This country is and has been in favor of "the open door" and fair play. She is sedulous only that the right of her citizens in the empire, by whomsoever menaced, shall be asserted and maintained.—Boston Globe.

Can it be doubted that the congress, if in session today, would demur at executive acts intended to safeguard American lives in China, even though they might be tantamount to war. This is no time for pair-splitting or political by-play. The duty of the hour is for the United States to act promptly and vigorously in China, whether the warlike measures be initiated by congress or by the president, and the quibbler over constitutional prerogatives in a time of such menace deserves the sharpest rebuke from the American people.—Washington Star.

The action of our government in sending Gen. Chafee to China to command our land forces there will be warmly approved by public opinion. By sending troops from Manila and hurrying forward reinforcements from this country, a force will be eventually collected that will be able to render effective service in protecting American interests and restoring order in China. By the time our troops reach there either the troubles will have subsided or the outbreaks will have reached a scale which will amount to war between China and the powers.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

No matter what Mr. McKinley's motives may be, his usurpation of the prerogatives of congress cannot be too quickly or too strongly condemned. If he can override the constitution under any pretense whatever without being called sharply to account, any other president can do the same and send troops into any foreign country, involve us in war, just or unjust, overriding the liberties of the people and paving the way for the overthrow of our government. Let Mr. McKinley take warning. The blood of every American soldier in China is on his head, and the American nation will demand a reckoning from him for this and every unlawful and unconstitutional act.—Philadelphia Times.

Regarding Dogs.

Complaint is made that the present dog pound is so infested with disease germs that any dog confined there for a period of 24 hours contracts an incurable case of mange and is, therefore, rendered a nuisance for the remainder of his life.

As the best behaved dogs are liable to occasionally and through no fault of their owners, find their way to the dog pound, that place should be kept in a healthy condition by the use of disinfectants and an occasional cleaning out. It is said the worst cases of mange now in Dawson are found on dogs that were in the pound last year until redeemed by their owners.

While on the subject of dogs, it has been suggested that, as they are very valuable animals in this country, all dogs affected with presumably incurable cases of mange be killed by official order, and not be permitted to run around and scatter contamination and disease among all the dogs of the city.

Malamutes Like Chickens.

"That crate of chickens," said the unreliable sour dough, "puts me in mind of an experience I once had here with poultry. That was about two years ago. My brother and I went up the river as far as Rink rapids in a steamer and walked to Haines' Mission over the Dalton trail. The walk took us 19 days, and a lot more time and considerable money was spent before we finally landed in Dawson again with 368 chickens. We pitched a big tent and that evening while we were calling on friends about town, the chickens were let out of the crates to get a little exercise. Our friends were glad to see us. We had money and some of them had hootch, so that it may have been just a little late before we got back to the tent where I was to dispose of the chickens the next day. Well, I never sold any of that poultry, and they are not running around laying eggs and cackling, either. While we were seeing our friends the malamutes had seen our chickens and the whole 368 had gone in less than two hours.

Missing Persons.

The following persons are inquired for by friends through the town station N. W. M. P. Any information leading to their locations should be handed into the town station: Robert Burns Cameron, Victoria, B. C.; Richard Hall, New York City; John A. Pounder, Seattle, Wash.

A Case of Gratitude.

"We are a queer lot when it comes to charity," said the man who had been looking over his pocket dictionary for the last half hour. "We give a tramp a nickel to buy food, and then because he doesn't make $1,000,000 the next week and tell all the papers that he owes everything to us we cry out that he is ungrateful."

"Do you think tramps know the meaning of the word gratitude?" asked the hard faced man on the opposite seat.

"Plenty of them, sir," was the reply. "You've encountered the grateful tramp, have you?"

"I have, yes, sir. It was only last week that a tramp died for me, and I presume there are others left like him. Perhaps you read of the man Clark hanged in the Columbus penitentiary last Tuesday. He was my tramp. Six months ago he called at my house one night and asked for cash. I gave him 15 cents. He was much affected, and he declared over and over again that if he could ever do anything to prove his gratitude he would."

"And he found a way?"

"He did, sir. I was having a lawsuit with a neighbor over a cow and was liable to be beaten. Hearing of the incident, the tramp laid for the plaintiff and killed him with a club."

"All in your interest?"

"All in my interest, sir. Yes, sir, he fixed things so that instead of losing the case I won. When I am home, I am milking that cow twice a day with my own hands."

"But about the tramp?" said the hard faced man. "He was arrested, tried and convicted for the murder, you say?"

"He was."

"And what did you do for him?"

"Nothing whatever."

"And they hung him?"

"They did."

"And didn't you at least send him a bouquet to hold in his hand as he stood on the drop?"

"Not even that. He wanted me to be present at the execution, but I made a flimsy excuse to leave town."

"And where—where was your gratitude?" asked the hard faced man.

"Oh, I'm a gentleman and not expected to have any! It's the poor devil of a tramp who must turn up that commodity by the carload in return for our pennies!"
