A Love Affair

"You seem to have a great affection for this fellow-soundrel," he said, with a sneer. "Don't call names, Mr. Fenton..."

"You have had money from him?" asked Rawson Fenton, keenly. "Yes, he gave it to me without the asking—a lot, and I'm a cursed fool—I lost it."

"That's all right," remarked Rawson Fenton. "And now I think our pleasant little interview may be brought to a conclusion..."

"The cards are in my hands," he muttered, "but they need playing. One false lead and I may lose..."

"I should be the last to want to go," she put in, with a smile. "Yes, I will go, if Lady Brakespear wishes it."

"I am very glad, my dear. It is better for you both, and better for me. You love each other dearly, and I want to see you back soon..."

"I should be the last to want to go," she put in, with a smile. "Yes, I will go, if Lady Brakespear wishes it."

AGE OF THE WORLD. At Least 240,000,000 Years, a 1 Per- haps More. London, May 25.—The perennial problem of the age of the world has received a new contribution based on the antiquity of radio- active minerals. Geologists some time ago figured the age of the earth at least 250,000,000 years and the estimate held until mathem- atical physicists computed that the sun it- self had not existed more than 115,000,000 years. The discovery of radium and the theories of radio-activities seem to be going to es- tablish the geologists' contention. Lord Raleigh's son, R. J. Strutt, who is already an eminent scientist, announces as the result of a recent experiment with a chunk of thorite containing radium, that the latter could not have accumulated in less than 240,000,000 years, while experiments on a larger scale which are now going on, will probably lead to an extension of the time.

A 11-YEAR-OLD HERO. Danny Dunn Recalled a Companion from Drowning. Chatham, May 25.—Dan Dunn, the 11-year- old son of J. P. Dunn, jumped in the Thames River and rescued Frank Allen, a boy com- panion, from drowning. Allen sank twice and had drifted to midstream when Dunn reached him. Robert B. Coyle saved his son George from a watery grave by rescuing him from the Thames. The boy was pretty far gone.

Prof. Kennedy is offered and accepts a chair in Edinburgh. Distinct loss to Knox—His Department Regretted by Faculty and Board—General Assembly of the Free Church of Scotland Makes the Ap- pointment. Edinburgh, May 25.—(Globe)—Prof- essor H. A. A. Kennedy, D. D., of Knox College, Toronto, was to-day chosen for the chair of New Testament Theology in New College, Edinburgh. The Rev. Alexander Whyte, D. D., senior minister of St. George's Free Church, Edinburgh, was at the same time selected as Principal of the college in succession to the late Rev. Marcus Dods, D. D., who had occupied the position since 1907 up to the time of his death, several months ago. The selections were made at to- day's session here of the General Assem- bly of the Free Church of Scotland. In each case the choice was unanimous. REGRET HIS DEPARTURE. The foregoing cable despatch was received yesterday afternoon by the Globe. A reporter who called at Knox College was informed that Professor Kennedy had decided to accept the appointment, and would be in Edinburgh before the next college term commenced. The late Dr. Marcus Dods himself oc- cupied the chair to which Prof. Kennedy is now appointed. Professor Ballantyne thus stated the opinion at the college: "The departure of Professor Kennedy will be a great loss to the college. His relations with every member of the faculty have been ideal, and always of the most cordial nature. His scholarship is of a very high order, and is united with other qualities that made him a very strong man indeed in the faculty. We all re- gret exceedingly the prospect of losing him, but quite understand his willing- ness to accept an appointment in Edin- burgh." PROFESSOR KENNEDY'S CAREER. Professor H. A. A. Kennedy, M. A., D. Sc., D. D., of Knox College, who has just been chosen successor to Professor Marcus Dods in the chair of New Testament Theology in New College, Edinburgh, was once the most favored student of the very man he has now been chosen to succeed. He is also a cousin of the late Principal Rainy, of the same college, so that his accession to the chair of the college that has for him so many memories will seem something to him in the nature of a home-coming. Professor Kennedy was born in Dornoch, Sutherlandshire, Scotland, in 1866. He is one of the most dis- tinguished graduates of the University of Edinburgh, where he was a dis- ciple of President Falconer, and of New College, having taken first-class hon- ors in classics in Edinburgh, and later been appointed Cunningham's fellow of the New College, the young- est man who ever held that distin- guished lectureship. He took exten- sive academic courses in Germany, as well as in Scotland, attending univer- sities both in Berlin and Halle. He is known among all New Testament scholars in Britain, America and Ger- many, as one of the most able and able of the present day. After his gradua- tion in Edinburgh he was Minister of the Free Church, Callander, Scotland, for twelve years until his appointment to the chair of New Testament Litera- ture and Exegesis in Knox College in the fall of 1905. During the period of over three years and a half, which he has spent in Toronto, he has been singularly successful among the stu- dents of Knox College, being greatly beloved by them and in all sections of the Church. He is a man of the very highest respect, alike for his scholar- ship, for his courageous manner and for his evangelistic interests. ABLE AND POPULAR. Professor Kennedy is exceptionally popular as a preacher, not only with general congregations, but also before the University of Toronto. It is un- derstood that he will accept the Edin- burgh appointment mainly on account of old associations, and partly because of the health of himself and Mrs. Ken- nedy has never been entirely robust since his arrival in Canada. His de- parture will be very greatly felt by the College and the Church, for he was one of the strong men in the un- usually strong professoriate which makes Knox College so widely known both in the United States and in Great Britain, as well as in its native land. PROFESSOR KENNEDY was a cousin of the late Mr. Kennedy, President of the Times Printing Company.

PROF. KENNEDY IS OFFERED AND ACCEPTS A CHAIR IN EDINBURGH.

Distinct loss to Knox—His Department Regretted by Faculty and Board—General Assembly of the Free Church of Scotland Makes the Ap- pointment.

Edinburgh, May 25.—(Globe)—Prof- essor H. A. A. Kennedy, D. D., of Knox College, Toronto, was to-day chosen for the chair of New Testament Theology in New College, Edinburgh. The Rev. Alexander Whyte, D. D., senior minister of St. George's Free Church, Edinburgh, was at the same time selected as Principal of the college in succession to the late Rev. Marcus Dods, D. D., who had occupied the position since 1907 up to the time of his death, several months ago. The selections were made at to- day's session here of the General Assem- bly of the Free Church of Scotland. In each case the choice was unanimous.

REGRET HIS DEPARTURE. The foregoing cable despatch was received yesterday afternoon by the Globe. A reporter who called at Knox College was informed that Professor Kennedy had decided to accept the appointment, and would be in Edinburgh before the next college term commenced. The late Dr. Marcus Dods himself oc- cupied the chair to which Prof. Kennedy is now appointed. Professor Ballantyne thus stated the opinion at the college: "The departure of Professor Kennedy will be a great loss to the college. His relations with every member of the faculty have been ideal, and always of the most cordial nature. His scholarship is of a very high order, and is united with other qualities that made him a very strong man indeed in the faculty. We all re- gret exceedingly the prospect of losing him, but quite understand his willing- ness to accept an appointment in Edin- burgh."

PROFESSOR KENNEDY'S CAREER. Professor H. A. A. Kennedy, M. A., D. Sc., D. D., of Knox College, who has just been chosen successor to Professor Marcus Dods in the chair of New Testament Theology in New College, Edinburgh, was once the most favored student of the very man he has now been chosen to succeed. He is also a cousin of the late Principal Rainy, of the same college, so that his accession to the chair of the college that has for him so many memories will seem something to him in the nature of a home-coming.

Professor Kennedy was born in Dornoch, Sutherlandshire, Scotland, in 1866. He is one of the most dis- tinguished graduates of the University of Edinburgh, where he was a dis- ciple of President Falconer, and of New College, having taken first-class hon- ors in classics in Edinburgh, and later been appointed Cunningham's fellow of the New College, the young- est man who ever held that distin- guished lectureship. He took exten- sive academic courses in Germany, as well as in Scotland, attending univer- sities both in Berlin and Halle. He is known among all New Testament scholars in Britain, America and Ger- many, as one of the most able and able of the present day. After his gradua- tion in Edinburgh he was Minister of the Free Church, Callander, Scotland, for twelve years until his appointment to the chair of New Testament Litera- ture and Exegesis in Knox College in the fall of 1905. During the period of over three years and a half, which he has spent in Toronto, he has been singularly successful among the stu- dents of Knox College, being greatly beloved by them and in all sections of the Church. THERE IS NO RAINY SEASON.

General Ashton, of Tacoma, who ac- companying Governor Evenden to Prince Rupert, is a firm believer in the future of the town. The present is his first trip here, and he predicts that with the sale of lots, there will be an influx of people who mean business, and who will stay by the proposition. "I believe," he said yesterday, "that in a great meas- ure, the industrial and commercial his- tory of Tacoma, Seattle and Vancouver will be duplicated here. Your harbor is a truly magnificent one. Prince Rupert is in the path of the growing Alaskan and Trans-Pacific trade. The country be- tween here and the Pacific presents unlimited opportunities for development, and whatever takes place, Prince Rup- ert must more or less directly benefit. This port is nearer the ports of the Orient than any shipping port to the south. The new railway has an excep- tionally easy grade. These are matters to be considered by the great business establishments of the east and middle west, whose operations extend across the Pacific. Sometimes you hear people talk about the rain. Why the whole coast, from Alaska to California, is in the rain belt. We have no rainy season. The weather doesn't enter into the calcu- lations of the big business men, what- soever. With them it's a matter of time—of dollars and cents. If they find it more to their advantage to do busi- ness through this port, they don't care whether it's hot or cold, cloudy or bright. And they will find that it will be to their advantage to figure on Prince Rupert."—Exchange.

Discovery of Cause in Africa Makes Prevention More Hopeless.

Paris, May 25.—Major Louis L. Seaman, U. S. A. has arrived here from Mombasa. He is an expert in military sanitation, and was greatly interested in the sleeping sick- ness. He brought back the first news of the discovery of Dr. Schrin, a German, which completely upsets the theory of the English contention that tsetse fly only transmits the malarial. Dr. Schrin proved that "the fly be- comes infected, thus establishing "a cycle," as he in the case with the mosquito in yellow fever. The fly remains inoculated for fifty days.

A GREEN GOODS GAME.

Kansas Expert Denies Story of Small Wheat Crop. Topeka, Kan., May 25.—Secretary Coburn, of the Kansas Agricultural Department, today said the despatches sent out that Kansas and Oklahoma would harvest only sixty mil- lion bushels of wheat were fakes. He says: "No wonder the story that Kansas and Ok- lahoma would raise but 60,000,000 bushels of wheat sent prices soaring. It is a grand good- game war. I say every year and is no wonder."

THE HAMILTON TIMES

WEDNESDAY, MAY 26, 1909.

LORD MILNER APPROVES.

There is an unfortunate lack of agreement among the alarmists on the British navy question. A good many of our fellow-Canadians who have persuaded themselves that they are a superior brand of patriots to the ordinary field variety insist that nothing that we can hope to do in the way of building up our own part of the empire and contributing to its defence can be worth anything, and that the one way of averting the change of gross ingratitude and actual "sponging" is to contribute directly toward the British fleet either in cash or warships, the gift of one or two "Dreadnoughts" being spoken of as a sort of trifle to begin with.

It see why diligent advocacy of insisting upon such a sacrifice by Great Britain should lead any Canadian to regard himself as more patriotic and more British than his fellows. It even goes so far as to ask what right Canada has to demand that the British masses make further sacrifices in our behalf.

NEW ZEALAND CONDITIONS.

New Zealand's grain export in 1909 amounted to £9,529,847. For the year just closed it was £229,593. Considerable wheat is now imported from Australia. In the nine years something like £20,000,000 has been added to the various public debts of the island. Mr. J. S. Larke, the Canadian Trade Commissioner, reports that the number of unemployed in New Zealand cities has greatly increased, and the coming of spring was looked forward to in the hope of obtaining relief from the consequent distress.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

President Taft wants to see the United States military estimates for next year reduced by $36,000,000.

Toronto will proceed with her filtration scheme, the Council, by a vote of 12 to 6, having determined to keep faith with the people.

Andrew Carnegie is said to be about to establish a "hero fund" in France. And Mr. Carnegie's idea of heroism is not limited to bravery in war.

The reporter for La Patrie who struck Hon. Mr. Taschereau has been sentenced to 15 days in jail. Politics down in Quebec appears to be somewhat strenuous.

Michigan has now a law which limits the number of liquor licenses to one for every 500 of the population, and denies the right to sell to those who repeatedly violate the law.

Turkey actually makes progress. The new Government is paying its servants, and has forbidden them to levy "back-sheesh" on the travellers. It is almost too good to believe.

The effort of the Toronto hotelkeepers to get the Council to compensate them for the loss of their licenses has failed. Only nine votes could be secured to consider the matter.

The reports presented at the annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society yesterday were most encouraging. The organization is doing a work the beneficial influence of which is widely felt, and which stretches away into the future.

There is naturally world-wide ridicule of those terrorized Englishmen who mistook a lot of cigar-shaped advertising balloons for a fleet of German "ships" come to conquer the "tight little island." The joke is on the nervous "patriots" and their newspaper organs.

Our share of the liquor license fund is decreasing, being about $1,200 less than for the last six months. We shall probably have to count on further reductions—unless the license fee is largely increased. The tendency of the times is to lessening the number of licenses.

GET THE PERSPECTIVE.

The St. John, N. B., Sun has been taken to task by a Chamberlainite for its lack of interest in the cause of "mutual" preferential trade with Great Britain. It is stigmatized as lacking in patriotism because it does not demand that Great Britain tax her people—who already admit all our goods free—to give us further advantages. The Sun states its attitude very clearly:

Mutual preference, as generally understood, means that Britain must tax the products of other countries in order to give the overseas dominions an advantage in the British market. In no other way can that advantage be given, for the British market is now open to all the world. As the bulk of Canada's exports to Britain are food products, it follows that in order to give a preference Britain must tax similar products when they come from foreign countries. Now it is obvious that such preference would be of no value to Canada unless it enabled us to get a higher price for our products. And if we get a higher price it is equally obvious that the British consumer must pay the higher price. So that in advocating the preferential tariff we are simply urging that the British consumer should voluntarily pay more for his bread and butter and cheese and meat in order to give a greater profit to our wheat growers and stockmen.

It is ready to admit that if Great Britain could be induced to tax her people's food for our grain, it would be a good thing for Canada. But it does not so clearly see wherein it would be a good thing for Great Britain. Nor does the Tory Opposition resist to its utmost the great enterprise for the opening up of our north country?

Admiral Sigsbee, who was in command of the United States battleship Maine when she was sunk, strongly opposes allowing Spain to raise her under United States supervision, which she is anxious to do to demonstrate that the vessel was destroyed by explosion from within. Sigsbee weakly bases his opposition on the plea that the work "would stir up the mud of the harbor and cause sickness in Havana".

The Toronto draft schedule of the prices to be charged by the city for electric light has been sent back to the Board of Control for reconsideration. There was much dissatisfaction with the proposed flat rate for room, and Ald. Graham stated that the cost would be higher than the price charged by the Toronto Electric Light Company at present. He is satisfied that "all ten-roomed houses will stay with the Toronto Electric Light Company."

The Canadian farmer has been emancipated from the Binder Twine Combine, when, under protection, used to levy toll upon him. The Canadian mills last year turned out 14,029 tons of binder twine. The Government inspection has resulted in the farmers getting the length of twine for which they pay. Formerly fraudulent measurement was common. Mr. Haycock's report shows that years ago twine marked 600 feet was found to measure only 376. For two years past no twine was found to measure below the length stamped.

According to the judgment of the Essex County Court in the John H. Patton case, estates of persons dying in Ontario are liable for succession duties to the Province, although the property may be situated in the United States. It is highly improbable that such a judgment will be allowed to stand until it has been passed upon by the highest court in the land. About one hundred similar cases depend upon the result; and, whatever may be the legal view of the matter, the injustice of such a ruling is manifest.

Our gentlemanly and courteous contemporary apparently wishes to deny that it seeks to tie the city and its people up to Beck's Hydro-Electric scheme at the cost of penalizing them in at least 10 per cent. higher prices for power for public and private use for 30 years to come. We accepted its own statement that it preferred the Beck scheme, and it makes the crushing retort, borrowed from a journalistic blackguard in British Columbia, that "the Times is the most incorrigible newspaper liar in Canada." We are not concerned about the abuse; we allow for whence it comes; but has the Herald really quit the war on the local electric industry?

The Civic Improvement Committee of the Greater Hamilton Association will hold a meeting in the Board of Trade Rooms to-night, at which it is hoped there will be a large attendance. The general public is cordially invited to be present. Especially is the young men's co-operation asked. Every man who is founding a home, or who looks forward to doing so, should have an active personal interest in forwarding the committee's efforts. The "City Beautiful" is a place of healthy, happy, comfortable, attractive homes—a worthy ideal to set up and work toward. Go, young man, and give your help to the cause!

The closing of the deal with the Grand Rapids Hardware Company is another illustration of what may be effected by well-directed, quiet work. The horn-blowing method of attracting attention to the city's advantages has its good points, and it is not to be neglected; but much may be done by searching out the right concerns and going after them direct. We have a lot of shrewd business men in the Greater Hamilton Association who are well qualified to interest any wide-awake capitalist, or proprietor of an industry seeking the most advantageous location, in the claims of Hamilton. If any of our readers happen to know of any industry on the look-out to improve its situation, let them give a hint to Mr. C. A. Murton, and the matter will be attended to.

OUR EXCHANGES

POLITICAL AND PARTY.

Four or eight Dreadnoughts remains the burning political issue in England. At least, it seems more political than national.

STOLE THE HYMN BOOKS.

Sinners have appropriated several hundred of the Gipsy Smith hymn books. The excuse is that they contained appropriate music.

DETECTIVES.

Detectives are men who detect something, and if the same man had the Tomlinson (St. Thomas), Kinrade (Hamilton), and Laury (Rodney) cases it cannot be said that they have made a success of the business.

PROF. KENNEDY.

The announcement that Prof. Kennedy, professor of New Testament literature and exegesis in Knox College, will return to Scotland will be learned with regret by everyone who is interested in Knox, or, indeed, in the Presbyterian Church in the Province. Prof. Kennedy as an authority in his subject now stands almost alone. His quiet and unassuming character endeared him to all who made his acquaintance. He preached frequently, and his discourses were intended for the average church-goer rather than for scholars. He carried his learning lightly. Scotland has received her own war, and there was ever the feeling that Prof. Kennedy was only a loan which would have to be repaid. He has sown some good seed, however, and his visit has not been in vain.

SUNDAY IN DETROIT.

The only thing left for this man is to move Windsor, where the Sunday Observance act secures a reasonable measure of repose and respect for the Sabbath. With stores open and public and other works proceeding seven days a week, Detroit certainly is not a desirable place of residence.

SEEING THE POINT.

Hayes wins the Olympic Marathon over Dorando. The long race, Dorando defeats Hayes and Longboat defeats Dorando. Next, Shrubbs defeats Dr. Ando and loses to Longboat, and St. Yves beats Longboat and Shrubbs, and Shrubbs defeats Longboat. Then Shrubbs beats St. Yves. And still the public can't see the point.

HORSE RACING.

Horse racing in itself is grand sport, when the noble horse, and not the gambler, is predominant. If the game is right, a better understanding existed between the American's love of the horse and his speed, not the American's passion for gambling—a passion which, of course, is by no means peculiar to the American—that will be the saving line, and that the control of the book-maker is forever killed.

CANADA AND THE STATES.

Canada concedes to the United States the right to frame its tariff laws to suit itself, and it is glad to be able to say that we are now conceding a similar right to her. There never was a time when a better understanding existed between the two countries, and all signs seem to point to the continuance and improvement of this understanding. In time we shall be on a basis of fair trade with each other.

MRS. FESSENDEN.

It was Mrs. Clementina Fessenden who suggested and founded Empire Day. To this Canadian lady we owe the fact that throughout the British Dominions the day is celebrated with zeal, and the people are thus enabled to reflect upon the importance of the Empire. The circumstance that 18,000 schools in Great Britain joined in the observance this year shows that the setting apart of the day was an inspiration. Mrs. Fessenden deserves to be congratulated upon her valuable contribution to the work of Empire building.

A Child's Rebuke.

In discussing the harsh treatment of witnesses in the box by lawyers who cross-examine them, the Hon. W. J. Bryan tells a story in his paper, the Commoner, about the rebuke given a lawyer by a child. It happened in New York, where Sadie Levine, a bright little girl of thirteen years, started Justice Foote and a jury in the Supreme Court by leaving a lawyer who sought to prove that she had testified falsely in behalf of her father, Frank Levine. He was suing the New York City Railway Company for $35,000, alleging that by reason of an accident he had lost the power of speech. The little girl testified that she saw her father suffer from four weeks after he was injured. Then Frederick Moses, counsel for the company, took her in hand. Moses tried to get her tangled up in her testimony. When he had finished, Sadie was told she could leave the stand. "Before I go, your Honor," she started up and looking at Justice Foote, "I want to tell this lawyer something. He acted as if everything I said was a lie. He sneered at me all through my testimony. If your Honor will permit me, I will take an oath again before the Almighty that every word I said before the court is true. I would not tell a lie for my father or any one else."

"It is not necessary for you to take an oath, my child," Justice Foote replied; "you took the oath when you took the stand."

"Yes, your Honor, but Mr. Moses sneered at me and acted as if I was telling fibs. I want to tell Mr. Moses right now that he might have seen little girls who would tell fibs in court, but I want him to understand that I am not that kind."

"He may have doubted your testimony, my little girl," the Justice replied, but I did not, and I do not think these men in the jury thought you were fibbing. You are excused."

The story is good enough to be true. Now and then there arises a witness who is aware of his right to proper treatment in the witness box and who is also possessed of the courage to fight boldly for his rights. But as a rule the witness is scared by his surroundings and he or she will tolerate almost any amount of bullying or brow-beating. The abuse, in our opinion, should long ago have been checked sharply by the presiding judges of the courts wherever it made its appearance. It must be admitted, however, that there is not so much of it as there used to be. There should be still less.

FRIEND OF THE LONG AGO.

When the resplendent orb's bright, Gorgonian, golden gleams of light Are in the flushed, transient waning, And the sunset's beaming fringe Doth the heights, with glory fringe, (While Day, its cup of bliss is draining) Ever the shadows shall advance, Ever Dread Night's with fearful glance Doth scowl on, Day's ruler, yet signifying, Love's passion doth ever pine For loved one's hour, when shine In life's uncertain sky; then waning In their glory they expired, And the heart is bowed from despair To be with them where Peace is reigning.

Week-End Trips.

After your week's work and worry is over there is nothing more refreshing to both mind and body than a little pleasure trip. The Grand Trunk Railway System will issue return tickets to a great many points in Ontario at single fare, with ten cents added, good going Saturday or Sunday, returning any train Monday. For tickets and further information call at city or depot ticket office.

Doctors and Nurses Suffering From Diphtheria in Insane Asylum.

Boston, May 26.—An epidemic of diphtheria has spread through the female section of Austin farm, an institution for the insane at Mattapan, with the result that three nurses are in the city hospital, ten nurses and two doctors are under medical treatment, and 50 patients and attendants have been found to be carrying the germs. The entire female section has been under quarantine. There are 200 patients in the department, and all, it is believed, have been exposed to the germs.

SLUGGISH MARKET.

New York, May 26.—Wall Street.—There was a sluggish and irregular movement of prices of stocks in the opening dealing, which were very light. Some of the industrials made a show of strength. U. S. Steel opened 1/4 higher than last night and 1/2 better than its previous record price.

COULD HARDLY STOP SCRATCHING

Severe Itching Humor on Joints Made Movement Difficult—Suffered for a Year and a Half—Many Treatments Failed to Cure.

USED CUTICURA AND ECZEMA DISAPPEARED

"I was suffering with eczema for a year and a half and had tried all kinds of medical treatment without any results. All the joints of my body were affected in such a way that I had difficulty in walking and moving about. It itched so at times that I could hardly keep from scratching it all the time. I had suffered for about a year and four months before trying Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent. After using Cuticura for two months regularly, not missing a day, all signs of eczema disappeared and now you could not tell that I ever had eczema. I cannot find words sufficient to do the Cuticura Remedies justice. Daniel Fisher, Jr., 1940 Lansdowne St., Baltimore, Md., July 5, 1907."

BABIES CURED

Torturing, Disfiguring Humors Speedily Yield to Cuticura.

The suffering which Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have alleviated among infants and children, disfigured infants and children, and the comfort they have afforded worn-out and worried parents, have led to their adoption in countless homes as a priceless remedy for a skin and blood. Infantile and birth humors, milk crust, scalded head, eczema, rashes, and every form of itching, scaly, pimply skin and scalp humors, with loss of hair, of infancy and childhood, are speedily, permanently, and economically cured, in the majority of cases, when all other remedies suitable for children fail. HOW WIND PRODUCES WAVES.

Its Action Upon Desert Sand and Prairie Snow.

There are wind waves in water, sand and snow. The great sea waves are produced at that part of a cyclone where the direction of the wind coincides with the direction of advance of the depression. Along this line the velocity of the waves in their progress are accompanied by a strong wind blowing across their ridges as long as the atmospheric depression is maintained. So the waves are developed until they become steep. The average height in feet is about half the velocity of the wind in miles. A wind of fifty-two miles an hour gives waves of an average height of twenty-six feet, although individual waves will attain a height of forty feet. The prevailing winds in all longitudes is westerly, so wherever westerly winds springs up it finds a previous wind still running, and the principal effect of the newly born wind is to increase the steepness of the already running long swell so as to form majestic storm waves, which sometimes attain a length 1,200 feet from crest to crest. The longest swells due to wind are almost invisible during storms, for they are masked by the shorter and steeper waves, but they emerge into view after or beyond the storm. The action of the wind "dry" sand in a procession of waves is seen in the deserts. As the sand waves cannot travel by gravitation their movements are entirely controlled by the wind and they are therefore much simpler and more regular in form and movement than ocean waves. THOUSAND FINGERPRINTS TAKEN

In Effort to Run Down the Fiend Who Slaughtered Lonely Old Woman.

MRS. MARGARET GRIPPEN. FACSIMILE OF THREE OF THE RED FINGERPRINTS. DETECTIVE MARY E. HOLLAND.

Winnebago, Ill., May 22.—Telltale fingerprints, painted in blood on the lamp chimney. That is all that remains to guide the officers in the law in their task of finding the fiend who slew aged Mrs. Margaret Grippen.

Just the red prints of five fingers—but this may be enough.

In all the world there won't be another man whose fingerprints are exactly the same as these. In all the Bertillon records in all cities and all countries there are no two alike.

He might have written his name in bold characters on the wall, and have escaped. But he can't escape the marks of his own fingers.

His getting away was so easy, too. Dark, rainy, blowy night, when all who could stay indoors. Quiet country town of 1,000 people. No one in the house—even saw him in the village. The dead could tell no tales.

Leading the human bloodhounds in this chase is a woman, Mrs. Mary E. Holland, of Chicago, expert in fingerprints. It was singularly fitting that she should be called in—in this case where fingerprints play so large a part.

Mrs. Holland began her work by going over all the finger marks in the Chicago Bertillon bureau. She went through thousands of them. None tallied. The murderer had never been arrested in Chicago for a serious offense since the bureau was established.

Neighbors put out the fire in the building, and under the ghastly sight in the hallway. She had no had time to catch her breath. The murderer met her in the hall. If there were cries of fear or horror they were drowned in the howling of the wind outside.

At 6 o'clock she left the home of a neighbor with whom she had been sewing. It was rainy and stormy and dark. She borrowed a cloak from the neighbor. She seemed to have no remembrance that death was a few minutes away.

THE TIMES' WOMAN'S PAGE

EDITED BY HAREL BOOTH

AN EDITORIAL FOR WOMEN

(BY A WOMAN.)

LET HIM BORE YOU, BUT DON'T YOU BORE.

Don't drag domestic topics into general conversation. This thing of breaking in on a discussion of "Hedda Gabler" or the philosophy of George Meredith with a statement on the market price of eggs, is distracting to the company, to say the least.

The "domestic woman" is our ideal. But must we swallow her, hide, hair and hoofs? Or, to be polite, rouse, puffs and Dutch collars? May we not discriminate?

One's husband has to stand for it, because he cannot help it without leaving the room or being extremely rude. Other men will not linger long in the society of the woman who talks household "shop"; any other sort of "shop" they can understand, but clothes, cookery and children leave them floundering in the conversational sea.

At such moments men get a slight taste of what it feels like for a woman to sit silently by while her husband and his friends discuss baseball, prize fights, or talk over highly technical matters in their own particular field of endeavor.

Perhaps the lesson is a salutary one, but men, unlike women, will not sit patiently embroidering while the conversation is flung over their heads or under their chins.

To keep a man interested—whether the man be your husband or lover—is to talk about things with which he is familiar, and which he likes.

Shirt waists are very useful, and may be made quite ornamental by a little insertion here and there, but men do NOT care how they are made.

Neither do they hunger and thirst after new cookery recipes.

The housemaid's blunders and Johnny's tendency to wear out the knees of his stockings FIRST are important to you and any other woman who can afford a housemaid and has a Johnny boy to darn for, but you simply can't make a man see their importance, so why try?

Little Journeys to Homes of Unsung Heroes - The Unknown Husbands of Famous Women encouraged to do more rhyming. Then his son, the 25-year-old apple of his father's eye, Laurence, Ditto Young, who might have made a good reporter, dropped newspaper work and turned author. When the boy's "The Climbing Doom" made a hit, his sire, already plunged deep into the depths of despair, was completely immersed and went down for the third time.

Mr. Julia Ditto Young tries hard to forget, tries hard to swallow the lump in his throat. When he concludes his strenuous five-hour day of work—he's secretary of the Erie Savings bank at Buffalo, N.Y.—he takes his motorboat out, tinkers with the engine for two hours and 20 minutes and then enjoys a 15-minute spin on the broad, beautiful surface of the Niagara River, which flows its peaceful way through Buffalo's back yard.

Motorboating is chiefest of his recreations. He motorboats to keep his mind off the terrible temptation at home—to keep from turning litterateur and losing altogether his credit at the corner grocery.

Just one step off the beaten path and Mr. Julia Ditto Young would fall—until he is written of him that he "is also a keen student of Shakespeare and an admirer of Ibsen and Shaw—there is no better story teller—the son is indebted to his father for that forceful style which characterizes "The Climbing Doom."

HINTS ON HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Lack of sufficient sleep soon shows in one's appearance.

Buttermilk is very good for removing freckles or sunburn.

Sleeping with the mouth open will spoil the shape of the lips.

A good, brisk walk before breakfast each morning is very beneficial.

Eight hours sleep out of the twenty-four is required for building up the body.

The sun is very good for the hair and after washing, the hair should be dried in the sun, in the open air if possible.

Ice water should never be used for cleansing the teeth. It is worse than hot water. Lukewarm is the right temperature.

When a person is unable to sleep a cool sponge bath taken during the night may soothe the nerves and bring rest. It is worthy trying in any event.

It is claimed that it is wrong to bite one's thread of silk when sewing. The chances are that the same teeth and the same parts of the teeth are used for the operation, and in time the enamel does become worn from just this practice.

All housewives know the value of the hot-water bottle in times of illness, but when it is not to be had a small sack loosely filled with salt and thoroughly warmed is equally good, especially for neuralgia, as the heat adds its curative properties to the warmth.

Particular attention ought to be paid by the plump woman to sitting and standing correctly. She should have perfect control over her waist and abdominal muscles. The figure will be wonderfully improved, even without the loss of flesh, if these muscles are held in their normal position. Do not allow them to become relaxed and flabby.

Tired feet cause an almost unendurable pain, yet many suffer from such merely through carelessness in not having the heels of shoes straightened. You know what it is to put on an old pair of shoes that have been cast aside for months, and if the heels are crooked it is almost an impossibility to step in them. Yet one will go on for weeks wearing high-heeled shoes that throw the ankles out of place. Burning feet are caused by poor circulation. This can be cured in a short time by plunging the feet into moderately hot water, then cold, and applying witch hazel or bay rum.

HOUSEKEEPING HINTS

Edited by Christie Carew.

RECIPES.

Mermita.

Rub a cup of butter to a cream with two cups of sugar. Beat into this mixture the whipped yolks of three eggs, a gill of milk and the stiffened whites of the eggs. Sift a pint of flour with a teaspoonful of baking powder and add this gradually to the batter. If too thin to roll add a little more flour. Roll out very thin, strewn one-half of the sheet with chopped nut meats, sprinkle with sugar and fold the other half of the sheet over the sweetened nuts, pressing it lightly with the rolling pin. Cut into rounds with a cake cutter and bake.

Chocolate.

Wet six tablespoonfuls of chocolate to a smooth paste with a little cold water. Put this paste into the saucepan and pour a pint of boiling water on it, bring to a boil, add a pint of scalding milk, boil up once, beating steadily, take from the fire, beat hard for several minutes and pour into chocolate mold. Press it lightly with a spoonful of whipped cream on the surface of each cup.

Marshmallow Filling.

Into a gill of cold water stir five tablespoonfuls of gum arabic. When this is dissolved stir in a half cupful of powdered sugar and boil until a little dropped into cold water can be worked into a soft ball. Have the white of an egg beaten stiff, and strain the syrup slowly into this, whipping steadily all the time. Flavor with vanilla and spread on the cake layers.

Cookies.

Cream three-quarters of a cup of butter with a large cup of sugar, add one egg at a time until you have used five eggs, grate in a nutmeg, add enough prepared flour to make a good dough that will roll out well, and last of all, add a pound of English walnuts, broken or carefully cut into bits and dredged with flour. Put these in last of all, roll out, cut into rounds and bake.

Vegetable Soup.

To two quarts of stock made from a beef bone add two potatoes, peeled and cut into dice, two carrots prepared in the same way, two peeled and sliced stalks of celery, cut small, and a half cup of rice. Salt and pepper it to taste. Roll all together until the ingredients are tender, then serve.

Brussels Sprouts.

Take off the outer leaves and lay the sprouts in cold salted water for an hour. Drain and boil in salted water until tender. This will take about fifteen minutes. Drain and put in a heated dish and pour melted butter over the sprouts, adding salt and pepper to taste.

Spiced Peanuts.

Shell and take the skin from freshly roasted peanuts. In a baking pan melt butter, stir the peanuts into this until well coated, then roast, stirring often, until light brown. Draw the pan to the door of the oven and sprinkle the nuts thickly with finely sifted salt. Return to oven for two minutes, then turn the nuts into a colander and shake hard to dislodge superfluous salt. Spread on a large platter to get dry and crisp.

Economical Doughnuts.

Heat an egg very light with a cup of sugar, add a cup of milk, not stirring this in, then put in quickly a half a grated nutmeg, half-teaspoonful of salt, and add a teaspoonful of baking powder, sifted with enough flour to make a dough that can be rolled out. Boil in deep fat to which a little salt has been added. This last precaution will keep the doughnuts from absorbing the grease.

Peach Butter.

Peel and slice enough peaches to thicken three quarts of cider and boil them in this liquid until they are a soft pulp. Stir often while boiling. Take from the fire and set aside for a day, then stew again until thick and dark in color. Pack away in a stone jar.

Pickled Onions.

Peel the onions and put into a crock, sprinkle well with salt and cover with cold water. Leave until the next day, drain off the water, put the onions into jars, and fill to the brim with cold vinegar, then seal.

EMBROIDERED PONGEE GOWN

PHOTO BY JOEL FLAHERTY. The woman who is handy with her needle should embroider a pongee frock this year, for the embroideries are easily done with coarse silk floss in the shade of the pongee, or in two tone effects, and when the strips and motifs which trim the bodices are completed the frock may be put together by a dressmaker. This linden green pongee frock is embroidered in two shades of green. Piping of darker green silk add character and emphasis to the color scheme.

MATRIMONY, THE GREATEST STATE, BY A WOMAN 44 YEARS A CITIZEN OF IT

There are forty-six states in the American Union. There is a greater union, a greater state—the State of Matrimony.

It was not recently admitted into the union. Garden of Eden. On its northern boundary is located the state of youth and inexperience, on the east the state of fear of single blessedness, on the south the state of desire for companionship and in the west lies the land of gold and the setting sun.

Its borders are strewn with the debris of wrecks that have been entering its portals in too much haste, or by failing to realize the important fact that to have "two hearts with but a single thought" means self-sacrifice on the part of each to esteem the other one as the better. So many fall of happiness because the ideals are too high. Each expects he has gotten an angel to abide in his house for a companion, and finds that he has only common clay, subject to marts and breakage the same as any other clay.

Scattered along the highways are many and varied pleasures known only to those who have entered this state at the corner gateway; the coming of the little child, whose voice gladdens all the household; the promotion of the dear husband in his business; the bringing home of a good book to read together; the helping each of the other to attain the best that is in them; all these and many more make the state of matrimony a blissful state, to be sought after by the men, but not to be rushed into by the women.

The capital is Love, and the principal town is Heartropolis, situated on the broad river of sympathy, which flows all through its borders into the land of Peace.

Suggestions For the Housewife

Use arrowroot to thicken fruit juices. It cooks clearly and does not destroy the color nor cloud the transparency of the fruit.

To clean stained tinware use borax; this brings the best results. A discolored teapot or coffee pot may be cleaned to look like new by boiling in a strong solution of borax for a short time.

When making a fricassee of fowl set it aside with a prepared sauce for two or three hours so that the pieces of meat may become thoroughly impregnated with the sauce. This applies also to game and rabbit. Fat may be removed from white goods as follows: Heap salt on the spot, rub hard, then wash with cold water. A good amount of borax has been dissolved and the stain will disappear immediately.

In planning the wardrobe women should never neglect to supply themselves with kitchen aprons. They should be selected with a view to utility, which means that they must well cover the front of the dress and have two good, large pockets into which all sorts of things can be tumbled.

If your furs have been crushed or crushed from being frequently placed in their boxes the best way to freshen them is to brush with a clothes brush that has been dipped in cold water and then shaken as dry as possible. Brush the wrong way, then shake thoroughly two or three times in hot water in which a little salt has been dissolved. Some kinds of fur need to be combed dry, but it must be carefully done, or the hair will be matted. A small medicine bottle is useful for holding embroidery needles. Keep it in the work basket.

A leather bag of convenient size should be made to keep very fine pointed scissors in, for it not only protects the sharp ends but saves the hands.

If one has a piece of roofing slate and will heat it in the oven, it can be placed under the bread pan and the winter bread will rise more quickly. Cover well to keep in the heat.

It is claimed a splendid ironing board cover is made by tacking burlap to the board and then covering it with a double thickness of old white flannel. This makes a firm, smooth covering which never wrinkles like the blanket covering.

As an addition to jelly, take a handful of figs, wash them clean and plump them with tepid water. It takes a few hours to do this. Cover them with strawberry gelatin. The figs can be

MAKING WEDDING OUTFITS FOR PIN MONEY

A young woman, who found herself facing the problem of self-support, though tied to her home by an invalid parent, hit upon a plan which proved successful enough to be worth copying.

The girl was deft with her needle and had the added gift of being able to draw her own designs and monograms. She decided to make outfits for prospective brides.

A business friend of hers, who was to be married had a good income, but little time to bother with her trousseau. When the young woman offered to look after everything for her, the bride-to-be was delighted to give her the order.

A DRESSMAKER'S OUTFIT. Knowing the importance of not sitting too steadily at the needle, the young woman became an accredited shopper and purchased materials, table and bed linen, and everything needed for a trousseau, outside of clothes and millinery.

Being a judicious shopper, time and money were saved for the bride-elect, and her friend had the benefit of commissions and many valuable suggestions for her work.

Underwear was made by the newest French patterns, but not at importers' prices. Table cloths, napkins, towels, dollies and centrepieces were hemmed, marked and embroidered, even dish towels and washrags were prepared.

It took time and work, but by systematizing and by taking exercise in the open air for at least one hour a day, a never-failing duty, the young woman's health did not suffer.

ARRANGING THE PRICES. Prices were rather difficult to arrange, but as the bride-elect paid for all materials, though her friend got the commission, she arranged them on a time basis for actual work done. While fancy prices were not charged, the mistake was not made of undercharging.

So successful was the first outfit, that orders from other business women, who contemplated matrimony, crowded in until now that young woman has three or four helpers and keeps them all busy.

In such an occupation one must keep up with the latest ideas, and, if possible, she should try to give original touches. Her work should be neat and dainty, and there should be no delay with the execution. The young woman outfitter insists on orders being given in ample time to be finished a month at least before the wedding.

She arranges with the bride-elect on the exact amount to be spent, and understands fully her needs and taste. The girl takes such interest in her work that it is a pleasure to her to give as much as possible for the same price.

Everything is on a business basis, bills are itemized and it is clearly understood that they must be paid in a set time.

THE "EMBROIDERY BEE"

Prudence Standish Tells Us.

(Prudence Standish Tells Us.) Womanhood has heard and known of sewing bees almost ever since the ark was built and floated, but the "embroidery bee" has just come to town. Though in some features practically the same thing as the "buzzer" which produces mere useful garments, there is pleasing variety in this needle spree, and many a time the individual worker thereat finds exquisite needlework that will be treasured by her descendants for generations.

This present epidemic for embroidery has resulted in at least one great benefit. Old and exquisite designs are in one's intimate set are invited, and new ones need to be very choice to get any notice from fingers of taste. So this has aristocratic traditions and a family tree. The grandmothers and grandmothers of stitches are known and each worker vies with her neighbor for perfection of result.

For an embroidery bee of actual elegance, then, one must know something of the history of stitches. So ask for a book on old embroideries at the public library and acquaint your friends with your knowledge of the art.

A smart embroidery bee has a stamp of antiquated elegance. Invitations recently issued to one were printed in old script on long, narrow cards and framed in a quaint outlining of red and black. Two dozen ladies were invited and the request for their society on the day specified read as follows:

"Sweet Madam: You are hereby beseeched to bring your tapestries and linen suits to our home for an embroidery bee. The day is the second Thursday succeeding Holy Easter and the hour is 3 of the afternoon clock."

"Sweet Madam you are beseeched also not to forget your Housewife and Excellent Appetite."

The Red House. When the guests arrived each one took off her hat and wraps in dressing room and appeared in the room of which she was wearing a little ribbon-trimmed apron, finished at the bottom with a deep pocket, and a pocket for the work. One lady's tale included a ghost which haunted a house with wailing cries until the guests told some story on embroidery. The tale ended, of course, with the solemn declaration that this actual piece of needlework, finished by the hand of the dead, was in somebody's family. Ghosts and embroidery go together famously, but if there are squeamish guests who object to them they need not be raised.

In the middle of the room, in which the guests were assembled was a table strewn with the conveniences of work—needles, bodkins, scissors, needles, etc. At 4.30 a bite is served, this consisting of sandwiches, of several sorts, tea, chocolate and fruit punch. And when the guests went home each looked as if she had been having a good time, you may be sure.

It is incumbent upon the hostess at whose house such a gathering meets to put forth her choicest linen for the occasion. If a tea table is spread the snowy cover will seem more elegant and in keeping if there is a worked monogram at least, and, of course, there must be a vase or bowl with flowers in the table's centre.

These these flowers the ones often copied in fine needlework; that is, brief and mixed with broken nut kernels.

A woman who likes fads, yet does not care for the accumulation of odd bits of bric-a-brac, purchased a plain iron napkin ring which she takes with her on her travels, and at each city where she makes an extended visit she has the name of the city, date, etc., engraved upon the ring. It is getting full of names and is very artistic.

To make a good floor filler put one pint of broken glass in an old tin bucket and cover with one gallon of boiling water. Put the bucket into a second bucket and let it stand until the water solve without burning. When it boils add enough sifted sawdust to make a good putty. Fill the floor cracks with this mixture with a steel wood scraper or thin bladed case knife.

Even the strict coat suits of linen, pongee and thin serge and cheviot have more or less ornamental designs in soutache. These are applied to the front gorge of the skirt, around collar, down the fronts of coat and often up back of sleeves from wrist to elbow.

The railroad ticket design remains more popular than any other. It is varied by width and regularly, and it always looks well.

It is most inexpensively self-toned. It is easy to get in the new colors and tones, for the tailors and dressmakers demand it in their work, and this makes the manufacturers turn it out.

and, having become of mature years, joined in the mission school learned that these things should not be, and wrote home to that effect. The Lathams laughed at the letters and fought all the harder—the Grant gang could not help them.

And Elsie learned Latin, Greek, a little French and a smattering of music and learned in time to the hills, a beautiful, budding woman, with strange ideas of peace and amity in her head.

When the train pulled in at the station in the Latham valley, what was left of the Latham faction was there to greet Elsie; also the remnants of the Grants were on hand because the Lathams were present, and it was a good time for trouble. Sammy, in the background, saw the radiant glory of Elsie, and realized his own miserable lack of charm.

The Lathams came forward, guns in hand, to greet Elsie; and the Grants, taking shelter behind barrels and boxes, let loose a volley of aimless defiance. Sammy Grant wished that he was dead.

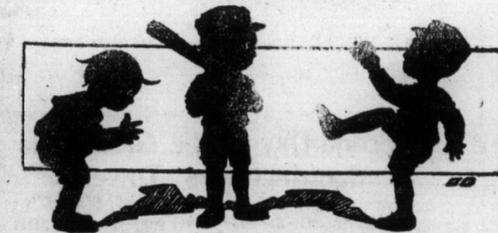

But Elsie tripped straight up to Sammy and, before the astonished clansmen could interfere, they were treated to the spectacle of a Latham girl hugging and kissing a youth of the Grants, who did his best at returning the favors.

"Sammy, oh, Sammy!" cried Elsie Latham, "let's get married and settle this terrible feud. I know you are dying to, but would never dare to ask me now; and I can't wait on a proposal while the old cemetery fills up."

"All right," assented Sammy Grant, with startled eagerness. "We started it—me and Elsie; and the Grants, taking a young of the Grants, who did his best at returning the favors. "Sammy, oh, Sammy!" cried Elsie Latham, "let's get married and settle this terrible feud. I know you are dying to, but would never dare to ask me now; and I can't wait on a proposal while the old cemetery fills up."

The Boy's Lessons.

There was once a boy who was very proud because his aim was so true. If he threw a stone or fired at anything with his airgun he seldom failed to hit what he aimed at. Near his home lived a bird. She had five young ones in her nest. So many little mouths always open for food kept the poor little mamma bird very busy. One day she found a large worm, enough for their whole dinner. She had flown quite a distance, and had stopped to rest when the boy who could aim so

Grandpa.

Grandpa lived with his daughter. He was very old and palsied. His hand shook so much that when eating he not only spilled his food, but also broke many dishes by letting them fall. This was very displeasing to his fastidious daughter.

One day she bought him a wooden dish and spoon. He had his meals served to him alone from these dishes on a table in the corner.

One day as mother passed her little son she saw he was very deeply occupied whittling a piece of wood. "My son, what are you doing? The world are you working at so busily?" she asked. "Oh, mother, I was just whittling a wooden hoop and spoon so that when pap is an old man and I am a big man he will have something to eat from."

Mother felt a guilty pain in her conscience. From that day grandpa sat in his former place. His feebleness was overlooked.

THE DAILY SHORT STORY

THE FEUD OF YEARS

By Stuart B. Stone. When the patient, long-suffering teacher announced recess, the mountain children scampered out upon the playground and fell to at their noisy games. There were tops and leapfrog and marbles, but the greatest interest hung about the twirling tops. Elsie Latham, the slim, dark, solemn elf-child, had the brightest, top and lost it. Sammy Grant, who was fair, blue-eyed and curly-headed, found the gaudy toy and restored it to Elsie, while the girl was still weeping for the bauble. Elsie's big brother, Tom, struck Sammy had caused the tears, thinking the lad. Then a still larger Grant feud was on, a thing grim and fearful. And that night Elsie Latham, who was given overmuch to tears, cried her little heart out, for she feared that harm would come to young Sammy.

In a month the feud had accounted for two—Elsie's long, lanky brother, Simon, and Sammy's sulky father, Jonas Grant. And Mr. Sammy wrote this note to Elsie Latham, so that there might be no more misunderstanding on his account: "Dear Elsie: Me and you ain't in enny fude are we Elsie. I love you like sixty your true hart."

"SAMMY." Elsie splashed the pencil strawl terribly with her bitter-sweet tears. At the end of a month two more green mounds showed in the tangle-grown New Harmony cemetery; at the end of a year two more were dug amid the briars and the eternal creepers. Then the blood-frenzied tagged for a while, and Elsie and Sammy, when the older guardians were not looking, held sweet communion at re-

Then they sent Elsie away to the mission boarding school at the edge of the hill-country, and Sammy wrote her long, impassioned letters,

LUTHERAN SYNOD.

Governing Body to be Established For Canada.

Women's Missionary Society Formed—Election of Officers.

Toronto, May 26.—The members of the Lutheran Church in central Canada, so far as organization is concerned in Ontario, consider that they are strong enough to stand alone. Up to the present time the Ontario churches have formed a part of the western conference, which includes the State of New York. Today the first Evangelical Lutheran Synod of central Canada will be held at Broadway Hall, as a result of the meeting which was held in Guelph last November. The Rev. M. J. Bieber, of Hamilton, is the president of the temporary organization, and he explained yesterday that the reason for the change was that recently there have grown up a number of English Lutheran congregations in Ontario, who are anxious that they should control their own affairs without reference to their brother church across the border. Today the Lutheran Synod of central Canada will, therefore, be organized.

Advantage has been taken of the opportunity to hold another gathering of great interest in connection with the Lutheran Church in this Province. One of the chief features of the congress was the organization of the Women's Missionary Society of central Canada, which was accomplished at the meeting held in College Hall yesterday afternoon.

Among the delegates in attendance were: Mrs. J. M. Bieber, Mrs. J. J. May and Mrs. Johnson, Hamilton. After an address of welcome to the delegates had been delivered by Mrs. F. Schust, and responded to by Mrs. M. J. Bieber, addresses on mission work were delivered by Mrs. E. A. Kaefer and Mrs. J. L. Sibole, Buffalo, on various phases of mission work.

After the adoption of the constitution for the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Lutheran Church of central Canada had been adopted, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. C. Castleman; Vice-President, Mrs. W. C. Miller; Recording Secretary, Mrs. M. J. Bieber; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. McMartin; Treasurer, Mrs. Frisby.

Among the other business to be transacted at the annual meeting will be consideration of the establishment in Toronto of a theological seminary.

NO BAND MUSIC.

Salvationists Not Allowed to Play by Superintendent at Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 25.—The Salvation Army Band, of Toronto, which spent a three days' Victoria Day visit here, was refused permission to give a sacred concert in Victoria Park on Sunday, and also a regular concert yesterday. The Sunday concert was consequently given just outside the park gates and the other on the American side of the river.

Lieut. Kinkade states Park Superintendent J. H. Jackson, when interviewed, flatly refused permission. The staff sergeant of the army stated that the matter would be brought to the attention of Sir James Whitney.

SUDDEN WAR.

Earl of Clanwilliam's Opinion of Affairs in Europe.

Winnipeg, May 25.—War without a minute's notice is what the Earl of Clanwilliam expects. The Earl and Countess of Clanwilliam are spending a couple of days in the city on their way to the Pacific coast. Germany, the Earl says, only awaits a favorable opportunity to pick a quarrel with England, and they will let loose the dogs of war without notice of any kind. England is, however, awakening to the crisis and is prepared for eventualities. The Earl says England is grateful to all the colonies for their offers. He points out that a Dreadnought would be of no use in Canada, but would have to be near England to be of service. A couple of cruisers could, however, be kept in Canada and they would serve as training schools for a big naval reserve.

CARETAKER ON CARPET.

Colored Clergyman Accuses Civic Employee of Insolence.

H. B. & A. Club Not equiredR to Pay License Fee.

Preparations to be Made to House Tramp Dogs.

Caretaker Robson, of the market convenience, was on the mat again before the Markets Committee yesterday afternoon, this time on the complaint of Rev. R. Hatchet, who accused him of being insolent. The other night Mr. Hatchet was standing in the building waiting for Rev. Thomas H. Henderson, pastor of St. Paul's A. M. E. Church. Mr. Hatchet said they were talking about church matters when the caretaker walked up to him and ordered him to get out. He refused to go, and the caretaker, after telling him that he had no more right there than a dog off the street, talked of getting a policeman.

The caretaker said some other men, who were there, asked him why he permitted so much noise. The dergymen, he said, were twenty feet apart when they were talking.

The aldermen told Mr. Robson to use better judgment in the future.

"These men are not loafers; they are gentlemen," Ald. Applegath reminded the caretaker.

Chairman Gardner said he had received a number of complaints from the respectable citizens about the way the caretaker addressed them. The aldermen advised the Chairman to threaten him with dismissal if there was further cause for complaint. It was decided to have the printed regulations posted up in the building, so that the caretaker would not have so much talking to do.

The aldermen were rather surprised to receive an account for $100 from Munro & Co. architects, for drawing up plans for alterations to the jail. The Secretary looked up the minutes and found that ex-Chairman Nicholson and ex-Ald. Howard had instructed the architect last year to prepare the plans, but could find no resolution from the committee authorizing it. The matter will be further investigated.

Ald. Cooper and Applegath will make arrangements for stalls at the city pound for the tramp dogs which the dog catchers will begin gathering in next week.

City Solicitor Waddell recommended that there be no prosecution of the Hamilton Bowling Club, which has failed to take out a license. The club's charter, it is said, relieves it from paying a fee. Other pool room owners think this is an injustice to them.

Peter Thompson was awarded the contract for painting police headquarters. The price is $74.

FIRST SALUTE.

Holland's Baby Princess Out For an Airing.

The Hague, May 25.—While on guard at the gate leading from the palace to the garden into Molenstraat, to-day, a sergeant of grenadiers, to-day, the approach of a white perambulator pushed by a nurse. For five seconds he looked at the approaching vehicle, when suddenly realizing that it was the little Princess Juliana taking her first airing, he came to attention and presented arms, although the little Princess slumbered on unconscious of the honor. In the afternoon the sergeant was told by his colonel to repair to the palace in full uniform, as the Prince desired to speak with him.

The Prince told him he had been watching him from the window, and had noticed his moment of hesitation and subsequent salute. The Prince then presented him with a banknote to provide himself with a souvenir of the first salute to Her Royal Highness the Princess Juliana.

HETTY'S FORTUNE.

Distant Relatives in California Ready to Claim Some of It.

San Francisco, May 25.—Asserting that the $100,000,000 fortune of Mrs. Hetty Green is founded upon a forged document purporting to be the will of Sylvia Anne Howland, descendants of the Howlands at a family conference in Napa yesterday decided to start a bitter contest upon the death of the "richest woman in America," says the Examiner to-day.

When Sylvia Anne Howland died two wills were discovered. Both left her property of $5,000,000 to various charities. One of them left the second half absolutely to Hetty Green. The other will left Mrs. Green only the income from the estate during her lifetime. After her death it was to pass to the Howland heirs. The first will was the one probated. Now the Howlands hold that the trust will was the proper one.

Darting Pains Around Shoulders and Spine. Brocton Merchant in Hospital for Weeks Cured of Rheumatic Pains by "NERVILINE."

"It would be impossible for me to tell how much I suffered with a sort of travelling rheumatism. It wasn't confined to any particular spot, but wandered over all that area from the necks to the small of the back. Sharp, shooting twinges and dull, gnawing aches finally stiffened up my muscles and left me so helpless I had to give up work and go into the hospital. I stayed there three weeks and felt better. Still I wasn't cured and as soon as I started back to work again the pain was a bad as ever."

"I fortunately read of the strange, powerful effect Nerviline has over such pain and at once I got five bottles. Four times each day Nerviline was rubbed over the seat of the pain and I could feel it sinking deep into the muscles and sinews that were stiffened and sore. In a short time I was limber, active, free from pain and perfectly cured."

"No other liniment could have cured me but 'Nerviline,' and I strongly urge its use for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, strains and swellings and all other muscular affections." (Signed) A. M. McLelland.

Remember this: Nerviline is five times stronger, far more penetrating, possesses more pain-relieving power than any other known remedy. For fifty years its use has been universal. Beware of the substitute,—ask for and get Nerviline only. Large 25c bottles at all dealers.

COBALT FATALITIES. John Lasken Struck by a Train and Killed.

Cobalt, May 25.—Yesterday John Lasken, a Finlander, aged about forty, employed until a day or two ago at the McKinley-Darragh, having quit to go home to bring out his wife, was driving down to the mine for his clothes when struck by a train. He died a short time after being removed to the hospital. A small boy, driving with Lasken, jumped and escaped injury, as did also the team hitched to the rig.

A few minutes after 11 o'clock at the Fourth of July shaft this morning a young Finlander, aged about 25, was coming up in a bucket, evidently suffering from gas. He lost his balance, falling from the bucket, the body being fearfully mutilated in the fall. Coroner Codd will hold an inquest to-morrow afternoon, also in the Lasken case.

AMERICA THREATENED.

If Germany Overcomes Britain It Will Attack the States.

House of Commons Will Discuss Two-Power Standard To-day.

Daily Mail Urges Lords to Throw Out the Budget.

London, May 25.—The United States is expected to figure largely in the debate which will be raised in the House of Commons to-morrow afternoon by Captain Craig relative to the two-power naval standard. In this connection the Daily Mail editorially says:

"We desire to say at once that it is most unfortunate that the name of the United States should enter into the discussion. The American people are one of our bone and flesh of our flesh, and inherit many of our grandest national ideals. Blood, we shall continue to think, is thicker than water, and we believe that some American statesmen already realize that England is a break-water against the wave which may not be fully spent until it washes upon the shores of South America."

"The movement for expansion from central Europe, which is one of the most notable phenomena of our time, and which proceeds with all the force and tragic possibilities of a great natural convulsion, must break upon our coasts first, but if we were driven from our hold upon the sea it would roll swiftly across the wide Atlantic."

In conclusion the editorial urges the House of Lords, in the event of Mr. Asquith's not making a satisfactory statement, to take the unprecedented step of rejecting the budget and forcing an appeal to the country.

Equally significant of the way in which many Englishmen look to the United States for assistance in the expected hour of need is the suggestion made by Coulson Kernahan, the writer, that Britain should celebrate an "America day," taking as his text a report that two New York State regiments participated in the Empire Day celebration at Kingston, Ont. Mr. Kernahan says:

"I propose that the United States be officially invited to share in all future Empire Day celebrations, and that here in England we celebrate an America Day with equal pride and rejoicing. Let the British nation and the American nation, and the nations of Canada, India, Australia, South Africa and New Zealand, stand four square and solid to the world, and they and we would be impregnable."

"I would also propose that we cease to speak of Americans as our cousins; let us retain that word of kinship and hearty good-will for our cousins of Germany, but the blood-bond between Britain and America is closer than that of cousinship. The Americans are our brethren, and it is fitting that we and they should proclaim ourselves before all."

MANY STABS.

Hugh M'Cauley Injured in a Toronto Street Row.

Toronto, May 26.—As the result of a fight last night, in which George Bitten and Hugh M'Cauley were the principals, the latter is lying at his home at 8 Stewart street, with eleven wounds on his head and body, and Bitten is occupying a cell at Farley Avenue Police Station, with a charge of wounding held against him.

M'Cauley and Bitten, it is understood, have been drinking but good friends for some time, and last night about 10 o'clock they met on the street outside Cauley's home, and came to blows. A number of others took part in the fight and when the police arrived on the spot M'Cauley was bleeding profusely from three knife wounds in his head, while his underclothing was saturated with blood.

Bitten, when arrested, denied using a knife, but said that perhaps some of his friends who were mixed up in the disturbance were responsible.

MORE MURDERS.

Mafia's Revenge on Man Who Gave Police Information.

Rome, May 25.—A man of the name of Lamattia, who was a notoriously accused, was shot from behind and killed last night near Monreale. He was temporarily taken into custody at the time Detective Petrosino, of New York, was murdered at Palermo, he being suspected of complicity in that crime. Subsequently he was released because he gave information to the police. Because of this his murder is ascribed to the Mafia's vengeance.

Almost at the same time two peasants who were returning to their homes from work were shot at Palermo. One of them was killed, and the other was seriously injured. There is no trace of the murderers in either of these cases.

STONEHOUSE GUILTY. Convicted at Toronto of Sending "Black Hand" Letters.

Toronto, May 26.—After two hours' deliberation a jury in the Sessions last night found Wm. Stonehouse guilty of the charge of sending "Black Hand" letters to Mr. George Plant, of West, demanding $400 under threats. The writer of the letter had threatened to set fire to Mr. Plant's pottery and to kill his daughter if the money was not paid. Stonehouse was once Mr. Plant's tenant at the Potter.

The case was chiefly remarkable because the Crown entirely rested upon the conclusions of a handwriting expert, Mr. O. B. Stanton. Letters sent in the ordinary way of business by Stonehouse to Mr. Plant and admitted by Stonehouse, were compared with the threatening letter which Stonehouse strongly denied having written or sent. For the benefit of the jury photographic enlargements were produced and Mr. Stanton pointed out the various peculiarities and similarities which led him to conclude that the same hand had written both sets of letters.

Mr. Hartley Dewart, K. C., who defended Stonehouse, pointed out that his client's good character and the fact that he was comfortably-to-do made it impossible to believe in the theory of a handwriting expert, that he could be capable of so heinous an offence. Sentence was deferred on Stonehouse till the end of the Sessions.

The Toronto City Council approved of the filtration scheme.

Ontario Crop Report

May, 1909. The following information regarding agricultural conditions in the Province about the middle of May has been issued by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Vegetation.—In the opinion of many correspondents the growing season of 1909 is the latest for at least a score of years, it being placed at from one to two weeks later than the average.

Wheat.—Reports concerning the prospects of fall wheat vary greatly, even in the same localities, some describing the crop as looking well, though late, while others state that the fields are not only backward in growth, but are thin and much "spotted."

Winter Rye.—The acreage of this crop is comparatively small, it being raised chiefly for pasturing, soiling or for plowing under. It has done better than fall wheat and is looking very well.

Clover.—Old meadows poor, new meadows promising, is a fair summary of the returns received regarding this crop. Like fall wheat, clover looks best on high land and on light soils.

Spring Sowing.—The small portion of the spring crops that were put in early found an excellent seed bed, but heavy rains immediately followed, and the land got too soft to work on, making further sowing almost an impossibility for weeks, except in a few cases where, to use the expressive language of many correspondents, the seed was "puddled."

Fruit Trees.—All classes of orchard trees have come through the winter in good condition, and as far as injury from the weather or mice is concerned, although bark-splitting is reported in some northern localities.

For ordinary chop suey, he takes pork, celery, mushrooms and onions. These are cut into small pieces and mixed in a large pan, two and a half feet in diameter. The mixture is spread so as to cover the bottom of the pan and is cooked in a very short time.

Not all the Chinese restaurant keepers permit inspection of their kitchens. Some believe their cooks' processes should be kept secret to prevent competitors from producing chop as good as theirs.

There were few coaches out, but prominent among those that did come down were A. G. Vanderbilt's Venture, which was chartered for the day by Clarence MacKay, who had with him a party of United States friends.

The annual bench show of the Hamilton Kennel Club at Maple Leaf Park will come to a close this evening. All the prize tickets are now on the benches. The prize list in full will appear in to-morrow's paper.

The Stewards' handicap of 1,000 sovereigns, for three-year-olds, one mile and 54 yards of the Derby course, was won by H. P. Whitney's Persius III. L'Anson was second and Mustapha third. Ten horses started.

The Cateran Plate of 200 sovereigns, for 2-year-olds, distance 3 furlongs, was won by William Penn. Grove was second, and the Doris filly third. Twelve horses started.

The Derby Stakes of 6,500 sovereigns, for entire colts and fillies foaled in 1906, the blue ribbon event of English racing season, distance 1 mile and a half, was won by Minoru, owned by the King.

The victory of His Majesty's horse was exceedingly popular and was greeted by a great burst of enthusiasm. W. Raphael's Louviers was second and William IV. third. Fifteen horses ran.

Minoru, the winner of the classic Derby, is a bay colt by Cyllene, out of Mother Seigel, and is therefore bred in the purple. Cyllene is sire of Otero, who won the 1905 Derby for Lord Rosebery. As a two-year-old Minoru was not much of a success on account of some eye trouble, but he made a few good attempts, showing that he possessed speed and stamina.

Sir Martin, the American horse, fell, and was out of the race. He was ridden by Skeets Martin, the American jockey. On Minoru the betting was 7 to 2, on Louviers 9 to 1, and on William the Fourth 20 to 1.

TRACTS NOT "AD" MATTER.

(Continued from Page 1.) teach himself from $2, and be more careful in the future. Mrs. M. Perfect, Milton street, was struggling along York street in a vain endeavor to find her centre of gravity, when Constables Staton and Pettit ran across her trail yesterday afternoon.

Royal Stewart, 443 Jackson street west, went to Maple Leaf Park last night. He succeeded in ringing a large dirk at one of the booths, and after securing his prize went up town.

The case of Mary Simpson, who was charged by Herbert Simpson with theft, was settled out of court.

For obstructing the sidewalk by halting his peanut wagon thereon Stables Perobies was fined $3.

George Sharkey imbibed too much last night. He met with the usual fate. Ralph O'Brien did a similar thing, but acted in a disorderly manner besides. He was assessed $1 more.

As proper summonses had not been made out for Gianni Ferrollo and Frank Morley, who are charged with peeing without a license, the case was allowed to stand till to-morrow.

"CHOP SUEY'S EASY."

Says Chinese; He Tells Times Readers How. The Chinese proprietor of a restaurant wonders why Americans think only of chop suey when they speak of dining at Chinese eating places.

How is chop suey made? Well, he invites you to go into his kitchen and watch the Chinese cook prepare your dish.

For ordinary chop suey, he takes pork, celery, mushrooms and onions. These are cut into small pieces and mixed in a large pan, two and a half feet in diameter.

The dish is served with rice and tea. There are many variations of this dish, such as chicken chop suey, mushroom chop suey, and the more expensive dishes, bird's nest, fire lung don, chow fun, yau gai man.

In China chop suey is known by many names. "It is not a popular dish, and many do not eat it at all."

Not all the Chinese restaurant keepers permit inspection of their kitchens. Some believe their cooks' processes should be kept secret to prevent competitors from producing chop as good as theirs.

Minoru First in the Great Turf Event. The U.S. Horse, Sir Martin, Fell.

We knew the New York papers could not be kept much longer from learning that Jack Johnson, hog fit, simply toyed with Jack O'Brien.—The Hammer.

Have you sent a cablegram to the King, congratulating His Majesty on his victory in the Derby?

According to Philadelphia papers "Mista" Jack Johnson has lost caste among the negro sports of Philadelphia, and the black champion has been anathematized for his failure to put Philadelphia Jack O'Brien out in his bout of last Wednesday evening.

For several days prior to the six-round go, Johnson was daily automobiling around negro wards and in the Elks' Club and Amos Scott's hotel and other places where he stopped with his hazy wagon loaded with the men of his race who are of sporting proclivities that he would put O'Brien out without fail, and that he was training faithfully to that end.

The result was that the negroes borrowed money, soaked their best clothes and "hooked" their jewelry to bet on Johnson. His failure left them high and dry on the banks of bankruptcy, and many of them were unable to don their Sunday suits and jewelry.

Not only the Philadelphia boys went broke on Johnson, but there came up from Atlantic City a big delegation of negroes who paid $10 each to witness the bout, and on Wednesday were all around town trying to place bets on Johnson.

"I have often fished," said the angler, as he put on a fresh worm, "with hammers and with ducks, but till I visited the Euphrates I had never fished with baskets. It's not bad sport. The Euphrates is a tidal river, with a good many narrow shooflights. These shooflights fill up at flood, when the natives close their mouths with reed lattices. Then, at ebb, they empty, but the fish that entered them with the rising water can't depart. They remain, buried in the mud. Now is your time. You made these empty channels with a domeshaped inverted basket with a circular hole in the top. Every little white root plant you basket down on to a projection in the mud, and if there is a fish inside it, you put your arm through the hole in the top and take him out. I have caught as many as thirty fish in two hours' basket fishing."

JUN. CHURCH S. B. LEAGUE.

The junior church softball league started at the East Hamilton Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon in 4.30, when the St. Andrew's played Barton Street Methodist. A large crowd turned out to witness the game and although the score was large it does not indicate that the play was slow, some very fast work was done. Eaglesham, pitcher for St. Andrew's, showed great form. With a little strengthening up in the batting team will give them a go for it. The next game will be on Thursday at 4.30, when Westminster clash up against the E. E. Y. M. C. A. The following were the teams:

St. Andrew's (27)—Ackland, Eaglesham, Issard, Finlayson, Burton, Lampman, Campbell, Cline, Newland, English.

Barton Street (11)—W. Bigger, N. Beden, Hibbard, Behrens, Ross, Wilson, Harvey, Connors, Andrews.

Umpires—W. Connor, F. Meyers.

This is the shoot which was postponed on account of the Bobby Kerr games on the 15th May. Visiting gunners are expected from Buffalo, Toronto, London and other cities. The ten high local men at this shoot will be sent to Buffalo on Monday to compete in the ten-men world's championship event at the Audubon Gun Club. This club has secured the big event, and it will be run in conjunction with their regular Decoration Day shoot. The local devotees of the gun have been practising hard for this event, and hope to give a good account of themselves.

The Tigra lacrosse team held a full practice last night at the Victoria Park, and will hold another on Thursday evening. The team is fast rounding into shape, and would like to get a game on with an outside team on Saturday afternoon, with Dundas or Binbrook. The Executive Committee of the Hamilton Soccer League has decided to form an intermediate district. The secretaries of city teams are requested to send in their application to H. Hall, care J. W. Nelson, 36 James street north, at once. The following places have signified their intention of entering teams: Winona and Stoney Creek combined, Strathcona and Burlington, St. George's have entered a team. Rockton, Trinity and Waterdown are expected to also enter teams. With the city teams which have already entered it should make a very strong district.

KILLING WITH PUNKY. A Short Sketch of Mr. "Umps." ST. YVES QUIT AGAIN.

Isbister Horse Went Over 40 to 1.

Seagram's Courtier Won Stakes.

Olambala Captured the Latonia Derby.

The Hamilton contingent at the Woodbine track yesterday figured in a fairly large sized killing with J. R. Isbister's good horse Punky. Several thousand dollars was taken out of the ring when the Hamilton horse galloped home in front of Bobby Kean and several other horses of class. Punky opened up at 40 to 1, and was backed down to 20. The owner had several tickets on him at 40, but more at 30. Punky broke well and ran like a real race horse from start to finish. He went to the front at the half, and finished first by two lengths; he won going away. The time was good—1:47 for one mile and seventy yards—showing that the victory was no fluke.

Besides the Breeders' stakes there were offered the Coronation stakes, the Prince of Wales handicap and the Melund steeplechase. Well matched fields went to the post in a majority of the events, and interesting contests were in order. P. T. Chinn furnished the winner in the Prince of Wales handicap in the first filly Lady Irma, who showed dazzling speed, while Saint Cecilia, trained by Wm. Shields, gathered in the Coronation stakes. The latter had to be pounds best of her field to win. She was very green at the post, and when the barrier was sprung she propped and was practically left.

The Seagram stable started two in the Breeders' stakes, Tolland and Courtier, and declared to win with the latter. Tolland was pounds best of the two, and in the final quarter, Musgrave was forced to take a stout hold on him to allow Courtier to win.

In the Melund steeplechase, Agent showed that he has not forgotten his old trick of bolting. He looked to outclass his field, and received strong support, but at the second jump he bore out. The race of the day, both for class and contention, was the Prince of Wales handicap, worth $1,350 for the first horse. Eight went to the post, among them some of the smartest sprinters now running. The Fatherless horse, Red River, in the training charge of Wm. Garth, and with a record of four consecutive victories, was the choice, but Lady Irma was well backed, and Owen Walker expected Centre Shot to win. The giant Smiley Corbett, though straggling with every opportunity to get away, refused to move off with the others when the barrier went up. Instead, he wheeled and galloped around behind them in a circle. Lady Irma quickly took the pace-making from Coney K., and assumed a lead, which she maintained to the end, though her margin of victory from Purslane was the narrowest possible. Mr. Seagram's disappointing horse was in the mood to run one of his good races, and his performance was really more meritorious than that of the winner, as he was the last horse to leave the post, and had to go by or work his way through the entire field. Red River, always a contender, was just as close to Purslane, and Centre Shot on top of the Garth horse. The handicap worked out to produce the best finish of the meeting up to date. The first quarter was run in better than 23 seconds, and the half mile in 47.3-5.

Following is the summary: First race, one mile and 70 yards—Punky, 109 (Herbert), 20 to 1, first; Bobby Kean, 116 (Bettig) 8 to 5, second; Malediction, 112 (Harty), 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:47. Tommy Waddell, Varieties, Arowswift, Xenocrates, Confessor, Adoration, Roseboro, Waterbridge, campaigner and Heisler also ran. Second race, 1/2 furlongs—Saint Cecilia, 116 (Trueman), 9 to 1, first; Frolic, 118 (Goldstein) 9 to 20, second; Staccanie, 115 (Mentry) 4 to 1, third. Time, 58.2-5. Lou Corval and Ormence also ran. Third race, 1-1/8 miles—Courtier, 122 (Goldstein), 7 to 20, first; Tolland, 122 (Mentry), 13 to 20, second; Fort Garry, 122 (Mentry), 13 to 5, third. Time, 1:56 1/2. Desert Star also ran. Fourth race, steeplechase, about two miles—Kara, 150 (McAfee), even, first; Dr. Koch, 147 (Archibald), 15 to 1, second; Expansionist, 157 (Williams), 3 to 1, third. Time 4:21.4-5. Agent also ran. Fifth race, three-fourths mile—Lady Irma, 107 (Bettig), 4 to 1, first; Purslane, 104 (Musgrave), 8 to 1, second; Red River, 119 (Goldstein), 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:13.1-5. Coney K., Elliott, Centre Shot, Smiley Corbett and Personal also ran. Sixth race, 1-1/16 miles—Howard Shean, 111 (Chandler), 20 to 1, first; Edw. Gun, 106 (Caldwell), 6 to 1, second; Ida May, 100 (Jan), 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:49.4-5. Ben Double, Patriot, Delostrom, Holloway, W. I. Hinch and Great Jubilee also ran.

WOODBINE WHISPERS. Mr. Thos. Clyde was a steward for the steeplechase yesterday. Jockey Rettig was cautioned after winning the Prince of Wales Handicap on Lady Irma that his tendency to allow his mount to carry out an overtaking horse in the stretch would get him into trouble if repeated. The stewards issued a ruling yesterday that jockeys under regular contract will not be allowed, without permission from the stewards, to ride other horses in races in which their employers have starters.

Mentry's ride on Darrington Monday was evidently displeasing to the stewards, as they had that rider on the carpet before the races yesterday. Barington is a one-eyed horse and has a habit of bearing in toward the inside rail.

Jockey Ross, who rode the horse in California, verified this, which probably accounts for no action being taken in the U.S.

F. A. Forsythe wired Secretary Fraser that he would ship the three-year-old High Private to Woodbine to start in the Toronto Cup on Saturday. It is expected that Sam Hildreth will also send on King James to start in the same race. Several of the layers went off yesterday. Fred Cook was among the number. He left for Latonia last night, but expects to be back later on. Maurice Herford left last night for Baltimore to book at the meetings which the Maryland Hunt Club will give at Pimlico. OLAMBALA'S DERBY. Cincinnati, O., May 26.—Olambala, owned by J. G. Greener, won the classic Latonia Derby, at a mile and a half, at the opening yesterday of the Latonia track's 30-day meet, defeating by five lengths Pat Dunn's The Peer. Fifteen lengths back came W. J. Young's Plate Glass, the only other starter. Rain began falling early in the day and while it ceased for the derby, yet the race run over a sloppy track.

An umpire is a man who consents to be hated by the whole world for $50 a week. It is his duty to decide which set of sympathizers at a baseball game shall be entitled to yell "Thief," "Robber," "Muttthead," "Put him out!" "Lynch him!" and other pleasant things. There are always two sides in a baseball game, so an umpire has no difficulty in drawing out expressions of this kind with every decision.

Umpiring looks more dangerous than soldiering, coupling freight cars or looping the loop, but it is not. Very few umpires are killed, though there is an open season on them from April to October. This is because an umpire is so much more unhappy living than dead that no player would think of putting him out of his sufferings. An umpire does not need to be strong, but he must be a brave man. Knocking Down the Pins

The bowling season at the H. B. & A. C. will be practically finished to-night, when the C class final championship for the last half season will be bowled between the Sweet Caporals, Victoria Lawn Bowling Club and Dynes' Scoundrels. These teams are the winners in their sections, and as they are all strong a splendid match will undoubtedly result. The championship will be decided on five games, total pins to count. The winners will receive five H. B. & A. C. gold medals. The match will commence at 7.45.

The final matches in A class will be played on Friday night, and the prizes will be distributed to all winners in the different leagues at the beginning of the week.

New York, May 26.—There were many excellent scores but little promise of record-breaking in the performances of the first squad of those entered for the individual contests at the tournament of the National Bowling Association here last night. One of the best performances of the day was the series of three games rolled by Miss Littlefield, of New York, in the women's contests. She took first place with a score of 552, nearly 125

San Francisco, May 26.—Mike (Twin) Sullivan, of Boston, and Kyle Whitney fought 20 rounds to a draw last night. Sullivan outboxed Whitney, but was knocked down in the 19th round.

rush towards him with their bats, open their mouths to the tenth degree and yell, "What's that!" he must be able to look unflinchingly into that half-acre of flaming red throats and say calmly, "That's it." Umpires are never elected to public office, but they sometimes live to a great age after they stop umpiring. It is very hard to kill an umpire after he gets out of the business. Once in the old days an umpire resigned and went to work in a powder mill. Two days later the mill exploded and blew him 111 feet through the roof. The other employees rushed over with dust pans and tooth brushes to gather him up and found him brushing his clothes and saying, "There is no use of kicking about it. The man's out." I said, "Play ball!" During the Spanish-American war it was almost impossible to get umpires. They all joined the army for a vacation.

Three special individual matches for $250 a side were rolled at the evening session. C. H. Meyer, of Brooklyn, defeated John Flose, of Buffalo, in ten games, 1,692 to 1,619. Lee Johns, of Newark, lost to Wm. White, of Astbury Park, in one of the closest contests of the evening, eleven games, 2,000 to 1,996. Major Tysler, of Rochester, defeated Albert Schelke, of the Algonquin Club, New York, in nine games, 1,778 to 1,616.

Most of the alleys were occupied to-night by the five-men teams. The honor of high score went to the representatives of the Jamaica, L. I. Bowling Club, with 2,809, an average of 187, the best score so far of this class in the tournament.

The most interesting of the afternoon events was the contest for the two-men teams, in which thirteen teams from Baltimore were entered against an equal number from New York City. The visitors were badly worsted, eight local teams beating the highest score of the Baltimore rollers. The best single game rolled during the afternoon was 248, by Bergestown, of the New York team, which took first place, with 1,141. The scores of the three leading teams follow:

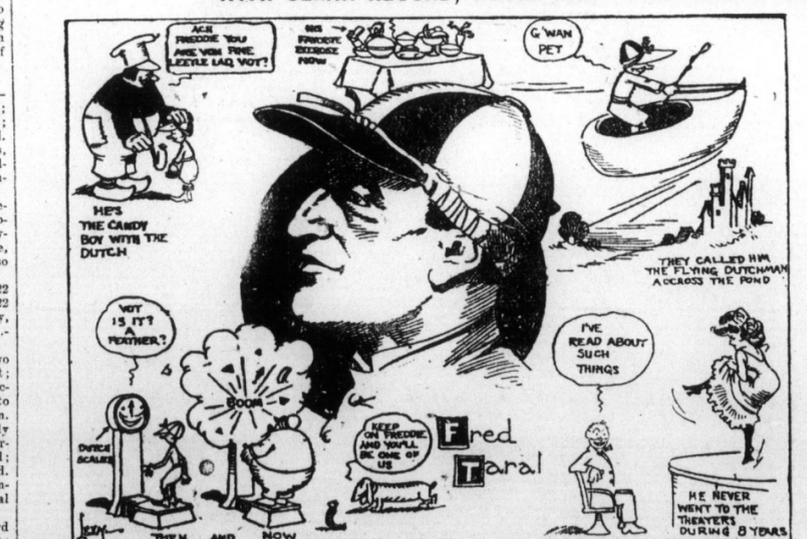

Bergestown and Thomas, New York, 1,141; average, 190. Lewis and Andrews, New York, 1,110; average, 185. Muller and Wulff, New York, 1,084; average, 189.

The Capital Lacrosse Club will hold a full practice to-night at Mountain View Park. Every member should be promptly on time, as the C. L. A. district schedule will shortly be drawn up.

AFTER 29 YEARS IN PIGSKIN FRED TARAL RETIRES WITH CLEAN RECORD; NEVER HAD TO EXPLAIN A RIDE

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 26.—What would you do if you had denied yourself every pleasure for almost three decades —29 years, to be exact—and had accumulated a fortune which permitted you to lean back and enjoy the good things of life? Wouldn't you smile? Well, that's what Fred Taral, greatest of jockeys, is doing right now. For the first time since he was 13, the "Flying Dutchman" is living the life of an every day citizen. He eats everything he wants; he goes to the theatre; he retires when sleepy and rolls out when he feels like it. It's a novelty and Taral is playing it to the limit. When winning races Taral accumulated a fortune, but could not enjoy it. Forced to rigorous training to keep down to weight, he could only nibble at things warranted not to increase weight; he went to bed with the chickens and arose with the lark. But it's changed now.

For, be it known, Taral has ridden his last race. At the age of 42 he has retired from the field of his triumphs to settle down in Westchester with his family. Taral rode his last race in Vienna, in April. When he weighed in he tipped the scale at 120 pounds. Today he weighs 150, and declares he will never weigh less if he can help it. It was in 1880 when Taral broke into the game as an apprentice for Lew Elmore. After serving for three years Taral rode for Dan Honig, LeBold brothers, Beverwyck stable, Nolan, Walcott & Campbell, J. R. Keene and Marcus Daly. In 1900, having taken on too much weight for this side, he signed to ride in Austria-Hungary for Herr von Pecky. Taral was the only jockey to win the three big events of the metropolitan turf in one season, namely the Brooklyn and Suburban handicaps on Dr. Rice and Ramapo and the Metropolitan on the last named horse. He also won the Futurity with Domino. He won the most valuable race in Germany, the Derby, and the richest in Austria-Hungary, the King's Prize. In eight years abroad Taral has been leading rider for six years. Once he finished second and again third. Much of Taral's riding was for Baron Springer of Vienna. When he declared his intention to leave Europe, the baron and the Jockey Club of Vienna gave Taral letters, the like of which have never been seen. They laud the American's honesty and ability, and in every way show the esteem in which he was held as man and rider. During his career Taral flashed home more than 3,000 times in front. He was never called to the judge's stand to explain a suspicious ride, for he never rode a suspicious race. His honesty has never been questioned in any part of the world.

Last Night's Race Was a Frost.

Sellen Beat Coley by Two Laps.

Programme of Tom Flanagan's Meet.

It cost Sol Mintz, Tom Longboat's god-father, a hundred or more dollars to find out that Hamilton foot-racing fans do not want professional racing. The middle distance race between Henri St. Yves, the Frenchman; Percy Sellen and Tom Coley at Britannia Park last night did not draw a big enough gate to pay the rent. At 8.30 the park was as vacant as a bar-room after 7 o'clock on Saturday night, and genial Tom Flanagan went to the gate and told the ticket taker to give a message to the ticket seller. While that important official was absent Flanagan told the herd of small boys around the gate to get busy, and about 150 seat warmers and rooters dashed into the bleachers. The boys made the place more cheerful. About 8.30 a conference took place between the managers of the runners as to whether the race would be called off or not, and it was formally decided to "keep faith with the public" and start the race at 9 o'clock. In the meantime a few stray dollars and halves found their way into the strong box.

At 9 o'clock the runners made their appearance on the track. St. Yves in the tri colors and the other pair in the colors of the Toronto Irish-Canadian A. C. Tom Longboat was then led to the line to do a Kemp Sisters' Wild West stunt—fire the pistol to start the runners on their twelve-mile journey. Tom examined the weapon and trained the muzzle at nearly every man of importance on the track. Harry Pollock, the Frenchman's manager, thought the Indian was attempting to hold him up for his diamonds and ducked. The weapon being of modern design and different from the shooting irons that Longboat had been used to using in hunting game in Caledonia and vicinity, he was unable to discharge it. Tom Flanagan finally pulled the trigger and the runners were off. The trio ran together for nearly two miles, when St. Yves and Sellen sprinted and led Coley by fifty yards. At this point St. Yves ran to the dressing room and dressed. Sellen and Coley continued to run, but the management felt constrained to lock the gates to keep the spectators from going away in disgust. Sellen gained two laps on Coley and finished the twelve miles in about 72 minutes.

Billy Daniels was timekeeper, but his watch ran slow, the cold night air apparently affecting its programme. The time for the first mile was announced as 5:05. When St. Yves quit he announced his back was sore.

FLANAGAN'S PARK OPENING. While in the city last night Tom Flanagan announced the programme for the opening of his new athletic grounds—Scarboro Park—on June 18. It will include the following events:

- 100 yards handicap. 220 yards handicap. Quarter mile handicap. Half mile handicap. Three mile race, scratch. Five mile handicap. Shot put. Hammer throwing. Pole vaulting. High jump. Weight lifting. Gymnastic competition. Light and heavy weight wrestling tournament.

Entry blanks will be issued in a few days and may be had at Billy Carroll's cigar store and the Y. M. C. A. office. It is likely that a goodly number of Hamilton athletes will take part. Chicago, May 26.—Alexander Theibau, one of the greatest of Chicago's distance runners, has renounced the Bay Leaves contest to run, but the management of competing in the $10,000 Derby Marathon next Saturday. Theibau's entry now brings the total field up to seven, who are: St. Yves, Hayes, Svanberg, Longboat, Simpson, the Ojibway Indian, Appleby and Theibau.

WINNIPEG OFFERS BIG PURSE.

Winnipeg, May 26.—Local promoters have been endeavoring to arrange a meeting between Appleby, Shrubb and Acoose, and have wired Shrubb offering a purse of two thousand dollars. Appleby, however, has announced that it will be impossible for him to enter any such race, as he is preparing to sail for England on June 2nd. Concerning this and the challenge from Shrubb, Appleby says: "My challenge has been out for six weeks, and though I prolonged him publicly, I have never held a word from him, and it seems to me that he is looking for some cheap advertising. I was very anxious to meet him, as I knew a match between us would draw a very large crowd, and men there would be a big purse. I had that soon after my arrival, and crossed the Atlantic with the intention of a file with him, and it seems very extraordinary that at the last moment I cannot meet him before August."

ALL BETS OFF.

Winnipeg, May 26.—All bets on the Appleby-Acoose race have been declared off by the judges, as the result of a racing injury sustained by the Indian, which necessitated his retirement in the tenth mile. Both men positively declare the race was run on the square as far as they are personally concerned. A substantial reward is being offered for the conviction of the guilty parties, but there is little probability of securing any evidence. Appleby will run a five-mile exhibition race here to-morrow evening, and on Thursday will leave for Chicago, where he will start in the big Marathon on Saturday.

OLYMPIC GAMES IN 1912.

Berlin, May 25.—The question of holding the Olympic Games here in 1912 has been settled in the negative, there being practically no chance of completing the stadium in time. It will therefore be proposed at the conference of the Olympic Committee to-morrow to hold the next games at Stockholm. The delay in finishing the stadium here is attributed to the indifference of the big German cities, which are all devoting their best and subscriptions to building up stations.

LEAF SHUT OUT.

Buffalo Won at Toronto Yesterday 6 to 0.

At Toronto—A dose that was not altogether palatable was administered to the pennant-aspiring Leafs yesterday by the traveling herd of Bisons from Buffalo. The mixture was hard to swallow, but one Vowinkle, who was the leading doctor on the team, will not be gainsaid. His efforts, which was mixed with a white-wash brush, was the first that Kelley's Braves have had handed them this season on the home grounds, and it caused many very far-eyes. The score was 6 to 0 and there was no room for excuses, although it may be said that Umpire Stafford did not impress anyone too favorably. On two occasions he called men out and then reversed his decision. He was bad both ways, and the score shows that Kelley did not affect the result of the game in the least. Manager Joe Kelley had occasion to call him a few pet names in the first, when he changed his mind on a play at second, and was chased in a hurry. Score: Toronto 6, 0; Buffalo 0, 6.

Batteries—Vowinkle and Wooda; Kellogg, Moffatt and Vandy. Jersey City, 6, 16, 12; Providence, 1, 7, 1. At Montreal—4, 9, 1; Rochester, 3, 3, 3. At Newark—Newark, 7, 8, 2; Baltimore, 5, 6, 3.

Toronto, May 26.—An enthusiastic meeting of the Campbellford Cricket Club was held recently. The president for this year is C. H. Harris and the vice-president Mr. A. A. Mulholland. The following committee was appointed: Messrs. John Dickson, D. E. Tait, W. A. Tait and Dr. Bonnycastle, with R. S. Mangles as honorary secretary.

Chicago, May 26.—Almost simultaneously with the news of the illness in New York of Pat Sheedy, his former partner in many enterprises, Parson Davies, who brought quietly from New Orleans to Chicago. He is said to be in his last illness at the home of his sister in the city.

ATHLETIC SPORTS HELD AT VINELAND.

Beamsville, May 25.—(Special.)—Victoria Hall Athletic Club had one of the best field days in their history yesterday at the campus, Vineland. Four years ago this annual 24th event was inaugurated by Mr. M. F. Rittenhouse, Chicago, the generous donor of the beautiful school hall, and just lately the land for the experimental fruit station. Nearly 3,000 people saw the events on Monday, each one being hotly contested and the fields large. POWERS OF THE BOARD OF CONTROL majority vote can refer back any matter for re-consideration. All independent boards must have their annual estimates in before March 1st.

The clause empowering the board to nominate officers of the corporation shall not apply to any member of the fire department, excepting the chief, nor to any assessor, except the assessment commissioner, nor to the appointment of representatives of the Council to independent boards nor the appointment of members to the Court of Revision.

The Toronto, Hamilton & Buffalo Railway is making another effort to get permission to raise the grade of Gibson street five feet and cross that thoroughfare south of Princess street, with a switch to the Westinghouse works. The Board of Works last night refused to grant the request. The company two years ago bought a right of way south of Princess street, but the property owners in the vicinity objected so strenuously that the city would not give its consent. The matter was fought out before the Dominion Railway Commission, and the company was ordered to grant north of Princess street, close to the Grand Trunk tracks. The switch was never built and nothing more was heard of the matter until Superintendent Fisher's letter was laid before the Board of Works last night. City Engineer Macalum recommended against the request being granted.

The most important item on the Fire and Water Committee's programme to-night is the appointment of officers to fill vacancies in the fire department caused by resignations. There is little doubt that Captain Aitchison, of the King William street station, who has been in command there six years, and a member of the department for nineteen years, will be made second assistant chief. Mr. Aitchison is regarded by his superior officers as one of the best men on the department. Chief Ten Eyck will not say who he is going to recommend for the positions, but it is believed Fireman Thomas Wadsworth will be made captain at King William street.

Secretary James of the Fire and Water Committee has received a communication from Provincial Secretary Hanna, calling his attention to the fact that under new legislation municipalities are not permitted now to charge public institutions more than the manufacturers' rate for water. The Asylum has been paying a higher rate.

The Buffalo Park Wild West Show at Maple Leaf Hill is objecting to paying the price demanded by the city for water. The city charges $7.50 per day for the first fifty horses and $5 for each fifty above that number.

The city officials are very doubtful if a by-law such as the merchants have asked the Markets Committee to pass, restricting the sale of foreign fruits on the streets, can be passed. Toronto enacted a similar by-law, and it is said, that after spending several thousand dollars the city had found it impossible to enforce it.

Farmers from the Plains road have petitioned the Markets Committee to give them the same rights on Central Market as the farmers from Bartonville, the privilege of paying something extra so that their places beside the fountain will be reserved for them, saving them coming to the city the day before. Market Clerk Hill is opposed to this policy being adopted. The matter was left in his hands.

A mistaken impression was conveyed yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Markets Committee as to the recommendation made by City Solicitor Waddell in the case of the Hamilton Bowling & Athletic Club, which has refused to take out a billiard and pool license on the ground that it is relieved from doing so by its charter. Mr. Waddell did not recommend that there be no prosecution. He advised that action be deferred until judgment is given in the appeal of the Hamilton Bowling & Athletic Association of Toronto, which was fined for failing to take out a license.

The Street Railway Company made a start on Barton street to-day. A small gang was placed at work tearing up the tracks at the corner of Sherman avenue, and before the end of the week several hundred men will be employed. The city and company have all the necessary material on hand, and a big effort will be made to finish the work up to the middle of July. The company has almost completed James street.

A deputation from the Board of Health will likely visit Rochester this week to get pointers for the "pure milk for babies" campaign it is intended to carry on here this year. The committee, which has the matter in hand, met representatives from the Hamilton Medical Association last night, and it was agreed, if possible, to follow the Rochester plan of securing the milk from a farm, selected by the Board, and distribute it from a central station.

As a result of complaints made by the City Hospital nurses that girls who are not regularly qualified nurses copy their uniforms, the Board of Hospital Governors decided yesterday afternoon to buy a special brand of cloth, which will be sold to the nurses at the Hospital and the graduates at $1.79 per dress. It will have a large blue and white stripe and the firm that will supply it has promised that no other weave of cloth, just like it, will be made. June 17 was fixed as the date for graduation day. The threatened injunction proceedings if the new Southern home is opened as a hospital for incurable consumptives is not worrying the Governors. They simply referred the matter to Mayor McLaren. City Treasurer Leckie wrote stating that it was the desire of the Finance Committee that the Board should make a strong effort to live within its appropriation, and requesting that a monthly financial statement be supplied. The Governors promised to do their best, but they are doubtful of being able to finish up the year without an overdraft. The present arrangement for lighting the Hospital buildings will be continued. Miss Violet McKee succeeds Miss Boyes, the stenographer, who has resigned.

Robert Stewart has been granted a permit for two brick houses on Oak street, between Barton and Birge streets, to cost $3,000.

The property owners on Glenfern avenue have petitioned the Board of Works to macadamize the road from Queen to Kent street under the local improvement plan. Chairman Allan thinks that petitions of this kind should be encouraged, but unfortunately nothing can be done until the road is graded.

To-night the Fire and Water Committee will deal with the case of a fireman accused of being under the influence of John Barleycorn while on watch. The fireman had been under suspension for some days.

The city engineer has mapped out a plan for water mains and connections which will be laid before the Fire and Water Committee to-night.

The Board of Works is having great difficulty securing teams and the shortage threatens to seriously delay work.

Miss H. Dillon, an employee of the Ontario Lantern Company, was seized with convulsions while at work this morning and had to be removed to the City Hospital.

Monday having been a holiday, the recruits of C Squadron, Second Dragoons, will parade for inspection at the drill hall this evening at 7.45. All interested should attend.

There was a good attendance at the weekly meeting of Knox Mission Men's League last night. President Charles Havers was in the chair. After the usual business was over, Rev. H. B. Christie gave a helpful address on "Self Control." A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Christie.

OPERA HOUSE FIRE.

Little Girls in Drill Are Fatally Burned.

Central City, Ky., May 26.—One child is dead and four others are dying to-day as a result of a fire in the Grand Opera House last night during the commencement exercises of Mrs. Boyd's class for girls. Nellie McGeary, 8, died this morning and Dorothy Clay, 8; Selma Clay, 10; Louise Marshall, 12; and Rena Miller, 8, will not survive their injuries, according to the doctors.

A panic occurred in the opera house, when the children with their clothing aflame jumped from the stage into the audience. A class of little girls were carrying sparklers in a fairy drill and one held by Dorothy Clay ignited her dress, in an instant the flames spread to the crowd of children on either side of her. The children knew their parents were in the audience and made a rush for them. Louis Marshall was the first to rush from the stage, and threw herself into the arms of her aunt. The audience made a rush from the building in a body and many were bruised and hurt.

TOOK HER LIFE.

Mother Feared Loss of Her Children's Love.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 26.—"I'm not going to talk to you any more, mamma," said 5-year-old Raymond McCarthy, this morning.

"You'll not talk to mother any more?" said she.

"No," reiterated the boy.

Five minutes afterward the woman's husband found her in her bedroom, where she had taken carbolic acid, and an hour later she was dead.

She has been melancholy and feared her children were learning to love their father more than herself. The lad's remark was enough to turn the scale. She was 34 years old and leaves a 2-year-old daughter besides little Raymond.

Tea at Maple Leaf Park.

One of the attractive features of the Greater Hamilton Exhibition is the delicious tea being served at the Red Rose tea booth. A charge of 5c is made for tea and wafers, but a coupon is given good for this amount when buying a package of Red Rose tea. Nothing is so refreshing as tea when one is tired, and on Monday the holiday crowd at times fairly besieged the booth. Everyone who visited the exhibition is invited to partake of this refreshment.

BROKE SKULL.

Serious Accident to Henry Bush Last Evening.

Henry Bush, 25 Kent street, met with a painful accident last night at the corner of Kent and Herkimer streets. He had just alighted from a car and was walking towards the sidewalk when he slipped and, in falling, struck his head on the curb. He was rendered unconscious. The ambulance was called, and he was taken to the City Hospital. An examination by the doctors there disclosed the fact that his skull had been fractured, and for a while it was feared that he would not recover. He was operated upon by Dr. Rennie, and this morning was somewhat improved. Though his injury is serious, it is not thought that it will prove fatal.

DYNAMITE STICKS

Found in the Discharge Pipe of Steamer at Buffalo.

Buffalo, May 26.—Four sticks of dynamite were found to-day on the discharge pipe of the steamer Frank T. Heffelfinger laying at the Erie coal docks. The sticks were tied together with wire. Attached to the dynamite was a capped fuse which had been ignited, but on reaching the wire the fuse was extinguished. The Heffelfinger is one of the lake carriers' fleet of steamers and arrived here yesterday from Superior, Mich., with grain. After unloading she was tied up at the Erie docks to load coal. The police are investigating the affair.
