Brother Gardner on Giving Advice.

De longer I jib on top air de barder I an opinion that the man who profits by your advice give you no credit for it while do one loses by it am your enemy. I had reached that pass in my private life when I was a may-burly deger de inqury and de conversation to hard cider as soon as possible. If I predict rain an' it may be too much for his ears or not 'nuff for his latern, an' he an beart to lay it again me, o' H. I predict rain an' doan come, he loss confidence in my judgment and holds me in contempt.

For the last twenty years I have been makin' de happy 'medicin' an' 'dat de chief cause of my 'bein' back'd an' how I'd get an liver all away an' I do want to be so good dat a pussen dare to cum an' steal my 'bein' in de day time, feelin' dat I'll forgive him an' doan want to be so bad dat none of de nuyburs dare to come in an' burry soft soap knowin' dat I'dan like to lead 'em tryin' to strike de happy drum my 'bein' has all dried de de pip an' none of de borried soap has been returned.

I want to treat all my nuyburs alike but when Johnson comes in an' abuse Smith, an' Smith comes in an' abuse Johnson, de happy 'medicin' which I search an' find makes an enemy of both, becaze I doan agree with either.

If I pray so loud that my bazoo floats out on de night to de cars de de nuyburs somebody remarks dat wind power religion may be all right, to trade my by, but it doan reach de gates of heaben. If I pray in such a low voice dat nobody 'ears it, somebody remarks dat dobest dat I had cool off a good deal since payin' in dat bill fur three months pay rent.

My left-hand nuybur has children who an de terror of Kaintuck. He comes ober to me in de gloamin', an' asks what de doan be doin', de happy 'medicin' would be to buy a mad dog an' turn him loose in de back yard, but de suggestion makes de man an' enemy.

My right-hand nuybur has children who an de good dat dey lay down an' let de nuybur be robbed and pounded. He wakes up in de mornin' to find an' advise an' when I tell him to pack de gear to an' idiot asylum he deas speak to me again fur six months.

De medium we should strive fur may be divided up as follows: 1. Be deant to nuybours quarrel. 2. Be deant to men's faults unless you an de witness box. 3. Be silent when you can't praise. 4. If you advise at all, agree with de ideas of de person asking it. 5. A blind man an' never brought in to court for a witness. 6. Widen up not in knowin' such a powerful sight, but in keepin' shut on what you doan know. -Hillsboro Press.

A Chapter on Snakes.

The People publishes the following significant chapter on snakes: "Twenty-five snakes running through the streets - that's free whiskey." "Twenty-five snakes gathered into a box, in which twenty-five holes are made by the authority of the court - that's law."

"Ten of the holes are closed, and the snakes all get out through the other five - that's high license." "Drive all the snakes over to the next village - that's legal option." "Kill all the snakes - that's prohibition."

Do Figures Lie?

Two figures lie! 20 chickens each, which they took to market. They agreed to divide equally the proceeds of their sale. One sold her chickens two for $1, getting for 30 chickens $15. The other sold hers three for $1, getting for her chickens $10. This made $25 realized on the 60 chickens.

Where She Had Him.

Wife - The Bible says much in favor of women, John. I thought that the Israelites kept their women in the background, but if they did, the Bible, which is their history, doesn't say so. Husband - Blush! The Israelites did well by keeping their women in the background; that's where women should be.

Drowned in Beer.

A man in Trenton, N. J., was recently drowned in a beer. He had been drinking hard and was well under alcoholic influence when he entered a saloon and ordered a glass of beer, which was brought him. He sat down at the table and fell into a stupor, his head dropping forward into a glass before him. When the bar-keeper tried to arouse him half an hour later it was found that he was dead, his nose being immersed in the liquor in such a way that respiration was completely stopped.

Shot by His Cousin.

Over, Oct. 11. - A few days ago a man named Wilson, of Dear Lake, was in company with his cousin, a young man 19 years old, named Wilson. Wilson had a fir arm, and apparently without much notice said he would shoot Wilson. With deliberation he pointed the weapon and fired. The ball entered Wilson's breast near the heart. Wilson sank rapidly and died yesterday. It is said that Wilson shot Wilson for alienating his wife's affections.

Yield This Following.

He Was There.

Talking about echoes, Colonel Ogogobos claimed that he had one in his place, a few miles from Savannah, which beat anything he had ever heard or read about; one, in fact, which would clearly repeat whole sentences. The party of gentlemen were interested, but incredulous, and arranged to accompany Colonel Ogogobos home the next afternoon to test the wonderful echo.

The Colonel found on getting home that in the heat of the discussion he had claimed more than the facts justified. Determined not to be beaten, he called his Irish laborer.

"Pat," said he, "some gentlemen are coming home with me to-morrow afternoon to hear 'de echo. Now, I want you to govern me by wide nostrils, short neck and eyes set directly in front."

"You man for me to play ikker, sorr?" asked Pat, grinning. "That's it exactly," said the Colonel. "Now, do you thoroughly understand what I want you to do?" "Ye can answer it whatever we may call out?" "Ye man for me to play ikker, sorr?" asked Pat, grinning.

"That's it exactly," said the Colonel. "Now, do you thoroughly understand what I want you to do?" "Ye can answer it whatever we may call out?" "Ye man for me to play ikker, sorr?" asked Pat, grinning.

Make Home Happy.

When I was young I thought if I ever married and had a home I should try to make it a happy one.

When the right one offered me his hand and we were married, I did not want any fretting or scolding in our home. No remark could have pleased me better than to see a woman at a time when I have been in other homes I have been sorry to see the unkind actions and hear those cross words.

We are farmers, and have lived together a great many years, and he has never spoken a word to me, nor do I speak ever to him, but my feet are tender. While the clerk was getting them on she said: "I used to have a beautiful foot; not small, but such a good shape. I never had a small foot but I wore 2 1/2 sizes for years, until I walked so much and grew heavier. 'Your foot is a goodly shape; the last is too small for you. That is why you require a large size,' said the clerk, who had no fear of Ananias before his eyes. 'I've heard' she said, 'that the Venus shoe Medochy wears No. 5, and she is a model of true proportion.' 'Kissed' the clerk, growing red in the face as he pulled and urged to get them on. He had never heard of 'doe Medochy,' but he was up to a trick or two himself. 'After all,' he said, 'these are too large. You'll find the 4 1/2 just right.' He was only gone a moment, but in that time he had crossed a B from the inside of a pair of shoes and substituted a 4 B. 'There, I thought it was strange,' she said, when they were on and paid for 'why, those are just as easy as my old ones. I believe I could just as well have had 5's after all.' And the young man without a conscience went back to his duties with the air of one well satisfied with himself.

A Few Nuts to Crack.

The Catholic Temperance Advocate asks a few Conundrums. Who had turkey stuffed with oysters, and the turkey? That's easy, you say, it was the turkey. Who said 'I'll be a millionaire' and who? Who has the fat of the land, all that money can buy, you or the saloon keeper? Who keeps a horse and takes his wife and children out driving, you or the man who takes your money for drink? Who wears good clothes, you or the saloon keeper? Who are children are dressed nicely, and have all that children want to make life comfortable, you or the saloon keeper? Who eats stale bread because it is cheap? Who buys cheap meat, buys cheap bones, and everything that is a little poor, because it is cheap? Is it a saloon keeper?

How to Help the Prayer Meeting.

Come. Come Early. Bring somebody else. This is important. If you don't know one note from another, you will feel better from having tried and it will encourage the others. Say something, if it is only two words. Twenty-five short testimonials are better than a whole portfolio of glittering "testimonials," or "beautiful sunsetky rhiorhe." Men who come don't want gab, but they do want life. Don't keep your mouth shut for fear of making mistakes. Why, bless your heart, a hundred years from now the fact that you used trifling grammar, whether you a bit, especially if now the fact was saved because you did say some thing. Don't start a discussion. Don't wait till the last one. Somebody will say just what you wanted. It always happens so. Don't think about that engagement to-morrow. Too much world in your heart will set like water on a fire. If the meeting drags, don't you drag; make a snap decision. Look just as pleasant as you can. It's contagious. Remember that it is God's service, and not the human being leading.

Remember that the leader needs prayer, sympathy and support.

Remember that long prayers are too good for a good meeting. Finally, take home that part of the meeting that hit you the hardest, and think over it. Don't pass it over your shoulder to the one back of you. Remember the stranger welcome. -Trick Christian Advertiser.

A Good Kind of Face to Have.

Memory of events. - This is shown by a wide, full forehead in the center. Reasoning power. - A high, long and well defined nose and a broad face exhibits this great faculty.

Moral courage. - This faculty manifests itself by wide nostrils, short neck and eyes set directly in front.

Language. - This faculty is exhibited in many parts of the face, particularly by a large mouth and large, full eyes, opened wide.

Self-Respect. - This faculty shows itself in a long and deep upper lip. Large self-esteem gives one dignity, self-control and perfect independence.

Firmness. - The firmness of this faculty when very large, is indicated by a long, broad chin. Firmness is synonymous with willfulness, perseverance and stability.

Perception of character. - This is indicated by a long, high nose at the lower end of the lip. This faculty is very useful, if not indispensable, to a judge in the exercise of the functions of his office.

Powers of observation. - The situation of this faculty is in the face just above the nose, filling out the forehead to a level with the parts on each side of the nose. It is a faculty which enables one to concentrate the mind upon the subject being discussed.

Conscientiousness. - This is shown in the face by a square jaw, a bony chin, prominent cheek bones and a general squareness of the features of the entire face. To be conscientious means that one has a sense of justice, honesty of purpose, rectitude of character and moral courage.

Scene in a Shoe Shop.

She walked into a shoe store and said to the polite clerk: "You may show me a pair of walking-boots, No. 4. I used to wear 2's, but I go in for solid comfort now," says an exchange. The clerk tried the boots, but they would not go on. "Strange," she murmured; "it must be rheumatism. Try 4 1/2, B width. I know I can swim in them, but my feet are tender." While the clerk was getting them on she said: "I used to have a beautiful foot; not small, but such a good shape. I never had a small foot but I wore 2 1/2 sizes for years, until I walked so much and grew heavier. 'Your foot is a goodly shape; the last is too small for you.
