The homemade baking sale held by the I.O.D.E. on Saturday was a success, the goods selling rapidly. Dorothy Dalton and Jack Holt will be featured at the Lyceum tonight in a big human tale of our great West, entitled, "The Siren Call." Ray Morningstar has sold his residence on Front street to Walter Cook Sr., and intends building a new home on Huron street.

Usual service in Baptist church on Sunday, Calvary 3 p.m., Watford 7 p.m. Pastor's subject: "The Risen Christ." Just arrived—the old reliable Williams' English Kip solid leather Shoes that keep you dry. See them.—P. Dodds. It takes some handling to make a gallon of maple syrup. The sugar content of sap varies with the seasons but it usually takes thirty-two gallons of sap to make one of syrup. Mr. W. C. Caldwell, Morrisburg, has resigned his position as Agricultural representative of the county of Dundas and taken over A. G. Brown's poultry and fruit farm.

The Y.P.S. of Watford Presbyterian church will present "Blundering Billy," a comedy in three acts, in the Lyceum on the evenings of April 12 and 13. Plan to attend. Northway Garments for Women—New Coats and Suits for Easter.—A. Brown & Co. On Easter Day there will be a celebration of Holy Communion in Trinity church at 9 a.m. At the 7 p.m. service special music will be rendered by the choir suitable for the occasion. The Dalmor flat curtain rod extension 28 to 48 inches, 25 cents each.—Swift's.

On Sunday, April 8th, as is customary, the 10th anniversary of the opening and dedication of the new Trinity church, Watford, will be duly observed. Our Paper is all here for Spring and the Price is right. There is about 20% saving in buying our paper (18 inches wide) as the rolls are longer, the price much less and it costs less to hang.—P. Dodds.

The Easter meeting of the Womens Missionary Society of the Methodist church will be held in the church on Tuesday, April 3rd, at three o'clock. This will be an open meeting and a good program is being prepared. An assault trial concerning children at the Sutorville school was heard here on Thursday afternoon in camera before Police Magistrate Woodrow of Sarnia. The accused was severely lectured by the magistrate.

Fred Landon, M.A., chief librarian of the London Public Library, was the special lecturer at the meeting of the Reading Club of this village on Friday evening. The meeting was held in the public library building and was one of the series being given in connection with the Western University extension course. Mr. Landon's subject was "Canadian Authors and Canadian Literature," and the lecture dealt particularly with Canadian people. The new Tuscan curtain net at Swift's. A wonder at the price, 50c and 65c.

THE NEW EASTER COATS AT SWIFT'S

New Deauville and Bertha Collars for Easter.—A. Brown & Co. Easter Suits for Boys, 2 pairs of bloomers. Caps free.—Swift's. William DeMille's new sensational society satire, "Nice People," will be the special attraction at the Lyceum next Wednesday. Mrs. M. McClure, of Hanna, Alta., writes: "Enclosed please find $2 for the renewal of your much-prized paper, which I receive every Tuesday. I hope the people of Watford are in the full enjoyment of good health. Wishing the Guide-Advocate much prosperity."

Subscribers getting their copy of The Guide-Advocate at the printing office on Thursday afternoons are requested to call before five o'clock, as at that hour the local lists are mailed so as to give the postoffice officials a chance to sort the papers for the evening delivery. The Postoffice Inspector made his periodical visit to the local postoffice on Wednesday and as usual found everything recorded in excellent shape. He congratulated Postmaster Luckham and staff on their sincere efforts to give the public the most efficient service possible. Easter Neckwear and Hats at Swift's on Saturday. William DeMille's "Nice People" is a powerful production based on modern social life which coming at the psychological moment, has aroused nation-wide interest. It will be the special attraction at the Lyceum next Wednesday.

Miss McGregor, travelling secretary of the W.M.S. of the Presbyterian church in Canada, delivered a most inspiring address last Friday evening in the Presbyterian church. She dealt with the home mission work under the following divisions: School Homes, Hospital units and work among the Indians in Western Canada. There will be service in the Watford Methodist church on Good Friday at 10.30 a.m., when the subject for prayer and study will be "The Breaking of the Body of our Lord Jesus." On Easter Sunday Mr. Hager will conclude his Lenten sermons: "The Search for the Soul of our Lord at Joseph's Tomb," and in the evening, "The Healing of the Body of our Lord at Pentecost."

WARWICK

The W.M.S. Auxiliary of Zion Methodist church met at the home of the president, Mrs. Jas. B. Parker, on March 8th. There were fourteen members and two visitors present. A quilt was quilted. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Collier on April 12, at 2 p.m. This will be the Easter meeting and officers will be elected for the coming year. The members are requested to make a special effort to be present. Visitors welcome. Remember the box social in the Warwick Town Hall on Monday evening, April 2nd. The Plympton trio, the play "The Reconciliation," also other local talent will be on hand. Every lady bring a box. Until further notice there will be no evening service in St. Mary's church, Warwick village, the second Sunday in each month, commencing April 8th. Evening service will be held in St. Paul's church, Wisbeach, in its place.

The Comedy Drama, "An Old Fashioned Mother," put on by the Y.P.L. of Zion Methodist church on Friday evening, March 23rd, was enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience. The young people heartily appreciate the assistance of Rev. Mr. Hager, who gave a short address and Mr. Gerald Robertson, who rendered a solo, also Miss Freida Wiley and Mr. Mac Wiley, who so kindly assisted in taking prominent parts in the play. The parts were all well taken by the following cast of characters: Deborah Underhill, a Mother in Israel, Florence E. Edwards. Widder Bill Pindle, leader of the choir, Freida Wiley. Leuziy Loviny Custard, plain sewing and gossip, Lela I. Fuller. Isabel Simpcock, the village belle, Gladys M. Parker. Glorianna Perkins, as good as gold, Mary Tanner. Sukey Pindle, the widder's mite, Donald Edwards. John Underhill, the prodigal son, Russell C. Parker. Charley Underhill, the elder brother, James Kirkpatrick. Jonah Quackenbush, a whited sepulchre, John W. Gault. Jeremiah Gosling, a merry heart, T. Alex. Edwards. Enoch Rone, an outcast and wanderer, Mac Wiley. Quintus Todd, the county sheriff, John W. Gault. The Village Choir.

The Causes That Led to the Breaking of the Body of Our Savior Jesus Christ. Gethsemane is the place where God's will came into contact with man's will. Jesus, being human and divine, represented both wills. As a man He knew that man wanted his own way—and as God, He must have His—which was that God's will must be done, not man's. And so the conflict waged—man and God broken asunder in purpose will lead to Calvary, where man is broken in life. There can only be one will on earth, as there is in Heaven, if there is to be peace and happiness. This is the burden of Christ's prayer and ours when we say it so often in the Lord's Prayer.

OLD-TIME PRICES

The following prices prevailed 27 years ago: Potatoes, 15c per bushel. Eggs, 12c per dozen. Butter, 14c per pound. Beef, $4. Dressed Hogs, $4. Flour, $2 per cwt. Hard wood, $1.50 per cord. Soft wood, $1 per cord. Ducks, 25c per pair. Chickens, 25c per pair. Geese, 5c per pound. Turkeys, 8c per pound. Sausage, 4 lbs. 25c.

CHOP STUFF

Petrolca will have a flower show the first week in September. Dr. D. L. Kinzie, dentist, Thamesville, has purchased a practice in Chatham and will move there. Earl Harrison, Theford, lost his two fingers and thumb of left hand while buzzing wood at his father's home on Monday. Kingsville has organized a Business Men's Association, one of the objects of which is to carry on a co-operative advertising campaign. The Grand Union Hotel, Sombra, has been closed on account of the falling off of business. Harry DeWitt, the manager, has gone to Detroit. High Constable Wm. Scott has been appointed provincial police officer at Sarnia, succeeding Leslie Atkins. The sheriff will do the duties of High Constable until a new one is appointed. Wesley Sovereign, of Nelson Tp., has some very prolific ewes, one of which gave birth this week to four lambs and two more had twins. This is an unusual record for a flock of sheep on one farm. Mrs. George M. Fairburn, Essex, slipped and fell a few days ago and dislocated her left shoulder, breaking off the tip of the shoulder bone. On account of her advanced age she will be laid up for some time. Ex-Township Councillor, Angus Stonehouse, has sold his fine farm on the P. & E. Townline to Reid Anderson, 2nd line of Plympton. This farm has been in the Stonehouse family for a great many years, the late owner having been born on it. While chopping down a tree at Ruthven on Monday of last week, Norman Collins met with a serious accident by letting the axe glance and strike him on the leg, cutting a deep gash which required many stitches to close. Another of Sarnia's landmarks is disappearing before the march of progress. During the past week workmen have been engaged in tearing down the old Exchange Hotel building, on the corner of Lochiel and Victoria streets. This structure has been standing for more than 60 years, old residents say. Rev. C. R. S. Pike, rector of St. Paul's Church, Princeton, has been appointed to St. Paul's Church Theford. He will also serve the parishes of Arkona and Kettle Point. Mr. Pike succeeds Rev. J. H. Whealan, who on March 1 went to Durham. Mr. Pike takes over the rectorship of his new parish on April 1. Death came last Thursday morning to Mrs. Elizabeth McCallum, wife of Duncan A. McCallum, of Mosa, after an illness of some weeks, at the family residence, one and one-half miles west of Glencoe. The late Mrs. McCallum was 73 years of age and a life-long resident of Mosa, being born one mile from the farm where she always resided. There died at the rectory, Adelaide, on Thursday morning, March 15th, 1923, Eliza Elson Jacobs, in her 86th year. The deceased was a sister of the late Peter Elson, who was M.P. for East Middlesex riding for several years. The funeral was held on Saturday, March 17, from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) H. R. Diehl, to Woodland Cemetery, London. Hugh McLachlan of Mosa died March 11th, aged 95 years. His wife predeceased him 16 years ago. He is survived by three daughters and five sons: Mrs. D. C. McDougall, Alvinson; Mrs. Neil L. McKellar, Killmartin; Miss Julia, at home; Dugald, Duncan and Donald, of Mosa, the latter residing on the old homestead. Hugh Donald, of Plympton and Enniskillen townline, who suffered from influenza over a month ago, and which developed into tuberculosis, died in the Guelph hospital Wednesday. He is survived by his immediate family, and by his mother and three sisters, Mrs. Norman King, London Road, and Mrs. D. W. Brownlee and Mrs. Geo. Donald, Cromwell street, Sarnia. Several farmers in Perth county have lost a number of cattle through a malady which broke out in their herds. After an exhaustive examination it was discovered that the cattle had been feeding on sweet clover hay which was mouldy and this was attributed as the cause of the disease and death of the cattle. Farmers should be aware of the fact that while sweet clover is an excellent feed for cattle, it has to be given in small measure, otherwise the clover ferments in the cow's stomach and invariably causes death.

ODDFELLOWS DANCE & EUCHRE TO-NIGHT

A dance and euchre will be held in the Armory on Thursday, March 29, under the auspices of Peabody Lodge No. 99, I.O.O.F. Music by Petrolca orchestra. Dancing from 9 to 2. Refreshments. Tickets $1.50 a couple.

MASONIC RECEPTION TO GRAND MASTER NEXT TUESDAY

Arrangements are practically completed by the various committees of Hawlock Lodge, No. 238, A.F.&A.M. for their reception and entertainment complimentary to Most Wor. Bro. W. N. Ponton, K.C. of Belleville, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Canada in the Province of Ontario, on the occasion of his fraternal visit to St. Clair District at Watford next Tuesday evening, April 3rd. A large number of brethren from various lodges in the district have already asked for reservation and many prominent members of the Craft have signified their intention of being present. A short reception will be held in the Lodge rooms immediately after the arrival of the Grand Master and the brethren will then rejoin their ladies at the Lyceum and proceed to the Armory, where the Banquet and entertainment will take place. Banquet at 7.15. Addresses and program 8.15. Dancing 10.30.

DEATH OF MRS. THOMAS SAUNDERS

Elizabeth Carter, dearly beloved wife of Thomas Saunders, passed peacefully away on March 19, 1923, at the age of 74 years and 4 days, after an illness of only two weeks' duration, borne with Christian patience and fortitude. She realized the end was drawing very near and chose her funeral text, John XIV. II. She was born in the Township of Montague, in the county of Lanark, at the age of eighteen she came with her parents to the township of Brooke, where she resided until the year 1879, when she married Thomas Saunders, of the same township, where they lived for a number of years. Some six years ago they moved to Watford where her kind and loving disposition endeared her to all young and old. She is survived by her sorrowing husband and one son, Vernal, on the old homestead, and two sisters and three brothers. The funeral was held from the family residence, Rachel street, Wednesday, March 21, at 2.30 p.m., to St. James cemetery and was largely attended, the service being conducted by the Revs. J. H. Horsford and T. A. Steadman. The pallbearers were six nephews: Earnest and Alton Taylor, Arthur and Clarence Downie, Geo. O'Dell and Albert Spalding.

DEATH OF MISS LEONA J. McRAE

The death occurred on Saturday, at Courtright of Leona J. McRae, aged 20, the only daughter of Mary and the late Murdoch McRae, of Corunna, and formerly of Sarnia. Miss McRae had suffered for a long time from complications which arose from an attack of influenza four years ago. Until recently Miss McRae and her mother were residing on Stuart St., Sarnia, and had only been in Courtright a few weeks when the death took place. She is survived by her mother, two sisters, Flossie, of Courtright, and Cassie, of Watford, three brothers, Donald and Harly, of Courtright and William, of Sarnia. The funeral took place Monday at Corunna, the services being conducted by the Rev. Mr. Findlay, interment taking place in Union cemetery. The deceased was a bright and popular young lady. She visited her sister in Watford several times and made a number of friends who deeply sympathize with the family in their bereavement. An auto accident which might have been more serious than it was occurred on Sunday afternoon, on the townline of Plympton and Warwick near the 8th concession of Plympton. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rankin, 8th of Plympton, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Campbell, and baby and Miss Gertrude Thompson, of Port Huron, were in the car at the time of the accident. The front tire of the auto blew out, causing the car to leave the road, running off the culvert and overturning twice into the deep ditch. Two of the ladies were pinned beneath the car and it had to be lifted off them before they could be released. Mrs. Campbell suffered a broken arm and the rest of the party were more or less badly shaken up, the baby though escaping injury. The car was badly damaged.

FRIDAY, MARCH 30, 1923

GOOD FRIDAY

In the religious world, this week occupies an important place. Each day of the week has its particular connection with the Christian events of our Lord's early life in the flesh. Good Friday is the climax, when He was nailed to the cross for the sins of men, and His body lay in the tomb until early Easter morning. Good Friday has become more and more each year, a day to be observed by the Christian bodies who forty years ago gave little heed to the day. The custom of making the day one of jollification and sports as a common holiday is dying out, and properly so, for come to think of it, none of us would care to celebrate the day of our dearest friend's death, or a program of sports and a rousing good time. Some portion of the day at least should be devoted to thoughts of Him who gave His blood to save men's souls. It is a healthier sign in the religious life of the people when they take time to think of these things; for each one of us is personally involved in what made it necessary to have that day, whether we recognize it or not.

EASTER

There is a danger that church people themselves at times lose sight of the true significance of Easter. It is not simply a time for special music, for the display of flowers, and a general opening of the spring season.

It is more than that. It is, in fact, nothing short of being the keystone of the whole Christian religion. It is the great central fact, and without it there would be no Christian religion at all.

Without it, the birth of the Redeemer, His life, His teaching, His matchless humility and His fathomless love, His suffering in Gethsemane, and the final sacrifice on Calvary would amount to little had He not risen on Easter morn.

When the Master gave up His life the test was to answer yes or no to His claims was staged. Had that tomb remained closed with the great stone that was rolled against it we would of "all men, be most miserable."

The fact that that stone was rolled away while under the eyes of the Roman soldiers—the fact that Christ did rise from that newly-hewn grave—the fact that He did appear to many people after that—these things form a chain of evidence that completes the life of Christ on earth, and gives the Christian church today the justification for its existence and its teaching.

It is important in this day, when so many brainy men seek to teach that the Master was a great moral teacher, a propagandist for the existence of a super-man, and an advocate of the golden rule idea, but nothing more, that His people should re-assert with devotion and confidence the fact of Easter in all its glorious reality, and proclaim without reservation or doubt their belief in the completed life and sacrifice and resurrection of the Man of Galilee.

NOTE AND COMMENT

There is not much sympathy for the Toronto promoter who was given seven years in the penitentiary last week by Judge Widdifield for false statements in selling stock. His misrepresentations cost investors thousands of dollars.

The Ontario Motor League, by its prompt action, has killed off, for the time being at least, a move on the part of several members of the Ontario Legislature to assess American tourists $5 at the border when crossing from the States at any frontier port in Canada.

Death has removed L. R. Steel from the jurisdiction of earthly courts. If he has left any substantial assets behind him they should be used to relieve the burden of the poor people induced by him or his agents to invest in his companies.

The Swedish government is advocating the emigration to America of 40,000 unemployed, thus helping the situation in both countries. They are a good class of people, readily assimilate Canadian ideals and in time make excellent citizens.

A single merchant acting alone can not do very much in fighting mail order houses or in boosting his home town; but the organized merchants of a town can do much. A single snowflake means nothing, but let enough snowflakes fall and all traffic is suspended. In union there is strength.—Oshawa Reformer.

The Mines Department at Ottawa, through Mr. B. F. Haanel, a member of the Canadian Fuel Board, warns Canadians that this country is soon to be faced with a permanent fuel shortage. The visible supply of anthracite will only last about 80 years and the visible supply of oil in America will last only 25 years.

The city of Welland will spend $550 upon newspaper advertising for the industrial advantages of the city. For this sum they will obtain a full page in one issue of The Globe, (Toronto) distributed among its regular circulation, and an additional 500 copies to be sent to the city for such distribution as it may wish to make.

Of course it's heresy, rank heresy, in these days, still we cannot help but cherish the idea that the reformers who are trying to make everybody good by law would accomplish a lot more if they would bear down a little harder on the moral suasion side; and maybe sidetrack conviction in the courts for "conviction of sin" as the Methodists used to put it.—Detroit Free Press.

The weekly press has been flooded this winter by the Presbyterians with "stuff" in favor of church union, and last week the Methodists appointed Mr. R. F. Stouffer, a Toronto newspaper man, as their publicity man. Fortunately for the public, newspapers keep large wastepaper baskets and paper balers for most of the propaganda matter sent out from numerous sources.—Orillia Packet.

Statistics which throw illuminating light upon the magnitude of the educational facilities which Ontario citizens maintain for their youths were given during the question period the other day in the Legislature. During the past year it was stated, the sum of $7,552,753 had been spent for the support of Primary, Continuation, High and Normal Schools, and Universities, and 642,374 pupils were declared to have been in attendance at these institutions. This was an increase over the figures for 1921 of $2,343,677 in the matter of funds appropriated and of 28,885 in the matter of pupils attending.

Edmonton Bulletin: Reports from Dublin are that the Republicans are to have a "period of mourning." Certainly not without cause. The Free State Government has been proceeding on the assumption that those of the rebels who did not surrender under the recently offered amnesty are irreconcilables and has been dealing with them accordingly. Up to date 67 have been shot, and it is noted in the dispatch that a "feature" of the new policy is the promptness with which punishment follows crime. That course of action is very much calculated to produce lamentation among the lawless, and a season of general wailing on the part of the 'dissidents' would seem to be strictly in order. It must be getting more dangerous than profitable to be an outlaw in the Free State.

Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will drive worms from the system without injury to the child, because its action, while fully effective is mild.

Slats' Diary

By Ross Farquhar

Friday—Over at Jakes house this evening and his Pa was sore because he had to go down town and pay sum bills. He wanted to stay home and read "The Watford Guide." Well he aint got the snap pa has got. He never has to go down town to pay his bills. They are men coming to the house every day to collect them. Wich saves him a lots of Steps.

Saturday—A man offered me a job today to work evry Saturday after noon and nite till 1/2 past 10. But I was 1/2 sore about it because she has ben pestering me a good wile to try & get a job so I cud help by my close and ect. But as I exclaimed to her I am not like so meny yumans in this country. Money issent evrything with me.

Sunday—pa and Ma including I and the dog tuk a long trip on the rale rode train today. About 50 or a 100 miles I spect and 1 time we went threw a Tunnel and they was a yung cuple a setting in back of us and the tunnel was a grate long 1 and wen we cum out of it into the day lite the yung ladie looks at the fella and she sed kinda offhanded I wander how much that tunnel costed to bild it and the fella replied and sed gringly, I dont no how much it costed but its sure is wirth it.

Monday—They are starting a new Club here in town and pa and ma are a going to put in a appellation to join into it. The only requirements is that you must be poor and Respectible. As far as pa is concerned he has a cinch on 1/2 of the requirements as evry buddy knows he is poor, & as he laffingly sed to I and ma that is 1/2 the Battle.

Tuesday—I guess pa is getting on ma's side of the wirk question and I believe he is in earnest to. He says he is going to take me out with him and make me look for wirk. But I still have sum Spirit left to. He can take me where the job is. But he cant mak me hunt it.

Wednesday—I tried to throw a scare in to the teacher today. She has ben giving us such hard lessons I told her I was affrade they was a getting the best of me and that I wood half to slow down a little. She just looks at me with her eye and sed. If you slow down on yure studnyg yule be a walking backward.

Thursday—I gress it is up to me to cut out the dancing and partys witch is being give by the yunger set of who I am a member of it. You got to have money and good close both at the same time. And thats what

ACTS ON SCALP AS FERTILIZER ACTS ON SOIL

The complete treatment of Seven Sutherland Sisters (three packages in one carton) contains a new discovery—Hair Fertilizer. It is just what we call it, a hair food or fertilizer. It nourishes the hair just as our food nourish the body and is applied before retiring at night.

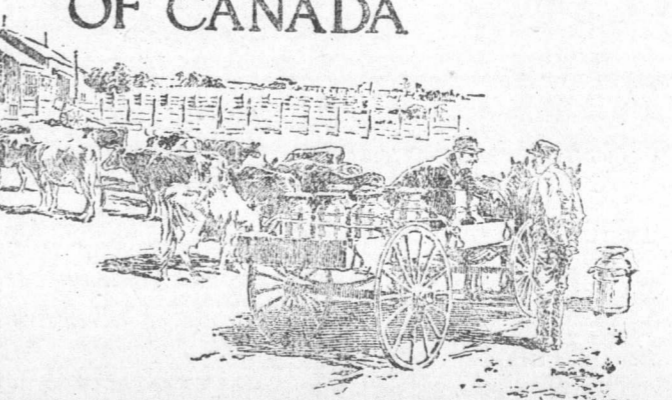

The hair grower kills the microbe which causes baldness and falling hair. It positively removes dandruff, is an elegant dressing and a wonderful stimulant for the growth of hair and is applied in the morning.

The Scalp Cleaner is a delightful shampoo, it keeps the scalp clean and healthy leaving the hair soft and glossy.

A man is a person who would rather go to his lodge and ride the goat than stay at home and be the goat. One thing must be said about England with the settlement with the United States: She did not put up any 'forgive us our debts' prayer. The Salvation Army is out with a new campaign to increase Canada's population through articling British youths between 14 and 18 years to farmers throughout the Dominion. Early in May a shipload of these young immigrants will arrive at a Canadian port and 40 will come to London for distribution in Middlesex county.

A resolution that Canada should establish a national policy in relation to its coal supply and that no part of the Dominion should be dependent upon the United States for fuel, was adopted by the House of Commons on Monday night. It was introduced by T. L. Church, Conservative member for North Toronto, who suggested a ten percent export duty on news print paper, the proceeds to be used to stimulate production of Canadian coal and establishment of a coking industry.

The publishers of the Weekly Newspapers throughout the Dominion have a delightful time ahead of them for the month of June, when under the auspices of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, they will take a trip to Halifax, where the annual convention will be held. While there they will visit all the Maritime cities, including Charlottetown in Prince Edward Island. They will also visit Cape Breton Island and the Bras-d'Or Lakes. They will spend a Sunday in the Evangeline country and will time the date so as to find the valleys in bloom. The trip will consume in all about two weeks, and we wish to be the first to give notice that there will be no issue of The Guide-Advocate the 3rd week in June!

The Adolescent School Attendance Act, which has hitherto required the attendance at school of all youths between the ages of 14 and 16 years, is to be withdrawn so far as its application to rural districts is concerned. The decision to follow this policy was communicated to the Ontario Legislature Wednesday evening by Hon. R. H. Grant, Minister of Education, and it constituted the compromise and capitulation which the Drury Ministry offered to the motion by W. H. Caselman, U.F.O. member for Dundas, to suspend the Adolescent Act altogether.

English women are going to be made responsible for their own misdemeanors. Under the provisions of a bill which has just been introduced in Parliament it will be impossible for them to hide behind their husbands and plead coercion. The presumption that a wife, who commits an offence in the presence of her husband acts under coercion, is an archaic bit of English code, dating back to the edict of an old Saxon king, issued some few centuries before Columbus started on his American tour. Viscount Cave in moving the second reading of the bill declared: "The presumption that every wife lives in terror of her husband and will commit any crime under his influence if it ever was true is not true today."

Income tax paid by farmers was the subject of a statement in the House of Commons on Wednesday afternoon by Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance. No statistics were available covering "strictly" farming operations, stated Mr. Fielding, but in 1921 farmers paid $1,324,693 out of a total of $78,684,340. The number of farmers who paid income tax in Ontario in that year was 6,138, as compared with 1,870 the year before. In reply to a question how the inspectors of taxation discriminate in asking farmers for their returns, Mr. Fielding said that returns are required from all persons who are deemed to be liable to taxation under the Income War Tax Act.

The Provincial Department of Agriculture announced on Monday the completion of arrangements which will give the Ontario farmer the necessary information to market his produce intelligently in Great Britain. It was stated that commencing April 1st, the Department was to receive twice weekly a cable letter from England which would give the prevailing prices of the more important agricultural commodities, and the general market outlook for agricultural products. This letter, which will be received in code, will be decoded and transmitted to the press of the province. Hon. Manning Doherty said: "A cable letter will be received here twice weekly giving the prevailing market prices for cheese, butter, bacon, condensed milk, tobacco, fruit (fresh and canned), cattle and eggs. In addition to the prices, market outlook and general market conditions will be set forth." The object of this service is to provide a regular and authentic source of market information for the Ontario farmer.

After listening to an impressive sermon the other day, I could not help but notice the buzz of conversation, laughing and greeting as the congregation moved down the aisles. "It is nice for people to meet their friends. Some of them are visitors and many only see each other at the church service," somebody said. "That is quite true but would it not be wiser to wait to talk in the halls. Entering a church recently, I saw a notice, 'Please be silent,' and I remarked on the quiet movements of those who entered and those who left the church and noticed the reverent attitude. In a conversation on the subject, a man said to me that Roman Catholics were more reverent than Protestants. Possibly they are, but they have no cause to be. Light conversation immediately after a solemn church service spells defeat to the good impression it has made.

WHY NOT CLOSE EVERY AFTERNOON

The merchants of Leamington are at war as to when they shall close for the half-holiday. Fifty merchants want to continue as last year and stage the weekly half holiday on Friday. Twenty-six other merchants are utterly and absolutely opposed to Friday, stating that it has proved to be unlucky and they want a rest from their labors on Wednesday, so there you are.

A baker, a butcher and a harness-maker, wishing to stand in with both armies, have decided to close shop both on Wednesdays and on Fridays. Needless to say their assistants fully and heartily approve of this stand and won't care if Thursday were thrown in for good measure. Citizens are insisting that bulletins be printed naming the days that the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker will be open for trade.

At a recent meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association the butchers, bakers and grocers favored hanging a sign on the door on Wednesday afternoons while the others disgustedly opposed and stated they would stick to Friday come what might.

The bankers do not approve either of these days and will, as usual, close the door in the office to prospective customers on Saturdays at 1 o'clock sharp.

Col. W. T. Gregory insists that one holiday is no good to him and has chosen Sunday and Monday as his days of rest, so there you are again. The Wednesday advocates advertise the fact that they will close at 12:30 noon, starting April 1, while the Friday merchants will turn the key in the lock when the whistle blows at 12 o'clock from April 1 until October 31.

TRAIN STRIKES AUTO NEAR WYOMING

Three Lambton Residents Injured in Accident on Plympton Townline. One of them Died Monday Night.

Wyoming, March 25.—Mrs. Wellington Dennis, of Sarnia, lies unconscious in the home of Mr. T. Nelson, townline, Plympton, with a fractured skull and in a grave condition. Mrs. R. Munroe, of Wyoming, is confined to the same house with her right limb and arm fractured, and George Borrowman, of Wyoming, is at his home suffering from shock and internal injuries, the extent of which are not yet known, as the result of a serious accident when the car in which they were driving was struck by a G.T.R. train at 1.15 yesterday afternoon at the Plympton townline. The party was on its way to attend the funeral of the late Hugh McDonald when the collision occurred. Mr. Borrowman was driving the car, a closed Ford, which belongs to James McKay, of Wyoming, and failed to notice the approach of the train until it was too late to avoid a collision. It appears that there was a heavy wind blowing at the time and this is thought to have deadened the sound of the approaching train, although trainmen assert that the whistle had been blown for the crossing and the bell ringing at the time of the mishap. Mr. Borrowman increased the speed of the auto when he noticed the onrushing train and almost succeeded in crossing the tracks. The train struck the rear end of the car, where the two injured ladies were seated, flinging it into the ditch at the side of the road. Mr. Borrowman was dragged about 25 feet, and Mrs. Dennis was thrown about ten feet in the air. The two ladies were rescued from a ditch full of water by Engineer McLeod.

The injured people were taken to the home of Mr. Nelson and were subjected to first aid until the arrival of Doctors Hamilton and Houghton, of Petrolia and Wyoming. Mr. Borrowman was brought to Wyoming today by Dr. Brent and is said to be improving satisfactorily. Mrs. Dennis and Mrs. Munroe are not able to be moved from the house near the scene of the accident, and Mrs. Dennis is said to be in a very serious condition although hope is held for her recovery. Engineer McLeod states that he did not see the car until it was too late. The railroad approaching this crossing takes a curve to the west and view ahead is somewhat obstructed by fir trees until the train is right upon the crossing. Mr. R. Munroe, who was following in a buggy a short distance behind when the accident occurred, witnessed the crash.

Petrolia, Mar. 26.—Mrs. Munroe died in the hospital here last night. She was injured internally and also severely hurt about the head. Mrs. Dennis and Geo. Borrowman are still in a serious condition. Mrs. Dennis suffered injuries to her head, shoulders and limbs. Mr. Borrowman is injured internally.

BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SPRING

The Spring is a time of anxiety for mothers who have little ones in the home. Conditions make it necessary to keep the baby indoors. He is often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catches colds which rack his whole system. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. This will prevent colds, constipation or colic and keep baby well. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

COMMUNICATION

Editor, Guide-Advocate: Sir.—The ratepayers of the township of Brooke are discussing pro and con commuting Statute Labor as proposed by the Council, and I enclose a copy of the bylaw as presented to the Council at the last meeting and which was laid over on account of the full Board not being present. For the information of the ratepayers I would ask that you publish the bylaw.

There are approximately 3,608 days of Statute Labor in the township at $2 per day, or over $7,000, when commuted will draw a Government grant of 20%, or over $1,400. It is worth considering. W. J. Weed, Clerk.

BY-LAW NO. 3 OF 1923

A Bylaw to Commute Statute Labor in the Township of Brooke. Whereas by Bylaw No. 4 of 1918 and Bylaw No. 9 of 1911, Statute Labor on roads designated as County Roads was commuted.

And whereas it has been deemed expedient to commute all Statute Labor in the Township.

And whereas by Chapter 196, Sec. 16, R.S.O. 1914, authority is given Municipal Councils to commute all Statute Labor within the township. Be it therefore enacted by the municipal council of the township of Brooke and it is hereby enacted:—

1st.—That all Statute Labor within the township of Brooke is hereby commuted at the rate of $2.00 per day, the same to be added to the Collector's Roll and shall be accounted for like other taxes.

2nd.—That road beats to remain as nearly as possible the same as heretofore, and that Pathmasters be appointed in each road beat for the purpose to oversee the work and to make returns to council of money expended. Said expenditures in each beat to be equal as nearly as possible to the amount of Statute Labor previously done but may be increased by the consent and approval of the division or council.

3rd.—Pathmasters must give each ratepayer an opportunity to perform work on roads to be equal to the amount of statute labor heretofore done.

4th.—The following schedule of wages to be paid unless otherwise ordered: 25c per hour for man and 50c per hour for man and team. Bylaw to come into force from and immediately after the final passing thereof.

SPRING IMPURITIES DUE TO POOR BLOOD

A Tonic Medicine Necessary at This Season.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an all year-round tonic for the blood and nerves. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the winter months. There is no other season when the blood is so much in need of purifying and enriching and every dose of these pills helps to enrich the blood. In the spring one feels weak and tired—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give strength. In the spring the appetite is often poor—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills develop the appetite, tone the stomach and aid weak digestion. It is in the spring that poisons in the blood find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions, and boils—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In the spring anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia and many other troubles are most persistent because of poor weak blood, and it is at this time that all nature takes on new life that the blood most seriously needs attention. Some people dose themselves with purgatives at this season but these only further weaken themselves. A purgative merely gallops through the system, emptying the bowels, but does not help the blood. On the other hand Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich the blood which reaches every nerve and every organ in the body brings new strength and vigor to weak, easily tired men, women and children. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills this spring—they will not disappoint you. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

COCKSHUTT DISC HARROWS Made in In-throw or Out-throw types—6', 7' or 8' sizes. If you appreciate the value of a good seed bed—and if you want to make one in the shortest possible time and with a minimum of labor—you'll find the solution of your problem in the purchase of a Cockshutt Disc Harrow. The No. 3 Out-throw Harrow is a most efficient implement. Its spring pressure prevents discs from rising in centre and secures uniform discing under all conditions. Has high grade, dust-proof bearings. Forecarriage or pole as desired. Come in and see this and other types of spring implements or write or telephone for catalogue.

TWO THINGS THAT HURT THE EYES

A person has been known to say, "I have ruined my eyes by reading too much." Not so—the eyes were made to use. One sure way to permanently injure the eyes is

READING BY INTENSE LIGHT

The light should come through ground glass to soften it. Never use clear glass for either gas or electricity. Oil lamps give out a soft light, therefore clear glass chimneys.

READING BY DIM LIGHT

Take our advice—do not read or sew by a dim light—it will be a direct strain upon the sight centres of the brain. On these two things hang the fundamental laws of sight economy. Never use cheap or pick-up glasses—come to us for advice about things optical.

Everything needful here.

Take good care of your iiiiii's!

THE CUPID EXPRESS

A Comedy of Love

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Trentham people always called the 6:36 train "the Cupid express," because it invariably carried one or more bridal couples.

It was the close of a March day, exactly 6:36 p. m., and the Cupid express had just snorted away cityward with two of Trentham's fair brides and incidentally the newly made husbands.

The Faber twins had just been married. It was a double wedding, and all the town had turned out to send them off with a suitable merrymaking. "Where is Edith?" inquired Mrs. William Blake, craning her neck around the carriage. "Where is Edith?" she repeated sternly as her niece took her place in the surrty.

Cora Morris' voice was guilty. "Edith is walking home," she said. Mrs. Blake drew a sharp breath. "Walking?" she interrogated. Cora nodded, but her face beneath the white hood of her cloak was serious. "Not alone?" declared Mrs. Blake in the decisive tone of one who knew. "With Harley Lane," confessed Cora. "Ah!" Mrs. Blake's tone was freezing. She sank back in her seat and was silent. Bitter thoughts crowded her mind.

It was like an unkind fate to decree that her only child, Edith, should fall in love with Judge Lane's son.

She had always tried to keep them apart and was openly rude to young Lane. And Harley was disconcertingly polite to her.

"Mrs. Blake would be the jolliest woman in the world if she would only forget her grouch against the world," said her would-be son-in-law to his father one day.

But the judge had frowned and looked very uncomfortable.

"I wonder why your mother is so set against me," remarked Harley as he tucked Edith's hand under his arm and marched down the street.

Edith's eyelashes flickered as the surrty passed them at a corner where a street lamp shone brightly.

"I don't believe she really hates you, Harley," she said, "but some one has whispered a bit of ancient history to me. Years ago mother was engaged to marry your father. They quarreled, and neither forgave the other. Both married. There you are, sir!"

"The deuce!" whistled Harley; then he added hastily: "They've both been widowed for fifteen years. Why didn't they marry each other?"

"I don't know," sighed Edith. "They couldn't really have cared."
 "Dear, do you know I was wishing that you and I had courage to throw conventions to the four winds and elope on the Cupid express some day!"

"They would never forgive us, dear," murmured Edith, "and we couldn't really be happy if they didn't."
 "I know it. There's only one thing to do, then—to convert them to our way of thinking."

"How can we do that?"
 "I didn't have an idea until you told me that once they had sweet hearts. Listen to this scheme."

Mrs. Blake saw them lingering at the front gate. Her handsome face grew sterner, and her lips straightened into a thin line.

Her hands smote sharply together in a passion of wounded pride.
 "His son—of all men!" she moaned softly.

One April afternoon Mrs. Blake returned from her euche club to find the house strangely silent.

"Miss Edith?" repeated Jane, the maid. "Why, Miss Edith left the house an hour ago. She carried a suit case and—"

"A suit case?" interrupted Mrs. Blake. "Did she say where she was going?"

"No, ma'am. I wouldn't have known about it only I heard the front door close, and I looked and saw Miss Edith running down the walk. A cab was there. She jumped in and was off!"

"Very likely she has been called over to her cousin's in South Trentham. She will telephone to me no doubt."

The clock in the hall chimed the quarter after 6, and mingled with it was the sharp, insistent tinkle of the telephone bell.

Winona Blake's voice shook a little as she lifted the receiver from its hook. "Yes?" she inquired.

It was Edith's voice, speaking in tremulous excitement.

"Mother, dear," she quavered, "would you consent to my—my marrying Harley?"

An instant's silence, then the mother's voice, calm and serene:

 "No daughter of mine ever will marry him!"
 "Mother!" Edith's voice was stricken.
 "Where are you?" asked Mrs. Blake.
 "The railroad station."
 "Wait until I come!" ordered Mrs. Blake, and, hanging up the receiver, she rushed from the house, still wearing her hat and her most becoming afternoon gown.
 There was no time to call Thomas. Before he could harness one of the lazy blacks into the runabout the Cupid express would be away from the station! As Mrs. Blake hurried up the stairs she heard the thunder of the approaching train. Her lips tightened.

"I will go along, too!" she thought.
 "Edith is a minor, and—"

"Here, madam!" A conductor almost lifted her to the steps, and as she staggered across the platform into the coach a shower of small particles fell tinklingly upon her face.

"Rice!" called somebody from the coach behind.

"Where's the bridegroom?" some one asked in a loud whisper.

"The old party in the gray overcoat. See the confetti on his hat?"

And at this moment Mrs. Blake collided with some one in the aisle. They grasped each other and swayed with the moving train.

"You?" glared Mrs. Blake.
 "You?" glared Judge Lane.

A murmur ran through the car. Smiles spread from face to face, for was not this the honeymoon train, and did they not recognize a bridal couple?

They did.
 There was the handsome middle aged pair in gala attire; there was the confetti, rice. Somewhere in the rear a light headed youth whistled the wedding march from "Lobengrin."

Furiously embarrassed, angry and quite helpless in the face of so many whole hearted strangers, Judge Lane accepted the nearest proffered seat and pushed the equally embarrassed, angry and helpless lady into it.

"We may as well sit down," he snapped.

"Yes!" she gasped. "Of course you know why I'm here?"

"I'm on the same errand. I was searching the train when I met you. Harley telephoned me for my blessing before they were married. Bah!"

"Tickets, please!" smiled the conductor.

Mrs. Blake suffered a cold chill. Her pocketbook was at home. Could she accept money from John Lane?

She did, for without asking her permission he opened a bulging pocketbook and paid for both tickets.

Grinningly the conductor punched the rebate checks and gave them to the man.

"Congratulations, judge," he said as he moved along. "I knew the Cupid would catch you some day!"

A cold horror settled upon the two in the seat. So they were supposed to be a newly wedded pair!

Both were thinking of one day thirty years ago when they plighted their troth in the apple orchard beneath a snow of blossoms.

It was before the day of the Cupid express, but they had planned a wedding journey, and it had never come to pass.

And now, each one in pursuit of an eloping child, they had met after all these years. People believed they were a honeymoon couple!

"Absurd!" declared Mrs. Blake aloud. "Ridiculous!" hotly agreed the judge.

"Perhaps you had better see if they are on the train," suggested Mrs. Blake after awhile.

"That's a good idea!" and Judge Lane escaped to the rear coaches.

After awhile he came back.
 "They are not on the train," he said slowly.

"How odd!" cried Mrs. Blake. "But, then, Edith didn't say she was married. She only asked permission, and as she was telephoning from the railroad station I concluded they were going to take this train."

"So I inferred from Harley's message," responded the judge stiffly.

"I hope they are not married. It is out of the question!" went on Mrs. Blake.

"Out of the question," agreed the judge.

A silence fell between them, and then Mrs. Blake felt a blush creeping over her smooth, pale cheek.
 Was he looking at her?
 Slowly her eyes turned toward him, until, through her lashes, she could see his blue eyes regarding her with an odd wistfulness.
 "Absurd!" she chided herself sharply. "Winnie," he whispered suddenly, "you haven't forgotten, after all?"
 "I never could, John," she whispered in return.
 "Then let this be our wedding trip," he urged after awhile.
 "But we must return tonight," she cried hastily. "I must be sure about Edith."
 "And Harley," he added.
 "About Edith and Harley," she gently corrected herself.

When the 11:15 train from town drew into Trentham that night it found two anxious young people pacing the platform.

"They will never forgive us for luring them aboard that Cupid train," said Edith nervously.

"They might," Harley smiled cryptically. "Here they are, Edith! Together—and looking sheepish! Why, father," he said reproachfully, "I've been worried to death about you! Where have you been?"

The judge blushed and clung to his wife's hand. "Why, we've been getting married!"

"Married?" echoed Edith. "Without saying a word to me? Why, mother!"

"But you and Harley have married without consulting us!"

"Married?" interrupted Edith innocently. "Why, mother, dear! I wouldn't marry without your blessing. And I want a home wedding, with all my friends and heaps of presents—and we shall take the Cupid express, shan't we, Harley?"

A smile flickered on Harley's face.
 "Sure we will, if dad doesn't object."

But the bride and bridegroom, walking ahead, were so absorbed in each other that they never answered the question. But, as Harley told his sweetheart, it was one of those questions that answered themselves.

WANSTEAD

A very enjoyable gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Morris on Thursday evening, March 22nd, when about 50 of their friends and neighbors joined with them in celebrating the tenth anniversary of their marriage. Dancing was indulged in, the music being supplied by an orchestra from Sarnia. All joined in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Morris many happy returns of the day.

The monthly meeting of the U.F. W.O. was held at the home of Mrs. Albert Thompson on Wednesday, March 21st, with a good attendance. In the absence of the president, who was indisposed, the chair was taken by the vice-president, Mrs. McPhedran. A splendid paper on poultry was given by Mrs. Thompson, which was afterwards discussed by the members. The meeting closed with the National Anthem, after which the hostess served a dainty lunch. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mr. Orville Ramsay.

The next meeting of the Farmers' Club will be held in the school on Wednesday evening, April 4th. A full attendance of members is requested. Mr. W. P. Macdonald, Petrolia, will be present.

Mr. Arch Williamson will ship hogs on Saturday, March 31st. Note the change from Monday.

The regular meeting of the W. Y.P.O. met on Tuesday, March 20, with a splendid attendance. The meeting opened by singing "O, Canada," which was followed by the minutes of the previous meeting being read. Miss Blanche Cooper having resigned, Miss Edna Williams is the new sec-treas.

After musical and vocal selections a debate followed: "Resolved that the girls have a better time than the boys." Mr. Ross Anderson and Miss Dorothy McPhedran were captains. Jno. E. Capes, Ross Anderson and Arthur Vickers were the affirmative debaters, while Jennie Alexander, Margaret Lampman and Ethel Mills put forth the negative side in fine style. J. E. Capes, leading the affirmative side scored the girls in a terrible manner both in leading the debate and replying for the good time they had, but the judges, Mary McPhedran, Mrs. R. Miller and Bruce Robinson, gave the decision in the negative by a couple of points. Next meeting April 17th.

Mr. Russell H. Anderson, of McMaster University, Toronto, took the service in Calvary Baptist church on Sunday last, a goodly number turning out to hear one of alvary's own sons. He will be home until Easter.

The S.S. of Calvary Baptist church was given a rare treat at the home of the superintendent, D. N. Anderson, by way of a taffy pull. The evening was spent in singing, games and music. At the conclusion of the evening's enjoyment, Miss Kathleen Simpson, who leaves for Welland on April 2nd to train for a nurse, was presented with a beautiful brooch. The basket ball team also presented her with a ring. The best wishes of the community follow Miss Simpson in her new undertaking.

Spring is here and the weather is ideal. Robins are chirping everywhere. The farmers are busy having buzz bees.

The basket ball girls of Wanstead met at the home of Miss Mary McPhedran Tuesday afternoon and engaged in quilting, during which time they presented Miss Cassie Simpson with a beautiful little ring, onyx and pearls, as a token of remembrance.

A concert will be given in Wanstead schoolhouse on Friday, April 6, by the Young People's Society, entitled "The Young Village Doctor." Music and vocal selections. Admission 25c. and 15c.

A Word for the Under-Privileged Boy

THE Rotary Club of Montreal, like its sister organizations throughout the continent, is an efficient and effective organization working for the good of the community in which it exists. It has particularly devoted its attention to work among the class of boys that fall under the term "under-privileged." In every great city there are thousands of such lads facing life under grievous handicaps imposed by poverty, or by the more dreadful combination of poverty and such physical or moral surroundings as would be a menace to the strongest. The task of brightening the lives of these lads and of giving them a fair chance to become good citizens is a grateful one, and the Rotary Club of Montreal has done a splendid work in this connection. It has interested itself in a very practical way in the Boys Home at Shawbridge in the Laurentian Mountains, and has done a great deal for boys throughout the city and district.

The Shawbridge Boys Home is the particular care of E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who is also president of the Home. He has always taken a great interest in the under-privileged boy, and it was natural, when the Rotary Clubs held their convention in Montreal recently, that he should be asked to address them on that phase of their work.

"Perhaps the saddest thing in the world," said Mr. Beatty, "is the abnormal boy, or one whose standard of health is low, and no work is greater or more inspiring than that which helps to place the handicapped boy where he can face the world on fairly equal terms with the more fortunate."

Mr. Beatty went on to quote an eminent English educationalist who, although not prejudiced against parents as a class, stated with truth that many parents are not appreciative of the problems of their children, and not being capable of grappling with their difficulties, do not supply the inspiration that tends to make them the kind of citizens they should grow up to be. "The under-privileged boy of this class," said Mr. Beatty, "is often precocious but more often he is undeveloped physically and mentally, and therefore not capable of accomplishing his own destiny."

"If the under-privileged boy of the city, born to unfortunate physical environment, is to succeed, he must have that environment made natural and normal as far as possible," said Mr. Beatty, and this, he suggested, argues even more strongly for the supervising care by those in authority, and competent inspection involving the fact that no overcrowding and supervised playgrounds, etc. Every boy should for his own sake and for the sake of the community, have the use of the common tools of life or a common school education. A boy should also be taught the incomparable practical and spiritual advantages of honest self-made manhood, he added.

"It has been truly said that the best educated man is the man who has a knowledge of living through contact with those whose problems he shares and whose conditions he understands. I presume there is no more effectual means of stimulating the interest of a boy than the careers and achievements of men of whom he has heard but of whose personal qualities he knows nothing," and the speaker deplored the fact that biographies and other stories which might inspire the boy for good are so written that the human side is left out. He added that the boy "must be taught that the great personal freedom we enjoy under our form of democracy carries with it the responsibility of being and doing our very best. He must learn that there is no virtue without temptation and that the sacredness of righteousness is largely constituted in the effect of the individual or nation to attain it. This," he said, "is not a work that can be initiated by parliament or made effective by legislation. It requires the personal interest and the friendly contact of the man who can compete the respect and regard of the boy."

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. WOMEN AS BEEKEEPERS

A Work That Will Suit Their Natural Disposition.

No Better Opportunity Offered Country Girls—Beekeeping Has a Fascination for Female Apiarists—Cost of Starting and Probable Profits—Male Experts Approve.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

The historic riddle propounded by Samson: "Out of the eater came forth meat, and out of the strong came forth sweetness," was answered by citing the lion and the honey; and even then there was a woman in it.

For years beekeeping for women was regarded as an unsolved riddle. To-day it is no puzzle, for both wives and maidens are making money at it. "Buckets for the sweet."

No Better Opportunity for Country Girls.

A few years ago the writer interviewed five women who had made a success of apary work, and all of them were decidedly of opinion that there was a good chance for a girl or a married woman succeeding in beekeeping if she went about it the right way.

Miss Ethel Robson, of Iderton, said: "For the girl who wishes to make her living in the country there is no business that affords a better opportunity than the keeping of bees."

Miss Margaret W. Scott, of Meyersburg, went so far as to say that she believed beekeeping was an occupation for women rather than for men; that there is much to gain and little to lose in it.

The Work Suits Woman's Natural Disposition.

Miss M. B. Treverrow, of Meadowvale, observed that women were more and more turning to beekeeping. Much depended upon the individual. The work was healthful, being mainly out-of-doors during the summer. "Woman's natural disposition to be careful, painstaking, watchful and energetic has full play in this occupation, as there is much to interest, to learn and to do in the work of an apary."

Mrs. Fred. Ham, of Bath, most decidedly thought that a woman could support herself by keeping bees. "She who undertakes to do so should put as much energy, care and thought into the work that she would in any other occupation. Her heart must be in it."

Beekeeping Has a Fascination for Female Apiarists.

The late Mrs. G. A. Deadman, of Brussels, had a long experience in bee management. She said: "The apary has a fascination for the woman who goes earnestly into beekeeping. It is a healthful occupation, for it is largely out-of-door activity, and it gives one a change of work and thought. Some heavy lifting is necessary now and then, although assistance is usually available. But a woman must make up her mind to give practically all her time to the work during the period of swarming, and extracting—say June and July. After that there is bottling, packing, labeling, etc., although this may be lightened by selling in bulk, which is the best way after all to dispose of surplus honey. But for months together the bees require little or no attention."

Some Apary Costs.

Miss R. B. Pettit, of Georgetown, writing in January last, gives the following up-to-date information: "A woman can make it go, if she has sufficient initiative, energy and strength, and lastly if she likes the bees. Interest in the work and love of bees must be strong enough to overcome many difficulties besides the inevitable sting. A light start is advisable, say two or three colonies, until she masters some of the mysteries of the hive, and the general principles of management.

It would be well for her to begin with standard equipment—the ten-frame Langstroth hive for brood chamber—but would advise shallow supers, because of their lighter weight. The following list gives estimate of cost for start with two colonies:—

2 colonies bees with brood chamber bottom board and cover	$30.00
6 shallow supers with frames	11.70
3 complete hives for swarming	9.00
2 1/2 lbs. light brood foundation	1.88
1 lb. shallow foundation	3.40
No. 2 smoker $1.50; hive tool, 50c; back, 30c; spur wire em-bedder, 45c.	3.45
A. B. C. of Bee Culture	3.00
	$62.43

Ontario crop reports show an average of about 55 pounds per colony; prices vary as in other produce. The number of colonies that can be profitably kept depends on the woman and on the location.

GOOD INTENTIONS

Fate Turned Them Away.

By DWIGHT NORWOOD

What a difference between that which is behind and that before us! We move on from day to day in grooves that it would seem will be everlasting. Then suddenly we make a sharp turn. There is a saying, "It is the unexpected that happens." The reason for the adage is that now and again the unexpected does happen and is noticeable.

The unexpected happened with me one summer, and it was the most important event for me between birth and death. It was not only unexpected, but unintentional. It was not only unintentional, but contrary to my determination. Fate, ignoring my resolutions, led me into a trap, and before I was aware of it, presto, changed I was not the same man I had been before.

In the first place, I did not wish to go for a summer outing. I was much interested in a business scheme, and it required not only a doctor, but my mother, to drive me away from it. In the second place, I had repeatedly told my mother that my home would be with her and her alone so long as she lived. No third person, especially a woman, should come into the house to usurp her place as its manager. In the third place, if I must go away for a rest I proposed to get a rest and would go where no one would interfere with my quiet. Now, mark you how these intentions went awry!

I chose a summer hotel in the mountains in which I understood there were to be a medium number of guests. I did not wish too small a number, for a few persons under one roof are liable to wrangle. I did not wish too large a number because in that case one cannot be quiet. I was driven from the station to the Chuchihoochee inn, alighted from the cab on to the steps leading up to the porch, handed a small satchel to a hotel attendant, paid the cabman and turned to go up on to the porch.

A pair of feminine arms was thrown around my neck, and a pair of lips pressed to mine.

Taken by surprise, I acted as nature prompted. My embrace was too close to me for me to determine whether she was beautiful, but the impulse of her act indicated that she was young. The lips, too, were not within my vision, and their sweetness might have been due to imagination. But what mattered the cause since they were sweet? Nor did I meditate upon what person the lady might be, whether cousin or intimate friend. I returned the embrace with something of the fervor with which it was given. That is, I began the return thus, but before it was concluded my own test was superior to that of the lady.

"Oh, Tom," she exclaimed, "what a joyful meeting after so many years' separation!"

"Delightful!" I stammered, unwilling to seem irresponsible till I could come to a better understanding of the matter.

"If it hadn't been something about your figure and the way you carry yourself I doubt if I should have known you."

"You, too, have changed so much improved."

"I'm so glad you think so! I feared you would be disappointed in me."

This brief dialogue occurred while we were pausing up on the porch. Had it not been for a disinclination to dash cold water upon the girl's happiness, to turn it into mortification, I might have told her that she must surely have mistaken me for some one else. This is the reason I give for not having done so, but there was another more powerful reason that I will not put in words. Nevertheless, I will say this: I defy any man who has tasted a pair of sweet lips of a girl who has made a mistake in his identity to turn upon her immediately and announce the fact.

I took a seat beside the young lady on the porch, but when she began to ask questions which would undoubtedly betray me I bent a retreat, telling her that as soon as I had got some of the dust of travel off me I would return to her. Entering the house, I was shown to a room on the second floor overlooking the porch.

I was performing my ablutions near a window when I saw a cab enter the grounds and stop at the steps below. A young man alighted and I witnessed a few minutes before, and I witnessed a scene that called the very marrow in my bones. Leaning out of the window that I might extend the range of my vision, I saw him approach the young lady I had recently left.

"Aren't you Belle Lawrence?" he asked.

"Why, yes," doubtfully.

"I'm Tom, Tom Underwood. Don't you know me?"

"You Tom Underwood?"

"Certainly. You received my telegram, didn't you?"

"Your telegram? Yes, I received your telegram, but—"

"But what?"

The girl stood as if bewildered, then led the way into the house, and I saw and heard no more.

To tell the truth, I was relieved that

I would not have to explain to the girl that she had made a mistake and that—well, that I had not at once disabused her of it. Nature is very strong, and I confess that the ascendant feeling in me was antagonism to the fellow who was doubtless receiving a duplicate of the kiss given me. At the same time I felt that I occupied an equivocal position. I did not like the idea of meeting the girl again. How would she regard me? Doubtless as an impostor. If I passed her on the porch or elsewhere about the house or grounds she would cut me with one contemptuous glance.

And now I must make a confession, a confession of cowardice. There is something of the coward about one who has wronged another, and I felt that I should cringe before this girl I had permitted to think I was her lover. True, I did not kiss her. She kissed me, and so quickly that I could not prevent her doing so. But I acknowledged to myself that I would not have prevented her if I had had no end of time.

I did not dare go downstairs to supper, but ordered a meal served in my room. Contemptible creature that I was, I did not see go out of it, intending to get away by an early train the next morning.

About 9 o'clock there came a knock at my door, and in walked the man I had personated. He resembled me, but it seemed to me there was considerable difference in our appearance. There was a thundercloud on his brow. "I'm in for it," I said to myself; "but, thank heaven, it's not the girl I have to face!"

For a few minutes I listened to a tongue lashing such as I have never heard before or since. At first I bowed before the storm, but presently my anger began to rise. Not one word did I speak during that tempestuous interview, the hurricane blowing all one way, till, like a thunderbolt, I fell upon my visitor and sent him sprawling on the floor.

He rose with blood in his eye and was coming for me when he suddenly restrained himself. "This is no place and no way to settle so important a matter. You will hear from me presently."

With that he went out, slamming the door, and I heard him stamping down the corridor. It was 11 o'clock when a young man who gave his name as McCabe came to my room with a challenge. I was expected to meet Mr. Thomas Underwood the next morning at sunrise at such place as I might designate. Not seeing how I could refuse, I consented to do so, provided Mr. McCabe would act as my second as well as that of my opponent. I also wrote a note to be given to the young lady at such time as McCabe thought proper, apologizing for not having made her instantly aware of her mistake. Having settled these matters with my visitor, he departed. I sent word to the office that I should be called at an early hour in the morning, then turned in, and my mind having been relieved by my apology to the lady and punching her lover, I fell into a comfortable slumber.

The next morning as I went out on to the porch who should be waiting for me but the young lady whose blunder had made all the trouble. She advanced toward me.

"Where are you going?" she asked.

"To leave by train," I replied, bravely lying.

"No, you're not. You are going out to fight Mr. Underwood."

"Did he tell you that?"

"No, but I suspected it. I have lain in wait for you to stop this nonsense. I couldn't do anything with him. I'm going to see if you have better sense."

I wondered for a moment, then told her I owed Mr. Underwood satisfaction for knocking him down and felt obliged to give it to him.

"Very well," she replied. "I'll go with you."

At that moment Mr. McCabe appeared. He seemed much surprised to see Miss Lawrence and was not averse to her going with us to the grounds with a view to stopping what he considered an unfortunate affair. We walked half a mile, then turned off the road and, passing into an open space behind some trees, found my enemy waiting for me. Underwood, on seeing Miss Lawrence, looked thunderstruck.

"Tom," she said, "you are about to act very unjustly on account of what was not this gentleman's fault, but mine. You are going to punish me through him for having said anything to him about a matter which was mine, not yours."

"I'll do no such thing," said Underwood savagely. "If you prefer him to me say so and he'll be done with it."

"I certainly prefer the way he is acting to the stand you take."

"Then you chose between us and choose him."

"I certainly don't choose you unless you come to your senses."

"If I can't get him here I'll fight him elsewhere."

"If you fight him at all you may consider all off between us."

"So let it be," said Underwood, turning his back on us, he strode away bristling with anger.

I never saw Mr. Underwood again, but I saw a great deal of Miss Lawrence. Indeed, instead of spending my outing alone I spent it with her constant companionship. When I returned to the city I informed my mother that I had gone back on my volunteered promise to live with her alone so long as she lived. Fortunately she had the good sense to resign her position as head of my home and cheerfully turned it over to my wife.

Napoleon Bonaparte said, "I will control circumstances." Since he failed in doing so I feel excusable for going back on my resolutions.

TO EXPECTANT MOTHERS

A Letter from Mrs. Smith Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Trenton, Ont.—"I am writing to you in regard to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I would not be without it. I have taken it before each of my children was born and afterwards, and find it a great help. Before my first baby was born I had shortness of breath and ringing in my ears. I felt as if I would never pull through. One day a friend of my husband told him what the Vegetable Compound had done for his wife and advised him to take a bottle home for me. After the fourth bottle I was a different woman. I have four children now, and I always find the Vegetable Compound a great help as it seems to make confinement easier. I recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. FRED H. SMITH, John St., Trenton, Ont.

Mrs. Fred H. Smith.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system, so that it may work in every respect effectually as nature intended. Thousands of women testify to this fact.

It is announced that a new cave, the extent of which can only be surmised, has been discovered seven miles from Glacier House, Glacier, B.C.

The Yukon Territory is rapidly losing its inhabitants. In 1911 the population was 27,217, and in 1922 it had dwindled down to 4,187.

In an address to the Rotarians in Montreal last week, E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, made a pointed statement to the effect that Canada needs more capital for its development and more men for the same purpose.

An old-time stampede will be held in Calgary, Alta., between July 5th and July 14th, 1923. The programme will, as usual, include calf roping contests, broncho busting, and fancy riding and roping, etc.

Resumption of direct steamship service this spring between Montreal and the principal Norwegian ports, with the object of furthering the expansion of trade between Canada and Norway, is announced by the Canadian Pacific traffic agents for the Norwegian-American Line.

The Canadian Pacific steamship "Metagama" recently brought over to Canada 400 men and women of the Hebrides—the first migration of young Hebrides farmers to Canada under the Ontario immigration scheme.

A bill has been introduced into the Chamber of Deputies, Paris, authorizing the Government to expend 3,750,000 francs on the Canadian travelling exhibition. At least thirty French towns will be visited by the train this summer.

As guests of President Beatty of the Canadian Pacific Railway, four boy members of the young farmers clubs of Great Britain will cross the Atlantic and tour the Eastern and Western provinces of Canada.

Canada's exports to the United Kingdom in 1922 were more than $34,000,000 higher in value than exports of Canadian goods to the United States. To the United Kingdom, Canada sold goods to the value of $374,751,894, and to the United States $240,156,247.

Before the war India imported $600,000,000 worth of commodities a year, of which Canada sent not more than $30,000 worth. Last year her imports were $800,000,000, of which Canada sent $1,250,000, and it is now expected that there will be a further increase to between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000 this year.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has arranged with a number of European countries for the emigration of farmers and domestics who are willing to come to Canada for employment on Canadian farms. The immigrants will be brought to Canada at the joint expense of their home governments and the railway company.

The first successful radio experiment on a moving long-distance railway train was recently carried out on a Canadian Pacific Railway train from Winnipeg to Vancouver. Mr. Raymond Wylie installed a receiving set in the drawing room of the through sleeping car, and the aerial was installed by the railway electrical department. The results were all that could be desired.

Seeing the train swaying as it passed her while she was riding berries was the reason why Mrs. Fred Mueller of Brantford, Ont., would not take a ride on a train, but after she had returned to West Monkton from Elmira she told W. C. Gowan, the Canadian Pacific agent at the former station, that she thoroughly enjoyed the sensation of travelling for the first time on a train, which did not go fast enough for her.

CAT CAUSES FIRE

Fire completely destroyed the barn of Thomas Pierce, of the fifth concession of Caradoc, early Saturday evening, with a loss of $8,000, partly covered by insurance.

Mr. Pierce went up into the hay-mow to throw down some hay setting his lantern on a beam. When he turned to take it up again he noticed a strange cat sitting on the beam about three feet from the lantern. The cat, apparently frightened, tried to jump over the lantern, knocking it down in the small space between the hay and straw mows where it exploded. Mr. Pierce was unable to get it out.

All the stock was saved, but the barn, 34 x 70 feet, with a lean-to and considerable hay and straw and grain are a total loss.
