MY EARLY HOME

Dear home of my childhood
By the beautiful shore,
Of that blue, flowing river
I wander no more.
But a spell of thy beauty,

How thoughtless and happy, I there used to roam;
Through the green, flow'ry meadows
Surrounding my home.
Enjoying with rapture,
The free open air;
And gathering wild blossoms
To twine in my hair.

How well I remember,
That cool leafy bower
By the river, where oft,
I've passed many an hour
At noontide and twilight—
'Twas the favorite spot,
Sweet home of my childhood,
It's not not test forms.

Well, too, I remember
The deep mossy glade,
Where the birds sang so sweetly,
Through the dark maple shade.
'Twas there my wild fancy
Took many a flight,
And swelled in regions
Of untold delight.

Dear home of my childhood, How changed since the days
When I lived all unknown,
To the world and its ways.
In thy lovely retirement
With those I loved best,

Who have since grown weary And gone home to rest. Wherever on earth, 'Tis my portion to roam, Let me think of thee ever, My sweet early home; Too often I'll dream On the days that are gone, When I wandered a child By the lovely St. John.

The been violated,—and old courses resumed by not a few. Nevertheless, the evils arising from the use of liquid into toxicants, were being more clearly perceived and more deprecated by right thinking men. The principles of total-abstinence were gradually becoming more deeply imbedded in the public mind. The Sons of Temperance, the Good Tempelars, and other kindred organizations were doing much to arrest the meeting being in favor of one locality and part in another. No definite understanding, it was plain to be seen, Good Templars, and other kindred or ganizations were doing much to arrest the bapeful use of ardent drinks. In these ways, the cause in question had been promoted, and its principles had been inculcated.

When Mr. Dutcher came, then, he game not to a new-field, in which to exercise his philanthropy and talents. There pre-existed a strong temperance element in the community. By ATR'S PILIS have been known for more than a quarter of a century, and have obtained a world-wide reputation for their wirtues. They correct diseased action in the several assimilative organs of the body, and are so composed that obstructions within their range can rarely withestand or evade them. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every-body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, the safest and best physic for children. By their aperient action they gripe much less than the comman purgatives, and never give pain when the bowels are not inflamed. They reach the vital fountains of the blood, and strengthen the system by freeing it from the elements of weakness.

Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, these Pills may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar-coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take; while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

Rome, Feb 7.—The Pope's legs were so much better yesterday that he was able to walk a few steps. It is believed the exertion proved fatal. The change for the worse began at four o'clock in the morning when the death agony commenced. The Cardinals were assembled for conneil in the next room, but all, together with the next room, but all, together with the death agony commenced.
