STRONG FIGHT BY BARONS. Toronto Won from Wilkes-Barre by 1 Run.

The Score was 11 to 10. Manager Irwin Used Three Pitchers in the Game.

The Barons, the New Man, acted like a Bull Player, but was Taken out in the First Innings, Gannon Going in for Fire, and Gannon Finished Up Odwell in Good Form for the Visitors.

All the favorites landed on top yesterday, three of them being home teams. Toronto had a hard time of it, but the Barons, who are putting up a strong game, and will be worth watching to-day.

TRIAL OF MRS. STERNMAN

The Accused Woman Sent to the Assizes.

A SUDDEN BURST OF TEARS

But for the Most Part the Prisoner Was Self-Possessed.

Among the Spectators Were Leading Ladies of the Town—Dr. Harrison Gave Detailed Evidence as to His Examinations of the Patient—Dr. Ellis Testified That on Analysis He Found Enough Arsenic in Different Organs to Cause Death—Mr. German's Strong Plea for Discharge.

Cayuga, Ont., Sept. 10.—Public interest is evidently reviving in the magisterial investigation into the charge against Mrs. Olive Adelia Sternman of murdering her husband, George H. Sternman, in August of last year, by the administering of arsenic poison, and when the proceedings reopened this morning the portion of the Court House given over to the accommodation of the general public was fairly well filled, though by no means crowded. At least half the audience were ladies, including many of the leaders of the Cayuga society, and they followed the evidence attentively throughout the session.

The weather is intensely hot, and Cayuga Court House is not the one spot on earth that one would select as one of the most desirable places to be in the presence of so many spectators, under such adverse conditions; therefore, it is not surprising that the village is taking in the case. The coolest person in the sweetening crowd, both mentally and physically, during the first two hours of the morning's session, apparently, was the prisoner herself. With marvelous self-possession she sat through the tedious hours, never once showing signs of fatigue, and giving little indication of special concern in the testimony being offered.

A Sudden Breakdown. A few minutes before adjournment, however, a sudden change became apparent without any previous warning. She gave a little start and shuddering burst into tears at the same time, turning her face in the black-bordered handkerchief which she had carried in her hands throughout the morning. The lid that moment was no special point of interest or importance, nothing particularly harrowing or pathetic, was being elicited. Neither did it last long. Five minutes later she dried her eyes and resumed her seat before the court, the only remaining indication of the passing wave of feeling being the reddened cheeks.

The evidence of the morning session developed no new points, though the testimony of Dr. Harrison was corroborated in many places given previously by Dr. Park, that death was due to arsenical poisoning, and that the extent of the arsenic was ascertained by the Crown's case.

The presiding magistrate, as on the previous occasions, Mr. Adam Davis, J.P., and Crown Attorney C. W. Colter conducted the examination of the witness. Dr. Harrison, who was also on hand, Inspector Roberts of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. were also on hand. Mr. William Cowan appeared in the interest of the accused woman.

Alfred Cox, a brakeman on the G.T.R., was the first witness called by the Crown. He testified that he had seen Mrs. Sternman on the morning of the murder, and that she had been in the habit of taking a carriage to the station.

Dr. T. T. Harrison of Siskiwit, who was called Aug. 15 last week to witness the examination of the body of George H. Sternman, was then put on the stand. Witness examined the dark hue of his skin though the eyes were bright and the general appearance of the face was not indicative of anything much wrong. The pulse was small and the tongue coated. From the patent and prisoner's account of the case, it was learned that the witness learned the history of the case as it had been so often given in the past.

It was expected by all that he could not live, and came home to die. The prisoner wept when Mr. German referred to her being taken away from her two little children, and that there were grounds for her committal for trial. Mr. Davis stated that the evidence, as submitted, and the grave suspicion compelled him to commit her for trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction, which will be on Nov. 16 next.

with this requirement is enforced on grounds of public policy. One day's rest is the sacredness of the Sabbath, which is the province of the Legislature to prohibit whatever seems detrimental to society, even if such should seem to be a restriction of man's natural liberty. The law does not add to the requirement of cessation from labor any religious obligation; that is a matter of conscience.

THE EXHIBITION.
The Exhibition of 1897 is a thing of the past. Each year since the inception of the Exhibition the management has been criticised with more or less severity for alleged shortcomings, and the criticism still remains that the Exhibition committee to attract immense crowds to Toronto, and to draw a much larger attendance than any similar attraction on this continent. Toronto must seal-off its great Industrial Exhibition. The show this year was admittedly an excellent one. The most forcible objection that has been made against it is its monotonous similarity to the Exhibitions that have preceded it. We believe this criticism is well founded. What the Toronto Industrial Exhibition wants most of all is a few new ideas. Things are running in the same groove. We want a few new attractions, founded on new ideas. We want something novel. The time to prepare for the Exhibition of 1898 is the present month. If the management cannot evolve new ideas itself let it avail itself of the inventive faculties of the people. The management should invite suggestions for one or more novel and striking features for next year's Exhibition. A prize of $1000 should be offered and awarded to the individual who makes the best suggestion. All the great Exhibitions that have recently been held or are now in contemplation are making a vigorous effort to get hold of some new thing, and an appeal to the public at large to produce a striking novelty has invariably been made. The management of the Toronto Industrial Exhibition should make a similar appeal to the public. At the same time the management might make itself, or take a plunge into the water to get up a brisker circulation.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S WARNING.
Mr. Chamberlain's parliamentary paper "on the proceedings of a conference between the Secretary of State for the Colonies and the Premiers of the self-governing colonies" is an important document. The London Times reproduced almost the whole of it. It consists to a large extent of Mr. Chamberlain's speech in opening the conference, and we take from it the following extract, which has a bearing on the subject of closer inter-British trade relations: "But I should add that there is an outer question which is still more difficult, but about which I only wish to utter a word of warning to the representatives present. Besides those two treaties, which are very special in their terms, and which prevent the preferential arrangement contemplated by Canada, we have a most-favored-nation clause in all our treaties with the colonies. These are patently. I may explain that under the terms of the Canadian resolution, if any foreign nation were to offer to Canada beneficial terms as defined in the resolution, Canada would then be bound to give that country the same preference as is offered to Great Britain. Let me suppose, for instance, that it was a minor country like Holland, and assume for the sake of argument that Holland offered these advantages, thereupon Canada would be compelled to give the same terms to Holland that she now offers to the mother country. She would then be bound by most-favored-nation treaties to give the same terms to practically every important commercial country in the world. It would be, I think, a matter of impossibility to denounce those treaties, because that involves the whole trade of the Empire, and in some cases there is no term of denunciation in the treaties. "But of course, the whole difficulty can be avoided—I only point it out in passing—the whole difficulty can be avoided by any colony which desires to make the preferential arrangement with the mother country if that colony will confine its offer nominally to the mother country, and not make it to a foreign country, but if it is offered to a foreign country, then, as I say, it will be controlled by the most-favored-nation treaties throughout the world."

THE WAY THEY TALK.
Canada Has to Get Down and Take What her Big Neighbor to the South Chooses to Give.
Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 10.—Walter S. Eddy, a large lumber manufacturer, returned yesterday from a trip through the West. He has a very interesting story to tell of the lumber trade in that section, and of the attitude of the Canadian Government towards the lumber trade. He said: "The Canadian Government realizes that a course of that kind would be a serious blow to the lumber trade, and they would not do it. They would be hurting their own best interests. The most market they have is the American market, and they are well understood that no prohibitive tariff be placed on it."

"WHERE MERCHANTS MOST DO CONGREGATE."
If the great wholesale houses are the points which indicate the state of trade conditions, then assuredly is there prospect of good times before us, for, judging by what I heard, but more by what I saw, in the shipping room of one of our largest warehouses yesterday, business appears to be in a good way. It was in the immense warehouse of John Macdonald & Co., where, through the kindly courtesy of the firm, I was permitted to see the various departments and sections which supply both city and country trade, that I was able for the first time in my life to form a fair idea of what "wholesale" trade really means.

THE MUNICIPAL CONVENTION.
The Tax Exemption Convention was an eminent success, not so much because of the number of delegates present or of the work done during its two days' session, as because of the permanent organization that has been formed, and of the beneficial results that are likely to accrue from it. The decision to hold a convention of municipal representatives annually was probably the most important feature of the convention. Henceforth we may expect to see many of the anomalies of the Municipal Act disappear from the statutes, including the villainous exemption in the Assessment Act. Although no vote was taken on this question, there was little ambiguity among the delegates as to the feeling of the people throughout the Province on this important question. Exemptions must go. The convention yesterday said as much. Furthermore, the municipalities must be deprived of the option of housing manufacturers. The housing system is a positive evil and should be prohibited. Let industries gravitate to whatever place the conditions are naturally most favorable. The World is glad to see that the delegates offered strong opposition to the assessment of two-acre blocks in cities as farm lands. This amendment to the Municipal Act is a very serious one, and it would never have got through the great body that was organized yesterday had been in existence two or three years ago. The convention voiced public opinion to a nicety when it declared itself as opposed to the exemption of the salaries of civil servants. If the new organization continues as it has begun it will not only prevent these and many other abuses, but it will also do many other subjects that the new municipal organization will find it profitable to discuss. These include the question of good roads, the municipalization of public services, municipal insurance, and a score of other important matters, which every municipality is more or less interested.

"ASLEEP!"
Nothing so appalling as a mother's sight of her baby sleeping peacefully, with the blue lips beneath the eyes and the thin little hands that come into the world so healthy and robust and full of life, and which, in the ordinary course of things, are not a serious menace; but to the weak, puny baby with the seeds of disease implanted in its little body even before birth, they are a serious matter and frequently mean baby's death.

WITNESS HIS GREAT LUCK.
New York, Sept. 10.—Frederick W. Whitehead, porter in a tea store here, has fallen heir, according to rumor, to a fortune in England amounting to $117,000, left by a maiden aunt. Whitehead, who is 35 years old, came to this country from England 12 years ago. He proved his identity to the law firm which was seeking for him, by means of a little Bible which he had carried with him for years and on the fly-leaf of which his mother's name was written.

THE EXHIBITION.
The Exhibition of 1897 is a thing of the past. Each year since the inception of the Exhibition the management has been criticised with more or less severity for alleged shortcomings, and the criticism still remains that the Exhibition committee to attract immense crowds to Toronto, and to draw a much larger attendance than any similar attraction on this continent. Toronto must seal-off its great Industrial Exhibition. The show this year was admittedly an excellent one. The most forcible objection that has been made against it is its monotonous similarity to the Exhibitions that have preceded it. We believe this criticism is well founded. What the Toronto Industrial Exhibition wants most of all is a few new ideas. Things are running in the same groove. We want a few new attractions, founded on new ideas. We want something novel. The time to prepare for the Exhibition of 1898 is the present month. If the management cannot evolve new ideas itself let it avail itself of the inventive faculties of the people. The management should invite suggestions for one or more novel and striking features for next year's Exhibition. A prize of $1000 should be offered and awarded to the individual who makes the best suggestion. All the great Exhibitions that have recently been held or are now in contemplation are making a vigorous effort to get hold of some new thing, and an appeal to the public at large to produce a striking novelty has invariably been made. The management of the Toronto Industrial Exhibition should make a similar appeal to the public. At the same time the management might make itself, or take a plunge into the water to get up a brisker circulation.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S WARNING.
Mr. Chamberlain's parliamentary paper "on the proceedings of a conference between the Secretary of State for the Colonies and the Premiers of the self-governing colonies" is an important document. The London Times reproduced almost the whole of it. It consists to a large extent of Mr. Chamberlain's speech in opening the conference, and we take from it the following extract, which has a bearing on the subject of closer inter-British trade relations: "But I should add that there is an outer question which is still more difficult, but about which I only wish to utter a word of warning to the representatives present. Besides those two treaties, which are very special in their terms, and which prevent the preferential arrangement contemplated by Canada, we have a most-favored-nation clause in all our treaties with the colonies. These are patently. I may explain that under the terms of the Canadian resolution, if any foreign nation were to offer to Canada beneficial terms as defined in the resolution, Canada would then be bound to give that country the same preference as is offered to Great Britain. Let me suppose, for instance, that it was a minor country like Holland, and assume for the sake of argument that Holland offered these advantages, thereupon Canada would be compelled to give the same terms to Holland that she now offers to the mother country. She would then be bound by most-favored-nation treaties to give the same terms to practically every important commercial country in the world. It would be, I think, a matter of impossibility to denounce those treaties, because that involves the whole trade of the Empire, and in some cases there is no term of denunciation in the treaties. "But of course, the whole difficulty can be avoided—I only point it out in passing—the whole difficulty can be avoided by any colony which desires to make the preferential arrangement with the mother country if that colony will confine its offer nominally to the mother country, and not make it to a foreign country, but if it is offered to a foreign country, then, as I say, it will be controlled by the most-favored-nation treaties throughout the world."

THE WAY THEY TALK.
Canada Has to Get Down and Take What her Big Neighbor to the South Chooses to Give.
Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 10.—Walter S. Eddy, a large lumber manufacturer, returned yesterday from a trip through the West. He has a very interesting story to tell of the lumber trade in that section, and of the attitude of the Canadian Government towards the lumber trade. He said: "The Canadian Government realizes that a course of that kind would be a serious blow to the lumber trade, and they would not do it. They would be hurting their own best interests. The most market they have is the American market, and they are well understood that no prohibitive tariff be placed on it."

Keeping Rich

"Is frequently harder than getting rich. Many a man loses in two or three months the accumulations of 20 or 30 years. THAT IS WHY YOU SHOULD INSURE."

The Compound Investment Policy of the North American Life Assurance Company.

Toronto, is admirably adapted to meet the wants of all classes of intending insurers. The advantageous features combined in this attractive form of policy make it a valuable security during the earning years of life and a satisfactory and remunerative investment at the end of the investment period selected. All premiums after the tenth on limited payment policies will be lent at 6 per cent interest and not deducted from the policy in case of death during the investment period.

All the policies issued by the Company are indisputable after one year from date.

The North American Life has a larger ratio of assets to liabilities and net surplus to liabilities than any other Canadian Company.

Bill and the Directors.
An amusing scene occurred at one of the entrances to the Grand Stand a couple of days ago. A director of the Industrial Exhibition Association, his wife and sister, were going to see the fireworks. They were going to take reserved seats in the Grand Stand. The director procured tickets for the ladies, but thought his badge would be all right. The ticket taker demurred, and refused to let the director pass without a ticket. Manager Hill stood near the director. The director called him over to settle the dispute. Manager Hill sided with the ticket taker, told the director he had no right to pass without a ticket, and planted himself squarely in front of the director.

LADY MEMBERS ACCEPTED.

Step Forward by the Independent Foresters.

HOW IT ALL CAME ABOUT.

Tale of Strenuous and Successful Effort.

A Chat With Mr. G. A. Harper, a S. C. E. "Companion of the Independent Order of Foresters."

(Assessment Plan.)

Always anxious to pay our daily visit to the tent of the I. O. F. at the Exhibition, partake of the charming hospitality freely offered and enjoy the refreshing breeze ever blowing near this famous tent, we hurried over earlier than usual yesterday, and great good luck it was for us, as we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. G. A. Harper, A.S.C.E., and hearing something about the new order for women in connection with the I.O.F. that everyone is talking so much about.

By the way, an American lady told me the other day that the Canadian Women were away behind the Americans in this matter, as the societies of the Companions of the Independent Order of Foresters were flourishing all over the United States. She laughingly added, "We believe in keeping in touch with our men, and having the same interests at heart, and therefore, if you care to hear of that, the secret of our great success in having such good husbands." To listen to Mr. Harper's description of the progress of the movement in favor of admitting women to a society in connection with the I.O.F. the disavowal of which was viewed by so many men and the gradual change of opinion as the movement gained in favor, ending with the triumph of the women and the establishment of the Companions of the Independent Order of Foresters, is to see that Mr. Harper is greatly interested in his work and confident of its success when the Canadian women begin to realize all it means to them and their home life and interests.

That at every session of the Supreme Court convened since 1880 Dr. Oronhyatka, M.D., S.C.E., has recommended to the Supreme Court the advisability of admitting women to the Independent Order of Foresters, in a proper Court by a small majority has refused always to concur in this recommendation, the principal objection being that they did not desire women admitted to the subordinate courts with them. The women, however, are now in a matter in their own hands and will have to be admitted to the Supreme Court of the Foresters, or will form a Supreme Court of their own. In the State of Ohio the ladies have gone so far as to petition the Supreme Court, and in the State of Michigan the ladies have petitioned the Supreme Court of that State to admit women to the I.O.F. This order has subordinate courts in Ohio, New York, Michigan, Indiana and California.

Local bodies not having any connection with this order have also organized in several of the above named States, also in Illinois, calling themselves by various names, claiming an interest in the Independent Order of Foresters and expressing a determination to be incorporated. In reply to numerous letters of the subject of Dr. Oronhyatka taking charge of these several organizations he wrote the following letter: "My dear madam, I have your favor of recent date, which I have delayed answering so as to give you the matter the consideration which its importance demands. I also have before me a number of letters on the same subject from women in Ohio, Illinois, New York and your own State, Michigan. In the several States mentioned voluntary organizations by the wives, sisters and mothers of Foresters have been formed, calling themselves by various names, and objects being to furnish sick and funeral benefits to themselves and to aid in the upbuilding and increasing of the membership of the Independent Order of Foresters. I have received many requests to take charge of and issue certificates to these several organizations, which I have decided to do, both for the purpose of having one united and harmonious organization and in immediate touch with the Supreme body, and so that at the next session of the Supreme Court it may be easier to make this organization an integral part of the Independent Order of Foresters. I propose that this united organization be called 'Companions of the Independent Order of Foresters.' Meanwhile I am fraternally yours."

All these organizations accepted of the Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters, and in consequence of his becoming the head of the society is shown by the fact that the incorporated societies in Ohio have joined their society and come over to the Companions of the I. O. F. There were 25 of these benevolent organizations, and they came of their own free will without any effort on the part of the I. O. F.

The last court organized was in Syracuse, N. Y. It is called Court Martha Washington, and has a charter list of 175 members. The Supreme Chief Ranger has accepted of the responsibility to offer this society to the Supreme Court as a branch of the order, and he has every reason to believe that it will be accepted, as many of these persons heretofore opposed the admission of women have signified their intention to no longer oppose the movement, notably the Supreme Secretary, John W. McGillivray. If the ladies are accepted they will maintain their own subordinate courts. Mr. McGillivray has made a suggestion, and a very valuable one it is, too, and no doubt will be acted upon, that is, while the ladies will have their own subordinate courts, they should not have Supreme High Courts, but should send delegates to High Courts of the order now organized. As a matter of business, it does seem as if the recognition of the ladies' societies would be a good move on the part of the Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters. The ladies will be in their own separate subordinate courts, and as medical men all agree that women are as good risks as men, if not better, they should send delegates to High Courts of the order and send several thousands to their membership, as this society, of course, will be 10,000 strong a year hence. It is not to be presumed that all ladies will receive insurance, as only those who express a satisfactory examination will be eligible to the order.

Interest in Forestry, where these Courts of Companions have been formed, has been greatly increased, as the lady Companions have practically become a

A THRESHER'S LIFE

One of Exposure to Inclement and Changeable Weather.

He Easily Falls a Prey to Disease-Rheumatism One of the Natural Results - One Who Suffered for upwards of Nine Years Gives His Experience.

From The Intelligence, Belleville, Ont. It is doubtful if there is any other occupation more trying to the constitution than that of the thresher. Exposed to the rains and storms of the autumn season, and at the same time clothed with the dust consequent upon threshing, he easily falls a prey to disease. Mr. Jos. H. Davis, a resident of the Township of Wicklow, Hastings County, followed the threshing trade for some months every fall. For eight or nine years he was subject to attacks of inflammatory rheumatism. The disease usually made its appearance in the fall, and continued throughout the winter, causing not only pain, but great inconvenience. Mr. Davis' most serious attack occurred during the winter of 1888. It first made itself manifest by the swelling of the right hand, and before twenty-four hours had passed the disease appeared in the left hand, through the whole system, and the legs were swollen to an abnormal size, so much so that he could not walk through the swells. For ten months the trouble continued, and during that period Mr. Davis was unable to put on his own clothes, and the pain he endured almost passed comprehension. One doctor after another was tried, but with no better success. "I have had," said Mr. Davis, "how much money spent on doctors and medicine, but it amounted to a considerable sum, and yet I would most willingly have given my farm to be rid of the terrible pain I was forced to endure. But all my expenditures seemed to go for nothing, and to despair of a cure. At this juncture, acting on the advice of a friend, I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The first six boxes I used seemed from outward appearances to have had no effect, and I felt almost like giving up in despair. I thought, however, that possibly that was not a fair trial for one in my condition and I procured a further supply. By the time I had used three boxes more there was a considerable improvement noticeable on each day. I continued using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills until I had taken six boxes, by which time every vestige of the pain had left me, and I was feeling in every respect as well as I have ever felt. The cure is permanent for I have not known what it is to suffer with rheumatism since."

NEW CURE FOR INTERPERMIA.

Talk With Dr. McTaggart of Beverley-Street on the Dyke Remedy.

The World yesterday had a talk with Dr. A. McTaggart, 78 Beverley-street, who has been successful in his method of treatment for interpermia. He holds, with the leading medical authorities, that the cause of interpermia is a disease, such as he has successfully treated it. "Dyke's New Vegetable Cure for Interpermia," a liquid medicine, purposed vegetable, almost tasteless, and odorless, is the only restorative the Doctor advertises.

Dr. McTaggart explained that in July last a scientific method, highly commended by prominent authorities in Great Britain and Ireland, known as the Dyke Cure for Interpermia, had been introduced into London, Ont., and Toronto. Up to the present time scores of applicants for the treatment through him have been restored to health and happiness, having lost all desire for the cure. That it is a home treatment is much in its favor, as it saves the time and expense of going to an institute to be cured. With the Dyke Cure, not even an hour need be lost from a patient's daily calling while taking the remedy. Another favorable feature is that it can be taken without any publicity, as it can be kept from the knowledge of the nearest neighbor.

The Dyke Cure consists of a purely vegetable compound, and its principal features are that no injections of any kind are used, nor is gold or other metal introduced into the system of the patient. The Dyke Cure removes all tendency to dropsy, diabetes and other diseases of the kidneys arising from alcoholism. Dr. McTaggart reports the following number of letters attesting the success of his method of treatment, which are only a small portion of the testimonials in favor of the Dyke Cure from all parts of Great Britain and Ireland, as well as from London, Toronto and other places in the Dominion.

Chas. Boeckh & Sons, Brushes, Brooms and Woodware.

It is, we think, universally admitted that in manufactures of wood Canada ranks first in the world, not only as to quality of goods turned out and facilities of manufacturing same.

Among the leading industries of this country is the manufacture of woodwares, such as pails, tubs, washboards, clothespins, butterware, etc., all of which lines are here brought to a state of perfection which cannot be excelled in any country.

In addition to their brush and broom works the firm of Chas. Boeckh & Sons also have a special woodware business, and besides manufacturing a number of articles in this line, have the exclusive agency here for the justly celebrated Newark woodware, manufactured by the William Case & Sons Mfg. Co., Limited. All kinds of pails and tubs are turned out at the Newark factories, where a specialty is made of meeting the wants of the packing trade. All such goods as birdpails and tubs, cranberry sauce and paint pails, oyster and pickle packages, etc., are handled by Chas. Boeckh & Sons in our lead lots, and shipped to all points between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Their Globe and Jubilee washboards and "Star" clothespins are the best known goods of their kind on the market to-day, and are handled by all leading dealers.

Chas. Boeckh & Sons' stock also comprises a full line of the best makes of baskets, cordage, matches and grocers' sundries, and their commodious warehouses, offices and sample rooms at 80 York-street, Toronto, and 1 and 3 D-Brevoort-street, Montreal, enable them to handle this large line carefully and economically, and the trade have found it a very great advantage to be able to purchase and have their staple lines all come from one source.

The agency in Winnipeg is under the care of Mr. J. E. Dimerman, and in Vancouver of Messrs. William Tuffs & Son, at both of which places stocks are carried. With an office in the city of Glasgow, Scotland, under Mr. W. R. Wilson, and with travelers covering Ontario, Quebec and the Eastern Maritime Provinces this firm have a very large territory to supply, and are thus enabled to manufacture in very large quantities, thereby reducing the cost to the lowest possible point. A fully illustrated catalogue (B) will be promptly sent to the trade upon application.

How Frederik W. Whitehead Proved His Identity and That He Was Heir to a Fortune

New York, Sept. 10.—Frederik W. Whitehead, porter at 8 Fulton-street, has fallen heir to a fortune in England.

The amount of the inheritance is said to be $110,000 and has been left by a man named Whitehead, who is about 35 years old, is a native of Manchester, His parents were well-to-do people in that city. His aunt was very fond of him and kept him liberally supplied with pocket money.

Fortune in His Mother's Bible

Whitehead was found yesterday afternoon busy writing grocery orders. He said, "and I refuse to discuss it. All the time I have been in this country I have not been interested in my welfare, why should I interest myself now? I was brought here by a man named Whitehead, who is about 35 years old, is a native of Manchester, His parents were well-to-do people in that city. His aunt was very fond of him and kept him liberally supplied with pocket money."

Philadelphia Boy Went Down to Meet a Great Black Crawly.

For the last two weeks a son of Peter Billa, living near the Cascade, has been in the habit of leaving his father's home every morning at about 9 o'clock and not returning until noon. The parents of the boy have questioned him as to where he went, and he would reply: "To play with a neighboring boy named Springer." One day the father watched his son and followed at a short distance, and when about half a mile from the home entered a piece of black woodland in front of the Cascade, where he was seen to dig up a large rock, and in less than ten minutes the father was holding the bones of a prehistoric monster.

Expenses of the Royal Court.

Until William II. ascended the Imperial throne the expenses of the court were $1,000,000. The Emperor's household was made annually for 60 years. One year after he was enthroned he received a memorandum from the Reichstag setting forth that it was impossible for the Emperor to maintain his household on the sum of $1,000,000.
