WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

the enemy has been making manifestations of a coming offensive in the Alps of the Trentino.

The remarkable measure of success which is attending the new system of large scale British trench raiding has been exemplified south of Arras on Saturday, when on a wide front the British raiding parties penetrated as deeply into the defences of the Germans as to reach their third line.

In the past few days, and more frequently late, the French have been recording the repulse of many German attacks, especially in the regions of Champagne, Verdun and the Vosges.

The proceedings on the Rumanian front were changed to Russian counter-offensives both northwest and southwest of Fokshani.

South of the Gulf of Riga three rather heavy attacks are proceeding against the German positions, with the honors so far apparently between the Russian and the German.

General Smuts is pushing rapidly forward with his offensive, designed to capture the remaining German forces in East Africa and to occupy the country completely, so as to release troops and war materials for service elsewhere.

In an important raid British seaplanes destroyed a span of the bridge over the Maritza bridge in the Constantinople-Adrianople section of the Constantinian Express.

The Modern Method of Washing Requires Little Physical Effort

The Blackstone is a Simple, Efficient and Satisfactory Machine That Washes and Wrings at the Same Time, or Separately, by Electricity

ELECTRICITY has worked wonders in perfecting and making easy the laborious and tiring duties of the housewife, but there is probably no other labor-saving device known that lightens her tasks so much as an electric washing machine.

With such a complete and efficient Electric Washer as the Blackstone, all the disagreeable work of subjecting hands to scalding hot soapsuds and the rubbing process on a washboard are eliminated. She simply fills the tub with hot water and soap, dumps in the dirty clothes, attaches the cord to an ordinary electric socket and pays the electric company two cents an hour for the power of operating the machine.

It is important to know that when our present supply of Blackstone Electric runs out, the next shipment will be priced dollars above the present stock price.

Some of its Special Features and Conveniences

Both washer and wringer are controlled by two levers which are placed together on the side of the machine from which the cover opens, so that the operator may stand on the side of the machine opposite from the hinged edge of the cover and have access to the interior of the machine and to wringer without danger of coming in contact with the driving belt or gears.
Cover can be raised or lowered without turning off the power or disconnecting the gearing.
After the first batch of clothes is washed and wrung from the machine into the rinsing tub they can be wrung back through the rinsing tub while the second batch of clothes is being washed in the machine.
Has cut gears which eliminate noise and make the machine run silently and smoothly.
It has a safety dasher which prevents tearing the clothes, and which washes the finest as well as the coarsest fabrics without injury.
The tub is made of clear red cypress and is a standard size. The interior (both sides and bottom) is fully corrugated, and the outside is reinforced with three extra heavy steel hoops.
The wringer is a reliable five-year guaranteed type, with steel spiral pressure springs on cog-wheel shields and a patent release that instantly takes all pressure off the rolls.
The motor is fully enclosed, is situated underneath the tub, and has an electric cord that can be screwed into any convenient electric light socket, same as an ordinary light.
See demonstration in basement. Price, $62.00 complete

SUBMITS EVIDENCE FOR A. P. MACAULEY

Toronto Man Telegraphs St. Louis on Suspected Man's Behalf.
WATCH THEORY FALLS
Proves Timepiece Was Purchased From West King Street Jeweler.

Telegraph wires between St. Louis and Toronto were buzzing Saturday with messages regarding A. P. Macauley, Toronto mining man, who has been released by the St. Louis police on $10,000 bail, suspected of being "Christmas" Keough, a swindler of international reputation.
Evidence to refute the charge that he is the man for whom the police of this continent have been searching for several years was forwarded to St. Louis in Macauley's behalf by Louis J. West, a business partner of the mining man.
The St. Louis police claim that a watch found in Macauley's possession bears identification with a watch mentioned by Keough. The watch and Macauley's resemblance to Keough form the basis for his retention by the police. As an answer to the watch identification, West has sent a signed statement to St. Louis, which declares that Macauley bought a Waltham movement watch for $69 from A. Kessell, jeweler, 105 W. King street, Toronto, shortly before his departure for St. Louis. Kessell adds that he has known Macauley for ten years and is confident that a mistake has been made.
To refute the charge that Macauley was responsible for recent frauds in New York City by Keough, West has forwarded documentary evidence proving that Macauley was registered at the Prince George Hotel from Dec. 9 to Dec. 22. Sam Thompson, proprietor, has made the declaration.
Further corroboration of Macauley's contention was furnished in Mr. West's

PAID INSTALMENT ON MACHINE GUNS

Hon. G. H. Ferguson Makes Reply to Further Criticism of C. M. Bowman.
REST ON DELIVERY
Critic Misled by Statement of First Payment in Public Accounts.

Replying further to Chas. M. Bowman's criticisms of the government's actions with regard to the purchase of 500 Lewis machine guns for the Canadian troops with half the million dollars raised by one mill taxation, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson said on Saturday that he knew where Mr. Bowman was wrong. He said that only $175,000 had been spent. He had probably gleaned this from the public accounts for the year which recorded only the initial payment of some 30 per cent of the amount had been paid on the order. The rest had been paid on delivery of the guns, said the minister, and the public accounts of the year in which these payments had been made.
As for Mr. Bowman's statement that when the troops went over the channel they had English and not American-made machine guns, Mr. Ferguson explained that the Lewis people had taken over the manufacture of the guns in England as well as in the United States. He could not say whether the guns delivered to troops in England or in the United States.
Further, he said the minister, when the order was placed the company was working on the order and the Russian Government was anxious at that time to place a very large order. It had taken a great deal of negotiation and several railway trips before the Ontario Government secured acceptance of their order and precedence in delivery.
They had been able to secure a certain time limit before the expiration of which the company had agreed not to accept the Russian order.

RUMORS AFLOAT ABOUT HOSPITALS

Irregularities Have Been Reported to Headquarters in Ottawa.
SOLDIERS LOST LUXURIES
Pheasants and Grouse Sent to Canadians Never Received, is Report.

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 6.—Considerable interest is manifested here in the cabled despatch from London, stating that another court-martial is to be instituted as the result of irregularities at the Canadian hospital at Taplow. It is understood that irregularities reported to General Sir Sir Hughes to have occurred at Taplow Hospital, were what led him to institute a general inquiry into the Canadian Military Medical Service in Great Britain. He appointed Col. Dr. Bruce, the eminent Toronto surgeon, to conduct the inquiry. Another board has condemned Dr. Bruce's report.
For a long time there have been many rumors current in Ottawa regarding irregularities at Canadian hospitals in England. The facts have not been made public, but probably will be given to parliament. And it is stated that Gen. Hughes will make an exhaustive statement on the subject. The current rumors include the misappropriation of socks, and it is said that the discovery of irregularities was made thru the purloining and sale of pheasants and grouse which were sent by a high royal personage as the gift to the Canadian soldiers in one hospital. However, there has been no official verification of these rumors.

PIECES OF ZEPPELIN ARRIVE IN TORONTO

Aluminum and Copper Parts Show Enemy to Be Experts in Metal Treatment.
Some fragments of a zeppelin which was brought down last summer near London, England, by Flight Lieutenant Robinson after a terrific fight have reached The Toronto Sunday World. They were found in Potter's Bay and sent to H. Salvinski, 427 Davenport road, by Mrs. F. Mayhew, Islington. The pieces are of aluminum and copper, used in the manufacture of zeppelin envelopes. The structural framework is made of aluminum which is of great strength and durability, showing how expert the enemy have been in the treatment of metals. The copper, which is remarkably thin, is also of great strength. A piece of copper tubing shows the delicate mechanism of the feed tubes of the zeppelin motors.
It will be remembered that Lieutenant Robinson was awarded with the Victoria Cross for his skill and bravery in destroying the German raider.

NORTHERN LOANS NOW IN DEMAND

Money Part of Five Millions Voted Years Ago for Development.
FROM NEW ONTARIO
Commissioner Unwilling to Reveal Financial Standing of Settlers.

The money used by Commissioner Fred Dane for loans to northern settlers comes not from a special fund provided by the government during the last session of the legislature, as is popularly supposed, but is part of the $5,000,000 voted some years ago for expenditure in securing settlement of the north country, under the provisions of the Western and Northern Development Act.
The appointment of Mr. Dane as commissioner of the northern loan branch to make these loans was in the nature of establishing a means by which this money might be expended in a manner which the government considered expedient.
Mr. Dane said on Saturday that applications for a loan on the security of the land and the improvements made by the settlers were now coming in from all parts of the north country, and not only from the Timiskaming district, where the work of his department was first directed after the disastrous forest fires which ravaged that part of the country during last summer.
The commissioner is unwilling to make statements for publication on the amounts already loaned to settlers. He is generally understood that the first $100,000 allotted has been expended, and the second amount of similar size. If it is not used up by the men who are taming the newer lands of the province. He regards himself in something of the same light as a pawnbroker who feels that professional etiquette bars him from exposing the financial standing of his clients.

CAN CONTROL SMELLS FROM THE ABATTOIRS
Toronto Delegation Returns From Odor Investigation in U.S. Cities.

The civic delegation enquiring into the bad smells of the city have just returned from a tour of investigation in Buffalo, Boston and New York, and the conclusion they have arrived at is that the prevention of smells from abattoirs in Toronto is quite possible. They found in New York an abattoir not more than 300 yards from a hospital, large hotels and business places, and not the slightest odor. Controller Cameron stated that arrangements are being made to bring the chief inspector of the New York abattoirs to Toronto to confer with local abattoir owners with the idea of having the same system installed here as is used there. Those who made the trip were: Controller Cameron, Dr. Hastings, M. G. John, Leston J. R. Wainwright, assistant chief engineer of the harbor board, and J. Harris and Mr. Redfield of the Harris Glue Co.

TORONTO FIRM ASKED TO SUPPLY RETURNS
Health Department Sets High Cost of Living Inquiry Afoot.

Notices are being sent out by the department of public health, under the H. C. of L. order in council, to 100 Toronto firms, asking them to make returns as to the amount of foodstuffs held by them, the price at which they are held for sale, etc. between Oct. 1 and Feb. 15. According to an investigation made by the department in the latter part of December, it was reported that there was no ground for proceeding against any dealers for the hoarding of foodstuffs. If, after the next investigation, the council deems the reasons given as being sufficient for taking action, it will be sent to the minister of labor at Ottawa, who, if he thinks it sufficient to institute proceedings, will submit it to the attorney-general.

Will Continue Collection of Cads for Two or Three Days

Saturday was the last day of the "action" service week" throughout the Dominion, but according to the returns that have come to hand in all probability the time will be extended for another week. The World was informed by an official that the total number of cads distributed in Toronto amounts to about 150,000, and of these about 40,000 have been collected. "It is unnecessary to say anything about it until the returns are completed," he stated, "which I should think will be in two or three days' time. A lot of the places have to be visited again by our men owing to the people being out of the city and various other causes. So far we have had no trouble."

BRADSHAW CHARGES ARE NOT SUSTAINED
Saskatchewan Government Not Linked With Road Frauds, Says Commission.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture, the agricultural college at Guelph and the Grand Trunk Railway, are cooperating in a campaign for "better farming." A special demonstration train today begins a tour over the Grand Trunk lines in western Ontario which will continue until March 14. Fifty-seven places will be visited, a day being spent at each point. Evening meetings, at which moving pictures of up-to-date agricultural methods will be shown, are to be a feature of the tour. In charge of the exhibits on the train are competent demonstrators and lecturers drawn from the Ontario Agricultural College, the boards of agriculture, staff of dairy instructors, and specialists of the provincial and Dominion departments of agriculture. Special attention is being paid to the education of the women and children, one of the cars being devoted to poultry raising, gardening and household equipment.

FIRST OF GOOD SERIES OF WAR SKETCHES OUT
"The Western Front" Title of Volume Containing Muirhead Bone's Great Work.

There has just been published from the offices of Country Life, Limited, Covent Garden, London, by authority of the British war office, the first of a series of editions containing drawings by Muirhead Bone, the celebrated English artist. This series of drawings, "The Western Front," gives one an insight into the war not to be got by reading despatches or looking at photographs. Gen. Sir Douglas Haig has written a preface to the first edition, in which he says: "The conditions under which we live in France are so different from those to which people at home are accustomed that few men, however skilled, can explain them without the aid of pictures." "The destruction caused by war, the wide areas of devastation, the vast mechanical courses essential to us, both for transport and in the making of the masses of supplies required, and the wonderful cheerfulness and individuality of the soldier, are subjects worthy subjects for the artist who aims at recording for all time the spirit of the age in which he has lived." "It has been said that the portrait on the picture are invaluable aids to the right reading of history, and on this point of view I welcome, on behalf of the army that I have the honor to command, this series of drawings as a permanent record in pencil of the duties which our soldiers have been called upon to perform, and the manner in which they have performed them." In the first volume of "The Western Front," which is to be published monthly, there are two volumes of Muirhead Bone's sketches, including an excellent likeness of Sir Douglas Haig, while the front cover is a sketch of the church tower, which is the top of the Albert church tower, hanging downward. One of the tanks in action is shown, as well as glimpses of ruined towns and villages, sections of trenches, dug-outs and officers' headquarters. These books, which really are portfolios of sketches, are priced at two shillings net in London, and can be ordered from Country Life, and Mr. Muirhead Bone's original drawings, a collection of some 100 sketches, containing Mr. Bone's drawings on a larger scale. They will be reproduced in colors by a special process, and each portfolio will contain ten plates, and will be ten shillings and sixpence, net.

ARMY CHURCH HAS NEW BUILDING
Completed Sunday School Will Be Temporarily Used as Church.

The opening services of the recently-completed Sunday school of Carman Methodist Church, Bloor and Pauline avenues, were held yesterday morning, afternoon and evening, the dedication service in the morning being conducted by Hon. Col. Rev. Dr. S. D. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist church in Canada, and the pastor, the Rev. A. W. Hone. The service opened by the reading of the scriptures, following which the dedicatory prayer was said by Dr. Chown, in which special reference was made to Dr. Carman, general superintendent emeritus of the Methodist church in Canada, after which the church was named.

The present building, which is situated on the sixth chapter of St. John and the latter part of the 83rd street, "The words that I speak unto you, they are spirit and they are life. Do you think of the kingdom on an empty grave that laid a pathway from heaven to earth?" In dealing with his theme the preacher scored the average Christian of today. "The meaning of the gospel only half appeared in the past, but the average Christian today," he said, "take those words, 'We cannot serve two masters.' We do not believe that we believe the people who are resisting the commandment of wealth believe that? Do you believe the people who are resisting the commandment of service believe that? Take those other words, 'A man's life consists not in the abundance of things he possesseth, but in the readiness to give them up.' We have journeyed only way in the last two years, but we do not believe that."

SOME STRONG TERMS.
As an example of the so-called Christian life of the average man, he gave an instance of a notice he once saw in the office of a real estate man which read: "I have a fine investment, a life of labor." "A most damnable thing to say," declared Dr. Chown with emphasis. "The man who put it there thought it would prove a bait for a Christian pupil, and I am obliged to say it was."

The preacher spoke but little on the matter of church union, but said: "I object to the anti-church unionists because they think they show a greater endowment than the church, and that is not Christianity." In conclusion he urged the greater uplifting of the church, and that the church and its members, right and wrong, organization will cease us if we live for ourselves. Music was provided by the choir, under the leader, F. Russell. The anthem in the morning was Woodward's "The Splendor of Thy Glory, Lord," and in the afternoon, "O Lord, My Father, My Father." The special service for children was under the auspices of the Methodist Union, the chairman being J. A. Withers, chairman of the board of trustees, G. H. Wood, president of the Methodist Union, and R. G. Kirby. The evening service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. S. D. Chown, president of the western district. Special music was given at both services, the soloists being Mrs. Isabel Manley Pickard and Albert David.

Stone Laid in June.
The church was formerly known as the Pauline Avenue Methodist Church, and was changed to its present name after the last conference in June, 1916, when the corner stone was laid June 10, by A. R. Williams, Esq., Rev. W. Hone, the present pastor, was ordained in 1914, when he became superintendent and succeeded Rev. H. Ellison. The present building was especially designed for Sunday school and church purposes until the church proper can be built on the site adjoining.

The site of this church was purchased in 1912 and for a time the congregation met in a tent with Rev. G. Mitchell as organizer. The tent was exchanged for a portable church, which soon became too small. About the 1st of November, 1912, the basement of the present building was commenced, the congregation moving into the tent school for the time being. The basement was completed and opened in the spring of 1913. Soon after occupancy it was seen that the basement was inadequate for the needs of the work, especially for the Sunday school. The Methodist Union had already granted a loan without interest on the basement, and after some negotiations with them a plan was formulated whereby the present structure might be erected.

MONDAY MORNING, JAN. 8.

Controller O'Neill's Council Reform.

Controller O'Neill has a proposal to reform the city council by reducing the number of aldermen to twelve, and electing these by a vote of the whole city as in the case of controllers. On the general principle there is not likely to be any objection from thoughtful people and those who are not concerned with the manipulation of local or partisan issues. Every alderman should have the interest of the whole city at heart and all really good aldermen show by their actions that they observe this principle. But the inferiority of the council so far as it displays inferiority in any degree, is undoubtedly due to the calibre of representation determined by ward voting.

We are not at all sure, however, that Controller O'Neill's proposal would produce any improvement which carried into effect, and we can perceive how, under certain conditions, it might easily bring about a deterioration. If every voter has twelve votes and belongs to a party majority, all the party would require to do to produce a unanimous party council would be for the voters to distribute their votes over the twelve good men and true of the party ticket. No other candidate could beat the party majority.

No doubt Controller O'Neill has foreseen this and has some plan for dividing up the voter and his votes so that minorities would have a chance to be represented. Each voter might be entrusted with three votes as at present, which he might distribute as he pleased, or plump as he sometimes does at present for his single favorite. The principle is already established in the case of the board of control. But the chief difficulty would still remain. That difficulty is the reluctance of the voter to vote. Small minorities of the total electorate go to the polls, and practically all our city legislators are elected by minorities of the constituency. Would Controller O'Neill's plan tend to induce the reluctant voter to abandon his reluctance and vote? If not we fear there would be little improvement.

We have been commending the principle of proportional representation to the public for a considerable time, and if Controller O'Neill would take up this system and investigate it we believe he would find enough to lead him to adopt it as the more satisfactory method yet discovered for stimulating the interest of the voting public, a most desirable end in itself, and for obtaining a representative expression of the judgment of any community as to those to whom it desires to entrust its administration.

The method of proportional representation in the Labor Temple is simple. Elections in the Labor Temple have been carried on by it under the direction of Mr. Robert Tyson, who has been raised away, and who has an authority on the subject. The real principle involved in "P. R." as it is known, is that the voter votes for everyone on the ballot. If he wishes, giving the names of members in the order of his choice. If his favorite candidate is elected that candidate's surplus vote is given to the second choice and so on. The result is that the elected body exactly reflects the wishes of the constituency, and minorities of any sequence get a fair representation. We believe nothing would so greatly stir up the interest of the average citizen in the elections as the knowledge that his vote would not be thrown away, and could, under all circumstances have its due influence on the election. With greater interest on the part of the citizens, an improvement in the representative always follows.

A Struggle to Win

There is every probability of the war being over this year. But this depends entirely on the strength which Great Britain and her allies can put forth in the approaching spring offensives. There are two great needs—men and munitions. The efforts that are being put forth in Canada to supply munitions of war are greater than are usually understood, but still they are not enough, and the appeals which are to be seen so frequently from Mr. Irish, director of munitions on the national service board, indicate that those who are working at present, and all who can work besides, are required to make their utmost endeavor to keep our men at the front supplied with necessary material.

The urgency of this effort is perhaps better appreciated by others than ourselves. The extent of the traffic may be imagined when it is known that our foreign commerce is two and a half times as much as that of the United States per capita, altho the trade of the United States is regarded as phenomenal. Our exports and imports month by month are stated to be nearly half as large as the normal trade of the whole United States before the war.

Great Britain is also turning out extraordinary, incredible quantities of munitions, and yet, as we must judge by the Russian retreatment in Rumania, there is not sufficient.

We are lacking also in shipping facilities. The submarines of the Germans have been their most effective weapon. Their seppelins were practically useless, and they appear to have learned the lesson and are bending all their energies to the development of the submarine arm. We may be sure that the British admiral regards this as a crucial matter, and that means are being devised to counteract this blow. It has to be met in two ways, by prevention and by replacement. The means of prevention cannot, of course, be discussed, but replacement is understood to be a foremost problem in British shipyards, so that whenever activity can be spared from naval construction it will be devoted to the renewal of the merchant marine. The toll has been very heavy, and the loss of ships contributes to the high freight rates and high cost generally.

In some ways we have been slow to learn lessons which the Germans picked up at the first hint. Their system is supreme in mechanical efficiency, and anything that can be done by the exertion of mere brute force is done at once. If brute force had been intended to conquer the world, Germany would have been triumphant today. She has been so nearly triumphant that it is by no means time for us yet to shout. The balance of forces is at present so even that a new factor introduced into the struggle, or a reinforcement of any character on either side, might make all the difference.

We are all convinced that the enemy is in as bad a worse case than ourselves, and we may be certain that were peace not a necessity to Germany, she would never have proposed peace. Germany did not enter the war with virtuous intentions, and her conduct thru the war has not been of a character to beset virtue in her soul. We can discover no signs of reparation in the betrayal of Belgium that would warrant us in thinking that his proposals of peace came out of a righteous intention. Common sense declares that the peace proposals have arisen under stress, and we may deduce that Germany is worse off than we are, or has less powers of endurance.

There is another consideration, however, which we must not overlook. In conditions of great stress and strain, it is impossible to say at what moment we might not find ourselves as badly off as the enemy. Some unforeseen accident, some new element, might turn the scale, or prove itself the last straw. There is the greater necessity therefore, that we make every effort possible, while occasion serves, to make certain of our opportunity while the flood tide is with us. After this long horror of war, to fall would be terrible and unworthy. Yet success depends on the unflinching determination to exert every possible effort in caseless, persistent pressure for victory. The mental attitude of the nation in tense endeavor makes for success.

We have spoken of munitions. Frequently we have spoken of men. Government appears to be in earnest on this matter, but many earnest minds are occupied with the problem and we can only hope that something will emerge from the darkness of the present apathy which will redeem our position.

RURAL MAIL COURIERS.

Editor World: I see there has been considerable discussion thru your valuable paper about the rural mail men, and justly so. Our representatives in parliament know how they are paid? If not, they should take the trouble to find out. The mail man carries the safety, great, register letters and sell stamps, for which they furnish themselves, without extra remuneration. If they were paid as they are paid now, when the parcel post started we believe they were promised a raise of salary, but nothing was done. A job for which you have to put up fifteen hundred dollars ($1500) security surely ought to command a fair wage. Now, sir, this is one of the finest things the farmers ever had and the government is to be commended for it, but we farmers do not take the interest in the mail man we should in the way of keeping the road in proper condition. We will sit in the house on cold stormy days and wonder why the mail man is not coming, instead of getting out and breaking the road for him. But no, we might lame our horses. If we had two or three males to go to the postoffice we would not think of it. We would do without the mail. But the mail carrier does not get around some one is small enough to report him. Some of us don't even show the money when we take the boxes, so that he can drive up to it. We have the mail man represent a man with his mail and teach him a lesson. Now, sir, if you can help the mail courier to get what he should have to go by all means.

APPEAL TO NEUTRALS

They Alone Can Prevent or Punish Certain Crimes of Enemy.

Paris, Jan. 7.—President Poincaré and King Albert of Belgium were represented at a large meeting today at the Trocadero, organized to protest against the deportation of Belgian and French civilians. Baron de Guilleret d'Hastry, the Belgian minister to France, Louis J. Malvy, minister of the interior, and Rear Admiral Lacaze, minister of marine, were among those present.

Maurice Maeterlinck, the Belgian minister of munitions, Emil Vandervelde, and Ferdinand Buisson, the French Radical Socialist orator, spoke. Maeterlinck referred to the appeal of the Belgian workers to the civilized world as an authentic document, and one of the most heart-rending cries of distress ever sounded on earth.

Must Look to Neutrals.

Concluding, he said the neutrals alone could prevent or punish certain crimes, against which, as they were beyond the reach of Belgian arms, the Belgians could do nothing.

"It is time," he said, "that the Germans be made to feel that there is an abyss between them and humanity, which cannot be crossed except after long years of penitence, suffering and humiliation."

M. Vanderveelde quoted from the workers' manifesto as follows:

"Whatever be our tortures, we want peace only with the independence of our country, and the triumph of justice."

"It is their last word," said the minister, "and we would be unworthy of them if it was not also ours."

Comparatively few persons knew of these secret precautions which have been taken.

The Russian New Year's day will be celebrated next Saturday. The holidays are generally given up, but the Russian calendar days are different from those used by the majority of nations.

SOLDIERS BY SEVEN BEAT THE BULLDOGS

Defensive Work Thrown to the Winds and Both Sides Relied on Offensive.

LOCKHART HAD BAD START

Spectacular Rushes Thruout Kept Fans in Frenzy at the Arena.

A seven goal margin separated the 225th Battalion and Quebec at the finish of Saturday night's N.H.A. fixture with the soldiers on top. Twenty-five goals were scored in a game which was collected by the winners and nine being the losers' share. The margin might be also represented by leaving soldiers and Ottawa versus Quebec. These two players truly represent the defensive end and their activities in scoring warrant this distinction.

For a game with such an unusual amount of scoring it provided interest to the fans. The results of the spectacular rushes, which were the points of interest, kept the crowd in a frenzy practically from start to finish and encouraged by repeated successes both teams battled to the limit, and the tactics were almost a continual change of goal in ordinary games. The play was wide open, complete and dazzling exhibitions of trick work and speed being at all times in evidence. At no time in the game did either team settle down to a defensive work, but developed the offensive portion at every opportunity. Needless to say there were, while the habit of crashing over the ice in pursuit of the puck left the defenses open to attack.

Froggers and Ottawa were seemingly tireless in their back checking for the winners and the latter were equally tireless in their back checking for the losers. The game was a complete test to the visitors, were not allowed to bring themselves within closer striking distance of the soldiers. The latter scored almost at will, and neither Moran or Hebert, who succeeded him in the second period, was at any time concerned of being able to handle his shots. Froggers never let a shot go uncollected and his back checking proved to be the biggest obstacle that the Quebec attack had to overcome. The Quebec attack had to be made with a cool and collected mind and the players showed a trifle too much, but otherwise gave a splendid exhibition of hockey as aggressive and negotiated his share of the tallies.

Lockhart had a bad start in goal and almost looked as if his number would show in the opening period, since leaving his shores, has improved wonderfully, and he paved the way for the opening position for putting the aigles under the soldiers' goals. His first shot slipped thru between Lockhart's pads, but a few minutes later he bounced one on his leg, which was wide apart, only to have McDonald dribble another into the net half a minute later. The temporary aid of aviation looked bad for the prospects of the soldiers, but Lockhart settled down when his team began to score, and from then on handled the majority of those that came within their reach, but they overdid it in spots and were caught napping before a substitute receiver on numerous occasions. The play was almost too fast for the war, and was almost too fast for the war, and was almost too fast for the war.

McDonald, Crawford were on the line for Quebec and each played a very successful part there. Hill and Ritchie made a splendid job of everything that came within their reach, but they overdid it in spots and were caught napping before a substitute receiver on numerous occasions. The play was almost too fast for the war, and was almost too fast for the war, and was almost too fast for the war.

The district cup games for curlers who have not played since the war will take place as usual. However, Toronto's big single-rink event will likely be abandoned. The clubs did not have their annual meetings, and the present Granite Club have decided to take into consideration the most trying year in the committee's history.

The Murray-Mogridge property is located in the Township of Maisonville, in the Kirkland Lake area, recognized as the most consistently mineralized Township of the North Country. The property is composed of ten forty-acre claims, and sufficient development has been done in the past three years to demonstrate and establish the fact that the Murray-Mogridge property is one of exceptional merit...

- 1. This offering is before thousands of investors throughout Eastern Canada and the United States today. 2. Many thousands of investors are today looking for just such a proposition. 3. It is, therefore, reasonable to expect that this offering will be over-subscribed. 4. The Murray-Mogridge is already widely known as a high-class property, with every indication that it will develop into one of the biggest mines of Northern Ontario. 5. The wide demand that seems bound to result should put the stock considerably higher. 6. The associates and management are of the best. 7. Some properties, through what is usually termed a miracle, sometimes become a mine. Prominent mining men who have visited the Murray-Mogridge express the opinion that it will be a miracle if Murray-Mogridge does not develop into one of the biggest gold mines in the country. 8. Application will be made to list the stock on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange, Toronto.

MURRAY-MOGRIDGE NEW GOLD PROPERTY

Murray-Mogridge on Saturday, owing to advertising calling attention to it, was a leading topic of conversation. Although the property is already well known, especially throughout the north country, and generally regarded as being exceptionally prominent among the partly developed gold properties of the Kirkland Lake area...

By Strong Interests.

The taking over of the Murray-Mogridge by the strong interests mentioned and identified with the company was done following three years of examination and sampling of over one hundred properties throughout Northern Ontario gold area. The interests behind the property employ constantly a staff of competent engineers. In the securing of what they considered a gold mining property that would bid fair to develop into one of the biggest mines in Northern Ontario, money was no object so long as the property came up to the standard they required. Channel sampling is considered the

NO DECREASE IN ORDERS FOR STEEL

Special to The Toronto World. Steel works, Jan. 6.—The first week of the new year has shown no indication of any material falling off in steel buying. In fact, the contracts placed, if anything, are larger than they have been for the previous few weeks. This is especially true of purchases of rails and car building material, and also of ship plates. Enquiries are in the market for several hundred thousand tons of plates, and the railroads are responsible for activity in other quarters, with the rail orders for 1918 increasing each week, while accessories also are being contracted for in large lots. There has been no material change in prices, with the exception of some further reductions in old material, which the demand has been diminishing for several weeks. However, significance is attached to this feature, as it is not indicative of the activity at the steel mills. Steel mills over the entire country are feeling the effects of the difficulty of transportation, and this has caused quite a large reduction in the output of the plants, in addition to putting the companies further behind on their deliveries. Although officials of steel companies generally do not admit that they are falling behind in their shipments, it is learned from consumers that this is the case, and that there is no hope of any material catching up until the railroad conditions have adjusted themselves.

TRADERS ARE MIXED IN THEIR OPINIONS

Toronto Stock Market Closes the Week Without Any Direct Line of Sentiment. The Toronto stock market closed the week rather lackadaisical owing to the absence of any direct line of sentiment. Floor traders are much mixed in their opinions as to the next trend of the market. There are no two opinions as to the future of Dominion Steel and Nova Scotia Steel. War business and commercial changes may mean much to many of the Canadian industrial stocks, but of property these two steel companies owing to their location, their valuable ore deposits and their preferred position after the war there can be no question. Business was quiet with the exception of a few stocks on Saturday. Dominion Steel was in good demand, and the other active issues were steady. There was responsible buying of the war loan at a fractional advance. The unlisted section was concerned mainly with the mining issues, with Hargraves and McIntyre prominent. North American Pulp was still liquidated by those who were caught on the paper campaign, and sales were made as low as $3.40. Wall street was non-committal on Saturday.

HARGRAVES BUTCHERED UNDER FORMER REGIME

Has Now Reopened, Will Be Capably Operated by New York Interests.

The sharp upward movement in Hargraves on Saturday from 16 to 20 was a direct response to the announcement that the mine was to be put into actual commission under capable management. The Hargraves is one of the Cobalt properties and has never been given a fair chance. To use a common mining expression, the property was butchered, and only inferior results were therefore obtained. New York people have staked a large amount of money to get control, and they did not do this without special expert advice. Saturday's buying practically all came from one New York curb house which is said to hold buying orders for many thousands of the shares. If these are filled regardless of the market, the price is bound to advance very much further.

LONDON STOCK MARKET.

London, Jan. 6.—The plethora of money continues, but discount rates were a shade higher today. The stock market was quiet and steady, apart from speculation regarding the details of the new loan, dealers were chiefly concerned with further calling to the colors of eligibles from their already depleted staffs. Business was confined to the old loan. Exchange bonds, Chinese bonds, home rails and a few gold mines at steady prices.

HARGRAVES STRONG MADE FURTHER GAIN

Mining Market Displayed Buoyant Tone—Trading Active.

Something of the bullish tone which characterized the mining stock prior to the recent break in New York on peace rumors was noticeable in the trading on Saturday morning at the Standard Stock Exchange. Business was more active, as much trading being done in the two-hour session as in the whole of the previous day. Stocks displayed a buoyancy not apparent since the holidays, and higher prices were in order throughout the gold list. Public buying was heavier than for some time.

Hargraves Featured. To Hargraves, one of the silver stocks, attention turned again, and with the public participating in the buying the stock advanced to 19 1/4 within a point of its high of last year. The reopening of the property under the most favorable auspices and its excellent location, have attracted for it a large following.

Boston Creek Strong. In the gold stocks Boston Creek continued strong, reaching again its high record at 11 1/4. Apart from a fraction to 13 1/4, while McIntyre displayed considerable strength, selling up to 19 1/2. A large quantity of this stock has been attracted on to the market by reason of the high price, but the floating supply is gradually being cleaned up, and interesting developments may be expected. Pope-Crown was strong around 77, Hollinger Consolidated held at 56.80 to 56.55. Vipond showed strength, going higher to 48. Thompson-Krist continued its strong tone, advancing to 33, and West Dome went up to 31 1/4.

HIGH ASSAYS FROM DAVIDSON MINE

The Davidson is driving a crosscut on the 300-foot level in order to prove up the main ore body, which was first picked up at that depth late last year. Assays taken over five foot sections indicate that the ore averages over $3 to the ton for the first 25 feet, and it is expected that during the next few days it will be demonstrated that the vein runs fully as wide as it did on the upper levels. Everything points to the fact that this ore body will provide a very large tonnage of high-grade milling rock, and that the new developments of the next month or so will warrant the installation of a mill.

Denial of Cancellation of War Orders Made at New York.

HALT IN MERCANTILES

Dull and Narrow Stock Market Greetings Dealers—Some Recoveries.

New York, Jan. 7.—Except for its relatively strong undertone, Saturday's dull and narrow market presented no feature of special interest. Recoveries of one to three points from yesterday's lowest levels, some of which were later forfeited, resulted almost wholly from the closing of traders' contracts. The attendance of members on the floor was characteristic of the post-holiday period, and public interest was again lacking. L. B. Street and the usual specialties, comprising the equipment and munitions groups, contributed more than half to the insignificant trading. Metals, also were substantially better, with shipments, but rails were apathetic. Sales amounted to $65,000 shares.

Foreign affairs evoked little interest, aside from the announcement of another large gold importation for account of the British Government. Recurrent rumors of the cancellation of war orders were authoritatively denied. Exchange on London was firm, but rates on Paris, Berlin and Rome shaded slightly.

Domestic trade reports indicated a slight halt in mercantile lines, based on peace discussions and the probability of an early reduction from present high levels for some of the leading raw products. The car shortage continues to work to the detriment of steel mills and allied industries.

Actual reserves of local clearing house banks for the first week of the new year total excess reserves to the amount of $23,000,000, increasing to $24,000,000 on January 6, 1917, while reserves in vaults of banks increased almost $30,000,000.

Firmness ruled in bonds, with an active demand for Southern Railway general fours at a full point gain. International bonds also denoted a better enquiry. Total sales (par value), $3,850,000.

PREPARING FOR LOAN ENTAILS MUCH EXPENSE

London, Jan. 6.—The morning papers, detailing the preparations for the forthcoming loan, which will be of unlimited amount, say that the conversion right will necessitate the sending out of circulars to the holders of the last loans and of exchequer bonds and treasury bills. This will mean a total of about $2,000,000,000 documents, as there will be about 60 different kinds of application forms. The operation will consume about 300 tons of paper and will probably cost £15,000,000 sterling.

DIAMOND DRILLS AT WORK ON SCHUMACHER

The Schumacher is now diamond drilling on the 300 foot level in an effort to pick up the high grade vein found on the 100 foot level south of the main workings. Lateral work is being done from the east shaft.

Some ore is being sent to the mill from the high grade vein on the first level and mill heads are responding. The average values have increased materially and the margin of profit enlarged.—Northern Miner.

SWISS GOVERNMENT MAKES BOND ISSUE.

Berne, Switzerland, Jan. 6, via Paris.—The Swiss Government is issuing a 4 1/2 per cent loan of 100,000,000 francs, 30,000,000 francs of which will be used in repaying the first war loan of five per cent, due on Feb. 26.

at Sixty Cents Per Share

- After midnight, Wednesday, January 10th, the Common Shares will be selling at 75 cents per share, and no further orders will be accepted by us at the 60 cent price.

On December Fifth we advanced the price of the Common Shares of this company from fifty to sixty cents—because of the marked progress made in the developments on the company's properties—because of the showing already made by the Tommy Burns mine in Porcupine.

THE COMING BIG MINE
of this, the Richest Quartz Gold Mining District in the World, where early investors in Hollinger and Dome, and other equally famous producers have been returned fortunes from original small investments—where, according to expert mining engineers, the outlook for the entire belt is more promising than at any previous period—where sufficient ore is known by sound mining practice to exist from which estimated profits of $150,000,000 SHOULD BE MADE.

The Tommy Burns Brookfield Mines produced Eleven Thousand Dollars in Gold from Three tons of Ore, an unusual showing. We have some of this wonderfully rich ore and it has been exhibited all over the country. Also bars of SOLID GOLD milled from Tommy Burns ore; refined and stamped by the United States Assay Office.

The report on both properties confirm our belief that the Tommy Burns Gold Mining Company should become one of the Big Gold Mining Companies of the Country.

Space is too limited to give the complete story of the properties, so be sure to read our Official Prospectus, Porcupine Periodical, literature, etc., to thoroughly familiarize yourself with the nature of the developments on the 309 1/2-acre PORCUPINE and 134-acre BROOKFIELD properties; to learn of the equipment and mining material on hand, engines, boilers, crushers, pumps, hoists, stamps, mill skip, tools, mining and cyanide leaching plants, buildings for employees, assay office, etc. Also extent of estimated ore and profit, amount of development work, results of drilling of shafts, surface stripping, blocking out, etc., etc.

These facts will show without question that the Tommy Burns is

NOT A PROSPECT

In order to further conclusively prove this to all readers of this publication who read this advertisement and who have studied our previous announcements—we make the exceptional guarantee as embodied in the coupon in the lower left-hand corner of this advertisement.

Never before, in our experience, has a mining company, in the same period of development, made such an extraordinary offer, and it should not only convince the large investor, but every one, of the merit, soundness, substantiality and absolute legitimacy of the proposition.

TODAY IS THE DAY TO ORDER TOMMY BURNS COMMON SHARES AT 60 CENTS PER SHARE

All orders, reservations, telegrams, instructions, etc., MUST be mailed or forwarded before midnight Wednesday, January 10th, since advanced price of 75 cents per share becomes effective immediately after 12 o'clock that night. With trading commencing on the markets in New York, Toronto and Boston on January 15th, this offering should be the BIGGEST REAL PROFIT OPPORTUNITY in months.

No successful company or permanent business enterprise grew in a night. As strong as is the position of the Tommy Burns Gold Mining Company, its greatest period of progress and advancement is undoubtedly yet to come. As strong as is the face of winter weather, these investors surmount with the magnitude of the undertaking. Work is being pushed right along, all the time, even in the face of winter weather. These investors who associate themselves with the company now should surely reap their largest and most satisfying returns in the form of dividends and increased market appreciation when production and output begins on a big scale on the Tommy Burns properties.

GUARANTEED
Free Round Trip Railroad Ticket, at our expense, to either of the Tommy Burns properties, to every purchaser of 2,000 or more shares of Tommy Burns Common Stock, within 15 days after payment for shares. (This trip will take 5 days.)
