At the meeting of the board of trade on Tuesday, reference was made to the discontinuance of the steamer Amelia on the south shore route, between St. John and Halifax, calling at Yarmouth and considering the matter. It was decided to consider the matter at a future meeting. It was learned yesterday that the Amelia had been off the route during the last ten days, and that she has been laid up in Halifax and her crew paid off. It is understood that the reason for taking the steamer off was that the boat had not been paying. This was not blamed on lack of business so much as upon the fact that the coast is said to be a hard one on steamers and several accidents have helped to swell the expense.

There was no good or sufficient reason, he contended, why the salaries should not be increased, and the applause which greeted the announcement of the premier would be increased should back the spontaneous answer of the representative. ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH 8, 1913.

THE CHORLEY BY-ELECTION

Chorley, where there was a by-election the other day, was carried by the Conservative candidate with a reduced majority. The constituency gave the Conservatives a majority of 2208 in 1910, and even in 1906, when Conservative majorities everywhere melted away, Chorley elected the Conservative candidate by a large margin.

The food taxes and the tariff proposal in general, together with Home Rule, were the leading issues in the Chorley contest. After Bolton Mr. Bonar Law dropped the food taxes, for the purpose of affecting sentiment in Lancashire.

Chorley, in the view of the Manchester Guardian, "is the most hopeful sign that the Liberals have had since the general election." This constituency, the Guardian explains, "is on the border of the two Lancashires—the industrial east, which is dominantly Liberal, and the agricultural west, which is Conservative."

THE VIRTUES OF YOUTH

The voice of the prophet is a lonely voice, and our age lacks it to a marked degree. The newspapers and magazines have little of it; they mostly give the changes over the story of the well-beaten way.

other across the world's landing counter, there will be little improvement. What the future civilization may bring forth, no one can predict.

But the man who is watching the night for the signs of its passing can see the darkness lightened with the coming of the dawn. The clamoring for a minimum standard of life for every citizen, the wider distribution of the good things that have flowed so plentifully into our stores, the grappling of the problems of our restless cities, indicate the coming of the morning.

THE DISAPPEARING FOGS

Fogs are expensive. It is estimated that they cost London five million pounds a year, and that a single day's fog causes the city to consume enough gas and electricity, in excess of ordinary requirements, to supply a town of 50,000 people for twelve months.

ST. JOHN AND POWER

A Moncton contemporary intimates that St. John, if it wants natural gas for power and light, need not wait to find out whether the supply can be struck at Sussex or at some other point near than Moncton, and it goes on to say that the Albert County reservoir is so great that there is enough for all and to spare.

ST. JOHN BOLDLY NEEDS CHEAPER POWER, but fortunately it seems likely not to be dependent upon natural gas, though, naturally, it is only business to compare the cost of bringing that to St. John and utilizing it, with the cost of power to be produced from any other source.

A NEW EMERGENCY

The slackening of the Anglo-German competition at sea has given opportunity for the panic and emergency-makers to devise a spectre bark which Germany is building and which is going to sink all Dreadnoughts. It is a new type of destroyer which has been devised by a group of Continental engineers.

IN WASHINGTON

Canada has more than its ordinary interest in the inauguration of the American president this year. Those who follow the larger political events have been deeply interested in the disclosure of the character of Woodrow Wilson in so far as it has been revealed through what he has said and what he has written since he became an outstanding figure in the national life of his country.

dent will work by day and by night to thwart those policies by which he desires to humanize American politics and to give, so far as may be done from Washington, some approach to the quietude of all citizens.

This clash between a leader of high calibre and lofty aims and the opposing forces of organized greed will command the attention of friends of good government throughout the English-speaking world. Canada has learned much through observing the mistakes of the United States. It is now not improbable that the working out of some of Woodrow Wilson's policies, particularly with respect to the tariff, may materially affect business in this country, and modify our own fiscal plans.

THE DISAPPEARING FOGS

Fogs are expensive. It is estimated that they cost London five million pounds a year, and that a single day's fog causes the city to consume enough gas and electricity, in excess of ordinary requirements, to supply a town of 50,000 people for twelve months.

ST. JOHN AND POWER

A Moncton contemporary intimates that St. John, if it wants natural gas for power and light, need not wait to find out whether the supply can be struck at Sussex or at some other point near than Moncton, and it goes on to say that the Albert County reservoir is so great that there is enough for all and to spare.

ST. JOHN BOLDLY NEEDS CHEAPER POWER, but fortunately it seems likely not to be dependent upon natural gas, though, naturally, it is only business to compare the cost of bringing that to St. John and utilizing it, with the cost of power to be produced from any other source.

A NEW EMERGENCY

The slackening of the Anglo-German competition at sea has given opportunity for the panic and emergency-makers to devise a spectre bark which Germany is building and which is going to sink all Dreadnoughts. It is a new type of destroyer which has been devised by a group of Continental engineers.

BIG INCREASE IN GAME RECEIPTS LAST SEASON

Statement of Big Game Killed in New Brunswick Districts

—Many Hunters from Abroad, Including One from India—Violations.

The receipts from game in the province of New Brunswick for the year 1912 show an increase in revenue of more than $12,000. It is pointed out in the surveyor-general's report presented to the legislature, that this difference is brought about by large payments arriving in the department after the close of the fiscal year, Oct. 31, 1912, that properly belonged to the previous twelve months.

The surveyor-general reports that the season generally was unfavorable to the sportsman, owing to heavy rains, presidential elections, and other drawbacks. In the protection of the game, $83,659.75 was expended. The statement of revenue received from the sale of game licenses from Sept. 15, 1912, to Jan. 31, 1913, shows that the total value of the licenses sold was $47,026. This amount, less the commission fees of $2,653, left a total of $44,373.61.

In Kent, Westmorland, Kings and Albert there was a falling off from the 1911 record of 83 moose and an increase of 89 deer.

In York, Queens, Simsbury and St. John there was an increase of 20 moose and six caribou. The figures for 1911 for the other counties are not given.

Violations. Referring to game law violations, A. E. O'Leary, chief warden for district No. 2, which includes the counties of Kings, Kent, Westmorland and Albert, in his report to the surveyor-general says:

"A charge was laid by Warden R. A. Steeves, of Elgin, Albert county, against John Long and Hugh Doyle, of that place, for killing a cow moose. The two offenders cleared out to the United States. Doyle returned recently and, going before Magistrate J. E. Foster, of Salisbury, pleaded guilty to the offence and threw himself on the mercy of the court. He was fined $25. Owing to his circumstances, the magistrate exacted no costs. I allowed the magistrate $1 costs out of the fine, sending the balance $24 to the department.

"Five or six cow moose have been shot at different parts of my district and the carcasses left in the fields to rot. I would not say that in these instances the shooting was always done maliciously. Sometimes an error of judgment or lack of precaution is responsible.

"On complaint of myself before Magistrate James Blight, of Hillsboro, Albert county, Whitman Steeves, of Dennisville Creek, Albert county, pleaded guilty to the killing of a cow moose. The surveyor-general appeared before the magistrate and submitted an sworn declaration as to the manner in which said killing took place. At the hearing before the magistrate on Dec. 5, the statement of the witness on oath was taken and the magistrate ordered him to pay $5 for the meat and costs, $2. In addition a penalty of $100 was imposed, which the magistrate was to take up with the surveyor-general.

"On complaint of Warden D. H. McNeill, of Sussex, Joseph Osborne was accused of not bringing out the head of a moose killed during the open season. The case came up before Police Magistrate Fokins, of Sussex, on the 9th inst. Osborne pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. The magistrate accepted his note for the amount of the fine.

AGRICULTURE

Preaching the Gospel Brought out by Farmers.

(Conservation.)

Any leader or public servant efficient, must be in full sympathy with the farmer, and must understand him, and his life of those for whom, and in whose interest, he works. It follows that, in the greatest service, municipalities must know agricultural and economic conditions. Such a man is Rev. Rurik Peterson, of Cookshire, Quebec. Born and raised in the county of Stanstead, he knows practical agriculture and local conditions. Being a careful student and well informed in the sciences pertaining to his long pastime, he is a young man of a very keen interest in agriculture. Last year he arranged an excursion to Macdonald farm in which over 200 farmers participated. In the autumn of 1911 the club was formed at Cookshire, Quebec, and its object was to bring the farmers of the county into closer contact with the sciences pertaining to agriculture in Canada. The club has since that time arranged a series of meetings as speakers on some of the best on agriculture in Canada. The club has since that time arranged a series of meetings as speakers on some of the best on agriculture in Canada.

The chief difficulty is that we are indifferent to our advantages, and so selfish in our attitudes that social cleavage and unrest, with all the disturbing and distressing elements that accompany them, are on the increase. The voice of the prophet dies away unheard in the loud strife of daily passions; few bear him, fewer understand him. Listening to him, some would fulfil for themselves the prayer of the poet, Heinrich Heine. He prays: "O ye gods! I beseech you not to spare my youth, but to leave me the virtues of youth—disinterested animosity, disinterested tears! Let me not become a scoldish old man, curiously growling at the younger race of spirits, or a poor miserable being perpetually mourning over the good old times. Let me when I am grey-haired, preserve the love of youth, and in spite of the infirmities of age, let me still share the pastimes and dangers of youth! I heed not though my voice grow faint and tremulous, so long as the sense of my words remains fearless and strong."

Board of Trade Notified of More Safeguards for Bay of Fundy.

Wednesday, Mar. 6.

The committee of the Board of Trade which has under consideration the matter of aids to navigation in the Bay of Fundy, has sent several recommendations to the minister of marine and fisheries. An answer was received yesterday and the minister said that some of the suggestions would be acted upon at once. A gas and whistling buoy is to be placed on Trinity Rock. The Brier Island light is to be replaced. There is to be a bell buoy placed off Cape Enrage, as soon as navigation opens. A light is to be placed at St. Martins Head. The matter of placing a permanent light on Old Proprietor Rock will be considered later.

It was decided that the Lurcher Shores lightship could not be enlarged at present, but a wireless outfit will be installed on the present ship. It is likely that a bell will be placed on the Swallow Bay lightship and the department will further consider the advisability of placing small enclosed lightships on wharves and breakwaters in the bay.

MAINE OPPOSITION TO ST. JOHN BRIDGE AT EDMUNDSTON

Augusta, March 2.—Several remonstrances were received at the hearing before the committee on ways and bridges on Friday afternoon on the route in favor of a highway bridge over the St. John river between Madawaska and Edmundston (N. B.). The resolve calls for the appointment of $40,000 to pay for half of the construction, the other half to be built by the dominion.

The proponents of the bill used their argument the large loss of life that had resulted at the point as people attempting to cross the river. The bridge asked for will be slightly larger than the bridge at Van Buren, a few miles from there. It was argued against the bill, that the cost was too high, and that the bridge there was not entirely paid for as yet.

TO SWITCH SOME OF ROAD MONEY

Local Government Will Use $50,000 of Appropriation to Fix "Bad Spots"

BRETHREN DIFFER

Hon. Mr. Morrissy and Mr. Lockhart Have Tilt Over Expenditure Said to Have Been Made on Marsh Road—Business of Wednesday's Session of House.

Fredericton, N. B., March 5.—The chief feature of interest in the house of assembly today was the demand for improvement in the highways made by an influential delegation from the Good Roads Association of the province. There was undoubtedly much difference of opinion as to the present condition of the roads and the opening up of W. B. Tennant, of St. John, containing many unvarnished statements concerning the present deplorable conditions, was very displeasing to many members of the government and legislature. Sharp contradictions were given to some of his allegations regarding the condition of well known highways, as the described them.

Mr. Tennant, who was highway secretary for Simons at that time, was warmly defended by Mr. Lockhart, of St. John. Mr. Lockhart claimed he had done work, and also told Hon. Mr. Morrissy that his eyesight was as poor in other parts of the province he did not wonder at the complaints about the roads.

Nearly all of the items of supply were passed at the afternoon sitting, and a few minutes session this evening. Monday will see it completed. That is also the last day for the introduction of private bills.

Bills Introduced.

Fredericton, March 5.—The house met at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Munro introduced a bill to amend acts incorporating the town of Woodstock.

Hon. Mr. Wilson presented a petition in favor of a bill to amend the Consolidated Statutes 1903 relating to city and county of St. John.

Mr. Baxter presented a petition in favor of a bill to incorporate Cedar Hill Cemetery, Fredericton.

Mr. Woods presented a petition in favor of a bill incorporating New Brunswick Coal, Iron & Clay Co., Ltd.

Hon. Mr. Morrissy introduced a bill to amend acts relating to the assessment and collection of taxes in Newcastle.

Hon. Dr. Landry introduced a bill to amend the public health act. He explained that the object of the bill was to give local boards of health authority to regulate milk supply going into the municipalities.

Hon. Mr. McLeod introduced a bill to authorize the appointment of a police magistrate and the erection of a lockup in the parish of St. Andrew, York County.

Hon. Mr. McLeod presented petitions for and against the incorporation of the parish of McAdam for police purposes.

Hon. Mr. McLeod presented a bill to amend acts relating to the University of New Brunswick.

The house went into committee with Mr. Young in the chair and took up further consideration of the bill respecting the addition of St. Stephen.

Hon. Mr. Fleming moved an amendment to give the lieutenant-governor-in-council power to lease to Canadian Oyster Co., Ltd., other barren beds elsewhere in the province.

Mr. Sheridan moved an amendment to have the county of Kent exempt from the provisions of the bill.

was for New Brunswick to add an equal amount and expend the whole upon permanent road work.

At the beginning of his reply, the premier expressed his own opinion that there had been a substantial improvement in the condition of the highways in the last few years. It was unfair, however, to speak of the condition of the highways in 1912, as the road conditions were in 1912, and no road could get fair treatment & proper comparison would be the condition in 1912 and 1907 and, in his opinion, there had been very great improvement.

The point at issue, estimating the cost per mile at $3,000 for permanent road construction, two million dollars would be required to build the trunk line asked for by the Good Roads Association and this would entail an interest charge upon the province of between $80,000 and $100,000 a year. If that were done, it would mean the withdrawal of other public services, and he questioned very much whether the roads referred to would serve more than 10 per cent. of the people of the province.

What are you going to say, he asked, to the other 90 per cent. of the population? He did not propose to stand for any such kind of policy. Any assistance that the government gave in the direction of permanent roads must be fairly applied to all parts of the province. He paid a compliment to the work of the Good Roads Association, and said they had a great field in which to labor, to educate the people to a sense of their responsibility towards the roads of the province. They depended too much now upon the government, but they should take a greater interest in the highways to see that all expenditures were properly economical.

Further reference was made to the subject when the house was passing the roads and bridges estimate in supply this afternoon, when Premier Borden, in reply to a question, said the $50,000 for permanent work to be spent by the province in addition to the federal grant that was expected, would be deducted from the amount voted for highways.

He also intimated that there would be other amendments to the Highway Act, but did not disclose their nature.

Brethren at Variance.

A somewhat amusing feature of the brief discussion arose out of Mr. Tilley's request for generous consideration for the road from St. John to Bathurst, which brought a sharp reply from Chief Commissioner Morrissy to the effect that two years ago a special grant of $1,500 had been made for this road and he had failed, when going over the road afterward in an auto, to see where one cent had been expended, and the gentleman under whose direction the money was spent had done more than talking about road conditions in the house this morning.

Mr. Tennant, who was highway secretary for Simons at that time, was warmly defended by Mr. Lockhart, of St. John. Mr. Lockhart claimed he had done work, and also told Hon. Mr. Morrissy that his eyesight was as poor in other parts of the province he did not wonder at the complaints about the roads.

Nearly all of the items of supply were passed at the afternoon sitting, and a few minutes session this evening. Monday will see it completed. That is also the last day for the introduction of private bills.

TORIES SIT SULLY UNDER LIBERAL FIRE

IS A CANADIAN

Deadlock Remains Unbroken

Closure Likely to be Attempted at Any Time, and a Lively Time is Anticipated—Plot Revived to Depose Borden from Leadership of Party.

Ottawa, March 5.—The end of fifty-eight hours of continuous discussion from the Liberal benches of the House of Commons, on the subject of the proposed amendments to the Immigration Act, was not more confident and more determined than ever to keep up the fight, with a corresponding increase of consternation in Conservative ranks.

The prospect of keeping the debate going in working into a smooth and easy task for the Liberals who, with a well organized change of shifts and ample supply of arguments to go on, will probably average speeches running from one to two hours with every one speaking strictly to the issue, and every one adding to Hansard for future circulation throughout the country, an important contribution to the make-shift policy of contribution.

To offset this there has been absolutely no defence from the government and not even an attempt to furnish perfectly legitimate and necessary information demanded as to the details of the proposed expenditure, and as to the future intentions of the government with regard to naval defence.

Tories in Sullen Silence.

Failing argument, the government is simply meeting the opposition with sullen silence. Meanwhile they are waiting restfully for the moment when they think it is safe to attempt closure. This may be attempted tomorrow or on Friday. Needless to say it will be resisted strenuously by the Liberal benches, and the result in legitimate demand for a reply to their request for information so far refused and who can only be prevented from continuing to speak through their force.

Reports received from all over Canada indicate that the Liberal cause is being carried on in cases highly encouraging, and now that public attention has been focused on the issue, the result has been even better than was hoped for.

The government, camp, the general opinion may be summed up by the declaration of a Conservative member this morning: "They have us in a hole. It looks as if we would have to go to the country and beat the many Conservative members who are sitting at midnight."

Will Borden be Deposed?

Many Conservative members are already discussing the necessity of an immediate cabinet reorganization with a view to strengthening the present admittedly weak leadership of the party in preparation for the coming election.

Dr. Roche, minister of the interior, who is now in Rochester undergoing a serious operation, will be one of the first ministers to retire. His health demands it. It is also probable that Mr. Borden, Robert Rogers and Arthur Meighen, the young and able member for Portage la Prairie.

A movement is already on foot to revive the old Conservative party, and Premier Borden and to check the evident aspirations of Mr. Rogers to succeed him.

Premier Borden is again mentioned as the man to be brought in to save the situation and beat the many Conservative members who are sitting at midnight.

For years he has been a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission and represents the United States on the International Railroad Commission.

President's Mother a Brockville Girl

It is not generally known that the mother of the man who is now the president of the United States once lived in Brockville as a young Canadian girl. Her father was the Rev. Dr. Thomas Woodrow, a Scotch Presbyterian who crossed the Tweed and spent sixteen years as a pastor in Carlisle, England.

Feeling a strong call to do missionary work in Canada, he left the old land in 1826, with his large family of eight children, and crossed the Atlantic, arriving in New York just in time to part with his faithful helpmeet. Immediately after the funeral of his wife, Mr. Woodrow with his mother and children pushed on to Brockville, which he made his headquarters while he engaged a vigorous visitation of the surrounding district as a home missionary.

Among the children was a girl named Janet, more generally known as "Jessie," who was about twelve years at the time, and who played and studied in the old town down by the northern bank of the St. Lawrence.

When the president was named, Rev. Jessie's father, the Scotch-English-Canadian-American preacher.

NEW BRUNSWICK THE AND NOW

Immigrant of 50 Years Ago Writes of "Land of Promise" NOT DISAPPOINTED

Newcomer Now Has Better Start and His Success is Assured—The Activity of Rev. Mr. Glass and the Results—A Letter to Mr. Gilchrist Recalling the Old Days.

It is a far cry back to the year 1863, but a letter which was received a day or two ago by James Gilchrist, the local immigrant agent, recalls that far with vividness. The letter is written by an immigrant of half a century ago, and pays a remarkable tribute to New Brunswick, which appealed to the immigrant of those days, as the land of promise, and which has fulfilled its promise in every way.

The letter all through breathes a spirit of thankfulness. Half a century ago, a young man, who had been a student of the writer's real appreciation of New Brunswick's merits and his recognition of its possibilities for the over driven farmer of the old land, had written to the writer to do the pioneer work of their district, and under these conditions still found life there agreeable. The immigrant in 1863 has the farm waiting for him, houses, lands, and stock ready for operation, and therefore is many years ahead of the immigrant of fifty years ago.

In the letter to Mr. Gilchrist the writer refers to a visit to the old country as a time by Rev. C. G. Glass in the interests of immigration in New Brunswick. He was lecturing in Scotland to induce the farmers of that country to settle here, and preached faithfully the virtues of the country. He received many applications from Scotchmen who wished to emigrate. Of these he selected 150, from Aberdeenshire and Glasgow, and on May 2 of that year sailed for New Brunswick. Ten weeks afterwards the party arrived in New Brunswick and sailed up the River St. John, the scenery of which is described in the letter as "scenery which cannot be surpassed by any part of this world."

The party landed at Woodstock, where they were met by Rev. C. G. and Mrs. Glass, Sir Charles Campbell, David Munroe and many others. They were treated with the greatest kindness, and after a short stay left for Glasville, the women being left behind at Gilmore's, or Edradour, eight miles from their destination. A party of men with guides started for what is now the busy center of the parish of Aberdeen, named after the founder. They had a large supply of provisions, and a teamster, and, after resting they started at once to clear away the trees to make room for the buildings. At the same time they had houses erected, to which they brought their wives and families, and though at that time they were without friends and had many things to contend with, they succeeded in making comfortable homes for those depending on them.

Several of these settlers have gone to their rest, but the farms are occupied by the descendants of the original party, and one of the most flourishing and prosperous villages in New Brunswick.

The letter goes on to say that the advantages of Aberdeen parish are many. The land is well adapted for hay, oats, wheat, barley, buckwheat, potatoes and garden herbs of all kinds grown in northern climates. Apples, plums and small fruits can be grown in abundance, and many every farmer with a very small outlay and a little attention, can raise all his own fruit.

The letter mentions the school, post office of the district, and the hundred of one benefit which a modern rural community affords the inhabitants and which the community of Glasville is able to offer its people. The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, through the parish, and Aberdeen has until this branch is extended to Glasville the people expect to patronize the C. P. R. The country is well watered, the letter says, and the river and small brooks are teeming with trout. The large river has salmon and many other varieties of fish. The surrounding country has a good supply of moose, caribou, deer, and many fur bearing animals, such as bear, otter, wild cat, coon, beaver, fox, mink and sable. The letter concludes: "We have good government, a good climate and good schools, therefore Glasville is a good place to come to."

The Farm Settlement Board is taking up about twenty farms in the vicinity of Glasville. A charter has just been granted to an electric company which will run a railway from Bristol on the C. P. R. to the junction of the Grand Trunk Pacific. The railway will be supplied with power from Grand Falls. Mr. Gilchrist says, so that a community that is already prosperous will do still better in the future.

He ran off to Scotland Yard. "I didn't think I was giving trouble. If you don't find it Saturday, you need not pull of the road."

TODAY EFFORTS TO SECURE MR. PUGLEY'S FAIL

Former Minister Demands that Minister of Marine Furnish the Information He Promised, and a Lively Tilt Resulted, in Which Mr. Hazen Lost Control of Himself--Debate Waged in Parliament All Night Without a Quorum on Several Occasions.

Ottawa, March 5--Parliament is still sitting. At nine o'clock this morning it had been in session for forty-two hours. On the government side tempers are beginning to break. The Liberals continue to press for information. They want to know what Premier Borden thought the British admiralty in order to get the new famous naval minister. They want to know who told Canadian ministers that there is a war scare. They want to know where the government got its figures of the cost of building in Canada. The government sits silent, and makes no answer beyond an occasional snarl of refusal. This morning at five o'clock the anger of government supporters was directed against Mr. Pugsley. He asked the government for information and the answer was an attempt to put him out of the chamber.

The early morning shift had just come on at five o'clock under the direction of Hon. Mr. Pugsley when the break occurred. Mr. Pugsley seemed pleased to find Hon. Mr. Hazen in the chamber. Coming from the same town they are accustomed to exchanging blows. Mr. Pugsley is of opinion that the government has been making figures tell untruths. He insists that the cost of marine construction, even to the building of Dreadnaughts, is no higher in the United States than it is in England. He also insists that building could be done in Canada at as low a cost as in England. He has insisted upon this often, and always to the government's embarrassment. That was the cause of the trouble this morning.

Smiling at the minister of marine, Dr. Pugsley said he thought parliament should have from the minister Dr. Pugsley's statement as to the cost of battle-ship building in the United States. Hon. Mr. Hazen had told the house that a 28,000-ton battle-ship had cost $125 a ton more to build in the United States than in England. Dr. Pugsley had figures to show that it would cost $92 a ton less.

Yesterday Dr. Pugsley demanded of Mr. Hazen his authority for the extravagant estimate of cost. "Yesterday you promised to produce your authority," said Mr. Pugsley.

"There is no yesterday with continuous debate. In parliament it is still Monday," said Mr. Hazen.

"That is an evasion which is ingenious but it is hardly the sort of an answer which would justify a member of parliament voting away thirty-five million dollars of the people's money," said Mr. Pugsley.

"My authority is the secretary for affairs in the United States," said Mr. Hazen, "and the information in good time," said Mr. Hazen, and added that he did not intend to answer any further just then.

"That surely is no excuse," commented Dr. Pugsley.

"I did not give any excuse and I don't propose to give any," retorted Mr. Hazen, somewhat warmly.

Dr. Pugsley said that he thought it an outrage that members of parliament should be forced to vote through the government proposals without being accorded information which was absolutely essential.

"I have given my answer and I will give no other," declared Mr. Hazen.

CONDENSED NEWS, LOCAL AND GENERAL The result of the work of the Farm Settlement Board of New Brunswick up to the present date is the purchase of fifty farms. Of these twenty have already been taken over, and the local immigration office is in possession of many more applications than the number of farms that they have to offer. From the experience of the board in purchasing these farms prices in Carleton county would appear to be highest with Charlotte next, while in the other counties of the province the prices are about the same. In Kings county the farms are cheaper than in any other.
