GERMAN ATTEMPT TO CHECK INUNDATIONS FRUSTRATED

Artillery Prevents His Work and Portion of Trenches Has To Be Evacuated—Allies Advance at Several Points On Meuse Heights.

[Canadian Press.]
Paris, Nov. 17.—There was given out in Paris this afternoon the following official communication:
"From Neuport to Dixmude and in the region of Ypres, the commanding has been resumed with greater violence than in the preceding days. On the canal to the south of Dixmude the action of our artillery checked the work that the Germans were endeavoring to carry out to keep down the inundations. The enemy was compelled to evacuate a portion of his trenches, which had been filled by the waters.
"Two attacks of German infantry, one to the south of Bixschote and the other to the south of Ypres resulted in failure. On our side we have made progress between Bixschote and the canal.
"GERMANS DRIVEN BACK.
"Between Armentieres and Labasse there has been an artillery duel conducted with great spirit.
"On the Alsne certain German detachments which endeavored to cross the river in the vicinity of Vailly were either driven back or destroyed.
"On our positions on the right bank of the Alsne, upstream from Vailly, there has been violent cannonading. This applies also to the Rheims region, and several shells have fallen on the city of Rheims.
"EW UP.
"In the Argonne there have not been any infantry engagements. We blew up with mines a certain number of German trenches. On the heights of the Meuse, to the south of Verdun, we have made advances at several points.
"In the region of St. Mihiel we have taken possession of the first house of the village of Chauvencourt. These houses served as barracks for the St. Mihiel garrison. This village of Chauvencourt is the only point of support still held by the Germans on the left bank of the River Meuse in this territory.
"On the rest of the front there has been nothing of importance to report."

"WHAT WE EXPECTED" SAY MILITIA OFFICERS

Declare That German Invasion Rumors Were Not Unexpected—London Has Home Guard of 265 Soldiers, Not To Mention Eighteenth Battalion.

While there is no immediate danger of London being invaded by a hostile force there is already a home defence guard available of 265 men, not to mention the Eighteenth Battalion now in training here. This number represents the strength of the Seventh Regiment as made up by local companies. These soldiers could be assembled at the armories within a few hours' time and mobilized at strategic points throughout the city, and effectively hold off an attacking force five times as large.
The rumor of an invasion yesterday by German sympathizers at Niagara Falls caused quite a stir in this city, and prompted several officers of the first militia division to declare that "It was what they expected."
Another officer said, "The kind of men who will come over the border on an invasion of this kind will be largely men picked up in the slums of Buffalo, Detroit and Cleveland. They will consist mostly of soldiers of fortune, who might be enticed to join an expedition of that kind by stories of the riches of the United States. Such an unorganized mass of men could do no harm. A machine gun trained on such a motley crowd would cause all those it didn't kill to fire in wild disorder, and believe me, they wouldn't stop until they got down into the sea."

RETURNS FROM FRONT SUCCEED IN ONE PLACE

Harry Burton Back After Going to England With First Canadian Contingent.

Sergeant Harry Burton, of the instructional staff at militia headquarters, who made the trip to England with the Canadian contingent, returned to London this morning. Sergeant Burton acted as adjutant to Col. D. C. McPherson, of Winnipeg, on board the transport Caribbean.
Sergeant Burton declared to The Advertiser at noon today, that the contingent had intended landing at Southampton, but that a report was received intimating that there were two German submarines in the English Channel out gunning for the transports, and that the boats immediately put in to Plymouth, where the boys received a hearty welcome from the inhabitants, who had not prepared for their coming, but nevertheless gave them a hearty welcome.
Taken From School.
While in England, Sergeant Burton visited the German military camp, and talked with a number of the prisoners. One lad of 17 told the sergeant that he had been forcibly taken from school, given three weeks' training, and sent to the front, even though he had been promised three more weeks' training in Berlin.
"The lad broke down and sobbed bitterly when he told me his story," said Sergeant Burton.
He also told of visiting several hospitals in London, where one little Belgian boy with both hands cut off, and also saw the lad's two sisters, who had gone raving mad as a result of all their terrible experiences. The boy had been forced to walk over the dead body of his father before leaving with the Germans. On Caribbean Bridge.
Sergeant Burton was on the bridge of the Caribbean when Lord Kitchener's message to the Canadian troops was flashed by heliograph to the troops. He has the paper on which the signalman on the Caribbean took down the message.
ALLEGED TRAITOR RELEASED ON BAIL
Israel Schaefer Bonded For $15,000 To Appear For Trial.
[Canada Press.]
Montreal, Nov. 17.—Israel Schaefer, charged with high treason, and who, it was alleged, supplied Austrians with ocean tickets, was this morning released on $15,000 bail by Judge Lavigne. Schaefer's trial will take place at the next court of King's Bench.
ENGLISHMAN SHOT FOR HAVING CAMERA
[Canada Press.]
Montreal, Nov. 17.—The Canadian Pacific Message from Liverpool brought a large number of war refugees, who were landed here last night.
In one group was a Belgian family, L. E. and Mrs. Lambert, who had come out to stay, because their home in Belgium had been destroyed. They are going to make Montreal their permanent home, and the husband, a civil engineer, is armed with letters of introduction from influential people in Belgium to influential people here.
Another passenger was S. Yoshida, a Japanese naval officer. He was with an Englishman in Berlin, and the latter was shot because he had a camera in his possession. An American passport saved Mr. Yoshida. His escape was a narrow one, because he had a small camera in his boot.
P. Earle, an American artist, traveling home, was arrested in Germany as a spy, but released. He spent two months awaiting the American consul at Frankfurt.

DE WET WOUNDED IN HEAD, REPORTED TOWN OF DIXMUDE IS TOTAL WRECK

Rebel's Followers Very Dejected, Being Poorly Armed and Lacking Supply of Ammunition. Artillery Fire Heard at Sluis, As Germans Make Another Attempt on the Yser.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Nov. 17.—A dispatch to Reuters from Antwerp, Belgium, dated today, states that Gen. Christian De Wet, who headed the recent rebellion in the Orange Free State and Western Transvaal, has been wounded in the head. De Wet's followers are reported as quite dejected. It is said that they are poorly armed and lack ammunition.
[Canadian Press.]
Amsterdam, via London, Nov. 17.—The Telegram's correspondent at Sluis, Netherlands, states that artillery fire was again audible yesterday, and that the Germans are renewing their efforts to cross the Yser near Yper. The weather is improving.
Dixmude, including the villages in its environs, has been entirely destroyed. On Sunday the windows at Sluis were shaken by explosions beyond the border, where, it was reported yesterday, bridges are again being blown up.

VANCOUVER CUTS DOWN MUNICIPAL SALARIES

From Mayor Downwards All Suffer—Saving $12,000 Per Month.

[Canadian Press.]
Vancouver, Nov. 17.—A wholesale cut has been made by the city council in all salaries. The mayor's is cut from $5,000 a year to $2,500, and the aldermen from $100 per month to $80.
This is in accordance with the following schedule:
On all in receipt of salaries of $300 per month, a reduction of 30 per cent; between $200 and $300, 25 per cent; between $100 and $200, 20 per cent; between $50 and $100, 15 per cent; and over $75 monthly, 10 per cent.
This cut means a saving of $12,000 per month, and is regarded as a war measure.

Amsterdam, via London, Nov. 17.—The Nieuwe Rotterdam Courant quotes a letter from a Galician priest, stating that 40,000 Austrians have been buried in one day, in a grave six and one-half feet wide and a little more than four miles long. The bodies, the letter says, were laid next to each other in three layers. These men were killed, it is stated, during a battle lasting only a few hours.

RESULT OF THE GERMAN MOVES UNDECIDED YET

Her Offensive in Flanders and Defence in East Still Issues.

ALLIES' LINE HOLDING

Russians Continue To Press Forward in Spite of All Opposition.

ENEMY AT THE BOTTOM

This Is Indicated by Trend of News From Several Quarters.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Nov. 17.—12 p.m.—Germany's remarkable persistent offensive in blizzard-swept Flanders in the west and the stability of her hasty defence along her eastern frontier, necessitated by the Russian advance, were issues the outcome of which still was undecided today in the great European war.
In Flanders, the allied line refuses to yield, while in the east the Russians continue to push forward.
A month of futile fighting, enraging losses, the extent of which perhaps never will be fully known, has not convinced German leaders that the French coast towns are unattainable, and while snow and rain and wind and cold have during the past few days, so sorely tried the troops as markedly to reduce their fighting capacity, there is nothing to show that the invaders will not try again what they so far have been unable to accomplish.
Reports that Cracow was in flames, after a Russian onslaught, that the populace of both East Prussia and Silesia were fleeing, and that the Serbians had been driven further into their own country by the Austrians, figured in the dispatches received in London today from the East, and though what really happened at Cracow is not known here, the trend of the news would seem to indicate that the Germans and the Austrians are, for the moment, at the bottom.
Berlin is interpreting the retreat of the German forces from Warsaw as a strategic masterpiece, but the German people, according to travellers reaching here, are expressing widespread chagrin at the German retreat.
[Canadian Press.]
London, Nov. 17.—11:30 a.m.—Col. E. D. Swinton, the official observer at the British headquarters, gives today a further chapter in his narrative of operations at the front, bringing up his account to November 13. His latest report describes the fierce attack of the Prussian guards on the British lines in the neighborhood of Ypres.
Col. Swinton's report, issued through the official press bureau, follows:
"The diminution in the force of the German rush to the west has not lasted long, but it is a warning. We have seen the north of our forces was the first to meet the recrudescence of violence. In the shape of an attack in the neighborhood of Dixmude."
Then the British.
"Our turn came next. After eight days of comparative relaxation, we were under constant pressure from Tuesday, November 3, to Tuesday, the 10th. The next day saw a repetition of the great attempt of the Germans to break through our lines to the French coast. What was realized might happen did happen. In spite of the immense losses suffered by the enemy during the day, the attack was repulsed. On October 29 to the 2nd of this month, the cessation of their more violent efforts on the latter day did not signalize the abandonment of the whole project, but merely the temporary reprieve of the main offensive until fresh troops had been massed to carry on what was proving to be a costly and difficult operation."
Have Not Got Ypres.
"Meanwhile the interval was employed in endeavoring to wear out the Allies by repeated local attacks of varying force and to shatter them by a prolonged and concentrated bombardment. By the 11th, therefore, it seems that they considered they had attained both objects, for on that day they recommenced the desperate battle for the possession of Ypres and its neighborhood.
"Though the struggle has not yet come to an end, this much can be said: 'The Germans have gained some ground, but they have not captured Ypres.'
Enemy's Plans Foiled.
"In repulsing the enemy so far, we have suffered heavy casualties, but battles of this fierce and prolonged nature cannot be won by the odds. We have the satisfaction of knowing that we have foiled the enemy in what appears to be at present his main objective, but we have not yet won Ypres. The enemy has gained some ground, but they have not captured Ypres."
"To carry on the narrative for the three days of the 10th, 11th and 12th of November:
"Tuesday, the 10th, was uneventful for us. At some distance beyond our left flank the enemy advanced in force against the French and were repulsed. Directly on our left, however, along the greater part of the front, shelling was lost severe, and no infantry attacks took place."
SOWING MORE WHEAT
Middlesex Farmers Respond to Appeal by Increasing Acreage.
That the farmers of Middlesex have responded only to the call to sow more fall wheat, is the opinion of L. E. Whale, B. S. A., of the department of agriculture here. Mr. Whale estimates that the acreage of fall wheat has been increased ten per cent this year.
According to the latest figures of the bureau of industries issued by the Government, Middlesex has an acreage of 50,000 acres of wheat. This means that the acreage of fall wheat has increased 5,000 acres.
The fall wheat is looking especially good this year by all reports of the farmers, who declare, though, that in some cases the wheat has a little too large a top to it.

Grow Mustaches Is Order to Men

Battalion Boys Have to Cultivate the Down on Their Upper Lips to Conform to Regulations.

One of the unique orders issued to the soldiers of the Eighteenth Battalion is that they cannot shave their upper lips. Why such an order was issued few seem to know. Many "displaced eyebrows" are commencing to show under several hundred noses, and in another month a stick of moustache wax will be added to the accoutrements of the boys in the battalion.
There are many boys in the battalion who are not yet twenty years of age, and they regard the order as an imposition, as they cannot cultivate a real healthy moustache by shaving off the fuzz which is to a regular moustache what the pith is to the frog.
"Soldiers certainly have their troubles," said one of the men who has been affected by this new order. "My wife married me only on condition that I should raise a moustache. She said: 'If I ever grow one she would leave me. I suppose really that I can prove to her that I am not growing this one.'"
At the barracks the Government is cultivating these moustaches among the men. Absolutely they are not moustaches, they belong to the Government.
And the chorus cried, "So say we all of us."

CLOSE THE BARS, CRIME FALLS OFF

Diminution of 30 Per Cent in London Very Largely Due to Shorter Hours, Says Judge.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Nov. 17.—1:55 p.m.—The falling off of crime in this country since the beginning of the war has been truly remarkable as compared to three years ago there has been a diminution of 30 per cent indictable offences, said Justice Robert Wallace today in charging the grand jury.
The justice explained that he attributed this decrease largely to public restraint in war time, but principally to the reduction in the number of hours saloons are permitted to stay open. "The effect of this," said the justice, "has been truly wonderful."
It is planned to put the power into the hands of the people and let them fight out in the courts with the dealers the question of what constitutes overcharging.

WESTMINSTER FARMER DROPS DEAD TODAY

James Orr Had Just Finished Work When Death Overtook Him.

Stricken with heart failure, James Orr, for 60 years a resident of Westminster Township, dropped dead today, just after he lifted the planks of a false bridge flooring from a new cement bridge near Lambeth.
He was one of the foremost men in the community, and had been born within a few miles of where he died. He started out early this morning to remove the obstructions that blocked traffic over the bridge. He had apparently just finished his work and had started to walk home, for neighbors found him lying face down a few yards from the bridge.
Drs. Roy and G. A. Routledge, of Lambeth, were summoned, but life was extinct when they arrived. No inquest will be held.

LUXURIES TAX MAY HELP FINANCE WAR

Lloyd George Expected To Increase Duties On Tea and Possibly Sugar To Provide Necessary 125 Millions—Much Speculation by Press.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Nov. 17.—4:40 a.m.—Much interest was taken in a statement that David Lloyd George, the chancellor of the exchequer, will make in the House of Commons today on financing the war. The general belief is that in addition to the issue of a loan of £250,000,000 sterling ($1,000,000,000), the Chancellor will propose new taxation to meet the extra £225,000,000 ($900,000,000) required.
It is supposed that this will take the form of a substantial increase in the duties on tea and possibly on sugar, and

COURTS WILL DECIDE ALL OVERCHARGES

Parliament To Give People Power To Deal With Exorbitant Prices.

MANY COMPLAINTS MADE

Any Wronged Person Can Lay Information Before a Magistrate.

ARREST THEN FOLLOWS

Difficulties Expected To Arise as to What Is Proper Scale.

[Special To The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, Nov. 17.—If your tradesman overcharges you, put him in jail. The Minister of Justice says that he will soon give the ordinary citizen the power of dealing with tradesmen who take undue advantage of war conditions to make excessive charges.
At the war session of Parliament the Government took authority to penalize the charging of exorbitant prices. So many complaints have been received from various parts of the country that the Government has decided to give effect to this legislation, and will pass an order-in-council bringing it into active operation.
Go to Courts.
It is proposed to make over-charging an offence to be dealt with by the courts. Under the order-in-council which is to be passed, a person who feels that he has been overcharged may go before a magistrate, lay an information, and if evidence is sufficient, a warrant will be issued for the arrest of the tradesman. The trial will follow.
It is felt that there may be some difficulty for a judge in deciding what is overcharging. It is pointed out, for instance, that this year, while number one apples cost three dollars a barrel in the orchards, by the time packers, shippers and dealers have taken their profits the consumer has to pay five dollars a barrel. It is said that the same practice exists in the case of most commodities.
However, it is planned to put the power into the hands of the people and let them fight out in the courts with the dealers the question of what constitutes overcharging.

Montreal Woman Gets Confirmation of Son's Death, First Learned From Papers.

[Canadian Press.]
Montreal, Nov. 17.—Killed and buried on the field of action at Ypres on October 18, was the substance of the news received yesterday by Mrs. A. T. Brennan, of 294 Mountain street, regarding the death of her only son, Capt. J. H. Brennan, of the Royal Welsh Fusiliers. Mrs. Brennan, who, with her daughter, has been living for some years in Montreal, saw the name of her son in the list of those killed in France published in the local papers, and in the War Office for confirmation, and yesterday received a reply confirming the news, but giving scant details.

MAY DROP SCHEME

At the city hall today it was declared that there was every likelihood that the insurance of the city soldiers in the second contingent would have to be dropped. When the question was brought up at the board of control yesterday morning, it was announced that the council would deal with it last night. Not a word was mentioned, however, of the insurance, and now it is stated that the city will have to abandon its plan to protect the soldiers unless some new developments turn up.

Don't Merely "Stop" a Cough

Stop the Thing That Causes it and the Cough Will Stop itself.

A cough is really one of our best friends. It warns us that there is inflammation or obstruction in a dangerous place. Therefore, when you get a bad cough don't proceed to dose your self with a lot of drugs that merely "stop" the cough temporarily by deadening the throat nerves. Treat the cause—heat the inflamed membranes. Here is a homely remedy that gets right at the cause and will make an obstinate cough vanish more quickly than you ever thought possible.

Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a 16-ounce bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This gives you sixteen ounces of the most pleasant and effective remedy you ever used, at a cost of only 45 cents. No bother to prepare. Full directions with Pinex.

It heals the inflamed membranes so gently and promptly that you wonder how it does it. Also loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough and stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, rich in quinine, and is famous the world over for its healing effect on the membranes. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Clips Out Old Songs.

Dear Miss Grey—I am a reader of The Advertiser, and do enjoy the old songs. I have clipped out the most of them and intend to make a book of them. I would like to get the words of "A Hero All for Love." Some of the words go, "But he did it all for love, for he loved dearer than life, the one sweet girl he fondly wished to make his promised wife."

If you are out of bread, a good quick recipe, and a healthy one, is to take three cups of buttermilk, one teaspoon soda, one tablespoon lard, stir in enough flour to make stiff pancake dough. This is the old-fashioned buttermilk cake.

Hoping to see an answer soon. Yours, H. J. B.

Ans.—Request referred to our readers. Many thanks for your practical hints.

Three-Hour Bread.

Dear Miss Grey—I am inclosing our recipe for three-hour bread, for which "Ignorance" has asked. If the whole quantity of yeast is made, one can use half the quantity and the other half will keep a week if kept in a cool dry place.

Feed and slice two quarts of flour, sugar, ½ cup salt, and two cups flour. Pour the potato water on this; mix well; then add potatoes. Add 1 quart warm water, and 2 quarts cold water. Stir again and add one yeast cake, previously soaked in ½ cup lukewarm water. Stir well and set in a warm place to rise. The yeast will be ready for use next morning. If it rises properly it will have a thick, creamy foam on top.

Have sufficient flour warmed and pour in the quantity of yeast required, mix stiff and let rise to double size, put in pans, let rise, and bake. It usually takes nearer four hours to make this bread, but we think it a boon to housekeepers.

I wonder if all the readers know that a little milk added to the water in which old potatoes are boiled prevents them from turning black, and that a good furniture polish can be made of equal parts of sweet oil and vinegar and a few drops of ammonia.

Could anyone tell me how to care for Amariy's bulbs in winter? Thanking you in advance. Yours sincerely, MORAG.

Ans.—"Ignorance" will thank you, I know, for your trouble in forwarding this "three-hour" recipe of bread-making. Perhaps some of the other readers will be trying it. Thank you, too, for your two practical hints.

In regard to caring for the bulbs, a very successful flower-grower advises me as follows: "When ripened, pack in dry sand and keep from freezing. They are tricky things to care for, but are worth the trouble when their beautiful flowers show."

Slow in Writing.

Dear Miss Grey—I read your column, and like it very much, but this is the first time I have taken the liberty of writing to you. I came from England to Canada several months ago. I used to have a very good friend, and he promised me to write to me; he wrote once, but did not answer my second, third, fourth or fifth letter. I then stopped writing, but now I have heard from him again. Should I or should I not, but I feel like paying him back for his thoughtlessness. What do you think of my writing? Please, may I come again? Yours, eagerly, LILLY-O'-THE-VALLEY.

Ans.—Well, it seems to me he owed you an apology for not answering your letters. Write him again, and if he does not then write; if you do not hear from him in reasonable time, better drop the correspondence entirely.

2. Your penmanship is very good. Yes, you may call again.

Gets Useful Hints.

Dear Miss Grey—I am writing you for the first time. I enjoy reading your column, and get many useful hints for housekeeping. Would you kindly publish the old song, "The Ship That Never Returned"? Thanking you in advance, and wishing your column every success. I am MRS. M.

Ans.—This song appeared some time ago in our song column. If you send me your address on a stamped envelope I shall be pleased to mail you a copy.

The Melancholy Dance.

Dear Miss Grey—Once more I am in search of aid. If you do not mind, I shall explain a few facts to you. About five or six years ago a girl friend of mine left town and went to live in the United States. I do not know exactly where she is living for she has never written. I know that her sister has been living on a farm near Dutton for the last two years. I wish to correspond with the girl in the States.

THE LOCAL MARKET

The smallest market for many months greeted local buyers this morning. Only four loads of vegetables were on sale, and these did not seem to be much demand for these. Two loads of potatoes were also on sale. Neither buyers nor sellers appear on the market when the weather is cold or rainy.

Only two loads of hay were sold on Monday, three loads being the total number sold at 2:30 o'clock this morning. There is a brisk demand.

Dressed hogs are up again. The Toronto market is firm, and the price has gone up here 25 cents a hundredweight. Live hog prices remain unchanged here. The Toronto prices are wobbly, and there is a chance that the price may decline in London.

Poultry, butter and eggs are still at the same prices.

ALL ENEMIES TO LEAVE FRANKFORT

Age and Sex Make No Difference—Berlin Paper Says

Neutrals Should Intervene.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Nov. 17.—The Amsterdam correspondent of Reuters' Telegram Company sends the following dispatch: "The Berlin Vorwärts newspaper has issued an order to the effect that all subjects of hostile countries, irrespective of age or sex, must leave the town and district of Frankfurt by the evening of November 24. They are free to go where they like, with certain restrictions. For example, they are not allowed to go to Berlin or other cities." "They must inform the police forthwith where they intend to go, and if they are found in Frankfurt after the 24th they will be arrested and interned at a concentration camp. The only exceptions which will be made will be in the case of people who are seriously ill or those whose friendliness is guaranteed by well-known Germans. All are permitted to return to their homes in the case of a general amnesty, especially in the case of Russian agricultural laborers, who will not be allowed to leave Germany for the present."

The paper expresses the hope that this drastic measure will not be initiated, and urges intervention by the neutral ambassadors.

BRITISH STEAMER IS FEARED LOST
La Correntina May Have Fought With Kron Prinz Wilhelm.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Nov. 17.—5:01 a.m.—Grave fears are expressed for the safety of the British liner La Correntina, which has not been heard of since it left Buenos Ayres for Liverpool on October 24. The steamer is now three weeks overdue. She carried a cargo of meat worth $1,000,000.

The liner was armed for defence, and one rumor suggests that she has been in action with the German armed liner Kronprinz Wilhelm, and that both vessels were sunk.

WHEAT SOARING IN SWEDISH MARKETS
Government Stores Two Months' Supply and May Suspend Import Duties.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Nov. 17.—The prices of wheat are rising in leaps and bounds, owing to the deficiency of the harvest and the closing of the Swedish market for imports due to the war, says the Stockholm correspondent of the Morning Post.

The Government is taking emergency measures which include requiring a guarantee from mills that the present prices of flour shall not be exceeded. The Government is watching the market closely, which is equal to about two months' consumption, to meet possible emergencies. A proposal to suspend import duties for six months also finds support.

SAY THEY KILLED THOUSAND BRITISH
Turks Claim Successes Also Against Revolutionaries.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Nov. 17.—A dispatch from Constantinople via Amsterdam to Reuters' Telegram Company gives an official statement issued by the Turkish war office. It says: "Yesterday we attacked the English near Fao on the coast of the Province of Basra, and killed them. They lost about a thousand in dead."

"The revolutionary leader, Abdul Reza, crossed the frontier with 200 men, and was killed. He was dispersed by our troops, and many of his followers were killed."

"A Russian standard has been captured."

RUSSIAN FLEET IS AFTER THE ENEMY
German Information Is That It Has Left Heligoland for Southwest.

[Canadian Press.]
London, Nov. 17.—10:05 a.m.—A dispatch from Copenhagen to the Star says it is believed that a German source that a Russian squadron has left Heligoland, and is steering southwest with the intention of engaging the German Baltic squadron.

RUSSIAN ROVE GERMAN BACK FOR HUNDRED MILES

Berlin Admits Being Outflanked and Forced To Retreat—Fresh Troops Go To Front With Sheepskin Coats—Enemy Is Moving Slowly.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 16.—By way of London, 2:30 p.m.—The Russian advance in East Prussia, according to advices received here from the front, is being assisted materially by cold weather, which enabled the troops to move more rapidly.

The swampy lake region of East Prussia movements of the army have been retarded by cold weather, which enabled the troops to move more rapidly.

The cold weather which has frozen the roads, a fall of snow during the last two days is reported to have made the ground very slippery, but not to a sufficient extent to prove a serious obstacle to the movement of the troops.

Fresh troops now being sent to the front are supplied with short coats of tanned sheepskin.

Petrograd and other Russian cities are sending every effort to collect woolen garments. To this end, many vacant stores are being utilized and the woolen goods are being sent to the front.

The uniforms of captured Germans are being utilized for the purpose of attracting attention. The uniforms are augmented by banners, which are carried by the troops.

The German right wing now appears to be feeling its way. The centre of the line is stubbornly resisting the advance of the Russians.

The line is protected to some extent by the broken character of the country, and by complicated artificial obstacles in this region the chief German reliance appears to be heavy artillery, since cavalry operations are almost impossible in such a country.

GERMANS WARNED OF RUSSIAN ADVANCE.
LONDON, Nov. 16.—A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram Company from Amsterdam says: "The sub-prefect of Marne-la-Touche, West Prussia, has issued a proclamation warning the citizens of the town of the Russian advance. The proclamation says: 'The Russian army is advancing between Thorn and Soldau (East Prussia), but that on the German side of the frontier, in the district of Soldau, there are strong forces, which will shortly force it into a decisive battle.'

"The fighting in the east continues. Yesterday our troops, operating in the direction of Soldau, repulsed the advance of the Russian army. The Russian army is now in the direction of Soldau, but that on the German side of the frontier, in the district of Soldau, there are strong forces, which will shortly force it into a decisive battle."
