SISTERS KNEEL TO PRAY AS FIRE AND WATER THREATEN ST. JOSEPH'S

Fire Breaks in Catholic Orphanage at One o'Clock—Caused by Defective Wiring—190 Children Are All Safe—Sisters Play Heroic Roles as Danger Looms.

UNIVERSITY MEN HELP IN RESCUE

Bishop Fallon Directs Clearing of Building—Miraculous Change of Wind Saves Chapel at Last Minute—North London Opens Homes to Orphans.

AT TEN MINUTES TO THREE IT WAS ANNOUNCED BY CHIEF AITKEN THAT THE FIRE WAS COMPLETELY UNDER CONTROL AND THAT THERE WAS NO FURTHER DANGER OF IT SPREADING.

Amidst the flames and smoke of a fire that broke out at one minute to one this afternoon, twenty-five sisters of Mount St. Joseph's Catholic orphanage braved every danger to rescue the 190 small children entrusted to their care.

SISTERS PRAYED IN BURNING BUILDING.

After all the children, including twenty babies, were rescued, the sisters returned to the Sanctuary in the building and beneath the rush of falling water and the roar of flames, prayed that the hand of divine providence might protect the lower floors of the big building.

At 2 o'clock, with the two big pumps of the city fire department playing on the broken roof and the hole where the tower had stood an hour before, their prayers were being answered and there seemed to be a chance the building would be saved from total destruction.

DEFECTIVE WIRING CAUSED FIRE.

The fire started in the tower overlooking the Thames, and defective wiring is given as the cause. It spread rapidly upward, soon engulfing the tower, which fell.

All the children were saved and housed for the time being in the home of Mrs. Ed. Nelles. The whole of London North has opened its homes to the inmates, and the children will all be comfortable for tonight.

STUDENTS AID IN RESCUE.

In the rush to save the fittings of the orphanage, in which four hundred students of the University of Western Ontario took a gallant part, William Green, aged 9, a pupil at the Ryerson school, received a broken arm when a chair thrown out of a window hit him.

Were Having Dinner.

When the fire broke out the 80 girls, the 90 boys, and the 20 babies were having dinner in the big hall. It was owing to the heroism of the sisters that they were all saved without a scratch.

Bystanders say that the sisters went fearlessly into the heart of the falling brick and timbers to bring out their charges in safety. Everyone was loud in praise of this work done by the sisters.

In the center of the building is the sanctuary where stands a large crucifix. The fire has respected it so far and the priests there say they will not move it unless the fire comes down and threatens it.

Water Pressure Poor.

Water pressure is poor and but for the two pumps there would be no chance of saving the lower floors of the building. As it is, the roof is burning and the fire has reached the upper windows are cracked by the heat, the lower rows are intact.

The sight at this time, with the heavy fall of smoke over the high building, the drenched but praying sisters, and the small tots looking with frightened, hardly understanding eyes at the ruins, reminds one of a day in Belgium in 1914. But still the sisters mutter their hopes on bent knees, still the holy fathers watch with anxious eyes the great crucifix, and still the firemen hold the gleaming brass nozzles on the glowing roof.

Chapel in Danger.

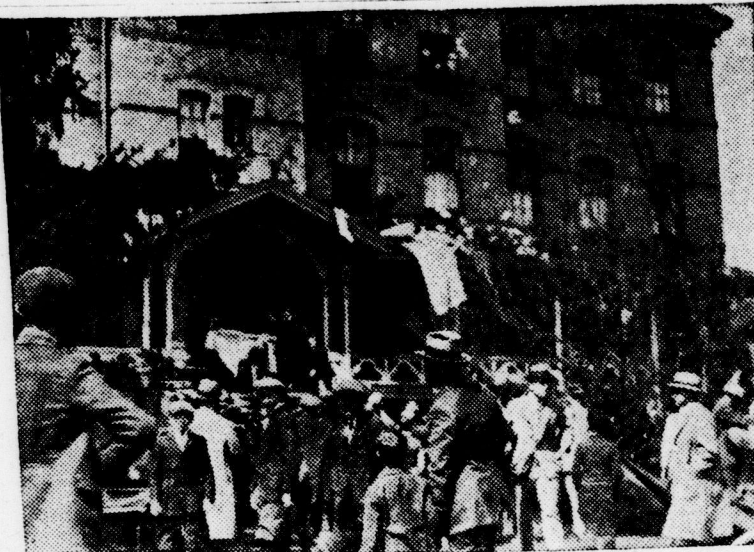

At 2:30, a strong wind was blowing from the northeast and it was feared that the chapel, holding many treasures, could not be saved. The flames were spreading rapidly toward the wing housing the chapel, despite an extra squad of firemen and volunteers detailed in that direction.

University students came in a body to aid in saving furniture from the top floors and a squad, headed by "Dutch" Simpson, captain of last year's rugby team, manned a fire hose on the third floor and, although drenched with the many streams of water being played on that quarter, he and his aides stuck to their post. Howell, Western's famous drop kicker, was also a member of the university squad.

Bishop Fallon There.

Bishop Fallon hurried to the scene shortly after the fire was noticed and supervised the removing of the children and the Precious Blood monastery and the Sacred Heart convent, where they will be temporarily housed. Dozens of motorists offered their cars to facilitate the removal of the children.

WESTERN STUDENTS AID IN FIRE RESCUE.

University classes were broken up when the news of the fire reached the officials and more than 400 students rushed to the scene to help remove the children to places of safety. In the above picture The Advertiser photographer shows some of the undergraduates and schoolboys helping to clear the building. All the furniture was removed in a short time.

Three Negroes To Be Tried For Assault With Robbery

Preliminary Hearing Given E. Smith, A. Harris and J. Johnston Today.

Frank Uttley, Zurich, Tells of Trap in Front Street House—Doctor Testifies.

Ernest Smith, 26, Arthur Harris, 27, and John Johnston, 23, all colored, were committed for trial at the June sessions of the supreme court on charges of robbery with violence, when they appeared for preliminary hearing before Magistrate Graydon in city court this morning.

Mrs. Hazel Smith, 24, white, and Mrs. Louise Johnston, 25, colored, who were also arrested in connection with the attack on Frank Uttley of Zurich at 9 Front street on the morning of March 25, were remanded for a fourth week on nominal charges of vagrancy.

Each of the prisoners was identified by one or more of the crown witnesses, but evidence introduced by Crown Attorney Judd at the initial examination, linked only Smith with the actual assault and robbery. The court turned down the motion of Defence Counsel Frank H. Curran that Johnston be freed, claiming that his bloodstained shirt sustained his being tried on the same charge. Mr. Curran implied he would ask a jury trial. Smith and Johnston are local men while Harris gave his home as Toronto.

Uttley Testifies Today.

Uttley, a stocky man of 38, was the crown's principal witness, and appeared in court for the first time today. Released from St. Joseph's hospital a week ago, he took the witness box with his head and forehead still bandaged. A few days after the assault, hospital doctors feared for his life, and Dr. W. J. Tillmann told the court this morning that although his wounds were healing they might bring on epileptic convulsions at some future date.

Describing the man's dazed condition when he was called to the hospital between two and three o'clock on the morning of March 25, the physician would not lay his state to an alcoholic disturbance. He was also noted a hemorrhage in the eye and a half inch long, in the forehead, while his left and right temples were severely cut. Dr. Tillmann also noted a hemorrhage in the eye and a half inch long, in the forehead, while his left and right temples were severely cut. Dr. Tillmann also noted a hemorrhage in the eye and a half inch long, in the forehead, while his left and right temples were severely cut.

By 2:30 the greater part of the furniture had been removed from the building.

Wind Veers, Chapel Safe

At 2:30, when all efforts to save the chapel seemed hopeless, the wind suddenly veered from the northeast to the northwest, and the chapel was saved, as if in answer to the prayers of the sisters, who had remained in the sanctuary to remove the sacred vessels should the flames reach the altar.

The fire didn't start in the night, his lordship said to The Advertiser. "At the present time we cannot do much but look after the children and nuns and save what contents we can."

WILL HOLD LONDON'S RAILWAY

L. and P. S. Board Does Not Support Mayor's Move To End Public Ownership.

RENTAL UNSATISFACTORY
Will Continue as Public Railway in Spite of Hard Times.

The London & Port Stanley Railway will not be leased to the Canadian National Railways or any other transportation company.

A show of hands by members of the London railway commission today gave a vote of three to one against leasing the road. Sir Adam Beck, the absent chairman, has well-known views in favor of retaining the road as a wholly municipal owned and operated enterprise.

J. P. Moore, vice-chairman, and Commissioners Donald Wright and George Burdick gave the mayor's scheme the wet blanket, and his wish stands alone in favor of abolition of municipal operation.

At the same time members do not attempt to dodge conditions in the transportation world. They see in last year's loss in operations a deficit three times larger than that for 1923. The net deficit for 1924 was $103,307, a big loss for a 30-mile railway. However, die-hards amongst public ownership advocates declare that this is not a comparatively great loss. The failure of the St. Paul Railway and depression in trade and other American roads indicate the possibility of breaking up on new methods, was an important matter.

The future of the London & Port Stanley Railway will be that of a municipally owned and operated road, so it is said by the majority of commissioners. The big majority of commissioners will be dealt with in the light of general conditions, and they do not interpret losses as an indication of failure of public ownership.

The Mayor's View.
The mayor is the only member who could put public ownership to the question. "There is only one solution for us," he comments. "We are losing money, in spite of the fact that expenditures Please See Page 3, Column 4."

MAN KILLED IN DETROIT NOT GUELPH CONVICT

Canadian Press Despatch.

The Burns who escaped from the farm here is now serving a term in Portsmouth penitentiary.

CANADA HAS GREATEST MATERNITY DEATH RATE

Mortality Rate Is 13.6 Per Thousand Cases—Denmark Has Only 2.3.

ACTION IS URGED

Graduate Nurses Want Action to Fight Menace to National Safety.

The appalling fact that Canada has the greatest maternity death rate in the world (where statistics are taken) was brought out in an interesting discussion of this subject at the morning session of the Ontario graduate nurses' convention held in Wesley hall. While Denmark and Norway have a death rate of 2.3 and Britain a death rate of 3.5, Canada's mortality in maternity cases is 13.6.

It was the opinion of the convention that something should be done immediately to fight such a menace to the welfare of the country. It was believed that the high death rate was due to the lack of proper maternity care in outlying districts and the suggestion was made that an effort should be made to get young medical men to spend some time in rural and outlying communities.

11,200 Deaths in Ontario.
It was pointed out that every year the province of Ontario loses 11,200 citizens through maternal deaths. This meant that practically a whole city was wiped out. And while this was going on, people talked of immigration. Miss Margaret Duffield of the Victorian Order of Nurses, presided over this discussion.

Several important resolutions, concerned more directly with hospitals and nurses, were passed at the morning session.

That the larger hospitals of the province should be asked to consider the granting of post graduate courses to allow graduates of smaller hospitals to qualify as registered nurses and to give older graduates an opportunity of brushing up on newer methods, was an important matter. Please See Page 3, Column 6.

JUDGE OF COUNTY ONLY CAN EXAMINE BALLOTS

Board of Three Appointed at Kitchener May Be Illegal.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Kitchener, April 14.—It is doubtful if the board of three recently appointed by order of the city council to examine the ballots cast in the municipal elections in January can legally act. Judge Hearn has been looking up the law, and now advises the city to get legal advice before completing the appointment of the commission. It is stated that according to law the ballots cannot be examined by anyone except a county judge.

SLEEPING MAN PREY OF THIEF

Burglar Steals Watch From Bedside, Then Dons the Owner's Overcoat.

SCARED BY WOMAN

Entering the home of Arthur A. Gleason at 24 Evergreen avenue through a basement window at about 2 o'clock this morning, a man crept up two flights of stairs, walked into a bedroom, and stole a watch from a table near the bed on which Mr. Gleason slept. He then took a small amount of change from a bureau drawer, donned Mr. Gleason's overcoat, and made his exit.

A few minutes later he attempted a similar robbery in another house on the same street. He was scared away, however, when a woman screamed.

When Mr. Gleason awoke and found his watch had disappeared, he investigated. The house had been ransacked. Entrance was gained by "jimmying" a cellar window. Police were notified early this morning. The stolen watch was with a man in a factory with open face and engraved on the back with the initials "A. A. G."

The larger hospitals of the province should be asked to consider the granting of post graduate courses to allow graduates of smaller hospitals to qualify as registered nurses and to give older graduates an opportunity of brushing up on newer methods, was an important matter. ## ASSENT IS GIVEN TO ALL BILLS

Lieutenant-Governor Cockshutt in Prorogation Address Defends All Measures Passed.

OPTIMISTIC VIEW

Formal Ceremony at Legislature Today Attended Only by Few Members.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.
Toronto, April 14.—The final curtain fell upon the second session of the sixteenth legislative assembly of Ontario at Queen's park this afternoon, when the house was formally prorogued by his honor the lieutenant-governor.

The ceremony of prorogation, while similar to that of opening of a session is less of a social function, and was attended today by a comparatively small number of members.

The lieutenant-governor, accompanied by Col. Alexander Fraser, his aide de camp, and staff officers of the military district, entered the chamber at 3 o'clock. Mr. Speaker, thereupon requested that his honor give the royal assent to those bills passed during the session, which had not already received it, which was duly carried out.

The reading of the speech followed, after which Hon. John G. D. G. provincial secretary, announced to the house that it was his honor's wish and pleasure that the assembly stand prorogued.

Bills Are Defended.
In the speech from the throne, the lieutenant-governor reviewed the legislation enacted during the session. With reference to the beer bill, he commented:

"The amendments to the Ontario Temperance Act will, I trust, facilitate the enforcement of the measure and contribute to its efficiency. The fundamental principle of the law has been maintained, while cause of hostility to it has been removed. This experience in the operation of this act has long pointed to the advisability of amending it so as to create a greater respect for the law, not only in the interest of this particular enactment, but for the advantage of law and order generally in the community."

Touching on redistribution, his honor stated: "The readjustment of the representation of the people in the legislative assembly, the measure in the act you have passed, will remove inequalities which have become somewhat marked of recent years. It is a measure of justice to the population in the urban centers. While the redistribution will not become effective during the lifetime of the present legislature, the readjustment of the measure constitutes timely notice to all concerned of the changes in the constituencies made by the act."

The lieutenant-governor made further extensions of the power developments of the hydro-electric power commission will serve to meet the requirements of the system in the immediate future. It is recognized. Please See Page 3, Column 3.

W. Middlesex Liberals Reorganize at Big Rally

LIBERALS OF W. MIDDLESEX PLANNING TO REGAIN RIDING

Strathroy Is Scene of Enthusiastic Rally of Party Workers.

OFFICERS ELECTED

John Allen McGugan of Caradoc Is New President.

Special to The Advertiser.

Strathroy, April 13.—West Middlesex Liberals interrupted seedling operations today to gather in Strathroy's Hall this afternoon to create an organization for the next federal election. The Hon. Duncan Marshall, Liberal organizer, was present.

In spite of the fact that this riding was lost in a three-cornered fight the last election to the U.F.O. candidate, there was no downheartedness evident today. Rather was the spirit of the meeting enthusiastic and full of determination to place West Middlesex again in the Liberal ranks.

The meeting was a scene of fine enthusiasm as a resolution was unanimously passed expressing confidence in and admiration for the prime minister, Rt. Hon. Wm. L. Mackenzie King.

Mrs. M. C. Dawson, editor of Parkhill Gazette, and Mr. Charles McFie of Appleton, delegates to the Liberal convention at Toronto, gave short reports.

No candidate was selected, but arrangements were made to hold a convention to select one on Wednesday, June 3, at Strathroy. Each polling subdivision is to send delegates, who are to be selected at meetings held in each municipality on May 27.

Hon. Duncan Marshall prefaced a rousing address by the remark that no man in public life in Canada had ever raised so much in public esteem in a short time as had Hon. Wm. L. Mackenzie King during the past year.

Mr. Marshall had no word of the date of coming election, other than it would be after the present session of the next. He warned the gathering, however, to get ready, select a strong candidate, and then work so that West Middlesex will again be listed among the Liberal ridings.

Predicts Victory.

LIBERALS TO HOLD NOMINATING RALLY
East Middlesex To Name Candidate at Hyman Hall April 18.

Following out the decision of the recent rally held by the Liberals of East Middlesex, a nominating convention will be held at Hyman hall on Saturday afternoon, April 18, at 2:30 o'clock. It had been intended in the first place to have the various subdivisions elect their delegates to the gathering, but as this work has not been completed it has been decided to hold an open convention of Liberals of East Middlesex and place a candidate in the field for the coming federal election.

It is probable that several names will go before the gathering on Saturday, but at this time it is not possible to say who appears to be the most likely. The name of Reeve Cousins, of Westminster township, is mentioned frequently, and it is known that a number of his friends have been urging him to allow his name to stand for nomination, but Mr. Cousins has so far not given any definite answer.

It is also known that Major Ross, of Lucan, who put up such a spectacular fight on short notice and against big odds in the last campaign, will be brought before the meeting by his friends. Major Ross is at present well occupied with a growing and expanding business in Lucan, and there is some doubt as to his being able to accept a nomination for another contest.

MYSTERIOUS MONGREL HAS REAL SANCTUARY
Elusive Hound Hides From His Pursuers Under Big Western Fair Building.

For two months a mongrel hound, regarded as a pest of a London East neighborhood, has successfully evaded capture. Complaints received from residents of London East led Humane Inspector George Tustin to search for the animal. The chase has led all over the city.

The dog is reported to be seen one moment and then suddenly makes a mysterious disappearance. It was not until this morning that it was discovered the dog had made for himself a perfect sanctuary. He apparently lives in the space between the building and the ground. He is working for his capture, and when the chase is on he hides in a hollow covering more than an acre of ground. The dog is a mongrel, and is a Western Fair hound. He has made for himself a small entrance, small enough to permit only his own body to pass. He has not been captured yet.

He remained in his sanctuary all day today. As long as the dog stays in his cavern he will be free, Inspector Tustin says. There is no possible way to force him out into the open.

INDIANS MEET TONIGHT TO OPPOSE OIL LEASES
Canadian Press Despatch.
Brantford, Ont., April 13.—A meeting of the Six Nations Indians, opposed to leasing their lands for oil drilling, was held last night at the Long Point Hotel. The Six Nations are to meet on Thursday on the question of allowing Senator Mitchener to drill on their lands for oil. He promises payment of $50 to each land holder, as well as a royalty on any oil produced.

News From City Churches
SOUTHERN CONGREGATIONAL.
The senior Christian endeavor society of the Southern Congregational church held its regular meeting last night at Gordon Fonger in the chair. The lesson was read by Dr. H. Taylor, and special music included a pleasing duet by Albert Soliel and B. Wherry, accompanied by Mrs. Wherry. A splendid paper on "What Does the Resurrection of Jesus Mean to Me?" was interestingly given by Miss Sam Angles, after which the members enjoyed a lively discussion on the topic. Dr. H. Taylor presided over the short business session, and the closing of the evening, after which the study classes were held.

INTERMEDIATE ENDEAVOR.
The regular meeting of the intermediate Christian endeavor society of the Southern Congregational church was held last night, with the president, J. Stark, presiding. The Scripture lesson was read by Miss Doris Anderson. An excellent paper on "Evidence of the Living Christ at Work Today," was given by Ronald Rodda, after which there was an interesting discussion on the topic. The invitation from the senior society to attend a Bible baseball on April 27 was accepted, and plans were also made for a picnic to be held in the near future.

HALE STREET LEAGUE.
The regular meeting of the young people's league of the Hale street Methodist church was held last night, with Will Wainwright in charge. Miss Jean Forrester contributed a pleasing solo, and during the evening Miss Eunice Beattie read a splendid paper on "The Late Right Hon. Marquis Curzon," which had been prepared by Herman Couke. Clarendon Weeks also contributed some humorous readings to the evening's program, which were greatly enjoyed. Later a social time was spent in games by the members of the league.

PORT STANLEY CHURCH.
There was a largely attended meeting of the A. Y. P. A. of Christ church, Port Stanley, last evening. The young people met in the parish hall for a debate and social time. "Resolved, that character is more influential in the world than money" was the interesting topic taken, and the decision was made in favor of the affirmative side, under

Girl Goes Sixteen Miles To Win Attendance Shield
Ties Hope Mission With Egerton Street Society in Honor.
100 PER CENT EACH
Rev. J. H. Slimon Is Speaker At P.Y.P.U. Rally in Talbot Church.

One girl travelled 16 miles last night to win the attendance shield for Hope mission at the great P. Y. P. U. rally in Talbot Baptist church. Her presence meant a 100 per cent attendance for the mission, which tied the Egerton street society. These two groups have built up a splendid record. Hope has carried off the shield four times and Egerton two. In each instance the winning society has had 100 per cent attendance.

When the announcement was made that Egerton, with a membership of 34 had 34 present and Hope mission 25 members with 25 present, Rev. W. M. Macdonald, pastor of Maitland street church, breathed the difficulty of the tie, and in the formal presentation wished the one "peace and happiness" and the other "happiness and peace." Fred Johnston represented Egerton and M. Pittaway the mission.

Speaker of Evening.
To stand for the service of the Master was the challenge to his audience from Rev. J. H. Slimon, pastor of the Adelaide street church, and speaker of the evening. He urged on all the need of securing knowledge of God, but asserted that a merely intellectual knowledge would not be satisfactory.

If young people were to become worth-while Christians, he declared, they must have a vital contact with God and through him a wider vision of the needs of the world. The Christian challenge to young people, he said, is one of the greatest forces in maintaining personal purity, and one of the greatest in the life of individual development. He pointed to the need of a greater training for the youth of today to accord a greater service to God and to the world.

Slimon stressed as one of the finest sources. "The bushel of business" and the "bed of leisure" of the modern life of would-be workers, he said, and "The greatest glory in life is the urged the Baptist young people not to be guilty of these charges. The glory of influencing lives for Christ," he concluded.

During the evening the gathering stood for a memorial service for the memory of Mrs. John Hall, who died recently at Kensington Park, who died recently at a mission station in Nigeria. At the end, Rev. Slimon led in a memorial prayer for one so honored in the church.

E. L. Brown of Talbot street led in a service of 20 minutes, and A. E. Outram, who is acting as pastor of Hope mission, had charge of the devotional service.

To Convene in Toronto.
During the evening, Miss May Daniels gave a Scripture reading. Miss Gray sang a beautiful solo, and in response to the roll call each group sang a rally song. Rev. R. J. Murphy of the roll call and church pronounced the benediction.

The representation of the unsuccessful unions for the shield, which Egerton will hold for three months, and Hope mission for three months, was as follows: Talbot street, 56 on the roll, 45 present; Maitland street, 50 on the roll and 45 present; Kensington Park, 41 on the roll and 20 present; Wortley road, 26 on the roll and 20 present; Adelaide street, 66 on the roll and 65 present.

During the evening it was announced that the Baptist convention will be held in Toronto on May 24. J. G. Gibson, president of the union, presided.

Record Attendance Predicted at Annual Event of Acacia Lodge.
Attendance records will be broken at the annual church service of Acacia Lodge, No. 580, A. F. and A. M. G. R. C., to be held next Sunday in St. Luke's church, Broughdale, lodge officials predicted today in discussing the extensive program arranged.

The event will take place at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and Rev. A. S. H. Cree, the rector, one of the most active Masons in the district, will deliver the chief address. The lodge choir of 24 voices, which has won a notable reputation in the district, will render several selections under the leadership of Bro. Harry T. Dickinson, lodge organist. The worshipful master, Bro. Edgar Chamberlain, will read the lessons.

Automobiles will be accommodated on the estate of Wor. Bro. Richard Oke, adjacent to the church, and as many non-Masons will be admitted as the seating plan permits.

The divine service is held each year to honor the birthday of the lodge, and in former years it has drawn one of the largest Masonic turnouts of the season.

Lad Asleep In Upper Bedroom Killed By Bullet From Below
Canadian Press Despatch.
Cobalt, April 13.—William Smith, eight years old, of Dack township, was killed while sleeping at his home Saturday night by a bullet accidentally discharged from a gun in the hands of his brother in the kitchen below, according to information just received here. The older brother downstairs was cleaning a rifle and inadvertently pulled the trigger. The bullet went through the ceiling and the mattress of the bed upon which William Smith and another brother, Fred, were sleeping. It struck young Smith in the neck and passed into his head, lodging behind the right eye. He died within a few minutes.

Fred was not awakened by the shot and was unaware that his brother had been injured until roused by the family.

MONTREALERS HELD UP BY FIVE ARMED THUGS
Two Motorists Fired On in Escaping From Road Trap.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Montreal, April 14.—Claiming that five armed men fired at them in an attempted holdup between St. Lambert and La Prairie on the south shore at 1:30 this morning, Louis Lavigne and Philippe Fournier, two Montrealers, reported to the police this morning.

They stated that they were driving towards Montreal when they observed an automobile standing in the road and two red lights were displayed with two beside the car, calling upon Lavigne and Fournier to stop. The Montrealers slowed down when they noticed three others emerging from the shadow of the stalled car. The five men, they say, were armed.

The driver of the automobile saw his chance to turn quickly and they sped back to La Prairie, followed by shots from the bandits.

Fournier was a local "strong man," and had been to La Prairie arranging a bout with one of the town's athletes.

VANDERVELDE ASKED TO FORM MINISTRY
Socialist Former Minister of Justice to Group New Belgian Cabinet.

Associated Press Despatch.
Brussels, April 14.—Amile Vandervelde, the Socialist former minister of justice, was summoned by King Albert this morning and requested to form a ministry to succeed the cabinet of Premier Theunys, which resigned on April 5. M. Vandervelde agreed to undertake the task.

The Theunys ministry handed its resignation to King Albert on the day that parliamentary elections were held throughout Belgium and the king requested that Premier Theunys and his ministers retain their posts until a new cabinet was formed. The resignation was expected, as announcement that it would retire regardless of the outcome of the elections had been made several days previously.

The Socialists gained ten parliamentary seats in the elections. Enile Vandervelde for many years has been Socialist leader in the chamber of deputies, and has taken a prominent part in world Socialist affairs.

New Adventures of Sherlock Holmes

THE THREE GARRIDEBS

By SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Sherlock Holmes becomes involved in the search for a third party bearing the name Garrideb. John Alexander Hamilton Garrideb of Topeka, Kan., bequeathed his millions to any three men bearing his family name. In London one, Nathan Garrideb, a collector, is traced. John Garrideb presents an advertisement of a Garrideb firm in Birmingham and prevails upon Nathan to go there. Holmes identifies John Garrideb as "Killer" Evans.

"Ah, it is not part of your profession to carry about a portable Newgate calendar in your memory. I have been down to see friend Lestrade at the Yard. There may be an occasional want of imagination in the caution down there, but they lead the world for thoroughness and method. I had an idea that you might get on the track of our American friend in their records. Sure enough, I found his chubby face smiling up at me from the rogues' portrait gallery. 'Killer' Evans," was the inscription below." Holmes drew an envelope from his pocket. "I scribbled down a few points from his dossier. Aged 44. Native of Chicago. Known to have shot three men in the States. Escaped from penitentiary through political influence. Came to London in 1883. Shot a man over cards in a night club in the Waterloo road in January, 1885. Man died, but he was shown to have been the aggressor in the row. Dead man was identified as Roger Presbury, famous as forger and coiner in Chicago. Killer Evans released in 1901. Has been under police supervision since, but so far as is known has led a honest life. Very dangerous man, usually carries arms and is prepared to use them. That is our bird, Watson—a sporting bird, as you must admit."

"But what is his name?"

"Well, it begins to define itself. I have been to the house agents. Our client, as he told us, has been there five years. It was unlet for a year before then. The previous tenant was a gentleman at large named Waldron. Waldron's appearance was well remembered at the office. He had suddenly vanished, and nothing more heard of him. He was a tall, bearded man with very dark features. Now, Presbury, the man whom Killer Evans had shot, was according to Scotland Yard, a tall, dark man with a beard. As a working hypothesis, I think we may take it that Presbury, the American criminal, used to live in the very next room which our innocent friend now devotes to his museum. So at last we get a link, you see?"

and together we stole across to the open trapdoor. Gently as we moved, however, the old floor must have creaked under our feet, for the head of our American, peering anxiously round, emerged suddenly from the open space. His face turned upon us with a glare of baffled rage, which gradually softened into a rather shamefaced grin as he realized that two pistols were pointed at his head.

"Well, well," said he, coolly, as he scrambled to the surface. "I guess you have been one too many for me, Mr. Holmes. Saw through my game, I suppose, and played me for a sucker from the first. Well, sir, I hand it to you; you have me beat and—"

In an instant he had whisked out a revolver from his breast and had fired two shots. I felt a sudden hot sear as if a red-hot iron had been pressed to my thigh. There was a crash as Holmes' pistol came down on the floor, and I had a vision of him sprawling upon the floor with blood running down his face while Holmes rummaged him for weapons. The man drew his arms away, wrenched round me and he was leading me to a chair.

"You're not hurt, Watson? For God's sake, say that you are not hurt!"

"It was worth a wound—it was worth many wounds—to know the depth of loyalty and love which lay behind that cold mask. The clear, hard eyes were dimmed for a moment and the firm lips were shaking. For the one and only time I caught a glimpse of a great heart as well as of a great brain. All my years of humble but single-minded service culminated in that moment of revelation."

"It's nothing, Holmes. It's a mere scratch."

He had ripped up my trousers with his pocket knife. "It is quite superficial!" His face set like flint as he glared at our prisoner, who was sitting up with a dazed face. "By the Lord, it is as well for you, if you had killed Watson, you would not have got out of this room alive. Now, sir, what have you to say for yourself?"

Lay and Scowled.

He had nothing to say for himself. He only lay and scowled. I leaned on Holmes' arm, and together we looked down into the small cellar which had been disclosed by the secret flap. It was still illuminated by the candle which Evans had taken down with him. Our eyes fell upon a mass of rusted machinery, great rolls of paper, a litter of bottles, and, neatly arranged with a small table, a number of neat little bundles.

"A printing press—a counterfeiter's outfit," said Holmes.

"Yes, sir," said our prisoner, staggering slowly to his feet and then sinking into the chair. "The greatest counterfeiter London ever saw. That's Presbury's machine and those bundles on the table are two thousand of Presbury's notes, worth a hundred each and fit to pass anywhere. Help yourselves, gentlemen. Call it a deal and let me go."

"We don't do things like that, Mr. Evans. There is no bolt hole for you in this country. You shot this man, Presbury, did you not?"

"Yes, sir, and got five years for it, though it was he who pulled on me. Five years—when I should have had a medal the size of a soup plate. No living man could tell a Presbury from a Bank of England, and if I hadn't put him out he would have flooded London with them. I was the only one in the world who knew where he made them. Can you wonder that I wanted to get to the place? And can you wonder that when I found this crazy boob of a butler with the queer name snatching right on the top of it, and never quitting his room, I had to do the best I could to shift him? Maybe I would have been wiser if I had put him away. It would have been easy enough, but I'm a soft-hearted guy that can't begin shooting unless the other man has a gun also. But say, Mr. Holmes, what have I done wrong, anyhow? I've not used this plant. I've not hurt this old stiff. Where do you get me?"

Mystery is Cleared.

"Only attempted murder, so far as I can see," said Holmes. "But that's not our job. They take that at the next stage. What we wanted at present was just your sweet self. Just give the yard a call, Watson. It won't be entirely unexpected."

So those were the facts about Killer Evans and his remarkable invention of the three Garridebs. We heard later that our poor old friend never got over the shock of his disappointed dreams. When his castle in the air fell down, it buried him beneath the ruins. He was last heard of at a nursing home in Brighton.

It was a glad day at the yard when the Presbury outfit was discovered, for though they knew that it existed, they had never been able, after the death of the man, to put it out where it was. Evans had indeed done great service, and caused several worthy C. I. D. men to sleep the sounder, for the counterfeiter stands in a class by himself as a public danger. They would willingly have subscribed to that soup-plate medal of which the criminal had spoken, but an unappreciative bench took a less favorable view, and the Killer returned to those shades from which he had just emerged.

What Quebec Man Says After Taking Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mr. T. Simard Found Dodd's Kidney Pills Beneficial and Suitable to His Needs.

St. Urbain, Que., April 13 (Special). After suffering for over two years from kidney trouble, Mr. T. Simard, a well-known resident here, writes of his good health, which he attributes to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I was always tired and nervous," Mr. Simard states, "and for some time my memory was failing. I was depressed and low-spirited, my limbs were heavy and I had dragging pains across my loins."

"I took six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and have found them very beneficial and suitable to my needs. I am quite well now and work in comfort."

The road to good health lies through the kidneys. If they are kept strong and well, all the impurities are strained out of the blood. But if they are weak and out of order, the impurities stay in the blood and disease is sure to follow. Don't delay, let Dodd's Kidney Pills keep you fit—Advt.

Miss Mayne Young, secretary-treasurer of the local children's work board, is in Toronto attending the annual staff conference and board meetings of the national children's work board, taking place in the national work-school building.

Victoria hospital was the scene of an interesting social event yesterday afternoon when Miss Grace Fairley, superintendent of the training school, entertained the visiting delegates to the Ontario Graduate Nurses' convention. Tea followed an afternoon of demonstrations at the hospital, and among the guests were representatives of the different nursing organizations of this city and from the Victoria hospital auxiliary.

Nurses in their smart white aprons waited upon the guests, pouring tea from an attractive table arranged with spring flowers.

The ladies' auxiliary of the United Commercial Travelers' Association were the hostesses of an enjoyable progressive eucher last Saturday evening, when they entertained in the travellers' rooms over the Imperial bank in the building fund.

A delightful program was also given during the evening, when Master Billy Dunning, rendered some excellent violin solos, while Mr. Ingram contributed vocal numbers. Miss Vincent assisted at the piano. Mr. Keeter, playing his own accompaniments, gave several much appreciated numbers. The prizewinners of the evening were Mrs. C. Craig and Mr. C. Hobbs, and the consultations were awarded to Mrs. Angus Morrison and Mr. Martin Smith. Twenty tables were in play, and following the games light refreshments were served at the small tables.

A smart tea and dance of the Easter week-end was given in St. Thomas by Miss Margaret Turner of Haverall College at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Alex. Turner, Hinks street. Miss Turner was accompanied home for the holiday by her schoolmate, Miss Nora Longworth, daughter of Sir Charles Longworth of Charlottetown, P. E. I., in whose honor the party was held.

The guests included a number of students home for the week-end, among them being Mr. Morris, of Toronto University; Mr. Handley Perkins of Chatham, from Wexford College; Mr. Cecil Snyder and Mr. Robert Bristow, from the University of Western Ontario; Miss Dorothy Black, from Margaret Eton School, and Mr. Bert Moody, from University of Michigan. Several teas have also been arranged in honor of Miss Longworth.

The members of the Graduate Nurses' Association of this city tendered a delightfully informal banquet to the visiting delegates attending the annual convention of the Ontario Graduate Nurses' Association.

VICTORIA HOME RECEIVES GIFT

Rev. S. Salton and Mrs. Salton Donate $50 For New Wing—Many Eggs for Easter.

Announcement has been made of an interesting and much appreciated gift of $50 from Rev. S. Salton and Mrs. Salton of South London to the building fund of the Victoria Home. The home is planning a new wing and this donation, coming from the Methodist chaplain of the home, is an example of the personal interest being taken in the residents of the home by some of London's citizens.

In a letter to the Women's Christian Association, Mr. Salton wrote, "The home is an inestimable blessing to so many of God's aged and feeble children, and has been a means of blessing to myself, whilst ministering to them for the past four years."

Other Londoners have also been good to the residents of Victoria Home. For Easter the following donations of eggs were gratefully received: Empress avenue mothers' club, ten dozen; Aberdeen mothers' club, ten dozen; Ealing mothers' club, eight dozen; and Wortley road mothers' club, sixteen dozen.

Miss Mary Lambie Now Attending Nurses' Convention in London.

LOOKS FOR IDEAS

Among the many interesting women in the city attending the Ontario Graduate Nurses' convention at Wesley hall is Miss Mary Lambie, Christchurch, Canterbury, New Zealand. Miss Lambie has been sent to Canada and the United States by the New Zealand department of health to get further experience in public health work.

Her presence here is but another evidence of the remarkable health movement which continues to sweep New Zealand. Miss Lambie acknowledges that in infant welfare work her country has made great strides, but admits that in general organization along health lines, there might be great improvement.

All of the public health work there is carried on in specialized department units, and the Dominion department of health.

Miss Lambie is at present attached to the city of Toronto health department, and is also working in connection with the University of Toronto. When she returns to New Zealand she will have charge of the university course for public health nurses, and to train for this work has been sent abroad. She goes to New York in July to study the work there, proceeds to England in August, returning again to Canada in the fall. Her trip back to New Zealand will be by way of the Western States, where she hopes to glean some new ideas.

Miss Lambie is an enthusiast over her work, and seems to possess any amount of latent energy.

Spurious Five-Cent Pieces Widely Circulated In City

Counterfeit Coins of 1907 and 1919 Offered Unsuspecting Londoners.

ALL BADLY WORN

Are Identical in Appearance With Real Nickels, But Lack "Ring."

Counterfeit five-cent pieces of the offerings of 1907 and 1919 are being widely circulated in London, according to several local merchants who turned over samples to The Advertiser today.

A druggist who noticed a difference in the "ring" of the money when he threw it on the counter states that he has had at least a dozen of the coins offered him since Saturday and he has refused them, believing that they were counterfeit.

Local and provincial police who were tendered the money believed the five-cent pieces were genuine until they tossed them on the counter. "They look good, but they 'ring' bad," was the police comment. Four bankers declared the coins to be spurious, and the cleverest counterfeits they had ever seen. Another banker, however, declared that in his opinion the money was O. K. and that they would take it as legal tender at any time.

The coins all show signs of wear and have apparently been in circulation for some time. Three bank tellers who were handed the money were completely deceived by the looks.

"They all look good to me," pronounced one teller of considerable experience. "Toss them on the counter and then give your opinion," advised an Advertiser reporter.

"Why they are no good," he replied in some astonishment. "They look like the real thing, but they don't ring true. I'll have to keep watch for them. There might be hundreds in circulation for all we know. We don't examine small silver with the same degree of care as we would bills."

CHURCH INSURANCE COMING UP AGAIN

Question Will Be Debated at the Next Anglican Synod.

The question of Anglican church insurance will come up again in Huron synod, according to the statement of Bishop David Williams this morning.

Bishop Williams informed The Advertiser that the subject was not discussed simply because the private bills committee of the legislature had turned down a bill to incorporate the Anglican church mutual fire insurance corporation.

The head of the diocese of Huron confirmed the report that the synod had not endorsed the proposal to incorporate an Anglican church insurance company, and that, having done so, the synod was determined to seek further support for the project in the province.

The bill which was thrown out by the committee provided for the insurance of Anglican church property, with the stipulation that all members of the synod should be re-insured in another company.

In addition to the Huron synod, support has been accorded the scheme by the synod of Toronto.

BOY'S EYE SHOT OUT BY BROTHER'S ARROW

Harold Skinner, Exeter, Is Brought to City Hospital Following Accident.

Harold Skinner, aged 15, of Exeter, was struck in the eye yesterday by an arrow shot by his small brother, Donald, with whom he was playing. He was brought to Victoria Hospital last night and Dr. W. J. Brown removed the left eye. There is no other injury, and the boy is resting as comfortably as possible in the hospital.

With his brother he was playing in the garden of their home. The brother was using a bow and arrow, and the arrow struck the boy's eye. The boy was brought to the hospital and the eye was removed.

IF IT DOES YOU SHOULD TAKE BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Mr. M. P. Eldridge, Beaver Harbor, N.B., writes:—"I was troubled with my stomach for some time, and everything I ate seemed to distress me. I tried many different medicines, but without any results. ## Wants Settlers Kept in the East

Canadian Press Despatch. Montreal, April 14.—Eastern Canada should first be filled with immigrants in preference to allowing them to pour westwards, said E. L. Calder, K.C., former crown prosecutor, in an address here last night. Then, he said, the west could be filled with the people who were already familiar with Canadian conditions and who would not be disillusioned by the actual state of things.

FAMILIES FLEE AS DAM BREAKS

Thousands of Acres Flooded in Valley at Flat Rock, Michigan.

Associated Press Despatch. Detroit, April 14.—Scores of families in the valley of the Huron River between Flat Rock and Lake Erie were driven from their homes early today when the dam at the power plant of the Ford Motor Company at Flat Rock burst and released millions of gallons of water into the valley.

More than 5,000 acres is reported under water which is reported to be 12 feet in some places and steadily rising. The valleys inhabitants were warned of the flood by troops of the Michigan State Police, who started along the river to rouse persons living nearby as soon as guards at the dam had telephoned the news station.

The disaster, so rapidly did the water rise that the officers were soon forced to take to boats, going from house to house with their warning, ferrying and sending the men ahead in commandeered boats to aid in the rescue work.

No lives have been lost, so far as could be learned, although many houses built below the level of the dam were inundated.

Reports from various places along the seven miles from Flat Rock to Lake Erie indicate that the entire valley, at some places a mile wide, is under water.

Hundreds of small houses, many of them set on stilts, line the river at its banks, but state troopers believe no lives were lost because of the ample warning given.

Although the water was high around the bridges of the Michigan Central and the Detroit, Toledo and Erie Railroads, below Flat Rock, traffic was not interrupted. Small barns, booths, wooden farm implements, trees, bushes and other things were drifting down the valley on a current running ten miles an hour.

COUNTY WHEAT CROP IN EXCELLENT SHAPE

Growers State Experience of Kent Farmers Not Repeated in This District.

Although high, drying winds have ruined wheat and onion crops in Kent county, wheat in Middlesex is in splendid condition, J. F. Andrews, of the local branch of the department of agriculture, states.

"Kent county had the same experience last year," said Mr. Andrews. "Their soil is light and sandy, and high winds play havoc with it on occasions."

"Middlesex wheat looks a little browner than it did a week ago," continued the agricultural expert. "Last night's rain, followed by warm weather today, should help a whole lot. I don't think there is anything to worry about in this district."

Rope Saves Man In Death Cave

Kentucky Man Has Close Call When Rocks in Pit Shift.

Associated Press Despatch. Cave City, Ky., April 14.—Sand Cave, claimant of the life of Floyd Collins, cave explorer, trapped Elmer Hays in its death chamber for more than an hour yesterday.

Shifting rocks of the cave suddenly blocked the passage of the lateral leading from the shaft to Collins' body, as Hays, a member of the party now trying to release Collins' body, was about to ascend the crawlspace in the lateral.

A rope was used to pull Hays to safety. This accident resulted in an order prohibiting anyone from entering the cave by way of the lateral tunnel, which is fifty-five feet underground.

STUART PAVEY RETURNS AFTER STUDYING IN N. Y.

LONDON TO GET ALBERT A COAL

First of Large Shipments Will Arrive in City in Two Weeks.

London is to share in the coal brought from Alberta at a test rate of $7 a ton freight. While coal dealers were conferring with J. Stutchbury, Alberta trade commissioner, in Hamilton yesterday, E. F. Pullen, president of the Alexco Coal Company, of Alexco, Alberta, was in London arranging for similar shipments.

The trial shipments will move from Alberta via the Canadian National Railways the first of the month. William Buchanan, local dealer, will receive 2,500 tons, or about 820 car loads. The C. N. R. will check the costs of the shipment and if it proves profitable, Ontario will use Canadian coal.

The Alberta product is known as domestic coal, that is, it is suitable for furnace, kitchen stove or grate. It is not as hard as anthracite, but considered an excellent grade.

Price at the Mines.

The price of the coal at the mines in Alberta is from $2.25 to $6 per ton. Adding $7 freight, the cheapest cost is $20.25 in London. The best would stand the dealer $13. Mr. Buchanan says that if the C. N. R. can make coal carrying pay at $7 a ton the coal situation in Canada will be revolutionized.

Two years ago The Advertiser brought in a shipment of Alberta coal, which was distributed to some 200 homes in the city that Londoners might have an opportunity of trying the western product. The tests made in the city proved the Canadian coal satisfactory.

Shortly after the Advertiser coal was distributed, William Buchanan brought in a shipment of coal from five different western points. The coal was quickly taken up and found suitable.

Highest Alberta Grade.

The coal, which will arrive here next month, is the highest grade mined in Alberta. It is said to be low in ash and low in moisture. It will take the place of the anthracite from the United States mines.

Speaking of the freight rates, Mr. Buchanan says: "The freight on cattle, which requires far more care and attention, is less per car load than coal, which is not perishable. There was a coal merchant in Strathroy who got down three carloads of cattle, and the freight on the carload from Calgary to Strathroy was $235, and when we want a carload of coal outside of this special freight it would cost $480 per car, and on the special freight of $7 per ton would come to $280 a car. Now in shipping the cattle they would have to be fed quite often along the road, and stop the car for a while to feed the cattle. On the other hand the coal could be shipped through direct without any stop whatever, and a great many well informed people wonder why the coal cannot be shipped to Ontario at a $7 freight rate, or about $280 per car, when the rate from Edmonton on coal is $220 per carload, and from Calgary to London $229 per carload."

Arriving there on the coal train, on the other hand the coal could be shipped through direct without any stop whatever, and a great many well informed people wonder why the coal cannot be shipped to Ontario at a $7 freight rate, or about $280 per car, when the rate from Edmonton on coal is $220 per carload, and from Calgary to London $229 per carload."

THREE NEGROES WILL BE TRIED FOR ASSAULT

bruises on the arms and legs were attended to as well.

Only Identifies One. Smith was the only one of the three who identified the man who arrived there with Ernie Dinsmore, taxi driver. He visited the place for the first time on Feb. 11 to get some ale, he related, and he was so impressed with the good treatment accorded him that he had no hesitation in making second visit on March 25.

Arriving there on the latter occasion, he was greeted with a "Hello, Shorty, come on in" from Smith. "There was no ale in the house, so he gave Mrs. Smith ten dollars to buy some. In her absence, Dinsmore also left, and it was not until then that he began to feel uneasy. He was carrying $210 in a secret pocket, he declared, and as he moved toward the front door, he was pushed into a bedroom by Smith and another man. A glass bottle smashed to bits on his forehead, and his eyes were so blinded by blood that he did not recognize his assailant. Smith's words, "Go through all his pockets—get everything," were remembered.

Struck Another Blow. Stumbling through the door he was struck another blow, and a few steps further he was beaten to his knees. Feeling his way to the rear of the house he went into the yard and crawling on his hands and knees, some minutes passed. Soon he saw the lights of a bakery and drawing himself up he called to them to call St. Joseph's hospital.

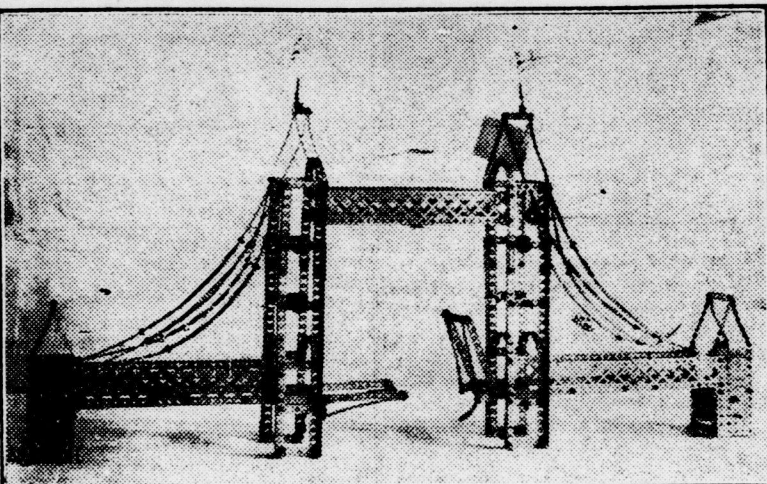

Swearing that Smith and Harris were two of the three men playing cards when he entered, Dinsmore said that "the party looked a little rough," and so he made his exit five minutes after he entered. He did not swerve in his identification of the two men under a severe cross-examination by Mr. Curran. Utley drank three bottles of ale earlier in the day, he testified, and declared that he himself had been drinking at all on the day of the attack.

Detectives' Testimony. Detectives Bolton and Walsh told of removing blood-stained coats from Harris and Smith when they were captured at the C. N. R. station in company with John Norton about an hour after the attack on Utley. The trio were making toward the Hamilton train. Detective Bolton testified, and when they were taken to the police station, $90 was found hidden under Johnston's coat, while $81 was removed from Smith's pockets.

The bills found were Bank of Montreal notes and Utley stated in the box that the $210 he carried was made up of the currency of the same bank.

A bedspread, clothed with blood, and broken glass, also blood-stained, were offered as evidence by the crown.

The two women were apprehended by P.C. Lauder at the C. N. R. station a short while before the men were caught. They were on their way to Windsor, the constable claims he was told when he stopped them.

OLD LONDON BRIDGE. Memories of Old London in the face of many Londoners are here, are brought back by this model of the old Tower Bridge. It is a model from the Rotary Hobby Fair and was made by Bob Hook, aged 12, of 1016 Frances street.

Famous General Dies Unhonored

Austrian Soldier Was in Direct Poverty.

By A. R. DECKER, Advertiser and The Chicago Daily News. Vienna, April 13.—Fewer than five hundred persons attended the funeral of General Planzer, Balin, the "Pershing of Austria," who died in the direst poverty.

Thousands of former Austrian officers would have liked to have done honor to the defender of Bukovina, who saved Austria from invasion by the Russians, but as forced members of Socialist organizations they would have lost their jobs if they had been seen at the funeral.

There were no flags at half mast, and no signs of mourning in the city. A few Socialists shouted epithets as the cortege passed.

SAFETY TALKS PLANNED FOR HAMILTON SCHOOLS

Hamilton, April 13.—Hamilton board of trade today acted upon a suggestion by Dr. Sherring for a safety campaign. Police and firemen will be asked to warn children playing on the streets of their danger, and five-minute talks will be given in the public schools before dismissal at noon and at the end of the afternoon period. The board agreed to recommend to council that the Dundurn park battlement be removed to make the approach from the Toronto-Hamilton highway safe for traffic.

SCHOOL PROBLEM END IS VISIONED

Major Albert Murphy Sees an Early Easing of Separate School Situation.

Early action is anticipated by Major Albert Murphy of the separate school board in providing additional accommodation for the system.

Mr. Murphy stated this morning that the special committee appointed by the board had reviewed the situation, but had not, as yet, adopted a recommendation to be made to the board.

It is expected by Mr. Murphy that the recommendation, when it is made will embrace either the construction of a two-room addition to St. Martin's school, South London, or the erection of a new two-room school to serve St. Patrick's parish in the extreme eastern end of the city. Either scheme would cost the board approximately $20,000.

Mr. Murphy pointed out that the board is anxious to have the additional accommodation, whichever plan is adopted, in readiness for occupancy next September and that therefore the board has little time to lose in reaching its final decision.

The money for the building program will likely be borrowed from the Episcopal church, which the board has previously borrowed funds instead of issuing debentures.

The special committee appointed by the board includes Dr. P. J. Sweeney, chairman of the board, and Trustees Fred Pace, Joseph Nolan, and Major Albert Murphy, ex-chairman of the board.

SUPREME COURT SITS ONLY THIRTY MINUTES

Record For St. Thomas Made This Morning—Two Cases Laid Over.

With two cases laid over and a third settled out of court the sittings of the supreme court this morning in St. Thomas before Mr. Justice Meredith occupied just thirty minutes. This constitutes a record for St. Thomas.

The cases laid over are the Molsons bank against the Consolidated Trust Company, an echo of the St. Thomas Packing Company's failure, and that of four residents of Kettle Creek against the city of St. Thomas. The case settled out of court was John Wood against Francis S. Brickenden in connection with a real estate deal. Kettle Creek claim that the creek is being polluted by the sewage from the city and are claiming damages. At the present time the city is installing machinery in the new sewage disposal plant which will be ready for operation by the end of this month.

PLUMBING IMPROVES UNDER CITY BYLAW

Only Two Defects in Work Were Recorded During Month of March.

That enforcement of the city's plumbing bylaw has brought about a great improvement in plumbing installations is attested by James C. Young, city plumbing inspector. The demand for a good standard of material in plumbing work and careful workmanship in making installations has cut the number of defects to a minimum.

During March there were only two defects in plumbing noted. Yet the amount of work done was quite up to the mark of last year, the amount of fees collected being exactly the same.

As a matter of fact plumbers report that since the latest city bylaw regarding plumbing came into effect they are getting fewer and fewer repair jobs. The work must be right up to the start and then it stands for years, as inspections of old jobs have recently shown.

Permits issued during March numbered 56, with 27 inspections required. Plumbing installations this year show an almost identical trend to the first quarter of 1924, and the amount of fees collected is almost the same.

Mr. Young is now working under the city engineer's department, and makes his reports to No. 2 committee of the council.

QUEEN'S BALL DIAMOND NEARLY READY FOR YEAR

Park Grounds Will Be Ready Within Fortnight, Officials Believe.

Queen's park baseball diamond has been seeded and rolled, and will be fit for use by city teams within the next fortnight. Just now there is still frost and ice beneath ashes in the outfield and workmen must wait until this part settles before the field will be wholly available.

The field will be a fine, broad expanse, well levelled and well groomed. The skinned diamond will be used this year. Arrangements for team engagements at the field have not yet been made with the city.

APPOINTMENT OF RECTOR IS BEING KEPT SECRET

The secret of the new rector to be appointed to St. James Anglican church is being guarded most zealously by Bishop David Williams and the lay delegates of the church.

There are no new developments other than that the appointment now rests with Bishop Williams and the church warden, Chris Hodgins and George E. Forsythe.

The present rector, Rev. W. Leslie Armitage, M. A., who resigned some months ago, leaves the pulpit next month.

OFFICIAL HOME OF PREMIER OF BRITAIN FAST DECAYING

Famous Old London Houses Are Now Almost Beyond Repair.

200 YEARS OLD

Numbers 10 and 11 Downing Street May Be Rebuilt.

Associated Press Despatch.

London April 14.—Two of London's famous old houses—numbers 10 and 11 Downing street, respectively the official homes of the prime minister and chancellor of the exchequer—are now in such a state of decay that the government is considering whether it is desirable to pull them down and rebuild instead of making further repairs.

The Daily Express says that much money has been spent from time to time renovating the inside and the outside of the houses but that each inspection reveals that something further must be done. Some of the walls, the paper adds, seem to rest on crumbling foundations although the buildings are not very old as old houses go, having been built about 200 years ago.

Although the internal conveniences of the houses are as notorious as their external ugliness, there are some who believe that reasons of sentiment may be stronger than the demands of modern accommodation and that further repairs will be decided upon. Number 10 Downing street has been the residence of the premiers since 1735.

CITY BOARD BACKS W.O. TRUSTEES PLAN

Organization Would Be Formed To Promote Interests of University.

The London board of education will do all in its power to assist in the formation of a Western Ontario school trustees' association.

The suggestion that such an organization be formed particularly to promote the interests of the University of Western Ontario was received by the board at its last meeting.

Different members of the board commented favorably upon the already helpful co-operation which exists between the local board and the university authorities, and the scheme was endorsed because of the fact that it will bring outside educational interests in closer touch with the university.

Trustee Mrs. John A. Rose and Trustee Rev. D. Mess, M.M., were instructed by the board, while at Toronto this week as delegates of the board to the Ontario educational association to extend to those active in having the new organization formed the promise of London's support of the plan.

The idea is that from amongst those delegates attending the Toronto convention from Western Ontario there will arise sufficient support to warrant the organization of the association, and that in the near future a meeting will be called at London for that express purpose.

In all, 14 counties are directly interested in the development of the university here and it is the purpose to have those counties lined up to permit of the best possible work being done on behalf of the university.

May Dye Dogs To Match Gowns

Orange Jumpers and Yellow Pomeranians Now Craze in Britain.

Associated Press Despatch. London April 14.—Owners of fancy dog shops are doing a flourishing business this spring with the coming in of the vogue for women to have pets to match their gowns or dress schemes to correspond with the coat of their favorite dog. Orange jumpers, which have been popular in London, have created an unprecedented demand for little pomeranians of this particular shade. Dealers aver that if the craze continues, it may be necessary for the animal shops to devise some means of dyeing the coats of lap dogs to meet the requirements of their customers who insist upon dogs to match their gowns.

The Cost of Weeds.

What does agricultural Ontario lose in a year through weeds? We cannot recall having seen the total estimate, but it must be a very large figure. For Western Canada the loss is placed at $60,000,000 a year, and the Regina Leader does some speculating as to what this means in a financial way to the people of the prairie provinces:

"The population of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta is about 2,000,000. On the average $60,000,000 weed loss means an annual tax of $30 per capita or $150 for every family of five persons. Suppose the governments of these provinces slapped on a tax like that. The shriek that would go up from the people would shatter the firmament. Yet the people are taxing themselves every year to that extent, voluntarily and unnecessarily. They get something for the taxes levied by their governments. They not only get nothing for the weed tax they levy upon themselves, but they cut down their crop yields and reduce the value of their land."

"The total revenue of Saskatchewan in 1923-24 was $10,528,660, or about one-half what noxious weeds cost Saskatchewan in that year. That figure includes $2,941,113 received from the federal government. Compare the amount of revenue actually raised within the province with the amount lost through noxious weeds and you will have some idea of the tremendous drain these vegetable parasites are putting on the pocketbooks of the people. Suppose there were not a noxious weed in Saskatchewan today. At the end of the coming crop season the province would be in pocket $20,000,000, which it will not be in if the loss from weeds is not reduced. That would complete four Hudson Bay Railways; would buy 20,000 automobiles at $1,000 apiece; would pay off 10,000 mortgages of $2,000 each, or would build 5,000 dwelling houses at $4,000 each. Those are the things which the people of this province are going without because they have allowed noxious weeds to get the upper hand."

The farmers of Western Canada are arranging for a number of conferences at various points to consider methods of action that will be likely to produce the best results. They realize the seriousness of their weed crop.

In Ontario we would do well to consider the same plan collectively. In a few months it will be possible to drive along the country roads of this province and notice all manner of weeds growing on the roadside. We can pass fields that are so yellow with mustard as to make the crop worse than useless, and on the next farm it will be noticed that the fields are clean and the weed loss very small. It means that some farmers are working to keep their land clean, even though neighboring land and the roadsides release each fall enough noxious weed seed to swamp them. The aggregate of the loss in weeds in Ontario would make a tremendous total. A farm that is dirty with weeds has a poor reputation and not many prospective purchasers would care to undertake the work of cultivation. The work of eradication might be undertaken by townships. It would be a good thing for some of the owners of weedy farms to get in touch in this way with those who had made it a point to keep their farms clean; they might possibly catch some of their spirit and determination. We know it is not an easy matter and that it means hard work and continual care, but the results to be secured would make it worth while.

Let In the Light.

The Woodstock Sentinel-Review is not impressed by the way in which the story of Charles Matthews was told. Surely the man who asked Matthews why Treasurer McGarry kept a cigar box full of money lying around his office should be given the opportunity of telling why he asked such a question, says the Woodstock paper. He must have had some reason, and it is just possible that he might be able, if given a chance, to tell what it was.

It would be interesting to find somebody who knew something and was willing to tell. Matthews himself cannot tell anything about the cigar box or its alleged contents. He did not see either, and had no personal knowledge of either; but he could tell who asked the question which contained the information that there was a cigar box full of money lying around the treasurer's office.

Matthews has said that the man was a member of the government—first he was "the government," and afterwards "part of the government." It would be no more than fair to other members of the government that he be given the chance to explain. Was there a cigar box filled with money in the treasurer's office? Where did it come from? Why was it left lying around, and what became of it?

Only a Half Verdict.

Dorothy Ellington, sixteen-year-old California girl who shot her mother, has been judged insane—that means she will be locked up some place where she will have no freedom; she will be treated and regarded as a person who is more or less irresponsible for what she does.

The entire punishment for the crime falls on the girl who was the chief actor in the final scene where a revolver was whipped into action because a mother dared remonstrate with her daughter for the pace she was travelling and for the company she was keeping.

All the rest of the lizards and soul hounds who reached out and helped to pull her down into the mire go free. It may be argued that the courts could try only the case brought before them, that they had no business to seek out those who stood behind the scenes while this lone child of sixteen, her mind on fire from the fumes of nastiness that rose from the altar of lust where her set worshipped, rushed out and completed the tragedy.

It may be that such a view is quite right, and that it will stand the inspection of legal technicality—it may be that according to law as it is written on the books the court can wash its hands of the whole business when it has picked out a room in an institution for the insane and motioned to the officers of the law to take away the one offender from the group and put her therein.

But there is written and unwritten law, and the unwritten law of decency cannot be placated by the punishment of this girl alone. It will ask what is to be done with the oily men and the painted jades called women who planned the exploits in which the body and soul of Dorothy Ellington were made into a submissive pawn. What of those vultures that wax fat on the fall of this girl, who twined the roses of passion over and around the detour signs that a normal conscience plants along the gilded path? They may have skulked in the back seats of the court room during the days of the trial, fearful that the spotlight of the law might turn its white rays on their crimson souls. But theirs was not the heart that comes forward in a crisis and accepts blame; rather it was that of the rat that seeks to leave the sinking ship in order that the work of destruction may be carried on in some other hell hole.

The trial that sent that one girl of sixteen years to an asylum may satisfy the written laws of California, but it can never stand in the light of the unwritten laws of God and common decency.

A Move In the Right Direction.

London board of education will consider doing away with manual training and domestic science in collegiate institutes and confining it, as far as secondary education is concerned, to the technical school. There is no intention of making the change in the primary schools, where manual training and domestic science are useful in imparting necessary knowledge and forming a desirable relaxation from the studies of the day.

No doubt the board has given considerable thought to the matter, and before deciding on a definite course it can be taken for granted that they will be sure of their ground. They can approach the situation with the knowledge that they are considering the elimination of departments whose absence would in no way interfere with the education given a boy or girl in a collegiate. Boys who intend to specialize in lines that fall within the scope of manual training in its several branches, or girls who desire to follow domestic science or household art, have ample provision made for them in the technical school, and it is doubtful if any real purpose is being served by continuing these courses in all the colleges.

The cost of secondary education is increasing in London as elsewhere, and it has come to a point where it must be decided to what extent the public purse can be drawn on to provide courses that do not fall within the lines of a well-rounded education, based on a thorough knowledge of fundamental subjects.

The board of education in deciding to discuss this problem is coming to grips with the question of reducing costs and maintaining efficiency, and that is exactly the duty it should perform.

Looking For Trouble.

Automobile advertisements are interesting, particularly in the spring. The man who drives has been brought almost to the point where he considers he should be driving some other or newer car, and he who says he cannot afford to drive has almost figured out that he cannot afford to walk.

But some of the car advertising is whetting the appetite of the car owner to a point where he is going out looking for trouble. Here's one, for instance, that claims the car can be driven in comfort at sixty miles an hour, and can turn a corner at fifty without even rising up on two wheels.

Will this not cause the speed cop to pay particular attention to drivers of these cars? Just imagine how he'll make a note in his book, and trail along to see if the driver is out to investigate the claims made on behalf of his new chariot.

Jake Has Changed

When Jake was poor he lectured much and spouted hot words from his mouth, but since he got ten thousand pounds he spends his winters in the south.

Jake Jaw he was a humble jay, a-workin' for two bones a day, and sparrin' with his creditors to keep the beggars far away. The first I met with Jake was once when he was talkin' on a stump, and sayin' how the wealthy man be nothin' but an all-fired chump.

I stopped and listened for a spell a-harkin' to the things Jake said, while beads of perspiration came arisin' from his rumpled head.

Jake was a-sayin' how if he be rulin' in the land a while, he'd land the rich and wealthy gent beside a monstrous old wood pile, and to each one he'd give a space and treat him to a red bucksaw, that be the way he'd do the thing if he was fram'in' up the law.

And as the crowd they gathered more Jake urged his jaded tongue to wag, pronouncin' if he ruled the land no guy would don a silken rag.

He'd go onto the rich and say, "Hi, mister, hand your ducats here, and if you don't I'll take a plank and bang you one upon the ear—I want your bank-book and your car, it ain't no use you talkin' wild, I'll take your wealth and spread it out to them where fortune never smiled."

The crowd they voted Jake was right, they followed at his call and beck, he was the jay to take a sledge and smite the shackles from their neck.

All that took place three years ago, I saw Jake just the other day, him tellin' me in winter months he much preferred to go away. For he had been in Florida a-settin' on the warm'n' sand, he 'lloed as how the place he saw it be a good and happy land.

You see, Jake's uncle shuffled off and left to him ten thousand pounds, since which Jake Jaw has hit the pace, he's huntin' with the pleasure hounds. Jake talks no more of idle rich or takin' of their wealth away, his speech of fire and iron and brass has turned into a work of clay.

No more he stands upon a stump or lectures from a hemlock board, it makes some difference now with Jake whose ox it be what's gettin' gored.—ARK.

To the Editor

The L. & P. S. Report.

Londoner Points to the Danger of Having to Deplete Surplus In Order to Meet the Deficit.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—I have read with some interest the annual report of the London & Port Stanley Railway, and see that the company is down on the year's operations to the extent of over $100,000. I also see that the manager of the road says this will cost the city nothing from its tax rate, because they will be able to take the deficit from accumulated surplus. It may be that there is no other course open at the moment, but he must know that this is not considered good financing, and it is only necessary to look at the figures to see this.

The deficit of 1923 was, in round figures, $30,000, and in 1924 $100,000. These two years brings the surplus down to about $50,000, and if the operations of the road only result in half the loss this year that there was in 1924 the city is going to face the situation of having to meet out of its tax rate the deficits, because there will be no surplus to draw from. I am not pointing to this in a spirit of alarm or undue criticism, but because it is something the people of the city should heed.

The situation is one that needs the best thought the united forces of the municipality can give. There is no room for factional feeling. The problem is one that, if not met promptly, will have a decided effect on the tax rate of the city before long. I admire the optimism of the general manager that things will get better financially and that earnings will improve. If any of the officials or citizens have some good constructive suggestions as to what should be done to make the road pay now is the time for them to bring them forward, and I have no doubt the commissioners would be pleased to consider them.

Press Comment

ALDERMANIC INTERFERENCE.
(From the Ottawa Journal.)

THE JOURNAL hopes that the resolution discussed at the last meeting of Ottawa city council approving of the works department re-engaging the teams used in previous years for street cleaning is not as significant of aldermanic interference with the routine business of the city as it appears to be.

Controller McElroy pointed out that during the winter the works commissioner employs on garbage collection 19 teams of horses owned by the city. From May 1 to October 15 only 10 teams are required for this work. It is obvious that rather than permit nine teams to "eat off their heads" at an estimated cost of $2.40 per day for each team, they should be used on other city work. But apparently in the past the commissioner has been instructed not to use these idle teams on street cleaning, but to engage others at the daily rate of $3 per team with driver.

No such instruction should ever have been given to the works commissioner. It is one of these things in connection with which no aldermanic interference should be tolerated—indeed it does not seem to be a matter even for the board of control—yet the resolution was defeated only by a narrow vote, and it is said that, owing to the vigorous lobbying of aldermen by interested team owners, the resolution may come up again and may be carried.

The estimated saving by the method proposed by the works commissioner is $3,500. That may seem a small amount to aldermen anxious to curry favor, but if it is a sample of interference with the permanent heads of civic departments it indicates a total waste of formidable proportions. Works Commissioner Macallum is so good an officer that he ought to be able to protect aldermen against themselves and the lobbyists who bother them.

LAKE ICE GIVES WAY, YOUNG GIRL DROWNS

Was Riding On Dog Team Sleigh When Mishap Occurred.

Canadian Press Despatch.

North Bay, April 13.—Word reached here of the drowning in Lake Temagami on Friday last of Miss Turner, member of a well-known family in that region. With her brother George and an Indian guide she was crossing the lake on the ice from Bear Island to Temagami. A dog team was carrying mail and the girl is believed to have been riding on the sleigh. The team crashed through the ice, the girl being carried down with the outfit. The brothers and guide managed to get to firm ice and save themselves, but could find no trace of the girl. The body was recovered a few hours later.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief for Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are, in probably nine cases out of ten, evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that form of distressing burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid and make it harmless, a teaspoonful of Bisurated Magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating, or whenever sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as Bisurated Magnesia, which can be obtained from any drugist in either powder or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, but to obtain the best results, take only Bisurated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—ADVT.

Canadian Leaders Pay Tribute To Memory of D'Arcy McGee. Prophet of a Great Dominion

Hundredth Anniversary of Birth of Pioneer and Martyr Is Observed.

AT THE CAPITAL

Premier King, Meighen and Many Others Speak at Banquet.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, April 13.—From every part of North America came people of Irish blood to celebrate in Ottawa today the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Thomas D'Arcy McGee, who began his career as a revolutionary and ended it as a champion of empire and one of the fathers of Canadian confederation.

Within a bugle-call of the spot where in 1868 McGee was assassinated by an Irish revolutionary, a year after he had helped to launch a Canada pledged to British alliance, and a few minutes after he had reaffirmed in the Canadian parliament his determination to continue that allegiance, some 500 people assembled at a banquet which for years had been planned by Canadian Irishmen to mark the McGee centenary.

Murphy Presides.

The gathering was presided over by Hon. Charles Murphy, Canadian postmaster-general and prime mover in the centenary. Having paid eloquent tribute to the memory of his countryman, Mr. Murphy introduced one by one the speakers of the evening. First came the governor-general, Lord Byng, commencing on the variance of opinion which always existed as to the qualities of a patriot. It was a difficult role to fill. Quoting McGee's remark once made in a public speech that he believed he had done more to conquer back the respect of the people of England and America for Irishmen than fifty of the demagogues put together, his excellency said that if that was the spirit of D'Arcy McGee, he was happy and proud to be associated with this memorial.

The toast of the evening "To the Memory of D'Arcy McGee" was proposed by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, speaker of the House of Commons, and seconded by E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Memorial addresses were presented by Premier King, Hon. Arthur Meighen and Martin Conboy president of the New York Bar association. Mr. Conboy gave a biographical sketch of McGee with particular reference to his residence in the United States, between 1842 and 1857.

Toast To Family.
The toast to the McGee family,
which was represented at the function by some half-dozen members, was proposed by Chief Justice Latchford, and responded to by T. D'Arcy McGee of Ottawa, a nephew of the Canadian statesman.

Premier King laid stress on the aims of McGee during his brief political career in Canada, during which he did not hesitate to change his political stripe to meet the uncertain quantities of Canadian political life in that period.

Regardless of party allegiance Mc-Gee had ever sought to lessen, and where he was able so to do, obliterate racial and religious strife and to remove sectional jealousies and prejudices. "Wherever there were differences of race, or creed, or birth, he looked for what was best in each and sought the common ground. With equal zeal he sought to stamp out whatever tended to create bitterness and hatreds.

Sought United Empire.

"Had he lived in our day he would have sought, not a separate Ireland and a separate Canada, but an Ireland and a Canada of national status and powers of national expression, on equal in the course of time, with those of the United Kingdom itself.
To him membership in the British empire would have been a fear, but something to cherish, to develop, to expand. He would have seen it as it is fast becoming—indeed it has not already so become—a galaxy of free nations, a union of sister states,
a great co-operative commonwealth, inspired in all its parts by ideals of freedom and justice, extending not only from sea to sea but encircling
the entire globe."

President E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway said that the fact that one hundred years after the birth of Thomas D'Arcy McGee, men of all walks of life and of various political faiths could still bear testimony to his greatness, his faith and his vision was evidence that McGee's conceptions of Canada and her Canadian enduring. Mr. Beatty was almost as proud of his Irish ancestry as of his Canadian birth, but he thought, perhaps, Canadians should not unduly exaggerate their history or their traditions. Perhaps they should direct more and more of their attention to their present day problems and to the problems which must be solved in the development of Canada to its complete maturity and nationhood.

Meighen Speaks.

"The story of a nation's heroes is the fountain source from which it draws the wine of its later life," said Right Hon. Arthur Meighen. "The lives of Canada's founders had receded out of politics into history.
McGee was one of the giants of Confederation 'who have grown in stature through half a century of criticism and whose place in our annals is now forever secure.'"

Congratulating the authors of tonight's event, especially Hon. Charles Murphy, Hon. Mr. Meighen said it would be a good thing for the national spirit of Canada and would help marvellously the cause of unity in the dominion.

Hits Pessimists.

"I say to the pessimists: Remember the trials of the fathers of confederation; harken to the memory of D'Arcy McGee, who never faltered in the advocacy of Canadian unity, and who never doubted of his coun-

Taxi Jam Costs $1,000 a Minute

Special to The Advertiser.

Brooklyn, N.Y., April 13.—For every minute that he was late to court today, Edward Diamond paid $1,000.

When Edward's first degree robbery case was called, the defendant was among the missing.
Thirty-five minutes later, Edward and his attorney rushed breathlessly into the courtroom.
"Our taxi got caught in a traffic jam," the lawyer hastened to explain.

"That makes no difference," said
Judge McLaughlin, "your client's $35,000 bail has been forfeited and will stay forfeited."

try's destiny. If the voice of McGee could still be heard there would come from his lips to the faint-hearted Stand four square for Canada; have faith in its institutions and a future of immeasurable possibilities."

Thus Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, speaker of the house of commons, in proposing the toast of the evening,
"The Memory of D'Arcy McGee," Mr.
Speaker traced the history of Canada from earliest times. In the delicate weaving of racial element merged into Canada's national fabric he found four main shades, the French,
the English, the Scotch and the Irish.

LABOR NOT BEHIND SEPARATION MOVE.

Says Party Made Medium For Advocating Communists' Policies.

WORKERS REJECT

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, April 13.—President Tom Moore of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada stated in an interview this morning that the resolution demanding complete independence from Great Britain, which was passed by the Ontario section of the Canadian Labor party, does not voice the sentiments of the organized workers of Canada.

"For the past 40 years," Mr. Moore said, "the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada has been the recognized authority to speak for the trade unionists of Canada on legislative matters. Foiled in their attempt to capture the trade union movement through the Trades and Labor Congress, the Communists are now making a political Labor party the medium of propaganda for their policies. The resolution referred to is somewhat similar to one introduced by the Communist minority in past conventions of the Trades and Labor Congress, where they demanded severance of international affiliations in the trade union field, and the setting up of Canadian national autonomy. These policies, however, were overwhelmingly rejected by the organized workers," concluded Mr.
Moore.

PRINCE'S PRIVACY RESPECTED BY NATIONS OF WEST AFRICA

Associated Press Despatch.

Accra, Gold Coast, April 13.—The Prince of Wales spent this afternoon at the race course, remaining for the entire program. Between the races he strolled about the enclosure, chatting in his usual breezy style with his guests. The entire British community was present, and in addition there was a large attendance of natives.

While there was unbounded enthusiasm there was no unseemly crowding or jostling, the people showing respect for the prince's privacy in the same manner as would be observed at an English race meeting.
The prince will embark on the battle cruiser Repulse tomorrow morning and will land at a Nigerian port early Wednesday.

DUFF'S SPEECH FALSE, SAYS U. M. W. OFFICER

Declares Statements in House
As To Miners' Funds
Erroneous.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Ottawa, April 13.—Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, today received a letter from Philip Murray, first vice-president of the United Mine Workers of America in which Mr.
Murray said the assertions of William Duff, Liberal member for Lunenburg, in the House of Commons recently, regarding contributions made by the Nova Scotia miners to the funds of the international organization were "absolutely false."
Mr. Duff in his speech declared that more than $2,000,000 had been sent to the United Mine Workers of America, and Mr. Moore wrote to international headquarters for the facts.

Mr. Murray informed Mr. Moore that since the Nova Scotia miners joined the United Mine Workers' organization in December, 1918, until December, 1924, the total contributions were $460,192.40.

Easter offerings to St. George's Anglican parish here, and the pastor, Rev. C. R. Harris, together with his congregation, is wondering who the generous donor may be. The money came in a plain envelope postmarked

London To See Pro Fights At Local Arena April 22

Charlie Conkle Will Second Son in Bantam Bout.

MEETS WOODHAM

London boxing fans are likely to get the opportunity of seeing Charlie Conkle, one of the greatest characters in the ring and most games have produced, second his son, Frank Conkle, in his first pro fight here a week from tomorrow at the local arena.

Art Woodham, local amateur, who, with practically all of his career, has been a string of losses, has decided to take his chances in the moneyed ranks, will meet young Conkle.

The debut of the local boys, Charlie Bear, Woodham, Bud Barnes, Al Smith and Inar Benson, who have been boxing in amateur tournaments here for the past two years, should give the fans home interest. These youngsters at one time or another have all been featured in the same shows that gave them a yen for the professional game. Lacking amateur competition, as they have this past season in London, they have decided to take their fling in the professional game.

The debut of Conkle's son, as the partially made-up card, who is present, would almost carry any show along.

Charlie Conkle of Hamilton once held the middleweight wrestling championship of the world. Less than two years ago he stayed the limit with one of the top-notchers of the mat profession travelling through Hamilton with a show.

Conkle's feat at his age was a week's sensation in Hamilton, where he has made his home for years.

Conkle later apparently thought when his son took up boxing, he came one of the stars of the Hamilton collegiate team that the gridiron would lure his son into the path of higher education.

Plays Football.

Conkle junior made the Hamilton rowing club senior team as quarter-back last year, but since then has been a permanent desire to take up boxing. He was to have made his pro debut some weeks ago in Syracuse, but sprained his arm while working out in his father's gym.

Coach Kitchley of Western university had been counting on interesting Conkle junior in going to university—especially Western—this coming season. But apparently Conkle senior has decided to let his progeny work out his own destiny.

Bear is certain of a bout, but his opponent has not been chosen. Bear is probably the most promising youngster London has turned out in the past three years. He has fought his way up from a feather, and is now ranking at the 140 mark. He'll probably stick to the lightweight division, if he can keep them without making.

Barnes, who is fighting as a feather, or Al Smith, who is fighting, if opponents can be found for them.

Youngsters Promising.

Patsy Drouillard of Windsor, former lightweight champion of Canada, and who met the best of his time, Nelson Gans and Wolanet, has several good boys he wants to bring here, but no one who has a promising lot of youngsters. The fact that they are being looked over by the Hamilton veterans indicates that they must be promising.

In completing a card, the London boxing card is attempting to give the fans pro fights at amateur prices, and the fact that practically every amateur who made the garrison cards popular has turned two makes this possible.

'Good-bye, Auto!' Sad Words After Snodgrass Muff

THE FAMOUS MUFF

BY AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher, N. Y. Giants)
Reams of copy have been written on the history of the Snodgrass muffs that cost the Giants the world's championship in the deciding game of the 1912 world series, but no one of the 1912 world series knows what was really said on the bench that afternoon. The fact is, there was very little said.

The first remark that broke the silence as the ball popped out of Snodgrass' hand was by "Hooks" Wittse. "There goes the wife's automobile," said "Hooks," sending an impending defeat. He had been planning on buying a car with the difference in world series money between the winners' and losers' share. "There goes the wife's fur coat," chimed in "Red" Ames.

Nothing further was said on the train that night about the muff, which was merely an error that might occur any time, but was magnified on account of the dramatic conditions under which it was made. It was ever afterwards a taboed subject on the Giant club from McGraw to the bat boy, which can best be explained by the remark "Moose" McCormack, "hooking" pinch hitter, made to a young pitcher several years afterward when the youngster inquired about the error. "We never discuss that play on this club," said McGraw.

INSPECTOR FAVORS SCHOOL CHANGES

Sees Many Advantages of Township Boards Over Present System.

Special to The Advertiser.

Woodstock, April 13.—J. M. Cole, school inspector for Woodstock and North Oxford, is in complete accord with the proposal to organize township school boards to take the place of the present system of school sections in the rural districts. He declares there are many advantages in the proposed new plan, particularly in that it would make simple the organization of consolidated schools, and would in many cases eliminate walks of four or five miles for school children who, because they lived in a certain school section, had to attend school in that section, although the school in the next section might be closer to their homes. He also feels that it would help to relieve the congestion in the lower forms of the city colleges, as it would enable more high and continuation schools to be established in rural sections.

Medal Winner.
The medal donated by Fire Marshal Heaton of Toronto to the Woodstock scout making the highest percentage in tests on fire prevention, conducted by the local fire officials, has been won by Harold Prestage, a 15-year-old boy. The winner is member of the scout troop of New St. Paul's church, and he made marks of 96 per cent in his examination. Nine boys in all were successful in securing over 90 per cent in the test.

Livestock Prices.
On the local livestock market today the price of hogs remained unchanged, $12.75 per cwt. being the figure paid. Calves were seven and eight cents. Three cars of hogs and one car of calves were shipped to the Toronto market.

Mrs. Annie Curtis.
Mrs. Annie Curtis, well-known resident of Woodstock for a number of years, and a native of the village of Norwich, died suddenly at St. Joseph's hospital this morning.

Curtis, who was in her 69th year, survived a stroke two weeks ago, from which she never fully recovered. She is survived by three sons and three daughters, one of the latter being Mrs. J. M. Lemke of Toronto.

Arthur A. Frain.
Arthur A. Frain, well-known farmer of East Oxford, and a resident of that township during his entire life, passed away at his home this morning. He was in his 65th year, and is survived by his widow.

Frank Martin.
Coming to Woodstock from England to engage in farming, Frank Martin, aged 19 years, died at the Haydock farm, near Woodstock, last night. He had been a farm hand for a short time near Embro, having gone there after a period of training at the Haydock farm.

Plan Tilts With Knotty Lee's Men

Exhibition games with "Knotty Lee's" men will be arranged.

With continued good weather, the two clubs may get over 30, as much benefit out of their "Arctic training" as some of the clubs which have gone further south.

Under normal conditions, Kitchener and London will be in any disadvantage in holding the distinction of having the most northerly camp.

As Mike Baker would probably succumb to the cold, it is thought that he will win this year.

KNOX PRESBYTERIAN BOYS HAVE ANNUAL FATHER AND SON MEETING

Special to The Advertiser.

Wallaceburg, April 13.—A most enjoyable evening was spent Friday when the Star Tuxis boys of Knox Presbyterian church held their annual "Father and Son" banquet, in the church basement. About fifty sat down to a dinner prepared and served by the lady members of Mrs. Bourne's S.S. class. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The speaker of the evening was Col. H. D. Smith, K.C., of Chatham, who gave a most instructive and interesting address on "Crime," which was listened to with rapt attention. At the close the speaker was accorded a hearty vote of thanks. Marvin Booth proposed and E. W. Shaw replied to the toast to "Our Dads," and Dr. A. G. Campbell proposed, and Fred Saint replied to the toast to "Our Boys." During the evening selections were rendered by the Morrow orchestra.

DOG AND WATCHMAN ROUT TWO BURGLARS

Thugs Are Surprised While Cracking Safe at Winnipeg.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Winnipeg, Man., April 13.—Two armed bandits, who broke into the office of a local transfer company Sunday morning, left the building shortly after a wiser but combined and badly maltreated pair.

They did not bargain for an aggressive night watchman nor an attack from a vicious retriever, which greeted them as they entered to their task of rifling the strong box.

A short but sanguinary struggle ensued, in which the combined strength and courage of man and dog triumphed over the two desperadoes. The thugs were disarmed by the night watchman, and the retriever used his teeth to good advantage. The defenders, however, were badly bruised and cut by the butt end of the would-be robbers' revolvers. The intruders effected their escape as a pedestrian, attracted by the noise, appeared at the window of the office.

"STUFFY" GETS RELEASE

Associated Press Despatch.

Boston, April 13.—"Stuffy" McInnis, first baseman of the Boston Braves, who refused to go south with the National league club this spring on account of a salary war, has been conditionally released, according to an announcement tonight by E. H. Fuchs, vice-president of the club.

In making his announcement tonight Judge Fuchs said:

In view of the long service of "Stuffy" McInnis, and in order that he may give his services to any club which shall offer him the best terms and to his best advantage and interest, the Boston National league club has today given Player John F. McInnis his unconditional release.

McInnis played with the Braves for two seasons, coming to Boston from Cleveland.

Mike "Peary" Baker Leads Farthest North Trip Today

First Outdoor Workout of London Pilot's Expanding Squad Billed For Sunshine Park.

Mike "Commander Peary" Baker will lead a "farthest north" expedition up to Sunshine park this morning at 11 o'clock for the first outdoor workout of the now sizable London squad.

The crew will travel by a powerfully constructed Richmond street car furnished by District Harry Humbleton, and they expect to make the journey without much opposition from the ice-floes.

Mike's brood increased yesterday with the arrival of every train. Stimpson and "Sunny Jim" Kerman were among the veterans to report. "Lefty" Harris, the first-hand, who was here for a part of last season, and who is still the property of the London club, also reported.

One of Mike's anticipated laughs amongst the team which surrounded the manager of a professional baseball club was running Jim Kerman around Townshill park.

Mike used to wake up nights, and laughing out loud, as he pictured the rotund Kerman chasing him around the park. He could almost hear the bark of Kerman's dogs as they charged behind him. He had never seen any comparisons about Nurmis and Kerman's styles all ready to spring on the converted dog.

But Mike's laugh didn't come off, and won't come off. Kerman reported looking fit and hard as nails. The Syracuse university football star has been practicing law all winter, and the clients must have chased him long and hard.

Kerman has lost some pounds, but he hasn't lost his good-natured grin, and he jumped right into the workouts yesterday morning at the "Y."

Stimpson reported in great shape. He worked out in the morning, and then went back in the afternoon. Harris also reported looking fit. The converted dog may be due for a real workout for the form that made him one of the kid stars of the Southern association for a short time.

Stimpson in his old "rhumatic" red flannel suit, a pair of socks which he borrowed from Coogan, gave color to the new men who have reported as a sturdy lot of well-set-up athletes.

Several of the new men in prime condition now from playing basketball all winter. Russell, a former star of the Vancouver, and Condon, a husky youth from Annapolis, Ontario, were two of the newcomers.

Brower, an infielder, looks as if he might take a healthy swing at the ball. Proeger, Dyer and Schoof were the new hurlers who worked out. Dyer is going to get a surprise when he meets the pitcher, or he'll think he's looking into a mirror.

Chat Stinson and Mike caught the whole squad for the only bit of ball tossed on the training program yesterday, and the sun shined around the gym made up the rest of the bill.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS INITIATE LARGE CLASS

London and St. Thomas Lodges Hold Joint Ceremony in Flower City.

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, April 13.—Knights of Columbus initiation ceremonies were held tonight at the Holy Angels' parish hall, followed by a banquet at the Shrine's clubrooms. The event was one of the most important in the history of the local order, with over 65 candidates from London and St. Thomas receiving degrees.

The initiation ceremony was conducted this afternoon, the second degree being exemplified by John F. Power, Toronto, assisted by E. C. Killingsworth, London, and James McManus, district deputy, St. Thomas. The major degree was exemplified by George L. Bush of Guilford and his staff. The degree work was exemplified in the highest manner possible, the officers in charge conducting the work with all due solemnity.

After the conferring of degrees, the order, with their visitors, returned to the Shrine's clubrooms, where the Catholic women's league served a banquet, under the direction of the president, Mrs. John Farrell. The toast list was as follows: "Our Sovereigns, Spiritual and Temporal," "Our Church," proposed by John F. Power; "Our Order," by State Deputy Col. Dr. Claude Brown; "Our Country," by District Deputy George L. Bush, and "The Ladies," by Fergus Murphy.

During the banquet a program of vocal music was rendered by Miss Marie Bradie of Chicago, Miss Gertrude King and Wm. Jewel of St. Thomas.

HUSBAND, 4 CHILDREN DIE, WOMAN ARRESTED

Indiana Mother Held After Mysterious Deaths in Family.

Associated Press Despatch.

Crown Point, Ind., April 13.—Mrs. Anna Cunningham, of Gary, Indiana, whose husband and four of her six children died under mysterious circumstances within six weeks, was brought here today and lodged in hospital ward at the county jail.

A son, David, is in a critical condition in a Chicago hospital, due to arsenic poisoning.

Lake county authorities announced that Mrs. Cunningham will face a sanity hearing tomorrow afternoon.

EXETER CHURCH CHOR REPEATS EASTER CANTATA

Exeter, April 13.—The Presbyterian church choir repeated the cantata on Sunday evening to a full church. Each part was well taken, and great praise is given those taking part.

All the churches had special Easter services on Sunday with appropriate music.

AFTER RICHARDS' SCALP.

Confirmation of a report from the Pacific coast that William Johnston, former national tennis champion, is arranging to compete in the Wimbledon tournament at London this year is awaited by tennis officials in the east. Friends of Johnston declare he is anxious to try conclusions again with Vincent Richards, at whose hands he suffered defeat last summer in the east-west matches.

STRATFORD RESIDENT IS FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED

Stratford, April 13.—A resident of Stratford for about thirty years, Felix Devlin died in his sleep, at the home of his son-in-law, C. J. McKeough, early this morning.

The body was discovered about 7 o'clock, and he had apparently been dead about an hour. He retired in his usual health. The late Mr. Devlin, who was a native of Guilford, was 73 years of age. From the time of his arrival in Stratford to the time of prohibition he conducted the Devlin brewery, and was well-known in the city and district.

ON HONEYMOON TRIP.

Seaford, April 13.—Dr. and Mrs. James Brockington Latimer of Anderson, South Carolina, who are on their honeymoon trip, are Easter guests at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. George Weir of Seaford.

British Soccer Results

Associated Press Despatch.

London, April 13.—"Bank Holiday" football produced the customary small scores that are looked for near the close of the season, and in both the first and second divisions of the English league no goal-scoring was called upon to exert himself to any great extent. In eight games played in the senior department, only eleven goals were scored. Despite that, only two games were drawn—both goalless—in the first division, while the second produced a crop of five indecisive encounters.

The net result of the contests was to leave the league race as much in the air as ever. West Bromwich Albion took a couple of points from Arsenal this afternoon, and by virtue of this, they were able to jump over Huddersfield Town into first place, but the Town were not engaged today. Tomorrow they play a return match with Burnley.

RAILWAY ISSUES ARE UNSETTLED

General List on Wall Street Is Heavy, Due to Renewed Selling Pressure.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, April 14.—Speculative interest centered largely in the railroad issues during the morning. Strength in Missouri Pacific, Kansas City Southern, and Chicago and Alton was noted. Reports of another huge merger in the Northwestern railroad field, Chicago and Northwestern issues, were spread because of fears for the safety of the common dividend, but they were cleared by noon.
Baltimore and Ohio lost ground on announcement that the maintenance of pay employees had demanded an increase in wages, while Am. Arbor preferred advanced 2 1/2 points in apparent anticipation of resumption of dividend in the July meeting. Omaha preferred rose 2 points.
The general list turned rather heavy in the afternoon when selling pressure was exerted against several specialties. Conocoil falling back 2 1/2 points to 100.00, and American Petroleum set back 1 point to 100.00.
Call money renewed at 3/4 per cent.

Market Sidelights

CANADIAN TRADE.
Reporting to the department of commerce, Washington, on economic and trade developments in Canada, American Trade Commissioner Lynn W. Perkins at Ottawa, reports that the volume of wholesale and retail trade is up to expectations for the season. Of the industrial situation in the Dominion, Commissioner Perkins said: "Improvements in the industrial situation are reported fairly active, and our mills are working about 10 per cent of blast furnaces were in operation in February. Pig iron production during the month increased 4 per cent over January. Production of steel ingots and castings advanced 30 per cent. Steel manufacturers are well occupied on railroads. Metal markets in general show a tendency toward a more active sale. The automobile trade is expanding, and a large demand is expected from the rural communities this season. The earnings of Canada's principal railways during February were smaller than a year ago, but the marked reductions were effected in operating expenses."
SUGAR CONDITIONS.
The International Institute of Agriculture in its monthly bulletin issued from its central bureau at Rome, outlines the world's situation in 1925. It goes on to state that last year's output of sugar was the largest since 1914. In 1924 there was a considerable increase in the world's best sugar, 25 per cent. It is predicted that the approaching 1925-26 season will be completed with only 120,000,000 in 1925-26. Official data from the United States is complete, but on the whole, excluding India, we are going to have apparently as much as last year's supply. The cane sugar together with the institute thinks that the total supply of sugar available during the current season atkins 450,000,000 centals or about 10 per cent more than last year.

WEAKNESS OF FRENCH BONDS IS N. Y. FEATURE

Delay in Forming New Cabinet Given As Reason.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, April 13.—Bond prices fluctuated within narrow limits today as the pace of trading slackened. Total sales of approximately $7,000,000 were the smallest of any full day session this year and reflected a slight speculative interest in the market.
Weakness of French bonds attributed to the delay in forming a new cabinet, and the necessity of legislation to legalize the execution of the loan, were outstanding features of trading.
Many of the governmental, municipal and railroad issues sold at the lowest levels of the year, but the extreme prices of one to two points were partially retrieved before the close.
Selling of the northwestern railroad stocks depressed the market for the remainder of the session. Bonds were bid fractionally. Price movements of the rail stock generally, however, were mixed.
United States government obligations displayed a firmness of character, and the comparative ease of time money rates. The treasury funds closed 101 to 40 cents, and the bonds were found the 1925 high levels.

BURGLARS FIRE STORE.
Fort William, April 13.—After filling two suitcases with wearing apparel Sunday morning, burglars attempted to burn the Evans' men's furnishing store here. Inflammable goods had been placed in the basement of the building and set on fire. A milkman noticed the blaze and turned in the alarm, the fire being extinguished before reaching the upper floor.

Heart Was Weak Nerves All Gone

Mrs. J. H. Hallenbeck, 117½ Wellington avenue, St. Catharines, Ont., writes:—"I was in a gas explosion; it left me with a weak heart, and my nerves were all gone. I suffered everything; couldn't sleep, or endure any excitement, and when left alone I felt as if I could scream. I took dizzy spells, often falling and bruising myself. My mother read about Mrs. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and bought me a box, but having taken so many different kinds of medicine it just seemed that I did not have any confidence in any of them. I took one box of H. & N. Pills, and felt so much better I continued with them until I had used five boxes, and after I had taken them I did not need any more. I cannot praise or recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills too highly after all they have done for me."

MAID OF ORLEANS LIVES AGAIN IN JULIA ARTHUR'S PORTRAYAL

Bernard Shaw's Brilliant Play Thrills Londoners With Its Keen Satire. RECEIVES TRIBUTE.

Julia Arthur is crossing Canada with a message from Bernard Shaw. Though the lips of "Saint Joan" she decries the world for its petty ecclesiasticism, its shallowness, its hypocrisy, and utters the age-long cry, "How long, O Lord, how long!" How long until the world is ready to entertain the truly saintly-minded? Londoners heard the message last night, when the Grand theatre was filled for Miss Arthur's first night here. And London was thrilled as much by the magnificence of Miss Arthur's acting as by the powerful conception of the play. It was the performance of an actress who is able to forget self in the extreme demands of her art. And through it all, Shaw, with his exasperating satire, shone in all his Shavianism.

Gets Royal Welcome.
It was a welcome such as is rarely accorded an artist, which London gave to Miss Arthur when the final curtain fell, and she appeared to receive a great sheaf of roses from before the footlights. But this applause fell into insignificance before the silent tribute which could be felt in the theatre throughout the whole evening, a silence which could not restrain itself in some of the biggest moments of the play.

London's welcome went further, in the decoration of the boxes with patriotic standards, placed there by the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire. Greatest of Canadian actresses, she was given a true welcome home.

The herculean task of remembering over 770 lines is but one of the many demands which "Saint Joan" places upon Miss Arthur. From beginning to end her role calls for intense dramatic acting. She herself, is spiritual minded enough to enter into the almost fanatic spiritualism of the Maid of Orleans. She lives every minute of the part and comes out of it smiling at her accomplishment but intensely weary in body and mind.

Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan" is a lovely woman with human weaknesses, a very human fear of pain and suffering, but possessing high

Home Entered 5 Times In Year

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, April 13.—Three watches, one a diamond studded heirloom believed to be 200 years old, were taken by burglars from the home of Miss Lila Softley, here last night, the robbery being the fifth she has experienced within the past twelve months. The thieves entered by the front door, neighbors thinking they were the family returning from church.

spiritual courage. Through her mouth he lashes the churchmen of Joan's day with a bitter lashing, and in their lips he puts his satirical comment on the frailties of humanity. It is this subtle humor of Shaw's which relieves the tenseness of a tragedy which otherwise would be too great to be borne. He plays upon his audience until he has them in tears and then right away he is laughing again. Only an actress of Julia Arthur's greatness could play Shaw's Joan. It is but a matter of moments as he rushes from the ridiculous to the sublime.

Miss Arthur in figure and personality is admirably adapted to the role. She wears armor with the boldness necessary to a leader of troops. Among the most dramatic moments of the play is her preparation to lead the French soldiers across the bridge over the River Loire. Indeed, in the progress of the play, Miss Arthur becomes so mixed up with the Maid of Orleans that it is impossible to separate the two.

Shaw Sermonizes.
Shaw has his biggest chance for sermonizing and subtle satire in the epilogue, which is supposed to occur 25 years after the maid has been burned at the stake. The scene is laid in King Charles' chateau. The maid appears in spirit. The churchmen and soldiers of the time of her martyrdom come again at the call of her spirit. Even a man out of the present day appears to announce the canonizing of Saint Joan—appears in his "funny" present-day costume and gives Shaw an opportunity to satirize the modern church. All bow in tribute to a dead "Saint Joan," but none will consider a live, flesh and blood saint. Even the modernist trots back to his church, declaring that they had not considered such a possibility at the time of the canonizing. Miss Arthur's brilliant acting is ably supported by a large and talented cast. The stage settings are simple, and yet so arranged as to give the appearance of bigness and splendor. "Saint Joan" will not be forgotten by those who witnessed Miss Arthur's interpretation last night or who will be privileged to see her tonight and tomorrow.

AT THE THEATRES

LOEW'S THEATRE

"Too Many Kisses."

Richard Dix, starring in "Too Many Kisses" at Loew's the first half of the week, is a real treat. His newest picture is clean, fresh and vigorous, and with Frances Howard as his leading lady one is given a pleasant thrill of dash and beauty.

The plot carries one from America to the Basque country, that delightful spot between France and Spain where "no woman marries outside her race."

Then Dix gives one a full measure of fun in love and battle. He meets bandits and a girl and the outcome winds up one of the sort of pictures that make movie fans.

Three acts of vaudeville of fine variety add much to the bill. Powers Duo, two acrobats, present a finished act in balancing which is daring and pretty to watch.

Warren and Hays, with plenty of jokes and a bit of fine dancing, appeal to one as decidedly original and greatly amused the large audience.

The Swiss Song Birds are three women who possess splendid voices, and a chap who plays well on a stringed instrument. Their offering is unique and pretty and with a pleasant setting is a highly pleasing act.

A Spratt family comedy, "The Lost Dog" is really funny, and with a Pathe News film Loew's offers Londoners one of the finest programs seen in the city for some time.

CAPITOL THEATRE

"The Lady."

"The Lady," Norma Talmadge's new photoplay, reveals her in a new guise—that of a pretty and vivacious soubrette of a musical show of the Gibson girl period. Miss Talmadge wears the typical soubrette costume in "The Lady," which was shown at the Capitol Theatre yesterday for the first of a three-day run. She struts saucily across the stage, does a buck and wing, jauntily sings a song as she tosses flowers to the Johnnies in the first row, and takes her exit "cartwheel" fashion into the wings.

"The Lady" is a pleasing photoplay, depicting Norma Talmadge as the toast of the theatrical world, the gayest and most popular of Monte Carlo's society, and then as an inmate of the toughest "dives" in Europe. She becomes a half-demented "flower girl" in the streets of London, after she has lost both husband and baby, and finally ends up as the head of a café just back of the world war front, where the soldiers of all nations call her "the little mother of all the world."

Miss Talmadge is supported by an excellent cast, and the picture itself is altogether one of the best of the year.

A pleasing comedy, "Don't Pinch," a Pathe news picture, and excellent music provided by the Capitol Theatre little symphony orchestra completes an entertaining program. "When You and I Were Seventeen" is Harry Carter's, the Capitol singing usher, piece for this week.

ILDERTON RESIDENT DIES IN HOSPITAL AT LONDON

George C. Woolley, Widely Known Blacksmith, Ill Only Few Hours.

Special to The Advertiser.
Ilderton, April 13.—Death came with startling suddenness on Saturday evening at St. Joseph's hospital, London, to George Cyril Woolley, a well-known and widely esteemed resident of Ilderton, where for the past ten years he had been engaged in blacksmithing and farming. On his return to his boarding-house from work, Mr. Woolley complained of illness. Dr. W. R. Quinn, who was called, found that an immediate operation offered the only chance of saving Mr. Woolley's life, and rushed him to the hospital at London. The patient's heart, however, proved unequal to the strain, and death came as the anaesthetic was being administered.

Mr. Woolley was born in 1882 in Ashwell, Rutland, England, coming to this country about 18 years ago. He was unmarried and is survived by Petroleum—a product that is of vital interest to every man, woman and child in Canada.

See how prehistoric animal and vegetable matter has been transformed into petroleum, the 20th Century wonder product.

How the pioneers locate the likely deposits of petroleum bearing sands. How they raise the derricks and sink the shafts. How they blast out the oil pockets. How gushers act. How the oil is pumped up from hundreds of feet below. How it is stored. How they lay pipe lines across hills, valleys or rivers. How the oil is forced through hundreds of miles of pipe lines to refineries far distant from the producing wells.

How the "Go Devil" chases dirt out of the pipe lines. How the oil is received at the refineries and how by many distilling and refining processes, calling for vast and costly mechanical equipment, they produce gasoline, benzene, lubricating oils, fuel oils and petroleum coke, all from the original "crude".

Nurses Would Place Ban On Smoking By Patients; Ontario Convention Opens

Delegates Disapprove of Smokes, Fearing Fire in Hospital Beds.
DISCUSS PROBLEMS

Many Important Resolutions Will Be Brought Before Today's Session.

The 150 graduate nurses from all Ontario convening in London just now, occupied yesterday afternoon with a series of round-table conferences, in which every phase of nursing activity was discussed. Several important resolutions referring to public health nursing and nursing education will be brought before the general conference of Ontario graduate nurses, which opens session again this morning in Wesley Hall.

"Should patients be allowed to smoke in hospitals?" was one of the many interesting questions which came before the conference on nursing education held in Victoria hospital, with Miss E. MacPherson Dickson in charge. It was pointed out that if helpless patients were permitted to smoke fire might result. However, the conference decided that it was not its place to regulate against such a habit, but that it would put itself on record as not approving of smoking in hospital.

Hours For Nurses.
The agenda for the conference included such important matters as 20-hour duty for special nurses, the standardizing of smaller hospitals, the requirements for pupils entering nursing training schools, the requirements for graduation, the qualifications of a registered nurse, and how

Chatham Martin Colony Returns

Special to The Advertiser.
Chatham, April 13.—A family of martins have arrived from the south to spend the summer in Chatham. They have located in a birdhouse on the property of Capt. Crow, their place of residence last summer. In the family this year there are five pairs.

the hospital may assist in solving the problem of unemployment among graduate nurses.

Several interesting demonstrations were given during the adjourning, the Alexandra Munn conducting the demonstration of standard training school records for the province; Miss Laura C. E. of infant feeding, and Miss N. E. MacPherson of nursing procedures. Miss Grace Fairley led a discussion on the serving of hot meals to patients.

Public Health Work.
Dr. H. W. Hill of the Institute of Public Health was the chief speaker at the public health conference held in Wesley Hall yesterday afternoon, his subject being "Public Health Nursing of the Future."

The speaker explained that public health nursing was divided into two activities, prevention of disease and promotion of health. Along the latter line the public health nursing had been advancing rapidly. There were pre-natal clinics, child welfare clinics, tuberculosis clinics and so on for the promotion of health in the community. It was in the field of disease prevention that the public health nurse of the future must develop along both lines.

To illustrate his point, Dr. Hill referred to an epidemic which broke out in a small Minnesota town in 1908, when he used public health nurses for the first time. There were 500 cases of typhoid and although every available nurse was working, many of the patients had to be nursed by members of their own families. Dr. Hill knew from experience that a good many of these untrained nurses would infect themselves from their patients, because of their ignorance of the way to look after them. So a plan was tried out.

Two of the trained nurses were secured. They did not actual nursing themselves but went from house to house teaching the untrained nurses not only how to look after the sick properly, but to protect themselves in so doing. Thus, 50 or 60 were properly nursed, where only four patients might have benefited from the knowledge of these two nurses. From this time on, the community maintained a public health nurse, and it was considered exceedingly worthwhile.

Other Discussions.
Other important discussions during the afternoon were on "The Visiting Nurse," led by Miss Kate Cowan of the Victorian Order of Nurses; "The Nurse in the School," led by Miss M. Lambie of New Zealand, now of the Toronto department of health; "The Nurse in the Hospital," led by Miss Viola Henderson of the Toronto general hospital; "Canadian Red Cross Society," led by Miss M. E. Wilkinson; "The Nurse in Industry," led by Mrs. Sylvia of New Ontario; "Mothers' Allowances," the paper read by Miss Gertrude Barty on behalf of her sister, Miss Helen Barty.

A third conference on "Private Duty Nursing" was led by Miss Helen Carruthers, and included discussion on extension courses for graduate nurses and employment of pupil nurses on special duty in hospitals.

Following the adjournment of the conference, the delegates were entertained at a banquet in the Smallman & Ingram dining-room, over which Miss Agnes Malloch presided.

UNITED CHURCH HOLDS EASTER ENTERTAINMENT
Special to The Advertiser.
Seaford, April 13.—A very successful Easter Sunday school entertainment was given in North Side United church on Friday evening. The program included numbers by the primary and juniors, a pretty tableaux, "Rock of Ages," and a pantomime by Miss Hamilton's class. The cantata, "From Cross To Glory," was worthy of special mention, as were also the selections by the school and choir orchestra. Readings by Miss Frances Winter were features of the evening.

The Romance of Rayon

DISPLAY OF NEW FABRICS

Synthetic gold and diamonds! Alchemists strove to give the world these artificial riches. Modern science has struggled to give the world a more useful product—artificial silk.

The fabric world, convinced at last of success, has given the new name of "Rayon" to these artificial silk productions. Just as the cocoon, by marvelous instinct, can spin its silk thread, so modern science and machinery have taken certain products of the forest, and even minerals, and given the world a new and wonderful textile.

Realizing the importance of being "first always" with new fabrics, the wash goods department has prepared a display of "Rayon" fabrics that will interest you in their variety—as well as delight you with their moderate cost.

PRINTED RAYON MOROCAIN—Of course, Prints are quickly shown on Rayon, for they are leaders in every fabric for spring. The charm of these Printed Morocains in lovely color effects has led many to compare them favorably with materials at twice the price; 38-inch ..... $1.35 and $1.50 yard

Ready For Golf
Knitted Suits At These Prices!
$9.50 and $12.50

Two clever models in knitted wear—that appear in many shades, but at just these two modest prices.

Plain knitted skirt, with knitted coat in sweater or jacquette style. One style takes trimming of a heather-bone stitch—the other, narrow silky bands of mercerized wool in contrasting shades.

RED BLOOD MAKES ALL OUR STRENGTH

Vitality And Nerve Power Of Every Man And Woman Depends On The Blood, The Supreme Force of Life

What gives every man his strength? Red blood. What makes the vibrant beauty of women? Red blood.

Red blood is the supreme force of life. If we lack strength, vitality or nerve power, we should think first of our blood. We can quickly create the more red blood. Then, through the more red blood we regain our vital nerve force.

Weak and discouraged men and women can find an easy, safe way to nourish the blood supply. Win-carnis gives to the blood the very elements from which it is created. For fifty years this red blood builder has restored exhausted, nervous, pale, thin sufferers.

If your body vitality is failing, go to your druggist, obtain a bottle of Win-carnis and begin the safe Win-carnis treatment.

Win-carnis is so effective that only three tablespoonful a day need be taken. Try Win-carnis at once and see the new strength just a few days will bring—Advt.

4 out of 5
Dental statistics show that four out of every five over 40—and thousands younger, too—are victims of dreaded Pyorrhea. Will you escape?

Pyorrhea is a disease of the gums—not the teeth
You may take good care of your teeth and still get Pyorrhea. Once Pyorrhea secures a firm hold, pus pockets form, gums become weak and flabby, the teeth loosen and fall out no matter how white and sound they may be.

Forhan's means healthy gums
It contains the right proportion of Forhan's Astringent, as used by the dental profession in treating Pyorrhea. Forhan's protects the gums, keeps them in a firm, healthy condition, and leaves the mouth sweet, fresh and wholesome. If you don't care to discontinue your regular tooth paste, at least brush your teeth and gums once a day with Forhan's.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.
