VANQUISHED THE CHAMPS.

"Give us a start, boys. We want a goal in the first ten minutes."
Such were the words addressed to the members of the Chatham team by Captain C. B. Sissons Saturday as they left their dressing room in the drill shed to meet the husky Darrell club, the present cup-holders, in the first home game of the season.
And Captain Sissons had the satisfaction of having the "goods delivered."

From the kick-off Chatham becam

From the kick-off Chatham became actively aggresive and six minutes after commencement Angus cleverly speeded the ball through the Darrell flags for the first and winning goal. The match was close and exciting from start to finish. In the first half Chatham was always threatening and repeatedly worked the ball dangerously near the Darrell fortress. In the second half the visitors had an occasional look-in but the splendid defence of the Chatham backs rendered their inroads ineffective.

The earnest work of Captain Sissons and Manager Messer, in training and coaching the team was apparent. There was considerable improvement on the style of play evidenced in the Kent Bridge match of the previous week and every player worked hard and effectively for the victory.

of the previous week and every player worked hard and effectively for the victory.

Baker, the Maple City goal custodiam, has yet to have his colors lowered. He is a steady, clear-headed player and carried off a couple of splendid stops in the second half.

To the two stalwart backs, Harry Flowers and Captain C. B. Sissons, the honors of the game are due. Their work throughout was magnificent and any forward line that penetrates their sturdy defence will have to be up and doing.

McNaughton, Fraser and Piggott made a fine half-back line. Mac was exceptionally brilliant and the vigorous checking and clever drop kicks of Fraser earned him repeated applause. Piggott more than made good in holding down the Darrell right wing.

On the forward line Kellington, although suffering from a severe sprain, played, a strong and effective game. Smith showed splendid form and Messer was always brilliant and fast. Dean did some capital work and Angus played in spirited style.

The Darrell team played a hard and earnest game and deserve much credit. Their club is always a difficult one to beat for they play good strong football. Jenks, Abraham and Bennie on the forward line were particularly good, their halves and backs played splendidly and French in goal is always a hard proposition to get it past. The Darrell club deserves praise for its good showing. ANGUS WON THE HAT. ANGUS WON THE HAT.

ANGUS WON THE HAT.

The handsome hat—the choice of any in their establishment—generously donated by Messrs. Stone & Co., the well-known hatters, to the first player on either team to score a goal was won by R. W. Angus, of The Planet, who scored shortly after the start, on a good clean shot. Angus was playing on the inside left and met a pass with telling effect and the ball bounded through amid hearty applause.

"Tell Mr. Angus to come in and pick out the best hat in the store," said ex-Ald. Wm. Stope generously Saturday night. "Our gift was to the player on either team who scored first."

first."
The interest and generosity of Messrs. Stone & Co. was heartily appreciated by both teams.

One to nil!
That's the score of Saturday's game between Chatham and Darrell. Chatham did all the counting and won a hardly contested game.

Referee Sherman Langford, of Kent Bridge, blew his whistle at 4.40 and the game was off. Chatham had the advantage of the wind. The ball was, immediately after the kick-off, carried down the field towards the Darrell citadel to be driven out by Boulton but was not long in returning.

Boulton but was not long in returning.

The ball kept hovering round the Barrell goal but the backs relieved nicely or, if it so happened it was a shot on goal, French was usually there. Rush after rush did the Chatham forwards make until Smith, who was playing outside left, brought the ball down the left of the field, centered to Anderson, who passed to Angus, inside left, Angus scoring the winning and only goal of the game six miutes after play had commenced.

six miutes after play had commenced.

Kellington now replaced Angus on the left wing. From the scoring of the goal till the end of the first half the ball, was pretty much at the Darrell end of the field. Dean and Messer on the right wing and Kellington and Smith on the left were responsible for some good combination work. McNaughton on the Chatham half-back line played a phenomenal game, working hard at all times and always with the ball. When a Darrell man thought he had the ball he didn't, because McNaughton beat him to it. Thus the first half ended with the ball about the centre of the field. The second half was altogether different from the first in that the play seemed slow and less interesting. Gregory of the Darrell team, and Messer from the Chatham team, were forced to retire, having been hurt. Angus replaced Messer on the right wing and French replaced Gregory. Fraser and Kellington, too, met with accidents but continued the game.

Darrell now had the advantage of the last part of the game, but was always in the right spot at the right time. Baker is a good goal keeper. The Darrell aggregation worked hard at the last and it looked several times as if a goal would be scored, but it was not to be, Several corners were kicked at the Chatham end but were always driven out. Bert Ellison, of Essex, from the college, played left half for the Darrell team and proved a good one, always steady and keeping his wing pretty much under control. "Bill" Boulton, too, from the college, played at full back and put up a star game.

The line-up of the teams was as follows:

When asked whether Canada, grown populous by immigration, spiritually British but materially American, might not bring about a union of England with America, Carnegie replied: "Certainly not. Canada has no future except as a part of the States. Her native population increases more slowly than that of Scotland. She only added 536,000 to her population in ten years, and of these 440,000 came from abroad. Canada, standing alone, can never become a great industrial nation. Her steel industry is a figment, and Cape Breton a mirage. Nothing there need ever trouble the United States. London, May 12.—The Under Foreign Secretary, Lord Cranborne, announced in the House of Commons that the British Consul at Newchwang reported that there had been no reoccupation of Newchwang by the Russians. Friendly communications on the subject, Lord Cranborne added, had been addressed to the Russian Government during the past few days by Great Britain and the United States independently, and intimated that it would adhere to its engagements to evacuate Manchuria, although the evacuation was temporarily delayed. Russia had also explained that she had no intention of adopting any measure tending to exclude foreign Consuls or obstruct foreign commerce or the use of the ports. Under these circumstances the British Governmen; saw no sufficient reason for securing concerted action between the United States, Japan and Great Britain.

THE CZAR'S WARNING.

London, May 12.-Andrew Carnegie AIMS TO PREVENT ANTI-SEMITE OUTBREAKS.

> Report of the Minister of the Interior on the Recent Riots at Kishenev.

St. Petersburg, May 12 .- The Minister of the Interior has circulated a long official account of the recent anti-semitic outbreak at Kishenev, capital of Bessarabia. He says 45 persons were killed and 424 were injured, and that 700 houses and 600

jured, and that 700 houses and 600 shops were looted. The Minister attributes the rioting to religious ill-will and reports of ritual murders leading to a clamor for an attack on the Jews, and says that the immediate cause of the outbreak was the ill-treatment of a Christian woman by a Jew. The Minister of the Interior, on the direct instruction of the Czar, has notified the Governors that they will be held personally responsible for their failure to take proper measures to prevent similar acts of violence.

New York, May 12.—The Journal publishes several letters received by Jewish residents from relatives or riends in Kishenev, dealing with the recent riots. Summarizing these, The Journal says that ten persons were killed on the first day, the trouble starting when a Russian soldier, without provocation, stabbed a Jew to the heart, and continues:—But in reality the massacre had but begun. The mob, though hysterical, was still possessed of a slight awe of the authorities. They wondered how far they might go. When night brought no warning that further murder and depredations would bring quick punishthe massacre had but begun. The mob, though hysterical, was still possessed of a slight awe of the authorities. They wondered how far they might go. When night brought no warning that further murder and depredations would bring quick punishment, the rioters decided to make the next day one of complete destruction to the life and property of the Jews. Mysteriously word reached all the Christian families living in and near the Jewish quarters of the city that they must signify their faithfulness and title to the Christian creed by marking above the doorways of the houses the sign of the cross. Some of the Jews heard the warning, but remained staunch to their faith and chose rather to be martyrs than to choose this means of saving their homes and lives. In the dawn of the next day flames shot upward toward the sky. In the little narrow streets of the Jewish quarter smoke rolled in bilinding, choking density. In the broad business 'horoughfare big buildings were ablaze. The rioting forces were in squads—a squad to a street. They broke down the doors of the Jewish houses, they dragged the venerable men into the streets by their beards, and there with the curb stones for blocks sank daggers into their throats or else stood them up and shot them down. Women and children were among those slain. Many soldiers had, in spite of the fact that they were in uniform, joined the rioters. One soldier came running out of a house in Alexandrowsky street holding an infant in long clothes by the neck. The soldier drew, a knife from the scabbard at his side. Then he called for the crowd to look. He threw the baby high in the air. As if descended he caught the little one on the point of his knife blade. The weapon ran through the child's throat. Flinging the body in the street the slayer passed on with the mob. Suddenly from the house in front of which the murder had been committed there came a piercing shriek. The mother of the child' threw herself out of the window and lay dead in the street beside the infant.

LUMBER MUST BE REMOVED. Ottawa Council Considering the Fire

It was impossible to make an accurate census of the people who had been rendered homeless or of the losses susrendered nomeless of of the losses sus-tained. "Personally," said the Mayor, "I think it would be a mistake for us to go outside the City of Ottawa in any appeal for relief we might make, if we decide to make an appeal. I think, in view of the splendid response which came from all parts of the world three years ago, it would never do for Ottawa to go be-yond its own confines again."

it would never do for Ottawa to go beyond its own confines again."

The committee to be appointed should not only inquire into the present state of affairs, but investigate the whole question of fire protection, including the disposition of the lumber piles. "For," observed the Mayor, "in my own judgment the time has come when the lumber piles must be got rid

They will also recommend that $50 be granted to each family, spinster or widow whose property was destroyed, with the understanding that this is to be final, so far as the City Council is concerned. The committee agreed that it would be inadvisable to make any appeal for assistance outside of Ottawa. The local newspapers and the banks will, however, be asked to open subscriptions. ALL WORK AND NO PLAY.

The season having come around for the discussion of the old question "why the young folks do not stay on the farm," the Montreal Star contends that it is for want of amuse-The country is dull for the average youth, especially where the old folks do not bestir themselves to promote the formation of libraries and provide reading clubs, concerts and social gatherings. The want of innocent diversions and good commany accounts not a little for the alcohol habit, since the barroom is too often the only social club in the country town. The old folks are to blame sometimes for not considering the young person's need for social intercourse. "So the young men and women," says the Star, "flock to the cities, ready to take any sort of a job so long as it enables them to live near bright, busy streets and the cheap pleasures of the town. A little more profit attached to farming will not counteract this lure. Nothing will, except the chance for a brighter and more social life on the farm. When a village springs up it helps keep the young people of that neighborhood contented. Concerts and picnics and 'doings' generally have a capital influence. Even the much-abused-traweling circus may satisfy a longing for glitter and excitement. Plenty of good reading, easy access to upto-date papers are always forces on the right side. What the farm needs is more social illumination-less grind and more gayety."

Professor D. J. Cunningham, F.R.S., it a discourse on giants at the Royal Dub lin Society, said that though a distinguished French Academician reckoned that Adam was 123 feet in height, and Though in Feet, and though in mediaeval times there was a general opinion that e giant was a person about nine feet high he did not consider there was any conclusive evidence to show that the human stature had ever exceede eight feet.

Stature had ever exceeded eight feet.

Miss Mande Gonne, who was married Miss Maude Gonne, who was married the other day to Major McBride, late of the Boer army, is the daughter of an Irish Protestant landlord, serving in the English army, and was born in Kerry in 1866. She is good-looking, and having been presented at the viceregal court she reigned as a beauty in Dublin society for some time. When her father died come years ago she identified herself with the extreme section of the Irish party and has been a keen agitator ever ty, and has been a keen agitator ever-since. Before the Cambridge Philosophical ociety in England, recently, Professor lidgeway produced evidence, historical and scientific, to prove that the Barbary aboves, from which all the fine horses of the word have spring, was derived eith er from the zebra of North-east Africa er from the zebra of North-east Africa or, more likely, from some very closely allied species now extinct. North Africa, therefore, and not Arabia, is the original home of the thoroughbred. More than 900 years before Christ King Solomon imported horses from Egypt, and Egypt got them from Lybia. "It is now clear." says Professor Ridgeway, "that the Arabs never owned a good horse until they had become masters of North Africa and the Barbary horses, from whom are sprung our own racing stock."

Remedy Cured Him Completely.

Nicolet, Que., May 10.—(Special).—
Of the many people in this neighborhood who have been brought back to health and strength through the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills few are in a better position to give the public the benefit of their experience than Joseph Hamel. He knows both sides of the question—the suffering and the relief.

"I suffered from Kidney Disease for three or four years," says Mr. Hamel. "For two years I would take two or three days off work a week. I was continually sick and forced to walk like an old man. I lost all my energy and became discouraged.

"After trying a lot of medicines that only gave relief for a while I was fortunate enough to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. After using three boxes I was completely cured."

Mr. Hamel is enthusiastic in his praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills and there is not the slightest doubt of the correctness of his statement as dozens of people can testify to his

THE LONDON COUNTY COUNCIL'S SCHEME AT TOOTING.

Cottage.

In a few weeks the first section of the new workmen's cottages at Tooting will be opened, and it is worth while recording, says Lloyd's Weskly Newspaper, the details of a housing, experiment that will be watched with interest by local authorities throughout the country. Four years ago the committee of the London County Council engaged in viewing sites in South London had their attention directed to the Totterdown fields estate, which is situated near the tramway terminus at Tooting, lying between High street and the road leading from Tooting Bec common to ing from Tooting Bec common to Mitcham road, known as Church lane. The estate of over 38 acres included a house known as Kinrara, and there was some difficulty in ac-quiring it, an agent of the owner

The purchase was eventually completed under the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, at £1,150 per acre, and the task of clearing the ground and erecting workmen's dwellings was put in hand as soon as the law's delays would permit. One of the initial difficulties was to frame a scheme that would complete the complete that would complete the control of the One of the initial difficulties was to frame a scheme that would comply with all the Council's requirements as to working-class dwellings, and at the same time not put too many cottages on the estate. Finally a scheme was fixed on, and it has now been practically carried out. The cost was estimated at 2495,000.

The scheme provides for three laterals and the control of the cost was estimated at 2495,000. The scheme provides for three lat-

The scheme provides for three lateral and three main streets, the latter lined with plane trees planted just inside the forecourts of the cottages, the arrangements of the roads enabling the whole estate to be divided into 1,244 plots for the erection of cottages of four different kinds. These vary in area, frontage, and depth, according as they are first, second, third, or fourth class, and are to be arranged in terraces of about 18 cottages to each terrace, with a space of some 15 feet between. It was specially ordered that none of the cottages should have back additions, a provision designed to promote the free circulation of air. The table of accommodation is the principal feature in the scheme. First-class cottages have five rooms the principal feature in the scheme. First-class cottages have five rooms and scullery, and 29 of them provide for 290 people. Of the second class, 100 with four rooms and kitchen house 800 persons, and 109, with three rooms and kitchen, house 651. There are 818 third-class cottages on the list, with three rooms and scullery, accommodating altogether 4, 908. The fourth-class tenements, which have three rooms and kitchen 1908. Loftiest Lighthouse in the World.
The new lighthouse just completed on the Isle Vierge, off the coast of Brittany, has the distinction of being the most lofty yet erected. The new lighthouse stands in close prox-linity to an older one dating from 1845, which it is intended to replace. L'He Vierge is a rocky islet, situated a little to the east of the River Abercrach, which enters the sea on the north side of the head-land off which lies Ushant Isle. The old light, was deemed of insufficient low, but from its inadequate optical equipment and from its insufficient elevation. It was therefore, says Engineering, decided to replace it by a new light of the first older, with a focal plane 75.18 metres (246.65 feet) above ground level, or 4.18 metres (13.71 feet) higher than that of the Barfeur-Gatteville light, and 15.18 metres (49.8) Loftiest Lighthouse in the World. Furnace work on the shortest notice, Fatility and 15.18 metres (49.8 feet) higher than the famous light at Genoa, which, however, dates from the sixteenth century. The masonry for the new structure was begun at the end of July, 1897, and was finished in a total time of about four years and eight months. The lantern in the meantime had been finished by Messrs. Barbier, and formed a prominent exhibit at the Paris Exposition of 1900. The quindation of the new work is on a granite reef, coased in parts by a sandy bed varying from 2.50 to 3.50 metres (8.2 feet to 11.5 feet) in depth. A peculiarity of the masonry lies in the fact that it is constructed of small stones instead of the massive blocks usual in work executed by the Trinity Corporation.

Two Agonizing Spring Diseases Quickly Cured By Paine's Celery Compound

The Marvellous Power of The Compound Astonishes All Who Use It.

In removing such diseases as rheu-matism and neuralgia from the sys-tem in spring time, Paine's Celery Compound begins its good work by purifying the blood, regulating the nervous system and creating a na-tural appetite. Rheumatism and neu-ralgia are common results of slug-gish and poisoned blood, and unralgia are common results of sluggish and poisoned blood, and unhealthy action of the kidneys and liver. Pathologists—agree that the morbid principle in the blood is uric acid, which acts upon the joints and muscles, causing pain and suffering. Neuralgia is inflammation or other morbid condition of some portion of the hervous system. Neither disease remains long in the system when the sufferer uses Paine's Celery Compound. If the reader of this is suffering the torments of either disease, let him simply try one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound and carefully note the results. Mr. J. Y. Hemming, London, Ont., says:

"I suffered for years with inflammatory rheumatism, which baffled the skill of medical men. I had every form of treatment known to specialists."

matory rheumatism, which baffled the skill of medical men. I had every form of treatment known to specialists, and visited mineral springs, but obtained only temporary relief. Almost given up in despair, I was asked to try Paine's Celery Compound, and I thank God such a blessing was brought to my notice. The use of three bottles of the great remedy gave me relief from pain and I stept better. Ten bottles worked for me a complete cure. I have no hesitation in recommending Paine's Celery Compound to all rheumatic sufferers; it cures surely and permanently."

Mrs. P. N. Mather, Vancouver, B. C., a cured woman, says:

"Neuralgia in the head and face made life a misery for me for five years. The doctors said I would never get rid of it. I had heard so much about Paine's Celery Compound that I determined to give it a trial. After the use of four bottles I am a cured woman and have not been troubled with the disease for five months. I owe my present good health, comfort and happiness to Paine's Celery Compound, and advise all neuralgic victims to use it. It is the best medicine in the world."

SUCCESS OF THE BRITISH EXPLOR-ING EXPEDITION.

low Captain Scott Has Added to Know ledge of the Antarctic Continent-South Pole Land Was Once Part o Australia-Map of Antarctic Continent According to Latest Biscoveries.

Scientific and geographical circles Scientific and geographical circles are deeply interested in the information brought from the Antarctics by the relief steamer Morning, which recently arrived at New Zealand after a successful search for the British Antarctic exploring expedition, which sailed from Australia in the fall of 1901 in the ship Discovery, under command of Captain R. F. Scott of the British navy.

The relief party found the Discovery on Jan. 23 in MacMurdo Bay, Victoria Land. The expedition wintered 400 miles farther south than any vessel had previously done, and 100 miles still farther south, reaching latitude 82.17, which establishes a record, being four degrees higher than has heretofore been accomplish-

Not only was this record established, but information of much value to geographers and scientists was obtained. From the fact that Captain Scott in the high southern lati-tude that he attained saw the range of mountains which begins in Vic-toria Land still trending south it is evident that the most important dis covery in Antarctic geography has been made.

Scientists judge from the topography of the land which the Capgraphy of the land which the Captain Scott expedition visited that this range of mountains and high plateau probably extends over or near the south pole and then almost due north to what is known as Graham Land. The mountains and the plateau connected with them discharge enormous glaciers into the Pacific, which makes up the great ice barrier noted by all explorers and which prevents vessels either touching or seeing the mainland from the ing or seeing the mainland from the Mount Erebus and Terror region all the way to Graham Land.

If this line of Antarctica is approximately correct, it is probable that from the other side of Graham Land, south of the Atlantic, the Antarctic continent curves inward and then strikes over toward the northeast until it joins Enderby Land and Keung Land, and finally Wilkes I and which til it joins Enderby Land and Kemp Land, and finally Wilkes Land, which in turn connects with Victoria Land. The Discovery expedition has de-termined that the great ice barrier in the south is a gigantic glacier, and behind it a high mountainous country that probably extends to the pole.

The fact is that there is quite like-The fact is that there is quite likely a great south continent, with huge mountains running through it, covered with masses of ice. It is probable, as has been held by Antarctic explorers, that this land is a continuation of Australia and New Zealand, from which it has been separated in the distant past, because there is a similarity between the animal and plant life there and in the islands at the south of the eastanimal and plant he there and in the islands at the south of the east-ern continent. The ship Discovery was built at Dundee expressly for the expedition and is of exceptional strength. The expedition has been very lucky, having lost but one man. The Morning brought back some of the Discovery party, but Captain Scott still has forty-one men with him. The expedition will return next year.

Aside from the fact that fresh pineapples are a most delicious fruit, they are also one of the most healthful. In this country in particular, plenty of fresh fruit should be eaten in the spring. The acid in the pine apples is just what the blood needs to tone it up.

Then they are decidedly pleasant to take, very juicy, and fine flavored; price is very reasonable,

The Army's beneficient operations are maintained gurety by the free-will offerings of the people. The needs of its vast missionary dabors among the heathen abroad and the down-fallen at home are chiefly through the agency of Self Denial. The Army is doing splendid work in its Industrial Homes, Rescue and Maternity Homes, Men's and Women's Shelters, established in different centres in this country, while the world over, the Army has about 600 similar refuges for the fallen and destitute. The enthusiasm with which the Salvationists themselves enter into the Self Denial week is remarkable, and it would probably be hard to find a wearer of the uniform who has not in addition to pecuniary sacrifice, denied himself some luxury or partial mecessity of food or clothing by way of discipline. The Self Denial fund is considerably augmented by assistance from outside friends far and near, and this worthy effort should not be forgotten by those who are in a position to assist.

SURPRISING RESULT OF STREET PAVING

Bitulithic Seems to Have Turned the Trick

Street Railway's Experience with its Obduracy-Mayor Head's Great Service to City.

The following is a clipping from the Nashville Daily News of April 9, 1903, re Bitulithic, which is recommended for Queen street:

"That stuff's no good for paving, I tell you, and we are wasting our money in fooling with it," exclaimed a member of the City Council some eight months ago.

The proposition to give a further trial to the Bituminous macadam, or as recently christened, Bitulithic pav-ing, was under consideration. The as recently christened, firstline having, was under consideration. The opposition was strong, and it was by a slim margin that the appropriation bill was passed. It was authorized that Broad and Summer streets be that Broad and Summer streets be paved with the experimental material. "Robinson, I want to borrow a few hammers for my night gang. Cutting through that d.—— paving yesterday with those chisels knocked the heads off mine," one boss in charge of the re-gauging work of the street railway said to another yesterday aftermoon in front of the College street transfer station entrance.

Late last summer the Public Square was paved with the new Bitulithic composition. The Nashville Railway, in making the gauge standard on the Square, found it necessary to tear up a portion of this paving. Tuesday morning a gang of laborers was put to work at the Cedar street corner. They began at 10 a. m. At 5 p. m. they stopped. In seven hours they had barely been able to make an incision in the elastic Bitulithic.

had barely been able to make an incision in the elastic Bitulithic.

The foreman of the gang was experienced with all pavings except the Bitulithic. "No need of tearing up all that pitch and stuff between the rails," he said by way of instruction to his crew, "we've only got to move the rail in about three inches. Box it up about a foot all the way. That will be all right."

The distance from the station entrance to the Cedar street switch is from sixty to seventy feet. The men scattered out and began to swing their picks in teisurely fashion.

A DURABLE PAVEMENT.

A DURABLE PAVEMENT. A DURABLE PAVEMENT.

The paving, elastic like, gave perceptibly under each stroke. Five, ten, fifteen minutes passed merrily enough. Then the negroes stopped to reason out the result. Not an incision had been made. The quarter turned into the hour. Not a pick had made gash enough to permit the insertion of a crowbar. Picks were discarded and chiests taken un. One man held the a crowcar. Flors were discarded and chisels taken up. One mem held the chisel handle, while his helper struck with the driver. Again the minutes lengthened into quarters and halves of hours.

"Needn't mind the boxing, boys,"

"Needn't mind the boxing, boys," said the foreman as he came up about the fifth hour, "break a hole into that stuff any blank place you can. 'A hole is all I want."

Late in the afternoon, by means of chisels and hammers, and steel rail saws, incisions were made in the paving that the City Councilman declared not worth the putting down. But for the railroad gangs the work was in a state of comparative incipiency. Yesterday morning two crews of ten men each were put to work tearing up the paving in which crow-bar holes had been cut. Into the holes the bars were slipped, and the work of prying up the Bitulithic was started.

Crow-bars, than which heavier are seldom used in street railway work, bent instead of lifting. Forty pound rails were sharpened at the ends and used in place of the ineffective crowbars. As the paving was pryed up under the heaving of four and five negroes, other men would break it with sledge hammers. At 7 o'clock that morning this was was begun. The distance was sixty to seventy-five feet of the width of the track and a foot over. The force of men numbered twenty to twenty-five, and the completion of the job fell about sunset.

For hours the laborers were fairly sunset.

For hours the laborers were fairly surrounded by onlookers. The expressions of surprise at the strength and tenacity of the paving were numerous. Many carried away small chunks of the Bitulithic as souvenirs. "If we could only imbed our rails in that stuff, we wouldn't need any more cross-ties," remarked a line superintendent of the street railway.

AN IDEAL.PAVING.

AN IDEAL PAVING.

In the Bitulithic paving it would seem, from the last and severest test, Nashville has found what long she has been in search of—an ideal paving material. Heat, water, heavy traffic and numerous other trials evinced superiority." But will it wear? Is it tough enough to stand the wear of year in and year out?" That last question seems to have been answered.

If Nashville has in reality discovered a perfect street pavement, then to its discoverer some credit is due. He is Mayor James M. Head. In finding and bringing to Nashville the Bitulithic he has done the city an unrecedented envises and one whose precedented service, and one whose exact value can only be fully apprais-ed by generations to come.

Among municipal problems of the century a most important one is good streets. Municipal ownership is another. Towards the solving of these two questions Nashville is now devoting herself. She has found out how oget good streets. She has also acquired the secret of the art, has purchased the mecessary plant, and is laying her street paving herself. That is a thing no Southern city, and few, if any, other cities are doing.

When James M. Head was made

When James M. Head was made Mayor he had long before realized the need of an improvement over the old macadam, and was on the lookout for macadam, and was on the lookout for a substitute. At the American League of Municipalities, which met at Jamestown, N. Y., in 1900, he met Fred. J. Warren, of Boston, President of Warren Bros.' Co., manufacturers of the Bituminous Waterproof Ma-or the Bruminous waterproof Maccadam.

The two had several talks on the subject of pavings. Mr. Warren explained his lately patented material. His theory was that macadam did not wear out, but disintegrated under the action of rain and frosts. If moisture could be kept out, he reasoned, the crushed stone would stand years of usage. His Bitulithic paving was on this principle. A bed of macadam was first rendered waterproof by a specially prepared bitumen liquid. Upon this bed the bituminous macadam, which had as its component and the component of the component o

New Bedford and Cambridge, Mass, to Hartford and other cities.

Mr. Head took the matter up with Chairman Stainback, of the Board of Public Works, when he returned to Mashville. In the fall of 1901, as a specimen, a street was laid with Bitulithic at the Charleston Exposition. A delegation of Nashville Councilmen and officials went over, and all were pleased immensely.

Last spring Warren Bros. were awarded a contract to lay 25,000 square yards of Bitulithic paving. It was an experiment. Broad street between Vine and the viaduct, and the Public Square, were paved. Almost every one was satisfied with the result. A few were still doubters that the paving could amount to much. WORK CONTINUED.

WORK CONTINUED.

Last August the Council had a bill before it to authorize the paving of Broad street and West End avenue from the viaduct west to Vanderbilt, and the street forming the usual route to Mt. Olivet Cemetery. The fight was warm. For some reason seven or eight of the Councilmen were against it. It was then that the pocketknife remark was made. The bill passed. The city will begin the laying of the Bitulithic, mixed at its own plant, about April 20 on Broad street. This will be finished in late spring or early summer, and then the South Nashville streets will be all the length of Summer from Church to the old City Cemetery, Mulberry to South Oliege, Centre to South Market, Carroll to Wharf avenue. The length is about two miles.

A CITY PLANT PURCHASED. The city was asked to appropriate $8,000 last fall to buy a Bitulithic mixing plant. Out of the present budget that sum has been paid, and the city is now in the street paving business.

the South, have been here to inspect. In most cases, contracts for Bitulithic were given.

So satisfied is the city government with the new paving that it is announced that hereafter the policy of the Board will be to replace all worn out macadam with Bitulithic. The policy goes further than that. Mayor Head stated yesterday aftermoon that he intended asking the Board to change the specifications of the paving already authorized, and to substitute the Bitulithic for the granite, brick and other materials.

"Since I have been in office," said Mayor Head yesterday afternoon, "my special attention has been given to the question of proper paving. Durability and comparative cheapness are essentials, and I feel prouder of my success in giving to Nashville a solution to this serious problem, than almost any work that I have accomplished for the city. It will take time, assuredly, to do away entirely with the macadam, but the time will come when the entire city, I believe, will be paved with Bitulithic."

The above Bitulithic is what the property owners on Queen street have petitioned for. It has stood the heaviest travel for years on streets in the centre of Boston and has been laid in 42 other cities in U. S. and Canada.

The city of Montreal have let their season's work for Bitulithic to the Warren Bitulithic Paving Company, of Toronto, who have tendered for Queen street, offering a ten year guarantee with their work.

Queer to say the doctor did not go on to say that she had hatched them out, but continued.—

"A farmer near Dresden had a large hen that wanted to set. In order to get rid of her they threw her into a pen where there were a number of little pigs. The hen proceeded to take care of the pigs the same as if they were chickens. 'At night she gathers them under her wings and whenever she clucks they run to her."

INFERNAL MACHINE DISCOV-ERED ON CUNARD PIER.

Submerged in Time to Prevent an Explosion-Find Was Made as the Result of Alleged Mafia Letter.

New York, May 11 .- In a plain pine box about the size of a small trunk an ingenious infernal machine containing one hundred pounds of dynamite was found on the pier of the Cunard Line Saturday afternoon, less than an hour before the steamer Umbria sailed for Liverpool. According to Superintendent George E. Murray of the department of combustibles the prompt discovery and the immethe prompt discovery and the immediate immersion of the box in the water at the end of the pier by the detectives who found it was all that prevented the explosion of the dynamite and the destruction of the pier, with the many persons who had gathered to sail or bid friends and relatives good-bye. The black powder fuse leading to the detonating medium was found to be scorched, showing that it had been ignited. A second's delay in the extinction of the fuse would have meant the explosion of the whole charge.

The discovery of the machine was due to the following letter, addressed "Commissioner Greene, Police Department, City," which was received at Police Headquarters at 12.15 p.m.;—

Dear Sir,—The Mafia greets you and wishes you well. At the Cunard dock is a box containing one hundred pounds of dynamite. Inside also is a machine that, properly set, can explode the stuff any time within thirty-six hours. The society has declared plode the stuff any time within thirtysix hours. The society has declared war against England and has ordered the destruction of every steamer flying the British flag that sails out of New York harbor. The undersigned received orders to begin operations by sinking the Oceanic, but so many women and children took passage on that boat that the society's plans were changed at the last moment. The machine in the box, the first made, and chine in the box, the first made, and a crude affair, is inclosed simply to show how easy it is to sink a steamer and to convince those interested that and to convince those interested that the society is not making idle threats. The box, with iron handles, is among trunks for steamer Umbria. The society has undertaken to clear New York harbor of British ships, and it will succeed. The reason for the movement the society does not wish to disclose; suffice it to say that the ociety, in order to protect itself, must arry the war into the enemy's country, and it goes without saying that it proposes to wage it as fiercely as it knows how.

This is the society's first and last warning, and those who propose to pat-

The detectives, Captain Watson and Mr. Floyd immediately began a search for the box. It was soon found, for it had come to the pier under peculiar circumstances. It was exactly as described in the letter, and was found at the foot of the gangway among the other pieces of baggage. It was a plain, white pine box, newly made, and was unmarked. In size it was about 40 by 20 by 20 inches. The top, which was made of two pieces, was hinged and fastened with a staple; hasp

The passengers were not apprised of the presence of the infernal machine. Everything was done quietly. As soon as it was found it was carried to the end of the pier. Inside the box, by listening carefully, one could hear the ticking of a piece of clockwork. A rope was fastened about it and it was lowered in the water. To the astonishment of Superintendent Murray, it was found, that the end of the fuse was scorched and burned down for about a quarter of an inch, suggesting that the clockwork had released the lever just before the steamer sailed. He expressed the opinion later that had the box not been put in the water at the precise moment it was done an explosion would have occurred. The fuse, he said, was so short that it would have required hardly more than a second for it to reach the detonating medium, which was supposed to have been gunpowder and cuncotton packed around the dynamite. Superintendent Murray declined to say exactly what the detonating medium was, but assured the mespaper men that it surely would have proved its efficiency. He declared the machine to be the most perfect one he had ever seen.

Two Insane Men Chained up and Fed From a Trough.

Bay City, Mich., May 11.—Deputy United States Marshal Tobias, who has returned from a trip north, is authority for the statement that at Patterson's Mill, Mullet Lake, two young men, apparently between 26 and 30 years old, and believed to be insane, are kept chained in an outhouse by their parents. The men are shackled by the legs to chains about twelve feet long, fastened to a post in the centre of the outhouse. The chain permits them to get near a stove, and a trough at one side of the room is a receptacle for their food, which is thrown in exactly as in a pig's trough. In summer time the men are chained to a tree. They have been chained in this manner several years, and residents thereabouts say that the men are generally docile. Governor Bliss' attention will be called to the matter. has returned from a trip north, is au-

CATCHING AN EDITION. A Reporter's Efforts to Get His Stery

News of the blowing up and sinking of a steamboat on the Ohio river reached the office of a Pittsburg paper one evening some years ago. The city editor sent a young reporter out on a search for the facts. The search developed into an adventure such as any newspaper man may tumble into at any hour of the day or night. World's Work tells the story: He hurried to the station and caught the first westward bound express. When the train had started, he learned that it did not stop within sixty miles of his destination.

A cautious hint from a Pullman por-ter apprised him of the presence of a division superintendent on the train, and in a few minutes he received an order from the conductor to stop the train for him.

Reaching the station late at night, he asked the telegraph operator to remain until he returned. Then he walked several miles, got his "story" and hur-ried back to the station, only to find that the operator had disregarded his request and closed the office.

Time was creeping into the morning hours and he had the prospect of all his work coming to naught unless he secured an operator to get the story to his newspaper office. He tramped about the dark village and found that the operator lived several miles away. Unsympathizing country folk could not be induced to rouse themselves.

Thinking hard, the young reporter walked back and forth on the platform of the station. Huddled against the station he saw the sleeping form of a tramp. He kicked the hobo and of-fered him $5 to make the trip for the operator.

The man got to his feet. "Do you want an operator?"

"Well, I'm a bum, but I was an operator. If you can get into that station, I'll send your stuff, but I won't touch a door or a window myself."

Knowing that the newspaper would gladly pay damages, the reporter took a cudgel, broke the window and clam-bered in. The tramp clicked off the story, and it reached the office in time to go to press.

It is a mistake to presume that good health can be maintained without giving nature some aid.

Keep your Stomach Healthy.

When you get up in the morning with a bad taste in your mouth that the tooth brush will not remove, a coating on your tongue, and a general "out of sorts" feeling, don't blame it on what you had to eat the night before. A healthy stomach would be able to look after that. It's poor digestion that makes you feel so badly. A teaspoonful of Abbey's Effervescent Salt in half a tumbler of water at rising will make you feel better -will cure you if you follow directions. Abbey's revitilizes every organ of the body—it clears away fermenting matter and refreshes and cleanses the stomach. It prevents the suffering that often follows a pleasant evening.

is a pleasant, palatable and effective medicine for all stomach ills.

THE MOGUL CAPITAL

AN INDIA CITY MADE PROMINENT BY THE DURBAR.

The Ruined Palace of Agra, the City of Taj Mahal, Once the Seat of the Powerful Mogul Empire-Most Renowned, Wonderful and Beautiful Mauseleun That Ever Was Constructed.

That Ever was Constructed.

The durba, took more Western people to India than have ever been in the land in one winter before. All of them going or coming from Delhi visited the matchlessly beautiful old city of Agra, in the new province of that name. Agra, however, is no longer the capital of the province. Allahabad, a much less interesting place, is that.

But Agra was once a capital, that, too, of an Empire more splendid far than the present one of British India. It was the Empire of the great Moguls or Mongols. There are now so many Mohammedan Hindoos because early in the sixteenth century Baber, a descendant of Timour the Tartar, invaded India on the north, conquered the land and founded a Government and forced the religion of the prophet on the natives. ed a Government and forced the religion of the prophet on the natives. The new Government became the most splendid in the story of India. One of the greatest of the Tamerlane dynasty was Akbar, who first established the capital at Agra, removing it from ancient Delhi because he liked Agra better. This was in 1566. Agra is 134 miles southeast of Delhi.

Akbar built himself a fort and a dwelling house, show places of Agra to this day. The fortress is far and away the most magnificent in all

Perhaps the fact that this glorious mausoleum was to be the tomb of Shah Jehan himself when his time came had a little some-thing to do with its magnificent con-struction. Let us, however, give due credit to the one Mussulman in history who seemed to appreciate a woman. Canadians have seen so many pictures of the Tai Mahai that it is more familiar to them than the Parliament Buildings, at Ottawa. Shah Jehan also built before Shah Jehan also built before he was gathered to his fathers in 1627 the Moti Musjid, called the Pearl mosque, and the Jama Musjid, or Great mosque. The Pearl mosque is lined from entrance gate to roof with dazzling white marble. Mogul workmen understood better than any others before or since their time the art of making marble look like lacework.

An English writer says, "Into the fair body of the India marble the Mogula could work designs and ara-besques borrowed from the Persia of sncient history and flowers of ex-quisite hue and symmetry suggested by the more advanced and civilized Florentine artists."

The design of the Pearl mosque is a three sided court with a fountain in the centre. At the entrance and the side opposite it the marvelous marble lacework is wrought into ex-marble lacework is wrought into exquisite screens. Arcaded cloisters surrounds the three sides.

Another of the show places of gorgeous old Agra, lovely as an Arabian Nights' City, is the Mirror Palace, Shish Mahal. It was a bathing palace, lined with convex mirrors arranged in grouped oriental designs. There are thousands of these mirrors still. The Shish Mahal surpased in splendor even the great baths of Diocletian.

The reign of Shah Jehan was the golden age of the Mogul Empire. Thirty-one years after him—1658 to 1707—reigned Aurangzeb, last of the 1707—reigned Aurangzeb, last of the great Mogul emperors, and Aurangzeb took the capital away from Agra and restored it to Delhi, the ancient seat of Government. But the unrivaled architectural monuments of the former time remain to this day to tell the story of Agra the splendid, and not even sorred Delhi can rival it for arreveness to

So soon as the capital was taken from Agra the Mogul Empire declined. The magnificence, the wealth and the extravagance of its rulers became mere tale and tradition. Today only its Taj Mahal, its mosques, gates, palaces and its fort remain to prove that Agra was and is not.

The Mogul Empire had shrunk to a shadow by the beginning of the nine-teenth century, and then the English gobbled the shadow and took over Delbi. Agra and the whole land to themselves. Only once since the time of the Moguls has Agra appeared prominently in the public view, and that was in 1876, when King Edward, then Prince of Wales, held there an imperial durbar, representing his mother, as Lord Curron in January represented him at Delhi.

Modern methods should be employed even at the expense of a few.

Snails as a Table Delicacy.

It is only within the last thirty years er so that frogs were universally sensidered a delicacy, and until researchy folks who relished snalls were looked upon as little short of barbariana. That notion has changed, however, eays "Leslle's Weekly," and at the present time not only are snalls served commonly at all the cafes and hotels, but they are all the cafes and hotels, but they are also frequently seen upon the table of the ordinary laborer. So great has been the demand for this nutritious shelled delicacy that during the past few years snall ranches have come into existence, and are flourishing in various pertions of the Western slope, and the tarifty snail-raisers are realizing fair meomes with little or no labor. It is almost ridiculously easy to maintain one of these industries; one can take the rest cure while in full charge of a million or so of the well-behaved little creatures. All that is necessary to go into business is to import from France or Italy a few hundred snails, put them in a box turned on one side, or even under a board or piece of shingle. If there are a few shrubs or green vegetables growing in the immediate vicinity, it will not be necessary to furnish food at all. The accommodating creatures will take care of themselves and will grow large and plump in no time. In fact, one could almost conduct a farm in an ordinary window-garden, so small a space is required. Within a radius of ten feet, ten thousand or more snails can visit their next-door neighbors and gossip about their comfortable quarters and the broad expanse of their acres.

It is not a bad idea for a boy or girl to start a snail or frog ranch, for anyone on a small capital can soon realize an income without the work seriously interfering with other duties. Snails thrive best in mellow climates with plenty of fog or dew. The market price of the imported snail ranges all the way from one dollar to two dollars and sixty cents, according to size. The native American snail, that is, the wild variety, is not relished by the epicurean palate. In spite of protracted boi

Dog Wisdom.

Dog Wisdom.

A gentleman was staying this autumn in Wales. Smoking and chatting one evening with a local farmer the talk fell upon dogs. The farmer's sheep dog lay before the fire, and the farmer instanced his sagacity. He made an exclamation in Welsh. At once the dog rose and went to the door. "You might let him out," said the farmer. "The sheep are in the corn' is what I said to him." The dog passed eagerly out. In a few minutes there was a scratching at the door. The dog entered panting and lay down at the fire again. Shortly afterwards the farmer repeated his Welsh remark. Again the dog ran to the door and my friend let him out. Again in a few minutes was the scratching at the door, and again he lay down before the fire panting. After an interval the farmer remarked in Welsh, quite in the way of conversation, "I am not easy about those sheep, I do believe they're in the corn." The dog without rising looked up at the farmer, gave two charp yelps, and turned round to his sleep again. He said as plainly as though it had been in words, "Don't be a fool; I've been twice and they're not in the corn."

They Toasted Hun.

A would-be poet recently remarked at his club: "I have written a great num-ber of poems, but I do not propose to have them published until after my death." "Hurrah!" shouted a chorus of friends, raising their glasses, "here's long life to you, old man!"

When you are lonesome you realisment poor company you are.

The Cardiff Giant.

The Cardiff Giant.

Hos. Andrew D. White retells in the Century Magazine the story of the "Cardiff Giant," the most extraordinary hoat that ever showed the depth of humal credulity. The external facts are that in the autumn of 1869 people were hastening from all over the country to a farm in central New York, to see the stone figure of a man of enormous sizelying at the bottom of a hole where is had apparently been found.

The facts in human nature that made the hoax possible were the surprising readiness of the public to be astonished and swindled; the nonsense of the pseudo-scientific, who pretended to fix the age of this stone man and surrounded him with all kinds of fictitious archaeology; and the misguided religious zeal of people who thought this discovery confirmed the Biblicat text, "There were giants in the earth in those daya."

A syndicate was formed to exhibit the giant. This meant a careful organization of all the lies that tended to support the genuineness of the "discovery," and to defeat the sensible incredulity that began to set in as a reaction. The giant had been "found" in the course of sinking a well. People discovered that it was an unfavorable place for a well, and began to question why any man should have started to dig there. Then it was found that the owner of the farm had sent to a man in the West several thousand dollars of the money received for admission fees to the booth where the figure was exhibited. How came a small farmer to owe so much money?

Real science uttered its protest. Professor Marsh of Yale pronounced the giant a humbug. It was not an ancient statue, certainly not a petrified body. "The giant must have been recently buried," he said. "I am surprised that any scientific observers should not have detected at once the unmistakable evidence against its antiquity."

Meanwhile Mr. Barnum tried to purchase the "giant," but in vain, So he against its antiquity."

Meanwhile Mr. Barnum tried to purchase the "giant" but in vain, So he had a copy made so like the original that only an expert could tell them apart. The new statue was also exhibited as the Cardiff Giant, and the matter had begun to be a comedy with Barn-apart. The new statue was asso exhibited as the Cariff Giant, and the matter had begun to be a comedy with Barnum's eyes twinkling behind it.

Finally the truth came out. A man with a love of humor and a desire to test the extent of humor and a desire to test the extent of humor dedulity had deliberately set to work to dupe the public. He had chiseled this giant from a piece of stone that had blue veins in it—a great aid to the "petrified man" delusion—had pricked little pores all over his strange work of art, and had made grooves in it which looked like ruts worn by running water. Then he had shipped it to his brother-in-law, the New York farmer, who had sent his family away at the time, so they could swear they had first seen the giant resting in his "grave."

wear they had first seen the grant rescing in his "grave."

Although this celebrated hoax had long passed out of the public mind until Mr. White's article recalled it, the man who perpetrated the hoax was living until very recently. His death occurred only a few weeks ago.

Wanted Her Hat. Wanted Her Hat.

Not long ago a lady was choosing a winter hat, with the usual uncertainty of mind as to the kind of hat she wanted, or whether, indeed, she wanted a hat at all. After trying on nearly every model in the shop, she pounced with glee on one she had overlooked. "Here's something pretty!" she said; "why did you not show me this before?" Without waiting for an anawer, she appealed to her patient friend. "There's some style about this, isn't there! How do I look!" The friend distinctly smiffed. "It makes you look a hundred, and it's very dow'dy" she said. The other tried the hat at snother angle. "It is rather dowdy," she admitted, at this juncture; "perhaps I won't risk it after all." A voice frem behind her made its third attempt to gain a hearing. "If you've quite done with my hat," it said, very butterly, "I should rather like to put it on."

A Strange Wooing.

The cenductor of a train on a North Dakota railread had just sat down to make up a fourth hand in a game of eards, when a widow who was complacently amoking her clay pipe moved down upon the quartette and said:

"Conductor, I don't want to disturb you, but I'm sivin' just beyand Skimnersville."

A School for nogo.

It seems probable that before long the dogs as well as the daughters of rich and fashionable folk will be sent to Paris to finish their education. A rke and issentiable to keris and opsets to Paris to finish their education. A school for dogs has been established there. Many society women already employ a maid or a man as a dog attendant, whose duty it is to train and to accompany their pampered pets. But it is now possible to send them to a school where they can be taught to bark properly, to bow in greeting and farewell, to pick up a fan dropped by the mistress and present it to her gracefully, and to walk with proud and prancing steps. A lady has just started an elegant and strictly exclusive, private hotel for valuable toy dogs, where they receive her entire personal care during their dwner's absence.—Modera Society, London.

Murdering Christians.

Constantinople, May 12.—Consular despatches received here from Monastir, European Turkey, say the Mussulmans and Turkish troops are murdering Christians in the suburbs of the Christian quarter of the town. The statement that General Zoatcheff, one of the principal Macedonian leaders, has been killed in a fight with Turks at Florina, has been officially gonfirmed.

a half units will be accorded three members. The total representation of Ontario will be eighty-six members. Under the redistribution two new members must be given to new Ostario, and the addition of the suburban population to Toronto will mean another member for that city. Including the six which the Province must lose by its failure to increase in the necessary proportion of population, this makes nine members to come off old Ontario's representation. Proceeding on the lines laid down by the committee, the numerical representation of the constituencies of Ontario would be as follows: Five members—Toronto. Four members—Middlesex, including London. Three members—Simes Vester

Two members—Essex, Kent, Elgin, Lambton, Bruce, Wellington, Perth, Lanark, Renfrew, Frontenac (including Kingston), Hastings, Peterboro', Waterloo, Oxford, Brant, Ontario.

One member—Norfolk, Haldimand, Welland, Lincoln, Muskoka, Parry Sound, Peel, Dufferin, Halton, Nipissing, Prescott, Glengarry, Stormont, Russell, Dundas, Lennox and Addington, Prince Edward, Victoria.

The ridings of Bothwell, Brockville, Cardwell and West Ontario disappear. Dufferin takes the place of Cardwell, and Lennox and Addington are united. Muskoka and Parry Sound become separate constituencies. Algoma gains two new members, and Kent, Toronto and Brant one each. On the other hand, the ridings of Norfolk, Middlesex, Bruce, Wellington, Hastings, Durham (with Northumberland) lose one each. With respect to the other Provinces, there will be no changes of counties in Quebec, but all the parochial and township alterations made at the last redistribution are remedied and original county limits re-established.

In Nova Scotia, Victoria will be merged in Cape Breton, and Pictou is to lose a member. In Prince Edward Island representation will be in accordance with county limits. Ih New Brunswick Albert will be merged into King's. The western constituencies have apparently not yet been drawn up.

HON. D. MILLS' FUNERAL.

The Remains Leave Ottawa by Train For Palmyra.

Ottawa, May 12.—The remains of the late Hon. David Mills have left Ottawa in the Government car "Montreal" for Palmyra, where interment takes place to-day. The convey-ance of the body to the Union Depot was preceded by a service at the house, conducted by Rev. A. A. Cameron. Several hymns were sung by a quartette, including "Sleep thy last sleep," the deceased's favorite; "I am kneeling on the threshold" and "Ser-vant of God, well done."

sleep," the deceased's favorite; "I am kneeling on the threshold" and "Servant of God, well done."

Rev. Mr. Cameron read from the Scriptures the passages in Corinthians treating of the triumph of the soul over death, and in the course of an eloquent, powerful and sympathetic address paid tribute to the personal and mental qualities of the dead Judge. He said in part:—"We are here as citizens of Canada. We are here as patriots to give expression to our high appreciation of the patriotic and distinguished career of one of the noblest and most richly endowed of our public men. The late Justice Mills was a unique personality, and although in some respects he was a self-made man, he had yet most varied culture. He was a typical public man, bringing into all our affairs a high sense of honor, a conscience void of offence, and the spirit of that righteousness which exalteth a nation. Our country is poorer in broad statesmanship and the moral and patriotic qualities that enrich our national life by his translation. Our country's wealth does not depend on material prosperity, but on the character and culture of her citizens. Better than all, we are here to impress on you that the real secret of his write influence lay in the fact that he ever lived and acted under the inspiration of the once crucined but risen and glorified Christ."

'A long and imposing cortege, composed of Cabinet Ministers, Judges, members of Parliament, professional men and citizens of every class followed the hearse to the station. The mourners were:—Mrs. D. Mills, the widow; Mr. and Mrs. David Mills, jun., Mr. Nathan Mills, nephew, Mrs. N. N. Mills and Mr. J. Mills. The honorary pallbearers were Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Sir Henri Taschereau, Justice Sedgewick, Hon, Wm. Paterson, Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick and Sheriff Sweetland.

It is not probable that much time will be taken up with evidence. There may be some explanations as to certain accounts in the books of the Ontario Bank, and possibly a few witnesses fim Manitoulin as to what course Mr. Gamey took during the campaign. If neither side again calls Mr. Gamey it is possible that the commissioners may do so. At least that was the tenor of their remarks before adjournment. Mr. D. A. Mr. Johnston will speak on behalf of Mr. Stratton, and Mr. Blake may reply.
