The Brden Naval Policy is Upheld in the House of Commons---Col. McLean Was the Only Liberal to Vote Yea---Seven Nationalists Made a Bolt.

OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—The Borden Government's naval resolution, enabling the introduction of a bill to vote $35,000,000 for the construction of the three finest Dreadnoughts in the world for the British Imperial navy, passed the House of Commons this morning at 10 minutes to 1, on a division of 115 to 83, a majority of 32. The scene in the Chamber as the House adjourned was one of wild enthusiasm, the Conservative members singing "Rule Britannia" and cheering repeatedly.

Premier Borden announced that the Naval Bill founded on the resolution would be taken up to-morrow. Sir Wilfrid Laurier objected to going on with the bill so soon, and suggested Tuesday. The Premier agreed.

The scene in the House last evening, when the first division bell rang, will take its place in history. The order to "call in the members" was given by Speaker Sproule at 10 minutes after 10 and the Verville sub-amendment to the Government naval resolutions, demanding a referendum of the navy proposal to the people, was put to the vote. It was defeated on a division of 75 yeas and 122 nays. The Conservative ranks remained unbroken, while the discomfited Liberals saw Col. Hugh H. McLean, of Queen's-Sunbury, voting with the Government.

Laurier Navy Defeated

The Laurier amendment calling for the expenditure of thirty-five millions on two Canadian fleet units was beaten on exactly the same vote. Sir Wilfrid Laurier would have been content to have his amendment formally declared lost on the same division, but others of his party called for a vote. On the main motion being put for the second reading of the Naval Resolution, a third amendment was introduced, this time by A. A. Mondou, of Yamaska, Conservative, as follows:—

"This House, while prepared to adopt protective measures for the protection of the territory of Canada declines to concur in the said resolution because it contains provisions tending to impose upon Canada which has no voice in Imperial affairs, a share in the external responsibilities and naval defence of the Empire outside Canadian territory, the only object of the Empire over which the Canadian people exercise any political or constitutional authority."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier held that the proposed amendment was out of order. It was, in fact, not an amendment but a motion to negative the resolution. Speaker Sproule said that the amendment was intended to substitute a new principle for that embodied in the motion before the House. He quoted the rule that no member could properly offer a resolution upon which the judgment of the House had already been given. For that reason he ruled Mr. Mondou's amendment out of order.

Mr. Guilbault (Joliette), Conservative, then moved a fourth amendment that the resolution go back to the Committee of the Whole to be amended, providing for the repeal of the Laurier Navy Act and that the Borden proposal do not become effective until approved by a majority of the people at a plebiscite.

Speaker Sproule pointed out that no law could be repealed by the Committee of the Whole. The second part of the amendment was the same as in the Mondou amendment. The amendment was accordingly ruled out of order and the House divided on the main motion.

With Reference to the Ill Fated South Pole Expedition---Search Party Erected a Cross Over the Bodies of Dead Heroes---There Was Not a Trace of Scurvy Noticeable With Reference to the Dead.

(Courier Leased Wire).

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Commander E. R. G. Evans sends further particulars in a despatch from Christ church, N.Z., of the ill-fated British Antarctic expedition. The party under Captain Scott after leaving Commander Evans on January 4, 1912, marched an average of twelve miles daily and reached the pole on January 17. Captain Scott's observations by the theodolite on January 18 fixed the pole within half a mile of Amundsen's observations.

The Scott party had followed Amundsen's track and found his camp within three miles of the pole.

Several photographs of Scott and his comrades at the pole were obtained. From the time of reaching the pole Petty Officer Evans' condition gave great anxiety, but good progress was made on the return journey over the great plateau in medium weather. Before descending the Beardmore glacier, Dr. Wilson and Lieut. Bowers collected a number of fossils on Buckley Island.

The descent of Beardmore glacier was accomplished in thick weather and deep snow greatly delayed the march. Petty Officer Evans fell on the rough ice and sustained concussion of the brain. His condition caused further delay and the surplus food was consumed. On February 17, Evans collapsed and was placed on a sledge. He died a few hours afterwards.

The bad ice surface and the illness of Captain Oates still further hampered the progress and weakened the energies of the party. Sometimes they made only three miles in a day. Then came blizzards and head winds which completed the disaster.

The searching party under Dr. Atkinson found their tent on November 10, half covered by the snow. The bodies were identified. A tent was placed over them and a large cairn of snow erected. A cross with a brief record was placed on the top of this signed by all the members of the searching party. Dr. Atkinson's authority for saying that none of the symptoms of scurvy were present on the bodies.

The searching party employed seven mules, which hauled heavier weights and proved generally more efficient than ponies.

Some Criticism

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—A London

cable says: Criticism is made of the government's delay in making any definite announcement of its intention to carry out the promise by Premier Asquith that Captain Scott's dying appeal to the nation would not fall on deaf ears.

It is suggested that the meagre contributions so far made to the various funds opened are due to the desire of the public to wait and see what the government's plans are before contributing. None of the newspaper subscriptions up to the present shows total donations at all commensurate to the depth of the public feeling and the first day's response to the Lord Mayor's appeal was remarkably small, the chief contributions being Mrs. George Webb Medley, who gives £1,000 ($5,000) and Sir Charles and Lady Waldstein, who send £100.

The Daily Express has an editorial article entitled "A debt of honor," in which it says:

"Three days have passed since Mr. Asquith made his promise, and nothing good or worthy has been done. Certain newspapers have opened funds for public subscriptions, there

Two Men Killed by an Explosion---Man Killed in Hamilton---President Taft States His Stand With Regard to Mexico---Bitter Feeling in Connection With the South Pole Expedition.

SHOVEL STRUCK DYNAMITE (Courier Leased Wire).

PORT WILSON, N. S. W., Feb. 13.—Two men, a Montenegro and an Austrian were killed and three injured, one probably fatally, at Red Rock, a short distance east of here on Thursday afternoon, when a steam shovel struck a charge of dynamite which had failed to explode. The accident occurred at the camp of James H. Corbett, connecting a section of the C. N. R. The men were only ten feet away from the exploding charge.

STRAINED RELATIONS. (Courier Leased Wire).

CHRISTCHURCH, N. Z., Feb. 13.—Intense bitterness of feeling prevails among a section of the surviving members of the late Capt. Robert F. Scott's Antarctic expedition over the failure of the rescue party to push south vigorously on their march to the relief of the explorers who had been to the south pole. The chief is expressed that Capt. Scott, Edward A. Wilson and Lieut. Bowers, the last three to die, should have been saved if this had been done.

The relations between Commander Edward R. G. R. Evans and Dr. Edward L. Atkinson are said to be very much strained.

Some of the survivors state that

Petty Officer Evans became insane owing to the privations of his long march and was eventually very violent. He declined to help pull a sledge and his condition became so serious that he had to be carried.

Capt. Scott's reference in his notes to an unaccountable lack of fuel in the depots surprises the supporting parties who deny that they made use of it.

TAFT AND MEXICO (Courier Leased Wire).

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—President Taft declared to close advisers to-day that only thing could force him to ask Congress to intervene in Mexico. If the Madero or Diaz forces should turn upon Americans merely because they are Americans or foreign citizens, Mr. Taft let it be known that he would rush a special message to Congress in 30 minutes time. He does not regard the killing of a few Americans in the course of a battle as such casualties as unavoidable and believes that the proper authorities should be held liable for damages.

The president was disturbed to-day when he heard reports that communication between Mexico City and the United States might be cut off. He met the Cabinet at the usual semi-weekly session, and the Mexican situation was generally discussed. It was understood that the Cabinet was in complete accord with the president's attitude.

of the three principal unions of railroad workers in Great Britain was accomplished this afternoon at a conference of the delegates of the different unions which has been in session in London for a week past. The object of the fusion is to ensure co-operation, which has been lacking in the strikes called by the men in the past.

The new organization will be entitled the National Union of Railway Men, and it will absorb the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, the United Pointsmen and Signallers' Union and the General Railway Workers' Union. These three societies have a membership of about 200,000.

The executive will be invested with drastic authority for ordering or ending a strike on terms which they may deem satisfactory without, as heretofore, acting after the taking of a ballot among the men.

HAMILTON, Ont., Feb. 13.—Douglas Pratt of Toronto, who was employed on the erection of a water tower at Burlington, fell 84 feet to death shortly before noon to-day. The unfortunate man whirled around like a pin wheel as he shot through the air. Practically every bone in his body was broken.

Rebels Open Battle To-day. (Courier Leased Wire).

MEXICO CITY, February 14.—The rebels opened the battle to-day at a quarter to six when they started firing in the direction of the federal concentration points. It had been expected that the federals would attack first.

Madero Sends an Ultimatum. (Courier Leased Wire).

MEXICO CITY, February 14.—President Madero this morning sent another ultimatum to Felix Diaz demanding his surrender and the reply came in the shape of a number of cannon balls from the insurgents' biggest guns.

Firing a Steady Fusillade. (Courier Leased Wire).

MEXICO CITY, February 14.—By 7 o'clock the firing had settled into a steady fusillade. All round the arsenal, the rebels headquarters the flesh of the discharges of field guns and quick-firers was incessant.

Federal officers declared that their men were being prepared to make a forward movement on the rebel lines.

(Courier Leased Wire).

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 14.—Mexico City awoke to-day with the strong sense of witnessing a recurrence of the scenes of carnage which have been repeated daily since the revolt of part of the army on Sunday against the administration of President Madero to rally under the leadership of the rebel Chief, Felix Diaz.

Men of military experience who profess to be following the operations from an unbiased viewpoint, declared their belief that the government would have great difficulty in the subjugation of Diaz either with heavy guns or by direct assault.

It was said the rebels had ammunition enough to continue the warfare for several days more. They were also said to have possession of many more machine guns than they had yet brought into use. Their losses hitherto have been comparatively light. Their food supplies were fairly plentiful. The men were being paid regular two dollars a day, and a large amount of money was said to be available for their cause.

The marksmanship of the rebel artillery during the first five days fighting has proved excellent, and their ability to sweep all of the approaches to their positions from various points of vantage with their machine guns made it appear inevitable that an attempt of the Madero forces to rush the arsenal and other places held by Diaz would result in heavy slaughter and perhaps failure.

An attempt of this sort was made in the last hour of last evening's battle when a detachment of federals marched down the streets toward the arsenal, occupied by the rebels, and was repulsed with heavy loss. It was believed these experiences would cause Gen. Huerta to abandon such tactics and confine future operations to the bombardment of the rebel positions with the consequent destruction of neutral property and the killing of more non-combatants.

The death of another woman during yesterday's fighting further excited the foreign residents. Mrs. Greenfield, mother of Harry Greenfield, an employee of the Mexican power company, was killed by a shell in Victoria street. This makes the third woman killed among the foreign residents. It is believed Mrs. Greenfield was a Canadian.

(Courier Leased Wire).

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Feb. 14.—The government was reported during the morning to be preparing to raise with dynamite four solid blocks consisting mostly of residences just outside the rebel positions, between the arsenal and the national palace in order to obtain a better sweep for the heavy fire from the federal artillery.

KILLED BY A SHOTGUN

A sad tragedy is reported from the village of Harley Ewart Rathburn, aged 16, years and employed in the flour and feed store of F. Casner, was out last night skating with some companions, and seemed in his usual health and spirits.

After he returned to his home at Mr. Casner's a shot was heard at about 10 o'clock p.m., and he was found dead outside the house. He used a shotgun and his heart was pierced.

Deceased was a bright boy and no cause is known for the act.

His mother is at present in the Northwest.

The annual banquet of the Conservative Association of this riding will take place to-night in the Masonic Hall, Temple Building, Dalhousie street.

The main entrance will be on Dalhousie street.

Mr. Geo. Ryerson, president, will take the chair promptly at 8.15. Previously an informal reception, commencing at 7.30 will be held in the S. O. E. rooms on the second floor, to welcome Hon. Dr. Roche and the Hon. Mr. Lucas.

There will be ample accommodation for coats and hats.

SISTER SUPERIOR

Loses Her Life in a Fire at Ottawa---Another of the Nuns Had a Leg and an Arm Broken.

(Courier Leased Wire).

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 14.—Sister St. Simon, Sister Superior, connected with the Oblat Sisters Scholasticate Ottawa East, lost her life in a fire at an early hour this morning, which destroyed the three story building adjoining the Scholasticate and used as a cooking house and linen room. There were twelve sisters sleeping on the top floor, but 11 of them found their way to safety by the fire escape. The sister superior who was on the same floor, but in a private room, was aroused and came out following the others to the fire escape.

Just before she reached it she was heard to cry, "I'm fainting," and a minute later she fell with a scream. She was not seen again and all efforts to reach her were futile owing to the rapid spread of the flames, which beat back a party of priests who attempted rescue with ladders.

One of the nuns had a leg and arm broken by falling from a fire escape and the sisters were painfully bruised in their hurried exit.

In the main building there are 77 fathers and brothers, but the fire did not reach it. The sisters were all from France. The Sister Superior having come to Ottawa only last September. Previous to then she had been in South Africa, though her home was in Brittany, France.

The building was located in a large park on the outskirts of the city about 1,000 feet from the nearest hydrant, which made the work of the firemen slow and water pressure poor owing to the long stretch of hose. It was therefore, impossible to save the structure. It is considered fortunate that under the circumstances the other eleven sisters succeeded in escaping without assistance. The origin of the fire is not known.

The remains of Sister St. Simon have not yet been found in the debris.

AN AMALGAMATION (Courier Leased Wire).

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The amalgamation of the foreign diplomatic corps and their attaches.

Hours before noon, the time set for the singing of the first hymn, "Rock of Ages," the police had regretfully to turn away many thousands who could not even get within view of the doors of the cathedral. The service was a simple but solemn one. It included the playing of the "Dead March in Saul," in which the cathedral organ was accompanied by a military band. The service concluded with the hymn "Jesus Lover of my Soul." In the closing moments the names of the five dead explorers were included.

The whole service was most impressive. Vast crowds remained throughout outside the cathedral and a great number of British blue jackets were present both inside and outside.

Similar memorial services were held at Portsmouth, Devonport, Chatham and other naval centres, and in many churches throughout the Kingdom. The union jack flew at half mast everywhere to-day.

was kept up very rapidly throughout the morning hours but at about 1 o'clock a decrease was noticed in that from the government artillery.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 14.—Soon after 8 o'clock a convent, five blocks beyond the national palace was wrecked by a shell from a rebel gun and a number of its inmates were killed.

In Darkness (Courier Leased Wire).

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 14.—The city was in almost total darkness throughout the night owing to the flying shells having cut the electric wires. Provisions have become more scarce than ever and their prices have soared to almost unheard of heights. Robberies, burglaries and petty crimes of all kinds apparently are on the increase due to the lack of police and illumination. The disposition of the garbage has become a serious problem and the changing breezes bring home to the people who have remained in the city that the carcasses of horses killed during the street fighting of the past week, still lie in the gutters.

Impressive Memorial Service for Scott and His Companions

(Courier Leased Wire)

LONDON, Feb. 14.—The British nation to-day aid its last sad respects to the memory of Captain Robert F. Scott and his heroic companions who fell in the wilds of the Antarctic after reaching the South Pole. A great memorial service was held in the cathedral of St. Paul in the centre of the Metropolis and this was attended by people of every walk in life from King George in the uniform of an admiral of the fleet, down to the common laborer, who was proud to feel that the men who had met such a death were his countrymen.

The King, surrounded by a brilliantly uniformed staff, occupied a seat beneath the great dome, while the other parts of the cathedral were filled by the general public to the fullest extent of the accommodation.

Only a few seats had been reserved for the royal party, which comprised representatives of Queen Mother Alexandra and of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada, Premier Asquith with the whole of the cabinet minis-

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking will not cure children of wetting the bed, because it is not a habit but a dangerous disease. The C. H. Rowan Drug Co., Dept. 291, Chicago, Ill., have discovered a strictly harmless remedy for this distressing disease and to make known its merits they will send a 50c package securely wrapped and prepaid Absolutely free to any of The Courier readers. This remedy also cures frequent desire to urinate and inability to control urine during the night or day in old or young. The C. H. Rowan Drug Co. is an Old Reliable House. Write to them to-day for the free medicine.

Cure all the afflicted members of your family, then tell your neighbors and friends about this remedy.

THIS WEEK'S ADVICE
is to order soon. These chilly days are finding work for us. Before long somebody will have to do some waiting. Then there will be a rush in earnest. So those who have promised themselves an overcoat will be ahead by ordering ahead here. Skilful tailoring for careful dressers. Harwood.

Cook's Cotton Root Compound.

How small the gain, How great the loss, A moment's joy A life's remorse!

—MUNYON.
I THINK that most wrongs, if not most sins, are done in moments of passion, thoughtlessness, or through a desire to please others. The old man heart never ceases to hunger for love, whether in a year-old baby or an octogenarian. Deny it love, and it becomes indifferent, cold, selfish. The medical and scientific world is just beginning to understand the mighty moral, as well as the healing influence of love. It is the ladder by which men and nations climb to greatness. It is the power that will eventually disarm battleships, scatter armies and bring the whole human family into one great brotherhood where the interests of one will be the interests of all. I should like to see in all schools the study of love placed ahead of all other studies, for the noblest objects of life are defeated if we are controlled by selfishness, malice, hatred or revenge. It is well understood by the medical profession that anger and greed do more to produce disease, destroy happiness and shorten life than all other causes combined.

I do wish that the readers of this article would join me in spreading "Hopeless" and "do most earnestly ask every ailing person, no matter what their disease may be, to think hopefully, to talk hopefully, to act hopefully, to be temperate in all things, to encourage the despondent, to assist the deserving and to send out hopeful messages to all mankind.

I want every person who has a cold to try my Cold Cure. I know that it is harmless and is doing a great deal of good work in warding off pneumonia and serious ailments.

I want every person who is suffering with any kidney ailment to try my Kidney Remedy. Thousands of testimonials from those it has restored to health have been received at this office. It takes away the backache, the dragging down pains, the puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the limbs and all the painful symptoms of kidney affection.

I want every person who is troubled with indigestion to try my Dypopsia Remedy. It will not make an old stomach new, but it will enable one to eat almost anything within reason and digest all they do eat.

I want every person who suffers with Piles to try my Pile Ointment, which stops almost every form of Piles in a few hours.

I want every person who is troubled with biliousness, constipation, or any other bowel ailment, to try Munyon's P. A. W. Pills. They are having a tremendous sale and are doing a mighty work for humanity. These pills keep not only the stomach in good shape, but they cleanse the lower bowel, and soon habituate the bowels to act regularly without any assistance.

I want every person who needs medical advice to call and see my physicians. They are placed at your service absolutely free. They are not allowed to make any charge for examination or advice.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Public Building, Aylmer Ontario", will be received at this office until 4.00 P.M., on Monday, February 17, 1913, for the construction of a Public Building at the place mentioned.

Plans, specifications and forms of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained at the Post Office, London, Ont., at the Post Office, Aylmer, Ontario, and at this Department.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupations and places of residence. In the case of firms, the actual signature, and nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering declines to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,

Burford Advance
This week's issue of the Burford Advance pay a tribute to the splendid work done by Mr. A. G. Ludlow while a resident of the village.

Not as Numerous.
It is reported from Northern Ontario that this winter the wolves are not so numerous as in the past. Only 35 being poisoned to date in Algonquin Park.

Doric At Home
Invitations have been issued for the Doric lodge A. F. and A. M. at home in the Masonic Temple on the evening of February 25th. The Lomas orchestra of Hamilton will provide the music. Mr. James C. Spence is secretary of the committee.

Good Show.
Manager Symons of the Colonial Theatre has an extra good bill the latter half of this week, including a juggling act, song and dance team and a musical trio. It is the best programme seen at the Colonial since the opening.

Boy Scouts.
The competition for the choosing of the patrol for the guard of honor to-morrow will be held in the Armories this evening. This will be a fine chance for the citizens to see the Scouts in action. There will be no admission.

Renovations.
Burnley Bros. intend to make extensive alterations, on their property at the corner of Market and Nelson streets, now occupied by A. W. Smiley, the druggist. It is their intention to enlarge the present structure and make two stores of it. This will in all probability be a very fine corner when they have finished.

Men's Night.
Sunday evening next will be observed at the First Baptist Church as "Men's Night," when a service of interest will be carried out as arranged by the pastor and Mr. David L. Wright, the organist. Mr. Broadus Farmer, violinist of Toronto, and Mr. Earl Ludlow, baritone of Toronto, will assist the choir in the musical service.

Y.M.C.A.
The fortieth convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of Ontario and Quebec is being held in the new building of the West End Association, Toronto, to-day and to-morrow. Among those who will attend the convention from Brantford are Messrs. J. D. Schultz, T. Ryerson, E. Sweet, C. Cook and Secretary Goodwin of the local association.

Curling
Two rinks of Detroit curlers arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and were the guests of the local curling club. The visitors were met at the G. T. R. station and were driven around the city and shown the sights (city hall included). In the evening they curled at the rink and were defeated by 2 shots. The locals were represented by Watt, Watson, Forsyth, Woodyard (skip) & down, Howie, Boddy, Howie, Ingills (skip) 7 up. After the game the visitors were most hospitably entertained by the curlers.

Choir Social
The choir of Wesley Methodist church held a very enjoyable social in the church parlors last night and was attended by fifty or sixty young people. Rev. Liddy, the pastor, occupied the chair. A short program occupied the first part of the evening, which included a trio by Messrs. Barstony, McLeod, and Glendenning; solos by Miss Murry and Mr. McLeod, and Mrs. Brown. Short addresses were given by the musical committee also an address by Ald. Ward. Refreshments were then served after which those present indulged in different games.

EXPERT ADVICE

Money spent on keeping time pieces "on the job" is really a necessary expenditure.

Plenty of good watches aren't doing their best work, simply because they can't.

Many a fifty or hundred dollar watch is being slowly but surely ruined, because it needs a dollars worth of cleaning.

If this reminds you that your watch is in that shape, let it also remind you that our repair dept. can attend to your needs on short notice.

Like a Grip at the Throat—For a disease that is not classed as fatal there is probably none which causes more terrible suffering than asthma. Sleep is impossible, the sufferer becomes exhausted and finally, though the attack passes, is left in unceasing dread of its return. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a wonderful curative agent. It immediately relieves the restricted air passages as thousands can testify. It is sold by dealers everywhere.

A Ready Weapon Against Pain—There is nothing equal to Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil when well rubbed in. It penetrates the tissues and pain disappears before it. There is no known preparation that will reach the spot quicker than this magic Oil. In consequence it ranks first among liniments now offered to the public and is accorded first place among all its competitors.

COLLINGWOOD, Feb. 13.—Orillia won the third round junior O.H.A. game here to-night, defeating the home boys by the score of 9 to 3. The half time score was 3 to 1 in favor of Orillia. The game was fast and clean throughout, penalties being few. The line-up—Goal, Cook; point, Reid; cover point, McNab; rover, Butterfield; centre, Tudhope; left wing, Thornton; right wing, Jupp.

After an exciting and well played game, the home team were beaten by the Paris boys at the new rink. After the match the Prince Edwards entertained the visitors to a light lunch at Mr. Fred Marr's well known refreshment house in Eagle Place. Both parties had a good time and the visitors returned on the 1 o'clock car.

BASEBALL

Emslie's Appointment Hurt Saints. ST. THOMAS, Feb. 13.—The re-appointment of Bob Emslie of St. Thomas to the regular umpiring staff of the National League means that the plans of the St. Thomas club of the Canadian League to get Emslie as manager for 1913 have been knocked in the head. The club directors will now proceed to choose a manager from the score or so of applicants.

London's New Men. Harry Myers, the Columbus, O., second baseman, has accepted terms with the London Baseball Club, and at the same time an outfielder, who is reported to be a heavy hitter, Chickenger, the new out-gardener makes his home in a small town in Ohio and from what has been heard of this man Deneau has secured a "peach." Pitcher Higgins of the Alliance, Ohio team, has also sent his contract to Deneau with his John Hancock affixed to it.

Myers, who led the second basemen in the Ohio and Pennsylvania League up to the time it "blew up" early last fall, should make a very handy man for the London club. His hitting ability is a great asset. Chickenger is a big fellow, weighs 180 lbs the ball hard and is an exceptionally good fielder. Higgins is a right hand twirler, 21 years old, and will be given every chance to prove his worth this spring. In a game against East Liverpool last season he held them to three hits in 11 innings and these came in a scratchy way after the eighth innings.

Oska Neale returned his contract to the London Baseball Club yesterday signed. He will report after school closes in June.

The Source of Many Ills

So many of the pains and aches we suffer, and so much of the serious disease, is directly traceable to constipation of the bowels and sluggish action of the liver and kidneys that most people realize the danger of neglecting these conditions. The question is what treatment to use, and this letter from Mr. Luttrell leaves no doubt on this score. He has personally proven the effectiveness of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in cleansing the system and invigorating these filtering and excretory organs.

Mr. Alex. Luttrell, 142 Bridge St. London, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for many years, and have always found them satisfactory as a cure for constipation and derangements of the liver and kidneys. They do their work in a quiet way every time—no griping—no sickness, but most beneficial results. We have also used Dr. Chase's Ointment in our family for a long time, and so long as we can get these medicines shall not use others."

Ashanti Customs.

In Ashanti many families are forbidden the use of certain meats. In like manner others are forbidden to wear clothes of a certain color.

Got the Habit Later.

In a sermon preached in a small chapel in Glasgow the pastor, after inveighing against slot-machines, said by way of climax: "Do you think Adam and Eve went about the garden of Eden with their hands in their pockets?"

The Foxglove.

The flowers of the foxglove are like the fingers of a glove. The name of foxglove is said to be a corruption of "folk's glove" or "fairy's glove."

Textile Fabrics.

The word textile means any kind of woven fabric made from wool, cotton, silk, flax, hemp, ramie, etc. The hair and beaver, or the filaments drawn out of leaves, gold, or any other metal, all of which are webs formed of textiles.

Saccharin.

Pure saccharin is 500 times as sweet as sugar. One part of saccharin will impart a sweet taste to 70,000 parts of water.

Life of an Oyster.

The limit of an oyster's life is twelve years.

Trial Trips.

In order to gauge her average speed a vessel when on her trial trip is made to run four times over a measured mile, twice with and twice against the tide.

Strength of Ice.

Experiments by French army officers have shown that ice an inch and three-fifths thick will bear the weight of a man, four and three-quarter inch ice light artillery and eleven and one-half inch ice the heaviest weights the transportation of an army requires.

Newcastle's Coal.

In 1239 King Henry III. of England gave to the city of Newcastle the right to dig coal, this being the first charter of its kind granted.

An Honest Race.

Lying, cheating and theft are practically unknown among the Eskimos. These primitive people are always considerate of each other's feelings—so considerate that once, when it was determined to rid a tribe of an inveterate liar by death, the sentence was unknown to him till he received the deathblow.

A Pleasant Purgative.

Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are so compounded as to operate on both the stomach and the bowels, so that they act along the whole alimentary and excretory passage. They are not drastic in their work, but mildly purgative, and the pleasure of taking them is only equalled by the gratifying effect they produce. Compounded only of vegetable substances the curative qualities of which were fully tested they afford relief without chance of injury.

WHEN A MAN'S SICK.

That's the Time a Woman Does the Boss Act to Perfection. When a woman has charge of a sick man she feels as important as the marshal of the day at a country Fourth of July celebration, and however amiable she may be at other times she is very "bossy" when she has medicine to give a man or lotions to put on him. If he wants a drink of water she expresses the opinion that he is drinking too much and remembers that her Aunt Harriet's husband once drank a great deal when he was sick and had convulsions.

If the sick man becomes impatient and the medicine is doing no good she reminds him curtly that "time" is necessary. She has even been known to dip into the classics and say that Rome was not built in a day. The air of wisdom with which she examines the doctor looks so convincing the sick man that, however intelligent his medical adviser may have been, after his recovery he will be informed that he would have been sick much longer had she not used her homemade lotions. Whatever she does at night the doctor will agree in the morning that it was very good.

The sleepiest woman in the world will stay up all night cheerfully if she can get a chance to doctor somebody, and if a man has medicine to take at an unusual hour he will get it if there is a woman around. —Ed Howe in American Magazine.

USE OF "TURKISH" WORDS.

Ottomans Themselves Don't Know the Meaning of Them.

"Sublime porte" is one of those European expressions for Turkish institutions which are never used by the Turks themselves. The Ottoman government's official title for itself is Hukumet-i-saniye, the glorious government.

Turks do not speak of "the sultan," but of the "padiashah," a Persian term meaning the father of monarchs. Turkey is a geographical expression used outside the land it denotes, but unknown to those who dwell in it. The Turks talk of Roumeila Anadol. The foreign residents may speak of Anatolia, Albania or the Lebanon. They will tell you they live at Smyrna, Salonki or Beirut or elsewhere, but the word Turkey never crosses their lips. In the realm itself there is no collective name for the territory of the sultan.

Albania, Bulgaria and Roumania, although contiguous to one another, speak three totally different languages. The Bulgarian tongue is that of ancient Russia, and Roumanian resembles that of ancient Rome more closely than modern Italian does. Albania has no marked affinity with any other language, though philologists have discovered in it some slight traces of Basque and Hungarian influence. —New York Sun.

A "Touching" Story.

The young lady who had sat for a crayon portrait was not altogether pleased with the result. "It looks like me, of course," she said, "but I don't like it," and yet I think there are some things about it that ought to be changed."

She suggested that the eyes should have rather more of an upward look, that the right hand should be a little less prominent, that the hair should be made more wavy and that certain changes ought to be made in the drapery. "That would require a great deal of retouching," said the artist, "and I should have to charge you about $10 additional." "Oh, dear!" she exclaimed, with a gasp. "I shall have to give it up. Papa won't stand my retouching" him to that extent."

The Eagle.

According to Washington Irving, the Delaware Indian had a superstitious reverence for the eagle, believing that a guardian spirit in the form of this bird watched over them, hovering in the sky far out of sight. When pleased with their actions, he sent abundant crops and made them have great success in hunting, but when displeased he would vent his rage in the thunder, which was his voice, and the lightning, which was the flashing of his eye, and strike dead the object of his displeasure. They also believed that the feathers of this bird would render the wearer invisible and invulnerable.

One Way of Putting it.

"My dear boy," said Enpeck, who happened to be in a confidential mood, "you will never know what real happiness is until you get married."

"You don't mean it!" exclaimed Singleton, astonished at such a remark from such an unexpected source.

"It's a fact," rejoined Enpeck; "but then it will be no late for you to appreciate it."—London Answers.

Rapidly Aged.

Client (to matrimonial agent)—You showed me this lady's photo last year and told me she was twenty-five, but after making inquiries I find she is over thirty. Matrimonial Agent—Well, you see, her father died lately and that aged her very much.

Great Provocation.

"You say, madam, that you were under great excitement when you struck this woman."

"Yes. She had just found the family Bible with my age in it."

The Easiest Task.

Probably the easiest task is for a poor man to tell what a rich man should do with his money.—Atchison Globe.

HOW BLOOD IS MADE.

The liquids and the digested foods in the alimentary canal pass through the wall of the canal into the blood. This process is called absorption and takes place chiefly through the small intestine. After absorption the blood carries the food through the body, and each cell takes from the blood the food it needs. A pure glyceric extract made from bloodroot, manna, stone, queen's root and golden seal and sold by druggists for the past forty years under the name of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, gives uniformly excellent results as a tonic to help in the assimilation of the food and in the absorption by the blood of the food it requires. Eradicate the poisons from the blood with this alternative extract which does not shrink the white blood corpuscles, because containing no alcohol or other injurious ingredients. Thus the body can be built up—strong to resist disease. This is a tonic taken from Nature's garden that builds up those weakened by disease.

Dr. Pierce, founder of the Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y., has received many letters similar to the following: "I take great pleasure in writing you as regards my case and its cure. In September I was taken with Typhoid Fever, which put me in a dreadful condition. I was weak, faint, nervous and very reduced to a mere skeleton. I had tried most everything I could get but so far did me any good until at last I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and 'Elegant Pills,' which I did. Before I had used one bottle I saw a great improvement and when I had used this treatment two months, using only a few vials of 'Elegant Pills' I returned to perfect health. I cannot find words to express my thankfulness for this wonderful medicine. I advise all sufferers to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, as he cures when others fail."

STAR WITNESS

Shoots at His Wife and Kills a Daughter--Event May Have an Important Affect on New York Graft Exposures.

(Courier Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Jas. Purcell the veteran gambler, who testified before the Aldermanic committee last week that he had paid police graft for over a period of seventeen years, quarrelled early to-day with his wife in their apartment and began shooting. Mrs. Purcell, who was sitting in bed and killed her almost instantly. Thinking that he had murdered both women, Purcell surrendered himself to the police and was locked up. The gambler was so hysterical when he staggered into a police station that he was unable to give a coherent account of the affair. He and his wife had quarrelled nearly all night, he sobbed, until he at last lost control of himself and rushed at her with a revolver. Four shots were fired, two of which struck the girl. One pierced her breast and right arm, another plowed through her left arm. Her body was taken to the morgue.

The tragedy may have an important bearing on the graft investigation now being pushed by District Attorney Whitman. Purcell's testimony given last Friday, resulted in the suspension of two police captains and his story was being counted on as the basis of indictments. With him in a cell charged with homicide, his testimony may be invalidated.

Mr. Whitman was apprised of the situation this morning and will hold a conference with the prisoner to-day with a view to determining whether there is back of the tragedy anything that does not appear on the surface.

Jimmy Purcell was at one time a partner in gambling with Herman Rosenthal, for whose murder ex-policeman Chas. Becker and four gunmen are in the death house at Sing Sing. Since his testimony against the system, Purcell told the police to-day, he had been shamed by his friends as a squealer and also hounded by the "cops." Even his wife was ashamed of him. He became morose, sullen. Early last night they quarrelled. They were still at it at dawn, then came the shooting.

"I guess you want me," said the gambler, later as he slouched up to the desk at a station house near his apartment.

"For what?" demanded the lieutenant.

"For murder," said Purcell. Then he told his story.

Another Exciting Incident in the British House

(Courier Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—A cable from London says: Another exciting incident in the suffrage agitation occurred last night in the House of Commons. While the Hon. G. T. Mills, member for Exbridge, was speaking on the Indian silver question, a man in the strangers' gallery arose and shouted:

"I protest against your brutal treatment of women."

Since the last scene of the kind occurred, several private detectives have been on duty in the gallery, and these immediately jumped up, and bore the man had time to utter $25,608.41 in excess of the security any further words he was overpowered. One of the detectives put his hand over the man's mouth and the others carried him bodily out of the gallery. After being detained sometime he was escorted out of the building. A few minutes later, another man, who evidently had become too excited in consequence of the incident, fainted and was quietly removed.

EQUITY FIRE INSURANCE CO. OF CANADA.

In another column will be found the statement of the Equity Fire Insurance Company of Canada, as on January 1st, 1913. It will be seen that the total security to the policy holders is $666,343.23, which amount is $25,608.41 in excess of the security one year ago. The surplus security to policy-holders is close upon $200,000. The company is doing a first class business, and stands well in insurance circles.

SUFFRAGETTES ONCE MORE
(Courier Leased Wire)
LONDON, Feb. 14.—A number of militant suffragettes were brought up at the police court to-day on the charge of smashing shop windows in London last evening. Among them was Zelle Emerson, who was described as an American woman. She was sentenced to jail for six weeks in default of paying a fine.

Zelle Emerson led the raiders in company with Sylvia Pankhurst, who was sentenced by the magistrate to two months imprisonment.

A police inspector, who gave evidence, declared that Zelle Emerson played football with his cap, kicked him in the shin and punched him in the face. In reply she said that the policeman pinched her, and she had acted in self defence.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.
(Courier Leased Wire)
HAMILTON, Ont., Feb. 14.—Walter Deniski, 25 years of age, who resided at 9 Windsor street, was crushed to death between a gang plank and a freight car at the Queen Street Rolling Mills to-day. He failed to notice the approach of the cars, which pinned him against the plank before he had a chance to move.

WANT IT WOUND UP.
(Courier Leased Wire)
TORONTO, Feb. 14.—A petition was made before Mr. Justice Middleton winding up the J. B. Armstrong Manufacturing Co. of Guelph, incorporated in 1876, with $200,000 capital. The Dominion Bank creditors for $64,699.47 were the petitioners. The business has been a going concern for 76 years. It went into liquidation last June. A statement presented last January shows assets of $29,380.41 and liabilities of $25,760.24, while $45,293.77 is owed to shareholders.

The Enormous Success of Our Mid-Winter Clean-Up Sale

Again proves that the public appreciated to the fullest extent the policy this store has been carrying out since it opened of cleaning up its stock every season regardless of prices

To-morrow

We are going to attempt to beat last Saturday's record, and to do this an extra effort will have to be made on our part. We know last Saturday was the biggest day we ever had since we have been in business, and we could not begin to serve all the people that flocked into our store. But if PRICE SLASHING will make to-morrow a bigger day we think you will agree after reading the following prices that we are doing our part.

Hockey Shoes

We have on hand several odds and ends in Hockey Shoes which must leave the store to-morrow. They range in every possible grade of prices but in every case at least 25 per cent. less than their regular value. The Weather Prophet promises many weeks of hockey weather yet, but even if you do not need Hockey Shoes this season it will pay you to buy now and place them away for next year.

A meeting of the Brant County Medical Association, took place in the Public Library rooms last night and was quite largely attended, about twenty being present. Dr. Pisacette read a most interesting paper, followed by discussion. Doctors Gamble, Henwood and Hanna taking part.

The Literary Club in connection with the Y. W. C. A. of this city, meets again to-morrow, Saturday afternoon in the reading room of the Association at 3 o'clock, taking as their subject this week "Scandinavian and Japanese Folk Lore," in addition to which Mrs. C. W. Aird is to sing and quotations are to be given from any author or poet.

The Fourteenth of February—the day sacred to St. Valentine—has been observed in various countries for a very great number of years, as the time for sending "Love tokens" or valentines to their sweethearts—Shakespeare alluding to it as a very common, and the time when birds were supposed to mate—though it is altogether of legendary origin. The custom, however, is almost universal.

The Colborne Street lecture room was well filled last evening for the travel talk by the pastor, Rev. T. E. Holling on British Columbia. The lecture was profusely illustrated by stereopticon views loaned by the C. P. R., the B. C. government, as well as by other slides from the lantern department of the Epworth League of the Methodist church. Pictures of the various cities en route to B. C., also of farming operations on the prairies were shown. The scenes of the Rockies and the Selkirk were especially fine, the scenery around Banff, Laggan, Field, Glacier, coming in for special mention.

tion. The lecturer spent some time in giving a brief general account of the geographical, commercial and scenic aspects of the Pacific Province. Pictures of fishing fleets on the Fraser river, and salmon canneries were the occasion of a description of the fisheries of the province. Specimens of cedar and Douglas fir and the operation of preparing them for the market were shown. The agricultural industry including some very fine scenes of the orchards of B.C., was also described. The cities of Vancouver and Victoria along with the steamboat connections formed the basis of a general descriptive account of the flourishing life of the cities of the coast. The closing set of pictures were illustrative of a trip that Mr. Holling took last summer to Northern, B.C., visiting the rapidly rising city of Prince Rupert and the Indian Town of Port Simpson. Nothing surpasses the scenery along this great inland salt water channel of 700 miles which the tourist can enjoy without the discomfort incidental to the ocean swell. "Spread Switzerland" out one a coast line stretching for hundreds of miles on a seaboard, and you then have some conception of the scenery along the Pacific coast in British Columbia. His lecture was brought to a close by the singing of "God Save the King." Mr. H. V. Hutton efficiently operated the lantern. The offering for the Ladies' Aid Society was liberal.

DR. HARLEY SMITH KNIGHTED
Italian Consul Made Chevalier of the Order of the Crown.

The Italian Government has recognized the faithful services rendered to its people in Ontario during the past eleven years by granting to its representative, Dr. Harley Smith, of Toronto, the rare honor of Chevalier of the Order of the Crown of Italy. Dr. Smith studied Italian at the University of Toronto under Dr. Oldright and Prof. Keys, and graduated in the department of modern languages, with a gold medal. T. C. Robinson, K.C., taking a double course, ran him a close race, and won the silver medal. When Deputy Magistrate Kingsford resigned the Consular agency in 1907, the leading Italians requested the Minister of Foreign Affairs to appoint Dr. Smith, and he has occupied the post ever since. He possesses the entire confidence and respect of the Italian community in city and Province. Dr. Smith is also honorary secretary of the Academy of Medicine and Vice-President of the Children's Aid Society. (Dr. Harley Smith is a cousin of Mrs. J. E. Waterous and Miss Van Norman of this city.)

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 14.—Palm Beach has suddenly filled with a crowd that is busy each minute at the social game. A characteristic incident occurred recently when Clarence Jones of New York attempted to introduce a set programme of turkey-trotting on the sand in front of the casino before several hundred society people.

Mr. Jones had brought down with him a phonograph which he had his valet set up on the sand. Alongside of the machine he gathered a crowd of young people in bathing suits and began explaining with great enthusiasm what fun was ahead. The machine started to grind a spirited turkey trot and the battery of camera men were jockeying for positions when Mrs. Bramhall Gilbert came forward and said she did not wish her daughters to participate. Mrs. Harry S. Ludlow thereupon said she thought a bathing suit dance before a large crowd was going a little too far. The sentiment carried, and the young people left. Mr. Jones with them, leaving the valet with the deserted phonograph still grinding out "When I Get You Alone To-night."

LAUGHTER LINES.

Utter Ignorance.

A noted Kansas City character was clinging to a lamppost one Sunday morning when a stranger came along and addressed him: "Sir," inquired the stranger, "can you tell me where the Second Presbyterian Church is?" "Mister," answered the weary one, "I don't even know where the First Presbyterian Church is!"

After the motor-car smashup—"John! Oh John! Where are you?" "Don't know, Maria. I'm scattered about here somewhere."

What They All Said.

"I can't keep the visitors from coming up," sighed the office boy dejectedly to the editor, "When I say you're out, they don't believe me. They insist that they must see you right away."

"Well," said the editor, "just tell them that's what they all say. I don't care if you get angry with them—give them anything. I must have quiet at any cost."

That afternoon there called at the office a rather important-looking lady. She wanted to see the editor, but the boy assured her that was impossible.

"But I must see him," she protested, "I'm his wife!"

"That's what they all say," retorted the boy, as he slammed the door.

Good Done by Moving Pictures.

The moving picture theatre has come in for not a little condemnation—not undeserved—for the cultivation of evil tendencies and desires in the minds of children who are permitted to view pictures portraying crimes of various sorts. But, like everything else, there are two sides to every question, and the chief constable of Leeds, England, has come out as the champion of the moving picture as a moral agent. He does not deny that harm is sometimes done, but the good that results quite counterbalances any evil tendency. The introduction of the moving picture for one thing, has led to an increase of sobriety. The superintendent of a religious institution in the East End of London confirmed the judgment of the Leeds chief constable. For every boy or girl who copied the ideas of the villain of the flickering picture there were dozens who copied the good of the hero and heroine. In Whitechapel and Bermondsey districts, he said, it was now quite a common thing for fathers and mothers to take their children to picture shows on Saturday nights and the result was that they spent less money in drink and returned home satisfied with their evening's enjoyment.

"Not only is the influence of the picture house great in the making of people more sober," said he, "but it is far-reaching in other departments of life. Not long ago I came across a case of a little girl who acted as 'mother' to a family of brotlers. Her parents were dead, and she was sorely tempted to run away and seek her fortune in another part of the country. One day she was taken to a picture palace, and there she saw a film dealing with a heroine who acted at home and tended an invalid mother. 'The Heroine,' I think, was the name of the film. The lesson got home and so impressed the girl that she devoted her time and her energy to her domestic labors. That girl had never been to a Sunday school, mind you, and knew nothing of religious teaching."

"There was another case. A man walked into his home and handed his wife the whole of his wages for the week. She had never received all his money for years, and wondered what was the matter, but gradually the story came out. He had seen a story with a moral in a picture palace, and it had impressed him. These cases may seem trivial, but they show which way the people's minds are being directed. There are, of course, many instances of which one never hears of people who have been influenced by cinematograph shows. Only now and then does one touch actual cases, but I know by the general tendency that there are instances in abundance."—Montreal Star.

Australia's Henpecked Emblem.

One of the emblematic birds of Australia is the Emu, a kind of relative to the ostrich which has been described as the lord of the birds of the island continent. It is distressing, however, to learn on the authority of one who has been recently looking into its habits, that it is the most shamelessly henpecked bird in creation. After Mrs. Emu lays her eggs she leaves Mr. Emu to sit on them and goes gallivanting about on her own account.

SOME GOOD RECIPES.

Baked Tapioca Custard.

1-2 cup pearl tapioca.
2 cups cold milk.
1 cup hot water.
1-3 cup sugar.

1-2 teaspoon salt.
1-2 teaspoon nutmeg.
Soak tapioca an hour in cold water. Drain, add one cup hot water and cook in double boiler until water is nearly all taken up. Beat the eggs with sugar and salt, add cold milk, add to the tapioca and pour into a buttered pudding dish. Sprinkle with nutmeg, and bake half an hour in slow oven until the custard is set.

Salmon Cutlets.

Mix equal parts of cold flaked salmon and hot, mashed potatoes. Season with salt and pepper, shape in form of cutlets, dip in deep fat and drain. Arrange in a circle, having cutlets overlap one another. Garnish with parsley.

Raisin Cake (Good).

Two cupsfuls of brown sugar, one of butter, one of molasses, one of milk, three eggs, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, half a pound of raisins, seeded and chopped, and five cupsful of flour. Bake in loaf in moderate oven.

Crowds in the Galleries.

The night was full of incident, in anticipation of which throngs of sightseers had found their way to Parliament Hill and packed the galleries of the House. The debate had dragged itself through the afternoon, and had been dying for an hour after eight o'clock when the opposition leader got up to give it a farewell contribution. Accepting the leadership of Alphonse Verville for the time being he announced his approval of the referendum amendment. He insisted that the government was pledged to the same course before the people, and urged that the pledge should be kept.

The advantage offered by this reference to the observance or pre-election pledges was promptly taken by the Prime Minister. Mr. Borden confronted the Liberal leader with the latter's own record in respect to broken pledges, and then reminded the House that the course now being taken by the Government was the course laid down by the Conservative party in Opposition.

While the bell was ringing for the first division the Conservative members sang "Rule Britannia." This was followed by "O Canada," and when the last note had sounded, Hon. Frank Oliver walked in the House. He was greeted with loud cheers from the Ministerial members, who broke at once into singing the National Anthem. The members on both sides stood up, and this time the members for Edmonton stood with them. Then they cheered him again.

Colonel McLean Cheered.

Prolonged applause marked the Prime Minister's vote against the Verville amendment, applause which was repeated when Col. McLean stood up to vote according to his convictions. A Liberal attempt to retaliate by cheering the French-Canadian Conservatives as one by one they voted, created amusement, but had no effect upon the men whom it was intended to embarrass. The incidents were repeated during the vote on the Lanier amendment.

F. B. McCurdy, of Queen's-Shelburne, was the only member in the House who did not vote. He was paired with A. K. McLean, of Halifax.

ELDERLY FOLKS! CALOMEL, SALTS AND CARTHETICS AREN'T FOR YOU

Harmless, gentle "Syrup of Figs" is best to cleanse your stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels of sour bile, decaying food, gases and clogged-up waste.

You old people, Syrup of Figs is particularly for you. You who don't exercise as much as you need to; who like the easy chair; you, whose steps are slow and whose muscles are less elastic. You must realize that your liver and ten yards of bowels have also become less active.

Don't regard Syrup of Figs as physic. It stimulates the liver and bowels just as exercise would do if you took enough of it. It is not harsh like salts or cathartics. The help which Syrup of Figs gives to a torpid liver and weak, sluggish bowels is harmless, natural and gentle. When eyes grow dim, you help them. Do the same with your liver and bowels when age makes them less active. There is nothing more important. Costive, clogged-up bowels mean that decaying, fermenting food is clogged there and the pores or ducts in these thirty feet of bowels suck this decaying waste and poisons into the blood. You will never get feeling right until this is corrected—but do it gently. Don't have a bowel washday; don't use a bowel irritant. For your sake, please use only gentle effective Syrup of Figs. Then you are not drugging yourself. For Syrup of Figs is composed of only luscious figs, senna and aromatics which can not injure.

A teaspoonful to-night will gently but thoroughly, move on and out of your system by morning all the sour bile, poisonous fermenting food and clogged-up waste matter without gripe, nausea or weakness. But get the genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." Refuse, with contempt, any other Fig Syrup unless it bears the name—prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. Read the label.

Historic Islands Now Subject of Legal Action.

An important judgment involving the ownership of fishery rights on Fighting Island in the Detroit River, for which purchasers were ready to pay $125,000, has been given by Mr. Justice Latchford at Osgoode Hall, Toronto.

His lordship finds against the defendants, who claim under a license from the Provincial Government for which $50 a year is paid. The wide beaches on the west shore of the island are said to be the best spawning grounds in the world for the true white fish.

In the first place the low, marshy tract lying out in the Detroit River, an area of about 1,200 acres, was occupied by the Wyandottes, a branch of the Hurons. In 1827 Thomas Paxton secured from Sir Peregrine Maitland the right of occupation. This right was conferred in recognition of the services of Paxton's father, Captain Paxton, for 35 years in the provincial navy, in 1824.

It was peremptorily ordered by His Excellency General Hunter, to set out with an unseaworthy vessel, H. M. schooner "Specter," taken as an assize judge, Mr. Justice Cochrane, with the sheriff and court officials, to the assizes at Newcastle. The boat was never heard of again until it left York.

In respect to this loss of his father, Thomas Paxton was granted the right of occupation of "Fighting Island," set a nominal price of $100,000. He gave six Canadas, close by, that the first blood of the war of 1812 was shed.

In 1827 Thomas Paxton bought the island and its fisheries for $8,000. He died in 1874 and left it to his son, who leased fishing rights to Gauthier for $900 a year. Paxton transferred the property to his wife, who mortgaged it, and it came into the possession of F. F. Palms of Detroit for $38,361.17.

The question raised now was whether the Palms estate could give good title to the fisheries or just to the land. Mr. Justice Latchford holds that Gauthier's license from the Provincial Government was obtained by fraud and therefore void. He holds it would be unfair to deprive the grantee of Paxton of the chief element of value of property valued at $125,000.

A reference is directed to the Master at Sandwich to determine the damages for encroachment on the fisheries.

"Kidding" the 1913 Candidates. Recently there was related one or two incidents of candidates being heckled by fun-loving ratepayers, and several more such stories have recently cropped up—some old and some new.

Arthur Frost, a young man who aspired in vain to be a Toronto alderman at the recent election, gave his audience ten minutes of pure comedy when he was nominated for the seat of Mr. W. H. Hoyle, of the Ontario Legislature, almost tumble off his chair with laughter, when the interrupters got on his track.

He announced that he would, if elected, voted to establish a home for the feeble-minded.

"I am interested in the case of a young woman."

That was as far as he got for a minute or two. When the noise subsided he began again—"Never mind, boys, I have been married a year and a half."

That only made it worse. Every time the unhappy candidate opened his mouth he put his foot, metaphorically speaking, farther into it, and the audience emphatically refused to take seriously any statement he might make.

One on Lewis Waller. Mr. Lewis Waller, the eminent English actor who has been touring Canada, told a group of Canadian dramatic critics the other day an amusing little jest, the point of which is at his own expense.

It concerns the fact that Mr. Waller has been favored by five royal commands to give plays before King Edward and Queen Alexandra, as well as other crowned heads. This is a greater share of royal favor than other English actors enjoy, and at the Green Room Club several Theatopian friends of Mr. Waller were discussing the news of the fifth command, when the comedian had just been sent to the actor.

"Funny thing that Waller gets all those commands," grumbled one member of the club. "How does he do it?"

"Don't you know the reason?" replied another actor. "You know the Queen is a little bit deaf in one ear, and Waller shouts louder than the rest of us."

Not Real Holidays. Arthur Sladen, C.M.G., who has been filling the post of private secretary to successive Governors-General for many years, is one of the good friends of the Civil Service. It may be mentioned also that the higher officials of the service never take "holidays," they always go "on leave."

"During the last summer," and early in the fall Sladen was seen out on the links of the Ottawa Golf Club on the Aylmer road, almost daily. One day Col. Lowther, the military secretary of the Duke of Connaught, saw Sladen out there and said: "Hello, Sladen, are you on your holidays?"

"Oh, no, old chap," replied Sladen. "I'm too busy to take holidays. Just on leave, you know, just on leave."

ALREADY ARRIVING.

Immigrants 1913 Are In Canada Ontario Has Secured Share.

The number of British immigrants who have come to Ontario during the twelve months of 1912 reaches the grand total of 50,727. It also includes the record of this province for any previous year. During the latter half of the year Ontario received more than sixty per cent. of the entire British immigration received to the Dominion. The Ontario record for the twelve months is as follows: January, 611; February, 1,006; March, 4,206; April, 7,013; May, 7,500; June, 6,997; July, 6,575; August, 6,841; September, 4,188; October, 3,538; November, 2,533; December, 1,536. Total, 50,707.

"Canada will hold the belt for many years to come as the greatest receiver of British immigrants and Ontario will likewise hold its own in this regard over all other provinces of the Dominion," said Robert Birmingham, the Dominion Government immigration head, in remarking on Ontario's magnificent immigration record. "All indications conclusively show that this year will eclipse the great record of 1912."

"The greatest part of it all, however, is the fact that not one of the nearly two thousand British who came to Ontario during the year is out of employment. In fact the demand for men is keener now than it ever was. This office was busy all day receiving calls from Ontario farmers in need of help. These farmers are willing to give a man the year around and give him $300 and board. In the past ten dollars a month during this period of the year was considered good. It is a pretty good indication that the farming industry of Ontario is going ahead. It is due to an extent also to the rapid increase in the number of fruit farmers in the Niagara district. A fruit farmer requires a dozen men where the ordinary farmer would use only two or three."

"There are now thirty steamers weekly handling the British immigration to Canada, and their agents, in addition to the 1,500 agents having connection with the Canadian Government, are conducting a widespread campaign throughout the British Isles. This is the result of a tremendous influx of immigrants to Canada this spring, and makes another record-breaking year certain."

"The first batch of immigrants to arrive this year have already landed. These came by the steamship Poleman via St. John and the steamship Lake Champlain via Halifax."

A Real Enthusiast. Who is the most ardent hockey fan in Montreal? asks a writer in the Standard. This is a question that perhaps several thousand people might be willing to answer by raising as one and shouting "I am." But the writer is of the opinion that they are all wrong. The other night he discovered a party whom he thinks to be the greatest hockey enthusiast not only in this city, but in Canada, and that means in the whole world.

This man, unlike you and I patient reader, is not able to see. He lost the sight of his eyes many years ago and he rarely misses a game at the Arena. He is a naturally born hockey enthusiast, and here is how he does it.

"I am interested in the case of a young woman."

That was as far as he got for a minute or two. When the noise subsided he began again—"Never mind, boys, I have been married a year and a half."

That only made it worse. Every time the unhappy candidate opened his mouth he put his foot, metaphorically speaking, farther into it, and the audience emphatically refused to take seriously any statement he might make.

A DESERT ENIGMA

Mystery of a Vanished Party of Australian Explorers.

The Leichhardt Expedition Disappeared as Though It Had Been Swallowed Up by the Earth, Which May Indeed Have Been Its Fearful Fate.

There have been recorded many strange tragedies of exploration in lone and distant lands, but no one event of the kind has ever so stirred men's minds as did the total disappearance of the well-fitted and splendidly-equipped expedition which Dr. Ludwig Leichhardt, the Franklin of Australia, led into the central deserts of Australia in 1848.

Leichhardt's design was to march right across the continent from the east coast to the west, and as he had already led a successful expedition nearly 8,000 miles through a previously unknown part of Australia, it was generally thought that he would be able to accomplish the task.

Still, there were some who doubted and prophesied disaster, and more than one wealthy friend of the doctor's refused to subscribe toward the expedition on the ground that they were not going to help him to commit suicide.

The members of the expedition numbered six whites and two blacks, an unusually large number for an exploring expedition of this nature, and besides being amply provided with flour, biscuit, tea, sugar and so on, they drove along with them fifty bullocks and 270 goats. They also had spare horses and mules in abundance.

At that time the most westerly station in southern Queensland was occupied by a squatter named McPherson, who dwelt on Cogoon creek. From there Leichhardt wrote a brief letter as he was about to start into the unknown land beyond.

That was the last ever heard of him or of any of his companions, and this notwithstanding the fact that expedition after expedition was afterward sent out in search of them.

As completely as though they had been swallowed up by the earth, they vanished.

This is the most puzzling part of the mystery—its completeness. Had they first wrongly reported, some relics of the explorers would long since have been recovered from them. In some shape the iron work of the implements and arms they had with them would have survived.

And what of the stock? Some of the goats, at all events, must have been left alive, one would have been recovered from them. In some shape the iron work of the implements and arms they had with them would have survived.

The probability is that the ill-fated expedition struck one of those water-courses that are common in parts of Australia, into which the blacks never venture. It is not difficult in this case to prophesy what would have been their fate.

Their reserve barrels—once emptied of their precious contents, the little water-courses of the men fit their contents would not last more than a day or so. In the shadeless bush, in that terrific heat, death comes swiftly under such circumstances. About forty-eight hours is the limit of human endurance.

The explorers, we may be sure, would struggle on to the last, however, husbanding their water to the uttermost drop. The animals would be the first to go, and the desperate expedient of drinking their blood would be resorted to.

Hotter and hotter grows the air as the doomed men stagger further and further into the rainless desert. Some lose their reason; all lose hope. Then comes the end. They separate and struggle away in ones and twos, for over thirty years, still retains the accent of the Yorkshireman. He has the typical broad "a's" of the county of broadsides. He tells a story which is particularly appropriate at this juncture when dreamthoughts and feet units are the topics of the hour. The story has to do with a horse breeder in Yorkshire who, on one occasion, sold an animal to a certain colonel who was buying remounts for the British army. On his next visit to the town in question the dealer tried to sell another horse to the officer, but the latter remembered his man.

"By jove," said the colonel, "did you not sell me a horse last year, my good fellow?"

"I did, sir," replied the dealer. "Well, let me tell you," put in the officer, "that the bally horse you sold me was no good at all for the army."

"Well," replied the irrepressible dealer, "why didn't you try him in the navy?"

Thick and Thin. Paul Emile Lamarche, who sits for Commons, and Captain Tom Wallace, of Woodbridge, are close personal friends, although Lamarche is the thinnest and Wallace is the fattest member in Parliament. During the navy debate, Captain Tom was sitting directly in front of the little French-Canadian while George Graham was making his fighting speech against the Government's proposals. Suddenly Lamarche tapped the captain on the shoulder, after attempting to peer around his bulky frame and whispered:

"Say, Tom, do you mind sitting sideways for a moment. I want to see who is sitting on the front Opposition benches."

How Ravages of Kidney Disease Are Checked in Quebec.

Mrs. Julien Painchaud, for Seven Years a Sufferer, finds quick relief and complete cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

WHITWORTH, Temiscouctut Co. Que., Feb. 10.—(Special)—With the coming of winter the ravages of Kidney Disease are again felt in this province, and the fact that a sure cure is vouchsafed for in this village is news worth giving to the world.

Mrs. Julien Painchaud is the person cured and she states without hesitation that she found her cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"For seven years my heart and kidneys bothered me," Mrs. Painchaud states, "I was always tired and nervous, I could not sleep. My limbs were heavy and I had a dragging sensation across the loins. My eyes had dark circles under them and were puffed and swollen. I was so ill I could hardly drag myself around to do my household work."

"A neighbor advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I found relief in the first box. Six boxes made me perfectly well."

"If you have any two of Mrs. Painchaud's symptoms your kidneys are diseased. Cure them and guard against serious, if not fatal results by using Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Lady Marjorie's Love

"Pray do, and if you stay out all the afternoon, so much the better. You are dull, I dare say. Why don't you call at the Rectory?"
"I don't care to thanks. I'd rather be by myself."
"Oh, well, child—if you will mope." The Countess shrugged her handsome crepe-clad shoulders, half-turned away, and turned back again. "By the way, did you hear from Loftus this morning?"
"No, not this morning."
"No? It is time he wrote, is it not?"
"I don't know—I suppose so. He wrote last week, I think."
"Did he say when you were to expect him down here?"
"No, Fenella."
The tone was utterly indifferent, spiritless. Lady Marlingford frowned. She was not at all hard, and she was angry with Loftus Bligh, although she had said to Mr Petherick, "We Down here?" Marjorie turned almost white with consternation. "Oh, Fenella, he is not coming down here is he? Not yet?"

"Shortly, I believe," returned the Countess tranquilly. "I received a letter from him a few days ago. I would have told you of it but for the foolish objection which you seem to have even to hearing his name mentioned. Other affairs will detain him in town for some time yet, it seems, but he intends sending some one down to represent him with the tenants and so forth. Mr Petherick has apparently let him know of the confusion in which Brent has contrived to get his accounts. I always considered that man most incompetent."
"Brent? Oh, an agent then?" Marjorie looked relieved. The agent would be objectionable—anything and any one belonging to Mr. Chadburn must of necessity be objectionable—

Lady Marjorie's Love

"Pray do, and if you stay out all the afternoon, so much the better. You are dull, I dare say. Why don't you call at the Rectory?"

"I don't care to thanks. I'd rather be by myself." "Oh, well, child—if you will mope." The Countess shrugged her handsome

"No, not this morning." "No? It is time he wrote, is it not?" "I don't know—I suppose so. He wrote last week, I think."

"The tone was utterly indifferent, spiritless. Lady Marjorie frowned. She was not at all hard, and she was angry with Loftus Bligh, although she had said to Mr. Petherick, 'We shall see.'"

"When do you expect him, child?" she asked sharply. "Oh, I don't know," Marjorie glanced round with a look of wonder.

"He will come down before long, I suppose, but I think he is busy. He said something about it in his letter, I remember. And he doesn't much care for the Castle you know; he says it is so dull. He would think it duller than ever now."

"A gulp came with the last words, almost a sob. Marjorie hastily put Jack down, stooping to hide her face—tears did not find favor with the Countess. She would have hurried away with some hastily muttered words about getting her hat now but the Countess checked her peremptorily.

"Let Alice get your hat," she said. "Ring for her; you may as well have the benefit of her services while you can." "A tone had sounded in her voice here which she really had not meant to use, and she checked it."

"Have you asked Mr. Bligh when you may expect to see him?" "No, Fenella."

"It appears to me my dear that he neglects you." Marjorie flushed crimson resentfully. Hints and innuendoes in plenty had dropped from her stepmother during the last month, but not words as bald and plain as these. What though Loftus's letters were short, empty, unsatisfactory—as poor child she was beginning to feel that they were—it was no business of Fenella's.

As for his coming, who could expect him to come to a place so heartbreakingly miserable, so cruelly dreary as her last home was now. His coming could not give her back Castle Marling—could not make things one whit better. She was tired, and she did not want him to come. But Fenella need not comment upon his stopping away. She would have answered but the Countess checked her tongue as resolutely as she had just checked her retreat.

"I don't want to vex you, child," she said coldly, "and I certainly have no desire whatever to interfere between you and Mr. Bligh. But there is your future to consider—neither you nor I can trespass upon Mr. Chadburn's hospitality forever—and it appears that he shows no sign of considering it. He has not even been here since the day of your father's funeral, and you may say he says nothing of coming. Really your own common sense must tell you that this is not as it should be." The Countess ended with a touch of impatience.

"He will come directly," Marjorie raised her head proudly—"he will come the very next day if I write and say that I want him to come."

"Will he?" Only the faintest shrug of her ladyship's fine shoulders, only the slightest raising of her eyebrows accompanied the words. "Then, my dear, I should advise you to do so without delay. We cannot, as I said, expect to remain Mr. Chadburn's guests for ever."

"For ever?" echoed the girl. The passionate heave of her breast almost brought a sob with it in spite of her efforts to choke it down. "I did not want to stay at all, Fenella—you know I did not. I said so."

"You said a good many very foolish things, I remember," the Countess rejoined with a faint cool smile. "And as I said, as I say now, my dear, where else will you go? Pray do not be so foolish, Marjorie. We have both reason to feel grateful to Mr. Chadburn. But when he comes down here I must really beg that you will behave with common politeness towards him."

"I hate Mr. Chadburn," said Marjorie doggedly. Lady Marlingford shrugged her shoulders again.

"Just as you please, my dear. You are childishly absurdly likely to affect Mr. Chadburn. But when he comes down here I must really beg that you will behave with common politeness to him."

"Down here?" Marjorie turned almost white with consternation. "Oh, Fenella, he is not coming down here is he? Not yet?"

"Shortly, I believe," returned the Countess tranquilly. "I received a letter from him a few days ago. I would have told you of it but for the foolish objection which you seem to have even to hearing his name mentioned. Other affairs will detain him in town for some time yet, it seems, but he intends sending some one down to represent him with the tenants and so forth. Mr. Petherick has apparently let him know of the confusion in which Brent has contrived to get his accounts. I always considered that man most incompetent."

"Brent? Oh, an agent then?" Marjorie looked relieved. The agent would be objectionable—anything and any one belonging to Mr. Chadburn must of necessity be objectionable—but still he would probably be less so than his master.

"I should fancy from Mr. Chadburn's letter that he has some idea of ultimately putting this gentleman—Mr. Barrington—in Brent's place." The Countess resumed. "Evidently he has a high opinion of him, judging from the terms in which he speaks. He says he shall regard it as a favor to himself if I will have him made comfortable—as of course I shall do."

"Comfortable?" Marjorie was haughtily affronted again. "Certainly here." The Countess faintly laughed. "My good child, pray do not be so absurd. Do you suppose the man is a footman or even a person of the same standing as Brent? Mr. Chadburn speaks of him as his friend and as a gentleman, and no doubt he is so. I shall make a point of seeing that he is received and treated with all possible consideration."

"Is he to dine with us?" Poor little Marjorie tried to sneer, but the idea and the words, the situation altogether, reduced her to a gasp. Fenella's ideas had always been dreadfully good. She looked helplessly around her, as though she almost expected to see some of the ancestral Wynnes come tumbling down from their frames at the mere suggestion of such an outrage. Mr. Chadburn would have been bad enough, but Mr. Chadburn's servant, it was time, indeed, that she—the last of the Wynnes—should be treated with all possible consideration."

"Dine with us?" Lady Marlingford repeated calmly. "That must be as he prefers—sometimes probably. I have given orders to have the oak parlor and the room above prepared for him. Did you ring for your hat, Marjorie?"

"Did you ring for your hat, Marjorie?" "I don't know what this means," she said, but she did not open her door to-day."

Marjorie had not rung; she did so now mechanically; what with wrath and bewilderment she was half stupid.

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone. End such misery now! Get the small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, so that relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed, nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous droppings into the throat and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in Ely's Cream Balm, and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

Music and Drama

George W. Lederer, who gave this country its first theatrical revue when he produced The Passing Show and followed the innovation with the form of early musical comedy that established his first fame and that of the New York Casino, where he produced it during many successive seasons—a form that The Belle of New York and its successors instanced—has just projected still another kind of musical play in Madame Sherry, so new in model that New York went mad over it. Described on the programme as a French vaudeville, Madame Sherry—the latest Lederer manifest—differs from the former Casino manager's output in that instead of playing the chorus up, i.e., making it a dominant element of the piece, he represses it in numbers, importance and action, until it is scarcely more consequential than an added bit of scenery. The success of the Lederer novelty will sweepingly affect the musical comedy of the country, for already three musical comedies modeled on its lines, have been instituted since Madame Sherry's tremendous hit.

Madame Sherry will be seen here at the Grand on Saturday, February 15th with the same excellent cast that has marked even its earliest presentations, and that is expected with such a piece as Madame Sherry.

WHEN BABY IS ILL

When the baby is ill; when his little stomach is out of order and he is cross and refuses to smile, don't dose him with castor oil. There is no need to torture him—give Baby's Own Tablets—they do everything castor oil is supposed to do, only they do it better, and what is more the baby will like them. The Tablets are absolutely safe, being guaranteed by a government analyst to contain no opiates or other harmful drugs. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Preference.

"I wish this fellow wouldn't send you so many chocolates," said the other suitor.

"Why," simpered the girl, "are you jealous?"

"No; but I prefer to eat marshmallows."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Some Headway.

"Hello, Bill!" called the neighbor to a young father. "Have you named the baby yet?"

"Well, almost," answered Bill. "The two grandmothers have agreed to arbitrate."—Lippincott's Magazine.

SOME AMUSING BLUNDERS.

Innocent Remarks That Have Made Many Congregations Laugh.

A divine in drawing the attention of his congregation to a special communion service on the following Sunday informed them that "the Lord is with us in the forenoon and the bishop in the evening."

A Scotch minister innocently, perhaps, hit the mark by telling his people, "Weel, friends, the kirk is urgently in need of siller, and as we have failed to get money honestly we will have to see what a bazaar can do for us."

There is a certain amount of excuse to be made for the young curate who, remarking that some people came to church for no better reason than to show off their best clothes, finished up as he glanced over his audience, "I am thankful to see, dear friends, that none of you has come here for that reason."

A negro student when conducting the prayers at one of the great missionary colleges, said, "Give us all pure hearts, give us all clean hearts, give us all sweet hearts," to which the entire congregation made response, "Amen." The going out of church notices has often proved a pitfall for the unwary. "During Lent," said a rector lately, "several preachers will preach on Wednesday evenings, but I need not give their names, as they will be all found banging up in the porch."

A Jury of His Peers.

Bill Beck, a young negro, was before Justice Greer the other day charged with stealing a "shootin' iron" from Ellis Houston. He had just completed thirty days for carrying the gun. The justice asked him how he wanted to plead on the new charge.

"Might 'a well say guilty," said Buck. "A nigger don't get no show in this country, nohow."

"Don't, eh?" said the court. "Nichols (the constable), you skirrnish around and pick up a dozen or two likely colored men for jury service, and be quick. We'll show him!"

In half an hour the constable had the little courtroom full of grinning negroes of all shapes and sizes. Happy anticipation was written on the dusky faces. Every one of them knew Buck from his days of pickaninny up, and Buck knew they knew. He glared at the ebony crowd and then turned sullenly to the court.

"If you's goin' ter make all dat fuss over a two bit popgun," he said, "I plead guilty."—Holland's Magazine.

It's promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

Taking More Care.

"I decided the other day that my little boy was getting altogether too big to have me sit with him till he went to sleep," says a Cleveland matron, "and while I was breaking him of this habit I thought I'd quit leaving a light in his room too. He's five years old. So last night I kissed him good night and said: 'Now, Harold, you are going to be mamma's big, brave boy tonight and go to sleep all by yourself.'"

"Well," he answered, "I'll try, but leave the light burning." "No, dear. If you're going to be a big boy I must turn out the light." "Have I got to sleep in the dark?" "Yes." "Then wait a minute till I say my prayers again and do it carefuler."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Her 250 Words.

The girls of the fifth form were asked to write a 250 word essay on a motorcar. The bright hope of the form duly weighed in with this:

"My uncle bought a motorcar. He was riding to the country, and it broke down in going up a hill. My uncle tried to make it go, but couldn't, although he spollt a new suit by trying. I reckon that is about forty words. The other 210 words are what uncle said as he was walking back to town, but they are not fit to write down."—Philadelphia Record.
