THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., NOV. 13, 1914.

Editorial Brevities.

It is better to be careful a thousand times than to be injured once. Get the safety habit. If you see a man acting carelessly, tell him about it.

To day civic management requires men of foresight, men who are especially trained in solving difficult questions of engineering, sanitation and transportation, as they are effected by the growth of the city into the immediately adjoining territory.

As a result of the agricultural survey of the Commission of Conservation, it has been found that in a number of cases too many horses are kept to be profitable, while the number of cattle kept per hundred acres is seldom up to the capacity of the farms.

Human interests demand, unconditionally, that useful birds should be protected, and that the destruction and increase of injurious ones should be controlled. This protection of useful birds depends upon the supply of conditions necessary for their existence and increase.

The practical and economic importance of modern town planning is in preserving human life, reducing disease and suffering, in improving the physical condition of citizens and so placing their earning power on the best possible basis, in providing for the comfort of the citizens, particularly those with the smallest incomes.

One of the newspaper correspondents, describing the landing of the Canadian Contingent at Plymouth, described how they saw Nelson's flagship, 'The Victory,' moored in the harbor, and admired it so much. The correspondent's sight must have been very keen because 'The Victory' is not moored in Plymouth harbor, but in Portsmouth harbor, 200 miles or so away.

It seems that all the war is not on the continent of Europe after all. A man in Vermont advertised his wife as having left his partnership without just provocation, and the woman advertised in return that she had had some provocation, because he cut her up with a hand axe, choked and kicked her, so that she had to flee for her life. That man must be a German Hun.

A German officer who took part in the battle of the Aisne wrote: 'The English are marvellously trained in making use of the ground. One never sees them and one is constantly under fire.' What a Nemesis is here! The German Emperor stirred the Boers to rebel against the British suzerainty and incited the Boer war; but it was to prove the undoing of his own ambition. In that war the British learned lessons, which as intimates above, made them marvellously proficient compared to their numbers.

The suggestion of organizing a Home Guard in every city and village of Canada is very timely. No one can tell when trouble may be made by the thousands of German and Austrian 'reservists' who were summoned to the colors from every province of Canada and every state in the American Union, and who were prevented from securing passage across the Atlantic because of the British command of the sea. There is no good reason why the citizens of Wolfville should not organize in this direction, as has been done in many towns and cities throughout the country. There are undoubtedly many who, while not yet ready to offer themselves for service abroad, would willingly fit themselves to defend their home and country.

The October number of the Canadian Co-operative notes the fact that the Co-operative Union of Canada has now been in existence for nearly six years, and has been steadily enlarging its field of operations. There are nine co-operative societies in Ontario, five in Nova Scotia, four each in British Columbia and Alberta, two in Quebec and one each in Manitoba and Saskatchewan. Reports from several of the societies which appear in the October issue, show that they have had a successful year. There is an interesting quotation from a speech by the Rt. Hon. Herbert Samuel, President of the local government board, as follows: 'The Co-operative Wholesale Society and the Co-operative Union (of Great Britain) had supplied much valuable information that had been very serviceable in keeping a check on the prices recommended by the Food Prices Committee.' The Daily Citizen, of London, says that 'the co-operative movement has performed a great national service in steadying prices.'

Childhood Constipation. Baby's Own Tablets are an absolute cure for all childhood constipation. They never fail to regulate the bowels and soothe the stomach, and unlike castor oil, their action is mild and they are pleasant to take. One evening Mrs. G. Morgan, Hantsville, Ont., says: 'My baby was greatly troubled with constipation and I had to begin giving her Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are surely the best remedy I know of for little ones as they quickly banished all signs of constipation and colic. I would use no other medicine for my baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Baby's Own Tablets Co., Brockville, Ont.'

The Horton-Poor Farm.

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN. SIR:—The letter in the last week's issue of THE ACADIAN from Mr. Burpee L. Bishop on existing conditions at the Horton-Poor Farm ought to make some people 'sit up and take notice.' Will it do so? Will the apathy of the authorities which has hitherto existed when their attention has been called to the shameful state of sanitary conditions at the Poor Farm still say that they want proof that disease germs exist in a sluggish spring a receptacle of sewage from foul and polluted sources, because they do not see them? Will they deny the evidence of medical authority the world over that the germs of typhoid fever have their lurking place in a polluted water supply?

Are we living in the 20th century when science has demonstrated as an unmistakable and certain fact that typhoid is a water-borne disease; and that there are those who are paid to safeguard the welfare of the unfortunate poor in our almshouse who say that they do not believe the germs exist because they do not see them? It is related in the life of Robert G. Ingersoll that he was in conversation with a Quaker as to the existence of a personal God. Mr. Ingersoll said to the Quaker, 'I do not believe in a personal God.' He had not seen Him and did not believe in what he did not see. Said the Quaker, 'Hast thee a brain?' 'Of course,' replied Mr. Ingersoll. 'Hast thee seen it?'

The contaminations that find their way into the spring which is used for domestic purposes at the Poor House is evidence enough, without a microscope, to show quite clearly that the typhoid fever which has recently done its deadly work there was the cause of the death of the overseer and the attack by the same disease of another of his family. But was Mr. Andrew the first victim of typhoid fever at the Poor Farm? I understand he was not. About two years ago the former overseer died after an illness of a few weeks. The disease was called pneumonia—doubtless typhoid pneumonia. If so, the germs of typhoid have been lurking in the privy vault, the pig sty, which latter is only about 100 feet above the spring, in the sewage and waste water from the house, and yet no steps have been taken in all this time to alter these disgraceful and lamentable conditions. Upon somebody rests the onus.

We have a good health act empowering authorities to see to it that its laws are obeyed, but in the rural districts the health act is regarded the least of any act upon the statute. Mr. Bishop has stated why this is so—false economy, a dearth of knowledge in sanitary affairs, lack of duty ignoring the great commandment, 'Love thy neighbor.' Politicians, surely have nothing to do with it. The political machine cannot have anything to do in frustrating the enforcement of the health laws. Councillors and officers appointed as custodians of the public health, when they take their oaths of office, do not premeditate the spread of disease, the making of widows and orphans. Still we look for the cause. Where is it?

It is true that the government of the Province by the earnest and persistent efforts of the medical profession has framed a good health act. It is also true that most of the health officers appointed by the municipalities are busy practitioners, too busy to give the requisite time enjoined upon them by the health act in enforcing sanitary laws; and are too solicitous for the feelings and prejudices of their patrons to oppose what the latter too often and unwisely regard as their interests, when sanitary laws are attempted to be enforced.

Fruit inspectors are well paid by the government to inspect and take note of the fruit forwarded to markets for the people's consumption. This is done not so much for the people's health as it is to make the packers honest and the purchaser to receive the class of goods he bargains for. Doubtless this is worth while. But is it less worth while to appoint men to safeguard the public health at a remuneration adequate to the duties required of them? The health officer appointed by the municipality receives $100 per year, or the municipal sum of twenty seven cents per day, to perform the duties devolving upon him by the health act. His duties cover the territory of a whole county. How much of it is under his surveillance? How much is left undone that ought to be done because of insufficient remuneration and lack of time on the part of the busy practitioner to do the many acts enjoined upon him by the health laws? The health act is a 'beautiful act' says Mr. Bishop, but the execution of its laws has been and will be a farce until men are appointed who are qualified to do the work and are paid for it.

If the overseers of the Poor Farm will not see that the disgraceful sanitary conditions are remedied, has not the health officer the power under the act to do it and make the district responsible for it? He certainly has, if not, the act is worthless. But the act is not worthless. Under the act the medical health officer can, and in his duty when in his opinion, in sanitary conditions are dangerous to or jeopardizing the public health, to notify the authorities of the conditions; and, after a regular notice has been served upon them and they disregard it, to have the work done at their expense. It is also his duty to bring them before an authority court for such cases where they are amenable to a fine for such neglect. Otherwise the act would be worthless. The Red Skins Will Fight.

A LARGE NUMBER WILL GO WITH SECOND CONTINGENT. Much as Canada has done since the war began to show her loyalty and the cause of liberty and such other nations within the British Empire have done, there is nothing more noteworthy than the response of the Red Indians of Canada. The remnants of the once great races that roamed these acres have grown (as in these years, but those that remain have presented the nations of the world with a lesson of loyalty to the British Empire and the reasons why such loyalty has been born.

Our Admiration of Courage.

Heroism and reward have little to do with each other. When Garibaldi, according to tradition, told his followers that they would have to give up everything, and that their recompense would be suffering and death, he appealed to the roots of the heroic in Belgium, France and Russia today the Allies are fighting as bravely as men ever fought, not because one race believes one thing about the life here after, and the other believes another thing, but because they are full of the material that, since history began, has been found in men, making them do what was set before them to do, whatever the cost might be. The Kaiser declared at the beginning of the war that in ten days he would eat his dinner in Paris. The Germans are strong on boasting but it cannot be denied that they are proving themselves as brave as anybody. The British and French do not boast, nor do the Japanese. It is not according to their taste; but they do deeds of valor which no race could surpass, and do them, not in any frenzy but with much calm and judgement. There is something inspiring in spite of all our humane progress, in the thought that such doings are possible today as have been enacted by Belgians in this war. Every new report that comes to us confirms the view that in the present war the most dauntless valor has been combined with the most watchful discretion. The virtue of physical courage is often preached so that it swells and blisters harshly, but it can still be preached with and sincerity, and it can be practiced so that it seems part and foundation of much that is noble in our lives. An intrepid courage is at best but a holiday kind of virtue, to be seldom exercised, and never but in case of necessity. Yet are we connected that when physical courage ceases to be a part of the male's constitution we are to a state of degeneracy where all other virtues tend to disappear. Courage is the great virtue and is found in all strong races. The world admires it, and the world thinks more of Belgium today than it did a year ago.

Trading with the Enemy.

Any person who during the war trades with the enemy shall on summary conviction be liable to a year's hard labor and a fine of $2,000, and on conviction on indictment be liable to five years' imprisonment and a fine of $5,000. The court may in any case order the goods to be forfeited. This is the effect of an order-in-council which appears in the Canadian Gazette of Nov. 1st. Prosecution for an offence of this character will be instituted only by the Minister of Justice.

The subject under discussion was: 'Resolved, that the tariff legislation of Canada should be shaped with a view to the gradual adoption of a policy of tariff for revenue purposes only—gradual to mean by a series of successive downward revisions over a period not to exceed ten years.' The Sophomores held to the affirmative, their speakers being: James (senior), James and McNeil. They were opposed by H. H. (senior), L. H. and L. F. T. on behalf of the Freshmen. The Freshmen were all skillfully prepared and well delivered. Rev. Dr. DeWolfe, Prof. Harnay and Prof. Belmont were the judges, and awarded their decision unconditionally in favor of the Freshmen.

Teing Tau Falls.

BRITISH AND JAPANESE FORCES CAPTURED THE TEING TAU FALLS. The Teing Tau has fallen, captured by various Japanese and British forces. The closing hours of the siege are described in official reports sent to the government by Vice-Admiral Sadaaki Kato, the commander of the troops operating in Kiao Chow.

After the capture of the central fort the left wing of the attacking forces advanced and occupied Chausan at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. Chausan was the base of the right wing of the German line and is a triangular fortification. Then the other forces at the point of the bayonet captured the forts of the first line, including the intricate and dangerous defence works connecting them. Other forces advanced in rushes on the main line of defence and made up of the forts of Ilia, Hismarch and Molke. 'Suddenly,' says the report, 'the flag of surrender ran up in the morning breeze on the weather bureau mound, towering above the land and sea.'

In the last two days of the fighting, it is stated, the warships continued a terrific rain of shells on the fortress and the city from the east and south, inflicting great damage and havoc. The capture of Teing Tau losses to Germany her last foot of possessions on the Asiatic mainland, as well as the last strategic position outside of the German Empire in Europe. For nearly three months the German garrison, amounting to about 7,000 men, has held out against the land and sea attacks of the Japanese and British.

The number of the expeditionary forces is said to have been upwards of 30,000 men. A British detachment, composed of some 800 South Wales Borderers and 400 Indian Sikhs, formed a part of the centre of the Japanese line.

The Boy Scouts.

Every scout taking part in the march or to the camp fire games is requested to be present at the Club Room this evening in uniform at 7 o'clock. A dress rehearsal of the entertainment will be held at the Opera House at 3:30 p. m. on Monday. All scouts taking part must be on hand promptly in uniform and with costumes.

Anyone who intends to be in business when the war is over, should look after his business now. A good way to do it is to advertise in THE ACADIAN.

Mr. J. F. Kennedy, of the executive staff of the Bank of Quebec at Montreal, is spending a holiday of a few weeks in town, at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harris. His many Wolfville friends are glad to welcome him back among us.

Mr. Frank Walsh, of Avonport, who has been recovering from the effects of his accident on the D. A. R. at Horton Landing a few weeks ago, returned home from H. S. on Tuesday. He had one of his legs amputated at the hospital, but made a rapid recovery, returning home in good health.

Mrs. Robert Duncan, of Grand Pre, left on Monday morning for Bridgetown, where she has rented a house and expects to make her home for a time. Mrs. Duncan will be much missed at Grand Pre, and friends in this vicinity will follow her to her new home with all good wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Troyte-Bullock and Miss Margaret Troyte-Bullock left last Friday for England where, we understand, they will take up their permanent residence. A large number of friends were at the station to bid them farewell. They will all be greatly missed from Wolfville and neighborhood where they have lived for nearly twenty years, and their departure is deeply regretted. Mr. Troyte-Bullock has been a most useful and respected citizen, and a ready and willing helper forward of every good cause. His loss will be severely felt by the congregation of St. John's church, of which he has been for years a zealous and prominent member and generous supporter, and in connection with which he has filled the offices of vestryman, church warden and lay delegate to the Synod. He has also been a very useful and active worker in connection with the Boy Scout movement in this town. In the event of his revisiting this town THE ACADIAN can assure him, or any member of his family, of a hearty welcome. THE ACADIAN respectfully tenders his hearty wishes to Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Troyte-Bullock for many years of happiness in their new home in the Old Land.

The many friends of Mrs. Robert Schofield, will regret deeply to learn that she met with a severe accident in falling and breaking her hip on the foot-step of her home on Acadia street, last Friday evening. Under the treatment of Dr. Elliott she is doing as well as possible.

Acadia and Dalhousie will play football on Saturday at the garrison grounds, Halifax. A special train will leave here tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, returning in the evening. The fare from Wolfville is $1.50. No doubt there will be a large number go down and see this interesting game.

The death of Mrs. Anne M. Hill, one of the oldest residents of Wolfville, took place on Wednesday evening at her home, Main street. Mrs. Hill was in her 90th year and had resided in Wolfville for many years. She was the widow of the late Oneas Hill, of Liverpool. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from her late home. The remains will be taken to Liverpool for interment.

Miss Starr and Mme. Regina Vicario, the celebrated coloratura soprano, will also appear in joint recitals in Chatterbox Hall, New York, on December 11th.'

Stop your waiting! Never mind your own troubles; look at the other fellow's. Germany has lost since the war commenced twelve cruisers sunk, two handed over to Turkey and one interested in Honolulu; six gunboats, twenty torpedo boats and destroyers; three submarines and four auxiliary vessels, which make a total of forty-eight for Germany alone beyond any question. Her losses are two to one in warships alone but is believed to be much greater.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

Hundreds of People Have Found "Fruit-a-lives" Their Only Help

READ THIS LETTER

Superintendent of Sunday School in Toronto Tells How He Cured Himself of Chronic Rheumatism After Suffering for Years.

"For a long time, I have thought of writing you regarding what I term a most remarkable cure effected by your remedy 'Fruit-a-lives'. I suffered from Rheumatism, especially in my hands. I have spent a lot of money without any good results. I have taken 'Fruit-a-lives' for 15 months now, and am pleased to tell you that I am cured. All the enlargement has not left my hands and perhaps never will, but the soreness is all gone and I can do any kind of work. I have gained 35 pounds in 15 months."

R. A. WAUGH

Rheumatism is no longer the dreaded disease it once was. Rheumatism is no longer one of the "incurable diseases". "Fruit-a-lives" has proved its marvellous powers over Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago—in fact, over all such diseases which arise from some derangement of stomach, bowels, kidneys or skin.

"Fruit-a-lives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

What Sort of a Friend are You?

What sort of a friend are you?

Do you stick by a brother's side?

As you know you'd want him to do

If you were as sternly tried?

Is there ever a pleasure rare

That you willingly go without

To share another's care?

And smilingly help him out?

What sort of a friend are you?

Just one of the fair day kind,

A smile when the skies are blue,

Ahead when he falls behind?

Do you put yourself out at all,

To answer a brother's call,

Or selfishly hurry by?

Do you stick when the days are gloom,

As you did when they were fair?

When he wishes that you would come

Do you eagerly hurry there?

Or do you think of yourself?

Each minute of the whole day

Through.

Of comfort, of love and self?

What sort of a friend are you?

Boys We Like.

The boy who never makes fun of old age, so matter how decrepit or unfortunate or evil it may be.

God's hand rests lovingly on the aged head.

Cheating is contemptible anywhere and at any age. His play should strengthen, not weaken, his character.

The boy who never calls anybody bad names so matter what anybody calls him.

The boy who is never cruel.

The boy who never tells lies while his leave black spots on the character.

The boy who never makes fun of a companion because of a misfortune he could not help.

The boy who never hesitates to say "No" when asked to do a wrong thing.

The boy who never forgets that God made him to be a joyous, loving, helpful being.

Scout Law.

The Scout is that at all times he will be prepared to help others. Now that does not only mean that he will do his one good turn daily, but will also be ready to do as many as he can possibly do in one day.

The Scout who gets up in the morning and either forgets to put the knots in his tie or who does some simple little service and is satisfied for the rest of the day is not quite living up to his promise. Is he? I guess not. I think personally that a Scout should keep his knot in his tie, but he should never neglect his duty, and that should always be the Scout's first thought to help others along the road.

Then, too, to use an old Scout's saying, "You've got to give to get."

Now you can give to get by doing for others each day rather by hundreds.

of good turns. You know that it's twice as easy to smile and whistle after you have helped someone carry a heavy parcel, or directed someone to a place they were looking for, or any other service you may render. It isn't very hard to be cheery and happy if you live up to this part of the promise. Therefore, boys, make this the object of every day of your life. To help others and to do, not one, but as many good turns every day as you can.

Temperance Reform in Russia.

Russia has been notorious for the temperance of its peasantry and the enormous consumption of the national liquor, vodka. Some years ago in order to turn this habit of the people to the advantage of the state treasury the Government made the liquor traffic a state monopoly. It then became more the fashion to drink to the good of the country. As the government had a common interest with distillers, consumption increased, until one quarter of the state revenue was derived from this source. Recently alarmed by the prevalence of debauchery, the Duma has enacted a local option measure in which the women are to vote and by which a majority may either prohibit or restrict the traffic for the district. The Czar and the Upper House have approved the Duma's legislation, so that there is hope for extensive reformation. Penalties will also be placed on illicit trading, the campaign of education on temperance will be taken up in the churches and schools and a new attitude assumed in the courts by which the fact of drunkenness shall not be regarded as excusing the commission of crime.

Several actresses are said to scorn the aid of make-up on the stage, but you may take it from me that if they did their audience would be disappointed with their beauty," said a prominent lady of the limelight. It is nothing on the stage without make-up, and even the most attractive face becomes blank and meaningless. "Now, my nose is somewhat small for the size of my face, and every night before going on the stage, I make it appear a little larger by drawing a line of white down the centre, carefully blending it into the general tone of my complexion. It is impossible for this line to be detected from the auditorium, but the light striking upon it brings it into prominence, and makes the nose look larger."

CASTORIA For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of J. C. Ayer & Co.

When pens and ink and other writing materials came into common use a great many years ago they were sold by peddlers from house to house. After a while a few dealers in writing materials opened stalls and remained stationary at their place of business. To distinguish the two classes of peddlers the man in the stall was called a stationer, and the goods he sold came to be known as stationery.

"Young man," said the boss, "combiner and listen." He approached "When you've made a mistake forget it and go on to the next job. Don't go ter arund day after day idling lot of fin-hinz touches."

A drugist can obtain an imitation of MINARD'S LINIMENT from a Toronto house at a very low price, and have it labeled his own product.

This gray imitation is the poorest one we have yet seen of the many that every Tom, Dick and Harry has tried to introduce.

Ask for MINARD'S and you will get it.

Some people boast that they pay as they go, but it seems hard to get them started.

"If your mother bought four baskets of grapes, the dealer's price being a quarter a basket, how much money would the purchase cost her? asked the new teacher.

"You never can tell," answered Tommy, who was at the head of the class.

"Ma's great at bargaining!"

The Teutonic war machine seems to have been all it was guaranteed to be except that its component parts proved to be human and subject to human limitation, a condition the Kaiser and his war advisers seem to have overlooked.

Belleville, Nova Scotia, Can.—"Three years ago I was suffering badly with what the doctor called Chorea or Life. I was so bad that I had to stay in bed. Some friends told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me from the first. It is the only medicine I took that did help me and I recommend it to all who are afflicted with it. You don't know how thankful and grateful I am. I give you permission to publish what your good medicine has done for me."—Mrs. Simon Doucette, Belleville, Yarmouth Co., Nova Scotia, Canada.

CHEESE FOR BREAKFAST

Used With Cereals It Makes Appetizing and Healthful Dish

Breakfast foods are not such cheap after all when you begin to count the cost of sugar and cream usually served with them. But expert cooks have found a substitute for the sugar and cream and it's nothing less substantial and inexpensive than cheese. This is what one chef has to say about it.

Cheese combined with cereal foods makes a rational dish as regards the proportion of nutrients it supplies. Cheese and some of the crisp "ready to serve" cereal breakfast foods is a combination which is common, the cheese being melted with the cereal food, or simply served with it.

There are many who relish a piece of cheese with the cooked cereal, so commonly eaten for breakfast and find such a combination satisfying to appetite and taste. Oatmeal or some other home-cooked breakfast cereal prepared with cheese is palatable, and such dishes have an advantage in that they may be served without cream, and such a dish contains considerably more protein than the breakfast cereals as ordinarily served. It has a further advantage in that it may well serve as the principal item of a breakfast menu, instead of a preliminary to other courses.

Such a combination as cereals and tea, coffee, or chocolate, makes a palatable as well as nutritious breakfast and one which does not require much work to prepare and to clear away.

A recipe for preparing oatmeal with cheese follows. What breakfast foods, either parched or unparched, corn meal and hominy may be prepared in the same way.

Oatmeal With Cheese

Two cupsful of oatmeal, one cupful of grated cheese, one tablespoonful of butter, one level teaspoonful of salt.

Cook the oatmeal as usual. Shortly before serving, stir in the butter and add the cheese, and stir until the cheese is melted and thoroughly blended with the cereal.

The cheese should be mild in flavor and soft in texture. The proportion of cheese used may be increased if a more pronounced cheese flavor is desired.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

Silence is a great peace-maker.

Loneliness.

If thou wouldst be happy bring thy mind to thy condition, and have no indifference for sorrow than what is sufficient.—William Penn.

Happiness consists, not in possessing much, but in being content with what we have. He who wants little always has enough.—Zimmerman.

Putting up with things that cannot be helped means content; putting up with things that can be helped means cowardice.—Lutheran Young People.

Great occasions do not make heroes or cowards; they simply adjust them to the eyes of men. Silently and imperceptibly, as we wake or sleep we grow weak, and at last some crisis shows us what we have become.—Canon Westcott.

MILDEW AND STAINS

Some Hints as to How to Eliminate Them From Clothing and Linen

A neglected speck of mildew has often spoiled a good article of fabric, and such a speck, if neglected, will grow and spread, and will be difficult to remove.

It isn't easy to remove mildew from clothing, but soaking the spots in some acid, such as lemon juice, vinegar or buttermilk or salt and then exposing it to the direct rays of the sun is an effective treatment. If it doesn't pay to neglect mildew, or in fact any of the stains or marks that are so often found in white fabrics.

To make javelle water take one pound washing soda, one-half pound caustic soda, one-half pound soda ash, one quart boiling water, and two quart cold water. Dissolve the soda and caustic in the boiling water, and let it cool. Dissolve the washing powder in cold water, let it settle and pour the clear liquid into the soda, let settle. This gives a 25 per cent. solution. Mix with equal portions of water it may be used cautiously to remove spots. If the materials are to remain in the solution for some time it should be diluted to about a 2 per cent. solution. Wash thoroughly in several waters and lastly in diluted ammonia water.

Fruit stains are held in the material by a poisonous substance soluble only in boiling water. Pouring boiling water from a height through the fabric will remove such stains.

Preserving Window Blind Cords

To prevent window-blind cords from becoming stiff and brittle, rub them over with a well-oiled rag. The snapping is caused by friction, which impoverishes the cords, and they are further weakened by the sun and weather.

Guarding Against Burns

It is an excellent plan to keep in the kitchen a bottle filled with equal parts of linseed oil and lime water, to alleviate the pain of burns, shake the bottle well before using the lotion, and keep the burned parts from the air by covering with lot.

To Prevent Basin Breaking

A very good way to prevent a cracked wash basin from breaking is to paint along the crack with a mixture of white lead, oil and turpentine. The mixture should be applied with a brush, and the basin should be kept for a few days in a warm place.

Washing Variegated Paper

Variegated paper on walls should be washed with a solution of soda ash and polished with a dry cloth.

When cleaning knives dampen them before rubbing on the boards, this will produce a better polish and they will clean much quicker.

To impart a delicate odor to linen, saturate a piece of cotton or blotting paper with all of lavender and place it among the various articles suspended in a linen closet.

A high ball of sulphur suspended in a linen closet is not only healthy for the bird, but keeps away the parasites with which our birds are infested.

If wood worms are in old furniture rub constantly with turpentine. The polish made of turpentine and beeswax is to be preferred to any other for this use.

When boiling lard in a tin, dip the tin in the lard and allow it to cool. The lard will be clean and indigestible if boiled.

Old holes in wood may be filled up by mixing acetone with glue till it is the consistency of stiff putty. Press this compound into the holes, and it will be as hard as the wood itself.

When you wash your face, never get away and avoid water, from there with this water. It is particularly good for all kinds of skin, as there is no alcohol in it, and it is being properly cleaned.

Invasion of Canada.

No one in Canada need be alarmed by the efforts of the German Ambassador at Washington to diffuse Germany's position with respect to the Monroe Doctrine. There is not the remotest possibility of an invasion of Canada by Germany. The United States press is quite clear that Germany has as much chance of invading Canada, while the British press boasts of invading the moon. Further, America has no wish to participate in such bloodshed, whether actively or passively, but a German occupation of Canada would make it a logical necessity to a coming generation. Britain is fighting for the peace and liberty in Europe which she and her allies have maintained with the United States for a hundred years in America. That is the real basis of American sympathy with the Allies in the great war.
