RUSSIA AGAIN IN TREES OF REVOLUTION

MAXIMALISTS OVERTHROW RUSS GOVERNMENT AND ARREST FIVE MINISTERS KERENSKY ESCAPES FROM PETROGRAD AND IS ON HIS WAY TO THE FRONT REVOLUTIONARIES MAKE DECLARATION FOR PEACE

FORCES MANOEUVRE FOR DECISIVE ACTION

Great Battle of Teutonic Drive in Italy Enters Preliminary Stages—Italian Outlook Is Brighter.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The decisive battle of the Teutonic drive in Italy is entering its first stages today, with manoeuvring for position by the opposing armies, Rome cables state. French and British reinforcements are massing back of the Piave River line and heavy artillery is being rushed from the western front to Gen. Cadorna's relief.

Despite terrible sacrifices, the Italian troops were said to be holding up the Austro-German advance sufficiently to permit defence preparations that make the final outcome hopeful.

Thirty-Five Mile Front. Italian Army Headquarters, Nov. 8.—The bulk of the Austro-German invading forces today presents a main frontage of about 35 miles back of and along the Tagliamento River, with reconnaissance parties thrust forward eight or ten miles west of the river for the purpose of feeling for the points of least resistance. This is producing detached engagements.

The Alps heretofore have been the traditional boundary between the northern Teutonic and the southern Latin races. The Austro-Germans recognize the Alpine boundary, except for Trent and Trieste.

Now for the first time the Teutonic forces are occupying territory in the Friuli plains, which are the easternmost part of Venetia and age-long possessions of the Latins. Such an invasion strikes at the very heart of the principle of nationality and also thrusts a Teutonic wedge southward along the Adriatic.

This brings up the grave question of whether Germany will finally secure territorial lodgment with ports and naval bases on the Adriatic, thus realizing her aim to become a Mediterranean as well as a North Sea power unless the allies turn their backs upon the Italian plans.

The enemy territorial occupation in eastern Friuli presents a sinister aspect far beyond its military support.

The Allies will come through the triumph of democracy. Germany's regime cannot be reconciled with the spirit of our times. Belgium will be completely reinstated and reparations made. Alsace-Lorraine must be restored to France.

The Cologne Gazette's semi-official Berlin correspondent, commenting on this utterance says: "We expect the Swedish Government to explain whether Branting's words can be reconciled with true neutrality."

Telegraphs seized to thwart Kerensky. Revolutionaries took precautions to prevent calling troops to Petrograd.

Petrograd, Wednesday, Nov. 7.—Vice-President Cameneff of the workmen's and soldiers' delegates, told the Associated Press today that the objects of taking possession of the posts and telegraphs was to thwart any effort the government might make to call troops to the capital.

The Russian Yolla and the Bourgeois Gazette have been commandeered by the workmen's and soldiers' delegates.

KERENSKY'S DOWNFALL UPSETS WALL STREET

MARKET DEMORALIZED

Many Margins Wiped Out When U. S. Steel Sells Below Ninety

New York, Nov. 8.—Foreign developments loomed ominously upon the financial horizon today, the latest Russian revolt forcing the active stock list lower by three to eight points on an outpouring of approximately 1,300,000 shares.

Weakness spread to bonds and the foreign exchange market, rates to Petrograd and Rome recording their greatest depreciation since the inception of the war, incidentally, the Liberty 3 1/2 per cent bonds, which changed hands in round amounts, fell to the new minimum of 99.34.

Wall street was slow to realize the importance of the news from Petrograd, which came during the forenoon trading. The market continued strong for a period, but once the extent of the coup d'etat became known stocks were thrown over in larger volumes than at any time in the three months of almost uninterrupted liquidation.

Declines in the general list were orderly at first, but the movement bordered on demoralization as it

Branting, Swedish Minister, Urges Germans by Outspoken Pronouncement on the War.

Amsterdam, Nov. 8.—Hjalmer Branting, Swedish minister of finance and socialist leader, is quoted by a newspaper correspondent as saying:

The Cologne Gazette's semi-official Berlin correspondent, commenting on this utterance says:

FULL TURK RETREAT IN PALESTINE NEAR

Indications Make It Plain Enemy's Lines Are Going To Pieces Under Blows of British Forces.

London, Nov. 8.—There are indications of a general retreat northward by the Turkish forces in Palestine, the war office announces.

The British, says the official statement, pushed beyond Gaza on the night of Mukham-el-Muntar Hill, dominating the town, and on the left to the Sheik Redman fortifications, a mile to the north.

The advance also penetrated as far as the mouth of the Wadi-Hesi, eight miles north of the original British line.

FAIL OF CABINET OF KERENSKY LEAVES RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT IN THE HANDS OF THE PACIFISTS

FORMER RUSSIAN PREMIER NOW A FUGITIVE

Kerensky, former premier of Russia, whose government has been overthrown by a revolution, is reported to have fled from Petrograd, and is now reported as on his way to the front.

NEW REVOLUTION IN RUSSIA MAY NOT DEAL ALLIES A BLOW

Germans Unlikely to Make Peace With Maximalists and Approaching Winter Makes it Impossible For Enemy to Undertake Big Eastern Offensive.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Discouragement felt here over the news of the overthrow of the Kerensky government at Petrograd is tempered by hope that the extreme radicals who have seized the reins of power will be able to extend their control over the army or any considerable part of the country.

However, it is feared that much blood must be shed and the nation further demoralized before any power rises above the turmoil strong enough to control the situation.

Both the state department and the Russian embassy still were without official advice tonight. Consequently there was no disposition to question the collapse of the provisional government's power in the capital.

Whether this control of the channels of information will extend to interfere with dispatches which Ambassador Francis and other diplomatic representatives are undoubtedly seeking to send to their governments, remains to be seen.

The suggestion that the new power at Petrograd may be short-lived is based to an extent on the fact that the Cossacks have always been reckoned on to support a strong Conservative government.

It was conceived in some quarters that if Kerensky should be able to bring to his support General Korniloff, the strong man of the Russian army, with his Cossack backers, he might set up a new and stronger government at Moscow, where he could count on the loyalty of a majority of the large population of that ancient capital.

An objection to the success of this plan is found in the possibility that Korniloff, embittered by Kerensky's refusal to risk his future further on such an uncertain leader.

In view of the lethality of democratic spirit developed in Russia since the overthrow of the czar, it is regarded here as difficult to conceive of the appearance of any other form of government than a republic, yet in diplomatic circles where the peculiar temperament of the masses is well understood, the opinion is expressed that out of sheer weariness with revolutions and anarchy, the majority of the people might suddenly decide to Maximalists, Who Stand For an Early Peace, in Complete Control of Petrograd After Swift and Successful Revolt—Kerensky Flees From Capital and Goes to the Front—Baltic and Black Sea Sailors Join Uprising.

London, Nov. 8.—Premier Kerensky has been deposed. A proclamation sent out thru the wireless stations of the Russian Government today, and picked up here, states that the garrison and proletariat of Petrograd have deposed the Kerensky government.

The Maximalists have obtained control of Petrograd and issued a proclamation saying the new government will propose immediate peace, the semi-official news agency announces.

The Maximalists were assisted by the Petrograd garrison, which made possible a coup d'etat without bloodshed.

Premier Kerensky has fled from the capital. Orders have been issued for his arrest.

Kerensky Goes to the Front. Petrograd, Wednesday, Nov. 7.—At the winter palace this afternoon it was said that Premier Kerensky had gone to the front, delegating his authority to M. Kishkin, minister of public welfare.

May Oppose Revolution By Force. London, Nov. 8.—The opinion is expressed in Russian circles in London that M. Kerensky, who early was advised of the intentions of Nikolai Lunin to grasp power, removed the seat of government to Moscow and from there will endeavor to unite the moderates against the Maximalists and also rally to his support Cossacks and such other troops who have not already gone over to the extremists.

Sailors Join Revolutionaries. London, Nov. 8.—A Reuter despatch from Petrograd dated Wednesday evening says that delegates from the Baltic and Black Sea fleets have declared in favor of the workmen's and soldiers' council.

According to the same correspondent, the 1st, 3rd and 14th Cossack Regiments informed Kerensky that they were prepared whole-heartedly to support the government, provided no compromise

BRITISH MAKE GAINS ALONG TIGRIS RIVER

Capture Several Lines of Turkish Trenches and Much Munitions and Other War Supplies.

London, Nov. 8.—Additional ground has been gained by the British troops against the Turks along the Tigris River. The text of the British official statement reads:

"Following the successful action fought near Duj-Dup on Nov. 2 our troops advanced further up the Tigris, and on Nov. 5 attacked the Turks, who were holding a strongly entrenched position covering Tehtek. Under the fire of our artillery our troops with great gallantry crossed the 1200 yards of open country, and the Indian Sikh and rifle regiments, pressing home the attack, captured the first two lines of the enemy trenches, inflicting heavy casualties. These trenches were well camouflaged and a Turkish counter-attack proved unsuccessful."

"In the meantime the cavalry attacked the enemy's right flank and our artillery on the left bank of the Tigris obtained good targets on the Turkish communications leading to the north. In the afternoon our troops attacked again and carried further lines of trenches with heavy losses to the Turks. In this attack our cavalry on the left bank took a prominent part. British and Indian cavalry charged over the trenches and cut down a number of retreating Turks. The fighting continued until nightfall, when the Turks retreated hurriedly under cover of darkness, burning some of their stores and blowing up three ammunition dumps. We occupied Tehtek on the morning of Nov. 8.

"The battlefield has not been cleared in time to report, but 132 wounded prisoners have been brought in. Much material has been captured, including a gun and rifle ammunition, rifles, boats, bridging material and two aeroplanes."

British forces also continued their advance from the Wady Sherikah, northwest of Beersheba, pushing farther northwest.

The British captures of prisoners, guns and stores are considerable in volume.

General Allenby in command reports as follows: "About midnight Tuesday our troops assaulted the Turkish works south of Gaza and captured them.

MAXIMALIST FORCES GAIN FIRST FIGHT

Shell Government Defenders of the Winter Palace Into Surrender.

CONTROL PETROGRAD

Kerensky Reported at Luga, Eighty-Five Miles From the Capital.

Petrograd, Nov. 8.—Government forces holding the Winter Palace were compelled to capitulate early this morning under the fire of the cruiser Aurora and the cannon of the St. Peter and St. Paul fortress across the Neva River. At 2 o'clock this morning the women's battalion which had been defending the Winter Palace surrendered.

The workmen's and soldiers' delegates are in complete control of the city. Premier Kerensky was reported last night at Luga, 85 miles southwest of Petrograd.

Late yesterday evening, after the government forces had been driven into the Winter Palace, the palace was besieged and a lively fire of machine guns began. The cruiser Aurora, which was moored at the Nicolai Bridge, moved up within range, firing shrapnel. Meanwhile the guns of the St. Peter and St. Paul fortress opened fire.

The palace stood out under the glare of the searchlights of the cruiser, and offered a good target for the guns. The defenders held out for four hours, replying as best they could with machine guns and rifles.

There was spasmodic firing in other parts of the city, but the workmen's and soldiers' troops took every means to protect citizens who were ordered to their quarters. The bridges and the Nevsky Prospekt, which early in the afternoon were in the hands of the government forces, were captured and held during the night by the workmen's and soldiers' troops.

RUSSIAN ARMY HOLDS KEY TO ENTIRE CRISIS

British Government Believes Situation Not So Black as Painted.

KERENSKY MAY WIN

Maximalists Control the Telegraphs—Send Out Only Reports Favoring Them.

London, Nov. 8.—Chancellor Andrew Bonar Law informed the House of Commons this afternoon that the government had no news of the latest developments in Russia.

The Russian embassy also was without advice. The only news of the deposition of the Kerensky government thus far has been received from the Russian wireless and the semi-official Petrograd news agency, both of which are now controlled by the Maximalists.

There is hope here that there may be another side to the picture. It is considered possible that the Kerensky faction may not have been turned out of power as completely as the Maximalists represent and that the conservatives may be able to reassert themselves without a general civil war.

The army holds the key to the situation and the issue appears to hang upon how far the soldiers respond to the Maximalist proclamation.

PROVINCES ORDERED TO REPRESS RISINGS

Troops at Front Appealed to Rally to Support Provisional Government.

London, Nov. 8.—A Reuter despatch from Petrograd, dated Wednesday, says the Kerensky Government had invested Minister of Public Welfare Kishkin with extraordinary powers to re-establish order in Petrograd. One of the first measures undertaken was the removal of Colonel Polkovnikov as governor of Petrograd and the appointment in his stead of General Bagratuni, chief of the garrison staff. Bagratuni, however, refused to accept the post.

The minister of the interior, the correspondent adds, drew up a circular to all government commissaries in the provinces, informing them of the disorders and requesting them to take all measures to suppress uprisings in their districts. Minister of Trade and Industry Konovloff at the same time appealed to the troops at the front to rally round the provisional government and oppose the workmen's and soldiers' delegates' movement.

MAXIMALISTS SEEK PEACE FOR RUSSIA

Proclaim Intention of Putting an Early Stop to the War—Arrest Five Government Ministers.

Petrograd, Nov. 8.—The general congress of workmen's and soldiers' delegates of all Russia was convened here last night with 560 delegates in attendance. The chairman declared that the time was not propitious for political speeches, and the order of business of the congress approved was as follows:

First: Organization of power.
Second: Peace and war.
Third: A constituent assembly.

The officers elected comprise 14 Maximalists, including Nikolai Lenin, the radical Socialist leader, and M. Zinovief, an associate of Lenin, and Leon Trotsky, leader of the extreme executive committee of the Petrograd council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates.

In addition seven revolutionary Socialists were appointed. A delegation was named to initiate peace negotiations with the other revolutionary and democratic organizations, with a view to taking steps to stop bloodshed.

The Official News Agency today made public the following statement: "The congress of workmen's and soldiers' delegates of all Russia, which opened last evening, issued this morning the three following proclamations:

"To all provincial councils of workmen's and soldiers' and peasants' delegates: "All power lies in the workmen's and soldiers' delegates. Government commissaries are relieved of their functions. Presidents of the workmen's and soldiers' delegates are to communicate direct with the revolutionary government. All members of agricultural committees who have been arrested are to be set at liberty immediately, and the commissaries who arrested them are in turn to be arrested."

"The second proclamation reads as follows: "The death penalty re-established at the front by Premier Kerensky is abolished, and complete freedom for political propaganda has been established at the front. All revolutionary soldiers and officers who have been arrested for complicity in so-called political crimes are to be set at liberty immediately."

"The third proclamation says: "Former Ministers Konovloff, Kishkin, Tereshchenko, Malantovitch, Nikitin and others have been arrested by the revolutionary committee. M. Kerensky has taken flight and all military bodies have been empowered to take all possible measures to arrest Kerensky and bring him back to Petrograd. All complicity with Kerensky will be dealt with as high treason."

Nikolai Lenin, who has since been arrested, is an old comrade, whom Lenin said:

"Now we have a revolution. The bourgeois and reaction control the government. This is only a preliminary step toward a similar revolution everywhere."

Well Known in America.
New York, Nov. 8.—Leon Trotsky, president of the central executive committee of the Petrograd council of soldiers' and workmen's delegates, was the editor, for a few months this year, of The Novi Mir (New World), a Russian revolutionary paper published in this city. He arrived in New York January 15 last, from Spain and remained here until the overthrow of the emperor, when he returned to Russia. While here he was prominent in radical circles on the East Side.

Persons who knew him in this city declare that he established a paper in Russia more than 15 years ago, and because of his revolutionary tendencies was often in jail. He was sent to Siberia in 1905 and in 1912 for participation in revolutionary plots. After his release the second time he went to Berlin, where he started a newspaper, but when the war broke out he was ordered to leave.

He lived a short time in Switzerland, then returned to Paris and started a newspaper advocating peace. The Russian ambassador had his paper suppressed and he fled to Spain, where he was promptly arrested. After his release he came to the United States with his wife and two sons. The immigration authorities permitted him to land when he declared that he was not a revolutionist, but a disciple of Karl Marx and desired to bring concord among the nations.

FIGHTING ITALIAN RETREAT CONTINUES

Cadorna's Rearguards Galantly Cover Withdrawal From the Livorno.

Rome, Nov. 8.—Withdrawal of the Italian line was continued yesterday. The larger units retired unharmed. The text of the statement reads: "During yesterday we continued the withdrawal of our line. The larger units have retired without being molested by the enemy."

"Numerous engagements took place between the hills of Vittorio and the confluence of the Monticane and the Livorno, in the course of which our brave soldiers succeeded in detaining the enemy's advance."

"In spite of strong resistance on the part of hostile machines, our aviators renewed their bombardments of enemy troops along the Tagliamento between Tolmezzo and Gemona and on permanent fortified works of Monte Saino. Successive attacks have been made on the latter, and the enemy has been driven back to the river."

"Up to the present, 17,000 Italian, among them a general, with eighty guns, have been taken prisoner."

"The total number of prisoners captured has now been increased to more than 250,000 and the booty in guns to more than 2900."

It seems as if the restoration of the death penalty to the Russian army, a remote cause war the friends of Socialist agitators. These won over the soldiers and workmen's councils to arrest Kerensky and bring him back to Petrograd.

The Petrograd extremists demand a speedy peace. They also demand the abolition of discipline and the death penalty in the Russian active forces. They are converts of Kerensky and German agents have taught them that Great Britain and France have caused the war by their unprovoked attack on innocent Germany. Russia, like Mexico, may become the victim of contending factions. Petrograd is in the hands of the rebels during the first day or two of the Sinn Fein rebellion.

The British Government has hopes that Kerensky will yet prevail. It receives prompt support he can cut communications between Petrograd and the rest of the country. Evacuation will then speedily reduce the Maximalists. The railway lines, it is reported, have already been cut. The capital was half-evacuated some time ago, and Kerensky had transferred part of the government to Moscow. It may set up his provisional government in that ancient and more truly Russian capital. The populace of Petrograd consists of turbulent Jewish and German-speaking workmen.

THREE CANADIANS WIN HIGH HONOR

Victoria Crosses Awarded Major Learmouth, Sgt.-Major Hanna, Pte. O'Rourke.

FIRST-NAMED IS KILLED

Directed Defence, Tho Mortally Wounded, With Devotion to Duty.

London, Nov. 8.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa agency)—The London Gazette announces the award of the Victoria Cross to the following: Major O'Kill Massey Learmouth, M.C., late of the Canadian Infantry; "For most conspicuous bravery and exceptional devotion to duty. During a determined counter attack on our new positions this officer, when his company was momentarily surprised, instantly charged and personally disposed of the attackers. Later he carried on a tremendous fight with the advancing enemy. After an intense barrage fire and mortally wounded, he stood on the parapet of the trench and bombed the enemy continuously and directed the defence in such a manner as to infuse a spirit of the utmost resistance into his men. On several occasions this very brave officer actually caught bombs thrown at him by the enemy and threw them back."

Sgt.-Major M. Robert Hanna, Canadian Infantry: "For most conspicuous bravery in attack when his company met with most severe enemy resistance and all the company officers became casualties. A strong point heavily protected by wire and held by a machine gun had been the assault of the company with heavy casualties. This warrant officer, under heavy machine gun and rifle fire coolly collected a party of men and leading them against this strong point rushed thru the wire and personally bayoneted three of the enemy and brained the fourth, capturing the position and silencing the machine gun."

Private James O'Rourke, Canadian Infantry: "For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty. During prolonged operations for three days and nights Pte. O'Rourke, who is a stretcher bearer, worked unceasingly in bringing the wounded into safety. On several occasions he was knocked down and partially buried by enemy shells. Three times he went forward under heavy fire and each time secured a comrade."

The next of kin of the late Major O. M. Learmouth is given as Martha Learmouth, 45 Murray avenue, Quebec.

Fending further information as to the regimental number of Sgt.-Major Hanna and Pte. O'Rourke, the record office is unable to give the next of kin's address, as there are so many soldiers of the same name.

CANADIANS ENJOY QUIET POSSESSION

German Counter-Attacks at Passchendaele Fail to Materialize.

By W. A. Willison.

Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Nov. 8.—Hindenburg's orders to his troops to retake Passchendaele at all costs have not yet resulted in any enemy infantry activity before Passchendaele. Both yesterday and today have been exceptionally quiet, except for our artillery, which has been maintaining a harassing fire on all the routes of approach to the centre of activity in the enemy area. Reports of an eastward movement of enemy batteries possibly indicate that he may be preparing new positions to support an attack upon the ridge, but in the meantime the Canadians are strengthening their new positions and preparing for all emergencies.

"With such men I could go anywhere, do anything," is one captured officer's comment on the Canadians.

Notwithstanding the fact that commencing Monday eligible men will fall to register will be reduced to 200,000, there are still about 300,000 men in this city who have neglected to report for service or file exemption claims.

PRODUCE TO CAPACITY

ORDERS COMMISSIONER

Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Dominion Railway Board, has ordered the Electrical Development Company and the Niagara Power Company to produce to their fullest capacity after Nov. 12. In the meantime they are to submit reports on power supplied with a view to enabling the electrical controller, to make reductions without interfering with war work. The Niagara Company is producing about 103,000 horsepower and the other company about 125,000 horsepower, while the Ontario Power Company, recently taken over by the Hydro-Electric Commission, has been producing 162,000 horsepower.

FORSAKE PARTY FOR PRINCIPLE

Anyone Who Doesn't Say Sir John Willison, Not Good Citizen

Hamilton, Nov. 8.—Those women should take such a part in politics after the war as would be worthy of and in keeping with the sacrifices that had been made and would be made so by Sir John Willison, the members of the Women's Canadian Club this afternoon, during the course of an address on "Party Politics and People."

Commenting on the term "turncoat" Sir John stated that it had been his privilege to have been connected with both parties. At one time such a term, he claimed, placed a stigma on any one to whom it was applied. "But when such a stigma is placed on the present one continuing as then a man or woman must follow their conscience, irrespective of party politics or influence. Anyone who will not forsake their party for a principle is not a free citizen," concluded Sir John.

Pupils of the public schools will be required to stimulate interest in Canada's war effort. That interest in this spirit was stimulated, Trustee H. L. Brown, president of the board of education, at this meeting, offered to donate a Victoria Cross to the school which had the highest percentage of girls who had forsaken their party for a principle.

Satin and Crepe de Chine Gowns, Modishly Cut, and Moderately Priced

Group of Soft, Simple Afternoon
Frocks in Taupe, Navy Blue, Brown,
Beetroot and Green, at $22.50 to $40.00.

PANIERI, tunics and bustles—Dame Fashion's latest fancies, are embodied in this particular collection of dresses at the prices quoted above. They are afternoon models of the all-round-useful order, developed in satin, messaline and crepe de Chine, in such fashionable tones as midnight and navy blue, Madura brown, taupe, beetroot and balsam green.

Three of the models at the lower prices are shown in the accompanying sketch. Thus:

Worn by the figure at bottom of drawing—model in navy blue satin, with sleeves of Georgette crepe and collar of brass color crepe de Chine, the latter facing the cuffs and the loose, ash-like paniers. Price, $27.50. To be had also in brown, rose, green and black, with collar and facings of contrasting color.

Navy blue messaline is employed for the gown shown at the top of the sketch—with sleeves of blue Georgette crepe, and collar and vestee of white Georgette, a touch of gold thread embroidery appearing on the girde and down either side of bodice. Price, $23.50. Same model to be had, too, in black, rose, brown, taupe, green and Copenhagen.

In the centre—simple shirt-waist dress in brown crepe de Chine, with collar of white, hemstitched in brown. To be had also in taupe, navy and Copenhagen blues, and black. Price, $22.50.

And these not illustrated:

A delightful model in midnight blue charmeuse, the skirt gracefully draped in panier effect, and the simple bodice showing tiny vestee of flesh pink Georgette, and wide, soft girle, embroidered in blue chenille and silver threads. Price, $29.50.

Likewise distinguished by paniers—a clever model in taupe satin, the bodice in surplice fashion crossing over to form a loose girde at the back, both skirt and bodice effectively braided with soutache. Price, $33.50.

Rejoicing in a tunic that forms itself into a bustle at the back is a model in nigger brown satin, embroidered in tan silk—bodice in cross-over surplice style. Price, $35.00.

And in beetroot satin is another model with tunic and bustle, the little bolero bodice having Georgette sleeves, and girde embroidered in gold threads. Price, $40.00.

"The Major", By Ralph Connor

A War Story of Canadians, by the Author of "The Sky-Pilot."

IN Major Charles W. Gordon, of the 43rd Cameron Highlanders, Canada is doubly proud of her outstanding novelist, Ralph Connor; and the fact that he has for many months been at the front makes all the more significant the title and content of his new novel, "The Major," which is just off the press.

The story is of Canada and the Canadians, the scene for the most part laid in the foothills of Alberta, where to the group of interesting characters which the author has vividly drawn come the rumor and the realization of war.

The Major, who arrives at his title on the closing page, is pictured as a typical, peace-loving Canadian, whose life story is told from childhood, and whose awakening to the trumpet call of war came with the sense of revelation as it did to so many others who had lived far away from conflict.

This country is in a way epitomized in the boyish, lovable figure; and Canadians will be glad that the first big story of our part and place in the great struggle for democracy is so truly and so graphically told as Ralph Connor has done it in "The Major." (On sale on Saturday in the Book Department—$1.25.)

ACTUALLY SOME OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL SUITS which Paris and New York have produced this Autumn will be found in this clearance on Saturday. For many of the models have been no longer than a week or ten days in the department, and will come under the general sacrifice of prices. It is, without question,

THE BIGGEST PRICE ATTRACTION OF THE PRESENT SEASON

in coat and skirt costumes, the offering consisting of Fall and Winter models in styles suitable for formal and informal wear—superb examples of French and American tailoring, with the reductions amounting in many instances almost to half the usual amounts.

BUSTLES, NARROW SKIRTS, CLOSE- FITTING SLEEVES.

All the novelty features of current vogue are represented, while at the same time many suits are of strictly conservative type. The clearance will be classified into three groups. Thus:

At $65.00—Beautiful specimens of the couturier's art: suits that reach to veritable perfection in charm of materials, smartness of cut, and exquisite nicety of lining and finish. Fashioned of velours, duvety, velvet, kitten's ear, and cheviot in such modish colors as taupe, Burgundy, brown, grey, black, and navy blue, the majority have collars of fur—Hudson seal (seal rat), Kolinsky squirrel, beaver, and grey fox. In the group are several bustle models, also two original creations by Premet and Lanvin, respectively. Saturday, at 10.30 a.m., all greatly reduced, some to half price, at $65.00 each.

At $47.50—New York suits in broadcloth, velours, tricotine and velveteen, in brown, dark green, black, and navy blue, some of them with collars of squirrel, Hudson seal (seal rat) or beaver. In Russian blouse and saque styles, the coats present a wide variety of pleated and plain tailored effects. Saturday, at 10.30 a.m., all greatly reduced, some almost to half price, at $47.50 each.

At $37.50—Models simple in design and beautifully tailored in tan Jersey velours, navy blue chifon broadcloth, brown velours, black tricotine, a few with collars of fur. Greatly reduced, Saturday at 10.30 a.m., at $37.50.

You Were Inquiring?

If you wish advice concerning your wardrobe, the furnishing of your house, the choosing of a gift, the filling of a soldier's overseas box—write to "The Scribe," who will reply to you in the column below. If you live out of town and wish to purchase something advertised on this page—or anything which is not listed in the Catalogue—address your order to The Shopping Service.

F. Q.—Woe and lamentation, indeed, when hardwood floors fall victim to the wrong bottle of medicine, so to speak. Turpentine is what you should use to remove the stains, and when that is not wholly effective, rub them with fine sandpaper. Then apply the wax. Sixty cents per hour is what the Rug Department would charge for a man's time in cleaning and polishing the floor for you—that, plus the price of the wax and other materials used. Probably if you had it put into good condition to begin with you would find it quite simple to care for afterwards.

B. F.—Is there a long fender stool in front of the fireplace, and a glass shade over the clock on the mantel-piece? It sounds like a room of that mellow, peaceful species. I'm sure there's a bowl with dried rose leaves on the table—and "views" that you look at through a magnifying glass. At any rate, dear Chatelaine, let your modernizing hand fall on it softly. It has character now. If you add flowering curtains and Polart cushions it will be neither one thing nor the other, just commonplace—like a woman dressed too young for her age. One's only suggestion would be a little strengthening of the color scheme, such, for example, as inside curtains of the tint of old blue that covers the sofa. Egyptian cloth—10 inches wide and $1.75 a yard—would be a suitable fabric, or Versailles repp—40 inches wide, $1.00 a yard. And I fear I might remove the glass shade from the clock. Write again.

I. A. M.—The coat which seems to answer requirements best is in brush wool—red, with stripes of white on the collar, pockets and sash. You would like it, I'm sure.

A. M. W.—If you can borrow somebody's copy of the war cartoons from "Punch" (the supply is exhausted by this time), you will find Britannia in several characteristic poses—any one of which would serve for your tabeau. The helmet and Greek robe are invariable, but the flag is variously employed—sometimes draped about her shoulders, cloak-fashion, sometimes covering her shield, and sometimes flung out triumphantly in the left hand. The trident and the sword and shield are interchangeable symbols, according to whether naval or military power be the uppermost suggestion.

POLITICAL NEWS

Former Brewster of British Columbia will probably be returned to the union government and may soon enter the cabinet. It is proposed to create a new department of fisheries under a separate minister. At present Hon. Mr. Ballantyne has charge of marine, fisheries and also naval affairs.

R. C. Henders, president of the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association, has received the union government nomination for the constituency of Macdonald, and will probably be re-elected by acclamation. Mr. Henders announced himself as an independent candidate some months ago upon the platform of principles enunciated by the National Council of Agriculture. He pledges himself to give unwavering support to the union government during the war, but the war will advocate tariff reduction and other economic reforms favored by the western grain growers.

Mederic Martin, the fiery mayor of Montreal, who has represented St. Mary's division for a number of years in the house of commons, is retiring from federal politics. In a speech to his constituents he declared that Quebec, and probably all of Canada, would be ceded to the United States by Great Britain after the war. He also denounced union government and the compulsory Military Service Act. While he was at it the mayor nominated his successor in the person of a Dr. Deslauriers, who will probably receive the Liberal nomination.

Some of the difficulties in ridings where two unionist candidates are in the field may soon be cleared up by negotiation. Efforts to bring about satisfactory agreement are now under way in Welland, Lincoln and South Oxford.

Sir Robert Borden will open the national campaign for union government at Halifax on Wednesday next, and shortly afterward will start upon a long stumping tour across the continent. The itinerary has not yet been arranged, but it is likely that he may go west at an early date and hold his Ontario meetings later in the campaign. Sir Wilfrid Laurier opens his campaign in Quebec City tonight. He will probably hold two or three meetings in his own province and then go west, speaking at Winnipeg, Edmonton, Calgary and possibly Vancouver. It is quite likely that the two leaders will be in Winnipeg about the same time.

Henri Bourassa announces in Le Devoir that the Nationalists are inclined to support Sir Wilfrid Laurier, although they do not agree with all of his platform. Union government candidates are being nominated in nearly all the Quebec constituencies. The announcement of scrutineers to direct, thru themselves or deputies, the tabulation of the soldiers' vote in Britain, France and Canada is of much interest. The government nominees are Col. Manley Sims, for France; Col. A. T. Thompson, ex-M.P. in England, and J. P. Orre, K.C. of Ottawa, for France. Col. Thompson comes from Ottawa and is a Liberal. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's nominees are W. T. R. Preston, for England; Godfrey Langlois, for Quebec Government, in France, and W. R. Hearn of North Sydney, for Canada.

The Toronto Star announces that the Liberals of South Toronto will offer their support to D. A. Carey at the coming election. There is, however, some talk of Mr. Carey being designated the union government candidate. Meanwhile the Liberal-Conservative convention for that riding is called for Thursday next.

It is reported that Ald. Halcrow of Hamilton will oppose General McBurn in East Hamilton at the coming election. The Liberal and Labor parties both hold conventions tonight. Tomorrow, however, there is to be a conference at the Royal Connaught Hotel which may result in the friends of union government agreeing upon candidates for both the Hamilton districts.

Capt. J. H. Burnham, who represented West Peterborough in the last parliament, contributes an interesting letter to The Peterborough Review. Capt. Burnham says that, up to date, he is the only candidate in the field, and that he is a union government candidate inasmuch as his consent has the cordial approval of the union government. He admits, however, that while he is "a" union government candidate, he is not "the" union government candidate. The Liberals, he says, may nominate just as good a supporter of the union government as himself, in which event the choice will be both to the poll. The man elected this year, he says, will have a start in the next election, and he suggests that all this is of interest in view of the fact that the Liberals hold their convention Saturday, and the Labor party may also place a candidate in the field. Capt. Burnham declares that he is willing to make any sacrifice for the sake of union government, but will oppose any candidate, no matter how nominated, who is not a bona fide supporter of the Borden union government. In closing, he says: "To conclude, therefore, let me repeat that we hope all parties will join in choosing one or more union government candidates. We are ready to consider any such proposition from any recognized convention. But manifestly there cannot be any compromise with an opponent of the Borden union government, nor with people nominating themselves for the position on the pretence of being exclusively the only union government champions or on any other similar and somewhat specious pretext."

The Flesherton Advance says: Mr. R. J. Ball, ex-M.P., who was nominated two years ago as the Liberal-Conservative candidate for Southeast Grey, announces himself as a supporter of the union government under Sir Robert Borden, and has asked to have the executive of the Conservative association called together, in order to consider the question of his resignation as an old party candidate and permit him to take the field in the interest of the union party. Mr. Ball has strongly supported all the war measures and has done everything possible to assist the boys at the front.

INDEPENDENT LIBERAL FOR HALTON ENDORSED

Reform Association Supports W. D. Gregory, and Refuses to Consider Unionist.

Milton, Nov. 8.—A largely attended meeting of the executive of the Halton County Reform Association was held here this afternoon for the purpose of receiving a statement from W. D. Gregory, the Liberal candidate, as to his position on the issues of the campaign. Mr. Gregory stated that he had been nominated as a union party candidate, but that his stand would be that of an independent Liberal, free to support all measures approved by his judgment and his conscience, from whatever source they might originate. The Military Service Act was now in operation, and they would soon know if it was workable. If not, other measures must be adopted. The executive committee endorsed Mr. Gregory's stand, and accepted him as an independent Liberal candidate. A motion to confer with the Conservative Association of the county with a view to bringing out a supporter of the union government was lost.

MANITOBA UNIONISTS PREPARE FOR ELECTION

Nominations Pending in Dauphin and Provencher Ridings.

Winnipeg, Nov. 8.—It is announced today by the union government committee that the unionist convention for the federal riding of Dauphin will be held in the city on November 15. It is expected that Robert Cruise will be the unanimous choice. H. Malouin, a Sperdyng farmer, is said to be a probable aspirant for the honor of leading the Provencher unionists. The convention is to be held next Tuesday. The name of Dr. Ross of Morris has also been mentioned, but it is said that he will not accept the nomination.

HON. MARTIN BURRELL NOT TO QUIT POLITICS

Denies Rumors of Arrangement to Resign Portfolio After Election.

Vernon, B.C., Nov. 8.—Hon. Martin Burrell, who is visiting his constituency of Yale, where it is expected he will be elected by acclamation, today denied rumors which have been circulated that he has been arranged that he will resign his portfolio after the election. Mr. Burrell said that no intimation whatever had been given him by Sir Robert Borden of any proposed change in respect of the representation of British Columbia in the cabinet.

MANITOBA LABORITES WILL ORGANIZE PARTY

Chief Plank in Platform Will Be Opposition to Conscription

Winnipeg, Nov. 8.—At a meeting tomorrow night the Manitoba Laborites Independent Labor party will be formed, says The Winnipeg Telegram. A resolution of a decision reached at the last trades congress of Canada at Ottawa, which was arranged by the Laborites, should form a party of its own. The telegram says the meeting will adopt a constitution, elect officers, and enunciate a platform, one of the chief planks in which will be the opposition to conscription of men provided for in the Military Service Act.

E. MIDDLESEX LIBERALS HEARTILY BEHIND LAURIER

Warmly Endorse G. H. Ross as Anti-Conscription Candidate for the Riding.

London, Nov. 8.—At a largely attended and the very representative meeting of the executive of the East Middlesex Reform Association here today a resolution carried without dissenting vote that East Middlesex Liberals are unanimously in favor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The stand of the Liberal candidate, G. H. Ross, who declared himself as having been opposed to conscription, being in line of after Laurier's election, has been listed voluntarily without consultation with the other allies, was endorsed warmly. Friends upon the question of the Liberal who have deserted the party.

DELEGATES CHOSEN TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Tedford Liberal-Conservatives Send Twenty-five for South York Meeting.

The Tedford Liberal-Conservative Club, at its annual meeting held at St. Andrew's Hall, Pape avenue, last evening, elected the following delegates for the ensuing year: President, G. A. Moses; vice-presidents, Messrs. P. Pedlar, Robt. McGregor, J. Spencer; secretary, Treasurer, J. F. Josselin; executive committee, David Graham, G. Dibbens, W. Wyatt, A. Graham and Dr. Fleming. Secretary, Treasurer, J. F. Josselin reported increased membership and a good financial statement for the year just concluded. During the year discussions upon the question of enfranchisement of women led to a general consensus of opinion in favor of such a move. The club is sending 25 delegates to the South York union convention, which is to be held at Victoria Hall on Saturday, November 17. The delegates appointed to attend are: A. Graham, J. Spencer, P. Pedlar, W. Wyatt, W. Humphries, J. Macdonald, J. Moses, L. Barker, Dr. Fleming, E. Moses, G. Macdonald, G. Self, C. Carey, S. Walker, G. A. Moses, E. Magee, S. Allan, W. Allan, W. Hinder, S. Green, F. Reid, J. F. Josselin and R. McGregor. C. E. Macdonald reported the receipt of a telegram from W. F. O'Connor, returning officer, stating that it was the wish of the union government that enumerators and other such officials be selected from the ranks of all political parties. John Macdonald presided.

LABORITES FAIL TO AGREE

Lethbridge, Nov. 8.—The Labor convention called to nominate a candidate for the federal riding of Lethbridge last night to Nov. 17 without taking action.

BORROW MONEY TO BUY VICTORY BONDS

Such is Advice Contained in Speech of Col. F. S. Evans, D.S.O.

Lieut.-Col. F. S. Evans, D.S.O., of the Royal Artillery, who served three years in France and recently returned to Canada, addressed the members of the Liberal-Conservative Club in St. George's Hall last night and made an emphatic appeal for support of the Victory Loan. It was the duty, he pointed out, of everyone who, either because of age or responsibilities, was unable to go to the front to assume obligations at home which would help win the war. They should not only contribute all their available funds to the loan, but should borrow on the security of their bonds more money, which should also be subscribed.

Canadians, he declared, showed an ability to assume responsibility with regard to the war loan, but he pointed out on every hand, and there was no apparent endeavor made to save or make a sacrifice of any sort. The question most often asked was, "When is the war going to end?" An erroneous impression was entertained by many people that the war would soon end, but he thought that it would last for possibly three years yet.

He outlined the conditions under which the Canadian money existing at the front, and contrasted that position with the comfortable lot of Canadians at home. The sacrifices, both in money and in life, were not all made at the front, and it was the duty of Canadians to invest heavily in the Victory Loan. He warned against the danger of the war being so prevalent. He wanted the people of Canada to understand that the boys in France would suffer harsh words and that the needed reinforcements were not forthcoming soon. He was disappointed and hurt that so many young Canadians had tied claims for exemption.

Lieut.-Col. R. C. Leveson presided at a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Col. Evans. Short addresses expressing appreciation of his remarks were delivered by Dr. Norman Moore, R. M. Johnson and G. H. Essery.

STORMY CONSERVATIVE GATHERING IN LONDON

War Veterans Leave Meeting Allying Partyism—Major Hume Cronyn Selected Unionist.

London, Nov. 8.—At the stormiest political convention ever held in London, Major Hume Cronyn, manager of the Huron and Erie Corporation, was tonight selected as the Conservative union candidate after the great war veterans had expressed surprise that men who had shed their blood in the trenches should be treated as they were by the Conservatives. They charge that partyism and not win the war is the aim of the straight line delegates. After the soldiers left a resolution pledging support to forming a union government was carried unanimously. Four names were placed in nomination: Major Cronyn, Percy Moore, R. M. Johnson and G. H. Essery. Major Cronyn was not selected until nearly midnight.

The soldiers refused to have anything to do with the matter, and being the straight line candidates in the hall, paraded the streets and later held a meeting of the unionists, whereupon a motion was submitted that the Conservatives be strongly rebuffed. Lieut.-Col. William S. Coles, and declare they will fight for him to the finish against any and all parties. They proposed that the convention be adjourned until the morning, and held tonight and expressed surprise that men who had shed their blood in the trenches should be treated as they were by the Conservatives. They charge that partyism and not win the war is the aim of the straight line delegates. After the soldiers left a resolution pledging support to forming a union government was carried unanimously. Four names were placed in nomination: Major Cronyn, Percy Moore, R. M. Johnson and G. H. Essery.

Harley Dewart May Aid Euler, Laurier Man in N. Waterloo

Kitchener, Nov. 8.—At a meeting of the Euler supporters here tonight it was decided to hold the Laurier campaign here. Mr. Euler will be nominated, on November 16. Arrangements are under way for the Dewart campaign, which will be held in communication with the Laurier campaign. Mr. Dewart today and he stated tonight that in all probability the local Laurier Liberal organization will be able to secure the service of Dewart.

NO JUSTIFICATION J. A. M. Armstrong Denies Authority Regarding Statement

The Telegram said last night: "A seat has been found for Hon. N. W. Rowell, it was authoritatively stated this afternoon in connection with the Conservative W.P.A. in North York. The World last night Mr. Armstrong said: 'As far as I am concerned, there was no authority from me for that statement, and no one was justified in making it.'"

BOURASSA COMES OUT AS BACKER OF LAURIER

National Leader Calls Union Government One of National Treason.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—Henri Bourassa has come out straight for Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his paper, Le Devoir. In today's issue he says: "We seek nothing better than to assist Laurier in upsetting the government of national treason. We wish, however, that he should surround himself, as well as his party, with barriers solid and high enough to prevent brigands from creating alarm in the sheepfold by corrupting the shepherds and muzzling the watch dogs." Mr. Bourassa claims that Le Devoir is the interpreter and directing spirit of the Nationalists. Then he says: "The unionist program is the anti-Canadian program. We are in places with other parties, and it was felt that such reports were untrue, inasmuch as the constitution calls upon the party to run its nominees always as independent labor candidates."

GERMANS FOMENT STRIKES. Santa Anna de Livramento, Brazil, Wednesday, Nov. 7.—The municipal authorities believe that the settlement of the strike that has been in progress here for some time is only tentative and that the Germans are fomenting a new walk-out. The strike just settled is the third to come in quick succession, and like the others, it greatly interfered with the shipment of foodstuffs and other supplies to the remote allies. Officials say they believe the strikes are part of a revolutionary movement.

DROP OUT OF T. & D. Wychwood-Lancs Apply for Membership in Provincial League.

At a meeting last night of the Wychwood-Lancashire Football Club of the Toronto & District Association it was decided to resign from the Toronto & District, and to reorganize under the name of the Wychwood Football Club. It was decided to make application to the F. P. L. for membership.

PARTIES IN BITTER FIGHT AT MASSEY

Convention Divides, Laurier and Unionism, and "Kaiser" and "Kaiser" are the main issues.

Sudbury, Nov. 8.—What was called a "People's Convention" here today, gathered greater force in the early afternoon. U. S. Steel was, as usual, the centre feature, making a steady decline from its top price of the first hour to 88 1/2 around 2 o'clock. Many speculative accounts were closed out as Steel broke thru 90. The stock closed at a net loss of 4 1/2 points on total transactions of 431,100 shares.

Sensational Declines. Taking today's minimums as a basis of comparison, the thirty odd active rallies, industrial and special stocks in the list show declines of 15 to almost 70 points from their levels of the mid-year. In more than a few instances they represent lowest prices of five to twenty years. Since June 20 last, Bethlehem Steel new stock has declined 44 points to 72 1/2; Lackmannanna Steel 25 to 49 1/2; Central Leather 36 to 58 1/2; American Smelting 36 to 58 1/2; Anaconda Copper 30 to 51 1/2; U.S. Steel 40 to 77 1/2; Lackmannanna Steel 20 to 49 1/2; American Locomotive 22 to 49 1/2; American Sugar 32 to 53 1/2; Republic 26 to 46 1/2; Studebaker 22 to 42 1/2; American Can 20 to 29 1/2; Among investment trusts Atholton has lost 15 points at 82; Canadian Pacific 27 at 115 1/2; St. Paul 30 at 87; Norfolk and Western 20 at 100 1/2; N.Y. After the close of today's market brokerage houses were busy issuing calls for additional margins and bankers held informal conferences to review the situation. The stock exchange officials reiterated their recent statements that it would be unwise to further restrict operations by withholding minimum prices. In this attitude, it was added, the exchange has the support of the most conservative financial interests.

The Lattie at the palace, which began shortly after 6 o'clock, was a spectacular one, armed cars of the revolutionaries swinging into action in front of the palace gates, while flashes from the Neva were followed by the explosion of shells from the guns of the Aurora.

The Russian cruiser Aurora is a vessel of 870 tons, and has a complement of 573 men. She was built in 1900 and carries ten 6-inch guns, twenty 12-pounders and eight small guns. She also is armed with two torpedo tubes.

ROYAL NORTHERN LODGE. At the regular meeting of Royal Northern Lodge No. 825, M.U. L.O.O.F., in the Victoria Hotel, it was decided that the lodge intend the sum of $300 on the Victory War Loan. A committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the sending of Christmas parcels to those members overseas. The report was submitted by the entertainment committee stating that the lodge is 23 give a total of fifty of the Davysville Military Hospital.

DISCUSS CAMPAIGN. Greater Toronto Labor Party Executive Holds Meeting.

The executive committee of the Greater Toronto Labor party met in the Labor Temple last night and made further arrangements to carry on the campaign for the success of its candidates in the forthcoming elections. Some discussion took place with regard to reports that the Labor party was working hand in hand in some places with other parties, and it was felt that such reports were untrue, inasmuch as the constitution calls upon the party to run its nominees always as independent labor candidates.

WIRELESS PLANT FOUND ASSISTING GERMANY

Federal Agents at Norwich, Conn., Confiscate Outfit With Code Book.

Norwich, Conn., Nov. 8.—A complete wireless receiving outfit has been discovered by federal agents near here, it became known tonight, and has been confiscated by government officials. The outfit, which is a wireless outfit, Charles Troband, was not arrested. A code book found in his possession contained a number of messages concerning movements of ships sent out from Bremen, Germany, and also containing messages sent out by wireless from Saville. The wireless was found concealed in trees 150 feet from the ground.

COCHRANE IN CITY. Will Open Headquarters for Union Government Campaign in Ontario.

Hon. Frank Cochrane arrived in the city last night and will open headquarters here for the union government campaign in Ontario. Hon. D. Reid, who has been in Toronto for the past few days in connection with the campaign, is still in the city.

WASHINGTON TO STOP NEUTRALS' SPYING

United States Government Also to Restrict Movements of Enemy Agents in Neutral Countries.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The government is about to deny the right of cable communications with neutral countries to a number of persons in the United States on suspicion that they have been furnishing the enemies of the United States with information regarding military movements. The telegraph and cable companies, it was stated today, will be given lists of persons who have been under surveillance with instructions to refuse transmission of their cable messages. The censorship action is but one phase of the program for the tightening of control over enemy activity in this country, now being formulated for early announcement. The plans include further steps to prevent explosions, fires and other acts of sabotage. More drastic measures also will be taken soon, it is expected, to restrict the movement in this country of the thousands of alien enemies who now are permitted to go almost anywhere except within zones about camps and fortifications.

MANY BOMBS DROPPED ON ENEMY POSITIONS

Paris, Nov. 8.—The war office announcement tonight reads: "Spirited artillery actions occurred along the whole front north of the Aisne, in the sector south of Corbezy and in the region of Seppois. On the night of November 6-7 our bombing squadrons dropped 2,300 kilobombs on the stations at Thonnelle, Cortemarck, Roulers and Thonnelle. All the objectives were reached. "Eastern theatre, Nov. 7: Lively artillery fighting took place in the region of Sokol and north of Monsieu. There were patrol encounters near the lakes."

STRUCK BY MOTOR CAR. While crossing the intersection of Spadina avenue and Queen street, yesterday evening, Ida Benson, 116 Grand avenue, was struck by a motor car driven by W. Turner, 45 Cowan avenue, who was driving west on Queen street. After receiving medical attention she was able to walk to her home.

TO ENFORCE ORDER. The police have been served with orders from Ottawa to enforce the food control regulations regarding the use of beef and bacon in hotels and restaurants, cafes, etc.

NO STRIKE EXPECTED. Chairman T. Cadwallader of the local branch of the International Union of Telegraphers said last evening that he does not anticipate a strike as a result of the refusal of the G.N.W. to reinstate the girls recently dismissed by the company's branch in Montreal.

EYES INFLAMED? If your eyes are inflamed, washed, tired or overworked; if they ache; if purple shadows make them feel dry and strained, get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets from your druggist. Bon-Opto tablets form a glass of water one in a fourth of a glass of water and use as an eye bath two to four times a day. Bon-Opto allays inflammation, invigorates, tones up the eyes.

Note: Doctors say Bon-Opto strengthens eyesight 40 per cent. in a week's time in many instances.

'Miss Canada' Shown for First Time at Massey Hall Tonight.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS

Sir Thomas White, Sir William Hearst and Hon. N. W. Rowell.

What Miss Canada thought about Victory Loan bonds, what she said to Sir Thomas White and what prompted Sir Thomas to bring on the Victory Loan sale are questions and answers which form part of the Canada Victory Loan film, 'Miss Canada,' which will be shown for the first time in Toronto at the Massey Hall meeting tonight.

The story is a graphic description of Canada's part in the great war. Miss Canada strolls along College street. Her eyes are attracted by a sign which prompts her to visit Ottawa. She awaits Sir Thomas White and a conversation takes place. What that conversation was is told in the words of Sir Thomas thrown on the screen during the running of a 10-minute film which shows scenes in Toronto scenes on the battlefield, and scenes at the Ottawa Parliament Buildings.

The speakers will be Sir Thomas White, Sir Wm. Hearst, K.C., N. W. Rowell, K.C., and Stewart Lyon, Canadian Press war correspondent.

Few Applying in Person in West Toronto District, But Some Claims Are Allowed.

Yesterday's opening session of tribunals in West Toronto was very quiet. The majority of applications dealt with were in letter form, there being only a few who appeared in person.

The first man to make an appearance at the tribunal was Albert H. Potter, 1281 Dufferin street, who is employed by the John Inglis Co. as a boiler-maker.

The Batseman-Whitson Co. applied for exemption on the grounds that he was producing farm implements, which are national necessities.

Exemption board No. 871, at 1254 St. Clair avenue, where George Wilkie, T. Self and Military Representative J. E. Beatty sat, did not grant any permanent exemptions, but granted them conditionally.

Wm. H. Lewis, 1049 Dufferin street, who is in class A2, submitted himself on the grounds that he was a farmer and was installing new water systems.

Wm. Gibson, Northcliffe boulevard, who is in class A2, was ordered to re-examine and appear again on Tuesday, 14.

The Farmers and the Food Controller.

Hon. W. J. Hanna spoke at a meeting of representative farmers and editors in the city yesterday, and he showed that the gravity of the food situation was being fully considered and provided for. While anxious not to depress public feeling he made it clear at the same time that the conditions that existed were becoming worse and not better, and that there must be a general awakening if very grave and serious distress is to be avoided. The shortage of food can scarcely be sufficiently emphasized. He recounted some of the measures that are being applied to mitigate the conditions. It is too late for remedy. All that can be done is to make the best of a calamitous situation.

Practically all the food in the country is being rushed to Europe in order to meet the want that threatens the allied nations there. Arrangements have been wiped out upon which much had been depending in America. Until the next harvest there must be the most careful thrift of foodstuffs. In eight months more, it is estimated, the pressure will be very serious if steps are not taken all round to conserve supplies.

Mr. Hanna gave several illustrations of what is being done. A sugar commission has been established, and no sugar can be bought in the world anywhere except thru this commission. The price fixed for raw sugar is 5 1/2 cents per pound. Cuba at first refused to sell at this rate, but when threatened by an embargo delivered her sugar. The sugar refineries will be given a pro rata allotment of the raw material, and they will deal similarly with the wholesalers, and so on. The supply will be reduced to about half all round. There can be no increase in prices, however, as the cost for the raw material is fixed. Sugar should not be sold over ten cents a pound. A case where a higher rate was charged is being investigated.

Mr. Hanna also explained the milk, the potato and the hog situations, and invited investigation by the press into the operation of his department.

The farmers stated that not more than half the present crop need be expected next year owing to the scarcity of labor and the abundance and lateness of the present harvest, which left no time for the preparation for next year's work. Strenuous objection was taken to the alleged declaration by the city newspapers that the farmers were profiteers. This was repudiated by the editors, and no instances could be cited by the farmers.

The World has taken the side of the farmers thru-out the war, and has urged the necessity of more attention being given to the farm labor question. We have also deplored the fact that the farmer gets so little of the high prices paid by the consumer. We have pointed out the cause and the cure. If the farmer does not join his fellow-farmers and ignore politics he will never be able to secure what he wants. If he wishes to secure more of the profits of his sales he must resort to co-operation as it has been adopted elsewhere, and as he has done to a limited extent in Canada in some lines. The labor man and the farmer must get together and promote their common interests if they wish to solve their common problems.

Mr. Hanna's address made a deep impression and will make for a better understanding of the food controller's work.

A Misleading Word.

There has been a great deal of careless usage of the term conscription, in the last twelve months, and we have frequently pointed out that what is technically known as conscription in Europe has not been proposed here and would not be endorsed by any considerable number of the people. Advantage is now being taken of this ambiguity for political purposes, and we are hearing a great deal of disingenuous denunciation of conscription, which means to people of several of the European nations what we mean by militarism, the system that we are trying to abolish, and against which all our efforts are directed.

It does not matter very much what the government system is called so far as genuine Canadians are concerned. They know that the safety of their country, the liberty of their children, the perpetuation of the traditions which make the British Empire what it is, all depend upon our triumph in this struggle.

The aim of many insidious enemies of the nation, pro-Germans, friends of the autocratic system, is to convince the uneducated immigrant that conscription here is the same thing as in Europe, impose the same evils, and establishes the same objectionable control of a dominant military class.

This, of course, is not the case. The selective draft does not call everybody to the army as in Germany. It does not require life-long service. It takes no one from work which is more necessary than the work of the army. It discriminates among those who are needed at home and those who are not. It recognizes the common burden that we all have to bear, and it places it on the shoulders of those who can carry it, irrespective of their class or condition.

Nor is the selective draft in operation for military service alone. There are other activities as urgent and necessary as fighting, and those who can do better work at these than in the positions they hold at present may be transferred. Hon. Mr. Hanna stated yesterday that it was under consideration to divert some of the drafted men to farm work, where there is a shortage of labor, in view of the great need for higher production of food.

National service of this kind is not to be confused, therefore, with the system of conscription which involves life-long military service, which is dependent not on the will of the people, but solely on the personal decision of a ruling autocrat. Our national service depends on the decision of our elected representatives; and the policy for which we fight is not that of an irresponsible monarch, but of a league of all the free democracies in the world.

The baser political aims of those who distort and misrepresent these facts will perhaps affect the views of many who do not understand the situation, and who are constitutionally and congenitally, like the proverbial Irishman, "agin the government."

The Military Service Act is the same measure practically which is in force in Great Britain and the United States, and on which Australia is again about to express its opinion. The removal of any misconception will help in due degree the great cause of the world's liberty and peace.

The Coon Starts Down.

A despatch from Cobalt credits Mr. George Chapman, representing the Minerals Separation Company, as saying that his company, which controls the flotation process, has no present connection with Beer, Sondheimer & Co. Mr. Chapman further says that his concern is now free from German influences and is prepared to deal with the mine operators on a more reasonable basis and revise downwards its scale of royalties.

This is quite satisfactory as far as it goes. The important point is that the Canadian output of war metals and precious metals since the commencement of the war has been curtailed by the arbitrary action of the Minerals Separation Company. That company, in Canada and the United States alike, has seemed to be more anxious to cripple and curtail mineral production than to make the money it may have been entitled to make out of its undoubtedly valuable process. The company may have been acting in good faith and it may have been unwittingly serving the interests of the central powers rather than the interests of the allies, but the fact remains that it was pursuing a dog-in-the-manger policy in this country which threatened the Canadian mining industries with something like ruin.

The World took occasion to present the miners' side of the case. It showed that the Minerals Separation Company was in fact, whatever its intentions may have been, serving the interests of Germany by curtailing mineral production in Canada. We pointed out the fact, not at the time, we believe, disputed, that the sole agent of Minerals Separation Company on this continent was Beer, Sondheimer & Co., of 61 Broadway, New York; and in this connection we ventured to say that Beer, Sondheimer & Company have been black-listed by the British Admiralty and placarded by the United States Government as a finger on the head of the great German metal trust.

Quite apart from its German affiliations we objected to the policy of the Minerals Separation Company, which practically refused to do business with the Canadian mine owners, but seemed bent upon embroiling them in costly litigation and in curtailing mineral production. We urged the Dominion Government to cancel the patents of this company, and to permit the Canadian miners to use the flotation process upon the payment of reasonable royalties. This fight we carried on single-handed so far as Toronto was concerned, and we heartily acclaimed Hon. Frank Cochrane's statement at Cobalt a few weeks ago that the policy advocated by The World would be the policy adopted by the union government.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane learned thru The Cobalt Northern Miner and from the mine owners of the north country that the Minerals Separation Company was doing. He seems to have been the Davy Crockett that was needed for the occasion, and the coon is preparing to come down. However, we are not surprised to learn that the north country miners told Mr. Chapman that they wanted the Dominion Government to ascertain and declare that his company was free from German influence and control before they would talk to him about the royalties he is now anxious to receive. The World congratulates the miners and the union government upon what has already been accomplished, and agrees with them that the grip of Germany must be released from the vast store of war metals that abound in New Ontario.

Margarine.

Montreal has advised with the food controller and recommends him to fix a price for margarine. This request he has consented to consider, and has even hinted that he may consider it favorably. However, the fixing of prices is so much against the policy the food controller has adopted we must not be too sanguine. The sale of margarine in Canada comes as a gift to the great corporations that will produce it and get the advantage of this new-found market. If ever there were justification for fixing the price of anything, it is in the case of margarine.

There is an idea in some quarters that margarine may cheapen the price of butter. It is just as likely that with an unfixed price margarine will chase butter up the scale until it becomes an inaccessible luxury.

No one can say what the effect of disturbing the butter market by the entry of margarine may be. The cheaper commodity, flooding the market, may drive butter to securer and more lucrative markets elsewhere; and like Canadian apples, Canadian butter may be most expensive at home.

Whether the food controller fixes the price of margarine or not he should provide that, as in Great Britain, all margarine shall be clearly marked as such, and heavy penalties should be imposed for substitution. All restaurants and hotels should be compelled to state to their guests whether butter or margarine is being served. Guests should at least have the choice of diets.

Samuel T. Wood.

Kind son of nature, lent a little while,
 To tell us of the haunts and turing ways
 Beneath the rank of man, they caught thine eye
 And gripped thy heart so big and true to them,
 And then thou gav'st us thy charming tale,
 Outpouring it as if from magic fute.
 But now, at last, thy last sweet tune is played,
 And thou hast laid aside thine instrument,
 With none to take it up. And we are sad,
 Where hast thou gone? Is thine flight of wing
 To golden south or silver north? Thy friends
 Shall come again. Wilt thou? Thy flight is long,
 So long that thou shalt nevermore return,
 And thou thyself, perplexed, didst not know where,
 But thou art good. And God who gave thee birth
 Has ample room and love for thee.

G. E.

Never set a person down as dull until you have tried him alone, and even if the duologue falls, do not be too sure which is the dull one.
 From the song of the birch-tree some of the tribes of northern Russia prepare their ordinary drink, "birkenwasser," from which they also make vinegar; and in some districts they boil it into a sweet syrup which serves them instead of sugar.

MORE FOOD TO BEAT THE U-BOATS

By P. Tye.
 In view of the fact that Germany's U-boat blockade (so-called) is attempting to starve England into defeat, what are England's farmers doing to produce wheat at home?
 The answer is somewhat complicated. If this were to be another Thirty Years' War, England's farmers could, long before its end, raise on their own land enough food to support the country.
 But this is not to be a Thirty Years' War, and today, after three years of it, the farmers of England are raising enough wheat in a year to last the country just ten weeks.

Not this to be taken as a scare story. I looked last week at an enormous elevator in a remote part of England, far from air raids, where was stored enough wheat to last the island one year. Nor is it likely that this great supply will have to be tapped. For the promises with which the Kaiser launched his practical ocean blockade—that of bringing England to her knees within three weeks—has long ago fallen flat. German submarines may accomplish this much.

They may deprive England's mercantile marine of enough ships to give Germany a more nearly even start on sea after the war (if anybody wants to trade with Germany after this war).
 They will accomplish no more than that. And it is a matter of great doubt whether they will accomplish that much. For German submarines have given a tremendous boom to English shipbuilding interests, a boom whose results are known only to the ministry of shipping.

But this article deals with English farmers. England's 17,500,000 acres of pasture land explains why England's farmers are producing only one-fifth the wheat necessary to sustain their country.
 It takes ten years to make a good pasture in England, and farmers refuse to plow up their grass land for wheat until they can be assured it will pay them.

What will the price of wheat be, they ask, not for two or three years, but for a minimum period of four years?

The whole world wants a short war, and none more than the farmers of England; but what if the war should end next year and the price of wheat should take a sharp slump? What of the farmers, then, who had plowed up good grass and to sow wheat?

Some land there is in England which takes to water-cultivation slightly for the first four years after it is left to grass, and then makes a period of from four to six years when it gradually improves under grass. Then the stock goes on it, and for the next fifty years it continues to improve. And England's farmers have been instructed for centuries to graze and live stock are preferable to wheat.

Despite the obstacle England's good grass land presents to an increased wheat acreage, there has been an increase of 7 per cent. in 1915-16 over the average for the ten preceding years. To accomplish this small increase, however, a rise in the price of wheat from $5.60 per quarter in 1910 to $12.52 at present, was necessary.

With these 17,500,000 pasture acres deducted from the 35,000,000 acres which are available in England, Wales and Scotland, crop rotation explains why wheat is missing from so many of the remaining 14,500,000 "cultivated" acres. For, out of these 14,500,000 acres, only 1,211,000 acres were, in this year 1917, actually planted to wheat.

Four, five, six, seven, and even eight year rotation systems are used thru-out England. From some of these wheat has been entirely excluded, and in all of them no more than one crop every alternate year is provided for. The crop rotation is chiefly a war development, wheat not having been, prior to the war, nearly as popular a crop as oats.

It has been suggested that an increased yield per acre, in the absence of a large increase in actual acreage, would help, but raising the average yield of a British crop is a Herculean job. Forty years ago the British farmer was getting his thirty bushels of wheat out of an acre. Today he is getting thirty-two bushels. And, by the way, he gets thirty-three. It is probable that the war will have been long ended.

And here arises a curious condition. France is getting only fifteen bushels to the acre, but French farmers are feeding the nation without outside help. French crop rotations, which allow heavily for the cereals, are the explanation, however. A more liberal use of the artificial fertilizers also helps to explain the French situation.

Most of the wheat grown in Great Britain is grown in England, for among farmers on this island, wheat is essentially an English crop. Of the 1,911,000 acres given to wheat in the island, only 40,000 acres are in Wales, and 60,000 in Scotland. Scotch farmers are a great deal fonder of oats, over 1,000,000 acres of oats having been grown in the north country in 1914. There is, however, a large acreage in the lowlands of Scotland, which is quite suitable for wheat.

It is in the highlands of Scotland that much of the 24,900,000 acres of barren land in Great Britain lies.
 The difference between the total acreage of the island (55,000,000) and the 32,000,000 acres available for cultivation is made up of mountains, forests, bogs, moors and fells, and the fact that it is quite devoid of farming possibilities.

It is attested by the further fact that for centuries during long periods of food scarcity and high prices, it has lain in its present barrenness.

While the actual acreage in wheat has shown a small decrease this year under last year's figures, the barley, oats and potato acreages have shown enormous increases. Here is the table:

Wheat	1,211,000	Dec. 1,000
Barley	1,425,000	127,000
Oats	2,220,000	148,000
Potatoes	504,000	76,000

This is due to the fine time engineered by the food controller, the war office and the agricultural executive committee—a push which has placed flowers with vegetables generally gardens thru-out the island and has dealt with dandelion estates which heretofore have produced nothing.
 The fact remains, however, that in the deep seated hopes for an early peace, England's farmers are producing annually 25,300,000 bushels of wheat, one-fifth of the 235,000,000 bushels necessary to feed her 45,000,000 population for a year.

BUTTER SCARCITY FELT IN BRITAIN

Purchases in Australia Will Afford Little Present Relief.

London, Nov. 8.—Little immediate relief from the butter scarcity need be anticipated from the large purchase of Australian butter announced by the government. Only a small portion of the 80,000 tons bought by the government is in existence. It is spring just now in Australia, and the purchase deals with the supplies which will be forthcoming during the next six or eight months.

"We are faced with a definite shortage between now and Christmas," said a prominent "butter" expert. "Stocks are low and importation from Denmark and Holland has practically ceased. The small quantities of Danish and Dutch butter which are in stock or are coming here are about the only 'free' butter obtainable. The government controls all the rest. We could probably have more of this Danish butter if the government would pay the price, but at present the bulk of the exports go to Germany, where butter is welcome at almost any price."

Women registering for war service in the United States will be compelled to give their age and occupation, etc.

SPANISH ONIONS SPOIL IN TORONTO

Food Controller Hanna Orders Immediate Sale of Ten Tons.

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—As a result of representations made by the food controller to the department of customs, instructions have been given for the immediate sale at the best price obtainable of ten tons of Spanish onions which were spoiling in storage in Toronto.

The facts were brought to the attention of the food controller by an official of the Verrill Storage Company, who stated that 297 cases of Spanish onions in storage in their plant had sprouted, and in another week's time would not be fit for food. The onions were placed in storage by the Canadian Spanio Company, 22 West Front street, but the storage company was unable to locate any person at that address. The cases had been shipped from the West Indies in bond.

The food controller at once took up the matter with the commissioner of customs, and the latter telegraphed to the collector of customs at Toronto instructing that an immediate investigation be made. The result was an order for immediate sale.

BRITISH ADVANCE DISCONCERTS FOE

Berlin Paper Describes Operations in Belgium as "Flanders Hell."

TANKS ROLL ONWARD
 No Measure Can Prevent Against Allies' Flame Throwers.

Canadian Associated Press Cable. London, Nov. 8.—What Berlin thinks of the capture of Paschendaele is reflected in an article in The Berlin Post, headed, "The Flanders Hell." "Gas clouds covered all our arms with thick rust. Flame throwers began against which no measure can prevail. We now had the enemy on our neck. Tank after tank rolled forward. Behind these came scouts and Canadians. Finally our reserves made a counter-attack. Murder broke out afresh. The battle ebbed away, but no rest came."

The Daily Mail says: "With the ridges around Ypres in our possession, we threaten the German positions on the coast and at Lille. The ground has been won at great sacrifices, for the Germans fought desperately, knowing what is at stake."

Benny Leonard and Al McCoy Only New Boxing Champions Titles Change Hands in New York State Under Frawley—Resume of the Boxing Situation.

Some rather important facts history has written since the Frawley law, which is about to expire on November 15, was enacted a little over six years ago. Ever since twenty-round boxing in California was wiped out in 1914, New York has been the leading centre of the country, and most of the big matches have been held in that city. While the Frawley law was in operation only two titles changed hands in New York State. Benny Leonard won the lightweight title from Freddie Welsh and Al McCoy of Brooklyn won the middleweight title from George Chip, according to some authorities, and others maintain that Chip did not hold the title and that therefore McCoy could not have won it. Only one heavyweight championship battle was held. On March 23, 1915, Jess Willard met and outpointed Frank Moran at Madison Square Garden. When Jack Johnson held the leading honors, he tried to appear in New York in a bout with Joe Jeane, but the boxing commission was desperately fought every inch of the way. In the second round Ritchie shot a straight right to the jaw. This was his pet wall, and it sent Cross down and all but out. The referee all kinds of trouble to keep his plan from being swept from under him. At times Cross carried the champion around the ring on the ends of his arms. In the end Ritchie was entitled to the decision, but his margin was not a wide one. For action of the rapid but harmless kind Johnny Dundee leads. Albo it is hard to pick out any particular bout in which there was more action than in another when so many were of the highest order. This was the case with the fight between Leonard and McCoy. Leonard's bout was rated among the best, because most of his battles have been too one-sided to be great. He has formerly held the light middleweight title, the bout had an international flavor. Paddy McFarland and Mike Gibbons were the best of the featherweights. Among the featherweights there has been no remarkable battle. Abe Attell had passed the top of his form before the Frawley law came in, and Johnny Milburn was a great disappointment in most of his bouts in New York. None of the bantamweight bouts stands out in memory with the exception of the Williams-Coulter bout, in which the Baltimore blond showed that he would annex

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

Patricia Collings Coming. Patricia Collings, in private life and on the stage, reveals two distinctly different personalities. As caught by the camera it seems quite unbelievable that the serene, well-poised young woman in modish garb can transform herself into the frenzied, check-ginghamed little orphan optimist, who is the heroine of "Pollyanna," to be the attraction at the new Princess Theatre soon. The photographic studies show startling contrasts in physique, expression, and even in temperament.

"The Brat" a Charming Play. Miss Rea Martin, who plays the title role in "The Brat," has a wonderful opportunity in which to show her talent and ability. She plays a little chorus girl, late of the Hippodrome, who because of illness has lost her position and is forced into the streets to beg. She scatters sunshine all about her, and in reforming a younger brother, Stephen, works out her own salvation. "The Brat" will be the offering at the Grand all next week.

Coming to Gayety. The production of "The Twentieth Century Maids," who on Monday open a week's engagement at the Gayety Theatre, believe that it is all well enough to provide a great cast, big features, a beauty chorus and all the other accepted essentials of burlesque; but they place more than ordinary stress upon scenic and sartorial display because they have learned that burlesque audiences like to see pretty stage pictures, and that no matter how good a show is it must have an attractive environment. For that reason the present production has six beautiful scenes.

"Tipperary Girls" for Star. It is a real cast of burlesque notes which will be seen at the Star Theatre, week starting Monday, when Sim Williams' "Tipperary Girls" come there for their annual engagement. The chief comedian and star of the organization is funny Billy Gilbert, who has as his chief co-worker Bobby Barker. Lillian Franklin is the prima donna, who has one of the rarest voices in burlesque. The show is one that touches the very highest supremacy ever touched by burlesque.

"Les Miserables" at Strand. For the whole of the next week the feature photoplay at the Strand Theatre will be "Les Miserables," the film version of Victor Hugo's tale of human tragedy, told in eight supremely beautiful acts. Just as the book occupies the highest place in the front rank of romantic fiction, so does this photoplay occupy the highest place in the realm of filmdom.

Mae Marsh at Regent. No play in which Mae Marsh has appeared has given her such scope and a more beautiful vehicle in which possesses an exquisite flavour that is unique. Ordinary tea may cost a fraction less per pound but it never has that wonderful flavour that gives such universal satisfaction.

to display her charm than the one at the Regent this week. "Sunshine Alley" Mae Marsh is always good, but Mae Marsh is just a little bit better in this lovely story. For the benefit of the children a special performance will be given on Saturday morning, commencing at 10.30. It teaches them to love the birds.

"Jean the Woman" which appears at Amusey Hall week of November 19, is an authentic film portrayal of the life of Joan of Arc. Many months of preparation were spent by Miss Macpherson in collecting and assembling literature of Joan of Arc preparatory to the writing of "Jean the Woman." The life of Joan of Arc is the only human history from birth to death which is a matter of sworn testimony. Special effort has been made to hold to the historical accuracy of the life of Joan of Arc not only because of the fascinating incident, but also because the ecclesiastical feature of the story is one, in the correct telling of which there can be no question that Joan was a saint and that among her persecutors were several who turned the power vested in them to their own personal ends.

Andrew Mack in "Molly Dear." The sale of seats for the engagement of Andrew Mack, the singer-actor, in the popular Irish comedy drama, "Molly Dear," opens at the Grand Opera House on Monday next.

One of the most important announcements the local management of the Royal Alexandra Theatre can make is the news of the coming of "The 13th Chair." It did exactly what the critics believed would never be possible—excited even to success of the author's masterpiece.

Dr. Hastings, in his monthly health report, discusses the effect of the increased price of milk on infant mortality, and points to the United States cities, "where there has been a lamentable increase in infant mortality as a consequence of their having to substitute other foods for milk in infant feeding." Toronto, he states, has not so suffered, although there was a brief period in which there was a slight decrease in the consumption of milk. This was soon found unsatisfactory, but the general consumption became normal again, and Toronto has had a marked and steady decrease in infant mortality. The number of infants that died in Toronto in October was 74 as against 108 in October, 1916. The total of deaths for the first ten months of this year among the infants was 971, as compared with 1203 for the same period in 1916.

SOCIETY CONDUCTED BY MRS. EDMUND PHILLIPS

Her Excellency the Duchess of Devonshire will shortly leave for the south for a change of air. Space would not permit giving a list of the people who journeyed to Government House yesterday to call on Lady Hendrie. They poured in so fast that the soldier at the door had to put his arm across the entrance to stop them, or the ladies receiving would have been quite overwhelmed. Col. Fraser announced the names of the numerous visitors. Lady Hendrie receiving in the drawing-room, in a graceful black gown of soft silk and georgette crepe, with a rope of pearls and diamonds ornaments. Miss Hendrie was also in black, with part of the corsage and sleeves of white georgette crepe, heavily embroidered with white lace. A most noticeable arrangement in the ballroom and decorated with yellow and bronze chrysanthemums, lily flowers, Mrs. W. Hanna, Mrs. Payne and the wives of the ministers were among those who called during the afternoon.

Mr. John Dick was in town from Cobourg yesterday, and spent the afternoon with the family. The Misses Juanita and Phyllis (Cargill) are in town and staying at the King Edward. The engagement is announced of Arlene Litchfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Theakston, 2nd Canadian Engineers, C. E. F., and Mrs. Theakston, East Floor street, Toronto, to Frank Edwin, cadet at the Royal Flying Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Helmshy, St. Thomas, Virgin, B. W. I.

The Messrs. G. Ito, H. Ito and S. Shi, and Mrs. Theakston, East Floor street, Toronto, are in town. Mr. Truman Black was the speaker at a vote of thanks. The tea hostesses were Mesdames Foy, Brandon, Hollwell, Gold and Miss Forsyth.

DICTIONARIES
NEEDED BY ALLIES
 Man to Grasp Situation as Whole Required to Command.

New York, Nov. 8.—A London cable by Frank Getty to The Tribune dated Nov. 5 says:
 The entire world is looking for a leader. The great need of the present moment is for some genius who can grasp the situation as a whole and use every aspect of every front, from its political as well as its military viewpoint. "See it as a whole," has become the new watchword of British.

And the visit of Lloyd George and Clemenceau to Rome, where the military and diplomatic situation will be discussed, is taken here to be the first definite sign of the intention of the entente not only to look for "a whole," but also to adopt, in principle and practice, the idea of a single front.

The difficulty not only of finding such a man (who would have to combine the most superior qualities of statesmanship and military genius), but of placing the complete control of all the allied fighting forces in his hands, must be recognized as enormous. Among the central powers, everywhere, is subservient to Prussian militarism—and its real brains is Ludendorff, not Hindenburg, as is commonly supposed—such complete military dictatorship is easily established.

Among the allies it would be difficult to find such a man and establish him in such a position, as it is not impossible and may be almost a necessity if the fight against Prussia militarism is to be carried to a successful conclusion.

There is only one man more than any other in sight who would fill the bill—General Jan Christian Smuts, unquestionably the most popular statesman in England today, with the widest following abroad among the soldiers whom he fought with and against. He is the only man in sight today who would have the confidence and backing of a majority of the entire statesmen and soldiers.

General Smuts' presence in Rome today, whether he accompanied Lloyd George, may or may not be a sign of something of this sort is impending. This is mere speculation. But it seems certain that one of the big lessons the allies will draw from the Italian reverse is the vital need for some such cohesion in allied policy and strategy, which was the enemy's big initial advantage on the Italian as well as against Rumania and Russia in earlier days of the war.

The English press almost unanimously agrees on this. Liberal papers, such as The Manchester Guardian, The Nation and others, which first advocated such a policy, are being joined by the Conservative organs, notably the Northcliffe press. The Times says today:
 "If the last week's lesson produces such a cohesion, then the Italian misfortune may yet become in the most favorable sense the turning point of the war."

SHE HAD SUFFERED FOR 20 LONG YEARS

Mrs. Morris Had Rheumatism So Bad She Couldn't Walk—Finds Relief at Last.

"Words can only partially describe the suffering I endured before I began taking Tanlac. The past three years Morris of 463 St. Johns Road, Toronto, a few days ago."
 "For twenty years," continued Mrs. Morris, "I have tried in vain to get relief from stomach trouble, kidney disorders and rheumatism, and when I began taking Tanlac I was a confirmed invalid. During all these years I haven't been able to eat without suffering afterwards. My stomach was all upset, I had no appetite, I simply had to force myself to eat and then my food would sour and bloat me up terribly. I suffered all the time from indigestion and was constantly belching up my food, sour and undigested. My kidneys worried me nearly all the time and during the past three years I developed rheumatism, which started first in my shoulders and arms and then got down into my lower limbs, and for more than two and a half years I have almost been an invalid. I was so crippled up that I couldn't walk, I couldn't even dress myself and the misery was almost unbearable. Sometimes the pain was like a knife cutting in, then again it was a dull, throbbing pain that seemed close to the bone. My legs would puff up and my joints were so stiff and hurt that I could hardly move them. At times I had cramps in my legs until they felt like they would almost draw double and no one, unless they have suffered the same way, knows what I had to endure."
 "Well, I have spent lots of money for medicines of different kinds, but was never able to find anything to do me one bit of good. I had almost given up in despair, but Tanlac has already done me a world of good and I believe now I am going to get sound and well. I have just started on my third bottle of Tanlac and I can tell that I am improving every day. The rheumatism doesn't bother me any longer like it did and I feel stronger and more vigorous than I have in a long time. While I haven't taken Tanlac long enough to say it has done wonders for me, I can say it is doing the good and that's more than I can say for any other medicine I ever took. I am certainly well pleased with the results I have gotten from Tanlac so far and I'm going to keep on taking it as I believe my relief will soon be complete."
 Tanlac is sold in Toronto by Tamplin's Drug Stores. A special Tanlac representative is at the 232 Yonge Street Store, meeting the public and explaining the merits of the medicine.—(Advertisement).

DESPERADO CAUGHT IN STORE AT CHAPLIN

Bill Nibianuk, Refugee From Prince Albert Penitentiary, Has to Retain

Regina, Nov. 8.—Constable Moore of the provincial police arrested Bill Nibianuk at 140 this morning at Chaplin, as the desperado was entering a general store there. Nibianuk was found crouching behind some boxes by the constable who entered the store with a revolver in one hand and a flashlight in the other. The fugitive tried to escape by the rear and ran thru the door towards the bush with Moore in pursuit. After a chase of 250 yards in which the constable vainly tried to wind Bill he caught up with him and a fierce rough and tumble fight followed, which ended in 10 minutes with Nibianuk being knocked out with a blow on the head from the constable's revolver. When he recovered he again played a fight, but had to give in to superior numbers. He told the police he had been hiding in Moose Jaw for some time and it is said he admitted pulling off a number of jobs since his escape from Prince Albert Penitentiary. He said he had not seen the trade of a house since his escape, except when he entered for food. He appeared before the justice of the peace at Chaplin this morning and was remanded for a week.

One County Still Remains to Be Heard From in Cincinnati

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 8.—At the end of the second day following the prohibition election, the question of whether the state would be wet or dry was still in doubt, the "wets" leading by a majority of 3648 on the face of the returns. This figure, however, included a gain of 1832 votes in Hamilton County officially allowed by the board of elections in that county, which had not been reported to the secretary of state today.

An announcement made by Secretary of State Fulton from figures compiled in his office, gave the wets a majority of 188. These figures included all except one county, and the 1832 gained in the unofficial vote of Hamilton County.

LORD BROOKE FINDS PRISONERS HAPPY

Internment Camps in Switzerland Prove to Be Satisfactory

Ottawa, Nov. 8.—The government has received thru Sir George Perley, high commissioner, a report by Brig-General Lord Brooke, who during the month of August made a tour of the internment camps in Switzerland. He was accompanied by Major G. R. Geary, 56th Canadian Battalion and formerly Mayor of Toronto. The camps visited were Gunther, Interlaken, Murren, Chateau D'Oex, Rosinier, Leysh, Vevey, Lausanne, and Geneva.

Lord Brooke in his report speaks highly of the air and general comfort of the soldiers interned at Gunther. "The men, he said, looked well, and are happy. Conditions are also good at Interlaken, where the Canadians are looked after by a Miss Simkins, an Englishwoman. All the men, he says, speak most highly of her devotion. At Murren Lord Brooke saw the Canadians, five officers and 40 other ranks. He reports that the "health discipline, and morale of the troops are very good, and there is plenty of outdoor exercise."

Conditions at Chateau D'Oex, where the Canadians number two officers and 45 other ranks, were less satisfactory, because of the lack of places to play games, and also because the men have not received any great help in the way of instruction in trades. Lord Brooke has spoken with this camp with the British minister in

TWO-THIRDS OF ELIGIBLES OMIT REGISTRATION

Twenty-Six Thousand Eligibles in British Columbia Have Not Reported

Vancouver, Nov. 8.—Claims for exemption under the Military Service Act in this district, including Vancouver and all territory east to the provincial boundary, now amount to 6589, while there have been 2240 reports for service. It is estimated that there are 35,000 eligible for military service under the act, so that apparently less than one-third have registered in a territory which includes a large proportion of the province. Yesterday's figures, which included claims for exemption and 137 reports for service.

ATTACK ON GUARD

Deliberate Attempt Believed to Have Been Made to Shoot Sentry at Kingston

Kingston, Nov. 8.—What is believed to have been a deliberate attempt to shoot one of the guards at the Cohen building, used by the Ordnance Corps, is being investigated by the military authorities. The shooting occurred just at dusk last night. The sentry was stunned to hear the thud of a bullet strike the wall close to him. He sprang under cover to avoid another bullet, which followed, and raised an alarm. A bullet fired from a 45-caliber revolver was found. As a result of the shooting the guard has been doubled and secret service men are working on the case.

TRIBUTAL SITS IN CORNWALL

Cornwall, Nov. 8.—The board of medical examiners in connection with the Military Service Act have examined 1374 young men up to this morning. Of these 827 were classified as fit, while 547 were distributed between categories B2, C1 and E. The exemption tribunal for Cornwall commenced its sittings at the courthouse at 10 o'clock this morning. The tribunal consists of Messrs. W. P. Pollock and L. A. Ross, with Major W. F. Maswood representing the military.

A Square Deal

There are a great many rumors, some of which have been published in the press, regarding the milk situation in Toronto.

Most of these are canards, pure and simple. But they have gained wide circulation by word of mouth and through the press. We believe that the following statement will clear the air.

The Farmers' Dairy at its inception proposed to give the public a square deal—pure milk, rich milk, scientifically pasteurized, at the lowest possible price.

Throughout the history of our business we have adhered to this policy, and we are doing so today.

On every quart of milk we deliver we make only a small fraction of a cent profit.

In the first nine months of this year our profit on our total turnover was a percentage much below that earned by ordinary businesses.

To give the public service such as we wish to give, we have an investment in plant of $366,000.00.

From October 1st, 1916, to October 1st, 1917, our operating costs increased 50%—due to increased cost of labor and of everything that enters into our business.

The producers were not able to reduce the price of milk to us in the summer as heretofore, because of the high cost of mill-feeds. We had to pay the winter price right through the summer.

Despite the above facts, the price of milk to our customers was the same for the entire twelve months. Some of these months represented a large loss.

We are working on a very narrow margin. Any sudden change in conditions would turn our profits into a serious loss.

We have been, and will be, satisfied with a very small profit. But we cannot stay in business without profit.

Milk as delivered by the Farmers' Dairy salesmen is the cheapest food on the market today. All rumors to the contrary, we are continuing our policy of a square deal. And we will continue it.

GERMANY TO COME UNDER DICTATOR

Threat Made to Progressive Democratic Elements in Country

Copenhagen, Nov. 8.—The threat that a military dictatorship is inevitable unless assistance upon a radical vice-chancellor is dropped and the government of Count von Hertling as it now stands is accepted, is held out over the progressive democratic elements in Germany.

Count von Hertling, thru a semi-official note to The Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, announces that no promises whatever were made to give the radicals the two posts they desire. Representatives of the Reichstag majority have issued an equally authoritative announcement that they adhere to their old position.

The refusal of Herr Friedberg, leader of the National Liberal party, to accept the vice-presidency of the Prussian ministry and the alleged certainty that Dr. Helfferich is to be retained as vice-chancellor are regarded as matters impossible of settlement.

Von Hertling is reported to have succumbed to military and Junker influence.

The Tagblatt and other radical newspapers say that if Chancellor von Hertling bows to the "hidden powers" and the opposition will introduce on Nov. 22, when the Reichstag reconvenes in resolution of lack of confidence in the government.

John Clifford Mann, 144 Bickle avenue, sole support of mother, has brother in the base hospital yet. Exemption granted. Kenneth Savage, 36 St. Andrew's Gardens, class C3, exempted. William Edgar Hick, 78 Summerhill avenue, class E, exempted. Hubert R. Smith, 8 Hawthorne avenue, 24 years old, claimed exemption on "business obligations" grounds. His claim was disallowed.

TRIBUNAL NO. 353. City Hall, Judge Winchester's Ch. Judge Winchester, Wm. Lee, H. H. Hammond, Mil. Rep.

Grant Forrester Lavin, teacher at the Normal School, was granted exemption until he ceases to be employed in his present position. William Phillips, Craighall, Muskoka, A2, directed to tribunal in his own vicinity. Ernest Bruce Jackson, 95 Chestnut street, printer, category E, exempted. John M. Houser, 269 Jarvis street, sent to armistice for examination. Samuel Mourmich, presser, 66 Centre street, a Russian, gets exemption as long as he is not naturalized. Percy Bond Rowe, 494 Ann street, category C, exempted. Jack Lennor, category E, exempted.

Dr. Edward Earle Shoultice, surgeon, Toronto General Hospital, was granted exemption for four months. Harry N. Beaman, 38 Toronto street, barber, exempted, class E. Four Indians working at Leaside asked exemption. Were sent to post-office to get their papers. The name of Benjamin Cohen was not on list Tribunal No. 353. E. R. Brittain, 119 Ann street, made application for exemption by letter. A personal interview was asked before disposing of case. Armond Thos. Whitehead, class E, exempted. John M. Houser, 269 Jarvis street, class A, was refused his exemption although he said his father came from Germany.

TRIBUNAL NO. 354. City Hall, Judge Costworth's Ch. Judge Costworth, C. B. Jacques, Major W. G. Pink, Mil. Rep.

Conditional exemption was granted to Assistant Crown Attorney Melville William Wilson, 55 Alexander street, barrister, until February 1, in order to close up his business affairs. He said he was practicing alone, taking over the business of his former associate and had assumed financial responsibilities on their behalf. He applied to Judge Costworth's knowledge of law, stating it was an extreme case, but his honor thought that any legal documents could be turned over to other hands, and that he could get his position back after the war. David Cahner, 123 West Queen street, asked exemption for four months and family grounds, and is part estate and store manager, and said his father lived in England and one son had been taken to the army. The applicant stated he sent $4 or $5 to his father each week, and had been rated A2 for the army. He was granted temporary exemption until January 1.

T. G. Manley, 108 St. Vincent street, electrician, asked for exemption, stating he was in category E, but did not file his medical sheet. The application so his claim was adjourned in order that the sheet may be filed. Exemption was granted to C. P. Coll, 15 Dundonald street, and A. M. Vollet, 33 East Charles street, two category B men. T. H. Dickinson, Central Y. M. C. A., an insurance agent, placed in C2, was made exempt until his class is called. Charles street, 61 West Charles street, was granted exemption on filing his medical sheet showing he was in class E.

Harry R. Drew, newspaper reporter, 31 Grosvenor street, was granted exemption until his class, C2, is called. Samuel Thompson Gardens, Central Y. M. C. A., was granted exemption until class E men are called. G. T. Zumstein, fourth-year medical student, was given temporary exemption to complete his studies, the time not to exceed six months. F. F. Zwick, 24 Grosvenor street, was also a medical student, who had served 26 months in the army, eight months of which time was spent in France; and as he is now unit for service, exemption was granted.

TRIBUNAL NO. 355. City Hall, Judge Costworth's Ch. Judge Costworth, C. B. Jacques, Major W. G. Pink, Mil. Rep.

Chester McKel. Dick 856 McPherson avenue, asked exemption for four months. Chester L. is aged 24 and the report of the medical board and submitted a report made out by Dr. G. Sterling Ryerson. The tribunal was inclined to accept the statement of Dr. Ryerson. The applicant had lost the sight of one eye and it was suggested that he be placed in category B.

Rev. Dr. Robertson appeared on behalf of his son and presented a statement from Dr. Faritz of Muskoka Sanitarium. The claim was allowed.

James Calder, aged 35, asked exemption on account of certain domestic obligations. He has several dependents and is manager of Nesmith's Limited. The claim was supported by a certificate from Dr. Young and supplemented by a claim for exemption by his employers. The firm was making only the one request. The head of the firm stated that they had contracted for the supplying of bread to this military district and it would be hard to replace Mr. Calder. His exemption to the second class was granted on business reasons only.

Harland A. Clerk, 15 Woodlawn avenue, brother of Major Blair Clerk, M.C., asked for exemption because his mother depended upon him while his brother was overseas. Exemption was granted. Wilfred H. Spearman asked to be excused because his mother was in a nervous state. He wanted to go himself, he said. Exemption refused.

TRIBUNAL NO. 356. Osgoode Hall, Master-in-Ordinary G. O. Aloor, J. H. Williamson, E. D. McCormack, Mil. Rep.

Stephen H. Chase, 110 University avenue class A. Taking a course in veterinary college. Allowed until April next to graduate.

Joseph T. Taverney, 35 McCull street, class E, exempted. Duncan J. Barnes, 35 Beverley street, exemption refused. Matiland Gowat, 57 Grange avenue, refused exemption. Harry Pullen, 659 West Queen street, class A, is toy maker, was refused exemption, but given a month to wind up his business.

TRIBUNAL NO. 357. Osgoode Hall, Master-in-Cham. J. A. C. Cameron, S. Levisier, C. W. Randall, Mil. Rep.

Claiming the importance of his present employment, that he should finish his education as a chemist and engineer and also domestic reasons, a young French-Canadian who is in category A2 asked for exemption. Thos. D. Vesina, 35 River street, was his name, and his application was endorsed by his employer, the Standard Chemical Iron and Lumber Company. The claim was disallowed. "This is like putting a black cap on a fellow," declared the young man. "If a man can't get exemption on my papers, I pity the other young fellows."

Patrick Muldrew appeared in person to claim exemption on the ground that he is the sole support of his mother, who has been a widow for 15 years. He was granted conditional exemption. The accused with a certificate from a non-military doctor stating that he was troubled with rheumatism, John Rowe, 275 Augusta avenue, was told to appear before the medical board at the armistice before his case would be heard.

Abraham Cohen, 287 Stinson street, a class E man, was granted exemption. Daniel Samuels of Bellevue place, class C, was granted exemption until men in his category are called. Frank Regan, barrister, Grosvenor street, after a private hearing, was granted temporary exemption on the ground of domestic responsibility. J. C. Thompson, barrister, practicing with Miller, Hunter and Ferguson, 55 Yonge street, claimed exemption on the ground that he had to support an aged father and mother. He was granted exemption until class 2 men are called out.

J. M. Bennett, 388 Indian Grove, a law student, was given permission to remain out of the ranks until men in his category, B, are called to the colors. On presenting his medical sheet showing that he had been placed in category C3, Robert Samuels, 9 Bellevue place, was granted exemption until men of his category are called.

A. Slinger, 183 Beverley street, and Benjamin Hyman were likewise exempted until the call is made for category C. Max Voochok, 27 years of age, came before the tribunal stating that he had private hearings and both were refused exemption. His father, an Australian, was a naturalized citizen for 13 years and was drafted under the new franchise law. He himself was born in Austria. Legal advice had been given him that he did not come under the Military Service Act, but as he had not elected to attach his father's nationality when he reached the age of 21 and was now entitled to a vote, he was ordered to report for medical examination.

TRIBUNAL NO. 360. No. 3 Pst. Stn., 31 Claremont St. N. B. Gash, O. Hestwood, Geo. Stagg, Mil. Rep.

Arthur Holliday, 188 Defoe street, class E, exempted. Horst Andrew, 22 Foxley street, class B, exempted. Solly Cohen, 130 Claremont street, class A2, was granted exemption. The military representative insisted on re-examination. Solly came back classified 'C'. Mr. Gash said it was lucky he did not have to be examined again or he'd come back a corpse. Exempted. Frederick John Gray, 136 Argyle street, class A, small carrier. Claimed exemption as he was mother's sole support. He had five sisters and one brother, married, in Toronto. Refused.

Chas. Nettleton, 592 West Wellington street, class A, sole support of both parents, who are invalids. Rev. J. Russell MacLean wrote in his favor. Exemption granted.

Camille Bourke, 99 Massey street, a French-Canadian from New Brunswick, presented his claims. He was an export shipper for Massey-Harris. He said he had an outstanding doctor's bill which he wished to pay. The tribunal found out on cross-examination that in the last 14 years he had only paid about $10 on the bill. He then claimed he supported his mother, but further discussion brought out the fact that he sent her $5 only occasionally. The tribunal remarked she would receive more than that from the government if he was drafted. More debts were produced, which might cause his mother to be dispossessed, he feared, if he were not here to pay them. Decision reserved. The Joseph Hunt of 120 Strachan avenue was a conscientious objector. His religion is Christadelphian. He applied for exemption by letter, but was

James Galile Keens, 102 Bernard avenue, stated by letter that plea for exemption was not his. Parents applied. Refused. John Vernon Knox, 71 Spadina road, Exemption refused. Norman Davis on account family obligations. Exemption refused. William Gerard, occupation as transportation agent. Exempted. William Gerard Tobin, employee of Canadian Press, Limited, was granted exemption. John V. Knox, aged 25, claimed to be necessary to his business of manufacturing rosaries and scapulars and also to be the sole support of his mother. Decision reserved. Norman Davis, 24 Kendall avenue, classed as "A," claimed to be his mother's support. He is employed by a shell factory. Decision reserved. William Tobin, 198 Albany avenue, an Irish-French-Canadian, claimed exemption, as his business needed him. He is a Canadian Press telegrapher and his employer claimed exemption for him on these grounds. He said also that he was the support of his mother and three brothers. Decision was postponed awaiting further investigation. Horace Harphan, 115 Dupont street, aged 32, is a motor truck repairer. He wanted previously to enlist but his teeth were bad. Had also wanted to get married but feared it would be called an excuse. Decision was reserved. John A. Mara, 1 McMaster avenue, class E, exempted.

W. H. Perry, 167 Markham street, in the ministry, granted exemption. James Marshall Palmer, 189 Bay street, barber, Walker House, sole support mother. Decision reserved until May 8, 1918.

TRIBUNAL NO. 361. Y. M. C. A., 391 College St. G. Grant, F. B. Hayes, C. A. Muir, Mil. Rep.

W. H. Perry, 167 Markham street, in the ministry, granted exemption. James Marshall Palmer, 189 Bay street, barber, Walker House, sole support mother. Decision reserved until May 8, 1918.

Clifford H. Murchison, 428 Manning avenue, class B, exempted. Charles S. Webster, 33 Delaware avenue, class B, exempted. John Bruce Manson, 752 Bathurst street, class E, exempted. David J. Nicholls, 385 Manning avenue, appealed on grounds of conscientious convictions, saying he was a member of the Plymouth Brethren and did not believe in taking life. Decision reserved.

Charles L. Nicholson, 190 Concord avenue, was a Catholic until recently, who who joined the Plymouth Brethren, and was now asking exemption as a conscientious objector. Decision reserved. David Watson Ross, 217 Gage st., 32 years old, wrote his application for exemption and accompanied his letters with others from his employers, his physician and his pastor, claiming to be the sole support of his mother and grandmother. The board said it was impossible to grant son's exemption in these cases always, as the money from the government would be applied. Exemption refused.

TRIBUNAL NO. 363. No. 11 Pst. Stn., 671 Markham St. D. MacDonald, W. Stockdale, Major E. G. Switzer, Mil. Rep.

Luchan Cameron, 127 Barton ave. claimed exemption on the ground of physical and domestic disability. Three brothers at front, he the only son at home. Granted exemption until medical verdict is given. Andrew Blake, 804 Euclid avenue, ordered to appear in person on Saturday. James W. Aldred, 299 Fenning street, teller in a city bank, did not appear and his case was disallowed by default.

TRIBUNAL NO. 364. Y. M. C. A., 391 College St. G. Grant, F. B. Hayes, C. A. Muir, Mil. Rep.

Luchan Cameron, who has three brothers at the front, applied for exemption on physical and domestic grounds. He exhibited his A.R. certificate and said his was the only son at home. He was granted exemption until his class is called. Applying on the grounds that he assisted to support his mother, is the sole support of a crippled sister, has a brother in France, and is engaged in munitions work, Andrew Blake, 804 Euclid avenue, was refused exemption. His employers also applied on his behalf. Hubert Carnahan, aged 20, claimed exemption on the ground of the importance of his present work as a draughtsman with the Leaside Munitions Company. Although his employers also applied, exemption was refused. Wm. S. Carson of category E, an automobile mechanic, 710 Manning avenue, was granted exemption. George Bull, 37 Olive avenue, a widow with one child, applied and was told he was before his time, and should not have made application.

John S. Boyd, 576 Clinton street, an A2 man, claimed exemption on business and domestic grounds. He said if he had to enlist he would lose his business, would not be able to meet his financial obligations, and could not pay the war risk on his insurance. His father was a partial invalid, able to earn only $200 per year, and the rest of the support of both his parents had to come from him. The tribunal gave him until March 1 to get his affairs in shape before reporting. Edward Henry Young, 116 Folli street, was granted exemption as he was the only support of a widowed mother. Thos. B. Crossen, 314 Concord avenue, applied on medical grounds, and his case was deferred until Saturday for his medical sheet.

John Maxwell, 3 Garnet avenue, filed a statement that he was a Christian and must, on religious and conscientious grounds, decline any military service, combatant or non-combatant. Some of the tenets of his belief were stated in the application and the tribunal granted him exemption from the combatant ranks. Chas. Rose, 11 Olive avenue, received exemption on medical grounds. Donald Goodworth, 149 Barton street, was given exemption until men claimed exemption, being partial support of mother and sole support of crippled sister. Claim refused. Dr. Edward Earl Shoultice, internist at General Hospital, got exemption for four months. He is in class B. Harry H. Beaman, 38 Toronto st., barrister, got exemption on ground of being in category E. Luchan Cameron, who has three brothers at the front, applied for exemption on physical and domestic grounds. He exhibited his A.R. certificate and said his was the only son at home. He was granted exemption until his class is called. Applying on the grounds that he assisted to support his mother, is the sole support of a crippled sister, has a brother in France, and is engaged in munitions work, Andrew Blake, 804 Euclid avenue, was refused exemption. His employers also applied on his behalf. Hubert Carnahan, aged 20, claimed exemption on the ground of the importance of his present work as a draughtsman with the Leaside Munitions Company. Although his employers also applied, exemption was refused. Wm. S. Carson of category E, an automobile mechanic, 710 Manning avenue, was granted exemption. George Bull, 37 Olive avenue, a widow with one child, applied and was told he was before his time, and should not have made application.

The Military Service Act, 1917

Notice to Employers

The attention of Employers is especially called to the following provisions of the Regulations passed under The Military Service Act, 1917, and The War Measures Act, 1914, which directly affects them.

EMPLOYER TAKING ADVANTAGE OF EMPLOYEE.

Every employer, and every person acting on behalf of any employer, who stipulates or attempts or offers to stipulate with any employee or other person for any reduction of an employee's salary or wages, or for the alteration of any other term or condition of his employment, in consideration of the employer exercising or refraining from exercising his right to claim exemption from military service on behalf of any employee, or who alters or attempts or offers or proposes to alter, adversely to any employee, any of the conditions of employment affecting such employee by exercising or refraining from exercising or by authorizing or suggesting the exercise or abstention from exercising of his right to claim exemption from military service on behalf of any employee, shall be guilty of an offence, punishable on summary conviction, by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the convicting magistrate: the fine to be not less than one hundred dollars and not more than one thousand dollars, and the imprisonment not to exceed six months.

EMPLOYING MEN WHO ARE IN DEFAULT.

Every person shall be guilty of an offence, and liable on summary conviction to a penalty of not less than fifty dollars, and of not more than five hundred dollars, who, after the expiry of the time within which a man is by proclamation or regulation required to report in accordance with section 4 of the Act or to apply for exemption, employs or engages in his service, or continues in his service for a period of seven days, any man who belongs to any class or sub-class which has been called out, and who has not reported as required by section 4 of the Act, or in respect of whom an application for exemption has not been made, unless such person prove that, having made due inquiry, he believed upon reasonable grounds that the man so employed, engaged or continued in his service did not belong to any class or sub-class called out, or that he had reported or had at the time a certificate, or that an application for exemption by or in respect of the man was at the time pending.

EMPLOYER TO MAKE ENQUIRIES.

(a) It shall be the duty of every person who is an employer to make inquiries forthwith after the issue of any proclamation calling out men for military service under the Act whether any, and, if any, which of his employees are within the class or sub-class called out by such proclamation; and, forthwith after the expiry of the time limited by the proclamation for reporting for service or claiming exemption, to inquire and ascertain whether there are any, and if any, which of the men in his employ so called out who have failed to report or apply for exemption from service, or in respect of whom an application for exemption from service has not been made.

EMPLOYERS TO ANSWER.

(b) It shall be the duty of every employee to answer any questions that shall be put to him by his employer, and to give any information which his employer may require of him for the purpose of enabling the employer to comply with the duty imposed upon him by this section.

REPORT TO MINISTER.

(c) Every employer shall, forthwith after the expiry of the time so limited by any such proclamation, report to the Minister (of Justice) according to the best of his knowledge, information and belief, the names and addresses and the whereabouts at the time of all employees in his service called out by any such proclamation who have failed to report or apply for exemption from service.

PENALTY.

And any person who is an employer who refuses, neglects or fails to comply with any of the requirements imposed upon him by this section shall be guilty of an offence and liable, upon summary conviction, to a penalty not exceeding, as to each employee in respect of whom he has so refused, neglected or failed to comply, one hundred dollars and not less than fifty dollars, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months, or to both fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the convicting magistrate.

EMPLOYING DESERTERS.

Every person who employs or retains in his service any man who has deserted, or who is absent without leave, from the Canadian expeditionary force, shall be guilty of an offence, punishable on summary conviction by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by a penalty of not less than one hundred dollars, and of not more than five hundred dollars, unless such person prove that he was not aware, and had no reasonable ground to suspect, that the man so employed or retained in his service was a deserter or absent from the force without leave.

Under the proclamation issued on the 13th of October, 1917, the last day for members of Class One under the Act to report or claim exemption is

November 10th, 1917

Issued by The Military Service Council

SHIPPING PROBLEM CONTINUES ACUTE

United States Will Build Million Tons by Next Spring. LESS THAN REQUIRED Dozen Uses Available in Every New Vessel Turned Out.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Aside from the subject of actual military operations, shipping will be the most important question taken up by American and allied representatives at the Paris war conference. Officials said today it was realized that an international policy respecting the disposition of tonnage must be worked out.

The United States Shipping Board has announced that it will turn out between now and early spring a million tons of ships. This will fall far short of the ever-increasing demand for shipping, and it will be necessary to build up a reserve tonnage of 2,000,000 tons.

As the number of American troops in France increases, a continuously larger supply of ships will be necessary for the transport of munitions and other materials. One subject the conference will consider carefully is that of how many troops America can put in the field without endangering the food and material supplies of France and Italy.

CLEVELAND PHYSICIAN FOUND DYING FROM BLOW
Dr. Harry L. Chapin Believed Murdered in Downtown Hotel.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 8.—Dr. Harry L. Chapin, prominent Cleveland physician, was found dying in a room in a downtown hotel early this evening when he was taken to the hospital.

ALL HOPE ABANDONED FOR MISSING TROOPS
Washington Naval Department Believes Men Killed on Patrol Ship.

Washington, Nov. 8.—All hope for the safety of Lieut. John T. Melvin and the 20 men listed as reported missing after the torpedoing of the American patrol ship Alcedo, has been abandoned. The admiral's staff called the navy department that the search for survivors of the Alcedo had been given up, and it was believed most of the missing men had been killed outright by the explosion of the torpedo.

Rambles Among Our Trade Industries

There was a wise custom of the old trade guilds, the "wander year," when the apprentice, having served his time, spent a year in wandering from one employer to another before settling to his trade. The aim of the "wander year" was to broaden the knowledge of the young tradesman and teach him the dignity of his craft. So this series of books dealing with the main industries of the country is aimed to do what travel did for the youth of olden times. It is well that boys and girls, before passing into the busy life of the world, should learn something of the reality and something of the romance of the great industries of which that life is sustained.

Cotton and the Spinner.	Wool and the Weaver.
Paper and Printing.	Alrman and His Craft.
Coal and the Miner.	Seaman and His Craft.
Iron and Its Workers.	In the Potteries.
