reason why the city should maintain an open sore on Yonge street, merely from fear that the street railway company or the Metropolitan might secure an advantage. The government with the legislature should be able to arrange without prejudice such an accommodation for the public as the public are entitled to expect.

If the city undertakes to be dog the manger in the matter, we believe that it will be ill-advised. In spite of any litigation now pending there is no reason why a working arrangement should not be concluded and the citizens relieved of an intolerable burden.

BERLIN. April 12, via London, April 13, 12.15 a.m.—In reply to the United States' demands for an ex-planation of the sinking of several steamers, Foreign Secretary Von Jagow has addressed a note to the state department at Washington. The communication admits that the steamers Berwindvale. English-man, Eagle Point, Manchester En-sineer were sunk by German sub-marines, but asserts that warnings were given and that the steamers tried to escape. Admission is made that a steamer at which the channel boat Sussex met her fate, but it is asserted that its de-scription did not correspond with that of the Sussex. The suggestion is thrown out that the Sussex may have been sunk by a British mine and rea-dings to have the matter investigated thru mixed commissions under The Hague agreement is professed. Heavy Losses Inflicted on Enemy During Last Week of Contest for Craters, British War Office Reports.

pecial Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, April 12.-The ability of the Canadian troops at the front to hang on to their positions and to fight the Germans to a standstill at St. Eloi has won them the honor of special mention in the statement of the British war office which said tonight: "It has now been established that the gallant fighting of the Canadians in this neighborhood inflicted heavy losses on the enemy during the last week."

The fighting which has been purely defensive on the part of the Canadians was against bludgeon-like blows delivered by the Germans, who kept pounding away at the craters with artillery and grenades, but beyond their initial surprise the Germans could do but little save by the suffering of frightful losses. It is said that the Canadian Grenadiers can outow the Germans every time. The operation today at St. Eloi consisted of heavy hostile shelling, but there was little shelling in the front es and craters, Three successive attacks which the Germana launched against the British lines west of the Pilkem-Ypres road were beaten off last night, altho the Germans, in the first endeavor, gained a footing in the British trenches and had to be ejected by a counter-at-They left 25 of their dead in front of the British lines and three prisoners in British hands. The hostile lines in this vicinity today were subjected to bomb attacks. A small and successful raid in which 10 Germans were killed was made by British troops on German trenches near Richebourg l'Avoue last night. Considerable artillery firing prevailed northwest of Wytschaete and there was some shelling about Souchez, Carency and Calonne,

Trenches of the Germans west of Parvillers, in the region of Royc, were shattored by French fire botween the somme and the Oise, and French ar-tillery was active in the region of Langemarck, Belgium. The Germans today in their official communique said that west of the Meuse the French failed in an attack of the Meuse, three counter-stacks of the French on the Poivre ridge caused them severe losses. T was sure enough the Canadians who were engaged in the week's stubborn fighting in the mine crater at St. Eloi, and their tenacity and daring have once more elicited the rare and signal honor of special mention in the British official communique, which said last night: "It has now been established that the gallant fighting of the Canadians in this neighborhood inflicted heavy losses on the enemy during the last week." Activity behind St. Eloi yesterday was con-fined to some heavy hostile shelling, but there was little shelling of the front lines or craters. This spot is a historic one for Canada, for it was there a little over a year ago that the Princess Patricias won great fame. On other parts of the line warlike operations were more pronounced. Three attacks that the Germans made west of the Pilkem-Ypres road were repulsed after the first had temporarily given them a footing in the British trenches. Twenty-five dead Germans were left on the ground and three were taken prisoner. The British structed Edward Bayly, his solicitor, bombed the German trenches in this area afterwards. Mr. Montagu explained to the house that an investigation had shown that the expense and trouble required in the collection of the tax would so de-picte the 23,000,000 which it was ex-pected to gain from the tax, that the government had decided not to persist in the collection of it.

LONDON, April 12, 11.45 p.m.-A short summary of the Associated Press synopsis of Germany's note to the Unit-od States Government concerning the Sussex and other steamers which have net with disaster recently, was all that was available for the London morning newspapers. Even this synopsis came too late for extended comment by the newspapers. The passage referring to the Sussex were regarded in official circles here as proving that the Ger-mans torpedoed the Sussex, as it is as-serted that no other vessel was torpe-doed in that vicinity at that time.

OTTAWA, April 12.—When the bill granting the government $50,000,000 for use in carrying on the war came up for third reading in the senate, Senator Cho-quette of Quebec said that he presumed part of this money was to be used for the purpose of carrying on recruiting. He wished, he said, to record his strong-est possible protest against the continua-tion of recruiting at the present time. He took this attitude for two reasons : First, there were more men recruited He took this attitude for two reasons: First, there were more men recruited than were being used: there were 125,000 men in Canada at present who should be sent overneas before more were enlisted. Secondly, he opposed recruiting, for the reason that there was a scarcity of farm laborers, and it was not right that when the country was short of farm help men should be taken from the farms to enlist. It was the duty of the government to stop recruiting. It was a waste of money, time and men to continue recruiting. Crime to Recruit.

It was a crime for the government to have young lawyers and officers going into the parishes get-ting young men to leave the farms and go to the cities, where they were liable to spend a year doing nothing before they were needed at the front. These men were not Englishmen, not frishmen, not Scotchmen nor Frenchmen. They were the offsprings of prostitutes of soldiers in London." Senator Choquette repeated that too many men were already enlisted. The men being recruited in Toronto at the present time were no good. AT THE CITY HALL

AT THE CITY HALL "The McGarry bill," which, it is said, proposes to place all hydro-electric projects in the Province of Ontario under control of the government, has aroused almost everyone interested. Yesterday delegates of the Municipal Electric Association met at the eity hall to organize and prepare their pro-test against the bill. A resolution, moved by Philip Po-cock of London, seconded by W. H. Sanderson of St. Thomas, carried un-enimously. It drew attention to the fact that the bill was prepared without any notice being given to the munici-palities financially interested, in the hydro, and protested against any move without their knowledge and approval. It read in part as follows: "That the legislature take such steps as will em-power the municipalities, thru their regularly appointed representatives, to bloard of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, and that the municipali-ties, thru their executive, be autho-rized to appoint an auditor with per-mission to make a complete audit of the Hydro-Electric Power Commis-sion accounts." The premier said that there were grave difficulties in the way of adopt-ing the suggestion of the delegates that there should be representatives of the municipalities on the commis-sion. How would they be able to se-sion. How would they be able to se-lect such representatives without causing fealousy between the munci-palities? Would such representatives be able to sit without embarrassment in judgment on matters in dispute be-tween municipalities in which they might happen to reside? The gov-ernment had spent a million dollars in preliminary surveys. This was chargable to none of the municipal-tities. Philip Pocock, the mover of the reso-lution, (thought that, the government had been badly advised, and advocated a scheme whereby the different muni-cipalities would have representation on the commission, according to the amount of power used.

Denies Bennett's Statements.

Sir Adam Beck took occasion to say that the statements of R. B. Bennett (Caigary), in the Dominion House, that he (Sir Adam), had made misrepresentations to municipalities be-fore the recent hydro vote regarding subsidies, were too ridiculous, too silly, for him to humiliate himself or other gentlemen of the commission by answering. He denied, too, that he was aware of any obstruction to the provincial auditor from the hydro system. The commission was perfectly willing to have the most thoro audit made and published. He welcomed the indepen-dent audit provided for by the prowincial treasurer. The Port Stanley Railway. He took the responsibility for the electrification of the London and Port Stanley Railway. If he had barrassed the government by so doing he was sorry. He would have the same thing in his own business. The money advanced had been

have no objection to criticism, even of our characters. But we must have the trust of the people and of the government. If you think that we are not competent to serve you you have the remedy in your own hands. You can replace us in twenty-four hours. Give us a fair deal."

Mayor Church headed the deputation. Philip Pocock, London, a hydro commissioner, said that it would be most unfair now that the commis-sion had done the financing of the project, to take the administration from their hands. "I should be very sorry to see any curtailment of Sir Adam's powers," said he. He asked for legislation to legalize the powers which the commission had been

"The name of this steamer was not established; it cannot be stated with assurance, even with the help of the details which were furnished by the American embassy, that the above de-scribed incident concerns the steamer Berwindvale; the identity of the ship may be assumed. In this case, how-ever, the statement made that the Ber-windvale was torpedoed without warn-ing would conflict with the facts. Warning Not Heeded? "Second.—The British steamer Eng-lishman. This steamer on March 24, was called upon to halt by a German submarine thru two warning shots about 20 sea miles west of Islay, (Hebrides). The vessel proceeded, however, without heeding the warning and was therefore forced by the sub-marine by artillery fire to halt after an extended chase; whereupon she lowered boats without further orders. "After the German commandant had convinced himself that the crew had taken to the boats and rowed from the ship, he sank the steamer. "Third.—The British steamer Man-chester Engineer. It is impossible to establish thru the investigation up to the present whether the attack on this steamer, which, according to the given description occurred on March 27, in the latitude of Waterford, is a stri-butable to a German submarine. The statement regarding the time and place of the incident gives no sufficient basis for investigation. It would therefore be desirable to have more exact statethe provisions of the bill would allow the government to clip off any exten-sions that might be required. "I would put out of business anybody or any political party that would damn or bedevil the hydro," he concluded. Following the resolution to protest against the bill, the meeting resolved itself into one of the Hydro Radial Union of Ontario, and was addressed by Mayor Church recarding the recent by Mayor Church regarding the recent effort to defeat the C. It would therefore be desirable to have more exact statements of the place, time and attendant circumstances of the attack reported

"Fourth.—The British steamer Eagle Point. This steamer in the forenoon of March 28 was called upon to halt by a German submarine thru signal and shot, about 100—not 180—sea miles from the southwest coast of Ireland, but proceeded. She was thereupon fired upon until halted, and, without and asking that the government an-nounce a policy in the matter of aiding the hydro radials. After the commandant convinced him-self that the boats, which had hoisted sails, had gotten clear of the steamer, he seek the transit plications were considered by the Hy-dro Power Commission. Following the meeting an adjourn-ment was made to the parliament buildings for the purpose of asking the government to announce its policy in regard to the question giving a subsidy to the hydro radial scheme. "At the time of the sinking, a north northwest wind of the strength of two, not 'a stormwind' and a light swell, not a 'heavy sea' as stated in the given description, prevailed. The boats, therefore, had every prospect of being picked up quickly because the place of the sinking lay on a much used steamer path. SATISFIED WITH ARBITRATION.

Business Agent Hagen of the Toronto local of the Machinists' Union, stated to The World last night at the Labor Tem-ple that the men were satisfied with the board of arbitration appointed to inves-tigate the conditions in the munition fac-tories thrucut Canada. "We expect we will receive justice, and I think the ma-chinists had good reason to demand the appointment of a commission to make a pro investigation." of the sinking lay on a much used steamer path. Ascertainment of the fact whether the channel steamer Sussex was damaged by a German submarine was rendered extremely difficult because no exact details of time, place and attendant droumstances of the sinking were known, and also because it was im-possible to obtain a picture of the ship before April 6. Consequently the in-vestigation had to be extended to all actions undertaken on the day in ques-tion—March 24—in the channel in the greneral region between Folkestone and Dieppe. HIS WIFE CONSENTED.

"For an explanation of the case, the fact may perhaps be serviceable that no less than 26 English mines were ex-ploded by shots by German navel forces in the channel on the first and second of April alone. The entire sea in that vicinity is, in fact, endangered by floating mines and by torpedoes that have not sunk. say that anything transpired of the real intentions of the government in connection with the alleged new policy against which the important deputation came to the city to protest.

We stated the general impression on Tuesday that has gone abroad about the proposed government legislation. The McGarry Bill has not yet been published and it may contain anything. If it is to be rushed thru in the last hours of the session there is the more need for vigilance. The interests of the Hydro-Electric System are so important to the people of Ontario that Hon. Mr. McGarry must forgive those who are a little suspicious about the tenor of the bill which has been announced, but not described in detail.

This is all the more necessary in view of what The Mail and Empire had to say yesterday morning, apparently in reply to our editorial of the pre-The Mail and Empire now represents the Government of Ontario which was not the case in the reign of Sir James Whitney. He in a way treated all the newspapers alike and handed out the news to all on the same basis. The Mail and Empire is now admitted to the privilege of "scoops" on items of government news, contrary to Sir James' policy, and we may con sequently regard its editorial utterances as having some authority.

The argument of this article of The Mail and Empire was entirely in favor of divesting the Hydro-Electric Commission of any powers it may independently possess, and of ceasing to recognize it as the representative of the municipalities, but of the government. Only those who have watched the hydro-electric policy develop can be aware of the importance of this distinction.

The article states that "instead of letting the commission further out of hand, it will, we take it for granted, shorten its hold upon the commission, and not only upon the commission, but also upon the municipalities, many of which are using their present financial power with a recklessness which is nothing short of criminal."

The clever innuendo that it is in connection with hydro expenditure that this recklessness is to be met, may be passed over. The tone of the SUCCESS OVER KURDS

- Premier Hearst repudlated the suggestion that the profits of the hydro Detachment Defeated Below

would be taken by the government, but whether intentionally or not, he spoke of the municipalities as spending the money of the province. On the strength of this contention he refused to permit the municipalities to have representatives on the Hydro Commission. There is ground for uneasiness among the municipalities over this attitude. Premier Hearst is entirely wrong about the spending of the province's money by the municipalities. The province has no more right to interfere in the plans of the hydro than a bank which has lent money on good security has to interfere in the outlay of the money it has loaned. If Mr. Hearst spoke of the money in this sense as the province's we may pass it over also, but these ambiguities lead to much misunderstanding. The money is not even strictly a loan from the province. The musicipalities have pledged their credit, and it is on that credit, endorsed by the province, that the money was raised. The municipalities are spending their own money, therefore, on their own investment, and not, as we believe the premier said, on an investment of the province. The In the Billis region, where the Turks also brought up fresh forces and at-tacked the Russians, the czar's troops have beaten off every assault and are preparing for an advance. municipalities expect to repay every penny of the money they have pledged themselves to, and when they do the hydro-electric system will belong to them, and not to the province,

It is clear that this must be thereby understood at this stage, as it was thoroly understood at the beginning, Any attempt of the government to change the status of the municipalities in relation to the hydre equipment would be deeply and properly resented by them,

No objection was made to the appointment of the members of the Hydro Commission at first, but it was distinctly understood that the whole movement must be strictly non-political and non-partisan. So far the hydro system has been managed upon that principle, and it is the fear that the new administration in Queen's Park has something in mind which might disturb

Mary Slater, no address, was arrested vesterday afternoon by Detective Wickett on a charge of stealing a silk blouse from the T. Eaton store. this principle that has caused the present unrest, Nothing would be more resented by the whole electorate than any attempt of the kind, for it is well understood that the success of the whole scheme depends upon the neutralipation of the hydro system in every respect as far as politics are concerned,

The insinuation of The Mail and Empire about two premiers in the province is somewhat gratuitous. Sir Adam Beck has never done anything to warrant the belief nor even the suspicion that he desired to rule in opposition to the powers that be. He has maintained himself in his position as chairman of the Hydro Commission simply because he has interfered in nothing and attempted nothing outside his own sphere, There is no reason why any premier who has the original conception of the hydro-electric movement in mind should not get along with Sir Adam Beck as well as Sir James Whitney did. If the government has in view a period when Sir Adam Beck and others now concerned with the hydro policy shall have passed away, then they should take the municipalities into their confidence and invite their views on this important matter,

The further investments, which may be of a more direct nature on the part of the province, than those which have been made in transmission and distribution plant by the municipalities and which the government appears to contemplate in connection with the power development at Chippewa Creek and the Niagara-Queenston scheme, for which half a million has been provided in the estimates, may justify the government in thinking that some provisions are necessary for the direct control of such investments. If this be so there is all the more necessity to differentiate between the investment of the municipalities, and that which the province might directly undertake. But it would not justify the taking away of the municipalities' control over their own share of the hydro system.

There was a good deal of dissatisfaction among the influential member of yesterday's deputation after the reception was over. None of these questions was dealt with and they are still in the air. Perhaps the premier will take an opportunity to make the whole situation clear as he did in regard to the two points of using the profits of the hydro, and of introducing political influence into hydro management, BEAURICH CIGARS Premier Hearst has accomplished one or two things already in his term of office, but he might secure the efficency and the stability of the hydroelectric system for all time by insuring that the principles upon which it was founded are to remain inviolate. Two Hundred Bombs Confiscated by Police of WREYFORD New York.

> NEW YORK, April 12 .- Four men were arrested here tonight by agents of the department of justice charged with having manufactured "fire combs" which were placed in sugar bags on the steamship Kirk Oswald of the Fabre Line on or about May 2, last. One of the men arrested gave the name of Charles Von Kleist and declared he was a brother-in-law of General Von Briesen of the German army who was killed in battle in De-cember, 1914. He gave his age as 67 years. The others were Ernest Becker, 32 years old, an electrician on the steamship Kaiser Friedrich der Grosse; Captain Otto Wolpert, 44 years old, superintendent of the Atlas Line steamship piers and Captain Enno Bode, 49 years of age, super-intendent of the Hamburg-American Line steamship line piers at Ho-boken, N.J. If the investing public really understood mining in all of its phases it would soon become the one popular investment of both asses and classes.

Unfortunately, however, this is not the case and no industry has suffered so much through misunderstanding, as fully 80 per cent. of the investors in the United States and Canada look upon mining as highly speculative or a game of chance. Why 80 per cent, of the investors should think so poorly of mining is clearly illustrated by the following incident: incident:

While on my way to Porcupine last week I met three gentlemen in the smoke room of the sleeping car, and after discussing various subjects from the weather to the war, we naturally drifted into mining. In the course of the discussion one elderly gentleman (who later on informed me that he was an attorney from Chicago, making his first trip to Cobalt for the purpose of looking into some legal matters for a client), made a remark "that he was a conservative when it come to investments, consequently he never put money in mining." came to investments, consequently he never put money in mining." I had said very little up to this point, but this was more than I could stand, so I told the gentlemen with some emphasis that if all investors were "conservatives" as he called it, we would not be riding on this very railroad, and also that there would never have been such a thing as a sleeping car.

He asked me to explain myself and I endeavored to do so.

First of all I made him acknowledge that he never invested dollar in any enterprise until he was assured it was absolutely safe and at the same time could return him a dividend of 4 to 6 per cent. I then pointed out that when George Pullman invented the sleeping car he was a poor man and if every investor held conservative views he could never have built his first car, let alone establish a big com-pany. The same applied to railroads and to almost every other in-dustry or patent that we look upon as a necessity today.

I informed him in plain language that all so-called "conservatives" were nothing more or less than pessimists and that the world would be much better off if they were all placed on some island thousands of miles from nowhere. The discussion, although friendly, was at times heated, but in the end the old gentleman declared 1 was right and that he intended to take a look into some of the mines while here with a view of investing later on.

This gentleman was one of the 80 per cent. I referred to, and for more than twenty years he had looked upon mining as nothing more or less than a gamble. In all that time he had invested in "conservative" investments, and, according to his own statement, had made many losses. He never gave mining a second thought and ex-cept for the fact that business has brought him to the great north country he would probably have continued thru life thinking the same "safe and sane" conservative fallacy.

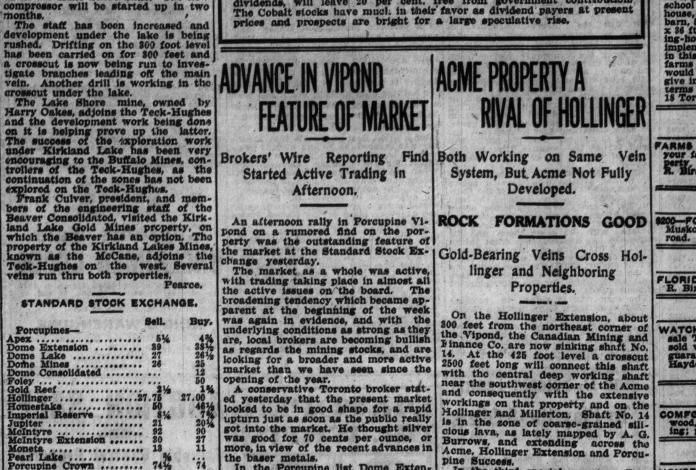

When a man brags that he is a conservative investor tell him frankly that he should be ashamed of it, for it only labels him a pesmist and pessimism is usually caused thru ignorance.

No really great man was ever a conservative (I am speaking of investments, not politics). A fact that has been proven times in-numerable when great men's estates were probated. For instance, J. Pierpont Morgan and Russell Sage both had "cats and dogs" among their millions of good investments, showing that they often put

Silver Companies Will Be Big Earners

Silver continues its steady climb and yesterday another advance was made to 62% c an ounce. The highest price for silver since the Cobalt passed in a short time is now more than probable. For many months several of the Cobalt producers have either held back their ore or shipped he ballion to London, Eng., and other points for storing until a favor-able price could be had. Those companies able to hold the output in this way will make unusual profits this year. Among these companies are Conlagas, Beavet, Nipissing, Buffalo, Crown Reserve, Kerr Lake, Mo-Kinley Darrach, Peterson Lake and Timiskaming. The advance in copper metal has doubled the price of many cop-per stocks and silvers will undoubtedly follow in a similar way. It is now felt that the government tax will not materially affect the metal-companies of this kind will be exempt from tax on capital exhaustion up to as high as 13 per cent, free from government contribution, The Cobalt stocks have much in their favor as dividend payers at present prices and prospects are bright for a large speculative rise.

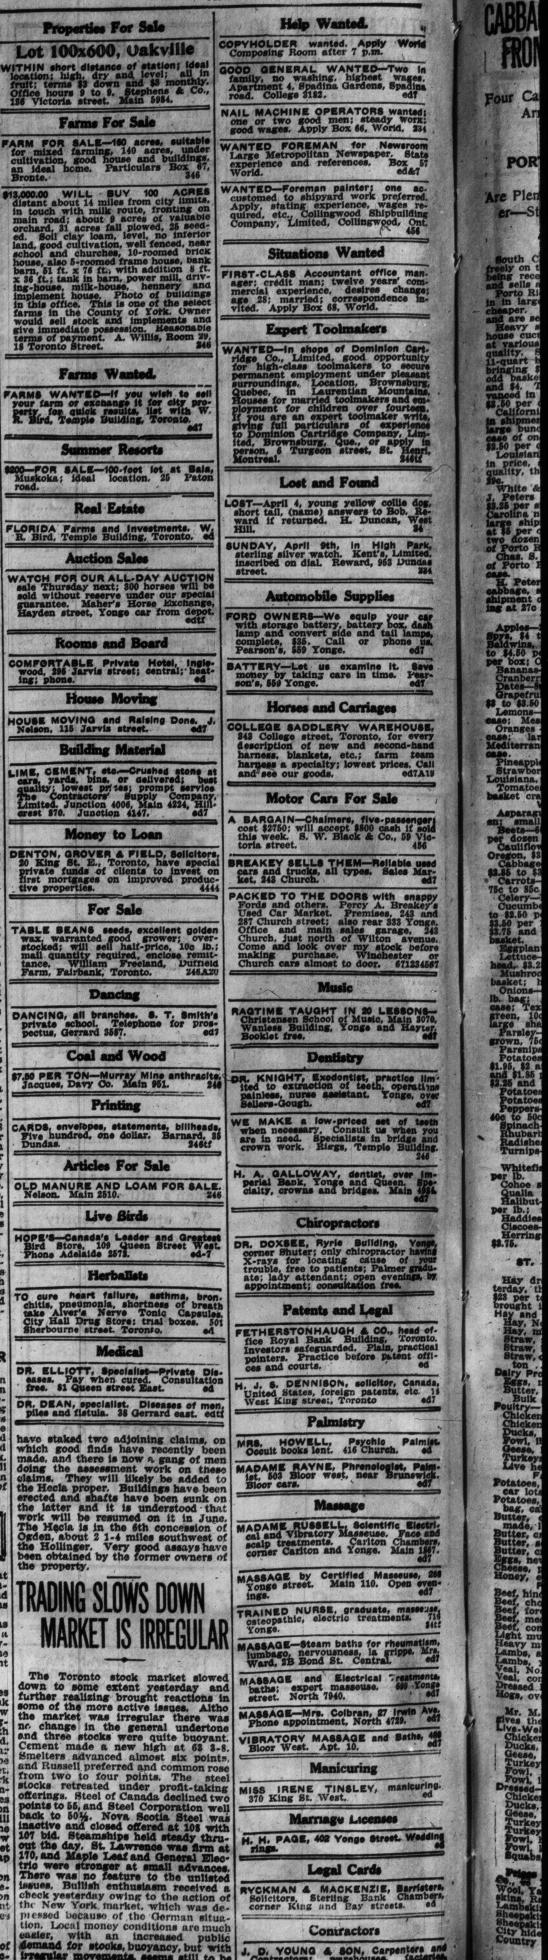

was good for 70 cents per ounce, or more, in view of the recent advances in the baser metals.
In the Porcupine list Dome Extension was reactionary, following its quick advance on Tuesday. It opened for the data at 39, and sold off to 38, closing at the low price. It is generally believed that the coming meeting of the Dome Extension shareholders. Dome Lake was fairly active and sold up to 27. With the completion and operation of the new cyanide mill on this property it is expected to make a very favorable showing. Big Dome was quiet, a block of stock selling at $25.25.
There was a good demand for Hol linger, and the stock was firm, selling up on the close to $27.70. McIntyro was traded in moderately during the morning session, but quieted down later. It was steady, however, selling af from 91 on the opening up to 91%.

their millions of good investments, showing that they often put Hargraves 20.00 2 money in highly speculative propositions. This is a progressive age and the hard-headed conservative is about as useful to the world at large as the slacker is to an army. If McKinley - Darragh 47 all investors were conservative we would still be using candles, and such necessities as telephones, cables, railroads, street cars, type-writers and steam boats would be unknown. Northern Ontarlo would still be a wilderness and mines like Hollinger, Dome, Kerr Lake, Nipissing, Coniagas, Hudson Bay, La Rose, Timiskaming and a score of others would never have returned millions to investors.

would still be where we were centuries ago. Perhaps some of the older readers of this may remember the controversy raised by the pessimist shortly after Robert Fulton startled the world with his Hudson River steamboat. Some optimists who had both seen and rid The "conservative" is a natural pessimist. He never creates under their own steam.

This brought a howl from thousands of pessimists and one even went so far as to write a book giving facts and figures (his own), to prove how impossible it would be to build a boat large enough to carry the necessary coal.

The first boat to cross the Atlantic under its own steam carried a copy of this same book and thus ended the great controversy of the day.

When Geo. J. Whelan conceived the new idea of starting a big chain of cigar stores he had great difficulty in securing capital. The conservative investor said he was crazy, and a man with less ability and determination would have given up. Mr. Whelan, however, per-sisted, and I am informed on good authority that those brave optimists that bought stock in the original United Cigar Stores now receive more than $50,000 a year in dividends for every $1000 originally invested.

It is the same in mining today, and the man who has the nerve to back up his judgment is always the man who receives the rich reward.

I met another man last week who told me he never invested in mining because he had once made such an investment and in the end he lost his money. I inquired how it happened and he informed me it was back in 1910 when there was great excitement over Porcupine. A friend had bought some stock in a mine, and meeting this gentle-man one day, told him about it, and at the same time advising him to buy as it was a chance in a lifetime. He took down the name of the stock and called on a broker that was selling it, and after listening to this second tale on untold wealth, decided to purchase 1000 shares at 60c per share. The balance of his tale is very commonplace: he held on to the stock month after month; he could not do otherwise, as there was no market for his stock except through the one broker who was selling, not buying. The finish came with the big fire in 1911the broker closed his office and from that day he has had no news of his wonderful mine.

I asked the man if he thought it quite fair to mining in general to judge it from his one investment, and he replied by saying that take the chances, so he let mining severely alone.

I have mentioned this second incident because h dovetails into the first and shows how badly mining is misunderstood by the vara majority of investors. This gentleman refuses to consider mining entiteman vertues to to balame.

Herron & Co. had the following at the close: MONTREAL, April 12.—Only one record was broken today, Can-ada Cement, selling at a new high. Consolidated Smelters was also a strong stock, selling up 6 points from the opening price. The rest of the market was on the heavy side, but good support was in evidence on the weak spots. Some stop-loss orders were chught in Steelast 56, and it broke to i5, but was well taken there and ral-lied over a point afterwards. Dominion Steel was also heavy. There was quite a noticeable demand for Canada Car, and this stock is one that seems to have been overlooked in the recent ac-tivity. The German-American situa-tion is a restraining influence on the general market, and many traders are staying out, awaiting developments.

the war has curtailed possibilities in the matter of imported fabrics. In this mood surprise enters largely into the feelings with which one sees web after web from the orient and from Euro-pean markets, shown in such abund-ance as was perhaps never before equaled, even by this firm, noted as it is for its always large and exclusive stock. Reason for the exceptional ma-ture of the display is found in "pre-paredness" of the management, who crdered the supply a year in advance, and who could not today duplicate the stock which came in response to their demand. Black and white combinations, which during the past season were prime fa-in beautiful soft charmeuse and taf-fetas, the guaranteed qualities of the combination most effective. And who could not today duplicate the stock which came in response to their demand. Black and white combinations, which during the past season were prime favorites, are still strong, and are seen in beautiful soft charmeuse and taffetas, the guaranteed qualities of the dys giving a distinctness to the contrasting broad stripes which makes the combination most effective. Narrower stripes are still vogue and always appeal to the popular taste. Delightful Taffetas. The section where the all-black goods are displayed is found on the north side of the building, just near the elevator. Here richness and durability are the things which are outstanding. Every web shown is guaranteed and facommended. The stock embraces delightfull whimmering taffetas, soft silk faille, cloudy clinging chiffons, silk and satin charmeuse and gorgeous moire, in which the serpentine patierns stand out in rich attractive weaves that appeal at once to the eye of the connoisseur. The taffetas are being largely used for early summer suits, and the moires are the fabric par excellence for the separate cont to be worn with lighter frock for afternoon or evening. THE HIPPOROME. The delightful Universal film star, Marie Walcamp, will be featured at the Hippotorome next week in a picturitation of Booth Tarkington's famous novel, "The Flirt." Containing some wondertil, photographic feats, "The Flirt" also at-fords Miss Walcamp an opportunity to display that charm and vivacity which has firmly enthroned her in the fearts of film fans. The situations in which the young hearthreaker finds herself as the result of her fickleness are most amusing, while the touch of pathos which develops in the climax is just enough to cause considerable thought in the minds of similar young fadies. A splendid cast currounds Miss Walcamp in the management announces a splent in variety bill surrounding the feature pic-ture. Clever singers, dancers and instru-areat children's feature are promised. "ROLLING STONES." "Rolling Stones." described by its au-thor, Edgar Selwyn, as a comedy of "youth, love and adventure," will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House next week. It comes here under the di-rection of Selwyn and company, which indicates in advance a fine production and a worthy cast. In fact, the latter will be the same as seen during the six months' engagement of the play at the Harris Theatre, New York, including Harrison Ford, Maris Carroll, Margaret Brainard, Arthur 'Aylesworth, Frank Kingdon and others. "Rolling Stones" has largely met with success thru the originality of its author, in developing a story of unusual interest, replete with lively, snappy comedy, some melodrams, many delightful love scenes, and a touch of romance, wheneyer opportunity pre-sents. Besides the regular Wednesday matinee will be given on Good Friday.

STRAND THEATRE.

"The Haunted Woman," which will for today and the balance of the week, is one of the most thrilling dramas ever filmed. It is replete with tense situa-tions and emotional scenes. The biow-ing up of a nountain, a land slide, in which tons upon tons of earth, trees and bouiders crash down the mountain st e: a fall from a cliff into a turbulent stream and some of the most realistic hand-to-hand fights ever photographed form but a small part of this huge motion pictures beneditor. The photo-piky tells the story of a young girl's marriage to the "bad man" of a camp, of her discovery of his of her being loved by a better n an and of Parts with the atmost to secure her happinges. Virginia Pearson is seen in the title role.

SIG BURLESQUE CARNIVAL.

Next week's attraction at the Gayery Theatre will be one of special import nce and somewhat in the form of a positive innovation, when Joe Hurt g will pre-went his superior company of 50 singing heauties under the trade-murk of wat-son and Wrothe's Big Bu-league Carnival, including burleagues hignest salaried comedians, Sliding B.ily Watson. c

Purpose Without Any Military Atmosphere.

Compulsory military training in Toronto public schools was opposed by a deputation representing the Trades and Labor Council of Toronto, headed by James Richards, who waited on the management committee of the board of education yesterday afternoon. In presenting the council's objections, Mr. Richards said that while it was utterly opposed to war for the was utterly opposed to war for the settlement of national and all other disputes, it was prepared to support the war which is now being carried on to the last. In this connection he pointed out that thousands of men belonging to labor organizations had enlisted. He declared they were of the opinion that wherever militarism prevailed liberty was bound to re-cede. "In addition to our own city, we have problems to face, and we think you should consider very fully anything relating to military affairs," he said. "In Toronto there are a large number of working people whose incomes are so small and meagre that they are hard put to live. The children of these families are forced to go to work while still comparatively young." In making his plea on behalf of these people, Mr. Richards said that the council believed it would be an injustice to permit compulsory mili-tary training for children. W. Glockling declared that the council in objecting to the proposal should not be considered unpatriotic and no bad motives were imputed against those who were introduction settlement of national and all other

It is your business to give all this time, dear girl. Are you pre-pared to do it? You've taken her from her mother, man. Do you realize what that means? The mother who would lay down her life this very instant to keep that girl from one hour of pain. And you made her cry for two hours the other day just because she said something that displeased you. She isn't used to love and protection, and admiration, too. "The Rushing of Wings." You didn't choose her because no-body else admired her. Don't be cross if other people still think she's pretty, She can't help that. What did you choose her for, honestly, now? Just Just because she said something that displeased you. She isn't used to quar-reling and criticism. She's used to love and protection, and admiration, too. "The Rushing of Wings." You didn't choose her because no-body else admired her. Don't be cross if other people still think she's pretty. She can't help that. What did you choose her for, honestly, now? Just the dimple in her check the laugh in the dimple in her cheek, the laugh in her eyes, the gay, light-hearted, careher eyes, the gay, light-hearted, care-lessness that captivated you? Or did you know and appreciate the honest, earnest, loyal woman under all the girlish graces? She has ideals, this girl you've cho-sen out of all the world. Are you go-ing to try to live up to them? Or, how that you've got her fast bound, don't you really care wha she thinks of you any more? She'll think, you know, even if she any more? She'll think, you know, even if she doesn't say a word. And so will you. ()h, how I hope you'll never think any-thing but good of one another! Of course, you'll have your quarrels, and your differences, but when things are the blackest stop and think of this: "Who is there in this world who would think for me as he would, rea-ally?" ally?" "Who is there on earth that cares. for me, honestly, as she does?" Let all the little foolish bickerings pass by like the whimpering of the wind in the chimney. For, oh, what is life without love, and what a lonely road it is we walk without companionwind in the chimney. For, oh, what is life without love, and what a lonely road it is we walk without companion-ship? Put away some of the flowers from your wedding bouquet, girl. It's an old fashioned thing to do, but you do it. And some day, when things arent rouge the mout and look at them. They'll help you to re-member. And when he comes homes at the rishing day, he won't hours after placing the most desirable thous after placing them in the man-phere, but he will feel it when he steps inside the door, as if he heard all at the rushing of wings. SACRIFICE 'Alice-I've given up ice waltzing during Lent. Edith-Well, I've promised mother to give up everything but skates. Play an Actual Preventive Of Sickness and Senility BY DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG A.B., M.A., M.D. (Johns Hopkins University)

> TO profit grows where no pleasure is taken." True and sweet words! To frown at play is an error. Only frauds fly from pleasure. While it is not a rule of a well-regulated life to make recreation, diversion and play the business of the daily round, yet he who sleeps, eats, attends to his labors, and then retires again, cannot be a whole man in any honest sense of the word.

Better far to build the soul a lordly pleasure house, "wherein at ease for aye to dwell," than to plod and grind and point the finger of scandal at others who find enjoyment in play.

Much is written nowadays about "strenuous mod-DR. HIRSSERDO ern life" and "twentieth century excitement." Prof. G. Stanley Hall indites these sad words: Uur age, and, I fear most of all, my own country, suffers from ever-increasing nerve and brain -: "the strain of modern life" is much the from ever-increasing nerve and brain-strain and overstimulation. Our school boys are told that they may possibly become presidents or millionaires." How like the ancient lamentations of Jeremiah! From the inscriptions on recently excavated Babylonian bricks, translated by Prof. Paul Haupt and other Semitic language scholars, you can learn what the ancients thought about "the haste of modern life," "the emotional strain of aggres-sive business conditions," and "specubricks, translated by Prof. Paul Haupt and other Semitic language scholars, you can learn what the ancients thought about "the haste of modern life," "the emotional strain of aggres-sive business conditions," and "specu-lation in corn and wheat that drove men to suicide." These quoted words are translations made from records 6000 years old, discovered among the runs of Nineveh and Tyre. Human Nature the Same.

Human Nature the Same. "Get-rich-quick" schemes, hard work and the "pace that kills" have been recognized since the days when the memory of man ran' not to the contrary. Working men rebelled, slaves became freemen, and drones and rakes rode around in chariots, the taxicabs of those days. Life was re-latively as much of a physical, social, mental and emotional struggle then as now.

Anxieties, loss of courage and the emotion of pessimism and failure are very often exhaustion of the glands which impair the blood currents. There can be no denial that bacteria, poisons, depletion, injury, irritation or loss of thyroid, thymies, parathyroid, pituitary, adrenal and other gland substances causes the signs and symptoms which some people falsely acclaim as the price of modern life.

That the sunflower is winning itself a place in the best garden society. It isn't the old-fashioned flower of our boyhood days, how-ever, but a modernized and re-fined sunflower, with colors that include red, pink and white, red and gold, wine and primrose, as well as yellow. Then there are sunflowers that look like chry-menthemums: also dwarf varie. ties called Lilliputs, and a kind meant specially to provide cut blooms. Surely the sunflower has a bigger place in the sun than ever before.

How She Combined Materials From Two Old Frocks to Make a New One.

T HERE is no denying the fact that Cicely has "an irresistible manner." She manages to make folks do ex-actly what she wants them to, and really they're always happy for the opportunity they a log the opportunity they a log the opportunity is everal frocks." In order to get a full skirt out of telling her to engage a tutor. Then I set about making her the first of the "several frocks."

In order to get a full skirt out of the remainder of the material I had to cut the striped taffeta into even lengths and join them together to form two wide flounces.

THE TORONTO WORLD

It has been made possible by our policy of close and quick selling of Canadian Furniture in war time, to keep workmen busy.

These LEFT-OVERS from more than a MILLION DOLLARS of furniture business we can afford to sell for a FRACTION OF THEIR ORIGINAL COST.

The articles include those that have served our purpose as samples.

Also single pieces taken out of sets to oblige customers.

There are fifty or more pieces imported from the United States for Canadian factories to copy.

Nearly all these articles are slightly shopworn or imperfect. The damage you'd hardly notice unless we pointed it out, but it cuts the price in half.

Coming right in the beginning of the spring re-furnishing season, and with the re-opening of our Home Lovers' Club, everybody has a chance to participate.

Don't Miss It

Read the list carefully, and you'll probably find at less than half price the very article you want and have been waiting for. THERE ARE MANY EXCELLENT PERIOD PIECES AMONG THE LOT.
