Fate of Chapman, Few Hours From Gallows, Lies With Pardon Board

OUTLAW SLAYER FACES HANGMAN AT MIDNIGHT

Will Be First Victim of New Hanging Machine ASKING FOR BODY

HARTFORD, Conn., April 5—Unless the state board of pardons at its meeting today grants a commutation of the death sentence, a development considered very unlikely, Gerald Chapman, a slender little outlaw, who shot Police- man James Skelley to death when sprung while robbing a safe at New Britain, Conn., nearly two years ago, will be the first victim of Connecticut's new hanging machine at midnight.

When, at the hour of twelve, the prison clock strikes the hour, the condemned man's third reprieve, Father Michael P. Barry, Roman Catholic chaplain at Weatherford prison, gives the death party slowly into the death chamber.

ASK FOR BODY

The attorneys who have stood by Chapman so staunchly through his long fight for freedom, have already put in a claim for the hangman's body.

Riddles Creepy Yarns of Ghosts In London Tower

Walter C. Bell, F. S. A., at the Great Hall of the Westminster School, has just been relating some of the creepy legends that cling to the ancient walls of the tower. "Tradition has it," he says, "that on wild nights, when the moon shines through breaks in storm clouds, the dark shadow of an axe steals across Tower Green and stands silhouetted against the grey walls of the Norman Keep, but I have found no one who has seen it."

PRICES OF POTATOES A GAIN ADVANCES

Tubers Bringing $6 to $7 in Fredericton Vicinity; Likely to Go Higher

FREDERICTON, April 5.—The price of potatoes is advancing and, although the quotations of 1925 are not expected to be reached, dealers and producers expect that a "bull" market in potatoes will mark the year 1926 until the autumn crop comes. Prices offered today in this section range from $6 to $7 at the sidings. It is possible that the price will go higher. In fact some dealers are buying at prices which will not show them a profit unless the market does advance substantially. High quotations here are having the effect of stiffening the market in Cuba.

Temporary Peace Enforced By British Troops and Native
Police

United Press.
CALCUTTA, India, April 5.—Order was restored in the city today after intermittent fighting between Hindus and Moslems since Friday. British troops and the police co-operated in enforcing what at least must be a temporary peace. It is estimated that 45 persons were killed and more than 500 injured, but because of the nature of the disturbance it is difficult to determine that the casualties were not actually greater than that. About 50 of the wounded are in a serious condition. The markets remained closed although the efforts of the police and soldiers appear to have ended the immediate threat of more looting or incendiarism.

OUTRAGES REPORTED

Stories of horrible outrages committed during the fighting continue to circulate and these add to the feeling between the religious factions. Religious riots began last week in India and by Saturday half a dozen cities were affected. The most serious outbreaks occurred at intervals for years because Hindus and Moslems seem unable to live side by side in peace.

Are Going to Montreal to

The Work

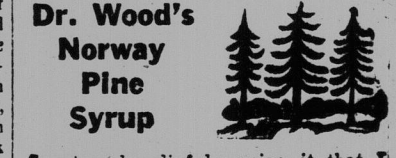

Two more children are to leave today from Saint John for Montreal to enter the Shriners' hospital and undergo treatment at the Shriners' expense. These latest patients make four to go from New Brunswick within two weeks. They are Willa Little, of Prince Edward street, Saint John, and Mildred Bell, of Sussex. They will be accompanied to Montreal by Mrs. Porter, who will bring back with her on her return to Saint John, Willie Power, another crippled child who has been successfully treated and is coming back in sturdy health. The Shriners' everywhere have entered most enthusiastically in their splendid campaign for providing treatment for crippled children and where they have no special hospital of their own, established for this purpose, they have been inaugurating mobile units. If possible they have the local hospital undertake the work and in Lexington, Ky., where the overcrowded condition of the local hospital made it impossible to have the humanitarian work carried out in that way, the Shriners bought the land and buildings adjoining to the hospital grounds, tore down the buildings on that site and erected a fire-proof hospital ward to connect with the hospital and turned the new ward over to the hospital as a free gift with all expenses paid.

CANDIDATES AND PLATFORMS

Some of the candidates for civic honors have placed their platforms before the public, and all the others who are nominated will doubtless follow suit.

There is a division of opinion in this city as to whether the School Board should be allowed to fix the amount of the school assessment without reference to the Council, and, possibly, without regard to the city's financial condition in any given year.

POEMS HOME

By CHARLES HANSON TOWNE. "ANNE RUTLEDGE" BY EDGAR LEE MASTERS.

There is no doubt in my mind that there is as great poetry being written today as ever before. I say this in the face of the fact that "poetry" has always been laughed at. Yet "The Spoon River Anthology" appeared serially first in Reddy's Mirror, and Masfield's narrative poems were published in "The English Review" written in a simple, direct, and beautiful style.

THE BEST OF ADVICE

CREATURE OF HABIT WILLIAM JAMES

There is an ancient platitude that if we do not master our habits, they will master us. Man is a creature of habit, and he must be to live in the world. We have around us. Habits are like the boards in a building; they must be good ones if the structures are to be constantly repairing.

Advice to the Mother of Seven Children Who Considers Herself a Failure—How to Handle a Jealous Wife—Inducing a Spendthrift Husband to Save Without Knowing It.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am married to a man who makes a small salary and has seven children, the oldest 9 years old, the youngest 2-months-old twins. My husband's working hours vary so that I cannot even systematize my work and have meals at any settled hours. I used to be an attractive, well-dressed woman. Now my attire consists of the cast-off clothes of which kind-hearted relatives and in-laws have tired. I race through the tasks of the day and can never see the end of them. We have frequent visits from relatives on both sides, who just have to come and see the darling children, and in their eyes I can always read condemnation on my own appearance and the lack of order in the house.

Now, I have no fear for the future, but wonder how I am going to get through the next few years without losing my mind. Just what, should I say, are the essentials to strive for? What can I do to keep the time, while the children are little, from being a total loss, so far as the joy of living goes?

A WIFE WHO IS TIRED OF BEING A FAILURE.

ANSWER:—The first thing to do, my dear, is to face abser and get the right outlook on yourself and your job.

Quit thinking of yourself as a failure because you can't keep yourself dolled up in pink silk and lace negligees and have tidies on every chair and dollies under every plate. These are all well enough for the woman who has nothing more important to engage her attention, but you have bigger things to do.

Think of yourself as having embarked upon the greatest career to which any woman can aspire and doing the greatest work in the world, that of making a home for your family and rearing seven children to be fine men and women. Think of yourself as bestowing a great gift on humanity and of doing a great patriotic service to your country, for the world needs now more than anything else the sons and daughters of women such as you are.

Why, you are like a great soldier, a great philanthropist, a great manufacturer, a great teacher, a great moralist, and when you think of combining all of that in the person of just one woman, does it seem to you to matter whether she has the latest boyish bob or the newest thing in frocks, or whether every chair and table in her house is in place or not?

As for the essential thing for you to strive for, I think it is serenity and humor. Whether being poor is a curse or not to a family depends upon the spirit in which the mother takes it.

If she is peevish and fretful and always repining at her lot in life, she can make her home a place of torment and turn her children into little anarchists who are filled with hatred and envy of everybody who is better off than they are.

But if the mother is cheerful and loving and tender to her children; if she teaches them to laugh at hardships, if she breeds in them courage and determination to succeed, she sends forth the get-goers who inherit the wealth and the fullness thereof.

Most of the men and women in America today who have done worth-while things and who sit in the seats of the mighty had mothers who were checked aprons instead of ball gowns, and who knew more about making an Irish stew, with lots of potatoes and onions and mighty little meat, than they did about the best place to go for imported hats.

It is not the mothers who are always perfectly dressed that children love best. It is the mother whose breast is a haven to which they can flee and on which they can weep out their little sorrows. It is not the home that was always spic-and-span and where nothing was ever out of order that children love to stay in and that gray-haired men and women keep shrined in their hearts till they die. It is the home where there was always love and sympathy and a mother who understood. It is not the formal feast that children enjoy. It is the porridge and milk that they devour to the accompaniment of laughter and frolicking.

So if you haven't the time and strength to be a model housewife and a chum to your children, let the housework go and sit down and talk things over with the youngsters and listen to their hopes and plans. Don't work so hard that you keep yourself nervous and irritable.

It won't matter ten years hence whether Mary's planter had hand-work on it or not, or Johnny's stockings had a hole in the knee, but it will make all the difference imaginable whether Mary and Johnny regard you as Friend Mother or as a shrewish woman whose society they duck as often as they can.

And, finally, enjoy your children when they are little. Most persons put off enjoying their children until they are grown, which is twenty years too late, because no grown-up is a millionth part as fascinating as a little child.

There is no drama so interesting as watching a little child's mind unfold, and no adventure so thrilling as trying to mold its character; there is no poetry so beautiful as a child's thoughts and no humor so irresistible as the funny things he does and says.

Pity the poor woman who gets no fun out of her babies and who thinks it a bore to have to stay at home and take care of them.

And just think of this, you poor, tired wife and mother, who considers she is a failure because she can't keep house as a rich, stylish woman does; just think, you have got seven chances of achieving fame and fortune, for who knows what geniuses, what talents, what potential achievements are hidden in those seven little children of yours? DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been married twenty-five years. Best of wives. Everything always has been agreeable. But one little rift in the lace. My wife says she isn't jealous, but let some woman speak kindly of me to me, or let me do a favor for one, and it is all off for a few days. She sulks and pouts and cries, and tells me other women come first. What had I better do, let her pout and cry or save her over with kisses? JACK.

ANSWER:—In dealing with women I am strong for the safe method, Jack. Apply it with a liberal hand and with perfect confidence in the outcome. There is nothing that does so much to stop the squeal in the household machinery and make it run smoothly.

You can't argue with jealousy, because it is a form of insanity and so beyond the reach of reason. All that you can do is to fill the jealous one so full of compliments that it crowds out suspicion.

Besides this, Jack, the woman who pouts generally does it just to get her lips kissed into a smile again. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—My husband and I are devoted to one another, but he has one fault that causes me great unhappiness. He has a mania for running into debt, usually for things we could do without, such as a radio, a new car, etc. He worships his family, and it is always something for us, but we have children who need the money he is always putting out for foolishness for their support. We are hounded by debt collectors. What can I do to make him see how wrong it is to buy things we cannot afford? PATIENT WIFE.

ANSWER:—There is no vice that is harder to curb than extravagance. The people who have a mania for buying things seem unable to resist the temptation to acquire things, whether they need them or not, or whether they can pay for them or not.

The advantages of thrift are so obvious and the inevitable fate of the thriftless so terrible that it seems as if it should not be necessary to point out to any one above the grade of an idiot the necessity of living well within one's income.

But the spenders shut their eyes to the misfortunes they bring on themselves and their families and continue throwing away the money that would save them from dependence and want.

Inasmuch as money burns in the pocket of the spender, probably the best thing to do is to induce him to spend it on something worth while and, as he is never happy unless he is in debt, to beguile him into going into debt for a home or good stocks or bonds. In this way alone can he be induced to save without knowing it. DOROTHY DIX.

Fashion Fancies

The girl whose wedding day is approaching rapidly is ever on the hunt for new and pretty things for her trousseau.

The dainty teddy pictured above is of white satin de chine trimmed with white net. A "different" touch is given in the uneven scalloping of the material on the net and the net insert in the front of the bodice.

This would be equally dainty and charming in any of the pastel shades in either crepe de chine or voile.

Menus for the Family

MENU HINT
Breakfast: Stewed Prunes, Oatmeal, Top Milk, Cinnamon Toast, Coffee.
Luncheon: Creamy Chicken Onlet, Fried Bananas, Tea.
Dinner: Fruit Cup, Broiled Steak, Mashed Potatoes, Creamed Celery, Hubbard Pie.

TODAY'S RECIPES
Fried Bananas Peel and slice lengthwise the number of bananas desired. Sprinkle liberally with granulated sugar on both sides, and over a medium fire fry in butter which has first been made very hot. Cook until a deep brown, as they are better well cooked.

Creamed Chicken Onlets—Mince fine enough cold boiled chicken or other leftover meat to make two cups. Make a cup of cream sauce and mix just enough with the chicken to bind it, adding pepper, salt, a half teaspoon of sugar, the juice of a small onion, and a dash of Worcestershire sauce. Beat six eggs light, then add to them a tablespoon of cream, a little pepper and salt and turn into a hot omelette pan that has a desertsportion of butter melted in it. Cook in the usual way until ready to fold, put in the chicken, lift to a hot dish and garnish with celery.

A maple sugar fondant is a delicious candy at this time of the year. One pound maple sugar, two tablespoons light corn syrup, one cup water, one teaspoon vanilla, one speck salt. A pound of maple sugar is the equivalent of two and one-quarter cups after breaking it up. Add the water and corn syrup and cook over a brisk fire until the sugar is dissolved. Do not stir. After the candy is boiling cover the saucepan and cook three minutes. Continue to cook until the temperature equals 238 degrees Fahrenheit. Remove from the fire and pour into a cold, wet platter. Cool to 110 degrees Fahrenheit. Beat at this stage with a spatula until the mass is creamy. Don't be discouraged if the beating seems to take a long time, for maple syrup plus corn syrup does not crystallize rapidly. It makes a better, creamier fondant because of this.

FLAPPER FANNY says

IN NEW YORK SEE S-BROWING UP and DOWN BROADWAY

THERE is a theory that Broadway will struggle to its sickle breast any figure in a passing sensation or any personality who has long looked in the limelight.

Thus the Countess Cathcart on one hand and Marion Talley, the cornball, Cingarella, on the other.

But it doesn't always work.

The name of William Tilden, Jr. would draw a record crowd to any tennis match. And it was thought that this same name would jam theatres. So Bill Tilden appeared on Broadway in a show called "That Smith Boy."

Yet last week Tilden's show set a record for the poorest box office receipts of the season. One night it took in 25, and not one of these seats had been sold at the box office. On the following night the receipts were $22.

Remove the Pain and Cause instantly

Corns

PEOPLE who try to destroy corns by the risky practice of following old, antiquated methods, find they soon come back again, painful as ever. That's because such so-called remedies do not remove the cause—rubbing and pressing of shoes. Until the cause is stopped, corns will persist.

But now a new method, that works on the only correct, scientific principle of removing the cause, is replacing these old, antiquated makeshifts. Millions of people have adopted it.

It is Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads—a thin, medicated, antiseptic, protective, healing pad, that has completely revolutionized the treatment of corns. You put one on and the pain ends instantly. At the same time the rubbing and pressing of the shoe is completely removed.

A new corn can't come where the old one was, because Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads stop it before it can get started.

Made in three sizes for Corns, Callouses, and Bunions. Get a package of Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads at your shoe dealer's or druggist's today. Mail coupon below for free sample.

"I am Pleased to Visit Canada," Remarks Duchess of Atholl On Arrival at Saint John Port

AS the palatial Canadian Pacific steamship Montcalm glided into her dock at West Saint John yesterday morning hundreds of people had their first glimpse of Canada with her mantle of glistening white snow. Among the number was a distinguished party of British and French delegates to the third triennial National Conference of Education, which is to be held in Montreal from April 6 to April 10. They were headed by Her Grace the Duchess of Atholl, a very charming and gifted lady, who is visiting this Dominion for the first time. As she stepped on shore, she said: "I am pleased to visit Canada, a country in which I spent so much of my childhood through the pages of J. Fenimore Cooper's works, and I am looking forward with great interest to visit some of the places and scenes so familiar which will bring back to me happy associations in his novels." OTHERS IN PARTY Other members of this distinguished party were: Sir Hugh Percy Allen, the great English musician, who, besides being director of the Royal College of Music and professor of music at Oxford University, has the distinction of conducting the famous Bach choir. The French delegation, comprising the party was headed by Senator Andre Honnorat, Minister of Public Instruction during the war. With him was Jean Bruhnes, a prominent educationist of the University of Paris; E. Gilson and P. Gadiner, also of Paris. Miss Morley Fletcher, of London, was also with the party. As local representatives of the National Council of Education Mrs. Heber Vroom, Mrs. Margaret Lawrence and Mrs. J. J. Stohart, went to the West Side docks yesterday morning to extend greetings to the Duchess of Atholl and present to her a corsage bouquet of lilacs-of-the-valley and sweetheart roses. They found the eminent woman M. P. from England to be a very gracious personage who accepted the gift and greetings in a very pleasing manner. The Duchess said she expected to sail for England at the end of April and would take passage from Montreal. She regretted that her stay did not permit of returning by way of Saint John. She was accompanied by her niece, Miss Fletcher.

MUCH SPECIAL FOR EASTER IN CITY CHURCHES

Large Congregations and Excellent Music Mark the Day

LARGE OFFERINGS ARE REPORTED

Baptisms and Reception of New Members in Some Churches

Easter, the central festival of the Christian year, was duly celebrated in all of the city churches yesterday and church auditoriums were crowded to their utmost capacity by the great numbers of people attending all services.

The glorious music of the day was beautifully rendered and well repaid the choir members for many hours of faithful practice. Flowers in great profusion decorated the churches and very substantial sums were given in the offertories. In many cases the offertory was to be devoted to some special purpose.

Reception services for new members were held in several churches and in the Baptist churches the ordinance of baptism was administered. The show-storm of the morning and the rain of the evening did not deter the church-goers or lessen the attendance to any appreciable degree. The city clergy in eloquent sermons told of the significance of the Easter message.

In St. Andrew's Kirk, Rev. J. S. Bonnell, the minister, conducted the services and in the morning 74 new members were received.

IN TRINITY.
In Trinity church the special collection for the reconstruction of the interior of the church and the preservation of the pulpit was held at 11:15 a. m. In the evening there was solemn vespers, Benediction and procession. It was announced that the Good Friday collection in the Cathedral for the upkeep of the monasteries in the Holy Land had amounted to $122.35.

IN CENTENARY.
In Centenary church in the morning the attendance at the Holy Sacrament was one of the largest in the church history and a large class of new members was received by the pastor, Rev. R. C. Fulton. In the afternoon at the Sunday school session Rev. E. C. Heninger, B.A., gave a very interesting address on his work in Japanese missions and exhibited a remarkably fine series of lantern slides of his work in and about his home in Japan. The slides were shown for the first time yesterday. Many of the slides were beautifully colored, having been tinted by the natives of Japan who are experts in this work. Miss Muriel Curran, Mount Allison graduate in oratory, gave an inspirational reading. In the evening Mr. Fulton gave the final address in his illustrated sermons on the life of Christ.

IN PORTLAND METHODIST.
The Easter spirit predominated at all the services in Portland Methodist church yesterday. Special Easter music was rendered by the choir both morning and evening under the direction of H. W. Bromfield, choir leader, and Miss Lillian Bromfield, organist. In the morning Miss Phyllis McGowan sang solo. Certificates were presented to 23 members of the Young Worshipers' League who have attended the morning service for the last six months. Those receiving certificates were Lena Jones, Winnie South, Marie Merrill, Evelyn Stubbs, Glenna Hill, Jean McIntosh, Wynetta Sargeon, Helen Foster, Margaret Williams, Gladys Evans, Isabel Williams, Leah Baker, Margaret Ashe, Francis Ellisworth, Russell McNameara, Edgar Cowan, Arthur Thomas, Harold Goodwin, Charles Jones, Ross Morrison, Harold Thomas, Dymon Thomas, Rowland Morrison, Charles Wright and William Baskin.

In the afternoon session an Easter exercise was given by six little girls, Ethel Andrews, Betty Spence, Marion Hughes, Wynetta Sargeon, Ruth Hamilton and Evelyn Andrews.

At the evening service solos were sung by Miss Elizabeth Spence and William Baskin. The pastor, Rev. H. A. Goodwin, preached at both services. The church was nicely decorated with a bouquet was placed in front of the pulpit in memory of Peter Folkins, who died recently.

The services held in St. Matthew's church, Rev. John A. Morison, minister, both on Good Friday and on Easter were of more than ordinary interest and were attended by large congregations.

On Friday evening five adults were baptized and 40 persons received into church membership. On Easter Sunday the communion service in the morning was the largest in the church's history. In the afternoon, baptism was administered to the children of several families. In the evening, the choir, under the leadership of Alfred W. Fraser, with Miss Fox, organist, led the service of praise. Solos were sung by Donald Bastin and Miss Frances Murdoch, accompanied by Miss Fox, and Morris Watson and Miss Pauline Livingston. Rev. Dr. Morison preached on Easter. The Ladies' Presbyterian Club and the Ladies' Aid of the church beautifully decorated the church with Easter lilies and spring flowers.

At Queen square United church the Easter services were largely attended. In the morning the pastor, Rev. H. C. Rice, administered the ordinance of baptism and received 21 into the church membership. The communion service followed and was participated by a large number. The choir under the leadership of Mrs. Blair MacLean rendered the Easter music inspiringly. Mrs. L. V. Lingley, Clyde Parsons and Max McCarthy sang solos. The sermons by the pastor were in keeping with the day.

IN ANGLICAN CHURCHES.
In St. Luke's church the offertory at the church services in the day amounted to $2100 and the Sunday school pupils gave $92 in the collection at the afternoon session. In the evening Rev. Canon C. W. McKim, of Saskatchewan, preached.

There were four services, at 8 a. m. and 11 a. m. a children's service at 3 o'clock, and service at 7 o'clock. There were very many communicants. Rev. Canon R. P. McKim preached the Easter sermon. Rev. Cecil Harcourt, the curate, gave the address at the afternoon service. The music was inspirational and there was a profusion of beautiful flowers.

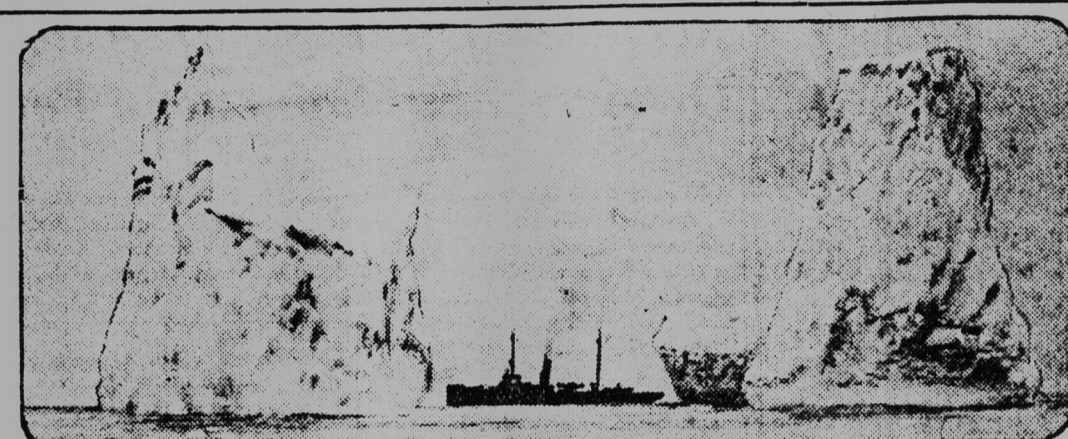

In St. George's church a new carpet, given by the W. A., was dedicated and 10 boys were introduced as additional members of the choir.

In the Easter day services the pastor, Rev. John Unsworth, was assisted by Rural Dean W. H. Sampson. The request that the carpet be received and dedicated on behalf of the W. A., was made Church Warden H. H. McLeod and acting warden S. G. Olive. The pastor also acknowledged a gift of a portable communion service from the Junior W. A. The material for the cassocks and surplices for the choir boys was provided by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Waring. A great profusion of flowers decorated the church and they were distributed to the sick and aged after the evening service. At the Sunday school service in the afternoon the children presented $78 for missions. Church offerings for the day amounted to $450. The choir of 30 voices under the direction of Miss M. Beattie, organist, rendered a splendid program of music.

In St. Mary's church memorial book markers of white silk handkerchiefs were presented to the members of the vestry and their wives. A silk umbrella was presented to Mrs. R. Taylor McKim, organist and choir leader, previously.

Rev. Mr. McKim preached appropriate sermons and the music was exceptionally good. The offertory during the day amounted to $600. Mrs. R. Taylor McKim was organist and choir leader and there were about 38 voices in the choir. In the afternoon a special Easter service for the children was held and A. M. Gregg gave an address.

HUNTS ICEBERGS TO WARN SHIPS

The U. S. S. Seneca patrols the North Atlantic on a ceaseless hunt for icebergs to warn other ships against. Here she is shown between two of her prey.

Handerson were the soloists in the evening. Miss Mabel Sharp was organist.

RESIGNS PULPIT.
With regret the congregation of the Charlotte street United Baptist church yesterday received the announcement that its pastor, Rev. Dr. Charles R. Freeman, had tendered his resignation to take effect on June 1.

He informed the congregation that his decision was final although his plans for the future were not complete. He intends to spend July and August in Nova Scotia and after that time he thought that he would probably go to the United States.

Dr. Freeman spoke of the fine spirit which has characterized the mid-week prayer meetings and of the excellent work being done by the teachers and officers of the Sunday school which has been a very large average attendance. He also expressed appreciation of the large attendance at the Sunday services and praised the work of the choir which he believed to be one of the best in the city.

He said, however, that by the end of June he would have been four and a half years with the church and he believed the time had come when he could feel free to step aside and leave the church to a successor.

RECEIVE NEW MEMBERS.
Some new members were received into the church at the morning service in St. Columba Presbyterian church yesterday and afterwards the 24 members of the Lord's Supper was administered by Rev. W. M. Townsend, the minister, who preached appropriate Easter sermons at the two services. Anthems were sung by the choir. CHICKEN A LA KING—1 1/2 cups cold chicken cut in one-half inch dice, 2 tbsp. butter or chicken fat, 1 tsp. flour, 1/2 green pepper shredded, 1/4 pimento shredded, 1/4 cup mushrooms, 1 cup chicken broth, 1 cup Carnation Milk, salt and pepper to taste. Saute slowly the green pepper and chopped mushrooms in the butter until tender (ten to fifteen minutes), keeping them covered while cooking. Remove the mushrooms and peppers and add the flour blending smoothly with the fat left in the pan; then add the broth and Carnation Milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly to prevent lumping. Place the chicken, pimento and mushrooms in the upper part of a double boiler, pour over it the sauce and continue cooking over hot water for ten minutes. This serves four people.

Argent velvet was used to make the graceful evening robe pictured. The bodice section has a slightly bloused effect and a large bow of self material suggests a waistline. The bottom is edged with fur and the fullness is posed in front.

The placing of a sash may give an altogether different effect and style to a frock and show originality. On an apricot taffeta dance frock of the bouffant type a large sash was fastened by a wreath of handmade flowers to the center of a yoke of cream lace at the back, producing an empire suggestion.

Interesting evening gowns make liberal use of taffeta, combined with lace or georgette. One with an almost normal waistline had a bodice of turquoise blue taffeta, tied at the shoulder with narrow strips of silk. The skirt was full but clinging, and three rows of scalloped taffeta were set around the bottom.

MISS FREDA BLISS of Mansfield, Mass., who has demonstrated that chicken raising can be made a very profitable occupation. She runs the largest chicken hatchery in New England. Over 3,000,000 chicks are hatched at her hatchery each year, the capacity of her incubators being 340,000 eggs at one setting.

Miss Bliss has shipped one-day old chicks as far from home as Texas and the Rocky Mountains, and numbers Henry Ford among her customers.

It would seem as if the raising and "mothering" of chicks was work that would appeal particularly to women, and there is said to be an increasing demand for trained women to take charge of the poultry department of farms and ranches.

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, SAINT JOHN, N. B., MONDAY, APRIL 5, 1926

MANCHESTER ROBERTSON ALLISON, LIMITED, ARE CELEBRATING DIAMOND JUBILEE OF THEIR BUSINESS CAREER IN SAINT JOHN

$15,000,000 PAID IN SALARIES BY MERCANTILE HOUSE HERE IN 60 YEARS OF EXISTENCE

City's Treasury Enriched By $1,000,000 Taxes From Company Since Foundation of Great Local Institution

CUSTOMS NETS $10,000,000 IN DUTIES

Members of Company Achieve Much for Progress of Community, and Are Active in Board of Trade and Other Constructive and Development Bodies

With justifiable pride in the past because of a record of fine achievement in business and community life, the executive and army of employees of Manchester Robertson Allison, Ltd., are celebrating the diamond jubilee of this large Saint John firm. Sixty years ago, on April 3, 1866, three young men, joined in the future and faith in each other and in their city and country, joined in a partnership, humble in its beginnings, and thus laid the foundations of the great mercantile house of today. James Manchester, James F. Robertson and Joseph Allison were the trio who launched the venture in a store in Prince William street with only 13 feet frontage, and all three lived to see their greatest hopes more than realized, their business grown to immense proportions and themselves occupying places of high honor in the community.

They had left the heritage of a good name and one of the greatest sources of pride of their successors in the keeping up of the standard set by the founders in the conduct of the affairs of the house and in their relations with the people.

At the outset the firm employed but one clerk, A. O. Skinner, present King street merchant. The employees now number about 350.

Today the directors are Walter C. Allison, T. E. G. Armstrong, H. P. Fiddington, G. S. Smith, W. Smith, J. R. Ewing and John H. McIntyre. Mr. Allison is president, Mr. Armstrong, vice-president and treasurer, and J. J. Hooper is secretary.

$15,000,000 IN WAGES

The firm of Manchester Robertson Allison, Ltd., has been a notable community asset throughout the years that have multiplied to this one of the diamond jubilee. In conversation with the management a request was made for figures bearing on this feature of the anniversary, and remarkable statements came in reply.

In 60 years the firm has paid in salaries approximately $15,000,000. One has but to consider what that means to realize what a benefit to the city this business has been. The greater part of that money, it may readily be assumed, has gone for the upkeep of the families and homes of the staff and has carried to keep many other places of business thriving as it was expended for the necessities of life in other lines. It has served to educate many hundreds of youths and bring them along to occupy places of benefit to the life of the city.

TAXES $1,000,000

In direct contribution to the welfare of Saint John and the upkeep of its services and the promotion of its community interests and projects, Manchester Robertson Allison, Ltd., have paid at City Hall in taxes the great sum of about $1,000,000. That is striking evidence of its claim to be a community asset, and a big one.

In Dominion customs duties on importations of goods from other countries the firm has paid at the customs house about $10,000,000. That is a mammoth contribution to the finances of Canada, a gigantic share of one fourth of the entire of the Dominion.

NEVER HAD A FIRE

In fire insurance policies on their extensive buildings and the large stocks carried they have paid premiums of more than $1,000,000 and a remarkable feature is that they have never in the 60 years had a fire in their premises.

GROUP INSURANCE

The firm pays premiums on $50,000 worth of insurance on the lives of its employees, this applying to all who have been with them more than six months—and it costs the employees nothing for participation in this group insurance plan.

This is an indication of the good will that has been obtained among all who find their business home under the roofs of the M. R. A. buildings—a condition that has helped much to the success achieved and to the excellent relations that have been maintained with the other element in business success—the buying public, as well, in which they have contributed to the advancement of Saint John. As a corporation and through the efforts and public spirited acts of the members of the firm and staff, in the present as the chamber at Ottawa. This picture tells of the birth of a nation. It is therefore interesting to note that in the year previous to the consolidation of Canada the mercantile house of Manchester Robertson Allison, Ltd., had its genesis. Grouped about this date were other important beginnings such as the opening of the Intercolonial Railway from Saint John to Shediac; the first provincial exhibition; beginning of traffic on the European and North American railway; withdrawal of British troops from New Brunswick; the Saxeby gale and many other time-marks often referred to by older residents.

THEIR START.

In such a setting of history three young dry goods clerks began on their own account in a little building only 13 feet square sandwiched between pretentious structures in Prince William street. One came from Nova Scotia, another from England and the third was native born. Thus did Manchester, Robertson and Allison launch their bark on the capricious sea of commerce. Today a group of more than a dozen buildings in the heart of the city, containing hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of varied merchandise, employing some 350 men and women, and known throughout Canada as well as overseas, stands a substantial monument to the business enterprise of three young clerks.

TO HONOR BIRTHDAY

Carleton Tower Lodge Will Tonight Celebrate Its Sixth Anniversary

The Carleton Tower Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will celebrate its sixth anniversary by holding an "At Home" in the Masonic Hall, West Saint John, this evening. The hall has been gayly decorated for the occasion and prizes have been made for cards and dancing. Special invitations have been extended to city K. of P. members and it is expected that the entertainment will attract a very large gathering.

Refreshments will be served by an efficient committee from the recently formed Martello Temple of Pythian sisters in West Saint John, with Mrs. B. Edwards as convener of the refreshment committee.

U. S. IN POULTRY MEET.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The United States is to participate in the world's poultry congress to be held in Ottawa, Ontario, in 1927. Decision to take part in the discussions of the congress next year was reached today by the Congressional agriculture committee. A resolution authorizing delegates to attend for the United States was approved.

Much road construction work is being done in Mexico.

INCORPORATION FOLLOWS.

And thus Manchester, Robertson and Allison became incorporated as a limited stock corporation in the year 1896. The firm's employees became shareholders. Executive affairs were organized along modern stock holding lines, and with an infusion of new blood drawn from the families of the leading members of the high ideals and unselfish tradition of the house have been magnificently maintained to this day. Throughout the fortunes of Saint John hundreds of families have enjoyed a livelihood from the business of the M. R. A. Ltd., and return have given a quality of service and loyalty without which the house could have so well withstood stressful periods. No one is quicker to acknowledge this fact than the present officers of the corporation as did their honored predecessors.

OTHER ANNIVERSARIES.

The silver anniversary of Manchester, Robertson & Allison was an auspicious event, the golden birthday doubly honorable and today the diamond jubilee occasion is of even greater interest to the whole community of Saint John and the province of New Brunswick, as much as to the lineal descendants who are carrying on the business, and the astute group of men and women entrusted with the superintendence of its many departments.

Manchester Robertson Allison, Ltd., now is Eastern Canada's largest mercantile house. It is a household name in the three lower provinces, and an honorable one in the markets of the world. Generations have been clothed and thousands of homes have been furnished out of its bountiful supplies. Some of the most successful mercantile executives sprinkling the map of this continent received their training in the thoroughgoing M. R. A. establishment and it was a source of much satisfaction to the trio of original members of the corporation when touring throughout the land and the adjoining republic to come upon men in high places who received their principles of business practice and loyalty in the multiplied shops grouped under the M. R. A. banner.

IS INVESTIGATING VERY SERIOUS CASE

Concerns Alleged Ill Treatment and Killing of an Old Horse

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty is investigating a serious case which is alleged to have occurred near Fair Vale on Friday. The case concerns what appears to have been the shocking ill-treatment and killing of an old horse. The incident occurred on the Kennebecus river and is said to have been witnessed by several persons. A report was made to the society and sufficient evidence has been secured to ensure that information will be laid against the party in fault.

The horse still refused to move and it is alleged that the driver became enraged and took an axe from the team with the evident intention of killing the animal. He struck it a heavy blow on the head felling it to the ice. The blow did not kill the horse outright and it is said that several more blows were struck before life became extinct.

Officials of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty said last night the steamer would be prosecuted and indicated that the witnesses of the incident would be called upon to attend the trial.

COLOR SCHEMES

Small grosgrain or felt hats outnumbered large hats on feminine heads, while among the men silk hats vied with derbies and the soft hat held its own. Women affected colored ensembles, such as: A light blue wool coat worn with a blue and navy grosgrain hat, a kid coat painted to look like baby leopard, worn with a blue and red grosgrain hat. Men contented their color sense with widening the black and white stripes on their wing collar cravats. They emphasized the fact that the cane is more fashionable than ever.

President Reports On Work and Conditions in "City of the Dead"

The annual meeting of the lot holders of Fernhill Cemetery Co. is being held this afternoon in the board rooms, 89 Prince William street, with the president, Col. E. T. Sturdee, V. D., in the chair. The report of the directors gave a full summary of the work of the last year and showed an increase in the receipts from annual care and burial fees and much work done in the cemetery during the year. The report was as follows:

Your directors, in submitting herewith the 9th annual report of Fernhill Cemetery for the year ending February 28, have pleasure in stating that the affairs of the company have never been better, and that all work has been satisfactorily carried out. The principal items in the superintendent's 32nd annual report are embodied herewith.

FINANCIAL

The usual balance sheet, statement of receipts and expenditures and list of securities have been prepared by the secretary-treasurer, attached to which is the report of the auditor, H. R. Sturdee, verifying all figures, and bearing inspection in sufficient manner in which the accounts have been kept by the office staff. Receipts from annual care and burial fees for the year show a substantial increase over the previous year, while the amount from sale of lots remains about the same. Cost of labor shows a decrease from last year, although the usual number of men had been employed. The amount under this head was $10,178. Your directors expended $750 for the purchase from Thomas Hayes of a block of land fronting 300 feet on Robey's avenue, adjoining our property, which, while not intended at present for burial purposes, will give extra frontage and prevent undesirable occupants.

PERPETUAL CARE FUND

This is now $168,000, an increase of $8,000 since last year. This is reported by municipal and government debentures held in trust by the Canada Permanent Trust Company. There are about 1700 lots and nearly 300 monuments now under perpetual care.

NEW LOTS

It is hoped that all the ground between Central and Duke avenues will be completed this season, making many more desirable lots available. The moderate priced lots in Walter street have been selling well and this section may soon have to be enlarged.

NEGLECTED LOTS

Your directors are doing everything possible to arouse interest in neglected lots, which mar the appearance of the cemetery, and have restored some for which no owners could be found, following a resolution passed at the last annual meeting.

INSPECTIONS

The directors carried out their usual annual inspection during the summer, while the lot committee visited the grounds several times. On September 26 Major General Sir Fabian Ware, K.C.V.O., K.B.E., etc., of the Imperial War Graves Commission, London, accompanied by Colonel Osborne of the Canadian branch, and members of the F. O. D. E., made an inspection of the Field of Honor and passed some highly eulogistic remarks on this plot. A photograph of the plot was given him to be exhibited with views of other cemeteries in war zones and elsewhere.

NEW OFFICES

For a number of years we have shared offices with the board of trade in their building, but as that body desired more room, your directors have taken new office and board room in the Dearborn building, 93 Prince William street, and find these premises more central and convenient. Some new furniture and fittings were purchased therefore.

SECRETARY-TREASURER

During the year our capable and efficient secretary-treasurer, Miss Magee, after a severe illness, found it necessary to devote her whole time to the board of trade and tendered her resignation which your board accepted with much regret, as she has served us faithfully for several years and took much interest in the work. We have appointed Miss Marjorie D. Robertson to the position, she having had charge of the office temporarily for four months. She has shown marked ability in her duties.

GENERAL

Your directors refer with pride to the beautiful condition of the cemetery last season, which was sufficient evidence that the work of the staff had been faithfully and efficiently carried on. This included not only care of lots, but general repairs, laying of drains and building catch basins and foundations. During the winter, our carts and trucks have been busy hauling sand and gravel from the beach for use in concrete work, while the very heavy snowfall, aggregating over 12 feet, has necessitated very much work in plowing and shoveling the avenues to enable easy access for funerals. The clear roads, therefore, have been favorably commented upon. Uniforms have been provided for the men on duty during funerals, both in the chapel and on the grounds. There are at present over 100 bodies in the tomb awaiting burial when conditions permit. The superintendent, holding a difficult position, in which great judgment and tact is required, in dealing with so many lotholders, has been most faithful in carrying out his duties and ever ready to protect the interests of the cemetery. The work of the office continues to be faithfully performed and

At a gathering of friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon F. Games and music were enjoyed and the hostess served dainty refreshments assisted by Mrs. Albert Foulger, and Mrs. Wilfred Huggard.

AT SOLDIER MONUMENT

Amid the rejoicing of the Easter tide, the flowers placed at the base of the soldiers' memorial in King Square brought a reminder of the grim days of a few years ago and the loved ones who were taken and whose memory they had not forgotten. One of them was for a local boy who was killed "Somewhere in France" in 1916. The card was signed "Mother."

FIGHTING WINTER

Public Works men and teams are today removing the heavy bed of solid ice covering the section of Union street between the corner of Sydney and Charlotte streets. TABBY IS RECOVERED

At ten o'clock on Saturday night a telephone call was received at police headquarters from a resident near the corner of Sydney and Duke streets, to the effect that a cat had climbed to the top of a telephone pole and had remained there all day. Detective Ginter got Lonsdale Hannan, a repair man in the employ of the New Brunswick Power Company and Mr. Hannan climbed the pole and brought the frightened pussy to the street.

WAS MAKING RELAY

In answer to a complaint, Police Constable Bette made a call to the top of Park street hill on Saturday and found a large pile of coal dumped. He learned that the coal was the property of Mr. Pedersen, who, owing to the bad condition of the roads, had hauled the coal in wheeled vehicles to the place where it was dumped and was then reloading it on sleds to carry it to his green house on the Sandy Point road. Mr. Pedersen promised to remove the coal immediately.

The hostess was assisted in serving dainty refreshments by Miss Roberta Jones.

The books and accounts carefully kept and Respectfully submitted,

PROTESTS SUNDAY BASEBALL MEETING

Rev. Dr. C. R. Freeman Makes Pulpit Reference in West End

In the Charlotte street United Baptist church last night Rev. Dr. Charles Freeman referred to a published announcement that the Martello baseball players were to hold a meeting that afternoon in the Carleton Curling Club rink. He said he wished to protest against such use being made of the Lord's Day and that if such a practice was allowed to continue it would not be long before there was Sunday baseball in the city.

While he considered baseball a clean, good sport and was not in the least opposed to the playing of baseball under proper conditions, Dr. Freeman was utterly opposed to Sunday baseball and to the holding of baseball meetings on Sunday. He hoped that none of the young men in the congregation were at the meeting or would favor its being held that afternoon.

F. W. Peters now High in C.P.R. Service, Visitor in City

An interesting visitor in the city is F. W. Peters, general superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Vancouver, B. C., who arrived here on Sunday, in company with Mrs. Peters, on the steamer Montclair.

Mr. Peters, who is a native of Saint John, commenced his railroad career in this city as a relieving telegraph operator on the Intercolonial railway in 1878. He was later agent at the brook, near Newcastle, and in 1880 started for Manitoba. In Michigan, however, he went to work on the Chicago and Grand Trunk railway, and in 1881 went to Winnipeg and commenced his career with the Canadian Pacific. Since then he has spent practically all his time in the west and is now general superintendent at Vancouver.

This morning Mr. Peters spent in visiting friends and several old landmarks. Yesterday attended service in the Valley church, where he used to attend as a boy 55 years ago.

Speaking of changes in the city, he said that the United Hotel Company, Ltd., showed great faith in Saint John in erecting here such a fine hotel as the Admiral Beatty.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters will leave this evening for Montreal, where the intended stay of a few days. They also will visit at Winnipeg, en route to the coast.
