Great Disaster Prevented By Coolness on Crippled Ship

ST. JOHN'S SHIP SAVED BY COOLNESS OF OFFICERS

GOOD WORK ON METAGAMA SAVES 700 FROM DEATH

Panic After Collision Averted by Coolness of Officers and Stewards. SHIPS REACH PORT Three Men Who Put Off From C. P. Steamship are Missing.

(Canadian Press.) St. John's, Nfld., June 20.—A tale of panic among 700 passengers averted by the cool-headed action of officers and stewards and of how a captain brought his virtually sinking ship nearly 70 miles into port, was told when the Canadian Pacific liner Metagama arrived here last night, after colliding off Cape Race with the Italian steamer Clara Camus in a dense fog earlier in the day.

The vessels made their way to port through a blind fog, and the Canadian Pacific liner Metagama was in with her forward peak driven back by the forecastle which by the force of the collision, and the Metagama, listed heavily to port with the inrushing water gaining on her pumps, was beached on a shoal in St. John's harbor.

Cool-headed action on the part of the Metagama's officers averted a panic among the passengers rushed for the decks after the collision had sent the craft reeling. Further cool-headed action under the supervision of the officers, while the water poured into the forward stowhold, resulted in the filling of the port side ballast tanks and the consequent listing of the damaged starboard side high out of the water.

Stories Vary Stories somewhat at variance were told by the crews of the two steamers. The crew of the Clara Camus, a 4,400-ton vessel, said that their ship had been stopped, owing to the dense fog, when the crash occurred. Her forward hold filled with water and she made for port, arriving at St. John's a full hour ahead of the Metagama.

The Rossley show will be put on at 8:45 in the evening and 4:15 in the afternoon.

The Serecky car, according to the evidence, cut in on the left side of the silent policeman, struck the other car, swerved and finally came to a halt when it struck a house on the corner. H. E. Walton said he was in his house at the time and felt the impact. A. N. Carter appeared for Serecky. The case was set over until Tuesday for further evidence.

Official Move In Power Deal

Montreal, June 20.—The first official move in the much-talked-of new arrangement in the local public utility field is being made today. The new holding company, which is making an offer for the Montreal Tramways and Power group, is a newly incorporated company, United Securities, Ltd., the president of which is Julian C. Smith, vice-president of the Shawinigan Water and Paper Co. Ltd. This may come as a bit of a surprise to many, it having been rumored about the street that the new holding company was to be under the direction of former associates of E. A. Robson, in the Transvaal. The fact that the new enterprise is to be directly under the management of the former president of the Montreal Tramways and Power group, is a significant detail. The meeting of the directors of the new company was held here yesterday and the day before, were concluded last night. No announcement was made following the meeting, but it is said that financial arrangements to take care of the company's requirements are practically concluded in New York and that an announcement of this may be expected soon. While the stock in the market still indicates that the financing will entail the passing of the dividend, the financing committee of the company quite clearly, which will be left to see that a great deal for a long time.

A section of the power house at the Grand Metis Falls where the huge cascade of white coal is caught by the Lower St. Lawrence Power Co. This parent company provides the power at but a nominal figure to the Matapedia Valley Light & Power Co. for transmission over its 84-mile line to link up with Campbellton. The parent concern backs the Bonds unconditionally and is itself prospering and expanding its sales.

A Solid 6.60%

A further guarantee of the Bonds of the Matapedia above and beyond the first mortgage on all present and future assets, comes in the 20-year contract with the Town of Campbellton. This contract and all payments on it—to a minimum of $40,000 annually—remain in the hands of the Bondholders' Trustee, who's first deduction each month becomes Bond Interest and Sinking Fund. Our engineers estimate that in addition to the profitable balance received on the Campbellton contract, the other earnings of the line will be $8,000 the first year and $15,000 the second.

LOCAL CHINESE TO TAKE NO PART

Say They Will Not Join Countrymen in "Humiliation Day."

Chinese in St. John will not join with their countrymen, as those in some other Canadian cities are doing for the observance of July 1 as "Humiliation Day." The day has been named by the Chinese Nationalist League and will be observed annually as a result of offending immigration regulations which require that every person of Chinese origin, regardless of birthplace, age or sex, must report to the immigration officials before June 30 for registration.

Sunlight—for your Washing Machine

A WASHING machine is made to wash your clothes without rubbing or boiling—and it succeeds just in proportion to the value of the soap you use.

Sunlight Soap dissolves quickly and completely in hot water and works up into an abundant suds. This is very necessary so that its rich cleansing ingredients may search through and through the meshes of the clothes and dissolve the dirt and soil spots. Then, when rinsing comes, all dirt and soapy matter runs entirely away, leaving your clothes sweet, fresh and snowy clean.

Parse half a cake of Sunlight into hot water in your machine and stir into generous suds. Put in the clothes and operate the machine—your clothes will be clean.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JUNE 20, 1924

OTTAWA AND THE PORTS.

Occasionally the House gets around to the question of the ports. Hon. Mr. Graham, in the course of a debate early Thursday morning, pointed out that if the farmers of the West would do their utmost to have their grain routed through Canadian ports they could accomplish much.

This is good doctrine, so far as it goes, and in the Maritime Provinces the people would be very glad to hear the Minister of Railways saying, if he could say it and still abide by the facts, that the National Railways, through their agents and through their influence with shippers, were doing their utmost to have traffic routed through St. John and Halifax.

Hon. Mr. Graham's remarks gave Hon. Mr. Baxter an opportunity to point out very forcibly that, while we are getting a considerable traffic by way of the Canadian Pacific Railway, there is pressing need of further facilities here to be used by the Canadian National if we are to be so equipped as to be able to take full advantage of the trade of the West. In this connection Mr. Baxter referred to the proposed pier near the new dry dock, and reminded the Government that it is the business of this country to make expenditures for terminals at St. John and Halifax rather than at Portland.

When the Canadian National Railways are being operated in full recognition of the sound policy that Canadian traffic should go through Canadian ports, the Maritime harbors will begin to come into their own.

IMPERIAL TRADE.

The preference resolutions which were adopted by the last Imperial Economic Conference in London have been defeated in the British House of Commons by a very narrow margin, which probably indicates that this question will figure extensively in the next general election in Britain. The resolutions were submitted to the House in accordance with a pledge given by the Prime Minister that an opportunity would be given for a complete discussion and a free vote by all of the members, regardless of party ties.

Although the vote was close—evidently closer than the Government expected—the debate which covered two sessions of the House gives but little encouragement to those in the Dominion overseas who hoped for a substantial promotion of imperial trade through fiscal legislation in Great Britain in the near future. The Liberals and most of the Labor Party are opposed to preferential rates because they are opposed to duties on imports for revenue purposes. They assert that tariff taxes will only increase the cost of living in Great Britain, and that these preferences which have been in force were not intended primarily to assist the Dominions, but were in reality a measure designed to protect certain British interests during a period of emergency. The Conservatives, on the other hand, have strongly advanced the view that the preferences should be continued and gradually increased. They point to the preferences given the Mother Country by the Dominions, particularly by Canada, and argue that a return in kind would promote both imperial trade and imperial unity. Neither the Conservatives nor the Liberals are unanimous on this question, but even in Canada there are Conservatives who object stoutly to the British preference unless we are to get some substantial return for it in the way of advantage over our competitors in the British market.

This is but a part of the whole fiscal question which will be the chief issue in the next general election in Great Britain, and which promises to be likewise the chief question when the next federal election comes in Canada. We claim the right to make a tariff for ourselves, in what we believe to be the best interests of Canadians, and we are bound to give the British people the same right. If the time comes when the people of the Motherland deem it wise to adopt protection, there would then be opportunity to introduce really substantial and effective preferences. Up to the present time such a plan has been rejected in Britain largely because of the argument that it would involve taxation of food.

Mr. Thomas, Secretary for the Colonies, says the Dominions are doing what they believe best for their own people in tariff matters, and that Britain is compelled to do the same. The result of the British debate on the preference will cause some disappointment overseas, but it is likely that Canada will make no change in the British preference, at least before there has been another election in Great Britain and that country has clearly declared its future policy in relation to fiscal questions. But Britain's attitude, it must be clear, is not at present of a kind likely to invite further fiscal favors from the Dominions. Moreover it assists those who would abolish the low tariff on imports from Britain, and trade favor for favor with any country found ready for such a policy.

ANOTHER INQUIRY.

Hon. Mr. Graham, Minister of Railways, and Hon. Dr. Baxter, of St. John, very heartily damned the resolution adopted by the House on Monday, calling for an investigation by the Public Accounts Committee of the administration of the business profits and income tax, but, while they expressed very similar sentiments, Mr. Graham finally voted for the resolution and Dr. Baxter against it. Only two Conservatives voted for the inquiry, and two Liberals and five Progressives voted against it. Mr. W. C. Good, in moving the resolution—it was really an amendment to a motion to go into supply—said that he had no specific or definite charges to make regarding any maladministration in the taxation department, but he felt that where there was so much smoke there must be some fire and that an investigation should be made. Mr. Melgren said the Good resolution was innocuous and he intimated that Mr. Good did not really have "the courage of his own curiosity." Sir Henry Drayton said that the Good amendment was just part of "the tissue of calumny woven against himself (Sir Henry) and the Flordan Company in the last election." He thought taxation information should not be revealed, but he promised that if there was to be any unearthing of the web he would be one of the most active of the unravelers.

Hon. Mr. Graham made a characteristic address, dwelling on the sin of coveting information about your neighbor's business tax. He voted for the amendment in the end, but protested that no action taken should be the result of mere curiosity, and he said that to drag private taxation affairs into the light of day would be "a profitable source of blackmail, a fruitful field for busybodies to fuss around the income taxes of others." He contended that particulars of a business, while necessarily revealed to government taxation officials, should be wholly kept from business rivals. Not content with this declaration, Mr. Graham delivered a broadside against undue curiosity, saying that the world today contained "too many peeping Toms and women inquisitive as Bluebeard's wives." "We seem in the world just now," he said, "to have a mania for investigating everybody but ourselves. We are all trying to get something on the other fellow."

Dr. Baxter, while admitting the right of Parliament to do anything necessary in the public interest, opposed the Good amendment as vague and chaotic, a piece of pharisaical uplift, "one of those political sandstorms to throw dust in the eyes of the public." He intimated that Mr. Good had purposely neglected to put any real punch into his motion. All his bloodhounds were blind and toothless and had muzzles on them. "What was proposed was just a committee to snoop around and cast slurs on people's characters." What the Public Accounts Committee will actually do remains to be seen. The need for such an inquiry would have been much clearer if Mr. Good had announced just what he was driving at, and upon what specific knowledge he founded his request for an investigation. The committee will hardly engage in a mere fishing excursion. If there has been, or is now, something radically wrong with the administration of the business profits and income tax, the inquiry will be justified. Aside altogether from politics it may be assumed that the Public Accounts Committee, as well as the House, will agree in protecting the public interest without revealing private taxation information to business rivals or to people who are merely curious or suspicious.

ENGLAND MAKES RUSSIAN COINS

London, June 20.—(Associated Press)—Dies are being cast at the Royal Mint for 50 kopek pieces for the Russian Soviet government by means of a machine which was made in France. This fact, says the Evening Standard, was elucidated in the course of a tour of the mint by a party of overseas visitors. The machines are making coins at the rate of 48,000 every eight hours.

U. S. POPULATION.

New York, June 21.—(Associated Press).—The population of the United States totaled 112,898,000 on Jan. 1, 1924, according to estimates announced this week by the National Bureau of Economic Research. This compares with 110,883,000 on Jan. 1, 1923, and the census count of 105,711,000 on Jan. 1, 1920.

THE ROYAL PORTRAIT.

(Montreal Gazette).

A lively stir amongst critics has been occasioned by the portrait of His Majesty on exhibition at the Royal Academy. The artistic merits of this production are being threshed out with vigor on both sides, and in some quarters the picture is denounced as a caricature instead of a likeness and as foreign to the expression of the original as though a purely imaginative effort. Meantime the artist, Mr. Charles Sims, defends himself by saying that monarchs have too frequently been painted in a manner flamboyant and legendary, an error he has striven to avoid by representing the King as a human personality. Certainly it is no new thing for a portrait to be "doctored." The canvas has been cultivated as though it were an essential of fine art, and many of the portraits of celebrities are more or less apocryphal. A Scottish critic, going the rounds of Holyrood House, wondered why the kingly images exhibited there should be such and every one painted with a nose like that of a door knocker. Louis XVIII. was given the head of a Bourbon and the body of the First Napoleon. It is strongly suspected that the features of King and Bunyan were more than once made interchangeable assets upon canvas.

Good Queen Bess was probably fully accommodated when she warned the artists against putting any shadows—euphemism for wrinkles—in the picture. Lely made a huge fortune by keeping to the "ideal" side of impersonation by pigment. But less fortunate was the artist who was banished from court because he made the Merry Monarch to appear uglier than that eminent person had ever dreamed he could look. Perhaps no personage has been more subjected to fictitious treatment in portraiture than Shakespeare himself. Linings of the Avon Bard that are not likenesses are legion. We might expect that Cromwell would disdain any approach to flattery. When sitting for his portrait before Lely, the Protector admonished the painter by saying, "I desire you would use all your skill to paint my picture truly like me. But remark all these roughnesses, pimples, warts, and everything you see in me; otherwise, I will not pay you one farthing for it." It sounds Cromwellian to the letter. Whatever he regarded to be his wish to pose or be posed in any attitude other than that of the natural and urbane gentleman all his subjects know him to be.

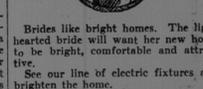

THE MAN WHO GETS A LIFT.

(Toronto Star).

Another of those curious cases is reported in which the owner of an automobile is being sued for damages by a person who was being given a free ride when an accident occurred. One never hears of a case of this kind without wondering how the person who was having the free ride could enter suit in view of the circumstances, and why the law is allowed to remain as it is. Most people feel pretty strongly that if a person accepts a lift from a motorist he ought to carry the risk, as well as derive the benefit of the service rendered him. It is clear, of course, that the person who pays for transportation by motor, as well as by train or boat, should be guaranteed safety in travel, and be entitled to compensation if injured. A fraction of the fare he pays is supposed to insure him against injury, and the paying of compensation to injured persons is part of the overhead charges of the transportation business. When a motorist gives an acquaintance a ride—picks him up on his way downtown or calls for him in the evening—it is a friendly act and it is so regarded by both of them. It does not occur to either of them that the motorist assumes a serious responsibility in doing this friendly act. But it appears to be so, and in the event of an accident the law permits the passenger to collect damages from the owner of the car for such injuries as he may sustain. Some of our judges in this respecting the law have said they have no option but to do so, although they sometimes appear to do it reluctantly. It would seem to be an old law that has not been amended since the coming of the motor age. Tens of thousands of people ride every day in other people's cars, and not more than one person in a thousand who meets with injury while doing so would sue for damages. This being so it is worth considering whether the law should be left as it is for the advantage of the few who invoke it. Everybody knows that there is a certain risk involved in motoring. The owner of a car risks his property every time he runs it into the street, and there is a certain risk to him and anyone who gets in with him when he goes driving. But surely if he carries his property and personal risk anyone who rides with him should

IN LIGHTER VEIN. During the course of a trial a small but aggressive lawyer buried many opprobrious epithets at counsel on the other side. And many times counsel started at him with right arm drawn back. But he always escaped punishment for the insult by bawling: "I withdraw it." Finally, however, he was too slow the impending blow landed and the gentleman landed on hissed the carpet. The attorney with the good right arm was then called to account. "You should not have struck that blow," declared the Judge sternly. "I know it, your Honor, I withdraw it."

DEMOCRATS MAY BE 10 DAYS AT IT

Score or More Names for Nomination as Candidate for Presidency.

(Associated Press.)
New York, June 20.—The tentative programme of the Democratic National Convention follows closely the schedule of procedure which has prevailed in previous national sessions of the party. Many leaders believe the convention will last ten or 11 days.

The first formal assembly of the 2,000 delegates and alternates to the main auditorium, Madison Square Garden, will be at noon of Tuesday, June 24.

Cordell Hull of Tennessee, chairman of the Democratic national committee, will call the convention to order, and a member of the New York city clergy will pronounce an invocation. Mr. Hull's introduction of the temporary chairman, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, will be followed by the Senator's keynote speech.

Welcomes by Hylan.
Mayor John F. Hylan of New York will deliver an address formally welcoming the convention to this city, and adjournment will be taken, probably at about 8:30 p.m. until noon Wednesday.

The report of the committee on permanent organization will start the second day of the convention, after which the committee on rules will report. Meanwhile, the committee on resolutions will commence its work and start drafting the platform. The report of the credentials committee will conclude the regular business of the Wednesday session.

With the permanent chairman presiding, the convention will open its third day at noon, Thursday with reports of the committees.
The platform probably will be presented to the convention on Friday of next week. The nomination of candidates for the presidency, of whom a score already are in sight, will begin late Friday or early Saturday accompanied by the traditional hand-clapping, singing and noisy demonstrations as each candidate's name is put forward.

Thus the convention will adhere to a prescribed formula for only five days. If nominations are not made immediately, there will be continuous day and night sessions, except on Sundays and continuous balloting until a nominee for president and a running-mate for the vice-presidency shall emerge from the process.

The 1920 convention at San Francisco lasted nine days. Some local party counsellors predict the impending convalescence, confronted by so many candidates to choose from, will be kept busy for 11 days. Should their prognostications prove correct, the Democratic candidates would be named on the fourth of July.

NEAR ADDRESSES ON VARIED SUBJECTS

Women's Institute Session at Fredericton—Premier Unable to Attend.
Much of the afternoon session yesterday of the New Brunswick Women's Institute at Fredericton was taken up by five minute talks by representatives of branch institutes. A motor drive was enjoyed after the session and supper was served in the schoolroom of Methodist church. Mrs. T. H. Manser of Aroostook Junction read a paper on "Labor Savers"; Mrs. Charles Douglas, Buctouche, took "Flouriculture"; Mrs. Henry Nichol of St. Therese took "Our Responsibility as Branch Institutes." Others who treated on different subjects were: Mrs. Frank Wentworth, Fair Haven; Mrs. Harley Dunham, Havelock and Miss Alice McPhail of Woodstock. Miss Muriel Britt was heard in readings. HOUSE DAMAGED IN ST. DAVID ST.
Two families were turned out of their homes this morning about 2 o'clock by a fire in the house at 65 St. David street, owned by Louis Cohen and occupied by Morris Cohen on the ground floor and A. Hanson on the upper floor. The fire, the cause of which is unknown, is thought to have started in a partition at the head of the stairway. It was discovered by Mrs. Williams, who lives next door, and the alarm was rung in by her 13-year-old daughter from box 19. A few minutes later another alarm was rung in from box 64, and this brought out quite a crowd.
The families in the burning house escaped in their night clothes, but later most of the personal and household effects of Mr. Cohen were removed from the building. The fire was confined to the upper floor, but considerable damage was done to the lower floor by water. The damage amounted to about $500.
BIG FIRE ANNIVERSARY.
Today is the 47th anniversary of the worst disaster through which the city of St. John has yet been called upon to pass, the great fire of 1877. Practically the entire business part of the city was wiped out, damage to the extent of $27,000,000 was done, and a had been destroyed and 615 business houses leveled to the ground. Ingenious bridges have been constructed by American Indians, with out the use of nails or other metal.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

A TRIP TO ENGLAND.

And the Twins beheld a lovely little fairy. The next night when Johnny Jump Up, the garden fairy, awakened the Twins and the three of them had climbed down the rose vine into the magic garden, the little fairy skipped over to a patch of yellow flowers and stopped. "Do you know what these are?" he asked.

Guard Your Mouth

Let WRIGLEY'S be the guardian of your mouth and throat.

It will combat trouble of various kinds. It helps to keep the teeth free from food particles that ferment and cause decay.

It has an antiseptic effect. It relieves acid mouth and thus not only prevents harm to the teeth, but serves to sweeten the stomach.

It stimulates digestion and helps to prevent the forming of gas that causes dyspepsia.

Read from a widely known medical work:

"Chewing gum aids tooth nutrition and the cleansing action is a definite benefit—it prevents dyspepsia. Good chewing gum is excellent for bad digestion.

Four brands—different flavors—all made from best ingredients obtainable. Sealed in its purily package—fresh, clean and full flavored.

GILLETTE'S 100% PURE FLAKE LYE

And the Twins beheld a lovely little fairy standing in the primrose patch. "The Fairy Queen said you had telephoned for three tickets to England," said the fairy. "I got them and flew here as fast as I could come. But you are talking and talking as though you never would get through."

"Now you're both talking," said still another voice. "This is the talkiest place I ever saw. Now that you have your tickets and everything is settled, why can't we start?"

"We're ever so much obliged for the tickets," said Nancy to the primrose fairy. "And I'm sure Johnny didn't mean to be cross."

"Of course I didn't," laughed Johnny merrily. "I was only fooling. Please excuse me, do come on," begged the titmouse.

"Oh, do come on," begged the titmouse. "It's a long way to England and back and the moon looks wet. I'm quite sure it will rain."

"So away they went on the titmouse's back. As they flew toward the east they met the sun.

"Hello," he called down. "Have a good time."

"And bye and bye they came to England. "Down there is London Town," said Johnny Jump Up, pointing to a city so big the Twins could not see the end of it.

"That's famous for lots of things. London Bridge that's always falling down, and the place Dick Whittington came to before he got his cat and became lord mayor, and the place the little boy came to get himself a wife because the rats and the mice did lead him such a life, and the Place Pass in Boots came to, and everything.

"And it's the place the king lives," added Johnny Jump Up. "And the queen, too, and the Prince of Wales, and a lot of other important people."

"But where are the primroses?" asked Nancy. "I don't see one."

"Of course not," said Johnny Jump Up. "They're out in the country. Fly on, titmouse."

Johnny Jump Up was right. The world was yellow with primroses out in the country. And a lovely sight they were.

"Is that all there is in England—London Town and primroses?" asked Nancy.

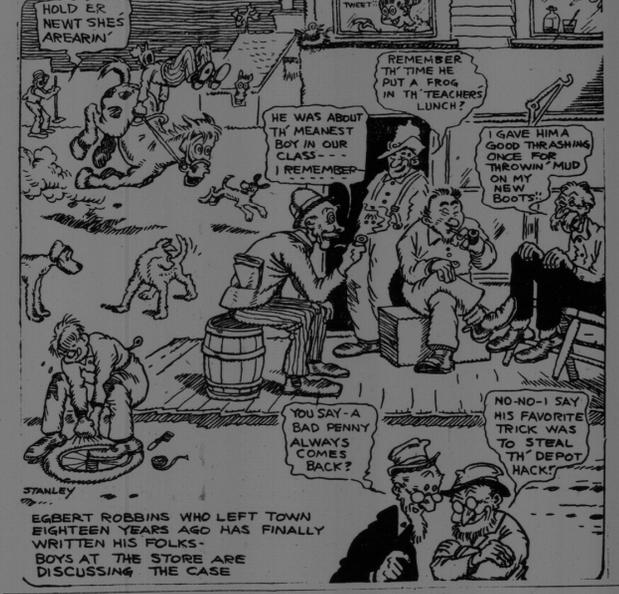

"Goodness, no!" said Johnny Jump Up. "But if we stayed to see one hundredth part of it all we wouldn't get home until the week's after next Home, titmouse, if you please."

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL COMMITTEE NAMED

A vocational committee of seven for the city of St. John was appointed at a special meeting of the Board of School Trustees yesterday afternoon. The Trades and Labor Council having asked the appointment of George P. Hennessey as the representative of employees, this appointment was agreed to. Alexander Wilson was appointed to represent employers. Others named were Mrs. E. R. Taylor, representing home making, and Hon. H. A. McKeown, Thomas Nagle, G. H. Green and A. A. McIntyre representing the School Board.

Mr. Justice McKeown, chairman of the School Board, presided. Others present were: Trustees, Mrs. E. R. Taylor, G. H. Green, A. A. McIntyre, Mrs. D. P. Chisholm, E. R. W. Ingraham, H. A. Porter and S. W. Palmer. S. A. Worrell, acting city superintendent of education, and A. Gordon Leavitt, secretary.

Judge McKeown, in reply to Mr. Palmer, said although the approval of the Provincial Vocational Board and Board of Education had been secured, and the people had voted their sentiments in a plebiscite, the formal consent of the City Council and Provincial Government had not been given and the vocational committee's first task would be to approach these two bodies. The plebiscite figures were 2,812 in favor and 2,292 against. There was to be a Government grant given for all work on the building completed before July 1, 1925, but the Government grant for teachers' salaries was not limited as to time. The Board of School Trustees must approve the vocational education budget, but all administration would be in the hands of the vocational committee.

JUNIOR PUPILS GIVE RECITAL

The junior piano pupils of Miss Muriel McIntyre gave a successful recital yesterday afternoon in the Orange hall, Germain street. The technique of all was excellent and the expression remarkable in many of the young players, all of whom were under 13 years of age. The beginners, who made up the first of the three groups had never played in public before and most of them were not more than seven or eight years of age. They played with confidence, because they knew their work.

The attention of the audience, which filled the room, was not one of mere courtesy but of real interest in a good performance. Those taking part numbered thirty and were as follows: Beginners—Edith Armstrong, Kenneth Vallis, Gladys Wilson, William Hunt, Doris Fosbrook, Edmund Fosbrook, Lorraine Rawsey, Ruth Mullin, James Dalzell, Mary Hutt, Hazel Vallis and Audrey Folkins.

Class II—Jennette Powers, Charlotte Fisher, Georgina Earle, Jean Harrison, Beryl Dean, Rupert Haley, Marjorie McPhail, Mary Hart and Jean Linton.

Class III—Grace Fairweather, Marion McLean, Purdy Gregg, Phyllis Olmstead, Kenneth Fisher, Angelina Gregory and Jean Stanton.

DONALD KIRKE GIVES TANLAC FULL CREDIT

Popular Actor Says Medicine Completely Overcame Stomach Trouble and Nervousness.

That Montreal play-goers are literally packing their Orpheum Theatre at every performance is at once a tribute to the high standard of the entertainment offered and to the finished artistry of the famous Duffy stock players, not the least popular of whom is Donald Kirke.

Mr. Kirke is not only a favorite on the legitimate stage but is a screen player of note. He is further tribute to his consummate acting that, even while tortured with stomach trouble, nervousness and other ills, he kept "on with the play" day in and day out until he found relief by taking TANLAC. As he says: "My stomach had almost failed me and I wonder now how I ever kept up a bit. Nights I would toss and turn for hours in nervous, piercing sick headaches made me suffer agony, and at times on the stage I was so nervous, weak and trembly that I could hardly remember my lines. I would have given a thousand dollars to get the relief TANLAC has given me for less than five dollars. My appetite was never better, I eat everything and have gained 12 pounds. I'm never a bit weak or nervous, and free from the headache, and I feel fine and dandy."

"IT'S CRUMBLING AWAY" IS TODAY'S STRIKE SUMMARY. (Continued from page 1) execution of the Canadian Federation of Postal Employees, Government officials are of the opinion that within a few days a partial postal service, at least, will be in operation.

Latest reports from towns and cities throughout Canada indicate that the strike order was not obeyed by workers in British Columbia and the Prairie and Maritime Provinces, and only partially in the province of Quebec.

In the majority of cities and towns in Ontario the strike has demoralized business, and the decision last night by workers in British Columbia and the Prairie and Maritime Provinces, and only partially in the province of Quebec.

Members of the Federation executive discussed this morning the refusal of government officials to entertain proposal that the striking employees be granted a conciliation board under the Industrial Disputes Act. It is pointed out that there is no precedent for granting such a board, and moreover it would mean the institution of a court of appeal from the Civil Service Commission and even from the Government.

PROHIBITION ACT OF N. B. DEFENDANT

Rev. Thomas Marshall Addresses Baptist Meeting—Acadia Aid Discussed.

Fredericton, June 19.—The Thursday afternoon session of the New Brunswick Western Baptist Association devoted considerable attention to Acadia University, the denominational institution. In the absence of Rev. E. B. McAtchey, the retiring moderator, Rev. J. F. Bolter presented a report. He gave statistics of enrollment for the past year. The academy had 109 students and had graduated 83, 32 in collegiate course and 21 in commercial course. The Ladies' Seminary had 363 students and had graduated 26. The university had 820 students and had graduated 82. Dr. F. W. Patterson, president of Acadia, also spoke. He referred to members recently added to the faculty. Professor Wetmore, in Biology; Professor T. Jeffrey, in Mathematics; and Professor Rogers, in Romance languages. Professor Jeffrey was an Acadia graduate and former member of the academy staff. Professor Rogers had been instructor in Spanish at the University of Cincinnati. Despite business depression the response to the appeal for financial assistance had been generous. An objective of $1,500,000 was before the university. Of that $800,000 was for buildings and the balance for new courses. So far $450,000 had been raised. In one case a contribution of $5,000 had been expected from one man and he had given $125,000 instead. Of that $75,000 was for the Biological Department and $50,000 for the new chair in Biology. The application of Claude T. O'Connell, B. A., of Fredericton, for license was considered and accorded with conditions. Rev. Thomas Marshall, general secretary of the New Brunswick Temperance Federation, addressed the association at tonight's session, defending the existing Prohibition Act and warning his hearers against Government control of liquor sale claiming that the situation in British Columbia showed the defects of such.

The Carleton Cornet Band accompanied the excursionists and provided music for the trip and for dancing while on shore. The return trip to the city was made in the new motorship D. J. BAXTER OBJECTS TO INTERFERENCE

Saint John M. P. Refers to "Impertinent Member" in Commons.

Ottawa, June 19.—There was a brief personal incident in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon that a moment or two promised dramatic developments. It was during discussion in committee of a bill to extend the jurisdiction of the Exchequer Court. Hon. J. B. M. Baxter (Conservative, St. John) was discussing a technical point when A. W. Nell (Progressive, Comox-Alberni) was talking down the Liberal benches from the back and took his seat beside Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, who was piloting the bill. Mr. Nell began to converse with Mr. Lapointe, and Mr. Baxter ceased his argument. "I shall wait," he said, "till the impertinent member stops interfering. He has no right to act in that way. It is discourteous, and only an honorable member of the House should do so." At this point the chairman called order, and T. W. Caldwell (Progressive, Victoria and Carleton) asked for a withdrawal. The chairman, however, contented himself with calling the committee to order. A few moments later Mr. Baxter, in resuming his argument, said: "I don't propose to have the whole Progressive party conversing with me as I speak." The bill which was before the committee led to much technical argument, and in the end, after being read a second time, it was allowed to remain in committee for another day.

Another Good Bill Monday

"I FELT 'fagged' in the morning when I went to the office. At luncheon I ate my food with a growing resentment at the necessity of eating. At dinner I merely nibbled at morsels of food. I was nervous and irritable. Then I began eating yeast—Fleischmann's—and noticed my appetite returning. My face lost its sallowness, and the pimples on my skin disappeared; my grouch went the way of the crupions." (Extract from a letter of Mr. A. F. Lookhart of St. Louis, Mo.)

(Mr. Thomas Leyden of Elizabeth, N. J.)

"We restaurant eaters must force greasy, quickly fried food into our stomach in a hurry. No wonder it gets sluggish and refuses to perform its duties. And our next move is 'take one of these pills each night!' Even the best stomach cannot stand such treatment. It must soon stop functioning and instead of taking nourishment and health out of our food, it becomes semi-active and just passes it on." (On the advice of a friend I ate my first yeast cake. Now I feel like the man who puts coal on a fire. He gets heat units, while today I'm enjoying health and vigor units, and am glad to be out of the 'glass of water and pill' class." (Mr. Thomas Leyden of Elizabeth, N. J.)

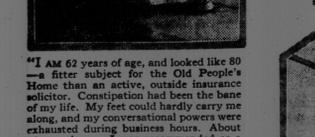

(Mr. Thomas Leyden of Elizabeth, N. J.)

Read these tributes to its amazing power: Then—make this familiar food work for you

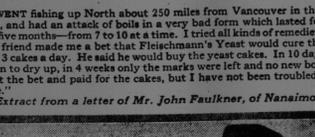

These remarkable reports are typical of thousands of similar tributes to Fleischmann's Yeast. There is nothing mysterious about its action. It is not a "cure-all," not a medicine in any sense. But when the body is choked with the poisons of constipation—or when its vitality is low so that skin, stomach, and general health are affected—this simple, natural food achieves literally amazing results. Concentrated in every crumb of Fleischmann's Yeast are millions of tiny yeast plants, alive and active. At once they go to work—invigorating the whole system, clearing the skin, aiding digestion, strengthening the intestinal muscles and making them healthy and active. Health is yours once more.

"I WENT fishing up North about 250 miles from Vancouver in the Spring of 1920, and had an attack of boils in a very bad form which lasted for one year and five months—from 7 to 10 at a time. I tried all kinds of remedies. A fisherman friend made me a bet that Fleischmann's Yeast would cure the boils if I took 3 cakes a day. He said he would buy the yeast cakes. In 10 days my boils began to dry up, in 4 weeks only the marks were left and no new boils coming. I lost the bet and paid for the cakes, but I have not been troubled with boils since." (Extract from a letter of Mr. John Faulkner, of Nanaimo, B. C.)

"I AM 62 years of age, and looked like 80—a fitter subject for the Old People's Home than an active, outside insurance solicitor. Constipation had been the bane of my life. My feet could hardly carry me along, and my conversational powers were exhausted during business hours. About 12 months ago I was recommended as a last resort to try Fleischmann's Yeast. I can hardly believe it, neither can my associates—that I am the same man of a year ago. 'You look and act like a man of forty,' say my friends today." (A letter from Mr. Russell Carolan of St. Louis, Mo.)

"A PHYSICAL wreck—I was irritable, nervous, debilitated. I tried the rest cure, the milk diet, and nearly every curative treatment known to science, but to no avail. I was simply depleted of nervous energy. When I heard of Fleischmann's Yeast I was skeptical of the wonderful results attributed to it. In a week's time, after using the yeast, my digestion began to come better, my complexion brighter, and I slowly regained lost vitality. Is it any wonder that I am a convert to the curative qualities of Fleischmann's Yeast?" (Extract from a letter of Mr. Clair C. Cook of Los Angeles, California)

Dissolve one cake in a glass of water (just hot enough to drink) —before breakfast and at bedtime. Fleischmann's Yeast, when taken this way, is especially effective in overcoming or preventing constipation. Or eat 2 or 3 cakes a day—spread on bread or crackers—dissolved in fruit juices or milk—or eat it plain. Fleischmann's Yeast comes only in the tinfoil package—it cannot be purchased in tablet form. All grocers have it. Start eating it today! A few days' supply will keep fresh in your ice box as well as in the grocery. Write for further information or let us send you a free copy of our latest booklet on Yeast for Health. POISONER AT WORK AND CHILDREN ARE PLACED IN DANGER

Citizen Finds Rough-on-Rats Sandwich, Evidently Designed for Dogs.

The dog poisoner is at work in this city again and is endangering the lives of children playing in the streets or the open places. Francis Kerr of 185 Millidge avenue said this morning that he had found in a lot near his home last evening a sandwich made of buttered bread and filled with rough on rats—a deadly poison.

Mr. Kerr is a lover of dogs and he owns several good ones. Last evening, he said, one of them picked up this sandwich but the owner noticed it in time and took it away from the animal. Within a short time, Mr. Kerr said, he had lost three dogs, presumably poisoned. The glaring case under notice caused him to decide to offer a reward in hope that the guilty one will be found out and dealt with.

There was grave danger that a child, rather than the dog, might have picked up this sandwich and eaten it or at least bitten into it. Many children live in that neighborhood and play about there. The matter is being placed in the hands of the police.

A few weeks ago a poisoner was busy in that part of Duke street lying near Courtenay Bay and several animals were victims. Mothers will no doubt see in last night's incident text for a warning to their little ones against picking up and putting in their mouths anything they may find.

LOCAL MOTORISTS ARE HOME AFTER 2,300 MILE TOUR

T. P. Regan Went the Montreal New York Way—N. B. Roads Fine.

After having traveled 2,300 miles since June 1 in an automobile tour through Quebec, the New England States and New Brunswick, T. P. Regan returned home yesterday afternoon with his son, Gerald, who made the trip with him. Mr. Regan, who is president of the New Brunswick Automobile Association, said that never during the last ten years have the roads of New Brunswick been in such good condition as they are at the present time. While away he met several St. John and New Brunswick people, and altogether had a most delightful holiday.

Leaving here on June 1, at 8 a. m., Mr. Regan made St. Leonard's the first evening. The fact that the distance covered was 230 miles is evidence as to the excellent condition of the roads up the St. John river. A drive of 220 miles next day brought him to Quebec, where he spent the day in sightseeing, proceeding next day to Montreal. The next three days were spent, and the next stop was Albany, N. Y. Proceeding down the western side of the Hudson, Mr. Regan traveled over the new highway now under construction and which is in the best condition of this road for the present season. Mr. Regan was informed by a service station man on the way that no fewer than five motor cyclists had been killed on that highway this season.

After a side trip to Bar Harbor they proceeded to Calais, where they crossed a ferry crossing is being replaced by a large highway bridge. After a day and a half in Calais, they motored to St. John, arriving yesterday afternoon. The road from St. Stephen to St. John was never better, Mr. Regan said, and with the exception of a small pothole being rebuilt near Lepreux is practically perfect all the way.

A Speed Warning.

From Boston the party proceeded via Portland to Bangor, traveling over the New Brunswick turnpike, which is another fine piece of road. A strong precaution against the action of speed demons is contained in the regulations for the present season. Mr. Regan was informed by a service station man on the way that no fewer than five motor cyclists had been killed on that highway this season.

Stevenson was called in and found that no serious injury had been sustained but the boy was suffering from shock.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "if you were disposed to go out on strike, what preliminary soundings would you take?"

"In the first place," said Hiram, "I'd count noses—yes, sir."

"Why noses?" queried the reporter.

"I'd want to know," said Hiram, "just how many fellers was layin' round in my place."

"And what else?" queried the reporter.

"I'd do some nosin' around myself," said Hiram, "to find another job I could hop into if I got licked."

"You are a cautious old bird," said the reporter.

"The older I get," said Hiram, "the customer I be. What might suit a young feller—that was free to go to the rim of the world if he felt that way—don't go with an old sojer like me. The lightest load a man ever kin carry on his shoulders is a head that goes atiddy an' knows the right road. If anybody told me I wouldn't be able to strike I might be fool enough to do it—just to show I was my own boss—but I'd expect to pay for it—that."

Pride in Appearance

Justified by Results in Practical Life

The successful man, in business or out of it, never forgets for a moment that his personal appearance is what he has to "sell," said a famous organizer and executive recently in a published interview.

"I don't mean," he continued, "that he attaches importance to his clothes to the point of vanity, but if a man's apparel is correct and in good taste, it generates a healthy morale that keeps his courage to the forefront."
