GT. BRITAIN REPLIES TO UNCLE SAM

Sympathy Expressed with the Chinese Policy of United States.

WILL ENDEAVOR TO AID THE REPUBLIC

But Britain May Not Be Able to Do All President Suggests.

London, June 15.—Great Britain today despatched to the United States a reply to a note addressed to the allied powers inviting them to associate themselves with the United States on the principles of the recent American note to China, which expressed regret at China's internal political difficulties and a hope that internal peace soon would be restored.

The British answer, which is of considerable length and carefully framed, expresses sympathy with the principles enunciated by the United States and a wish to do everything possible to conform with President Wilson's wish. But it adds that Great Britain naturally must view the situation from a slightly different standpoint than the United States, and that she may not be able to do all that the president suggests.

CANADA TO REACH OUT FOR TRADE

Offices to be Opened in Several Places Abroad to Prepare for Post-Bellum Rush.

Ottawa, June 15.—An evidence of the manner in which Canada is preparing to reach out for trade after the war was furnished in the House of Commons. The estimates of the trade and commerce department were under consideration and after the members had finished the discussion of subsidies to innumerable small steamship lines in Nova Scotia and P. E. Island, Sir George Foster told the House of the plans being made for after the war trade expansion. As an instance of what would be done he cited that it was the intention of the department to open up offices in Petrograd and Omsk in Russia, and at a point in Italy.

He felt there should be no delay in regard to these offices, as it was important that the men filling them should get on the ground as speedily as possible, and be in a position to do effective work as soon as the war ends.

The minister said he expected that there would be a wonderful development of trade with Russia and Italy after the conclusion of peace, and he wanted to see Canada in a position to take full advantage of it.

The votes for the offices referred to passed the House.

GERMANS SUFFER HEAVY LOSSES IN DEFEAT BY BRITISH AT BULLECOURT

Further Positions on the Famous Hindenburg Line Captured Despite Resistance by the German Army.

THE TEUTONS ADMIT THEIR LINES WERE FORCED TO FALL BACK

French Occupy Demirli and Kardista, Towns in Thessaly—Little Except Artillery Activity Elsewhere.

Field Marshal Haig has another bite into the Hindenburg line and has captured a portion of the famous German position northwest of Bullecourt.

The British advance in this region is the first determined effort made since the end of the sanguinary fighting which resulted in the capture of the town of Bullecourt by the British and is in the direction of Hendecourt - Lez - Cagnicourt. The Germans resisted the British stubbornly, but finally yielded after suffering heavy casualties, according to the London war office.

In Flanders, the British have extended their gains astride the Wpres-Comines Canal in the direction of Comines and in the region of Messines, toward Warneton, on the Franco-Belgian border. One hundred and fifty prisoners and a number of machine guns were taken.

On Seven-mile Front.

Since June 7th the British have succeeded in reoccupying the German first line trenches from the River Lys to the River Warnave, and have advanced their line on a seven-mile front from 500 to 1,000 yards. Berlin officially admits a withdrawal of the German front line between Ypres and Amiens east of Messines as announced by Field Marshal Haig on Thursday.

Elsewhere on the front in France, as well as in the Trentino region of the Austro-Italian front, and in Macedonia there has been little except artillery activity of varying intensity.

Running Fight.

In a running fight with a German tank steamer Morel, has been sunk, probably in the Mediterranean. For two hours the submarine chased the

DOMINION-WIDE DAYLIGHT SAVING BILL GETS READING

Measure Will Go Into Effect by Proclamation—Timely Scene in House of Commons—Appeal from Chair Voted Down.

Ottawa, June 15.—(By leased wire) First reading was given to Sir Robert Borden's bill to provide for the time in Canada being advanced one hour during the summer months. He said the measure would go into force by proclamation of the government council and that it was intended to become operative this year, and would end with September. He also introduced the bill relating to the honorary advisory council for industrial and scientific research.

Hon. Charles Murphy, referring to a statement that the number of Canadian casualties were about 100,000 asked how many of these had returned to active service, and Sir Robert replied that he would get the number. Mr. Murphy declared that this information was necessary before the discussion of the conscription bill. He also wanted the number of men struck off the active service list through illness or unfitness.

Compulsion Bill.

Sir Robert Borden intimated that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had suggested to him that the second reading of the compulsory service bill might stand until Tuesday, but he could not agree to this, and the second reading would be moved on Monday.

Hon. C. J. Doherty questioned by Sir Wilfrid Laurier regarding the McLeod-Tellier commission which was appointed to examine the evidence taken by the Galt commission of Winnipeg, and the judgment of that commission regarding Hon. Robert Rogers' connection with the Manitoba Agricultural College contracts, said the commissioners were sitting in Montreal, but were merely going over the evidence. He would assume that should the commissioners consider it advisable that any one should be represented by counsel, he would think it very proper to have the sittings in public.

The house went into supply on the Speaker's estimates. These showed a reduction in salaries of $4,000 and Hon. Frank Oliver suggested that this reduction should be a recommendation for the appointment of Mr. Rhodes as a permanent speaker.

Lively Scene.

The estimates of Hon. Albert Seigny, minister of inland revenue, were then taken up.

A lively scene was precipitated by Mr. Ernest Lapointe of Kamouraska, who questioned Mr. Roul-Besaud, a Quebec newspaper man, whom Mr. Lapointe claimed had attacked recruiting had been appointed to a position as auditor in the department of inland revenue at Quebec.

Mr. Seigny replied that Mr. Besaud believed was a supporter of the Allies, but had written some articles attacking recruiting for the regiment of Sir William Price. He thought these articles were not in the public interest and that it was better for his paper to be shut down. For this reason, he had recommended him for the position of accountant.

"Then instead of putting him in jail, you gave him a job?" asked Mr. E. M. MacDonald.

Hon. Frank Oliver said it certainly was a remarkable fact that a newspaper at Sault Ste Marie had been suppressed because of its utterances and a paper in Quebec which made similar utterances, was suppressed by the appointment of the editor to a government position.

Mr. Seigny protested that it was not a fair way of putting the matter, as Mr. Besaud was well disposed to do everything possible to help the Allies. He was at one time with Sir William Price and when he raised a regiment, either he or some one else wrote in his paper articles, which were not inclined to help recruiting. Mr. Seigny added that the appointment was not finally made.

Demand Regular Order.

Mr. Richard Blain, who was chairman, this point aimed that the whole discussion was out of order.

Mr. A. K. MacLean said they were discussing the policy of the minister in regard to the appointment of men to the public service who wrote seditious articles. The committee had a right to discuss whether it was right to make such men servants of the King.

Mr. Seigny retorted against the use of the word seditious and said that Mr. Besaud wrote no seditious articles to his knowledge.

Mr. MacLean said he would withdraw the word seditious but the minister himself admitted that he had been engaged in writing objectionable articles.

HIDDEN TREASURES! LADIES, GET THEM

At Manchester Robertson Allison, Ltd., rear of the King street store, first floor, a clerk holds a sealed note, addressed: "Miss Stella Whirly."

At F. W. Daniel & Co's, Charlotte street, on the third floor a clerk holds a sealed note addressed: "Miss Annie Sleid."

Both clerks received these notes from Fox, but "Didn't Know." They agreed to deliver them to the woman or girl who asks for these notes.

Now, Matrons and Maids! Who will get the notes? You have clues. By asking the clerks, some one of you will be shrewd enough to find the notes.

HON. J. A. MURRAY MAKES FORCEFUL AND CONVINCING ADDRESS ON THE BUDGET

Opposition Leader Moves Business-Like Amendment That Means of Increasing Revenue be Provided Before Supply Proceeded With BUT CARTER-FOSTER PARTY TURNED IT DOWN ON A PARTY VOTE

New Administration to Issue Bonds for $200,000 to Pay for Their Reckless Over-Expenditures on Current Account—A Return to Old Methods of Mismanagement.

(SPECIAL TO THE STANDARD.)

Fredericton, June 15.—In closing one of the most forceful and eloquent addresses ever heard within the walls of the Legislative Assembly, Hon. James A. Murray, leader of the Opposition, moved the following practical common sense, business-like amendment to the motion that the Speaker do now leave the chair and the House resolve itself into a committee to consider the supply to be granted to His Majesty:

"Resolved that all the words after the word 'No' in the resolution moved by the Hon. Mr. Robinson and seconded by the Hon. Mr. Foster be struck out and the following substituted therefore: 'Not now leave the chair until the government shall have submitted to this house proposals for increasing the current revenue of the province for the present fiscal year to an amount sufficient to meet the estimated current expenditure, together with such estimates of the sums to be derived from such proposed sources as shall reasonably assure the house of the ability of the government to provide such revenue.'"

Hon. Mr. Robinson Repudiates Government Press.

Hon. Mr. Murray in his great speech today shattered the charges of the government and their press that the late administration had mismanaged the affairs of New Brunswick, taking up their account with respect to every branch of the public service and pointing to the magnificent results that had been accomplished. He contrasted the splendid state of affairs existing when the late government left office with the revelations made following the election of the Hazen administration in 1908, showing that there were no over-drafts, over-expenditures and suspense accounts under the late government as had existed when they assumed office, due to the way their predecessors had mismanaged the affairs of the province, and pointing out the present high credit of the province as a result of the prudent and economical management that had characterized the conduct of affairs under the administration which he had the honor to lead. The leader of the opposition also made some interesting observations with respect to the public debt, pointing out in an unanswerable manner that every dollar of the increase in the debt was justified and was represented by splendid tangible assets in the shape of permanent bridges and works of permanent character. The complaint that statements of the Valley Railway indebtedness had not appeared in the auditor-general's report was effectively answered by Hon. Mr. Murray, who showed that there were several entries of this obligation. Ifan, Mr. Robinson himself admitted that the indebtedness did appear in the report and said he was reported incorrectly. "I certainly did not intend to make such a statement," said the member for Moncton city, "it was inaccurately reported in the press. If I did make such a statement I certainly did not know what I was saying," was Hon. Mr. Robinson's own reply to the misrepresentations of the government press—a complete rebuke from as fair a man as ever occupied a seat in the legislature of New Brunswick.

New Brunswick Must Take Responsibility.

In his address today Hon. Mr. Murray also answered the charge that the late administration had depleted the revenues during the portion of the current year that they were in power, and in no uncertain terms placed the responsibility for the large deficit on the new government, where it properly belongs.

Hon. Mr. Murray also told of the activities of the Farm Settlement Board, referring to the huge success of the work of the board in keeping hundreds of the young men of New Brunswick on comfortable farms in the province as well as inducing such a large number from outside points to come to New Brunswick, take up farms here and become, as they have become, worthy citizens of New Brunswick. He answered in a complete fashion the charges of misappropriation of provincial moneys levelled at the Farm Settlement Board, declaring that he defied any living man to lay a charge that one single dollar which had been paid by the department to the board had not gone into its proper channels during the period from April, 1914, when the affairs came under the management of the department. Hon. Mr. Murphy assumed the responsibility for the management of the affairs of the board prior to that date, stating that while he had found an imperfect system of bookkeeping, that it was due to clerical errors which, while regrettable, had not caused the loss of one dollar of the provincial funds. These conditions, Hon. Mr. Murray promptly remedied when the administration of

LIBERALS LOOK FOR TROUBLE

Hon. Mr. Seigny Attacked for Appointment of Editor to Office.

PROMINENT LIBERAL DEFENDS THE MINISTER

Brit Press Fomenting Strife, Declares Hon. Mr. Seigny.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, June 15.—Since it was announced that Hon. P. E. Blondin and Hon. Albert Seigny intended to support the conscription policy of the government these ministers have been subjected to a terrorist campaign from outside the House. Even their lives have been threatened and destruction of their property foreshadowed, if they persist in their purpose of voting for compulsory military service. The campaign outside was supplemented by one inside the House today. When the estimates of the department of inland revenue were which Mr. Seigny presides came under discussion a vicious attack was made upon him by the anti-conscription members of the opposition.

THE COLLAPSED WAREHOUSE.

C. P. R. employees were at work yesterday clearing away goods in the part of No. 6 warehouse that was left standing, and work has also been commenced in clearing away the debris.

Broken Pledges of New Administration.

The Government's action in burning down the practical amendment of Hon. Mr. Murray will perhaps surprise the people of New Brunswick who will recall the pledges of the new administration made while in opposition. Naturally the question will be asked as to why the Government should not take the steps as called for in Hon. Mr. Murray's amendment to increase the revenues. Certain it is that they have been assured of the Opposition in the matter, and equally certain it is that the Government had failed to surround the impending crisis in the affairs of New Brunswick and work out a business-like solution.

The One "Business Man's Opportunity"

There was considerable surprise too in the House today over the fact that Hon. Mr. Foster did not close the budget debate. Surely this was the opportunity of the "one business man" of the government to express his views on the greatest matter of business that has arisen during the entire session. But though the debate has proceeded more than a week, Hon. Mr. Foster has taken no part, a course on the part of a government leader unprecedented in legislative affairs at Fredericton and one that will hardly commend itself to those who supported his administration because of the claim that it was the "one business man's" government which was to run the affairs of New Brunswick on economical and business-like lines.

HON. J. A. MURRAY MAKES FORCEFUL AND CONVINCING ADDRESS ON THE BUDGET

(From Official Reports.)
Special to The Standard,
Fredericton, June 15.—The House met at 2.30.
Mr. Hetherington gave notice of inquiry as to the amount advanced on account of expenses to Hon. J. A. Murray in November, 1911.
Mr. Messersau inquired as to advances made to J. B. Dagget, late secretary of agriculture.
Hon. Mr. Murray (Kings) inquired as to the names of the directors and secretary of the St. John and Quebec railway to travelling expenses that had been paid, and how much to each.
Hon. Mr. Tweeddale introduced a bill to enable the cities, towns and municipalities of the province to borrow money for the purpose of purchasing food and other necessaries for the purpose of assisting the inhabitants of such city, town or municipality in supplying themselves with such articles during the continuance of the war.
Hon. Mr. Foster introduced a bill respecting the St. John and Quebec Railway Company, which he explained was intended to extend the time of the completion of the road, to authorize the reduction of the directors to three to enable a further sum of $1,000,000 to be borrowed if need be for the completion of the work and to enable the cancellation, if need be, of any contract for the construction of the road or any part of it.
Hon. Mr. Smith (minister of lands and mines) introduced a bill to permit of settlers on lands belonging to the New Brunswick Railway Company having a further period of two years in which to pay their purchase money.
Hon. Mr. Byrne introduced a bill relating to executions upon judgments issued out of inferior courts. This bill would permit an execution issued by a justice of the peace in one county to be levied upon goods and chattels of a debtor resident in another county, but will not permit the taking of the body.

Budget Debate Renewed.
On the order of the day being called Hon. Mr. Murray (Kings) rose to resume the debate on the budget. He said that he realized that the debate had already been very prolonged, and in view of the desire of all parties to get on with the work he would not take up very much time. His task in criticizing the speech of his hon. friend from Moncton had been rendered very much easier as the result of the splendid exposition by his hon. friend and colleague from St. John. Before proceeding with his remarks he wished to say how much he appreciated the excellent addresses of the new members of the House, and he desired to congratulate them all upon the beginning they had made. Particularly did he desire to congratulate the Acadian members because he realized very well the difficulty under which they labored in having to speak in a language not their own, particularly during their first session, and he had little fear but that by the time the next session came round members would be fully equal in all respects to those heard in the House in years gone by from men who had left their mark on the history of the province.

Referring particularly to the speech of his hon. friend from the city of Moncton, which had been described as being very fair in all respects, it was not necessary for him (Murray) to emphasize that statement, because his hon. friend was always fair and courteous at all times, but he (Murray) could not help saying that his hon. friend could not avoid the appearance of apologizing for his personal ignorance of the matter which caused him to say that he was merely repeating what had been told him. Under such circumstances scarcely surprising that some of the statements he made were at variance with the facts as his hon. friend, the ex-attorney-general had shown. He himself would try to add a little towards proving this statement also.

Policyless Government.
Honorable gentlemen opposite appealed to the people on a platform which was gradually disappearing, and the only policy which they appeared to have in view at the present time was one which sought to discredit the former administration in every way. Ever since they came into office they have not ceased to do all in their power to carry out the policy which he presumed that he and his friends must make up their minds to expect that sort of thing to continue. The hon. member from Moncton in his budget speech said that the accounts as appearing in the auditor-general's report up to the 31st October last were prepared by the late government. Such was not the case. The auditor-general is in no sense an official of the government, but of the legislature. He is entirely independent of the government, and as such he is able to prepare a statement of accounts which shows conditions as they actually exist. The best proof possible that such an assertion was correct was to be found in the fact that his hon. friend himself used that statement in introducing the budget.

In the year 1908, when the late government came into power, the auditor-general was an official of the government and not independent, and as the result of that when they came into power they found conditions that were impossible at the present time.
The Grafting Days.
No check whatever was kept on accounts paid by the province, many of which the receiver-general knew nothing about. Each department issued its separate cheques under the hand of the deputy minister with the result that over drafts and suspense accounts were to be found everywhere. The crown land department was in a state of chaos, the territorial revenue was uncontrolled and drafts and notes were to be found in abundance, many of them used for the accommodation of members of the government and officials. Money was paid to road supervisors before the work was ever begun and the department of agriculture was a department in name only. Through the bungling and general mismanagement of the outgoing government the credit of the province had gone. That is what the late government found when they came into office, and he sincerely hoped a similar condition of affairs would never be found again. It was left to the late government to rehabilitate affairs and put them on a sound basis, and after nine months of the most vituperative and heated attacks upon a sound and substantial basis, its credit restored, and he believed never to be found again. It was left to the late government to stand behind the record the late government had left. He did not mean to say that the late government had made no mistakes, but that there had been for one moment that there had been a greater number of intelligent people in the province approved of when the time came to test public sentiment.

No Landslide in 1912.
He desired to point out that there was no such great uprising of the people after all. The more important counties in the province, such as Charlotte, Carleton, York, Kings, St. John city and county, and Albert county, which stand high in comparison with other parts of the province endorsed in the most emphatic manner the record of the late government. He did not make these remarks, he did not desire to disparage in any way counties which had returned members politically opposed to himself and his friends, but merely to point out the fact that no such stampede as government supporters referred to had ever taken place, but on the contrary that wherever the late government had been given careful consideration supporters of that government were returned.

Hon. Mr. Robinson.
Hon. Mr. Robinson said he had listened with considerable interest to the hon. leader of the opposition's eloquent speech and his efforts to prove that the administration with which he had gone back beyond the year 1908 and had made some elaborate criticism of the government which then held office. While it was not his intention to pose as an apologist for the old administration still he felt that its acts were misrepresented by the hon. member who had just spoken. It had been stated that the credits of the province prior to the change of government in 1908 was so bad that banks had refused to loan money. He wished to say in reply that although it was a time of great financial stringency the government got all the money it wanted at a very low rate of interest.

Hon. Mr. Robinson read documents relating to the payments for the Newcastle and Reversing Falls bridges. He said they showed that the best of people sometimes entered into very bad transactions as reference had been made to the new government. He thought it only right that this matter should be brought to the attention of the House.
Reference had been made by this hon. gentleman opposite to a speech of his delivered at Moncton which he had referred to the old government as being evaded and knock-kneed. He could assure them that his remarks had been directed at the government with which his hon. friends had been connected. At the present time he could see no spavin except that there might be on the celebrated horse which one hon. member opposite had purchased for his late government. The speech which had been delivered by the hon. leader of the opposition with so much energy and eloquence made it quite clear that he had at last found his proper place and it would be a shame if he should ever be removed from it.

Fine Promises.
He would say to his hon. friends that the government recognized its responsibility to the people of this province and would not hesitate to take such action as was deemed necessary to meet the situation. They could be round that the late government had done in 1908 that is bond the over expenditure but they did not propose to adopt that course. It was their intention to provide legislation for two hundred thousand dollars and they hoped to reduce the deficit by practicing economy. He was confident that as the years rolled by the late government would be able to keep the expenditure within the income.

The amendment of Hon. Mr. Murray (Kings) was then put and lost in the following division:
Yeas—Young, Tilley, Murray (Kings), Baxter, Smith (Carleton), Campbell, Potts, Fox, Smith (Albert), Venton, Messrs. Magee, Burchill, McGrath, Allain, Loblan, Leger (Gloucester), Swaine, Leger (West), Robichaud, Borden, Melanson, Hetherington, King—23.
Nays—Hon. Messrs. Foster, Robinson, Smith (West), Byrne, Tweeddale, Murray (North), Roberts, Dugal, Venton, Messrs. Magee, Burchill, McGrath, Allain, Loblan, Leger (Gloucester), Swaine, Leger (West), Robichaud, Borden, Melanson, Hetherington, King—23.
The motion that the House go into committee of supply was carried.
The House resolved itself into committee of supply and two items, Mr. Miller and Messrs. King, were then considered. The further consideration of supply was made the order of the day for Monday at 8.30 p. m. Hon. Mr. Murray adjourned at 8.30 p. m. Monday.

What were the changes the late government made? Amongst the most important was to change the system under which the late government had controlled the debt of that department.
Now there is only one general account kept of the provincial finances, a daily balance is struck, which stands as follows:
That was the difference between the system adopted by the late government as compared with the incompetence and criminal negligence of their predecessor.
Changed His Opinion.
His hon. friend from Moncton had included in the provincial liabilities the $550,000 provided for permanent bridges which was still in hand and which he had almost lost hope of getting better. It was asked to do Williams' Pink Pills, and it was not long until it could feel that they were helping him, and after taking them for a couple of months he was completely cured. I now never fail to recommend these pills to anyone needing a blood builder.
You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WOMEN'S AILMENTS
Come From The Heart And Nerves.
Young girls budding into womanhood who suffer with pains and headaches, and whose face is pale and blood watery, will find Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills their help.
Women, between the ages of 40 and 50, who are nervous, subject to hot flashes, feeling of pins and needles, smothering feeling, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, etc., are aided over this trying time of their life by the use of this remedy.
Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have a wonderful effect on a woman's system, making pains and aches vanish, bringing color to the pale cheek and sparkle to the eye.
The old, worn out, tired out, languid feelings give place to strength and vitality, and life again seems like living.
Mrs. Alfred Winter, Centar, Alta., writes: "I would like every woman who is suffering from nerves or heart trouble to know how much Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have helped me. For two years I kept a hired girl, and was doctoring all the time. After having taken four boxes of your pills I am able to do all my own work. I would especially recommend these pills to women between 40 and 50, as at that time they are more liable to be far from well. One of my neighbors knows how they helped me, and she is now using them."
Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by THE T. MILBURN CO., LIMITED, Toronto, Ont.

The old, worn out, tired out, languid feelings give place to strength and vitality, and life again seems like living.
Mrs. Alfred Winter, Centar, Alta., writes: "I would like every woman who is suffering from nerves or heart trouble to know how much Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have helped me. For two years I kept a hired girl, and was doctoring all the time. After having taken four boxes of your pills I am able to do all my own work. I would especially recommend these pills to women between 40 and 50, as at that time they are more liable to be far from well. One of my neighbors knows how they helped me, and she is now using them."
Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. or three boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by THE T. MILBURN CO., LIMITED, Toronto, Ont.

When the late government came into power, the auditor-general was an official of the government and not independent, and as the result of that when they came into power they found conditions that were impossible at the present time.

He would say to his hon. friends that the government recognized its responsibility to the people of this province and would not hesitate to take such action as was deemed necessary to meet the situation. They could be round that the late government had done in 1908 that is bond the over expenditure but they did not propose to adopt that course. It was their intention to provide legislation for two hundred thousand dollars and they hoped to reduce the deficit by practicing economy. He was confident that as the years rolled by the late government would be able to keep the expenditure within the income.

What were the changes the late government made? Amongst the most important was to change the system under which the late government had controlled the debt of that department.
Now there is only one general account kept of the provincial finances, a daily balance is struck, which stands as follows:
That was the difference between the system adopted by the late government as compared with the incompetence and criminal negligence of their predecessor.
Changed His Opinion.
His hon. friend from Moncton had included in the provincial liabilities the $550,000 provided for permanent bridges which was still in hand and which he had almost lost hope of getting better. It was asked to do Williams' Pink Pills, and it was not long until it could feel that they were helping him, and after taking them for a couple of months he was completely cured. I now never fail to recommend these pills to anyone needing a blood builder.
You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FOX HELD UP IN WALKER'S GROCERY STORE WHERE HE CALLED FOR ONIONS TO PICKLE

Interesting Description of the Encounter Between the Fugitive and the Groceryman Who, Taken by Surprise, Made a Bad Break and Lost the Reward.

Fugitive Calls at Homes on the East Side and Meets Those in Charge of the Home for Incurables and the Protestant Orphan Asylum.

In an unguarded moment I entered Walker's grocery at the corner of King and Wapworth streets. In a careless manner indifferent to the conditions imposed for the capture of the fugitive, Mr. Walker took a chance and lost it. He is not the first person to have accosted Fox in this town. But the first to have laid hands on him, and with the weakness of his attempt he is not the only person in my many experiences in many places outside of this town who with the reward fairly in his grasp has thrown it away through a desire to find out who I am—"make sure," if they can.

I was on my way up King street after making a few calls at residences further east, when that little grocery attracted my attention. There was an orderliness and neatness about it that prompted me in the spur of the moment to walk in.

First I noticed one of the salesmen slicing meat of some sort, as it appeared to me taking it in a glance. There was only a boy busy around the place. When I stopped at the counter the salesman I had not observed came from behind a tier of merchandise and asked the usual question.

He was a stoutly built man and I believe wears a grizzled, bushy, mustache. I took it for granted I was facing Mr. Walker—the name that appears over the door. "How much do you charge for onions?" I asked. I think he replied 9 or 9 1/2 cents a pound. "How much would a quart of onions cost me?" He hesitated to reply and looked at me curiously, as though I had asked a strange question. I pressed the inquiry and still he hesitated. I am quite sure that the suspicion I aroused later had not up to this point entered his mind.

I was thinking that I had asked an unusual question.

"Or, don't you sell onions by the quart?" I asked.

Still no reply to my questioning. I can tell when I am under suspicion and, without as yet seeing the usual indications in his expression I urged my inquiries to obtain a reply. Then I thought I would explain.

"If the onions are what we want we desire to buy a quart and would like to get them cheaper than we would by the pound."

That evoked no reply.

"You see, we want to do up some in pickles."

"Usually onions are not done up at this time of the year." He said this with a broad smile coming over his face.

I at once saw that my ostensible business with him was being challenged and I hoped to explain the seeming incongruity he had pointed out. So I stepped deeper into the mire in which I realized I was floundering.

"It's like this we are out of pickles and my wife thought she would pick up some for immediate use."

He had been leaning over the counter. He straightened back and began stroking his chin.

He fastened that tell-tale look I know so well directly into my eyes. I returned the look with interest. The danger signal was out. We looked each other squarely in the eyes. Neither of us flinched. He was sizing me up. He was studying my expression to convince himself if possible.

However urgently I attempted to pry his suspicions, there was a weakness about my effort that gave him a clue. It might have been a quiver of my eyes, or the mere trace of a smile. I don't know. It didn't seem to me that I had weakened any.

The other salesman, proprietor or clerk I don't know—then came around where we were. Although he gave me a severe stare I don't think he understood what was passing between us.

For at least two minutes we were "looked together" with steady, unwavering keenly suspicious looks. I could see his thoughts in the broad smiles that chased across his face.

Without another word he turned and walked down the store around the turn in the counter. I moved in the same direction hoping to pass off on him—going back to be shown the onions.

Just then I saw a copy of The Standard lying on the counter in that direction. I assumed for the moment it was The Standard. I couldn't see the headings for it was too far away from me. There was no reason, from my point of view why I should remain any longer. Then I turned to the door. Saying, "If you can't accommodate me I'll leave."

I caught a glimpse of him picking up the paper as he called out to me, "Are you Fox the Fugitive?"

Of course I didn't stop to tell him. Evidently he was not sure. For as I was at the door I didn't run or hurry. I repeated the inquiry, "Are you Fox?" He had laid his hand on me—merely rested it on my arm—which was all right. He had the paper in the other hand. He made no effort to show it to me. And I didn't stop and ask him to show it to me. In Niagara Falls, N. Y., I got myself and the publisher into a disagreeable situation by accepting a copy of his paper from a glance I gave as the certified warrant which the conditions in my capture always require. It was challenged and after I admitted the capture I found it was a day old. The challenger insisted on absolute compliance with the conditions. In admitting the capture in the first instance I had of course disclosed my identity, and then it was impossible to stave off legitimate capture.

In nine out of ten captures they are taken on a chance by one who doesn't know me.

Conditions are made to give us a show in case where the capturing party might otherwise let me go.

The conditions protect the public and not anybody else. Mr. Walker (if it were him) failed to comply with conditions. The party who eventually makes the capture will comply with conditions. Therefore if I were to admit a capture, that is not a capture. I am not hurting myself, I am hurting my time here, but other publishers are ready for me when I am through here and I neither lose or gain anything in denying a capture.

I have made it plain in previous stories, and it is to be read in plain English in the conditions, but I take this occasion to emphasize it, in telling Mr. Walker, where he fell down. Therefore, Mr. Walker, I could not reply to your inquiry. Nor could I ask you, if you had accosted me right, to show me if you had the certified warrant.

So I walked away. It happened that the one customer in the store left as I entered. The second salesman stood behind the counter and the boy stood near the door.

Thinking that Mr. Walker might grasp the situation, though he had nothing more than suspicion to go by, and might chase out or send the boy out and overtake me I lost no time in leaving the neighborhood.

At 366 Union street I inquired of Mr. Kerston and some of his family for H. G. Battle.

At 55 Pitt street, where I saw the name L. D. Clark on the door plate I hopped with a slender, middle-aged gentleman who came out into the vestibule and filled his pipe and a lady who stood inside of the door, I told them I was looking for Horace Dig.

At 262 Pitt street I asked Mrs. Henderson for "Alfred Klueck."

At the home for Incurables I asked the young lady who came to the door, if they had a little girl there named "Stella Handole?" I repeated the inquiry of Miss Frost at the Protestant Orphan Asylum and she advised me to apply at the "Children's Aid Institution on King street east." That is how I understood her.

This lady suspected me. She probably was thinking that she had made a mistake in not having the warrant ready.

THE POLICE COURT

In the police court yesterday two men were fined $8, each for being drunk. When asked where they got the liquor, one replied that he secured it from Edward Carlin, and the other said he had been supplied by Joseph O'Brien. Carlin and O'Brien

Elmory of Sergeant Rankine and Officer Estay of allowing his car to stand in front of his house, Main street, May 27th, for an hour and thirty-five minutes, and was fined $10.

Two boys were in the juvenile court on charge of theft of coal at the foot of Clarence street. Policeman Cooper made the arrest. Following their plea of not guilty the boys were sent below.

Mrs. Mary Stacher, on a charge of fortune telling by "tossing the cup," promised to leave the city, and the charge against her was dropped.

PROBABLY NO STRAIGHT PARTY VOTE UNTIL AFTER THE WAR

Political Situation at Ottawa Has Changed in More Ways Than One—Numerous Changes Also Outside of Politics—City Beautiful at Present.

(By Alfred E. McGinley.)
Ottawa, June 15—One returns to the Dominion capital after three years' absence to find changes. The stately architectural pile which housed the Canadian Parliament, probably the finest structure of its type in America, if not in the world, is no more. The east and west wings containing the departmental establishments remain, but the Senate and Commons, with their auxiliary offices are accommodated in the Victoria Museum building, a splendid structure, a half-mile or so from the site of the former buildings.

In what was once a public lecture room is assembled the Canadian House of Commons. The chamber lacks the grandeur of the former building, as it lacks the associations which teemed and filled every nook and cranny of the older building. The new chamber bears the marks of having been improvised under necessity. Canvas hangings screen it, while temporary partitions, resembling nothing so much as the "wrong side" of a stage set, and draped flags serving for entrances, give the chamber an air of comfortable privacy. At the same time one cannot escape the feeling that the arrangements are but temporary and when the contractors have completed their work on the new building, already commencing to rise from the ashes of the old Canada will indeed have a Parliament building the equal if not the superior of the one destroyed by fire.

While the chamber is smaller than formerly, yet it has been made cosy and there is ample space in the galleries, although on Monday accommodation was at a premium. The press gallery, as before, is just behind the Speaker's chair, and is sufficiently large for all needs.

It was quiet in the Commons on Tuesday, following Monday's interesting session. The estimates of the agricultural department were under consideration and the major part of the evening session was taken up in desultory discussion between two or three Ontario members on conditions affecting the marketing and inspection of cheese. It was a far cry from war measures to cheese and the members took little interest in the proceedings, except those directly affected. Hon. Martin Burrell led the house while his estimates were under consideration, while on the opposition side Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Hon. George Graham, Hon. Frank Oliver and Hon. Charles Murphy maintained a complimentary interest in the discussion. The premier was absent, while the desk of the leader of the opposition was also vacant. Hon. Mr. Hazen, looking decidedly well and fit, was in his seat, while Hon. Arthur Meighen came in for a few minutes. Hon. Albert Severyn, (the hero of Dorchester), was in his place for a short time, but the debate evidently did not interest him and he departed.

There was more life in the corridors than in the house. Knots of members were gathered here and there discussing the situation. The result of the Liberal caucus and the report that they had decided to introduce an amendment to the military service bill was the subject for much whispered discussion. What the Liberals may do when the measure comes to its second reading is still a matter for conjecture. It is certain that the party is badly split and frantic attempts to reconcile the opposing elements are responsible for the frequent caucuses. One report which seemed to find some credence this (Wednesday) morning is that the Liberals may stand together for their amendment even if they divide on the bill itself. Just what form the amendment will take is also unknown, yet, but a prediction has it that it is likely to express regret that there should be conscription of manpower without a corresponding conscription of wealth, resources, talent, labor and in fact everything essential to war winning. It is hoped by Liberals that on such a common ground the Government could be given a close run in the voting. Then, when the bill itself comes, members of the party can vote as they see fit, those who support it would break with the party on that ground, while those who oppose could give effect to their opposition. No matter what happens the corridor opinion today is that the vote when taken will not run on the generally accepted party lines. In fact some go so far as to express the view that Ottawa has seen its last straight party vote until after the war. There is a different spirit in the air. Some members of the opposition still desire to play politics, but generally men are thinking and thinking hard. The war, war sacrifice and the knowledge that greater sacrifices will become necessary before victorious peace crowns our arms has caused a realization of the situation and one of the gallery men who has spent fifteen years here told me today that "the moral tones of the house and of the debate has never been so high."

The next week or ten days will likely go down in Canadian history as one of the most momentous periods the Canadian capital has ever seen. It got away to a good start on Monday, but even when the premier made his announcement of the military service measure the enthusiasm with which it was greeted by his own followers and such sturdy Britishers on the opposition side was tempered with a serious conception of the situation which made it necessary. It was no time for partisan fireworks and no one showed a disposition to inject any. In fact more hand clapping and desk pounding demonstrated in "anti-war days" over measures of purely political importance than was shown in this, the most important measure ever introduced into a Canadian Parliament. True, the members cheered and cheered again at telling periods in the premier's masterly address, but it was such a cheer as our Canadian soldier boys might give when they go down in Canada "up and over"—not the usual method of voicing approval of the sentiments of a political speaker. The thing was too big. "Imagine a violated Canada," said the premier at one point in his address and the house sat silent. That silence was more eloquent than any cheers could have been. That silence showed the spirit behind the whole measure, the spirit of grim determination to do what is necessary no matter what may be the cost. And that is the keynote of the whole situation. Since Monday it has been quiet. The house is making good progress with routine business but there is a feeling, that the second reading of the bill, and the debate to follow it will provide plenty of excitement. That is the time when the Lauriers and the Pugsleys must place themselves on record before the Canadian people and Canada waits. Meanwhile Ottawa is experiencing its first summer weather and only those who have been obliged to remain in the capital when the sun is really busy know what that means. The city is beautiful. Vegetation is much more advanced than at home and the tree shaded streets are gleaming in all the radiant beauty of luxuriant foliage. In Parliament the thought of the nation turns to war. On the street corners and on the billboards throughout the city flaming posters exploit the amusement features at the theatres and the fact that next week the racing season opens. Truly, the Canadian capital is a city of contrasts.

3 MOTORISTS LOSE LIVES

Boston, June 12.—Three members of the family of C.L.W. Anderson of Dorchester are dead as the result of a collision between a train on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad and their automobile at an unguarded crossing here. Anderson attempted to slow down when he saw the train but was unable to prevent it hitting a passenger car. Anderson's sister, son and daughter were killed. Mrs. Anderson was seriously injured and he was slightly hurt.

FOOD CONTROL

Ottawa, June 15.—A food controller for the Dominion will be appointed by the government during the next day or two and will be given wide powers, it is understood, on the questions of distributions and prices. Who the food controller will be has not been divulged.
London, June 13.—Harold Sidney Harnsworth, first Baron Rothermere, and brother of Lord Northcliffe, is understood to have been chosen food controller.

BRITISH ADVANCE SOUTH AND EAST OF MESSINES

They Now Occupy Former Front Trenches of Germans from River Lys to River Warnave.

London, June 15.—The British struck another blow last night on the front near Messines. The war office announced that they gained all their objectives, advancing south and east of Messines and across the Tyne-Comines canal.

The British now occupy the former front trenches of the Germans from the River Lys to the River Warnave. As a result of last night's operations and the constant pressure exerted the British have advanced their lines from 500 to 1,000 yards on a front of seven miles.

From British Headquarters.

British Headquarters in France, June 14.—There is nothing like a general advance on any front, but we proceed slowly to occupy bits of ground and stretches of trench which have already been evacuated by the enemy. By this morning we now hold a line of posts more than 2,000 yards in advance of the line we pushed east of Messines.

The German story of a British cavalry charge in this region is untrue, like all other German utterances on the subject of the battle. Cavalry has not engaged and has not attempted to take even the smallest part in the operations. Mounted patrols of half a dozen men or so have in a few cases been usefully employed. But while the German statement that very few returned is true, it is only true because the same number returned as went.

WOMAN HELD FOR MURDER

New Haven, Conn., June 15.—John T. Monahan, whose wife, Mrs. Mary Monahan, is under arrest, and is being held under bonds, died at a local hospital under what are alleged to be suspicious circumstances.

Monahan is the woman's third husband. Her first husband, Joseph Pallman, died in 1906, and her second husband, Joseph Monahan, a brother of the man who died tonight, died in 1909. Mrs. Monahan was arrested in connection with the death of a niece in 1915 and released after a prolonged investigation.

Washington, June 14.—An additional $25,000,000 was loaned by the U. S. government to Great Britain today. Today's loan brings the total amount advanced to Great Britain up to $500,000,000 and the total to the allies up to $945,000,000.

Woodstock, June 15.—Zebulon Marston of Benton, committed suicide last evening by drinking carbolic acid. An inquest was held this morning by Coroner W. W. Hay and a verdict rendered that death was by his own hand while he was temporarily insane.

London, June 15.—The Sinn Feiners of East Clare have decided to contest the seat in Parliament vacated by the death at the front of Major William K. Redmond. They have chosen as candidate Edward de Valera, formerly a professor in Dublin University, and sentenced to death for his connection with the Sinn Fein revolt. His sentence was commuted to penal servitude for life and he is now in jail.

N. S. MINISTER DIES IN HUB

Rev. Dr. William F. Tufts Last Act Was Marriage of Piper Cameron of Kilties.

Boston, June 15.—Shortly after officiating at the wedding ceremony of Piper James Cameron, of the Kilties' Band and Miss Beatrice Carwell, of Mattapan, Rev. Dr. William F. Tufts, for six years pastor of the First Presbyterian church on Columbus avenue, was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage and died at the Deaconess' Hospital. He is survived by his wife and one daughter.

Dr. Tufts appeared to be very tired after the wedding and reclined on a couch, where he was found unconscious. Dr. James Morrison, the family physician, was summoned; Dr. F. E. Lamb, surgeon at the Deaconess Hospital, and two other physicians being summoned later.

Dr. Tufts was born in Halifax, N. S., and received his early education there. He was graduated from Dalhousie College as the valedictorian and leader of his class. He spent three years at Princeton in preparation for the ministry and took two years' work in philosophy, receiving the degree of A. M.

His longest pastorate was in the Sharon church, Shelburne, N. S., where he remained 12 years. Continuing his studies in New Testament exegesis, he obtained a year's leave of absence from the church in the British Museum, during this year he also took the classes of Dr. Marcus Dods in New College, Edinburgh.

At the close of his stay abroad, Dr. Tufts took his examination in New Testament exegesis at the Presbyterian College, Montreal. He received an average of more than 90 per cent., and was awarded the degree of D. D. In 1908 he removed to the presbytery of Boston and assumed the pastorate of the Union square church, Somerville, being installed July 17.

His greatest success has been in Sunday school work and especially in men's classes, in which he was deeply interested.

NOVA SCOTIA ESTATE CREDITOR IN FAILURE

Boston, June 15.—William E. Parsons, of Boston and Brookline, has filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court.

His liabilities aggregate $162,228. His assets are estimated at $50,111.

There are about 75 unsecured creditors, the principal of whom are Sarah M. Chase, Brookline, $6,000 for notes; estate of Mary C. Sutherland, West Branch, River John, N. S.; $8,000 for services and note, and Henry Parsons, New York city, $7,000 for promissory notes and money loaned.

SLACKER SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY

New York, June 15.—A penitentiary sentence of 11 months and 29 days for not registering under the Selective Draft Law, was imposed by Federal Judge Chaffield in Brooklyn on Herman Levine, schoolteacher and college graduate.

He pleaded guilty. When arraigned he was given another opportunity to register.

"I do not think it is right, and I refuse to do so," he said.

Benjamin Moug, a Sicilian by birth, was sent to jail for one day for failing to register.

LIBERTY LOAN SUCCESS

Washington, June 15.—The liberty loan has been over-subscribed by many hundreds of millions of dollars. Treasury officials estimated that the total of subscriptions would be at least $2,600,000,000, an over-subscription of twenty-five per cent.

120 CHILDREN WERE KILLED OR INJURED

Total of 104 on Death Roll as Result of German Air Raids on London.

London, June 15.—Sir George Cave, home secretary, announced in the House of Commons last evening, that the latest reports of the casualties in Wednesday's air raid showed that 104 persons had been killed and 154 seriously and 269 slightly injured. Altogether, he said, 120 children were killed or injured.

James I. McPherson, parliamentary secretary for the war office, said that the air-raiders crossed the channel in twelve minutes. He said he understood it to be true that one of them was brought down near Shoeburness, near which are the practicing grounds for heavy ordnance and where there is an extensive artillery barracks.

Lord Derby, secretary of state for war, announced that not a single soldier had been killed or wounded in Wednesday's raid, which had been simply a killing of civilians, men, women and children, and from the German military viewpoint had absolutely no value whatever.

FARMER KILLED WHILE MILKING A COW.

Quebec, June 15.—While milking cows in a pasture yesterday at Cape Magdeleine near Three Rivers, Wilfrid Vallancourt, a farmer, was killed by lightning. His body was found hours later when his family went in search of him.

"Disabled"

(But Cared For By The Canada Life)

One of the improved features added to Canada Life policies is the Total Disability Benefit. This Benefit, for a very small extra premium, may be included in any of our life or endowment policies now being issued.

Accident and Health Benefit

This new provision does more than protect you against total and permanent disability through accident—it actually furnishes a form of health insurance.

If You Should Be Disabled:

It is the unexpected that happens, and good health to-day carries with it a risk of its own. The exuberant and healthy man is indifferent to danger; accident or ill-health do not give any warning of their approach.

Yet the chance is there all the time; and realizing this from long experience the Canada Life; should become totally and permanently disabled by accident or disease before reaching age 60, will—

- 1st. Cancel all future annual premiums or deposits.
- 2nd. Pay you the dividends earned by the policy.
- 3rd. Pay to you while living one-tenth of your insurance each year for ten years.

Apply This to Our New Pension Policy:

Suppose you decide that, no matter what happens, you are going to make sure of $50.00 a month regular income. If you tried to arrange that without the help of the Canada Life you would have your troubles, but we have it all properly adjusted for you.

You set a definite date at which this $50.00 a month is to commence, say at age sixty, but you want to be sure of getting it if your health should fail or you should meet with an accident before that time.

The Disability Clause Does It

If you become totally and permanently disabled by meeting with an accident or illness before age 60, which will make it impossible for you to work any more, the Canada Life says:

"No more premiums are required. Instead of paying premiums you will receive $50.00 a month as long as you live!"

You may be only thirty when misfortune overtakes you, but this does not affect the commencement of the income. So long as you live the $50.00 a month is paid to you, and if you should die before receiving the income for ten years the future cheques covering the balance of the period will go to your beneficiary.

Why Not Look Into This?

It is impossible to state here all the advantages of this new disability provision, nor can we impress upon you as strongly as we would like the small extra premium required to secure this most up-to-date safeguard.

PAID $40,000 EACH FOR BEDS

His Majesty King James I. Fussy About What He Reposed Upon — So Was Queen Henrietta.

There are two beds in the world which cost $40,000 each.

The bed at Knole, in one of the most famous dwellings in England was made for the bedroom of James I. when he came to visit the Earl of Dorset. It is a typical bed of the period, with four posts at the corners and a wooden top from which curtains were suspended so that the sleeper might be hidden. Evidently ventilation, in the era when rooms had to be heated by fireplaces, was not regarded as especially desirable. The hangings of the King's bed at Knole were in crimson and gold. They are still on the bed although they are sadly faded and worn. The Hampton Court bed is similar to that at Knole. It was made with much other extremely costly furniture for the Queen of Charles II.

Although no bedsteads made in France were apparently as expensive as these two English ones, several beds owned by Louis XIV. and by Marie Antoinette cost several thousand dollars each. Louis XIV. perhaps owned more beds than any other man who ever lived. He had at one time no less than 413 in his several palaces. Some of them were covered with embroideries worked with pearls and silver and gold thread. The woodwork was carved with great care and heavily gilded. Probably the most famous of these beds was the one at Versailles. The curtains which could be drawn about it were of crimson velvet but so much gold was used in ornamenting them that the crimson scarcely showed.

About $12,000 was spent for one bed chosen by Marie Antoinette, who also invested in several others that caused a considerable drain upon the French treasury. Napoleon's famous bed, which can still be seen at the palace of Fontainebleau, was not so costly but probably would bring a larger sum today than any other.

Bedsteads were used almost as far back as it is possible to trace history.

AWAITING THE VERDICT.

The Egyptians, Assyrians and ancient Persians had beds, and sometimes they were inlaid with mother of pearl or decorated with ivory. Costly beds seem to have been much in favor many centuries ago. The first written description of a bed is found in Homer, who mentions some which were inlaid with gold, silver and ivory.

A few generations later it is probable that there were costlier beds. Mention has been made of a bed of solid ivory veneered with tortoise shell. This bed no longer exists, but it must have cost its owner a tremendous sum. The Romans also indulged in costly beds, some of them being made of silver.

The big four-poster bed, like those at Knole and Hampton Court was so popular in England that it persisted there long after it had been modified or discarded elsewhere. Many of them are in use today and they did not go out of general favor until about 1850.

MARYSVILLE

Marysville June 11—The ladies of the Dawson Club held another "Social evening" at the club rooms, Friday evening; there was a large number in attendance, and a very enjoyable evening was enjoyed by all present. Johnstone's orchestra was in attendance, and furnished a very excellent programme for dancing. Mrs. Joe Dolphin, Mrs. W. Collette, Mrs. P.G. Long and Mrs. E.J. Kingsley acted as chaperones.

A concert party from Olivette Baptist church drove to Nashwaak Village last evening, where they gave a very fine programme of vocal and instrumental music, readings, etc., to a capacity house. The proceeds will be for the building fund for the new vestry, soon to be erected.

The Marysville general stores reopened today for business, with Mr. H. Cowan in charge.

The work of driving the logs from the bridge, to the mouth of the Nashwaak is now in progress.

Mrs. W. J. White, has received word that her husband Gunner White is at present in a hospital in France, suffering from the effects of gas, but is recovering.

The wedding of Miss Nellie Alice Stephenson, to Mr. George MacAndrews of Calais Me. will take place the later part of this month.

Mrs. J.H. Donovan expects to return to Boston, about the middle of next week. Lt. R. B. MacFarlane, of the 1st Regt., has been awarded the Long Service Medal in the Colonial Auxiliary Forces.

Ababy girl has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clerk.

The tern schooner Harry W. Lewis, now at Fort Greville, N. B., has been purchased by local parties, delivery at Boston. She was built in 1888 and rebuilt in 1912, and is 297 tons register and is a splendid style of coasting vessel.

LETTER FROM FAR OFF JAPAN

Former Resident of Sackville Writes of People and Things in Island Kingdom.

The editor of the Sackville Post has an interesting letter from his brother, H. L. McCready, now in Japan. He is travelling all over the country, and in a letter dated May 18, says in part:

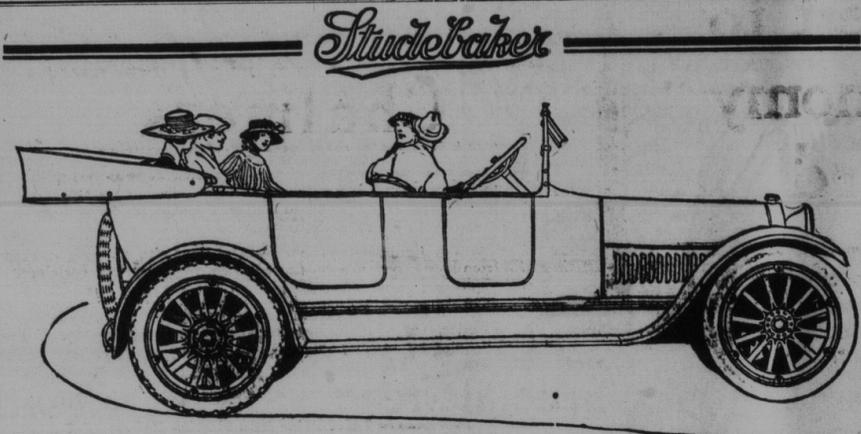

"I have been on the road three weeks, and the experience has been wonderful. The country is the most beautiful I have ever seen, very mountainous and many small rivers and lakes. At this time the woods are full of wisteria, asialias and almost every flower growing wild. The little farms are tilled just like a garden plot—every inch of ground is utilized. Rice, wheat and vegetables seem to be the staple crops. All houses in the country have thatched roofs and look very quaint. The trains are a little smaller than ours, but very good, they have sleepers and dining cars, they have the service is generally quite satisfactory. The cars are in compartments like those in England. The hotels are all Jap and you take off your shoes before you go in, in fact I do in most of our stores. We sleep on the floor, eat from the floor and sit on the floor."

"The food is Jap, but I eat eggs, (ten cents per dozen), rice and some places we get good meat, with lots of fish and this last is the nicest I have ever eaten. I carry coffee, sugar, condensed milk, and jam and cheese along with me, so I manage to make out without any trouble."

"The weather has been quite cold since we arrived, have used a top coat every day, and have had fires in our rooms. Today, however, is grand—about like June 1st at home. We are located very nicely in a good hotel, have two rooms, a fire place, and have a good nurse for the children. Conditions are so much better than we expected that we are perfectly satisfied."

The tern schooner Percy B. recently sold by parties at Parraboro, has been delivered to her new owners at New York. She was purchased by Job Brothers, of St. John's, Nfld. The new tern schooner F. A. J. E. has arrived at Boston from Barbados and Antigua with a cargo of molasses. It is rumored she will be sold at Boston.

The Studebaker Car What You Get for Your Money

When you buy a Studebaker SIX, you get the best work of one of the largest automobile manufacturers in the Dominion.

You get a Canadian built car which has been perfected by four years' experience with the same basic design. Each year improvements and refinements have made it a still better car.

These improvements and refinements are based on the experience of 300,000 Studebaker cars in the hands of owners in all parts of the world.

The Studebaker SIX is not an experiment—it is an evolution.

The Studebaker SIX is made of carefully selected materials developed, perfected and tested in the great Studebaker laboratories.

The workmanship in Studebaker cars is experienced, painstaking and carefully supervised. The inspections are rigid and exacting in the extreme.

What is true of the Studebaker SIX is also true of the Studebaker FOUR. Both cars are of the same basic design. Many of their parts are interchangeable—that is why it is possible for Studebaker to offer so good a car at so low a price.

The quality of Studebaker cars is evident in their finish and equipment.

Studebaker bodies are obviously substantial in construction. The crowned fenders are of heavy gauge steel.

The paint and varnish work is excellent. The upholstery is not only genuine leather, but high grade genuine leather. The cushions are soft and comfortable. The auxiliary seats are folding armchairs. The front seats are adjustable, and the right hand one reversible.

But the real proof of quality is durability. Studebaker cars stand up and give long, continuous service under the hardest usage.

Studebaker cars are guaranteed by the manufacturer for one year against defective workmanship and material. When you buy a Studebaker you get proved quality, proved economy and the guarantee of a great Canadian manufacturer.

Let us demonstrate to you the many points of Studebaker quality and economy.

G. A. MAGRATH NAMED FUEL CONTROLLER

Brilliant Westerner Will Have Full Charge of Fuel Supply of Canada.

Special to The Standard.
Ottawa, June 15.—Mr. Charles A. Magrath, Canadian chairman of the international joint commission, has been appointed controller of fuel for the Dominion. He will assume his duties immediately. He will have complete power over the fuel supplies of the Dominion, their distribution and prices at the various points throughout the country. The purpose of the appointment is to insure for the people a domestic supply during the coming winter.

The controller of fuel will be in close co-operation with the railway commission on this matter.

Mr. Magrath was member of parliament for Medicine Hat from 1908 to 1911, but was beaten by Mr. W. A. Buchanan on the reciprocity issue. He is regarded as one of the ablest men in the Dominion.

The French, The Catholic Church And Conscription

To the Editor of The Standard:
Dear Sir,—The question of conscription and coalition in Canada is most grave. Indeed I do not believe Sir Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the Liberal party, correctly interprets the conscience of the Canadian French on the question of conscription in Canada. No one could ever question Laurier's loyalty to Canada and its mother country, Great Britain, but they do question his right to play politics in the most critical time the world has ever known in a contest between militarism and democracy.

Who could believe that Laurier, Lavergne and Bourassa, the brains of the Canadian French, would make an issue of religion as the dominant reason against conscription. If the French government divorced the Catholic church from the state, it does not signify that the French people are not as loyal and devout Catholics as they were when France was the protector of the Catholics of the world for centuries, and the best proof of this fact is that thousands of French Catholic priests, are fighting in the French army today, that Republican France may survive. The Holy Roman disbursements the first of July. This semi-annual distribution passed safely following the Liberty loan arrangements, it is expected in important circles that the stock market will again enter upon a broad swing upward, stimulated by loan expenditures and an advance in railroad rates. There is a large transfer of speculation from the grain and cotton markets into the security list that promises activity on a substantial scale. Good buying is reported from splendid sources to be taking place in New York Central, Union Pacific, Atchafalpa and Reading. There is a large short interest outstanding in St. Paul, Northern Pacific and Baito and Ohio. "The insistence of the banks on two-thirds of the calls in the loan collateral has forced a large reduction of industrial holdings," says a leading institution, which says

Catholic church never retaliates for wrongs and injustices inflicted on it, but forgives those that harm it, as that is the teaching and precepts of the church. Why Sir Wilfrid Laurier should raise the issue of religion against conscription I am unable to understand, when he must remember that Catholic Italy, Austria, France, Bavaria, Belgium, Portugal and Ireland are fighting in this world war, enemy against enemy, nationally, but in the Catholic religion one, and the Holy Father at Rome remaining neutral but with sublime compassion for all his Catholic children.

I should think that the French Canadians should have enough of French blood in their veins to remember and to keep alive the nation of France, which was the pioneers of settlers in North America and especially Canada, to go to the rescue of their mother country in the hour of need.

What a sad commentary to think that these United States of America should conscript 10,000,000 of its young manhood to fight for the principles that democracy shall survive in the world, that its neighbor, the Dominion of Canada, should defeat conscription at the polls or in parliament. After the Allies have spent billions of dollars and armies of millions of men to perpetuate the right that mankind may live free, and when militarism very near succeeded in overthrowing democracy, the greatest republic on the western hemisphere cast its lot with the Allies in the cause of human freedom, which set a noble example that all the nations in the western hemisphere should follow. Yet at the critical time a dark cloud rises from a few able but misdirected French Canadians, basing the opposition to conscription on the ground that France persecuted the Roman Catholic church.

I trust that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was premier of Canada for so many years and devoted the best that was in him in the development of Canada and its people; will join hands with Sir Robert Borden and accept his invitation to form a coalition ministry and favor conscription so that democracy shall ever live and Prussian militarism obliterated off the face of the earth.

Yours respectfully,
LOUIS A. CUVILLIER,
Former chairman of the committee on military affairs, New York Legislature, 150 Nassau street, New York city, N. Y.

The Big Chalmers —the 7-passenger

WHEN the seven-passenger Chalmers made the famous all-day run through Chicago's dense traffic, Chalmers men everywhere were aroused. Now, every few days some new test is reported—further proof of the ease of driving and wide flexibility of the Chalmers.

These tests explain why so many women drive the Chalmers seven-passenger.

That run in CHICAGO, 24 hours, without a motor-stop on high gear, piled up 586 miles. The gasoline gave an average of 16.8 miles to the Imperial gallon. The test was made under American Automobile Association Supervision.

Then came DETROIT. A slow-speed traffic test. On high gear. Speed never over 3 miles per hour. Only 71.7 miles in 24 hours steady going. 12 miles to the Imperial gallon.

BOSTON made the test in a Sedan, 346.2 miles, 14 miles to the Imperial gallon.

In GRAND RAPIDS the mileage was 603. In MONTREAL, 590, with a 5-passenger.

In all cases only high gear was used.

The tests were made in stock Chalmers cars.

What stronger proof of the wide flexibility, fuel economy, perfect cooling could be desired? Test this car—the 7-passenger—the luxurious big Chalmers. Test its power reserves. Its ease of control.

Come in and drive it. Any time.

$50,000 Owners' Contest to Follow Maxwell's Economy Triumph of May 23rd

Hundreds of Maxwells on May 23rd made good our claim that a Maxwell will go further on a gallon of gasoline than any other 5-passenger car—now, from June 16th to 30th, we expect 40,000 Maxwells to make as good or a better showing than was made on historic May 23rd.

We told you to watch the Maxwells with the one-gallon red gas tanks attached to the windshields.

We told you they were going to make history on May 23rd.

That was Maxwell Gasoline Economy Contest Day all over the United States and Canada.

And those Maxwells did make history—achieved a triumph we defy the world to beat.

Fifty Maxwell cars went a total of 1,983.6 miles on a total of 50 gallons of gasoline.

The average gallon mileage of those cars was 39.67.

And these weren't specially built cars.

They were privately owned Maxwells.

—In actual daily use by the men who bought them.

892 Maxwell Cars Prove What Maxwell Economy Is

Those 892 cars covered 24,505.3 miles in the aggregate on one gallon of gasoline each.

They averaged 27.47 miles each per gallon of gasoline. More wonderful records are being received daily.

We could rest our laurels on this great triumph—but we don't intend to do that.

Nobody else can beat it—so we're going to beat it ourselves.

$50,000 In U. S. Liberty Bonds To Be Given Away Next Time

Inspired by the splendid success of the Maxwell dealers' economy contest of May 23rd

—we're offering now $25,000 in U. S. Liberty Bonds as prizes to the 500 Maxwell owners who make the best mileage on one gallon of gasoline. Every Maxwell owner has an even chance to win a bond.

June 16th to 30th are the opening and closing dates of this second great Maxwell economy contest.

The other half of the $50,000 Liberty Bonds is to go to dealers for helping us with this stupendous undertaking.

Your Chance To Win a U. S. Liberty Bond

If you own a Maxwell your chance to win a Liberty Bond is as good as anybody's—no matter what State you live in. The rules of the contest give every owner a fair and even chance.

The contest is open to women as well as men Maxwell owners.

See us at once for details of the contest.

Enter this history-making competition now.

Win a Liberty Bond.

DUNLOP TIRES

"Special Tread" - "Traction Tread"

"The Winning Pair"

Note the depth and width of those "V" shaped corrugations of "Traction." Watch them as they get in some "fine play" on slippery roads. Then, again, ask your friends about the consistency and reliability of that other surpassing Dunlop product, "Special."

You'll enjoy motoring most, and encounter tire upkeep the least, if you use either "Traction" or "Special."

A FOOD CONTROLLER.

One of the many interesting reports emanating from Ottawa during the past few days is that the appointment of a food controller is about decided upon and within a week this official will be named.

Such an official would have wide powers on questions of distribution and prices. Of course his ability to control will be governed somewhat by the supply and demand for it is not to be expected that he or his deputies could visit the produce markets of Canada once or twice a week and arbitrarily place a price limit upon commodities beyond which the vendor could not go.

The cost of living is, after all, very much a question for the individual. The Government can make and enforce certain regulations, but it cannot undertake to see that every man, woman and child in Canada prattles thrift and economy in the home.

The French Canadian members of the House of Commons who have expressed their intention of supporting the Government's conscription measure are now being made the target of a species of terrorism in the hope that their physical courage will forsake them at the crucial moment.

THE METHODS OF COWARDS.

The two ministers, Hon. Messrs. Blondin and Seigny, have been particularly singled out for this sort of warfare, but the effort is wasted for both gentlemen have openly announced that they stand for compulsory military service and are not to be turned from that end by any threats that may be made.

Another gentleman, well known in New Brunswick, whose mail has contained more than one such letter, is Mr. Ferdinand J. Robitoux, the sturdy Acadia member for Kent. Mr. Robitoux is for conscription as he says he realizes that it is now necessary and he is prepared to take his political fortunes in his hand and stand or fall by his decision.

The campaign however has had more than a little effect amongst the Quebec members and the opinion now is that one French member from that province (with the exception of the ministers noted) will vote in favor of strengthening the Canadian forces overseas. It will be most deplorable if this question should develop into a straight cleavage in Canada with Quebec standing alone against the other provinces, but it is such a cleavage that the cowards who are engaging in the anonymous letter campaign evidently hope to bring about. Such a division would be regretted by the rest of Canada; it would be disastrous to Quebec.

A WESTERN VIEW.

The Manitoba Free Press, published in Winnipeg, is a straight Liberal paper. Its editor, Mr. John W. Dafoe, is one of the greatest Canadian journalists. He is now in the Dominion capital for the period of the conscription debate and in an editorial message to his party regarding their attitude to the policy of compulsory military service.

Mr. Dafoe, an out and out Liberal, cannot refrain from expressing the opinion that the Liberals have some reason for regarding the Government's tactics before introducing conscription "as politically inspired," but he holds that the evidence is not sufficiently strong to warrant Liberals, British Liberals, in withholding their support from the Government measure, in the hope of promoting the political fortunes of their own party.

His message is a word in season. Liberals as well as Conservatives have a first duty in this hour and it is to Canada and the Empire before their party. It should not be forgotten that today there are five divisions of Canadian troops on overseas active service. They are there not as Liberals or Conservatives but as stalwart sturdy Canadians pledged to do their part in upholding the traditions of their home land and of the Empire. They are there with the approval and the blessing of both political parties and in all measures intended to support them the Loyalists of both parties should unite.

How can they do otherwise and hope to face the boys who return? As Sir Robert Borden eloquently said when introducing the conscription measure, "How shall we meet those who return if we desert and betray them now?" Editor Dafoe's political status, or the influence of his newspaper will not suffer because in this day of national duty he has been big enough to speak the message as it appeals to him and that message enjoins Liberals to support Canada first and party afterwards. It is sincerely to be regretted that we have in the Maritime Provinces few Liberal editors sufficiently broad-minded and patriotic to follow his example.

SHIPBUILDING PROJECTS.

The announcement in Thursday's Standard that another shipbuilding industry is about ready to locate here draws attention to the lucrative possibilities in this line of industrial effort.

The acquisition for war purposes of hundreds of thousands of tons of steam tonnage tended to bring once more to the front the ancient "wind-jammers," formerly held in contempt in comparison with more speedy steam propelled vessels. War works changes in shipping fashions as in other things, and today the "wind-jammer" is in high favor as a cargo carrying vessel. The United States plans to build hundreds of these vessels to be used in transatlantic trade. They will be built in Maine and New England, but there is no reason why the Maritime Provinces, and especially St. John, should not engage with credit and profit in the same line of business.

Not long ago Hon. J. D. Hazen was informed by the Imperial Munitions Board that contracts for wooden vessels of 3,500 tons would be gladly given to any St. John concern which could comply with the specifications and would guarantee to build as required. He communicated the proposition to the St. John Board of Trade and in reply was informed, in effect, that this city was not interested.

There is no good reason why wooden ships cannot be successfully built in St. John as, from what The Standard can learn, the conditions attached to the contract from the Imperial Munitions Board are not difficult of fulfillment. Satisfied as to the ability and the financial standing of the contracting parties the Board is prepared to make payments for material and labor as work progresses, retaining only the contractor's profit until the completion of the undertaking. Such payments are made fortnightly so, with contracts in hand, the difficulties of finance should not be so great as to discourage enterprise from engaging in the work.

A gentleman closely in touch with Canadian shipbuilding matters remarked to The Standard this week, that "after this war there will be a crop of shipbuilding millionaires in Canada."

Will St. John or New Brunswick number some of them? The opportunity is there if it is embraced.

THE MUCKRAKERS.

The Telegraph and Times editors are losing sleep because The Standard is not printing the distorted mess of Carter stuff which those papers are printing off as legal evidence, partly in the attempt to bolster up the wailing case of Dr. Pugsley. Even the editors of the Times and Telegraph are not childish enough to imagine for a moment that the people of this province do not know what crowd got the Valley Railway money. Even the theft of documents by the Grit dark lantern men will not make black white.

If the Telegraph is so fond of ancient history no doubt a sketch of the Man Friday's journalistic career in St. John and one regarding the Rothevay voters' list forgeries, in which another gentleman who was one of the leading lights on that so-called newspaper, was implicated, would make some choice reading for those who delight in the literature of muckrakers and sewer rats.

OBITUARY.

Charles H. Lugin

Misses Lugin, Duke street, have received a telegram for Mr. Victoria, B. C., stating that their brother, Mr. Charles H. Lugin, M.A., had died on Thursday night. Mr. Lugin was a well known New Brunswicker, a good lawyer and a very capable journalist. As a writer he made his mark both on the Atlantic and Pacific sides of the Dominion. Born at Fredericton in 1848 the son of Mr. C. S. Lugin, publisher and journalist, grandson of Mr. G. K. Lugin, Queen's printer and great-grandson of Mr. Peter Lugin, who served in the British army in the Revolutionary War across the border.

Mr. C. H. Lugin received his education at the Collegiate school and at the University of New Brunswick. He was graduated from the University in 1865 taught school at St. Stephen for a time, and then studied law, being admitted an attorney in 1868. Moving to Victoria county he was appointed to the clerkship of the peace and other positions, and remained here until 1874, when he returned to Fredericton and took up the practice of law with the late Mr. George Boisford as a partner. In 1878 he was a candidate for the Legislature in Victoria, but was not successful. For several years he was the efficient secretary of agriculture and wrote several books which widely advertised New Brunswick in journalism, but in 1897 he crossed into British Columbia and settled at Victoria. For many years he ably edited the Victoria Colonist, the leading paper on Vancouver Island. He was called to the Bar of British Columbia in 1892.

Mr. Lugin was married to Miss Maria Raymond, daughter of Mr. G. L. Raymond, of Loyalist descent, and is survived by his wife, six daughters (four of whom are married) and six grandchildren.

On Face and Hands—Local Doctors Treated Him in Vain—How Cure Was Finally Effected.

Trenton, Ont., June 15.—This letter will interest all mothers of young children, because it tells of the best means obtainable of overcoming the annoying and torturing skin troubles which come to so many children.

Mrs. Samuel Waldron, George street, Trenton, Ont., writes: "About three years ago my little boy had a rash on his face and hands which the doctor called Eczema. He gave us a wash for it, and some ointment, which we used, but with no benefit. I think we tried all the doctors here. Finally we tried Dr. Chase's Ointment and gave it a good trial. We could see that it was gradually healing. At first it appeared to burn the skin, then this skin would peel up, finally he got rid of it entirely. During the winters of the next two years we noticed a symptom of the disease under the skin. Each time we used more Dr. Chase's Ointment, curing it both times. For the last two years he has not had any return symptoms at all, so we think that he is now entirely cured."

THAT LETTER FROM HOME FOR TOMMIE
Private in Witley Camp, Surrey, Writes How Good It is to Receive a Letter from Home.

"Keep the letters coming," is the word from the soldiers overseas, nothing is so good to a soldier, fighting for his country thousands of miles from his native country, than news from home. He may receive a newspaper giving him the live news of the day; but one long letter from his home folk is much more acceptable than a hundred papers. The following interesting letter was received yesterday from a private in Witley Camp:
"THAT LETTER FROM HOME"
The question as to which is the mightiest, the pen or the sword, has been the subject of many debates. In these days one has an opportunity of observing the result of the work of each. The writer however, is particularly concerned with the influence for good that can be maintained by the pens of those at home, in Canada, while their boys, husbands or loved ones are far away at the various training camps, in England, or at the front, in France.
While this great struggle of nations is in progress, there is also a struggle of ideals, moulding of character, or moral issue that we all must meet individually; the struggle of wrong against right, the struggle of evil against good, of self-indulgence against moral control, of lust against chastity and honor. In army life the soldier finds himself in a sphere of temptation where these moral issues are sharply contested, and while he is engaged in the fight of nations for freedom, justice and national honor, the soldier is liable to be taken captive by the enemy of his soul, the loss

How the U. S. Government Will Choose the First Contingent from the 10,000,000 Men Who Registered
The fact that practically ten million men of military age registered in one day in the United States is, in the opinion of American newspapers, this country's conclusive answer to all efforts to convince the German people that this is "Wilson's War" and that it is without popular support or approval in the world's greatest Republic. It is also, they add, our answer to "the spies, the conspirators, the demagogues who tried to obstruct the Draft Law." The history of the past several days will be read and studied in Berlin where it will be recognized, in the opinion of the Springfield Republican, as "a registration not merely of men but of a national purpose, indorsed, supported, and confirmed."
Now that the first step in raising an immense American army has been taken, the question as to who will be exempt from military duty is engrossing public attention. In THE LITERARY DIGEST for June 16th the leading article gives a comprehensive account drawn from the press of the United States of the workings of the draft, and also includes the latest obtainable information as to the government's plan for passing upon the cases of men who have claimed, or will claim, exemption. NEWCASTLE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

Newcastle, N. B., June 13.—The annual meeting of the Newcastle Women's Institute was held in the police court room of the Town Hall last evening, Mrs. C. C. Hayward, president, in the chair.

Among those present were Mesdames C. C. Hayward, G. G. Stothart, Sec. A. J. Ferguson, H. S. Leard, B. F. Malby, John McCormack, Bessie Gough, A. E. Shaw, R. A. N. Jarvis and C. J. Morrissey, and Misses Jennie M. Fellows, Mollie Morrissey and Louise Harley.

Reports were received from the various committees as follows: Programme report was given by Mrs. Leard, convener. Programmes had been prepared in advance for the different meetings.

SEES BILLIE BURKE ACT BEFORE CAMERA

Miss Fairweather of The Standard Tells of Visit to Laaky Studios in New York and Meeting the Famous Star.

Writing about pictures every day, it often seems as if I ought to know something more about them than just what can be learned from a seat in the theatre, and so when it was proposed that I should go to New York and see the people who star in the pictures, and the process of making them, the chance seemed too good to miss.

Arriving at the Paramount office, I was at once invited to visit the studios, and arrangements were made for the next morning. Next day sure enough, and punctual to the moment, Mr. Solomon and Mr. Leo Fab of the Famous Players arrived in a car, to accompany me to the Laaky studio.

The studios were very empty for I had brought good weather with me to New York, and most of the stars were working out of doors. Miss Frederick was resting at Saranac after finishing a picture, and Miss Clarke was working out of town somewhere on one of the Mary Roberts Rathbone stories, the Sub. Deb. Several sets were all ready for these stories, one a lovely pink bedroom scene, another a hotel entrance, but I consider I was very lucky to find Miss Billie Burke working on the first scene of her third picture for Paramount, "The Land of Promise."

"The Secret Kingdom." If there were some scenes in this serial which verged upon the dime novel style the end is certainly a well staged picture. "The Tostin" is the name given to the last episode of "The Secret Kingdom," and Phillip comes into his own. Charles Richmond makes a kingy debut and seems more at home in the robes of state than in the garments of the wanderer.

boldly as that, but had been busy all morning telling girls that they were not "the type required." It is only a very special type of actress who can get a position now. Mr. Kaufman showed me a chart which told the process of a picture. By a glance at this chart the manager can tell exactly what work any member of the staff has done on the picture, what out-door work is still to be finished and the time it will take approximately. It is a splendid system.

IMPERIAL

"Apartment Number 29." An attractive title is one of the good many points about the Vitagraph picture which is billed for the imperial's week-end programme. It is the kind of plot which depends on its suspense for much of the interest so I will not spoil it by telling the secret of the climax. Earle Williams who is featured always makes an attractive hero and this picture is no exception. I particularly liked the way he proposed.

NEWS AND COMMENT FROM THE FINANCIAL

WALL STREET HAD SEVERE SET BACK

Considerable Confusion and Unsettled Following Followed Developments in Rising Money Market.

New York, June 15.—Culmination of the liberty loan campaign with a liberal over-subscription at an 8 1/2 per cent. rate for call money, were the opening features in today's market, and created considerable confusion and unsettled following. Extreme reactions of one to four points in important stocks were largely regained before the finish, when money relaxed to 1/4 per cent.

The liberty bonds were duly listed on the exchange, their first quotation being 100 1/4, or a slight fraction over par. Transactions which immediately followed were mostly at par, but just before the close of the session a sale was reported at 99 1/2, a discount of four cents on the hundred dollars.

High Interest Rate. Dealings in the new issues were regarded as nominal, insofar as they bore upon general investment conditions. The six per cent. money rate was the highest of the year, and resulted almost wholly from conditions imposed by payments to the two billion dollar loan and other government commitments. Prior to the reversal in stocks, which began at midday, the market pursued an uncertain course, gains being restricted to relatively obscure falls and specialties. Prominent in these groups were Pittsburg and West Virginia common and preferred, and Pittsburg Coal, also the motors, oils and Savage Arms, the latter at an extreme rise of fourteen points to 102.

Afternoon Break. Equipments and allied industrial started off at irregular advances, but broke one to four points in the afternoon, when signs of money scarcity became apparent. United States Steel made a gross reversal of almost three points from its maximum of the forenoon, but ended at a net loss of 1/2 of a point. Lackawanna Steel also rebounded, but at allied shares finished at material recessions.

Virtually all the special issues retrieved about half of their setback, and high grade rails, with few exceptions, recorded nominal losses. Total sales amounted to $85,000 shares. Industrial bonds, especially the war flotation, were lower, except Anglo-French five and Paris sixes. Total sales, par value, aggregated $2,700,000.

Woodstock, June 14.—Mrs. Myrtle Lannigan, the sixteen year old wife of Earl Lannigan, a farmer living about three miles from Presque Isle, accidentally shot herself through the breast while handling a revolver which she picked up to have a joke with her husband. The two had been walking and had just returned home. The shot which was from a 44 calibre revolver, penetrated her breast with fatal effect.

ANOTHER REACTION IN MARKET PROBABLE

Profit Taking May be Checked to Bullish Operations During Next Few Days.

(McDOUGALL & COWANS)
New York, June 15.—A majority of active operators seem to expect another reaction, possibly induced by a call money flurry between now and the end of the week. The short interest in the motor group notwithstanding recovery is still large. Investigations suggest that some of the big shorts are very stubborn about retreating and have been literally trapped. Offerings are limited.

Announcement of the over-subscription to the liberty loan should stimulate renewed bullish activity in the market. It should not be forgotten however that "the good news is out" and profits may be taken on strength. Information on the copper is suggestive of special improvement in Chino and Granby. Sentiment is getting in to position where a good response would be made to aggressive bullish activity in the rails. Reading is expected to advance again. The steels are expected to react again with the completion of short covering.

CANADA STEAMSHIP STRONG IN MONTREAL

Stock Advances 3 1-8 in the Most Active Market for Months — Second War Bonds at New Low Mark.

Special to The Standard.
Montreal, June 15.—Heavy buying of Canada Steamship common today gave the Montreal stock exchange its most active session in more than three months. The total transactions for the day footed up to more than 13,000 shares, of which Steamship's quota was in excess of 10,000 shares. On that big turnover the price rose to 42, a gross gain of 3 1/2, on which 3 1/2 was retained in the final dealings. There was sympathetic firming up in the voting trust certificates and the preferred shares, the former rising 1/2 to 38 1/2 and the latter 1/2 to 51, but business in both was extremely light.

The concentration of buying on common was attributed to operations for a financial group which views the recent action of the directors in declaring a year's dividend on the preferred stock of bullish implication with respect to dividend prospects of common. Heavy trading on a rising market in Steamship common contrasted with a rather quiet day in balance of flat and an irregular tone. Canadian Car stocks maintained their recent strength, the common closing one higher for the day at 22 after selling at 22 1/2 at opening and falling back later to 21 1/2. The preferred was also stronger at 7 1/2 to 7 3/4 in broken lots. Other stocks however took their cue from New York. A final rally coming too late to be of influence on prices here.

TIGHT MONEY IN NEW YORK HAD EFFECT

Danger Regarded as Past for Time Being, but Renewal Probable Later.

(McDOUGALL & COWANS)
New York, June 15.—The market began to sell off from noon on suggestion that it might have had some little artificial support, while 330 liberty loan books were open. The decline, however did not extend to more than two or three points in the stocks which moved most, and shortly before the close the market experienced a fair recovery.

It was somewhat disappointing that the new government bonds did not go to a premium, or at least sell at par, but in view of the extraordinary campaign to sell them in the last few days their slight decline from the issue price was not surprising. It is likely that individuals and institutions have subscribed in some cases for more bonds than they feel justified in holding permanently for the sake of making the loan a success, also a few corporations which have already declared dividends payable in liberty loan bonds and some part of such distributions may be expected to come on the market. Call money went to six per cent. for mixed collateral this afternoon. Apparently the danger of a holding permanent for the sake of making the loan a success, also a few corporations which have already declared dividends payable in liberty loan bonds and some part of such distributions may be expected to come on the market. ## DOMINION IRON HAS BOOKED MANY ORDERS

Outlook for Current Year Fairly Satisfactory, Declares President Mark Workman.

Special to The Standard.
Montreal, June 15.—The Dominion Steel Corporation is booked up in steel products to the end of the calendar year, President Workman told the directors of corporation at the annual meeting. In addition he announced that the steel output for the first six months of 1917 has been disposed of. Unfilled orders at present are double those of a year ago. Mr. Workman reviewed in some detail the improvement in the financial position of the corporation effected in past year by the retirement of notes, etc., and the elimination from the balance sheet of the item of $2,900,000 "discounts and premiums on securities" which involved a recurring annual charge of about $255,000.

As to physical improvements at the plants, the remodelling of the blast furnaces was making progress and two batteries of new by-products coke ovens were being installed, which would result in lower coke costs, while the elimination of the utilization of the company's total blast furnace capacity, which is now greater than can be taken care of owing to the limited coke production, the difficulties in coal department due to scarcity of labor and ships were dealt with in some detail, but the president indicated that the outlook for the current year was fairly satisfactory.

ELECTRIC MONOPOLY FOR GREAT BRITAIN

Shipbuilding Revival in Cardiff—Stock Market Quiet but Steady.

Special to The Standard.
London, June 15.—It is understood that an important scheme is being elaborated for bringing the whole electric power of Great Britain into the hands of a monopoly. To this end promoters of the scheme have divided the country into areas and are amalgamating in each the existing undertakings therein. A group of Cardiff and other shipowners is forming a company to re-establish the shipbuilding industry at Cardiff.

The Russian ruble is quoted at 207.5 for ten pounds sterling. The stock market was quiet but steady, with chief interest shifted to oil shares, which were active. There was a little demand for investment stocks and the old 4 1/2 per cent. war loan was bought on possible conversion rights in connection with a new issue expected in autumn.

NEWS SUMMARY
(McDOUGALL & COWANS).
New York, June 15.—Louisville and Nashville, first week June, increase $12,000. January 1, increase $3,502,300.
Entente Powers about to revise terms of alliance as they relate to war aims, preparing to ask Russia to make definite statement as to her intentions.
Officers of U. M. W. representing members employed in Colorado Fuel and Iron Co. ask national officers' permission to strike. Grievances center about "Rockefeller plan."
Reports from Peking say China is on verge of civil war.
Russian workmen's and soldiers' council inform ministers of Entente that they will insist on right to negotiate peace.
Utica, N. Y., June 14.—Floods caused by heavy rains have caused four deaths in this vicinity. Broken dams caused much damage and only for horsemen riding down the valley to warn the villagers many lives would have been lost. Several bridges were carried away.

The Old Division (By N. Down)

We were sitting round the mess room fire, warm, well fed and content. Outside, the April snows did their best to blot out the assault courses and bombing trenches of the training camp.

"Heavens! Isn't it the limit!" he exclaimed, and "I'm not 'in' not 'out there' while the weather is like this."

We agreed with him. Some of us had been away from our battalions now for nearly a year and were anxious to be back in the thick of it once more. Some knew that, however keen they might be, they would never again be fit for service overseas. But not one of us at that moment would have cared for the bodily point of view to exchange the comforts of the mess for the doubtful ailments of a bettered trench half full of water and quite without shelter. The very idea made us shiver in sympathy with our less fortunate brothers.

"Wonder where the Old Division is now, and what sort of time they're having!"

"To us it is always the 'Old Division.'"

"Last time I heard of them they were away back resting, practising the attack and all that sort of thing you know," contributed Reid.

"Looks as if they were 'for it' again," assented Wilson, returning to his seat by the fire.

McDermott unwound his six feet three of lankness, which has earned for him the nickname of Pull Through, and began to talk. "They're back in the trenches again now—I heard from my old batman yesterday. The same trenches as we were in this time last year."

"For a moment or so," one spoke, but the same thought was in every mind. Wilson was the first to voice it.

"But—but surely they can't be thinking of attacking there. Why! man! it couldn't succeed."

How well we remembered that ridge, line upon line of trenches gleaming in the sunlight, half a foot of barbed wire thirty yards thick and four feet high, and on the crest that pleasant village with its red tiled houses and green copes through which every day we used to catch a distant glimpse of a German staff car. Advance there! Impossible!

"I should think not," from Simpson. "Do you remember how we used to say that we were in a 'cushy' spot there, because the Hun would never want to advance from such a good position and we should never be foolish enough to try and capture it?"

"And if we couldn't do it then," continued McDermott, "you could hardly expect the Old Division to do it now. Why since then we've been in about a dozen shows, and lost all the best ones."

"Meaning yourself," broke in Reid. "They never valued you at your true worth, did they Pull Through, after that day you ran into the General round the corner of the trench and you sent him flying."

"Of course I didn't mean myself. But you know how it is after a battalion's been cut up a bit."

"We all did. The best men always seem to go down the first, and how can any be found to take their place? Companies were commanded by former sergeants, one-time lance corporals were now sergeant majors. The constant drain must be telling on the morale. How could the Old Division be as good as it was in our day?"

Reid alone seemed to think differently. "I don't agree," said he. "Though men are constantly changing, raw men taking the place of veterans, the spirit is the same, and what they may lose in men is more than made up in experience and fighting spirit. There wasn't much loss of morale, I can tell you, when we went out to rest after Beaumont Hamel."

"Still, I don't mind betting that if they tried to attack there they'd fail miserably."

"Pull Through, you're a confirmed pessimist. I believe you—"

The entry of the mess orderly with the evening paper put an end to the conversation. Wilson, who was nearest to the table picked up the paper. "Nothing, as usual, I expect," he grumbled as he opened the flimsy sheet, and then "Good Lord! Look at this you fellows, 'British capture Vimy Ridge. Advance on a twelve mile front to depth of two miles!" Jumping to our feet we crowded round Wilson. With thumping hearts we read and re-read the few lines of the official report.

Frederickton, June 14.—The public accounts committee met today and heard from Dr. J. V. Ancliff, superintendent of the Provincial Hospital, and explanation of the accounts relating to that institution. It developed that notwithstanding the great increase in the cost of food supplies the cost of maintenance per head of the patients was some $9 less than was the case a year or so ago. The question of the amounts due from the various municipalities was taken up and particular reference was made to Kent county, which at present owes some $6,000. Mr. Melanson, M. L. A., who is also warden of the county, was asked for an explanation and said there was some dispute as to the payment by the government of an amount owing to the county on small pox account. Ultimately Mr. Melanson undertook to take the matter up with the county treasurer with a view to getting the matter cleared up.

Cool—Clean—PURE It is difficult to describe the difference in taste between a Pure Crystal Spring of running water, and the kind of water we usually drink. It is just as difficult to tell you the difference in taste between CRAVEN "A" and other cigarettes. You must try CRAVEN "A" to appreciate the difference. What we can say is that CRAVEN "A" cigarettes are pure. Nothing but the finest and purest of Virginia tobaccos properly matured and blended. Like spring water, they are cool, clean, satisfying. Neither too mild nor too strong. Neither too light nor too heavy. You can smoke them more freely than the average cigarette, and feel better at the end of a long smoking day. It is a healthier smoke. Its natural purity guarantees that.

could already see what her son began to see, though he may not live to behold it. It is as though these French women had some of them seen and spoken with those abstract verities that the world has earned, and learned from them in a dream that neither France nor Liberty shall die, and that Justice shall not disappear from the nations, though a War Lord banish her in the name of his god.

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

Extract from a letter of a Canadian soldier in France. To MRS. R. D. SAMBRICK: The Rectory, Yarmouth, N.S. Dear Mother:— I am keeping well, have good food and well protected from the weather, but have some difficulty keeping uninvited guests from visiting me.

Have you any patriotic drug-gists that would give something for a gift overpass—if so do you know something that is good for everything? I do—Old MINARD'S Liniment.

Your affectionate son, Rob. Minard's Liniment Co. Ltd. Yarmouth, N.S.

and it doesn't even irritate the skin. Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, all toughened calluses just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful! It works like a charm. Try it!

Women should keep frezons on their dressers and never let a corn ache twice. If a corn starts hurting, just apply a drop. The pain stops instantly.

Genuine frezons are only sold in little bottles packed in a round wood case.

Walking along the line

And there in No Man's Land, if anywhere in the world, may Liberty be dreamed of walking along the line between the flare of the rockets, and the nearest edge of the night, walking and blessing the ruined hamlets of France; for where else in the world has she been invoked before with such great sacrifice of heroic lives.

And now a poor emperor that would rule the world, professes as his war aim a policy that would do credit to the moderation of an elderly lady.

And on the other side of the sorrowful, wonderful land, smiles France, the principal cause of all that imperial jealousy (who would not envy Paris?) the land, where all the women have kind faces and sad eyes. That much the Kaiser has achieved. He has brought sadness on millions. All who mourn will remember him; nor will he be forgotten in his own country. But if it is not only sadness that you see in the French faces, you see quite noticeably—(It is wonderful, how clear it is, again and again one sees the look of calm hope that is almost like prophecy, it is, as though some woman passing you by in a town

Corns Stop Hurting, Then They Lift Out With Fingers

No pain or soreness! Corns and calluses just shrivel up and lift off. It's foolish to let a corn ache twice.

A noted Cincinnati authority discovered a new ether compound and called it frezons and it now can be had in little bottles for a few cents from any drug store.

You simply apply a few drops of frezons upon a tender corn or painful callus and instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can just lift it off with the fingers.

No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying frezons or afterwards.

The Peril of the Moderate Drinker

Like the contemptible German Spy who lived upon our friendship while all the while he was stabbing in the dark, Alcohol in moderate doses is poison. Of course you know that the lining of your stomach is just as sensitive as the ball of your eye. Just try putting a drop of whiskey in your eyeball—keep on doing it off and on for years—think of the result!

If you want to know what is going on in the system of the moderate drinker, look at a man who is dead drunk. Scientists say the only difference is that the drunkard reaches the climax quicker than the tippler. The effects are alike; the first thing Alcohol destroys is the mental power of defence against the appetite for drink. All drunkards begin as moderate drinkers.

Above the falls of Niagara there is a point in the current where each man's strength can yet take him back to safety. Beyond that invisible point he is lost. No man knows where lies that invisible line in his make-up, where ends his ability to say, "I can" or "I can't" stop drinking liquor.

S. A. COMMISSIONER RICHARDS IN THE CITY

Head of Army Operations in Eastern Canada, Newfoundland and Bermuda—Conducted Rousing Meeting Last Night.

Commissioner Richards of Toronto, who has charge of the Salvation Army operations in Eastern Canada, Newfoundland and Bermuda, arrived in the city last evening on his return to Toronto, after visiting Halifax and a number of other places in Nova Scotia.

The commissioner is a convincing speaker and his address was greatly enjoyed by an audience that filled the hall. The boy scouts and girl guides were present, and the united city bands of the army gave several pleasing selections.

PROHIBITION HAS BROUGHT ADVANTAGES

Remarkable Changes Moral and Social Recorded—Prosperity Enjoyed—Business Excellent—The Police Records Show Marked Decrease in Arrests.

The prohibition has brought with it manifold advantages is evidenced by generally agreed opinion in every respect. Its influence has been felt and remarkable changes, moral and social, are recorded.

In an interview with one of the leading citizens closely in touch with social and civic affairs The Standard learned that the measure advanced by the present opposition party spelled great things for the welfare of the community, conceived as it was with the idea of improving New Brunswick's morale, it has passed all expectations, remarked the gentleman.

"We notice its action everywhere. Business is sound and improving. For instance, during the period before prohibition the collection of accounts was a difficult matter, so much money was expended unwisely."

Police Records. The police records show marked falling off in the number of convictions for drunkenness. Weeks have passed without an offender. The total number of persons convicted for drunkenness, as stated by the Chief of Police, D. W. Simpson, during the period from May 1st to the present, totalled only fourteen.

On May 21st there were eighty-five prisoners confined in the jail. Upon June 1st this number had decreased to fifteen, and since that time there have been only three commitments. The record for the month of May, 1916, showed that one hundred and one persons were arrested for being drunk.

Prohibition Comes to Stay. The majority of temperance people streets nowadays is a reality, and the he s come to stay, and argue that the results achieved in the Dominion. Such is the tendency of opinion at the present time among temperance people.

Anti-Conscription Meeting is Talked of. Mayor Hayes has called a meeting on Monday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock in the Board of Trade rooms, of representatives of the various patriotic societies in the city, for the purpose of considering the advisability of holding a public meeting, to give the citizens of the city an opportunity to express themselves on the subject of conscription.

Anti-Conscription Meeting. A few nights ago John W. Bruce, Toronto, general organizer of the Plumbers and Steam Fitters' Union, and James Suggs, a local labor leader, informed a reporter that a meeting against conscription would likely be held within a few weeks on the Market Square band stand.

Subject of Conscription Chief Issue—Labor Leaders State Anti-Conscription Meeting is Talked of. The chief difficulty experienced in accepting men in the United States, according to a high military officer, is in getting them examined. There are about three hundred men now awaiting the medical doctor to be examined.

MEMBERS OF THE CREW CAUGHT SELLING LIQUOR. As Result Those With the Liquor Are Charged with Smuggling—Steamship Seized—Liquor Confiscated. ENROLLED YESTERDAY

Little Tendency on Part of Men to Enlist Yesterday—Dance on the Island—Kilties Away—Capt. Nase Home.

Yesterday was the worst day in the matter of recruiting experienced in St. John for some time. In addition to the name on the honor roll, one other application was accepted.

The Machine Gun Draft require but one man to establish its complement, and it is expected that before the day is over they will have secured their fiftieth recruit. It is not the intention of the authorities at present to stop the Machine Gun Draft from recruiting after it has attained full strength, so it may be that they will remain in the recruiting arena for a considerable longer time.

A delightful evening at cards and dancing was thoroughly enjoyed by the non-commissioned officers, gunners of the 9th Siege Battery and their friends, last night on Partridge Island, fully seventy-five lady friends left the city at seven o'clock for the Island. They were met by the boys of the battery and escorted to the dancing hall.

After spending the evening on the Island those from the city returned on the last trip of the Island ferry. Kilties Left Yesterday. The Kilties Battalion will be at Lewis this morning at 7 o'clock providing they meet with no mishap on the journey.

The Kilties Battalion up to full strength. With another two weeks like the one just past, the indications are that the Kilties will have in the close vicinity of one thousand men in camp this summer.

Eighteen men, who were rejected at the final examination of the 28th Kilties Battalion, arrived in the city yesterday from Fredericton. They will be attached to the special service corps at the West Side.

Capt. Phillip Nase. Capt. (Dr.) Phillip Nase, son of L. T. Nase, 187 Main street, who has spent the last year in France, returned to his home yesterday for a short stay. Capt. Nase was attached to the Imperial Army Medical service and saw very little of the Canadian front. Most of his time was spent with the field ambulance and during the sixteen months he was on active service he saw a great deal of the British front.

Some poor souls will have to go Christy owing to the activities of a customs official at this port, according to a report which was circulated around the water front yesterday.

It is said those having the liquor in their possession were charged with smuggling, the steamer seized and the liquor confiscated. Later it is believed deposits were made by the steamer and those interested and the vessel will be allowed to sail while the affair is being taken up at Ottawa with the customs department.
