LOCAL LEGISLATURE

House Will Prorogue To-day

LIQUOR BILL PASSED

The Bill Relating to Public Domain Still Before The House.

(Special to Events)
FREDERICTON, March 21.—The liquor bill forbidding the transportation of liquor to Scott Act counties was passed to-day also the bill to increase the fees of peddlars. The house will prorogue to-morrow. All the bills have been passed except the one relating to public domain which is having an amendment added in reference to Boom Company.

FREDERICTON, March 20.—Today for the first time this session, the house met in the morning.

The following bills were read a third time: Granting exemption from taxation from J. & C. Hickman's flour and grist mill at Port Elgin; incorporating the St. Croix Water Power Co.; relating to the city of Moncton; relating to the town of Newcastle; relating to the Provincial Hospital.

The bill in regard to the international railway Co was given a second reading as was the Judicature Act.

It was announced by Premier Tweedie that the bill in amendment to the Succession Duties Act will not be passed by the government.

Mr. Allen, from the select committee appointed to consider the Judicature Act, presented a report recommending the bill to the favorable consideration of the house.

In the committee of the whole house the act to extend the exemption of butter and cheese factories from taxation was considered and agreed to, after which recess was taken for a short time.

J. E. Stewart, one of the gentlemen chiefly interested in the Tobique and Campbellton Railway, is here to-day. Mr. Stewart, is making arrangements for a visit to Ottawa of a delegation to place before the minister of railways the claims of the road to government aid. Among those who will make the trip are Messrs. Tweeddale, Burgess and Burns, M. P. P's, and Messrs Stewart and N. H. Murchie.

Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum Itch, Ring Worm, Herpes, Barbers' Itch

All of these diseases are attended by intense itching, which is almost instantly relieved by applying Chamberlain's Salve and by its continued use a permanent cure may be effected. It has, in fact, cured many cases that had resisted all other treatment. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by All Drug-gists.

Does Your Heart Beat

Yes, 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years.

One frequent cause of bad blood is a sluggish liver. This produces constipation. Purgative substances are then absorbed into the blood. Keep the bowels open with Ayer's Pills.

THE NEW WHARF

Work Being Rapidly Pushed Ahead—Fifteen Feet Built

Contractor Glover is making good progress with the construction of the Lady Eileen wharf, considering the weather conditions. The wharf is 30x75 feet and already it has been built to a height of some 15 feet at the outside. Preparations are now underway for the sinking of this section this week.

RESTIGOUCHE BOOM COMPANY

FREDERICTON, March 17.—Promoters and opponents of the bill to amend the act incorporating the Restigouche Boom Company held a conference with Premier Tweedie this morning and consented to the withdrawal of the bill. The question in dispute is to be dealt with by the general act introduced in the legislature by Mr. Tweedie yesterday.

The tobacco jar presented to local curlers by G. W. Allen M. P. P. was won last evening by Dr. Hanney.

The public accounts committee spent this morning going over the accounts of highway superintendents for the counties of Carleton, Charlotte, Albert, Gloucester, Kent and Westmorland. While there was some criticism by opposition members it was shown that the returns submitted under the new highway act are much more satisfactory than prevailed under the old system.

2,500 BRITISH TROOPS HUNTING DOWN ZULUS

Reports from South Africa Say the Situation is Menacing

LONDON, March 20.—Reports from Zululand and Natal says there is continued great anxiety over the menacing attitude of the Zulus, despite the fact that the 2,500 British troops in the field have destroyed several of the natives' headquarters by shrapnel bombardment.

Many of the headmen have made submission to Colonel MacKenzie at his headquarters at Mapamplo, but the real force are hiding in the bush. Reinforcements of troops and artillery have been sent northward from Durban.

Judgment in Loggie vs Montgomery Et Al.

In the Equity Court this forenoon judgment was given in the case of Loggie vs. Montgomery et al. The defendants are Mr. W. S. Montgomery, of Dalhousie N. B., and Mr. Richard O'Leary of Richibucto, N. B. Mr. Montgomery a short time ago purchased a lot of land in Loggieville in his own name, but for himself and Mr. O'Leary with the intention of erecting on the same a store, and of entering into business in competition with the plaintiff. A water pipe from a certain spring to the plaintiff's mill ran diagonally through the lot of land purchased by the defendants. When the latter began to excavate they found the water pipe only two or three feet below the surface, and the plaintiff obtained an injunction to restrain the defendants from excavating alleging that by so doing the water pipe would be damaged. The plaintiff claimed a sole right to the water pipe under two leases and by prescription, but the court held otherwise, dismissing the bill with cost. Messrs. Tweedie & Haviland and Attorney General Pugsley appeared for the plaintiff; Mr. R. A. Lawlor, Mr. Geo. W. Allen and Mr. M. G. Teed for the defendants.—Globe.

THE OPENING

G. G. McKenzie & Co's Store Crowded Monday Night

BEAUTIFUL DISPLAY

Public Greatly Pleased with Beautiful Display of Goods

The grand Spring Opening at G. G. McKenzie & Co's store on Monday afternoon and evening was the most largely attended and successful affair of its kind that Campbellton has ever seen. All afternoon and evening until 10.30 the several departments were crowded with the purchasing public. The store throughout was very tastefully decorated for the occasion and the blending of colors and the arrangements of lights shows Mr. F. Shephard's ability as a decorator. The grocery department in charge of Mr. Jas. Wall also deserves mention. Here the visitors were greeted with a line of goods equal to any in the provinces, and everything was neatly and beautifully arranged. On the second floor the furniture and carpet department also had a share of the decorators attention. Here the refreshments were served. Mr. McKenzie stated that at least two thousand people attended the Opening. Music was furnished by McIntyre's orchestra and everybody speaks well of the programme rendered.

More Deadly Than Famine

Neglected catarrh sooner or later causes consumption which destroys more human beings than famine and war combined. The way "Catarrhoxone" cures catarrh is very simple; it first kills the germs that cause the irritation, then by soothing away the congestion and inflammation it cures the discharge hawking and dropping in the throat. "I suffered so continually from nasal catarrh" writes Ernest R. Dakin of Rosemont "that I scarcely knew what it was to be free from headache and pain over the eyes. Catarrhoxone relieved me at once and made a thorough cure." No other remedy cures like "Catarrhoxone"—try it for your next cold.

A. Q. & W. ROAD

Work will be Pushed Ahead This Season.

John LeMasurier of Paspébiac was in town this week looking up some horses with a view to purchasing. He wants for work on the Atlantic, Quebec & Western railway construction during the coming year. He informed Events that preparations were being made for pushing the work ahead rapidly this season, and a large number of men will be employed. Last year about ten miles of roadbed was graded.

QUICK WORK.

What is probably a record was recently made by I. C. R. men at the runoff that occurred a few days ago one mile west of Dalhousie Junction, on the northern division. Conductor John Doyle's special, east bound, a double header and thirty-four heavy freight cars left the rails at this place. The cause of the derailment was a broken rail and the entire train left the track. The accident happened at 2.20 o'clock in the morning. Conductor Doyle at once communicated with Superintendent Evan Price at Campbellton, who went down to the scene with an auxiliary car and crew. By 6.30, four hours and ten minutes after the runoff had occurred, the entire train was underway again for Moncton. The time included some repairs made to cars and engines which were slightly damaged. The roadbed was considerably shaken up and trackmaster Fawcett with his track crew had the broken rails replaced and the track clear by eight o'clock. Considering the large number of cars that left the rails, the nature of the runoff, and the size of the locomotives, those who are in a position to know consider the replacing of the train and the clearing of the tracks establishes a record in that line and much credit is due the different crews having the work in hand.

CROWN LAND BILL.

Government Measure Presented to Legislature.

TO PROTECT CLAM BEDS

Government to Have Power to Deal With all Boom Companies.

Fredericton, Mar. 15.—By far the most important bill brought before the House to-day—in some ways the most important of the session—was that having to do with the crown timber lands. This was introduced and explained by the Provincial Secretary. Under its provisions a sub-committee of the Executive Council will set in conjunction with Surveyor General Sweeney in carrying out the Government's newly formulated policy in regard to these timber lands. Mr. Sweeney will first place at work a corps of competent men—provincialists if possible, but competent men at all events—to make a careful and complete survey of the lands, divide them into suitable districts, and run the base line, which, as generally known, are of prime importance. These men will also be required to classify the lands and prepare a thorough report relative to them. This report will not only deal with the lands and the timber on them, but also with the various streams in the districts, how they may be made more accessible where access to them is now a matter of difficulty, and how steps may best be taken to make log driving a possibility even during the dry season when the water, in the course of nature, would be expected to be so low as to preclude the carrying on of driving operations. The premier, as he stated on a previous occasion, is confident that men of practical knowledge can perfect plans to render the driving possible at all seasons.

Another duty of these men will be to describe and locate the tracts

A COMPLETE FARCE

Radicals Practically Shut out of Voting in Russia

GOV'T INTERFERED

Attitude of workmen—Troops and Police at the Polls—A Reign of Terror

ST. PETERSBURG, March 19.—As the elections proceed there is more and more evidence of the virtual exclusion from participation of the radical elements of the population. The preliminary stages of the elections will rob the national assembly of much of its national character. Its authority to speak will be absolutely denied by the proletarian organizations, which bore the brunt of the fight for liberty. Complaints of interference and duress in the county districts are increasing. Many flagrant instances are cited of the terrorism of local officials in preventing a free expression of the peasants and often practically compelling the selection of Priests and of village elders. The seeming apathy of the small land owners' assemblies, to which an average of only ten per cent. of the voters were present, is explainable by the feeling that they were not free to choose. The most serious phase of the situation, however, is the attitude of the workmen in the cities, who constitute politically the most developed and most radical faction of the masses of the population.

In spite of repression, wholesale arrests and frequently the exile of their leaders, since the strike disorders many workmen are inclined to reject the advice of the socialists to boycott the elections. The authorities instead of taking advantage of this sentiment and inducing the workmen as a class to participate, have with fatuous blindness openly encouraged their participation where the radical elements are in the majority, thus deliberately playing the game of the boycotters and driving the whole working class into revolt. This was apparent at the workmen's elections in St. Petersburg yesterday.

Carefully collected information from the outlying industrial districts to-day shows that the elections were a complete failure. None of the representatives of the thirty-nine working groups entitled to participate elected twenty out of fifty, seven delegates to the convention which is to select the representatives to the city to the convention. The tatter collection return elects for St. Petersburg six members of the national assembly. In reality the number of workers participating was very small. Where the elections were ostensibly held only 569 out of 21,780 workmen voted, and they almost invariably chose reactionaries.

There was an overwhelming display of troops and police in the districts and places where the men assembled. Some of the men held meetings and discussed the advisability of participating, but the great mass simply withdrew, declaring that during the present reign of terror the designation of their real choice was equivalent to turning over a stone to a police.

In the big Okhta and Moscow districts not a single man has been elected. The railroad employees unanimously refused to vote until the imprisoned members of their organization are released from jail.

PORT DANIEL

An examination of No. 2 School was held by the Chairman and Commissioners on Thursday the 8th inst., there being 53 pupils present, among whom are a great many grown up scholars. The Commissioners expressed their entire satisfaction at the progress of the school and commended the teacher Mrs. N. Dow, very highly for her energy, and successful work. A very interesting feature of the examination was a young man attending said school, who had his right hand accidentally taken off in a threshing machine in November last, and not having received much education in boyhood, is now endeavoring to qualify himself for a position to earn his living. It is remarkable to see the progress he is making, in learning to write and figure with his left hand. The Commissioners report was as follows:—

"At an examination of School No. 2 held at Port Daniel West this eighth day of March 1906, at which the Chairman and Commissioners were present, we find that the scholars attending said school have made good progress, which we attribute to the industry and energy of their teacher Mrs. N. Dow.

TERRIFIC BATTLE.

MANILA, Mar. 9.—An important action between American forces and hostile Moros has taken place near Jolo. Fifteen enlisted men were killed, a commissioned officer was wounded, four enlisted men were wounded and a naval contingent operating with the military sustained thirty-two casualties. The Moros lost 600 men killed.

Major-General Leonard Wood, commander of the division of the Philippines, reports as follows from Jolo, capital of the Sulu Islands:—

"A severe action between troops, a naval detachment and constabulary and hostile Moros, has taken place at Mount Dajo, near Jolo. The engagement opened during the afternoon of March 6 and ended in the morning of March 8. The action involved the capture of Mount Dajo, a lava cone, 2,100 feet high, with a crater at its summit and extremely steep. The last 100 feet were at an angle of sixty degrees and there were fifty perpendicular ridges covered with a growth of timber and strongly fortified and defended by an invisible force of Moros.

The army casualties were fifteen enlisted men killed, a commissioned officer and four enlisted men wounded. The naval casualties numbered 32. Ensign H. D. Cooke Jr., of the United States Steamer Pam Panga was severely wounded in the elbow.

"The constabulary casualties were Captain John R. White, wounded in the thigh severely, three

Women Angriily Aroused

All Over The Dominion

Information from various Provinces of Canada points to the fact that many women have been deceived and induced to use the weak and adulterated package dyes put up by unskilled and unscrupulous manufacturers to imitate the popular DIAMOND DYES.

Our Canadian women, thoroughly aroused, after loss of time, money and valuable materials through the use of muddy, blotchy and weak dyes, have directly laid the blame for their losses on the retail merchants who sold them the deceptive dyes.

This action of indignant women has caused many of our retail and wholesale dealers to pack up and return to the manufacturers responsible, their wares and dangerous dyes.

MORAL:—When ladies decide to do home dyeing work, it pays to use the celebrated and popular DIAMOND DYES, which have been the home friends of the ladies for over 25 years. When buying, see that each package handed to you bears the words DIAMOND PACKAGE DYES. Users of DIAMOND DYES soon become experts in the fascinating work of home coloring, and find that a ten cent package will renew the life of any faded and dingy suit, dress, skirt, blouse, jacket, cape or husband's or son's coat, vest or trousers. Allow no dealer to offer you the something he calls "JUST AS GOOD." No other dyes equal the DIAMOND DYES.

Send your name and address to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, P. Q., and you will receive free of cost new Dye Book, Card of Dyeed Cloth Samples and Booklet of verse, entitled "The Longjohn's Trip to the Klondike."

THE HOW AND WHY OF IT.

"Fruit-a-tives" are the parts of the fruit that do you good. Apples, Oranges, Figs and Prunes are pressed—the juices separated from the tough, woody fibre—and concentrated. Then—and this is the secret of "Fruit-a-tives"—one more atom of bitter principle from the orange peels is forced into the concentrated fruit juices. By this process—one of the most remarkable achievements of the age—the juices are made stronger, and many times more active medicinally. Finest tonics and internal antiseptics are added, and the whole evaporated and pressed into tablets. "Fruit-a-tives" are the greatest tonic, laxative and blood purifying medicine ever discovered.

THE INSURANCE ENQUIRY

The beginning of the Insurance Enquiry at Ottawa saw precisely the same procedure as the celebrated sitting at Albany and the first evidence is disquieting to the policy holder. The Superintendent of Insurance, Mr. Fitzgerald, in his evidence before the Commission discloses facts which go to prove but too plainly that the present insurance law is entirely too inadequate to cope with the problem before it or for the protection of policy holders. Mr. Fitzgerald in his evidence was rather severe on assessment companies, of which class there are four in Canada. The weakness of this system of insurance, he points out, was that these companies depend to collect what they need as they go along. In the early years of these companies the membership was small and the death rate consequently low. The assessments were, in consequence, small. As the companies grew, so did the death rate and so also the assessments. Then it became too heavy; the good members—those who could get insurance elsewhere—began to drop out; those who were impaired remained, and the company's days were numbered. Such companies have no reserve. He condemns this system of insurance and states that no company should be licensed to do business on this plan. It is quite probable that the matter will be dealt with by the Dominion Parliament when the question of amending the existing insurance law be considered.

Already difficulty is being met with in the way of procuring information. An inquiry into the salaries of officers has in some instances been "side tracked" and in others flatly refused. It was this very point which gave the American companies so much cheap advertising in New York recently, broke the heart of the President of one, and sent the officials of the others as fugitives to distant lands, and the very act of refusing to give the information called for will arouse the suspicions of the policy holders. After the scandalous revelations in New York it will not do to pretend that the salaries of insurance officials may not have a direct bearing upon the honesty of the company's management or be a proper subject of interest to the world of policy holders.

The Irish Protestant residents of Quebec decided to walk in the parade on St. Patrick's Day, with their Irish Catholic fellow citizens. This decision was recently reached at a meeting of Irish Protestants, who came to the conclusion that the leading minds of the Irish Protestants and Irish Catholics were now in harmony for the amelioration of the conditions of Ireland. This is the first time in the history of Quebec that Irishmen of all creeds have joined hands to celebrate the National Day.

MAKING THE I. C. R. PAY

"It must be said for Mr. Emerson that he has exhibited more capability in improving the earning power of the national road than any of his predecessors, and the country will be disposed to entrust him with the task of making good his promise that the Intercolonial will eventually be made a first class paying proposition. He has had hard luck in having experienced a heavy loss by the Moncton fire just when his management of the line had brought a surplus of earnings over expenditure in sight, but he has demonstrated that a minister of railways with a reasonably free hand can make the road pay despite the trammels of politics."—Ottawa Citizen.

DISTURBED RUSSIA.

It looks as if there is to be a repetition of the disorders in Russia. While credence need not be given to all the published reports coming from St. Petersburg, it appears to be certain that M. Witte is failing in his efforts to bring order out of chaos, and to give the people a larger share in the government of the country. M. Witte finds difficulties on every side—from the "advanced" section of the people, who think he is not going far enough to secure their rights, and from the powerful section at court, the reactionaries who consider he is going too far. In the cabinet itself are some of his strongest opponents. An instance of the manner in which these men work is afforded by the publication of a pamphlet lately issued inciting the people to murder the Jews, who are declared to be the authors of Russia's woes. The pamphlet was published by the anti-Semitic organs, the Zariah and Novoe Vremya. It was printed with the knowledge of the police, and bears the endorsement of the censorship. Count Witte, who a few days before assured a Jewish deputation that they had nothing to fear, is denounced in the pamphlet as the leader of the Jewish conspiracy to ruin Russia. The prosecuting officials have taken no steps to prevent the sale of the pamphlet or bring the authors to trial. A union of the Russian people, which claims authorship of this appeal to murder, is openly enrolling "patriots" and distributing revolvers. It has been hinted that a cabinet minister is really responsible for the pamphlet, and that it was printed in a government printing office. When M. Witte has a difficulty of this kind in his own official household, he has to take the responsibility for the rigorous, indeed ferocious, way in which the military and civil officers are carrying out the laws in places distant from the capital, and he has to cope, too, with the social democrats and the revolutionaries, who are far from satisfied with the reforms instituted or promised, and who are prepared to go to extremes again. The situation altogether is most unpromising.

The teachers of Fredericton will shortly receive an increase in salary. The School Board and teachers appeared before the City Council and asked for an increase on the ground that they were receiving less pay than teachers of other towns. The Council promptly granted their request, increasing the grant for educational purposes some $2000. Female teachers now receive $400 a year. How does this compare with Campbellton?

MAIL ORDER BUSINESS

On the question of western department stores the Maritime Merchant says:—

"We have investigated department store values as compared with those offered by other good stores and have studied their methods, but we have never been able to find that they afforded a service which the well-balanced, aggressive progressive merchant could not equal, if not outdo, in

Dear Mother

Your little ones are a constant care in Fall and Winter weather. They will catch cold. Do you know about Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, and what it has done for so many? It is said to be the only reliable remedy for all diseases of the air passages in children. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. It is guaranteed to cure or your money is returned. The price is 25c. per bottle, and all dealers in medicine sell.

his own territory, particularly when taking into consideration the fact that it is worth a great deal to the consumer to be able to see and handle the goods before making the purchase. We know that there is lots of money continually going out of the provinces to the big department stores of Toronto; but we venture to say that in most cases, if more of the merchants in the different localities had been alert, a good part of this drain would have become established. Even now, in spite of the department store, the man who works, and thinks as he works, can laugh at all the catalogues that pass his way. The 'Man Behind' is the determining factor."

While the Carnival on Saturday night was a success—the proceeds high as could be expected—the costumes up to the average—still there was something lacking, something which is almost indispensable on an occasion of this kind, and skaters were heard to remark this want. We refer to the absence of music—a band. At one time Campbellton had no less than three bands, any one of which could hold its own against any organization of equal size in the Province. And now we have none. There is still a large number of bandmen in our town, some of the old bandmen have gone away but new ones have come in, and we believe that with the large number of "old players" a band could be organized which would be a success and one of which Campbellton might be proud.

On several occasions within a year the Newcastle and Chatham bands have been in our town, when if we had had a band of our own their services would not have been required, and the cost to the societies would have been much less. We trust that something will be done at once in the matter and that we will have a band that will furnish music during the coming summer.

ESCUIMAC NOTES

A very quiet wedding took place at the Manse on Saturday evening the 10th inst when Miss Melissa Hunter was united in marriage to Mr. Cyrus Gaudin. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. M. J. McPherson. After the ceremony the young couple drove to the home of the bride's parents where they were heartily welcomed by a number of friends. Some of the young folks soon collected and being well supplied with musical instruments furnished an abundance of music some of which though rather inharmonious was much appreciated by all present.

Miss Mattie McKenzie arrived home on Friday from Natick, Mass.

Mr. Duncan Connell of Campbellton spent a few days of late week visiting friends in this vicinity.

Dr. and Mrs. Duchene are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a baby girl at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carmichael are visiting Mr. Carmichael's brothers in Jacques River.

Mrs. A. Glover of Campbellton is visiting her son of this place.

SEEDLING

By W. A. THOMSON CAMPBELLTON N. B.

Warm beneath December snow,
Waiting where thy Master laid thee,
Solemn, silent, trustful, low,
Sleeping in the bed he made thee.
Seedling, quiet is thy rest.
Nurtured for a day of test,

Wake thou under April sun,
Blinking as his ray would blind thee,
Drinking where the pear-drops run,
Pulsing as the God would find thee,
Hasting to thy day of test,
Fled thy gloaming, gone thy rest.

Now the purpose of the resting!
Now, oh mother seed, the testing!
Growing mid the anguish—heat,
Travelling with the life that fills thee,
Strong thy pain, thy dying sweet,
Thy graces in the child that kills thee.

Faintly known the simple life;
Prostrate on the couch He spread thee;
On the sterner way of strife,
Grateful for the course He led thee;
Living to the test He made;
Dying on the cross He laid.

Can I do as good a thing—
Lowly tool in common fielding—
Painward all my profit fling,
Serve my God with equal yielding.
Frone upon His cross he laid,
Live and die the test He made?

McRAE BROS.,
Campbellton, N. B.

Dear Sir—The question of Patent Leather has been discussed so much of late that I have decided to state my position in the matter, principally owing to the large amount of inferior stock (including Patent Cow) which is at the present time being cut into shoes.

I am buying and cutting more CORONA COLT than all the other shoe manufacturers in Canada combined. This claim can be verified by the makers of the stock.

Yours very truly,

Town and Country.

Christy and Mallory hats at Oak Hall.

St. Patrick's storm was just three days late in arriving this year.

We guarantee you hat satisfaction at a small cost.
Fraser Fraser Co. Oak Hall.

The lumbermen are pleased with the recent snowstorms. Every one of them increases the reserve water supply for driving purposes.

The Junior Curlers who played at Chatham and Moncton will be entertained by the young ladies tomorrow evening in the Curlers Rink.

There is a scarcity of clapboards in the lumber market and they are at a premium. Lathes have fallen to $4.35 per thousand and many small operators have lost heavily.

One of the sweetest poems we have seen for some time appears in the March Methodist Magazine from the pen of the Rev. W. A. Thomson, entitled "Our Ship" by Wesleyan.

The tobacco-juice expectorating corner-loader was much in evidence last week, says one of our citizens. The policemen should take a hand in the matter and make them move.

Wm Sproul proprietor of the Royal Hotel received on Monday two nicely mounted moose heads and a hat rack made of three sets of moose horns and one of caribou horns. The mounting was done by Avery Moorhouse Zealand Station N. B.

The Bank of New Brunswick will open a new branch at Moncton on May 1. This will bring some changes. Mr. Williams, now manager at Charlottetown, will take charge of the new office. H. S. Pethick, manager at Sussex, and R. M. Hope, of the head office staff, will become acting managers at Campbellton.

The Twin-Screw Steamer "Lady Ellen" will be in her landing berth at Reeds Point Wharf St John on the 2nd and April to receive cargo for Campbellton, Dalhousie and Bay des Chaleurs ports.

Mr. Robinson, Agent of the "Seniac" will look after the receiving of freight at their sheds.

The bill relating to the Town of Newcastle asking for power to issue debentures for $40,000 for extension of Water Works and Sewerage, laying of Granolithic sidewalks and compel property holders to pay for the cost, to establish a fire district and restrict the class of buildings to be erected therein, and other minor matters was agreed to in committee of the whole house Monday.

Some time ago it was reported that the Curling Rink was weak and liable to collapse. On Monday Mr. Fairweather of St John inspected the building and recommended that iron rods be placed from one side of the roof to the other about nine or ten feet from the ice so as to prevent the roof from spreading, and also that extra wooden stays be added. These necessary repairs will be made in the near future.

A very pleasant time was spent at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Murray on Vaughan St. Portland, Me. Thursday evening. Mrs. Murray was formerly Bella McMillan of New Mills also well known in Campbellton. Some of those who were present are the Misses Annie, Sadie and Etta Campbell of Black Cape, P. Q. also well known in Campbellton. Miss Maud LaFursey and Miss Robinson both of Campbellton, but who are at present in Portland Maine.

The two masted schooner Baden Powell, Capt Sitwell, is ashore at Lower Cove, N. S. The schooner was bound from New York for Sackville with hard coal. She was caught in the drift ice from River Herbert, off Lower Cove, Tuesday night and was driven ashore. The vessel is owned by W S Leggie Co., and it is understood she is insured. A tug from St John went to her assistance on Saturday.

What is considered the largest load of logs ever hauled on the Restigouche was hauled recently from the yards to the landing on Narrows Branch Frog Brook. This is one of the Shive Lumber Co's operation and is in charge of For man Nat Underhill. The load consisted of sixty-five pieces containing 5535 superficial feet of lumber and was drawn by a pair of horses a distance of a mile. The sleds used were the double rocker eight feet wide with corner bind.

The following clipping is taken from the Sudbury Journal of Sudbury Ontario C. W. McMillan the winner of the cup is a Campbellton boy and is well known here.

The final in the inter-rink competition for the Eckardt Cup, was played on Tuesday of last week between skips Sinclair and McMillan, resulting in a victory for the latter by shots. The rinks were composed as follows:—

Walter Marquis at present in the employ of A G Adams & Co. will on the first of May take over the grocery department of the firm. We wish him every success. It is understood that other changes will also be made the same time.

Deputy Game Warden Verge informs Events that he lately received four checks from the Surveyor-general payable to the men who gave information last year in the illegal killing of game cases. Although somewhat late in arriving the checks, which are for one-quarter of the fine in each case, will be none the less welcome. This will be an encouragement to those outside the regular game warden staff to take a greater interest in the protection of our game and cannot but have a good result.

S. A. Poirier is in town making arrangements for opening up a general store in the W. C. T. U. building about the last of the month. He is a native of Shediac, where until about eighteen months ago he did a general trading business on a large scale. He says that he was attracted to Campbellton by reports of its progressiveness and good ahead character and believes that he has not made a mistake in locating here. He is a nephew of Senator Poirier who we understand will visit Campbellton in the near future.

The Rev. E. R. Roy hopes to visit and conduct services at the following places during the coming fortnight:—Thursday 22nd Fleurets Point 7 p. m. Friday Oak Bay Mills at 7 p. m. The young ladies of the "Northern Light" Mission Circle will hold an Silver Social and Handkerchief Sale at the home of Mrs. Robert Keith Sugar Loaf Street on Tuesday evening March 27th at 8 o'clock. A choice programme will be given one of the features of which will be a literary salad and refreshments will be served at the close. A silver offering is requested. There will also be home-made candy for sale.

Everyone will be welcome. Come and enjoy a pleasant evening.

The carnival of Saturday night was well attended by both spectators and skaters and was a great success. The costumes were many and varied. The ladies first prize, a sterling silver comb, brush and mirror, was carried off by Mrs Jos Lussier, who represented the Irish Harpist. The prize for the most original ladies costume was awarded to Miss Jean McLatchy, representing Shamrock III. Wm McKenzie was awarded the gentleman's prize for the best fancy costume. He represented Royal Household Flour.

The death occurred on Tuesday afternoon of Wm. Murray a prominent lumberman at Cross Point. The deceased had been in poor health for several days, and his death came as a great shock to his many relatives, and friends. He was fifty two years of age. Six brothers, Michael, Richard, Daniel, James, Henry and Keas, four sons William and James in British Columbia two at home and one daughter survive.

The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

The last match game in the Curling rink was played last week between the Nova Scotia and P. E. I. curlers, resulting in a victory for the Nova Scotians.

FATHER PURCELL HOME AGAIN

All classes and creeds here were pleased when on Wednesday last it was known that the Rev. and popular Father Purcell had returned home after a sojourn of some weeks in the Hospital at Montreal, where he had been undergoing special medical treatment. During the next two days this popular Clergyman was besieged with callers, all anxious to see the "Good kind Father Purcell again." But it was only on Saturday, the Feast of St. Patrick that he publicly appeared when after High Mass celebrated by his assistant Father Lambert he ascended the Altar steps and delivered with his well-known eloquence and force a sermon suitable for the occasion during which he paid high tributes to His Majesty King Edward VII and Mr. Redmond the Leader of the Irish party.

Sunday the 18th inst Father Purcell again addressed his congregation this time thanking them for their progress and kind inquiries for him during his absence.

He also spoke in a very feeling manner of the late Archbishop O'Brien telling how from a poor country boy and later as a clerk in a small town he by his energy and goodness rose to a position of honor and dignity in the church. He called upon the young men especially to imitate the late Archbishop's example and so like him be an honor to their church and to their country.

The Return of Sherlock Holmes

"You infernal spies!" the man cried.

"If your grace wishes?"

"Yes, yes; you had better go. Now, Mr. Holmes, what have you to say?"

"My friend waited until the door had closed behind the retreating secretary."

"The fact is, your grace," said he, "that my colleague, Dr. Watson, and myself had an assurance from Dr. Huxtable that a reward had been offered in this case. I should like to have this confirmed from your own lips."

"Certainly, Mr. Holmes."

"It amounted, if I am correctly informed, to £5,000 to any one who will tell you where your son is?"

"Exactly."

"And another thousand to the man who will name the person or persons who keep him in custody?"

"Exactly."

"Under the latter heading is included no doubt not only those who may have taken him away, but also those who conspire to keep him in his present position?"

"Yes, yes," cried the duke impatiently. "If you can work well, Mr. Sherlock Holmes, you will have no reason to complain of niggardly treatment."

"My friend rubbed his thin hands together with an appearance of avidity, which was a surprise to me, who knew his frugal tastes."

"I fancy that I see your grace's check book upon your table," said he. "I had a telegram from him last night, and he said that if you would make me out a check for £5,000. It would be as well perhaps for you to cross it. The Capital and Counties bank, Oxford street branch, are my agents."

"His grace sat very stern and upright in his chair and looked at me with a cold eye."

"Is this a joke, Mr. Holmes? It is hardly a subject for pleasantry."

"Not at all, your grace. I was never more earnest in my life."

"What do you mean, then?"

"I mean that I have earned the reward. I know where your son is, and I know some at least of those who are holding him."

"The duke's beard had turned more aggressively red than ever against his ghastly white face."

"Where is he?" he gasped.

"He is, or was last night, at the Fighting Cock inn, about two miles from your park gate."

"The duke fell back in his chair. Sherlock Holmes' answer was an astounding one. He stepped swiftly forward and touched the duke upon the shoulder."

"I accuse you," said he. "And now, your grace, I'll trouble you for that check."

"Never shall I forget the duke's appearance as he sprang up and clanked with his hands, like one who is sinking into an abyss. Then, with an extraordinary effort of aristocratic self-command, he sat down and sank his face in his hands. It was some minutes before he spoke."

"How much do you know?" he asked at last without raising his head.

"I saw you together last night?"

"Does any one else beside your friend know?"

"I have spoken to no one."

"The duke took a pen in his quivering fingers and opened his check book."

"I shall be as good as my word, Mr. Holmes. I am about to write your check, however; unwelcome information which you have gained may be to me. When the offer was first made I little thought the turn which events might take. But you and your friend are men of discretion, Mr. Holmes?"

"I hardly understand your grace."

"I must put it plainly, Mr. Holmes. It only you two of this incident there is no reason why it should go any further. I think £12,000 is the sum that I owe you, is it not?"

"Holmes smiled and shook his head."

"I fear, your grace, that matters can hardly be arranged so easily. There is the death of this schoolmaster to be accounted for which he loathes and abhors as much as you do. The instant that he heard of it he made a complete confession to me, so filled was he with horror and remorse. He lost not an hour in breaking entirely with the murderer. Oh, Mr. Holmes, you must save him—you must save him! I tell you that you must save him!"

"The duke must have been in the room with a convulsed face and with his clenched hands waving in the air. At last he mastered himself and sat down once more at his desk. 'I appreciate your conduct in coming here before you spoke to any one else,' said he. 'At least you may take counsel how far we can minimize this hideous scandal.'"

"Exactly," said Holmes. "I think, your grace, that this can only be done by absolute frankness between us. I am disposed to help your grace to the best of my ability, but in order to do so I must understand to the last detail how the matter stands. I realize that your grace applied to Mr. James Wilder and that he is not the murderer."

"No, the murderer has escaped."

"Sherlock Holmes smiled demurely."

"Your grace can hardly have heard of any small reputation which I possess or you would not imagine that it is so easy to escape me. Mr. Reuben Hayes was arrested at Chesterfield on my information at 11 o'clock last night. I had a telegram from him last night, and he said that if you would make me out a check for £5,000. It would be as well perhaps for you to cross it. The Capital and Counties bank, Oxford street branch, are my agents."

"His grace sat very stern and upright in his chair and looked at me with a cold eye."

this den for three days."

"Under solemn promises—"

"What are promises to such people as these? You have no guarantee that he will not be spirited away again. To humor your guilty elder son you have exposed your innocent younger son to imminent and unnecessary danger. It was a most unjustifiable action."

The proud lord of Holderness was not accustomed to be so rated in his own ducal hall. The blood flushed into his high forehead, but his conscience held him dumb.

"I will help you, but on one condition only. It is that you ring for the footman and let me give such orders as I like."

"Without a word the duke pressed the electric bell. A servant entered."

"You will be glad to hear," said Holmes, "that your young master is found. It is the duke's desire that the carriage shall go at once to the Fighting Cock inn to bring Lord Saltire home."

"Now," said Holmes when the rejoicing lackey had disappeared, "having secured the future, we can afford to be more lenient with the past. I am not in an official position, and there is no reason so long as the ends of justice are served why I should disclose all that I know. As to Hayes, I say nothing. The gallows awaits him, and I would do nothing to save him from it. What he will divulge I cannot tell, but I have no doubt that your grace could make him understand that it is to his interest to be silent. From the police point of view he will have kidnapped the boy for the purpose of ransom. If they do not themselves find it out, I see no reason why I should prompt them to take a broader point of view. I would warn your grace, however, that the continued presence of Mr. James Wilder in your household can only lead to misfortune."

"I understand that, Mr. Holmes, and it is already settled that he shall leave me forever and go to seek his fortune in Australia."

"In that case, your grace, since you have yourself stated that any unhappiness in your married life was caused by his presence, I would suggest that the duchess and that you try to resume those relations which have been so unhappily interrupted."

"That shall I have arranged, Mr. Holmes. I wrote to the duchess this morning."

"In that case," said Holmes, "I think that my friend and I can congratulate ourselves upon several most happy results from our little visit to the north. There is one other small point upon which I desire some light. This fellow Hayes has shot his horses with shot which counterfeited the tracks of cows. Was it from Mr. Wilder that he learned so extraordinary a device?"

"The duke stood in thought for a moment, with a look of intense surprise on his face. Then he opened a door and showed us into a large room furnished as a museum. He led the way to a glass case in a corner and pointed to the inscription."

"These shoes," it ran, "were dug up in the room of Holderness Hall. They are for the use of horses, but they are shaped below with a cloven foot of iron so as to throw pursuers off the track. They are supposed to have belonged to some of the marauding barons of Holderness in the middle ages."

Holmes opened the case, and, moistening his finger, he passed it along the shoe. A thin film of recent mud was left upon his skin.

"Thank you," said he as he replaced the glass. "It is the second most interesting object that I have seen in the north."

"And the first?"

Holmes folded up his check and placed it carefully in his notebook. "I am a poor man," said he as he patted it affectionately and thrust it into the depths of his inside pocket.

CURED HIS WIFE of LA GRIPPE

Quebec Man tells how the Great Consumptive Preventative was an all-round Benefit

"My wife took La Grippe when she was in Ottawa," says R. N. Daise of Northfield Farm, Que., in an interview. "She got a bottle of Psychine and after using it for a few days she was quite well. I took a cold and am using it and am getting all right. I think Psychine is one of the best tonics on the market to-day."

There you have the whole matter in a nutshell. La Grippe and colds are among the forerunners of consumption. This man had one, his wife had the other. Psychine not only cured both but it built them up so that their bodies are strong enough to resist disease. All seeds of consumption are killed by

KILLED AT MONCTON

Harley Cole Killed by Live Electric Wire in I. C. R. Yard.

Harley Cole, son of Mr Edward Cole, the well known ferryman at Dorchester, was instantly killed in the I. C. R. yard in front of the check office about a quarter to five this afternoon.

The death came with horrible suddenness and was the first instance of that kind known in Moncton. It is the second death which may practically be associated with the burning of the I. C. R. shops. The fatality occurred during the necessary work of straightening the wires out.

Mr Harley Cole came into the I. C. R. service about a month ago. He was aged 20 years, steady, industrious and much liked by his fellow workmen.

Shortly before five o'clock the men were straightening one of the poles with the electric wires and he ascended the pole to fasten a guy to the top. In doing this, he must have touched a live wire and formed a circuit. The men who were working at the pole heard him groan and looked up and saw his head thrown back, his body stiffening and sparks coming from the ends of his fingers.

He was instantly dead. Some 2200 volts passed through his body. As quickly as possible the current was shut off and the body taken down and placed in the check office. Coroner Purdy was summoned and will hold an inquest. —Transcript.

Always keeps Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in his house

"We would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is kept on hand continually in our home," says W. Kearney, editor of the Independent, Lowry City, Mo. That is just what every family should do. When kept at hand ready for instant use, a cold may be checked at the outset and cured in much less time than after it has become settled in the system. This remedy is also without a peer for croup in children and will prevent the attack when given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after croupy cough appears, which can only be done when the remedy is kept at hand. For sale by all druggists.

Tumors Conquered Without Operations

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Cases of Mrs. Fox and Miss Adams.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive monthly periods accompanied by unusual pain extending from the abdomen through the groin and thighs. If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once and begin its use and write Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Read these strong letters from grateful women who have been cured:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—(First Letter.) "In looking over your book I see that your medicine cures Tumors. I have been to a doctor and he tells me I have a tumor. I will be more than grateful if you can help me, as I do so dread an operation."
Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—(Second Letter.) "I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine."

"Eighteen months ago my periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician, and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation."

I soon after read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed, the tumor is entirely gone. I have again been examined

THE INTERCOLONIAL SITUATION

The report presented to Parliament, and the speech of the Minister of Railways, touching the improvement of the position of the Intercolonial Railway, are of especial interest to the people of Canada because of the encouragement they afford for the hope that we may yet have a reasonably efficient service on the Intercolonial without a burdensome annual deficit. For that encouragement the Hon Mr Emmerson deserves to be congratulated. The efforts of the Minister and of the energetic Deputy Minister, Mr E M Butler, during the past year have not been in vain. The expenditures have been curtailed, the revenues have been increased, and the deficit for the half-year was reduced to $71,000. All this is encouraging.

Of course it will be said that a half-year is but a short period in which to show improvement; that other facts and figures than those presented will have to be considered before congratulations will be in order, that reducing expenditures by taking off trains or starving the service is poor economy, and that the old story of the cost and expenditure on canals is no excuse for Intercolonial deficits. And all that may be quite reasonable. It is also reasonable, however, to give the Department a chance to show its power to sustain its record for improvement, and if unnecessary trains either for freight or passenger traffic were being run it was right that the service should be reduced.

In the meantime it may be worth while directing the Minister's attention to two or three points in his speech He said:

"This rot about putting the Intercolonial in the hands of a commission in order to escape politics is simply a spurious argument." To call a proposal "rot" may be impressive in Parliament, and when done by a Minister it may pass for sound argument, but to the public it is neither enlightening nor convincing. The tiresome monotony of Intercolonial deficits under Government operation by all sorts of Ministers, Hon H R Emmerson included, has begotten in the public mind the desire for a change, even though the change in Parliamentary language might be called "rot."

Mr Emmerson exclaims "Perish the thought!" at the notion of a commissioner of the type of William Whyte or F H McGuigan managing the Intercolonial in the interest of the people, and without regard to the local politicians and patronage committees. "That would be autocratic," Autocratic forsooth! As though the management of any successful railway anywhere is other than an intelligent autocracy! The Canadian people would submit to an enlightened autocracy rather than to an unnecessary million-dollar deficit or an inefficient service.

A third point is this persistent "free canal" stalking-horse. The low rates and the deficit on the Intercolonial in the Maritime provinces are set over against the free canals in Ontario. In common honesty, who made the Ontario canals free? Who asked that they be made free? Who is benefited by their being free? Who would oppose the restoring of the canal tolls? Certainly not the people of Ontario. And if there is any possible connection between free canals in Ontario and the deficits on the Intercolonial, by all means let the Federal Government tax the canal traffic and so solve the problem of the Intercolonial. —Toronto Globe.

LUMBERING ON MIDDLE RIVER

The Gloucester Lumber Co. carry on a very large lumbering business in Bathurst. This company had 24,000 pieces of spruce and pine logs yarded on middle River, these logs had to be hauled out three miles to a mill. The company not only employed eleven teams to bring the lumber out, but also offered two prizes to the teamsters who would haul out the largest number of feet.

The first prize was $8.00 cash, for the heavy teams, which were driven by John Martell, John Moore, Albert Christie, Geo. Richardson and Paisley Dickie. The second prize was $5.00 cash, for the light teams, which were driven by John Hollywood, Joe Gonnell, Fred Leveque, Wm. Ramsay, Ted Veneau and Joe McManus.

This lumber was brought on a four turn road in twenty days, this being the most work ever done on the North Shore in that length of time.

John Martell won the $8.00 prize, being ahead of the next best by 6000, while John Hollywood carried off the $5.00 prize, being ahead 1100 feet.

Albert Christie hauled the largest load it being 3,265 feet. Geo Richardson brought out the largest number of logs in one day 137 in number.

The road was kept in good repair—there being a water tank on most of the time, and a number of men working to keep them in good shape.

Geo Thibideau, who does the surveying for this company was on the landing and surveyed every log and load that came in, and each night every man's work was put up for inspection.

This was not only the largest of logs hauled to the landing on the North Shore, but in this country.

AN ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

FREDERICTON, N B Mar. 17—J. Layton Ralston, barrister of Amherst, is here in connection with a bill to be introduced in the legislature to incorporate the Maritime Power and Tramway Company, Ltd. The applicants for incorporation are Senator Mitchell, of Montreal, David Mitchell, Dr. C. A. McQueen, of Amherst and Henry Hunter of Westchester. The object is to build an electric tramway from Moncton to Amherst to connect with a system to be constructed in Cumberland County under a charter granted by the Nova Scotia legislature. The proposed capital stock is to be $450,000. The company is incorporated in Nova Scotia under the name of the Maritime Coal and Railway Company with capital stock of two million dollars. In addition to operating a tramway the company propose to generate and sell electric power. The company owns a valuable coal mine eight miles from Amherst, the output of which is to be utilized in supplying power to the tramway.

Mrs. M. T. Doherty of Campbellton is spending a few days at her home here. A very pleasant evening was spent at Mr. W. S. Bateman's on Tuesday last. All the young people of the neighborhood gathered there and were entertained with music, games etc. Mr. Geo. Ronald is working at a frame for his new barn.

THE cost of living is an important thing in most homes. You may have to figure closely in these matters. A little extra on a barrel of flour may look big to you. But there is a difference between spending money wisely and spending it foolishly. Sometimes it is economy to spend instead of to save. It is in the case of Royal Household Flour. Those few extra cents a week, that give you

BATHURST NOTES

It has been a long time since St Patrick's day was celebrated in our little town, as it was this year. Flags were flying on the Custom House, Post Office, Court House, Opera House and Robinson Hotel. At twelve o'clock the Citizens' Band paraded, playing a number of selections in the Village, and at 7.30 p. m. marched up town playing at the Opera House until the doors opened for the concert.

Enough credit cannot be given our young people for the way each one played the different parts in the Drama "Colleen Bawn". The Opera House was packed to the doors, the proceeds $125 was the largest amount taken at any concert given here. The audience was taken rather by surprise as it was hardly expected that the different ones would so well perform their parts. The Orchestra was ably assisted and the music was enjoyed by all. A reading "Daniel O'Connell" by Mr Rupert Rive was very much appreciated.

The play was repeated on Monday night under the auspices and in aid of the Bathurst Orchestra. Quite a large house greeted the performers.

The sad death occurred here on Monday evening of Mr Stanislaus Hachey, janitor of the Custom House and Post Office. Mr Hachey was a young man of sterling character and much respected by all who knew him. His death comes as a great shock to his many friends. About a year ago he contracted erysipelas of the head, and the best medical aid was employed but he never fully recovered and about two weeks ago serious complications set in and it was soon seen that recovery was impossible. Deceased was but 31 years of age and leaves a wife and one child to mourn the loss of a loving and devoted husband and father. He was the youngest son of the late Peter Hachey of the Village. His mother, one brother and ten sisters survive him.

His funeral took place Wednesday morning at nine o'clock to the church of the Sacred Heart and was very largely attended.

The members of the Artisan Society of which deceased was a member marched and the pallbearers were members of the Society. Interment took place in the R C cemetery.

Tuesday's storm was the worst experienced here this winter. The roads are now in dreadful condition especially in the country.

Mr and Mrs Ed Watts of Dalhousie and Mrs Fitzpatrick of Carleton spent Sunday in town with their parents Mr and Mrs Elhatton.

Mr and Mrs Buckley of Gloucester Junction and Miss Buckley of Harcourt were in town on Saturday.

On St Patrick's day a Solemn High Mass was celebrated at 9.30 o'clock in the church of the Holy Family. Rev J Whetton gave a very impressive sermon.

Mrs A J Melanson of Jacques River spent Sunday in town with relatives.

The Caraque train which owing to the storm did not get here on Tuesday arrived on Wednesday afternoon.

TO THE PUBLIC

Reports are in circulation that the concert, which took place in the Parish Hall, Shigawake, Feb 26th, was made for the purpose of collecting a debt owing me by Mr Richard Major. It has been said by a certain party that Mr Major owed me the sum of ($27) twenty-seven dollars, and that I kept that amount out of the proceeds, and Mr Major took the balance in future. Also similar reports to that effect. I wish to say to the public and the evil minded person who made that statement that it is a falsehood, and I can prove it.

My wife undertook to get up a concert for the sole purpose of helping Mr and Mrs Major, whom we both felt great sympathy for, and besides the concert money, my wife collected $20.75 from different gentlemen who called at our house. The concert expenses amounted to $2.25, leaving a balance of $35.00. Mrs Travers and myself called at Mr Richard Major's, St. three nights after the concert and paid Richard Major, Jr., the sum of $45.75 in the presence of his wife, father and mother. Mr Major owed us the trifling sum of $5.50, which he paid me a few days ago.

I think the would-be Christian who started such a foul lie, had better look up the ninth commandment and commit it to memory. There is a homely adage, but quite true that "some people measure their neighbors corn by their own half bushel". It seems to be so, in this case especially. Who but an evil-minded person would ever think of such an unjust thing. What a pity that the world is overflowing with people of this kind, narrow minded, w. ridly and selfish to the core. Ignorance has, of course, a great deal to do with it, and such people have my deepest sympathy. Do they enjoy life any more for trying to poison all the sweetness in it? Do they sleep with an easy conscience for having hurt another's feelings? Or have they any conscience or sense of justice? What is the true definition of happiness? Is it not trying to help one another, trying to ease the burden and lighten the load of those who are more unfortunate? But, Ah me, so many are guilty of the sin of Omission. "It isn't the thing you do, it's the thing you leave undone. That gives you the bitter heartache at the setting of the sun. The stone you might have lifted out of a brother's way. The bit of heart-felt counsel you were hurried too much to say."

Let me say in conclusion, that both Mrs Travers and myself feel we have too many staunch friends who have known us for years, to believe any such foul statement, and that the man who made it is no gentleman. I strongly advise him to shake off that spirit of envy, hatred, malice and all uncharitableness, and try to be a man in every sense of the word.

THE STORM

Of Tuesday was Heaviest in a Number of Years.

HIGH WINDS.

All Trains Were Behind Time But Line was Kept Open.

The storm of Tuesday was a regular old timer and was without doubt the worst we have had for a number of years. The fall of snow was not as heavy as that of other storms this winter but the wind was very high and the snow drifted badly. In the country, the roads are in a very bad condition.

All trains were more or less late on Tuesday and Wednesday, but the line was kept open.

Reports from different parts of the province show that the storm was general and that Restigouche did not get the worst of it.

Lumbermen are glad to have the snow as it will be a big help to the stream drives when the rivers open up.

CROUP IS DEADLY?

It must be stopped quickly. Nothing so sure as Nerviline. Give it internally, and rub it on the chest and throat—cough soon vanishes. No doctor can write a more efficient prescription than Polson's Nerviline, which reaches the trouble and cures quickly. The marvelous power of Nerviline will surprise you; it's the best household remedy for coughs, colds, sore chest, croup, and internal pain of every kind. Large bottles have been sold by all dealers for nearly fifty years at 25c.

SWEENEY TALKS OF PRESERVATION.

Big Game and Forests of the Province Must be Saved.

FREDERICTON, N. B., March 16.—Surveyor General Sweeney delivered a very interesting and instructive lecture under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. here last evening on forestry, fish and game preservation. R. B. Wallace occupied the chair and the audience was large and appreciative.

The surveyor general dwelt at great length on the great value of New Brunswick's forests and fisheries as an asset to the province and thought the time had arrived when the people should be aroused to the great importance of protecting and conserving them.

He referred to the recent forestry convention at Ottawa which he attended and said he was surprised to learn from reports there submitted that New Brunswick was in advance of most of the other provinces in the matter of forest fire protection.

Fire, he said, was the greatest enemy the forest had and in this connection he remarked that if the Dominion Government reimbursed the province for the amount of damage done to its forest lands by fires set by the Intercolonial Railway trains there would be no need of the local government asking for better terms.

All classes of people, he declared shared directly in our forest wealth and should be vitally interested in any measures taken to conserve it.

In discussing the question of fisheries Mr Sweeney expressed regret that the fish dealers in this province had been carrying on an illicit trade in trout. He did not much blame the fisherman as he did those who purchased the fish. He deplored the pollution of our rivers and lakes by sawdust and mill refuse and stated that his department had notified mill owners that the regulations against this unjust practice would be rigidly enforced in future. He also stated that the government would see to it that all rivers on which dams had been constructed were provided with proper fish ways.

Taking up the question of game Mr Sweeney said that it was a well known fact that New Brunswick had more moose than any other section of the continent, barring Alaska. They attracted a large number of wealthy sportsmen to the province, who annually spend large sums of money among our people. For the better protection of game it might be necessary in the near future to establish a reservation, where hunting would be absolutely prohibited. It might also be necessary to have a close season for one or two years.

At the close the lecturer was presented with a hearty vote of thanks.—Transcript.

A Favorite Remedy for babies

Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures cough, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. For sale by all druggists.

LOCAL LEGISLATURE

FREDERICTON, March 16.—The Corporations committee this morning recommended to the corporation to incorporate the St. Croix Water Co. All save three sections were passed favorably. These sections have to do with expropriation by the company and with arbitration of claims against the company in case of expropriation and in case of damage sustained by property because of the company's operation. This afternoon the bill in amendment to the act incorporating the Restigouche Boom Co. will be taken up by the Corporations committee. The bill has aroused a good deal of difference of opinion in the northern part of the province. Hon. A. S. White and A. J. Gregory will appear in support of the bill, while W. A. Mott will oppose the recommendation. It is probable that several sittings of the committee will be required before action relative to the measure is determined upon. The lumbermen here interested in the bill are Messrs. W. F. Napier, George Cutler, D. Champoux, F. E. Blackhall, Geo. McKean, A. H. Hilliard, D. Richards, H. H. Gunter and D. Shields.

The sitting of the Public Accounts committee this morning was a record-maker in point of duration. Three members of the body met and adjourned. This was the extent of business done, though but a day or so ago members of the committee agreed that steady work must be done if the duties of the committee are to be accomplished with proper economy.

This morning Alds. Baxter, Pickett, McArthur, Vanwart and Macrae, with Recorder Skinner, held an extended conference with Col. McLean and H. M. Hopper, representing the street railway. Not much of a definite character resulted from the conference, which was not always marked by complete harmony. This afternoon, however, Col. McLean is to have telephonic conversation with the corporation's directors regarding a compromise route in Carleton, and if the outcome should be as hoped the prospect of an agreement between the city and the company will be within the range of probability. The route proposed is in Guys ward to the ferry and loop in Brooks ward to Lancaster street. The acceptance of this route by the company would be contingent upon the appeal of last week's legislation relative to the removal of snow and repair of streets by the company. The street railway people are now understood to be anxious of not pressing a any section of their bill save that providing for the repeal of the to them objectionable legislation of 1905. The most important provision of other sections makes for an agreement between the city and company whereby a percentage of the company's earnings would be accepted in lieu of taxes. The city representatives will insist on these sections of the measure being retained if the bill is pressed at all. Among some of the legislators there is feeling that the most satisfactory plan under existing circumstances would be to have both the city and the company bills withdrawn and an effort made before the next session of the legislature to bring about some mutually satisfactory arrangement between the two parties.

This morning a delegation from the Fredericton council waited on Solicitor General Jones and discussed with him the question of sewerage passing into the St. John river. Mr. Jones will talk the matter over with the Attorney General before the government opinion is given.
