Japan Reports State That 22 Scientists Have Been Shot by Russians.

Proceedings of the Peace Conference-Russian Scheme for Arbitration Submitted.

London, June 8.-The reports of the breakdown of the Bloemfontein negotiations has created considerable anxiety in political and official circles, and there is much speculation as to the next move of the British Government. While Great Britain probably does not mean war, it is generally thought that, at any rate, there will be military preparations. Right Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, government leader in the House of Commons, in the course of a speech at a political banquet last evening, said that the failure of the Bloemfontein conference was a source of deep regret to the government. It was England's duty, he said, not to allow her rights to be trampled upon, but he did not believe that the controversies were incapable of solution. In concluding his reference to the conference, Mr. Bal-four said: "My sanguine forecast of a successful issue of these troubles is based on the facts that principles so obvious as the elementary rights of civilization, which we demand for our fellow-countrymen, must commend themselves to the citizens of the Transvaal, and I venture to think that the good sense, justice, policy and wisdom of the leaders of public opinion in the Transvaal will make for some settle-ment which will rightly preserve the Russia's scheme for a permanent arbitration tribunal contemplates the institution of a tribunal for a certain number of years, to which will be sub-mitted the obligatory arbitration cases enumerated in article 10 of the Russian project, already published, unless the powers in the conflict agree upon a special tribunal to settle their differences. All cases of optional arbitration may also be submitted, and all the powers, whether signatories or otherwise, may submit their differences to this tribunal by applying to the permanent bureau. Appendices to this agreement provide basis for the organization of the tribunal, rules of procedure and the creation of a permanent bureau to sit at The Hague.

SCIENTISTS SHOT BY BUSSI of scientists, missing for upwards of a month, has been disclosed. According to these accounts, the scientists landed near Tosang, on the Liao Tung Peninsula, to pursue investigations, when they were made prisoners by Russian cavalry and shot as spies, without the semblance of trial, and their apparatus destroyed. There were eleven professors in the party-1 German savant and ten Japanese, whose homes were in Kobe and Tokio. The Japanese authorities will make a thorough investiga-

Hourly Expected in Regard to the Anglo-American Boundary Dispute.

London, June 8.-It is learned by the Associated Press that United States Ambassador Choate is hourly expecting the consent of the authorities at Washington to a compromise arrangement of the Alaskan question on the lines of a prospective settlement, and for carrying on the discussion in the high commissions While yielding in certain matters, it is understood Mr. Choate has been able to effect an arrangement satisfactory to the United States. Wm. Nelson Did Not Throw the Missile.

Weight of Evidence and Character of Witnesses in Favor of the Defense

-Tried to Kill Himself. Wm. Nelson, a highly-respected employe of the Stevens' brass foundry, appeared before Magistrate Parke this morning, charged with having thrown an iron missile through a street car window. He was discharged, the magistrate remarking that he believed him innocent.

Conductor Murphy was the first witness for the prosecution. He swore that witness was standing in the door of the machine shop of the foundry, and that he saw him throw the missile. When cross-examined, witness swore that he had not been discharged for being drunk, as was generally report-Mr. Meredith-Have you not been charged with crime in this court on previous occasions.

The prisoner refused to answer this question. Mr. Meredith-You swear that with your car going five miles an hour you could recognize defendant - a man whom you never saw before.

Prisoner-Yes, sir. Mr. Meredith-You saw a number of others with Mr. Nelson. Can you identify them? Witness-No, sir.

Constable Johnston, who was on duty near the factory at the time, stated that he saw a man's hand go up in the doorway, but could not see the person. He heard the missile strike the car, and went over and picked it up. He saw the defendant sitting in the door-anyone else. Wm. Mason, witness for the defense, swore that he was sitting on the step, and that he could have seen anything thrown from the doorway. He was positive in stating that defendant had thrown nothing, and had not left his

Mr. McKillop remarked here that he hoped all the witnesses for defense were of this class.

Frank Fralick was also sitting on the steps. He saw nothing thrown. He was sure the defendants had never left his Frank Hunt, an employe of the Watson box factory, was on the steps at the time, talking to Mr. Mason. He could see defendant from where he was sitting, but was not acquainted with him. Defendant could not have thrown anything, or he would have seen him do Wm. Nelson, defendant, said he had lived in this city 30 years. He swore positively that he had not thrown a missile of any kind. He was startled beyond measure when Murphy appeared with Sergt. Jenkins and pointing him out, said, "That's the man." Cross-examined by Mr. McKillop, defendant stated that he had never called any words after the cars during the strike. He defied anyone to prove that he had. Mr. McKillop, in summing up, said that it was clearly proved that a missile had been thrown, and that it came from the doorway of the foundry. Allowing that the evidence of Murphy was as that of an interested party, the evidence of Constable Johnston could not be doubted. Mr. Meredith-The evidence of Murphy should carry no weight whatever. Murphy's previous record shows this.

"Then why did not P. C. Johnston go over and catch the person redhanded in the act if he saw the hand throw the missile? Why did he go over first to the car and pick the missile up, and give anyone who might have thrown something a chance to escape? Mr. Nelson's character shows him to have been a law-abiding citizen for 30 years. If the evidence given by a man of Murphy's stamp could be taken to send a respectable man to jail for a term of years on a serious charge like this, then God help the citizens of Lon-

Magistrate Parke, in reviewing the case, pointed out that Murphy's was the only positive evidence for the pro-secution. The other evidence was all circumstantial. "The evidence for the defense," said his worship, "is very strong and complete, and I certainly believe the defendant not guilty of the charge. He is a man past the middle age in life, and has lived as a respectable citizen for 30 years. Not only is the evidence in his favor, but in my judgment he never threw the missile.

Electric Railway Delegation Favorably Received at Ottawa-Look Upon the Subsidy as a Sure Thing.

The Ottawa deputation returned home yesterday, well pleased with the assurance they received from members of the government that a subsidy would be granted for the electric railway from London to Goderich. Mayor Wilson, Ald. Greenlees, Graham, Dreaney and McPhillips represented the council; Messrs. John Labatt, T. H. Smallman and Sir John Carling, of London, and E. Davis and G. E. Hawkens, of Clinton, were also with the deputation. The proposed road will be 66 miles long, running through Lucan, Crediton and Bayfield, and other points not now provided with railway service. It is to be constructed for either steam or electric power. The usual bonus for steam railways—$3,200 per mile—is petitioned for. Mayor Wilson said this morning: "I don't see how we could have been given more assurance that the petition will be considered with favor. Messrs. McMillan, Holmes and Ratz strongly supported it." The delegation are confident that the estimates will include the subsidy. Work will be begun at once on the construction of the new line.

WILL NOT BUILD THE GILES BRIDGE

County Council's Decision of a Year Ago Reversed.

Inspector Dearness' Report of East Middlesex Schools-Estimates by Treasurer McHvoy-Other Matters.

A year ago the county council decided to build a bridge in Caradoc on the Giles site. Last January a motion by S. McLeod and W. Webster to rescind the previous motion, on the ground that it would be injudicious to spend so large an amount for the bene-At of so small a number of ratepayers, was laid over. Yesterday afternoon it bobbed up again, and was finally disposed of after a lengthy and lively discussion. The bridge will not be

In the course of the debate Mr. Grigg said a report in favor of the Burwell site had been "smothered." The warden replied that there never was a report made. Mr. Campbell claimed that an organized clique was working from spite to prevent the bridge being built. This charge brought some warm retorts. The warden presented County Solicitor Purdom's opinion that the council was not legally bound to go on with the building of the bridge. The motion to rescind the previous motion was carried, 10 to 6.

County Treasurer McEvoy presented an estimate of the revenue and expenditure of the county for the twelve months ending June 30, 1900, in regard to matters in the townships of Biddulph and McGillivray, Lucan and e portion of Ailsa Craig. The total estimated revenue is $21,550, made up of $1,150 payable by the city of London on account of the South London deat; $400, a portion of bank interest on general deposit, and $20,000, proceeds of debentures to redeem debentures falling due in 1899. The estimated expenditure consists of $5,909 for sinking fund bylaws; $20,000 to redeem debentures due; $22,509 40, the year's interest on the consolidated debt; $1 20 deficit in levy of 1897-8, making a total of $48,419 60, or $26,869 60 more than the estimated revenue which will have to be levied and collected in 1899-1900.

The treasurer's statement of receipts and expenditures from Jan. 1, 1899, to June 3, 1899, showed total receipts of $96,335 36, including a balance from 1898 of $17,432; and total disbursements of $31,146 96, leaving a balance on hand of $65,188 40.

On motion of Mr. C. C. Hodgins, Janitor William Fletcher was granted one month's holidays.

A complaint from High Constable McLoud that the constables under him were remiss in reporting to him, and a suggestion from Sheriff Cameron that county constables in attendance at be supplied with uniforms, were referred to the jail committee.

INSPECTOR DEARNESS' REPORT. The annual report of Inspector Dearness contained much valuable and interesting information relating to the public schools of his division, which comprises the municipalities of Bid-dulph, McGillivray, Lucan, London township, Nissouri, Westminster, Dor-chester and Delaware. In the hundred school sections of that district $64,129 75 was raised for public school purposes, $3,420 08 of which was derived from legislative grant. The expenditure for all purposes, per school room, was $399 06, of which, on an average, $291 87 was paid for teachers' salaries. This is the lowest average in 25 years, but prospects for the teacher seem to be more hopeful for the next report.

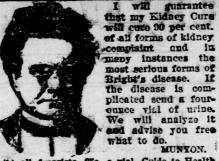

The total school population enrolled was 5,821 and the percentage of average attendance 55. This gives an average attendance to each teacher of duties only for the next few days.

nearly 28 pupils. It appears as if the If the water in all the tanks (fi fashion would return for larger pupils to come in during the winter months to take up bookkeeping, farm mathematics, and literature. Byron school did good work along this line last winter, and although it had the largest class several other schools made a beginning of the same kind.

"As the teacher so is the school," and when there is such abundance of choice it may be added, "as the trus-tees so is the feacher." A good teacher is cheap at almost any salary. A hundred dollars a year is a low estimate to put on a year's education of

Not only the personality of the teacher but also the school environment exercises a powerful educative influence on the pupils. Children are to be pitied who grow up in contented familiarity with broken fences, bare, treeless grounds, muddy door-yards, discreditable water-closets, dingy, blank walls, and whittled and decrepit school furniture. Habits of tidiness, cleanliness, circumspectness of behavior, preference for the beautiful, care for personal and public property are as important as much that may be learned from text-books and blackboard.

The report deals at considerable length with the sanitary conditions of the schools. If the child, on account. of attending school loses appetite and flesh, or becomes nervous, sleepless, of neuralgic, it is not because mental exercise is unfavorable to health, but because of the existence of one or more of the following conditions: Overstudy with insufficient recreation and rest, or bad discipline in the school or unsanitary seating, or lighting, or heating, or ventilation, or drinkingwater, or out-closets. The new school law, giving part of the legislative for full compliance with the regulations relating to the sanitation ful dramatic production in five acts, of the school-house and surroundings, will encourage trustees and rate-payers who desire a beautiful and healthful school house.

It is welcome news that another effort is to be made to put agricultural teaching in the rural schools. Like its predecessors it will assuredly prove a failure if it turns out to be merely the memorizing of some prescribed chapters of a book, with a paper at the entrance examination. To insure its success teachers must be taught the sciences subordinate to agriculture in

EXETER HAPPENINGS

Demise of Two Old Residents-Got Too Near the Euzz-Saw-Dramatic Productions.

Exeter, June 7 .- During the past week two of Exeter's oldest citizens have passed over to the great majority, in the persons of Mrs. George Davis and Mr. Wm. Balkwill, the latter being one of the early settlers, and had been an eye-witness to the growth and progress of Exeter, from a "clearing in the forest" to the present. Mr. Balkwill had been an invalid for the past few years and was in his 70th year at the time of his death. His remains were laid to rest in the Exeter burial ground on Wednesday. His bereaved wife and two children, Mary and William, have the sympathy of the whole community in their affliction. Mrs. Davis emigrated from county Devonshire, England, about 15 years ago with her husband, and by her thrift and good manage-ment in household affairs assisted him in securing their cosy home on Gidley street, where she so suddenly passed away. A stroke of paralysis shortly before 6 a.m. Saturday was the first indication of her short illness, and by the time Mr. Davis had called their daughter, Mrs. Demeray, and notified other relatives of the family, the seriousness of her case was fully realized, and she lasted only a few hours. She was a loving wife, a kind mother, a good neighbor, and a member of the Church of England. Her work and influence had been for the good of Trivitt Memorial Church, Exeter, in which the funeral service was read by Rev. Mr. Ten Eyck. The suddenness of her demise created much heartfelt sympathy for Mr. Davis in this his sad bereavement.

While Mr. A. G. Dyer, of the firm of Dyer & Howard, Exeter planing mills, was working at the rip-saw on Monday, his second and third fingers of the left hand came in contact with the saw. The saw wouldn't stop, which resulted in the tips of his fingers being it is thought, have a bad effect for the badly lacerated. Mr. Dyer will have to be content with attending to his office If the water in all the tanks (fire water tanks) is as putrid as it is in the tank beside Spackman's general store, Exeter may boast of having a number of hot-beds of fever and diphtheria inside the corporation. A few evenings ago the firemen had the steamer out for practice, and pumped from the tank in question, and to say that the stench of the putrid water was stifling would be putting it severely It is certainly a matter for the mild. council to look after at once.

During the heavy rainstorm, which was accompanied by so much thunder and lightning on Monday, the fiery fluid ran down the electric wires lead-ing to the chancel of the Trivitt Memorial Church and burned out two of the electric lamps. The shock occurred during the funeral service of the late Electrical and wind storms are very prevalent this season. Exeter has had both this week.

Our street commissioner has been doing a good work during the past week. With the assistance of the county scraper, the back streets have been put in splendid condition. A force of men with spades and shovels have gathered up the refuse and loose dirt on Main street, which is now being carted With clean streets, beautiful away. shade trees, hustling business men, and a sociable community, is it any wonder that Exeter is so much admired by the traveling public?

THE STRIKING TRACKMEN

Find a Defender in Rev. Dr. Spencer, of Brantford-The Situation Shows No Improvement.

Brantford, June 8 .- Rev. Dr. Spencer, of Brantford, has come out boldly in support of the striking trackmen. In an address to his congregation, he said it was a shame that men should have to work out of doors in all kinds of weather, nine, ten and twelve hours a day for less than a dollar, while men in high places were having their salaries increased by thousands. It was no wonder the men rebelled. The oppressors deserved to be boycotted and the trade given to cleaner hands, he said. Montreal, Que., June 7.—The executive committee of the Grand Trunk trackmen is still in session here, and tonight it is claimed that nearly all the men on the system have again gone on strike. The executive say that no settlement will now be considered unless it is in writing. The Grand Trunk officials apparently do not at-tach much importance to the latest development, and say that they, can get all the men they require. They deny most emphatically that any promises were given.

Kingston, Ont., June 7.—The striking trackmen refuse to sign the document to reinstate them. The men and constables here for a week or more have resumed duty.

Montreal, June 7.—The intervention of the Conservative members of parliament in the G. T. R. strike does not seem to have been effective. Organizer Lowe stated with considerable emphasis and force this morning that when he went to Ottawa on Friday last it was the intervention of Sir Laurier that he asked for. He had an interview with the premier, but as Sir Wilfrid Laurier has not given publicity to what occurred he feel that it would be improper for him to do so. Reports from the two sides are contradictory, the men saying that the strike is on tighter than ever, and the officials declaring that they are not aware of any general movement among the men to go on strike again. In the neighborhood of Montreal scarcely a man who was allowed by the company to resume work has come out a second time. In the western centers the case is different. A considerable number have again come out, but the men are everywhere indignant and angry at having been fooled, as they regard it, into the belief that they had won a victory. The management regard the strike as over. The who have come out the second time have nothing to look for from the company, who say that what with the new labor they have secured during the time the strike was in active operation and those who returned to work and have remained faithful they have practically all the men required for their purposes at present.

Toronto Globe: The plan of campaign of the Grand Trunk Railway Company in the present strike was fully revealed last night, when another effort was made to induce the men to return to work, and at the same time to smash the organization of the brotherhood. A formal recognition of the strength of another brotherhood at this time would, company upon the negotiations which are being carried on with the other organizations. The old trackmen are wanted back, but not as members of a

AT TORONTO.

Yesterday John Armour, chief clerk in the office of Roadmaster O'Dell, carried a message from the company to the men, asking them to return to work at once. He said that the complication of Monday was a mistake. His offer was rejected by the men, but later in the day there were renewals of this offer, and finally towards night the men were asked to meet the general roadmaster at a late hour in the Union station for the purpose of a conference. Fifteen of the men went to the station and met Mr. Ferguson and Mr. O'Dell. The discussion of the situation was a prolonged one, and after it was over none of the officials could be found. The trackmen, however, were in a high state of enthusiasm, Chairman Low, of the local branch of the brotherhood, who was present during the interview, said that offers of wages considerably in excess of the increase that has been asked were made upon condition of the men returning to work at once. The general roadmaster, it was stated, had offered the trackmen $1 50 per day each if they would again take their places, and Chairman Low said he had received notice that he would be made a roadmaster, with wages at the rate of $2 per day, if he would again enter the service of the company. The members of the deputation relieved themselves of a number of grievances which they had against their old roadmasters, who, among other things, would not give them the benefit of overtime, and they were told that no intimation of the treatment that the men had received had previously been allowed to reach the general roadmas-ter. The men refused the advances made to them, but Chairman Low was given until 7 o'clock this morning to consider the proposition made to him. The company, however, still mainis not to an appreciable extent affected by the strike, and several letters were produced in the su-perintendent's office yesterday from strikers who asked for work to be given them. HAMILTON DISTRICT.

Hamilton, June 7. - The secretary of the local branch of the Grand Trunk Railway trackmen has received the promised letter from Chairman Pole of the striking committee at Montreal. The document states that the understanding arrived at with Manager Hays was that all the strikers were to resume work, and the committee accordingly feels that the company has broken faith with the employes. The men report that the strike in this vicinity is just as effective as ever, and that the company has but very few men at work on its roadbed and tracks.

A NEW MAGAZINE PISTOL.

The Kalser's Army Has Been Supplied With the Latest Invention in Automatic Repeating Firearms.

The German army officers are armed with a new magazine automatic revolves, of which wonderful things are expected. It can be used either as a pistol, or fastened to a gun stock treated as a small rifle. It is believed to be one of the most ingenious of the many automatic guns. revolvers, etc., that use the recoil to perform a number of mechanical actions. A charge in the new revolver consists of ten cartridges grouped together, and these can be discharged with greatest rapidity, one after the other, by means of the mechanism.

Each shot sets up this train of events. The movable breech is thrown back and the extractor rejects the empty shell, the carrier brings a fresh cartridge into position, the hammer is thrown up ready for the next shot, and a sp ing pushes the cartridge into the chamber and with a slight pressure this is fired and the revolver goes on working automatically until the ten shots are fired. The magazine is easily filled, it taking no more time to place the ten cartridges in their case than it takes to insert a single cartridge into the chamber of an ordinary revolver.

The case of the revolver is made in such a way that it can be fastened to the handle as a gun-stock, and turn it into a rifle. The bullet of hardened lead weighs 51/2 grammes. The base has a jacket of lead with nickel. The calibre is 7 mm. 63. The muzzle velocity is about 1,400 feet a second. In trial the bullet has gone through a ten-inch pine target 33 feet away; at 500 feet it penetrates four inches of pine; tried on cadavers at 1,000 feet, it has gone through the body, breaking the humerus, and penetrated three inches into a second body. The sight is graduated to 2,000 feet, but the weapon will throw a bullet 4,000 feet.

KENSINGTON PALACE.

Recently Given by Her Majesty as a Public Museum.

Kensington Palace, which Queen Victoria recently presented to the people of the United Kingdom as a public museum, is valuable because of its association with English history. It became a royal residence in 1690, when King William III. bought it from Lord Nottingham. The King paid $150,000 for the stately pile, and the famed architect, Sir Christopher Wren, added another story, "se that," as the historian puts lit, "the house seemed somewhat patched." Queen Anne took it up and made additions here and there, which accounts for the remarkably heterogeneous appearance of the building to-day. The first George stuck a cupola upon it, and the second odded the west wing. The son of George III. died here, and there were many other deaths in the quaint building, but there was never a birth until that of Victoria. In the northwest corner of the dwelling is a room with three windows looking toward the gardens and the plate bearing this inscription, "In this room Queen Victoria was born May 24, 1819." Few public buildings in London are more interesting than old Kensington.

Poverty of Roman Nobility.

The sons and daughters of the princely families of Rome are said to have a pretty hard lot. They are generally very poor, yet they have to live in enormous houses and keep up a tradition of magnificence. The young men drive in degearts which, according to rumor, are owned jointly by a dozen of them. The young women are to be seen driving on the Pincio arrayed in stylish hats and coats, wearing good gloves and carrying pretty parasols. "And yet," says the English correspondent who is responsible for this gossip, "their distrait expression shows that they are uneasy in their minds. The particular form of guilt which burdens their souls is a dread that some one will invite them to descend and stroll about the bandstand, revealing the fact that their coats or waists, and their boots more open to criticism than their gloves.

Bowel Made of Gold Nuggets.

A most unique punch bowl was recently made in San Francisco to be sent to British Columbia as a token of appreciation and good feeling on the part of the Yukon miners toward Captain Constantine, of the Canadian Mounted Police. It is a massive cut-glass bowl, with a heavy but artistic standard formed of more than 500 nuggets of gold soldered together just as they came from the placer beds of the Yukon region. This unique tribute to the Canadian official is strikingly suggestive of the golden wealth of the Klondike. Owing to the develop-ment of gold in the Yukon region Canada now takes high place on the list of the gold-producing countries. Our contribution for 1898 was nearly $14,000,000, and the probabilities point to a largely increasing production in the Yukon mines during 1899.

Facts About Insect Mabits,

Summarizing the habits of insects, Dr. L. O. Howard finds that the injurious kinds include those of 112 families that feed upon cultivated and useful plants, and of one family that are parasitio on warm-blooded animals. Among the beneficial kinds he places those of 79 families that prey on other insects, 82 families that act as scavengers, two familes that are useful only as pollenizers, and three families that supply food for fishes. There are 22 families that centain both injurious and beneficial forms, and 49 familes of undetermined status.

The Cockneys faded the bright green of the Maple Leafs yesterday, and incidentally lost a little of the soreness caused by the double defeat at Guelph. There was a good attendance and everybody was interested in the Guelph team, which had not been seen here before this season. There were several familiar figures among them, but none of the visitors attracted quite so much attention as Carey. It was not exactly Carey's day, and when he began ragging Lohman, the crowd came back at him unmercifully.

Cooper was in the box for London and though Guelph found him pretty readily the Londons' superb field work kept the visitors down to five hits. three of which were secured by Grimshaw and two by the hard-hitting pitcher Johnston, each of which made two two-baggers. In spite of these two strong batters, however, the Guelphs would have been shut out but for two errors by Babbitt. In Guelph's second inning Cogswell reached first on a bad throw of Babbitt, stole second and scored on a two bagger to left field by Johnston. In the seventh. inning, Johnston again made a twobase hit, this time to right field, got

In the third inning, Cooper reached first on a scratch hit, and went to second on Johnston's bad throw to first. Howell got a base on balls, and went to second on Mohler's single. McFadden's lone hit to left scored both Cooper and Howell. In the sixth Jones reached first on Francis' error, and came home on a two-bagger to right by Frank, which took everybody's breath away, as it was Frank's second hit of the sea-

STRATFORD WINS! Stratford, June 7.-The game today between Stratford and Chatham was a sort of free-and-easy affair, although up to the sixth inning Stratford was putting up a creditable game of ball. Through some costly errors Chatham managed to secure six runs in the sixth inning. Both teams seemed to have their batting clothes on, as between them managed to knock out no less than 27 hits. Out of this number Chatham had 14 and Stratford 13. Chatham had one two-base hit and a three-bagger, while Stratford had three two-baggers. Although Chatham had double the errors Stratford had, by a they seemed to occur at times when buy.

they did not count for much, while Stratford's were at critical times, when they meant runs. The outfield of both teams played rattling good ball, but the infields were a little off color. The feature of the game was Handiball's reaching third on a bare hit. Barber, who drew a pass to first, did the same thing. The umpire's decisions were a little better today. The score. R. H. E. The Trackmen's Strike.

The striking trackmen of the Grand Trunk do not want for friends at court. Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced in the House yesterday that when informed of the strike he placed himself in communication with Mr. Wainwright, deputy superintendent of the Grand Trunk. The trackmen also waited on the Premier, and submitted the terms to which they thought they were entitled. Sir Wilfrid promised that he would use his best endeavors to promote their views, and he transmitted the trackmen's statement to the Grand Trunk, recommending a favorable consideration of their case. Sir Wilfrid confessed that his sympathies were strongly with the men, who were striking to better their circumstances, and he would deem it his duty to exercise the influence of the Government in their favor, so that the trouble might be speedily ended.

With members of both the Government and the Opposition tendering their good offices, the trackmen may look forward with hope, and we feel sure the Grand Trunk management will accept in the proper spirit any overtures from so influential and disinterested a quarter. This is a mattter in which the public are directly concerned, and which they hope will be quickly and satisfactorily adjusted.

The Dreyfus Case. The news is that Dreyfus has actually embarked for France. The ship that carries him brings to France the most precious benison that she has received for many a long day. The simple facts of this extraordinary case, which nearly wrecked the French Republic, and which stirred the whole civilized world, may have been forgotten by some of our readers in the mass of complications which have recently ensued. Dreyfus, at the time of his downfall, was a French artillery captain, a diligent, hard-working officer, with an unsullied military record, and a good reputation in private life. It became known about five years ago that treason was lurking somewhere in high military circles, as important in- London's experience, Stratford appears formation was being communicated to to be making a mistake. a foreign power. The secret service, to save its reputation, was bound to fasten the crime on somebody, and Dreyfus was selected as the victim. He had the misfortune to be an Alsatian by birth and Jewish by descent-two accidents which mark any man out for unonularity in France. At any rate, Dreyfus was disliked by his colleagues, and they were only too ready to believe ill of him. He was found guilty of high treason by a secret court- London is so largely mixed up with martial and was condemned to lifelong the work of social reform, that women imprisonment on Devil's Island, a lonely spot off the coast of French Guiana, South America. After his conviction he was publicly degraded in Paris, the buttons of his uniform being cut off, and his sword broken by officers, in the presence of thousands of spectators, who hooted and execrated the supposed traitor. He did not flinch during the awful ordeal, and stoutly proclaimed his innocence. Luckily, he belonged to a rich family, who never lost faith in him and never ceased to work quietly in his behalf, although it seemed a forlorn hope. Suddenly Zola, the author, electrified the world by his famous indictment of Major Du Paty de Clam and others in high places, whom he accused of having vilely conspired to compass the ruin of Dreyfus, an innocent man, and of having as vilely endeavored to cover up the traces of their crime. Zola was flung into prison and fined after a sham trial, and was finally compelled to flee to England to avoid further persecution. Col. Picquart, for merely expressing belief in Dreyfus' innocence, has been languishing in prison for months. The tremendous influence of the army and the Williamous passions of anti-Semitism and Chauvinism were leagued against the Dreyfusards, who for a time appeared to be overwhelmed. The sensational arrest and suicide of Col. Henry, who was charged with forging documents which were used to incriminate Dreyfus, came as a thunderbolt into the ranks of the anti-Dreyfusards, and created a revulsion of public sentiment, which had been almost wholly with the military element. The final blow to the injustice was dealt by the Figaro newspaper in publishing the evidence lately given before the Court of Cassation. After this testimony, which was wholly favorable to Dreyfus, had been made public, the court, whether it wished or not, could bring in no other verdict than it did. It ordered that Dreyfus should have a new trial, and of the result there can be little doubt. Esterhazy, an army officer and notorious profligate, has also confessed that he is the author of the bordereau, which experts had sworn was in Dreyfus' writing. The bordereau is a memorandum showing the writer to have had treasonable relations with a German military attache in Paris. Esterhazy and Du Paty de Clam are undoubtedly guilty of the crime for which Dreyfus has suffered, as traitorous as these two scoundrels. The heart of all humanity leaps for joy at the rescue of Dreyfus from a living death, and at his restoration to has devoted wife and family. The wonder is that his reason did not give way long ago under the agony of his situation. His vindication is one of

but France is haunted by the suspicion that others of even greater rank are all history of the power which truth and justice have in themselves to work through darkness to the light.

Our Eastern Trade.

While Canada is moving to increase her commerce in every part of the world, it is interesting to note what our competitors over the border require to add to their trading capacity in the East, according to Mr. John Barrett, recently United States Minister in Siam. This observing American asserts that if the United States is to hold her present trade not only in China and the Philippines, but in all other countries bordering on the Pacific, there are several most important considerations which should receive the attention of those in author-1. The Nicaragua Canal should built without further delay. cable should be laid across Pacific, touching at Hawaii and the Philippines, as well as having branches to China, Japan and Australia. 3. Better, larger and faster steamers should be placed on the Pacific and reasonable subsidies for carrying the mails should be given to the lines making the best time and providing the best ships. 4. American banks or connections of great American banks should be immediately established in such representative places as Yokohama, Shanghai, Hong-Kong and Manila. 5. At some central point, like Shanghai, a permanent first-class exhibit of American products should be maintained. From this list of "pressing needs" it will be seen that in some respectsnotably in the possession of fast steamships-Canada is ahead of her neighbor. If we only had the Pacific cable established, as originally contemplated, the United States could help to pay for it by giving it traffic, and thus save itself the expense of building another. The matter of aiding trade with Eastern countries, by establishing ample banking facilities, may well engage attention in both countries.

Depend upon it there will be much trade between the Pacific ports of Canada and the Far East if we intelligently go about promoting it. But we must remember that we have keen competitors both in the adjoining republic and in Europe.

The fact that nearly all the people of London walk these days is another argument for durable sidewalks.

Stratford has declined to buy its waterworks system. In the light of Toronto's assessment has fallen from $150,834,000 in 1893, to $126,676,608 in 1899. That does not mean that Toronto is retrograding-the wind is merely being taken out of inflated values.

The British House of Commons has voted to make women eligible for Old London. Municipal government in will have a congenial sphere of duty.

Gov. Pingree of Michigan has recommended the State Legislature to abolish the sugar bounties. The governor advocated the bounties a year ago, but has now discovered his mistake. There are wiseacres in Ontario who want the Government of this country to fall into the same trap.

A few years ago, we had a dehorning commission and the question is still regarded by some persons as unsettled, despite the recommendations of these experts. A correspondent of the Bureau of Industries of the Province of Ontario, however, who has his farm in Howick township, Bruce county, expresses the opinion that any farmer can dehorn cattle without fear of injury by taking a quart of lye and boiling it till it becomes dry and hard, or nearly so and becomes a caustic potash, when it may be bettled for use. His recommendation is to clip the hair of the calf around the incipient horn when the animal is a day or two old, and with a swab made of cotton about the size of a lead pencil apply a drop of the potash to each horn. A black scab will form, and when this comes off there will be no vestige left of the horn. Should there be, a second application will complete the work. This is simple and effective, the correspondent says. It is a humane, as well as an easy, operation. The trouble is that some farmers put off the dehorning process until the horns are too long.

What Others Say.

The Trackmen's Strike.

[Hamilton Spectator.] The trackmen's strike seems to be of the "off again, on again, gone again"

Sensible Methodists,

[Hamilton Herald.] In deciding in favor of the abolition of the billeting system, the Hamilton Methodist Conference has struck a rich vein of common sense. There is no good reason why delegates, ministerial and lay alike, should not pay their own way or have their expenses paid by those who send them.

The Origin of Bloomers. [Vancouver, B. C., World.]

It may be of passing interest in view of recent occurrences in England to note that this is the jubilee year of the bloomer movement. It was in 1849 that the first bloomers were worn in public, the wearer being Mrs. Elizabeth Smith Miller, a well known Washington lady. The movement spread to London, where a bloomer ball was held in 1851, amid something very much like a riot. The movement took its name from Mrs. Bloomer, editor of the Lily,

Anna Gould's Grotesquerie.

[Brooklyn, N. Y., Times.] To Americans the most pathetic thing about the uprising, and also the most amusing, is the fact that the Comtesse Boni de Castellane, who was formerly Misc Anna Gould, and a sister of our Helen, placed herself at the head of the young royalists and marched up and down the race track shouting "Vive l'Armee." Since the shepherd's daughter of Orleans came to the rescue of Charles in his attempt to drive the troops of Henry VI. out of France, there has been nothing quite so grotesque even in French history as the daughter of the Yankee mousetrap peddler leading the old aristocracy of France in a crusade for the restoration of the old regime.

FARMERS EXONERATED

Not to Blame for Crooked Practices in Packing Apples-Ottawa Notes.

Ottawa, June 3.-The time and attention of the House of Commons has been occupied repeatedly this week in discussing the prospects of the International Joint High Commission when it reassembles. Everyone who has followed current events with even moderate attention is thoroughly well aware election as aldermen or councilors in that when the last adournment took place the statement was officially made that a hitch had occurred over the adjustment of the Alaskan boundary, and that the adjournment had been made sufficiently long to enable the matter to be thoroughly reviewed by both the Imperial and the United States governments in the hope and expectation that a settlement might be reached. This statement has been repeated several times by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his fellow commissioners, and adhered to absolutely in the face of all kinds of wild rumors to the contrary. Sir Charles Tupper has now discovered that there is excellent reason to hope for a successful outcome of the negotiations, and he hastens to assure the government of his cordial

THE FARMERS EXONERATED. In a recent letter I referred at length to evidence given before the agricul-tural committee of the House of Commons which showed that considerable crookedness had been practiced in the packing and shipping of apples to the Britsh market. The matter was fur-ther discussed at some considerable length in the house this week, when it was pointed out that the farmers personally were in no way responsible, inasmuch as their fruit was purchased the country an inestimable service in it is proposed to settle in large numby jobbing middlemen who did their own packing. It is, of course, satisfactory to learn that the farmer is not to blame for the extreme folly, to say nothing of the dishonesty, of the course that is complained of. It is scarcely necessary to add, how-ever, that it is just as im-portant as ever that every effort should be made to stop this fraudulent packing. The British buyer does not distinguish between producer and packer. If he buys Canadian apples and they prove unsatisfactory, he blames the country and its traders as a body, and wants no more to do with them. The minister of agriculture rendered interior, into the condition of the Finns gain.

so emphatically calling attention to the matter, for, as he said, the government's agent in England had proved conclusively that the accusations were true, and whoever was responsible had done a great wrong to the dominion and had endangered the large trade which Canada had built up by honest methods, and which had resulted in a great deal of good to the country. With reference to the investigation which is being made by Professor Mayor, of Toronto University, under pecially with direction of the department of the her navy.

THE BEST ON EARTH.

So Says Robert Meikle About Dodd's Kidney Pills.

London, Ont., June 5 .- Robert Meikle, a member of the staff of the Star Dining Hall, is kept busy answering the questions asked him by his many friends at present. They all want to know how he recovered from what, the doctors said, was a fatal attack of Diabetes.

And he invariably answers: Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, when every other earthly means failed. They are the only medicine on earth that can cure Diabetes, and they do cure it

ment reserved. At Osgoode Hall, Toronto, before Judges Armour and Street, re Ontario Mutual Life Assurance Company and Fox-McEvoy, London, for Trimble and Stevens, the American claimants of certain insurance moneys paid into court by the company, appealed from an order of Rose, J., in chambers, reversing an order of the master in chambers, and directing payment out of such moneys to the Canadian claimants, John Fox and R. and J. Fox. The insurance was upon the life of James H. McRoberts, and was made by him when he lived in the village of Lucan, in the county of Middlesex, but he afterwards removed to the State of Illinois, and acquired a domicile there, and died there. The policies were assigned by McRoberts to R. and J. Fox to secure advances made by them, but only one of the policies was in their possession when McRoberts died, the other being in possession of McRoberts himself. The appellants claimed as the foreign administrator of McRoberts' estate and as purchaser from the administrator, R. and J. Fox claimed as assignees for the amount of their advances, and John Fox as the Ontario administrator of the estate. Rose, J., held that the assignees were entitled to the possession of both policies, and that as a matter of law the policy in the physical possession of the insured was not to be regarded as in his possession, and the Illinois administrator was not entitled to it as bona notabilia to be administered in Illinois, and the assignee from him took nothing under his assignment. W. D. Mahon, of Detroit, president of the Street Railway Employes' Union, and J. T. Marks, of London, delivered addresses at an open meeting of workingmen, held in Green's Hall, Hamilton, last night. They spoke on the London strike, and urged the workingmen to become organized. Philip Obermeyer also spoke, and urged all union men to give what assistance they could to the striking trackmen. The Street Railway Employes' Association of Hamilton met at midnight and gave $50 toward the London strikers' fund, and agreed 25 cents a week for members for the same purpose, as long as the strike lasts. Mr. Mahon and Mr. Marks both addressed this meeting also.

HOW LONG? A citizen asks The Advertiser a few difficult questions re the street railway strike as follows: "How long is this matter to be allowed to stand? We are getting tired of seeing phantom passengers in empty cars, flitting about our streets. Will not our principal business men get together and bring such pressure to bear on the people who have obtained our franchise gratuitously, as will compel them to come to their proper senses and act with becoming generosity to those who have worked for them, and give them at least fair and decent treatment? It is hurting our city to have strangers see these empty cars. It has been strongly and numerously expressed during the last few days that change in the managership would be productive of much good."

The members of the county council took union busses to reach the camp grounds last night. This is pay day with the street rail-way strikers. Each man received $5 from the Amalgamated Association. There will be a mass meeting on the Grave Character of the News From South Africa.

Comments of the Leading London Journals on the Situation.

London, June 8.-The advices received here today from South Africa emanating from British sources, show more completely the utter failure of the recent conference at Bloemfontein between President Kruger and the British high commissioner, Sir Alfred

The London afternoon newspapers all refer to the dangerous situation.

A dispatch from Matjesfontein says Sir Alfred Milner's proposals included granting the Uitlanders additional seats in the Rand district, and President Kruger, under pressure, finally offered three additional seats. The British high commissioner thereupon pointed out the inadequacy of the president's proposals, adding that he had come to the conference in the hope of being able to inform her Majesty's Government that the president of the Transvaal was prepared to afford such liberal measures of reform as would enable the Uitlanders to help them-selves and relieve the government of their obligations to intervene in order to redress particular grievances.

Throughout, it is added, President

Kruger sought to use the franchise proposals as the means of obtaining a promise to settle the differences under the convention by arbitration, and the British commissioner refused to treat the two subjects as interdependent, taking the ground, that internal reform in the Transvaal was necessary in any case in order to preserve the indepen dence of the republic, and as regards arbitration, there were certain questions upon which it could not be admitted, while on other questions arbitration was possibly admissible, provided a suitable tribunal was suggested, not involving the introduction of a foreign power, which the governments would never allow.

The Standard says: "The situation is grave and critical to the highest degree. All hope, with Mr. Balfour, that the Transvaal will permit us to adhere to the path of friendly admonition, but if stronger measures are required they will have to be taken. President Kruger had his chance during the past few days. It is pretty nearly the last that can be allowed him."

The Daily News says that the responsibility resting on the British Government is very grave. It is necessary to obtain a settlement, but the hope of obtaining it by a friendly conference at present has disappeared.

The Morning Post says there is no way of securing the Transvaal's acceptance of the British terms except lute difference of opinion between two nsiders vital.

Policy of Obstruction Adopted by the Opposition-Anxious to Stave Off the Redistribution Bill.

[Special to The Advertiser per C.P.R.] Ottawa, Ont., June 8.-The appearance of the House of Commons this morning recalled the days when the franchise bill was under discussion, in 1885 or still later, when the late government tried in 1896 to force through the remedial bill in its dying days.

On both these occasions the opposition were fighting two important questions which were known to be at variance with good government and the popular will. The franchise act of 1885, notwithstanding that it was greatly improved by that long sitting, has since been repealed. The remedial bill was a death blow to those who introduced it. The all-night sitting on this occasion is a very different one. It took place in ostensibly discussing a legal instrument which contains nearly a hundred clauses of leasing that portion of the Grand Trunk to give the Drummond County Road an entrance to Montreal. It has been days under discussion, and the debate is now on the third clause. No objection has been taken to the principle of the proposition, and the cost has not been seriously attacked. No attempt is made to disguise the fact that the opposition is pursuing

A POLICY OF OBSTRUCTION. imagining that in this way the government will not go on with the redistribution bill.

When the discussion started on the third clause of the agreement last night there had been a whole day's discussion previously given to it. At 2 o'clock an all-night's session was apparent. Messrs. Blair, Fielding, Sifton and Mulock remained all night. Clarke Wallace did heavy work for the opposition. Mr. Foster left at 4 o'clock. Mr. Montague, held the fort all night, and was sound asleep in his seat when Sir Hibbert returned this morning. Sir Charles Tupper went home early, and did not return until All the talking was, of course, on the opposition side, and very little had reference to what was before the chair. Mr. MacDonald (P.E.I.) was talking in the early hours of the morning, when someone dropped a remark in French. "Mr. Frenchy," retorted MacDonald, in his rich Gaelic voice, "you had better close up at once, or if I get my Scotch, I will keep you here all day."

About 6 o'clock Mr. Marcotte gave a speech in French. Among the speakers this forenoon were Messrs. Montague, Sir Hibbert Tupper, Davin and At noon, Mr. Davin had the floor.

Mr. Mills could not vote intelligently, he said without more intelligently, he said, without more information.

SHAM BATTLE A SUCCESS

Major-General Hutton Was Pleased-General Review Tomorrow, With a Possible Half-Holiday for School Children.

The sham fight which took place along the north branch of the river this morning was the most practical and the most realistic ever held in this military district.

The Twenty-eighth Perth Battalion, under Lieut.-Col. White, Major Moscrip and Capt. Jamieson, occupied a strong position on the top of a bluff on Jackson's farm. Back of the bluff was a small woods. All the other battalions, including the cavalry, constituted the enemy. The cavalry made a direct attack on the center to cover the main infantry attack on the left. The storming of the position was a magnificent spectacle. The din of the volley-firing was terrific and continuous. The wild rush of the cavalry, and the swift, steady, scythe-like movement of the red and black lines, with their glittering arms and shining helmets, was exciting, and impressive. Major-General Hutton complimented the officers, and expressed gratification at the excellence of the marchout, and of the attack and maneuvers. The men were served with lunch at the close of the engagement.

Tomorrow there will be a general review on Carling's Heights. The officers have expressed the wish that the public school children should be given a half-holiday tomorrow in order to witness the review and learn lessons of patriotism.

RISE AND FALL OF PRICES. It is interesting to note the rise and fall of bicycle prices during the last 21 years. In 1877 the highest grade wheels sold for $92 50. In 1883 the price had advanced to $142 50. Two years later the "ordinary" reached its highest value, and the best grade sold for $150. In 1887 the price had dropped to $130. The rear-driving safety made its appearance in 1888 at $135, and four years later, when pneumatic tires were added, the price was $150. From 1892 the price steadily declined until 1897, when the standard figures were $100. The following year the advent of the chainless again raised the price to $125. Present prices are $75 for the best chainless and $50 for the best chain wheels. Prices probably have reached the lowest point, and future values will likely tend upward. This view is

"And by a most extra-or-di-nary coincidence, we both married clergymen!"

"Another evidence of the perfect harmony of soul existing between you. Did I understand you to say that the lady of whom you are speaking is not

I was there in May, and the climate and flowers-especially the wealth of roses, reminded me of sunny Provence. I became quite well ac-quainted with Mr. Kirke. CHAPTER VI.

Mr. Wyllys was careful not to repeat his visit within a week. He could trust to the natural growth of the seed he had sown, and he was too politic to appear solicitous, on his own account, for the resumption of cousinly intercourse between the houses of Baxter and Kirke. He did not overrate his influence with the would-be leader of Hamilton society. Four days after his party call he had a letter from Jessie. Dear Cousin Orrin,-I inclose a letter received last night from Mrs. Baxter, wife of the president of Marion College. She is, I have learned from this, my nearest living relative, outside of my mother's first cousin. I never heard of her until the arrival of this communication. My father knew her years ago but did not remember whom she had married. I little imagined when I lis-tened to Roy's praises of his friend, Dr. Baxter, that I had any personal interest in or connection with his family. Mrs. Baxter writes, you see, in an affectionate strain, and is urgent in her erately and with less emphasis than with her. "Here is an example of hereditary transmission that would stagger Wendell Holmes himself!" thought Orrin, scanning the epistle, letter by letter. "The chirography of the girl who could not write at the time of her mother's death, is precisely similar to bers-as similar as it is unlike that of the sister by whom she was educated. It is a nut to crack for those who carp at the idea that hand-writing is a criterion of character, who attribute variety of penmanship to educational influences entirely. What has my fair 'kinswoman' inherited from her matronal progenitor besides her features and carriage, and these sloping, slender Italian characters, I wonder? EXCURSION

North Middlesex Farmers to Visit State Agricultural College.

The directors of the North Middlesex Farmers' Institute have arranged for an excursion to the Experimental Farm of the neighboring State of Michigan, so that the farmers of North Middlesex may have the opporfunity of comparing the aims, methods, results and expenditures of our wideawake American cousins with those of our own province. Through the courtesy of Hon. Hazen S. Pingree, the popular governor of the state and the kindness of Prof. J. L. Snyder, the genial president of the State Agricultural College, the farm, consisting of 676 acres, the college, the buildings, the machinery and the equipment of this his efforts to settle the difficulty would truly magnificent institution, in the be unremitting, and at this moment equipment of which the State of Michian has expended over half a million of dollars, will be thrown wide open to the inspection of the excursionists and the large and able college staff will gladly afford every possible informaand we know that Middlesex farmers are sharp enough to pick up

THE STRIKE OF THE TRACKMEN

The True History of the Negotiations Explained

By Sir Wilfrid Laurier-Mr. Powell's Misunderstanding.

Ottawa, June 8.-The true history of the negotiations concerning the Grand Trunk trackmen's strike was brought out yesterday when the subject was discussed for some hours. Mr. W. F. Maclean, who made his first appearance in the house this session, introduced the topic, and, after the First Minister and Hon. A. G. Blair had narrated the history of their efforts to bring about a settlement of the difficulty, it was seen that the administration had been actively though quietly endeavoring to act as adjuster between company and men. Messrs. Powell, Clarke and Taylor, the M.P.s, whose successful endeavors in the their own statements to have shout-ed before they were out of the bush when they announced the successful culmination of their labors. Ever since the strike commenced Sir Wilfrid Laucase, and Sir Wilfrid was in commuwith Mr. Wainright, general assistant tration. manager of the G. T. R. The former placed in the hands of the First Minister a formulated statement of their grievance. The first minister promised the strike committee that he would do all in his power to bring about a reconciliation and was working to that end when he learned that Messrs. Powell, Taylor and Clarke had offered their aid to the strikers. Thereupon Sir Wilfrid wired to Mr. Wainright, supposing, as he said, that his servvices would no longer be necessary. Mr. Wainright's answer was to the effect that the prime minister had been misinformed in some particulars. Learning that the members of parliament already mentioned had gone to Montreal to interview Mr. Hays, Sir Wilfrid mailed to Mr. Wainwright the trackmen's statement of grievances, accompanied with as strong TO LANSING that the trackmen's grievances be inquired into and rectified. With this to be believed it will be very large has, and I am writing you this letter prime minister, if he found himself misinformed in respect of the situe-

Now that the strike has resumed, however, it will be good hear-ing for the strikers to be told, as Sir Wilfrid did tell the house and the country yesterday, that his personal sympathies are strongly with the men, who, after having taken the most strenuous method possible to accentuate their demands, are conducting themselves with disretion and moderation. Wilfrid states that even though the efforts of Messrs. Powell, Clarke and Taylor have proved abortive he had no word of blame or censure for anybody concerned. Sir Wilfrid promised that be unremitting, and at this moment

SAFETY OF THE PUBLIC. The minister of railways also showed that his efforts have been directed to the same end as those of Sir Wilfrid, and that, in addition, he had looked to the safety of the traveling public, after having been advised that without the services of the expert trackmen the running of trains was fraught with menace to travelers, by sending out a corps of engineers to report on the condition of the roadbed. Mr. Blair's promptness in thus doing his utmost to safeguard the interests of the traveling public must go far towards renewing public confidence in the safety of trains on this line, but, as the minister pointed out, there was a possibil-

Mr. Powell then advised the men to return to work, and he found that the engineers gave the trackmen the same advice. Powell was positive that Mr. Hays had consented to take back all the strikers, but Mr. Hays stated on Monday that no such pledge had been given. Mr. Pow-ell then wrote Mr. Hays, protesting against this, but the general manager replied, and still holds to the decision, that the application of each man must be considered individually. This is just what the situation is now.

More than a score of members discussed the subject, with the result that it was shown that there exists at least a misunderstanding between Mr. Hays and the strikers' committee as to the basis of return.

Every housekeeper in the city will receive a cake of soap, being a miniature sample of the standard size, sold by our grocers, who will supply one, or see that it is received if any are overlooked. It will take some two weeks to make this distribution in the manner described.

The Advertiser has printed some excellent productions of illustrated advertising of this firm, sent out by the McKim & Co. agency, of Montreal. It is to be hoped that housekeepers will see that they are used according to directions.

All the troops on Carling's Heights have been found to be of the best possible "stuff," and are eligible to fight any time and anywhere. The with Valenciennes lace and insertions second brigade inspection was completed yesterday morning by Maj .-Gen. Hutton, whose words on the occasion were full of encouragement for both officers and men, so far as their movements were concerned. The general addressed the brigade at the conclusion of the inspection, in which he After the company had sat down to gave all some good advice. He also rebuked those volunteers who had taken part in the strikers' parade on Tuesday evening. The general pointed out and emphasized the fact that no soldier, which they are held. Mr. Screaton is no matter who he might be, was privione of the most popular travelers in leged to take part in any parade, other than military, in the Queen's uniform. The troops are reminded that as British soldiers their duties are not only to defend their country, but to maintain law and order, and that under no circumstances whatever while wearing her Majesty's uniform can participation in such disputes be tolerated. Military medical men have no hesitation in saying that the health of the generally has been better than at any previous camp. A false impression has been created by the number of men who were under treatment last Tuesday. There were some 42, but among these cases there was nothing more serious than a bilious attack, headache, or those affected by the heat of the sun, and the greater number were suffering from the latter. Major-General Hutton has had every facility used for the treatment of the sick, and the result of his management is apparent. There have been no cases in the hospital, says Sergt. Copeman, the intention of this company to for a longer period than three days, except in the case of Ninham, who broke his collar bone. Principal Medical Officer Belton has heard many strange stories about deaths in the camp. These rumors are as utterly absurd as they are false. Last evening a message came to The Advertiser from Detroit asking for the particulars of a member of the Twenty-first Essex Fusiliers, who had died at the camp hospital of smallpox. Three women in one of the union 'busses yesterday talked all the way down town in a sympathetic manner about the two men who had died at the camp and had been sent home yesterday. To make this story more realistic, they related circumstantially all that had happened, while a fourth woman put in "that another had been found dead." Just how these stories started is a mystery to the medical

in them. PRETTY "AT HOME." Lieut.-Col. Gartshore and officers of the First Hussars gave a pretty "At Home" to their many friends yesterday afternoon, which was attended by about 200 guests. The officers' mess was luxuriously decorated with palms, foliage and flowers, which made it a bower of beauty. This scene was enlivened by the pretty costume of the ladies and the gay, full-dress military uniforms of the men. Refreshments were served in endless variety by Owen Mooney, chief caterer of the officers' mess. There was as great quantity as there was variety, and nothing was left undone which might be in any way conducive to the happiness of the guests. Among those present were Major-General Hutton, Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Smith, Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Buchan, Rev. Canon and Mrs. Dann, Mrs. Hon. David Mills, Capt. Bell, Major Mutrie, Mrs. Brown-Smith, Mr., Mrs. and Miss Macfie, Mrs. and the Misses Gibbons, Mrs. W. M. Gartshore, Miss Bayley (Detroit), Surgeon-Major and Mrs. Piper, Mrs. B. and the majority of the senior officers in camp. THE TWENTY-SIXTH PRAISED. The officers of the Twenty-sixth Midllesex Light Infantry last evening tendered a dinner to the members of the county council. The officers appreciate the kindness of the council, to the good offices of which they are indebted for the comfortable quarters they have in camp, and which has made them the envy of all other bodies. The remarks that fell from the lips of the officers of other battalions must have been a source of gratificiation to the county council of Middlesex, and they have reason to be proud of the fine battalion which represents the county. No doubt that next year the example set by the Twenty-sixth in the matter of mess-tables for the men will be followed by all other battalions.

BROKE HIS NOSE. The most serious accident that has occurred among the soldiery during the last two weeks happened last night in a football match, when Pte. McDougall, of No. 1 Company, of the Twenty-first Essex Fusiliers, received a kick in the face, which broke his nose.

THE ROUTE MARCH. The tented town on Carling's Heights this morning presented a very deserted appearance, as all the men had marched off to battle. The route march to Richmond street was witnessed by thousands of citizens, who crowded the sidewalks along the line of parade. The First Hussars led the way, and these were followed by the Twenty-sixth Middlesex. They made a most creditable showing, the marching of the Twenty-sixth and the Thirty-second Bruce, under Col. Scott, being specially commented on by the spectators. Hundreds of people went out on wheels or in carriages to watch the sham battle on the north branch of the river. The bright sunshine, the freedom from dust, and the comparative coolness of the day, furnished ideal conditions for a grand spectacular display. A DINNER PILL-Many persons suffer excruciating agony after par-taking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healing nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion.

Mushroom raising is a profitable business. Dr. Wm. Watson, of Chester. Pa., produced 4,000 pounds of the vegetable in his hot-house during the past winter, the bulk of the plant being sold in New York and Washington at about 80 cents a pound.
