SITUATION IN THE EAST.

United States Forces Leave the—City of Peking.

Russians Have Fought Over Twenty—Engagements in Manchuria—Irretrievable Condition of the Country.

Peking, May 6.—The United States cavalry and artillery left Peking yesterday to march to Ton Ku. Impressive farewell ceremonies attended their departure. Sir Alfred Gaselee and the other British generals, with their staffs, were present, and the British commander sent a detachment of Baluchis, who escorted the Americans outside the city wall.

COUNT WALDERSEE MAY LEAVE—IN JUNE.

Berlin, May 6.—"In view of the favorable development of events here," says the Peking correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger, "it is possible that Count Von Waldersee will return home about the middle of June."

RUSSIAN OPERATIONS.
St. Petersburg, May 6.—The Ruskaya Invalid publishes details of the recent operations in Manchuria. The North Manchurian division, under Gen. Zverev, fought over twenty engagements, losing altogether 24 men killed and 7 officers and 61 men wounded. A quantity of guns and rifles was captured. The total result of the operations in the three bands which at the beginning of the year were menacing the peace of Manchuria, two have been annihilated, according to the Ruskaya Invalid, and the third, after sustaining a number of defeats, is being pursued by the Russian division.

FIRED ON BY GERMANS.
Tien Tsin, May 4.—Some German soldiers, who were guarding a bridge across the Pei Ho River, at the south end of the British concession here, fired on a British tug, the Ego, this morning, wounding two of her crew.

The bridge impedes river traffic and the tug touched it.

The ministers and generals have agreed upon the Pei Ho River improvement commission.

THE IMPERIAL COURT.
It is reported at Shanghai that famine will make it impossible for the Chinese court to remain longer in Peking, and that the court is now only waiting for the astrologers to fix an auspicious day for beginning the journey to Kai Feng Fu, in the Province of Ho Nan.

CHINA'S ABILITY TO PAY.
Owosso, Mich., May 6.—Dr. W. S. Ament, who has just returned from Peking, said last night regarding the demands of the powers for $327,000,000 to reimburse them for loss of property and lives: "The Chinese can never pay that amount. It is altogether too great. I was informed by Minister Conger on our last voyage home that the demands would undoubtedly be for less than has been announced. I think China could probably pay $200,000,000 if given a long period in which to prepare for it. The Chinese will not, however, until guaranteed by the nations, such I believe will be their policy."

TERRIBLE CONDITIONS.
New York, May 6.—The latest mail from China, says a Washington special to the Tribune, has brought to the state department new proofs of the terrible and perhaps irretrievable conditions which exist under the foreign military rule in North China, involving a situation not hitherto fully realized in Washington, and utterly unappreciated in the United States generally. The character of the information which has now come into the administration's possession is summarized in the following extracts from a most trusted official in the service abroad, and mailed from Peking a month ago. It says:

"The question of raising the indemnity, though one of the most serious

AT MELBOURNE!

Arrival of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York—Enthusiastic Welcome.

Melbourne, May 6.—The Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York landed on the steamer Ophir at 2 o'clock this afternoon.
The duke and the duchess were received at the pier head by Lord Hopetoun, governor-general, and state and federal ministers. The party passed down the quarter of a mile of carpeted pier and entered carriages and proceeded a distance of seven miles, through brilliantly decorated streets, bordered with almost continuous lines of stands filled to their utmost capacity. The entire route was lined with demonstrative crowds amid elaborate decorations. Opposite the town hall the procession passed beneath the Queen's arch, canopied with the royal colors, and sheltering a golden statue of Queen Victoria. Twelve thousand troops were in line there. There are eighty thousand visitors in Melbourne. The drive terminated at Government House.

BIG BATTLE IS EXPECTED!

Boer Force Under General Delarey May Face the British Troops.

Unconfirmed Report That Col. Denison, With a Patrol of Scouts, Has Been Captured—Mrs. (Gen.) Cronje Has Become Insane.

London, May 5.—A dispatch from Johannesburg, dated May 3, says: Gen. Delarey, the Boer commander, has now four of five thousand men in the hills around Hartbeestfontein. Gen. Babington, in command of the British forces in the district, is without a sufficient force to attack, and is observing the Boers, while Gens. Methuen and Rawlinson are converging hither. A battle appears imminent.
New York, May 6.—The report that a force of Boers is concentrating under Delarey at Hartbeestfontein is regarded with a feeling of satisfaction in London, according to the Tribune's correspondent.

The Standard expects as a result to hear of another surrender on a scale of Prinsloo's. The British force should far outnumber the Boers, and as the latter must by this time have lost practically all their guns, Delarey cannot have any artillery with him. This fact alone should place him at a great disadvantage.

MRS. CRONJE INSANE.
Amsterdam, May 6.—Advices from St. Helena say that Mrs. Cronje, wife of the noted Boer general, who is with her husband on the island, has become insane owing to her experiences in the war and her life in her prison home. She imagines she is ex-Empress Eugenie.

REPORTED CAPTURE OF COL. DENISON.

London, May 6.—"News has arrived here," says the Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Express, "that Col. Denison, with a patrol of scouts, has been captured. The location of the mishap is not known in Cape Town." The Genca correspondent of the Daily Mail asserts that President McKinley has informed Mr. Kruger that he cannot receive him either officially or unofficially.

THE "WEARING AWAY" PROCESS.
London, May 5.—Gen. Kitchener's businesslike inventories of ammunition and stock captured and Boers killed, wounded and taken prisoners confirm for the Chinese Government, is not paramount. All the people who are likely to know declare that the Chinese question can stand no greater burden of taxation than in the past, so the question resolves itself largely to reducing the expense of collection. Another proposition for meeting the indemnity is to grant lucrative mining and industrial concessions to foreigners, but that means bartering their independence and laying up endless trouble for the Chinese, who are quick to recognize the fact.

"If the whole horror of the murder and pillage done between Tien Tsin and Peking comes to be understood in the United States and in Europe, the sum of it is so great as compared to the number of Christians who have suffered at the hands of the Chinese, that, rightly or wrongly, the Chinese are likely to be held the injured party. Lancers wantonly impaling little children by the wayside in the streets of Peking are some of the least of the and to some foreign soldiers a dead Chinese Christian is just as satisfactory an evidence of no quarter as a dead Boer—they neither know nor care for such trifling distinctions.

"The allies, even if they could agree, could not set up an administrative machinery of their own for the empire. They must restore the power to some native party, and the quicker they do it the better for China."

ONE MILLION CHINESE PERISHED.
"The Chinese estimate that one million of their people have lost their lives by violent deaths or starvation about Peking and Tien Tsin since the allies came. Well-informed foreigners

A GREAT COAL DEAL.
Cleveland, O., May 6.—A special to the Plaindealer from Columbus says one of the largest deals in the history of the coal financial world is now on, and that all indications are that it will be brought to a successful close before the end of another week. The deal includes all the leading mines in the Hocking Valley coal field and a number in the Sunday Creek district. The transfer has been engineered by agents of J. P. Morgan.

KILLED INDISCRIMINATELY.
or driven out of their homes to become bandits. We should have thought that one of the first acts of the foreign administration after Peking was relieved would have been to strengthen the Chinese civil authority and make it responsible for the preservation of order. But what magistrate can be expected to remain at his post and exert himself to put down opposition to foreigners, when at any moment a foreign lieutenant, with a handful of troops may come to him and demand a sum of money on pain of having his town burned down in case of refusal?

A DESERTER DROWNED.

Watertown, N. Y., May 6.—Sergeant Frank Kelly and Gunner Campbell and Dolan of Field Battery "A," of Kingston, Ont., who, with Bombardier McNally, were reported drowned in the St. Lawrence River in a dispatch from Kingston, were located here Saturday night. Dolan said that with James McNally they left Kingston intending to desert. When near Garden Island, McNally repented and said he was going back to Kingston and gave himself up. In trying to turn the boat McNally capsized it and was drowned. The other men escaped by swimming and succeeded in reaching this country.

The reported purchase of the Dominion Line by J. P. Morgan is denied by the management.

HAVE YOU GOT YOUR DOG A TAG?

If Not, Have an Eye Out for the Dog Catcher.

Nearly a Thousand Homeless Dogs Roam the Streets of London.

A Suggestion for Doing Away With the Evil—Abolish the Tax and Allow No Dogs on the Street.

At the very lowest estimate, London has one dog for every 30 of its population. Putting it in another way, if all the dogs in this city were rounded up together they would form a regiment over 1,300 strong. Of this great army barely 400 wear the little brass tag which indicates that their owners have paid their license fee. Inspector Bell gives it as his opinion that there are from 900 to 1,000 unlicensed dogs of all descriptions roaming about London at their own sweet will. Should you chance to be a householder and to have undertaken to make a garden this spring, you will understand what these figures mean. If there is a greater nuisance in the community than the wandering, homeless cur, it has not yet been discovered. He is in a class by himself; no other creature that moves and has its being on the face of the earth can do more mischief in a given space of time. In the daytime, while you are downtown trying to corner enough money for your wife's spring hat, he digs up your favorite flower bed to bury a bone; goodness knows why he doesn't chew it up, for he looks lean and hungry enough. At night when you are resting in the bosom of your family, he brings a party of his friends around to your back yard and discusses topics in general and the brutality of men in particular. All the dirty tykes for blocks around hear, and put in their views, and the upshot of the matter is that your wife has to send the children away to bed lest they hear your language.

When the homeless cur is not engaged digging up your garden or keeping you awake at night, he is frightening women and children, or getting run over by a street car, or throwing someone off a bicycle; and through it all he wears a never-changing expression of "Alas-abuse-is-my-lot!" The dog, after all, is not to blame, but, rather, the person who permits him to roam about bothering his neighbors. Inspector Breckenridge, of Toronto, would overcome the difficulty by making a law prohibiting dogs on the streets at all unless they were on a chain. He would do away with the license fee altogether, and make the owners of dogs keep them tied up in their back yards if they want them for protection.

The average owner of a dog is strangely inconsistent. He refuses to pay the modest tax which the city ordinance imposes, and abuses the dog catcher who, in doing his duty, corrals the pup. The indications are that the dog catcher's task will be a heavy one this year. He will probably receive more than his share of abuse, but he will have the assurance that a long-suffering public will bless him for clearing the streets of tramp dogs.

A Warning.

To feel tired after exertion is one thing; to feel tired before is another. Don't say the latter is laziness; it isn't; but it's a sign that the system lacks vitality, is running down, and needs the tonic effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It's a warning, too—and sufferers should begin taking Hood's at once. Buy a bottle today.

If your children moan and are restless during sleep, coupled when awake with a loss of appetite, pale countenance, picking of the nose, etc., you may depend upon it that the primary cause of the trouble lies in the bowels. Mother's Worm Expeller effectually removes these pests, at once relieving the little sufferers.

BOARD SAFE-GUARDING THE FUTURE.

Western Fair Directors Remember Their Big Buffalo Rival

And Husband Their Resources For Fear of Deficits—Annual Estimates and Consideration of Reports.

The influence of the Pan-American was noticeable at the Western Fair Board's meeting Saturday afternoon, when estimates were considered and the reports of the various committees submitted.

The Buffalo Exposition's effect upon the Western cannot yet be foreseen, and rather than have a deficit at the end of the year, the board decided to keep the expenditure to the lowest possible notch. Chairman A. M. Smart of the finance committee presented the annual estimate. The receipts were placed at $23,500, as follows: East Middlesex Agricultural Society, $225; city of London Horticultural Society, $250; stands and tickets, $11,000; stands, $8,000; booths and privileges, $2,500; horses, $300; cattle, $100; sheep, $50; swine, $50; poultry, $200; speed, $200; general entries, $400; ring permits, $200; special prizes, $500; subscriptions, $200; interest, $75. The receipts from gates and tickets have been estimated at $467 below the amount actually derived from that source last year. The stands receipts are estimated at nearly $350 below 1901, while the income from booths and privileges is placed at $84 less than the sum received from them last year. The expenses were estimated at $22,785, as follows: Medals, $100; prizes, $10,000; judges, $70; printing and advertising, $400; rent, $150; salaries, $200; general expenses, $1,000; police, $250; grounds and buildings, $1,000; fairs, $400; attractions, $2,000; horse department, $110; cattle, sheep and swine, $50; poultry, $50; main building, $1,000; agricultural and horticultural, $100; machinery, $100; secretary's office, $70.

Nearly all the committees wanted increases in the price lists, but every request was refused, nor did the board allow the horticultural society's application to hold back names until after the judging had been done. No cool room for cheese will be erected. In the dairy department, the awards of both cheese and butter will be given pro rata on the number of points scored over 90, and a sweetstake of a silver medal is to be given for the highest score in both articles. Prizes for sugar beets will not be given at the fair, but the staple exhibition show will be held at the City Hall about Nov. 1.

The special attractions committee recommended that the Saturday afternoon attractions and speeding events be struck out as the attendance did not warrant the expense. The speed programme for the five days will be: Monday, gentlemen's road race and a running race; Tuesday, free-for-all trot and pace and a race for 235 trotters and 250 pacers; Wednesday, farmers' trot and pace, and running race, both for horses that have never won public money; Thursday, team race, best 3 in 5, trot and pace, for 220 trotters and 225 pacers; Friday, consolation race for trotters and pacers, and also for runners. The London Trotting and Pacing Association was granted the use of the track for the meeting to be held June 18 to 20, at the usual rent of $20 a day. Dr. J. D. O'Neil was granted the use of a portion of the horse barns in connection with the sale of horses to the army officers. Dr. O'Neil will pay $20 a month rent, and also make a $100 deposit against damage. Col. Garthshore presided, and T. A. Browne, R. Shaw-Wood, ex-Ald. Carrington, John Kennedy, Ald. Boggs, William Moore, George Scatcherd, Jas. H. Brown, George McCormick, A. M. Smart, W. Shore, D. Mackenzie, Ald. Campbell and Secretary Nelles were present.

SUCCUMBED TO HEART FAILURE.

Mrs. S. H. Blake, Sister of Mr. Verschoye Cronyn, Dies in London, England.

A cablegram received yesterday from England announced the death of Mrs. S. H. Blake, which occurred at the London residence of her sister, Mrs. Edward Blake. For many years Mrs. Blake suffered severely with heart failure. She had once benefited greatly by the baths at Nauheim, Germany, and was on her way there again, when she was overtaken by her illness, causing her death one week after arriving in London. Mrs. Blake was the youngest daughter of the late Bishop Cronyn, of Huron. Her brother, Mr. Verschoye Cronyn, of this city, and Mrs. Edward Blake, survive her, one brother sister, the late Mrs. (Major-General) Burroughs, of the imperial army, having predeceased her some 20 years ago. W. H. Blake, barrister; Mrs. Frank Moss, of Toronto, and Mrs. Rhineland, of New York, are of the family.

SCIENCE COMES TO THE ASSISTANCE OF JUSTICE

Optical Employees Notified Police of an Assault—The Offender Captured.

Rochester, N. Y., May 6.—Science has assisted to bring a criminal to justice in this city. While several experts employed by the Zurich and Lomb Optical Company were testing long-range field glasses from the observatory at the establishment they saw within their range of vision a man who seemed to be struggling with a woman on the Genesee River bridge, just a mile east. They could make out the features of the two persons, and there was no doubt that the man was attempting to make the woman his victim.

One of the men hurried to a telephone and called up the nearest station house from which policemen hurried to the flats. It was all done very quickly. One policeman rushed to the man, who ran up the bank. The other officer was in his way and caught him after a long run. The prisoner gave his name as Elias Chappell, a Greek. Chappell pleaded not guilty in the police court, and was sent to jail to await examination.

Housekeeper's Backache.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets Cure This Trouble So Prevalent at This Season of the Year.

Many women are now into the thick of housecleaning. They lift and strain, overwork and overtax their strength, their back gives out, their kidneys become affected. They have a painful or sore feeling in the small of the back that takes all the life and ambition out of them. They feel dull, depressed, lifeless.

The hard work you've been doing has thrown extra work on the kidneys. They've been unable to keep up with their duties of filtering the poison and waste material from the blood. They cry out in protest through the aching back, "Cover so wretched, all over because the kidneys are not working right, and the poison is circulating in your system. The kidneys must have help—better give them the benefit of the best kidney medicine made—DR. PITCHER'S BACKACHE KIDNEY TABLETS—the prescription of a kidney specialist—the result of years of study of kidney diseases.

These tablets cure every form of kidney ail of man, woman or child, from backache to Bright's disease, and cure to stay cured.

Mrs. R. C. Williams living at No. 280 York street, London, was asked if she found any relief from using DR. PITCHER'S BACKACHE KIDNEY TABLETS. She said:

"Oh, yes, I found great relief from them. I found that after using them I was not having those dull pains in the top and back of my head as formerly. My back was ever so much better, and the languor mornings disappeared. Prior to using those Tablets I would have dizzy spells and my kidneys were not active. I was pleased to see how quickly they regulated the kidneys, and how they relieved me of a distressing backache, and a sensitiveness in the small of my back that was extremely painful. Walking tired me very much and going up or down stairs was anything but agreeable. I have no hesitancy in recommending DR. PITCHER'S BACKACHE KIDNEY TABLETS. I consider them reliable for removing the difficulties I have mentioned."

DR. PITCHER'S BACKACHE KIDNEY TABLETS are 50c a box at all druggists. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

DISCUSSION OF THE BUDGET!

Case Against the New Tax Fairly Presented by the Liberals.

Tactics of the Mine-Owners Believed to Have Hurt Their Cause—Debate on Army Reform Delayed—Labor War Threatened.

London, May 5.—As the debate in parliament on the coal export duty clause of the budget was adjourned until Monday, it is folly to speculate, as the government papers do, on how large the government's majority might have been if a division had been forced last Thursday night. No doubt the tactics of the mine-owners and their friends, in and out of parliament, has hurt rather than helped their cause with fair-minded members of the opposition, and the public threats of great strikes and the closing down of mines are not to the point.

The case against the new tax has been presented fairly and clearly by such men in parliament as Sir William Vernon Harcourt and Thomas Burt, of Newcastle, the latter a native of the coal region, and associated with the mining industry all his life. Burt's speech in the Thursday night debate had great force.

Moreover, in the face of the arguments made in various conferences, it is not in parliament, the chancellor of the exchequer has seemed to be wavering more than once on the subject of this coal duty. Doubtless the mildest and wisest of the protesting deputations have overstated their case, but their assertions have had some effect. The theatrical devices of stirring up the wrath of some hundreds of thousands of Welsh and English miners, or pretending to, and threatening to shut down all the mines, however, have produced a revulsion of feeling among disinterested people who were at first inclined to protest against the tax.

DELAY ARMY REFORM DEBATE.
The adjournment of the coal tax debate is likely to throw the debate on Brodrick's scheme of army reform over for another week. This is a matter on which the Liberal party as a party is much more united than in opposition to the budget.

Mr. Brodrick, the secretary of state for war, has publicly declared that the government will stand firmly by the proposed reform, and give no heed to the cry to postpone such a measure until after the war. The leader of the Liberal forces in opposing Brodrick's plan is Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, while in the inevitable debate, which promises to be a heated one, it is expected that Winston Churchill will emulate his father, the late Lord Randolph, with whom he is already compared thus early in his parliamentary career. The amendment proposed by Campbell-Bannerman amounts practically to a censure of the government, and upon it probably the debate will hinge.

Meanwhile, though Herbert Gladstone has to some extent taken back the words he uttered last week in regard to the present unfitness of the Liberal party to take up the business of government, there exists a feeling that in case the opposition is strong enough to compel the resignation of the ministry, the only result would be a Unionist victory in the new elections, and the reinstatement of practically the same ministry.

ENIGMA IN SALISBURY'S PLANS.
It seems impossible to get at the exact truth in regard to Lord Salisbury's health and his plans for the future. The belief prevails, even in ministerial circles, that Arthur Balfour's promotion is imminent. The story that the King has asked for a dissolution of parliament as soon as the war is over is absurd on the face of it. The most sanguine prognosis now is that war cannot be ended for another four months. The last of the large body of reinforcements of men and horses sail on Monday.

KING RECEIVES THE CATHOLICS.
Specially, the reception by the King at St. James' Palace of the Catholic delegations headed by Cardinal Vaughan and the Duke of Norfolk was not more important than the reception on the same day of various other delegations, such as the London Jews, the Coroners' Society, and the Presbyterians, but it was actually the most significant incident of the day. All over London glaring yellow posters were put up calling upon Protestants to protect themselves and the English constitution against the designs of the Papists. The formal function of declaration of allegiance was brief but full of dignity and splendor. The cardinal dutifully kissed his sovereign's hand. There was no Irishman, churchman or layman, in the company.

CARDINAL RAMPOLLA'S AMBITION.

From Rome comes a seemingly well authenticated story that Cardinal Rampolla, in view of the fact that a Papal secretary rarely succeeds to the tiara, is about to cause his own dismissal from his high office in order to strengthen his eligibility. Rampolla is the most powerful member of the Cardinals' College, and it is said that one of his own adherents will take his place as secretary of state.

Some of Pope Leo's most significant acts are credited by persons professing an insight into the politics of the Vatican to the powerful Sicilian cardinal's influence.

INTEREST IN WALL STREET.

The stir in Wall street has been a prominent topic in London this week, and the prodigious prosperity of America is dwelt upon as an object lesson for procrastinating and too conservative Britons. An energetic leader writer calls for new methods to compete with "a patriotic population of 80,000,000 souls wild with pride in the greatness of America," but fails to state what the new methods should be. Nor has any English financier or student of finance uttered publicly a wise or serious word in regard to the matter.

LABOR WAR IN PROSPECT.

A seemingly trifling dispute of the London and Northwestern Railway Company with some of its employees is believed here to be the first outward manifestation of what may prove to be an important capital and labor conflict. The organization of railway workers here is powerful, complete, and severe in its rules. It is believed that the company is merely trying to test the strength of the labor organization and bring matters to a crisis.

The preliminary census figures, showing an increase of a little over 200,000 in population of London, is not received with great enthusiasm. The falling off of such parts of the metropolis as the city of London itself and Westminster is easily accounted for, but a computation shows the increase elsewhere is less than normal. No do the figures thus far received from rural neighborhoods account for the deficiency.

ZOLA'S NEW OPERA.

Albert Bruneau's opera or music, "L'Aragan," with the libretto by Emile Zola, produced superbly at the Paris Opera Comique last week, is a powerful and modern work, probably too steadily serious in its drift to become popular, but sure to arouse advanced students of the drama and music to enthusiasm. The concentration and elevation of the work are remarkable. The poem shows Zola at his best, and is beautifully simple and dramatic, involving few personages, but encompassing in its tragedy of love and jealousy a wonderful play of elementary human passion. The hurriedness of passion contrasted with the great storm at sea, which has its place in the music, is dramatic, while the pictorial production is superb.

NEW CONDUCTOR IN LONDON.

In the past week's musical festival much honor has been accorded to an English musician and orchestra leader, who has held his own in competition with Saint-Saens, Tsaya, and Neolome, all of whom held the baton at various times. Wood is hailed as possessing the temperament and talent of a great conductor. He is a young man who has had much experience in English musical enterprises and has composed an oratorio and operetta and conducted numerous theater bands.

IN LITERARY CIRCLES.

An English translation of Maurice Maeterlinck's newest work, "The Life of the Bee," will be published on Tuesday. In this the Belgian mystic poet records his impressions and fancies as an experienced beekeeper, carefully avoiding the scientific and technical.

John Murray says the demand for copies of the Quarterly Review, containing the article about Queen Victoria is so large that still another edition of the Review is in press. He smilingly preserves the secret of the authorship of this intimate article, who may, after all, prove to be some smart journalist of the Van Dam type.

Of the publication of the Queen's diary, about which so much has been cabled to America, no details have yet been decided upon.

This year the British Museum will use up all its storage space. The annual increase in collections is amazing, and there must either be some weeding out or the museum must be enlarged.

DRAMATIC GOSSIP.

Kipling, who has arrived here, denies that he is dramatizing his "Jungle Book."

Charles Wyndham will soon revive Jones' smartest comedy, "The Case of Rebellious Susan," and Mary Moore resuming their former roles of Susan and Sir Richard Kato, and Violet Vanbrugh taking up the part of Mrs. Quesnel.

Some of Weber & Field's turns have been skilfully produced in "The Girl from Up There," which is drawing crowds.

Bearbom Tree achieved a noteworthy histrionic success this week at the benefit matinee as Robert Macaire in the R. L. Stevenson and W. S. Henley version of the old French play.

Florence Girard, widow of Henry E. Abbey, is seriously ill in London.

The gay season has fairly begun, and the prospects are that London will be as crowded as ever until August. All the theaters are doing a big business, and hotels and lodging-houses are asking extravagant prices.

SALISBURY WILL STAY.
Another correspondent says: Lord Salisbury's health is reported to be mending slowly and members of his family in office are striving to create the impression that his courage and interest in public life have revived, and that he has no intention of retiring from the stage. He will not lack their encouragement, for their own importance as ministerial figures depends upon his retention of office. The word has been passed around the government benches that the prime minister will remain in public life until the coronation and that Chamberlain will not leave the colonial office until the South African question is settled.

Old Tories are greatly relieved and are grateful to Sir Michael Hicks Beach for holding his ground and resisting Chamberlain's influence. They assert that Chamberlain could not keep the majority together if he were in command of the commons, and that Balfour could not be spared from the leadership.

CONCILIATORY POLICY HELD BEST.

The political experts agree that a conciliatory attitude is more important than a firm front, when a large body of followers needs to be kept under discipline, and a faction rest opposition must be backed into good behavior. Chamberlain is a hard fighter, but not tactful. Balfour's amiability oils the wheels of legislation. He can pay a great compliment to John Redmond for the sake of being relieved of vexatious obstruction, and he never hurts friend or foe without privately expressing regret.

A MODEST REQUEST.
Mrs. Chatterton—I should like to go shopping this afternoon.

Chatterton—But, honest, my dear, I haven't got a dollar in my pocket.

Mrs. Chatterton (lightly)—Oh, well, then, you might give me 98 cents.—Puck.

TEN PERSONS PERISHED!

Fatal Fires in a Montreal Hotel and a Chicago Tenement.

Several Others Were Fatally Injured—Freight Train On a Crossing Keeps the Firemen From Proceeding to the Rescue.

Chicago, Ill., May 5.—Seven persons were burned to death, and three fatally injured and several others badly burned and otherwise injured, while asleep, in a fire that destroyed a three-story apartment building at No. 9,136 Marquette avenue, South Chicago, early today.

Dead.—Mrs. Josephine Carey; Mabel Cooley, daughter; Annie Cooley, 15 months old, daughter of Mrs. Cooley; Peter Zook, owner of the building; Mrs. Peter Zook, Victoria Zook, and Nicholas Zook.

The seriously injured are: William Cooley, husband of Mrs. Josephine Cooley, badly burned, will die; Mrs. Louisa Christensen, face and body burned, will probably die; Mabel Christensen, two years old, daughter of Mrs. Cooley, Christensen, severely burned, will die; Harry Murphy, slightly burned and both legs broken by jumping from third story, will recover; John Zook, badly burned and bruised about body, will recover; Mrs. Julia Erwin, burned and bruised.

While the occupants of the burning building were struggling with the smoke and flames, in hope of forcing their way to safety, the firemen, who were responding to the alarm, were vainly waiting for a freight train, which blocked the way of the fire engines, to move away from the crossing and give an open road to the fire.

Marshal Driscoll, in charge of the firemen, called to the conductor and brakemen to move the train, but they refused to comply with the request. The police were sent for and the crew were arrested. Then, under orders of the fire marshal, the train was backed from the crossing, but by the time the firemen reached the burning building the structure had been destroyed. Scattered among the embers were found the charred remains of the victims. The bodies were burned beyond recognition, and were identified in various ways.

The train crew, who live at Elkhardt, Ind., are being held without bail, pending the verdict of the coroner's inquest.

The origin of the fire is unknown. The building was an old one, built of wood, and burned so rapidly that all avenues of escape by stairways were cut off before the occupants were aware of the fire.

THREE MORE VICTIMS.

Montreal, May 5.—Shortly after 3 o'clock this morning the small hotel and restaurant kept by Hirsch Brunell, at No. 885 Notre Dame street, in flames. It was useless to try and save the building, so the efforts of the firemen were directed to saving the lives of the inmates, who were wrapped in slumber when the fire broke out. All were saved with the exception of Mrs. Brunell, wife of the proprietor; Octave Fontaine and Rosanna Lussier, a young girl who was living in the hotel. The three unfortunate people were burned to death, their remains being afterwards taken from the ruins. The damage is estimated at $15,000.

OTHER FIRES.

Chicago, May 5.—Fire Saturday destroyed the plant of the A. B. Fire Manufacturing Company, makers of butterine, situated in the heart of the stockyards. Loss $150,000, covered by insurance.

Brandon, Man., May 5.—Fire destroyed the west wing of the government immigration building here Friday evening, with contents. The loss is about $1,000.

IN LABOR'S REALM

Illinois Carshops Men to the Number of 8,000 or 9,000 Get an Increase in Pay.

Chicago, May 5.—Between 8,000 and 9,000 employees in the 43 shops of the entire Illinois Central Railroad system have been granted a horizontal increase of 5 per cent in wages. Although just issued the order was made to take effect May 1, and will increase the annual pay roll of the company nearly $300,000.

A STRIKE.

Scranton, Pa., May 5.—More than 1,000 employees of the car shops of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad at this place went on strike.

Temperance

Women hold up Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and "Favorite Prescription" as examples of what all medicines should be in absolute freedom from alcohol and narcotics. They are strictly temperance medicines. They contain no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic. False formulas of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and "Favorite Prescription" having been published by ignorant or unscrupulous persons, Dr. R. V. Pierce as president of the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., the manufacturers of his remedies, offers one thousand dollars for any bottle of these medicines which on analysis shall show the presence either of alcohol or of opium, cocaine, or any other narcotic.

Suits against the originators and publishers of these false formulas have been instituted, and in order to effectually stop the publication of these malicious falsehoods, Dr. Pierce asks that his friends will send him copies of any circular, pamphlet, or other advertisement, in which the statement is made that "Golden Medical Discovery" or "Favorite Prescription" contains alcohol or opium or other narcotics. REFERENDUM SETTLED STRIKE.

Montceau-Los-Mines, France, May 4.—The miners' strike is apparently over. Work will be resumed Monday. The collapse of the strike is due to the outcome of the referendum, when only 30,000 miners favored a general stoppage of work.

The national committee on industrial conciliations, recently organized by the National Civic Federation, will meet in New York next Tuesday to organize.

LABOR NOTES.

The 700 union carpenters in Toledo have won their strike and gone back to work, receiving $2.40 for eight hours instead of $2.35 for nine hours, as was the case before the strike.

All the linemen in the employ of the electric light and power companies of Boston and immediate vicinity, with the exception of the 23 men in the emergency department of the elevated and the police and fire alarm systems of the city have struck.

Secretary Harkin, of District No. 9, of the United Mine Workers, gave the word yesterday that the Mahoney City local of 1,100 men was ready to march by next Monday to Harrisburg to insist on the passage by the legislature of certain anthracite labor bills, which the miners claim are being held up in committees of the legislature.

Live Items Culled for Busy People's Information.

Mrs. Annie Gordon, a dining-room maid employed at the Farmers' Hotel in Walkerville, will relieve the mind of her husband and the police authorities by revealing her whereabouts. She has been missing since last Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Grear went all the way from Sarnia to Windsor to engage a barrister in a land dispute. She related her case, and finally persuaded Barrister Arthur Kerby to enter action. Kerby went to Sarnia, but says he discovered that the alleged wrong existed only in the mind of his client. He informed Mrs. Grear that she had no case. Then Mrs. Grear demanded her money back, and was not satisfied with the assurance of Barrister Kerby that the remuneration he received barely covered his expenses. Mrs. Grear sued him in the division court for $25, pleaded her own case and got a judgment for $18.

The sons are Jason, of Ottawa, and Cecil, of Carberry, Man. The daughters are Mrs. Joseph James and Mrs. Chas. Johnson, of Leamington; Mrs. Sisson, Essex, and Miss Winnifred, at home.

The death of Finlay McKinlay, of Plympton, took place Wednesday morning. Mr. McKinlay, who was almost a life-long resident, was among the best known and most highly respected men in the township. He was born in Argyleshire, Scotland, in 1838, and came to this country with his father's family in 1851, being then a child of 3 years. In 1875 the deceased was married to Janet McKinnell.

Dyspepsia

Is difficult digestion, due to a weakened condition of the stomach and its inability to properly churn the food; or to unhealthy condition of the gastric juice, too much or too little acid, too much or too little pepsin.

Hood's Sarsaparilla relieves all the distressing symptoms of dyspepsia because it promotes the muscular action of the stomach and intestines, aids nature in the manufacture of her own digestive secretions, which are far better than any artificial pepsin, unlocks the bowels, stimulates the kidneys and tones up their mucous membranes.

So prompt is its effect in many cases that it seems to have almost a magic touch.

Begin to take it NOW.

Suffered Everything.—I was troubled with dyspepsia, suffered everything but death, could not eat without terrible distress. Since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I eat heartily and I am well. MRS. EUGENE MURPHY, Danbury, Conn.

SITUATION IN CHINA!

Ministers Leaving Peking to Spend Summer in the Hills.

The Country in a Deplorable Condition—French Loot Returned—The Matter of Indemnity Discussed.

Peking, May 3.—A majority of the foreign ministers will leave Peking next week for the western hills, to spend the summer, taking with them military guards for their protection, their intention being to come to Peking for the purpose of holding meetings and attending to necessary business.

IN A DEPLORABLE CONDITION. Missionary Owen, of the London Mission, says all the reports received by his mission from the provinces show the country to be in a deplorable state. Discontent and intense hatred of foreigners prevail, and worse conditions than existed before the siege are threatened. The departure of the troops, he predicts, will be signalled by a massacre of the native Christians. "Those unable to recognize the facts, and reporting otherwise to their governments," says Mr. Owen, "are as fully blind as before."

LOOT RETURNED. New York, May 4.—Some 50 cases of Gen. Frey's loot from Chinese, including the imperial bronze lions confiscated by the French Government, have reached Peking, addressed to the French minister, says a Herald dispatch. The returned loot was paraded through the streets and stored at headquarters. This preliminary to the formal act of restitution caused an immense sensation among the Chinese, but they entertain small hope that the example of France will be followed.

CONJOINT GOVERNMENT. London, May 4.—Dr. Morrison, writing to the Times from Peking Thursday, says:

"M. De Giers has addressed a letter to the financial committee of the ministers of the powers urging the economical advantages of giving to China a conjoint government guarantee to enable her to raise a loan from which to pay the indemnity. He argues that in order to pay $25,000,000 China will only need to issue a loan of $75,000,000 at 4 or 5 per cent, without a guarantee she would be compelled to borrow $24,000,000 at 7 per cent. He asserts that, if the total indemnity is reduced to $40,000,000, as the United States suggests, China, with an international guarantee would only need a loan issue of $43,000,000. He suggests that the loan can be secured on the customs or by an increase of the import duties."

RUSSIA'S POLICY. "The letter is instructive, as showing Russia's unwillingness to interfere with the imperial revenue, such as salt, or with special imperial privileges, such as the Manchurian pensions and the grain tribute. On the other hand it shows Russia's willingness to throw the burden upon the foreign import trade, in which she has practically no interest. The letter further shows Russia's apparent readiness to join Great Britain and the United States in a reduction of the indemnity in return for a conjoint government."

Readings from Sudbury are also favorable, the number in the camp being reduced to 33 cases and 11 suspects.

DIED IN A BADGER'S HOLE.

Terrible Fate of a Five-Year-Old Girl Who Lost Her Way on the Plains.

Prosser, Washington, May 4.—With her hands and mouth stained from the grass and flowers she had eaten in her desperate hunger and with her features drawn in the dying agony of thirst, the body of the five-year-old daughter of W. B. Mathews, formerly county commissioner, who lost her way on the Horse Heaven Plains nearly a week ago, was found by ranchmen. The child, in her agony, had crawled into a badger hole on the prairie and died.

From the appearance of the body the child had been dead about 36 hours, and for five days and nights she had been without food and water. Barefooted when she left home, the little girl, in her wanderings, had bruised and cut her feet, and had gathered the tough prairie grass and would around them. Beside her in the badger hole lay a bunch of flowers and grass which she had been eating.

ACTION OF BRITISH MINERS.

London, May 4.—The Northumberland delegates, at a meeting at Newcastle, unanimously decided to support the strike. The Durham miners agreed to abide by the decision of the National Conference.

The Lancashire and Cheshire miners took up a similar attitude, while those of Yorkshire voted against the strike, the feeling being expressed that if the men agreed to a shut-down of the pits, the owners should continue paying their wages.

WILL GOBBLE THE CANALS, TOO.

New York, May 4.—A London dispatch to the World says that the London Daily Express asserts that control of the European canals is to be a part of Pierpont Morgan's plans, so as to secure the delivery of steel into the heart of Europe at the smallest possible expense.

40,000 ITALIANS ON THE WAY.

Rome, May 4.—Forty thousand Italian emigrants, according to the Fanfulla, are expected to leave for the United States this month.

STOCK EXCHANGE SENSITIVE.

London, May 4.—Business on the stock exchange opened today very excited and nervous, reflecting yesterday's reaction in New York. The reaction here was more general and of greater magnitude than any heretofore since the boom commenced. Attention was practically centered in Americans, some of which declined so heavily during the rush for realization that they dropped several dollars below parity, and buyers were difficult to find. Subsequently prices somewhat steadied, with practically no business doing, a wait for the market to open.

WANT A QUIET SUNDAY.

St. Petersburg, May 4.—Many male students, a number of female students, workmen, Liberal leaders, lawyers, and literateurs, were arrested and 500 houses were searched here Thursday night and it is probable that throughout Russia similar tactics were pursued. The object of the movement is to prevent demonstrations on Sunday next, which is regarded as Labor Day. The advisability of the step is considered by some to be questionable, as it may easily provoke trouble.

THE GERMAN CRISIS.

Berlin, May 4.—In well-informed quarters the representative of the Associated Press hears the sensational news that Emperor William wants Count Zedlitz Trutshchler to become Prussian minister of the interior. The count is now chief president of Hesse-Lassau in Cassel, and is a great favorite with the emperor. The Conservatives and the Centerists. His being summoned here is generally interpreted as a sign that reactionism will reign in the new cabinet. Count Zedlitz is considered certain, will have everything that might offend the Center and the Conservative parties, and no change in the system will be inaugurated since the government needs both the Conservatives and Centerists in the reichstag.

The Associated Press hears further that Baron von Rheinbaben, Prussian minister of the interior, will succeed Dr. von Miquel as finance minister.

CABLE NOTES.

Up to April, 27,319 people, including 41 Europeans, have died of bubonic plague in South Africa.

It is announced that King Leopold of Belgium is to visit the work of electric railways in the kingdom, requiring an enormous capital. Projected routes are from Brussels to Antwerp, Brussels to Ostend, and Brussels to London.

Emperor Francis Joseph has written approval letters to Count Goluchowski, president of the imperial council; Dr. von Koberger, the Austrian premier, and President Kolomanik von Szell, of the Hungarian Cabinet, summoning the delegations to meet May 20.

LOUIS' CRADLE.

Paris, May 4.—Ex-Empress Eugenie has presented the municipality of Paris with the cradle of Prince Louis Napoleon, who was killed in the Zulu war. The cradle is a superb work of art. The body is made of rosewood, and is decorated with enameled in antique silver and chased bronze. The cradle is of silver and a statue holds the infant crown in gold and bronze over the pillow, which is of white satin, embroidered with the letter "N."

The cradle was originally a gift from the municipality of Paris to Empress Eugenie, and is very costly. It has been previously kept at Chiselhurst where the ex-empress resided before she moved to Farnborough.

ANOTHER CASE OF SMALLPOX IN TORONTO.

Toronto, May 4.—The seventh case of smallpox traceable to the Cleveland man who visited here while suffering from the disease, is reported. Miss Langdon, daughter of a farmer of Etobicoke, is the victim.

THURSDAY'S STORMS.

St. Thomas, May 4.—During the violent storm of rain and electricity on Thursday night the new residence of Orlando Fordyce, Sparta road, con. 3, Yarmouth, was struck by lightning. The electric current struck the bed-post wherein Mr. and Mrs. Fordyce slept. Luckily, they escaped injury.

A very severe rain, wind and hail storm passed over the section of country traversed by the M. C. R. St. Clair branch Thursday afternoon. Trees were blown down, fences leveled, and at Mooretown, Coramua and Kinbais the glass in windows was broken by the hail, which was the size of pigeons' eggs, and was driven by the wind with great force. Hardly a window pane was mentioned escaped being shattered.

Nothing looks more ugly than to see a person whose hands are covered over with warts. Why have these disgusting growths on your person, when a sure remedy of all warts, corns, etc., can be found in Mollaway's Corn Cure?

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY

Of a Rich Vein of Copper in Brunel Town ship, Muskoka.

Toronto, May 4.—It is reported this morning that Messrs. Paget, Hare and other gentlemen of Huntsville, who are operating a government diamond drill in Brunel township, Muskoka, on some claims of theirs, have discovered a fairly rich vein, 8 feet wide, of copper ore in pyrites. The discovery is regarded as an important one.

LARGE INCREASE IN REVENUE.

Toronto, May 4.—The great activity in the timber industries of the Province is reflected in the returns of crown land revenue for the four months ending April 30. The total for that period this year was $458,237.65, compared with $397,467.39 over the same period of 1900.

OTTAWA WITHOUT MONEY.

Ottawa, Ont., May 4.—Ottawa is tied up financially, and until the taxes for the year come in, the city council devises some scheme, there will be no money in the treasury to pay any of the current expenses. The city borrowed $450,000 this year, giving the crown an security. Of this sum $170,000 was spent and $280,000 was borrowed last year's borrowing. The mayor and city solicitor say the arrears should be paid, and therefore the city is without money.

TOOK TWO DOSES.

Toronto, May 4.—Lying on the grass almost unconscious, a young man giving the name of J. Joseph was found by the surgeon on Boyd's ambulance yesterday afternoon. At St. Mary's Hospital it was found that he was suffering from the effects of a dose of tincture of opium.

Wednesday night, Joseph Jack was found to be suffering from laudanum poisoning. Jack claimed to have been a student of the Ontario School of Pharmacy, Joseph gives the same address and is thought to be the same man.

DOCTORS HAVE A GRIEVANCE.

Toronto, May 4.—A deputation of physicians from various parts of the province, headed by Dr. Sangster, and including Dr. Hill, of Hamilton, Dr. Thorne, of Woodbridge, Bingham, of Peterboro; Richardson, Pickering, and others, waited on the Hon. Mr. Davies yesterday morning to protest against the tax of $2 per head yearly levied by the medical council. The deputation said that 700 doctors had been suspended for not paying this fee, for which they got no benefit at all, and which was used to keep the medical rooms in this city in nice condition and maintain the secretary. They asked that the power to collect this fee under penalty of suspension be withdrawn. At present over 600 doctors in Ontario, having refused to continue paying the fee, are in peril of legal proceedings.

SOLDIER AND PUBLISHER, TOO.

Strange Experiences of a Printer in the Cuban War.

Fred J. McCutcheon, of Port Huron, Mich., who is at present in the city, has had some stirring experiences. Mr. McCutcheon is soldier, printer, publisher and editor all in one, and has seen most of the different sides of life than most men. He was a member of Company F, 33rd Michigan Volunteer Infantry, the famous fighting regiment which lost so heavily in the terrible fight at Santiago during the Spanish-American war. Mr. McCutcheon escaped with a slight flesh wound. He described the various incidents of the campaign for a number of American papers, besides shooting Spaniards in the interval.

After the surrender of Santiago, Mr. McCutcheon obtained permission from Gen. Shafter for the seven printers of his company to enter the city and take possession of an office and publish a newspaper. Mr. McCutcheon, the proprietor arrived back from the mountains. After a chapel meeting had been called, it was decided to christen the infant "Company F Enterprise," which resulted in the production of the first paper published and printed in the English language on the Island of Cuba.

INTERESTED IN AUTOMOBILES

Continual Stream of Visitors Inspected the Horseless Carriage at 354 Richmond Street.

The showroom of the Canadian Steam Carriage Company, at 354 Richmond street, has been completely renovated and is now one of the most attractive stores in the city. The offices form a suite of handsomely partitioned apartments, and all the furnishings are on the most elaborate scale. Linoleum, beautiful wall papers and decorated ceilings combine effectively to give the store a very fine appearance. In the rear of the showroom there is a well-appointed board room.

All day long visitors in a continual stream went in to examine the automobile that the company has here. It is a demonstrating carriage that has already run over 3,000 miles. It is extremely tasteful, both in appearance and action, and surpasses others in lightness and economy of motive power. In manufacturing these carriages none but the very best materials are used, and the construction is under the supervision of the best skilled mechanics. On a trip it can carry enough water for 40 miles and enough gasoline for 80 miles. The carriage is suitable for either city or country use and when the water in the boiler is perfectly cold steam can be raised and the carriage in motion in six minutes. The Canadian Steam Carriage Company are confident that they have practically reached perfection in horseless carriages.

THREE PERSONS DROWNED WITH ASSISTANCE NEAR

Disabled Tug Went Down While Being Towed to Port.

Owen Sound, Ont., May 4.—The steamer Germanic, of the Northern Navigation Company, which arrived here last evening on her way down trip, brings a pathetic story of the drowning of three persons before the eyes of the crew and passengers, between Cockburn Island and Gore Bay.

At 6 p.m. on Thursday the steamer Germanic came up to the tug Tecumseh, with her engines disabled, and apparently taking in water over the rail with every dip of the sea. There were on board the tug Capt. Wylie, and his two sisters; a Mrs. Burns, Engineer Coleman, and a man named Crawford and the engineer were hauled aboard. Meantime the tug had moved a short distance away with the three remaining people aboard, apparently trying to do something to the towline, which was still attached to the tug. Suddenly the tug lurched and sank, going down almost immediately, leaving the captain, his sister and Burns struggling in the icy cold water, and before the boat which was lowered from the Germanic could reach them they had disappeared.

Life belts were thrown, and everything possible was done by Capt. Foote, of the Germanic, to rescue them. After staying around the spot for some time the Germanic headed for Gore Bay. The towline, which was still fastened to the sunken tug, brought that vessel above water, but she was shortly afterwards cut loose and allowed to sink.

After towing for three-quarters of an hour, the engineer of the tug shouted that they were sinking. The Germanic was immediately stopped and the sinking tug was brought alongside of the Germanic. Lines were thrown, and one of the women and Crawford and the engineer were hauled aboard. Meantime the tug had moved a short distance away with the three remaining people aboard, apparently trying to do something to the towline, which was still attached to the tug. Suddenly the tug lurched and sank, going down almost immediately, leaving the captain, his sister and Burns struggling in the icy cold water, and before the boat which was lowered from the Germanic could reach them they had disappeared.

Life belts were thrown, and everything possible was done by Capt. Foote, of the Germanic, to rescue them. After staying around the spot for some time the Germanic headed for Gore Bay. The towline, which was still fastened to the sunken tug, brought that vessel above water, but she was shortly afterwards cut loose and allowed to sink.

After towing for three-quarters of an hour, the engineer of the tug shouted that they were sinking. The Germanic was immediately stopped and the sinking tug was brought alongside of the Germanic. Lines were thrown, and one of the women and Crawford and the engineer were hauled aboard. Meantime the tug had moved a short distance away with the three remaining people aboard, apparently trying to do something to the towline, which was still attached to the tug. Suddenly the tug lurched and sank, going down almost immediately, leaving the captain, his sister and Burns struggling in the icy cold water, and before the boat which was lowered from the Germanic could reach them they had disappeared.

A STERLING HEART.

CHAPTER XXII.

The days that followed were idle days, especially to Shirley, to whom this mingling with English aristocracy was a new experience.

She became very friendly with Miss Ernestine Wallace, while bright, impulsive Helen Montcalm at once constituted herself an ardent admirer and satellite of the beautiful girl.

The Misses Alice and Mary Montcalm, inheriting more of the English proclivities from their mother, who was not the youngest daughter of an earl, were not quite so approachable, although they were always perfectly courteous and quite friendly in their manner toward her.

The young men of the party, however, from the first displayed the most marked admiration for Shirley, and with one consent pronounced her the "belle of Ivyhurst," but it did not spoil her in the least, and she bore her honors with the quiet sweetness and was so considerate of the feelings of every one about her, that no one had any inclination to be jealous of her on account of it.

Altogether it was a very delightful party, and driving to occupy the days and music and dancing as evening entertainments, the time flew on golden wings, and up to the evening of the third day nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of any one.

It was on Tuesday afternoon that Madame Marton went to Ivyhurst, and on Friday the party was increased by the arrival of a Mrs. Lovelace and her daughter, Miss Lurline Lovelace, from Montreal.

The former lady was a widow who lived simply for this, her only child, and the hope of accomplishing a brilliant marriage for her.

Miss Lovelace, who was a brilliant and dashing brunette, had, all her life, been accustomed to be first in everything. She had been reared to believe that she possessed surpassing beauty—and she would have been truly beautiful had her mind and manners been cultivated to correspond with her person—while she had never been denied anything she wished.

ed from childhood up to the present time. Mrs. Lovelace had been an early friend and schoolmate of Lady Wallace, when they were at the Convent of the Gray Nuns, in Montreal, where they had been sundered; and every year or so, visiting back and forth, Mrs. Lovelace, with her child, often spending several weeks at a time at Ivyhurst. Hence Lady Wallace could not think of slighting her old friend at this time of such unusual festivity.

Miss Lovelace was in her twenty-first year, and ever since the death of Lord Wallace's wife, Mrs. Lovelace had cherished the hope that her lighthearted daughter might step into the place thus left vacant by the beautiful but misguided woman who had been such a source of unhappiness to the noble young man.

As it happened, both mother and daughter, cognizant of the fact that Madame Marton had, upon her return from her last visit to New York, brought with her a young lady companion, they also knew that this young lady's name was Shirley Livingston.

It will readily be surmised how they learned these facts, or of course, the conversation between Madame Marton and her father, during which Lurline Lovelace's name figured conspicuously, cannot have been forgotten.

Such being the case, it will also be conjectured that some kind was likely to befall our lovely young heroine before her visit to Ivyhurst was over.

It chanced that when Mrs. Lovelace and Lurline appeared in the drawing-room, about ten minutes previous to the announcement of dinner, on the evening of their arrival, that Shirley was present; consequently, in the general introduction she was left out, although Madame Marton had presented to them for the wealthy spinster was widely known; and besides, the Lovelaces had heard, through the Norwoods, that she possessed a large fortune which they hoped would eventually come to them.

Shirley went in to dinner on this evening with Mr. John St. Clare, and as they took their place at the table they found themselves exactly opposite Miss Lovelace and her escort.

Shirley was specially lovely on this occasion, in a simple white embroidered muslin, with no ornaments save a pair of gleaming filigree gold, in which there gleamed a single diamond—one of her mother's wedding presents—which she had fastened to her throat, and which, with its pink roses, which Lord Wallace had sent her from that afternoon.

Her face, animated, her cheeks slightly flushed, her eyes glowing with pleasurable excitement, her golden hair coiled in a loose knot at the back of her head, while a few waving locks lay, like spun sunshine, on her white forehead.

Her companion, who was a brilliant conversationalist, was doing his best to sponder, his spirit, sparkling and rippling over Shirley's own scarlet lips in response.

Although as yet Lurline Lovelace did not, of course, suspect her identity, nevertheless recognized in her a very dangerous rival; while the young girl's features may not have been quite so regular, nor her color as brilliant as Lurline's, she yet possessed a certain grace and graciousness of manner which rendered her tenfold more attractive.

"Who is she?" Miss Lovelace inquired in a low voice of her companion.

"An especially bright, lovely girl, who helps to make things very pleasant for us here at Ivyhurst; her name is Miss Livingston," was the subdued reply.

Miss Lovelace's face clouded. Praise of another always offended her, and she instinctively conceived a feeling of jealousy toward her innocent rival.

"Livingstone?" she repeated to herself. "Where have I heard that name before?" Then she glanced down the table, and her eyes fell upon Madame Marton, and malicious gleam shot into them as a suspicion of the truth flashed into her mind.

"Surely the crazy old woman cannot have been quite such a fool," she mused. "It can't be possible that she would dare to bring her here and introduce her to these people as an equal! But Lurline told me that she was very queer, so there is no accounting for her freaks."

She inquired aloud: "Is her name Shirley Livingston?"

"Yes, and a very pretty one it is, too; do you not think so? It is a little out of the ordinary, you know, and so seems suited to her most admirably," heartily responded the gentleman, without a suspicion that he was thus heaping up misery by this praise for the girl whom he regarded as very lovely.

Miss Lovelace tossed her dark head pertly, while her lips curled scornfully. "And I am to infer from that, I suppose, that the ordinary young lady of the present day?" she sarcastically retorted.

"Ahem!" was the rather embarrassed rejoinder; "really I intended no reflection on any one; but Miss Livingston is regarded as quite an acquisition to the party here."

"I cannot say that I like her name, if you do, it always had a manly sound to me," Miss Lovelace curtly rejoined.

Her companion saw that he had made a mistake in discussing Shirley's charms, for it evidently was not an agreeable topic to the lady; he therefore, adroitly changed the subject, and not long after the signal was given for the ladies to leave the table.

On their way to the drawing room, Madame Marton waylaid Shirley, and whispered, "won't you run up and get it for me?"

"Of course I will," Shirley cheerfully answered. "And is there anything else?" "I have your vinaigrette with you? You always need it, where there is a roomful of people."

"No, I have forgotten that, too. You are a thoughtful child, and I am sure I don't know what I should do without it," said the woman, with unusual pre-emption, while she regarded the sweet, smiling face with quiet satisfaction.

"Well, it is nice to be remembered," responded Shirley, with a light laugh, as she tripped up the stairs to get the forgotten articles.

When she returned to the drawing room with them, she found that the gentleman had been in a most social mood, and she, who had been sitting by his side, she put the fan and the vinaigrette in her hands, and then remained standing, watching the animated faces round her.

But she was not allowed to remain in the background for long. A group of young people stood near, conversing with Lord Wallace regarding the programme of amusements for the next day.

DEATH OF MRS. GOWER.

Mrs. Gower, wife of Mr. William Gower, of Thornton avenue, died yesterday at Victoria Hospital. The deceased was ill only since early Saturday morning, but her condition was so critical that practically no hope was entertained for her recovery from the onset. Mrs. Gower was 25 years of age, and the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Angus, of 904 Elias street, who, with the deceased husband, will have the sympathy of many friends.
She was married about two years ago.
The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon.

L. E. AND D. R. R. EXTENSION.

Kingsville Reporter: Perhaps not everyone within the radius of our circulation is acquainted with the fact that the L. E. and D. R. R. is extending its line to London, that the extension is nearing completion and is expected to be open for traffic by July.

The commercial advantages of having a direct line of road connecting us with London cannot be overestimated. Goods will leave and arrive on same day without the annoyance and trans-shipment over other roads and in about three hours will land passengers in London or Kingsville without the inconvenience of change of cars.
Then, too, the excursion business out of London is something enormous, and without doubt the L. E. and D. R. R. will come in for a goodly share of this traffic, and if our harbor can be got into shape and a boat put on between here and Pelee Island plying several trips a day it would prove a strong attraction to great numbers of excusionists. Our board of trade should be wide awake to these suggestions and leave no stone unturned to put Kingsville as a pleasure resort well before London and all intermediate points on the L. E. and D. R. R.

SAW LONDON GROW TO CITY.

Interesting Life of L. C. Leonard,
Who Died Yesterday.

Was Born in 1813 and Had Lived the Greater Part of His Life in London.

Mr. Louis C. Leonard, of Queen's avenue, eldest brother of the late Senator Eljah Leonard and the late Lyman Leonard, died yesterday after a lengthy illness. Mr. Leonard had seen London rise from a mere village to its present proportions, and in the early history of the city was one of the most energetic and influential merchants.
He served on the board of aldermen as representative of No. 4 ward in the years 1834 and 5, and during the two later terms officiated as chairman of the finance committee, a position he filled with great acceptance and profit to the city generally. He was not what might be termed a public man, but on municipal matters was exceptionally well posted. He was born in the village of Geddes, near Syracuse, N. Y., in 1813, and engaged in a small way for several years in the development of salt, relinquishing his connection therewith in 1850, in which year he came to London and opened a wool and commission store on Dundas street, on the site at present occupied by the Ontario Loan and Debenture Company. He removed from that

CRICKET COACH

Englishmen Comments on American Food.

The English coach of the Germantown, Pa., cricket club had an experience with food worth knowing.
He says, "When I came to this country I was engaged as professional coach. I had suffered a long time from constipation, and pains in the lower part of the back, and after bowling and coaching for about an hour, the pains would be so severe they would nearly draw me to the ground."

I tried many remedies without success. Finally I went on Grape-Nuts.
Food using it for breakfast in place of oatmeal. Within three days I began to feel better. I have kept it up regularly and now feel like a new man.
I can go on and bowl for hours without pain. Bowels are as regular as a clock and my head is clear and steady.
I advise its use with all our players."
J. Caesar, professional coach.
No food on earth will put a man in fit condition as surely and quickly as Grape-Nuts. There's a reason. place to the south-east corner of the present Market lane, where he established a tin shop in connection with his then increasing business. Subsequently he erected the building next door to the Free Press office and continued the business until some fifteen years ago, when he moved to Dundas street west, and with his sons conducted a large lamp and oil trade, until he retired a few years ago. He was married twice, first to an Ohio lady, who died in 1854. His second wife, whom he married in 1859, was a sister of the late William and Judge James Daniell. By this union three children were born—two sons and one daughter Mrs. Nicholson, who alone survives. Mr. Leonard possessed a well stored mind, and was held in high esteem by all who were intimate with him. Though his death was a sad event, it will cause feelings of sincere regret to all who knew him.

PASTOR FEELS

GRATIFIED

Rev. W. J. Clark's Announcement
Regarding Century Fund.

Splendid Achievement of First Presbyterian Church—Subscriptions Were Entirely Voluntary.

The pastor of the First Presbyterian Church made a statement yesterday morning concerning the progress of the century fund in that congregation. The sum aimed at had been $8,000, and there had been paid in $5,904 32. With the interest accruing more than the total sum had been obtained. Of this 70 per cent had been devoted to the common fund of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and 30 per cent to debt of the First Presbyterian Church, with the exception of three subscriptions, totaling $207, which the contributors wished divided evenly between the common and debt fund. There have been 321 contributors to the fund, and in no case has an individual been asked personally to contribute. The highest sum received from any one household has been $373, and the large-est individual contribution has been $200, while the lowest sum received has been 25 cents. There is included an open collection of $36 21. Sabbath school, $36; Society for Bible Study, $55; and interest already allowed, $8.
Mr. Clark expressed the greatest possible satisfaction at the spirit the congregation had shown in undertaking this work; the fact that so large a number of the people had some share in it; that it had been entirely voluntary, and that such generosity had been shown in awarding 10 per cent more to the common fund for the general work of the church than the maximum of 60 per cent asked for by the General Assembly's committee. Surely those who had given to the work of the Christian church in such a liberal spirit would not fail in obtaining blessing from the Divine Master. Mr. John Anderson has acted as secretary and Mr. A. M. Hamilton as treasurer of the fund.

Mr. Clark related a curious incident which occurred in connection with the century fund work. Soon after he had made an announcement concerning the fund through a local paper, he received by mail a copy of the paper in which was securely fastened $77 in bank notes. The name of the contributor is still unknown.

7TH REGIMENT AT DIVINE SERVICE.

London's Smart Corps Presents an Imposing Appearance on the March.

The Seventh Regiment, accompanied by the Collegiate Institute Cadets, paraded to divine service at the First Methodist Church yesterday morning.
The regiment has seldom presented a more creditable appearance on the march. The turnout was the largest of the season, and the marching of the men elicited much favorable comment.
The band of the regiment, under Bandmaster Hiscott, created a particularly favorable impression. This excellent organization is being constantly strengthened and improved, and it is not going beyond the truth to say that it is in the front rank of Canadian military bands. For this much credit is due Capt. W. J. Reid, the capable and zealous chairman of the band committee of the regiment. Capt.
Reid's interest in the band is a personal matter, and he has sacrificed much valuable time in furthering its interests.

At the First Methodist Church, Rev.
Dr. Smith, the pastor, preached a stirring sermon from Joshua viii, 13: "Tomorrow the Lord will do wonders among you." The sermon, dealing with a remarkable period of Jewish history, was listened to with eager attention, not only by the soldiers, but by the large congregation present.
