BLOODSHED! CHICAGO, July 6 .- The day opened threatiningly and at an early hour the mobs began to assemble about the points of the railroad. Mayor Hopkins telegraphed nastily to the Governor asking for five regiments of militia to aid him in preserving the peace. Thousands of people gathered at Kensington, near Pullman, and the junction point of the Michigan Central and Illinois Central lines. There were no troops there, but the track was guarded by a small company of United States marshals. Very soon a milk train arrived on its way to Chicago, and this was the signal for hostilities to begin. The mob made an assault and were met with great vigor by the marshals, who instantly began firing. Two of the rioters were killed outright and a number wounded. The people rushed in, seized the milk train, and began tipping the cars over. They then detached the engine, ran it down the track half a mile, stopped it, reversed it, opened the throttle wide and drove it back into the mass of overturned freight cars, scattering the debris far and wide and rendering the track impassable in any direction. The mob numbered

INCENDIARIES AT WORK. Incendiaries have resumed work at the noon to a loaded coal car in the rear of Armour & Co.'s fertilizer works, but the fire was extinguished before great damage

Armour's teamsters quit work this mornins and declined to resume until the trouble is settled. Several of them were badly beaten vesterday.

FIFTY FREIGHT CARS BURNED. Fifty empty treight cars were burned on the Illinois Central tracks at Burnside this

At 1 p.m. a riot was in progress at the Union depot. A mod tried to ditch a train. This depot is used by the Alton, Burlington, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and the Pennsylvania roads.

SIMPLE IF PRACTICABLE. Gen. Miles said this morning: "If the order of Major Hopkins is carried out there will, in my opinion, be no further trouble. It is a plain and unmistakable order to the police to suppress all rioting, disperse all mobs and stop the destruction of property. If the police do this, and I believe they can, there will be no further trouble anywhere

FIVE REGIMENTS OF TROOPS ASKED FOR. Mayor Hopkins at noon telegraphed to Governor Altgeld asking him to call out five regiments of state militia located here. Lieut. Col. Ovenshine, commanding the United States troops here, said at noon that in the existing condition of affairs it would require an army to put down the uprising in Chicago alone. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 6 .- Governor Altgold has ordered Gen. Welch's and Gen. Wheeler's brigades to report to Mayor Hopkins at Chicago and assist in suppressing riots, and keeping the peace and enforcing the laws.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 6 .- In line with their decision the Government will spare no expense, and will send a force of regulars to Chicago large enough to cope with any trouble.

PETERING OUT AT PORT HURON. PORT HURON, July 6 .- This atternoon it looks as though the bottom had dropped out of the Port Huron end of the Chicago and Grand Trunk strike. No effort is being made by the men to keep trains from moving, and some of the men look blue since the order came from the company's headquarters to blacklist every man who had refused to work. The conductors had a meeting last night and decided to return to work regardless of who should compose the rest of the trains' crews. The en- promising for the Railway Union new than gineers also seemed willing to go back it at any time since the Pullman strike began. they can have union assistants. At St. Louis, Mo., the firemen on the 'Frisco branch went on strike this morning. An attempt is being made to raise the freight embargo. Two hundred non-union men have been set at work in the yards, and so far have not been molested. Nearly every railroad got its passenger trains out on time this morning.

NON-UNION MEN BOUGHLY HANDLED. DETROIT, Mich., July 6 .- Two non-union Wabash engineers and their firemen were dragged from heir engines a mile west of Deiray by strikers. One of the engineers was severely beaten. All four men were pursued by strikers still out of sight.

THE TROUBLE AT CLEVELAND. CLEVELAND, O., July 5 .- The men who have struck here are exclusively switchmen and passenger trains will only be affected by freight blockades. The engineers, firemen and toad trainmen will not strike, but the road men said they would not perform | ing Chicago from the south and east so that the duties of the striking switchmen.

American Railway Union, was received by his representatives in Buffalo today as follows: "Order out, command the situation, cities where the railroads do not enter. and have the employes in your section withdraw from service immediately. We are gaining ground everywhere. Elect a good committee for each road. Keep your men in line. Refrain from violence. The lines in this fight of capital against labor are sharply drawn. All who work are assisting capital to enslave their brothers.

E. V. DEBS." It is learned from a positivoly reliable source that the Erie and West Shore employes are solid with the A. R. U. and will go out the instant President Debs orders them to. Debs is at work on Buffalo in earnest now, and is doing all he can to spread the strike in this city. The first actual evidence will be apparent on Saturday at the latest. ALL THE LABOR UNIONS TO CONFER. representatives of local labor unions held at the headquarters today, a resolution was passed asking every trades union in the city to select three (with power) to attend a meeting at Ulrich's Hall next Sunday night and participate in such action as may seem best calculated to insure the success of the American Railway Union in its present struggle against the Pullman company and the railroads.

SPREADING SOUTH. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 6.—Grand Master Sergeant of the firemen received word to-day that the strike fever is moving

At Cincinnati this morning Strike Leader Phelan received the following telegram from President Debs: "Stronger than ever this morning. Spreading to New York. No weakening anywhere. Stand fast and victory is certain."

OVER TWO HUNDRED CARS BURNED. CHICAGO, July 6 .- Two hundred and twenty-five freight cars on the Panhandle tracks, between Forty-fifth and Fiftyninth streets, were totally destroyed by fire between 6 and 8 o'clock tonight. The police were utterly powerless. The were not even noticed by the strikers, who went to work at once. Bunches of waste were stolen from switchmen's shanties and soaked with the "dope" used in oiling the car wheels, making excellent torches.

At Forty-seventh street five cars standing on the Grand Trunk line were the first to meet destruction. A bunch of the burning waste was thrown inside, quickly igniting the contents, and in less than three minutes the five cars were blazing

At Forty-ninth street the mob came upon six more cars. These were fired in a twinkling, and on went the crowd.

At the Garfield boulevard the Panhandle's four tracks were full of freight cars, more stock yards. A mob set fire just before than half of which were loaded. At this crossing is located a switchmen's tower, and this was first fired. Then the mob turned its attention to the cars on the sidings, but for some reason fired but one of them. They suddenly stopped their tearing up switches. After a number had been rendered useless the mob continued on its way southward. STATION BURNED. At Fifty-eighth street is situated the station of the combined roads. This was fired and quickly destroyed. A strong wind was blowing and the flames were quickly spread across three or four tracks which were filled with cars. Here there were 50 cars, 40 of which were loaded. All were soon a mass of flames. About 30 were filled with coal, and the heat was intense. Fifteen of the cars contained meat from the big packing houses. Upon the approach of the fire and police departments the mob turned about and started for the city. On their way to Fortyseventh street they set fire to all cars they had missed in their hurried trip southward.

THE MOB HELD SWAY. A mob of about 500 people has held almost complete sway in the territory including the towns of Kensington, Burnside, Fordam and Grand Crossing, on the outskirts of the city along the Illinois Central tracks, since 8 o'clock this morning. During the day two men were shot by a railway detective, who was with difficulty saved from the infuriated mob. Upwards of 200 cars, some of them Pullman sleepers, were burned. These depredations continued until late into the night, the force of deputies and the one company of regulars, under command of Capt. De. Jamar, being totally inadequate to afford protection to the immense amount of railroad property to which the incendiaries had free access. The first regiment, Illinois National Guard, was ordered to the scene, but the mob was forewarned and disappeared before the arrival of the CHICAGO MINISTERS CALL A CONFERENCE. The ministers of the city have called a meeting of citizens in favor of peaceful arbitration as a settlement of the great strike. It will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at Battery "D" armory.

If he said that he is a disgrace to the position he occupies. The police and State militia could and would down the rioting if let alone. I regret the disturbance, but we cannot govern the lawless."

THE TOWN OF PULLMAN SAVED FROM DESTRUCTION. PULLMAN, 111., July 6 -The third battalion of the First Regiment arrived here about 9 o'clock this evening, probably just in time to prevent the descruction of the town by a portion of the mob that had previously done destructive work in Kensington. The marauders learned of the coming of the militia and confined their operations to the West Pullman street railway. Conductors and grip men were driven from their places and a complete Halifax amount to $16,120,000 this week, a ticup was effected.

PULLMAN IS SILENT. NEW YORK, July 6 .- Geo. M. Pullman declined to see reporters today or to make any statement concerning the desire of Mayor Hopkins that he return to Chicago and arbitrate with the strikers. Neither would be discuss the general situation.

FATALLY WOUNDED. CHICAGO, July 6 .- One of the men shot at Kensington was Wm. Insliner, and he is said to have been fatally wounded. Michigan Catral Detective Stark fired the shot and the mob tried to lynch him, but he was safely landed in the Lensington jail and thence taken to the city by the police. Two more fires were set late in the evening within 30 minutes of each other. THE CABINET CONFER. WASHINGTON, July 6 .- At today's Cabinet meeting it was decided to make every effort for a speedy concentration of troops at Chicago. It has been deter med that the militia organizations of one State can be called to suppress disorder in another State where the local authorities fail to enforce obedience to law. Attorney-Gen-CHICAGO, Ill., July 6.—At a meeting of eral Olney said this afternoon that there was ample constitutional authority for such action, and it is not unlikely that preparations for drawing on the State militia for this purpose will be made.

A FORCE OF 10,000 TROOPS AND POLICE. CHICAGO, Ill., July 6.—The regular troops on duty tonight number 1,200, and National Guard 5,000. In addition the entire police force, including the reserves, substitutes and new men, a total of 3,300, is available for special emergency call. This makes a total of 10,000 armed and mostly drilled men that less than an hour's notice can be placed in the field against the

NEW YORK AND PENNSYLVANIA CALLED ON. At midnight it is reported at the headquarters of the American Railroad Union that General Master Workman Sovereign has issued an order calling in the State of New York. The members of the American Railroad Union in Buffalo, New York and Pittsburg were ordered out tonight by tha board of directors. President Debs has not been seen around the headquarters for 24 hours, and it was said at midnight that he is en route to Buffalo for the purpose of soliciting the general support and cooperation of the employes of all the roads centering at that point. TERRIBLE DESTUCTION OF PROPERTY. CHICAGO, July 6 .- At 11:30 a mob of 3,000 or 4,000 began burning cars on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy yards at Hawthorne, seven miles out. Sixty freight cars on the Wisconsin Central at the Fifty-first street yards were destroyed by fire tonight. One million dollars' wor n of property belonging to the railroad and residents of the neighborhood is endangered. PRINTERS KICK.

The compositors employed by the Inter Ocean held a meeting tonight and passed resolutions denouncing the policy of the paper and demanding that the resolutions be printed in the paper tomorrow. W. E. Prescott, president of the International Typographical Union, was telegraphed for. AT TORONTO.

TORONTO, July 6 .- Railway officers in Toronto are undisturbed, as if no strike were in progress. None of the railways have as yet suffered any inconvenience.

The Corean Trouble. London, July 6 .- In the House of Commons today Sir Ellis Ashmed Bartlett asked if the Government had any information that China had requested Russia to mediate in the Corean dispute involving China and Japan. Sir Edward Grey said the Government could not answer the question as to what communications were passing between the powers foreign to Great Britain in a dispute which primarily concerned China and Japan. More than this he declined to say.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Tories Talk of Contesting Every Close Liberal Seat,

Conservatives Have Small Use for the Patrons-Results of the Recount in West Huron,

It was at a Conservative meeting of the Albany Club last Monday afternoon that the resolution was passed to contest every close Liberal seat, as well as both Hamil tons. The necessity for a cash deposit in each case will probably have a deterrent effect on this movement .- [Toronto Mail. Mr. Clancy's friends threaten a protest in West Kent. Reeve Desjardines, of Tilbury North, wrote to the Conservative convention that he preferred a P. P. A. to a Grit. His constituents evidently don't agree with him, as Tilbury North gave the Grit 312 and the P. P. A. 21.

The Conservatives have small use for the Patrons. This is how the Empire regards them: "When it is pointed out that Sir Oliver will reduce his majority to one when he names a Speaker to fill the vacancy, the answer is that the crafty old man will get over the difficulty by appointing a Patron to the position. In the first place there isn't a Patron in the House, or out of it, qualified to fill such an important office." The Patron demonstration at Brantford came off Friday, about 150 being present.

A recount for the recent West Huron election took place at Goderich on Friday before Judge Toms. The chief change was in No. 3 polling division, Clinton. The deputy returning officer had made a mistake in revising the figures. The majority for Mr. J. T. Garrow (Lib.) is 76.

A Golden Key.

"What is that which I should turn to, lighting upon days like these? Every door is barred with gold, and opens but to golden keys."

The golden key, to which those who desire to open the door of health, should turn to in days like these, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The poor man's pence can procure it. The rich man's millions can buy nothing better. Mrs. Neal, of Crockett Mills, Tenn., had an attack of measles, which was followed by bronchitis and pneumonia. Her husband writes: "I feel gratified with the effect of your wonderful medicine. I can recommend it to anybody, and feel I am doing them justice. My wife was not able to perform her household duties for six months. She has used two bottles of Golden Medical Discovery,' and is now able to do all her work. I think it the finest medicine in the world, and I am

ACTION FOR LIBEL

Damages Sued for by Warden Calvert of Middlesex and Mr. Watterworth, ex-M.P.P.

Because the London Free Press Accused Them of Being Cuilty of a Serious Crime.

Messrs. Stuart & Stuart, barristers, city, have brought an action for damages for libel against the London Free Press, on instructions from W. S. Calvert, warden of Middlesex, and Mr. John Watterworth,

On June 26 last the following article, with the headings in large type, was published in the Free Press, too late to have an effective denial published before the voting, which it was intended to influence: "Bribery in West Middlesex-A Clear Case Against Warden Calvert-How Geo. W. Ross' Majority Has Been Made Up in Past Elections-The Party of Purity Exposed. "The following sworn declaration was made before Samuel H. Brown, a commissioner at Wardsville, yesterday afternoon. It demonstrates that the leaders of the Grit party in West Middlesex will go to any length, not even within the law, to is a farmer whose character is above regroach, and his affidavit is so explicit that it bears the stamp of truth upon its face:

it bears the stamp of truth upon its face:

"County of Middlesex to wit:

"In the matter of the election to the west riding of the county of Middlesex:

"I. Frank Davis, of the village of Wardsville, in the county of Middlesex, farmer, do solemnly declare—

"1. That i am an elector in the west riding of the county of Middlesex;

"2. That I was subpoeneed as a crown witness at the sittings of Assize held in London in the month of October last, and my fees as a witness were disallowed by the crown counsel at the said siftings;

"3. That the said witness fees amounted to something about $12 (twelve dollars);

"4. That on Saturday, the 23rd inst., I was approached by John Watterworth, Esq., and Mr. Calvert, warden of the county of Middlesex, and on their hearing my complaint in reference to the said fees. Mr. Calvert guaranteed the payment of the said fees on condition of my going to the polls as a supporter of the Hon C. W. Poss."

teed the payment of the said fees on condition of my going to the polls as a supporter of the Hon. G. W. Ross;

"5. On the strength of the above promise I agreed to support Mr. Ross as a voter on the day of the said polling.

"And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously, believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the act respecting extra-judicial coaths.

"SAMUEL H. BROWN,

"Samuel H. Brown,
"A Commissioner, etc."

Mr. Davis, having had his attention called to these serious charges against the warden of the county and Mr. Watterworth, ex-M. P.P., two reputable citizens of Middiesex, at once swore to the following Arthur for particulars, and appeared to statement before Mr. E. T. Dufton, J.P.: statement before Mr. E. T. Dufton, J.P.: "I, Frank B. Davis, of the village of farmer, do solemnly declare that I am the was published in the Free Press of June 26, paced up and down for a few minutes. Blue Chambray now in, was published in the Free Fress of June 20, paced up and down for a few infinites.

Then she came to the dining-room and alleging that Mr. W. S. Witness was entitled, guaranteed payment of the then rushed upstairs. Mrs. McKechnic said fees on conditions that I would go to the polls as a supporter of the Hon. G. W. under the pillow. Ross in the pending election.

"I never intended to make such a declaration, and the said declaration in the above respect is wholly untrue; but I was deceived and misled by other persons and induced to sign the paper.

"The truth is, that when asked by these gentlemen if I was going back on Ross, and if so what was the reason, I complained of not getting the said fees, and said I thought the Government was responsible; and one of them replied that if there was any wrong it was with the officials of the court, and not the fault of the Government. But there was no promise or guarantee of any kind made to me that I would be paid the said fees, and I was not asked to vote for Mr. Ross, and there was no attempt to induce me to vote for Mr. Ross, by any promise whatever, and I did not promise to support Mr. Ross.

"The said declaration was made under the following circumstances: I was called on the afternoon of the 25th of June by Carson F. Adair to the shop of Mr. Brown, and found there certain papers to be signed, which, on being signed, would enable me to get the said fees. I went to Mr. Brown's shop and was shown the paper, which proved to be a declaration, a copy of which has been shown to me in the Free Press newspaper. I refused to swear to it in the form prepared, but was induced to do so, believing that I was not ewearing to that part. I objected to the last two clauses, which allege that Mr. Calvert guaranteed the payment of the said fees, and that I promised to vote for Mr. Ross on condition of the said guarantee, as ments were not true.

"I was induced to believe that I would get said fees from John A. Leitch. "And I make this solemn declaration. conscientiously believing it to be true, and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of 'The Canada Evidence Act, 1893.'

In support of the last-named statement, Mr. Elijah Davis, father of Frank B. Davis, and Mrs. Mary Davis, his mother, have sworn to the following statement:

"I. Elijah Davis, of the village of Wardsville, in the county of Middlesex, gardener, do solemnly declare that I am the father of Frank Davis, who appears to have signed a paper purporting to be a declaration making certain charges against Mr. W. S. Calvert and Mr. John Watterworth, and I was present at the interview between my son and the gentlemen mentioned at my residence in Wardsville on the 23rd day of June, A. D. 1894, and I heard all the conversation which took place between them. My said son complained of not getting his witness fees as crown witness on a certain occasion in London, but neither the said Calvert nor Watterworth promised to obtain the said fees for him or to guarantee payment thereof, nor did they make any other promise to him in consideration of his voting for Mr. Ross, and they never asked him to vote for Mr. Ross, and the only conversation in regard to the election was the inquiry made of my son why he was reported not to be supporting Mr. Ross at the election then pending. "I am informed and believe that my said son was induced by misrepresentation to make the said declaration, not knowing the meaning thereof." As the case is now sub judice the ADVERTISER refrains from commenting on the extraordinary nature of the accusation against these respected residents of the west riding.

A Coroner's Jury Deliberates on Miss McKechnie's Case.

The Verdict Similar to That Rendered at the Thomson Inquiry-No New Light on the Terrible Tragedy.

The curtain fell on the Thomson-Mc-Kechnie tragedy last night, leaving the motive as tar from being ascertained as on the day the terrible occurrence took place. The coroner's jury returned exactly the same verdict as that given in the Thomson

Wm. Upper, clerk at Strong's drug store, was called, and repeated his evidence given last night respecting the purchase of two bottles of prussic acid by Thomson. He also recognized the bottle produced which had been found with Miss McKechnie.

Wm. J. Burns, clerk at the Grigg House, remembered delivering the bottle produced, or one like it, that had been left at the hotel for Mr. Thomson about a month ago. John McArthur, who carried the news to Miss McKechnie, then took the stand. He said: Miss Bella McKechnie came to the door, and I asked it Mrs. McKechnie was in. She said yes, and called her mother. Then she turned and asked carry to success at the polls the Hon. Geo. me if there was anything wrong. W. Ross in the election to-day. Mr. Davis I asked if she had heard about Mr. Thomson. By that time Mrs, McKechnie was in sight, and she said, "No. What is it?" I said he was drowned last night in the river. She turned around and threw up her hands and said, "Mother, Harry is drowned!" At first Miss McKechnie was inconsolable, and screamed, and would not let anyone come near her. Then she asked witness to describe his appearance. She did not think it was Thomson until the cuff buttons found on the body were described. "How will we let Harry's mother know?" sobbed Bella. Mrs. Lennie asked if it was not so that his mother was very sick. Bella replied that she was, and witness suggested that in that case it would be better to cable to Thomson's brother, and not shock his mother. Then Bella became calm enough to give witness the addresses of Thomson's folks and of Mrs. Kipp in To-

Mr. McKillop-The fact that she asked if there was anything wrong would not at all indicate that she was expecting that something would happen? A .- No; witness thought not. He (witness) had walked rapidly from the boat house, and not being a usual visitor his appearance probably caused her to think something was wrong. Mrs. McKechnie took the stand and repeated in part what she said on Thursday night. She was on the stairs when Mr. McArthur came, and thought it was Mr. Thomson. Bella came in from the door wringing her hands and moaning, "Oh, ma, Harry is drowned!" Then she asked Mr. Mc-Mr. McArthur was there she was in the Wardsville, in the county of Middlesex, hall. Then she went into the parlor, and we left her to herself for probably seven person who signed a paper, a true copy of minutes. The others were in the diningwhich is hereto attached marked 'A' which room. Then Bella came into the hall and said she was tired and would the county of Middlesex, accompanied by to lie down. something Harry gave her. I thought it was a bottle of perfume. Witness said that deceased was expecting Mr. Thomson that morning and had gone to the corner to meet him once. Nellie, her younger sister, found a note in the hall after the affair. "Bury me with my darling Harry," it said.

The note was produced. It was written on the sheet of a writing tablet used for lining thin paper. She had written "Bury me with Ha—" and then wrote "my" through "Ha," and finished "darling

Harry. Mrs. Lennie described the finding of Miss McKechnie lying on the bed in the throes of death. Mr. Lindsay recognized the bottle as the one he had carried from the window of Miss McKechnie's room and given to Coroner

Dr. Waugh said he had found Miss Mc-Kechnie black in the face and frothing at the mouth. At first he thought she was dead, but she breathed twice afterwards. There was a strong odor of prussic acid in the room and about the girl. He recognized the bottle, and said that from the amount taken it would have been impossible to do I well knew at the time that the said state- anything for her had he been called earlier. This closed the evidence, and Corner Flock laid the case before the jury. He said that Thomson was evidently an honorable man and a gentleman, and probably had not sent for the money awaiting him from the New Howe Bicycle Company at New York because he had not earned it. As his father was dead it was possible that there were funds in trust for him in the old country, and it was probable that he had cabled and was disappointed in not getting a reply. Thomson had provided for some contingency in purchasing the acid, but the coroner did not think that Miss McKechnie expected the affair so soon. It was a wonder to him that a woman of Miss Mc-Kechnie's character and of a sturdy Scotch race should have been so weak-minded as to consent to take the poison.

The verdict returned was exactly the same as that found last night: That the deceased came to her death by the effect of hydrocianic acid administered by herself.

THE LONDON DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

The coroner's inquiry into the melancholy deaths of Mr. Harry Thomson and Miss Bella McKechnie has closed without definitely revealing the motive for the mournful suicides of the couple. It has been established beyond a doubt, however, that the prime mover in the double tragedy was the unfortunate young man. He deliberately bought the deadly poison. He presented his affianced with one of the bottles of prussic acid that, as a medical man, he was able to purchase from a city druggist. And if there was any deathly compact between the girl and her lover, the evidence all points to the belief that it was entered into at the man's suggestion.

The question not answered by the witnesses at the inquiry is, Why did Thomson thus deliberately plan the double suicide? There is no evidence to show that he was in any trouble that could not have been overcome. Apparently the man's business prospects were far from gloomy, and even if they had been he had youth, health and ability on his side, and could have made his way in the world with greater ease than thousands of his fellowcountrymen have been able to do. Moreover, he had the strong love of a beautiful and virtuous woman-an inspiring influence calculated to give a man faith in himself and to nerve him on to make a creditable | Summers 270. home and a living for her.

Possessing this knowledge of his circumstances, we can come to no other conclusion as to the motive that prompted the young | 396, Charlie Martin 395, Nelly Toohey 395, man to self-destruction and to provide Chester McDonald 346, Victor Smith 339, means for the self-destruction of his plighted | Maggie Sutherland 332, Edna Kennedy 330, lover than that, through some occult Addie Bryce 327, influence, which we are unable to explain, he had lost control of his senses. That fact, again, is difficult of comprehension, Laura Hodgins 525, Leo Stephens 509, when we consider the apparent deliberation with which he went about the preparations for the mutual life-taking. The man's acts betoken a tendency on his part very often evident in the modern suicide. First, there was a failure to grapple with difficulties that to many would seem very ordinary; next, a dwindling power of endurance and a gradual extinguishing of hope; then an undermining of the sources of faith, and finally despair of the future and a determination to leave the world. This is no way to live or to die. Men and women should be taught from their earliest days that life is at best a struggle, and that only those who meet their fortune bravely, howsoever hard, need expect true happi-

Suicide is no way to meet trouble. It is at best an exhibition of weakness, a disposition to shirk responsibility and duty. If Harry Thomson had learned to look upon human existence in this light, he would never have been tempted to provide his sweetheart with a deathly drug, apparently with the intention that, when he died by his own hand, she, too, in her paroxysm of grief, might be tempted to follow his example. We know of nothing in the career of this young man that could not have been com. John McLarty and Marguerite McNab, batted and overcome, if he had not permitted his endurance in the present and faith in Providence to collapse. But for this eagerness to escape what, at worst, would have been temporary trouble, Harry Thomson might have lived to make Bella McKechnie the good husband that she degerved. Patience and perseverance, in cloud and in sunshine, are cardinal virtues, and cannot be too sedulously cultivated.

A FAITHFUL PUBLIC SERVANT.

(Boston Journal.) The public school teacher is off on her vacation. May it be a happy one, the board good and cheap, the company agreeable and sport congenial. No one earns a rest so faithfully as she does, or needs it more or appreciates it better. The public school teacher shares with the American mother the custody of the children of the State, and has in her keeping the future citizens of the nation. Rest, health and content attend her in her summer outing.

The Government Not Inclined to Turn Out Turcotte.

Disregard of Orders of the House for Returns and Papers.

and Adjutant-General Powell Reinstated.

(Special to the ALVERTISER.) OTTAWA, Ont., July 6 .- The committee on privileges and elections met today, but made no progress because of insufficiency of the notice of meeting. Mr. Edgar put in a motion finding the facts upon which to base the conclusion that A. J. Turcotte, member for Montmorency, had violated the Independence of Parliament Act by holding contracts with the Government and forfeited his seat. This will be voted on as an amendment to the contrary motion of Mr. Amyot, the Government's intention being, apparently, to resist the attack on Turcotte's seat.

In the House of Commons on the orders of the day being called, Mr. Perry complained that garbled documents were brought down in response to orders of the House for returns. Mr. Haggart said there were in this case letters from Lieut. Gov. Howland, Hon. G. E. Foster and Rev. Father Burke, which were private and which he did not intend to have brought

Mr. Mills (Bothwell) complained that a return regarding the industries of London ordered last year had not been brought down. Messrs. Fraser, of Guysboro, and Mc Mullen also complained of the absence of returns ordered. Mr. McNeill asked if any steps would be taken to bring before the colonial conference the scheme of British preferential trade indorsed by this House in 1892 by formal resolutions. Premier Thompson said they might fairly assume that the delegates would not fail to consider this question. It was not advisable to disclose prematurely the private deliberations of the conference, which, however, was expected to close LACROSSE. early next week, when their conclusions on the trade subject would be announced. In committee of supply Sir Richard and at the same time handed me a communication marked confidential in reference to that suspension. Today I received a further communication from the majorgeneral, also marked confidential, and these are of such a character that I do not think it would be fair to Col. Powell to lay them before Parliament without at the same time giving the answer of the adjutant-general. The specific charge upon which he was suspended was that he allowed to be inserted in the Canada Gazette a general order without the permission of the major-general and without the initials and approval of the Minister upon the proof sheet to the Queen's printer. This afternoon I sent the following letter to the major-general:

"I have your report respective the suspension of the adjutant-general. I notice that it is marked confidential and that you refer to this as official, but I cannot regard a report marked confidentfal in such a light. I desired a report which could be submitted to Parliament and given to the press. Upon consideration of the matter, I do not consider the charge you specify as of sufficient gravity to warrant you in continuing the suspension for a longer period. You will be so good as to remove the suspension and reinstate him in the position of adjutant-general, and also

This statement administering a snubbing to the major-general and a vindication of the permanent Canadian head of the militia force of Canada was loudly cheered by both sides of the House. Major Hughes, member for North Victoria, said this was all very well, but the question remained, had Gen. Herbert any authority to suspend this officer? As he understood it, the general had no authority at all to suspend any civil officer. On the estimates for the Kingston Penitentiary, the Minister of Justice stated that the investigation had exonerated the warden. The Premier stated on adjournment that the motion for the second reading of the French treaty would be made on Monday, also the resolution respecting lobster canning.

THE WEATHER TO DAY-Fine.

SUCCESS OF SEASON.

> THOSE WHO HAVE THEM KNOW. THOSE WHO HAVE THEM NOT SHOULD KNOW.

DUCK COSTUMES

Are just the thing for summer wear. We think so. A great many ladies believe us. Why? Because they have them. These costumes are the prettiest, coolest and most fashionable now seen on the streets. Those who wear them look composed.

ANOTHER SHIPMENT

Just received. When we say we have scarcely been able to supply the demand we do not exaggerate. At this present moment wa have only a few left in stripes, so those who want this kind must hurry. In White Duck and Canvas we are able to supply all those who inquired last week as well as all others.

A LOT AT $3 75.

> Why not look cool and comfortable during the balance of the summer? A complete combination skirt and coat, New York latest, large reveres, splendid fit, at $3 75. Another line, slightly better material, though not any more fashionable, at $4. Let everybody look cool.

THE COST OF FOLLY AND GREED. (New York World.) The coal strike is estimated to have cost $20,000,000. This covers the losses suffered by the mine-owners and men. Its indirect cost in sorrow, suffering, and want to thousands of women and chil dren will never be calculated. Nor can statistics ever tell us what it cost, to others than those directly concerned, by the paralysis it inflicted upon all forms of industry at a time when stagnation was peculiarly disastrous. And all this loss and suffering has been the result of stupid folly on the one hand and conscienceless greed on the other. The greed was on the part of the mine owners in refusing to pay living wages when they could well afford to do so. The felly was on the part of the workingmen's leaders in precipitating a contest at a fatally inoppor-tune time. The demands of the men in this case were so just that at any ordinarily propitious time they could have been enforced. The attempt was made instead when industry was languishing under the losses incident to a great panic, and was fore-

-A tarantula was killed in the city engineer's office this morning. It is said that it wandered in after a building permit, the late cold spell having made the packing boxes in the vicinity of the banana warehouses uncomfortable.

-A telegram was received in the city last night announcing that Mr. Frank Luxton, formerly of this city, but latterly a ranchman at Butte City, Mont., had been killed. No particulars were given in the telegram. Mr. Harry Snow, butcher, of this city, left a few days ago to visit Mr.

-Mr. S. S. Haight, of this city, has received word of the sudden disappearance on June 10 of his brother, Mr. A. W. Haight, of Plum Creek, four miles west of Souris, Manitoba. Mr. Haight was a bachelor, 40 years old, and in good circumstances. His friends cannot account for his disappearance, and as he leaves 350 acres of land and a large quantity of stock that needs looking after they would like to hear of him. He is a son of Elijah Haight, Brantford, and was born and brought up within six miles of that place. He has been in Manitoba for twelve years.

It is impossible to sell tickets for points further west than Port Huron and Detroit, and now that the strike has been ordered in Buffalo this will probably apply to eastward travel as well. With the strike east and west it is just possible that through trains may be discontinued and only local trains used. Railroad men here feel confident that the worst of the strike will be over by Monday.

It has been shown that Nellie Van Zant, of Rodney, was accidentally drowned at Mount Clemens, Mich. The evidence proved that the young man Willett, who was rowing her in the river treated her shamefully and that she fell out of the boat.

A Jockey Who Spends Hours in a Hot Room Without Taking Any Liquids. On the floor of the hottest room in an up-town Russian bath yesterday a small man lay doubled up bemoaning his fate, says the New York Sun. Once in a while he would squirm over on his back or turn flat on his face and drum a tattoo on the floor with his fingers, while he went on with his inarticulate protestations. He was a mere bag of skin and bones with a few sharply defined muscles in his arms and upper legs. In one hand he had a small, polished wooden stick about the shape and size of an ordinary foot rule. This he rubbed over his back, shoulders and legs, and wherever there was any flesh covering the bones. It was what might be called "the reverse picture of a jeckey's life." The man was a famous jockey, and the contrast between his reception at the grand stand when he comes in on the back of a winning horse, cheered by thousands of race-goers, and his position squirming about the floor of the hot room trying to reduce his weight another pound or two before the race in the afternoon was very strong. The natural weight of this particular jockey is about 126 pounds. He had been in the hot room two hours without taking a drink of any kind. Finally he decided that he could not stand it any longer and sent out for some sherry and ice. This he took with

He passes his arm around Miss Anson's waist, and again disappears among the

Miss Anson is at her best to-night. The amber gown suits her to perfection. It tones her, and makes the whiteness of her regal shoulders even whiter. She looks, however, a little bigger than usual-a fault, perhaps, but then they say you can't have too much of a good thing. Her arms, if large, are splendidly modeled, and her feet, beneath her amber petticoat, look like anything but little mice as they peer in and out: they are indeed substantial members, and worthy of the fine frame they were made to uphold. The poet has been struck

Mr, Evingley-or "The Poet," as his friends affectionately (or otherwise) call him -is a young gentleman with a long nose and ao chin. He has also three hairs on his apper lip, that must be the toughest hairs on record, as, though he never ceases tug-ging at them, they never yield to the attack. He had once sent a poem to a lead. ng magazine: the editor in a misguided noment had accepted it, and in due course published it on the last page. On the strength of this, Mr. Evingley has ever since posed "as a writer of sweet verse" (this is his own expression); and now that Lord Tennyson has left us disconsolate, he has hopes of the Laureateship. He is at this moment falling against a wall, in the latest known fashion, gazing at Miss Anson with lack-lustre eyes, when Mr. Kitts comes up to him; whereon he rouses himself sufficiently, though very sadly, "to speak dull prose" (his own again) about the stars outside, which to-night indeed are re-

Now, Mr. Kitts is a Philistine, pure, but not simple. He is a young man of aboutwell, his mother alone knows his age, and she is dead; but one might say that he was 21. This you might say to-day, but tomorrow you would be sure to say he was 30, and the next day you would hark back again, and say you knew he was only 25; at all events, only one thing is sure, and that is that no one has ever called him 40. He is a young man who, if not possessed of extreme charms outwardly, is certainly filled to the brim with an unquenchable flow of animal spirits and small talk, that would have made his fortune in other times. As a cheap jack, for example, be would have been invaluable, and would doubtless have died a millionaire.

Then he will talk: "Good gods! how he will talk!" Easier to stop the current of the Shannon than that of Mr. Kitt's conversation once he has started.

The Poet has been maundering on about the stars for so considerable a time that Mr.

Kitts at last grows angry.
"I confess," says he, "I like the stars that are earth-born better. My dear fellow you should encourage home manufacture. It's your duty, and, disagreeable as it may 'Duty belongs even to the gods," says Mr. Evingley, solemnly, "then why not to us noor worms?"

"Well, now, I like you to take it like that," says Mr. Kitts, regarding him with immense admiration. "It sounds so modest—and from you! Worms? That's a good word! Worms! Wrigglers! 'Then why not to us poor wrigglers! It is immense! Even you? Do you wriggle?"

"Ah! what a question! That is the fault of the uninitiated," says the Poet,

"they are so material. No soul! e.c. Now, if you had a soul--I shouldn't wriggle. Well, I always understood I had one somewhere, but if you tell me I haven't"—cheerfully—"I'm quite prepared to believe you. In the meantime, let us come back for a moment to mundane matters, if"-politely-"you can spare the We were talking, if you can remember, of the minor constellations—the earthstars-the glow-worms shall we call them? Can I so far venture? 'Ah, not bad, not bad; really sweet little simi e," says the Poet, with a piteous smile. Glow-worms! There is certainly one glow-worm in the room to-night, who—" You've noticed her?" says Mr. Kitts, changing his manner in a sudden and beginning to hunt the room with his eyes for

"Ah. yes. I have been feasting on her," says the Poet, sadly. His eyes are devouring the room for Miss Anson. "Well, as to that," says Kitts, who has at last seen Terry, "I don't think she'd make much of a meal, but I'm sure I never saw her look so well. "Sweet! very sweet!" cooes the Poet, ecstatically. "A mere breath, as it were, but so satisfying.' 'A veritable souffle!" cries Kitts, enthusiatically, who is beginning to enjoy himself. "I'm glad you agree with me about her. Evingley, do you think I too might be a poet? I feel like one, when I look at her! And in that dress, too-"Ah! that amber dress! That diaphanous

'Great Scott !" says Mr. Kitts, but to "the idiot has evidently been thinking of that big Anson girl all the time. So much for poets !"

As a fact, the two girls, Geraldine Anson and Terry, have been standing at the end of the room with their partners while this conversation has been going on.
"Yes. Yes, I see." says he aloud.
"She is special. So very, very special," says Mr. Evingley, with something that sounds like a sob. "Haven't you noticed

"The specialty! I'm so dull, you know," ays Kitts, trying to look as if he wanted "We miserable outsiders, what can we know of beauty?"

"Ah, that is true, dear friend. But you should cultivate yourself; you should lower yourself at the feet of a master, and learn from him. As for Miss Anson-I think we were dwelling upon her-how calm she is! Like a dream! So beautiful! A dream within a dream! You know the precious lines. Now, Miss Anson seems to me when she moves, not so much to walk as to float-

"Like a man-o'-war," suggests Kitts, enthusiastically. The poet frowns upon him, "Like a cloud." says he.

'A storm-cloud, judging of her from afar," says Mr. Kitts, who now has given way to wild if secret mirth.

And indeed Miss Anson's face at this moment is not descriptive of the cloud at even, the calm cloud, as we are accustomed to see it. It is now cold and angry. Even the most impartial observer might have called it ill-tempered. As a fact, she has just been asking Trefasis why Terry had not given him that first waltz. And Trefusis's answer has angered her.

He had laughed. Didn't she know that it was bad form for engaged people to dance together? No? Why, it is considered in decent circles only a little worse than married people dancing together. Still, if Miss Anson clings to old-fashioned ideas, she need not be altogether unhappy, because he hopes -he is not sure but he hopes | new ideas. Phone 1,061.

to induce Miss O'More to give the go-by to both their prejudices (heavy emphasis on the both), and to let him have one waltz before the night is finished.

No wonder Miss Anson's fair handsome face looks like a storm-cloud.

Yet the storm in Miss Anson's face is nothing to the storm in Trefusis's heart, as presently, his dance with the latter coming to an end, he goes up to Terry, who has to an end, he goes up to Terry, who has just finished her dance with Laurence.

CHAPTER XII. "May I have this dance?" he asks. His face is a study. Terry starts and changes color. Laurence had gone off a moment before to fulfill his engagement with a most uninteresting old girl belonging to the Gabbett tribe, so that she feels herseif without so much as one spear to her back. It is, unfortunately, one of the supper dances, and impossible to refuse. Something in his manner tells her that he knows she is not engaged for it.

"Cortainly," she replies, slowly, coldly. "That is very good of you," savs he, in a rather untranslatable tone. To Terry it sounds too suave. It is the first time she has ever danced with him, and half-way round she is obliged to confess to herself that his dancing is beyond reproach. He is, indeed, the best partner she has ever had. a piece of perfection," she tells herself, with a disgusted but inward shrug. "He does everything excellently well. How I hate perfection!" Her own dancing is a thing of beauty-a fact Trefusis acknowledges with far greater generosity than she had accorded to him. In spits of the fact that he would not ask her, he had been longing to dance with her all the night, and now as he holds her in his arms (it is very seldom during his engagement that he has ever held her so) he wishes devoutly he had forgiven her wilful ill-treatment of him earlier in the evening.

Mr. J. Lockie Wilson on the Detailed Policy of the Order.

Praise for Hon. Mr. Dryden.

The Agricultural Department Wins Approval.

with the Cough."

TORONTO, July 5 .- The Patron Grand Board held its first meeting yesterday, transacting a good deal of routine business. A representative of the Globe asked Mr. J. Lockie Wilson some questions as to the stand taken by the order in regard to specific points of policy, their general atti-tude having been outlined by Mr. Mallory and Mr. Wilson on the previous day. A lange in the assessment law was the point on which Mr. Wilson seemed to lay most stress-that change running in the direction of bank stocks and mortgages. The existing exemption of farm stock, Mr. Wilson was willing to see abolished, inasmuch as the wealthier farmer, with his expensive herd, gets much more exemption than does the poorer farmer, with his halfdozen grade cows. Neither, he said, do farmers desire any special legislation; what they ask is that farmers should be treated as other classes of the community in the matter of assessment. If a farmer has a farm valued at $3,000, and has a $2,000 mortgage on it, he is taxed on the whole $2,000; while a merchant with $3,000 worth of goods, of which he has paid for but $1,000 worth, is, quite properly, taxed on only that $1,000 worth. If there is to be an income tax, they will accept it, the farmer to pay on his income, after deducting the expenses of his farm and family. By that income tax the money lenders and bank stockholders could be reached. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Turning to the subject of the Department of Agriculture, which the Ontario Government has maintained for the farmers of the Province, Mr. Wilson expressed himself as approving of it. The Government, in this instance, he said, had done good work, and has done its best. "We take no stock in this small talk about calves with coughs," he observed. "Such talk is too small a business for politicians; there are higher subjects on which our public men should occupy their time." Hon. Mr. Dryden himself, Mr. Wilson spoke in the highest terms. He is a thoroughly he lest, painstaking man, Mr. Wilson said, and entirely competent. Of his conduct of his department, Mr. Wilson had a very good opinion; it had been able and on which he though he could offer he was abundantly satisfied. On the principle of having a Ministry of Agriculture, with a practical farmer as Minister, Mr. represent an immense amount of property, he said, and on them depends, directly or indirectly, the welfare of the whole community; surely such an interest demands Meredith moved that the Department of Agriculture be abolished, and handed over to some minor official under the Minister of Education or some other minister," Mr. Wilson said, "it was a farce, and he showed he was not in touch with the farming community. And I am not surprised, for Mr. Meredith is, of course, a professional man."

THE COLLEGE AT GUELPH. Mr. Wilson approved of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph; it has done good work, and he hoped to see the principle extended. Speaking as an eastern man, he would like to see a model farm established somewhere in the eastern counties. There is a different climate there. and experiments carried on in the Guelph climate might not give the same results in the St. Lawrence district. One suggestion he would make would be that, inasmuch as the Guelph farm has every year a sale of stock, seed, grain, etc., and inasmuch as it is a very long way for a man to go from near Brockville or Cornwall to buy there, the extra expense giving the farmers near Guelph an advantage, he thought it would be a good thing for the department, on alternate years, to take their stock to some point in the east and auction it off there, thus giving the eastern farmers a better chance. As regards the Farmers' Institutes, Mr Wilson was inclined to think their usefulness at present to a large extent departed. The Patron lodges have, to a large extent, taken their place, he said. Good work has been done in the past by them, and President Mills he regarded as having been very useful, while many of the lecturers sent out were very efficient. He agreed, too, that the Patron lodges could not accept the money aid which the Government now gives the institutes, and thought that the latter might be remodeled. Of the traveling dairy he spoke in terms of the warmest approbation, saying that it had done a very great amount of good all through the country. He also indorsed the movement towards a creamery system, which has received the Government's encouragement, It is in the co-operative system that the future of butter-making lies, he said. As a whole he was decidedly in favor of the department's agricultural policy.

APPOINTMENT OF OFFICIALS. On the subject of the appointment of county officials Mr. Wilson held that if the people were intelligent enough to elect the or five boxes for $1. members of Parliament, and of the Legislature, to make the laws of the land, and the reeves and county councilors to make the bylaws, they were also intelligent enough to select the sheriffs, registrars, license inspectors and other officers. They would not, however, adopt the principle of a short term, as in the United States, but would like to see a man appointed for good behavior, with inspection of an official appointed by the Government. A board, consisting, say, of the warden, the county judge, and the inspector, might decide when an office should be declared vacant and another election held. The Patrons are in favor of the fee system, he said; it is a mistake to say they are opposed to it. They believe in the men who have the business with the office paying for it. All that they contend is that a salary should be fixed, to be paid out of the fees, and all fees coming in over the salary should go to the municipality from which they accrue. The salaries should be fairly liberal; $1,500 a year Mr. Vilson thought a reasonable salary for a sheriff in a rural municipality. As regards prohibition, Mr. Wilson said that the Patrons have not pronounced upon the subject, and so the Patron members will be free to vote as they feel personally inclined if the question comes up. There is a strong temperance feeling among the Patrons, he said, but the order has made uncement, and so the members will be free to divide as they please upon ALMOST RAISED FROM THE CRAVE.

Magazine, criticising and condemning the American Protective Association. The main charges by Dr. Gladden were that the A. P. A. made it the duty of its members to prevent Roman Catholics from enjoying political and social rights, to which they ave a claim, in common with the rest of the community; and that as a means of stirring up Protestant hostility against Roman Catholics, they had published forged documents, in the form of an alleged papal encyclical and other statements, said to be by Catholic authorities, but which were not authentic. In the July Century, the Rev. Adam Fawcett of Columbus, Ohio, the supreme vice-president of the A. P. A. order, replies to Dr. Gladden. His main points are that the A. P. A. is a political and not a religious association, and interferes with no one's religion; that there is need of such an organization to oppose Romanism; and that, while Dr. Gladden alleges that these forged documents, designed to excite hos-

"As for the Rev. Adam Fawcett, it is easy to test his veracity. He says that the A. P. A. has no organs. This is a quibble to which these defenders all resort. An order which endeavors to conceal its own existence is not likely to have any acknowledged official newspaper. But there are scores of newspapers all through the west which are just as much organs of the A. P. A. as any Republican or Democratic newspaper is the organ of its party. One of these is published in Columbus. It is the Columbus Record. In its issue of Aug. 2, 1893, under the heading 'Very Encouraging Words,' is printed in double-leaded type the following: From the national vice-president and Ohio president of the American Protective Association of the United States and

"Perhaps Mr. Fawcett will admit that I a Minister, and a practical Minister, not had some reason for regarding this parprofessional man, and "when Mr. ticular newspaper as an 'A. P. A. authority.' In the same issue of the Columbus Record which contains Mr. Fawcett's official indorsement, the bogus encyclical is printed twice, in large type, with these flaming headings: 'Americans, Beware!' 'The Lord God, the Pope, says, "Thou Shalt Surely Die!"' 'Will You Heed the Warning?' 'The Great Event to Take Place on or About September 5, 1893.' The Rev. Adam Fawcett knew when he signed this indorsement of the Record that the 'Encyclical' and the 'Instructions to Catholics' had been appearing for some months nearly every week in the columns of this newspaper. I will not accuse Mr. Fawcett of believing these documents to be genuine. He is a member of the school board of Columbus and has aspired to be its president. Undoubtedly he believed them to be forgeries. But he greatly wished the country to be flooded with this kind of 'patriotic literature.'" It was certainly rather barefaced for the supreme vice-president to deny that the A. P. A. newspaper was responsible for the publication of these forged documents and false statements when he knew that these things were published in the very paper that he himself had indorsed and commended as an A. P. A. paper, that had been an important factor in promoting the prosperity of the order. A Good Appetite Always accompanies good health, and an absence of appetite is an indication of semething wrong. The universal testimony given thing wrong. Cat's Notion of Nursing.

[St. Louis Republic.] We hoped the country had progressed to that point where arbitration and mutual concessions in trying times would forever prevent the recurrence of a strike equal in extent to that of 1877, and that the lesson then learned by both capital and labor would be long remembered. The hundreds of lives and the millions of money then lost should have been a sufficient sacrifice upon the altar of disagreement.

London's Railway Connections. The Advertiser's Ottawa correspondent the ADVERTISER picnic attractions on says: "The railway committee this morning passed the bill respecting the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway Company and the London and Port Stanley Railway Company, confirming the lease and empowering the issue of mortgage bonds and debentures. This latter clause was, however, amended, providing that the proposed issue shall be subject to the former issue and to the provisions of the Railway Act. It is learned that a settlement has been reached regarding the dispute between the Lake Erie and Detroit River Company and the Michigan Central as to which company is entitled to the business of London and St. Thomas. The two companies agreed to
