FOE HAMMERS SOUVILLE; NO INFANTRY ATTACKS EITHER SIDE OF MEUSE

German Artillery Concentrated on Key-Fort to the Verdun Inner Defences—Minor Attempts on Vosges Front Stopped by French.

(Canadian Press.)

Paris, June 15, 11:55 p.m.—Germans are continuing the violent bombardment of the French positions north of Souville, the key to the inner defences of Verdun, the official statement issued by the French war office today states.

No infantry fighting occurred on either bank of the Meuse last night. On the Vosges front some minor German attempts to attack the French line were made, but completely failed, according to the official statement.

FRENCH OFFICIAL REPORT.

The statement follows:

"On both banks of the River Meuse there was cessaton of infantry activity last night. On the other hand the French and the German artillery branches showed activity in the region of Chattancourt as well as in the sector to the north of Souville.

"In the Vosges a strong detachment of the enemy which, supported by a spirited bombardment, endeavored to approach our lines was driven back by the fire of our machine guns. Another surprise attack by the enemy upon our positions to the northwest of Bon Homme resulted in complete failure."

BRITISH LINE EXTENDED

Now Hold a Quarter of Allied Front in the West.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 15.—A Paris cable to the Times says: Great interest has been aroused here by a statement made by Bonar Law to the Matin that the British army, completely in accord with Gen. Joffre, was prepared to move whenever the French headquarters staff saw fit. The statement is accepted as a sufficient answer to the charge of British indifference to the French losses before Verdun. The press expresses much satisfaction over Bonar Law's frank statement. From the outset the military authorities here have insisted that it would be playing Germany's game for the British to move before the psychological moment, and have scouted anti-British rumors as idle or malicious gossip. Bonar Law's statement will go far to reassure the people here.

British Are Ready.

There is reason to believe that in addition to the great Russian offensive under way against the Austrians, and another already begun against the Germans on the northern part of that line, a third is about to be launched by the British in the west if this last is not now under way.

For weeks there have been unmistakable signs of a great British offensive impending, which would become active when the Germans before the British line had been reduced to a minimum, and propitious offensives had been begun by the Allies in other quarters. The British front formerly extended from the Belgian front, which ends about ten miles north of Ypres, for 32 miles down to about the same distance from Arras. In the last week in March the British replaced the French as far as the Roye Railway, south of the Somme, and thus occupied a front of about 90 miles, or a

Duncan McLaren Victim of Fatal Accident at Dublin.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Seaforth, June 15.—While attempting to alight from G. T. R. train No. 219, near Dublin station last night, as it was in motion, Duncan McLaren, a farmer, aged 60 years, was almost instantly killed, being ground under the wheels. Both legs were cut off and an arm broken.

Mr. McLaren had been to Drumbo, attending a live stock sale, and was returning to his home at Cromarty, Hibbert Township. The train stopped at Dublin and had only made a start from the station westward when Mr. McLaren tried to alight. Why he did not leave at he station is not known, and no one witnessed the accident.

Mr. McLaren was a well-known farmer, and is survived by his widow and family. An inquest will be held.

IRISH CONFERENCE NEARING A CRISIS; OUTLOOK IS DARK

Ulster Unionists Are Reported Determined On Permanent Exclusion.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 15.—A special cable to the World from London, under yesterday's date says:

Negotiations for a settlement of the Irish question have reached a highly critical stage, and there is little optimism among those engaged in them.

In the first place the Ulster Unionists demand that the proposed settlement shall be definite and final, as far as the exclusion of six Ulster counties is concerned. This attitude if persisted in, will destroy all hopes of agreement, as the purely provisional, character of the proposed arrangement is only an offset offered to the Nationalists in Ulster and the other provinces for the exclusion of six Ulster counties.

John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, met the Catholic bishops of Ulster, and Cardinal Logue at Armagh today to urge acceptance of Lloyd George's scheme.

Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, was engaged at the same time in reasoning with his Orange followers to induce them to accept a provisional scheme.

PUBLIC DEMAND STRONG MAN FOR THE WAR OFFICE

Explains Why Lloyd George Is Likely To Be Appointed.

MUST BE OF HIGH CALIBRE

Churchill Once More in Premier Asquith's Good Graces.

AT PEACE WITH FISHER

Gulf Due to the Gallipoli Exposure Has Been Bridged.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 15.— The London correspondent of the Tribune cables:

David Lloyd George is to succeed Earl Kitchener as secretary of state for war, according to well-authenticated reports current here today. It is understood, however, that in accepting the war secretaryship Mr. Lloyd George will not entirely sever his relations with the ministry of munitions.

Various successors have been suggested for Lord Kitchener, including Lord Milner and Col. Winston Churchill. The latter, returned from the front is again enjoying Premier Asquith's favor, while his quarrel with Lord Fisher over responsibility for the Gallipoli disaster has been patched up, and they are again fast friends. Both Lord Milner and Mr. Churchill, as far as the cabinet is concerned, might be intrusted with the direction of the war office. Since the creation of the war council and the turning over of responsibility for the operations in the field to Gen. Robertson, chief of staff, Lord Kitchener's duties had become entirely civil and administrative.

Public Wants Big Men.

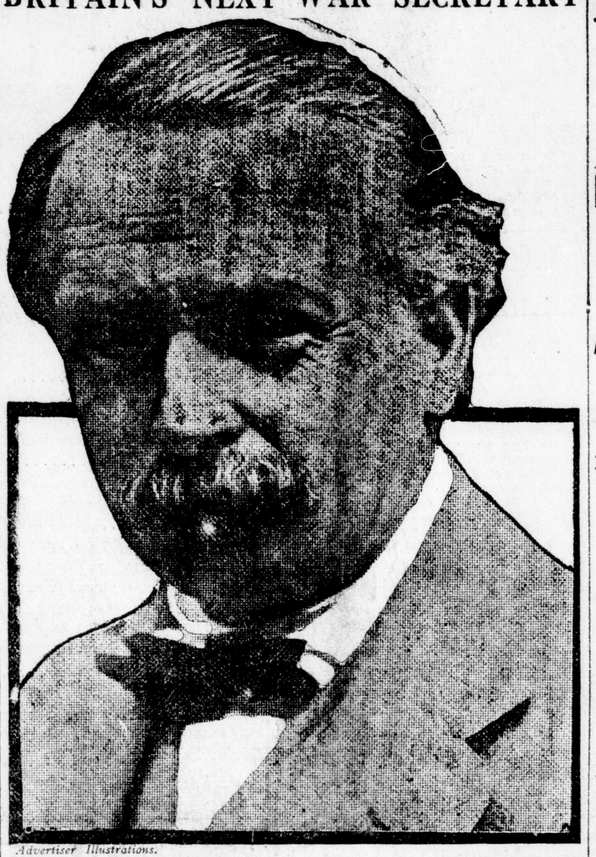

But, unfortunately for Mr. Asquith, the British public demands in the successor to Lord Kitchener a man of equal calibre. The people wil not be satisfied with the appointment of a mere civilian or politician to the post they have been accustomed to associate with the greatness of "K. of K."

Hence Premier Asquith, as he did in the munitions crisis and in the recent situation in Ireland, has had to turn to Mr. Lloyd George. He has been reluctant to do this for several reasons. In recent months the relations between the two men have been somewhat strained. The minister of munitions has frequently criticized Britain's share in the conduct of the war. In addition, he has been the centre, whether of his own knowledge or not, of an energetic intrigue conducted by the Northcliffe press, having for its object his elevation to the premiership.

At the time of the recent conscription crisis it was frequently rumored that Mr. Lloyd George, owing to his differences with Premier Asquith, was on the point of resigning from the cabinet. With Sir Edward Carson, it was declared, he would head a party of opposition. Then Mr. Asquith capitulated to conscription and the break, if any threatened, was averted.

An official statement announcing Mr. Lloyd George's appointment is expected by the end of the week.

TAPS FOR "K. OF K." AT GREAT ALLIED BAZAAR

Twenty Thousand New Yorkers Pay Tribute to Great War Lord's Memory, and Sing England's Great Hymn.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 15.—Taps were sounded in honor of "K. of K." at the allied bazaar last night, and the whole throng of revellers, shouting and laughing at one minute to nine, changed instantly into a procession of mourners, says the Tribune. Motor cars were stopped at the entrance, and women in evening clothes shivered and bowed their heads, side by side with the humblest of Britain's friends on the sidewalk.

Taps Bring Silence.

Inside, all activities stopped when the bugle sounded. Twenty thousand faces were turned, and twenty thousand heads were bowed toward the front of the Grand Central Palace, where Rev. Dr. Manning, rector of Trinity Church, read a short prayer in memory of the great war lord. Then the orchestra played England's hymn, "The Land of Hope and Glory."

The New York crowd were so impressed by the ceremony that they forgot to hide their emotions, and when the tune changed to "Onward, Christian Soldiers," everyone took up the refrain. Then was seen an amazing spectacle of a huge, pleasure-seeking crowd, singing, as they went, "Like a Mighty Army, Moves the Church of God."

A Memorial Tablet.

At the head of the stairs stood a Kitchener memorial tablet. Many paused in their march to drop a coin into the box labelled: "Do your bit for Kitchener's cause."

The Kitchener memorial came at the end of the moment of the bazaar's greatest jollification. To celebrate the passing of the first $1,000,000 mark a festive dinner was given last night.

DEMOCRATS BUSY SELECTING PLANKS FOR THE PLATFORM

IS WILSON'S SELECTION

Nominations Not Likely to Take Place Before Friday.

[Canadian Press.]

St. Louis, June 15.—While the Democratic National Convention was in its second session today adopting a permanent organization and hearing the speech of Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, as permanent chairman, the platform-makers were working with President Wilson's own draft, and various suggested planks, hoping to have a complete draft of the platform ready for submission to the full resolutions committee late this afternoon.

There still was talk of a movement to change the rules of the convention and renominate President Wilson and Vice-President Marshall tonight instead of tomorrow. While there was a good deal of sentiment in favor of such a plan it seemed to be overwhelmed with a general disposition to stick to the original plan and make good the promise of the convention managers to the city of St. Louis to remain in session here four days.

CHALLENGE TO HYPHENATES.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, June 15.—Out of the flood of messages reaching the White House today from the Democratic National Convention at St. Louis those of special interest to President Wilson told of the reception of his proposed plank condemning citizens of foreign birth for political activity in behalf of their native land.

The president sent yesterday to convention leaders a request that the plank on Americanism include an unequivocal challenge to so-called "hypenhates" who seek to embarrass the National Government in its dealings with foreign nations. He came out strongly for such an attitude in his Flag Day address yesterday, when he charged that a small group of foreign-born citizens are seeking "to levy political blackmail" to accomplish that purpose.

The president's wish is to pledge the Democratic party against any change in the party on account of activities of the propagandists, and thus virtually to challenge the Republican nominee to take a similar stand.

SURPRISE ATTACK BY THE ITALIANS TAKES HUN TRENCH

Several Hundred Prisoners and Seven Machine Guns Captured.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, June 15—Via London.—A surprise attack was made yesterday on Austrian positions east of Monfalcone. The official statement of today announces that Italians captured Austrian trenches after a severe engagement, taking several hundred prisoners and seven machine guns. The communication follows:

"Between the Adige and the Brenta Rivers yesterday there were recomnaissances and intense artillery actions on both sides. Our artillery dispersed enemy columns on the march and shelled hostile batteries' positions at several points.

The Enemy Attacks.

"Two attempted attacks by the enemy in the region of Novegno, made in the direction of Monte Glove and Monte Brazone, were repulsed.

"After intense artillery preparation yesterday evening a gallant Naples brigade, supported by dismounted cavalry detachments, in a surprise attack penetrated enemy lines east of Monfalcone. The trenches remained in our possession after a severe struggle. We captured 10 officers, 488 men and 7 machine guns.

"Squadrons of aeroplanes bombarded with excellent results the railway station at Muttarello, in the Lagarina Valley, and encampments at the junction of the Nos and Campomulo Valleys, on the Asiago Plateau. Enemy aeroplanes dropped bombs on Padova, Giorgio Di Nogaro and Porto Rosega. Two persons were wounded. The material damage was slight."

Following were the highest and lowest temperatures recorded in London during the 24 hours previous to 8 o'clock last were: Highest, 79; lowest, 54.

In Bukowina the Russians Are Progressing With Amazing Rapidity and in Volhynia Have Forced Back the Germans —Austrians Cling Desperately to Czernowitz to Provide Way of Rereat.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, June 15.—By wireless to Sayville.—Russian troops in dense formation attacked the Teutonic lines near Przemioka, but were repulsed by General Von Bothmer's troops, it was announced by army headquarters today.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 15.—In their offensive on the eastern front the Russians are apparently making steady headway, although still some distance from Lemberg, their immediate main objective in Galicia. Last reports place them just across the border some fifty miles north of the city. Kovel, the railroad junction point, where the link between the German and Austrian forces on this front is formed, has been more closely approached by Gen. Brussiloff's armies. In Bukowina, Czernowitz, the capital, apparently is cut off from all directions but the south.

AUSTRIANS FIGHT HARD TO SAVE BATTERED ARMY

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 15.—A dispatch to the Daily Chronicle from Petrograd says:

"In Bukowina the Russians are progressing with lightning rapidity, which is particularly astonishing, when one recalls the slow and stubborn fighting on the approaches to Czernowitz during the December offensive last year. The Russians already hold the right bank of the Fruth, from their own frontier up to Nepokokouts, 16 miles beyond Czernowitz, on the main railway from the Bukowina capital to Kolomea.

A Battered Army.

As to Czernowitz itself, the Austrians are defending it desperately, probably not with any hope of preventing the Russian entry, but in order to gain time to secure the retirement of their terribly battered army. Whether this army can be saved seems highly problematical, since the Russians are not only advancing along the Pruth, but along the lower Stripa, have forced the Dniester at several points, have taken the important bridgehead at Zaleszczyky, and advanced along the Zaleszczyky-Kolomea Railway as far as Horodenka, 23 miles from Kolomea. Even now Gen. Pflanzer's Bukowina army apparently is cut off from the main Austrian army in Galicia, and the only way of retreat open is down through Bukowina and over the high Carpathians.

Forcing Germans Back.

In Volhynia the Russians are not rushing on with such amazing speed as in Bukowina, but are making steady and rapid progress. Forcing back the Germans, they have advanced from Rojistche to the river, 20 miles from Kovel, which is the junction of the railways leading to Brest and Cholm, and serves as the main link between the Austrian and German fronts in Russia. In view of the great importance of Kovel the Germans are defending it with energy, and there is fierce fighting due west of Lutsk.

On the road to Vladimir, Volynski, the Russians have advanced as far as Torchin, and from Dubno they have swept on to Kozin and even, according to private report, to Radziviliov, a station on the frontier of Galicia on the main railway to Lemberg.

Terrible Artillery Fire.

All the prisoners declare they never experienced such a terrible fire as that dealt out by the Russian artillery. Eyewitnesses say the smoke of the bursting shells darkened the sun and made the work of the Austrian aeroplanes impossible. No interval could be discerned between the detonations, and the bombardment was one indescribable and deafening roar.

PRESBYTERIANS' CONDITION MAKES NEW METHODIST VOTE NECESSARY IS LOCAL OPINION

Some Say Basis of Union Now Altered—Number of London Churches Likely To Be Reduced by a Few, Says Rev. W. J. Knox.

What does the church union vote in Winnipeg yesterday mean?

That question is one that confronts every Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregationalist in London today.

Yesterday the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church, by a vote of 406 to 88, voted for union with the Methodists and Congregationalist Churches of Canada. No date is fixed for the consummation of the union, and the creation of "The United Church of Canada," save that it will be after the war. Provision is made in the majority church union reports, which passed by the aforementioned 406 to 88 votes, for congregations that voted against union at the last vote, to take to another ballot on the question one year after the conclusion of the war.

This provision and the announcement made by the minority leaders at the assembly that the Presbyterian Church in Canada would remain in existence, alter the original basis of union, say the Methodists, and mean that the question must be presented to the general Methodist conference, and the Congregational council again.

Conditions Changed.

Just what the effect of the vote will be is somewhat difficult to estimate at the present time. The Methodists claim that the union for which they voted was to include all Presbyterian Churches. If part are to remain out, it will alter the complexion of the case entirely.

Rev. W. M. Martin, clerk of the London Presbytery, voices the opinion that some churches, at least of the present Presbyterian denomination, will remain Presbyterian despite union. This view is concurred in by the other ministers of the city of all affected denominations. It is substantiated by the statements made at Winnipeg by the anti-union leaders.

"So far as my own feelings are concerned, the adoption of the majority report yesterday is quite in keeping with my views of the matter," declared Mr. Martin. "How it will work out in the eastern churches I do not know. The provision has been made to allow congregations that have voted against union to take another vote, a year after the war, to see whether they will come in the union or not.

"There is no doubt in my mind that a section of the Presbyterian churches will not come in, but I feel sure that the number will not be as large as even the vote in the assembly would indicate."

To Conference Again.

Rev. G. N. Hazen, late chairman of the London district of the Methodist Church, declared that in his opinion the option given churches to stay out of the union, if they so desired, would mean that the whole question would have to be sent to the general conference again.

"I am in favor of union, and have always voted for it," declared Mr. Hazen. "The Methodists are strongly in favor of it. More than 90 percent voted in favor of the union, but it was to be a union of the whole church. According to my interpretation of the report passed by the assembly yesterday, churches that voted against union are to have the opportunity to stay out, if they so desire after another vote."

Mr. Hazen also pointed out the fact that if part of the Presbyterian Church did remain away from union the ownership of church property would be involved.

"When the Free Church of Scotland united with the Old Kirk, the privy council decided that those who remained out were the owners of all church property," declared Mr. Hazen. "Is the same to apply in this case?"

Started at Winnipeg.

Rev. J. B. Silcox, pastor of the First Congregational Church, believes that the vote of the assembly shows the strength of the union force.

"The Presbyterian Church is now committed to union, and I am very glad to know it," he declared. "There is one significant feature, too, about it being passed in Winnipeg. That

15 TEAMS TO WORK IN AID OF MOTOR AMBULANCE CAUSE

7th Regiment, I.O.D.E., Holds Tag Day Saturday.

WILL ARRIVE NEXT WEEK

Ambulance Designed for Comfort of Men in Camp Will Be Presented Shortly.

Teams, headed by fifteen captains, chosen from the members of the 7th Regiment Chapter, I. O. D. E., will on Saturday "tag" Londoners in aid of the motor ambulance fund being raised by the chapter to provide motor ambulances for the use of the various battalions and units that will be trained in London durng the coming summer months. The "Tag Day" method of raising funds was decided on some time ago, in fact, almost as soon as the fund was started, and it is hoped to secure sufficient money to finance the purchase of two, if possible, motor ambulances.

Mrs. W. D. I. Wright, regent of the chapter. Mrs. (Lieut.-Col.) W. A. McCrimmon and Mrs. W. H. Smith are the members of the motor ambulance committee, and the arrangeents have been left in their hands.

For Saturday's tag day it is expected to have at least fifteen teams at work. Many young women have volunteered their services, and will assist the members of the chapter in the campaign. Headquarters for the day will be located in the People's Loan and Savings Building, and it will be from this office that the campaign will be handled.

The need of a motor ambulance for the transportation of the sick and injured members of the C. E. F., stationed at the local camp, has been so apparent that it is believed that no difficulty will be experienced in getting the requisite money for the purchase of one. In fact it is hoped that sufficient will be subscribed to permit the purchase of two.

A. M. C. officers stationed here, and the officers of the headquarters staff are strong supporters of the move. The ambulances supplied by the militia department have been characterized as "man killers," and only are used when no other vehicle can be obtained.

One ambulance has already been ordered by the 7th Regiment Chapter, which is managing the fund, and it will be ready some time next week. It is expected to arrive in London early in the week and arrangements for its presentation are already being made.

This afternoon Mrs. T. H. Smallman is giving a "bridge" at the "Kennels" in aid of the fund, and a substantial sum is expected.

ALTERING COVE RANGES TO INSURE THEIR SAFETY

Engineers Are Constructing Trench and Changing Platforms.

The Engineers, under Major R. W. Bishop, are making alterations to the rifle ranges at the Cove. A trench eight feet deep and five feet wide is being built in front of all sixteen targets. These, it is stated, will be brought forward to the new alignment, a distance of about fifteen feet, thus necessitating changes in the firing platforms. It is claimed that the old butts were not safe, as bullets have been known to pass right through them.

135TH "YANNIGANS" DEFEAT GRAHAM'S COLTS

Col. Robson Swngs on Pll For Three-Staton Rde.

Capt. Graham of the 135th Battalion is pondering on the uncertainties of the things of this world. His thoughts incline to the unexpected in baseball games. To bring a ball team to a state of unquestioned supremacy and then to have the invincibles defeated by a crowd of "yannigans" was his fate on Tuesday.

Capt. Malone and his "yannigans" turned the trick, and the "chaplain's colts" received a shock. Of course the colts had not figured on being opposed by so well-tried a baseball warrior as Lieut.-Col. Bart Robson, but the worthy colonel proved he had lost little of the skill that the "Irish Nine" of Lucan learned to respect in days gone by. He swung out a three-bagger just to prove that he still knew something about the game. Major Elliot did the same to prove that he was always ready to follow an able leader, and then Capt Ardiel stole home when Catcher Jackson of the colts was not looking, and the five innings ended with this Ty Cobb touch.

When the score was finally agreed on, it was found that the yannigans could lay just claim to 7 runs, while the colts were forced to be content with only 4. Hits and errors were ignored, but are said to have been numerous and well placed.

Major Berdon made a most impartial umpire, and to prove it he fined Lieut. Singleton and Capt. Malone each $500, to be paid at the conclusion of the game.

The advent of darkness prevented more of the same.

Yannigans—Catcher, Lieut. Hodson; pitcher, Lieut. W. A. Campbell; first base, Lieut.-Col. Bart Robson; second base, Major Elliott; third base, Lieut. Ross; shortstop, Lieut. Croden; left field, Major Carlton; centre field, Capt. Ardiel; right field, Lieut. Hamilton.

PLANNING HOTEL WHERE BLIND SOLDIERS MAY LIVE

Will Quarter Them in Toronto While Learning Braille Language.

The plan which the promoters of the movement have in view in connection with the National Institute for the Blind to be erected by the women of Canada, as a means of providing training to earn a livelihood for the soldiers made blind through the war, is to build an addition to the Canadian Free Library for the Blind in Toronto. This addition will be in the form of a hostel, where the blind soldiers may stay while learning the Braille language, which will be eyes to them, and also all kinds of crafts by which they can earn a living.

London will enjoy a reflected glory from the fact that the movement has been inaugurated by the Princess Patricia chapter, I. O. D. E., which is looking after the funds for the blind soldiers of No. 1 Military District.

The illustrated lecture to be given this evening in the Normal School by Dr. Dion of Toronto, who has been blind for the last three years, will be a revelation in regard to what may be done in the way of educating the blind to lead useful, happy lives without the boon of sight.

Sherman Swift, who also speaks, is the blind librarian of the Canadian Free Library for the Blind, Toronto, which sends out literature to blind people in all parts of the Dominion. No admission is charged, and the public will be made welcome as far as there is accommodation in the Normal Assembly Hall.

CAMP ALREADY HAS COST COMMISSION MORE THAN $16,000

Labor and Supplies Total a Goodly Sum.

MAY PAY PART OF COST

Militia Department Expected To Take Care of the Depreciation.

For the purpose of ascertaining the exact amount of water that is consumed daily at London's big mobilization camp, meters are to be put on all services there by the waterworks department of the utilities commission. The commission is supplying, not only water, but electric energy free of charge to the camp, but the consumption figures are desired for the purpose of finding out exactly what the camp service means.

The commission has already spent more than $16,000 on the camp. Wire, water pipe, street light brackets, switches and other supplies for the water and light services represent an investment of $15,000. Labor in installing these will run to another $1,500, making the total camp investment $16,500 in round figures.

When the question of the camp was first broached to the commission it was agreed that the material would be supplied free of charge in addition to the water and the light. The militia authorities were to look after the installation. When the time came to put in the water mains it was found necessary for the city gangs to do the work, and this ran the costs up $1,500 for the actual time sheets of the waterworke and electric department men engaged on the work the militia agreed to do. It is expected that this cost will be paid by the department.

While the advantage to Londoners through the presence of the camp here is unquestioned, the city's expenses in connection with the securing it has been heavy, and a good many thousand dollars have been expended by the council and utilities commission.

The materials used at the camp will be returned to the commission at the expiration of the training season, but naturally its value will have decreased considerably. The wire and pipe have been cut into short lengths, and as the present prices are "top notch" ones the actual return will be hardly 50 percent of the cost price. It is believed that the government will pay the difference in price to cover this depreciation.

CITY DOES NOT LEAD IN RECRUITING LIST

Figures Prepared In Toronto Show That Urban Enlistments Are Under Half.

The showing made by Military District No. 2, with headquarters in Toronto, has been referred to on many occasions in connection with the smaller returns from this district, comparatively speaking. New military statistics that have been issued in Toronto show that, contrary to general belief, the city itself has not supplied the majority of the district recruits.

Officers and recruiters all claim that urban recruiting is much easier than in rural districts. In Toronto, however, only five-twelfths of the district recruits have come from the city.

The following summary of recruiting in the Queen City has been published in one of the papers there, and is naturally of no inconsiderable interest to this district:

Recruits still required from Toronto, 7,000.

Number enlisted in Toronto, 28,498.

Number enlisted in outer area of Toronto military district, 48,864.

Total enlisted, 75,363. Number required, 86,000.

Population of district, 1,235,000.

Population of Toronto, 500,000.

Recruiting returns show that this city does not lead outer area in recruiting. Its just proportion is five-twelfths of total, and that has not been exceeded.

PTE. PETER VECESSI WAS DROWNED IN THE NORTH BRANCH

Young Italian Soldier Seized With Cramps While Swimming.

STRUGGLED FOR LIFE

Pte. Bick Had Close Call From Being Dragged to Death.

Pte. Peter Vecessi of "C" company, 142nd Overseas Battalion, was drowned and Pte. Bick of the same company barely escaped with his life while they were swimming in the Thames, east of Adelaide street bridge late yesterday afternoon.

Vecessi, who was a strong swimmer, was seized with cramps and threw his arms about Bick when he felt himself going down. Bick fought desperately to save himself, when Vecessi locked his fingers in his hair and dragged him down.

Bick finally succeeded in fighting himself free, but was in such an exhausted condition that he would not have been able to gain the shore had not two comrades swam to his assistance and rescued him.

Vecessi was carried away by the swift current and after a search of several hours, his body was found by Fire Chief Aitken and men from the central station, who were notified.

Dr. Neeley, the medical officer of the battalion, found upon examination that Vecessi had suffered a severe cramp in the left leg.

Coroner MacLaren was notified and decided that an inquest is not necessary.

The dead soldier before enlisting was employed on the hydro gang. He has no relatives in London, his next of kin being a brother in Italy.

The 142nd Battalion had been out on some tactical manoeuvres during the afternoon, Lieut.-Col. Graham stated to The Advertiser, and when they came to the river he gave permission for any men who wished to to go in bathing under the supervision of the officers and N. C. O's. Vecessi was a strong swimmer and with some others swam across the river, enjoying the sport. On the way back he suddenly threw up his hands and called for help grabbing Pte. Bick, who was near him.

It is expected that a military funeral will be held.

FIRST GREAT FIELD DAY FOR GARRISON TUESDAY, JUNE 21

Every Unit Promises to Enter Competitors.

HELD AT QUEEN'S PARK

First-Class Athletes Here and Will Make Day Most Interesting.

Preparations have almost been completed for the first great military field day to be held in Queen's Park next Tuesday, June 21.

Representative teams and athletes from every battalion and unit in camp are being trained and will be entered in the competition. There is a great deal of excellent material in camp, including some ex-champions in their lines. Notable among these is Capt. McMullen of the 168th Battalion, who was all-round sports champion of Toronto University in his year; Lieut. Walters, who was champion shot-putter at Varsity, and Capt. Seaborne, who was half-mile champion of Canada.

Many Training.

These and many members of champion football, baseball, lacrosse, and tug-of-war teams are hard at work training for the big day.

P. J. Lee of the Y. M. C. A., secretary-treasurer of the Military Athletic Association, is accepting entries up to 9:30 a.m. on Monday, the 19th inst. He states that every unit in camp has signified its intention of entering men and teams in at least some of the events. These cover the following:

The Events.

Two exhibitions of boxing, six sack boxing bouts, two barrel boxing events, several competitions at tug-of-war, 100-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard run, 1-mile run, 1-mile walk, running high jump, running broad jump, running hop, step and jump, 3-mile run, shotput, 3-legged race, obstacle race, pick-a-back relay, inter-battalion relay, platoon competition.

This latter will be put on by picked platoons, one from each battalion under an officer, who will compete in an exhibition of drill, rifle manual, physical drill, bayonet work, marching, etc.

Some Matches.

A football and a bas-ball game have been arranged for between picked teams from the battalions on Carling aCmp against picked teams from the balance of the garrison.

Col. L. H. Shannon, D. O. C., has granted a half-holiday to the troops in the garrison. The public will be admitted to Queen's Park. An entrance fee of 25 cents will be charged, with an additional 25 cents for admission to the grandstand. The sports will be carried on all over the grounds.

First, second and third prizes have been arranged for each event, and a valuable trophy goes to the battalion scoring the highest points in the competition.

SIGNET RINGS FOR GALT OVERSEAS MEN

Mayor Buchanan and Councillors Pay Visit to 111th Battalion.

Prior to the departure of the 111th Battalion from Galt, the city presented every Galt man in the unit with a gold signet ring. On the signet ring is the coat-of-arms of the city with the word "Galt" underneath. On the shoulders of the ring is the name "Canada," divided.

It was found that many of the rings did not fit, and they were sent back to the manufacturers. Yesterday Mayor Buchanan and five of the city council of Galt came to London, bringing with them the altered jewelry.

They were met at the station by two battalion automobiles and conveyed to the camp.

There was no official presentation, but the Galt party was heartily welcomed by the men and shown over the camp. The party returned to Galt in the evening.

Bombardier H. C. Percival, who was recently invalided to England from France seriously ill with trench fever, is coming home to recuperate. It was intended to hold a game of football Tuesday night between A Company and the orderly-room staff of the 135th Battalion. In fact, the game was well underway when one of the staff kicked the ball with such enthusiasm that it burst and the game had to be called.

WILL CHALLENGE WORLD.

The officers of the 118th Battalion defeated the officers of the 135th the other night in a baseball game. The score at the end of five innings was 5—4 in favor of the 118th. As a result Lieut.-Col. WOODSTOCK, June 14.—Col. McMullen of the 168th Battalion announced officially today, that the 168th Battalion would march to Woodstock at the end of this month to receive the colors being presented to the battalion by the Boehmer-Orr Company of this city on July 1.

The march will commence on either the 28th or 29th of the month. The battalion will march to Ingersoll the first day, then on to Woodstock the following day, remaining here until the following Monday.

This will mean an absence from camp of about a week. The news was received both in the city and by the boys in camp, it is reported, with enthusiasm.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, June 14. — John Feye of Chatham was the only recruit to report today with the Kent Battalion.

The recruiting officers, with the cooperation of local autoists, are being enabled to reach the outlying parts of the county, canvassing young men who have not hitherto been asked to join the ranks of the Kent battalion.

HURON COUNCIL KEEN TO MEET 161ST NEEDS.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CLINTON, June 14.—The departmental examinations for the students of the Clinton Collegiate Institute commence tomorrow, and it has been decided that the C. C. I. will close on Friday of this week. Quite a number of the young men have already concluded their examinations, and have enlisted in the 161st Hurons.

The warden and several other members of the Huron County Council were in London for the week-end to interview the officers and men of the 161st, with a view of finding out the requirements of the battalion, in the way of necessary equipment, it being the wish of the council that the requirements should be met at once.

The Huron old boys of Toronto have forwarded to the colonel of the 161st $175, which is much appreciated by the officers and men of the battalion.

ELGIN BATTALION ONLY NEEDS SEVENTY.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. THOMAS, June 14.—Only 70 men are now required to complete the strength of the 91st Battalion. Five more arrived from Amherstburg tonight.

UNFORTUNATE ERROR REFLECTS ON SOLDIER

STRATHROY, June 14.—Acting for A. P. Malone, Messrs. Ross & Bixel, barristers, have secured from the St. Pierre Company, Limited, an apology for an error in having issued a writ for an account which had been paid.

The company writes regretting the mistake that had it not been for the error the suit would never have been entered.

Mr. Malone was much distressed about the matter, as it was a great injury to his reputation. On account of his joining the forces people were inclined to think he did so because he could not pay his debts.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Today, commencing with matinee at 2 o'clock, and holding over Friday and Saturday, the Auditorium management presents the beautiful story, "Kennedy Square," in film form. This film classic comes from the Vitagraph studios, and was adopted from the famous novel by F. H. Smith.

The Vitagraph version of the novel emphasizes the fact that stories of this calibre, hitherto thought unadaptable for screen purposes, can be made successfully if given that artistic touch so necessary to a good painting. It was with full cognizance of this important fact that S. Rankin Drew, director of the picture, produced five reels that will stand long as a memory to the late author-artist.

Famous Vitagraph players were cast in the production, that nothing be left undone to make it a film classic.

Installment No. 7 of the "Musty Suffer" comedy series and two short educational subjects complete the bill.

The Auditorium is operated on London time.

OVER $120,000 FOR SOLDIERS' TOBACCO SENT FROM CANADA

MORE STILL REQUIRED

For Canadians Alone $25,000 Per Week Is Needed for Supply.

The fund to provide tobacco for the British troops from overseas, which was organized by the Overseas Club, and of which Canada's tobacco fund forms the most important part, has issued a statement to the end of April, showing the amount received during the nineteen months of its existence.

Canada heads the list with contributions amounting to upwards of $120,000, and over $100,000 has been raised in Australia and New Zealand. Including the penny contributions of the children of the elementary schools of the old country, which exceeded $100,000, the total money reported to the end of April was close on $600,000, as will be seen from the following statement. Actually the Overseas Club has been instrumental in raising $640,000 up to date, and has sent to the boys in the trenches two and a half million packages of tobacco and cigarettes, representing considerably over 128,000,000 cigarettes and 256 tons of tobacco.

We have just received from Francis R. Jones, the organizing secretary of the fund in Canada and the United States, the following statement showing the total amounts contributed in the various parts of the world:

Canada	$121,845
U. S. A.	75,910
Australia and New Zealand	100,525
Europe	30,875
Africa	62,065
Asia	56,000
South America	34,540
Central America	9,495
		$491,255
British Children's Fund—
Empire Day, 1915	$ 54,740
Christmas Day, 1915	50,240
		104,980
		$596,235
Less money returned		415
Total		$595,820

We feel sure that all our readers are interested very considerably in this purely humane piece of war work which has been undertaken by the Overseas Club, and desire to call attention to the fact that the amount of money being received is far from adequate to provide for the needs of the troops.

The contributions from Canada are devoted to the comfort of the Canadian boys at the front, and if each of the 100,000 men now representing Canada on the firing line is to receive one of the weekly packages arranged for by Canada's tobacco fund through the Overseas Club, it is obvious that the sum of $25,000 is required every week to provide a 25-cent package for each of these 100,000 men.

Even allowing that there are some of the men who do not smoke, and that there are some who are cared for by their personal friends and through other channels, the fact remains that the men want tobacco more than they want anything else, that they are not getting as much tobacco as they require, and that they greatly value the gifts being sent from home through the Overseas Club.

We have seen a number of the appreciative replies received from the men and officers at the front, and we hope our readers will respond generously to the requests being made for further help. Any who can render assistance are invited to communicate with Francis R. Jones, organizing secretary, Room 28, Windsor Hotel, Montreal.

Literature in the interests of the fund, contribution books, etc., will be forwarded on application. Checks and postal orders should be made payable to the Overseas Club, and may be deposited with any bank in Canada. All the banks have undertaken to remit contributions free of charge to the Union Bank of Canada, Montreal.

Valuable help has been given by the postmasters throughout the Dominion, and any postmaster will be pleased to receive and forward remittances.

To enable the fund to fully accomplish its beneficent work, it is necessary that the services of many additional helpers should be quickly secured, and the help of those who are willing to assist will be gladly welcomed. An attractive circular has been prepared for distribution, and copies can be had on application as above.

This is the first of this species of fish caught for several years in the Thames, and Mr. Burr is of the opinino that there may be a school of them at this point. He proposes mounting it for exhibition. Mr. Burr was accompanied by Charles Sumner, the jeweler, who promises to hook one himself next trip.

Frank Currie, who claims Chatham as his home town, was convicted of supplying to James Smith, an Indian, and sentenced to thirty days in jail or $50 fine, by Police Magistrate J. C. Judd in the police court today.

Currie pleaded not guilty to the charge. Patrolman William Middaugh, who made the arrest, gave evidence which resulted in the conviction.

The Indian, who claimed that he had not been drunk, was allowed to go.

365 CLUB CONTINUES TO GROW SLOWLY

$1,500 or 150 Days' Shares Already Taken Up.

The 365 Club fund for the maintenance of the Children's Aid Society Shelter still continues to grow, if somewhat slower than in the early days of its organization. A check for $10 has been received from the St. George's Mothers' Club, which makes the total amount on hand $1,480. In addition, more has been subscribed which will bring the actual amount over $1,500.

It is hoped by the early autumn that the goal aimed at will be achieved, $3,650, or $10 a day for one year.

Anyone want a guaranteed investment in human bonds? Ten dollars purchases one share of interest in the lives of neglected, dependent or delinquent children and gives them perhaps just the start needed in the right direction towards good citizenship. Ten dollars will also keep the shelter going and provide for necessary improvements for one whole day.

WEDDING BELLS

HIRSCHLEBER—WILSON.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, 1199 King, was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening when their daughter, Edna was united in marriage to Mr. Winard Hirschleber. About 25 guests were present from the city, Strathroy, Watford and Thorndale.

Rev. H. A. Graham of Centennial Methodist Church performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hirschleber left for Detroit and other points, and on their return will reside at the corner of King and Ashland streets.

HAMMOND—GOULD.

On Wednesday the home of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Gould, 478 English street, was the scene of a pretty wedding, when their only daughter, Beatrice Elinor, was united in marriage to Olivile Meade Hammond, late of Saskatoon, Sask. The marriage was solemnized by Rev. James H. Boyd, pastor of the Adelaide Street Baptist Church, in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends of the young couple.

Immediately after the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to between 60 and 70 guests. The rooms and tables were tastefully decorated with flowers.

Mrs. William Kidner, cousin of the bride, rendered Lohengrin's "Wedding March" very effectively as the bride entered the parlor on the arm of her father.

The young couple left for an eastern trip at 4:35, and on their return will reside on Brick street, west of the Wharncliffe road.

One of the features of the ceremony was the presence of the grandmother of the bride, aged 87, and her grand aunt, aged 91. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy McGregor, Mrs. Charlotte McGregor and Wallace McGregor, all of Watford, and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Phillips, Mrs. Jesse Welford and Mrs. R. Yeo of Toronto.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl pendant. That from her parents was a substantial check, while the staff of the Steele Fruit Company, where she was employed, gave her an oak china cabinet.

BRADY—SINCLAIR.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage of the Wellington Street Methodist Church, when Rev. G. N. Hazen united in marriage Edgar A. Brady of this city and Miss Mable Sinclair. Mr. and Mrs. Brady will reside on Simcoe street.

STREET RAILWAY TO PRESENT CASE TO CITY TONIGHT

Asks Permission to Appear Before Committee.

SAYS CITY WILL "STICK,"

Mayor Declares Stand Previously Will Be Adhered To.

The London Street Railway, through its solicitors, C. H. Ivey, has sent a request to Mayor Stevenson to meet the finance committee and the board of control this evening to discuss street railway matters.

No intimation is given as to what the company will do, but it is anticipated that it will agree to the proposition of the city.

Mayor Stevenson announced that the joint session would be held, and that the joint committee will hold its former position.

There seems a probability of Sunday cars now for Sabbath. If the company back down, there is no reason why the cars cannot run.

"We will win our case," declared Mayor Stevenson.

SECOND MORTGAGEE FAILS IN APPEAL TO TORONTO

Judgment of Judge Macbeth Upheld by Justice Latchford.

The judgment of Justice Latchford in the appeal from Judge Macbeth's decision in the case of Stothers vs. Borrowman was handed down at Osgoode Hall yesterday. The judgment reads:

"I entirely agree in the findings of fact, and the conclusions of law, arrived at by the master. The motion is therefore dismissed and the judgment confirmed, with the costs of motion, references and trial."

The facts in connection with the case are: In July, 1914, Borrowman wished to buy a mortgage from the Huron and Erie, on which $213 was then in arrears, the balance being payable on July 1, 1915. The company declined to accept the money not then due without a bonus, so Borrowman paid up the arrears, stating that he would pay the balance when it came due.

Accordingly, in August, 1915, Borrowman paid the balance, $1,750, and the mortgage was assigned to him, and he subsequently sold the property under the power of sale in the mortgage.

Borrowman claimed to be entitled to pay himself out of the proceeds of the sale, not merely the $1,750, which he paid to the company in 1915, but also the $213 paid in 1914. This claim was disputed by Mrs. Stothers, who held a second mortgage of the property, and she brought this action for an account of the moneys received by Borrowman on the sale of the property.

The main question in the action was as to Borrowman's right to add the $213 to the $1,750, and Judge Macbeth, before whom the action was tried, decided this point in Borrowman's favor in a lengthy written judgment.

NO OPINION YET GIVEN ON EXTENSION OF GAS MAINS

City Solicitor Not Yet Sure of Effect on Franchise.

City Solicitor Meredith has not given his opinion as to whether or not the extension of the City Gas Company's main, or the laying of new mains on the Hamilton road and Adelaide street means an extension of the company's franchise.

Some of the officials at the city hall think it does, and some of the aldermen are of the same opinion, declaring that, according to the Beck act, the people should vote on it. Some decision, the details of which are not given out, is cited as the cause for thinking this.

However, it is pointed out that the street railway lines were extended by the city without a vote of the people, and this company enjoys a franchise. If this is legal, the extension of the City Gas Company's mains is also legal.

The question has been up for some time, but no decision has been reached by Mr. Meredith. It is also claimed, and Mr. Meredith has been pondering over this for some weeks, that the company should pay an income tax. This is not the rule with companies enjoying franchises, save the telephone and telegraph companies, and it is not thought that the gas company or London Electric come under this rule.

Mr. Meredith will give his decision shortly, it is expected.

SALARIES UP AGAIN

Question Will Be Settled at Commission This Afternoon.

The utilities commission will meet this afternoon. General Manager Buchanan will submit sketches of the proposed new hydro shop. The salary schedule will be up for consideration once more, and will be passed.

It is expected that the resignation of George R. Tambling, assistant secretary of the waterworks department, will be accepted. A. E. Carrothers will be made assistant secretary of the board, and clerks will be placed in charge of the hydro and waterworks departments.

The funeral of Richard Dawe, whose death occurred on Monday morning was held on Wednesday afternoon from his late residence, 27 Rathgar street, at 3 o'clock, to Woodland Cemetery. Rev. A. A. Bice of All Saints' Church conducted the services at 2:30 o'clock.

A FEW RAYS OF SUNLIGHT AND SOME DARK CLOUDS ON LONDON'S DAYLIGHT-SAVING

Daylight saving has been in vogue in London for four days now, and Londoners are getting "shaken down" to the new order of things as it were. As usual there are many, many stories going the "rounds" of how the system is working out.

That old bromide of the man who turned on the clock one hour then went to bed to be followed by his wife, who did likewise, only to be followed in turn by the son of the house, who shoved on the clock for the third hour, has been doing duty now for several days. It has been presented in variegated form, and in a somewhat complex system of "yarns," but the basic principle has been the same.

* * *

At one of our east end factories there has been some considerable objection to the new scheme. Said one employee: "I have three small children between the ages of four months and five years. Ordinarily my wife and I only have an hour's peace in the evening after they go to bed. Under the new system we haven't got any at all."

* * *

Another story of the disadvantages of the system comes from a gent who, by his own admission, must be a charter member of the Society of Hen-Pecked Husbands. Says he: "My wife insists that I work in the garden every night until it gets too dark to see. Well, that wasn't so bad under the old system, but the way it is now it is too —— hard to work another hour out there every night. I want the old system."

Generally speaking, the majority of people seem to be in favor of the new order of retiring and arising. One of our best-known specimens of the "Night Owl" Brotherhood declares vehemently that it won't work at all. He doesn't seem to be able to get the hang of the new idea, and it doesn't please him a little bit. His pals and cronies are going to bed too soon now to please him, he declares.

* * *

Amateur gardeners, and those who are strong for out-door sports are the greatest boosters in the world for the new idea. Bowlers, as a class, are declaring that daylight saving is the real and original thing for adding to their enjoyment of life, and the fun of trundling the bowls over the green.

* * *

Motorboat enthusiasts, and those who favor the somewhat "ticklish" canoes, are loud in their commendation. That is some of them are. Those who delight to drift up and down the river, when it is dark, are not saying much, but the biggest half of the "rivermen" are predicting that the new scheme will work out greatly to their advantage.

* * *

Travelers, who have to catch early-morning trains, and who formerly had to walk to the depot, are now riding. The moving of the city clock, leaving the railway time a whole hour behind, has worked out greatly to their advantage for the street cars are running when they get up now, and there is no more marathon running to catch the train.

IRENE GRACE SUCCESSFULLY GOES THROUGH OPERATION

Little Girl, Aided By Advertiser, Readers, Resting Comfortably.

Good news has arrived from Toronto today for the many friends who are interested in Irene Grace, the wee girl who, it is hoped, is to be transformed from a cripple, with prospect of suffering more and more as the years go by, to a straight, strong, active girl.

W. G. Verrall, medical superintendent of the Orthopedic Hospital, Toronto, says in a letter received by Inspector Joseph Sanders of the Children's Aid Society:

"Just a line to say we have operated on Irene Grace on Friday, and she is not suffering any pain, and, apparently, is quite comfortable. We shall be glad to keep you posted from time to time as to her condition."

G. T. R. MAY NOW ERECT SOME FRAME BUILDINGS

Report Says It Will Follow Example of L. and P. S. R.

The Grand Trunk will construct some frame buildings on its property, it is stated today, following the lead of Sir Adam Beck and the London and Port Stanley Railway.

The latter built a frame shed without a permit, something that Building Inspector Piper would not permit the Grand Trunk to do.

It is expected that the question will come up at the meeting of the board of control on Friday morning.

FAMILY PRAYER IS GREAT NEED IN MODERN LIFE

Carelessness With Which Children Are Raised Is Condemned at Synod.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PROBLEM

Do Not Keep Pace With Development of Boys and Girls.

SABBATH DESECRATION

Too Much Auto Riding on Sunday, Declares London Delegate.

Strong addresses followed by lively arguments were the feature of the Synod of Huron yesterday afternoon. After the presentation of the report of the Sunday school commission by Rev. R. A. Hilz, who spoke of the need in the Sunday school for better teachers, Lay Representative H. Saunders made a speech in which he declared that the greatest need of the community is a return to the days when every family held family prayer morning and evening.

He strongly condemned the carelessness with which modern children are raised without knowledge of the Bible, and declared that without proper men placed to safeguard the children in their studies no advancement along these lines can ever be made. He said that the country must use care in selecting men to be placed on library and school boards and declared that there is a man on a school board in this diocese who has broken the seventh commandment.

Raises Indignation.

"I expect to raise some indignation at this," said Mr. Saunders, "but it is the truth. How can advancement be made when a man like this is placed over the children.

"Care must be taken in selecting books in libraries, which children are to read. There is one book, "The Dop Doctor," which is not fit for any girl or boy to read. Yet that book is to be found in many libraries throughout the country."

"Many of the members of the school boards are old fogies, anyway," concluded Mr. Saunders.

As the speaker had expected, his speech raised a storm of indignation and immediately several delegates were on their feet to reply to Mr. Sunders. Canon Howard, Canon Gunne and others, who had served on school boards at various times, replied to Mr. Saunders' charge that there are "fogies" on the boards, all denying that they had ever encountered any.

Continuing with his report, which comprised thirty-one pages of printed matter, Mr. Hilz, who is general secretary of the commission, gave a short address on the main features embodied in it.

Do Not Advance.

"The great fault with the Sunday schools today is that they are unable to deal with the boy and girl after they pass the age of twelve or thirteen years," declared Mr. Hilz. "The trouble is that many of the schools are far too childish to children of that age to attract them and when a boy reaches the age of twelve he drops his Sunday school as he drops other childish things, which have no longer any power to interest him. We must advance with the boy. As his tastes and inclinations grow farther from the childish, so must the Sunday school which he is attending."

Mr. Hilz strongly recommended the Standard Efficiency Tests Systems, which are in use in several of the local churches at the present time and which are giving excellent results in stimulating the interest which the boy feels in his Sunday school by replacing on the list of studies, games and sports as well as biblical work, aiming at his physical as well as mental improvement.

Courses Valuable.

The speaker spoke of the theological courses which are now being presented at most of the leading colleges in this country and the United States and declared that they were responsible for much of the improvement which is noticed among the work of the young men in the profession today.

He commended the summer schools, which are now being held in many colleges, where those, who are unable to take the full course, may study the main features of the art of teaching. Mr. Hilz stated that in many churches the congregation selects one of its members or a teacher and sends him to take the course at college and on his return he instructs the other teachers.

"No Sunday school can be more efficient than its teaching staff," declared Mr. Hilz. "In addition to having teachers who are acquainted with the best methods of teaching, we must instil business-like methods of work into them."

Sabbath Desecrated.

Strong condemnation was expressed by R. M. McElheran during the reading of the report of the committee on social and moral reform at the manner in which Sunday is held by many people. Mr. McElheran denounced Sunday band concerts as outrageous and Sunday recruiting meetings as a direct violation of the Sabbath.

"Sunday concerts to provide funds with which to purchase band instruments should not be allowed," he said. "Nowadays a person goes to church and after church all the young people go to the park to the band concert. In my time they came home and talked about the sermon.

"The automobiles are much to blame for the poor attendance at church in the summer time. A friend of mine told me that 130 of the stinking machines passed his house in one hour. A person who lives on a paved street can't sit on his veranda for the dust of passing cars. On a Sunday the streets are thick with them. It's a disgrace the way they are running around on Sunday."

There was some discussion on the subject of allowing manufacturers to make munitions on Sunday, which has been objected to by the ministerial alliance. Several delegates expressed themselves as being entirely out of sympathy with it, fearing that if the privilege was once granted that there might be difficulty encountered in withdrawing it.

Others believed that if it could be restricted solely to those plants making munitions it would be allowable under the present need of munitions at the front, but feared that many factories, under the plea that they were engaged in the manufacture of munitions, would work on Sunday.

Consecrated Work.

F. P. Betts, K.C., characterized the making of munitions as "consecrated work," and declared that there should be no hindrance offered in the matter.

Rev. J. B. Fotheringham intimated that he considered many churchmen too puritanical in their ways and declared that recruiting meetings were necessary to secure men to preserve the Christianity of the world.

"The conscience of the Church of England is greater to us than the Lord's Day Alliance, and if we obey our consciences we can hold meetings on Sunday," said Mr. Fotheringham.

An address was given on the work of the social service by Rev. Canon Tucker. He dealt with the various phases of the work at some length. He declared that great as is the liquor evil, impurity is killing 10,000 men where intemperance is killing 1,000. He said that immortality is undermining the health of the young of the nation and in so doing is undermining the life of the nation itself. He advocated that the young people be given some knowledge of the evils which they must encounter when they go out into the world.

Canon Tucker considers that Canadian politicians are honest men, working for the advancement of their country to the best of their ability. The speaker declared that the Meredith-Duff commissions are a disgrace to any country, in that it is necessary to hold them to make examinations into the actions of a few men. He urged that great consideration be given the social service by all delegates, stating that it is one of the most important branches of Christian work.

A suitable memorial was presented regretting the death of Lord Kitchener.

Bishop Williams made an announcement correcting an error made by him at a previous meeting in giving the results of the confirmation competition. The third place was won by Tilbury church with a roll of thirty names of those who were confirmed.

Memorials of the members of the synod who died during the past year were read by Ven. Archdeacon Richardson. They were Canon Ridley of Galt, Rev. Thomas Arthur White and Rev. Duncan H. Hyne.

WILL BE CANON HILL

Former London Pastor Is Honored by Bishop of Huron.

At the meeting of the Synod of Huron yesterday afternoon, His Lordship the Bishop of Huron announced that Rev. W. J. T. Hill, formerly rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist in London, and at present of Christ Church, Petrolea, will be made a canon to take the place made vacant by the death of Canon Ridley of Galt.

LOYALTY OF INDIA TO BRITISH EMPIRE IS NOT APPRECIATED

People Working and Giving Money to Aid Allies.

LEADERS ARE ALL LOYAL

Speaker at Synod Looks for Wonderful Development After War.

"The great loyalty which India feels toward the British Empire will never be fully appreciated," declared Rev. R. H. A. Haslam, an Indian missionary from Kangra, India, in addressing the members of the Synod of Huron last evening. "If the conditions which prevailed in India at the outbreak of war could only be understood here, India would rise greatly in the estimation of the world."

Few people knew the conditions which existed in India and the crisis which she faced, when her loyalty became most apparent. Mr. Haslam said that the conditions were such as might be expected to induce disloyalty rather than frantic cheers which greeted the news that India was to aid England in her fight by sending men to Europe. Mr. Haslam spoke of the events leading up to the trouble in India preceding the outbreak of war. He spoke of the incident of the Komagata Maru, which, laden with many thousands of Hindus who believed that they had satisfied all requirements of the law in not touching at any point by coming direct to Canada from India, was turned back, stating that he did not blame the authorities for turning back the Maru, as her passengers were not the type to make good citizens. He said that this incident aroused a fever of indignation in India. Unsatisfactory treatment was meted out to them in South Africa where they were taken as indentured laborers, but really treated as slaves.

Violated Temple.

Near Cawnpore, when building a road, the engineers ran the road through the grounds of a Hindu temple, violating the sanctity of the temple. Native agitators seized upon this, and soon India was seething with indigation. The military was called out, and was fired upon by natives. The viceroy came up from Calcutta, and in an address pardoned the men who had fired upon the troops. The following day the native papers were agitating more action from the natives now that so kind-hearted a viceroy was ruling them, some papers even hoping that self-government would be obtained.

In the midst of this excitement the war broke out. Missionaries and Government officials all over India feared the worst, but their fears were groundless. To a man India lined up with the Empire. Praise is given to England for laying aside her internal troubles during the war, said Mr. Haslam, she did no better than India in this respect. From prince to peasant India was loyal.

"The breach between England and Turkey placed a further strain upon the loyalty of India," continued Mr. Haslam. "India is largely a Mohammedan country, and so is Turkey. But India knew that this is not a war between Christians and Mohammedans, but against an immoral government.

Enormous Gifts.

"The gifts which have been made to the Empire from Indians are enormous. The Nizam of Hyderabad gave $2,000,000; the Maharajah of Mysore gave a similar amount; the Marahajah of Gwalior gave £1,500,000, and the people of Punjab gave £42,000 to buy 96 armored aeroplanes. Rich and poor all are giving something. The poor man gives a few annas, and the rich man a lac of rupees.

"India was the first colony mobilized after the outbreak of war. She has given 300,000 men to the British for service in foreign parts. In Europe where the native troops played a prominent part in stopping the drive to Calais; in Gallipoli; in East Africa, Egypt and Mesopotamia."

Mr. Haslam declared that the women of India had responded as loyally as the women of any part of the Empire, to the call for volunteers to make supplies for hospitals and Red Cross work. They came out of their zenanas, where they are kept in close confinement, and worked with the white women, for the first time in history.

There are 40,000,000 people in India so poor that they must live on one meal a day. These people have suffered terribly through the rise in prices due to the war. Yet no word of complaint is heard from them.

Leaders Are Loyal.

The attitude of the native political leaders is that of loyal subjects. Soon after the war broke out a prominent Mohammedan leader said, "Our demands are neither peremptory nor immediate, and can wait until the end of the war."

As a result of the war Mr. Haslam sees Christianity sweeping over India, as it has greatly lessened the feeling against Christianity on the part of the natives, who have learned to respect the doctrines of Christianity because of Britain's action in entering the war to aid the weak.

"Hindu priests hold special prayers for the success of the British Raj," said Mr. Haslam. "In Western Thibet special wheels have been inserted in the prayer wheels for the success of British arms, and in some temples special services are held every Friday.

"Hindus even attend Christian services. They requested me to preach for them," said the speaker. "When they are that willing to listen to Christian doctrines, Christianity cannot be far away.

"By degrees Christianity is permeating the life of the Indians, and they will be Christians before they are aware of it. I believe that when this war is over there will be a great period in India, during which millions of the natives will be Christianizerd.

Place in the Empire.

"When the war is over India must have her place in the Empire and it will take the abilities of the best statesmen to solve the problem of immigration which at one time promised to disrupt the Empire. We should not let economics settle the matter, Christianity should also be considered."

Mr. Haslam concluded by commending the work of three Huron College men, Revs. Buck, Knight and Forman, who are working as missionaries in India.

J. M. McCormick, superintendent of the Church Camp Missions, gave an account of the work of his missions among the construction camps of the northwest. He declared that more than 60 per cent of the coming men of the west are to be found in the construction camps. Having secured a Government tract of land the young immigrant works in a camp to secure money to develop his land, and in the camp care must be taken to prevent his getting into bad habits. Mr. McCormick gave several interesting incidents which he had experienced.

Young Aviator in France Died Ere Cap Reached Him

Mrs. Drewery, This City, Had Knitted One for Lieut. Earle —Has Made 45.

One of the many pathetic incidents of the war has come to light in connection with an aviation cap knit by Mrs. Drewery of this city, mother of Mrs. J. B. McKillop. The cap was knit for Flight Lieut. Wallace Earle and sent to his mother, Mrs. Earle, in Picton, Prince Edward County, to be forwarded to the brave lad "Somewhere in France." The cap was on its way, when word was received that the young lieutenant had made the supreme sacrifice for King and country.

Mrs. Drewery is one of the knitters who is deserving of a D. S. O. for the service she has rendered. She has knitted no less than 45 Balaclava caps, and only today has taken to Major Cameron Wilson six of these caps to be packed for the Western University Hospital Unit. Needless to say, the major is very much pleased, knowing as he does what comfort they are going to mean to half a dozen lucky wearers.

ST. ANDREW'S ADOPTS DAYLIGHT-SAVING TIME

Not a Dissenting Voice When Question Came Up For Discussion.

Daylight-saving time was adopted by St. Andrew's congregation last night, at a largely-attended meeting held in the church, for the purpose of deciding the question.

There was not a dissenting voice as to the adoption of the new time, the recommendation of the Ministerial Association being accepted unanimously, and in future while the new time remains effective the hours of service will remain as before, 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., daylight time.

Other congregations in the city which have not yet adopted the time will decide the matter in a day or two, but the concensus of opinion is that the time will be universally adopted by the city churches.

MUST NOT TAKE GRAVEL FROM RIVER PROPERTIES

McCormick vs. Hutchinson—Important Judgment.

The action was brought by T. P. McCormick, a resident along the River Thames, against Francis Hutchinson, for an injunction to prevent Hutchinson taking gravel from the river in the rear of his property on Talbot street, and for damages.

The right of the plaintiff to the land west of his premises to the middle of the river was admitted, and an injunction was granted restraining the defendant Hutchinson from hereafter taking gravel, and he was ordered to pay $25 damages in respect to the gravel taken.

The action is important as it applies to all the owners of the land abutting on the river front.

Messrs. Gibbons, Harper & Gibbons acted for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Macpherson & Perrin acted for the defendant.

PICNICKED AT LAKESIDE

Catholic Choirs Had a Most Enjoyable Outing.

The Catholic choirs of the city picnicked at Port Stanley yesterday afternoon, some two hundred choristers and their friends enjoying the outing. The majority went down in the afternoon and had a good time on the beach. During the afternoon there were games, in which a large number participated.

A splendid supper was prepared at 7 o'clock. Prior to this the massed choirs sang "Gloria," from Mozart's Twelfth Mass, and "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name." Many from St. Thomas took part.

The question of organizing a Catholic choral society was discussed informally, and the idea seemed to be most popular. It is possible that the organization will be perfected shortly.

There was a dance in the evening. James Connor was the secretary-treasurer of the event, and he did most efficient work.

PIANO PUPILS' RECITAL

Fine Program Was Artistically Rendered In Heintzman Hall.

A large audience attended the recital at Heintzman Hall last night given by piano pupils of Miss Irene Burns of the London Conservatory staff, assisted by Miss Gertrude Anderson and Mr. Cyril Thomas, vocal pupils of Mr. Alderson, also of the Conservatory staff. Much brilliant talent was displayed by the young performers. The work throughout was artistic and exceptionally enjoyable. Those taking part were Misses Leona Conley, Lillian Brady, Cecelia Lewis, Margaret Gillies, Gladys Grierson, Dorothy Keene, Dorothy Hourd, Edna Barbour, Erma Ruth, Evelyn Hardy, Marian Hayden, Margaret Campbell, Erma Berry, Jean Meek, Doris Shaw, Doris Thomas, Kathleen Gibson, Jean Wyatt, Masters Cecil Conley, Allan Brown and Ray Eden. The vocal numbers of Miss Anderson and Mr. Thomas were greatly appreciated.

To Introduce Our "Victor" Piano

(Terms: $15 Cash and $7 a Month)

Many people, appreciative of all that the name Nordheimer signifies in the piano business, have inquired whether we could not supply an instrument somewhat lower in price than the Nordheimer itself.

These are people who do not wish so expensive a piano, yet desire to buy from a house whose reputation is their guarantee of Safety and Satisfaction.

To satisfy this demand, we searched for a manufacturer who could produce such an instrument, according to our standard.

In the "Victor" we present an instrument that answers even our exacting requirements.

While not of Nordheimer manufacture, the Nordheimer guarantee backs it—absolutely.

The result is something to be proud of—a distinct achievement in piano value. We do not claim for it the finer shadings of tone that a Nordheimer reveals. It would be impossible to duplicate the Nordheimer at anything less than the Nordheimer price. But we do assert that the "Victor" is the most tuneful, the most durable, and the most beautiful instrument ever built to sell at a price less than $350.00.

Now—Note Our Great Offer

To introduce the "Victor" we are making a special price of $265 for a limited period. And even at this special price we are prepared to accept time payments—$15.00 cash and $7.00 a month.

This is a most unusual opportunity. It simply means that we are handing over a portion of our profit to the public in order that the outstanding merits of the "Victor" may quickly become known. This offer is our way of advertising it—and will be promptly discontinued once a fair number of these instruments are sold and the demand for them well established.

WEDDING BELLS

SIDDALL—CRAWFORD.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Crawford, "Ash Grove Farm," Lobo, on Wednesday, June 7, when their daughter, Christina Isabel, was united in marriage to William Glenn Siddall, M. D., of Watford, Ontario. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. McCullough of Ivan beneath a bower of bridal roses and lilacs, prettily decorated with flags, of which a large Union Jack formed a very appropriate background. Amid the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Ada O'Neill of London, the bride entered, and was given away by her father, Mr. Peter A. Crawford. She looked most charming in a gown of duchess satin with trimmings of georgette crepe and pearls, wearing a bridal veil with coronet of orange blossoms and seed pearls, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaids, Miss Kathleen Crawford, sister of the bride, wore a most becoming gown of corn-colored silk with overdress of embroidered net, and Miss Clarice Siddall, sister of the groom, was attired in shell-pink taffeta, with bodice of lace, and carried pink roses and carnations. Little Misses Helen and Virginia Clarke, nieces of the bride, made delightful little flower girl and ring bearer, the former wearing a dainty white embroidered frock, the latter a pale yellow silk with overdress of real lace, each carrying a basket of flowers. The duties of the best man were performed by Mr. Howie Siddall, brother of the groom. The groom's gift to the bride was a very handsome gold wrist watch, to each of the bridesmaids pretty gold pins set with pearls, to the flower girl and ring bearer gold signet rings, and to the groomsman a gold watch fob. During the signing of the register, Miss Mary Shoebottom of London rendered a beautiful solo, "The Crown," in a most pleasing manner. After congratulations the guests sat down to a sumptuous repast. The presents were numerous and costly, including cut glass, silver, cutlery, china, oil paintings, and also several checks. Dr. and Mrs. Siddall left on the evening train for Toronto, Niagara Falls and points east amid showers of confetti and with the good wishes of their many friends. The bride's traveling suit was of green taffeta silk with touches of black panne velvet and French pattern hat of pale pink. Nearly one hundred and fifty guests were present, from Jackson, Michigan, Toronto, London, Watford, Glencoe and Lobo. On their return Dr. and Mrs. Siddall will make their future home in Watford.

KNOTT—LEWIS.

INGERSOLL, June 14.—At the Methodist parsonage at 10 o'clock today, the Rev. L. W. Hill officiated at a quiet wedding, the contracting parties being Miss Gladys Mae Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Lewis, Cherry street, and Leroy C. Knott, son of Mr. Charles Knott, Beachville. The bride, who was gowned in blue ribbon striped taffeta and Georgette crepe, and wore a corsage bouquet of white roses, was attended by Miss Dorothy Knott, sister of the groom. She was gowned in pale pink and wore pink roses. The best man was Robert McKenzie of Woodstock. After a honeymoon trip to points east, Mr. and Mrs. Knott will reside in Ingersoll.

DR. J. G. McLEOD TELLS OF GALLIPOLI STRUGGLE

Large Hospital Staff Rushed.—Turks Square Fighters.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

KINCARDINE, June 14.—Dr. J. G. McLeod arrived home this week from the front. On May 8, 1915, he left Kincardine. He was sent to Egypt. Here he was attached to the general hospital staff, which had accommodation for 1,700 patients. The staff consisted of 34 doctors and a complement of nurses. It was a busy time for all, especially during the fighting at Gallipoli, when every bed was occupied and the entire staff kept on the jump. Operations were exceedingly numerous, and while there was a big operating room, it was not large enough for the requirements. Many operations had to be performed outside of it to save the lives of soldiers. The doctor was thrown in largely with the Australians and New Zealanders. He pays tribute to both. The intense heat was aggravated by the fact that shrapnel fire covered the entire position of British forces throughout the whole time.

The general feeling was that the Turks were square fighters.

OVER $100,000 FOR PATRIOTIC WORK RAISED BY WOMEN

Splendid Reports Presented at Meeting of Local Council.

THANKS TO SOLDIERS

Societies Pledge Undying Gratitude to Men Fighting for the Empire.

Of the large circle of affiliated societies of the Local Council of Women in London, the sixteen which reported yesterday at the annual meeting held in the Normal School have raised among them over $100,000 for patriotic, relief and kindred purposes in the past year.

Commenting upon this, Mrs. H. A. Boomer, president of the local council, said: "Whatever calamity the war has brought, it has taught women, even more than men, to know what talents have been intrusted to them. Patriotic work must, of necessity, take the lead at this time, and it draws out the best in each one. Before the war, it would have been inconceivable that any of these organizations could have accomplished what they have done in the past year."

Undying Gratitude.

A resolution expressing the deepest and most undying gratitude to the men who have so nobly given themselves for the defence of liberty and Empire, and pledging the effort of the members of the council to the extent of their power to secure victory, was indorsed with much manifestation of enthusiasm, and a motion carried to forward a copy of the resolution to the minister of militia.

Two new societies affiliated with the council on the occasion of the annual meeting, the Social Service Club and the No. 4 Division, St. John Ambulance Nursing Sisters.

A report of splendid achievement for the past twelve months was presented by Mrs. R. M. Graham, secretary of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., who announced that in addition to the immense amount of practical work done by the order in the past year, $30,000 has been raised for various forms of war relief, the Lord Roberts Chapter leading the way with $4,000 to its credit, and the inauguration of several important movements.

Two new chapters have been formed, the Campbell Becher and the Overseas. The establishment of a soldiers' club, and contribution to the care of returned wounded soldiers in the Belvidere Military Convalescent Home, and the Victoria Military Convalescent Hospital are among the outstanding developments of the past year. The Princess Patricia Chapter has within the past few weeks inaugurated a movement for the Dominion in connection with provision for the care of returned blind soldiers.

Mrs. Ernest Smith, regent of the Lord Roberts Chapter, spoke briefly in regard to the Lord Roberts tea house, the latest enterprise of the chapter to raise funds for soldiers' comforts.

The London Branch.

Mrs. A. T. Edwards, representing the London branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, referred to the splendid work being accomplished by the central society, with its five city auxiliaries, three hundred circles, leagues and Women's Institutes all over Western Ontario, which have become regular contributors, shipping through London, the western branch. The receipts for the year have been $52,496.34, and the expenditures, $47,993.44. The branch contributes to the prisoners' fund, soldiers' fund, hospitals, etc. The special work at the present is the providing the Western University Hospital unit with surgical and hospital supplies, supplementing what is given by the Government. A motor ambulance to the unit was the gift of the Red Cross tea room committee.

The work of the Victorian Order nurse was defined by Mrs. Moorhouse, the corresponding secretary of the order, as "cleansing the body, cheering the heart, and making clean unclean surroundings." Three permanent nurses are now engaged, and an application is in for a fourth, whom it is difficult to secure, owing to the number who have enlisted for overseas service. Valuable assistance is given from time to time by old country nurses, trained in district nursing. No less than 6,000 visits have been paid by the nurses in the past year. Owing to the stress of work, it was regretted that more had not been accomplished along the line of education in regard to child welfare.

Appeal for Support.

Mrs. T. C. Duncan, who for five or six years has supplemented the professional visits of the nurses with friendly visits in the role of "strangers' friend," made a most practical appeal for support of the Victorian Order work. "If you shrink from social service yourself, though you want to help in some way, give $5 a year," she said. "That will mean one visit a week for the whole year. You can go by proxy and care for 50 sick women, make them comfortable, clean up the house and look after the welfare of the children.

In the absence of Mrs. Marshall, president of the Women's Christian Association, Miss M. A. Moore told of the work being done by three homes in its charge, the Aged People's, in which over one hundred are made comfortable; the Infants' Home, and the Victoria Home for Incurables. To such an extent has the work in connection with the last grown, it has been necessary to buy an adjoining house as the only way out of the difficulty of providing accommodation for patients.

The Women's Suffrage Society reported that owing to the demands of patriotic work, the members have devoted themselves to Red Cross and other patriotic activities, letting the suffrage side of the question rest in abeyance.

Emergency Corps.

Mrs. S. F. Lawrason told of the aims and what has already been accomplished by the Women's Emergency Corps of No. 1 Military District, organized by the Women's Canadian Club, with the support and co-operation of the local council and its federated societies.

A report from Mrs. B. C. McCann, secretary of the Women's Sanatorium Aid, expressed gratification that the law requiring persons suffering from tuberculosis be placed in hospitals and sanatoriums, has been enforced since Dr. Hill has assumed the duties of medical health officer.

Emphasis was laid upon the educational work which is carried on through the visits of the nurses. Three thousand eight hundred dollars was raised by the Queen Alexandra rose day, and a great source of income is the returns made from the collection of papers, Mrs. Charles White looking after this work. Reference was made to the loss sustained by the society in the death of Mrs. Beltz.

Mothers' Clubs.

The report of the London Mothers' Club, compiled by Mrs. Tutt, stated that fifteen clubs comprise the union, with an aggregate membership of 930, an increase over last year of 130. This year prizes are being given in the household science and manual training departments of the schools. A large amount of patriotic and philanthropic work, as well as educational, has been accomplished.

The Mothers' Union of the Memorial Church reported work for the Grenfell mission, the Victorian Order, Children's Shelter, French war sufferers, etc. A young organization which has made a splendid record in the short time of its existence is the Girls' Social Service Club, which, at the beginning of the year, on account of past work, was requested to co-operate with the City Home Relief and Patriotic Society, and to take charge of the entire work of the central district. A rule of the club is never to give assistance without first investigating.

The Alma Daughters gave a brief report, stating that though on account of the unsettled state of affairs and the fact the members have been very busy with patriotic work, the alma mater has not been forgotten.

A Record Year.

The most successful year in its history was reported by the Women's Music Club.

On motion of Mrs. H. A. Boomer it was unanimously decided to extend to the St. Thomas I. O. D. E. warm congratulations upon the success of the patriotic newspaper recently published.

Owing to war conditions it was decided not to make any change in the executive, with the result all officers were re-elected by acclamation.

Mrs. R. M. Graham presented the report of the executive meeting of the National Council in Ottawa, drawing special attention to the importance emphasized there of training and caring for soldiers who return home blind; the establishment of training schools for domestics; and the "Made in Canada" movement, especially commended to the Mothers' Clubs.

A communication was read from Lady Aberdeen, suggesting the advisability of holding provincial conferences for the present, instead of national council meetings, owing to war conditions, which raise objections to the expense of long journeys necessitated by attendance at national gatherings.

Her suggestion was heartily indorsed.

At the conclusion of the meeting afternoon tea was served.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Christian Science and Hypnotism.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

In his address, delivered before the Ministerial Alliance, an account of which was published in a recent issue of your paper, Dr. McCallum referred to Christian Science, and stated that Mrs. Eddy got her ideas from Dr. Quimby, inferring that Christian Science and hypnotism are the same.

This charge, although refuted so often, is persistently reiterated by some who, not understanding Christian Science, confuse the two. Even a slight acquaintance with Mrs. Eddy's writings would convince anyone, desirous of knowing the truth of the matter, that there is not the slightest similarity between her teachings, and the views held by Dr. Quimby, who was a mesmerist, pure and simple, and any healing accomplished by him was the result of mental suggestion.

In the "Life of Mary Baker Eddy," by Sibyl Wilbur, which may be obtained in many public libraries and most Christian Science reading rooms, will be found an authentic accunt of Mrs. Eddy's acquaintance and dealings with Dr. Quimby.

Mesmerism, as is well knwn, is the action of one human mind upon another. Christian Science recognizes only one mind, God, infinite intelligence.

The human mind, admittedly capable of entertaining evil as well as good thoughts, is just as capable of doing evil as it is of doing good.

The divine mind, being all good, cannot produce, nor result in, aught but harmony.

In her book, "Rudimental Divine Science," Mrs. Eddy defines Christian Science, "as the law of God, the law of good, interpreting and demonstrating the principle and rule of universal harmony."

Referring to her search for this science of mind healing, which, after her discovery and the demonstration thereof in the healing of sickness, she gave to the world in "Science and Health, With Key to the Scriptures," Mrs. Eddy says (Page 110), "the Bible was my only text book," and also on Page 126, "I have found nothing in ancient or in modern systems on which to found my own, except the teachings and demonstrations of our great Master and the lives of prophets and apostles."

Through the study of the Bible and the writings of Mrs. Eddy, Christian Scientists are gaining an understanding of this law of God, this law of good, and a realization of the fact that man and the universe are absolutely governed by this law, resulting in the healing of sickness and the overcoming of sin, in themselves and others.

J. EDGAR FIELDING.

Cosmic Consciousness.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

It was refreshing to read Dr. G. B. Sage's request for "freedom from nebulousness" and "clean, scientific form" on the part of Dr. H. A. McCallum, when that trained scientist avowed something of his religious faith at a recent meeting of the Radical Club.

Perhaps we ought not to smile at such a requirement on the part of the church, propagator of nebulous doctrine, and arch-conservator of it, as she always has been.

Canon Sage avows "the communion of the individual soul with God"; it is a very orthodox doctrine, he says. But viewing it as an example of "clean, scientific form" and "freedom from nebulousness," does it compare any too favorably with "cosmic consciousness"? Is the canon's phrase anything more than an indefinite reference to conflicting subjective states? Is not the expression used to designate experiences as remote from one another as, on the one hand, the shrieking ecstasies of the whirling dervish, and, on the other hand, such high-minded devotions as would characterize the Archbishop of Canterbury or his holiness the pope? And do not a motley range of moods, from erotic insanity to the pious meditations of a Gladstone or a Newman, give to each of many minds its peculiar assurance of "communion with God."

And can Dr. Sage comply with his own requirement by "telling in a few words" so as to be "free from nebulousness" what is meant by the Trinity, Love of God, Baptism of the Holy Ghost? I will not ask him as to transubstantiation. If the canon can state these doctrines in a few words, he ought not to refrain out of fear of rendering useless the thousands of volumes which vainly attempt to elucidate doctrines of the Christian faith. If he cannot do so, why ask Dr. McCallum to make clear in a few words the doctrines of cosmic consciousness?

Doubtless in Nazareth after Jesus the scribes and Pharisees with doctrine and dialectics obliterated every value in the new Christian religion. So in this city today we would discredit (and some would dishonor), the life work of our lamented townsman whose remarkable contributions to science have given to London, Canada, its only claim to a place in the minds of European thinkers. For to present the name of Dr. Maurice Bucke (accompanied by intelligent sympathy for his monumental work, "Cosmic Consciousness") is to enjoy abundant entrance into hearts and homes of the greatest of men, on whom today more than on warriors and staesmen, rests the future of mankind.

Dr. Sage's appeal for a definition was to a cult non-existent, or one so widely spread as to include Dr. Sage, not unconsciously to himself, I hope. If he were asked to define the essentials of the Christian religion, he would, I fancy, refer me very properly to the New Testament. And it is hard to divine his purpose in publicly indicating his innocence of unorthodox knowledge about cosmic consciousness, when he is probably familiar with Dr. Bucke's work on the subject and with other writers there cited in evidence of their own cosmic minds. And too, he is in intimate contact with those in his own communion, well equipped to afford him any desired assistance. Dr. Sage knew Dr. Bucke, intimately I believe, and has doubtless studied his book, wherein Jesus is cited as a great example of cosmic consciousness. And did Dr. Sage really expect that the mystery of that one life, which is the essential subject of the book, could be stated in a few words, when countless volumes have failed to define the mind and consciousness of Jesus?

Science does not attempt to explain what cosmic consciousness is. She declares she does not know, just as she declares that she does not know what electricity is. But her work with electricity science can repeat with cosmic consciousness. She can study it carefully and reverently and perhaps define the conditions under which it manifests, that those who hunger and thirst may the more readily be filled, as was Jesus.

When types of religious experience came to be studied in comparison with one another, it was seen that saints, saviors and sages of various peoples in many ages have manifested anomalous characteristics of consciousness common to them all. And to those characteristics of higher religious experience Dr. Bucke applied the name "cosmic consciousness," which has been adopted by thinkers the world over to designate the range of subjective experience evaluated in his book.

On consciousness, on its varying quality and degree, more than on any other human characteristic, a man's life and his destiny depend. And no thoughtful man who reflects on the growth of his own consciousness, on his former lack of sensibility to many influences which have become commonplace to him, will be disposed to doubt that ordinary humans have not been roused to consciousness of many important values which attach to life, and which are very real to higher types of men; to which values all mankind shall yet attain consciousness, like as the race has climbed to a musical and prismatic consciousness now quite general, which was recently beyond the common reach.

And since an unmusical ear, a color-blind eye, incapacitate one in advancing weighty opinions concerning the consciousness of a great artist, we need not tremble if scholastic gentlemen disclose their inability to appraise the values in a higher range of consciousness. And we ordinary mortals may well devote ourselves to discipleship and discipline, in the simple faith that there are many nearby values and delights, nearby mansions in the Father's house awaiting our occupation in the life that now is, as well as in that which is to come.

The greatest men tell us about achieving or emerging into a vivid new consciousness, in which for them all old values pass away; a new faculty possesses them by which they see what they declare to be God's eternal presence shining out of every form of life with strange brightness, intense beyond noontide, as much so as that is beyond midnight; the universe to them has become very small, the stars are seen closely knit into a curious unity with this world, the remotest space is close at hand, and everything, great or small, remote or near, becomes a living, sensitive part of one's self. Death and sin are revealed as transient, constructive processes; every object, every living thing, is but a shining inlet to a brilliant manifestation of that power to which Herbert Spencer referred, great materialist though he was, when he wrote: "We are never in the presence of an infinite, eternal energy from which all things proceed."

It would seem that the world is composed of countless octaves of values which tend eternally towards refining the human organism, tuning and conditioning it for higher and more glorious response to their influences. We know that the racial tide of consciousness has arisen from lowliest origin, steadily mounting through the ages, though the average of mankind is always far below the sensitive responsiveness of the world's leaders. And these principles conspire to urge each of us to the unceasing attainment of new knowledge concerning self. There is no other way of coming into the kingdom, since the kingdom of heaven is within; that is to say, the power to respond to the consciousness of it, which for humanity is the only true existence.

Man is coming slowly to see that there is a light that "lighteth" every man that cometh into the world; coming to see that they that hunger and thirst after righteousness shall unfailingly be filled; and we are beginning to realize that there can be no church, no creed, no moral code (if the harlot and publican may enter first) no nation and no race of men, that ever had, or ever can have, a monopoly of God's favor. And with Emerson, humanity is more and more inclined "To laugh at the lore and pride of man,

At the sophist school and the learned clan;
For what are they all in their wise conceit
When the man in the bush with God may meet?"

JOHN COTTAM.

London, Ont., June 13, 1916.

FISHING IN ALGONQUIN PARK.

In the extensive reservation of 1,750,000 acres, set aside by the Ontario Government as a playground for the people, and known as Algonquin Park, the fishing in the waters of its 1,500 lakes and rivers is good. Such gamey species as small-mouthed black bass, speckled trout, salmon trout and lake trout predominate. With the annual increase of anglers and tourists visiting this section the lakes in close contiguity to the hotels and log cabin camps are apt to become depleted, and to avoid any possibility of this the Ontario Government, with the co-operation of the Grand Trunk Railway, are continually restocking these waters. They have just forwarded from the Government hatchery in Wiarton, 200,000 lake trout fry, which reached the park in good condition, and 60,000 of them were placed in Smoke Lake, on which is situated the log cabin camp known as "Nominigan Camp," and 140,000 placed in Cache Lake, directly opposite the Highland Inn. The fishing in the lakes some miles from the hotel, and reached by innumerable canoe routes, teem with the gamiest of the finny tribe, and the natural propagation of these fish will keep these lakes well stocked indefinitely. Algonquin Park is probably the most delightful region in Canada for a summer outing. It is the highest point in Ontario, 2,000 feet above sea level.

2 WOODSTOCK OFFICERS ARE SHOCK SUFFERERS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WOODSTOCK, June 14. — Word reached the city that Lieut. Malcolm Douglas, officer commanding a signaling section, was suffering from shell shock. Lieut. Douglas took a signaling course at London. He was one of the most popular officers that ever left Woodstock. His work consisted chiefly of the making and maintaining of telephone connections. There is nothing to indicate how seriously Lieut. Douglas is injured. In a letter received by his father today, dated some weeks ago, he said that he expected to go up to the front line trenches.

Lieut. O'Grady Shock Sufferer.

Lieut. G. De C. O'Grady, reported as suffering from shell shock, is a son of G. De C. O'Grady, a former manager of the Bank of Commerce here. He enlisted here previous to taking his commission as lieutenant.

THE BLOCKADE.

THE EFFECTIVENESS of the British blockade is beginning to show itself. Prices in Germany have gone up generally 98 per cent and in Austria 112 per cent according to German statistics.

The Berliner Tageblatt of November 21, 1915, published a table showing a number of manufacturing and financial firms and the decline in their annual dividends. The National Bank has dropped from 6 per cent to 0, the Mittelrheinische Bank from 6½ to 0, the Bochumer Bergwerk (mines), from 10 to 0, the Magdeburger Bergwerk from 38 to 22, the Alsen Cement Company from 16 to 8, the Badische Anilinfabrik (dyes) from 28 to 19, the Mechanische Weberei Linden (textiles) from 20 to 5, etc. These losses to shareholders are laid to the blockade on two grounds: (1) Raw materials necessary to manufacture have been cut off. (2) Exportation has been largely stopped.

If such was the case last year, when the blockade only started in the spring of 1915, the present year will be crushing to German industries.

The Vossische Zeitung (March 16, 1916), complains that the supply of Danish potatoes has been entirely cut off by Great Britain's Danish agreement. At the same time the demand for potatoes is excessive, because of the shortage in other articles of food and fodder, says the Prussian minister of agriculture. Sugar also is scarce and soap has gone up in general from about 4 cents to 42 cents a pound.

Not only have the British navy, foreign office and prize courts managed a problem full of difficulties with great and increasing success as to the main point of squeezing Germany, but the diplomacy dealing with American, Dutch and Swedish complaints has been most tactful. The longer this blockade goes on, the darker the future prospects of German commerce.

A DOUBLE PLIGHT.

CAN Germany again save her Hapsburg ally from the claws of the bear? Russia is reaching for the great fortresses of Galicia, and has captured a number with the same surety that characterized her swoop at the commencement of the war. Soon, unless a counter-offensive can be prepared and launched, she may be scrambling over the great protective chains of the Carpathians to menace Hungary. The success of the present attack indicates that Austria is demoralized sufficiently as to be impotent against the onslaught. But the effect upon Germany, the master of ceremonies, is to call up every resource and trick of the war trade in order to get to the aid of her stricken partner. It may be necessary, in fact, it is probable, that the attempt upon Verdun will be slackened and perhaps abandoned. The only method of meeting the Russian charge is for Germany to start a vigorous counter-offensive at some point on the 700-mile front. But in order to accomplish this, she must rob her west front of a tremendous army and develop sufficient strength to cope with an army with communications and munitions in first-class condition. She may maintain strength on both fronts, but must give her maximum force to one of them, and even the maximum may prove to be too small to avail against an operation undertaken by an almost humanly inexhaustible foe after more than a year of intensive preparation. Germany will crack through strain, perhaps. The Russ is giving the Teuton a big situation in strategy, to say nothing of the very evident victories over and losses scored against the Austrians.

TILLS AND TRUSTS.

Perhaps it would have been as well for Judge Duff in referring to "the till" and Mr. Allison to say what till. It wasn't the Canadian till.—Ottawa Journal.

THE shell committee was the till and for that matter a Canadian till. It contained British money, however, wherein it differed from a till whose only trust is the cash of its owner.

What sort of bank would it be which took a certain sum in trust and permitted friends to help themselves? Not as honorable an institution as one which kept a watch on all funds, but an especial guard over the funds given in trust.

The millions sent by Britain to Canada were given in response to the request for a stimulant to Canadian industry. They were given into the hands of the committee appointed by the Government in the belief that the funds would be honestly expended, and that there would be no till-tapping.

The question of "tills" came up at the last session of the Meredith-Duff inquiry when counsel for Allison maintained that nothing illegitimate on the part of his client had occurred. The following exchange then occurred:

Justice Duff.—As the confidential agent of the minister of militia, he put his hand in the till and took $250,000.

Mr. Henderson.—That is a strong expression.

Justice Duff.—I know, and I intend it to be strong. Although he got all that money his name was not on the contract. I am not concerned about the names of others. It is the principle.

Mr. Henderson.—You use the expression of a man in an official position. I cannot accept that Allison occupied an official position for the Government of Canada.

Justice Duff.—You can take his own evidence.

Mr. Henderson argued that Allison was a broker and known by Gen. Hughes to be in that business, and known by Gen. Hughes to be taking a commission on business done for the British Government, or for them through the shell committee. There was no suggestion that he ever repudiated the taking of commission in regard to this contract, though he told Gen. Bertram and Col. Carnegie that he was anxious to oblige the shell committee. "I know you want to be charitable," he said.

Justice Duff.—There is a little incident that shows the feeling towards war contractors. Gen. Picton threatened to shoot a war contractor, and the latter complained to the Duke of Wellington. The Duke replied: "Picton is just the man to keep his word."

Mr. Henderson.—Can we get along without war contractors?

Justice Duff.—We can try to make them honest.

There are scores of honest war contractors in Canada, and it is the desire of all that the crooked among them should be weeded out and punished. The Kyte charges have been of great service in this connection, and their author is commended for having had the courage to bring them forward by at least one Conservative paper, the Montreal Mail. Let the good work of showing up the bad work go on.

DRAWING TRUER THAN HE KNEW.

A GERMAN cartoon represents a hideous John Bull sitting heavily upon Greece, whose neck he encircles with a thumb and one finger. The "British" ogre shakes a fist in the air, and with a wide-open mouth calls upon all to help him destroy "the Germans, the oppressors of small nations."

Greece's face is like one of the ancient theatrical masks worn by Greek and Roman actors. The German cartoonist certainly did not mean it, but a mask is the right look of the Greek Government. Inside of that pained-looking mask is the serpent head of Constantine, who well deserves some hard, thick, honest finger on his windpipe.

As for Bull himself, it is amusing that in trying to make him look supremely ugly and wicked, the German "artist" has given his features and head the effect of a cross between a gorilla and a pursy German as he might look at breakfast strafing the Canadians or reading the admission of his Government that the Lutzow had been sunk. The dyer's hand is subdued to the color it works in, and so the cartoonist, trying to draw a particularly bad-looking John Bull, had no model at hand for his pencil but a fellow-Hun high in strafing.

THE INSPIRING IKON.

THERE is an inclination to scoff on reading that the Russian relic "the ikon of the Vladimir," mother of God, was removed from its resting place in the coronation cathedral and taken to the imperial field headquarters, following which began the great Russian advance which still continues. The relic is supposed to bring victory.

But who can say that the ikon had no part in bringing about these magnificent victories? We of Canada are a matter-of-fact people who are unable to believe that there is special virtue in images or other inanimate relics, yet there are scores of baseball players who have their lucky charms without which they feel they would be useless on the field. Even hard-headed businessmen often have a sneaking superstition which governs their actions.

Those who are entirely free of these foibles are impatient of them in others, and sneer at those who refuse to pass under ladders, eagerly pick up a pin on the street, have faith in horseshoes or a rabbit's foot to bring luck and otherwise display their superstition.

Still, there may be something said for any or all of these beliefs. If a man feels the possession of a certain article will bring him good fortune, he gains a spirit of confidence which assists in bringing about the desired result. The same holds good in the case of the ikon. Thousands of Russian soldiers firmly believe its presence at headquarters presages victory, and that belief helps to spur them on to confident gallantry which makes possible the wonderful recent progress.

The ikon has its place in the victory as an inspiration, and, therefore, its use is justified. To the less imaginative British troops its presence would probably be more of a hindrance than a help, but "east is east and west is west," and simply because we do not attach importance to this relic is no valid reason for laughing at its use by the Russians.

He asked for good solid Conservatives, and Mr. Foy, with his personal charm of manner and lack of ostentation, served well his part for his native province.

There are in the United States hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions, of hyphenate citizens, who may be compared to a Belgian, who should argue to justify the invaders of his country. There is no such Belgian, so far as yet heard of. But there are plenty of American "citizens" who justify the Lusitania incident or the doings of Von Papen, Kalschmidt et al.

"There's a tide," so Shakespeare tells us, "which taken at the flood,"
Will carry us along to sure success;
It looks to me that now it is rising fast for us,
If we'll labor hard and talk a little less.

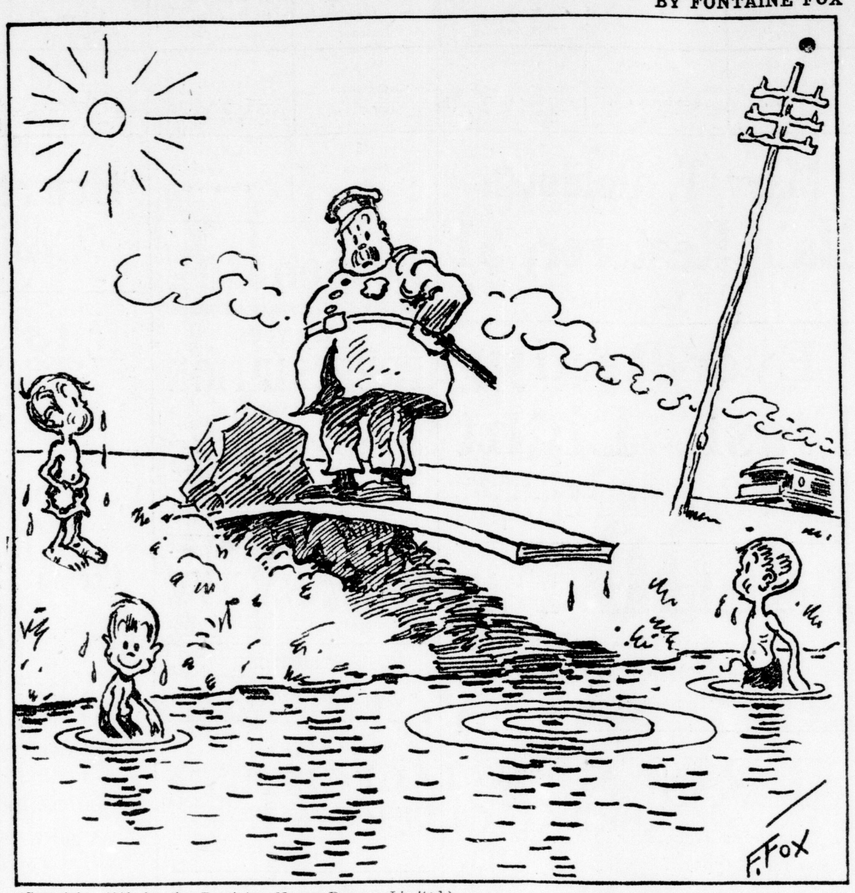

We have men in the field who any odds will face,
In fear they'll not turn back from any foe;
So when the men who work at home prove honest, square and just,
And keep the faith with all, both high and low;

When heads of all departments will select the men
Whom they know have trained hands and virile minds,
That things with expedition and efficiency be done,
And no supers be employed to draw the blinds,

When we "rend hearts, not garments," and truly start aright,
All pride and prejudice laying on the shelves,
We will stand, and we will triumph, the Lord will give us might—
For he surely helps all those who help themselves. —The Old 'Un.

The Matter of a Name

By Earl Reed Silvers.

Two days before the junior promenade "Shrimp" Black received by mail a delicious box of home-made fudge. Inclosed in the box was a small piece of lavender paper, on which were written the words: "I'll see you at the dance. Gertrude."

Shrimp frowned. He knew a good many girls, but for the life of him, he couldn't think of a single Gertrude among them. The package was postmarked White Plains, N. Y., but this made the mystery only more baffling. He didn't know a single person in White Plains. However, he ate the candy with relish and resolved to ask the first name of every girl with whom he danced.

At the house party preceding the "prom," he examined the fair guests with unusual interest, wondering if by any possibility the one who had sent him the candy was among them. Seated directly opposite him at the supper table was the prettiest girl he had ever seen. In Shrimp's estimation she overshadowed all the others about as a white rose would overshadow a bunch of dandelions. His heart went out to her, and he resolved to do his level best to give her a good time during the week-end. He was glad that his own partner had disappointed him at the last moment—it would leave him free to devote himself to the stranger. So directly after supper he presented himself for introduction.

"This is Miss Huntley, of White Plains," the chaperon announced.

Shrimp's heart stood still. The blood raced at double speed through his six feet two inches of manhood.

"I'm delighted to meet you," he stammered. "I didn't know any one was coming here from White Plains."

She smiled up at him.

"Why not from White Plains?" she asked. Shrimp couldn't quite decide whether there was a twinkle in her eyes or not.

"Oh, no reason at all," he assured her. Then he added, "I know a girl in White Plains. Her name is Gertrude."

"I don't suppose I've met her." There was a hint of mischief in Miss Huntley's voice. "Is she to be here tonight?"

"She—she rather expected to come," he admitted, uneasily.

"What's her last name?" Shrimp was certain now that she was laughing at him.

"I don't know."

"What? You don't know?"

"Yes, I actually don't." Shrimp smiled slightly at her too evident amazement. "Strange, isn't it?"

"I should say it was. How do you explain it?"

"I'll tell you all about it," he announced, "if you tell me your first name."

But Shrimp was doomed to disappointment, for at that psychological moment Bill Scudder, his roommate, appeared on the scene.

"If you want to get to the dance on time," he advised Miss Huntley, "you'd better start getting dressed now."

"All right," she answered. "I'll hurry." And, flashing a bright smile at Shrimp, she was gone.

"I always thought that Bill Scudder was a good fellow," Shrimp soliloquized "but now I'm a little doubtful." His glance followed his roommate, who had gone to the spacious porch of the fraternity house. "I might ask him what her name is," he thought suddenly. "But no," he concluded, "I'll make her tell me herself. I have a sneaking feeling that she's the Gertrude who sent the candy."

According to the established custom of roommates, Shrimp and Bill Scudder exchanged the second dance.

"I believe we were talking about names when we were interrupted," Miss Huntley began, as soon as they whirled off together to the tune of "Evelyn." "You were going to tell me about that Gertrude, from White Plains."

"I was," Shrimp answered, "but I've concluded not to do it until you tell me your name."

"We'll compromise!" She threw back her head and smiled up at him. "You tell me the story first, and then, maybe I'll solve the mystery."

"Two days ago," Shrimp began, "I received a box of candy from White Plains. In it was a note from a girl named Gertrude."

"An old flame, perhaps."

"No, I haven't any old flames." He shook his head positively.

"What did the girl say in the note?"

"That she'd see me at the dance."

"And you haven't seen her yet?"

"I don't know." Shrimp's eyes questioned her. "What do you think?"

"Oh! I think you've met her, all right." She hummed softly. "This is a wonderful dance, isn't it?"

"Yes."

The music stopped, and Shrimp led his partner to the porch of the gymnasium.

"You haven't told me your name," he reminded her.

"Did I promise to tell you?" There was a teasing light in her eyes.

"You just bet you did. You promised to tell me your first name."

"Well!" She hesitated and the music for the next dance floated out to them. "My first name is Doris."

"Oh!" Shrimp's face registered disappointment. "Honest Indian?"

"Honest and true." She looked at him with mock seriousness. "Are you dreadfully disappointed?"

"Yes." Shrimp spoke dejectedly. "I had set my heart on your being Gertrude."

"And you thought I had sent you the candy?"

"I had begun to hope so."

"Well, I'm sorry." She smiled.

"You don't look so."

Bill Scudder, glancing through the open door, saw them.

"This is my dance, Gertrude," he called.

"So it is! Good-bye, Mr. Black." She chuckled as she noted Shrimp's look of amazement. "I'll see you at the nineteenth dance," she added.

"Well, what do you know about that?" Shrimp watched until Scudder and the girl had disappeared. "Some one is having a lot of fun with me," he told himself.

He waited patiently for the nineteenth dance to come around. Occasionally his eyes met those of Miss Huntley's. In his was a question; in hers, mocking amusement. But, finally, the evening wore away, and he found himself dancing with her again.

"Will you please tell me what your first name really is?" he asked.

She looked at him soberly.

"On my honor," she answered, "my first name is Doris."

"Then why did Bill call you Gertrude?"

"That's a secret." She smiled mischievously.

Shrimp was silent for a time.

"You surely are having a good time teasing me," he said.

"I surely am."

"Won't you please have a little heart?"

"What do you want to know?" she asked.

"Why did Bill call you Gertrude?"

"Because that's what all my friends call me." She hesitated a moment. "My name is Doris Gertrude Huntley."

"Oh!" Shrimp's face cleared. "And are you the girl who sent me the candy?"

"Yes. It was Bill's idea; he wanted to tease you."

"Well, the old codger!" Shrimp was silent for a moment, evidently debating the wisdom of his next move, but finally he decided to plunge. "I ought to pay you back for that candy," he suggested.

"Yes, you ought."

"Don't you think it would be a good idea for me to give you a box in return?"

"Fine!"

"If I sent it," Shrimp continued, "it might get lost."

"Maybe you'd better bring it personally."

Shrimp's eyes beamed.

"Next Tuesday night," he said, "I'll take it to you in White Plains." She nodded. "And, he added, after a pause, "I'm glad your name is Gertrude."

When Bill Scudder came for the final dance he found them smiling into each other's eyes. He did not seem to be either shocked or surprised.

NATION'S RESOURCES THE DECIDING FACTOR IN THE WORLD WAR

Not Merely a Struggle of Armies, Says Asquith.

SPEECH TO CONSTITUENTS

Premier Observes Thirtieth Anniversary of Election to Commons.

LADYBANK, Scotland, June 14.—In observance of the thirtieth anniversary of his election to the House of Commons from East Fife, Premier Asquith today visited his constituency for the first time since the outbreak of the war, addressing a great meeting of his supporters, and many who in past years had been his opponents.

The premier made a touching reference to the death of Field Marshal Earl Kitchener as "leaving a place in our constitutional life that none else can fill, and a memory that will live as long as the British Empire."

Lord Kitchener had bequeathed to the country an array of armies, said the premier, and it was for the country to make the best use of these. In a survey of the situation, Premier Asquith declared that the Russian advance was one of the most brilliant feats of the war.

French Valor Unsurpassed.

The Italians, he said, were making resistance to the Austrian onslaught which every day was becoming more effective. As for the French nothing could exceed the valor with which they were maintaining the defence of Verdun. Co-operation among the general staffs of the Allies was becoming more intimate and complete every month.

British assistance had been offered Gen. Joffre and the steps which would be taken, were those dictated by sound strategy.

"This war is not merely a struggle of armies," the premier continued. "It is a struggle of material and economic resources and these will prove in the long run to be the deciding factors."

The Naval Victory.

After speaking of the effectiveness of the navy's blockade Mr. Asquith said: "Owing to the rashness of the enemy we were allowed to see another and more stirring dramatic aspect of the navy's qualities a fortnight ago. The naval action of May 31 was worthy of the best and more treasured traditions of the British navy. The Germans were driven back into their ports without so much as making an effort to grapple with the main body of our grand fleet, and had the temerity to claim what really was a route as a complete victory. A couple more such victories and there would be nothing left of the German navy worth speaking about. The truth is slowly leaking out, and its full extent is not yet realized or appreciated. Our command of the seas, so far from being impaired, has been more firmly and unshakeably established."

Irish Situation.

In reference to Ireland Mr. Asquith said the recent rioting, leading to the loss of many innocent lives, had created a situation which seemed to a majority of responsible Irishmen of all parties to call for a settlement. The nature of the relations between Great Britain and Ireland exhibited a tragic series of missed or misused opportunities. "Don't let us add another to their number," said the premier.

What he desired, he explained, was a provisional settlement, for when the war came to an end the country would have to take stock of its internal relations, the fabric of the Empire would have to be refashioned and relations between Great Britain and Ireland and the dominions would of necessity be brought into close and connected review.

NO POLITICAL BLACKMAIL WANTED BY WILSON

Attempts Must Stop, Says He, Referring to Hyphenated Operations.

WASHINGTON, June 14. — In a "flag day" speech here today, President Wilson charged that there are some foreign-born persons in the United States who are trying to levy a kind of political blackmail on the American political parties in the interest of foreign governments.

This, the president declared, must be stopped. He was sounding what some of his advisers said would be one of the issues of the coming presidential campaign.

TESTING A FIRELESS COOKER

Experts Offer Hints to Housewives Using These Hot Weather Fuel-Savers.

A recent bulletin from the home economics department of the New York College of Agriculture, gives a resume of the experiments conducted there by the college experts as to the efficiency of the fireless cooker and the comparative value to the housewife of the commercially manufactured and the home-made cooker. It also offers some observations as to the kinds of food whose cooking in the "fireless" gives most satisfactory results.

Foods, such as pancakes, it is said, that require rapid cooking over a hot fire, are not well suited to the fireless cooker method. Biscuits may be successfully baked in the cooker, but since the heat required to raise the radiators to the proper temperature will bake the biscuits in an ordinary oven, there seems to be no justification for its use in this case.

Fine for Cereals.

Rolled oats, cracked wheat, hominy and other cereals, give excellent results when cooked in a sufficient quantity of water in a fireless cooker. The first rapid cooking on the stove bursts the starch granules; the long-continued, slow cooking in the fireless, softens the fibre and completes the cooking of the starch.

The tough, cheap cuts of meats are equally as nutritious as are the more tender and expensive ones, but they require long cooking at a low temperature in order to be made palatable. The extraction of meat juices for soup, is also well accomplished in the fireless cooker. Fowl are especially good when cooked by this long, slow method.

Steamed puddings and sauces are well adapted to the fireless, and hot beverages may be set aside in it to be kept ready for serving. Still another use is in keeping frozen mixtures for several hours to prevent their melting. A cooker that is well insulated will keep one compartment at a high temperature while the other one is at a low temperature.

Home-Made One.

The bulletin makes the statement that in the cooking of some foods there was found to be only a slight variation in the necessary time, whether a commercial fireless cooker or a home-made one was used, one radiator being used in each. The home-made appliance contained a packing of powdered asbestos, which made the use of a hot radiator possible. It required three hours to cook boiled beef after ten minutes initial heating and two and a half hours to make the toughest part of beef flank tender. Very tough shank meat was perfectly tender after four hours of cooking in a commercial cooker, having two radiators in use, and two pounds of pork was roasted to tenderness in an hour and a half by the same process.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letter can be answered privately.]

Making Over Dress.

Dear Miss Grey,—I tried the dandelion wine, and it is fine. I am sending you twelve little satin flags to give to whoever you wish. Here is a good way to clean one's hands after cleaning or blackening a stove; I have found it better than anything I have yet tried. Take vinegar,, rub the hands well, without soap, and then wash off in clear water, then clean water and soap.

Here is a recipe for crumb pie which I have never seen in print:

Crumb Pie.—Top part.—Three quarter cup flour, ¼ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter or lard, rub this together like for crumb cake. Bottom part—Quarter teaspoon soda, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ cup boiling water.

A BOTHER.

Ans.—I am certainly very glad to give you any advice I can, re making over your dress. Wonder if you could not match the silk (like sample inclosed), fairly well. It seems to me that if you could, this would be best of all; if not, though, would advise the black silk crepe, or a black summer silk with tiny figure or spot in white. This would do very nicely for lower skirt, sleeves and under part of waist. The crepe, though, is worn very much. Yes, have a cream vest by all means. I think that shades of blue and grey will become you best of anything; would not advise tan, but brown should look well on you. Am making good use of your flags. Certainly come again; only hope this helps a bit.

A Weary One.

Dear Miss Grey,—I see where "Faded Lily" asks for a whooping cough remedy. Having a good one, I thought I would send it to you, with best wishes, for her little girl's recovery. If taken soon enough it will keep one from having the whooping cough; if taken later it will keep one from whooping: q. v.-20, grs. of sulphate of quinine; 1, dr. of aromatic sulphuric acid; in a 2-oz. bottle of water. Give five drops every two hours—in water if necessary—to a child twelve months old or under; after that, increase dose according to age. This prescription has been tried in the family, therefore we know it to be a good one. A WEARY INVALID.

Ans.—It is kind of you to send this remedy. Are you a "permanent" invalid, or just a "temporary" one? You certainly have our sympathy, anyhow.

"Amiable Ann's" Request.

"Amiable Ann" asks for flannelette gum flags—any color—and offers embroidery transfer patterns in return—towel ends, yoke designs, and some baby designs.

Is It Her Own?

Dear Miss Grey,—Just a few questions:

1. Will lemon whiten the skin? If not, what will?
2. A sure cure for goitre?
3. Do you think a girl of 15½ years is old enough to go to a wedding?

Hoping I haven't troubled you too much, I remain, GERMAINE.

Ans.—1. To some skins, lemon juice is very irritating; on others it acts like a charm; perhaps the best way to use it if you are not sure, is to mix the juice of a lemon in half a jar of cold cream; it should be beneficial to the skin, if a little is applied every night or so.

2. Cannot guarantee anything to be a "sure cure." Read the one given by "Ready's Brother" in Monday's paper.

3. Certainly, if she is invited and her mother is willing.

Origin of Khaki.

Dear Miss Grey,—Kindly tell me why the "r" is so frequently heard in khaki, and the origin of the word. On what day did February 8th, 1862, fall? What would "Lady M. D." recommend for hot hands and feet? I am sure she has earned "Steve's" gratitude. Daily physical exercises would doubtless be a benefit, too. One of your readers asked for a poem ending,

"Then weigh against a grain of sand the splendors of a throne."

It is entitled "Mary Queen of Scots," by H. G. Bell. She will find it in Bell's Standard Elocutionist, to be found, I think in any public library.

My chief object in writing today is to enter a plea for the continuance of the short story. It leaves something for the imagination and does not in the least tax the patience. Your Page excites wonder at your patience. Like Job's, may it continue to the end.

I will be pleased to make a patch for "Aunt Nannie's" quilt, and will not forget the dime. THAMAR.

Ans.—The "a" in khaki is given in the dictionary as pronounced with the broad sound as in the word "far." Hence many people have corrupted the pronunciation into "kar." The word is of Anglo-Indian derivation, coming from a Hindu word, khakl, or dust-colored. It was originally a stout, twilled cotton goods, but is now made in wool, and with varying shades—light brown, drab, and dust colored. The color was first used by the British troops in India in 1848, but did not become in general use until the South African war and the present conflict in Europe.

2. A Saturday.

3. Your query referred to "Lady M. D."

4. As you will note, a copy of the poem has been forwarded for "Mrs. J. B."

Am listing you pen name for a quilt block. Many thanks!

You and "Beatrice Fairfax" evidently disagree as to the worth of the short story, but I believe your view is shared by the editor for a time at least—now "Beatrice," don't sulk!

Who Used the Cleaner?

Dear Cynthia Grey,—Having noticed some time ago in your valuable columns a preparation for cleaning and removing stains from wallpaper, I should be very much obliged if you would kindly reprint the same, as I neglected saving the article. SLEEPY HEAD.

Ans.—This was perhaps the formula for "Magic Cleaner," but my clipping for this has disappeared. Will someone who has tried the cleaner send in the name of its contents, and say if she has had success with it?

Is a Beginner.

Dear Miss Grey,—Will you please tell me in your helpful columns to what magazines or papers a beginner can send short stories? Thanking you, yours truly, JENNIE.

Ans.—A very good field for the short story writer is the Newspaper Syndicate, which contracts to supply a daily short story with newspapers all over the continent. The Frank Munsey Company and the McClure Syndicate, both of New York, are two of the largest, and if your MSS. is at all worthy it will receive consideration.

At Boys' Picnic.

Dear Miss Grey,—1. What games could you suggest for small boys of 8 years old at a Sunday school class picnic?

2. Do you think girls should have any special kind of skirt for cycling?

3. A cure for dandruff, and is there any special way of making a knob for the hair worn low at the neck?

4. I am 5 feet 6 inches, weigh 125 pounds, and only measure 22 inches around the waist. Do you think I am too thin?

5. Do you think my writing too awful? It is the despair of friends and relatives. Please criticise it and judge my age. Sincerely SCRAWLER.

Ans.—Youngsters of this age usually enjoy competitive games, like potato races, straight running races, etc. An old standby game is duck-on-the-rock, of which boys seldom seem to tire, but a game of real baseball will prove perhaps of greater interest than anything else. Another "stunt" you could have the youngsters try is to line them in a row, give each a dry soda biscuit, with instructions to whistle "Rule Britannia" as soon as each has finished his biscuit. A "pie-eating contest," in which the boys eat a piece of pie with hands tied behind their backs, as a real source of amusement—to those not taking part!

2. If a girl is doing much cycling, it is better to have a special skirt, I think, but for occasional riding, any short skirt of medium fullness answers well.

3. A very good remedy for softening the scales, is to mix a tablespoon of sulphur in half a bottle of ordinary yellow vaseline; apply a very little with the tips of the fingers, rubbing it in well. Do this three nights a week, brushing the scalp well on the alternate nights; before long you will not need to use the vaseline oftener than once a week.

4. Height and weight seem fairly uniform, if you are under twenty years of age, but oh, that waist!—I'd recommend some "physical torture" for it.

5. It doesn't seem "awful" at all to me. Your friends should take an editor's job for a while, then they'd appreciate you more!

Regarding your introductory remarks, it's really me, and I really am.

LOSS OF APPETITE

Most Successfully Treated by Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Loss of appetite is accompanied by loss of vitality, which is serious.

It is common in the spring because at this time the blood is impure and impoverished and fails to give the digestive organs what is absolutely necessary for the proper performance of their functions.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old reliable all-the-year-round medicine, is especially useful in the spring. Get it from your druggist today. By purifying and enriching the blood and giving vitality, vigor and tone, it is wonderfully successful in the treatment of loss of appetite and the other ailments prevalent at this time. It is not simply a spring medicine—it is much more than that—but it is the best spring medicine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the rich red blood the digestive organs need.

THE USEFUL VERB "TO GET."

[From the Ave Maria.]

There is no word, long or short, in the English language capable of performing so much labor in a clear, intelligible sense as the verb to get; and here is an oldtime specimen of its capabilities:

"I got on horseback within ten minutes after I got your letter. When I got to Canterbury I got a chaise for town; but I got wet through before I got to Canterbury and I have got such a cold as I shall not be able to get rid of in a hurry. I got to the treasury about noon, but first of all I got shaved and dressed. I soon got into the secret of getting a memorial before the board, but I could not get an answer then; however, I got intelligence from the messenger that I should most likely get one the next morning. As soon as I got back to my inn I got my supper. When I got up in the morning I got my breakfast and then got myself dressed that I might get out in time to get an answer to my memorial. As soon as I got it I got into the first chaise and got to Canterbury by three o'clock, and about tea time I got home."

VERSE--New and Old

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY.

Hortense is bounded on the north
By such a pretty hat,
It seems a bit of Eden which
My eyes are looking at.
To eastward, lace and furbelows
Of wondrous shape and kind,
Quite dazzling to my vision, prove
That love's not always blind.
To south of her are tiny feet
In candid silken hose,
That carry her across my heart
In shoes with velvet bows.
To westward, sheerest draperies
In rainbow tints, suggest
That goddesses, at least, should be
Not always too much dressed.

But where to find her inmost thought
I hold no magic chart,
Geography does not compute
Degrees to find her heart.
So I'll explore, both far and near,
Its secret for my own,
In frigid or in temp'rate or (Fate grant) in torrid zone.

Cocoanut Oil Fine for Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use soaps and prepared shampoos that contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Advt.

CHILDREN HATE PILLS, CALOMEL AND CASTOR OIL

Give Fruit Laxative when cross, bilious, feverish or constipated.

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

The Military Athletic Meet on June 21 Will Be a Dandy.

CHICAGO WINS THREE STRAIGHT FROM GIANTS

Mathewson Pitches Well But Gets Ragged Support—Phillies and Braves Each Win a Twelve-Inning Game—Robins Still Soaring.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Chicago won its third straight game from New York today, the score being 4 to 0. It was the first time New York had been shut out this season. Kauff's infield hit, which took a bad hop from Lavender in the seventh inning, was New York's only safety, and prevented Lavender from duplicating the no-hit game he pitched against the Giants last season. The veteran Mathewson pitched well for New York, but was accorded wretched support.

Score—		R.H.E.

CARDS LOSE BY ERRORS.

BROOKLYN, June 14. — Brooklyn made it three out of four from St. Louis today, winning, 8 to 5, by hitting the ball for long drives, while the Cardinals were making errors.

Score—		R.H.E.
St. Louis	0 0 3 1 1 0 0 0 0	5 7 7
Brooklyn	1 1 0 0 4 0 2 0 x	8 7 2

MAGEE'S DOUBLE WINS.

BOSTON, June 14.—The Braves defeated Cincinnati, 4 to 3, in a twelve-inning contest today. A triple by Mollwitz during the seventh inning drove in two runs and tied the score at 3 to 3. In the twelfth inning, with two out, Magee doubled over first base, scoring Snodgrass, who had singled.

Score—		R.H.E.
Cincinnati	000 010 200 000	3 6 0
Boston	001 101 000 001	4 13 0

Mitchell and Wingo; Ragan and Tragessor.

RIXEY WINS PITCHERS' DUEL.

PHILADELPHIA, June 14.—Niehoff's home run with two men out in the twelfth inning ended a pitching duel between Rixey and Jacobs, and gave Philadelphia the victory over Pittsburg today, 3 to 2.

Score—		R.H.E.
Pittsburg	100 000 010 000	2 5 1
Philadelphia	000 000 101 001	3 8 2

GLAD GRANEY MAKES A HOMERUN OFF LITTLE DAN CUPID

St. Thomas Boy Now With Cleveland Joins Benedicts.

ROY CHAPMAN A GUEST

Both "Indians" Invite Friends To Go To Cleveland for World's Series.

ST. THOMAS, June 14.—"Glad" Graney, the St. Thomas boy playing with the Cleveland American ball team, took advantage of the open date in the American League schedule today, and jumped home to take unto himself a bride. The event took place at the residence of Father West at 2:30 this afternoon, when Miss Pauline E. Perry, youngest daughter of City Treasurer S. O. and Mrs. Perry, was united in marriage to John Gladstone Graney.

The bride was given away by her father, looking very sweet indeed in a costume of navy blue gabardine, with black trimmed hat, and carried a bouquet of orchids and lily of the valley. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father West, the happy couple leaving for Cleveland on the 4:20 Michigan Central train, where they will reside until the close of the season, when Mr. Graney will enter the Chicago University for the study of dentistry.

Shortstop Chapman, also of the Cleveland club, was in attendance at the wedding.

This morning "Glad" took Ray around and introduced him to a few of the old fans. Chapman is confident Cleveland will win the American League pennant this season. He has been out of the game nearly all season with a bad knee, but states he is about ready now to jump in. Both Graney and Chapman when saying good-bye invited their friends over to Cleveland to witness the world's series this fall.

Ring Sport Once More Is Facing Destruction

Cunning Promoters, Unscrupulous Boxers and Fake Bouts All Combine to Kill Boxing Game in America—Fighters Have to Make Good.

New, York, June 14.—The structure of boxing is tottering. It requires but a few more shoves to be sent into oblivion. And all because conniving promotors, unscrupulous boxers, and solons as straight as corkscrews are placing their own interests before those of the public, which supports the game and makes boxing possible.

Interest in the game is waning; there can be no doubt of that, the dear public is no longer clamoring for certain matches. It permits the promoter to arrange the bouts, and if any one cares to witness it, he simply walks up to the box-office, pays his money and walks in. But he has no guarantee that the bout is not pre-arranged or that the bout will be fought on its merits. He simply takes his chances.

Commercialism has crept into the game to such an extent that it is becoming detrimental to the existence of the sport of the ancients. If a good match—one that may furnish some interesting battling—is in sight, the principals haggle over weight conditions and the bulk of the purse until the public is weary and loses all interest in such a meeting. Frank Moran's reluctance to meet Jack Dillon is a notable example.

Then again, there is a great demand for new faces. The old boys are fast losing their grip on fight adherents, and new material is slow in developing.

For a time it seemed that Ever Hammer, who has been termed the "Blond Tiger," would grow into a great drawing-card after his defeat of Freddie Welsh. If Hammer had been content to rest on his laurels gained in this bout, he would have been in a position to demand big money on the Atlantic seaboard. Reports of his clash with Welsh gave the impression that Hammer was the logical successor of Welsh's throne.

But a week or so later, Hammer went out and spoiled all his chances of ever becoming an attraction in the east. They induced a virtual novice, Bitter Root Kid by name, to fight Hammer, and the latter required all of seven rounds to defeat the Kid. In all that period Hammer could not drop his unschooled foe. It was a "set up" pure and simple, and even then Hammer failed to impress. All of which gives a fair line of Freddie Welsh's ability at this advanced stage in his ring career.

That Welsh Incident.

Another recent incident distasteful to supporters of boxing was the action of the Wisconsin Boxing Commission in suspending Freddie Welsh, and the refusal of the New York State Athletic Commission to enforce the suspension in this state after it had practically been agreed between the two bodies to work on a mutual basis. It not being to the advantage of the local solons, they have steadfastly refused to uphold the Wisconsin ruling, although, if requested, a New York ruling would hold good in Wisconsin. Naturally, relations have been severed, and a fighter who disappoints the public can suffer only in one section at one time, whereas if all commissions recognized suspensions as mutual, the offender would be cured after being sentenced to lay off work for about three or four months.

If the game is to thrive, the various commissions must pull in the same direction, for nothing will disorganize any body of lawmakers as readily as dissension.

"Keep Quiet, Mike."

Michael Gibbons is peeved at Gotham boxing scribes for their criticisms of him after his poor showing against Ted-Kid Lewis several weeks ago. He even threatens never to fight here again. Good!

Gibbons has inflicted himself on the New York public long enough. Ever since attaining the front rank in pugilism, Mike has done nothing but disappoint Manhattan fight-goers. Before gaining prominence, Michael fought like a champion here. But since then he has been a failure, so far as his ring performances in New York are concerned.

Recall his affair with Eddie McGoorty at the Garden? Mike did not land three good blows all through the ten rounds. Then came his disappointing showing with Soldier Bartfield, a welterweight. Last year he permitted Packey McFarland to go ten slow rounds with him. Recently he showed absolutely nothing worth while against Lewis, who fairly rushed Gibbons off his feet in the closing round, although Mike outweighed him nearly ten pounds.

Here are four poor fights Gibbons has put up here; yet he resents criticism. New York is ever ready to give man his due, if his endeavors warrant it. Mike will have to make good once in and around New York before Manhattanites will think kindly of him.

WEDNESDAY MATINEES AT THE BOWLING CLUBS

J. H. Cameron's Rink Wins at London Frank Brown at Thistle.

After several postponements the weatherman was good to the bowlers yesterday afternoon, and the first of the Wednesday matinees were held at both the Thistle and London Rowing and Bowling clubs.

Ten rinks were entered at the London Club, and the prize went to J. H. Cameron's rink, which finished with a score of 54. Secretary J. M. Farrow skipped the rink with the second high score, coming out with 48 to the good.

Two eight-end games were played in the afternoon, and then supper was served on the lawn by the genial Jack Trebilcock, chairman of the grounds committee. The lunch was certainly a treat and greatly enjoyed by the bowlers. Immediately after supper the games were continued.

The afternoon at the Thistle Club was devoted to doubles. Fourteen pairs were entered, and some splendid games played. W. H. Rhodes and Frank Brown were the winners for the afternoon, having scores of plus 18. Their nearest competitors were Gordon Granger and James Gray who came through with plus 10.

W. F. A. TO REORGANIZE PLAYING SCHEDULE

Dates Conflict With Big Military Field Day.

Preparations are being made for the big military field day, which will be held on June 21, under the auspices of the Athletic Association of the 1st Military Division, and it is expected that this will prove one of the biggest athletic meets ever held in the city.

Owing to the fact that a number of the Western Football Association players are wanting to take part in the different events on this day, Secretary Charles Hollins of the W. F. A., is arranging for a postponement of the games which were scheduled for that day. A meeting of the schedule committee of the W. F. A. will be held shortly to re-arrange the dates.

ALVINSTON TO FORM BASEBALL TEAM

ALVINSTON, June 14. — A baseball meeting will be held in town Thursday night for the purpose of organizing a team for the year and electing officers.

Owing to the fact that several of last year's team has enlisted, the outlook for the strong team that this town had last year is not very encouraging. However, an effort will be made to organize a team, anyway.

J. McDougall's Rink Wins Wilson Trophy at Aylmer

Aylmer Bowling Club's Tournament Proves Big Success—Laing of Ridgetown Captures Second Prize—Frank Paupst of Aylmer Gets Third.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

AYLMER, June 14. — The first bowling tournament of the Aylmer Bowling Club, which was held today, was an unqualified success. All the rinks entered were present, with the exception of Delhi.

It is the intention to make the tournament an annual affair.

Summary of the play showed that J. McDougall, of the London Rowing Club, had won four games, with a plus score of 26, and George Laing of Ridgetown won four games with plus score of 43. These two rinks then played off for the trophy and first and second prizes.

F. Paupst of Aylmer and Reg Elliott of Norwich were next high, with three wins, plus 17, and three wins, plus 19. They then played off for third and fourth prizes.

First prize, Wilson trophy and four solid leather club bags, was won by McDougall, London, one shot.

Second prize, four carving sets, won by Laing, Ridgetown.

Third prize, four thermos bottles, won by Frank Paupst, Aylmer, 14 shots.

Fourth prize, four silk umbrellas, won by Elliott, of Norwich.

MODERNS WIN THIRD STRAIGHT VICTORY

The Modern Shoe team won its third victory by defeating the Victorias last evening at the Thames Park by a close score of 11 to 12.

The Moderns came back strong in the fifth and scored 8 runs, tieing the score, and scoring three in the overtime period. Everett's home run was the feature of the game, and Demarico's pegging at first base.

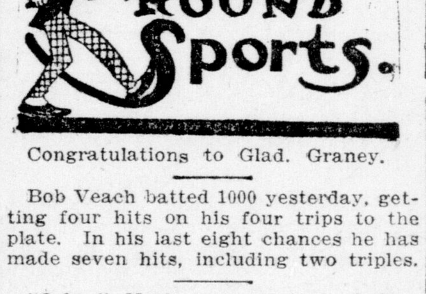

The Modern Shoe would like to have games with any 18-year-old team. Phone 21, and ask for Mike.

Batteries—Moderns, Cook and Demarico; Victorias, Howick and Hicks.

Sergt. Florence J. Price, star athlete of Brown University, and a former New York newspaperman, is another American athlete who has given his life in Flanders while fighting with the Canadians. He won his "B" at Brown as a swimmer, football player and track man, and was captain of the swimming and water polo teams.

GARDEN PARTY A SUCCESS.

PRINCETON, June 14.—A garden party given last evening for the church at Woodbury was a great success, the sum of $150 being taken in from admission and other sources.

Congratulations to Glad. Graney.

Bob Veach batted 1000 yesterday, getting four hits on his four trips to the plate. In his last eight chances he has made seven hits, including two triples.

"Oskee" Neale secured two of Cincinnati's six hits. The other four were supplied by Griffith and Mollwitz with a pair each.

The horses belonging to J. O. and J. H. Keene and the Keystone Stables have arrived at the Hamilton race track. These are the first to arrive from Louisville. The following stables have also arrived from Baltimore: Harry Ritas, J. F. Sweeney, M. Kelly, W. Fenwick and A. J. Carr.

Heinie Peitz will be kept as a warm-up catcher by Manager Herzog of the Reds, even if he has to sacrifice a second baseman to stay in the 21-player limit. Peitz will also act as coach.

Donald Beck, Columbia University southpaw, has practically completed arrangements to join the Detroit Tigers. President Navin has assured Jennings that the collegian would join the jungle tribe next month.

The Freddie Welsh and Benny Leonard scrap, which was billed for Friday night, has been called off. The management decided it was too close to the date set for the Dillon-Moran bout.

The bout between Jimmy Coffey and Ted Lewis scheduled for Friday night has been called off because of the death of Coffey's child. Coffey's wife is in the hospital, and he has asked that the bout be postponed indefinitely.

Fred Toney of the Reds holds the world's record for a no-hit game. He pitched seventeen innings for the Winchester Club of the Blue Grass League on May 10, 1909, shutting out Lexington without a hit or a run; score 1-0.

King Brady, who belongs to the Yankees, continues to pitch great ball in the American Association League.

Luther Cook, who was turned loose by the Yankees, is playing outfield and batting heavily for the Oakland Club. He may return to the major league company next year.

Edward Quinlan, a steeplechase jockey in the employ of W. Salt of New York, was found dead yesterday morning at Connaught Park, Ottawa. He was found with his head submerged in a tub of water, and it is thought he committed suicide. Quinlan sustained a fall at the Blue Bonnets lately, and had not acted rationally since. He had complained of pains in the head, and had been attended by a doctor the previous night.

President McCaffery of the Toronto Leafs, has assured Manager Birmingham that nothing will be left undone to strengthen the line-up of the team. They need a outfielder and an reliable thirdbaseman. Trout is a willing youngster, but is not up to the calibre required for a regular, and Hogan's fielding at third base has been sensational at times, but he has been woefully weak at the bat.

The Canadian National Exhibition has decided to hold a trap shooting tournament in connection with the annual exhibition in Toronto beginning August 24, and running to September 11. The dates set aside for the riflemen are August 29, 30, 31, September 1 and 2. The traps will be set overlooking Lake Ontario, and will occupy practically the southern boundary of the exhibition park. While the program has not been decided on it will comprise a "Canadian National Exhibition Handicap," and "International Championships" at singles and double targets, as well as regular events, and it is expected to add at least $2,000 in trophies and cash.

Dauss will probably start against the Athletics at Detroit today.

RUSSIANS SINK 14 GERMAN VESSELS IN THE BALTIC SEA

Twelve Merchantmen anl Two Warships Sent Down.

WORK OF DESTROYERS

Sweden Reports Engagement Which Lasted 45 Minutes.

[Canadian Press Cable.]

NYKOPING, Sweden, via London, June 14.—9:10 p.m.—Thirteen German merchantmen, which were coming from the north convoyed by an auxiliary cruiser and some torpedoboats and armed trawlers, were attacked early this morning at a point near Hevringe by a squadron of Russian destroyers, torpedoboats and submarines, near the Swedish Baltic coast. The German convoy was dispersed and the merchantmen fled toward the coast.

It is reported that some of the vessels were sunk.

TWO WARSHIPS SUNK.

COPENHAGEN, via London, June 14. —9:20 p.m.—Describing the Baltic fight, the Dagens Nyheder says that the Russian squadron won an important victory. The Russians had six destroyers and several submarines, and were going at such speed that the Germans were taken completely by surprise and only fired one shot, then making for port in the utmost haste.

"It is believed," says the paper, "that twelve merchantmen were sunk, while a German armed trawler, which arrived at Nykoping, had 150 men aboard from a German destroyer that had been sent to the bottom. The German auxiliary cruiser was the Konig Von Sachsen, which was also seen to sink, and it is supposed that all of her crew were drowned."

The Dagens Nyheder names the following ten German steamers as having been lost in the attack of the Russian squadron: Norma, Umeely, Arda, Mecklenburg, Isselle, Italia, Deterro, Weser, Konsul Schultze and Algebra.

FOUGHT FOR 45 MINUTES.

LONDON, June 14.—A Reuter dispatch from Nykoping, Sweden, gives report of a naval engagement in the Baltic between midnight and 1 o'clock this morning, at a point near Hevringe. It is supposed that six German armed trawlers, which were seen going northward last night, were engaged.

Two hundred shots were fired. The fight lasted for 45 minutes. A German trawler with five wounded men entered Nykoping this morning. All information was refused.

GERMANS ADMIT LOSS.

AMSTERDAM, via London, June 15. —1:15 a.m.—The following statement has been given out in Berlin in connection with the attack by Russian warships in the Baltic:

"During the night of June 13 the German auxiliary cruiser Herzmann was attacked by Russian destroyers in the bight southeast of Stockholm. After a courageous resistance the vessel was set afire by shells and was blown up by her crew. The commander and most of the crew were saved."

SON RESCUES MOTHER

KINGSTON, June 14.—But for the quick action of her son, Mrs. William Elroy would have been killed by a powerful current on a live wire.

While on her way downstairs she stumbled and caught hold of a current of 222 volts with her right hand. She could not release her hand, and her son, a lineman for the Bell Telephone Company, cut the wire. He then rendered first aid, after which the patient was removed to the general hospital. Her hand was badly burned, and there is little hope of saving it.

KITCHENER MEMORIAL HELD IN NEW YORK

Lord and Lady Aberdeen Among the Prominent Persons Present.

NEW YORK, June 14.—In memory of Earl Kitchener the various British societies of New York held an impressive service in Trinity Church, at Broadway and Wall street, at noon today. The clergy of Trinity Church were in charge, and the full choir rendered a special program. Many distinguished persons were present.

Although the edifice is one of the largest in the city it was crowded long before the services began, and many were turned away. Among those seated in reserved pews near the altar, were Lord and Lady Aberdeen, Chauncey M. Depew, Capt. Guy Gaunt, British naval attache; Major-Gen. Leonard Wood, Rev. Dr. Charles H. Eaton, president of the Canadian Society; Llewelyn R. Reese, president of St. David's Society; Mrs. Langstaff, president of the Daughters of the British Empire; C. S. Shallacost, president of St. George's Society.

The ceremony consisted of prayers and a short reading from the Scriptures, besides the special musical program.

Rev. Adam T. Manning, rector of the church, in a prayer alluded to Earl Kitchener's "steadfast faith, his unfailing courage and his constant devotion to duty."

MIDDLESEX-LAMBTON BAPTISTS IN SESSION

Churches Fall Short of Missionary Appointment—New Pastors Introduced.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

PARKHILL, June 14.—Another fine day greeted the Baptists of Middlesex and Lambton as they gathered for the morning meeting of the association proper today. The proceedings commenced with a Bible exposition by Rev. Joseph W. Kemp of New York. J. B. Campbell of London reported on behalf of the committee on the budget that the total amount raised by the churches for missions was $7,103.02, being considerably less than the amount apportioned.

New pastors lately come into the association were introduced, viz: Rev. R. R. McKay of Sarnia, Rev. P. Macfarlane of Mount Brydges, Rev. G. W. Connors of Watford, Rev. H. Moule of Arkona, Rev. J. W. Young of Kensall Park, London, and Mr. Clarke of Sarnia Township. Professor Farmer, LL.D., of Toronto, in the absence of Rev. W. M. Walker of London, gave an earnest address on "the Ministry of the Members." Dealing with the various gifts of service bestowed on Christians, and which they should use for the edification of the church. Rev. J. G. Portras of Quebec spoke interestingly on the work of Grand Ligne Mission.

Delegates Well Looked After.

Ample provision had been made for the accommodation of the delegates by the energetic pastor and his willing people. A large tent supplied by Rev. D. Brittain of Alvinston had been erected on the church lawn, in which the delegates partook of dinner and tea. The first session was called to order at 1:30 on Tuesday by the president of the Women's Mission Circle of the association, Mrs. Barber of Sarnia, and the report of the past year's work showed a gratifying condition. The twenty-two circles and sixteen bands in the association had raised a total of $1,878.70 for home and foreign missions. Although this is considerably less than the amount raised last year, yet satisfaction was expressed at the hopeful tone of the reports from all the societies. The number of Visitors (the home mission magazine) taken was 486, an advance of 72 over last year. The same number of Missionary Links as last year, 355, was reported. Miss M. McIntyre of Strathroy gave a bright and instructive address on "How to Conduct a Model Mission Band." A quiet hour was conducted by the director, and Miss Pratt of Petrolea had charge of the information bureau.

Mission Circle Officers.

The election of officers resulted in the following being appointed for the coming year: President, Mrs. W. J. Barber of Sarnia (re-elected); vice-president, Mrs. Brown of Strathroy; director, Mrs. J. L. W. Baldwin of London; assistant director, Miss Pratt of Petrolea.

The evening meeting was well attended, and was opened by a hearty song service conducted by Rev. T. W. Charlesworth of Parkhill. Mrs. Barber, the president, occupied the chair, and Mrs. Taylor of Sarnia, the director, read her annual report. Rev. Joseph Kemp of New York gave an address on "Things That Matter," the points urged being: "If you want your life to count for most, cultivate an evergreen consciousness of your dependence on Jesus Christ; foster love in your heart for the Lord Jesus Christ; seek solitude, that you may have converse with Him; and maintain a passionate zeal in His service; the cause of Christ is the cause worth being excited about; His service demands the best, and He desires the best." The choir rendered a selection, and Rev. R. R. McKay of Sarnia gave an earnest address on "the Value of Women's Work in the Christian Spheres."

During the afternoon the pastors of the association met in conference and elected their officers for the coming year as follows: President, Rev. H. Elmer Green of Forest; secretary-treasurer, Rev. A. J. Loveday. The next meeting in September will be held in Parkhill.

Two special speakers were present. Rev. S. Hughson, D.D., of Stratford, spoke on "the Consciousness of God."

ANOTHER MURDER CHARGE

Private of Irish Lancers Shot Man Who Disobeyed Orders.

DUBLIN, June 14.—Another charge of murder arising from the Irish rebellion was heard today. Pte. Henry J. Watt, of the Irish Lancers, was placed on trial for the murder of Robert Glaister, and the attempted murder of Wm. F. Grey, proprietor of a Dublin hotel.

Grey testified that he and Glaister were walking along the street near the hotel, over which Watt was standing guard, when the latter put a rifle to Glaister's chest and fired. Glaister was able to walk back to the hotel, but as he was entering it, witness said, Watt fired again, killing him.

The evidence for the defence was that Glaister persisted in passing the sentry, who had ordered him back.

FOUR VITAL POINTS OF AUSTRIAN ARMY MENACED BY SLAVS

Russians Advancing Rapidly Against Strategic Positions.

CZERNOWITZ IS DOOMED

Enemy Is Reported as Alrealy Evacuating City of Lemberg.

[Canadian Press Cable.]

Petrograd, via London, June 14—6:59 p.m.—Russia's most successful operation of the war is being pressed vigorously along the whole front in Volhynia and in Bukowina. Having cut the railway communications of Czernowitz from the north the Russians have carried the fighting for possession of that city into its very outskirts. Its fall is momentarily expected.

At the same time the extreme right flank of Gen. Brusiloff's forces is swinging out toward Kovel, another important railway junction controlling communication to Lemberg from the north. Southward of Kovel they pushed a wedge westward to Torchin, in the direction of Vladimar-Volynski. This piercing of the Austrian line places the right flank of Prince Leopold's army in a precarious situation.

At many intermediate points between the northern and southern points of contact the Austrians are reported to be retreating so hastily that they are out of touch with the Russians.

It is rumored that the Austrians are evacuating Lemberg.

RUSSIA'S PRISONERS NUMBER 120,000.

PETROGRAD, June 14.—Via London, 4:18 p.m.—In their advance upon Czernowitz, the capital of Bukowina, the Russians have occupied the village of Sniatyn, 20 miles northwest of the city, the war office announced today.

In addition to their previous capture, the Russians have taken 20 officers, 6,000 men, 6 guns and 10 machine guns.

The text of the statement follows:

"Along the whole front from the southward of Polesia to the Rumanian frontier our troops continue to drive back the enemy. During yesterday 20 officers and about 6,000 men were taken prisoners. We have taken six cannon, ten machine guns and many artillery and ammunition wagons. The total of prisoners and trophies captured during the operation amount to nearly 120,000 men, 1,780 officers and 130 cannon and 260 machine guns.

Report which have been received state that the enemy abandoned at certain points quantities of various war materials of such bulk as to make it impossible to give an exact description at such short notice; as an instance, we found abandoned sufficient rails for field railways to cover 30 versts (about 20 miles)."

Enemy Disorganized.

"Many of the enemy units are completely disorganized, judging by the fact that in the fighting from June 6 to 11 Gen. Stcherbatchoff in a comparatively insignificent sector, captured 414 officers, 17,000 soldiers, 29 guns, 34 machine guns, 56 caissons and other booty.

"On the Vladimir-Volynski road the enemy displays stubborn resistance; the battles continue west of the village of Zaturze, half-way between Lutsk and Vladimir-Volynski.

In the region of Zatursee the Cossacks made a brilliant charge, putting to the sabre an enemy squadron.

West of the Stripa.

"West of Dubno our troops pushed the enemy before them and reached beyond the village of Demidovka, and southwest of Dubno captured the village of Kozine. North of Buczacz, in the region on the right bank of the Stripa, the enemy tried powerful counter-attacks. In the fighting yesterday our troops crowded the enemy back and occupied the heights on the west bank of the Stripa.

"South of the Dniester we occupied the town of Sniatyn (northwest of Czernowitz). Fighting for the possession of the Czernowitz bridgehead continues.

"On the Dvina front the Germans violently bombarded the Ikskull bridgehead. South of Smorgon we repulsed an enemy attempt to approach our positions. In the region of Baranovichi and southward to the Polessie region there were several engagements yesterday with considerable enemy forces.

"Caucasus front: In the direction of Bagdad we stopped an offensive by important forces."

AUSTRIA DENIES CLAIMS.

LONDON, June 14.—9:28 p.m.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Amsterdam says the Austrian Press Bureau at Vienna has issued a statement in which it is declared that the Russian claims of prisoners captured are greatly exaggerated, and asserting that the Russian casualties are twice or three times greater than those of the Austrians.

SMALLPOX RAGING IN ZION AND MULL BUT SPECIES MILD

M. O. H. Finds Over Dozen Cases on Investigation.

MANY PEOPLE EXPOSED

Wide Territory Affected—Provincial Authorities Are Sent For.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BLENHEIM, June 14. — Dr. A. R. Hanks, M. O. H., of Harwich Township, after an investigation yesterday in the township in the neighborhood of Zion and Mull, reports finding smallpox spread over quite an area of that part of the township.

He called a special meeting of the board of health last night, and it was decided to quarantine all suspected cases and houses that have been exposed, and at once get into touch with the provincial board and have a representative come to the scene of the outbreak.

The doctor was first informed of a suspected case by a physician who was called to attend a patient. The investigation yesterday revealed the fact that for over a month the disease has been in the Zion neighborhood in a mild form, the affected ones not recognizing what it was. As a result many have been exposed, and it is feared a wide territory has been affected.

The M. O. H. reports having discovered traces of over a dozen cases, adults and children, already, among them being children at school with the outbreak plainly upon them. The first two cases were adults, and it is some five or six weeks since they were first taken ill.

A thorough investigation will be made, and an effort to check its further spread made.

It is some years since smallpox was known to exist in this vicinity.

PERSONAL ELEMENT IN WORK OF THE EFFICIENT

Civil Service Experts Say It Cannot be Discovered by Examination.

OTTAWA, June 14.—An elusive personal element that cannot be defined by facts and figures, and cannot be discovered by examinations oral or written, but which determines the degree of efficiency of a worker, is the riddle the efficiency records committee of the National Assembly of Civil Service Commissions is trying to solve.

For a whole year the committee has worked at the problem, and the voluminous document that contains the result of their labors was presented at this afternoon's session of the National Assembly of Civil Service Commissions, which is in session here, merely as a progress report, by no means conclusive.

"There is no perfect system," the committee reported. "Any attempt to make final conclusions would be harmful."

A similar confession was made by Mr. Thomas C. Murray of New York, chairman of the commission, in an address accompanying the report.

CHATHAM GIVES WELCOME TO RETURNED SOLDIER

Pte. Sid Lloyd, With Left Hand Shattered, Comes From War.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, June 14. — Pte. Sid Lloyd, a Windsor man, recently returned from the front with his left hand shattered by shrapnel, arrived in the city from London this evening on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Hartley, whose husband is a sergeant in the 186th Battalion.

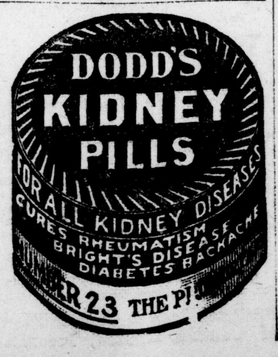

He was met at the station by Mayor Foreman, Ald. Lieut. Byrd, and a large crowd of citizens, and was given a royal welcome to Chatham.

CONSULTS HIS LAWYERS.

BLENHEIM, June 14. — Garry Vongunten, who ran the restaurant which was burned on Sunday night, was arrested and locked up by the chief for a few hours Monday morning. When asked by the chief concerning the origin of the fire it is alleged Vongunten refused to answer some questions, hence the arrest. The chief released him a few hours afterwards. Vongunten has placed the matter in the hands of Lewis & Richards, barristers.

CANUCKS ARE HAPPY OVER WINNING BACK OF YPRES TRENCHES

Operations at That Point Pass Into New Phase.

BRITISH HAVE MASTERY

Germans Taken by Surprise at Speedy Return of the Dominion Men.

[Canadian Press Cable.]

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, June 14—Via London, 7:05 p.m.—The operations in the vicinity of Ypres have passed into a new and, for the British, a most satisfactory stage. The Canadians yesterday re-took the greater part of the ground lost on June 2, including the Armagh wood and Observatory ridge, and the British front line has returned to its original position. The German losses were large and the latest reports show about 150 prisoners, including four officers, in British hands.

The attack began at 2 a.m. The ground was quickly gained and by noon the situation was comparatively quiet. The Germans apparently did not anticipate so speedy and determined a counter-attack and abundant evidence was found of the destructive effects of the British artillery fire, which had quite prevented them from properly consolidating the position during their occupation of the disputed territory.

Whether the British shall choose to hold the old line, which was almost destroyed, cannot be said, but it seems assured that the option now rests with them. At any rate the operation was a most gallant and successful incident, in which the Canadians amply repaid any debt they owed the Germans. The outcome has caused great rejoicing in the ranks of the Canadians.

Charged in a Rain.

It was after two weeks of the most unseasonable cold, rainy weather known to the oldest inhabitants of this region, making the low ground around the Ypres salient a morass that the Canadians charged in the midst of a downpour at 1:30 o'clock in the morning and recovered Observatory ridge and Mount Sorrel, important high ground which was still held by the Germans after the first stage of the third battle of Ypres on June 2-3. So heavy and continuous had been the British artillery fire on the Germans vainly trying to fortify Mount Sorrel during their ten days' occupation that they had been unable to remove the munitions and food stores left there.

"We were delighted with the way the guns supported us," say the Canadians. "They gave the Germans a taste of their own Verdun tactics. We are getting Lloyd George's munitions now, all right."

A German officer who was taken prisoner paid tribute to the increased power of the British artillery.

ARE STILL HOLDING.

LONDON, June 15.—12:45 a.m.—The Canadians are still holding to the positions they recaptured from the Germans Tuesday near Zillebeke, east of Ypres, although they have been heavily shelled by the Germans, according to an official communication issued at midnight. Since the Canadians won back their lost ground there have been no further infantry engagements in this region.

"Last night (Tuesday) and today (Wednesday)" says the official communication, "there have been no infantry actions. The positions regained yesterday east of Ypres have been heavily shelled. During the day more prisoners were taken, chiefly wounded men who were found during the clearing of the ground. The total number taken is three officers and 158 men of other ranks.

"Our line from opposite Maricourt to the northeast of Carnoy and southeast of Neuville-St. Vaast has been heavily shelled. We carried out a bombardment of the enemy's trenches on various points of their line between St. Eloi and Messines.

"Last night the enemy blew up three mines in the region of Neuville-St. Vaast without damage. Today we blew up two camouflets near Fricourt destroying hostile galleries."

SCRAP ON IN ST. MARYS OVER NEW SCHOOL WALK

Injunction May Result From Recent Action of School Board.

ST. MARYS, June 14. — The public school board held a special meeting on Tuesday evening to take up the matter of placing a walk across the school grounds from Church street to Treacy street. There was considerable discussion over the sidewalk, as it was claimed it was more in the interest of certain trustees who resided in that vicinity than for the benefit of the school children. It was contended that the walk, if it was intended for school children, should hug close from the ease side of Church street, and to the school building toward the front of it, and then east to the main entrance. The matter of a cement walk was cut out of the motion, and only the word "walk" substituted, which may be a cinder walk, as several trustees said that was all that was necessary. Although there was considerable crossfiring between Trustees Tovell and Stanley, the latter finally carried his point of having the walk cross from Church street to Treacy street. A deputation of citizens who live south of the school grounds waited upon the board to have the walk put through, as stated in the forepart of this item. There are still rumors of an injunction being served on the board against the walk from one street to another.

The jury also brought in a verdict for $275.04 for the plaintiff in the action of S. Kovinsky vs. J. Krasnow. The plaintiff, a local junk dealer, sought to recover the above sum from the defendant, also a junk dealer of Toronto, for wool waste supplied. The goods were shipped by the plaintiff according to an agreement in return for which the defendant forwarded a check, which was subsequently stopped.

Lieut. Murphy enlisted with a Highland battalion in Winnipeg. He was formerly an attendant at the Royal Military College, Kingston. NEW APPORTIONMENT OF PATRIOTIC FUNDS PROPOSED IN OXFORD

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WOODSTOCK, June 14.—The county council refused to make its share of the grant of $12,500 to the Oxford Patriotic Association last week, claiming that Woodstock and Ingersoll received more benefit than the county. Today representatives from the three bodies met, and while there was nothing definite done it is likely the three councils will be asked to indorse a proposal to assess Oxford County 70 per cent, Woodstock 20 per cent and Ingersoll 10 per cent.

There was a disposition on the part of several of the county representatives to cut down the amount asked for, from $12,500 to $9,000 or $10,000. At one point in the conference there was danger of the county and the urban municipalities separating for patriotic purposes, but Ald. West calmed things with a proposal for the above percentage from the three municipalities of whatever amount is asked to be raised.

CLAM-SHELL BUCKET BRINGS UP BODY IN THE RIVER ST. CLAIR

Clothing Badly Rotted—May Have Been Drowned Last Summer.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, June 14. — The body of another unidentified man was recovered from the bottom of the St. Clair River here today and is now lying at the morgue in Port Huron.

The steamer Sachem, which is in the gravel business, arrived down-river, and the first dip of her clamshell bucket brought the body to the surface, the remains hanging over the side of the bucket, and giving a big surprise to the men on the boat.

The bucket was swung on board and the remains taken to the American side, as the boat was over the boundary line. The body had evidently been in the water several months, as the clothing was rotted away, although the flesh was fairly well preserved.

The man evidently was employed on some boat or dock, according to his dress, having on summer clothing.

WATFORD INTERESTED IN TALK ON W. AFRICA

Rev. Mr. Westgate, Whom Many Know, Is German Prisoner in That Territory.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WATFORD, June 14.—A crowded congregation listened to an interesting address from Miss Diadem Bell, a missionary on furlough from Chizenbi, West Africa, in the Congregational Church last night. Many were specially interested in Miss Bell's talk on account of Rev. Mr. Westgate, whom many local people know, being a prisoner of the Germans there for over a year. The Ladies' Aid of the church served supper in the basement for the executive and visitors before the meeting began.

DETAINED BY BRITISH.

[Canadian Press.]

London, June 15.—The Daily News says the Liverpool police are detaining a German, Richard Hansemann, who traveled from New York aboard the St. Paul, with a passport issued by the German consulate at New York, his idea being to visit Germany.

Richard Hansemann, who is a silk importer, left here aboard the American liner St. Paul on June 4, armed with a German passport, in an attempt to make a business trip to London, Holland and Germany. When he sailed he said that his trip was more or less of an experiment, but that he expected to have no trouble proving to the British Government that his mission was purely commercial.

He has lived in New York for the last ten years, but never had taken out his first naturalization papers.

LADY STOPS RUNAWAY.

HENSALL, June 14.—While driving into town Mrs. Hugh McDonald had a narrow escape, as her horse took fright at the splashing of water from a hose operated by an engine, and ran down Queen street. Two buggy wheels were on the sidewalk, and the other two wheels were in the gutter. Mrs. McDonald pluckily held onto the reins, although in momentary danger of being pitched out, and she finally succeeded in getting the horse stopped.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY VOTES FOR UNION BY BIG MAJORITY

Decides To Join United Church of Canada, 406—88.

OPPOSITION WAS STRONG

Anti-Unionists Claim They Alone Are Now the Presbyterians.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, June 14.—Late this afternoon by the decisive vote of 406 to 88 the Presbyterian General Assembly definitely committed itself to church union and to form one of the bodies in the United Church of Canada.

The last vote was taken after a strenuous day of voting and debate which began as soon as the assembly convened in the morning and was kept up until adjournment late in the afternoon. The Unionists were determined to "pound" the issue through to a finality and no delay was tolerated.

There were votes on three resolutions and then a final vote on the adoption of the union report.

The Union Resolution.

The three union resolutions were:

1. Dr. Falconer's amendment, already voted for against the minority report, and calling for union, but deferring action, and appointing a committee to carry out the policy of the assembly, and at the first assembly after the close of the war the committee was to bring the matter forward in order that the assembly might determine when to proceed to consummate the union.

2. Prof. Ballantyne's amendment to the amendment, committing the church to union, but setting no date, not even a vague date "after the war" and co-operating with other churches until some unnamed time when the union should be consummated.

3. The Falconer amendment pitched against the majority report.

Result of the Voting.

Here is the result of the church union vote:

1. For union 333; against union 103; majority 230.
2. For consummation of union immediately after the war 339; for consummation of union at some unnamed period, substituting cooperation in the meantime, 170; majority, 169.
3. Falconer amendment, 202; against 226. Those voting being mostly unionists, the antis refraining.

Final, the adoption of the majority report, 406; against 88; a true test of the respective strength in the assembly.

The commissioners took the result of the voting philosophically. There was no particular applause; no gloating over success.

Position of Minority.

There is considerable mystery as to what the minority will do. They have consulted all eminent ecclesiastical authorities and know where they stand as to the legal side of the issue.

Some are for seceding at once, others will be guided by Dr. Robert Campbell, clerk of the assembly. Some believe Dr. Campbell, leader of the anti-unionists, will definitely announce secession tomorrow. Dr. Campbell declares, however, that by the minority remaining in the Presbyterian Church they are not committing an act of secession. He says the unionists are the secessionists.

Spectacular Session.

It was a spectacular gathering of the assembly all day, marked by a stormy period when the assembly refused to let Dr. Campbell reply to an attack made upon him. Dr. Campbell was ruled out of order by the moderator, but he temporarily refused to accept the ruling. He tried to make himself heard in the tumult, but failed.

Somewhat of a scare was thrown into the assembly by a fear expressed by Prof. Ballantyne that one of three central colleges, probably Knox College, in which he is the professor and which has an endowment fund of $400,000, would have to be assigned to the minority if union were consummated immediately. Dr. Ballantyne favored union as his resolution showed, but he pleaded for delay.

Dr. Herridge's Plea.

There were some interesting features. Dr. W. T. Herridge of Ottawa, said the union should be set before the assembly as a definite goal. The members had heard the minority, who did not want union on any terms. They were following the light they now had. When the light grows they will love the common principles of Christianity more than the Presbyterian Church, he said. The speaker claimed he was a more ardent unionist now than ever. The war furnished the best argument for Christianity. The churches should be united before the war is over.

"Many of the objections to church union do not take into sufficient consideration the action of our own people," he said. "The first consideration should be our own adherents and members. We cannot divide the church into east and west. The west must be provided for."

"I am more convinced than ever that we should go forward. Do what you think to be right," said Rev. J. D. Byrnes of North Bay, superintendent of missions in New Ontario, who warned the assembly "not to be fooled by ed the assembly "not to be fooled." He maintained it was unworkable.

Time It Was Hatched.

"We have been sitting on this union question for twelve years, and anything that is not hatched out now is rotten. If you give us union, New Ontario will not be separated from the rest of country. Don't be fooled by beautiful phrases of professors and D. D.'s, but take the work of the missionary in the field."

Ex-President Dr. Forrest of Dalhousie University of Halifax, charged that the blue book referred to frequently, and emphasized by Dr. Campbell, had no authority, and was edited by Dr. Campbell.

Dr. Campbell rose to his feet. There was a storm of protest against the interruption, but Dr. Campbell shouted, "I won't sit down, I'll stand up for my rights."

The moderator ruled against Dr. Campbell, but the latter refused to sit down. The storm lasted for fully three minutes. Then the moderator said, "I regret to find that Dr. Campbell is not amenable to the opinion I have expressed. He, also, has the privilege of speaking for five minutes." Dr. Campbell then apologized.

A Sympathetic Committee.

At the evening session of the assembly a committee was named to nominate a larger committee which will have charge of all matters relating to church union in the future. It is regarded as certain that this committee will not have in its membership persons who are completely out of sympathy with the union movement as the other union committee had.

A small special committee to nominate the larger committee consists of the leaders of the union cause, as follows: Rev. Dr. W. J. Clark of Montreal; Dev. Dr. John Forrest of Halifax, Rev. Dr. M. MacGillivray of Kingston, Ont., Rev. Dr. Douglass Fraser of Toronto, and Walter C. Murray, vice-president of the University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon.

LED FIGHT AGAINST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH ENTERING INTO UNION

REV. DR. ROBERT CAMPBELL.

HAVE YOUTHFUL HAIR!

Grey Hair Will No Longer Rob You of Your Youthful Looks If You Try This Simple Home Recipe.

If your hair has begun to turn grey, or has a faded, lustreless appearance, you can readily darken it and bring back its beauty by using this home recipe, which is neither expensive or difficult to prepare. In half a pint of water mix these ingredients, to be had at any drug store:

Glycerine .... ¼ oz.
Bay Rum .... 1 oz.
Orlex Compound .... 1 small box

This preparation is also fine for the scalp, allays all itching, removes dandruff and stops falling hair. Apply once a day until the hair is darkened, then once every two weeks will be sufficient. Be sure the druggist gives you Orlex Compound, for no substitute will give the same good results.

What Thin Folks Should Do to Gain Weight

Good Advice for Thin, Undeveloped Men and Women.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak nerves and feeble stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on creams, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently-discovered combination of assimilative agents has made fat grow after years of thinness, and it is also unequaled, judging from reports, for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the nerves. This remarkable preparation is called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing assimilative elements of acknowledged merit have been combined in this preparation, which is indorsed and used by prominent people everywhere. It is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

A few weeks' systematic use of Sargol should go far to produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of digestion and by supplying nourishing fats to the blood. If not, every druggist who sells it is authorized to return the purchase price. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats that thin people need are thus provided. All leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it.

If you find a druggist who is unable to supply you send $1.00 money order, or registered letter, to the National Laboratories, 74 St. Antoine street, Montreal, and a complete ten days' treatment will be sent you postpaid in plain wrapper.

While this new preparation has from reports given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitalizer, its use is not recommended to nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of flesh.—Advt.

AREA OF WHEAT PLANTED 11.5 PER CENT UNDER 1915

Government Estimate Shows 1,494,800 Fewer Acres Sown.

OTTAWA, June 14.—According to the preliminary estimates of the Canadian census and statistics office, issued tonight, made in many instances before the completion of seeding, wheat in Canada this year will occupy a total area of 11,491,600 acres. This is 1,494,800 acres, or 11.5 per cent below the high record of last year when 12,986,400 acres were hravested, but 1,197,700 acres or 11.6 per cent above the harvest area of 1914, which was 10,293,900 acres. The area to be harvested of fall wheat for 1916 is 1,042,200 acres, leaving the area estimated to be sown to spring wheat as 10,449,400 acres.

In the three northwestern provinces the area sown to wheat is estimated at 10,471,200 acres, as compared with 11,744,700 acres, the area of 1915 and with 9,335,400 acres the harvested wheat area of the northwest provinces for 1914. In Manitoba the area sown to wheat for 1916 is placed at 2,904,400 acres as compared with 3,342,900 acres in 1915. In Saskatchewan it is 5,889,100 acres as against 6,838,100 acres, and in Alberta, 1,677,700 acres as compared with 1,563,700 acres.

PROMPT RETREAT ALONE CAN SAVE AUSTRIAN WING

Russians Only Three Marches From Kolomea.

STRONG ALONG DNIESTER

Nearing Kovel, the Centre of Teuton Railway Communication.

LONDON, June 14.—7:16 p.m.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Petrograd, dealing with the Russian advance in East Galicia, says:

"The Russians hold the Dniester between the frontier, and considerably westward of the confluence of the Stripa and the Dniester. After the capture of aZle Szczyky and Horodenka, their next objective is Kolomea, three marches distance. Unless there is some unlikely change in the strategic position, only a prompt retreat will save the cutting off of the Austrian right wing.

"There were small Russian losses in the forcing of the Dniester, owing to brilliantly skillful tactics. This contrasts strongly with the German losses in crossing the Narew and Bzura Rivers. It is stated that on no sectors on the southern front has the enemy yet received appreciable reinforcements."

A wireles dispatch from Rome quotes the Russian ambassador to Italy to the effect that Russian cavalry has reached a point twenty miles beyond Czernowitz.

Further north, the Russian forces have followed up their victories along the River Styr, and are steadily advancing to the northwest towards Vladimir Volynski. In this sector the Russians have covered the ground embraced in from one and a half to two marches from the Rojitche-Lutsk line.

RECRUITING METHODS CALLED WASTEFUL AND HAPHAZARD

Hamilton, June 14.—The Canadian Manufacturers' Association continued its sessions today.

Vigorous patriotic speeches from individual members of the association punctuated the general discussions of the day.

Speaking for the committee on industrial research, G. Y. Chown recommended the appointment of a committee to formulate a scheme along the lines of the institute, to be supported by the Government.

The transportation committee, in its report, expressed the opinion that the association should take no further action in regard to the future of the Canadian railways until the report from the special commission has been made public by the Government.

No Government Help.

In the matter of Canada having a merchant marine under Government ownership the committees reported that the Government would do nothing at present.

Present recruiting methods were characterized as "wasteful, haphazard and unduly disturbing to production," in the report of the special committee on co-ordination of recruiting and production.

Indiscriminate recruiting methods, it was pointed out, were particularly vexatious to munition factories, where highly skilled men were induced to join the army.

"An imperial tariff policy, which will result in facilitating economic exchange of materials among the various parts of the Empire, which will develop trade in their countries and which will develop retail materials," was the policy laid down in the report of the tariff committee.

Preferential Tariffs.

A resolution was passed favoring a series of preferential tariffs between all parts of the British Empire.

A series of reciprocal tariffs between all nations that are allied against the central powers in the present struggle was also suggested, as well as an agreement among all the allies to give favorable tariff treatment to neutral countries, and an agreement among all the Allies to subject the products of the central empires to such surtaxes and other disabilities as will effectually restrict their competition in the markets of the Allies.

BELGIANS PURSUE ENEMY'S COLUMNS IN AFRICAN WILDS

Germans Forced To Retreat From Northwest Section of East Africa.

[Canadian Press.]

Havre, via Paris, June 15.—Substantial progress for the Belgian forces invading German East Africa, giving them control of the entire northwest section of the colony, is claimed in an official statement issued by the Belgian war office today. The statement follows:

"The German forces, having effected a retreat to the south, seem to be concentrating in the Kitega region. Gen. Tombeour's army continuing the pursuit of the enemy, has reached the main highway joining the lakes of Victoria Nyanza and Tanganyika at three points.

"The right column after occupying Usumbura on June 8 is continuing its march toward Kitega. The left column has reached Kagera, where it holds the approaches to Lake Tanganyika.

ANTI-ALLY MEETINGS AT GREEK CAPITAL

Resolutions Passed Expressing Loyalty to King Constantine.

[Canadian Press.]

Athens, June 14.—Via London, June 15, 10:30 a.m.—The attitude of the Allies toward Greece was denounced at a number of meetings held here today at which resolutions were passed expressing loyalty to King Constantine and confidence in the policy of Premier Skouloudis.

The resolutions protested against the blockade of Grecian ports established by England and France, and denounced the conduct of the Allies toward neutral nations and "especially toward the president of the United States of America."

A feature of the resolutions was that the king was referred to as "our glorious sovereign, King Constantine XII." This title placed the monarch in the line of the ancient rulers of Constantinople.

BAD COMPLEXION

It's Cause: Impure, Impoverished Blood.

To have a soft, smooth skin, free from eruptions and unsightly blemishes, the blood must be maintained in a healthy condition.

Face powders, lotions and other toilet preparations may for a short time cover up a multitude of wrongs in the blood, but they cannot remove these red, disfiguring pimples that are the bane of so many young ladies' lives.

Why not use Ferrozone? It is an unfailing cure for the worst kind of skin disease, the most effective of all blood purifiers, and cures bad complexion by removing its cause.

Ferrozone invigorates and purifies enfeebled blood. Makes it strong, rich and red. Ferrozone puts power into the blood to nourish the body and all its organs. It is a regulator of acknowledged merit, and is quite unrivalled as a remedy for female disorders.

Mrs. Shanly of Pittsburg, Ont., says: "For five years my face was disfigured by raw, bleeding eruptions that resisted all treatment.

"Three Kingston doctors did their best for me and when they acknowledged themselves beaten, I tried Ferrozone. The first box helped me quite a little, and by the time I had used six boxes I was cured. Ferrozone is a fine remedy for womanly disorders of all kinds and I can highly recommend it.

"(Signed) MARY SHANLY."

Growing girls, women, men, in fact everybody can derive untold benefit from Ferrozone. It is a tonic for the blood, brain and nerves, and worth its price ten times over to everyone who uses it.

Three weeks' treatment contained in a box of sixty-three chocolate-coated tablets, cost 50c, or three boxes for $1.25. Sold by all druggists.

CZAR'S LAST STAKE, IS MORAHT'S VIEW OF BIG OFFENSIVE

Noted Military Expert Expects Hard Fighting, but Says Russians Will Fail.

Berlin, June 15.—(Montreal Gazette). —Major Moraht, in the Tageblatt, writes as follows concerning the Russian offensive:

"That the Russians' newly-collected forces would be so numerous as to carry on a general offensive along a front of four hundred kilometres was hardly to have been expected. We must, therefore, eexrcise an extraordinary energy in this gathering together of forces.

"If we are optimistic we can say that Russia is staking her last great force. If we would judge that carefully we must bear in mind that populous Russia produces at least two million young men annually whom Russia has so far been able to turn into soldiers. The truth, however, will always remain that this new prolongation of the fighting in the east is mainly due to the furnishing of guns and ammunition by America and Japan.

The March Offensive.

"The Russian March offensive against Von Hindenburg, which was smothered in 'blood and mud' was undertaken by about fourteen divisions. Judging from the extent and forocity of the present fighting, we see that the Russian forces are twice as great here, and that the enemy's southwestern army has hurled at least 6,000,000 men, not counting reserves, against our defensive positions between the bend of the Styr and Czartorysk and the zone of Czernowitz. Involved in the struggle are Germans in the region west of Rovno as far as the army of Count Bothmer, this last-named army and the army of Gen. Pflanzer-Ballin.

"All will be forced to struggle hard, but at present we need not give credence to the Russian reports. That fable of the great number of prisoners and great losses was very Russian charaoteristic.

"The general situation of the war forces us to seek the impulse for the Russian attack in agreements reached at the Paris conference. The purpose of the Russian offensive from the standpoint of great strategy would be attained if the armies of the central powers were forced to stop their own offensives and weaken their forces. This, however, is not noticeable, nor will it ever be achieved by the Russian attack.

"For a short time the Russian spring offensive against Von Hindenburg showed some small success. Four weeks later it ended in defeat. We hope the same thing will happen to the Russian offensive in the southeast."

RAILWAY MANAGERS MAY MAKE NEW OFFER

[Canadian Press.]

New York, June 15.—Railway officials and delegates representing the four great unions of railway employees met in conference again today in the expectation that this session would determine whether it would be necessary for the unions to vote on the question of declaring a strike to enforce their demands for an eight-hour day and pay at the rate of time and a half for overtime.

The railway managers in a separate conference late last night arrived at a decision as to whether they should make a new compromise offer to the employees. They promised to make their verdict known to the union representatives today, but declined to say what it was in advance of the meeting. The union leaders declared that any compromise would be rejected if it abolished double pay for two classes of service performed by the same employee. They said they were willing to compromise on the other main issues.

It was said today that five weeks would be required to take the strike vote, and that when it was completed another conference with the railway managers would be held before putting a strike into effect.

SARNIA MAY HAVE MISSED OPPORTUNITY TO GAIN NEW DEPOT

General Manager of P. M. Comes and Is Not Met.

NEED OF IMPROVEMENT

Heavy Rain Visits District—Water in Lakes High This Season.

London Advertiser, branch office, Sarnia. Charles A. Bird, manager. Office in the Yard Building. 217½ Christina street. Phone: days, 300A., nights 641A. Office hours, 9 to 12 a.m., 1:30 to 6 p.m. All subscriptions from this city and district should be paid at this office when due.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, June 14.—General Manager Elford of the Pere Marquette Railway system, spent last night in this city, where his private car was tied up for the purpose of giving the official a chance to look over the situation locally and inspect the property of the company.

As no city officials were "on the job" to jog the company's manager, it is unlikely that Sarnia will benefit at all by the trip, in spite of the fact that the company's station on the river road, behind the Imperial oil refinery has been styled as being in a disgraceful state and a poor advertisement for this city.

A couple of years ago the company promised to move that station or build a new one at the junction of the railway and Clifford street, just opposite to the Mueller plant.

If the station were located at that position it would be in a clean locality and would give in-coming people a much better impression of Sarnia. The present location is in close proximity to hundreds of furnaces and stills on the other side of the road.

It is felt by some prominent citizens that were the city council to take strong action on the matter, the company could be persuaded to move the station.

A better plan has been suggested to have the trains run up to the Cromwell street station of the Grand Trunk, which would be in the heart of the city and on the river front, where the docks and surroundings are really presentable.

ALL EYES ON WINDSOR JAUNT.

SARNIA, June 14.—The jaunt of the "factory getters" of the Windsor Board of Trade to Cleveland, Indianapolis and Chicago, where they will be royally entertained by the boards of trade of those places, is being watched with interest in this city, which is situated about the same as Windsor and which is also in the field to land as many factories as possible out of the number that may contemplate coming to Canada and start Canadian branches.

The plan of the Windsor Board of Trade in getting after the industries in the U. S. has been advocated in Sarnia also and the result of the Windsor scouting trip will be watched with great interest.

Sarnia, located on the international boundary, with the best of water and rail accommodation to the west and east, is a logical location for concerns in the States, who may be looking for locations in this country.

Cheap electric power, various lines of steamships leaving here every day and first-class railway accommodation are the inducements held out by this city, along with suitable factory sites and a community willing to do what is right to get a new concern.

LAKES ARE HIGHER.

SARNIA, June 14.—The water in the various lakes this year is reported as being about one foot higher than in past seasons. Rocks and other obstacles that were visible above water a few months ago are now covered. The high water gives additional tonnage to the boats in the shallow canals and the rivers.

HEAVY RAIN AROUND SARNIA.

SARNIA, June 14.—The "dry spell" of the past two days was abruptly ended this afternoon about one o'clock by a heavy downpour of rain, accompanied by vivid lightning and heavy thunder. The lightning did no damage in the city, but the rain will not be received with rejoicing except by the farmers of the district who have high or sandy land.

FREIGHT RUSH GROWS.

SARNIA, June 14.—The Grand Trunk Railway at the present time is enjoying a great run of freight from both directions, over the line to London and over the Stratford division. The through freight continues to pour through the tunnel from western points consigned to the eastern seaboard, where it will be sent to Europe.

The seven steamers landing at Point Edward are bringing down about 18,000 tons of freight per week and are taking back west about the same amount in manufactured goods consigned to the farmers of the western provinces. Most of the eastbound freight consists of flour and other materials made from grain and manufactured at the big milling centres.

The Pere Marquette Railway is receiving large shipments of freight at this point by the carferry from Port Huron. All the eastbound freight from the state of Michigan is shipped to the Atlantic ports via Sarnia, St. Thomas and Suspension Bridge.

Several other lines of boats, outside the Northern Navigation and the Port Huron and Duluth, are picking up freight here and their totals will run high each month.

Taken all round the situation here in the freight line is better than in any previous season.

FOUR GENERATIONS AT MILITARY WEDDING

WALKER—SMITH.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

PRINCETON, June 14.—A pretty wedding took place on Monday, June 12, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Smith, when their eldest daughter, Jean Burnett, became the bride of George Mitchell Walker, first lieutenant 12th Brigade Ammunition Column, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Walker of 34 Rathnally avenue, Toronto. The ceremony was performed at 1 p.m. by the Rev. W. K. Shearer. The house was tastefully decorated with white clematis and ferns, an archway being formed at the foot of the staircase and an aisle kept for the bridal party to pass into the drawing-room by little girls holding streamers of white satin ribbon and vases of white roses. To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Ruth Hart, the bride and groom took their places in front of a high bank of ferns. The bride was beautifully gowned in white embroidered net with satin trimmings, veil in mob-cap style, and wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Helen, in white satin gown, leghorn hat and pink roses, with bouquet of the same flowers. She wore a handsome cameo ring, the gift of the bridegroom. The groomsman was Lieut. Melville Waddington.

The Misses Doris and Elma Smith were pretty flower girls in dresses of white embroidery with gold pins, the gift of the bridegroom, and forget-me-nots. Miss Aileen Hart gave a suitable song during the signing of the register, after which the bride's little niece, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, received the sacrament of baptism, and was given the name of Margarete Catherine.

It is interesting to note that at these ceremonies four generations were present: Great-grandmother, Mrs. Ann Cooper; grandmother, Mrs. Charles G. Smith; father, Dr. Earl Smith; daughter, Margarete Catherine Smith. The baptismal song, "I Think When I Read the Sweet Story of Old," was sung with good effect by Miss Agnes Heath. A dainty buffet breakfast was served, and the cake cut by the bride with her husband's sword. The table and cake decorations were white roses and lilies of the valley, with vases round the room of white roses and red carnations. The happy couple took the 3:20 p.m. train on their honeymoon trip to Toronto, Ottawa and Petawawa. The bride's traveling dress was of navy blue taffeta with Georgette crepe embroidered in gold, grey straw hat with French roses and grey coat with white trimmings. She carried a sterling silver mesh bag, the gift of the bridegroom.

Forty guests were present, amongst them the bridegroom's parents; Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. C. W. Belton, Ottawa; Lieut. Britton, St. Catherines; Capt. Davis, 12th Brigade, O.C.; Capt. Hector McKinnon, London; Dr., Mrs. and the Misses Hart; Mr., Mrs. and Miss A. Heath, Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, and Miss Ella Cooper, all of Brantford; Mr. Alexander, Mr. George and Miss Jean Walker of Toronto; Miss Kathleen Geddes, Strathroy; Mrs. Ann Cooper and Mrs. R. Tufforth of Milton.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WATFORD, June 14.—Wm. Lamb received word yesterday of the death of his eldest son, Pte. Thomas A. Lamb, in France, on the 31st of May. Mr. Lamb's two remaining sons are with the 149th Overseas Battalion, C.E.F., in London.

BIGAMY TRIAL AT SIMCOE.

SIMCOE, June 14.—The June sessions of the peace and county court have opened before His Honor Judge Boles.

James McDonald, alias McDonnell, is charged with having married Violet Wark of Simcoe while he had a wife in Hamilton. He is also charged with perjury, said to have been committed when he was getting the marriage license.

John Kemp, a farmer living in Windham Township, near Egypt, is said to have prevented a soldier from doing his duty.

LLOYD GEORGE TO FOLLOW KITCHENEH AS WAR SECRETARY

London, June 14.—8:18 p.m.—It is understood that the secretaryship for war, made vacant by the death of Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, has been offered to David Lloyd George.

He is expected to accept the portfolio, according to the understanding, but not to sever entirely his connection with the ministry of munitions.

An official statement regarding the war secretaryship is expected by the end of the week.

SAW ORPET IN WOODS DAY BODY WAS FOUND

Schoolmate of Marion Lambert a Witness for the State.

[Canadian Press.]

Waukegan, Ill., June 15.—Verne Jackson, a schoolmate of Marion Lambert, for whose death Will H. Orpet is on trial, is expected to be called by the prosecution today to describe the last meeting between Orpet and the girl.

Miss Jackson is said to be ready to testify that on the morning of February 10, the day the girl's body was found on the snow-covered ground of Helms Woods, she observed Orpet behind a large tree in the woods. It is expected the state will attempt to disprove, through Miss Jackson, that Josephine Davis' statements, which have gone far toward creating an opinion favorable to Orpet, are not entirely facts, State's Attorney Dady announced that he will himself take the witness stand to repeat the story Miss Davis told him shortly after the tragedy.

FAMINE CONDITIONS IN NORTHERN MEXICO

[Canadian Press.]

El Paso, Texas, June 15.—Two thousand refugees are in Juarez today, having arrived from Chihuahua and the district around Torreon. Americans declare that famine conditions prevail around Torreon and that the civil population would welcome any measure that would relieve them from the dangers of starvation. The newest issue of Carranza currency, they say, is without purchasing power.

Canuto Reyes and Jose Isabel Robles, former Villa followers, who recently made peace with the de facto government, are reported to have again revolted, and with a number of Carranza officers declare they will not oppose the Americans.

LANCE-CORP. HACKETT ONCE OF THE O. A. C.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GUELPH, June 14.—In Saturday's casualty list the name of Lance-Corp. Hugh C. Huckett of London, England, was mentioned as wounded. Lance-Corp. Huckett was a third year man at the O. A. C., and in March, 1915, he, with a number of college boys, went to Montreal and enlisted with the University Corps of the Princess Pats. He has been in the trenches since last August. During his stay in the city he made many warm friends, who will be sorry to hear of his injury. He also sang in the choir of the Congregational Church.

PRESENTATION IN FLORENCE.

FLORENCE, June 14. — The Epworth League, Sunday school and choir of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mr. Forshee to spend a few pleasant hours with Miss Birdie Scarlett before her departure for Fort William, and to present her with a sum of money as a token of her services rendered to the church in all departments, of which she had taken an active part. A dainty lunch of ice cream and cake was served to some sixty persons. Those assisting with the lunch were Misses Wilma Wilkinson, Buela Laird, and Fleda Wills. Messrs. George and Russell Paddick, Charles Dickson. A delightful evening was spent.

EKFRID CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.

APPIN, June 14. — Anniversary services were held in North Ekfrid Presbyterian Church on Sunday, conducted by Rev. G. Lloyd, of Chalmers Church. A delightful day brought large crowds afternoon and evening, the church capacity being unable to accommodate the people assembled. The services of Mr. Lloyd were much appreciated. On Monday evening, the church's annual garden party was held on the church grounds, and it was the first "ideal" garden party summer evening of the season. An excellent program was given by Toronto entertainers. The Ladies' Aid took the opportunity of selling an autograph quilt at 10 cents per ticket, each ticket bearing a number. Miss Lizzie Down bought the lucky ticket. From the sale of tickets the ladies realized $80, the gate receipts amounting to $135.

BECOMES HOSPITAL SUPT.

GUELPH, June 13.—Miss Emily Eisele, who has been assistant superintendent of the Guelph General Hospital for the last two years, and who has been acting as superintendent since the resignation of Miss Reekie, has been appointed superintendent of the Berlin and Waterloo Hospital. Miss Eisele is a graduate of the Guelph General Hospital, and has had experience in several hospitals in the United States and Canada. She is a daughter of ex-Commissioner Eisele of the public works department here.

LAWN PARTIES AT ALVINSTON.

ALVINSTON, June 14.—Garden parties will soon be all the rage in the surrounding district. Both the local Methodist Church and the Ebenezer Methodist Church have already set their dates. The former will be held Friday evening, June 23, on the lawn of Wm. Bourne, 6th line of Brooke, and the latter will be held Monday, June 19, anniversary services being held in the church on Sunday previous.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. J. Chalk Thursday, June 15. The subject of the day will be: "The White Ribbon and Its Meaning."

DONEGAL GARDEN PARTY.

ATWOOD, June 14.—Donegal garden party held last evening, was a decided success. The night was fine and the attendance large. Mrs. Husser and Alvin Barr rendered solos, Miss Husser a reading, Tommy Hymers and Miss Pearl Barton an instrumental duet, and addresses were delivered by Revs. C. J. Moorhouse of Trowbridge, Dr. W. McDonald of Atwood, and A. R. Miller of Milverton; while the Milverton band enlivened the occasion with many splendid selections. Rev. Dr. Husser presided.

BURIED AT BLENHEIM.

BLENHEIM, June 14.—The body of Miss Mabel Mulholland was brought here yesterday from Toronto, where she died after a long illness. The funeral took place today, and was conducted by Rev. J. W. Currie from the home of J. W. Shillington.

WILD THINGS OF the FOREST ROAM IN SAFETY in this land of a thousand lakes

By G. W. Bartlett, Super intendent of Algonquin Park.

Nature lovers mourn the passing of wild life under the iron heel of industrial progress and the profound concern of these lovers of outdoor life would certainly be justified if there were no national reserves within the broad Dominion.

Among the most popular of these glorious national heritages of the people is the Algonquin Provincial Park, 1,754,473 acres in extent, situated two thousand feet above the level of the sea, up in the "Highlands of Ontario." This lovely region, set apart by the Ontario Government in 1893, remains today unspoiled, a perfect refuge for the creatures of the forest, and an ideal pleasure-ground for the people.

It is almost impossible to walk for half an hour from any of the camps or hotels without seeing one or more deer, or coming across a beaver dam or other evidence of the existence of wild things.

At the time this territory was set aside for a breeding ground and preserve, all kinds of fur-bearing animals in this section had become almost extinct. Today they have not only filled the park, but have so overrun its boundaries that many adjacent townships are now well stocked with game. This is especially the case with regard to the industrious beaver, who has followed the numerous rivers in the park for hundreds of miles, and is now to be found in sections that had none in the memory of the oldest inhabitants. It is estimated that the increase in beaver for 1916 will be several thousands. Other fur-bearing animals have increased in proportion, and a number of pelts of beaver and other animals are now being taken out annually without any apparent decrease in their numbers. It is expected that a considerable revenue will be realized by the Ontario Government in the future from this source.

Included among the fur-bearing animals to be found in the park, besides the beaver, are the otter, mink, marten, fisher, raccoon, lynx, fox, ermine, muskrat, skunk, wolf and bear. Virginia deer are very abundant, notwithstanding the fact that large hunting parties are to be found each year on all sides, right up to the boundary line of the park. No hunting is allowed in the park, the object being to allow the deer to overflow and thus replenish the hunting grounds outside. Those roaming unmolested inside the park have now become so numerous and tame that splendid pictures are taken of them by the hundreds of people who spend their holidays in cruising from lake to lake through the vast chain of waterways. At nearly every turn of the river or lake, wild life of some kind is to be seen. Moose have also become numerous in most sections and are often photographed as they feed in the lily pads. Indeed, the prohibition against hunting in the park greatly adds to the opportunities of the picture-hunter, since the wild creatures are much more approachable than in localities where they are persistently hunted.

To the excellence of the fishing to be enjoyed in the park there is undisputed testimony. Fish caught in the waters of the park have won each year many of the national competitions open to the anglers of the continent.

At the park headquarters at Algonquin Park Station, there is a private collection of mounted specimens of animals and birds that represent all the fur-bearing animals and feathered denizens in this section, and we are always glad to have visitors call in and study them during the summer. Some living specimens will generally be found in the large house erected for the purpose at headquarters by the Government.

The accommodation in the park is such that the most varied tastes can be pleased. There are hotels for those who want to be in the wilderness, yet enjoy all the comforts that good service and social companionship can bring; there are groups of log cabin camps, comfortably furnished and ideal for family parties, with central lodges containing everything ready for you on your return from the tramp; or if you have planned to camp under your own canvas you may step into a canoe at one of the little railway stations on the Grand Trunk which serves the whole of the park, and after a short paddle find a site unmarred by the hand of man yet within easy reach of the park outfitting stores.

Many families now go into the park expressly for the camping, making their headquarters at the hotels long enough to get supplies and camping outfit ready for the trip. Then in canoes, and with guides or without them, they launch bravely out into the deep woods, camping where fancy prompts.

THE AEROPLANE IS FLYING NOW ABOVE THE GARDEN OF EDEN

Anglo-Indian Fighters Bring Airships Into Mesopotamia.

Chicago, June 14.—R. J. Bjuurstedt says in Popular Mechanics: On account of favoring atmospheric and meteorological conditions—the homogeneity and clearness of the air and the absence of protracted rains and fogs—lower Mesopotamia is rated as the best of all the theatres of war for effective aeroplane work. The first divisions of the Anglo-Indian expeditionary force were very inadequately supplied with aeroplanes, but such machines as they did have rendered incalculable service in reconnaissance flights above the baffling, ill-mapped labyrinths of canals, lagoons and marshes which constitute the greater portion of the Tigro-Euphrates overflow district, a region which, roughly speaking, corresponds to the triangle inclosed by the two rivers and a line drawn from Kut-el-Amara to Nasire.

Short of 'Planes.

The expeditionary force was short of aeroplanes even after Kut-el-Amara had been occupied last fall, and there is no possible doubt that adequate air reconnaissance would have revealed the presence of the heavy reinforcements the Turks were able to gather at Bagdad, and prevented the costly and almost fatal surprise which awaited Gen. Townshend's impetuous division at Ctesiphon. With the fresh Turkish forces also appeared German aeroplanes and pilots, and during all the week of that desperate but masterly retreat of the British commander to his provisional base at Kut-el-Amara the command of the air—for the first, and probably the last, time in this region—was in the hands of the enemy. Not until a fortnight or more after Townshend's little force had been cut off and surrounded did the arrival of important aerial reinforcements at Basra give the British a really adequate aviation service.

The mystery of how Townshend has been able to hold out for four months on supplies of food and munitions that were never reckoned to be sufficient for even half that time will probably not be entirely solved until after the war, but enough is known to make it certain that the aeroplane and the wireless—those twin wonders of modern science—have been the principal factors in making possible this, in many respects, unprecedented defence against overwhelming odds. The wireless has winged Townshend's most pressing wants to Aylmer, and Aylmer's airmen by hook or by crook, have supplied them. Indeed, it has even been given us to know how parts of the trick have been turned. The British censor, for instance, has allowed to slip by him a dispatch stating that garden seed and phonograph needles have been dropped into Kut-el-Amara from an aeroplane, while letters received in America from an officer taking part in the Mesopotamian campaign even tell of an organized aeroplane service plying regularly between the beleaguered and the relieving armies.

It did not take long to establish the fact that these "bombing methods, while quite satisfactory for such trifles as garden seed and phonograph needles could never be counted on to supply the beleaguered garrison with any quantity of the things it was really in such desperate need of. There was, therefore, a lull in "aerial relief" until a big level space for night landings had been cleared and lighted in the heart of the Kut area. From that time—about the middle of January—down to the present, there is good reason to believe, a regular and efficient aeroplane express service has been maintained between Aylmer's relief army and the brave little force of Townshend in Kut-el-Amara.

BROTHER QUITS BROTHER IN CHINESE REVOLT

CANTON, June 13.—Kwang-Tung's declaration of independence came about through the pressure brought on Gen. Lung Chi-Kuang, the military governor of Canton, by the 72 trade guilds of Canton and the defection of his own brother, Gen. Lun Chin-Kuang. The latter was sent with troops from Kwang-tung province. In making this trip, it was necessary for him to cross Kwang-si province. While in that province, the officials of Kwang-si declared its independence and General Lung Chin-Kuang willingly threw his support, and that of his troops to the revolutionary movement.

Grave Situation.

At Canton the situation became very grave. The revolution had gradually spread to the very borders of Kwang-tung Province, and commercial interests were widely clamoring for independence, as they regard its severance from the Pekin Government as the only means of preserving peace and preventing anarchy and riot. General Lung Chi-Kuang repeatedly assembled high military and civil officials in his office, and called prominent businessmen to confer with them. He stubbornly remained loyal to the Pekin Government, but finally the situation became so tense that he saw he could not control his subordinate officials any longer, and proclaimed the independence of Kwang-Tung.

One of the most notable documents of the revolutionists is the telegram which General Lung Chin-Kuang sent to his brother, the military governor of Canton; after he and his troops had joined the revolutionary movement in Kwang-si. The following is a translation of that telegram:

"Urgent telegram. To General Lung Chi-kuang, Chiang Chun of Kwang-tung. After the declaration of independence in Kuang-si, I at once sent a telegram to the central government, resigning the post of investigation commissioner at Yunnan, and at the same time sent a declaration to the province informing them of my purposes. I am sure you have received my telegram, and my motives are to maintain the republic so that my love of the country will be known to the people. None of the citizens of this country has approved the project for the restoration of monarchy. This is the reason of the popularity of the revolutionary movement. As soon as the independence of Yunnan was declared, Kuei-chow followed its steps, and now Kuang-si has joined them. The revolutionary influence has spread like wild fire, and it is only a matter of course that before long the whole country will units as one man to oppose the central government.

Gives Warning.

"From the very beginning of the history of China the success of every dynasty has depended absolutely upon the right of the cause, and no man can be a success if his cause is a wrong one. We have noticed that some of the troops who have a right principle have turned against the central government before they have met us on the field. You will not act against your own conscience if you should disregard all personal favors showered upon you when you feel the unrighteousness of the cause. My dear brother, as you have been holding military power these years in Kuang-tung, I believe that you have incured the suspicion of the central government. Well says the ancient proverb 'When there are no more birds to shoot the bow will be stored away.' Therefore it is for your personal interests that you should refuse to be controlled by the central government which has given you favors in order to bind you up. You should raise high your standards and beat aloud your drums. You should be led by right public opinions and back them up with your military powers. Create anew the sun and moon and give a better aspecto 'hills and rivers.' You will then have right on your side and you will render most meritorious services to your country. I, your brother, have consecrated myself to the Min Kuo (form of government) and should it be unfortunate enough that duty should call me to lead my troops to Kuang-tung Province, the world would laugh at us two brothers fighting each other. It is not yet too late if you should turn your back against the central government, and I am sure by your severance with the central government you will do a great service to your country. This telegram is sent with the tears of your dear brother.

"LUNG CHIN-KUANG."

LEESON—FERGUSON.

FLORENCE, June 14. — The quiet wedding of Miss Pearl Ferguson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ferguson of Euphemia, and Forest Leeson of Dawn, son of Wm. Leeson, was solemnized Tuesday at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride. The bridal party was unattended, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. M. Kiteley, Methodist minister of Florence, in the presence of immediate relatives. After congratulations a wedding supper was served, and the couple left by auto. After taking a short lake trip they will reside on the groom's farm in Dawn.

Bulgarian Soldiers Seize Serb Supplies and Maltreat Americans in Monastir Raid

One morning the clinic was crowded with patients and in full swing when I heard little Miss Troyan, our Macedonian interpreter, calling: "They've come and they've got the doctor." I was out of the door in three leaps to find Dr. Forbes at the gate, struggling with an officer and some soldiers, while several others threatened him with fixed bayonets.

We had decided beforehand if they broke in to take a picture as evidence and I had already snapped one when the officer saw me. He gave a bellow of rage and the next thing I knew 200 pounds of fat Bulgarian and I were wrestling for the kodak. Two soldiers had hold of my arm so he got it away from me, broke and jammed it into his pocket.

In the meantime Dr. Forbes had run to the door of the house where the supplies were kept; he tried to get the key out of the lock, but it stuck, and he could only pretend to put it in his pocket. It fooled the soldiers, however, and a lot of them jumped on him at once.

Peril Doctor With Bayonet.

I saw a confused mass of struggling arms and legs. The officer, purple in the face, was hopping around the edge yelling directions. Several soldiers held their bayonets within six inches of Dr. Forbes and only too obviously were aching to reduce the distance.

It takes a lot of force in the Balkans, evidently, to subdue anyone, but numbers after all are numbers and by the time the soldiers had discovered the key in the lock and dropped Dr. Forbes, there was nothing we could do, though panting with rage, but give up and sit hopelessly watching the removal of what we then thought was our property.

In the middle of the excitement the civil government of Monastir made a theatrical entrance. A small man in a sort of "hunting-the-chamois" costume stalked in between the soldiers, one hand in the breast of his coat, one behind him (the classic statesman's attitude). He raised his hat, a fur shako, with great stiffness to Dr. Forbes.

"I have come to you," he said. "You ought to have come to me."

"But who on earth are you?" Dr. Forbes asked.

"I am the governor of Monastir," he replied.

Governor Shows Authority.

We ought to have known it. Some are marked at birth for greatness. Even in the most intimate moments of domestic life he would have looked every inch a governor.

"You should have asked me about this affair. It was my business, not the military authorities, and," his voice rising all the time, "my brother is the American consul at Sofia and he'll tell Mr. Mope-e-e-ka that you make trouble with the Bulgarians. As for that gentleman," pointing at Dr. Forbes, "he is not American. I know well Americans. They sit quiet; they smoke their pipes."

He stopped, looking fiercely at us, and, feeling he had crushed us by his arguments, turned on his heel and stalked out. Later I heard some of this remarkable individual's history. His brother had never been American consul in Sofia, but one of the minor clerks in our office there. He had been sent first to Scoplje as governor, but Lady Paget had found him so intolerable that at her request he had been removed.

Flees With 6,000 Francs.

Finally, after stirring up all sorts of trouble and lording it over every one, he left Monastir hurriedly with 6,000 francs in gold. The Bulgarians have tried to disown him; they say they are looking for him and wish to execute on him summary martial law (before he has spent the 6,000 francs).

They are still looking. They'll never find him, he is much too clever; the cleverest man I met in the Balkans. Some day he will emigrate to America and become one of our leading politicians. He should be a great success in the United States.

Twenty thousand Bulgarian troops waxed and grew fat for a week on our Serbian supplies. The only excuse offered was that they needed it. We never saw a receipt for anything that was taken, and though a written protest was accepted by the commandant to be forwarded to our consul, it evidently only traveled as far as the headquarters waste basket. Although there was a wireless in the field near the ambulance, we heard no word at all from the outside world for two months.

Americans Closely Watched.

I understand now how the third degree will break the nerve of even an honest man. Until the arrival of the first Bulgarian army staff and the Germans we had to stand all sorts of petty annoyances. Back in America the resemblance of a certain spectacled officer with the appearance of a studious fish, hunting like a sleuth hound in the ambulance outhouses for hidden bags of flour, is an amusing one. At the time it was not at all funny.

I longed to go home and write about the spring flowers. We did not dare even make faces at the soldiers loafing around the ambulance courtyard. Guards were at the gate and at times Dr. Forbes wasn't allowed in his own house. An officer struck a young boy, one of our helpers, in the face for no apparent reason.

The military authorities ordered us to deliver to their tender mercies our most intelligent interpreter, an American citizen, though a Macedonian by birth, on the trumped up charge, entirely false, of having defrauded two Bulgarian soldiers eight years ago in America of $40.

Interpreters Make Escape.

The soldiers offered to settle for $30, but a written guarantee of his safety if he did give himself up was refused. He and the other interpreter, although a naturalized American, preferred to escape over the border. They hid for a day or so in a house by the river, that, like most of the Turkish houses, had a secret door (you could pass by these hidden ways from courtyard to courtyard in Monastir without going out in the street), evaded the city guards in disguise and went with a smuggler over the mountains into Greece.

A Greek, looking gigantic in his peasant's clothes of white wool, came into the clinic two days later. It was the smuggler. He made signs he wanted his neck doctored; when he got Dr. Forbes alone there was nothing the matter with it, but he produced a dirty scrap of paper, on it written in pencil as well as I can remember, was, "Dear Friends: Hope you never have such experience—cloths—burn up on montin; no shoes—snow over ancles.

"TWO SISTERS."

Asks Sugar As Reward.

From it we gathered our interpreters were safely across the border. Their messenger pleaded for sugar as his reward. I had hidden one precious loaf under my bed and he came to my room for it. My landlady, strongly disapproving, chaperoned from the door. He was a formidable looking visitor as he stood with the loaf under one arm.

"O, Amer-ika, Amerika," he whined yearningly.

Our beloved country was at least well thought of by the smuggler.

STRATHROY ODDFELLOWS.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

STRATHROY, June 14. — The lodges comprising District No. 6 held their annual meeting in the Oddfellows' Hall, last night, and transacted the business of the district for the year. The meeting was presided over by Bro. R. E. Waltham, D. D. G. M., of Kerwood. The different committees' reports were found satisfactory, and the district was shown to be in a prosperous condition. Bro. P. J. Dodds, of Peabody Lodge, No. 99, Watford, was elected D. D. G. M., for the coming year.

LAMBTON'S I. O. D. E. MEETING.

WATFORD, June 14.—The regular meeting of Lambton's I. O. D. E. was held at the home of Mrs. Connolly. Mrs. Adams, the regent, occupied the chair. There were twelve members and two visitors present. Following the reports of different committees it was decided to give a home-made cooking and candy sale Saturday afternoon in the basement of the Anglican Church, from 3 to 7. The committee for purchasing supplies to work on for the day reported the expenditure of $20 for surgical dressings, and the members worked all afternoon on these dressings under the direction of Miss E. McLeay, matron at Bayview Sanatorium, N. Vancouver. The bale will be finished next week and shipped to the Red Cross in London.

Rids Poisons From the Blood Clears Up the Complexion

Sallow Skin, Pimples, Pains and Aches Are Soon Gone When Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Are Used.

The doctor feels your pulse and looks at your tongue, but at the same time he is reading your condition in your face. The sallow complexion tells him that your liver is not doing its work, the pimples tell him that the kidneys are not properly purifying the blood, he realizes that the bowels are constipated, and the system overloaded with poisons.

You can apply this test in your own case and may be able to add other symptoms, such as headaches, pains and aches through back and limbs, spells of biliousness and indigestion.

If you have not used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you will be surprised to find how quickly they will rid your system of poisonous impurities, and thereby remove the cause of pains, aches and skin troubles.

Mrs. F. N. Hall, 102 Queen street, St. John, N. B., writes: "I am glad to say I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with splendid results. I was greatly troubled with constipation and pimples on the face. I tried other remedies and used liquid arsenic three times a day for a year to get rid of the pimples but received no benefit. I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and it was not very long before I was completely cured. The pills acted on the bowels, kidneys and liver and cleansed them of all impure matter. I think they cannot be beaten as a means of ridding a person of that tired aching due to weak kidneys, and I would not be without them in the house for any money."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

TOBACCO HEART

CURED BY

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

Tobacco does not seem to affect all alike. Many men enjoy their smoke, live to a good old age and apparently suffer no ill effect from the use of the weed.

There are others, though, on whose heart and nervous system tobacco produces the most serious results.

It causes palpitation, pain in the heart and irregularity of its beat, makes the hands tremble, gets the nerves on edge, and the breath becomes short.

To counteract this demoralizing influence on the heart and nerves there is no remedy that equals Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

They make the heart beat strong and steady, restore tone and vigor to the nerves, and remove all the evil results caused by the tobacco.

Mr. Nelson Young, Brampton, Ont., writes: "I have had, up to about a month ago, a very weak heart, which I suppose came from smoking cigarettes. When I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as a cure, I immediately gave up smoking, and started using them. It does you justice to be the founder of such a great remedy. They made me feel like a new man."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

STRATFORD HAS LARGE LIST OF CASUALTIES

[Special to The Advertiser.]

STRATFORD, June 14.—The heaviest casualty list since the recent engagement of the Canadians is reported today, when one is reported killed, one died of wounds, one missing, three wounded, one has shell shock, and one who was reported missing is located in a hospital.

Pte. D. W. Riley is officially reported died of wounds, and Pte. E. C. Love killed in action tonight. Pte. Riley was wounded June 11 in the abdomen and thigh, and on Monday notice came of his condition being serious. Pte. Love was slightly wounded in the scalp May 4, but evidently returned to the trenches. He went overseas in a draft. Both were well known and very popular.

Pte. William Ross, previously reported missing, is now in hospital at Wimereux.

Pte. Frederick Wiffin is missing, and Lieut. J. Herold, Pte. James Russell, and Gunner Joe Dufton are wounded.

Relations Get News.

Mrs. Wiffin was informed today that her husband, Pte. Frederick Wiffin, had been missing since June 3. He enlisted with a Western Ontario Battalion, but was later transferred. He was born in Woolwich, England, and came to Stratford as a small boy. His cousin is with the 211th Battalion.

Pte. William Ross was born in England in 1884, and is a painter by trade. He served with the Territorials before coming to Canada. His mother now resides in Woodstock.

Lieut. J. Herold wounded, is a nephew of John Herold of Shakespeare. He enlisted at Montreal with the Mounted Rifles.

Pte. Walter Haughton of the Canadian Mounted Rifles has been admitted to No. 4 General Hospital, Camieres, suffering from shell shock. The message was directed to his brother John at Hampsted, but he had since enlisted and gone overseas.

Mr. William Russell of Russeldale was notified that his son, Pte. James Russell, was wounded in the knee with shrapnel, and is now in one of the military hospitals in France.

Gunner Joe Dufton is a former Stratford boy, and nephew of E. T. Dufton and Miss Forman, this city. He enlisted at Toronto.

MUCH FURNITURE BURNED.

STRATFORD, June 14.—A carload of beds and rockers ready for shipment was destroyed by fire last midnight, which broke out in the premises of the Stratford Davenport Company.

DECLARES ANGLICAN CHURCH LIGHT AND SOUL OF THE EMPIRE

Rev. E. C. Jennings Urges More Evangelical Work.

UTILIZE LAYMEN WIDELY

Says They Can Be Made to Combat Activities of "Dissenters."

"With church union imminent, and the depletion of our membership through the war, now is the time for us to take action, or never. The dissenting bodies will have enough men in the field to repeat the great error of days long past, unless we put enough men in the field. As the British Empire stands for all that is truest and best in the world, so the light and soul of the British Empire is the Anglican Church. We must preserve the church for the Empire," was the declaration made this morning by Rev. E. C. Jennings of Blenheim to the Synod of the Diocese of Huron in support of his notice of motion to the effect, in view of the coming World Conference on Faith and Order, and also the suggested season of religious revival.

1. That the Synod of Huron authorize and direct that one month of this year in Huron Diocese be devoted to religious revival and holding of meetings in school houses, halls or convenient places in rural districts, as well as towns, and that the distinctive claims of the Anglican Church be stated to the people, so that the church may become better understood, and that the clergy and instructed laymen carry out the work for 30 days, without further remuneration than the offerings of the people at the meeting.

2. That owing to the probable scarcity of men for holy orders in the next few years, the church direct every effort to utilize the services of laymen in every place, so that there be not a repetition of what we lost in days past, when Methodist local preachers covered the field where we should have gone.

Urges Preparedness.

Further, Mr. Jennings insisted that there must be preparedness on the part of the Anglican Church for the situation arising from an influx of European immigration after the war.

In regard to the need for a revival, "I mentioned 30 days, not as a fixed period, but as a definite point from which to proceed. Revivals in the past have done a great deal for the church. I would advocate a revival setting forth the principles for which the church stands."

Concerning his own experience in this matter of making clear the doctrines of the Anglican Church, the speaker referred to the fact that he had obtained consent from school trustees to hold confirmation classes in a certain school building, with the result that 75 per cent of the community are not dissenters, but church people. In his nine years in Blenheim, he has averaged one Roman Catholic convert for eight years, a new member of the church who had been outside before owing to a misconception of the Anglican Church.

Laymen Useful

In regard to calling into action the latent forces of the church, the laymen, in this time of crisis: "Laymen are capable of doing extension work in the church," he affirmed. In fact, he believed that one, two or three who could carry on the work effectively might be found in a parish. The difficulty would be to eliminate prejudice in the lay mind against laymen. To this end, he would suggest that his lordship, the bishop, set examination papers for laymen, in say, church history, the prayer book and Bible, and that the bishop give the layman a license, in the confines of his own parish. Mr. Jennings further felt that the knowledge that the synod was behind the man licensed would further help to remove prejudice.

Very Rev. Dean Davis brought in a motion to the effect that the matter be referred to the rural deaneries. Owing to the importance of the question, however, it was decided to leave it over for further discussion, no less than three prominent members of the synod being on their feet to make amendments or offer suggestions when the hour arrived for adjournment.

Auditors Appointed.

The first business of the forenoon session was the appointment of Alfred G. Booker, C. A., and Archdeacon Young auditors, the salary attached of $350 to be divided equally. Balloting also took place for appointments to committees, etc.

A notice of motion regarding church extension, presented by Rev. Canon Tucker, was adopted to the effect that a diocesan fund be created to be known as a church extension fund. Several suggestions were given in regard to the raising of this.

Canon Gunne resented an amendment to the canon for the Diocesan Sunday School Association, with the provision that in case any rector or incumbent fail to make the report to the committee requested within the space of ten days from the date fixed for the return to be made, a report of such failure be made to the bishop.

BRITISH ABOUT

quarter of the entire western front. The substitution of British for French troops in the southern sector, the French going, it is believed, to the Verdun defences, was made without any offensive on the part of the Germans.

Long-Expected Offensive.

Prior to the beginning of the German campaign against Verdun on February 21, a British offensive had been weekly expected by visitors to the large British concentration camps, parade grounds, and storehouses in the rear of the British front. Particularly was this so when a great movement of German troops was observed going east and south in the week of February 18, through Central Belgium and Northern France. However, subsequently the gigantic proportions of the German offensive at Verdun were said to have diminished the chances of an offensive by the Allies in the near future, as it was pointed out that the defence of Verdun must necessarily make great inroads on their accumulations of munitions and men.

British Force Over Million.

From the internal evidence of Sir Douglas Haig's report of May 19, the British have 450,000 on the line and the Germans 500,000. It is well known that the Germans keep the bulk of their forces on the firing line, while the French and English, unless attacked, do not have more than a third of their forces exposed in the normal condition of a dormant front. They depend on the vigilance of their officers on the first line to notice the signs of an attack in force on the part of the enemy, when the reserves can be brought up. They thus save thousands of lives during the daily artillery duels.

In these circumstances the British force under Sir Douglas Haig should be about 1,350,000 men. Opposite him there are forty German divisions, exclusive of cavalry, or 600,000 men of all ranks. This aggregate, according to a British military expert, "may represent in combatants 500,000 rifles and over 3,000 guns. It is an accountable concentration, and we must further assume that the drafts to make good losses are in the field depots behind the German lines."

PRESBYTERIANS'

city was really the birthplace of the motion. I was a pastor at the time, and was conveying the congratulations of the Congregational Church to the Methodist body at a quadrennial Methodist conference. The late Dr. Patrick, head of the University of Manitoba, was there in a similar capacity for the Presbyterians, and he referred strongly to the desirability of union. The speech so impressed the men at the conference that the next morning a committee was appointed to deal with the matter.

"There was one point in Dr. Patrick's address that impressed me, and that was his statement that, while there might be differences in the union there would be far greater differences in staying apart. The Congregationalists want union. I believe that it would be unanimous on their part now.

"The west demands church union. There are already some 27 union churches there, some of them having Congregational, some Methodist and some Presbyterian ministers. Each one of these charges is independent, and the presbytery and conference have no jurisdiction over them. It is sure to go on, and the more union churches there are the less control will the church courts of the Methodist and Presbyterian bodies have over them.

"If we are to Canadianize the west, we must Christian ize it, and if we are to Christianize it we must have unity."

Local Churches May Go.

"Locally the effect of the Winnipeg vote and the committing of the Presbyterian Church to church union may mean the reduction of the number of churches by two, three or four. It may mean the reduction of even five, but that is the limit," declared Rev. W. J. Knox, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. "I don't think it will mean more than that, for the congregations of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational churches of this city are fairly strong. The question of reduction will lie very much with the individual congregations.

"The Presbyterian Church is now absolutely committed to union. It will be brought into being the year after the close of the war. Just how it will be consummated is, of course, a question that has not yet been settled. It will require a legal mind to arrange for all the details.

"Legislation will have to be secured to permit the incorporation of the new 'United Church of Canada,' and provision will have to be made to see that the minority who declare they will remain 'The Presbyterian Church in Canada' do not retain the larger part of the church property.

"There are many difficulties in the way, such as these legal questions, but these will all be handled by the various committees that have been and will be appointed."

"I should like to think that all the churches in London would come in, and that there would be no 'minority' churches here," declared Rev. D. C. MacGregor, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, speaking as to the possibilities of a "Presbyterian" church remaining in London after the union was consummated.

"It would take a very wise man to say whether there would still be Presbyterian churches in this city after union or not," continued St. Andrew's pastor. "I shouldn't like to think that there would be any, but naturally no one can tell. No man is the keeper of another's conscience, and we will have to wait and see what will come.

"Union will not go through for some time at least, and there may be many questions coming up between now and then. I know the feeling of my own congregation in the matter, but what the others will do when faced squarely with the question is something that it is manifestly impossible to predict. What will be done then no man can say."

Objects To Terms.

"I am not opposed to the union proper," said Rev. J. G. Stuart of Knox Presbyterian Church, in taking his stand on the matter, "but to the basis on which we were to unite.

"I object to the fact that the union is not sufficiently democratic in its scope, the terms putting too much in the hands of a committee which should be left with the people themselves."

Questioned as to what course he would pursue in the event of a minority body opposed to union should be formed, Rev. Stuart declined to commit himself, believing that definite union action would not be taken before the conclusion of the war.

In the meantime, he stated, there was ample time to take the matter under advisement as to what cause to adopt.

WOMAN REMANDED

Charged With Keeping Brothel Outside City Limits.

Kathleen Botton, charged with keeping a house of ill-fame, appeared this morning before Squire Chittick.

She was remanded to appear for trial on Saturday, bail to the amount of $200 being accepted on her own recognizance.

The house in question is situated on Richmond street, north of Huron, outside the city limits.

Claims are advanced that conditions there are growing worse since the big camp, and the police say they are going to make especial efforts to stamp out what they claim has been an evil for some time past.

DEATH OF B. J. BOYLE.

The death of Bernard J. Boyle, 208 Rectory street, occurred last night at St. Joseph's Hospital, after an illness of some duration. He was 62 years of age, and had lived in London about twenty years. He was a bridge builder by trade. He is survived by three sons, Harry at home, Edgar of the 161st Battalion, Leo of the 142nd Battalion, and three daughters, Mrs. Charles Smith, this city, and Anna and Sarah at home. Three sisters, Mrs. Caughey of Clinton, and Sisters Augustine and Isidora of the Sisters of St. Joseph, and one brother, Joseph, of Wingham, also survive.

The funeral will be held on Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock from his residence, 208 Rectory street, to St. Mary's Church, where requiem high mass will be sung. Interment will be made at St. Peter's Cemetery.

PRESENTATION IN RIDGETOWN.

RIDGETOWN, June 14. — On Tuesday afternoon the ladies of the W. M. S. in connection with the Ridgetown Methodist Church presented their retiring president, Mrs. (Rev.) J. E. Holmes, upon her leaving town, her husband entering a new field of labor, with a beautiful valuable cut glass as a slight token of appreciation and friendship. The Mission Band also remembered Mrs. Holmes a few days before with the gift of a silver fruit spoon.

FITTING TRIBUTE TO SOLDIERS WHO FELL A YEAR AGO TODAY

Battle of Givenchy Subject of Addresses to Men.

ALL DEEPLY IMPRESSED

March Past Held in Honor of Canadian Heroes Who Died.

A year ago today the battle of Givenchy was fought. On that day the 1st Battalion went into action, reinforced after Ypres and Festubert, to over 1,000 men. Two days later the survivors were loaded onto three London buses behind the lines and taken back to reorganize.

900 Fell.

More than 900 men fell in an heroic effort to pierce the German lines at one of the most strongly fortified points. They failed, but they fell gloriously in their effort.

Capt. H. Hindson of the 111th Battalion paid a fitting tribute to the men of the gallant 1st at the memorial service held this morning on Carling Heights to perpetuate the memory of the heroes.

Impressive Service.

The service impressed the men of the 110th, 111th, 118th and 135th, drawn up in a square on the parade ground. Standing at attention, the men, who soon may take their places in the firing line, paid silent tribute to their comrades who had gone before.

No March Past.

At the conclusion of the service no march past was held. The men silently dispersed to their camps.

The memorial service at the east camp was conducted by Capt. W. E. Hindson of the 153rd Battalion. The massed bands of the 153rd and the 161st played. The 142nd was unable to attend, being on manoeuvres at Ballymote.

At the north camp services were conducted by Rev. Capt. R. S. W. Howard, chaplain of the 186th Battalion.

LONDON AD. CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS AT NOON MEETING

T. P. Elliott Unanimous Choice for President.

TORONTO MAN'S ADVICE

H. H. Rowe Outlines Policy That Should Be Followed by New Organization.

T. P. Elliott, advertising manager of Smallman & Ingram's, was today unanimously elected president of the London Advertising Club. There was a large attendance of the membership, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. F. H. Rowe, Toronto, was the speaker for the occasion.

J. J. Foote, who acted as chairman of the organization committee, presented the report of the nominating committee, and the officers selected were as follows:

President—T. P. Elliott.

First Vice-President—J. J. Foote, McClary's.

Second Vice-President—C. L. Gray of Mason & Risch.

Secretary-Treasurer—T. H. Yull of the Federal Advertising Bureau.

Executive Committee—H. B. Muir, Free Press; T. E. Walsh, The Advertiser; Chas. H. Abbott, London Motor Sales; J. L. Whitehead, Vallens Company; R. H. Dowler, Dowler Bros.; W. Ashplant, of H. Ashplant & Sons; Norman Keene, Ontario Furniture Company; E. V. Buchanan, of the utilities commission, and E. S. Crawford of Heintzman's.

President Elliott, in a brief inaugural address, thanked the members for electing him to the responsible position, and declared that the executive would do all in its power to make the club a success.

Offered City Committee Rooms.

Mayor Stevenson offered the club the use of the committee rooms at the city hall for its meetings. The offer was accepted, and the mayor thanked for his kindness.

Mr. Rowe gave an address on "Advertising and Advertising Clubs." The keynote of the club should be co-operation, he said. Without it, there could be no success. Every member should have respect for the club, and the club should be such as would merit the respect of every member. Its purposes must be outlined. Too many had been founded on sentiment, when the business of the organization should be properly outlined in advance. There should be a definite aim, and a definite purpose.

The Advertising Club was a "boost" organization, and should identify itself with every movement for the benefit of the city. It should be behind every good movement. It should strike hands with the Rotary and all other clubs working for the betterment of the city. It should confer and co-operate with the commissioner of industries, aiding him in every particular in his work. It should support enthusiastically the Red Cross and other patriotic movements.

How It Works In States.

Mr. Rowe spoke of the splendid work being done by the clubs in the United States. There a national organization had been perfected, with the result that when the preparedness campaign started, the naval board, the engineers, and other organizations turned instinctively to the clubs for support and help. The industries of the United States were being indexed, and the good will of the people was being mobilized.

In Canada there should be a national organization to which the Government, in the coming days when reconstruction would take place, would turn to assist in making the country prosperous in the days to come. The club should be taken seriously, and he warned them against making it an "Ad" club, instead of an advertising club.

He gave some advice on the question of getting members. The address was much appreciated.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

ANOTHER POOR MARKET, DEMAND BEING WEAK

Small Offerings, Too, on Local Square Today.

There was practically no market today other than a dozen loads of hay. Sales were fair and prices were firm. It is thought that the threatening appearance of the weather had much to do with the small size of the market.

Friday's market should be a large one. During the week the markets have been poor, grain being the sole offering and only a small amount of that. The local demand has not been brisk, and it is expected that by tomorrow the supply will need replenishing, which will make a brisk demand.

Vegetables have been brought in during the week, but the demand has not been good and sales were slow. On Saturday the vegetable market should be a good one, and there should be a good turnout of townspeople.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, June 14.—Today's market was big and broad, with Winnipeg holding well in view of the selling pressure. The net loss for the day was 1¼c to 1⅜c for wheat, oats advanced ½c to ¾c; flax was ⅛c to 1⅛c lower.

At the high of the morning Winnipeg July wheat was 7c and at the low 7⅝c over Chicago. It was stated that over 5,000,000 bushels in spreads of this class have been taken over in two days. Export demand for cash wheat was distinctly better, and sales were made c.i.f. Buffalo at 4¾c over July or ¾c better than Tuesday. This was somewhat offset by the 3½c rate to Buffalo. Export interest in futures was very small.

Our market was subjected to severe pressure, especially during the first half of the session, yet July refused to break more than one cent till late in the day. Outside buying orders gave a lot of support to the local wheat.

Export houses were on both sides of the market, and though late advices from Russell estimated the amount of export sales at seaboard at only 300,000 bushels, a lot more than that was bought for that purpose in the local market alone.

Oats were again very firm, in spite of the local wheat prices. This grain saw some good general buying, and was helped by a good cash demand. The strength was confined to the Winnipeg market and helped to support Chicago oats.

Flax dropped back in sympathy with the American markets.

Cash grain:

Wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.09⅞; No. 2 northern, $1.08⅞; No. 3 northern, $1.04¾; No. 4, 99⅜c; No. 5, 93⅛c; No. 6, 89⅜c; feed, 83⅞c.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 48⅛c; No. 3 Canadian western, 46⅝c; No. 1 feed, 45⅞c; extra No. 1 feed, 46⅝c; No. 2 feed, 43⅜c.

Barley—No. 3, 67c; No. 4, 62c; rejected, 58c; feed, 58c.

Flax—No. 1 N.W.C., $1.59¾; No. 2 Canadian western, $1.55¾.

Chicago, June 15.—Wheat prices fell today to the lowest yet for the 1916 crop. A notable decline in quotations from Liverpool was what started the downturn here. Bearish estimates on the world's available supply of breadstuffs seemed also to have an inuence.

Opening prices, which ranged from ¼@⅝c lower, with July at $1 02⅛@1 02½, and September at $1 04@1 04¼, were followed by a material further descent and then a moderate rally.

Liverpool, June 15.—Wheat—Spot was weak; No. 1 Manitoba, 10s 3½d; No. 2, 10s 2d; No. 3, 10s; No. 2 red western winter, 9s 9d.

Corn—Spot quiet; American mixed, new, 9s 5d.

NEW YORK COTTON

Market Closes Steady, at an Advance of From 8 to 10 Points Higher Than Bottom Prices.

[Reported by Thomson & McKinnon.]
New York, June 14.

The ending was steady at an advance of some 8 to 10 points higher than the lowest of the day. Some features in the Government report are not altogether favorable. The weather was not so good in the first week in June. Rains hindred cultivation in the northern part of Texas and there is considerably complaint of slowness of growth due especially to cool nights in nearly all sections. In many of the coast and southwestern counties of Texas, rain is badly needed. Exports increased to 35,880 bales vs. 4,407 a year ago, and the total thus far this season is now up to 5,214,857 bales. There is steady covering as hedges are removed and this with a persistent trade demand had a steadying effect today.

It is still only a trading market here.

WALL STREET.

New York, June 15—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Copper shares were again the conspicuous features at the outset of today's moderate operations, Inspiration rising half a point to within a fraction of its high record, with similar gains for Anaconda and Tennessee Coppers. Maxwell issues were fairly strong, but the general average of specialties was little changed from final quotations of the preceding session, except Beet Sugar, which yielded over 2 points. Among rails Canadian Pacific and "Soo" stood out for their strength, and United States Steel led the active industrials with a slight fractional gain.

Noon.—Uncertain tendencies developed before the end of the first hour, mainly in consequence of heavy selling of Anglo-French fives, which were liquidated to the extent of $1,000,000 down to 95¼, an overnight concession of ⅜. Selling of this issue was attributed to banking interests likely to become active participants in the new foreign loans soon to be offered in this market. Steel, Reading and other leaders were variable, with pronounced improvement in Mexicans. Dealings were on a contracted basis, however, and lacked initiative. Bonds were irregular.

Because oil has a disintegrating effect, not only on rubber, but on cotton and fabric as well, care should be taken to see that the wiring for electric lighting and engine starting system is well protected. If oil is permitted to remain on the wiring the insulation will in time be softened so that the slightest chafing will cause the bare copper to be exposed and a short circuit or a leakage of current follow.

When a motor is hot care should be taken not to pour cold water into the cooling system too rapidly. When the cold water strikes the overheated cylinders it is very apt to crack same, due to the rapid contraction which takes place.

A cause of fan breakage that is rather common is the running of the fan when considerably out of balonce, which results in setting up stresses that the sheet metal often will not withstand. If a fan does not turn true it should be made to do so by bending back into position the blade that has been bent or bringing the circumferential wire or band into shape if it has been distorted. Often a fast running fan, if much out of balance will set up a noticeable vibration, which is hard on the fan bearings as well as the fan itself.

Thrilling Tale of the Great War

LONDON, May 18.—The heroic exploits of Zionist refugees from Palestine enlisted with the British army in the Gallipoli campaign, were related to a representative of the New York Times today by Colonel Patterson, D. S.O., now on leave in London, who was commander of what was called the Zion Mule Corps. Colonel Patterson is well-known among the army men in the United States, having made several trips to America. He is a personal friend of Colonel Roosevelt, whose guest he has been more than once at Oyster Bay. His statement was made by special permission of the war office, which relaxed its rule that officers shall not be interviewed, because Colonel Patterson speaks not as an individual but as commander of a special corps.

As commander of the Zion Mule Corps, Colonel Patterson had under him a magnificent body of 500 officers and men whose work it was to bring up munitions from the rear to the men plunged in the thick of the combat on the war-ridden peninsula. The task of these 500 men was to keep up an endless stream of shells, which were conveyed on the backs of mules to the nearest point to the shelling; upon them rested, many times, the trend of battle.

Every one of the men in Colonel Patterson's command was of Russian-Jewish stock, men who fled from Palestine as Turkey entered the conflict, making their way to Egypt rather than cast their lot with Turkey. When the peninsula campaign began, only a vague idea existed among the British generals as to precisely what work might be done by these climate-hardened men.

"We didn't know," said Colonel Patterson, "whether they would be of greater use in fighting in the trenches or what. Temperamentally, they seemed adapted to the hardest sort of strain, and the test put upon them proved that this idea was right.

All Were Russian Subjects.

"All of the 500 men knew the characteristics of the Turks and understood how they fought. Many of them had a fairly intimate idea of the Gallipoli peninsula. They were all Russian subjects—Polish Jews, most of them—but, instead of preferring to enlist in the Russian army, they told us they wanted to join under the English colors. This, they explained, was because they felt they could be of more use in being assigned to fighting on the peninsula than in being joined with the Russian army and being assigned indiscriminately.

"We were glad to get them, naturally, for we wanted men seasoned to the climate for work that might be particularly useful to our own troops from Britain. It happened that I was placed in charge of organizing a mule corps, and in doing so I learned that the 500 Zionists were without exception trained horsemen. It seemed as if they ought to be the very men to take up the work of the mule corps.

"The 500 men were at Alexandria. It was on April 2 that I undertook the job of drilling them. When I saw the first lot of them I was shocked. They had been going about half-naked. We soon put them in khaki and, although it must have been deuced uncomfortable, they didn't let us know it.

"They started right in at training and worked so hard that on April 25, just over three weeks' time, they had turned out to be a wonderful lot of soldiers. The adaptability of these men was amazing. I've been in the army a long time, but I never saw anything like the way these Zionists picked up the art of soldiery.

Constantly Under Fire.

"On April 27, we landed our new corps of Zionists at V Beach. From the moment they arrived there until the day we departed, these men were under fire. We had 700 mules in our outfit. The Zion Mule Corps made itself felt from the start. My men worked day and night. They were never too tired to keep at it. Really, it was hard to get them to take any sleep.

"In the hottest of the engagements, these 500 men, led by six British officers with eight officers of their own blood, kept the supply of ammunition going to the front in an endless stream. If a mule happened to be shot from under one of them, he would leap off and drag the ammunition cases himself, always under shell fire.

"Deeds of heroism were so frequent that one recalls them only in a blur. There was nothing these men would stop at. I recall one night, when the Inniskillings were attacked by the Turks and were on the point of being driven from their trenches, men of the Zion Mule Corps, having just brought up ammunition, jumped into the trenches and for hours fought back the Turks until the crisis was passed.

"These marvelous fighters seemed happiest when in a blizzard of bullets. They seemed to have no thought of their own danger. Corporal Grouschousky was unloading his mule one night at a trench when the moon was shining so brightly that every movement he made could be seen distinctly. Suddenly the Turks opened fire on him. Grouschousky's mule was wounded and bolted, but not before the corporal had got the ammunition off. Instead of following the mule, Grouschousky, although shot in both arms, stuck to his job until he had dragged the ammunition into the trench, all this in a hail of bullets. His work done, he fainted and was himself dragged into the trench by British Tommies.

"That's the sort of soldier the Russian Jew turned out to be in that awful Gallipoli campaign. During the whole time of the engagement up to the day, last December, of the British withdrawal, the Zion Mule Corps, in the thick of battle all the time, suffered a loss of only 54 men killed and wounded. This was nothing short of an amazing record, considering the incessant peril under which they worked.

"The Zion Mule Corps no longer exists. Its survivors are now in Egypt still fighting for the British flag. I dare say they are every day adding to their daring exploits."

The Zion fighters, Colonel Patterson said, spoke Hebrew entirely at the start of the Gallipoli campaign, but many of them quickly mastered English, so that within a few months they could easily make themselves understood to the Tommies.

"That is just another evidence of their adaptability," said Colonel Patterson. "It reflects the wonderful utility of the Jew in the war, no matter in what capacity."

WHOOPING COUGH IN EMBRO.

EMBRO, June 14.—The primary room of our public school is closed on account of so many children having whooping cough.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McKenzie, North Embro, have received a letter from their son, Pte. Charles McKenzie, who is overseas. At the time of writing he was well.

The Women's Institute meeting, which was held Monday at the home of Mrs. Wm. Dawes on Commissioner street, was largely attended. The address, which was given by Mrs. W. H. Price of Toronto, was interesting and instructive.

Word was received Tuesday of the sudden death of Mrs. E. M. Douel of Glencoe. She was a former banker's wife, living here a year ago last winter and was highly thought of by her many friends in and around Embro.
