Stop the City's Knockers, Build Your City Hall Now

Small town politics are hurting London-forget them -show faith in your city—do today's job today vote "yes."

> Have you faith in London? Does London need a city hall?

Is London down-and-out? You must answer these questions on Monday when you mark your ballot on the city hall bylaw.

The city hall question has become a bigger issue than the city hall alone. As it now stands it means thumbs-up or thumbs-down on London itself.

It means thumbs-up or thumbs-down because of the regrettable character of the argument which is now being created in opposition to the city hall bylaw.

The argument comes from the London Free Press. The Free Press says: "We need a city hall, but London can't afford it-London is in very bad shape-London has no money, and no one now will lend us any-London is so poor that it can't even build a house for itself."

BAD NEWS TRAVELS FAST.

This argument is hurting London. Bad news travels fast. They are talking about it in Toronto and Hamilton and Ottawa. And they are waiting to see what London will say in reply on Monday. It is bad now. It will be infinitely worse if, by voting "no" on the city hall bylaw, the people of London confirm the blue-ruin talk of the last

The blue-ruin talk of the Free Press and its group of ward politicians must be killed, and killed now. Strip this pessimistic talk of its camouflage and insincerity and see the real motive behind it all.

The REAL MOTIVE.

The real motive is a petty dislike for Mayor Wenige. Until two weeks ago the Free Press hoped to secure the election of another man. No one appeared. And now the back-room schemers have come together and they say: "We'll not have Wenige's name on the cornerstone of the city hall. Let's knock it."

That is the whole story. It is petty spite. To knock Wenige, these people are willing to knock the city hall, to knock London's credit, to knock business, to knock labor, to knock anything.

SMALL TOWN POLITICS.

It is contemptible. It is small town politics. London has outgrown such little stuff, and these knockers must be London needs a city hall. Everyone knows it. Everyone says so-even the Free Press.

London has the money. Ask the city treasurer. He said yesterday that "the city of London was never considered in better shape financially than at the present time." Ask the bond dealers who place London's securities above those of Toronto. Ask the businessmen who have built London's trade. Ask the home-owners who have given London its reputation of prosperity. Ask anyone except the schemers and the knockers who do not care what happens so long as they can puff themselves as polit-

Then build it. Vote "yes." Get the job done.

CITY HALL, NOT CORNERSTONE.

George Wenige happens to be mayor at the time. All right. He might be better. He might be worse. In any case, he is ready to work for London, and has been elected to do it. Then let him. Wenige doesn't care a two-penny Comparison of Standing With Other Cities in Per Capita General Debt.

Refusing to be influenced or stameded by the warning from the Free Press that the city is "going to the ogs," and is even now on the verge of bankruptcy, the bond men of this rovince are still bidding for city of ondon debentures.

The representative of one of the leading bond houses in the country called upon City Treasurer James Bell this morning, inquiring what debentures were for sale, and when they would be placed on the market. "So you're not afraid of the 'blue-ruin' forecasts," the treasurer inquired.

"Why certainly not. I'll take your city of London debentures whenever you have them on the market."

What is London's actual position in the financial markets of the world? Has this municipality reached the stage when it becomes imperative the pull down the blinds and call in the auditors; Is the city of London but a step from bankruptcy proceedings as the London Free Press would have as the London Free Press would have the people believe?

Interesting figures, in reply, were available today from the city treasurer's department-in fact, a parative statement showing London's favorable position with other com-munities of the Dominion of Canada, with respect to its approximate genventures which are, of course, self-sustaining.

Other questions will also be asked and it is expected that a statement concerning the amount of purchases made by the commission in London and elsewhere may be presented. This would show that the amount of money spent in London was many times greater than expended on supplies made elsewhere.

MAYOR RELATES

1924 Tax Rate Will Be Lower Than 1922.

REFUSED TO

Addressing a packed meeting in the Hale street school house last night, Mayor Wenige disclosed some rather interesting information involving the "old gang"-his oppo nents.

"Just as soon as I was elected the word was passed out 'get the mayor" His Worship related, "and by representatives of these organizations, but I have always exercised the policy that all people should be treated alike. I did not join that organization.

"They couldn't get me in, so they said: 'We'll have to get this fellow,' and they started out early last Jan-uary to do it. But they haven't got me yet, and they won't until December, 1924 at the earliest; if they do then. "We see much dangerous propa-ganda—for instance, this talk about 'blue ruin.' You heard all these cries early in the year when I said that we would have to lower the tax rate. We did lower the tax rate and we would have lowered it fur ther only some of your aldermen preferred to spend money like drunken sailors. The Free Press came out with big head lines, saying it can't be done under 40 mills, and just recently they again predicted 40 mills for $1924.

"But I give you my solemn promise tonight that the tax rate will be lower in 1924 than it has been in 1923, even if you elect twelve alde men opposed to me. When I asked early in the year for a reorganization of the city engineer's department they said 'don't bother the poor engineer. He's a member of our so You can't fire him.' But we did reorganize his department, with the re-sult that the work has been accomplished more efficiently and economi-

"It was the same tale when I asked for a reorganization of the city hos-pital. We cleared up $40,000 this year. That institution needed a new broom. It required something new—and it had it. They said that we couldn't reorganize the Western Fair Board satisfactorily, but we did. They were wrong again, as usual, when they said we couldn't reopen the north-end fire hall without a great big expense.

"I also said in the beginning of the year: Let's build a new city hall.
The editor of the Free Press supported the project and wrote an editorial to that effect, but he doesn't know that he did that, because just the other day he wrote another editorial denouncing it. He has the right to his opinion, but he can't expect to mould public opinion by being inconsistent in such a bare-

Substitute teachers in the public schools of London have cost the city less this year than for a number of seasons, according to Chief Inspector V. K. Greer.

The appropriation set aside for this purpose at the beginning of the year was $6,500, but to date less than $4,000 has been used, and it is fully expected that the surplus will be at least $2,500. The reason for this has been the lack of illness among the teachers and the practice of principals of schools doubling up whenever possible, in order that the cost might kept low. bit whether his name goes on the city hall cornerstone or not. Neither does The Advertiser. London isn't voting on a cornerstone. London is voting on a city hall. Vote "yes" and get it built.

HOW "BLUE-RUIN" STARTED.

The blue-ruin talk is flimsy stuff after all. It all started a few days ago, when the schemers pulled the Free Press into the game.

Up to that time the Free Press thought London was a pretty prosperous place. Last year the Free Press wanted London to buy the street railway at an indefinite figure and to build a Nurses' Home at $150,000. Until a week ago they wanted London to build a city hall. The only thing they weren't quite sure about was the site. At least, they said so.

EIGHT DAYS AGO.

Here is their editorial utterance of Nov. 22-eight days ago: "There is no doubt of the need of a new municipal building. The present quarters are disgraceful. However, the Free Press believes it might be better to follow the report of the town-planning expert, Thomas Adams, who . . . . suggested rebuilding the present Spencer Block," etc. No doubt as to money then.

And the Free Press has even wanted London to build the Springbank dam at $150,000. On Nov. 7-three weeks ago, the Free Press said:

"There should be no question as to the value to London of reconstructing the Springbank dam." And again, a week ago: .

"There is little room for argument as to the value to the city of the Springbank dam."

NO CORNERSTONE ON THE DAM.

The Springbank dam at $150,000, but not a city hall at $600,000, of which $350,000 is already available! Why the distinction? There is no cornerstone on the Springbank dam!

Why has the London Free Press suddenly discovered in eight days that London is impoverished? What has happened to London's prosperity since last year? Since Nov. Since Nov. 22?

Nothing has happened. The blue-ruin talk is twaddle covering a spiteful motive.

BELIEVE IN LONDON. The Advertiser believes in London. London needs a city hall. The only way to get it is to build it. Four times in ten years the people have voted to build on the Federal Square. Vote "yes" and get the job done now.

You get it as though Fresh from the Roaster

Even the best coffee deteriorates rapidly when exposed to the air. Then if the cause of deterioration could be removed you would get coffee with the fine aroma with which it left the roaster.

This is exactly what we have done with Rideau Hall Coffee. We seal it under vacuum just as it leaves the roaster. No air is allowed to come in contact with it until you break the seal. Then the tight fitting double lid preserves the flavor until the last grain is used.

THRONGS ATTEND ON CLOSING NIGH ST. PATRICK'S FAIR

Three-Day Bazaar Held in St. Peter's Hall Was Grand

ANNOUNCE WINNERS

Although the elements were rather nruly on Thursday night and pedestrians were forced into accepting an honest-to-goodness ante-winter rainstorm, attendance records at St. Patrick's bazaar were turned upside down, and from early evening till midnight St. Peter's Parish Hall was thronged with an eager assemblage of bazaar fans, and when the crowds ally wended their way homewards it was for the sole reason that placally all the merchandise, dolls and her popular "sellers" had been dis-sed of either on the "wheels" or to posed of either on the wheels of the individual purchasers.

The three-day fair was put on by the Redemptorist Fathers and the part of St Paters. congregation members of St. Patick's parish, and the proceeds will to towards the funds for the new Redemptorist Fathers' Missionary now being erected on Dundas

The bazaar was one of the most successful affairs of its kind ever held in London, and the fact that all the city parishes lent their aid in the measure for the event being brought to such a rrosperous conclusion.

Rev. Fr. Joseph Sholly of St. Patrick's Church, one of the bazaar officials, wishes to thank in particular the many non-Catholic friends of the parish who gave such splendid donations or aided by their patron-

Says Canadians Fortunate. There is no denying the fact that throughout the world, conditions are most unsettled. In Europe there greatest unrest; hatreds are rife as between nations and classes, suspicions and jealousies are giving rise new fears; there appears to be neither certainty nor stability anywhere. The unsettled condition of Europe is reflected throughout the United Kingdom in a variety of ways. It has a paralyzing effect upon industry and business; it is responsible in no inconsiderable measure for the con scale; worst of all, it is creating a tension in international relations and change of feeling in international riendships which it is painful to witness and which is sadly disillusion-

Lands Premier On the Rocks

Canadian Press Despatch.

Halifax, Nov. 30.—The first work in which the premier of Canada was called upon to assist on his return to his native shores this morning was the refloating of the mail steamer Minoca known as the doctor's boat. Cap-tain Charles Pye, who in his anxiety to bring the premier safely ashore through one of the thickest blankets of fog ever enveloping Halifax harbor, piled up his charge on Point Pleasant Shoals to the south of the ocean terminals. The Minoca left the sides of the Montclaire shortly after 6 o'clock with 22 passengers aboard and began to feel her way to the King's Wharf where the premier was to land. At ten minutes to seven she grounded amid-ships on Point Pleasant Shoals and remained hard and fast unti five minutes after eight when with a rising tide and the judicious distribution of the avoirdupois of the passengers, she slid off the rock and gingerly made her way to her destination. The premier seemed to enjoy the experience.

frankly to the mayor that he was going to vote for the city hall bylaw, while the attitude of both Ald. Colbert and Ald. Hayden is well-known, as they both supported the project in the city council.

Then Mayor Wenige challenged

Edwin Smith concerning an alleged bill against the city for services rendered by him as secretary of the London Old Boys' Association. "Are you going to insist upon the payment of this," he asked.

Bicycle Races.

"Two bicycle races at Queen's Park during that week," Mr. Smith replied. "I respect the mayor, but I submit that he has the shoe on the wrong foot. I was only the flunkey doing the work as I was directed. I paid my own rent. I used my own car. It was smashed at the fair grounds and I paid for the repairs. I used my car in the parades, and so saved the city hundreds of dollars. I want to say that, while the council voted the Old Boys' Association as much as $3,000, I did not receive one cent. I don't ever expect to receive anything."
"My question hasn't been answered yet," persisted the mayor.

"The account you speak of has been filed," retorted Edwin Smith.

"It has not," retorted the mayor and, turning to Ald. Hayden, he asked his opinion. The latter indorsed the mayor's declaration. say that my services have not even been recognized by the members of the executive, who never even passed me a vote of thanks. I don't want

"Are you running just for spite?" he was asked by one of the audience. "No. I have nothing against the navor." he replied.

Dealing with his stewardship as a member of the school board for six years, Mr. Smith explained that he was chairman of the Juilding com mittee when the Knollwood Park school was constructed. The board was criticized at that time, he related, by those who predicted that but two of the rooms would be ever used. Now the school was over-

"If you were chairman of the committee when this school was built at a cost of $24,000, I can't say much for your judgment then," protested one of the audience.

"There has been a tremendous in crease in population since then," he explained. "You're getting off the subject. We want to know about the cost?" explained another party.

"Why it was ridiculous," insisted the ratepayer. "The city hall will cost a million dollars if you have anything to do with it."

tion. He stood for no political in-terference, but favored the con-struction of a new city hall on the McCormick site and the purchase of the street railway.

Leon Chellingsworth, aldermanic aspirant, charged the members of the present council with "side-stepping" the street railway issue, the biggest question confronting the people at this time, he said. There was but one way to get the company off the street, and that was to buy the road. He volced the opinion that whoever was responsible for the drafting of bylaw 916 had, to all intents and purposes, "sold the city."

Mell Cater, chairman of the industrial area commission and aldermanic candidate in Ward 3, spoke at the Pottersburg school. He reviewed the record of the commission, as well as the city council, was an elective body, and as such one could not dictate to the other. Referring to the signing of the checks, Mr. Pocock said that every one was signed by the city treasurer. Here Mr. Tallant interrupted and a lengthy argument relative to a the street railway.

Arthur Mould, J. M. Donanue and others added zest to this gathering with their frequent questions and impromptu addresses.

At the Knollwood School Trustee Smith refused absolutely to accede to a request from Mayor Wenige to tell the people his stand on the city Throwing to the winds the rumors that he had dropped from the race for the public utilities commission. Dennis J. Tallant, labor candidate, dashed into Pottersburg school, threw his club, how the control of the contr his club bag to one side and again entered the fight with his pay list argument of autocracy.

An interchange of questions, in which Messrss. Pocock, Watt and Tallant *participated, featured the speeches of the candidates for the commission. Phillip Pocock, seeking the progress made.

re-election outlined the progress made since 1910 and pointed out with pride to his records. He stated that the recent water survey conducted by an American engineer had been successful and in Pottersburg indications cessful and in Pottersburg indications of a considerable supply of water had been found. He repeated his stand on well water, day labor, hydro and public ownership, asking Mr. Watt what he had meant at a council meeting by sayin gthat there was too much public ownership. He also advocated public ownership of the street railway. He forecasted lower power rates as the Chippewa development increased.

Advises Waiting.

Advises Waiting. Ald. Watt, replying to Mr. Pocock's question relative to public ownership, did not state definitely that he favored it but in a lengthy explanation advised waiting, as far as the street railway was concerned, till results had been obtained in other cities. He stated that, according to a Boston paper, that the only public ownership scheme on the continent that paid its way was the local fish market. He said he had been told that it was an insult to the intelligence of the electors that anyone should con test with Vining and Pocock. He also stated that General Manager Buchanan continued to discredit his schemes for power at Springbank Again reserving to the street railway, Mr. Watt said that he was not always reported correctly in the papers. He had declared at a council meeting that the price asked for the utility was too high, and that he would not be a party to taking over the road until it was seen whether the city would benefit or not. He stated that it would mean losing rates and taxes. As cities experiencing public ownership of the street railway, he mentioned Detroit, Windsor, etc. He also said that it was of the commission, as when members remained in office too long, they became so autocratic as to refuse the wishes of the people—as represented by the mayor and council and the pay lists. This gave public owner-ship a black eye, as the commission was publicly owned and, therefore, everyone was entitled to know the inside workings of it.

He also stated that, as Sir Adam Beck was urging the necessity of stand-by plants, it was time to utilize the power possible at Spring-bank. The time was coming when white coal, or water power, would be universal.

D. J. Tallant said he was sorry that he had missed two meetings, but promised that if any statements had been made about him while he was away, he would answer them at to night's meetings.

"Perhaps while I have been out of the city on business," said Mr. Tallant, "my friend Mr. Buchanan has received some more wires with which to defeat me next Monday."

Again talling the new list sough.

Ald. Edmund Hayden's reception was equally substantial. He submitted an excellent review of the work of the board of works during the current term.

R. W. Chapple announced clearly platform. This was later denied by Ald. Frank McKay. He made mention of the fact that Buchanan signed of the fact that Buchanan signed of the fact that Buchanan signed the checks and every one in the city except the mayor and treasurer.

Points to Record. He stated he was for public owner-ship, and that he could not be a good labor man otherwise. He pointed Pocock had the last word. He declared that neither Mr. Buchanan nor Mr. Hunt signed any checks of the commission, merely the tion. Furthermore the council had not ordered or directed the commission to furnish the lists, but had asked for them. Some of the books containing the figures were still on hand. Referring to Mr. Watt and the street railway, he said that Mr. Watt had probably forgotten that public ownership of the street railway in Detroit was turning out very well, a million dollar surplus being on hand

'He expressed the opinion that the Western Fair should pay its own way and not ask the council for money. It has been felt by many that it was not right to place wreaths on the monument in Victoria Park erected to the soldiers of the South African War, when the tribute was actually being paid to those who died in the late war. And it is possible that within a very short time the members of the Campbell Becher Chapter, I. O. D. The matter came before the members of the Campbell Becher Chapter at their meeting held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Keenleyside. It was the outcome of a report of the Provincial Chapter meeting, held recently in Windsor.

Suggestions From Provincial.

At the Provincial Chapter meeting it was suggested that the I, O. D. As London has as yet, no cenotaph, the Campbell Becher Chapter mem bers took this suggestion in all seri-ousness and will probably bring it before the combined chapters of the city at an early meeting. It was the I. O. D. E. who were instrumental in getting the South African monument erected in Victoria Park many years ago.

Anger Which

Understanding

If Parents Would On's Try to See Things From Their Children's Viewpoint, Instead of Getting Angry and Clouding the Issue, a Working Agreement Between the Two Generations Might Be Reached. A young girl was telling me her tale of woe, which was all about a stern father who wouldn't let her make dates with some peachy boys she knew, and how was she going to endure life, to say nothing of having a good time and getting married, when she was kept shut up at home of an evening, while other girls were allowed to go to places, and so on and on, to an accompaniment of many tears and much despair. "And I can't talk it over with my father because when I try to tell him things, he gets so angry he just raves, and I have to shut up." After the little flapper had flapped away with her scanty skirts, and her bobbed hair, and her painted child's face, I thought that sometimes, truly, out of the mouths of babes and sucklings cometh wisdom For in one sentence, she had summed up the great tragedy of family life. "I can't talk things over with my father, because when I try to tell him just raves, and I have to There is the secret why parents cannot influence their children; why children do not confide in their parents; why husbands and wives are at loggerheads so often, and live in a kind of armed neutrality, each ready to fly at the other's throat. They never talk anything out calmly, quietly, and dispassionately. They never try to get at each other's motives, or to understand each other's point of view. The minute the subject upon which they disagree is broached, one or the other flies into such a violent passion that he or she becomes temporarily a mad man or woman, incapable of understanding anything, and the matter has to be dropped unsettled in the interests of decency and peace.

In this particular case to which I have referred, the father is a splendid man, perfectly devoted to his little daughter, and he is doing his best, according to his lights, to protect her. But his lights are the flickering yellow gas lights of his youth, instead of the flashing electric lights Because, when he was young, all girls wore petticoats and red flannel underwear, he is in a state of perpetual outrage over the wisps of chiffon that suffice for lingerie for the modern girl, and he tries to back his daughter into the sort of clothes her mother wore thirty-five or forty years ago.

Because, when he was young, the boys and girls sat at home by the fire, and popped corn, and ate apples, and sang songs, he is horrified at the way young people rush away from home to joy-ride, or dance in public places.

Moreover, he is under the hallucination that in his day the young nen were of a superior breed to the modern youth, and that when they visited a girl they sat up and discussed serious topics instead of skylark ng, and giggling, and talking foolishness, as they do now. That's father's position. Daughter would like to set forth her side of

She would like to tell him that she belongs to the year of grace 1923, instead of 1883. That this is practically a new world since the war, with new standards. That custom makes the right or wrong of many things, and that the things that it used to be scandalous for a girl to do, are perfectly proper now.

She would like to tell father that she is more worldly wise at

She wants to tell him that she must dance, and have good times, and Mrs. Wright arrived nome in London this week after a decidedly unique experience. ing her to a bleak, joyless, old maidenhood

If the girl could tell her father these things, and they could thresh them out together, they could arrive at some sort of a compromise, in which she could have her fun, while he stood like a guardian angel in the background. But they can't do it, because when they try to talk together he gets too angry to listen.

iations of Scotland, Mrs. Wright was amazed at the power of the liquor traffic in Scotland. The result is that father is miserable, and anxious all the time about "Money is pouring into Scotland by millions of pounds from the brew-ers," she said.

"Many of the speakers in behalf of the liquor traffic are highly paid. And I am sorry to say that there are some ministers of the gospel among them. None of the No-License Camthe girl, and the girl sneaks off and meets boys on the streets, and looks upon her father as a tyrant, and a killjoy

I know a wise woman, married to an irritable and quicktempered man, who never discusses any important family matter with her husband. Instead, she writes him a letter in which she sets forth her reasons why she thinks such and such a thing should be done, and mails it to him at his office.

success of the campaign may be taken from the fact that in three stragetic places, where three years ago the No-License Act carried it has been carried again, although I believe that the election was brought on to discourage the no-license cam-"If I attempted to tell him that I think John ought to be sent off to college, or Mary should be permitted to accept an invitation to visit a school friend in a distant city, he would go up in the air, and want to know if I think he is made of money. He would tell how he had to go to work before he was their age, and demand to know what the younger generation is coming to, and launch forth on a general tirade on the degeneracy of

"I couldn't get in a word about the advantages of education, and form ing good associations, or Mary needing a change, and I would finally have to shut up to end the scene. But when I write it all out he is bound to read my arguments, and he is perfectly reasonable about agreeing with me."

And how many men have their whole home life raised by never being able to speak freely and frankly to their wives! They can't over the rearing of their children, or the household budget, or any plans, because the wides go into hysterics, or rave like fishwomen in bursts of temper.

Discrediting London. One of the proud boasts of the ordinary citizen of London is that this is a "city of homes"; that more live here have shown sufficient faith their savings in dwellingplaces, thereby binding tnemselves to the city by a tangible tie. To in London it is discouraging and surprising to see the London Free Press broadcasting its belief that this city has about reached the limit of its borrowing power, that its credit is not good and that a policy of stringent and severe retrench-

When a private business man reaches the limit of his borrowing power, when the banks consider his security is not good for further necessary loans for the legitimate prosecution of his business, it is but a short step to assignment. Free Press and London. Residents of this city familiar with conditions here will attach no credence to the Free Press campaign. Petty political expediency and dislike of Mayor Wenige has caused that paper to descend to tactics altogether out of tune with its lengthy career or its fine traditions.

The man on the ground sees Lon don for himself and knows that any such campaign as that now being waged is without foundation

But the real danger and the real seriousness of the case is to be found in the effect the Free Press statements may have upon people not familiar with the facts. They know nothing of the underlying motives. they see only the ominous warnings on the surface. To them such articles as the Free Press has carried mean but one tning-that London's credit is so poor that it is time to halt in the prosecution of necessary public undertakings until confidence in the city's financial standing restored. London is seeking new industries; London is endeavoring to attract population and capital by showing that this is a good city in which to live or do business. The Free Press attitude must have an unsettling, damaging effect on this campaign, for no one wants to become actively associated with a prospective bankrupt.

Fortunately the facts are not as the Free Press states. London's credit in the financial markets never stood higher. The city is solvent, takings to which the citizens attach the seal of their approval. If they decide to vote in favor of the erection of the new city hall the work can be gone ahead with without the least financial disruption, London can get all the money required without hampering restrictions and with but an infinitesimal addition to the tax rate. The Free Press thunder has nothing behind it save an insane desire to wreak vengeance upon a chief magistrate whom that newspaper could not defeat and to satisfy the demands of a few disgruntled politicians and others who probably had ulterior motives. It aims to discredit London, to destroy faith in the future of the city, and to howl "blue ruin" unless its puerile dictates strike a responsive chord in the people to whom it appeals. And Advertising helps the sale of the all because some one of the Free finest stock of goods. Press mayoralty hopes will not replace George Wenige as mayor of this city for 1924. It will not do. INDIVIDUALISM AND SOCIALISM.

The conflict between individualism and socialism comes from inter preting them in a mutually exclusive sense. Whereas, truly, each implies the other.

A man alone is not a persona because there is no drama in which he has a part. On the other hand, the drama of human life has no vital meaning if is played by marionettes instead of real personae. The significance of our mortal existence depends upon the dramatis -that is to say, the individuals who act as members of society. "Whatever you are, be that," is a good motto.

For the man who is too timid or too lazy to be himself is worth very tle even as a "supe." But he is bound also to consider whether "being himself" is likely any good to anybody else.

It is a hard problem to work out in our own lives-this rec But what did you expect, friend?

Down the Line

If a boxing club is launched in London, it's apparent that a Young Mack-Joey Schwartz mix will not headline the first few cards. A year ago Young Mack was booed here. Now he's meeting Villa and has gone up so much in price that any local club could not hope to land the bout unless he arena were available

Schwartz has met Villa, and if Mack makes a good showing a bout between the two would be a real battle which would attract attention even Post mortem dope shows that London would be playing Dundas on Saturday, claims one London fan. If London had played that game Thanksgiving and beaten Petrolia, the Hard Oils would have replayed the game the ). R. F. U. gave them on their protest against the Sarnia crowds interfering with play, and would have beaten Sarnia at home. The sequence of "its ooks O.K., but there is a certain amount of doubt as to whether Hard Oils could have beaten Sarnia had they played again.

The arena drive has been further extended. Pre-Christmas worry over post-Christmas bills on the part of potential subscribers has a little to do with the results thus far. One man, however, has sold over half the required mount himself, so that leaves about $5,000 to be raised as an indication of enthusiasm on the part of the young hockey fans of the city.

Five thousand dollars opposed to the $100,000 undertaking the men who aunched the arena took on isn't placing a heavy load on the hundreds of young men about town whose demand for an arena was loudest when the ue and cry was on.

A Montreal headline says that "N. H. A. prexy will have referees to ourn." So far, everything but liquid fire has been used by Montreal hockey fans. This may be a hint.

When hockey magnates fall out, the players "fall in" soft.

There is a woman in Streator, Ill., who wants to become a professional rize-fighter. She is Mrs. Margaret Meyers and declares she is ready to neet any woman fighter in the world. Her press agent has sent out a pair f photographs of the woman. One shows her in the kitchen of her home, ressed in a bungalow apron of gingham and a lace cap. She is standing t the table stirring up some eggs in preparation for breakfast. It is a most attractive figure. She appears to be a wholesome, industrious and interest-ng housewife while engaged in these duties. The other picture shows her in fighting togs. An athletic undershirt, ighting trunks and a pair of boxing gloves make up her costume. She loesn't look like the same woman. There is nothing attractive about that sicture. She says she is tired of the drudgery of the home and prefers the rudgery of the prize-ring. The ring her husband pressed on her finger the irst day she was married is not sufficient and she has decided to heed the ure of that other ring, which is far less lovely

What a choice is this for a woman, to doff the garments of the housewife for those of a female pug and its unwomanly environment.

REGINAS SHOW UP

Will Have Big Edge on Queen's in Weight.

QUEEN'S STARS OUT

Canadian Press Despatch Toronto, Nov. 29. - The Regina rugby team, nineteen strong, accompanied by Manager Ritchie and Coach Eadie, which arrived here this morning in preparation for Satur-day's game against Queens at Varsity Stadium for the Canadian championship, worked out at Varsity Stadium this afternoon. Although they tried this afternoon. Although they tried nothing but limbering up exercises and signal practice, the westerners created a splendid impression. Fans pronounced them the best team the West has sent after the Grey Cup. Like the Edmonton Eskimos, the Regina team is composed of big players, although none of them approaches the 240 mark, as rumored.

Regina has eight behind-the-line players in the squad, and, judging from the way they went about their work, they are stronger in this de partment than was Edmonton. kicker. He has plenty of height as well as distance, and places his punts well.

If weight counts for anything on the line, they should have the edge on Queens, who are not as strong as at the start of the season. Every one of the seven wing men tips the scales at 160 pounds or over, while in the center of the line they are very heavy. Considerable interest is taken in MacEachern, as a good kicker must be behind the line to insure the Hugo Ross Cup holders of a good chance to carry the title back to the Saskatchewan capital. In addition to his punting, MacEachern showed reaf class as a field goal artist, and he was threatening the crossbar with regularity from the vicinity of the 50-yard mark. Coach Eadie, who is a former Toronto boy, kept the players on the jump for the hour they were out. Use New Cleats. Following the workout, the Regina

American Flyweight Champion Given Decision in Lukewarm Encounter.

Associated Press Despatch. Genaro of New York, American flyweight champion, was given the udges' decision over Carl Tremaine of Cleveland, a leading bantam-weight, after twelve rounds of mild boxing at Madison Square Garden tonight. Tremaine bent the scales at 116% pounds, outweighing his

New York, Nov. 29.-Gene Tunney's hands are now in good shape for his coming bout with Harry Greb in defence of his light-heavyweight championship title. But his good humor is marred by the fact that even if he succeeds in definding his crown against Greb he will have no chance at the world title, unless he goes to Europe and chases Mike Mc-

Mike's grudge with his manager, Joe Jacobs, is costing Mike a lot of money, but he seems to enjoy his grouch so much that the money he could earn by fighting means nothing to him. Was ever there a fighter so temperamental? Tex Rickard is crazy to put him on in two or three paying bouts at the Garden, but with Mike there is nothing doing so long as there is any change of Jacobs horning in on the purse. And unless Jacobs does get his, the boxing commissioners hold that McTigue may not battle.

McTigue will almost surely beat Beckett in Dublin on St. Patrick's Day, and will then tour Europe, sporting his new title as champion neavyweight of England and the continent. There will be money for him in such a tour, but nothing like the sum he could make here. Harry Grebb is ignoring Johnny

THE PITCHER BREAKS LOOSE.

We have been able to unearth an old-fashioned picture showing a boy delivering a ball in the underhand, bowling manner-"pitched, and not thrown," as the first rules designated. It took the pitcher a long time to free himself from such restriction; but the freedom came from a liberal interpretation of the rule, through certain discoveries of little tricks that might be practiced—the outward, obedience to the underhand throw but a little twist to the wrist, which the umpire might not see. James Creighton of the Brooklyn Excelsiors was a great pitcher in his day; it was he, during the late '50's, who discovered the use that could be made of a quick turn to the wrist. This, together with Arthur Crist. with Arthur Cummings' experiments with the curve, set the modern pitching on a fair road to development But there was still a long way to travel before the pitcher was allowed be free in arm and free in step in side his box. Not until 1884 were all restrictions on delivery removed. There are still strict rules regulating the pitcher in the box, especially rules relating to balking, but he is practically not physically restricted.

New York, Nov. 29.—Manush of the Detroit Tigers and Summa of the Cleveland Indians were the best batsmen to break into the American League in 1923.

One of these days Manush may be one of the big stars of the league. His unofficial batting average for the season is 335, and that will be mighty close to the correct figures. Summa was not far behind him with mark of .328.

The Detroits were practicing in Augusta one morning last spring while the writer was visiting the Tigers' training camp. "Wait before you go back to town," said Ty Cobb. St. Thomas, Nov. 29.-Important resolutions dealing with conservation of the Great Lakes waters, revision of the Ontario business tax, financial aid for medical research and Chicago's drainage canal were passed to-day at the sixth anual meeting of the Western Ontario United Boards of Trade, which opened here this af-ternoon in the Grand Central Hotel. J. Clark Keith, chief engineer of the Essex Border Utilities Commission of Windsor, addressing the members on town planning, stressed the value both moral and physical of the modern trend in the direction of town planning. Mr. Keith said: "In Europe today acute conditions have forced the adoption of some form of town planning within the next few years. In Glasgow, for instance, 60 per cent of all the Winnipeg coal comes from Alberta. "From the point of view of Ontario, the substitution of Alberta for American coal would solve your own unemployment question for your coal money would all move back to Ontario in the long run."

Dr. McKibben dean of the medical faculty of the University of Western ontario, followed Mr. Keith and adsecribed the transient trader as a

Dr. McKibben pointed out that Canadian universities are not in a position to maintain men who can give their whole time to the pursuit of investigation, as the faculties are compelled to do a certain amount of teaching work in order to live and therefore have no time or energy to therefore have no time or energy to do the best kind of research work. He said: "For this reason a resolution of this kind, sponsored by the united boards is very cheering to those of us who are interested in the work." The resolution was passed unanimously following his address.

Gordon Phillip, on behalf of the London Chamber of Commerce, then introduced a resolution urging that the Dominion and Provincial governments be asked to arrange a national ments be asked to arrange a national tax conference, to include representatives from every province and from the larger municipalities, with a view to arriving at a more equitable system of taxation than the one at present in force. President Mathews remarked that President Mathews remarked that in the case of certain very large incomes the income tax confiscated 75 per cent of the whole income, and the municipality still demanded a tax on the portion taken by the Federal government. This he thought most unfair and worthy of action on the part of the united boards.

The need for revision of the present system was generally recognized by Alberta Coal.

Howard Stutchbury, trade commissioner of the province of Alberta, speaking on behalf of a resolution brought in by the Brantford Chamber of Commerce in favor of the use of Alberta coal by the people of Ontario, which was passed with no hesitancy by the united boards, said:

Then as the west-ern mines are only operated for five months in the year the miner must have a very high wage to enable him to live, and that makes coal high in price. Thirdly, while we are only getting seven million tons of coal for ourselves, we have a possible absorption in the province of fourteen million tons. "If the anthracite from the States coming into Ontario every year was replaced by Alberta coal we could remedy the unemployment of the Western miner and the short period

Mr. Stutchbury added that in Winnipeg the American coal had been re-

In the border cities we find that the owners of land can defeat the act too easily by sell-passed without discussion.

Association, in resolution said that as a wholesale grocer doing business in Ontario and Manitoba he could appreciate the unfair method of assessment now in with other provinces.

Bring in Resolution.

The London chamber then brought act, and stated that the association would go back to the provincial government in Toronto next year in an enument in Toronto next year in an endeavor to have these clauses to which they objected omitted from the act. A questionnaire arranged by the town planning association will be distributed to the various united boards of Western Ontario for their consideration.

the court the unfair treatment to which Quelch and Deloney had been most outrageous abusive manner."

McHugh, the attorney said, heaped language was so viie, Clark said, that Inspector of Detectives Reid of the Windsor force, made McHugh apolog-ize and then ordered him to leave the station.

Magistrate Gundy said he regretted that such an incident had occurred, and pointed out that no unfair or "third degree" methods would be tolerated in Windsor. He compliment-

TOWARDS RAILWAY GRANT

This is certainly a year of pleasant inancial surprises for the city of London.

A check reached City Treasurer Bell this morning for nearly $1,500, from government authorities, a portion of the "railway taxation grant" due the city from 1922. This money was evidently entirely expected.

Mayor Wenige says it should be thrown "into the pot for unemployment and relief purposes"

All aspirants for public ogice are expected to "jazz" up tonight's mass meetings, marking the wind-up of the municipal campaign. The fight continues in wards one and four, with meetings in the Riverview and Lorne

At the latter institution, Mayor Wenige will again challenge Edwin Smith, aldermanic candidate, ques-ioning him as t his attitude with regard to the proposal to build a new city hall on the McCormick site. Conronted with this query last night

Mr. Smith remained noncommittal, claiming in effect that it was none of he mayor's business or anyone's venue public schools

Ir. Smith remained

FORTY-NINTH ANNUAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS

The Annual General Meeting of the Imperial Bank of Canada was held at the Head Office in Toronto on Wednesday, 28th of November, 1923.

The Directors' Report and Statement of Affairs of the Bank for the year ending 31st of October, 1923, were presented as follows:

It has not been considered advisable, owing to the generally disturbed condition of business, to open any new branches during the year, but a number of new points where prospects seem attractive are now under consideration. The following branches and subbranches which had proved unprofitable have been closed;—Glen Morris, Hilton Beach, Smooth Rock Falls, Tottenham and Waldemar, all in the Province of Ontario; Hardin; Manitcha: Fram Lake and Kryder Sasketchewen: December Greencourt Levence Province Manitoba; Foam Lake and Krydor, Saskatchewan; Dorenlee, Greencourt, Lousana, Peace River, Spirit River and Whitecourt in the Province of Alberta.

Your Directors regret that on account of the state of his health, Dr. Merritt is at present unable to attend to the active duties attaching to the Vice-Presidency. The Board has therefore deemed it advisable to appoint an additional Vice-President, and Sir James Woods has kindly consented to serve in that capacity.

During the year the decennial revision of the Bank Act was undertaken by Parliament and a number of important changes designed primarily to protect alike the interests of Shareholders and Depositors have been made in the Act.

All banches and the various Departments of the Head Office have been carefully inspected in accordance with the Bank's invariable custom. The Auditors appointed by you at the last meeting have also made their examinations as required by the Bank Act and their report and certificate is attached to the Balance Sheet. Owing to changes in the Act necessitating the appointment of members of separate firms and prohibiting the appointment of an Auditor who may undertake any other work on behalf of the Bank, Messrs. Clarkson and Dilworth have intimated their intention not to seek re-election. It therefore becomes necessary for you to appoint others.

The Directors have again pleasure in bearing testimony to the care and zeal with the various officers of the Bank have discharged their respective duties during the

A Sale of Bathrobes.

Today I saw individual pieces of furniture which will add to the beauty, comfort and distinction of any home. They are gifts of thoughtfulness and permanence over which every home-maker will rejoice.

A Martha Washington sewing table is such a delightful blend of beauty and convenience that it is sure to please any woman In solid walnut with swinging oval compartments which hold her work and spools, it has three small drawers, and is priced at twenty-seven dollars and fifty cents. Or there are smaller tables, with convenient little handles, for less than twenty dollars.

If the man of the house bows at the shrine "the great god Nicotine" he will like a smoke or mahogany. In addition to the little pedestal I saw a variety of smoker cabinets, equipped with match boxes, ash trays and a cigar cutter. In solid walnut or mahogany these/cabinets are priced as low as fourteen dollars, or you can get more elaborate (and expensive) ones with humidors and cellarets. Gift possibilities by the score will suggest themselves
