PIERCE FIGHTING IN SAN DOMINGO

Several Shells Exploded in the Capital On Monday.

ONLY NON-COMBATANTS HURT

But an Insurgent Shell Passed Within Three Feet of the United States Consul.

New York, Nov. 11.—Santo Domingo cablegrams dated Nov. 9 in the Sun give some details of the fighting about the city. The insurgents were continuing their attack as the dispatch was filed, and the firing was heavy. The attack began Friday. The dispatch continues:

During all of Sunday night the insurgents attacked the city with small arms and delivered a rather heavy shell fire. The Government, however, succeeded in repelling the rebels, though with considerable loss. The losses of the revolutionists were slight. Some foreign non-combatants were killed.

During an attack on Sunday afternoon an insurgent shell passed within three feet of Mr. Powell, the American minister at the legation.

A sortie was made by 140 Government troops but they were ambushed and compelled to retire within the walls leaving their dead and wounded on the field.

Early on Sunday night there was another heavy attack but the rebels were again repulsed. The losses are unknown.

Several shells exploded in the city on Monday.

The German cruiser Gazelle arrived today and is landing marines. The German cruiser Panther arrived here Sunday. No other foreign war vessels are here. The Dominican cruiser, Presidente, has arrived here, leaving this so-called blockaded ports open to navigation.

The anti-American feeling is intense.

RECIPROCITY WITH U. S.

Mr. John Charlton Talks to Chicagoans
About It.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 11.—A strong plea for the adoption of reciprocal free trade in natural products between the United States and Canada was made by Mr. John Charlton, member of the Canadian Parliament for North Norfolk, Ont., who was speaking at a banquet given by the Illinois Manufacturers' Association. Mr. Charlton declared that the present state of trade relations between the two countries was absurd, and that the continuance of present Canadian tariff conditions constituted a serious barrier to the important tariff concessions on the part of the United States.

WOMEN PICKET SALOONS

Adopt Drastic Method to Enforce Sunday
Law at Carlyle, Ill.

Carlyle, Ill., Nov. 11.—Sunday members of the W. C. T. U. of McKeesport did picket duty in the vicinity of the two saloons there and saw that no drinks were sold. Two would stand guard for an hour, when two more would take their place. The saloons were closely guarded from 7 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night. The women also kept watch over a gambling house. Not a drink was sold nor a game of poker played in the village. The women played in the village. The village house refused to order the saloons closed on Sunday, and they say the guard duty will be kept up unless the law is enforced. It is also alleged that the trustees will be prosecuted for failing to do their duty.

TERRIBLE STRAITS OF CLIPPER CREW

The Twenty-Five Men Driven to the Rigging.

TO ESCAPE THE HUGE SEAS

Captain Thrown Off the Poop Deck and Seriously Hurt in Gulf Storm.

Halifax, Nov. 10.—The new clipper ship Alacritia, of Christiania, Norway, Capt. Gerstein, was towed into Sydney this morning in a disabled condition, having encountered the storm that swept over this coast last Friday night, as she was proceeding out of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, bound from Quebec with a cargo of spool wood for Glasgow. She came near turning over on her beam ends. A terrific sea was running and her starboard rail was 12 feet under water, her crew of 25 men being compelled to stand in the rigging, where they suffered much from exposure. The steamer Tancred, which responded to signals of distress Saturday night, attempted to render assistance, but was unable to do so, and all day Sunday and Sunday night the ship drifted helplessly, laboring hard in the heavy sea that was running.

Yesterday morning she came off the Cape Breton coast, but was unable to make port, and continued to drift until near St. John's Island, where she was picked up last night by the Dominion Coal Company's steamer Cape Breton and towed into port. On Saturday night while the gale was at its height, Capt. Gerstein, who was standing on the poop deck, was thrown off, sustaining injuries which necessitated his being removed to the hospital today.

The Alacritia is a fine full-rigged ship, launched on the Clyde in June last, and this was her first voyage, her present cargo being the first she has had.

KILLED WAVING ADIEU

Man Was Signaling With Handkerchief
as Train Struck Him.

New York, Nov. 11.—John Ludark, 25 years old, of Secaucus, N. J., was killed last night by an Erie train near his home while waving adieu to his wife and child. He was on his way to work and was crossing the Erie track. His little child called to him and he stopped to pull a handkerchief from his pocket to wave at the child and his wife, when he was struck and instantly killed in their sight. The wife fainted.

SHARPERS REAP HARVEST

They Clean Out Passengers On an Ocean Liner.

New York, Nov. 11.—In a three days' session of 25 cents limit poker on the liner Deutschland, which arrived today, two young men known only as "Carlton and Gordon" gathered in all the money until an observant passenger who has lost all he cared to lose and had withdrawn from the play, claimed he saw Gordon palm a card, and told the other players. The game was stopped at once, and a fight was narrowly averted.

Former Congressman John M. Wiley, of Buffalo, who was one of the players and had just given Gordon a check for $100, announced that payment would be stopped and arrests made on reaching port.

As soon as the ship touched the pier today Gordon and Carlton hustled ashore and disappeared.

TWO VICTIMS OF DEER HUNTING

Two Parry Sound Men Shot
While at Work Near Woods—
One Is Dead.

Parry Sound, Ont., Nov. 10.—A double and fatal shooting accident occurred this morning near Edgington, 15 miles from here.

Three men, James McComb, Dan Quinlan and another, whilst engaged working on a camp road, were fired on by Thomas Stanley, who was out deer hunting. The first shot struck McComb in the chest. He threw up his spade, at the same time exclaiming, "Oh, my God, I'm shot."

A second shot quickly followed, hitting Quinlan in the thigh. Stanley then appeared from the woods, and the awful spectacle of his performance was presented to his eyes. McComb died in five minutes.

Stanley is the son of a settler, who lives in the township of Christie, and has been brought up in the bush. James McComb, who was killed, was a well-known resident of this district. He was married and had a large family. Quinlan has been taken to the hospital here. It is thought he will recover. The third man, whose name is not ascertained, owes his escape to the fact that he fell flat on the ground before the second shot was fired.

Stanley was only about 100 yards from the men when he fired, and it seems almost incredible that he should have mistaken the men for a deer. Stanley said that he fell flat on the ground before the second shot was fired. An inquest will be held.

SPECIAL THEATER CHAIR

One Is Being Made For a 350-Pound
Patron.

New York, Nov. 11.—Martin Daab, a member of the Hoboken board of police commissioners, likes to go to the theater, but has not been able to gratify his taste for the reason that the seats are too small to accommodate his person. Proprietor Henry P. Soulier, of the Lyric Theater, has had an orchestra chair made to order for Daab which is 26 inches wide and warranted to sustain the commissioner's weight. The chair will be placed in place tomorrow and will be known as "C. 2."

"SOO" PULP MILLS OPEN

And a Big Force of Men Is Being Employed.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 11.—After considerable delay in making arrangements the pulp mill of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company in the Canadian Soo, starts this morning with a big force of men.

It is expected it will run continually from now on. People here believe that the plan of reorganization will go through, as private advisers received here are to the effect that most of the needed money is already pledged or in sight.

THE LABOR CONVENTION

The Federation Seeks a More Determined Policy.

Boston, Nov. 11.—The session of the convention of the American Federation of Labor was resumed today at Faneuil Hall, with almost all the delegates in attendance. Many protests against the plan of reorganization will go through, as private advisers received here are to the effect that most of the needed money is already pledged or in sight.

The New Military Camp.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—Lord Dundonald, with a party, has arrived from Kaniabawa, where he has spent the last six days examining the country with a view to the proposed new military camp. Lord Dundonald is of opinion that he has found the most perfect site obtainable, and that the country is ideal for all military purposes.

THIS IS ROUGH ON OUR GIRLS

Are Hard-Featured, Sallow and Muddy-Complexioned.

ACCORDING TO ENGLISH LADY

A London Shop Girl Would Look
Perfectly Elegant Beside Canadian Belles.

London, Nov. 11.—An English woman in Canada writes to the Leader in a caustic strain upon the taste and appearance of Canadian women. She says that no English girl who lets her hair loose to Canada to make a home for her need fear that she will fall a victim to the charms of Canadian girls. At Ottawa, Toronto, and Montreal, the typical face is hard-featured and sallow, and frequently muddy-complexioned, no doubt the result of overheated rooms, pastry and candy. One can seldom see the pink and white skin of the English girl. The Canadian girls have long, thick hair, dressed in the "Gibson Girl" fashion, but have no idea of softening their hard features by a less hard style of dress. A London shop girl would look perfectly elegant beside a Toronto or Montreal girl. In Toronto when a woman is over 20 she wears her hair dragged up behind and tight in front by a handkerchief, which she wears only to serve to intensify her plainness. Royal blue or pure white, the two fall colors usually worn, least credit with the Canadian girl's complexion.

WIFEY CAME BACK AFTER 27 YEARS

She Has Come to Stay, Although the Husband Has Remarried.

Pigeon Mich., Nov. 11.—Some 20 years ago Simon Wilfong, a now-come here from Canada, married a handsome young woman living near Bay Fort. The young couple settled down on a little farm near here, and for three years everything ran smoothly. Then one morning the wife was missing, and nothing could be learned as to her whereabouts.

For seven years Simon tilted his little farm and never heard of his runaway wife. Then he made up his mind that she was dead, and he married again. This was twenty years ago, and in time his first wife came back. The young couple settled down on a little farm near here, and for three years everything ran smoothly. MISTAKEN FOR A DEER

Man Instantly Killed in the Woods
Near Marquette.

Marquette, Mich., Nov. 11.—The first hunting accident of the season in this section occurred yesterday afternoon eight miles from this city.

The victim was Dave Pickett, a carpenter, who was mistaken for a deer by Frederick Murray, one of the most prominent young men of this town, and was shot and almost instantly killed. Pickett was not carrying a gun, and was in a case of this kind is made mandatory by the new law passed by the last legislature, and a penalty of imprisonment for not exceeding ten years, or a fine of over $1,000, provided.

HE DOESN'T APPRECIATE

The Liverpool Post On the Boundary
Surrender.

London, Nov. 11.—The Liverpool Post says that Premier Balfour scarcely appreciates the keenness of disappointment and dissatisfaction produced in Canada by the terms of the award. Mr. Balfour's remarks that two islands lost of no strategic importance are nothing in comparison with the final removal of a dispute between two great countries will be seized upon by Canadians as an example of the easy, almost flippant way, in which the mother country surrenders colonial territory in the hope of securing the good-will of the United States. If the demand for more treaty-making power is seriously expressed it will be the most monstrous and difficult colonial constitutional problem with which the British Government has been confronted since self-government was conferred upon Canada.

The Kaiser's Polytopus.

Berlin, Nov. 11.—If Emperor Wilhelm will give him permission to do so, Prof. Orth will lecture before the Medical Society on Wednesday, on the operation performed Saturday for the removal of a polytopus from the Emperor's throat.

Killed Three Elk.

Malone, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Three elk from the herd recently liberated in the Adirondacks as a gift to the state by William C. Whitney, were struck and killed by a light engine near Floodwood on the Mohawk and Malone Railroad. There were seven standing together on the track. One of those killed weighed more than 600 pounds. Hunters near Floodwood last week were driven from the highway by this herd, which persisted in keeping on the plank road through the woods, one bull moose in the bunch being exceedingly ugly.

ITALY'S CABINET TROUBLES

Suicide of Rosano Has Complicated Situation.

Rome, Nov. 11.—The suicide of Finance Minister Rosano has so changed the political situation in Parliament, that Premier Giolitti has requested an audience of King Victor Emmanuel. The request has been granted, and the Premier will leave tomorrow for the royal hunting lodge at San Rossore, where the King is now staying. It is said that Premier Giolitti will tender his resignation.

HAS LAMSDORFF RESIGNED?

He Is Dissatisfied With Czar's Far
East Policy.

London, Nov. 11.—The Standard's Berlin correspondent says it is rumored that Count Lamsdorff, Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, has resigned. The rumor is based on the basis of the Czar's policy in the far east.

NO ENGINEERS' STRIKE

A Basis of Settlement Arranged With
C. P. R.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—A semi-official statement from the C. P. R. is to the effect that a settlement will be made with their engineers. The men's demands will not be met in full, but a basis of settlement is practically arranged and all danger of a strike is over. A settlement is expected on Thursday.

SMALLPOX AT MONTREAL

Ten New Cases Appear at the Metropolis.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—The Mercer smallpox hospital, which has been closed for three months, has had to be reopened, owing to the discovery of ten cases of the disease in the city. The discovery of that number of cases was a matter of no little surprise to the health officials, owing to the manner in which the disease has been fought and apparently stamped out. Some of the cases came from outside the city.

THAT AMERICAN INVASION

Gilbert Parker Says Canada Is Not a Panama.

London, Nov. 11.—Sir Gilbert Parker, speaking at Gravesend last night, said: Lord Rosebery says the news he gets shows that Canada is more interested in the question of Alaska than in preferential tariffs. What a catch-penny statement! The Alaskan boundary question is a matter of no great importance to the Canadian people. It is the preferential tariff is Canada's permanent desire. Lord Rosebery fears that American immigration into Canada would destroy loyalty to the British flag. He forgets the history of the French-Canadians; he does not know that 75 per cent of the American immigration into Canada is either Canadian repatriating themselves or Scandinavians and Germans, not native-born Americans. He forgets that a settler beginning his life with a country is jealous of its autonomy. Does he think that Canada is Panama? We are told that free trade is the policy of the open house, and a welcome to strangers, and be banded to your poor relations.

FUGITIVE ARISTOCRAT

Son of a Noble English Family an Outcast in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—The Rev. Frank W. Gunsalus, in his sermon Sunday morning, outlined a tragedy in which the son of a noble English family was the actor. He told of a visit to the family estates of the Englishman and of meeting the son, then wealthy and socially prominent. Then he told how that son, a fugitive, so disreputably clad that he feared to be seen, came to him for aid a few weeks ago. The minister said a crime had been committed, and the son wanted to take a train out of Chicago. He started for the train, depending upon an illuminated clock in a tower, but on this night the light had gone out. The train was gone when the fugitive arrived at the station.

TROUBLE BREWING AT BIRMINGHAM

Lord Cecil and Churchill Will Speak Against Chamberlain.

EXTRAORDINARY PRECAUTIONS

Taken by the Police—Strong Barcades Erected Around the Town Hall.

Birmingham, England, Nov. 11.—Political feeling is running so high here over the meeting tonight, at which Lord Hugh Cecil and Winston Churchill will oppose Joseph Chamberlain's fiscal proposals, that extraordinary police precautions have been necessitated. Strong barricades are being erected around the town hall, where it is anticipated an outbreak may occur, similar to the riotous proceedings which marked the pro-Boer meeting, at which David Lloyd-George, M. P., denounced Mr. Chamberlain as the South African war. Sandwichmen are parading the streets with placards, reading: "Shall the Radicals be allowed to oppose our Joe?"

Thousands of people have gathered outside the town hall.

CARRIE NATION ON THE STAGE

The Saloon-Smasher Makes Her
Debut as an Actress
Crusader.

New York, Nov. 11.—The new, brilliant, and strenuous comedy entitled "Ten Nights in a Barroom" was produced at the Lyceum Theater in Elizabeth, N. J., Monday, with Carrie Nation as its heroine.

Everybody knows that Carrie Nation is a "Ten Nights in a Barroom" woman. She said that it was every bit as good a theatrical play, which, in her discourse, she described as "ten barrooms in a night," a drama as yet unknown to fame, but full of promise.

Mrs. Nation's part in the reorganized play was that of the mother of the murdered man, Willie Hammond. For two long acts Willie lay on a seedy sofa and sobbed his young life out. And there was a bar in sight all the time.

The most horrible features of the melodrama were the pictures thrown on the curtain by the stereopticon between the acts.

A real good young man, whose hair gave bright promise of his future, and a young woman in grass green skirt and apron, who was a perfect performance and informed her that while she was lashing herself into dramatic frenzy behind the scenes, photographs of whiskey bottles and beer bottles had been thrown upon the curtain as advertisements of all corrupting rum.

Carrie lifted her hatchet—with which she had smashed all the scenery in the third act—high in the air, and solemnly swore that she would destroy the rum trade the first time any such insidious image was portrayed on it hereafter.

HOTTENTOT REBELLION

Natives Not Contesting Advance of German Troops.

Berlin, Nov. 11.—The governor of German Southwest Africa cables that 250 mounted troops, with four guns, have arrived in the vicinity of Warmbad, but the governor does not mention any fighting with the rebellious natives, who, seemingly, are not contesting the advance of the troops. It is believed that in consequence of German representations the British and Portuguese police in the adjacent territories still endeavor to prevent further supplies of arms and ammunition being sent across the border by traders.

Fell on a Saw.

Lindsay, Ont., Nov. 11.—While at work this morning in Kennedy & Davis' mill, Amy Laberto, a Frenchman, aged 45, and married, accidentally fell on a large circular saw and was cut so badly that he died instantly.

A Congo State Rebellion.

Brussels, Nov. 11.—A revolt has broken out in the Lomani district of the Congo State, owing to the affliction spread by the fetish worshippers, who pretend to render the natives bulletproof by their incantations. The authorities are taking steps to restore order.

JUDGES SUPERANNUATED

Caron, Richardson and Walkem To Be Laid Off.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—The cabinet held a sitting of one hour and a half today, when the superannuation of Judge Caron, of Quebec, Mr. Justice Richardson, of the Northwest Territories, and Mr. Justice Walkem, of British Columbia, was resolved upon. It is said that Mr. Justice Langille will be transferred from Montreal to Quebec to fill the vacancy caused by Judge Caron's retirement.

NEW MOUNTED INFANTRY

Efforts Being Made to Start Corps at Amherstburg.

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 11.—A movement is on foot among the young men and many of the prominent citizens of Amherstburg to afford the male population of the town a source of profitable enjoyment and training, as well as a service to the Dominion, in establishing a corps of mounted infantry. The Government will be asked for aid in the form of a grant, as well as permission to incorporate the troop, and since there is no excellent barracks ground right in the town, it is hoped the new company will be formed before next summer.

It was the intention to establish a battery and artillery squad near the site of old Fort Malden, but the project fell through, as the military department deemed it practically useless, owing to the scarcity of similar battalions throughout the western portion of the province.

WEALTHY WOMAN HERMIT DIES

She Was Worth $300,000 and Had Lived Alone for Twenty-Five Years.

New York, Nov. 11.—Lying dead upon a rude couch in the kitchen of her home at 233 Second avenue, where she had lived the life of a recluse for 25 years, Mrs. Mary J. Oliver, a widow, 86 years old, and reputed to have been worth $300,000, was found by the police Monday night.

Struck down by apoplexy, James Albee, 65 years of age, who had been Mrs. Oliver's only friend, was found lying critically ill in the hall of his home, next door to Mrs. Oliver's, by his daughter. Believing at first that a murder had been committed, a crowd of a thousand persons gathered in front of the houses.

Mrs. Oliver had lived in the kitchen of her home. Her only visitor for the first ten years she had lived alone was her daughter, but for the last fifteen years the daughter had not called on her mother.

During all these years, Mrs. Oliver had not been known to leave her home, and no one had been allowed to enter it. Besides the house she lived in she owned that next door and four flats in the rear of these houses, which front on One Hundred and Eighteenth street. She also owned a house in One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, and a house in One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. It is also said that three or four other houses in Harlem belonged to her.

Mrs. Oliver's agent, but he never was allowed to enter her house. A gate had been cut through the fence that separated the houses, and Mrs. Oliver's agent would bring to Mrs. Oliver the groceries and provisions that she required. He collected her rents and attended to all financial matters for her.

The ambulance surgeon said the woman had died of old age. For the last two days she had complained to Mr. Albee of not feeling well.

Dust covered everything in the room in which the woman had lived alone, and she was found lying on a bed of straw, with hundreds of bottles and jars, containing medicines.

FANATICAL "DOUKS"

Five Get Two Years for Burnlog of Binders.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 10.—Five Doukhobors, who are in the city jail on their way from the Yorkton Colony to the penitentiary at Stony Mountain, resolutely refused to touch the food tendered them for their benefit in its place they sat on the floor of their cells and with appetites sharpened by a fast of 30 hours, devoured raw potatoes. The five men are those who under the leadership of Ivan Ibrimoff, one of the most fanatical of the fanatics, burned some binders, which were being used by their more enlightened co-religionists for the purpose of harvesting their crops. The Doukhobors were given a quick trial, and sentenced to two years for their offense, but up to the present they seem to fail to realize that they are in future to govern their actions by anything but the dictates of their own insanity. It is with the greatest difficulty that they can be persuaded to eat anything but raw vegetables.

BURNED TO A CRISP

Distressing Accident to Boy at Port Hope.

Port Hope, Nov. 11.—A most harrowing story comes from the township of Manvers, telling of the death of a little boy of six years. The boy, whose name is John Newton Falls, is the son of Isaac Falls, who lives about two miles south of Manvers station, of the C. P. R. On Sunday night about 9 o'clock, Maria, aged 8, went to the barn with a lantern to attend to some "chores," when the lantern exploded, resulting in the complete destruction of the barn and the burning to a crisp of the boy. His sister was also severely injured.

WOMEN RIOT AT DUKE'S WEDDING

10,000 of Them in Frantic
Fight to See the Bride.

CEREMONY A BRILLIANT ONE

Although But 250 Guests Were Present—What the Bride and Bridesmaids Wore.

New York, Nov. 10.—Fifth avenue, in the vicinity of the church, was the scene before and during the Roxburgh-Giolet wedding of excitement and disorder unparalleled at any of the previous great weddings in New York. From the church to the Giolet residence five blocks, the avenue was a surging mob of fully 10,000 persons, mostly women, which a force of 200 policemen was powerless to hold in check. Before the service several hundred women gained entrance to the church and seated themselves in the galleries from which they were forcibly dislodged by a squad of police. When the carriage containing the bride to be, and her brother, Robert Giolet, neared the church, it was surrounded by women, who stopped the horses, and in their efforts to see the bride clung to the carriage, some of them getting on the steps and thrusting their heads into the open windows. Half a dozen policemen rushed to the rescue, but it was some minutes before they could drive the women away.

When the carriage of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, which was just ahead of the wedding party, was stopped by the crowd of women, the women rushed frantically forward, carrying the solid lines of policemen with them, and for a moment choked the entrance to the church. They were then again to again rush forward when the bride's carriage drew up. By this time policemen from other points had been collected there, but in spite of them a group of half a dozen women stooped down and lifted the canvas of the canopy and crawled under it, clinging to their petticoats and understanding all the efforts of the police to pull them away, and several of them were forced to keep their heads under the canvas until the bride had passed up.

A patrolman caught one very well dressed woman by one of her ankles and dragged her along the walk, she still clinging to the canvas, until she was forced to keep her head under the canvas until the bride had passed up. On the Fifty-third street side of the church the women, dressed in black, crawled down into a coal hole leading underneath the chancel. They could not see anything, but they could hear what was going on above. Policemen had to get in and drive them out.

BARRON MURDER SUSPECT

Hamilton Police May Yet Land the Murderer.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 10.—Detective Bleskey has gone to Oranoroto to see the man arrested there, the name of Frank Tolman. The police know Tolman was Tolman's companion, and who held up a farmer's son who was returning from market some distance ago, taking from him $25 in cash, and they think Tolman may be giving an assumed name. It is possible that the pair may have been with the Barry murder, and if Tolman can be identified, a charge will be preferred against him.

GREAT DISTRESS IN THE BALKANS

Turkish Soldiers Deprive Women of Blankets.

Sultan Expected to Evade the Reforms by His Astute Diplomacy.

Sofia, Nov. 10.—The distress in the vilayet of Monastir is more severe than in any other part of the Balkans. The most misery prevails, and in the western districts of Ohrida conditions are even worse. At least several women to whom blankets had been distributed, were subsequently deprived of them by the soldiers, and ten Bulgarian peasants, who had returned from their farms under a promise of pardon, were attacked and murdered by Bashi Bazuks dressed in uniform by the villages. There is extreme skepticism among all classes in Macedonia in regard to the Austro-Russian reforms. The official classes rely upon the diplomatic ability of the Sultan to evade the issue, while the revolutionaries will not put down their arms until they are given the guarantee of united Europe against Turkish vengeance. The general impression is that matters will remain much as they are for an indefinite period.

AND MURDER PARDONED REBELS

The Search for Arms throughout the vilayet is being conducted with the utmost vigor and in some cases with great cruelty. It is evident that a considerable amount of fighting has occurred, judging by the quantity of lost arms and the number of wounded soldiers. Inspector-General Hilmi Pasha says the vilayet is absolutely quiet, that the disturbances have been few, and that the existing distress has been amply met by the Sultan's grant of a million francs. Many of the revolutionaries have accepted the amnesty granted to those bringing in their rifles, but many refuse, fearing that if the dogs are killed the wolves will not be less voracious.

NO ASSISTANCE FROM GERMANY

Government Wouldn't Receive
Colombian Commission

OFFERING PART OF ISTHMIAN

France Recognizes the New Republic
—U. S. Warships and British Vessels.

Paris, Nov. 10. — The French Government has recognized the de facto government of the Republic of Panama. The instructions forwarded by Foreign Minister Delcasse to the French consul at Panama authorize him to leave relations with the new Government to the United States consul at Panama. The instructions sent to the French consul will have the effect of giving the same recognition of the new regime as the United States has already given. A formal recognition will follow later, when the new Government is fully organized; but the instructions of the consul definitely establish the French attitude toward the new republic. The action of M. Delcasse is not yet publicly known.

Paris, Nov. 10. — In an interview published in the Gaulois, Charles de Lesseps expresses satisfaction with events on the Isthmus of Panama and with the purchase of the canal rights by the United States which guard French interests in that strategic point. In accordance with the provisions of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, the Panama canal can be operated in the United States Government, which eventually will derive profit and glory from a work conceived by a French brain. M. de Lesseps says that the commercial importance of the future canal will at least equal that of the Suez Canal.

GERMANY'S ATTITUDE.

Berlin, Nov. 10. — The German commission, if it comes here, will receive no consideration from the German Government. The correspondent of the Associated Press today learned the foreign office's attitude to the statement made yesterday by R. De Brigid, the Colombian consul-general in New York, that the Colombians were clamoring for a German protectorate over their country, and that the Colombian Government had been asked to send a commission to Germany to offer Emperor William certain pieces of land on both sides of the canal. The German foreign office's reply was: "We have heard nothing on the subject, but if a commission is sent to Germany, it will be made to be entertained for one moment. We have no intention of mixing ourselves in the affairs of the Isthmian states. We are still without any communication from our consular representatives in regard to the revolution, or asking protection, hence the United States look after German interests. The statements regarding our interest in the canal are exaggerated, but we hope to see our trade there prosper better after the United States builds the canal."

Washington, Nov. 11. — Upon receipt of a report of the state department, that the British vessels were to be chartered by the Colombian Government to take troops from Buena Ventura to the Isthmus, the United States navy department today ordered the Boston to proceed off Buena Ventura, and in the event that the British vessels are chartered, the commanders will be informed that they cannot land. The navy department announces that no attempt will be made to interfere with British vessels on the high seas.

GREAT ALPINE TUNNEL

Problem of Cooling the Air in the Simplon Tube is Solved.

London, Nov. 11. — Recent dispatches have suggested the probability that work upon the Simplon tunnel, the longest and the greatest heat encountered the hot springs encountered made the heat so great that it could not be borne. The difficulties, however, have been solved. For a distance of six and a quarter miles the mountain has been penetrated on the north, and for four and a half miles on the south side, leaving one and a half miles to complete it. A junction will be effected in May or June of next year with a maximum error in direction of seven or eight inches.

Due to the great height of the mountain above the tunnel, the pressure is great, and the temperature of the rocks and springs is correspondingly high. The greatest heat encountered was 133° Fahrenheit. It is now 128°.

This temperature, with water falling upon the workers, would be a torment, but this heat has been reduced by diluting the air with cold from hydraulic mains. To cool the air, a large volume of fresh air, the temperature of which has been reduced by means of a high pressure water spray, is sent up the works. The fresh air, where it is perfectly cool and fresh in contrast with the foulness and oppressiveness usual in other tunnels.

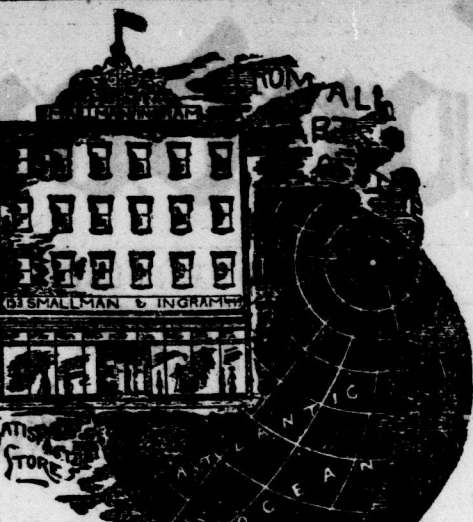

There is no sickness among the workmen. A Brandt drill immediately suppresses the dust. There has not been a single case of miners' phthisis, although 3,000 men have been working for five years.

THE ATLAS LOAN COMPANY

Settlement of Claims Against Ames
May Be Arranged.

Toronto, Nov. 11. — There was no continuation yesterday before the master of the examination of Mr. A. E. Ames in the proceedings to wind up the Atlas Loan Company. It is understood that negotiations are going on towards a settlement of the claim against Ames. The liquidator put in a claim for $40,000. Ames admitted $40,000. There was also a dispute about the transfer of $302,000 from three accounts, A. E. Wallace, No. 1, J. W. Eedy, No. 2, and the Atlas Loan Company, on savings account of the Atlas Loan Company. It is understood that Ames' offer is less than $100,000; $75,000 is mentioned, but that the liquidator thinks is not enough. The case comes up again today.

The British national pavilion at the World's Fair, St. Louis, will be a reproduction of the Orangery, or banquet hall, of the Kensington Palace, in Kensington Gardens, London.

WESTMINSTER.

Westminster, Nov. 11. — The funeral of the late Mrs. James O'Brien took place on Tuesday to Dorchester Station, and that of Mrs. Jeffrey to Pond Mills. Wednesday, both funerals were largely attended, the services being conducted by Rev. Dr. McCreary.

The anniversary services of the First Church were in every way successful. Rev. W. J. Clark preached on "The Resurrection of the Dead" on Sunday evening, and Rev. Dr. Johnston, on "The Resurrection of the Dead" on Tuesday. A full choir, all of the services were of a high order, the choir of the church doing their part most creditably.

The mail train was the opposite way.

The Misery of Catarrh.

It is pretty sure to bring on consumption, pneumonia, or at least, bronchitis. You cannot afford either. You can afford the cure for it. A cheap cure that has never failed. It is Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. It relieves a cold or catarrh, or cures the headache in ten minutes. It entirely heals up the catarrh-wasted surfaces. No other remedy can boast such a record.

ITALY BALKS AT THE POPE'S TERMS

Pius X. Wants the Conditions of His Freedom Guaranteed by Catholic Powers.

Rome, Nov. 11. — The negotiations long pending between the Vatican and the Italian Government regarding the carrying out of the Pope's plan to come out of the Vatican, negotiations which were for a time suspended because of the King's visit to Paris, and the subsequent resignation of the Italian Ministry, have been resumed, and, as nothing can be kept secret for long in the Vatican, the whole plan has leaked out.

It was the Frankfurter Zeitung which first published a telegram from its Roman correspondent, detailing the purpose of the negotiations, and the probability of their acceptance on the part of the Italian Government.

Well-informed prelates in the Vatican say that these negotiations imply only a desire on the part of the Pope to end the long struggle for temporal power and to recognize the Italian sovereignty in Rome by recognizing the laws of guarantees of 1871 as a partial compensation to the Holy See for the losses sustained because of the invasion of the Papal States.

Pius X. would demand the annual compensation of $60,000, which the Italian Government first offered to Pius IX., and which, if accepted, would have made the Vatican richer by more than $10,000,000 in the last thirty years. The Italian Government is also willing to accept these conditions as they are just the same ones offered to Pius IX. in 1870, and now that the anti-clerical Zanardelli has resigned from office, and the more moderate Giolitti is Premier, there is every probability that the negotiations will have a happy termination.

There is, however, one condition which will have a happy termination. The Italian Government is reluctant to accept, and that is the suggestion that the arrangement be submitted to the approval of Austria, France and Spain, the three Catholic powers of Europe, whose duty would be to see that the conditions were fully complied with. It is thought, however, that such a reluctance will be overcome, as Pius X. is anxious to end his imprisonment, not only because of his health, which requires a wider territory in which to take exercise, but principally by reason of the present disaffection of many Italian Catholics, which will last as long as the Vatican is in conflict with the Government of their country.

COMIC OPERA WAR AT SAN DOMINGO

Gunboats and Artillery Shell Capital But Nobody's Hurt—
Revolution Ended.

Washington, Nov. 10. — The state department today received the following cablegram from Minister Powell, dated San Domingo, Nov. 6, 11 p.m.: "Insurgents have reached the city. Attacked tonight on three sides. City being shelled. No damage."

London, Nov. 10. — News from San Domingo by way of Paris confirms the report of a rupture in the relations between the United States Government and that of Santo Domingo. The Dominican gunboat Independence has been shelled and damaged the town of Macoris.

San Domingo, Republic of Santo Domingo, Nov. 7. — The revolutionary forces, which now surround this city, attacked San Domingo last night, using artillery, but no damage was done. The revolutionary commander this afternoon sent a messenger under a flag of truce to demand the surrender of the capital, which was refused, and hostilities were resumed. San Domingo is strongly fortified and provisions are plentiful.

Washington, Nov. 10. — The United States state department tonight received a cablegram from United States Minister Powell at San Domingo, dated at 4 p.m. today, reporting the situation at San Domingo to be extremely serious. The dispatch, it was stated, was the first of the kind received on the day it was filed since disturbances began.

Paris, Nov. 10. — A dispatch received here from Cape Hayti states that after three days fighting, President Wos Y. Gil took refuge in the German consulate at San Domingo. The revolution is considered at an end.

THE BANKRUPT GIRL

Increased Cost of Living Plays Havoc With Allowances.

London, Nov. 11. — A new victim of the hard times has been found. It is a variant of the girl question, and in addition to the bachelor girl, the matinee girl, and the thousand and one other "disaffection" there is now the bankrupt girl. Her sad straits are not directly due to the financial stringency, nor is bridge especially to blame. It is the outcome of the increased cost of living. An allowance which was sufficient for the needs of the unmarried girl a few years ago is now declared to be entirely inadequate.

One young woman thus writes the plaint of herself and her sisters: "Five years ago," she writes, "I had an allowance from my father of $375 per annum, and it sufficed. Today, after my allowance has been raised to $500 since Jan. 1, I find I am behind in my accounts, although I've not been one whit more extravagant than when my allowance was smaller."

This letter was put before a woman who has four daughters, each of whom has an allowance of $500 a year. "It is quite true," she said, "that the expenditure of unmarried girls has risen. It has gone up in proportion with the demands upon the purses of married women. As their dress has become expensive, so, too, has that of unmarried girls."

"My daughters insist upon being turned out as well as married women, and their allowances do not suffice. They are in a constant state of bankruptcy, in spite of their $500 a year, paid quarterly. I attribute this to club subscriptions, theaters, and tips. What woman ever gave a tip twenty years ago? Country houses, visits, gawags, luncheon parties at west end restaurants, and wedding presents are simply playing havoc with allowances."

Soo Reorganization.

Philadelphia, Nov. 11. — The committee having in charge the reorganization of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company has announced that Nov. 17. Subscriptions for the first scrip of the proposed new company, which expired today, have been extended until Nov. 17. Subscriptions for the new stock is coming in rapidly, and the committee expects to be able to declare the new plan operative next week.

RIFLE TO CARRY BALL TEN MILES

Small Arm Intended to Have a Great Effect On Modern Warfare.

Plymouth, Mass., Nov. 11. — A great advance has been made in small arms, which may have a wonderfully important bearing on the armaments of the world and the battles of the future, for through his suggestion the range of the modern rifle has been greatly increased and its penetration more than doubled.

The result is a finished rifle of the Winchester model of 1895, short, like the old civil war carbine, but unlike them it has a tapering barrel which approaches one-half inch in thickness at the rear end and is formed of a fine piece of nickel steel which has long been in favor by the users of the big British naval guns and as used in their revolving long range rifles. The gun is 40.5 bore and the cartridge looks like any other except perhaps the shell is not choked on the end where the bullet fits in. Inside the bright brass shell is a charge of 52 grains of cordite, a smokeless powder which has long been in favor by the users of the big British naval guns and as used in their revolving long range rifles. The gun is 40.5 bore and the cartridge looks like any other except perhaps the shell is not choked on the end where the bullet fits in. Inside the bright brass shell is a charge of 52 grains of cordite, a smokeless powder which has long been in favor by the users of the big British naval guns and as used in their revolving long range rifles.

From tests made by the Winchester Company it is calculated that gun fired at an elevation of 45 degrees will throw its projectile a distance of ten miles, which is about the distance of the muzzle velocity gives it a very flat trajectory, amounting to ordinary ranges to almost point blank shooting. In the matter of penetration the cordite cartridge leaves the others completely out of sight. A high power 30-30 sporting rifle at 100 yards will penetrate thirty inches of pine, and a United States Government high velocity cartridge will drive its projectile through a deer, but this new one at the same range will bore through 100 inches of pine wood.

JAPAN ITCHES FOR WAR

Government Urged to Take Decisive Action Immediately.

Tokio, Japan, Nov. 10. — Premier Katsura today received a deputation of the Anti-Russian League. He expressed the delegates with the necessity for complete unity and solidarity among the people in the face of the existing situation, which, he declared was most critical.

There is a strong indication in well-informed circles that a resolution was adopted, believed here that peace will only be made possible by Russian complete acceptance of Japan's claims regarding Manchuria. The Japanese Government finds it increasingly difficult to restrain popular sentiment.

At an important dinner this evening at the Imperial Hotel, at which over 250 persons were present, representing all sections of the nation, a resolution was adopted, amid the greatest enthusiasm, declaring that the continued delay was detrimental to the national interest, and urging the Government to take prompt and decisive action.

Pechukow, Nov. 10. — Dispatches from Port Arthur say that secret societies are organizing a rebellion in the Yang Tse Valley.

At an important dispatch to the Daily Mail from Tien Tsin says that Russian soldiers in Korea have been withdrawn.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 11.

Mr. Bourassa's Pilgrimage.

Mr. Henri Bourassa, M. P., has been lecturing in Toronto and Woodstock on the loyalty of French-Canadians, and has been given a respectful, even a cordial hearing. This is as it should be. Ontario would be happy to see and hear more of representative French-Canadians. They should not confine their visits to election campaigns. The public men of all the provinces fraternize at Ottawa, but the people of Ontario and Quebec do not know each other as they might and ought to do. English-speaking Canadians should consider it a national duty to try to understand the French-Canadian point of view. Mr. Bourassa interprets the sentiments of a large body of his compatriots, although the influence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier is paramount, and has reconciled them to policies which could not appeal to their enthusiasms.

Mr. Bourassa is a young man of unusual ability, with an almost Parisian culture. He speaks English fluently with a barely perceptible accent. As a grandson of Papineau, he has an inspiring family tradition, and his integrity of purpose and character have not been questioned by his bitterest opponents. His faults are those of a youthful idealism which is not prone to make allowance for the practical difficulties in the government of a country like Canada, composed of different races and creeds. Compromise must be a part of wise statesmanship in the Dominion. The patriot is he who tries to hold the balance evenly between the English-speaking and French-speaking peoples. He does not ignore or override the prejudices and aspirations of either, but seeks to dovetail them. When Mr. Bourassa is older, and if he is ever called to a responsible position in the councils of the country, he will be less dogmatic and more inclined to temporize. At present he is too quick to take offense. He makes a bogey of imperialism, and often sees dangers which are purely imaginary. If he sent in fewer false alarms he would get a more intelligent hearing from the English-speaking public. During the South African war he held that Great Britain was in the wrong, as did many of the prominent public men of England, but he was greatly mistaken in his view that Canada was irrevocably committing herself to the military adventures of Great Britain and sacrificing her self-control and independence. No doubt Mr. Bourassa is misunderstood by English-speaking Canadians, but he can remedy this by taking a less irritating course. The people of Ontario will welcome him when he comes to expound his views, frankly and calmly.

Mr. Bourassa and those who think with him have been undeservedly reproached with disloyalty. He can easily point to history to refute this charge against the French-Canadians. The latter, he shows, are descendants of the Normans, and are in race characteristics further removed from the France of today than English-speaking Canadians are removed from the people of Great Britain. The French-Canadians were the first Canadians and they are Canadians first. Their conceptions of loyalty are centered in Canada. They are perfectly contented under the British flag so long as they are in their present position of independence. Naturally the imperial ideal which is based exclusively on instincts of race, does not stir the French-Canadians who are not "children of the blood" in Kipling's phrase. If imperialism means a surrender of any of the rights of self-government they now enjoy, or the assumption by Canada of financial, military or other obligations for purposes not purely Canadian, they are anti-imperialists. It is necessary that English-speaking Canadians should grasp this point of view, and that French-Canadians should understand also that a rational imperialism is not necessarily a centralizing policy, but may go hand in hand with an extension of colonial autonomy, and a vigorous Canadian nationalism. An imperialism which does not take account of the sentiments of the French-Canadians will drive a wedge through the Dominion.

Mr. Borden and the Loyalists.

Mr. Borden spoke on the Alaska boundary question at Montreal yesterday. His speech was not intended for Ontario consumption; at least, it was not addressed to that wing of his party in Ontario which is raising the loyalty cry against Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Mr. Borden denounced Sir Wilfrid for consenting to the treaty which created the boundary tribunal. The official correspondence shows that the Premier yielded under strong pressure from the Imperial Government, but the leader of his Majesty's loyal Opposition, with the delightful irresponsibility of being on the outside, tells him he should have stood out against the British Government. What a rumpus the lip-loyalists would have raised if Sir Wilfrid had crossed swords with Downing street! Mr. Borden, not being a French-Canadian and a Liberal, is safe. "I am as loyal a man as any in this country, but I stand for the rights of Canada," he exclaims. An admirable sentiment, but these words, if uttered by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, at the present time, would be described as hinting at separation from Great Britain. The leader of the Opposition went a step further. He denounced the Government for not sisting on the appointment of three Canadians to the tribunal. The people of this country would have been better satisfied with the award, he says. This is becoming serious. Mr. Borden should be taken in hand by the London Free Press, the Toronto Mail and the Hamilton Spectator. Have we not been told it is "monstrous" to pass any reflection on the lord chief justice of England? Mr. Borden wanted him excluded from the tribunal, and three plain Canadians pitted against the Yankees. The suggestion sends a cold chill down the backs of the flunkies, but they will not murmur—not against Mr. Borden. They keep their hammers for Laurier.

Our "Measly" Imports.

"We do not want closer relations of any kind with the American Republic,"—Toronto World.
"And yet the fool of a tariff that he have in operation has brought the two peoples into pretty close quarters commercially. Look at those measly old returns just furnished by Consul Culver of this city, for example. He shows by figures that last year Canada imported from the States $129,794,147 worth and in 1903, $137,606,199 worth—an increase of $7,811,052."—London Free Press.

This argument, if it can be called an argument, will not stand close inspection. Last year Canada purchased from the United States for home consumption $174,696 worth of goods, the returns for the year 1903 not being yet compiled at Ottawa. The figures furnished by Consul Culver include coin and bullion and goods which were re-exported. Of the $114,744,636 worth, $51,562,888 worth was free goods, chiefly raw materials for manufacturers. Among the measly imports were the following:

Coal and coke$7,797,712
Raw cotton6,947,539
Flax, hemp and jute745,000
Hides2,174,754
Crude rubber1,628,205
Metals and minerals9,291,420
Settlers' effects3,751,363
Raw tobacco2,005,155

It is a dishonest trick to lump all the imports from the United States and make it appear that Canada is sending that much money over the border for goods which can be produced at home. Much of the increase in American imports is due to the growth of manufacturing in Canada and the resultant demand for raw materials which must be purchased in the United States. It would be a fool of a tariff which would check imports in these lines. It would be cutting off Canada's nose to spite Uncle Sam's face. Many of the manufactured goods imported from the United States are not made and cannot profitably be made in Canada. For instance the Free Press and Advertiser recently installed new printing presses made across the line. They paid a stiff duty, but no tariff would cause printing presses to be made in Canada, the demand being too limited as yet. Much of the type used in a printing office and many other materials have to be bought in the United States. This is probably true of other businesses as well. The amount of goods purchased from the United States which could be made at home with profit is very much smaller than represented, and is not a cause for anxiety, while Canadian factories are working at full pressure.

Sir Charles Dillie is a foremost Imperialist, but he says Canada should have treaty-making powers. Treason! Great Britain has become more interested in Chamberlain's tariff policy than Canada appears to be. It was the other way round not long ago.

The President of the American Federation of Labor says wages must not come down on account of hard times. If they don't come down, a good many treatises on economics will have to be rewritten.

The majority of the New York papers denounce the policy of the United States Government toward the Republic of Colombia. The London papers, headed by the Times, are almost a unit in upholding it. Uncle Sam can ask for no finer old toady than John Bull.

An English woman in Canada writes to the London Leader deriding the charms of Canadian girls. "At Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal, the typical face is hard-featured and sallow," she says. No critic is qualified to pronounce on Canadian girls without visiting the Forest City.

It stands to the honor of President Roosevelt that he has called a special session of congress, to pass the treaty of reciprocity with Cuba. The treaty, which the United States was pledged, has been balked for two years by selfish interests, but Roosevelt determined to see it through.

How She Considered It.

(Judge.)
"Does your husband consider you a necessity or a luxury?"

"It all depends. When he needs a button sewed on his clothes I am a necessity, when I want new clothes I am a luxury."

Pitt and Palmerston.

[Ottawa Free Press.]
It was a curious saying that appeared in a London contemporary that Mr. Chamberlain will have a place in history between Pitt and Palmerston. The one was magnificent in his greatness, the other was great in his littleness.

Which Was Insulted?

[London Daily Mail.]
A private of an infantry battalion stationed at Mhow, India, was recently sentenced to 168 hours' hard labor for calling his lance corporal a "Broddick." The private, after being sentenced, asked whether he was being punished for insulting the secretary of state for war, the lance corporal. The court remained silent.

Four and twenty ladies
Hanging by der straps;

All der advertisements

All der vimmen smiling,

Children of the Mills.
[Ella Wheeler Wilcox.]
Oh, the silence of the children in the sunny South today,
It is sadder than the cry of fettered slaves.
Lean and listen, and you will hear the roaring of the mill,
And the sighing of the wind through open graves.
But the voices of the children—they are still,
Oh, the roaring of the mill, of the mill!
They no longer shout and gambol in the blossom-laden fields,
And their laughter does not echo down the street.
They have gone across the hills; they are working in the mills.
Oh, the tired little hands and aching feet,
And the weary, dreary life that stunts and kills!
Oh, the roaring of the mills, of the mills!
All the pleasures known to childhood are but tales of fairyland,
Who to them are singing birds and running streams?
For the rumble of the mill seems an echo of the mill,
And they see but flying spindles in their dreams.
Life is one in summer's heat or winter's chill,
Oh, the roaring of the mill, of the mill!

Doubts About Dowie.
[Toronto Globe.]
Who was Dowie's father appears to be as great a puzzle as the age of Ann. It is fair to say that the gentleman himself has raised the doubts.

Sufficiently Honored.
[Toronto Star.]
We observe that the names of the Canadians connected with the Alaska case do not appear in the list of those receiving birthday honors. However, they are honored by every true Canadian.

Her Triumph.
[S. E. Kiser.]
She would not be the wife of one who did not have ambition, who for lack of force might wish to shun the great things left for men to do. She boasted that she would not wed except with one who would wed her to boldly force his way ahead.

TARTE WAS HISSED
The Conservative Leaders Hold Meeting at Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—The long-looked-for meeting of the Conservative leaders took place at the Monument National here tonight, when Mr. K. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition in the Federal Parliament, Mr. J. Israel Tarte, ex-Minister of Public Works, and Mr. F. D. Monk, leader of the Conservative party in Quebec Province, appeared together on one platform and addressed a mass meeting of party adherents.

Mr. Tarte, whose influence is doubtful, has been received into the inner circles, and tonight's meeting was his absolute acknowledgment of Conservative principles.

Mr. Borden spoke about the St. James election and the Alaskan award, claiming three Canadians should have been appointed.

REUBEN DRAPER STATES
That Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him of Gravel—It Never Came Back.

Bristol, Que., Nov. 9.—A remedy that will cure gravel must be a sovereign remedy for all urinary diseases, and Reuben Draper of this place, states positively that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him of Gravel.

"I was taken ill with what I thought was Gravel," says Mr. Draper, "I was suffering great pain, and I steadily grew weaker though attended by two different doctors."

A man told me Dodd's Kidney Pills had cured his mother of Gravel, and I got some and started to take them. In just one week I passed a stone as large as a small bean, and four days later I passed another about the size of a grain of barley.

"That is two years ago, and I have not had any trouble since."

A Detroit specialist who has 14 certificates and diplomas from medical colleges and hospitals, has perfected a startling method of curing the diseases of men in their own homes; so that there may be no doubt in the mind of any man that he has

He wants to hear from men who have structure that they have been unable to get cured, prostatic trouble, sexual weakness, varicose veins, hemorrhoids, blood poison, hydrocele, emaciation of parts, impotence, etc. His wonderful method not only cures the condition itself, but likewise all the complications, such as rheumatism, bladder or kidney trouble, heart disease, nervous debility, etc.

The doctor realizes that it is one thing to make claims and another thing to back them up, so he has made it a rule only to give money unless he cures you, and when you are cured he feels sure that you will willingly pay him a small fee. It is the only method that is so sure to the best interests of every man who suffers in this way to write the doctor confidentially and try your case before him. He sends the method, as well as many booklets on the subject, including the one that contains the 14 diplomas and certificates, entirely free. Address him simply:

A meeting of those interested in higher education in this city was held in the Western University last night, the gathering being a representative and notable one.

Dr. Bethune, of the Entomological Society; Rev. W. T. Hill, Rev. Mr. W. J. Hill, Rev. T. E. Belmont, treasurer, Mrs. Thompson, of London; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. Clark, London; recording secretary, Miss McAdam, St. Thomas; Mission Band secretary, Miss L. M. ARE DOING WELL
$2,600 Already Secured for First Congregational Church Debt.

Every effort is being made by the managers of the First Congregational Church to secure subscriptions towards the reduction of the heavy debt on the edifice. Up to the present time the pastor, Rev. D. S. Hamilton, and his assistants, have succeeded in raising $2,600 from the friends of the cause in and around London, and they have yet a large number to call upon. On every hand they have met with the most generous response, and are increasing the amount to $5,000, and possibly more, before the canvass is completed.

Should that amount be raised it will mean the lifting of a burden which has been felt for many years by the church. The Congregational body in the old country has offered to give dollar for dollar for all that is secured in this city towards the reduction of the debt on the two local edifices, and when this is obtained it will mean that the churches will find their work much easier. The First Church has a debt at the present time of $11,000.

BLOOD STARVATION
Blood that is starved because it has lost the capacity for absorbing oxygen; thin blood which has not been properly nourished; weak blood which has lost the power to repair waste and build new tissue; blood that is lacking in red corpuscles—all show that a reconstructer is urgently needed, and that without delay.

Ferrol is the most powerful regenerator of the blood known to medical science, because it contains the very constituent of rich, healthy blood, in a form so palatable and easily digested, that even an invalid can take it and assimilate it without difficulty.

TRYING TO COLLECT
Man Won Damages for Being Called Orangeman.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—In the case of Gibson vs. Le Temps, Judge McTavish in chambers has made an order directing the trial of an issue as to whether Flavien Moffet and his wife are liable on a judgment obtained in the courts. In this case, which has been in the courts for some time, Mr. Gibson, an Aylmer butcher, recovered damages against Mr. Moffet, charged him with being an Orangeman, and thereby injuring his business. Moffet had no assets in Quebec Province to collect from. Mr. Gibson, through his solicitors, is now endeavoring to recover on Mr. Moffet's assets in Ontario.

A PURELY VEGETABLE PILLS.—Par-melee's Vegetable Pills are compounded from roots, herbs and solid extracts of known virtue in the treatment of liver and kidney complaints, and in giving tone to the system, when enfeebled by overwork or deranged through excesses in living. They require no testimonial. Their exact qualities are well known to all those who have used them, and they commend themselves to dyspeptics and those subject to biliousness who are in quest of a beneficial medicine.

MARCONI'S GREAT SCHEME
Will Install "Wireless" Italy to the Argentine.

Rome, Nov. 11.—Signor Marconi will begin work soon on the immense power station near Pisa from which it is expected wireless communication will be established with Argentine Republic. From there Signor Marconi will go to Florence to inspect the Gallo manufactory, where his apparatus is being constructed. It is probable that he will afterwards visit Bari, where work will be begun on a station intended for communication with Montenegro.

EXHIBIT FOR SPORTSMEN'S SHOW.
The Grand Trunk Railway system has shipped their extensive exhibit that will be installed in the International Sportsmen's Show, which is to be held in the Coliseum, at Chicago, Nov. 7 to 28. The exhibit will comprise, in addition to a series of the best pictures depicting scenes along their lines in Canada, including the many districts in the "Highlands of Ontario," one of the most comprehensive and complete collections of fish native to Canadian waters. In this will be some of the best specimens that have ever been taken of the muskies, small-mouthed bass, wall-eyed pike, brook trout, omaniche, landlocked salmon, etc. This fish exhibit is one that the Grand Trunk has been collecting for the past three or four years, and it is, without doubt, the finest in America, not only as to the sizes and varieties of fishes, but in their unique way of having them mounted. Many anglers have seen this exhibit and speak in the highest terms of the collection.

The space that the Grand Trunk secured at the coming show is 1,500 square feet, which will give the company a good opportunity of making a very attractive showing. 47-kzxv

St. Catharines Well.
In St. Catharines, the Garden City of Canada, eleven miles from Niagara Falls, on the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway, is situated the historic "St. Catharines Well," about which is woven many a romantic Indian legend, and whose curative properties are known far and wide throughout North America. The water of this famous Saline Well is considerably denser than sea water, but clear, sparkling and odorless, and is remarkable for its penetrative qualities.

These waters are a great specific for such diseases as rheumatism, gout, sciatica, neuralgia, liver troubles, skin diseases, and cases of nervous prostration, or as a tonic pure and simple. The treatment is conducted on the broadest possible lines, the idea being to assist nature as much as possible. The use of the waters is the chief remedial agent, accompanied by static electricity, massage, exercise and rest. All treatment is in charge of house physician. The baths are in a separate building, connected with main building by a glass covered corridor.

Full information, descriptive matter, and all particulars may be had on application to G. T. Bell, G. P. and T. A., Grand Trunk Railway system, Montreal, Canada. 47-kzxv

A Popular Health Resort.
A Grand Trunk official stated today that the mineral waters of St. Catharines, Ontario, are becoming renowned throughout the country, as is demonstrated by the large influx of people to that city during the past year. The water is like that of the great Kreuznach springs of Prussia, and is claimed, if anything, to be even more effective in cases in which it is used. The business at the resorts at St. Catharines has increased about 100 per cent over last year. 47-kzxv

The occasion was in the inauguration of a series of addresses by the public men of the Dominion under the auspices of the Continental Union, President W. A. Sherwood, Secretary James L. Hughes, Ald. J. J. Graham, J. Castell Hopkins, J. M. Clark, W. D. Gregory, Rev. Dr. Wild, R. G. Summerville, T. W. Judson, P. F. Cronin and R. C. Steele occupied seats on the platform. Several hundred were present, and much applause was elicited by reference to the efforts of French-Canadians to contribute to the substantial interest of the empire.

Mr. Bourassa was received with a round of applause. In a close analysis of the French-Canadian's relation to the Dominion, a historical and patriotic character, Mr. Bourassa took occasion to breathe much national sentiment. This was the cardinal principle of the race that for generations had been proud to announce their allegiance to the British nation. But when the English section of Canada would say they stood for "King and country," the French section used the same words, but put it in "For country and King," the English-Canadian need not be afraid of the sectional and racial opposition of the French-Canadian, who were standing much that had been said and published along that line.

On the whole it was an appeal for a greater Canada for the French-Canadian, for greater breadth of autonomy and more independent action, but not separation from the empire, which organization the French-Canadian did not surrender to his English brother one iota of loyalty.

Mr. Bourassa pleaded for the broad British sense of justice in the conception of things relating to Canada. This breadth was necessary in the founding of a nation such as he conceived Canada was destined to become. It was a nation of two races. This made the amalgamation more difficult but none the less certain. In judging the French-Canadian he conceived there were two schools among the other element in the Dominion—one that gave them credit for having contributed in a measure to British dominion in the history of Canada, and the other according the race little place in the history of Canada-making.

There were four facts not to be lost sight of in analyzing the situation as the speaker viewed it. One, that the French-Canadian was not an inferior race; two, that they are a race by themselves; three, though united, they are a different race; and four, they are anti-imperial, but still Canadian. With this division he plunged into his subject, first insisting that the French-Canadian was not anti-imperial, but not anti-imperial.

He thought his race had played well its part in the sturdy development of Canada. "For over the pages of history," he asked his audience to remember that the present French element in Canada and the United States developed from some sixty thousand peasants whose blood had not been replenished from the other side in 150 years. The present progress in the world's splendid under the circumstances.

Mr. Bourassa thought there was a mixed sentiment among the French-Canadians toward the British—half of admiration and half of distrust. On the subject of contributing to imperial defense, Mr. Bourassa thought in constructing great railroad systems improving the waterways and the approach to the ocean the country was contributing at the rate of about $10,000,000 annually to the imperial defense. At the same time the country had been developed substantially by thought one young French-Canadian who helped develop the trade, the substantial interests of Canada, was worth a dozen men who were long and went camping once a year at the expense of the country. It was not to the advantage of the nation to run around to develop a spirit of militarism, nor desirable for the youth of the country to be taught that it was the destiny of the nation to run around the globe provoking quarrels with other nations.

He thought Canadians best qualified to say what was best for Canada: British to determine what was best for England; Australia in the best position to decide what was best for that country. In military matters he was sure they would oppose any contributions not strictly for the defense of Canada. With the English Canadians he thought these questions of sentiment, but with the French element they were those of reason, purely military. He thought the French-Canadian he confessed, were provincial in their patriotism, and if the feeling was broadened he feared it would be weakened, but there was common attachment to the country, to the flag and to the crown. In closing Mr. Bourassa declared he was not ashamed of the charge that stirred up the national sentiment of the race. He represented the Canadian Catholic Union entered the King Edward Hotel yesterday evening. After dinner he spoke a few words in reference to the Catholic Church in Quebec.

A Noted Horseman's Experience. Mr. Antoine Wendling, owner of Deveraux (2113), and proprietor of the Clifton House, Brockville, says no liniment compares with Nerviline for general use around the stable. For strains, sprains, swellings, internal pains, and especially for affections of the white horse, Nerviline is unequalled. Mr. Wendling believes Nerviline is indispensable as a horse liniment; it has strength, penetrating power and works thoroughly. Every horse and stock owner should use Nerviline. Sold in large 25c bottles.

NOT ONE KISS FOR HIM

Beau Sends Planes to Women But Gets Little Return.

Waterbury, Conn., Nov. 11.—John C. Hall, of Berlin, a rural Beau Brummel, aged 60, and a bachelor, insists that he has a right to do with his money as he chooses. His relatives take a different view. They have appealed to the judge of probate of New Britain to stop him from lavishing his money on country maidens. A Southington woman of whom John is enamored, according to the testimony, has a fine piano, the gift of Mr. Hall, and a Meriden girl, the most recent recipient of his favor, has just had a piano sent to her, valued at more than $200. There are other places unheard from. These pianos and gifts of watches and bracelets and jewelry, which he bought for various women, have succeeded in dissipating large property interests which he inherited. Now under oath he says he has only a small equity in a farm and $10 cash. For all these valuable presents he tells the court sadly: "I didn't even get one kiss."

FRIDAY'S HEAVY SNOWFALL

Very Heavy at Port Huron—Amounted to 17 1/2 Inches.

Saturday's Port Huron Times says: Few people realize the weight of a blanket of snow such as that which fell in Port Huron on Friday. At the Port Huron Canning Company's plant Friday morning the snow was cleared from the wagon scales at 8 o'clock. On account of the storm, nothing arrived to be weighed, and by noon the scales were covered deep with snow again. This was noticed to weigh 450 pounds. This had accumulated in four hours. The scale platform is 8x14 feet. This made the weight of the snow four pounds for every square foot. Estimating that half the snow fell before 8 o'clock when the weight was not taken, it is fair to estimate that the total weight of snow that fell from 10 o'clock Thursday night until Friday noon was 8 pounds to the square foot in an acre there are 43,560 square feet, which would make the weight of the snow about 348,480 pounds, or 17 1/2 tons.

Those in a position to know say that the fall was 17 1/2 inches. The oldest residents here say they never remember seeing such a fall in November. It was a regular blizzard.

MR. AYLESWORTH SPOKE

Strongly in Favor of the British Connection.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—The annual King's birthday dinner of the National Club Monday night was a most enjoyable social affair. The royal toast, honored by the singing of the National Anthem and "God Save Our Noble Emperor." The toast of "The Empire" was responded to by Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, K.C., and Col. George T. Denison. Mr. Aylesworth spoke strongly in favor of the advantages from the Canadian standpoint of British connection, and said there should be a scheme of imperial unity. "Medea against Medea," named arguments for Canadian contributions toward imperial defense. He said that while general taxation for that purpose could not be undertaken without representation, yet we might undertake the defense of our own shores without demanding imperial representation.

The toast of "Our Own Special Birthday" was happily responded to by Mr. J. E. Ellis and Mr. J. S. Williams. The anniversary also fell yesterday.

What Is Catarrh? It is an inflammation of the mucous lining of the throat, bronchial tubes and nasal passages, excited by germs that can only be destroyed by fragrant, healing Catarrhine, which is located direct of the disease, and has never yet failed to cure. Pleasant to use, absolutely safe, Catarrhine always gives satisfaction. "I suffered from nasal catarrh so badly that I could not breathe through the nose," writes G. Wilmet, of Meriden. "I used Catarrhine for a few minutes and was relieved. It cured me in a short time. The other remedy just like Catarrhine—it's the best. Two months' treatment, $1; trial size, 25c."

BAYLEY'S

ALICE IN NEW GARB

Adopts the Divided Skirt and Discards the Side Saddle.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Miss Alice Roosevelt has discarded the side-saddle and conventional riding habit and now rides in divided skirts. The announcement that she was adopting the new style of riding caused a flutter among conservative Washingtonians, but the President's daughter and Mrs. Rider, her teacher, now pass through the parks mounted astide, without causing unusual comment. Miss Mason, daughter of former Senator Mason, of Illinois, was the first woman prominent in Washington society to adopt the more natural style of riding.

HELL WITH THE LID OFF

Dr. Parkhurst Roasts the New York Smart Set.

New York, Nov. 11.—Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst preached on Sunday on the lessons to be learned from the election. He said in part:

"And now we are only seven weeks from the edge of another pit. With the 1st of January will commence two more years of hell on earth. We are going to have twenty-four months of open city. People are going to have the gambling, all the whiskey and all the licentiousness that they want—and they want a great deal. And the new administration comes in with the deliberate intention of promoting drunkenness, gambling and lechery as so much material to be converted into dollars."

"I am not here to plead for the poor wretches that gamble away their money and their souls on the Bowery. I have not taken a brief for the immoral resorts of Allen street, but what is really damnable the town with a deeper and a swifter destruction is the town of the gambling, all the whiskey and all the licentiousness that they want—and they want a great deal. And the new administration comes in with the deliberate intention of promoting drunkenness, gambling and lechery as so much material to be converted into dollars."

IRON AND STEEL TRADE

The Present Depression Only a Temporary One.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—The committee of management of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, after a meeting held to discuss the advisability of continuing work in the new mills, owing to the bad condition of the iron and steel markets in Canada and the United States, have come to the conclusion that in all probability the present depression is only a temporary one, and that better prices will soon be secured.

On this account it was decided to erect the washing plant as soon as possible, and follow it up with the construction of the band rail and steel plant mills.

The committee of management are again trying to get Mr. Graham Fraser, general manager of the Nova Scotia Steel Company, to accept the general management of the Dominion Company.

PIGEONS CARRY CHOLERA

Iowa Farmer Declares Birds Cause Spread of the Disease.

Eldora, Iowa, Nov. 11.—The time of the year is at hand when farmers begin to feed new corn to their hogs which they are fattening for Chicago market, and therefore hog cholera is again prevalent and many farmers are heavy losers, all over Iowa.

A curious explanation of the way that the disease is carried about from farm to farm is made by a prominent stock man of Lamont, who says that the tame pigeons which alight in the pens and barnyards to pick up the scattering kernels of corn are responsible for the spread of the disease. One prominent farmer of Monticello had 300 fine head of fat hogs, all of which died inside of three days.

Coughs, colds, hoarse voices, and other throat ailments are quickly relieved by Vapo-Creme lozenges, 25 cents per box. All druggists.

GIANT ERUPTION IN SUN'S CENTER

Sun Spots Are Holes 100,000 Miles Deep.

MAGNETIC STORMS PREDICTED

Repetition of Recent Electrical Phenomena On the Earth May Occur Within a Few Days.

London, Nov. 10.—The tremendous eruptions now occurring on the sun are the most marvelous and portentous phenomena at present offered to the view of man. If people had telescopic eyes, so that they could see at a glance things hidden from all but the astronomer, they would forget the most exciting occupations of life and stand gazing with awe—if not with fear—at the strange sights in the sun.

War rumors, Wall street flurries, trust collapses, would pale in interest before the gigantic phantasmagoria of the sun-spots. But the culmination of this solar display is not yet. The spots are increasing in size and number, as well as in fearfulness of shape and aspect.

Yesterday the God of Day had the look of a battle-scarred veteran. As he hung on the meridian at noon even the naked eye, when properly shaded with a black glass, showed two double spots upon his face, one near the northwest corner and the other near the southeastern side.

TERRIBLE TO THE SIGHT.

The telescope resolved these spots into vast groups of eruptive centers, unexampled in the earth or anything within human experience, and consequently not to be described. No words fit them, and neither the hand of the artist nor the sensitive plate of the camera is capable of reproducing their effect upon the startled and fascinated eye and mind of the telescope observer. It is seldom that two such vast groups of spots are to be seen simultaneously on the solar disk. Their symmetrical situation adds to the effect of their coincident appearance. They prove that the present disturbance in the sun is of the most tremendous character. If such things were now for the first time seen we should be overwhelmed by the belief that our day-star was about to be extinguished, to go out forever in endless night.

It is evident that that immense globe of blazing gases, of chaotic elements, hotter a hundred times than the hottest furnace, and so colossal in its accumulation of energy that it sways the earth and the more distant planets as resistlessly as the ocean sways a floating chip, is now shaken to its very foundations by the forces of which we cannot form the slightest conception. But we can see the tokens of the struggle breaking out on the distorted face of the solar giant like black sweat.

SPOTS VAST CALDERONS.

The magnitude of these sun-spots may well amaze us. Their centers are yawning holes, how many thousand miles in depth no one can guess, but black as night in contrast with the blazing white of the sun's surface. Any one of these holes the earth would easily drop and disappear, like a boy's marble rolling through the grating of a sewer cover.

But caught in such a tempest of warping elements as these sun-spots are, the whole earth would be like a storm whirling almost like a leaf in a storm—but only for a moment, for suddenly in that gust of incomprehensible heat the whole earth would be like a frame would collapse, and all its mighty substances would dissolve into a blazing vapor dropping as it fell into the water drop as swallowed up in a conflagration.

The area of the solar surface covered by these sun-spots is stupendous. The length of the two main regions of disturbance now visible is not less than a hundred thousand miles. The area of the sun's surface covered by these sun-spots is stupendous. The length of the two main regions of disturbance now visible is not less than a hundred thousand miles. The area of the sun's surface covered by these sun-spots is stupendous. The length of the two main regions of disturbance now visible is not less than a hundred thousand miles.

The two large spots near the northwestern edge of the sun's disk yesterday, and which were carried by the rotation considerably closer to the edge today, belong to the eruption which appeared to be most intimately connected with the great magnetic storm and exhibition of the aurora borealis that startled America and Europe a week ago last Saturday.

This group of spots was near the middle of the disk, and showed much greater than it does at present. This disturbing disturbance, spectral with auroral lights, may occur in connection with it that will perceptibly affect the magnetic elements of the earth. The irregular shapes of the black central channels and the many pore-like holes scattered about in the neighborhood of the chief spots are characteristic of eruptions which have either reached or are rapidly approaching their maximum display of energy.

On the other hand, the wonderful group in the southwestern corner of the sun, the principal centers of disturbance, shows a great deal of activity, and as it passes across the disk during the next few days, it will be in connection with it that will perceptibly affect the magnetic elements of the earth. The irregular shapes of the black central channels and the many pore-like holes scattered about in the neighborhood of the chief spots are characteristic of eruptions which have either reached or are rapidly approaching their maximum display of energy.

Another dispatch from Belgrade says King Peter will ask Russia to endeavor to persuade Great Britain to abandon her present attitude towards the Serbian Government.

10,000 MINERS ARE OUT

One Hundred Colorado Coal Mines Are Tied Up.

Denver, Nov. 11.—More than 10,000 coal miners in Colorado struck Monday for an eight hour day, increased wages and other concessions, as the result of an order from the United Mine Workers, after the coal companies refused to confer with union representatives concerning the demands of the men. One hundred mines have been closed down. A few independent properties have agreed to an eight hour day and increased wages, the principal demands, and will continue in operation. But in these wages less than 1,100 men are employed. The Colorado Fuel and Iron, Victor Fuel and the Northern Coal and Coke Companies are the largest producers in this section, and practically all this property has been tied up. Efforts are being made to continue operations under a strong guard. There are about fourteen coal mines in the state, with an output of 8,000,000 tons of coal a year, and about 1,000 tons of coke. The United Mine Workers will attempt, it is said, to depopulate the coal districts by sending idle miners to the coal mines. The coal center will be about Trinidad, in the southern fields, where there are 8,000 miners.

the market house, but the contractors refused to perform the work at the figures they quoted last spring, the city not having taken advantage of the low prices then offered. As a result the price of cement in the meantime having gone up.

Engineer Graydon will consequently report to this effect to No. 3 committee, and it will remain with No. 3 to say whether new tenders shall be called for or not. If the latter course is asked, the committee will have some money with which to ease the works of the winter.

Greenlee, chairman of No. 3, said today that as far as he was concerned he was satisfied to allow the city to have the work done by the board of works, providing it purchased the market house repairs were not proceeded with. Ald. Greenlees says that although many people seem anxious to tear the market house down, it has

It was pointed out by the dealer that charging by weight was unfair to the one of the reasons being that a car might be loaded after a heavy rainstorm, in which event the dealer would have to pay $3 or $4 extra weight. The dealer would also be unfair in the case of wet wood.

Because the circular was not issued before the dealers had made their contracts, the dealers were not able to supply. One source of satisfaction, however, was found in the fact that the shipments from points on the L. and N. The railway company have also laid out a rail that 300,000 pounds shall be a minimum weight of wood, no matter what the wood may weigh under this amount. It is said that the weight of the wood is 250 pounds a cord more on all wood shipped by the Huron and Bruce, Manly and Huron, Huron and Mackinac, Denfield and other points, and they claim they cannot get cars to have it shipped to London before the new rate goes into effect.

FANNY MCGARVEY WAS MOVED BY AN IRRESISTIBLE MANIA

Case of Strathroy Woman Discussed by Dr. Clarke, of Toronto Asylum.

The case of Fanny McGarvey, the Strathroy woman who attempted to kill her uncle, Patrick Upton, was brought to the attention of Dr. Clarke, superintendent of the Asylum for the Insane, Toronto, who is an expert on mental diseases.

"Impulsive conception" was the description applied to the case by Dr. Clarke. "This is the term used by Germans in describing the homicidal impulse of this character," said he. "It illustrates the case exactly. The woman is unquestionably insane, and should have been restrained before such a crime was attempted. Yes, I should say if she had been observed by the average person previously the mental disorder could have been detected. Of course, families are prone to avoid incriminating their members as long as no act of violence is committed. They are always in the hope that the cases will prove temporary, or at least harmless."

ACTION SOMETIMES RESTORES MIND
There are numerous cases on record where persons, apparently sane for years, suddenly develop the homicidal tendency to a violent degree, and as suddenly recover their normal faculties forever after.

SAFE-CRACKING SUSPECTS ARE ARRESTED NEAR NAPIER

Two Men in the Toils Who Are Believed to Have Had Hand in Fields Robbery.

Two men who have just been arrested near the village of Napier, are believed to have had a hand in the safe-cracking at George Fields' general store on Friday morning last, when $400 in cash was taken.

The men were suspected from the start, but it was not until yesterday that they were arrested. They were taken to St. Thomas, where they are wanted on a charge of stealing a fur coat and $25 in money, as well as a horse. While they are detained in the Railroad City, the Middlesex county police will continue to investigate the Napier affair, and if sufficient evidence can be procured the pair will be placed on their trial here for safe-cracking.

The prisoners were employed as wood-choppers by Mr. Mackie, who lives near Napier, and it is supposed they worked there in order that they could wait for a favorable opportunity to burglarize Fields' store.

One of the prisoners, at least, was present, when the money was paid to Fields at the bank, for he was seen to identify the money as his. They were identified with the militia before that, and they thought they were safe, as they appeared in Napier on Monday.

WEEK OF MANY MEETINGS

Outside Speakers Are To Be at the Y. M. C. A.

The Boys Have a Pleasant Social-Membership Contest.

The week of prayer services at the Y. M. C. A. this week are being held every night for prayer on behalf of the young men of both home and foreign lands. The meeting tonight will be a short one, at 7:30, and will be in charge of Mr. A. S. Hopper, the general secretary, subject, "The Light of Joy."

Thursday night's meeting will be held at 8 o'clock, and will be addressed by C. M. Copeland, of Toronto, on the subject, "Light of Peace." Rev. Calvert Carey will speak on Friday at 8 o'clock, on the subject, "Love for Souls," and on Saturday evening Mr. Copeland will again address the meeting on the subject, "Light of Hope."

These meetings are open to all men who are interested in the saving and helping of young men and boys, and all such are cordially invited.

The first of the monthly socials given to the regular attendants at the boys' meeting at the Y. M. C. A. was held last night. A fairly good number were out. The first part of the evening was spent in playing games, after which supper was served. After supper hymn singing was given.

Among those who spoke were Wemyss Chisholm, Arthur Duncan, Harold Willis, Jack Stewart, T. Stiles and Stewart Hudson. A very enjoyable evening was spent. The social was for the boys whose attendance had been regular at the regular meetings for the month of October. It is proposed to hold these evenings monthly during the winter. The meeting on Friday next will be addressed by Mr. Howard Eaman, on "An All-Round Boy." All boys over 12 are invited.

The literary and entertainment club will meet at the association rooms to-night at 9 o'clock to complete arrangements for the entertainment which they propose to hold in the early part of next year. The club has a strong organization and the outlook for a successful season is very good. The meeting tonight is a general one, and all interested in the work of this club are invited.

The contest for membership and subscription, between the president and the vice-president, creates much enthusiasm among the contestants on both sides. The president is leading now by 24 points.

HOSPITAL SUNDAY

Churches To Be Asked to Set Aside Nov. 29.

The trust of Victoria Hospital decided at its meeting yesterday afternoon to ask the churches to make the last Sunday in November "Hospital Sunday," in the matter of special collections.

The meeting was held in the mayor's office, there being present Chairman Labatt, and Trustees Purdon and McLeod, Mayor Beck and Superintendent Heard.

The superintendent's report showed 178 patients admitted during the past month, 49 males, 59 females and 70 children. There were discharged 47 males, 56 females and 71 children, or a total of 174. The number being treated yesterday was 120. During the month, there were 5 births, 13 deaths and 28 operations.

The accounts passed included one of $219.84 for milk. This was considered heavy for one month, but the explanation was the required increase in the diet for the scarlet fever patients.

The matter of selling the dynamo at the hospital, which are not now in use, was broached, and it will be left in the hands of the mayor.

AN IRRESISTIBLE IMPULSE.

It is not unusually the case to have lunatics exhibit this homicidal tendency but once in their life. In Canada they are kept under restraint ever afterwards, however, for once having taken human life while under this irresistible influence, it is never safe to give them liberty thereafter. To all intents and purposes they remain perfectly rational the remainder of their days in the asylum. They usually remember distinctly the impulse that caused them to slay, but were wholly unable to resist the desire. There is nothing unusual in the aspects of this case. It is merely the manifestation of a homicidal tendency, probably long concealed.

The London Presbytery Mission Bodies On Increase—Over-Organization in Churches.

OMEN workers in the cause of missions assembled at St. Andrew's Church yesterday afternoon. They were from all parts of the London Presbytery, representing the various auxiliaries and mission bands connected with the various churches, and they were in session to hear the reports of the year's work and elect officers for the ensuing twelve months.

The opening exercises were followed by an address of welcome by Mrs. (Rev.) Johnston, who spoke of the fact that five years had elapsed since the Presbytery met in St. Andrew's. Mrs. G. McLachlan, of Glenora, replied on behalf of the delegates.

NEW AUXILIARIES AND BANDS.

The president's address was given by Mrs. Tait, of St. Thomas. A number of reports were received from the heads of the various departments. That of the corresponding secretary covered the work done during the year, not including the finances. The number of auxiliaries in the district was 40, an increase of 2. These have been established at Newbury and Wardsville. There were 19 mission bands, and this also was more than last year, the churches at Westminster and Appleton being represented. The total membership of the mission bands and auxiliaries was 1,525, which was 50 in advance of last year. Another department in which the same condition of steady growth was reported was in the organization paper, the circulation of which had risen from 945 to 1,008. It is called the Missionary Tidings.

The annual statement presented by the treasurer, Mrs. Andrew Thomson, of this city, contained the information that the total receipts were $2,382.35, an increase over last year of $29.54. All the missions in the district had contributed their share towards the revenue, besides the auxiliaries.

Several recommendations approved by the executive committee were discussed. One of these related to the decrease in attendance at the annual provincial meetings. No action was taken.

It was decided that in accordance with the changes that had taken place it would be necessary to revise the constitution, and a committee was elected to attend to the work.

NEW INTEREST NECESSARY.

For probably the last time in the history of the association, Dr. Johnston gave an address at the evening session on the need of new inspiration among the members of the organization. A new keynote would have to be struck, he said, and a new interest created, besides fostering the old one. Some said that things in connection with the church should never become commonplace, but as the truths became known it was natural that they should become ordinary. There seemed to be a declining interest in the meetings, although the reports showed that good work was being done. A motive of work was needed by all. The challenge of the heathen world should not be left unanswered. A motive that was the only good one could be obtained by a true heart attitude to God, and no other would inspire us to the evangelization of the world. People might become stirred up, but the present motive was in the heart-attitude of one towards God. The speaker called attention to the example that had been set by the Jesuits and monks of the early history of Canada, who had left homes of refinement to come out and labor for the Lord among people, diseased in both body and soul. That was the true spirit in which work should be done.

A DRAWBACK TO WORK.

"The Proper Use of Pronouns" was the subject of the address given by Rev. W. A. J. Martin, of Brantford. He said that he considered one of the greatest drawbacks to good work in any church organization was the unwillingness of the people to enter into partnership with themselves and with the Lord. The words "you" and "your" were used too often, where it should have been "we," "us" and "ours." The work, in spite of the fact that many things were to be found that filled the workers with courage, went on haltingly. When it was considered that with the Lord, the work of 2 per cent of the people of the world were avowed followers of Christ, it could be seen that there was a deficiency existing somewhere. Was the power of man growing less? It did not seem so, when the greatest accomplishments in the history of the world were being achieved now. The love of the Lord Jesus Christ had not decreased, but had deepened, if such a thing could be conceived with the Lord. The love of God, and nothing could stand against his power, where was it? It was not in the lack of organization. There was too much organization, if anything, in the churches today. There was something in the lack of numbers, but this was by no means the whole of it. The might say that the influential men of the country did not take a great enough interest in church work. This was not what was wanted. It was the failure of the people of the church to recognize the partnership existing between them and God. It was the failure of the people of the church to recognize the partnership existing between them and God. It was the failure of the people of the church to recognize the partnership existing between them and God. It was the failure of the people of the church to recognize the partnership existing between them and God.

MRS. WEEKES IS TREASURER

Succeeds the Late Mrs. Darch in the W. C. T. U.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon in Somerset Hall, several matters of interest being dealt with.

A number of officers were elected. Mrs. Weekes was chosen for treasurer, to succeed the late Mrs. Darch, of whom many kind things were said.

Mesdames Thornley, Gregston and Wright were elected honorary presidents, and Mesdames Rollins and Hamilton were nominated as new members.

It was decided to have the secretary write the Attorney-General of Ontario to know why the bill of the impostors who had skipped the country after the referendum vote, had not been estranged.

At the conclusion of the meeting a memorial service for the late Mrs. Darch was held.
