CONFLICT IN MO TIEN PASS; RUSSIAN ONSLAUGHT REPULSED

Kuroki Reports Desperate Sunday Battle, in Which Two Divisions Were Defeated and Pursued.

PORT ARTHUR SQUADRON REPORTED AT SEA AGAIN

Tokio, July 18. — General Kuroki reports that two divisions of the Russian army made a desperate assault on Maoi Tein Pass at dawn on July 17, but were repulsed. Casualties were not stated.

Tokio, July 18. — At 3 o'clock on Sunday morning a heavy fog veiling their movements, two divisions of Russians commanded by Lieut.-Gen. Keller, made an assault on the Japanese position at Mo Tien Pass, and in its vicinity. General Kuroki adds the Japanese resisted stubbornly and repulsed the Russians and pursued them for a considerable distance westward.

Kuroki in his report praises the valor of his men.

St. Petersburg, July 16.—Reliable reports from Ta Tche Kiao this afternoon brought the startling announcement of the presence of Russian warships off Kai Chou, which they are said to be bombarding, and of the arrival of Japanese transports and torpedo boats off the Port of New Chwang. The admiralty was unable to confirm or deny either report, not having received any communication from Admiral Withoft, but the official generals were not inclined to credit the reports. If true, it would mean that Admiral Withoft has got the Japanese transports at his mercy. In this case Admiral Togo would hasten to their rescue and engage the Russians. This may also explain the absence of positive news of the Japanese occupation of the Port of New Chwang, and the cautious advance of General Oku's column. The foreign office has received a telegram from the Russian consul, M. Gresse, at New Chwang, dated July 14, but he did not mention the approach of the Japanese.

30,000 More Landed.

Berlin, July 16.—The Lokal Anzeiger today prints a special dispatch from Port Arthur stating that the Japanese since July 11, have landed about 30,000 men near Pigeon Bay under the protection of the entire fleet. The Russians, the dispatch says, offered little resistance. A general assault is expected soon. A calm sea has facilitated the landing.

Is Togo Dead?

Che Foo, July 16. — The Chicago Daily News' correspondent with Kuroki's army, in a dispatch sent by a Chinese junk from An Tung, says: "There is a persistent rumor here that Admiral Togo is dead. Many of the Japanese profess to believe it. A severe outbreak of cholera is reported. The bodies of the soldiers who die of the disease are being cremated."

Ready to Fly

Tien Tsin, July 18. — The steamer Fuping, just arrived here from New Chwang, reports that on July 16, the Japanese army was within 15 miles of that city. The officers of the Russian gunboat Siyoutch have saddled horses alongside, ready to take their escape upon the appearance of the Japanese.

Ordered Britisher Off.

St. Petersburg, Monday, July 18, 4:25 a.m. — News from the front, both official and unofficial is remarkably scant. Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff's report, which brings the situation up to July 15, does not mention the occupation of Yin Kow, but speaks of the Russians driving out the Japanese from the coast town of Huanti Chan, between Yin Kow and Kai Chou. On the other hand, according to General Sakharoff, the advance to Ta Tche Kiao is continuing leisurely. The Japanese advance party is apparently retiring to the southeastward, while strong parties are entrenching between Fen Shui and Mo Tien Passes.

A special from Liao Yang, the date of which is doubtful, though seemingly about contemporary with Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff's report, says: "A British gunboat appeared off Yin Kow July 15. The commander wanted to enter the port to guard the interests of the British residents, in view of the probability that the town may shortly be occupied by the Japanese. The commander of the Russian gunboat Sivouch hoisted a battle flag, went out and requested the British vessel to draw off, which it did. It is reported the gunboat returned later with two vessels. All three put to sea that night."

No Contraband Aboard.

Tien Tsin, July 18. — The Japanese have taken the steamer Haiping, recently captured, to Sasebo to await the action of the naval prize court. The captain of the Haiping has informed her owners that there is nothing of a contraband character on board, and the reason for her seizure is unknown.

It Wasn't a Victory.

St. Petersburg, July 18. — Lieut.-General Sakharoff in view of the Japanese official version of the fighting at Kai Chou has sent in another report reiterating that only one Russian battalion entered into a serious conflict with the Japanese, who had four divisions. He denies that it was a Japanese victory, the Russians having previously determined to withdraw their rear guard detachment to other positions.

Situation Unchanged.

London, July 18.—The morning papers have dispatches from correspondents at Gen. Kuroki's headquarters which bring the situation in the far east up to July 16. All of the writers agree in saying that the situation is unchanged, but that the armies always are in touch, the Russians are being strongly reinforced and that a battle may be expected any day. Slight skirmishes are reported to have taken place on July 15.

Don't Fear Baltic Fleet.

New York, July 18. — A dispatch to the Times from its Tokio correspondent says that a leading Japanese journal declares the advent of the Baltic fleet will be welcomed by Japan, as Port Arthur will certainly fall before its arrival, and the fleet will therefore

GOVERNMENT HAS CONTRACTED FOR AMMUNITION FACTORIES

One of Them To Be Placed at Ottawa Almost Immediately.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Ont., July 18. — Sir Frederick Borden has about concluded a contract with the Armstrong-Whitworth firm in England, to erect in Ottawa an ammunition factory, which will be capable of turning out ten million rounds of ammunition per year. Working night and day, the factory will be capable of turning out twenty million rounds. It is understood that the company also agrees to erect factories of small capacity in Manitoba and British Columbia whenever required to do so by the Canadian authorities. The Minister of Militia has also arranged that the factory shall manufacture its own supply of cordite.

At present all the cordite used in Canada is brought from England. If trouble arose it might be difficult to get a supply from the motherland, and therefore the precaution to provide it here is a wise one. The output in the Quebec factory, working day and night, is 24,000,000 rounds, which added to the output which is to be made in Ottawa, will make 44,000,000 rounds per year. In 1896 the output was 1,200,000 rounds.

The G. T. P. Bill

At 4:30 this afternoon Deputy Governor Justice Sedgwick, of the supreme court, will give assent to the national transcontinental railway bill and to a partial supply bill. Mr. E F. Clark asked in the House today about the rumored purchase of the Canada Atlantic Railway. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said there had been no negotiations of any kind. They have been approached, but would not consider the question at present.

DOUBLE-HEARTED BOY

Strange Anatomical Freak Discovery by Italian Meds.

Paris, July 18.—The medical world here and in Italy is very much interested in the case of Guiseppe de Maggio, a young Italian who has been discovered to possess two hearts, one normal on the right side, and another deformed and inactive on the left.

He has, furthermore, two more ribs than ordinary mortals. He is perfectly healthy and has served his military term in an infantry regiment.

The Medical Institute of this city wanted to buy his body after his death, but found that he had already sold it to the proprietor of an American anatomical museum for $8,000, of which amount he has already received $4,000 on account, and will receive the remainder on his 45th birthday, unless he should die before, in which case the money is to be paid to his relatives immediately.

The Loomis Mystery.

London, July 18. — With the inquest at Kingsbridge, Devonshire, today, on the body of F. Kent Loomis, which was found Saturday morning at Warren Point, about 15 miles from Plymouth, a doctor testified that he believed the wound behind the ear was received before death.

GRAND DUKE BORIS

May Be Banished From Court, Owing to His Many Escapades.

Paris, July 18. — Private advices received here say that Grand Duke Boris' attack upon Gen. Kuropatkin was the culmination of a long series of escapades which have resulted in his disgrace, and which may, probably will, lead to his severe punishment. Banishment from court is certain to be pronounced against him, and it may be that he will lose his military rank and be compelled to undergo what will practically be imprisonment on one of his father's estates.

Boris' escapades in America during his recent visit deeply incensed the Czar, and it was with difficulty his majesty was induced to grant him permission to go to the front.

Since his arrival in Manchuria one disgraceful episode after another has followed. He has been insubordinate to a degree which has demoralized the younger officers of the swell regiments.

A World's Record.

New York, July 18. — John Flanagan, of the Greater New York A. A. C., the American champion in throwing the 56-pound weight, has made a new world's record in hurling the missile with "unlimited run and follow." His distance was 40 feet 2 inches, or 21 inches better than the old record.

A BERLIN SUICIDE

Young Lady After Lovers' Quarrel Takes Poison.

Berlin, Ont., July 18. — Lucena Militizer, aged about 23, committed suicide here last night by taking paris green at the home of her sister on Frederick street. It is thought that she had a quarrel with her lover, as immediately after he left her last night she went to her room and took paris green, lingering in dreadful agony till about 5 o'clock this morning, when she died. Miss Militizer's father, Ferdinand Militizer, is a respectable farmer of Lexington, near Berlin. The girl was employed in the rubber factory and was highly spoken of.

DROPPED DEAD AT ALTAR

Dramatic Death of the Head of the Passionists.

New York, July 18. — Very Rev. Stephen Kealy, provincial of the Passion Order in the United States, dropped dead yesterday while celebrating mass in the monastery at West Hoboken, N. J. He was stricken with apoplexy, and fell on the altar steps, dying almost immediately. He preached yesterday from the text "Render an Account of Thy Stewardship." Father Kealy was born in Ireland, Sept. 22, 1848, and celebrated the silver jubilee of his ordination a year ago. He was elected to the head of the Passionists Aug. 2, 1899, and was re-elected two years ago.

Burned A Hospital.

Paris, July 16. — Firemen set fire this week to the contagious diseases hospital at Aubervilliers, near Paris, this method of destruction being thought best, as the establishment, which was built of wood in 1884, had become insalubrious. The project was kept secret from the inhabitants in the vicinity, who, when the fire started, were thoroughly frightened. The wind changed during the progress of the fire and threatened a lumber warehouse 200 yards distant, and the flames only with great difficulty were kept within bounds.

REAL THING AT ARMY MANEUVERS

Cavalry Troop Enraged at Umpires Charges and Slashes Infantry.

Tacoma, Wash., July 18. — During the United States army maneuvers at Steilacoom after Troop E, Ninth Cavalry (colored), had been ruled out of action by the umpires, they charged on the Washington troops and Nineteenth Infantry Regiment on their front, and with drawn sabres slashed right and left among the infantry, creating a reign of terror for a few moments. During the melee three members of the Second Washington Regiment, and one regular were seriously injured. The victims of the charge were only slightly cut.

PACKERS ARE KILLING

Operations Resumed in the Stockyards at Chicago.

Chicago, July 18. — Both sides are preparing for the test of strength which will come this week in the strike of the packing house employes. To the men taken on in the last five days the packers expect to add many thousands. Workers who have been hired, it is claimed, are now on the way to the different plants from all corners of the country. Office employes and heads of departments have been called into the killing room to help and teach the recruits.

The packers already are equipping their plants in western centers with full crews of men. Within a week the plants at Kansas City, Omaha and East St. Louis will be turning out trainloads of supplies according to a positive declaration made by one of the packers.

Armour & Co., Morris & Co., Swift & Co and Schwatschild & Sulzberger today renewed killing operations on a much larger scale than during the first week of the strike.

USED PISTOL TO WAKE BOY

Didn't Think It Was Loaded, But It Was.

New York, July 17. — Thinking he could make his brother George, aged 12, get out of bed by putting a revolver to the sleeping boy's head, Charles Holland, 16 years old, of 129 Ainslie street, Williamsburg, yesterday morning tried his scheme with disastrous results.

"Now get up, or I'll shoot," he cried to the sleeping boy.

Instantly there was a report. The boy was shot. He sat up with a scream. His mother and the other members of the family ran into the room.

Dr. Somenfeld, from St. Catherine's Hospital, found that the bridge of the boy's nose had been completely carried away. He said the boy had narrowly escaped death. He was taken to the hospital.

Charles was nearly crazed after he had fired the shot. He said he found the revolver lying on the bureau, and after trying in vain to arouse his brother by shaking him, he thought he would scare him with the revolver, which he did not know was loaded. He was not arrested.

Circus Man Killed.

Kingston, Ont., July 18.—A canvas man in the employ of Forepaugh & Sells fell off the train going east on Sunday near Kingston, and was killed. The man was evidently asleep when the accident happened.

Bald Head as Billboard.

Paris, July 18. — An individual with a bald head on which an advertisement was painted created scenes of a mildly sensational kind by sitting down in the cafe terraces in the afternoon and ordering bock, placing his hat on a chair, while he unconcernedly mopped his brow. As soon as a crowd collected he replaced his hat on his head and went to another cafe to repeat the trick.

THE THUNDERER ON DUNDONALD

Times Says He Might Have Shown Better Taste.

QUESTION RAISED SERIOUS ONE

Declares the Lack of Zeal Charged to Laurier and His Ministers Is Unfounded.

London, July 18.—The Times, referring to Lord Dundonald's speech to Toronto, says it might have been better taste if he refrained from repeating to popular audiences his grave indictment against the Canadian Ministry. His searchlight is of a very startling character, and the charge of indifference is almost as grave a charge as it is possible for a soldier who has been responsible for the defense of the country to bring against a constitutional government. We are sure that the charge is unfounded so far as it imputes to Premier Laurier and his colleagues as a body any lack of zeal for the safety of the Dominion. On the other hand, Lord Dundonald's allegations create the impression that the militia has not been administered in some respects with a single eye to its efficiency. Lord Dundonald has appealed to Caesar, well knowing the personal penalty he will have to pay. From ministers and party politicians to public opinion and the electorate is an appeal admittedly irregular, but it will be heard, we imagine, and Dundonald's merits determined by the tribunal where Dundonald has taken it. The decision will be awaited in Great Britain with keen interest as well as in Canada, for the issue is nothing less than the efficiency or inefficiency of the national defenses of our greatest colony, and the fitness or unfitness of her present ministers to provide them.

BANDITS DICTATE TO MOROCCO GOV'T.

Tribesmen Pillaging, Looting and Killing Within a Few Miles of Tangier.

New York, July 18. — A dispatch from the Times correspondent at Tangier says that at the demand of the tribesmen Moorish officials ceased work on the additions to the custom houses. The tribesmen threatened the officials with punishment if the work were not stopped. The alterations necessitated the removal of an old and useless battery.

The Moorish Government grants every demand of these unruly mountain tribes, who now seem the dominating power in Morocco.

Mountain tribes are busily engaged in looting villages on the plains, two hours distant from Tangier. The Government has neither men nor energy to try to render assistance.

Firing and pillaging were proceeding all yesterday afternoon. Large herds of cattle and sheep were looted and some people were killed.

KILLED AT BURLINGTON

A G. T. R. Way Freight Conductor Crushed to Death.

Burlington, Ont., July 18. — A fatal accident occurred at the junction here this morning about 9 o'clock, the victim being George Worrell, of Hamilton. A way-freight train was being shunted and it is supposed that Worrell was getting off the top of the train when he fell under the wheels, which passed over him just above the abdomen. Death was instantaneous. The coroner and the friends of deceased were at once notified. Worrell is said to leave a widow and four small children.

The C. P. R. Ordered to Install Them at Two Crossings.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

RAISED TREASURE SHIP

$400,000 in Ingots Taken From Spanish Galleon.

New York, July 17. — The Herald says: It is reported from Madrid that the English company which, under a concession from the Government of Spain, is raising the Spanish galleons that went down in the engagement between the combined English and Dutch fleet and the Spanish fleet, in Vigo Bay in October, 1702, has raised the Santa Cruz, and that on board the wreck were found silver ingots valued at 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 pesetas—that is, $300,000 to $400,000. It is 79 years since the first serious attempt to reach this submarine wealth was made, and from time to time other efforts were made, all of which proved abortive. The only fact established was that at the bottom of the harbor of Vigo were the wrecks of eleven ships, and that on one of them at least there was silver in the form of ingots.

DROWNED BATHING

Fatal Swimming Accidents at Hamilton, Paisley and Toronto.

Hamilton, Ont., July 18.—Leon Loosely, a boy aged 16, whose home is on Victoria avenue north, was drowned while bathing in the bay near the high level bridge Saturday afternoon.

Paisley, Ont., July 16.—In the Saugeen River here Saturday evening the 19-year-old son of Christopher Parker, of Greenock Township, was drowned. He was in bathing with two other young men, and was a good swimmer, but it is supposed he took cramps. His companions got hold of him, but found it impossible to maintain their hold. The body has not yet been found.

Toronto, Ont., July 18.—Albert Pointee Smith, a clerk in T. Eaton & Co.'s store, was drowned while bathing in the Humber Saturday. He was hanging to the stern of a boat which some others were rowing, and being suddenly seized with a cramp, sank before his companions could aid him. He was 22 years old, came from Ireland three years ago, and resided with his widowed mother here.

SNUBBED THE WAR COMMISSION

Curt Treatment Meted Out by Officials—Voluntary System Breaks Down.

London, July 18.—Lord Newton made a startling onslaught on the volunteer system in calling attention, in the House of Lords last week, to the recent report of the royal commission on the militia and volunteers.

He declared on the outset that the commision had been snubbed. They went to the War Office for information and were given facts which eventually proved to be fiction. They went to the Admiralty and were met with a point-blank refusal. They went to the Defense Committee and were told to mind their own business.

"The report of the commission makes it clear," Lord Newton continued, "that the voluntary system has broken down."

"The Government has done nothing but appeal to the patriotic impulse of the individual, and the result is that only one able-bodied man in nine discharges any kind of duty in defense of his country.

"The patriotism of many people consists in singing songs about 'Absent-minded beggars' and 'Soldiers of the King,' without any idea of becoming one.

"The fact is the volunteer system has broken down under the intolerable strain of a week's campaign once in two years.

"After reading the report," said Lord Newton, in conclusion, "I fail to see how compulsory service, in some form or other, is to be avoided."

Lord Raglan gave general support to Lord Newton, and added that among volunteers there was no such a thing as discipline, as soldiers understood the term.

"As soon as they are asked to do something they do not care about they refuse to do it. They are absolutely incapable of performing the task for which they are maintained."

HIS BACK TO THE WALL

London Thinks Balfour Must Soon Go to the Country.

London, July 18. — While London, outside Westminster, is all sunshine and gaiety, the winter of discontent and thunder clouds hang over the devoted heads of the Government inside the walls of Parliament. All last week the air of St. Stephen's has been electrict, and intense excitement has prevailed on both sides of the House. Mr. Balfour is fighting with his back to the wall, and there is every day a growing conviction that he must soon wash his hands of a thankless and impossible task. The time is rotten ripe for an appeal to the country, and the rank and file of Ministerialists, as well as the Opposition, are sick of the hopeless and fruitless attempts to carry it on.

A Shipwrecked Crew.

New York, July 18. — Capt. Brewis and 23 men of the crew of the British steamer Aldborough, which went ashore at Fortune Island July 6, and became a total loss, were brought here today on the steamer Altai from the West Indies.

The Aldborough left Baiquirie, Cuba, July 5, for Baltimore, with a cargo of 3,000 tons of iron ore.

Charged With Assault

Toronto, July 18.—William Gordon, an Englishman, who was cashier in the restaurant of the King Edward Hotel, was committed for trial on a charge of criminally assaulting his housemaid, Ethel Berry.

Looking for Sunshine.

Windsor, Ont., July 18.—Sunshine is all that is needed now to make a success of the Windsor driving meet, which opens tomorrow. Over 120 good horses are now in the stables at the course, nearly 75 having crossed the river yesterday. The stables that have been at Columbus the past week arrived yesterday, and others from the east and south are expected today.

GERMANY "CALLS" THE CZAR FOR SEIZURES IN RED SEA

Kaiser's Government Has Demanded the Immediate Return of Mail Sacks Taken From Liner.

THIRD WARSHIP PERMITTED TO PASS DARDANELLES

Berlin, July 18. — The German Government has taken a prompt and firm stand in regard to the seizure of the mails of the North German Lloyd steamer Prinz Heinrich by the Russian volunteer fleet steamer Smolensk July 15, having entered a protest against the carrying off of the mails and asking for a disavowal of the Smolensk's action and the return of the captured mail sacks. The German Government, the foreign office says, recognizes the right to search the mails when on board the vessel itself, but it claims the Smolensk had no right to take off mails in bulk from the vessel. The argument is advanced that the right can only be exercised by a warship, whereas the Smolensk passed the Dardanelles only recently flying the Russian commercial flag and not assuming the character of a warship. The German Government has not taken a positive stand on this last point, but leaves the question for future discussion and settlement. No answer has yet been received from Russia.

The recent publication by the "Russ" of St. Petersburg of a statement that Great Britain is about to transfer Wei Hai Wei to Germany in exchange for a free hand in the Yang Tse Valley is scouted at the foreign office, where it is classed as a revivial of an old story and as having no foundation.

St. Petersburg, July 18.—General public satisfaction is manifested over the decision of the admiralty to patrol the Red Sea for the purpose of intercepting contraband of war destined for Japan. As yet, however, the papers do not discuss the subject.

Copies of supplementary regulations for the Government of foreign news paper correspondents at the front, dated at Mukden, July 10, have arrived here. They require correspondents to pledge themselves when give leave to proceed to certain points to travel only by the route indicated; in no circumstance to absent themselves from the regiment divisions or corps to which they may be attached; in case of their expulsion to travel by the route indicated to European Russia and not to attempt to leave Manchuria except through European Russia.

The British Protest.

London, July 18. — Earl Percy, under secretary for foreign affairs, in the House of Commons today, asked Gen. Laurie, Conservative and Unionist, to postpone a question which he proposed to ask about the doings of the Russian volunteer fleet steamer St. Petersburg in the Red Sea, until Thursday. Earl Percy said the question, which, among other things, asked if it were in conformity with international law for a vessel to be transformed on the high seas from a merchant ship to a warship, or whether a ship holding a commission as a warship should be commissioned as such in a port of the nation to which it belongs, was of the utmost importance, and was engaging the earnest attention of the Government. As, however, the Government's information was still incomplete on various points, he was not prepared to answer at present.

With reference to the seizure of the Peninsular and Oriental Company's steamer Malacca, in the Red Sea, by the Russian volunteer fleet steamer St. Petersburg, the owners say the only goods of contraband nature on board, so far as they are aware, were consigned to the British naval dockyard at Hong Kong.

Aden, July 18. — The British steamer Persia was forcibly detained for an hour in the Red Sea by the Russian volunteer fleet steamer Smolensk, which transferred to the Persia a portion of the Japanese mails seized on the North German Lloyd steamer Prinz Heinrich on July 15. The Smolensk confiscated two bags of the Prinz Heinrich mail, destined for Nagasaki.

One By One

London, July 18. — The Constantinople correspondent of the Standard in a dispatch, dated July 17, says: The Russian guardship Chernomoretz passed through the Bosphorus from the Black Sea this morning.

The Chernomoretz is a gun vessel belonging to the Black Sea fleet and carries two eight-inch guns, one six-inch and seven quick-firing and machine guns. She is equipped with two torpedo tubes and carries a crew of 160.

TERRORIZING FINLAND

Russia Arrests Prominent Men Without Explanation.

London, July 18.—Advices from Helsingfors show that during this month three of the most distinguished professors of the university, Homen, a scientist of European reputation; Estlander, a law lecturer, and Baron Wrede, professor of Roman law, a member of the House of Nobles, and one of the most respected men in Finland, were suddenly arrested and deported in manacles to St. Petersburg. Nothing has been heard of them since. The houses of other professors were searched.

It is impossible even to suggest that there is any connection between these arrests and the assassination of Governor-General Bobrikoff. The object seems simply to be to terrorize the Finlanders and to show them that no one is safe from the long arm of Russia.

CARVED UP BY EIGHT MINERS

Shocking Crime as Result of a Drunken Brawl Near Belleville, Ont.

Belleville, July 17. — William Welsh, an engineer at the corundum mines at Craigmont, has succumbed from injuries received last Sunday, when he was set upon by a party of drunken miners and terribly hacked with knives. He was also struck across the head with a hatchet, and it required seventeen stitches to close the wound. In spite of medical attention Welsh died, and eight men are under arrest. They will be charged with murder.

Welsh was literally carved up. The row started while he was acting as engineer on a small launch, which took a party of miners to Combermere last Sunday. On their return, the men were more or less under the influence of liquor, and when Welsh got into an altercation with one of the men, who were new arrivals from Cordova, the rest attacked him. Knives were freely used on his arms, face and head.

Craigmont is owned by the Canadian Corundum Company, and over 300 miners live there. No liquor is allowed to be kept there, and Combermere, six miles distant, is the nearest place where it is sold. Welsh was highly respected, and his fellow workers were so aroused over the matter that only the arrest of his assailants saved them from violence.

UNION MULCTED

Company Secures $12,000 Damages From Miners' Federation.

Victoria, B. C., July 18.—The jury in the case of the Center Star Mine Company, Limited, vs. the Rossland branch of the Western Federation of Miners awarded $12,500 damages to the company on the ground that the Federation had used illegal means in conducting its strike at the company's mine, and had wrought detriment to the company's business to the amount granted as damages.

This case has been dragging along in the law courts for a considerable time, and is the first of the kind tried in this Province.

Mr. Justice Duff was the judge. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, K.C., was counsel for the company. It is probable that the Federation will appeal against the judgment.

DAM BREAKS AND FLOODS VALLEY

Scomdale, Pa., Almost Swept Away by Tremendous Rush of Water.

Scomdale, Pa., July 18. — With the roar of Niagara, the new reservoir of the Citizens' Water Company burst on Saturday night at midnight, and more than 200,000,000 million gallons of water rushed down the valley wrecking buildings in its path. It was discovered about 9 o'clock that the dam was in danger of breaking and messengers were hastily sent through the valley to warn the people of their peril. Hundreds of lives were thus saved, for a few hours later the whole valley was under water. The damage to the machinery and reservoir alone will amount to at least fifty thousand dollars. Buildings were torn from their foundations and carried on the crest of the great wave like so many wash tubs. Crops valued at thousands of dollars were completely wiped out. Bridges were carried away. In the gorge just below the dam huge trees were torn out by the roots and stones weighing tons were overturned by the flood. The new pump and engine, installed on Saturday, below the face of the dam to pump the leakage back into the reservoir, were wrenched from their foundations and buried under the mass of wreckage from the walls.

FELL FROM BALLOON

Aeronaut Meets a Terrible Death at Montreal.

Montreal, July 18. — The body of Jas. A. Bennett, a prominent aeronaut, was found in the St. Lawrence yesterday morning. Bennett made a ballon ascension from Riverside Park Saturday evening. A big celebration was being held at the park for the French national holiday. The fall of the Bastile was one of the principal attractions. The balloon soared gracefully over the St. Lawrence and a favorable wind carried it across the river. As it approached the south shore, near Longueuil, Bennett was seen to fall out of the balloon into the water, while the balloon descended in the village The search for the balloonist proved unavailing until yesterday, when his body was found near the Longueuil shore. Bennett was 35 years of age, and was born in Bristol, England. He had resided here for several years.

Pains in the Back Almost Constantly

NOW ENTHUSIASTIC IN PRAISE OF DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS BECAUSE THEY CURED HIM.

Mr. W. Gilroy, Blenheim, Ont., general merchant, states: "I am rather enthusiastic in the praise of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and believe I have good reason to be. For several years I was a great sufferer from kidney disease and had pains in my back almost constantly. I tried a great many remedies, but did not succeed in obtaining more than slight temporary relief.

"A friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and I did so with great satisfaction. I had not taken half a box before I began to feel better and now realize that I have entirely recovered. I often wonder now why people go after newfangled remedies when this tried and proven medicine is so easily obtained and so certan to cure."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

MOBBED THE UMPIRE

Montreal Fans Objected to Decision and Laid for Sullivan.

Montreal, July 18.—There was trouble at the conclusion of the Montreal-Newark baseball game Saturday afternoon, and for a time things looked exceedingly ugly for Umpire Sullivan. It seems that some of the umpire's rulings were not satisfactory to the Montreal "fans," who thought he was showing too much leniency to the visiting team. As Sullivan was leaving the grounds after the game, a big crowd was in waiting for him, and when he appeared they made a rush for him. One man drew a knife and made a thrust at Sullivan. At this stage, a local detective appeared on the scene, and drawing a revolver, held the crowd at bay. Sullivan was not further molested.

DOWN WENT THE STAND

Many Legs and Arms Broken in an Accident at Ball Game.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 18.—Two hundred people were hurled to the ground yesterday by the collapse of a stand at Brighton Park, a suburb of this city. A ball game between amateur clubs was in progress, and the stand was crowded, when, without warning, the entire crowd was thrown to the ground in a heap. Other spectators and the ball players immediately set to work extricating the people from the wreckage, while calls were sent out for ambulances. When all were extricated it was found that ten persons had sustained broken arms or legs, while a number of others were otherwise bruised and cut. It is claimed the collapse was caused by the removal of some pinning which had been carried off by people for firewood.

BIG PLOT TO ROB FAIR

Huge Ticket Fraud Unearthed at St. Louis Exposition.

St. Louis, July 18. — Four men, employes of the admissions department of the World's Fair, are under arrest at the fair police station, while detectives are at work on what is believed to be a big conspiracy to rob the exposition by ticket irregularities. The second sale of tickets and the circulation of counterfeit tickets are believed to be two of the schemes. The prisoners are William H. Ellis, Charles H. Stiller, Henry Miller and Edward Kiely.

The continued operation of the scheme has been possible, because tickets have been superseded by cash admissions only at the main entrance and the administration entrance. At all the other entrances admission still is by ticket.

The indications are that a sufficient number of the employes of the admissions department have been in the conspiracy to work the scheme effectively, and that the exposition has been cheated of large sums of money.

Norris B. Gregg, chief of the admissions department, and the detectives believe one of the schemes was for ticket-takers to hold out tickets and pass them back to ticket-sellers to be sold over again. In the working out of the scheme the men at the gates are supposed to have had the co-operation of men at the offices of the admissions department.

BROKE SUICIDE COMPACT

Afterwards Repented and Took Another Dose With Success.

Des Moines, July 16.—Arthur Orth, of Davenport, swallowed a fatal dose of poison on Thursday and expired within two hours.

Orth had agreed with Mrs. Minnie Garner, with whom he was infatuated, to commit suicide Tuesday night. They both took a large dose of rat poison, but the poison did not take effect, as readily as desired, and Mrs. Garner swallowed a second dose, urging Orth to do likewise. He declined. She died and he survived.

At the coroner's inquest Orth was sufficiently recovered to go on the witness stand, and was forced to tell the details of his clandestine courtship with his friend's wife. He became despondent over his disgrace and Garner's refusal to permit him to place flowers on the grave of the woman who died for love of him, and caused him to try to end his life.

The liquor license issued in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, in New York City, on May 1, numbered 6,650, and the city's receipts from that source amounted to $7,300,000.

SPENDER CLAY AN EASY DUPE

Fiancee of Pauline Astor Swindled by Nevill.

MIXED UP IN GUARDS' RAGGING

London Society Completely Surprised and Mystified by the Engagement Announcement.

London, July 18. — Pauline Astor's betrothal to Capt. Hugh Spender Clay is the greatest surprise (and mystery) London society has had in 20 years. No one would have credited the announcement had it not been made in her father's own paper—in two lines without any caption, tucked away obscurely and just filling out a column.

Spender Clay first came prominently before the public through his prosecuting Lord William Nevill, who found in him the easiest dupe a swindler ever victimized. London rang with laughter over Spender Clay's ingenuous recital on the witness stand of how Nevill relieved him of thousands upon thousands of pounds on pretexts which a child of average intelligence could have penetrated.

Lord William Nevill was sentenced to penal servitude, from which he was released about eighteen months ago, and Spender Clay resumed service with his regiment, having earned the reputation of a first-class "Juggins."

More recently he came before the public in connection with what is known as the Windsor ragging scandal, in which a lieutenant in the Guards named Gregson was atrociously ill-treated—ducked in a horse trough in the middle of the night, while everything in his rooms was smashed, because he persisted in attending to his work and did not join in the officers' sports.

This, according to the social and military code of ethics, constitutes nothing against Capt. Spender Clay's reputation, but his incredible foolishness in his dealings with Lord William Nevill is another matter.

Miss Astor evidently has the full consent and approval of her father, William Waldorf Astor, in her betrothal, and that is the real source of amazement, for according to the standard in the public mind Spender Clay's only tangible recommendation is his money —he has $100,000 a year—and an Astor needs money least of anything.

His father was a partner in a great brewing firm. After a brief widowhood his mother married her husband's private secretary, Mr. Beresford Melville, who afterward became a Conservative member of Parliament.

According to the jury in the Nevill case, H. Spender Clay was a "victim of misplaced confidence." In other words, he was trusting enough to "buy a pig in a poke."

Lord William Nevill asked Clay, in 1898, to witness his signature to private family documents. Slits were cut in the blank sheet which covered the documents aforesaid, and it was here the guardsman was asked to write his name. Clay demurred, asking to see the document. Nevill told him that it referred to the divorce of his sister, Lady Cowley, whose suit was something of a cause celebre. Then Clay yielded. Through the slits Clay had, in reality, indorsed Nevill's unpaid notes for £11,113.

The suit of Sam Lewis, a notorious money lender, against Spender Clay for the amount precipitated his accusation of Nevill. Lord Nevill was sentenced to five years' penal servitude.

The ragging incident in 1902, while it brought Clay less ridicule, was sufficiently serious to force his resignation from the Second Life Guards. Second Lieutenant C. D. Gregson had become known as a hard worker and the fact that he took his profession seriously and was "undesirable socially," offended his brother officers. On a July night a number of officers of the regiment chased Gregson from his quarters with whips and hunted him through the barracks, using the foulest language. They ducked him in the horse trough till he was half dead, and returning to his quarters wrecked his furniture and destroyed his kit. He spent the night on the bare floor of his room wrapped in an overcoat.

The bride-to-be of this remarkable young man, the only daughter of William Waldorf Astor, the denaturalized American, is dowered not only with money, but with infinite charm. Pauline Astor's mother was the famous American beauty, Mamie Paul, of Philadelphia.

Pauline is a sweet-faced brunette of 24, and has worn perhaps the most magnificent jewelry of any girl in the world. Her necklace of pearls at the Queen's drawing-room in 1899 cost $90,000. The fortune she will inherit is estimated at about $100,000,000.

COAL AND STEEL TRUST

A Toronto Paper Says One Is Being Formed in Canada.

Toronto, July 17.—The World today will say: An aggregation rivaling that of the gigantic United States Steel Trust, is in all probability in process of formation in Canada. From sources which might be considered very close to the inside, it has been learned that the properties of the Dominion Coal Company and Dominion Iron and Steel Company and the Nova Scotia Coal Company are to be united. The process of the formation is to be similar to that adopted in numerous other organizations, and the aggregate will be represented by a holding company with a capitalization of $50,000,000. It is stated that sundry banking institutions are heavily interested in the final outcome of these properties and that the suggestion of a holding company comes from this direction. A basis of value for each separate stock, it is said, has been arrived at, and figures set forth for the valuation of the several stocks are: Nova Scotia Steel common, $65 a share; Dominion Steel common, $10 a share; Dominion coal, $45 a share.

Under such arrangements as these, it is believed that most of the parties in the original flotations will have been squeezed out, and that the holding company, starting with a large working capital and a moderate valuation of the properties involved, has a bright future in prospect. With such a combination to the coal and the steel trade of the Dominion, it is thought, would be large'y in control of this company, and with the prospective legislation in favor of steel manufacturers, the success of the concern is not considered problematical.

The capitalization of the three companies is $62,500,000, but at present market quotations the valuation would not exceed $30,000. With an excess of $20,000 in the holding, sufficient funds would be left on hand to admit of paying off all current floating accounts, and leave a handsome balance to bring to completion the steel plants of the Nova Scotia Steel and the Dominion Steel Companies and fully develop the coal properties of the Dominion Coal and Nova Scotia coal.

GOV.-GENERAL HAS ADVENTURE

Lord Minto While Canoeing Narrowly Escapes Being Upset.

Ottawa, July 18. — Ottawa society is slightly disturbed and more than slightly entertained by the details of an accident which nearly deprived the country and all things terrestrial of his Excellency the Earl of Minto. The details are traveling slowly, and nothis is done to extend their circulation.

It appears, however, that his excellency went canoeing on the Ottawa and Gatineau Rivers, and while paddling in the tricky waters of the latter stream his canoe bumped violently into a log, or was violently bumped into by a log. The impact made a hole in the canoe, and when the rescuers arrived his excellency and companion were shouting loudly for help.

The Gatineau, which runs into the Ottawa from Quebec, opposite Rockliffe Park, is much used for logging, and stray timbers are no strangers in it. His excellency's craft wobbled with the force of the collision and began taking in water. The earl and his companion discovered that they were in a dangerous predicament. The canoe was rapidly filling, and in a few seconds would have gone under, leaving its distinguished occupant and his companion to swim for the shore or drown. Fortunately, however, the accident had attracted the attention of Kenneth Davis, of Ottawa, who with a young lady was also canoeing. Mr. Davis paddled quickly to the side of his excellency's waterlogged craft. He and the young lady with him then took hold of either end of the earl's canoe to steady it, while Lord Minto and his companion, both soaked to the skin, crawled out of it.

The business of rescuing the Governor-General was a delicate and dangerous one, as the slightest bungle would have capsized both canoes and sent both parties into the water. The transfer, however, was effected in safety. Lord Minto and his companion were taken with all speed to the clubhouse of the Ottawa Canoe Club at Rockliffe Park and cared for. Neither of them appears to be any the worse for the experience, but those who know the dangers of canoeing on the Gatineau, say that the chances were very much against the earl at the time of the collision, and very much against his getting without mishap into the Davis canoe.

TELEPHONE 1,000 MILES

nstalling Private Line From New York to Chicago.

New York, July 18. — A private telephone wire 1,000 miles long is being strung along the New York Central system from New York to Chicago. This will be the longest private telephone system in the world. A No. 8 copper wire is used and it will touch every important city on the lines of the New York Central system. It runs from the Grand Central station across the No. th River to Weehawken and follows the tracks of the West Shore to Buffalo. From the last-mentioned point to Chicago it will extend over the Lake Shore route.

The higher officers of the Vanderbilt system believe that the large expense of constructing and maintaining this private telephone line will be more than justified by the convenience and promptness of inter-communication between the eastern and western divisions of the system. It will save a large amount in telegraph and telephone tolls, besides preserving strict privacy in the communications. Railroad managers in this country are bringing the telephone more and more into use in the every day routine of railroading. The Pennsylvania Railroad has a very expensive telephone system, which is being constantly enlarged.

DR. KIPPEN'S FUNERAL

Medical Men of the City Officiate as Pallbearers.

The funeral of the late Dr. Robert Macdonald Kippen took place this afternoon from the residence of his father, 82 Byron avenue, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, and was largely attended. The services at the house were conducted by Rev. J. G. Stuart, pastor of Knox Church. The pallbearers were all physicians of this city. They were Drs. George Clark, David Arnott and Ernest Williams, all of whom were members of the deceased's graduating class; W. J. Tillmann, A. V. Becher and J. J. Mason, who were students of the Medical College at that time. Some beautiful floral wreaths were laid on the bier by friends, and many telegrams of condolence were received by the bereaved family. There were a large number of relatives and friends in attendance from Stratford, Woodstock, Embro, St. Thomas and other places.

Letters to the Advertiser

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Will you allow us space in your valuable paper to make a statement of the facts regarding the trouble between the master and journeymen painters and paperhangers of London, so that the public may know just how this trouble originated. We had five members working in a local shop. There was a non-union man working there also, who refused to join the union. Our men did not take advantage of the situation during the busy season, but waited until work was getting slack, then they interviewed the boss, and finally told him if this man did not quit, they would. The boss told them they might quit (as he had a perfect right to do if he felt disposed). This boss then immediately notified the members of the Master Painters' Association, that the following men had left his employ giving their names. The Painters' Union then passed a resolution that they would not hang any paper that came from that shop until the blacklist placed on these men was recalled and a copy of the resolution was sent to every member of the Master Painters' Association.

A short time after this two of our members, working in different shops, were asked to hang the paper. They, of course, refused, and were at once discharged. In another shop one of our members was asked to hang the paper. He refused and was not discharged. The Painters' Union then called all their members out who were working in the shops where the men were discharged. The union is not asking that any of these men be reinstated, but simply that the blacklist be removed. All we went is British fair play, and a chance to make a living.

THE FLAGGING ENERGIES REVIVED.—Constant application to business is a tax upon the energies, and if there be not relaxation, lassitude and depression are sure to intervene. These come from stomachic troubles. The want of exercise brings on nervous irregularities, and the stomach ceases to assimilate food properly. In this condition Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will be found a recuperative of rare power, restoring the organs to healthful action, dispelling depression and reviving the flagging energies.

By the use of liquefied gases extremely low temperatures, in the neighborhood of 392 degrees Fahrenheit below zero, can easily be obtained.

ORGANIST GOT A BEAUTIFUL CHAIR

Dundas Center Choir Surprises Mr. Geo. D. Atkinson, Who Is Leaving for Toronto.

On Saturday evening last, Mr. G. D. Atkinson, who has resigned his position as choirleader and organist in the Dundas Center Methodist Church, to resume a similar position in Wesley Church, Toronto, was made the recipient of a handsome Morris chair in Flemish quartered oak and leather, by the members of his choir. Accompanying the present was the following address:

Mr. G. D. Atkinson:

Dear Sir—As you are about to sever the pleasant relations which have existed between us for some time, we desire to express in some measure our appreciation of your many genial and kindly good qualities.

Your ability as organist and choirmaster is generally known and conceded, but it is your affability and good fellowship that impress us most favorably, and which endears you to the whole choir. We sincerely regret your departure from the city, and hope that prosperity and much happiness may be yours in your future career, wherever your lot may be cast. The choir members ask you to accept this chair as a slight token of their regard and of their appreciation of your earnest efforts and successful work while you have been their leader. (Signed on behalf of the choir) G. B. Kirk, Ethel MacRobert, Violet Winnett, Florence Line.

Very general regret is expressed at Mr. Atkinson's return to Toronto, for, although he has been here less than a year, by his work as organist and choirmaster, he has fully and in many respects more than sustained the reputation which the Dundas Center Church has long enjoyed in musical circles. He assumes his duties in Toronto on Aug. 6 with the best wishes of his many friends here as well as of those who welcome his return to that city.

A LUCKY LABORER

$5 a Week Man Comes Into Fifty Thousand.

London, July 18. — Only a week ago Henry Dawson was earning $5 a week as a laborer in an oil cake factory in Liverpool. Now he has been carried off by a long-lost sister to America to share $100,000 unexpectedly left them. Dawson, who is a modest, horny-handed, bronze-faced man of about 30, had hardly time to realize the change before he found himself strolling on the first saloon deck of the Aurania bound for New York.

Dawson, when quite young, with his only sister, who lived in Sheffield, became orphans. The sister was adopted by friends, who took her to America, but Dawson decided to shift for himself. He met with indifferent success, and as he had not learned any trade, was compelled to earn a living as a laborer. At last he reached Liverpool, where he rose from a dock laborer to dock porter, afterwards leaving that for the more steady wage of $5 a week at an oil cake factory. Meanwhile his sister, with whom he had not corresponded for years, married a wholesale spirit merchant named Unzicker.

About a year or so ago an unmarried uncle in South America died, leaving $100,000 to be divided between Henry Dawson and his sister. Mrs. Unzicker communicated with friends in England, but all trace of the brother after he left Sheffield years ago was lost. Advertising in papers was of no avail, so Mrs. Unzicker came over to England with her husband, determined to find her lost brother, and at last got on his track. It was not difficult to obtain sufficient evidence of Dawson's identity to be satisfactory to the courts, and so he has sailed to put in an unopposed claim to the money awaiting him.

POODLE HOLDS RECEPTION

Sixty Aristocratic Dogs Attend a Gathering in London.

London, July 18.—In a large, old-fashioned garden in Kensington the Curly Poodle Club one afternoon this week held its first at home. It was Mme. Ducros who lent the garden, but the hostess of the afternoon was Mlle. Olga, a beautiful brown poodle.

Mlle. Olga was helped in the arduous duties of receiving guests by a pair of brown beauties in sweet pea wreaths and ribbons to match. All being assembled sixty dogs were drawn up on the lawn for inspection. There were black poodles, large and imposing gray poodles, brown poodles, and little toy poodles, each adorned with ribbons of the best hue to set off their complexions.

The prizes were awarded not for points, but for general smartness, while Mlle. Olga, seated in a miniature Victoria, received the first prize with aristocratic nonchalance. This over, the dogs hurried to a table set under a willow tree and labeled "poodles' buffet," where cake and milk were disposed of with approval that was apparently unanimous. At 6 o'clock the party dispersed, only a few intimate friends of Mlle Olga remaining for a select game of ball.

have no base, except the icebound port of Vladivostock.

The journal says, however, that it is difficult to see how the fleet can accomplish the voyage without French assistance.

Japan, it is added, while trusting France, fears that the struggle between her duties as a neutral and her loyalty to her ally may produce complications involving an extension of the area of war, which would be most regrettable.

A Valuable Capture.

Tokio, July 18. — The Japanese torpedo destroyer Hayatori has captured a junk conveying mail from Port Arthur to Che Foo. Letters dealing with military and naval conditions at Port Arthur have been seized. Much valuable information was contained in the letters. Those which did not deal with military topics have been forwarded to St. Petersburg.

More Rumors.

St. Petersburg, July 16, 7:06 p.m. — There is a persistent rumor in circulation to the effect that the protected cruiser Noki has joined the Vladivostock squadron. The admiralty has no information on the subject. It is added that it is possible but improbable, in view of the inadvisability of separating the Port Arthur force.

The enemy is continuing the advance. General Mistchenko's force in warm skirmishes south of Kan Chi, discovered a big force of Japanese moving toward Tan Chi and Simaut Chen. The groups of Japanese to the southward remain about stationary.

Outpost Affairs.

St. Petersburg, July 17.—Under date of July 16 Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff reports that the chasseurs are driving the Japanese advance posts southwest of Siakhotan, and east of Kan Chi. The Japanese, the general says, have reoccupied Kechina. They are still fortifying the passes between Fen Shui and Mo Tien. The Japanese near Liao Yang have evacuated Sekeyan and Yanlikan. The country from Siaossyra up to Sihu Pass is free from Japanese, but the pass itself is occupied by a detachment of the Japanese advance guard. General Sakharoff reports several minor encounters with practically no casualties.

Togo's Fleet.

Fusan, Friday, July 15.—(Delayed in transmission). — The steamer Manchuria, which is on a tour of inspection of the theater of war, with members of the Japanese Diet, foreign attaches and press correspondents on board, reached the Japanese naval base July 14. At the time of the Manchuria's arrival, a huge cloud of smoke hung over the land. Rounding the headland the panorama of Admiral Togo's fleet was presented at broad anchorage in the channel, with torpedo scouts outside. The torpedo gunboat Chihayo and the coast defense vessel Heiyen acted as sentries over the roadstead. Under the north end of the island were five cruisers. In the center were all five battleships. Admiral Togo's and Vice-Admiral Dewa's flagships were on the left. The armored cruisers Nisshin, Kasuga and the protected cruisers Hashidate and Itsukushima were on the flank. The gray, powder-stained vessels floated tranquilly, waiting orders, and heavy columns of smoke issued from the forest of funnels belonging to the hospital ships, transports, colliers and torpedo boats.

IS $999,000,000 SUFFICIENT?

Mad Professor Presented Check for That Amount.

New York, July 18.—A million would not do James C. Cloherty at all in his dreams. He needed more. Cloherty is a professor of languages, he says, 51 years old and lives at 178 East Seventy-ninth street.

At noon he entered the Garfield National Bank, Twenty-third street and Sixth avenue, filled in a check and then walked into the office of President Poor.

"Cash that," he said, "That's all I need today."

The check was for $999,000,000.

"Sure," said the president, while a clerk hustled for a policeman. "Going to play the races?"

"No, sir," said Cloherty. "I never gamble, I thought I'd buy Blackwell's Island this afternoon. Incidentally I may get married, too. I've got an offer from Miss Roosevelt; also one from the eldest daughter of the King of Italy. I haven't decided which—"

Policeman Brady induced Cloherty to walk to the West Twentieth street station for his money. Later he was sent to Bellevue.

The Meat Strike.

The present strike in the packing industry is teaching the United States a lesson. Already the prices of beef and pork in the large cities have risen from 3 to 5 cents per pound. The prices of other meats will go up correspondingly if the strike is not soon settled. People will turn to other food products, and the increased demand will make these dearer also. In the villages and towns the pinch may not be felt severely, as meat is walking around in the neighboring farms and pastures; but the great cities get the largest portion of their meat supplies direct from the packing houses. The packers have a perfect system of distribution, and in the hot season, by means of refrigerator cars, keep millions supplied daily with fresh meat. The large cities in this way live almost from hand to mouth. The strike is confined to what is known as the packing combine, but the combine embraces the largest houses in the United States and controls so much of the meat production of the country that it regulates the price of cattle and of meat. It squeezes the farmer and grazier at one end, and the public at the other. The prices of meat have sharply advanced during the past two or three years, but the ranchers of the south and west claim they have not shared the increase. It has been absorbed by the packers as extra profits squeezed out of the consumers. The feeling among the ranchers is so strong that they talk of forming an independent political party, and running a cowboys' candidate for the presidency.

The latest reports indicate that the packers and strikers are further apart than ever. Pending arbitration, the packers agree to take back all the strikers they have room for, but will not discharge the men taken on to fill their places. The strikers insist that they shall be all taken back. As a result of this dispute it is probable that millions will be deprived of one of the necessaries of life for some time, as prices will soar beyond the reach of any but the well-to-do. This is one of the penalties inflicted upon the American people by their fiscal system. It is their own fault that a meat trust has been created to rob them, and now to starve them. The packing combine has grown up behind the shelter of the tariff. If the people want relief they have only to take down the tariff barriers, and let Canada, Argentina and Mexico feed them. The higher prices of meat which prevail in the United States do not benefit the American farmer, but represent the middleman's profit extracted by the packing combine. The people are paying tribute to the Swifts, the Armours and the other millionaire packers, but they have the remedy in their own hands, and if they fail to use it they are not entitled to sympathy.

The Real Issue.

In his Toronto speech, Lord Dundonald said:

"The people have been told that I was trying to dragoon them, endeavoring to override the civil power, acting contrary to the spirit of the constitution, when in truth it was not I but others who were trampling upon the spirit of the constitution, that great Magna Charta whose essential principle is freedom and even-handed justive to all men regardless of political party."

This is a case of much cry over a little wool, as the man said when he sheared the pig. As a piece of rhetoric this portion of Lord Dundonald's address is very fine, but where's the wool? In other words, where's the proof that the Government has trampled on the Magna Charta and the constitution? When Lord Dundonald made his explosive speech at Montreal, he gave the country to understand that political interference with militia appointments was the only reason for his outburst. It was not till he had been dismissed and gave a statement to the press that the public learned that his grievance was of another character. The charges of political meddling with the internal affairs of the militia have simmered down to the case of the cavalry regiment in the Eastern Townships of Quebec. If there is any other case Lord Dundonald has failed to particularize it, unless it is that of Colonel Gregory, of Welland, about which Lord Dundonald was plainly misinformed and for which Colonel Otter, a Conservative, is alone responsible. To talk of the Magna Charta and the constitution under such circumstances is mere claptrap. Lord Dundonald now admits that his charge of partisan interference was only a peg on which to hang his other grievances which consist in the fact that the Government refused to publish and adopt in toto his report for 1902. He says "the main features and recommendations in it so far as proper organization is concerned have been adopted and are now in force in Canada." That is to say, the Minister of Militia adopted so much of the report as he thought proper. If the minister declined to go the full length of the report, it was the minister's business and not Lord Dundonald's. The latter refused to see it in this light; he refused to bow to the discretion and authority of the minister. That is the only question before the country—whether the civil power shall be supreme; whether the commander of the militia, an irresponsible official, should have been allowed to impose his will upon the representatives of the Canadian people. Self-respecting and patriotic Canadians can take only one side. They may agree with Lord Dundonald's views as to the military policy of the country, but they cannot deny the Government's right to control that policy, subject only to public opinion.

Benevolent Uncle Sam.

Referring to the inquiries of the United States as to Great Britain's intentions in Tibet, the Montreal Star said:

"The only object Great Britain could have in annexing Tibet would be to prevent Russia doing so. If Uncle Sam could be induced to guarantee the integrity of all the territories between India and Russia, it would go a great way to promote universal peace, and it would save John Bull a great deal of money."

To which the New York World replies:

"And why should not Uncle Sam render this trifling service to the British cousin? He is a benevolent old gentleman. The Monroe doctrine seems to have been extended over Canada, and that country no longer has anything to fear from foreign aggression. An open-door policy in Manchuria insures the protection of British trade interests there at the expense of the United States. This country is definitely committed to the policy of maintaining the integrity of China, by which Great Britain can enjoy undisturbed possession of her sphere of influence in the Yangtse Valley. The Tibetan note, if it was sent, pledges us to preserve the absorption of Tibet by Russia, and it would only be a trifling extension of responsibility to protect the entire Indian border.

"Thanks to the goodness of our expansionist heart, the United States seems well on the way towards policing all British frontiers and guaranteeing the supremacy of British interests in every quarter of the globe."

The colonial policy of the republic is the most amazing political paradox of modern times. The United States is a republic at home and a despotism abroad. This is not an anomaly in France which was an empire when it became a republic; but the framers of the American constitution never contemplated the acquisition of over-seas territory, and the despotic government of people under the American flag. The constitution, however, is pretty much what the supreme court makes it, and it has gracefully bowed to new conditions. Uncle Sam is now a full-blown Imperialist, subjugating distant lands and races by fire and sword. Although this cannot be reconciled with the principles upon which the republic was founded, in practice it has worked admirably—for Great Britain. The preservation of the integrity of China and the stay of the Russian advance in the far east are due more to American diplomacy than to British diplomacy or Japanese arms. British and American interests in the Orient are so identical that the United States must necessarily play into Great Britain's hands. Secretary Hay has become the diplomatic busybody of the universe, but as he is bringing grist to John Bull's mill, it is no wonder that J. B. has encouraged Uncle Sam in his new imperial role.

The Lost Chord.

[Adelaide Proctor.]

Seated one day at the organ,
I was weary and ill at ease—
And my fingers wandered idly
Over the noisy keys;
I knew not what I was playing,
Or what I was dreaming, when
I struck one chord of music,
Like the sound of a great Amen.

It flooded the crimson twilight
Like the close of an angel's psalm;
And hung on my fevered spirit
With a touch of infinite calm;
It quieted pain and sorrow,
Like one overcoming strife,
It seemed the harmonious echo
Of our discordant life.

It linked all perplexing meanings
Into one perfect peace;
And dwindled away into silence
As if it were loath to cease;
I have sought, but I seek it vainly,
That one lost chord divine,
That came from the soul of the organ,
And entered into mine.

It may be that death's bright angel
Will speak in that chord again;
It may be that only in heaven
I shall hear that grand Amen!

New Use for the Auto.

Mrs. Jonson—I wish I could think of something to keep my husband at home nights.

Mrs. Jonson—He'd be out more than ever then.

Mrs. Smithson—No, indeed. My husband got one last week and the doctor says he won't be out for six weeks.

A Timely Rebuke.

[Weekly Sun.]

The Sun desires to extend its most sincere congratulations to Sir William Mulock on his outspoken denunciation of militarism at the Felding banquet Monday night. A few more such vigorous speeches as that would drown the noisy clamor of monomaniacs, who are seeking to turn our people from the cultivation of the fields to the manning of a line of frontier fortresses.

'Tis candle time; the daylight grayed
To dusk; the tea-table's laid,

Why the Straw Was There.

[Lally Bernard in Toronto Globe.]

Now and then one comes across delicious stories with which some humorous speaker enlivens a club or society dinner. At the "Vagabonds'" dinner the other night Mr. Pett Ridge told the following funny story: "A little girl walking through Grosvenor Square with her mother asked what was the meaning of the straw-strewn road on one side of the square. 'Oh, Lady Z—— had a little daughter sent her last week, dear,' was the reply. The child considered for a moment or two and then remarked, 'She was well packed, mummy!'"

The Echo of a Song.

[J. W. Foley, in New York Times.]

To my fancy idly roaming, comes a picture of the gloaming,
Comes a fragrance from the blossoms of the lilac and the rose;
While the yellow lamplight streaming I am sitting here and dreaming
Of a half-forgotten twilight when a mellow memory flows;
To my listening ears comes winging vagrant notes of woman's singing,
I've a sense of sweet contentment as the sounds are borne along;
'Tis a mother who is tuning her fond heart to love and crooning
To her laddie such a sleepy little creepy little song.

Ah, how well do I remember when by crackling spark and ember
The old-fashioned oaken rocker moved with rhythmic sweep and slow;
With her feet upon the fender, in a cadence low and tender,
Floated forth that slumber anthem of a childhood long ago.
There were goblins in the gloaming, and the half-closed eyes went roaming
Through the twilight for the ghostly shapes of bugaboos along;
Now the sandman's slyly creeping and a tired lad 'gins sleeping,
When she sings to him that sleepy little, creepy little song.

So I'm sitting here and dreaming with the mellow lamplight streaming
Through the vine-embowered window in a yellow filigree,
On the fragrant air come winging vagrant notes of woman's singing,
'Tis the slumber song of childhood that is murmuring to me.
And some subtle fancy creeping lulls my senses half to sleeping
As the misty shapes of bugaboos go dreamily along,
All my sorrows disappearing, as a tired lad I'm hearing
Once again my mother's sleepy little, creepy little song.

Oom Paul.

[New York Post.]

History will unquestionably hold Oom Paul the evil genius of his people, dividing the blood-guilt of the war impartially between him and Mr. Chamberlain. Had either been patient, the commercializing of South Africa might have come about without war. Time was working mightily in favor of compromise and ultimate peace. It was the pathos of Kruger's lot and the great misfortune of his people that he could not see beyond the immediate controversy. A statesman in his place might have disarmed Mr. Chamberlain's arrogance and appeased the irritated Boers. A statesman Kruger never was. Indeed, it would have been idle to expect so much in one whom training had made a shrewd politician, after nature had cut him out for an unbending leader of a chosen people.

QUEEN VISITS DOCKS

Alexandra Given an Insight Into Britain's Commerce.

London, July 18. — Her majesty, who has always had the keenest interest in seeing how London lives, paid a surprise visit, without any ceremony, to some of the business warehouses and the docks, where she saw the workmen at their usual employment, some in the great dock tea warehouses, others in the warehouses where carpets are landed from Turkey and Persia and India, and where skins and feathers are stored she was shown plumage of brilliant tropical birds and of the African ostrich. In other great dock stores she saw silks from India and China, and curios from China and Japan. In one huge warehouse she was shown the acres of ivory that come from the east and was told that 20,000 elephants are slaughtered annually to supply ivory to the London market. These dock warehouses are mostly in the vicinity of the Tower, and are little known to Londoners, and a sight of them, such as the Queen had, is a revelation of the immensity of the wealth and variety of our trade with distant foreign countries.

A FAST CRAFT

Successful Experminent With Double Turbines on the Thames.

London, July 17. — With the rapidly advancing importance of the torpedo boat in naval warfare as shown in the Russo-Japanese war, a British firm of Messrs. Yarrow & Co. has been making experiments with respect to their propulsion.

The outcome of one of these experiments was seen on the Thames last week in the trial of a boat propelled by a new combination of engines. The vessel was fitted with two turbines, on a system designed by Professor Rateau, of Paris, and without a triple expansion reciprocating engine, the idea being that for cruising the reciprocating engine alone is used, and that for high speed all three are used, thus obtaining an economy of coal consumption.

The trial was very successful, 20 miles an hour being developed against the wind, and 24 with it.

FRANCE AND VATICAN

Pope Thinks Republic Will Dissolve Concordat.

Rome, July 18. — From the highest sources it is learned that the Vatican view of the situation between the Holy See and France is as follows: The Pope regards the dissolution of the concordat by France as absolutely certain. The pretext is that the Holy See, before the visit of President Loubet to Rome, called on Bishop Geay, of Laval, to resign. He refused and was summoned to Rome to answer the gravest charges. The bishop appealed to the French Government, which claimed that the Holy See was infringing the concordat, but as the bishop had not been punished, Foreign Minister Delcasse acknowledged that the Vatican was within its rights, while in the concordat itself there is nothing to show that the Vatican was not within its rights.

The Pontiff is firmly decided to proceed with the case of the bishop, who if he is not in Rome on the 28th inst., will be suspended. The bishop was invited by the Pope Leo XIII. to resign and refused to do so, showing the case is one of long-standing. At the Vatican it is absolutely denied that other parties are concerned in the juestion at issue.

LONDON HAS HOT WAVE

But Everybody Sticks to the Frock Coat Just the Same.

London, July 18. — With the mercury climbing up toward 90 degrees Fahrenheit in the shade, and only one slight shower in the course of nearly a week, Londoners have had some shadow of reason for believing that they are suffering from a hot wave. The thermometric records, of course, do not appear remarkable, and the ratio of humidity in the atmosphere is never high here, but the average Cockney is loath to believe it can possibly be hotter anywhere on the earth's surface than it has been lately in his beloved metropolis.

Notwithstanding the heat the Londoner is sticking doggedly to his top hat and black coat. There is something of a reaction against the innovation introduced a few summers ago, when, during an extremely hot spell, straw hats and flannels were worn in the city. Nowadays merchants go into their offices in coolest attire, and there change the conventional garb during the business hours.

Some bold youths have been endeavoring to introduce the habit of going hatless, advocated by a provincial physical culture society, but the plan has not caught on generally. Some American visitors are courageous enough to wear straw hats with their evening clothes and nice and cool they look, but Englishmen will not follow their example.

"A Run on Ice" is the heading that attracts the eye in an evening paper, and one reads that that commodity is at a premium, that almost a thousand tons of ice have been imported into London from Norway each day last week, and the whole supply is seized as soon as it is available. In the ice wells of one company a hundred tons of artificial ice can be manufactured daily. It all melts in mouths of parched Londoners in one form or another. Last week one firm supplied 1,500 tons of ice daily. Ice was worth $2 a per ton.

RUSSIAN HOLD-UP ROUSES POWERS

Seizure of German and British Merchantmen Causes Serious Irritation.

London, July 18. — The Constantinople correspondent of the Standard, in a dispatch, dated July 17, says: "The Russian guardship Chernomoretz passed through the Bosphorus from the Black Sea this morning. The Chernomoretz is a gun vessel belonging to the Black Sea fleet, and carries ten guns.

Almost without exception the newspapers this morning in editorials or otherwise, comment upon the Russian volunteer fleet steamers passing the Dardanelles, and the Government is urged to take action, especially for the protection of British commerce in the Red Sea and neighboring waters. The Daily Telegraph, concluding an outspoken protest, written with traces of Government inspiration, say: "There is a limit to complaisance when neutral commerce under the British flag is molested in a way to which we have been for a century and a half unused." Special dispatches from Berlin echo the feeling of irritation that exists in London.

A dispatch from Aden to the Daily Mail says that the captain of the British steamer Waipara reports that the Russian volunteer fleet steamer St. Petersburg signaled him to stop by firing across the bows of his vessel on July 15, in the Red Sea. The Russians examined the papers of the Waipara and declared that they would hold the ship as a prize. The captain protested, and was taken on board the St. Petersburg, where he gave the Russian officers a guarantee that there were neither arms nor ammunition on board the Waipara destined for Japan. The vessel was detained for four hours, and was then allowed to proceed. The captain confirms the report that the Peninsular and Oriental Company's steamer Malacca was seized in the Red Sea July 16, by the St. Petersburg, on the ground that she carried arms and munitions of war for the Japanese Government.

The Standard's Tokio correspondent, cabling under date of July 17, says the Jiji Shimpo, in an editorial, expresses the hope that Great Britain will see that Turkey lends Russia no assistance by allowing steamers of the volunteer fleet to pass the Dardanelles. The Jiji Shimpo declares that Great Britain is bound, under the terms of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, to prevent such assistance being given.

CZAR AND CONVICT

Consternation at St. Petersburg Over Strange Incident.

New York, July 18. — Writing in the Tribune, the Marquise de Fontenoy says: An extraordinary story is told of what is reported to have occurred the other day just before the Czar left St. Petersburg in order to bid farewell to the reservists of the Volga district, who are departing for the seat of war. It seems that while walking with his little girls in the lovely grounds of his seaside palace of Peterhof, on the Gulf of Finland, one of the gardeners, employed in tieing up a rose bush, suddenly stopped his work, walked toward the Czar, and then, kneeling down a short distace off, held out a petition. With his usual kindness Nicholas went up to the man, asked his name and what he wanted, and was somewhat startled to hear: "I am an escaped convict from Siberia, who implores your majesty's pardon." The Czar summoned one of his officers, who happened at that moment upon the scene, and ordered him to take care of the man and to investigate the story.

The latter proved to be absolutely true. After escaping from Siberia, he had wandered to St. Petersburg, where, relying upon a false passport, he had sought work. Strangely enough he was taken on as a casual laborer at the Peterhof Palace for work in the park, and so great were his industry, his sobriety and his intelligence that ere long he was made a permanent member of the staff of imperial gardeners. The Emperor was so much interested in the man's case that he not only gave orders that he should not be punished, but even that he should be retained in his place, at the same time giving him the pardon for which he craved, not before, however, he had had a long conversation with him, the man's remarks appearing to interest the Czar profoundly.

But the consternation of all the officials may be imagined when they learned that it had been possible, in spite of all the precautions they had adopted to guard the Czar from harm, for an escaped convict from Siberia to secure employment which brought him into daily contact with the monarch and his children.

MOROCCAN SITUATION

Perdicaris Wants Raisuli Given Power to Police Tangier.

Paris, July 18.—Ion Perdicaris has arrived here from Tangier on an important mission which will occupy the next two weeks. He called at the American embassy, lengthily talked with United States Ambassador Porter and also arranged for a meeting with Foreign Minister Delcasse early this week. Mr. Perdicaris intends to strongly urge on the Government officials and parliamentary leaders the necessity for the adoption of a forcible policy towards Morocco, as the only means of averting disaster. Mr. Perdicaris does not intend to claim indemnity, as he considers his case closed, and is now devoting his attention to the broader phases of the serious situation in Morocco. Mr. Perdicaris said: "The situation at Tangier has become desperate. Strong measures are requisite to avoid serious consequences. France's policy of pacific penetration promises to be entirely inadequate to meet the danger. The present plan of sending forty French-Algerian officers to Tangier as a means of stiffening the policy there is likely to bring on the very catastrophe France seeks to avoid. It will excite intense animosity and if the outbreak occurs, these forty officers would be useless to maintain order. If, however, a large force, say 10,000 men, is landed, it would end all turbulence, and give a lasting object lesson of French power. Nothing short of some such action will suffice to meet the situation."

Asked if in his opinion the United States should take further action in Morocco, Mr. Perdicaris said: "If France fulfills her responsibilities well and good; otherwise, I think it will be salutary to have France understand that her failure to protect foreigners may lead the United States and other governments to adopt means for protecting their citizens." Mr. Perdicaris is prepared to propose as an alternative measure, giving Raisuli authority to deal with the situation in and around Tangier. "I know this will excite surprise," said Mr. Perdicaris, "as the public has the idea that Raisuli is a common robber. This is entirely erroneous. I consider Raisuli to be the strongest man now available to deal with the turbulent conditions. While it would be an experiment, yet I am convinced that it would be better to try experiment that to allow the situation to drift into complete anarchy. Raisuli says he can maintain order, and I believe in giving him a trial. This can be done by the foreign representatives joining with France to upholding Raisuli's authority."

You Have Been Sick Perhaps.

You have had fever or pneumonia rheumatism or too much work has resulted in a breakdown. You are uneasy. Your appetite is not as active as you know it ought to be. You keep thin and a sense of feebleness is most distressing, because you know you ought to be at work again, but how are you going to get strength. You must take Ferrozone in this condition.

Ferrozone is the best medicine because sure to make blood. It does this by increasing immensely the appetite and fortifying the stomach to digest food. When you get a good appetite and good digestion it won't be long before you have plenty of blood, and when you get blood—don't you see you can't have lots of blood without having lots of strength. You try Ferrozone and see if you are not strengthened even in one week. In a month you'll be well.

THE DUNDONALD INCIDENT

London Press on the Demonstration at Toronto Last Week.

London, July 18.—The London papers are printing posters with a large heading on Dundonald's Toronto ovation.

The Saturday Review says the British nation at the present time is not an empire in the matter of either defense or commerce. Until the Kings dominions are organically connected for the purposes by an imperial government for defense, the British people can never put their whole force into action. The Dundonald incident and its sequel are an unpleasant reminder of the centrifugal forces working in matters of imperial defense.

Many Russian peasants believe that the Japanese are a race of ugly dwarfs, and that the Cossacks kill them by throwing their caps at them or suffocating them therewith.

MEN REJECTED GOVERNMENT'S AID

Minister Offered Two Proposals to Sidney Strikers.

BUT MEN REFUSED TO ACCEPT

Sir William Mulock Still Willing to Send His Deputy to Arrange for Arbitration.

Ottawa, July 18. — In response to a telegram from Mr. John Moffatt, secretary of the Provincial Workingmen's Association, in which he seems to blame the Government for failing to compel a settlement of the Sydney strike, Sir William Mulock, Minister of Labor, has offered to send the deputy minister to Sydney to try to bring about a better understanding. Sir William also shows how unfounded Mr. Moffatt's statements are in fact.

The correspondence speaks for itself. A telegram from Mr. John Moffatt addressed to Sir William Mulock from Glace Bay, received on Friday, read as follows:

"No action of Government more calculated to intensify feeling and widen breach than placing an armed force on steel plant without adequate cause. Wired you since June 3 to appoint commission. You replied, fostering arbitration through intermediates. Unconditional arbitration was proposed through Steel Company. They refused it. Did Government ask them to arbitrate? What answer did they give?"

To this Sir William Mulock sent the following reply: "Troops were not called out at Sydney at the instance of the Government. The militia law, in force under all governments since the beginning of federation, nearly 40 years ago, provides machinery for the calling out of force in case of threatened disorder. The responsibility for action devolves upon municipal authority and local magistrates, who are charged with the preservation of order, and whom the law considers the best judges of what force is necessary for that purpose. The stipendiary magistrate and two other magistrates of Sydney, acting within their powers, laid down in the act, applied to the commanding officer of the district, who was, under the law, bound to furnish them the desired aid.

"The Government have continuously advised representatives of the company to submit dispute to arbitration, and to an early stage had hopes that this might have been accomplished if assurance had been given that workmen were disposed to accept such a solution. But you positively refused to consider the matter.

"In your telegram of June 3, in reply to my suggestion of arbitration, you said: 'We prefer to be left to settle his dispute ourselves in our own way. Thanks for kind offer.' At a later stage, on July 4, I wired you as follows: 'Arbitration seems to me appropriate procedure, and if men wish it I will gladly propose to the company that method of dealing with the difficulty, and Government will continue to press company to accept arbitration.' I have never received any intimation from you in answer to that telegram that the men desired arbitration.

"In my telegram of yesterday I offered to send the deputy minister of labor to Sydney. You have ignored that offer. In view of these facts, I am unable to understand the complaint now made that the Government have failed to interest themselves in obtaining a settlement. If your men are satisfied to make use of his services, I will at once send the deputy minister of labor to visit Sydney to do what he can to bring about a better understanding."

CARRIED POISON YEARS

Girl Studied Its Effects Carefully Before Suiciding.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 16.—For three years Ida Grace Wilman carried a vial of strychnine with her to head off death from consumption. The young woman bought the poison in Philadelphia, and yesterday, wearied by the unequal struggle against the ravages of the disease, decided to end her life.

The girl had studied the details of methods employed in cases of suicide which had come to her notice during the time she carried the poison. After pouring the contents of the bottle, a half ounce of strychnine, into a glass, she stirred it with water, and sipped a small quantity, only enough to cause almost instant death.

After taking the dose she screamed for help. Persons in the boarding-house ran to her assistance, but it was too late, and she died within a few minutes. Miss Wilman was a pretty blonde, 24 years of age, and had been working for a local firm as a bookkeeper for the last three years.

STRIKE BREAKERS USED THE KNIFE

Serious Rioting in the Streets of Chicago.

POLICE CLASH WITH THE MOBS

Conference Between the Packers and Men to End Tie-Up Proves Fruitless.

Chicago, July 16. — All chance of peace in the packers' strike has vanished for the time being at least. The end of the negotiations came late today, after a conference which had lasted nearly all of the afternoon, between three officials of the strikers and a number of the packers. The final break resulted when the union officials insisted that all the men who had gone out on strike be taken back and given their old places. The packers declared that this would necessitate the discharge of all the men they had employed since the commencement of the strike, and that they could not and would not consider it. The conference then broke up and the strike will continue.

While the packers were preparing to act upon the latest message from the strike leaders a riot was precipitated at West Forty-third street and Ashland avenue by the arrival of omnibusses which carried stenographers to the offices of Swift & Co., Nelson, Morris & Co., and the Armour Packing Company. Three men were injured by the blows from officers' clubs. When the first vehicle was driven up to the sidewalk, where the young women were waiting for it, a strike sympathizer rushed from a saloon and stood directly in the path of the horses. The police commanded the man to move on. A crowd gathered and several policemen detailed at posts near by hastened to the scene, drew their clubs, and charged the crowd, which gave way before them. The leaders retreated into a saloon and made their escape through the rear door. Many of the girls were so frightened that they sought refuge in the saloons which line Ashland avenue at this point, only to be driven out by the threats of men drinking in the places. Most of the young women were found, and went on their way in the omnibusses.

In anticipation of the strike spreading to the other trades, and the possible necessity of housing a large number of men in their plants, the packers caused nearly 5,000 cots and blankets to be taken into the yards today in freight cars and distributed as needed among the various houses. The influx of strike breakers continues. Seventy-five more colored men for Armour & Co., and 100 white for the three plants of the National Packing Company have arrived. These, with the men brought into the plants during the night and early this morning, increases the working force over yesterday's quota by nearly 1,000 men.

Fire engines, hose carts and fire insurance patrols, with a full quota of men, were sent to the yards today to increase the fire protection there. This action, taken at the instance of the Chicago Underwriters' Association, was accepted as indicative of fear on the part of the packers and insurance men that a stage of the strike had been reached where widespread disorder may be expected.

A disturbance was caused early today by a crowd which attempted to prevent a score or more non-union workers from entering the yards. No one was hurt, and only one arrest was made.

Strike-Breakers Attacked.

Chicago, July 17.—In an attack this afternoon on four colored strike-breakers by a mob composed of spectators at an amateur baseball game in the vicinity of the stock yards, two white men, one policeman and the four strike-breakers were severely injured. Revolvers and knives were used, and three of the injured men are in a serious condition.

After finishing their day's work at Schwarzchild & Sulzberger's plant, the four colored strike-breakers, on their way home, had to pass the grounds where an amateur baseball game was in progress. There were fully 1,000 persons watching the game, most all of whom were friends of the strikers. As the four workmen approached the place some one yelled "Scab," and instantly a rush was made for the negroes. Two of the negroes had each a revolver and a knife, and, as the mob started for them, they drew their weapons. Before they could use them, however, they were knocked to the ground. One of the negroes, named Baker, got on his feet and began slashing right and left. Before the knife could be taken away from him, he stabbed Jas. Kielly near the heart, perhaps fatally. Another one of the negroes fired into the crowd, two of the bullets hitting Wm. Durand, one of the attacking party. This opposition of the negroes set the crowd in a frenzy, and had it not been for the police making a quick response to the riot call, some of the strike-breakers would undoubtedly have been killed. Some of the strikers and two of the negroes were placed under arrest.

Soldiers at the Fair.

Toronto, July 18.—H. B. Cowan, superintendent of agricultural societies, today received word from the militia department at Ottawa that four troopers and a sergeant will be permitted to attend a circuit of fall fairs in Western Ontario. The departure is a new one, and the object is principally to instruct. The men will be equipped with horses of the type farmers should raise for military purposes, and expert judges will give addresses on the subject. Incidentally the soldiers will give exhibitions of work in riding, sword using, etc.

A Wingham Case.

Toronto, July 18. — Chief Justice Meredith gave judgment Saturday in the case of Brown vs. Dulmage, tried without a jury at Barrie. This was an action to recover $1,000 paid to defendant upon account of the purchase of a stock of drygoods and other merchandise and shop fixtures contained in a store at Wingham, under a term of the contract, which provided that if, upon stock-taking, the value was found to exceed $7,000, the agreement was not to be binding. There was an excess of only $51. The chief justice found at the trial that the plaintiff had elected not to avail himself of the right to declare the deal off. Action was dismissed with costs, but without prejudice to any action which plaintiff may bring, based upon the alleged wrongful act of defendant in selling the goods, or for and account of the proceeds of the sale which defendant has made.

HOW SCHOLES DEFEATED KELLY

Toronto Man Set a Pace That Told on Himself.

THE CANADIAN'S GREAT SPURT

Three Lengths Behind Shortly After Start, He Soon Rowed Heart Out of His Opponent.

Henley, July 6.—Every Canadian in England is engaged tonight in celebrating after his own fashion the victory of Scholes over Kelly, for the Diamond Sculls today.

It was a great race, remarkable for the display of endurance by the Canadian sculler, and for the complete upset of everybody's expectations, for even the most enthusiastic Canadians looked grave when speaking of Scholes' chances against the holder of the Diamonds. As for English oarsmen, there was only one possible man in the race, and that man was Kelly. Yet Kelly was rowed to a standstill by the Canadian sculler this afternoon, and stopped, beaten and exhausted, before he crossed the line.

I saw him lifted from his scull to an electric launch, and the man was a wreck. He seemed scarcely to realize what was going on about him, and when the crowd raised a cheer for him as he passed, he sat huddled up in the launch, too worn out to acknowledge the shoutings of his friends. As for Scholes, he was undoubtedly tired, but after a rub-down he appeared fresh enough to do it again, and, naturally, he was jubiliant. A striking proof of the difference in the condition of the two men at the finish is furnished by Scholes' sportsmanlike action in rowing back from the finishing point to inquire after his exhausted opponent.

The time, 9 minutes and 11 seconds, was slow, much slower than Scholes has done in practice work. But a strong wind must be taken into account. Otherwise, it is not impossible that a record would have been established, for Kelly set a heartbreaking pace from the outset, and to overtake him the Canadian had to do the spurt of his life.

Sorry for Scholes

A vast crowd had assembled at Henley today for the weather was perfect; and Henley is first and foremost a fashionable gathering. No prettier sight could be imagined than the river alive with craft, the banks swarming with people in bright attire, while the deep green of the hills formed a setting unsurpassed. It was more like the Henley of the old days than has been seen for some years.

With the certainty that Kelly would lead his man home in a sort of procession, people were inclined to lose interest in the contest for the Diamond Sculls. Like Nickalls and Guinness and former champions, Kelly was expected to add to his two consecutive victories by another win. Mr. Guy Nickalls, the one-time famous holder of the Diamonds, expressed regret to a Canadian that Scholes should be up against Kelly. He would like to see Scholes win, he said, but shaking his head, it is impossible. All the leading critics in the leading papers took the same view. Only a few staunch admirers of the Canadian sculler pinned their faith to him, and suggested that if would be better to wait until after the race before saying much.

Canadian Was Coming

Scholes had the Bucks station which was in itself a trifling advantage. It was very apparent that he was nervous at the start, for he got away badly and Kelly jumped to the front. Scholes steadied at once, but his flying opponent rapidly opened a gap between them. The supporters of the English sculler raised a glad cry of rejoicing, and shouted jubilantly that the race was as good as won.

Not by any means; not by twenty lengths; though at Fawley Kelly led by three lengths. The time to that point was four minutes and eleven seconds, which was trying work. Scholes took a look out of the corner of his eye and quickened his stroke a bit. He rested for a few seconds and quickened again. I heard a Cockney shout, "'Old 'ard, look 'ow the Canadian is a-comin'," and we knew that Scholes was overhauling his man. It was a magnificent spurt, perhaps the finest seen in a contest for the Diamonds in many years. It took the heart out of Kelly. The watching crowds on the bank grew almost silent, for the Englishman was a beaten man. Only the cheerful yells of a few Canadians running along the tow-path showed the progress of the race. Yet near the finish, with Scholes a length ahead of his opponent, and the latter going weaker and weaker, a generous outburst of cheering for the Canadian sculler swept along both shores. It nerved him to a final effort, Kelly looked, and stopped exhausted, nearly a score of lengths from the finishing point.

Scholes Wins

"Scholes wins!" was the cry; and it is not exaggerating to say that, though it was an Englishman beaten, the victory was a popular one.

Scholes rowed with better judgment than he has shown yet. Even when it seemed that he was hopelessly beaten he never got short, but, as Tom Sullivan said afterwards, "sculled nice and long all the way." He told the story of the race to me afterwards.

"Kelly went like a comet as far as Fawley," he said. "I took a look and saw him three lengths ahead, and felt rather sick over it. But I remembered you chaps on the shore, and I pulled hard while I counted ten. I could have cheered when I caught his ripple then. He had crossed into my water. I rested a few seconds and let myself out again while I counted ten. Three times I repeated this performance, and then I was up with him—and ahead. One look at his face and I knew I had won. After that it was hard work, but I was not uncertain of the result."

Charlie Smith, a professional trainer, considers the race one of the finest ever sculled for the Diamonds. Tom Sullivan, while rejoicing over the event, was somewhat surprised at Kelly's bad beating, and rather inferior form, but pronounced Scholes' improvement to be marvelous.

"He steered well, used good judgment, and never got short at any stage of the race," he said enthusiastically.

One of the most curious bridges ever built, perhaps unique in the history of the world, was that made by the British troops in 1860. They were marching on Pekin, but found their progress barred by a flooded river of considerable width and depth. A timber party was formed, but found nothing to cut down or borrow suitable for a bridge. At last a huge store of coffins were discovered in the village, and with these the soldiers built their bridge and crossed alive over the receptacles for the dead.

"I LOATHE AMERICA!"

Princess Chimay Says She Is Never Coming Back.

London, July 18. — Princess Chimay is delighted at the interest taken in her latest marital adventure.

She lives alone in a luxurious west end flat, and talks as enthusiastically about her latest love as if it were her first.

A newspaper here having reported that she had wedded a Dutchman named Hoop, she said:

"An imaginary Hoop which resolves himself into a very real Sig. Ricciardi, of Naples, 25 years of age, and about the most divine model of manly beauty an artist could desire to portray. We were married three weeks ago, and are very happy together, being perfectly congenial in every way.

"The romance of Ricciardi beats the Hoop story all hollow. As my husband was the stationermaster at Vesuvius —surely that sounds warmer, and besides it has the advantage of being strictly true."

She further explains the whole situation in the following characteristic note:

"I am not going back to America, which I loathe. I intend to live in the earthly paradise of Italy, my dear husband's country. Como is to be our home. I am sorry not to have a photograph of my husband for you, as he is a perfect specimen—absolutely faultless —of manly beauty.

"People have been kind enough to say that I have some pretensions to that fatal gift, but beside him I am a very unworthy specimen indeed.

"We are very deeply attached to each other, and intend to live a very quiet, peaceful, united life together, being perfectly satisfied with one another's society and desiring no other.

"We were married in June at the Italian consulate. Every day and hour only increased our satisfaction and perfect union, each seeing perfection in the other. In my case my eyes are not prejudiced, for he is perfect.

"My only cloud upon my brow of happiness is poor Janesi Rigo, who is as good as he can be and loved me dearly. He deserved better treatment of me than he got, although I have and always will have a deep, sincere affection for my little Gypsy love of past times, and will never let him come to want.

"My husband, who is as good as he is beautiful, quite approves of my being good to little Janesi, instead of being jealous and narrow-minded as some man are. Even if he did not it would be my only disobedience to my loving husband. But even so I would still be good to poor Janesi if only for my own quiet conscience, because I never wittingly injured any one and never will."

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington today:

New York, July 18—Noon.—There have been no marked features to the stock market during the forenoon session, but the tone has been generally good and higher than Saturday's close, but after fifteen minutes of trading, profit-taking and short selling caused the market to ease off, and a reaction was noticeable in every stock. On the reaction dullness supervened, but before the end of the first hour strength and activity had again developed. The Steel stocks continue strong, also St. Paul, Pennsylvania, Reading, Baltimore and Ohio and Copper. There has been no news of importance, and traders who were waiting for a substantial break are disappointed. Sales to noon were 446,000 shares.

Special wire to H. C. Becher from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington

Chicago, July 18.—Receipts—Wheat, 1 car. Corn, 223 cars; contract, 12. Oats, 127 cars; contract, 9.

Northwest receipts: Minneapolis, 329 cars; last week, 272 cars; last year, 200 cars. Duluth, 30 cars; last week, 29 cars; last year, 23 cars.

Our Liverpool house cables: Wheat very strong, and higher prices expected; shipments very small. The political situation causes an uneasy market.

Liverpool closed 1⅛c to 1¼c higher; corn unchanged to ⅛c higher.

It is rumored at Liverpool that curb selling up to 1½c on wheat started the crowd to buying and caused the last spurt. Local talent covering short wheat caused this spurt.

Winnipeg wires: Ideal growing weather for the past few days in the Canadian Northwest.

LIVERPOOL DAIRY REPORT, WEEK ENDING JULY 8.

Cheese—The firmer feeling which developed with the close of last week has not been maintained, and with the easier cables the market has slightly declined, with some pressure to sell on the part of holders. The demand has been fair, but is not sufficient to clear off present arrivals. We quote today: Finest new Canadians, white and colored, 38s 6d to 40s per cwt; finest new States, white and colored, 37s to 39s; medium grades, white and colored, according to quality, 24s to 33s; fall-made cheese, States and Canadians, irregular in value, from 34s to 42s.

Butter—The market is easier, the demand being moderate, and arrivals of all grades have been in excess of requirements, and goods have to be held over. Quotations are lower, and somewhat irregular. Medium grades of butter are in plentiful supply, but the demand is small. The Copenhagen quotation for next week is cabled unchanged. We report today's values as under: Choicest Canadian creamery, in 56-lb boxes, 82s to 84s per cwt; choicest Danish, in casks, 98s to 102s; choicest Irish creamery, 80s to 88s; choicest Australian and New Zealand, 80s to 86s; choicest Argentine, 80s to 84s; choicest Russian, in Kiel casks, 79s to 83s; secondary grades, Russian and Siberian, 73s to 77s; medium grades, States and Canadian, 65s to 70s.

THE CITY MAY HAVE ANOTHER SUIT FOR DAMAGES TO FIGHT

Ex-Fireman Crawford, Dismissed From the Service, Places His Case in Solicitor's Hands.

The intimate connection between lawsuits and the fire brigade is not as yet ended, and the chances are that another notice of action will be served upon the city within the next few days.

The complainant in this possible action will be ex-Fireman "Jack" Crawford, who was dismissed by Chief Clark on Saturday. Crawford's end came in meteoric fashion. Since the beginning of February he has been off duty, with a badly inflamed eye, due, he declares, to cold he contracted the night of the Sterling fire. Several times the chief has had the eye examined, but the specialist, Dr. Ovens, could not say when Crawford would be better. All this time, the city has been paying Crawford his salary, as well as the salary of his substitute. Matters drifted along, until Friday morning, when, it is alleged, the insurance agent, who represents the company insuring the firemen, informed Chief Clark that the company did not intend to pay Crawford's insurance, as his alleged injuries had not been reported to the company until over a month from the date of occurrence, whereas the policy plainly stated that unless the company was notified within ten days after the injury was inflicted, it was not liable.

Then the chief sent for Crawford and ordered him to resume his duties forthwith. Crawford went on duty at 12:30 Friday and was put at station work. Then on Saturday morning Foreman Case ordered him to mount one of the horses and exercise the animal on King street. This the fireman refused to do, and Mr. Case so reported to the chief. The latter sent for Crawford, and told him to exercise the horse and do as he was ordered. Crawford still refused, and the chief dismissed him on the spot. It is said that the ex-fireman told the chief he would "make him eat his words," but the chief ordered him out at once.

Now, it is understood, Mr. Crawford has placed his case in the hands of Mr. R. M. C. Toothe, who is now considering the advisability of issuing a writ. The question appears to be whether Crawford can be held to the ten days' notice agreement of the company when his alleged injuries did not develop for 33 days, and whether the city is not liable for damages in such a case by taking out such a policy. Again, another question arises as to the city's liability for injuries a fireman may receive while on duty. Mr. Toothe is considering these points, before deciding what to do.

If the contention of the insurance company be a valid one, the city of London is out $12 50 a week since February last, because the city has paid Crawford this amount weekly—depending upon the insurance company to reimburse the city. As a matter of fact, the company has not as yet paid over a dollar of insurance, the city so far advancing all the funds the firemen have received.

Chief Clark was seen today regarding the trouble, but he refused to be interviewed. He simply said: "I am here to protect the people's interests and to give them a first-class fire brigade. I am trying to do my duty."

Fireman Swanwick, who was injured in the Sterling fire, has resumed duty, and is doing light work in No. 2 station. Thus Fireman Roberton is the only man on the sick list now.

CITY CLERK REFUSES TO ACCEPT POSITION AT SIMCOE ST. SCHOOL

Board of Education Could Not Induce Him to Leave His Present Post.

City Clerk Edwards today refused the principalship of Simcoe street school. The position was offered to him by Chairman MacRobert, of the board of education, Chairman Yates, of No. 1 committee, and others of the trustees. After considering the matter at length, Mr. Edwards came to the conclusion that he would rather remain London's city clerk, and he so informed the school trustees. That the board of education was anxious to secure his services there is no doubt, but that the city would have been sorry to lose him is just as true. In aldermanic circles much satisfaction is expressed at his decision.

The mayor today received a letter from Mr. J. M. Bascom, secretary of the Canadian Underwriters' Association, stating that Inspector Howe will be in this city on Wednesday next to inspect the fire halls, etc., with a view to having the insurance rates in this city readjusted at once.

Saturday the fire brigades were given a test run by Mayor Beck for the benefit of Mrs. Beck and some lady visitors from old London. The run was a very creditable one, and the mayor congratulated Chief Clark and the men. The run was to the corner of Waterloo and Dufferin avenue. Chief Clark reached the corner in his buggy in 1 minute and 50 seconds. The chemical engine arrived in 2 minutes and 20 seconds; the hose wagon in 2:40. A stream of water was thrown 3 minutes after the box was rung. The East London brigade was on deck in 4 minutes; and the South London brigade in 7½ minutes, and in 7½ minutes the steamer was ready to throw a stream. The men, horses and equipment presented a splendid appearance.

Inspector McCallum claims to have secured the services of two dog catchers, but he will not reveal their names. The inspector declares these men are "the real thing," and can catch more dogs than any other two men in Canada. Today Mr. McCallum made out a list of about 20 names of citizens who have not paid their dog taxes, and it includes several Dundas street business men. This list will be handed to P. M. Love tomorrow, when summonses will be issued.

Victoria Hospital bylaws are being revised, and it understood some drastic changes in the government of the institution will be made.

City Engineer Graydon today notified Baldwin & Baldwin that if the street watering on Talbot street and Dundas street west is not done more satisfactorily he will fine them their full month's pay. In his letter the engineer declares that on Saturday a driver of one of the water carts watched the baseball games in Tecumseh Park instead of watering the streets.

BETTER TRAIN ACCOMMODATION DEMANDED OF PERE MARQUETTE

Another Complaint Made About the Service—Meeting To Be Held With the City.

From the report made by Engineer Graydon regarding the condition of the London and Port Stanley Railway, it would appear as though the present lessees of the road are not overly-generous in their expenditures for repairs. Mr. Graydon points out that the roadway in many places is in a very bad condition, and that certain bridges and culverts must be repaired at once.

Another matter which will be brought to the attention of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway by the city is the train service put on by the Pere Marquette. Today a certain minister called on the engineer and complained that on Wednesday last the picnickers were subjected to very grave danger because of the shortage of cars. He asked Mr. Graydon to secure a personal guarantee from the management of the Pere Marquette that more coaches will be supplied on Wednesday next, else he would feel it incumbent upon him to refuse to allow his Sunday school to picnic at the lakeside that day. As a large crowd is expected at Port on Wednesday, Mr. Graydon has written the Pere Marquette, as the reverend gentleman expected. Of course, the city does not recognize the Pere Marquette as lessees of the road, and the city will look to the L. E. and D. R. R. to see that the Pere Marquette puts on a decent train service. As soon as possible, a meeting between the city and the lessees will be arranged, so that all points of difference may be adjusted without delay.

It is understood that Fireman Riddell has made application to the provincial health department to have the sanitory police removed from his house forthwith. This request is being opposed by the local board of health, however, and the police are still on duty. The children are being allowed to play in the yard, but are not allowed to leave the premises.

The owners of the Grand Opera House today notified Engineer Graydon that everything the city asks will be done to render the house thoroughly safe in case of fire. The door on the north side of the pit, the owners do not deem necessary, but if Mr. Graydon insists, it will be put in. The metallic curtain has already been purchased, and will be put up within a week.

To a reporter today, Mr. Graydon said that when these changes are made the theater will be as safe as it is possible to make it, and that there will be none safer in America.

IDEAL WEATHER FAVORED THEM

Tucketts' Employes Play Ball and Have Athletic Events at the Lake Shore.

On Saturday the Tuckett Cigar Factory employes held a big picnic at Port Stanley. Almost all of the large staff turned out, and they were favored by ideal weather. Everyone looked happy. The management looked after the comfort of the picnickers, splendid meals were prepared in the Fraser House dining hall, and a quartet composed of Messrs. Gray, Nelson, Sharp and Krutzer rendered several fine selections. At the close of the day a special fast train was waiting at the depot, and the crowd had a quick and pleasant journey home.

In the morning an interesting game of baseball was played between the single and married men, the bachelors winning by a score of 7 to 5.

In the afternoon a programme of athletic events was held. The following is the prize list:

FAMILY TROUBLES AIRED IN COURT

Husband Is Alleged to Have Threatened Wife's Life at Port Stanley.

It was a sad story that Police Magistrate Love listened to this morning, when Mrs. Wm. Karn testified against her husband for using threatening language to her. The couple had been married only a little over a year, yet last fall it had been found necessary for them to get a separation, as she could not live with him. Today she appeared in court to tell how, after agreeing to live with him again, he had abused her on several occasions, and on Saturday last had threatened her life at Port Stanley.

In the course of her story, she said he had struck her on more than one occasion. The prisoner interrupted with: "Why, I never hit you in the world." Then she began to cry, and through the rest of her evidence she was weeping. Her daughter, the stepdaughter of the prisoner, cororborated the wife's evidence as to his threatening to kill her while under the influence of liquor at the Port on Saturday.

This was denied by Karn, who blamed all his trouble on drink and swore he would never take another drop.

The magistrate found Karn guilty and said he would bind him over to keep the peace for a year in two sureties of $100 each.

There was one case at court that aroused more merriment than anything else. In this Mrs. Brown, of 133 Kent street, complained against Mr. Wm. Magee for repairing a frame barn. There was a long argument over the matter, the complainant being of the opinion that the repairing of the barn increased the danger of fire, although the place had been built 50 years ago. Her answers as she gave them in the witness box, while she fanned herself with a large black fan, were rather interesting. Most of the talk was irrelevant, but the magistrate decided to adjourn the case for a week.

The rest of the cases were all drink inspired. For instance, "Brazil" Fox and the man he was fighting with on the station platform, were each fined $5 or 20 days. They both gave as reasons why they should not be severely punished, that they would take the pledge not to drink again.

A similar case hap happened on Saturday night, when M. Davis and Wm. Doran got into a fight through running against one another in getting on a Springbank car. They both bore very good testimony in the way of facial scars. Each was of the opinion that the other wanted to start the row. Each was fined $5. Another young man was fined $5 on an old charge of disorderliness.

Harry Donelly was charged with being disorderly and also with stealing one dollar by violently taking it from the person of Herbert Swazie. He was remanded until Wednesday.

Thomas Pritchard, James Gannon and Robert Fullarton were each fined $2 for being drunk and a few others were discharged, it being their first offense.

MISS McCOY TO GO TO TORONTO

Soloist of Dundas Street Methodist Church Tenders Her Resignation.

Miss Margaret McCoy has resigned her position as soprano soloist of the Dundas Center Methodist Church to accept a similar position with the Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Toronto. This action on the part of Miss McCoy will be regretted by Londoners generally, who, however, will congratulate her upon her appointment, as the Jarvis Street position is considered, perhaps, the best in Canada. Miss McCoy will succeed Miss Dora McMurty, who has been soloist there for upwards of ten years, and who is known as one of Canada's leading sopranos. The choir is the well-known organization under Mr. A. S. Vogt, and has a reputation from end to end of Canada. The best wishes of a large number of friends not only in this city, but in Hamilton, where she is better known, will go with Miss McCoy.

The appointment will not occasion any surprise, as Miss McCoy has a rare voice, that made her a favorite in London's musical circles from her first appearance here. It was about ten months ago that she came here from Knox Church, of Hamilton, in which city is her home, and ever since she has continued as one of London's best soloists. Not only in regular church work has she gained a name for herself, but on the concert stage she has always made a most favorable impression, being the possessor of a very sweet soprano. Her personality has also been marked, and in the short time she has been in London she had made numerous friends, who will regret her departure very much. Miss McCoy will assume her new duties the first of September.

DEATH OF JAMES ROBINSON.

In the death of Mr. James Robinson, of 570 Princess avenue, yesterday, from heart failure, the city of London loses one of its oldest residents. Four sons and one daughter survive him, the latter at home and three sons in Arkansas, and one in Nebraska.

IRL HICKS' GUESS.

Rev. Irl Hicks' July forecast says: On and touching the 17th, 18th and 19th, the temperature will greatly increase, moving like a wave from west to east. Barometric unsteadiness and final fall to low readings will accompany the warmth, and many threatening storm clouds, with thunder and bluster, will take up their march eastwardly across the country. Heavy local concentrations of rain and hail will touch scattered localities, but we fear that there will be serious lack of general, diffused rains. We candidly confess that we cannot foresee as yet the turn the weather and storms will take in consequence of the Mars disturbances.

"MAKING A MAGAZINE."

The following is from the July issue of the Mail Order Journal of Chicago: "J. B. Dignam, who resigned from the advertising management of Home Life to begin the publication of his magazine, which will be known as Dignam's Magazine, at Richmond, Ind., has already started in on his work judging from a photograph we have just received. It shows Dignam hanging up his coat against an iron column and the room quite empty of furnishings. This is not because Dignam is going to commence on a shoe string, but he wants his friends to have a picture of the making of a monthly magazine from the very start. It now has nothing but the idea evolving in the promoter's mind and the growth of subscribers, contributors, advertising and employes can be watched. Those who know this aggressive advertising man, have no doubt that from this empty room will evolve another very successful paper."

RAILS DELIVERED

Enough for Twenty Miles of Track Distributed on Grand Trunk.

Eighty cars of steel rails for the double tracking of the Grand Trunk between London and Hamilton arrived from Montreal on Saturday and Sunday, and are being distributed along the road today. The laying of them will be commenced in a day or two.

Owing to the failure to deliver the rails sooner, the contractors on the double-tracking have been devoting their entire time to the grading of the road, and with this they have made good headway. The work as far east as Ingersoll has been finished, and the major part of it has been well advanced as far as Woodstock.

Ties have also been delivered, and with the rails on hand the track-laying will not be a matter of many weeks.

The consignment of rails which has just been received is ample for twenty miles of road.

Did Horse Suicide.

Paris, July 18. — The famous black horse which Gen. Faverot one day purchased for $1,000 and ceded to Gen. Boulanger for a review, dropped dead on Tuesday in the Place de la Concorde. The general supposition is his death was due to sunstroke, but certain imaginative anti-governmental persons say the horse committed suicide on account of extreme disgust in front of the Chamber of Deputies.

FIGHTING FOR A NAME.

Moving with great caution, he ventured to penetrate to the steward's quarters, where he found the man fast asleep in his bunk leading from the pantry, while opposite him slept another sailor—the engineer, who was also off duty, and judging from the fumes which arose from their breath, one or both of the men had imbibed very freely of some potent beverage.

A gleam of triumph shot over Mr. Hunting's face, as he looked upon them.

The first mate and Nicholas, with another man, were ashore; three men were thus well out of the way. A fourth was helpless in Ned's stateroom, and one was keeping watch above. But where were the other four?

He skipped out of the pantry, drew the door softly to, locked it, and pocketed the key.

Then he next sought the place where the common sailors lunched and found two more sleeping there; they were probably expected to go on duty during the night and were getting what rest they could beforehand.

The door to this place he also closed, locked and took possession of the key and counted seven men as conquered with scarcely an effort, for he felt that he and Ned could easily master the watch on deck.

But where were the captain and second mate?"

They might be in their staterooms or they were liable to be in the smoking-room, and toward this place Mr. Hunting now stole.

The door was partially open, and as he approached the place he smelled the smoke from a cigar.

Cautiously drawing nearer he saw the second mate reading a novel and enjoying his smoke, while on the table, by his side, there stood a bottle and a glass.

The man dared not attempt to fasten him in the room, for he feared he would make a disturbance and arouse every one else; so he sped back to the saloon, crossed it, and softly opened the door of the captain's state-room.

It was empty, but his quick eye caught sight of a black leather case lying upon a table near his berth.

In another moment he had it open, and, with a smothered exclamation of joy, seized the two handsomely-mounted revolvers which lay within it.

Both were loaded, and, with a heart-beating high with hope, he hastened back to Ned's stateroom.

He felt that the game was now all in their hands.

It did not matter much where the captain was, now that he was armed with these formidable weapons; he and Ned could conquer six unarmed men with them.

He tapped gently upon the door, which was instantly opened by the young man.

He beckoned him to come forth, which he instantly did. locking the door after him.

Mr. Hunting put one of the revolvers into his hand, and with his lips close to his ear whispered:

"Every man on board, except the captain, second mate and the watch, is under lock and key. The second mate is in the smoking-room. The captain, I imagine, is on deck with the watch, and we shall have to tackle them hand to hand, after which we will pounce upon the second mate, if all goes well. Are your nerves strong and steady?"

Ned simply nodded, but the look in his eye plainly told that he meant business.

"We must creep softly up the companionway, where you must pick your man and I mine," Hunting continued. "At the muzzle of these revolvers we will drive them down here and lock them up, then go for the mate, after which we shall have full swing. Does the plan suit you?"

"Yes; it is well thought out," said Ned. briefly.

"Are you ready?"

"All ready."

Stealthily, with the tread of a cat, they crept up the hatchway, pausing on every stair to listen.

Ned, with the eagerness and enthusiasm of youth, went first, but stopped the moment his head was above deck to reconnoiter.

"The captain is sitting by a ventilator, smoking—the watch is pacing the quarterdeck," he whispered, to his companion.

"Yo go for the watch—I will take the the captain."

"All right," Mr. Hunting responded, then added, cautiously: "Be sure you do not flinch, Heatherton; the least mistake on our part will spoil everything."

"Don't you fear. I've something dearer than life at stake," Ned breathed, but with a suppressed fierceness which betrayed that he was indeed a desperate man.

Fortunately the watch was at the farther end of his boat, his back toward them, as the two men stepped on deck, and, covering him with his revolver. Hunting waited where he was, while Ned glided around toward the ventilator, which half concealed the captain from his view.

Then, as he saw the young man raise his right arm and point his weapon in that direction, he called out in a stern, authoritative tone to the watch:

"Halt!"

CHAPTER XLII.

At that startling word the watch wheeled around to find himself, to his great astonishment, looking straight into the muzzle of the dangerous weapon in the hands of William Hunting.

The captain also sprang to his feet, tossing his cigar overboard in the act, to find confronting him, with resolute mien and a cocked revolver in his hand, the young man whom he believed to be safely locked within his stateroom below.

"Thunder and lightning!" he ejaculated, and for once startled out of his habitual composure.

"If you make the slightest disturbance or resistance, I will shoot, as sure as I stand here," Ned said, in a low, stern tone and with a look on his white, set face which told that he meant every word that he uttered.

"This beats the duce!" growled the disconcerted captain. "You've stolen a fine march on us, for sure, young man; what does it mean?"

"It means that we two men have made a bold stroke for our freedom —"

"You two men!" repeated the captain, amazed.

Then as he glanced over toward the quarter deck and saw Mr. Hunting driving the watch toward the companionway, before the muzzle of his weapon, he comprehended that they had indeed gained the upper hand; but how they had accomplished it was more than he could understand.

"I have no wish to do you any violence, sir," Ned continued, in a respectful tone, "and I will not if you do not resist me; but, I assure you, I am in no trifing mood, and I shall be obliged to invite you to go below at once."

"What for?" questioned the man, sharply.

"To occupy your stateroom."

"And be locked in " the proud officer demanded, in a voice that trembled with anger.

"Yes, sir."

"And desert my post!" he continued flushing hotly.

"For the present—yes."

"But I may have a message from the owner of this yacht at any moment, commanding me to steam up and be ready to sail."

"I cannot help that; my will must be paramount to the owner's for a time. Take care, sir!" Ned interposed in a warning tone, as the man appeared about to spring upon him. "I should regret to have your blood upon my hands, but I am desperate, I tell you, and I will bore a hole through you in a twinkling, as sure as fate, if you show fight."

"What, ho—" the really brave man began and determined that he would not yield without a struggle; but the gleam of the revolver's muzzle just before his eyes warned him to stop, while Ned quietly remarked:

"Every man below is at our mercy—we took good care of them before we ventured on deck, so no one can come to your assistance. Now, right about face, and march!"

TRAVIS SUCCESSFUL.

Rye, July 16.—Walter J. Travis, amateur golf champion of the United States and Great Britain, beat Findlay S. Douglas, of the Nassau Country Club, and American champion of 1899, in the final round today for the first cup at the Apawamis Club tournament, by 2 up and 1 to play.

In the morning Travis did 77, when opposed to S. J. Granham, jun., in the semi-final, and his card against Douglas was 79.

As in the final of the British championship against Blackwell, Travis made up by good direction for any loss of defense on the long game, while he was far the better in approaching and in putting. The card:

LONDONS AND ROCKETS WIN AGAIN; STILL TIED FOR FIRST POSITION

McClary Nine Goes Down in Ragged Game—Blue Labels in Plucky Match.

As has been the case several times before in the City League this year, one of the games on Saturday afternoon was a splendid exhibition of ball, while the other was of the ragged variety. The Rockets were able to wallop the McClarys in the first tussle, and in the second the Blue Labels put up a neat little scrap with the Londons. The attendance was very large, and the certain class of fans who have been becoming obnoxious of late behaved themselves better than usual.

The foundrymen played listless ball, and if Early had not put forth a single effort to work, the result could not have been worse. Early strove hard to bring his team to the surface, again and again, but they did not seem equal to the occasion. The Rockets did not play such great ball, but they did not need to. They scored in the first, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh innings, while the McClarys only made good in the fourth and seventh. Early had good control, but the Rockets pounded hard. The score:

Although of a somewhat fickle disposition, when the Blue Labels start out well they generally finish that way and they started out well in their game with the Londons. They did not score, but neither did the Londons, except in the fifth. It was a tight, one, two, three order fight until the fifth inning, when the Londons made three runs. Stein, Cowley and Gibson are the men who scored, doing so by dint of good base running and timely hitting.

There were several times when both teams were near scoring, but the situation remained unchanged, and the Londons went out winners. Both teams did good work. The score:

BARRACKS MEN WIN AT CRICKET

Defeat the Leonard Eleven by Sixty-Two Runs—Some Effective Bowling.

An interesting game of cricket was played on Saturday afternoon on the Wolseley Barracks ground between the Leonard and Wolseley Barracks teams. Evans, for the Barracks, played a splended game. His wicket keeping was a feature, and he also made the top score of 46. The Barracks bowlers Quartermaster-Sergt. Dunlevy and Corp. Worswick, were very effective with the ball, Dunlevy taking seven wickets for ten runs and Worswick three for eighteen runs. Evans, Dunlevy and Scanlon were the only ones to make double figures. Harper bowled well for Leonards, taking six wickets for sixteen runs. Eldridge was batting very nicely until he fell a victim to one of Dunlevy's slow twisters. The score:

JIM WILL BE CAREFUL NOW

Champion to Resume Training Soon for His Bout With the Miner.

San Francisco, July 16. — Now that the Yosemite Club has been granted the August permit by the supervisors in general session, there is a reawakening of interest in the Jeffries-Munroe fight for the world's championship. Jeffries will return to Harbin shortly and will exercise great care in his training, so as to lessen the chances of that housemaid's knee asserting itself again.

If the champion remains in his present frame of mind, all the horseplay which was in evidence during his former stays at Harbin will be eliminated. He will forego the pleasure of sliding on his breastbone while playing imitation baseball in the twilight hours, for one thing.

So great was Jeff's pride in his bulk and strength that he used to think himself impervious to injury. It is a mystery, of course, how this game knee was acquired, but those who saw him crashing into the gymnasium wall while playing handball often wondered that he didn't break his neck.

However, he aims to earn the name of "Careful Jim" in future, and as he is sore at the Munroe outfit for twitting him with cowardice, there is still another reason for believing that he will observe caution while preparing himself for the August match.

Eddie Hanlon and Battling Nelson are down to the hard routine of training now, and as far as can be judged each of the lads will step to the center in rare fighting trim. It is an easy thing for either of this pair to reach condition, as smoking and drinking are luxuries they do not indulge in. They are clean-living, well-behaved lads,and there is every reason for believing their steady habits have much to do with their success at the boxing game.

Jimmy Britt, who is at present in Los Angeles, threatens to take on all comers if Young Corbett does not stand by his agreement in respect of abstaining from fisticuffs until the date of the Britt-Corbett return engagement in the early winter. As Corbett has frequently said that he would not be bound by the contract drawn up while he was abroad, some people have visions of the Britt-Corbett fight being numbered with the things that might have been.

ENGLISHMEN TOO MUCH FOR THEM.

London, July 16. — Eton defeated Haverford, Pa., in their cricket match today by 19 runs. The scores were: Eton 137, Haverford 118.

WHOLESALE GAME AT SPRINGBANK ABOUNDED IN BRILLIANT PLAYS

Fine Exhibition Between the McClary and Perrin Nines—Whites Lose Again.

The games in the Wholesale League on Saturday afternoon at Springbank were attended by large crowds. The first game, between the Bennet and White clubs, was won by the former by a score of 15 to 10. This makes the third victory for Bennets over the White nine this season. The furniture men, who are making a good showing this season in the race, batted Dunn hard in the first two innings, making eight hits, which netted them ten runs. Dunn was replaced in the third by Waud, who did much better for the remainder of the game. Ryckman was very effective for the first four innings, but was hit freely in the fifth and sixth, Dunn making a three-bagger. The White team, although they lost, have been playing good ball.and with a little better team work, will come up higher. The feature of the game was the fine fielding of the Bennet nine. Mr. George Pierce, the new umpire, gave entire satisfaction in both games. McClarys and Bennets will play at Springbank on the morning of Civic Holiday at 10 o'clock.

McCLARY NINE WON.

The games between the McClary and Perrin clubs are always interesting. Saturday's was no exception, the match being the third of the series, and it was watched by those interested with much enthusiasm. Clark was in fine form, striking out eleven of the McClary batsmen. The first inning won the game for McClarys, who made three hits, which, aided by errors, gave them three runs. Phillips, the McClarys, was equally effective, only three hits being made off him. A one-handed catch by McLarty, in right field, of W. Clark's drive, and Summers' and Collins' work behind the bat, were of the A1 variety. The game abounded in many good plays by both teams. NOSED OUT IN THE LAST INNING

Two New York Teams Were Winners on Saturday—The Senators' Good Game.

Another instance of the luck in which New York Giants play was seen on Saturday when they met the Pirates at Pittsburg. At the end of the eighth the score was 6—6, but in the ninth inning the Giants managed to get one run and capture the game. The fielding of the National leaders was not as good as the Pirates, the batting being a trifle heavier.

One of the best games of the day was played at Washington between Patsy Donovan's tail-enders and the Chicago White Sox. Neither team made an error, and Chicago only succeeded in scoring by some timely stick work. Time and again the Senators had men on second and third bases, but could not make the hit required to bring in runs.

While the Giants managed to nose out a victory in the ninth, the Highlanders won in the tenth. The New York American nine played with Detroit, and pulled out in the extra-inning with a run to the good. The Highlanders' new $8,000 pitcher, Clarkson, was in the box for seven innings, during which Detroit made nine hits, and he was relieved by Chesbro, who held Detroit down to one hit in the remainder of the game. New York had twelve men in the game, and Detroit had the same number. The scores:

SYSONBY'S STAKES IN EASY FASHION

Led Home First-Class Field of Two-Year-Olds in $15,000 Event.

New York, July 16.—James R. Keene's Sysonby, by Melton-Optime, easily captured the $15,000 Brighton Junior stakes, 6 furlongs, at Brighton Beach today, leading home a first-class field of 2-year-olds. Jonquil was second, and Britisher third. The time, 1:13, was the fastest made in a 2-year-old race at the meeting.

At the lifting of the barrier, O'Neil sent Waterside to the front, followed by Jonquil and Sysonby. This order was maintained for a quarter of a mile, when Martin let Sysonby have his head, and in a few strides was on even terms with the leader. Rounding into the stretch Sysonby drew away from his field and won in a gallop by five lengths.Jonquil had to be ridden out for the place, only just lasting, as Britisher closed with a great rush in the stretch.

Hildebrand received an ovation when he brought Dainty home a winner in the Islip handicap, 1⅛ miles. Grand Opera was the pacemaker for nearly a mile, with Toboggan, the favorite, in second place, and Dainty close up. As the field swung out into the stretch, Hildebrand brought Dainty up and in an exciting finish won by three-quarters of a length. The time, 1:51 3-5, is within three-fifths of a second of the world's record, made by Bonibert, two years ago, in the same stake.

BASEBALL.

STONE A SLUGGER.

Stone, of Milwaukee, has batted for .416, and made 21 doubles, 4 triples and 5 homers. Anrdt, who has hit well for Louisville, has hit for .328, McCreery for .312, O'Brien, with the Boston Americans last season, for .304, Maloney for .300, Magoon for .287, Swander for .261.

Thirteen or fourteen years ago John Clarkson and Charlie Ganzel were the banner battery of the Boston Nationals. Today Clarkson's brother Walter is pitching for the Highlanders and Ganzel's brother, Long John, is covering first base for them.

Dougherty leads the New York Americans in hitting, with .365 in 20 games. He has made five doubles, three triples and two homers since he joined the club.

The Boston Nationals have made fewer runs than any other club in the National League.

RING.

WOULD BE A BOXER.

The list of candidates for ring honors is likely to receive an addition in the near future, for Charley Rogers, who met Munroe on the mat recently, is thinking of donning the mitts and going after some of the big fellows. Rogers, who stands over 6 feet and weighs more than 200 pounds in condition, is no novice with the gloves and should be able to hold his own with some of the heavies.

The Lacrosse Field.

Three thousand five hundred people attended the senior C. L. A. match between the Tecumsehs, of Toronto, and the Athletics at St. Catharines on Saturday. The game was a good exhibition of lacrosse, but in the last quarter, with the score standing 4 to 3, in favor of the Tecumsehs, a hitch occurred. There was just four minutes left to play, and Hagan scored for the Athletics, tying the game. The referee claimed he blew his whistle for a foul just before the ball reached the nets. No person heard the whistle, and the crowd rushed on the field. No violence was allowed, but the referee's unpopular decision was strongly protested against. The referee said he would leave it to the executive of the C. L. A. to decide, and the teams left the field.

The Capitals down Montreal in the lacrosse championship series at Montreal Saturday afternoon by a score of 5 to 2.

The C. L. A. senior game on Saturday at Fergus, Fergus vs. Brantford, resulted in favor of Brantford by 7 to 1.

Fourteen to four was the total score when the Chippewas met the Buffalo lacrosse team in an exhibitions game at the island, Toronto, on Saturday, before about 300 spectators, and the west enders did not have to exert themselves at it.

In the N. A. U. L. game at Cornwall on Saturday, the Shamrocks beat Cornwall by 16 to 3. It was a good game at the start. The first quarter ended 3 to 2, and the second 5 to 1. Then the locals went up in the air and the Minto Cup holders scored at will.

The junior C. L. A. match played at Weston on Saturday between Aurora and Weston ended in a field fight. Time was not up, but the players refused to go from the field. Score, 4 to 2 in favor of Weston.

On the Ball Field.

The Guelph Canadian League team played at Waterloo. The home team led by 2 to 1 from the first inning. In the ninth, Guelph tied the score. Waterloo won in the tenth on Bennett's hit with three men on bases, bringing in 2 runs. The score:

Waterloo	4	8	1
Guelph	2	6	2

On the Football Field.

The Scots, of Toronto, and Galt football teams played at Berlin on Saturday, resulting in a score of 2 to 1 in favor of Scots. Score at the end of the first half was 2 to 1, with light wind in favor of Galt. During the second half neither side scored, though Galt's goal was frequently in danger.

Mrs. Robert Gunton, of Evansville, Ind., permitted physicians to remove from her body 56 pieces of cuticle, which were used in grafting upon the arms, back and legs of her son, who had been frightfully burned. Some of the pieces of cuticle were as large as a silver dollar, and Mrs. Gunton was placed under the influence of an anesthetic while they were being removed.

A REQUISITE FOR THE RANCHER.—On the cattle ranges of the west, where men and stock are far from doctors and apothecaries, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is kept on hand by the intelligent as a ready made medicine, not only for many human ills, but as a horse and cattle medicine of surpassing merit. A horse and cattle rancher will find matters greatly simplified by using this Oil.

The average salary of teachers employed in the rural schools of Missouri is $195 70 a year, or $30 75 a month—the average length of the rural school term being 21 weeks. The salary of the members of Congress is $5,000 a year, and mileage and other perquisites, or nearly $14 a day. A Missouri Congressman from the country makes as much out of his office in 14 days as the average country school teacher in Missouri makes in 21 weeks.

A Sheaf of Music.

A sheaf of new music from the lists of Chappell & Co., London, has been received. Three songs by Teresa del Riego, one each of Hamish McCunn's and Lamberti's, and piano pieces by Edward German and Paul Raison comprise the list.

"Happy Song" (by del Riego) had a place on the programme of Muriel Foster, on her visit here in the winter, and was one of her successful numbers. "Rest Thee, Sad Heart," is characteristic, and "Where Love Has Been" impetuous in style. All three are worthy of the composer, and will be as useful for study as pleasing and interesting in performance.

Hamish MacCunn is comparatively little known in Canada as a composer. "On the High Road," from his pen, is a typical soldier song, Irish in flavor, and stirring in rhythm. It is fully up to the high standard of all of Chappell & Co.'s publications.

The instrumental pieces include an arrangement of "O Dry Those Tears," for waltz, and "The Red Marines," march, by Edward German. The former is already well known; the latter is an excellent composition for teaching in that it is popular in character, to the extent of interesting even the unmusical public, while it is musicianly enough not to lower the taste of those who play or hear it.

The above, together with a typical French waltz-song by Lamberti, form a group of songs and pieces of special value to all who use or enjoy solid, up-to-date music.

In 1857 Mr. and Mrs. Thompson came to Canada, settling first in the township of Westminster, later removing to Bosanquet, and eventually taking up their home in Dawn Township, where they have since made their home. Mr. Thompson and a family of nine children survive, four of the latter having predeceased Mrs. Thompson. The surviving children are Mrs. Robt. White, of Dawn; John, of Dunwich; Hugh, of this city; William, of Dawn; Andrew, of Dunwich; Mrs. Richard Gibbs, of Caradoc; David D., Thomas and Henry, at home. Mr. Wm. Kernohan, who died at Derwent a few days ago, was a brother of the deceased. Mrs. Thompson was an active member of the Methodist Church. During her long residence in Dawn she made a large circle of friends who will long cherish her memory and deeply sympathize with the bereaved family.

TO EXTEND CALL TO MR. SHIELDS

Hamilton Man Will Be Asked to Succeed the Rev. T. S. Johnson.

At the close of the morning service at the Adelaide Street Baptist Church yesterday, a meeting of the members was held, at which a proposal to give Rev. T. T. Shields, of Hamilton, a call to the pastorate, was carried by practically a unanimous vote. Mr. Shields is at present in Winnipeg, supplying for a church there, but will be communicated with at once. It is the general impression that he will accept the call. Rev. Mr. Shields is a man of strong personality, a deep thinker and a fluent speaker. He would prove a valuable addition to London's force of talented ministers.

Rev. R. R. McKay, B. A., of Brandon, who conducted the services in the church yesterday, preached two excellent sermons. "The Church's Possessions" was the morning theme, based on Paul's words: "What hast thou, that thou didst not receive?" The preacher's theme in the evening was "The Basis of Love for Christ"—"Whom having not seen ye love."

Mr. George Jarmaine presided at the First Methodist Church organ yesterday in the absence of Mr. Jordan. Mr. Jarmaine has lately came to Canada from Edinburgh, Scotland, and is a thorough musician in every respect. His playing was much appreciated indeed.

In his sermon last night at the Askin Street Methodist Church, Rev. A. W. Budd termed the Springbank shows "rot," saying that people preferred to give 10 cents to God in proportion to $10 for their own amusement.

Rev. R. A. Laidlaw, B. A., who has received calls to Belleville and Quebec, has ably conducted services at the First Presbyterian Church in the absence of Rev. W. J. Clark.

Work has been started on the St. George's Church Sunday School, West London, which is to be repaired to the extent of $1,000.

The Sunday school of St. Paul's Church held its annual flower service yesterday afternoon. HAS WEALTH, IS STARVING

Rich Woman Does Not Know How to Raise Money.

Cincinnati, July 18.—Rich, but starving. Such is the predicament in which an elderly woman living in one of the fashionable suburbs of the city finds herself. According to her own statement, which has been verified by investigation, she owns real estate to the value of $10,000, but it is in such a position that she can realize no cash upon it. Yesterday, driven by desperation and hunger, she was compelled to apply for aid to the Associated Charities. She is cultured and proud, and she begged the officials piteously not to give her name to the newspapers.

Supt. Hubbard, of the Associated Charities, said: "This is one of the strangest cases in all my experience. The only way I can account for it is that the woman is entirely ignorant of all business procedure and that her mind is enfeebled by old age. She simply heard of us and sought our assistance."

SICK DOCTOR.

Proper Food Put Him Right.

The food experience of a physician in his own case when worn and weak from sickness and when needing nourishment the worst way is valuable:

"An attack of grip so severe it came near making an end of me left my stomach in such condition I could not retain any ordinary food. I knew, of course, that I must have food nourishment or I could never recover.

"I began to take four teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts and cream three times a day and for two weeks this was almost my only food; it tasted so delicious that I enjoyed it immensely and my stomach handled it perfectly from the first mouthful. It was so nourishing I was quickly built back to normal health and strength.

"At the present time I am preparing a paper for two medical journals in which I mention my own case and speak particularly of Grape-Nuts' great value as food to sustain life during serious attacks in which the stomach is so deranged it cannot digest and assimilate other foods.

"I am convinced that Grape-Nuts more widely used by physicians will save many lives that are otherwise lost from lack of nourishment." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN M'MARTIN EN ROUTE TO A HEALTH RESORT

Former Proprietor of City Hotel Passes Away at Winnipeg —A Long Illness.

While on his way to Banff, B. C., in search of health, Mr. John McMartin (until a week ago proprietor of the City Hotel) died at Winnipeg on Saturday night.

For some years, Mr. McMartin had suffered from a chronic nervous complaint, but it was not until a year ago that his condition became such as to warrant his physician ordering him to withdraw from business and take a much-needed rest. When the order did come, Mr. McMartin's interests were so large he found it impossible for many months to act upon it, and by that time his health was completely undermined. On the advice of his physician, he decided on a trip to Banff, where he intended to spend the summer.

For some weeks he had been a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital, here, and it was in a private ward of that institution that Miss Sylvia Warren became Mr. McMartin's wife only a few days ago. The next day Mr. McMartin and Mrs. McMartin left for the west, and it was hoped that he would soon recover his health; but on Saturday night a message was received in this city announcing his death.

The late John McMartin was born in the township of London 51 years ago. Coming to London he learned telegraph operating, but at the age of 20 he became a partner in the City Hotel, and assumed the management at once. As a hotel manager, he was known throughout Canada as one of the most efficient in the business, and some few years ago he became the sole proprietor of the hostelry. He was quiet and reserved, but nevertheless had very many friends among those who met him in a social or a business capacity. He was also at one time president of the Licensed Victualers' Association of London.

The deceased is survived by his widow and his aged mother, Mrs. Peter McMartin, of Oxford street, this city, and a number of brothers and sisters, among them being James, Duncan, Robert (Toronto), Edward (Bendigo, Australia), George (San Francisco), and Mrs. Valencia, Mrs. George McNab, Etta, city, and Mrs. Dan Burns, of Ottawa. The body will arrive here tomorrow, when the funeral arrangements will be made.

HOTTEST DAY IN TEN YEARS; 91 DEGREES REGISTERED IN SHADE

London Swelters Under a Burning Sun and Citizens Suffer Greatly.

The constancy of local churchgoers was tested to the limit by the extreme heat of Sunday, and woe unto churchgoers! They were weighed and only mustered eight ounces to the pound, for a conservative estimate places the church attendance yesterday at only one half the normal. But the day was a scorcher, and those who remained at home certainly did not do so without an excellent excuse. In the morning the air was sultry, not a breath of wind disturbing the leaves of the trees. In the sun, thermometers are said to have registered as high as 115 degrees, while in the shade 91 degrees were registered. This was the greatest heat known in ten years, the thermometer showing 93 degrees at that time.

There were not many hot meals cooked in London yesterday, for the heat was so great people asked for nothing better than to be allowed to lounge around in neglige dress. Houses were almost forsaken and lawns and gardens were resorted to by everybody in the vain endeavor to keep cool. Lemonade and hard tack took the place of the usual meals, and even reading was held to be a laborious pastime.

The icemen were as a rule roundly abused on all sides, because in the refrigerators of London the ice supply practically gave out by 4 o'clock and people were wondering how they would ever be able to get along until Monday.

In the afternoon the sun was hidden from view for a while, and a welcome storm hove in sight, but it did not last over five minutes, and the rain scarcely laid the dust. About 11 o'clock rain again began to fall, but it did not amount to much, as the heat was allowed full swing through the night, the same as through the day.

London, July 18. — King Edward, in reply to a message from the staff council of the Salvation Army, expressing appreciation of his Majesty's welcome to the international congress of the army and "gratitude to God for his Majesty's efforts in the cause of international peace," sends his thanks through Lord Francis Knollys, his private secretary, who says that the King "rejoices to think that his efforts to promote international peace and goodwill have not been entirely without effect," and that he "trusts that the good work the Salvation Army has already achieved by its faith and energy may be constantly increased."

ESSEX COUNTY CROPS

Excellent Outlook All Around for Ontario Farmers.

Sarnia, July 18. — A business man, who has occasion to travel over the county was seen by a reporter and asked regarding the crop prospects in the country.

He said the hay crop was a light one. The clover was killed and the timothy will not average a ton to the acre. The corn is looking well and if the summer and fall are favorable a large crop will be gathered. Some of the corn is late, but it all shows a healthy color and vigorous growth.

Tobacco plants look healthy, but at present are small. With favorable weather the plants will go forward rapidly.

There is no fall wheat and very little spring wheat. The oats are looking remarkably well, and altogether the farmers of this county will have a prosperous year.

RUSSIA PLAYED A SMART TRICK

Fooled Powers With a Fake Volunteer Squadron.

HAS NOW BECOME A WAR FLEET

Germany Incensed at Seizure of Mail in Red Sea -The Powers May Take Active Measures.

Berlin, July 16.—The foreign office here confirms the report of the seizure of the mails of the North German Lloyd steamer Prinz Henry by the Russian volunteer fleet steamer Smolensk in the Red Sea, but declines to discuss what steps it intends to take. The news reached here too late for most of the evening papers to comment on it. The Tageblatt says: "A speedy explanation of this Russian action against the empire's postal flag is imperatively necessary. Steps must be taken that a disavowal is made and that such Russian arbitrary acts are avoided in the future." The Lokal Anzieger thinks the seizure will be hard to justify, and says that if it is found that the Russian action is contrary to the law of nations, the German Government will not hesitate to apply a remedy in its widest sense. The National Zeitung this morning declares the confiscation of the mail sacks aboard the North German Lloyd steamer Prinz Henrich by the Russian volunteer fleet steamer Smolensk in the Red Sea on Friday, to be unjustifiable and indefensible under international law, even were the presence of contraband justly suspected. Postal matter, the Zeitung says, should be exempt from confiscation, and it is to be expected that the Russian Government will make no difficulties, but will immediately rectify the error of the Smolensk.

St. Petersburg, July 17.—The news that the Russian volunteer steamships Smolensk and St. Petersburg, now cruising in the Red Sea, are stopping ships of neutral nations and searching them for contraband of war, is causing the liveliest interest in all circles. Russia has evidently weighed the question, and believes herself to be within her rights, and neither fears nor anticipates international complications. Indeed, some of the powers may have been sounded by Russia on the subject. Nevertheless, foreign opinion is awaited eagerly and more or less criticism is expected. Members of the diplomatic corps are keenly anxious to ascertain the views their governments will take of the passage through the Dardanelles of these vessels of the volunteer fleet as merchantmen, and their subsequent conversion into ships of war. The general view in diplomatic circles, even where sentiment is not particularly friendly to Russia, is that while the passage of the Dardanelles might be considered a piece of sharp practice on the part of Russia, it is an accomplished fact, and the powers will not now regard it as a violation of the treaty of Paris, but will guard against its repetition. The diplomats think that some of the powers might insist that henceforth all volunteer vessels shall be considered as warships within the meaning of the treaty. One of the most interesting questions which the diplomats believe will arise will be of Russia's declaration that coal is contraband of war. With prize crews on board, the captured ships could be sent to Russian Baltic ports, but if short of coal they could not put in at neutral ports to replenish their bunkers. This same question may yet embarrass Russia when the Baltic squadron sails for the far east. In view of the protest made by Germany in the case of the stoppage of the steamer Bundesrath (captured in Delagoa Bay, Dec. 29, 1899), during the South African war, as the result of which Great Britain had to pay damages, much curiosity exists as to what Germany will do in the case of the confiscation by the Smolensk of the mail sacks on board the North German Lloyd steamer Prinz Henrich especially as a large portion of the mail seized was undoubtedly of a commercial character.

A Brute of a General.

Cracow, July 18. — A widow named Hervath was arrested in the house of Gen. Galgotzi, on the complaint of the latter. She proved that she was the sister of the general, and that on the death of her husband she had applied to her brother for assistance.

She fainted in the police station, and on being revived admitted she had been for several days without food. The police gave her a good dinner and tried to persuade the general to provide for her, but he refused, and insisted that the police send her to her home town, which the authorities had to do in order to not incur the general's displeasure.

Shot a Negro.

Evansville, Ind., July 18. — At Stephensport, Ky., last night, Frank Blaise, a white man, was stabbed in the throat by an unknown negro. ORGANIC UNION FOR THE EMPIRE

SLUM BOYS FOR THE DOMINION

Irish Nationalists Will Tender Banquet to the Hon. Edward Blake.

London, July 18. — Lloyd George, M. P., speaking on the question of education at the Methodist Free Church's meeting, said his plan was to take boys away from the slums and send them forth to grow an empire in Canada, an empire which would lead nations up, not down.

The Spectator, referring to the Albert Hall demonstrations, says the proceedings amply justify the conclusion of a complete agreement between the Balfourites and Chamberlainites. The two sections were only waiting the proper time.

The Saturday Review says the British nation at the present time is not an empire in the matter either of defense or commerce. Until the King's dominions are organically connected for the purposes of an imperial government, the defense of the British people will never put the whole force into action. The Dundonald incident and its sequel was an unpleasant reminder of the centrifugal forces working in matters of imperial defense

The West Highland farmers are lamenting in the press that graziers of the eastern counties of Scotland, owing to the eagerness to procure Canadian store cattle, are completely ignoring the Argyllshire-bred stores.

In appreciation of his services the Irish Nationalist party will tender a banquet to Hon. Edward Blake in the House of Commons on the 27th inst.

A meeting of the Gold Run Klondike Mining Company has been called in consequence of the proceedings in the High Court. Solicitor Freshfield thought the way to remove the difficulty was for the French shareholders to elect two directors and the Canadian Bank of Commerce three. Chairman Nicholson declared that this was impossible. The vote for a week's adjournment was carried by 17 to 16.

The meeting broke up amid gesticulations. The French shareholders appeared greatly dissatisfied with the result. Messrs. Buckley and Carbonneau agreed not to preside at a meeting of the Gold Run until Friday next.

(The Canadian Bank of Commerce became connected with the Gold Run Mining Company through a large loan made the company in Dawson. Some of the French shareholders have wanted to get the company placed in liquidation. The Bank of Commerce retained its interest in the company in the hope of getting at least a portion of the loan. Mr. Carbonneau, who had to abandon the proposed Franco-Canadian steamship line, is president of the company.)
