The W. B. Erect Form Corset

Is built just as you are built. The lines of your figure blend with the lines of the Corset. That means absolute fit—unbelievable comfort, and most important of all, perfect health. The erect form does not strain the bust or abdomen. The pressure of leaning is put upon the strong back muscles, throwing the shoulders into a surpassingly graceful poise. There is a special W. B. Erect Form made just for YOU.

W. B. Corsets are manufactured in New York.

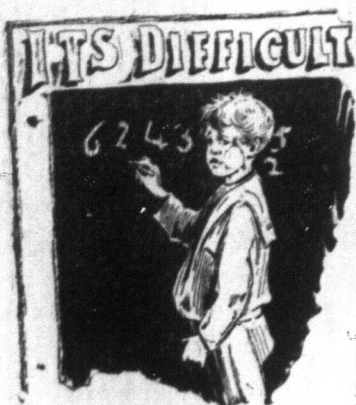

There are more W. B. Corsets worn than any other Corset in the world.

Every W. B. Corset carries with it a guarantee of perfection.

W. B. Corsets are sold exclusively by us in this city.

W. B. Corsets sell at $1.25, $1.35, $2.00, 2.50 and $6.00.

DISTURBING MEETING

Wilfred Edwards, Bert Dease, Garret Edwards, Benjamin Sheppard and Felix Edwards, of the Township of Romney, were charged with interrupting a religious meeting at Constance on Tuesday night, August 26, and tried yesterday before Magistrate Thomas Robinson, of Tilbury, and A. A. Wilson, of Tilbury, at Constance. The teachers and other members of the Bethel Methodist Church Sunday school assemble every Tuesday night at the church to study the lesson for the following Sunday. On the evening of the disturbance, the boys laughed before the opening of the meeting. Mr. Williams ordered them out of the building and they refused to go. Mr. Williams then left. The evidence was taken yesterday and judgment was reserved. F. Nelles, of Tilbury, appeared for the prosecution, and O. L. Lewis for the defense.

BIG EXCURSION WAS ENJOYED

Hundreds Attend the Complementary Outing to Gray & Sons Employees.

Fine List of Sports, in Which Many Took Part—The Names of Prize Winners.

One of the most successful excursions of the season was held on the City of Chatham yesterday when the Wm. Gray & Sons' Company very generously treated their employees with their wives and friends, to a trip to Port Lambton. Everything passed off in good style, about 400 people being present.

The boat left the Rankin dock at 7.30 and arrived at Port Lambton about three o'clock, leaving there on the return trip at 3.30. Fritchard's full orchestra furnished excellent music for dancing throughout the entire trip. The refreshment booth on the boat was managed by Hugh Carr, W. Moore, and James Vickery, and these men were kept continually busy. On arriving at the Port a number of sports were held. These were in charge of Messrs. Will Shillington, H. Lamont and George Pritchard. The following are the races and the winners:—

50 yards foot race, open—J. McKeough.

50 yards foot race, men over 50—Samuel Towl.

75 yards foot race, boys under 15—E. Mortell.

50 yards foot race, girls under 15—Maggie Trotter.

50 yards foot race, girls over 15—Mrs. Green, 1st; Miss Simpson, 2nd.

Tag race, 100 yards—Ed. Sampson.

The treatment received by the employees from the boat crew and the people at the Port was everything that could be expected and everyone had an exceedingly enjoyable time.

Running Broad Jump—Geo. Daikens.

Needle and thread race, 50 yards—George Flater.

CHATHAM JOURNEMEN TAILORS ARE NOW OUT ON STRIKE

Requisition by Their Union for Increased Wages Was not Met by Employers—Reasons Assigned for the Increase Asked—Possibilities of a Settlement.

If the Maple City men—both young and old—who are wont to exemplify the early fashion plates upon our splendid streets and fashionable drawing rooms are somewhat tardy in making us acquainted with the fall styles, don't blame them too severely or put their aesthetic enterprise as a lost art. They are, perforce, compelled to maintain allegiance to their white ducks and panamas a little longer or—perish the thought!—to do a last season's garment.

Their is not the blame. Chatham's army of journeymen tailors have gone on strike!

The workmen, it seems, have been meditating upon their position for some time. These knights of the shears and needle are paid by a piece-work schedule and incidentally are members of a strong local union of the J. T. U. of A.

Prices have been going up generally all over the country and the union has

AFTER 23 YEARS OF SERVICE PRINCIPAL BRACKIN RESIGNS

For Nearly a Quarter of a Century he Has Presided at the McKeough School—His Resignation a Blow to the School Board—No Meeting Yet Held—A Long Career of Usefulness.

No Quorum—and as a result there was no meeting of the School Board last evening. The absence of a quorum was due to two accidents. In the first place, Dr. McKeough received a sick call up Park street. While he was in the house, his horse got mixed with the tie strap and upset the buggy in the ditch. Then the doctor happened on the scene, and while he was righting his rig, the members of the School Board tarrying in the council chamber, got tired waiting for a quorum and had to decide to go home. The other accident prevented John McCorvie attending the meeting. One of the clerks had gone off with the key of the store in his pocket, and while Mr. McCorvie was hunting for the key his confederates on the School Board were growing impatient.

Secretary Macnab was the first to reach the meeting. Then came Trustees Cornish. By 8.10 Trustees Paxton, Robertson and Benson were present. After a wait of 15 minutes, ex-Ald. Heyward arrived. He said he had been waiting for Dr. McKeough and John McCorvie, who had promised to call for him. These two, however, were detained as before mentioned.

It was about this time that it began to be mooted about amongst the trustees present, and also as a source of great regret, that Mr. Brackin was far too valuable a principal to lose. It was tacitly understood that these present would depart to avoid dealing with the resignation, as it was considered too important a matter to be dealt with by a bare quorum.

Those present then left. They met Mr. McCorvie on King street, who explained the reasons for his absence. Mr. Brackin's resignation will come as a great surprise to many, although it was foreshadowed at the recent meeting of the school board. Mr. Heyward assured his confederates that he knew nothing of the resignation. The ex-Ald. said that about a month ago one of Mr. Brackin's friends in North Chatham had bet a new hit that Mr. Brackin would resign within up for a $25 panama, and the ex-ald. man alleged that was one reason why a look of sadness tinged his brow as he spoke.

In his resignation Mr. Brackin refers to his 23 years of service in the McKeough school. He says that he had enjoyed his service of nearly a quarter of a century and that he regretted his connection with the school. He thanked his many friends and supporters in North Chatham and all well-wishers of the school who had always generously assisted him in his work and the school in its prosperity. He asked for immediate release.

Some of the trustees favored waiting till next regular meeting, but others thought that a special meeting should be held, since Mr. Brackin was anxious to have his resignation take effect at once. While chatting on King street, some of the trustees favored the acceptance of Mr. Brackin's resignation and the appointment of Miss Abram and the appointment of a man should be at the head of the school for the better maintenance of order and that a principal should be advertised for. It was agreed that it was impossible to get a successor equal to Mr. Brackin. A special meet-

"THE LAND OF THE SUNSET"

Saturday's Planet will contain another in the series of interesting letters written by Capt. Edwin Bell, L. B., upon his recent tour in Southern California. Saturday's letter was written from Denver, and is one of the most entertaining of the entire series. It will be read with much interest, by all our readers.

BIG CAMPAIGN TO BE WAGED

Kent Prohibitionists will be Very Active, Declares President Parrott.

Are Now Commencing a Thorough Organization—Have a Surprise in Store.

The first shot of the Prohibition campaign was fired last night, when a meeting of temperance workers was held in the lodge room over the Public Library. There were not many present, the aim being to organize for the work of the campaign. Mr. Parrott, president of the West Kent Temperance Association, was present and addressed the meeting.

"We find ourselves within the firing line and we intend to make the best showing possible," said Mr. Parrott this morning. "We are going to fight to a finish and I think there will be some surprises when the campaign is over."

"The convention at Toronto decided by a unanimous vote that we would fight as hard as we possibly can, and that is what we are going to do."

"Convenors were appointed for every district, at the recent convention held here, to call meetings and organize their districts for the campaign. These meetings should be called at once. We expect to have ourselves completely organized by the middle of this month, when we will get down to systematic work and make a canvass of the whole county."

A temperance meeting will be held here next week.

LAUNDRY LINES.

Napkins should always be folded with the selvedge toward the ironer. The water in which rice has been boiled should be saved for starching muslins.

Rainwater and white castile soap in lukewarm suds is the best mixture in which to wash embroideries.

Never have irons on the stove when cooking, particularly when the article cooking is one that is apt to flow or boil over or while frying.

A teaspoonful of kerosene does as well as a bit of white wax in bottled starch, and mutton suet is as good as either to make a plain gloss.

To retain the colors in any washing materials, soak the articles in alum water. A teaspoonful of alum to every quart of cold water is the proportion.

In hanging blankets after washing them remember to put them lengthwise over the line; otherwise they are likely to split from the weight of water in them.

Wash bathtubs occasionally with warm water, to every two quarts of which has been added half a table-spoonful of melted lard. Wipe thoroughly and set in a warm spot till perfectly dry.

One Way to Become Beautiful.

One morning a girl whose face was under a cloud of unhappiness from constantly laboring under the impression that she was plain walked out into the sunshine of Boston Common. In a moment the gloom lifted, for the brightness of the morning had made her thoughts unusually pleasant.

"What a pretty, happy girl that is we just passed," she heard one of two ladies say to the other.

She looked quickly around, with envy in her heart, to see the pretty girl, but she was the only girl in sight.

"Why, they mean me!" she exclaimed in pleased surprise. "No one ever called me pretty before. It must be because I am smiling."

Again, as she was entering a street car, she heard, "Did you see that pretty looking girl?"

"Well, I declare!" she mused. "I am always going to look happy if this is what comes of it. I have thought myself as lonely as my life, and here twice in one day I've been called pretty."

From that day she did try to look happy and now she is regularly considered as one of the leading beauties of her social circle.—Boston Journal.

Well Bred Women.

The best bred women do not fuss. They take their gowns and their furniture, their jewels and their children as a matter of course. They are unconscious of their veils and their gloves, and they expect every one else to be equally so. If they see an intimate wearing a handsome gown, they refer to it admiringly, but they also preface their comment with an apology. Their differences with their husbands are not aired, neither are the domestic up-heavals caused by the domestication of the cook or wash woman is not the quiet of weakness. It is the calm of trained faculties, balanced so nicely that an earthquake may cause a change of color, but will not bring forth a loud cry. Well bred women are a boon to the human race. They help the social and professional world to maintain a high standard both of morals and behavior.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

A Dress Freshener.

A clever bachelor girl who works all day long and every day in a very dusty locality has imparted the secret of the spick and span appearance that is the envy of all her associates. Regularly once a week she lightly sponges her plain, trim business suit with tepid water to which have been added a little liquid ammonia and a suspicion of powdered borax. While still slightly damp, the skirt and coat are pressed carefully, the household laundry iron being employed for this purpose. The entire process consumes but a few minutes, and the result is a perpetual and personal freshness and cleanliness possible in no other way.—Pilgrim.

A Milk Test.

Blue litmus paper will turn red in the presence of an acid, so that by testing a drop of milk that is under suspicion the matter can be settled at once without tasting. More than this, it will report the presence of the acid when it cannot be discovered by taste and will prevent the spoiling of many a pudding and custard. When sour milk and soda are used, the paper will show just when the soda neutralizes the acid. In this case if too much soda has been added the red paper will turn blue. This will bring to an end the biscuits dotted with brown soda spots.

Large Hips.

Large hips can be reduced by exercise of a certain kind. Morning and night stand erect, with the knees well back, and bend forward without bending the knees until the tips of the fingers touch the floor. Do this ten times at first, then fifteen and twenty, and do not omit a single opportunity. Throw the hips back when standing or walking, and the abdomen will fall into a natural position and show no unusual prominence. Age need not compel one to be ugly, and grace of movement depends upon the carriage of the body.

Old Fashioned Scent Bag.

Those who are fond of old-fashioned odors will enjoy a scent bag filled with the following mixture: A half pound of dried lavender, an ounce each of dried thyme and mint, two table-spoonfuls of ground cloves and caraway and an ounce of well dried salt. Put into little silk bags and slip under the pillow or in a drawer of clothing.

THE FIRSTBORN.

Why is it that the firstborn child is so often the healthiest of a family of children? The reason seems to suggest itself. As child follows child the mother has less and less vitality; often not enough for herself and none, therefore, for her child.

Expectant mothers who use Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription find that it keeps them in vigorous health. They eat well, sleep well and are not nervous.

When baby comes its advent is practically painless, and the mother is made happy by the birth of a healthy child. If you would be a healthy mother, and if you would be a healthy child, use Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

"I will be very glad to say a few words for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Dr. F. S. Duggan, of Mansville, Brome Co., Quebec. "During the first four months, when I looked forward to becoming a mother, I suffered very much from nausea and vomiting, and I felt so terribly sick I could scarcely eat or drink anything. At this time I wrote to Dr. Pierce, and he told me to get his 'Favorite Prescription' and a bottle of each, and when I had taken them a few days, I felt much better, and when I had taken hardly three parts of each bottle I felt well and could do my work without any trouble (I could not do anything before). I feel very thankful to Dr. Pierce for his medicine, and I tell all who tell me they are sick, to get these medicines, or write to Dr. Pierce."

Those who suffer from chronic diseases are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

His Distinguished Career.

The gentlemen to whom the degree of doctor of philosophy was awarded recently by the University of Toronto to have had a distinguished career as under-graduate and graduate students. Mr. R. G. Morrison (B.A., '93) and Mr. R. Davidson (B.A., '99) stood in the first-class in Oriental studies when they chose Orientals as their specialty, and graduated with high honors in that department. In Knox College they made a remarkable record for broad and accurate scholarship, especially in Oriental and Biblical study. Dr. Morrison, who has been lecturer in Oriental studies in University College since 1897, is already well known as a scholar and investigator. His published researches into the primitive beliefs of the Semitic peoples have attracted attention, and he has written a sketch of the history of Babylonia and Assyria (Edinburgh: T. and T. Clark, 1901), which has met with universal approval. He is at present engaged on a similar sketch of Egypt for the same series.

Dr. Davidson was lecturer in Oriental studies in Trinity University, Toronto, during last season. As the holder of the traveling scholarship from Knox College he intends to spend a year in study in Europe. Dr. Morrison's major subject was Hebrew, his first minor Assyrian, and his second minor modern history. His thesis was "The Serpent in Hebrew literature." Dr. Davidson's major subject was Assyrian, his first minor Hebrew, and his second minor Greek. His thesis was "The Semitic Permanent Tense." In all of these subjects the candidates took first-class standing, and their work was of distinct original merit. It may encourage those who are endeavoring to promote post-graduate studies in Toronto to note that although one of these gentlemen has already pursued a course of study in Germany, and the other is about to do the same, and although resident fellows in Semitic languages are offered by several American universities, their doctor's degree from the hands of the alma mater.

A Landmark to be Removed.

The old stone chimney which stands on the lands of the Niagara Falls Power Company is to be removed. It was built by the French in 1750, and was the first stone structure erected in the Niagara locality.

Although the medicine business should, above all, be carried on with the utmost conscientiousness and sense of responsibility, the unfortunate fact is that in no other is there so much humbug and deception. The anxieties of the sick and their relatives are traded upon in the most shameful manner; impossible cures are promised; many preparations are absolutely worthless, and some are positively dangerous to health.

As a consequence, all proprietary remedies are regarded with suspicion by many people, and the good suffer for the bad.

For these reasons we announce that our proprietors are the principal shareholders in

FOR LITTLE FOLKS

MAGIC BREATH.

How You Can Transform a Glass of Water into Milk.

You can astonish your little friends by a very simple trick that will not seem at all simple to them and at the same time perform a most interesting experiment with a very little trouble. Select some evening when several of your little playmates are together—at a party at your home, for instance—and offer to turn a glass of water into milk by breathing into it. Of course they will not believe that you can do it and will make all kinds of fun at your boast of being able to. When you have their curiosity sufficiently aroused, excuse yourself from the room and get your "magic" apparatus together.

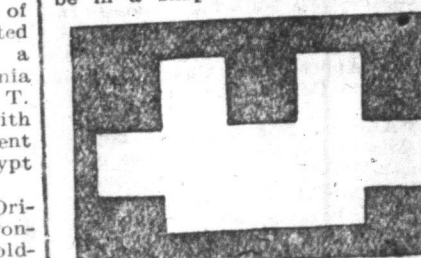

You will need some lime-water, a long piece of glass and an ordinary glass tumbler. If you have no lime-water in the house, you can get enough for a few pennies at any drugstore. Half a pint is more than enough for your trick. You can get the piece of glass from any old broken pane you can find. A piece three inches long and narrow enough to enter the tumbler at its widest part will do.

Fill the tumbler with the lime-water and bring it into the room where your friends are assembled. Place it upon the table before them where they can all see it, but do not allow any of them to taste it. Tell your friends that the magic properties of your breath will change the water into milk and then breathe frequently into the tumbler, stirring it constantly with the piece of glass. The perfectly transparent lime-water will assume a milky hue, and then as you keep breathing into it it will finally grow white, closely resembling skim-milk, amid the applause of your friends.

Now, you can explain that your magic breath, being combined with the water in the glass, will in a few minutes produce chalk. Let the tumbler remain perfectly quiet for a time while you and your companions play some other game, and upon looking at it later you will find that a layer of real chalk has been deposited in the bottom of the glass.—New York Herald.

An Odd Puzzle.

Here is a puzzle which is less easy perhaps than it appears. The idea is to cut the white figure in such a way as to make three pieces. These must be in a shape which when put together will form a perfect square.

CUT IT INTO A SQUARE.

Each piece must be utilized, of course, and there must be no left-overs. This puzzle has attracted much attention in many quarters and has set a number of older persons as well as little folks to guessing.

A Surprise Game.

For noisy young people who want to express their feelings in electric shocks is a good game. The person to be "shocked" is sent out while the room is prepared.

A table is cleared of its cloth and various articles put on here and there—ink pots, ash trays, paper knives or vases; anything that is handy. The victim is then brought in and told that one of these articles on the table will give him the electric shock if he touches it.

He goes to the table, round three sides of which the other players stand with fingers lightly joined. Gingerly he touches the ink pot and vase, with no result till he puts his hand out for the eighth time.

As his fingers come in contact with the article on the table all the other players give a terrific yell or war-whoop, which will startle him quite as much as an electric shock.

Origin of the Name Dog River.

This is the name of an eager, dashing river which pours down from the mountains of Lebanon and supplies the city of Beirut with water through the management of a French company.

In ancient days the temple of the shape of a dog stood at the mouth of this river, and some genius, arranged an aqueduct so that the waters of the river could be turned through the body of the image and made to flow out of its mouth, causing a roar which could be heard for many miles and so soon chilling that it terrified all the enemies of Beirut who dared to approach the city and compelled them to turn away.

If They Would Only Grow.

One day little Ester Walkup was out in the yard. His mother asked him what he was doing.

"Planting" some rags, so Lelo and me can have some nice clothes," he said.—Little Chronicle.

A Little Mother.

Dolly, you've been very naughty! Do you see that broken cup? I must punish you severely.

In the dark I'll shut you up. Do not answer back now, Dolly. I'm your mother, do you hear? You've been very, very careless!

No one else was near the table! I won't listen to you—no! Here's the big, dark storeroom closet. You've been naughty; in you go!

I suppose the cat did break it. But no one was here to see, and I have to do to Dolly. As my mamma does to me.

P. C. Dezella looks well after his holiday trip to Chicago. He left Chatham two weeks ago last Thursday on Wabash train No. 13, that leaves this city at noon. The fatal numbered train met with an accident. A spring on the engine broke and delayed the train over two hours. Mr. Dezella says that Chicago is a great city, and he was busy during the whole two weeks, just seeing the city.

N. H. Stevens, George Stephens, M. P., George G. Taylor, William Gordon, A. C. McKay, Sam Perrin, O. L. Lewis, and W. E. Rispin spent Monday at St. Luke's club. It was agreed that the best shots should have the best spots, and the ducks should be divided. N. H. Stevens says that he was acquainted with the best spots when that bargain was made, but he is now, and any time any of his friends want a wild duck, if they only tell him he will go down and get them. When the division of the ducks came, each member of the party got three, but that isn't saying who shot the ducks.

NARROW ESCAPE

President Roosevelt has a Close Call from Death this morning.

One Killed—President and Others Badly Injured.

Special to The Planet.

Pittsfield, Mass., Sept. 3.—President Roosevelt narrowly escaped death to-day.

His Tally-Ho collided with a trolley car, killing Secret Service Agent Craig.

The President was badly bruised. Secretary Cortelyou was injured.

D. J. Pratt, the driver of the coach, had his skull fractured.

The conductor and motorman have been arrested.

PICKED PINE CONES IN PARK

In this way did Wife get Fuel for fire to cook Meals—Husband Didn't Provide Wood.

Sad story of Wedded Unhappiness told in Court—Both Have Their Troubles.

The story of the married life of Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander Baird furnished plenty of interest for all who attended police court this morning.

Mrs. Baird said that all her husband left her was 8 cents, 20 cents and 50 cents per week to keep house on. She had no wood, and had to go out into Victoria Park and pick up pine cones to make a fire to cook the meals.

The wife further stated that her husband had no reason to leave except he wanted to be free. She was kind and good to him. She had lost from 15 to 20 lbs. by reason of her husband not supporting her. Once he had tied her up with a rope. Twelve dollars would cover the expense she had been to him for clothes during their married life. She said she was a music teacher before her marriage.

Judge Houston remarked that husbands seemed generally to desert music teaching wives.

O. L. Lewis—They are cranks, as a rule.

Witness—Did you call me a crank? O. L. Lewis—If the cap fits, wear it. Mrs. Baird stated that when her husband went away he took his trunk, bicycle, a bird cage and an alarm clock.

The husband testified that his wife was jealous of him and was always reproaching him. Home was a place of misery and he was sick of the kind of married life he had.

Both are nice looking young people. Baird is a South African hero, and was with the Canadian artillery when they made their famous East march and relieved Mafeking.

After hearing the evidence, judgment was reserved till next Monday.

T. C. Macnabb was in Wallaceburg to-day.

James Taft has returned from Detroit.

Chas. Gammage has returned home, after visiting his sister in London.

LADY LOST IN STRANGE LAND

Danish Maiden in Search of her Brother—Stranded in Chatham.

Mine Host Peck Generously Provides her a home—Cannot Talk a Word of English

On the register of the Hotel Rankin, in rather peculiar and distinctively feminine penmanship is scrawled the following:—

"Henriette Fredericksen, Tzenstetjunge, Denmark."

And thereon hangs a sad story.

On Saturday the owner of the name was put off of the C. P. R. night train here with two little hand-satchels.

She is a girl of about medium height and build, a blonde with rather striking appearance, with very light and wavy hair and large blue eyes, quietly but neatly dressed.

Spoken to by the baggageman she was utterly mystified. She finally managed to make it understood that she was from Copenhagen, Denmark, could only speak the Danish and was looking for friends.

Officer Darr tried fruitlessly to make himself understood, but was in a dilemma until the big personality of Wm. R. Peck put in an appearance.

Mr. Peck's heart is as big as his frame and he at once volunteered to provide the fair stranger with a temporary home in his excellent hotel.

Miss Fredericksen has remained at the Hotel Rankin since that time and, although every effort has been made by wire to secure trace of her baggage and Canadian friends, nothing has so far resulted.

She is apparently refined and lady-like, and about 20 to 25 years of age. She has taken a great fancy to little Joe Shoenith, the bell boy, and he is equally energetic in his praise of the "Danish lady."

"Gee! she can sing and play the piano," he declared enthusiastically to The Planet. "I'll bet she's got nice friends."

Which is evidently Joe's idea of being aristocratic.

Mr. Peck is making every effort to secure the services of someone who can talk the Danish. J. S. Lane, the G. C. I. linguist, will be asked to act as interpreter.

The girl, as far as can be learned, has emigrated to meet her brother, living at Dalhousie Mills, about 45 miles from Montreal. She has a letter of introduction written in Danish to "D. C. McKee, County Clerk, Bridge End, Ont., Glengarry Co."

HAS SOME MONEY.

Although she has spent all her cash except 75 cents, she has what appears to be a cheque in her favor signed by C. Mogensen, for 133 kroner, 70 ore in Danish Eggs money. This amount, Manager Schofield, of the Standard Bank, says is equivalent to $34.76 in Canadian money.

Her passport or steamship ticket reads as follows:—

"Reiser fra København on 16th August, og fra Liverpool and 19 August med Cunard Liners Skil Saxonia til Boston derfra med Toget til Montreal boortelet jeg har billet, jeg kober son i Montreal billet til Dalhousie Mills station, Quebec, og ventor poa des nærmeste hotel vid Baneu til du kommer."

From which it would appear that she sailed from Liverpool to Boston via Cunard Liners Saxonia and was supposed to proceed thence to Montreal by rail.

In a C. P. R. envelope, and in English is written:—

"Please direct the bearer to Windsor station and kindly see her booked to Dalhousie Mills station, Quebec."

"Yours truly,

"A. TRUESTI."

It was evident Windsor station, Montreal, was intended, although it may have been mistaken for Windsor, Ont., and that may be the reason for her landing here.

Mr. Peck says, however, that Conductor Thompson, of the C. P. R., who put her off here, said he was warned to by a gentleman passenger who was talking to her in Danish and who told him she would have friends waiting for her.

Mr. Peck, with his usual whole-souled generosity, has promised her a home until her brother is located, and Messrs. Harper and Downey (the C. P. R. agents, here, are making every telephone effort to find her baggage and friends.

VOCAL STUDENTS

Samuel I. Slade, of Detroit, took charge of the vocal department of the Krause Conservatory of Music yesterday.

On this artists appearance in Chatham the imaginations of some of our local musicians were aroused and they soared to some lofty heights in their endeavors to create public interest.

Some have already been offered very high position in the musical world. Of course they will accept them. The next we will hear of no doubt will be some European appointment. Who's next?

Cheese That Is Cheese

We are as particular in buying cheese as we are in buying Tea. It is a well known fact that any body can make cheese as it requires very little experience and most of us can remember when our friends in the country made all their own cheese but now it has got more into factory hands, and some of these make very good cheese and others make very poor.

Now what we want to say is this, that we are particular where we buy our cheese. We pass these 20 factories and go to a factory that has had long experience and the country around is favorable to cheese making, so that when you get our cheese it is cheese. That is the reason that people tell us our place is the only place in town that they can get good cheese.

And for those that like a medium old, rich, mellow, cheese that has just age enough to make it tasty, come to us. We have one that is a beauty. Try it.

Several of our Merchants have arranged to have Red Rose Tea served at their stores in the cup. This is a very convenient way to test its quality, and the fact of it having been used by our future King and Queen will induce a good many to give it a trial.

S. S. BOARD

Regular monthly meeting of Board of Trustees, R. C. Separate School, was held last evening. Present, Jas. A. King, chairman, and Trustees Gordon, Stephens, Gerber, Blonde, Welsh, Reardon and Robert.

Salaries of teachers and janitor for month of August were ordered to be paid.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid:—

John Brennan, hauling earth, $2.70.
Westman Bros., plumbing, $11.25.
G. W. Sulman, stationery, $11.25.
Planet, advertising, $13.25.

It was decided not to hire any additional teachers at present.

The Supply committee were directed to negotiate for fuel for coming winter.

Letter was received from Rev. Mother Baptiste, of the Ursuline Academy, respecting the changes she proposed to make regarding teachers for the coming term, which was on motion received and approved by the Board.

Provincial Inspector O'Brien's report was read in reference to his last visit, in which he spoke in highly complimentary terms of the new school building, describing it as second to none in the province. The standing of the pupils and discipline was also favorably referred to.

The Supply committee recommended that no change be made in the lavatories at present.

The Board adjourned.

For great Industrial Fair at Toronto, commencing on September 1st, W. E. Rispen, City Passenger Agent, Grand Trunk R'y., will issue return tickets, Chatham to Toronto, from Sept. 2nd to 12th inclusive at $5.30 each, and on Sept 8th and 10th at $3.80 each, all tickets good returning from Toronto on or before September 15.

BASEBALL

The Briscoes want to get on games with the Tilbury and Thamesville juniors, age 14 years.

A baseball team, composed of Taylor, Rankin, Weldon, McGarry, Morden, Aviehouser, Reid, Miller, Douglas, Robert and Austin, went to Wallaceburg today to play the intermediates.

Peter McAulay, manager of the C. M. C. baseball club, regrets very much his inability to complete local arrangements so as to bring the Leamington baseball team here on Friday. Manager McAulay, however, hopes to have the Tilbury team here this week, and he will bring the Leamington team later.

Eastern Consolidated's Luck Oil Struck on its Santa Barbara Holding in California

The Eastern Consolidated Oil Company has again been brought prominently before the public by the discovery of oil on its immense holdings in Santa Barbara, California. This Company has a 20 year lease of 19,000 acres on the Santa Barbara coast. A test well is being put down and already oil in rich abundance has been struck. The well will be carried down several hundred feet deeper in the hope of striking the second "pay streak" and thus getting a line on the available oil resources of this tract at once.

It is expected that a rush of oil men will immediately take place in this locality now that the news has been made public. Already the value of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Company's holdings have increased several hundred thousand dollars in value. The Hon. Ernest Cady, the president of the Company, is on the ground looking out for the interests of the shareholders.

This Company is a marked instance of having the right kind of officials and directors that really direct. The management of the Company is not left in the hands of promoters but entrusted to the keenest financiers in the State, who take an active interest in the business. President Cady is an ex-lieutenant governor of the state of Connecticut. While he is in California, Mr. George Bennett, the treasurer of the Company, and Judge Charles J. Noyes of Boston, one of the directors, are in Ohio, where the Company has 100 producing oil wells.

Probably the richest holding of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Company is the 10 acres in the heart of the Kern River district in California. This tract the Company owns in fee simple. It is surrounded by richly producing oil wells. This 10 acres alone will be able to pay the dividends on the capital invested. Development work has been begun on this tract and 10 wells are being drilled. When these are producing (as they will be in a few weeks) it is doubtful whether the price can long be held at $6. a share.

The price of Eastern Consolidated Oil Company's stock is certain to advance in a short time anyway as soon as the present allotment is exhausted. It will only be a matter of a few weeks now, certainly by January 1, 1903, before the stock now selling at 50c. a share will go to $1.00 a share. This is scarcely to be wondered at when it is known that already within one year's time $125,000 has been paid in cash to stockholders in dividends on their investments at the rate of 2 per cent. monthly or 24 per cent. yearly. Next week comes another quarterly dividend pay day when $50,000 more will be distributed to stockholders.

The Eastern Consolidated Oil Company is certainly one of the gilt edged oil investments of the new century. These who buy now have a good chance—yes, almost a certainty of doubling their money in a few weeks. The stock is sold by C. B. Heydon & Co., brokers at 74 Queen street west, Toronto, Ontario.

Tommy's Tackle

By EDWIN J. WEBSTER
Copyright, 1901, by Edwin J. Webster

Thomas Stevenson, better known as Tommy, left college with a fair knowledge of mechanical engineering and a disposition to meet life good naturedly. Incidentally Tommy carried away a well developed set of muscles and left behind him the reputation of being the surest tackler that had played on the university eleven.

The head coach measured every man's worth by his ability to play football.

"Tommy will never be a great player," he said regretfully. "He's too slow in his running. But he certainly is the hardest tackler I ever met. It's my belief Tommy would jar a freight engine if he made a good plunge at it."

After Tommy's graduation his uncle offered him a position at the Walnut mines.

"It will do the boy good," said the uncle, "and knock some of the college nonsense out of him."

Tommy was far from regarding his college education as nonsense, but he was anxious to get a practical knowledge of mining, so he accepted the position without discussing with his uncle the value of a collegiate training. His principal duties at the mine were to keep track of the time the men worked and the number of tons of coal brought out of the mine. This was not exactly the work Tommy had looked forward to while in college, but he accepted the situation philosophically.

"I want to find out all about the business," thought Tommy cheerfully, "and the best way is to get what I can out of the job I'm on. Something better will turn up later."

Because he was big and good natured and free from egotism everybody at the mines liked Tommy. It was one of the boasts of the Walnut mine owners that they had never had a strike. When the miners in the Quincy mines across the river went out, the Walnut miners refused to join them, so one morning a deputation was sent over to rouse a sympathetic strike. The strikers' deputation was led by "Big Bill" Tomlinson. Bill was over six feet tall, weighed 250 pounds and had the reputation of being the best boxer and wrestler in that district. Unless he had been drinking, however, Bill was good natured and not given to abusing his strength. On this particular morning Bill had felt that his position as the leader of the strikers called on him to Bill came down with a heavy fall. A few drinks. He was not intoxicated, but his potatoes had greatly increased his sense of his own dignity.

When the strikers arrived, Tommy was sitting alone in the office at the entrance to the mines. Tommy knew Bill by sight.

"Hello," said Tommy cheerily. "What's up this morning?" "We're from the Quincy mines," answered Bill, speaking slowly and with an attempt at impressiveness. "You know we are on strike, and we have been sent over as a committee to see your men and get them to join us. We're going down in the mines and have a talk with them."

"It's against the rules for any one to go in the mines without a pass from the superintendent," objected Tommy. "Rules! Rules!" thundered Bill, his voice and temper rising. "What do we care for rules? We're going in the mine, and we're going now too."

Tommy was perplexed. In a drawer of his desk lay a revolver meant for use in such emergencies, but Tommy didn't want to use it. Bill wasn't a kind sort of fellow at heart, and he had a family depending upon him. Moreover, Tommy felt a healthy young athlete's aversion to the use of deadly weapons. One thing was certain, no one was going down that mine without permission while he, Thomas Stevenson, had any breath in his body.

"Why don't you apply at the superintendent's office?" he asked, determined to delay the crisis as long as possible. "Maybe he would let you have the passes."

"Maybe he would telephone for the police," sneered Bill. "No, young fellow, don't give us any steer of that sort. We haven't anything against you and don't want to hurt you, but we're going down the mine and going right now."

"Guess again," replied Tommy, with a sly cheerfulness. Even if they did pound him there was no use in feeling bad before he was hurt. "No passes, no entrance, is the rule of this game."

Bill's temper was now fully aroused. Should he, the leader of the strikers, be thwarted by a young fellow just out of college? From the door to the spot where Tommy was standing was about twenty feet, and Bill came forward with a rush.

As Tommy saw the big miner rushing at him there flashed through his mind the memory of a November afternoon when the Yale center rush had broken through the line and, ball under his arm, was plunging toward the goal. Tommy's tackle had saved the day then. Perhaps it would work again.

"Low and hard is the word," thought Tommy, and, setting his teeth and gathering every muscle in his body for the spring, he plunged forward.

The beauty about a skillfully executed football tackle is that the harder the other man is coming forward the more violently he is thrown. Bill had plunged forward with all the force of every ounce of muscle in his big body. Tommy caught him just above the knees and threw a little twist into the tackle. It had taken the head coach weeks to teach Tommy that twist. In the end he had learned it thoroughly. Bill was hurled through the air and came down with a heavy jar partly on his left shoulder and partly on his head. Tommy extricated himself and stood ready to meet the rush of strikers which he thought was coming. Bill stayed on the floor.

But the rush of strikers didn't come. Instead they stared in open mouthed amazement first at Tommy, who was standing with the blood running from a little cut on his lip and a cheerful, expectant look on his face, and then at the prostrate Bill. One of the miners gave a little chuckle.

"Did you see the way the kid threw Bill?" he said admiringly. "He certainly is a winner."

Bill rose to his feet slowly and painfully, with a look on his face not of anger, but of utter surprise. Tommy stood alert, not looking for trouble, but ready to meet it if it came. But Bill's intentions were peaceable. He extended his hand to Tommy, gazing at him with a new found respect.

"Shake hands, Tommy," said he. "It's all right about the mine. I don't believe any of us want to go down today. It might not be healthy. But, Tommy," he added, "they certainly did learn you more in your school than reading, writing and figuring."

And Bill and his followers trudged peacefully away from the Walnut mines.

Tommy related the incident to his uncle that evening. The latter was indignant at the audacity of the strikers in daring to interfere with his mines.

"Some one ought to complain to the police," "I don't believe I shall," replied Tommy thoughtfully. "I can't see that I have anything to complain of. And Bill, while not exactly content, seemed fully satisfied."

The Indian Experimented.

A missionary in charge of a small church on the Indian reservation at Onondaga held evening services for his people at which subjects upon which he lectured were not strictly religious. One evening when the little building was well filled with braves and their squaws he described the solar system and told them that the earth revolved about the sun and also turned over once in every twenty-four hours.

Early the next morning the priest was awakened by a knock. He opened the door to find a big Indian wrapped in a blanket standing on the porch.

"Why, Ohagan?" he exclaimed. "Is anything the matter?"

"Missionary lied," grunted the Indian.

"I lied? What do you mean?"

"Missionary say world turn over every night. Injun go home, set up stick, put apple on stick. If world turn over, apple fall off. This morning apple on stick. Missionary lied, Hah!" And with this parting grunt he strode down the path, unheeding the priest's calls.

Quite Different.

In some parts of Canada it is customary to call the justice of the peace or local magistrate "squire." One of these worthies, a very estimable man, who always enjoyed a good story, even if it were at his own expense, used to be fond of relating an experience he once had with an uneducated English farmer.

After transacting some business the "squire" and the Englishman sat down to enjoy a smoke together. When they had lighted their pipes, the stolid Britisher started the conversation by remarking, "I notice as 'ow folks calls you the 'squire'."

"That's because I am a justice of the peace," replied the Canadian.

"Things is so different at 'ome," "Indeed?"

"Yes, in England a squire—w-y, bless your 'eart, a squire, 'e's a gentleman!"

In the Wrong Shop.

An individual who from his clothes and the dinner pail which he carried appeared to be a laboring man recently walked into a drugstore in Eleventh avenue and requested to be given a marriage license.

"You'll have to go to the city hall to get that," said the druggist.

"I don't see why. Isn't my money good here? I'm in a hurry too."

"We don't handle that kind of license," answered the druggist.

"Well, I was told I could get one here sure, and that justice won't marry me without a license," angrily snapped the fellow as he walked out.

The druggist said that people often came in with requests that would make a stone man smile. "And if you laugh they get mad," he concluded.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

SHORT STORIES.

The total capital invested in railways and canals in Canada is $1,100,000,000.

Twenty states in this country made pig iron last year as against twenty-one in 1899 and 1900.

The average daily output of the New York state pulp mills is 2,600 tons, or nearly half the total American production.

In the estimation of a South Carolina paper the southern people consider Robert E. Lee "the greatest figure" of the war and Jefferson Davis the figure "most typical" of the lost cause.

The Rocky mountain locust, or grasshopper, in 1874 destroyed $100,000,000 worth of crops of Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Iowa, and the indirect loss was probably a much more.

In recent experiments with a submerged bell for signaling to ships from dangerous coasts an eight hundred pound bell was struck with a fifty pound weight falling a foot. The sounds were startlingly distinct on board vessels a mile away.

CYNICISMS.

Kin klays are never in earnest. We always try to steer clear of those whose conversation is said to be "elevating."

Give a girl all the athletic sport she wants. In a few years sweeping will be her golf and dishwashing her ping-pong.

The world seems to be divided into two classes—those who board and envy those who keep house and those who keep house and envy the boarders.

Baby Marjory has been having her first experience of rural sights and sounds, of green things growing, of flowers hiding in the grass, of cows in the pasture, of horses in the stable. She was delighted with all but one of them, says a writer in the Philadelphia Telegraph.
The one exception was the big, surly dog that keeps watch and ward over the farm. She respected Hector in his own place, but that place is at a distance. She did not want him or his kind to approach near enough for intimate acquaintance.
Having been invited by a lady of the house to take a walk down to the village, Marjory hesitated a little. "Why, Marjory," exclaimed the lady, in an injured tone of voice, "don't you want to go with me?"
"Yes," replied the little maid, "I want to go, but please don't let any dogs happen to me!"

In the village of North St. Philip is the George Inn. It claims to be the oldest licensed village alehouse in England, the license dating from 1347. Its appearance is eminently picturesque, each story overhanging that beneath, while the front is broken by bay windows, a porch and a flight of stone steps leading to a doorway in the wall. At the back are more quaint doors and windows, a turret built against the wall and enclosing an outside stair, while in the yard still remains a portion of the old gallery which in the middle ages was found in so many hostleries. Most of the front is timbered. Each gable is surmounted by a curious chimney. A curious feature of the interior is the upper floor, which is of plaster.

PLOWING WITH ELEPHANTS

Barnum's Reply to the Farmer Who Asked Whether It Would Pay.

It may be said of P. T. Barnum that he was the major domo or lord of laughter and fun, the prototypic dispenser of amusement. How well he became known through this function one curious incident certifies. Some years before he died an obscure person in some remote part of Asia wrote a letter, which he dropped in the postoffice near him, directed to "Mr. Barnum, America." The letter reached its destination without an hour's delay. The great showman unaffectedly enjoyed being known from the very beginning of his celebrity, and when he found his celebrity was a tremendous factor in his success he did everything that he could think of to extend the exploitation of his name. This was not to nourish vain imaginings or because he felt exalted. It was to promote business.

Around his successive homes at Bridgeport, Conn., he was fond of putting something that suggested a show. Quaintly marked cattle, the sacred cow or an elephant was frequently among the stock to be noticed in his fields. On one occasion he had an elephant engaged in plowing on the sloping hill where it could be plainly seen by the passengers on the New Haven and Hartford railroad, an agricultural innovation that he knew would get notice of some sort in every newspaper in the country. It was even said that he received letters from farmers far and wide, asking how much hay one elephant ate and if it was more profitable to plow with an elephant than with horses or oxen. His replies were invariably frank and were of this purport: If you have a large museum in New York and a great railway sends trains full of passengers within eye-shot of the performance, it will pay, and pay well, but if you have no such institution then horses and oxen will prove more economical.

WEDDING SUPERSTITIONS.

The bride should not fail to shed a few tears on her wedding day. It is an omen of good luck in the future.

It is unlucky for the bride to enter the church before the ceremony at a door and leave after the ceremony by another door.

The bride should always cut the first piece of her wedding cake and pour out the first glass of wine for her guests if there are not too many.

If the bride drops her handkerchief on the wedding day and the bridegroom picks it up, it is a sign that in the future he will play second fiddle.

It is said to be unlucky to the shoes to any part of the carriage in which the bride and bridegroom go away, but it is lucky to throw an old shoe after the bride as she enters the carriage.

In leaving the church the bride will do well to place her right foot foremost if she wishes to be happy, healthy, etc., in the future, and she should always be the first to call her husband by name.

After the wedding breakfast and reception the bride should be careful to throw away and lose all the pins, if there are any about her. The bridesmaids should not keep the pins themselves or they will retard their chances of marriage.

A Modest Request.
To judge from an incident reported in the Washington correspondence of the New York Tribune, the department of agriculture sometimes appears from a distance like a big department store. During the season when members of congress send out seeds one of the packages found its way back to the sender, accompanied by a note from the farmer to whom it had been addressed.

"My dear sir," wrote the farmer, "I appreciate your good will in sending the seeds, but my eldest daughter, Matilda, is going to marry the doctor down to the village next month, and wife and I think of giving up the farm and going there to live. If we do, the seeds won't be much good, as we shan't have a garden; so if you could change them to some stockings (No. 6) and some handkerchiefs or a nice spring bonnet for Matilda I would be much obliged."

A Juvenile Feminine Prayer.
A little girl was spending the summer at a fashionable watering place, and one morning she played upon the veranda of the hotel where her mother was stopping she heard a lengthy conversation upon the fashions of the day and the absolute necessity of stylishness in dress if one hoped to be a success in society. One lady went so far as to say that stylishness was far more important than beauty.

That night as the child said her usual prayer she added, with great earnestness, "And oh, dear Lord do please make me stylish!"

Medicinal Uses of Salt.
Salt is one of the greatest of natural remedies and antiseptics. A weak solution—an even teaspoonful in a glass of water, cold or hot—is excellent for indigestion. A solution of about the same strength will often relieve a cold in the head if snuffed up through the nose.

Severe pains in the bowels are often relieved by the application of a bag of hot salt.

Necessary Precautions.
Life Insurance Agent—My dear sir, have you made any provision for those who come after you?
Hardup—Yes; I put the dog at the door and told the hired girl to say I'm out of town.

VACATIONS IN VOLUMES.

WHEN the farm gets sort of lonesome, then's when I decide to go on a trip to foreign countries—say, to England, don't you know? Er, correctly speaking, London, where the fog's a hangin' low.

An' the arc lights glow an' glimmer with a dull an' heavy glow. There I find a friend o' mine seated in his easy chair.

In a room that's fairly reekin' with the smoke that's in the air. An' I listen, as does Watson, till my eyes begin to dim.

While Sherlock Holmes unravels murder mysteries to him.

When the house seems dull an' heavy, then in mind I pack my grip. Set down in the easy rocker, light my pipe an' take a trip.

Over where my friend Mulvaney an' his comrades do their worst. An' a man—at least Mulvaney—never fails to raise a thirst.

There is pleasure when I find him, seas o' pleasure to be had! Last time I was with Mulvaney he was courtin' Dinah Shadd.

An' the hour hand was pointin' to the twelve upon the clock. When I said, "Goodby, Mulvaney, little Ortheris an' Jack!"

This thing of a feller's envy fer the rich man with his yacht. Who can take his long vacations—well, it's nature like as not.

Sometimes when I've been readin' I'll wear, upon the whole. That I've lived right with them heroes, not in body, but in soul.

Let the rich man go to England er up where the walrus swim. Fact remains, as sure as shootin', I've seen things as strange as him.

An' tonight, when I'm a-prayin', I will say, "Bless me, an' then Bless the feller that can make me take vacations with the pen."

Charming Summer Resorts

Two interesting little books of the illustrated folder type have been issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System, one being entitled "Songs of the Nipissing," and the other "The Eastern Coast of Lake Huron." The illustrations are very numerous, are of all sizes, and are scattered through the pages to elucidate the text and appear to the eye just as the story told in the letter press does to the mind. The prevailing note in these little works, upon which a profitable half hour may be spent by the reader, is the craving for change, and there can be no doubt that men and women who live in the stress and strain of to-day, and feel the throbs of advanced and advancing civilization, do require change—complete change for mind and body. The haunts described here minister to the intellectual as well as the physical health of jaded dwellers in cities. The physical exercises that can be obtained among the woods and waters create and promote a perfectly sound bodily condition, while the multifarious life that is to be found, stimulates the intellectual faculties and prompt inquiry and investigation into nature's ways as they are revealed in her flora and fauna. The maps which are in these pamphlets enable the visitor to the wilds, to realize his bearings at whatever part he may be, and the general information given enables him to economize his time and spend it to the best advantage.

BLLENHEIM

Sept. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. John Stover, Chatham, are visiting in town. W. D. Samson and family have returned home after spending the summer at Brims. Frank Raynor and George Higley, Chatham, were in town yesterday. Carrier boys are not authorized to collect subscriptions. Our collector calls in each town once a month; if a subscriber wishes to pay his account before the collector calls he must remit direct to The Planet office, Chatham, as we will not be responsible for monies paid to carriers.

DRESDEN

Sept. 3.—Mrs. Dr. Northrup, of Port Huron is the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. Miller. Miss Madeline Bolton, of Wallaceburg, was the guest of Dresden friends yesterday. F. T. Laird is having his lawn made into a handsome boulevard in front of his residence on North street. Miss Kathleen McVean leaves this week for Toronto, to resume her studies at college. The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Carscadden who has been ill for several days, is somewhat better. Mrs. W. H. Willson and son Harold have returned from a vacation at Pt. Lambton.

TILBURY

Sept. 3.—Miss S. Crawford has returned from a month's vacation at her home in St. Mary's. Mrs. P. Shyne returned yesterday from a visit with friends in Toronto. Quinn "Old Boys" baseball team was defeated here yesterday by the Tilbury "Old Boys," by a score of 40 to 1. Miss Edith Stewart left for Essex to attend the wedding there to-day of her friend Miss Ethel Lang and Mr. Henderson, of the Imperial Bank staff. Mrs. Hornick, of Quinn returned on Saturday from an extended visit with relatives in Owen Sound and Meaford.

Dr. W. R. Hall has removed his office from Victoria Block to his new building on Sixth street, next door to the Fire Hall.

RUTHERFORD

Mr. and Mrs. Holey intend going to Toronto Fair. They will also pay a visit to friends in Georgetown.

Special from Norwich

The recovery of Mr. Norman Batty, Hardware Merchant, one of Norwich's oldest and most successful citizens, has excited much comment. For years Mr. Batty has been an unceasing sufferer from Catarrhal Asthma and although no end of time and money was spent, relief was not obtained until Mr. Batty commenced Catarrhoxone treatment which perfectly cured him. This case is only equalled by that of Mrs. Bannon, wife of J. J. Bannon, Druggist, who was also cured of Asthma and Hay Fever by Catarrhoxone after thirty years' suffering. Fully a hundred persons in this town have been cured of Catarrhal troubles by Catarrhoxone, which is a remarkable proof of its value. Two months' treatment. Price $1. Small size 25c. Sold by all Druggists or by mail from Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

GLENWOOD

Theatrical

At the Grand Opera House, Saturday Sept. 6, matinee and night, ed. f. Davis will present the ever attractive play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin." It will be presented in a thoroughly commendable and highly spectacular manner. Herbert Church, a popular colored actor, will appear as the faithful and humble Uncle Tom; pretty Bessie Troy, a talented child artist, will be seen as little Eva, and the remainder of the cast will be of unusual competency. The Brothers Rice and Miss Louise Ward, three nimble-heeled colored people, who are advertised as the greatest back and wing dancers in the world, will appear in the plantation scene with a number of other colored people. This ensemble will be composed of plantation singers, dancers and specialties of various sorts. The Cook, twin sisters will render several songs in an artistic manner, of which they are undoubtedly capable, as both are known to have received an exceptionally thorough musical education, and the final transformation scene to be shown in the fifth act, is described as surpassing anything of its kind seen in recent years, in performance of this play. In it nine entirely separate drop scenes are shown, and at the end is pictured Abraham Lincoln freeing the colored people.

Eastern Consolidated Oil Co'y

This Company has properties valued at over half a million dollars, and less than $13,000 indebtedness, which is not yet due. It has paid out the past year over $250,000 for dividends and development work besides paying several hundred thousand dollars for new properties. There is not a single company—no, nor half a dozen companies, in the U. S. or in Canada that can show a record equal to this! No more properties to buy, no more machinery to buy, no expensive law suits to fight, nothing to sell but the oil from over 100 producing oil wells and nothing to pay but dividends! If the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co. never sold another dollar's worth of stock, the success of the Company would still be absolutely assured, but an that is, as soon as the present allotment is subscribed for; and, whether subscribed for or not the price advances to $1.00 a share not later than January 1. Present price is 50c a share.

No Drones in This Hive

The management of this company is not in the hands of drones and slugs but in the hands of financiers of national reputation—wideawake, enterprising, energetic, pushing business men who believe that the Eastern Consolidated Oil Co., should have at least 1,000 oil wells instead of 100, and that the stock of this company will one day command $50 a share where it now sells for 50 cents! This company now has 18,000 acres of rich oil lands, upon which a well has never been drilled, simply because the company has taken all its income to pay for properties—but every acre is rich in oil!

Directors That Direct

Too many companies have prominent names on their lists—men who never see the properties! Not so the Eastern Consolidated Oil Company. The directors here take an active part in the management, and the officers are actually in the oil fields. Hon. Ernest Cody, president, is now in California for the Company. Mr. Cody is an ex-lieutenant governor of Connecticut and has been nominated for Governor. He devotes his whole attention to the interests of this Company.

Hon. Charles J. Noyes, of Boston, has been five times Speaker of the Massachusetts Legislature. Judge Noyes and Mr. Geo. W. Bennett, Secretary of the Company, are now on the Company's holdings in Ohio.
