MOST OF THE DAMAGE WAS DONE IN STAFFORDSHIRE

Zeppelins Caught Towns in That District Before Lights Could be Turned Off--One Bomb Dropped Near Chapel Filled With Women.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Feb. 3.—The removal by the government of most of the restrictions on the publication of news about the air raids has released a flood of accounts of the latest visit of the raiders.

A part of Staffordshire was the only place in which much material damage was done. The towns in this district were fully lighted when the Zeppelins approached and the light appears to have been of considerable use to the visitors, before the electricity could be shut off. The deaths and injuries in this district were in many cases attended by harrowing circumstances as for instance the killing of a woman missionary with a child in her hand, of a baby in its mother's arms as she was nursing it, of a whole family as it sat around the fireplace, as also the decapitation of a workman and the cutting off of a woman's legs in the street, while she stood watching the airship. Workmen's houses were blown to atoms, churches were destroyed, buildings were unroofed.

Nowhere did the raids cause any panic. The story of the killing of the woman missionary is thus given in detail by a correspondent, who is a member of the same parish:
STRUCK A CHAPEL
Several hours before the town is the church, separated by a short distance from the chapel in which a mission for women and girls was in progress. The woman missionary, wife of a well known vicar, was standing, Bible in hand, addressing an audience of two hundred women and girls, when a bomb dropped between the church and the mission chapel. It made a hole in the ground four feet deep and twelve feet in diameter, within twenty feet of the chapel. There was a blinding flash, then all was darkness. The woman missionary was struck by a huge fragment of shell and killed instantly. Another woman and a young girl were also killed on the spot. The screams of the injured arose in the darkness and many persons were trampled in the confusion and panic which prevailed for a few moments. Two clergymen were present at the meeting and both were injured. They worked heroically at the task of rescue and as fast as the sufferers were dragged out from under the debris, they were removed to the local hospitals, where the doctors and nurses worked untiringly in the very center of the danger zone. The church and the vicarage were partly wrecked by bomb fragments, which bored holes several inches deep in the solid masonry.

NO REASON WHY BRITAIN SHOULD ADOPT REPRISALS

Raiding German Civilians Would be of No Military Value.

BE WORSE FOR CIVILIANS They Would Suffer Horribly in Such Destructive Warfare.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Feb. 3.—The demand in certain quarters for reprisals on Germany on account of the Zeppelin raids leads The Manchester Guardian to say editorially:

"Leaving out of account all moral considerations we can see no real argument of expediency which would excuse us in stooping to the baseness which Germans have already reached."
The Guardian recognizes that the demand is due to hot indignation but its advocates, it says, after calmer reflection, will give up the idea that anything is to be gained by haphazard murder of German civilians, although a few may persist in believing that reprisals will yield an advantage. The latter class argue as analogy that the allies were forced to adopt the use of poisonous gas in warfare, but says The Guardian, we reluctant-ly followed the German example because gas was a weapon of definite military advantage which since it was employed by them, we could not afford to forego. But Zeppelin raids in England have no military importance as everyone here knows, nor would ours have any in Germany.

The newspaper declares that it would not gain protection for British civilians to take the lives of German women and children as insecure as those of a desperate one. "We think this argument a desperate one," it says. "It is based on the hope that the Germans are cowardly as well as cruel. And if this hope should fail to prove true, it would lead to competitive butchery of civilians, with the horrible and unedifying spectacle of each country counting up the casualties of the other and asking itself whether it could afford to continue such a travesty alike of war and of civilization. We do not believe it would ever lead to any stoppage once the travesty had been firmly started. With the opportunities for aerial offense which exist, there would always be infinitely more people left alive to clamor for more reprisals than there would be dead to point silently to their futility."

organized salvage parties, but practically nothing could be saved in the warehouses. The fire was prevented from spreading to surrounding buildings. The bombs thrown from the Zeppelin weighed about 100 pounds, and were dropped from a height estimated at 2,000 feet.

BIG DRIVE IS COMING ON LEFT WING OF ALLIES

Huns Preparing to Break Through to Calais and the Channel?

PLANNING A DRIVE

London, Feb. 3.—The London newspapers this morning express the conviction that the Germans are planning a new offensive on a large scale against the left wing of the Allies. It is expected that they will attempt to blast a way to Calais and Dunkirk, by the use of strong bodies of infantry supported by enormous masses of artillery.

Prisoners in Turkey Only Communicated With by Red Cross at Geneva

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Office of the Chief Press Censor, Ottawa, January 28.—The Canadian Government has received notice from London that the secretary of state for foreign affairs has been informed by the United States ambassador that the Turkish Government desire that in future remittances of money not exceeding five pounds from private persons for British prisoners of war in Turkey should be despatched to the international Red Cross committee at Geneva for transmission to the Ottoman Red Crescent Society at Constantinople by whom payment to the recipients will be effected and a receipt returned to the international committee at Geneva.
Letters and parcels should also be sent to the International Red Cross committee at Geneva for transmission. Such letters and parcels are post free. Money should be remitted by international money order, which can be obtained at any post office and which should be made payable to the International Red Cross committee at Geneva and sent on with full name, number and regiment of the prisoner of war, to whom the money is to be sent.

Prisoners in Turkey Only Communicated With by Red Cross at Geneva

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Feb. 3.—Great distress in Poland is reported by representatives of relief organizations, who have reached Berlin. The suffering among the population of the war-ravaged land is particularly for lack of shelter and fuel, while typhus and other diseases are prevalent. It is declared that 30 per cent. of the people are dependent upon relief.
The case of the captured British steamer Appam is still under advisement by the State Department. Meanwhile initial steps have been taken for the removal of 244 persons on board whom the German prize crew had held as prisoners, and who had been granted the right to leave the ship, the Appam anchoring off Newport News to facilitate this process.
Influential voices are being raised in England against the demand recently heard for reprisals because of the Zeppelin raids. One prominent newspaper declares that the effects could only be for the worse and that no military advantage would accrue.
MORE SUCCESS IN AFRICA
The following official communication was issued last night, regarding operations in West Africa:
"General Dobell, telegraphing from West Africa February 2, reports that Daing was occupied by Col. Haywood's column January 25, with slight loss, and that after defeating the enemy in another engagement two days later Col. Haywood occupied Nkan. This column is in touch with the French troops, under Col. Lemeilour, who are at Ambam."

Appam on Her Way Up the James River to Newport News.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Berlin, Feb. 3.—The German surveying ship, Moeve, was sunk by gunfire on August 9th, 1914. NO QUESTION OF STATUS.
Washington, Feb. 3.—Secretary Lansing stated to-day that there was no question as to the Appam's status as a prize, but that the question of her disposal still involved further consideration of The Hague convention and the Prussian-American treaty. Lieut. Berge's refusal to land British seamen who were gun pointers on British merchantmen, will be the subject of further consideration.

MUSIC AND DRAMA. HENRY KOLKER NEXT METRO STAR. "The Bigger Man," a Metro Star film in five acts which will be seen on Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Colonial, gives local theatre goers an opportunity of seeing one of the stage's most eminent dramatic actors on the screen. Henry Kolker, who has gained fame in half a score of notable Broadway successes, to say nothing of his distinctive interpretations of the most important classical roles, will make his first Canadian appearance. "The Bigger Man" is a screen version of Rupert Hughes' great play of the same name and eddies with the menace to democratic liberties caused by the prejudice of class against class. Wealth and labor are shown to be by no means to be antagonistic, but on the contrary, absolutely essential to each other. The picture was directed by John W. Noble, whose photo-dramatic productions have already won high favor, wherever Metro pictures are shown. J. W. Wilton, member of the Legislature for Assiniboia, has enlisted as a private.

Most of the Damage (Continued from Page 1) IN DERBYSHIRE. The Evening News says concerning Monday's raid: "Zeppelins were hovering over a Derbyshire town from shortly after 8 o'clock till nearly midnight on Monday. Bombs were dropped on various parts of the town and there were some casualties. "A Zeppelin was seen over a town in Staffordshire at 8.30 and in half an hour it had dropped nineteen explosive and incendiary bombs. The first fell near a moving picture house, the next near a theatre. A store was set on fire by an incendiary bomb, and a mission room was wrecked by another. ALSO LEICESTERSHIRE. "A Zeppelin was seen over a town in Leicestershire about 8 o'clock and remained over the town until 10.30. In that time four bombs were dropped, two falling in a poor locality, where a number of houses were badly damaged and several persons killed or injured." The testimony of a resident of a sea coast village in Norfolk during Monday's raid is given as follows in The Manchester Guardian: "About five o'clock in the evening I heard a noise in the sky above my cottage and saw a Zeppelin coming down rather slowly at a sharp angle. It then righted itself and cruised about, as if taking its bearing. It was of a greyish brown color, like a rat. All the people of the village came out to see the airship, which after a circular movement along the coast, dropped bombs near some farm buildings in a field and then made off. It was over our neighborhood altogether about three-quarters of an hour, and seemed unable to find its course. A witness who saw a Zeppelin over London in the last raid, says that the present one seemed twice as large. Nelson H. Horton was appointed second assessor of Owen Sound.

IN SO SHORT A TIME.

"THE ABLEST POLITICIAN YET PRODUCED BY THE LABOR PARTY"

This is Opinion of American Observer of Arthur Henderson, Leader of Labor Forces in British House of Commons—Been in Political Life Only a Little Over Ten Years.

The Labor congress in Bristol a few days ago favored the retention of a membership the Asquith cabinet by Arthur Henderson.

Considering what has been happening in English politics during the past year, the cabinet difficulties, the resignations, and the events which preceded the first reading of the conscription bill, I am tempted to call Henderson a statesman.

HENDERSON IS NO NOVICE.

The services which, up to this important moment in his career, Henderson had rendered to his party, justified the confidence reposed in him.

FROM MOULDER TO MINISTER

Henderson, however, was not a man to quit. He was a Scotsman. He had been born in Glasgow, and had fought his way up laboriously from a moulder's bench in the Stephenson works at Newcastle.

Neutrals Should Fear 'Perfidious' Teutons Paris, Feb. 2.—If the stake in this war is formidable for us, it is no less for our allies, who, like ourselves, do not intend to become the prey of German cupidity," said President Poincaré yesterday at a fête in honor of soldiers decorated with the cross of war. "Neutrals themselves, if they have a clear notion of their permanent interests, cannot be entirely disinterested in a conflict in which so many nations are engaged," continued the President. THE DIAMOND FROM THE SKY 'So our old friend Vivian is after the diamond?' says the dapper little count as he turns and faces the framed photograph of Vivian Marston that occupies a place of honor in Durand's handsomely furnished apartments. 'I was always clever. Remember she wrote about this stone?' The handsome Durand strokes his close cropped, waxy hair and muses. 'I always thought that diamond was a myth,' he says finally. 'So many of these old and supposedly priceless heirlooms turn out to be junk when an expert gets his hands on them,' and Frank Durand placed a peculiar emphasis on the word 'expert.'

'Well,' interjected the dapper little count, 'if Abe Bloom says there is such a stone and that it is worth half a million you can be sure it is a real diamond and worth much more. Abe Bloom and his little brother, lie the Richmond pawnbroker, are two of the best judges of diamonds in the country.'
