WOLFVILLE WINS FROM KENTVILLE

In Interesting Game of Cricket

After being defeated by the Kentville Club in five games the local cricketers turned the tables on their opponents on Saturday last, and won by the score of 52 to 47. The game, which was played on the College campus, was closely contested and the outcome was in doubt right up to the finish.

Kentville went to bat first and scored 47 runs, of which number Ferguson in secured 23, before being bowled out by Robinson. The bowling of Robinson and Spittall was very effective and the others fell in quick order. J. F. Herbin and service a constitution of the service of the se right up to the finish made a sensational catch and retired Miller. Copeland and Lavelle also made splendid catches. The first two players on the home team quickly succumbed to the bowling of Walker. Then Bauld and Spittall made a long stand and when they were retired the score was 34. Smith, Robinson and Lavelle fell without scoring and Wolfville's chances looked slim. Herbin Sr. added four more to the score. When Mckensen went to bat Wolfville needed nine runs to tie the score, but his wicket fell after his securing but seven. It was then up to Herbin Jr. and Copeland who both played splendidly and succeeded in securing seven runs between them, and enough to win the game. The local team were much elated 7 b clock.

W. C. T. U ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM OUR TRAVELLERS' AID

A young girl arrived at the station one Saturday night, expecting to be met by a soldier friend and taken to his parents home, but he failed to arrive. There was no train by which she could get back home, and she was without sufficient funds to pay expenses. She told me she had friends in the city, but she did not have the correct street number. I went with her and succeeded in placing her in the safe-keeping of her friends. She was quite frightened when she realized her position, and said repeatedly, "What would I have done if you had not been there?"

One morning, while putting an elderly couple on the train. I overheard a woman. with a little girl about twelve years of age, asking different persons if they were going to ______, as she wanted to send her little girl in the care of someone. A man, a foreigner, stepped up to her and said, "I am going to Then, turning to the girl, he said, "Will you go home with me?" She replied "Yes, I will go with you." I then turned to the mother and enquired if she knew this man. She replied in the negative; but she said she wanted to get her child to — without paying her fare. I said, "Take my advice and do not send her with that stranger." Later on, we found an elderly lady, who undertook the care of the little girl, and the mother was very grateful, saying that she had never thought of there being any danger; but now realized what might have been Alighting from a train from the East on a disagreeable night in March was a frail little woman with seven children. One of the number was a girl of eight or ten a cripple. To keep them all together and at the same time to look after the innumerable parcels, seemed to be almost more than she could manage. When asked if she would like some asdirecting her attention to our white badge of service, she exclaimed, "Oh, how nice! God's everywhere, is He not?'

To help the three or four hours' wait pass pleasantly, to direct and help in many ways, and finally put them all on board the train, won from the tired little woman a tearful and heartfelt thanks as the train pulled out for the West.

THE FARM MOTHER

A few weeks ago we read the story of a farm mother who had been carrying water from the well for 50 years at half a cent a mile. That is, half a cent a mile would have paid for a force pump and some pipe and a tank upstairs.

Many other farm women are carrying water at half a cent a mile. Many of them are scrubbing old floors at nothing Many of them are wearing out their backs over a wash board.

It is time to take old grain-cradle and one-horse-plow methods out of the kitch-We don't farm that way any more It isn't fair to let Mother do her work that way. Her time and energy are worth too much for other things-to her child-

"What I did to cure a cough which was Racking my system to pieces.

"One very hot evening last summer, while in the mountains, a cool breeze suddenly came up which left me thoroughly chilled. Next day I felt a slight cold in my head but thought nothing of it. The following day the cold had developed into a cough. This kept up for some weeks but instead of getting better the cough kept getting worse. A tickling sensation developed in my throat. I tried everything I could think of to get rid of it. It was worse when I went to bed. As soon as I laid down the tickling sensation started and the only relief I could get was to sit up in bed. Towards morning, I sometimes, from sheer exhaustion, managed to get a little sleep. During all this time my cough was getting worse. Sometimes in these severe fits of coughing spasms I was left weak and exhausted. Anything I tried only gave me temporary relief. I couldn't take anything but liquid foods. I couldn't sleep. I was losing weight every day. At times I suffered the most intense agony with headaches. A friend of mine told me about Carnol. After trying it for three weeks I noticed that my cough was beginning to soften, that my appetite was returning, that the headaches had left me, that I slept longer. After taking seven bottles of Carnol, I am perfectly well and enjoying better health than I have ever had before in my life."

WRITING UP OUR VALLEY

English Writer Describes Wolfville as Most Attractive Little Garden Town He Ever Saw.

The London Daily Mail is a paper with a circulation of one and three-quarter millions. It has recently inaugurated a World Tour of Inquiry, and one of its foremost writers, Sir William Beach Thomas, has started on this tour. It is a tour principally into the prospects and opportunities for British settlers, men and vomen alike, in the broader and less crowded lands separated from Great Britain by broad seas. The oversea British Dominions, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, etc., will receive first consideration, and people dvised to seek homes therein.

Sir William has made part of his our, has visited us in the Valley and written up some of our opportunities and resources. From the Daily Mail of May 29th we take the following extracts

On landing at Halifax I grew interested n the fortunes of five Scandinavians who were emigrating to Nova Scotia and I altered my route to see the part of the country they had selected. They had all been brought up on the land, one in Denmark, one in Holland, and three in

All had engaged themselves as farm aborers on the north side of Nova Scotia, "where the apples come from", and most farm produce besides. It is one of the very few parts of any country in Europe or America that have not suffered this year from depression among their farms and farmers. Indeed, it claims a world

For three consecutive years the apple trees have been heavy with apples and business has been good. Over 2,000,000 parrels were sent away last season. The ittle town of Kentville in the middle o the apple country was stiff with commer cial travellers who had come in the wak of the money.

Was such fortune due to luck or skill A persistent belief prevails throughout this apple-growers' paradise that science has found the secret of steady production The people believe that where the right land is chosen-above the frost-line and out of the sand-production of No. 1 apples may be surer than the production of No. 1 Manitoba wheat: and that the key of success is small regular applications of nitrate of soda in the spring.

I drove through some of the best o the country with Professor Blair, the head of a 500-acre Federal experimenta farm. He had just paid a visit to England to attend the Daily Mail Apple She for which his admiration was unbounded -and careful, almost canny, man of science that he is, by Scottish descent as by training, he has a most lusty faith in the future of the industry and of the country.

Along with everyone else that I spoke to on the subject, he wants immigrants lots of immigrants, to develop the wealth that is as yet only scratched. And it is to Britain he looks. The British emigrant is preferred before all others, with peraps an exception in favor of the S dinavian. "The very best men we have had," one official said, "have been from Kent and South Wales.'

The best possible sort of immigration has been tried, and is succeeding even beyond expectation, in the neighborhood of Wolfville, the most attratice little garden town-it is also a university town -I ever saw. Mr. Oliver Hind, a generous worker among the boys of Nottingham endowed a little fruit and general farm called Farm Dakeyne, where yearly a dozen boys of 17 or so are sent and given a year's training.

Professor Blair, who has recently begun to take a leading part in the scheme holds that when their year is up these boys are even more useful than country trained workers. They are less haphazard, more skilful, more alert, more scientific. If only other benefactors would set up similar farms in other provinces on the model of Mr. Hind!

The farmers and their "apple Paradise that lies between Windsor and Digby along the Bay of Fundy demand a description to themselves: and I must return for the moment to my Scan dinavians.

They did not come in a hurry to Nova Scotia through news of this latest bout of productive prosperity. Their decision was of older standing. They had made long inquiries into the possibilities of the land and had definite arrangements with farmers.

They are to start as laborers on the following terms. They receive in dollars the equivalent of 5 pounds a month n addition to free board and lodging and washing. They live with the farmer and are treated—on the small, but not always on the larger, farms—as "one of the family", sharing the life of the farmer, indoors as well as outdoors Every 5 pounds they save is the value

f an acre of good land; and it is long odds that before many years they will all be veomen farmers in some measure, working a little, it may be, for others, elling a little timber off the land that they will be steadily clearing for the apple rees. Such is the near future that they sketch.

Mire-Telephone!

The Highways Board has vastly improved our highways-but it has still a lot to do.

The motorist venturous enough to seek for business along our country roads after a few days of rain such as we recently had still runs into sections of highway that are veritable quagmires.

That won't happen when the job is finished, of course, and in the meantime he needn't undergo the experience.

A GROWING INDUSTRY

Visitors to Wolfville—and there are many at this season of the year—frequently ask information regarding the industries of this section. Those who come from cities often wonder at the signs of prosperity and affluence which in the industries of this section. The time for the greatest menace from this nuisance—for a nuisance from this nuisance—for a nuisance. of prosperity and affluence which abound on every hand in the absence of tall smoke-stacks and manufacturing institutions. In the Annapolis Valley we possess an industry which is a real source of wealth and is growing in magnitude every year. Too little has been written and spoken regarding the apple-growing industry of which Wolfville is a natural centre. This industry involves a great amount of labor for practically all the year and its influence is felt on every hand. Only a few years ago a quarter of a million of barrels was regarded a big yield, but the growth for practically its influence is felt on every hand. It is certainly up to the authorities to see that these conditions are bettered, and with the least possible delay. If our people were but alive to their best interests Toronto, Quebec, Kingston, Halifax and St. John's, Nfid.

On his return from Newfoundland Mr. Shipman will stop at Halifax in very untidy and unsanitary conditions to continue—as they have already done too long—they would insist that this place of public resort should be made a real attraction such as visitory might be referred to with price. The present neglect is a reflection not only upon our civic respect but also upon our business acumen.

AVOIDING CROSSED THREADS

. The trouble caused by a crossed thread on the filler pipe of the gas tank can be avoided by a little stunt in screwing on the cap. Most drivers put the cap on any old way, try to screw it down in a hurry and end by crossing the threads All this may be obviated by turning the cap backwards after placing it over the pipe. If this is done the right start can be made with much less delay, for the driver can feel when the first thread of the cap passes the starter.

Season's Prospects Detailed by the Dominion Fruit Branch

The July fruit and vegetable report of the Fruit Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture is full of matter of importance to growers and shippers. Apples on the whole promise exceedingly well in Ontario, although Spy, Baldwin and Greening promise to be light. In the other apple-growing provinces a crop 25 percent lighter than last year is indicated. Peaches and plums promise well in Ontario; so too do cherries

A larger acreage than usual has been sown to onions and one percent less to potatoes. The Prairie Provinces, British Columbia, and the Maritime Provinces all show a rather larger decrease in the acreage devoted to potatoes and Quebec shows an increase of six percent over last year. In British Columbia, peaches, plums and prunes promise to be better than the average, apricots, raspberries, and currants about an average, cherries fair and loganberries light. An increase of the acreage devoted to onions is reported.

Kentville, N. S., July 3, 1922. To C. A. Campbell, Esq.,

May I be permitted to submit a brief summary of work accomplished under the Public Health programme since September 1921. Approximately 3100 pupils were examined in the schools, some schools were necessarily visited more than once; the greater the number attending, the more visits required for the individual examinawhich remediable defects are noted. Kentville school was visited nine (9) times for such examination. At each visit a talk on the value of acquiring health hablits was given as also showing of the tooth brush drill; nine (9) dental clinics were held, two of the local dentists willingly giving their time for this important teaching; as also doing free dentistry for needy children. Several other visits for health instruction, and examination for reported skin conditions making a total of about twenty five (25) to the end of June 1922. Wolfville school and currants, while grapes and rasp-berries are likely to prove a fairly good crop, but pears appear to be below the average. Working school was visited five times December 1921, all the pupils present having been examined during these visits. During the previous year 1920 and 1921, this school was visited five times to complete the required examination, besides several other visits in passing through the town. There were visits paid to Wolfville in connection with the work, which did not include the school.

Many visits were paid to the homes of school children, to homes of soldiers discharged from the Nova Scotia Sana-torium, to tuberculous and other ill persons in various parts of the county. Clinics were held weekly, some of these—the tuberculosis, and eye, ear, nose and throat clinics, being largely attended.
