A startling bit of news was made public property yesterday. It was the confession of Andrew Boyd, of the firm of Boyd, Gillies & Co., whose premises were fired in May last, and for which two membes of a gang of fire-bugs, Haynes and Jenkins, have been arrested.

The man in moderate circumstances, who insures his life for the benefit of his wife and family, has the satisfaction that his loved ones are protected against want and privation.

His brother—the non-insurer—also in moderate circumstances, is cartainly in an undesirable position, for, in case of his death his loved ones would be left unprovided for, and of necessity be compelled to battle with life's difficulties, and subject to want and privation.

Dr. Fell is one of the directors of the Crystal Beach Company, on the Canadian side of Niagara River, and carried on his business among the visitors to the Beach. At Stevensville, Ont., proceedings were instituted against the Kickapoo Indians for practising without a license, but the case was dismissed.

The Chairman introduced this subject, to clipt year and the City Council, a thorough examination was made of him. It was found that not only was his heart on the right side, but that his right lung was on his left side, the liver on the left side, and the spleen on the right side. The traveler was driving across a bridge over a creek that was running bank full after being dry for months, and noticed an old settler sitting on the bank with his feet hanging in the stream, bailing up the water first with one hand and then with the other, and letting it trickle back into the creek. The traveler spoke to him, but the old man seemed not to hear at first, and continued to bail up the water as though in a dream. When he did finally hear and look up his face was wreathed in a happy smile, and tears were running down his cheeks.

The traveler made some remark in the way of inquiry as to the old man's actions. The old settler bailed up a double haudful of water, and in a voice that trembled with the intensity of realization of all it meant, he rapturously cried: "It's water, friend! It's water!"

SUNBURN A GOOD THING.

It Refines and Enriches the Texture of Skin But a Real Blistering is Bad.

An optimistic dermatologist has lately promulgated the theory that sunburn is rather a good thing in its way. The Holmes Visited by Thousands of Curi- action of the sun upon the skin is really beneficial, he says, and it is only the first place that the effect is unpleasant. After the sunburn has worn off, the texture of the skin is finer, smoother and more elastic than it was before.

At the same time the summer gir does not care to appear in the guise of an Indian, and she would prefer to improve the texture of her skin in less trying ways than by burning it. Consequently she carries with her various lotions and emollients. Cold cream, benzoin, witch hazel and lemon juice are among the necessities of the summer campaign. Cold cream rubbed into Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They the face, rubbed lightly off again and Regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable. dusted with powder will help the girl who goes sailing from returning with a lobster-hued complexion. A veil of net or chiffon' should be worn after this operation, not only because it sids in protecting the face from sunburn, but because it hides the cream and powder combination.

When one's best precautions fail and sunburn does attack one, it must be treated with due regard to its severity. If it is a light attack, bathe the face water every ten minutes for an hour. Then rub in a little cold cream and steam the face over boiling water with benzoin in it. Finally wash it in cold water and toilet vinegar, rub more cold cream on it and sleep for a couple of hours. The skin will be not only fre from sunburn, but soft and smooth after this treatment. There is nothing which "sets" tan so irrevocably as cold water. Water as hot as it can be borne should be used. As not every farm house or hotel boasts this complexion cure at all hours of the day, the wise damsel keeps an alcohol lamp in her room, and over it she heats water at any time when she needs it.

Once upon a time a young woman camped out with her brothers. She was told by them that to smear her face and neck liberally with turpentine would guarantee her safety from all the insects which make camp life a burden to womankind. She acted upon the suggestion, somewhat reluc tantly, to be sure, and went about for a fortnight in a state which she de scribed as "smeary and smudgy." At the end of that time, when a Turkish bath and a face steaming had done their work, she discovered that her complexion was more beautiful than it had been since the days of her infancy. She now counts refined turpentine as the best of lotions.

Keep the Sheep. The following good advice is from the FarmNews. We have taken occasion ing the flock of sheep that ought to have a place on most farms because of dina-avenue. have a place on most farms, because of the low price of wool. Sheep cannot always he held down, for their wool is one of the necessities of civilization and i can never be kept so low in price that it must be produced at a loss for any great length of time. Sheep can be made profitable aside from the produc tion of wool, if care is taken in thei management and the right breed is kept. Just at present the fine, heavy wooled breeds are under the clouds of low prices, and thousands of farmers who have well-bred flocks are selling them at any price that is offered. This sort of a panic always has the result of reducing the stocks to a point that brings about a violent reaction in prices and those who are wise enough to hold on and keep their stock up and give it good care will profit by it in the end. This has been the history of the sheep industry time and again and fortunes have been founded on wise fore sight in this direction. The wooled breeds are just as good for mut ton as any other, and there is no reason why every breeder of them should sel them and invest the money in other lines of stock or breeds of sheep. Fine wool is a necessity and the time will demand, and the man who has spent time, skill and money to perfect a flock of any of the merino breeds will receive a price for his stock that will make

have carriages thus lighted; and their example, as well as the exhibition o such vehicles at the Antwerp world's fair last year, has gone far toward establishing the fashion abroad. As yet very few coaches in this country are electrically lighted.

It is a simple matter to provide storage battery under the coachman's seat which will supply the current. It is necessary, however, to mount the lamps on elastic supports of rubber or steel to prevent the jostling of the vehicle from breaking the lamps. Incandescent burners of less size than those ordinarily employed in houses and offices are selected for this service.

An eight-cell battery, eight inches long, seven deep and four wide is said to be sufficient to maintain the light for eighteen hours without recharging. The inside lamp is placed in the center of the roof, and has two filaments. A reflector and a flat glass plate cover are other features of such lights. Additional lamps of various colors are

When we see crashing past us that enormous mass of iron and wood called the vestibule train, we are prone to wonder at the wide difference between the construction of this train and that of a bicycle. A 21 1-2-pound "safety" will carry a 150-21 1-2-pound "safety" will carry a 150-pound man at nearly the same rate of speed as the train, but for every 150-pound man the vestibule train must carry a dead-weight of between 3000 and 4000 pounds. Now, as the bicycle is a practical machine, the train must be unnecessarily heavy; and if there is such a discrepancy in one important during that time, but have received littly or no benefit. A large crop takes from the soil nearly all the elements of growth. As stated, all application of phosphate will be of advantage in the summer, but a little later there should be given a slight dressing of potash. Early in the spring more potash should be applied, followed later by some nitrogenous fertilizer. By this method there will be followed later by some nitrogenous iertillizer. ton Transcript The Most Difficult Piece of Music. A number of the most celebrated of French planists were recently asked to state the piece which they found it most difficult to execute. The answers are naturally most varied. There is a general agreement that difficulties of style are much less easy to overcome than those of technique. From the standpoint of mechanical difficulty, M. Marmontel thinks Beethoven's Sonata, Op. 3 the most redoubtable piece. M. Diemer and M. Plante accord the palm to Balackreff's L'Islamey, and M.
