GOOD FOR PICTOR.
(From The Galt Reformer.)
The Bluesones are a highly intellectual and cultured people. No fewer than six of Pietou's sons have filled or are filling the positions of principals of Canadian colleges. They are: Principal Gordon, of Queen's; the late Principal Grant, of Queen's; Principal McCrae, of Morris; the late Principal Dawson, of McGill; Principal Forrest, of Dalhousie, and Principal Falouso, of Toronto University. That is a record hard to beat.

For the last three years apples from the O'Key-Fitzgerald farm, Felcher street, Cornwallis, have brought record prices in England. Forty barrels of Cox's orange pippins sent to the London market brought fifty to fifty-two shillings per barrel. The English Knight Wellington also shipped from the O'Key-Fitzgerald farm have brought record prices for three successive years. This is a tribute to Nova Scotia, in which Mrs. O'Key-Fitzgerald may be naturally very proud.

ALL THE WHEAT That's Good To Eat.

Beaver Flour is a blend of Manitoba Spring Wheat and makes Cakes, Pastry and Bread that delight the eye and please the palate in every way. No bleaching process required with the grade of wheat we use. At your grocer's.

ALMOST A CENTENARIAN.
(Digby Dispatch.)
Digby, May 12th.—Mrs. Charlotte Everett died at the home of Mrs. Laura Medler, Birch Street, at 8 o'clock this morning in the 98th year of her age. The deceased was the oldest person in Digby County, and was born in Waterford, Digby Neck, on March 3rd, 1810.
That Mrs. Everett lived to a ripe old age we will admit, but as to being the oldest person in Digby County as there is living at Lansdowne, Digby County, Mrs. Alexander Turnbull, born October 4th, 1809. This old lady is hale and hearty, walking a distance of 2 of a mile to church, and this spring she carried a sap to the house and sugared it off, and at the present time bids fair to reach the century mark.

GOOD WORDS FOR CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.
People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips of Barclay, Md., writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little girl, Catherine, who is two years old, has been taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever." This remedy is for sale by W. W. Wade and Bear River Drug Store.

Joker's Column

THE PROVOCATION.
"You are charged with having knocked your wife down, blacking both her eyes and loosening two of her teeth; have you anything to say for yourself?"
"She had it comin' to her, yer honor."

"What did she do or say that could in any way justify such treatment on your part?"
"She said I didn't love her no more."

Boy Patient—Can you walk on your hands?
Nurse—No, dear, I can't do any thing like that.
Boy Patient—I thought you said you were a trained nurse.

DOING RIGHT WELL.
"John's done right well up in the city, arter all."
"Yes, I've jes' heard that he's recovered from one appendicitis, two artermitis, one heart failure and 'ee business ones."—Atlanta Constitution.

SHE SAVED HIM.
Mayme—One evening last week Jark Huggins calmly informed me that he would kiss me or die in the attempt.
Blyth—My goodness! And did he kiss you?
Mayme—Well, you haven't heard of his demise, have you?

A MIXUP AT HOME.
A young married woman walked into a grocer's shop, angry to the very roots of her hair, and banged a piece of yellow substance on the counter.
"Here," she said, "is the soap that does the washing of itself; the soap that makes every washing day a glorified feast; the soap that makes the linen white as snow and lets the delighted housewife play with the children while the clothes wash themselves, and—"
"I beg your—" interrupted the grocer.
"Yes, I know what you are going to say," broke in the irate wife. "All the same, I have been scrubbing three mortal hours with that lumpy, and I might as well have used a brick for all the lather I could get out of it." And she stopped, out of breath.
"But, my dear madam," said the grocer calmly, "your husband came in here yesterday and bought half a pound of soap and half a pound of cheese. This isn't the soap; this is the cheese."
"The cheese!" exclaimed the young wife. "The cheese! Then that accounts for the other thing."
"What other thing, madam?"
"Why, the Welsh rabbit. No wonder it had such a queer taste!"
(A prize of $100 was paid for the foregoing anecdote to N. L. G. Anderson, Jenningston, W. Va.)

Shining Examples of the Art of Talking Without Thinking.
Some people are perpetually giving offence in the most unconscious way, says an exchange.
"Now, do let me propose you as a member of the club," says Smith.
"But suppose they blackball me?" replies Brown.
"Pooh! Absurd! Why, my dear fellow, there's not a man in the club who knows you, even!"
A lady, very desirous of concealing the awful fact that she is the same age as her husband, observed to a visitor:
"My husband is 40; there are just five years between us."
"Is it possible?" was the unguarded reply of her friend. "I give you my word you look as young as he does."
As unexpected must have been the reply of the husband whose wife said:
"You have never taken me to the cemetery."
"No, dear," he answered, "that is a pleasure I have yet in anticipation!"
It is related of a portrait painter thus, having recently painted the portrait of a lady, a critic who had just dropped in to see what was going on in the studio exclaimed:
"It is very nicely painted; but why do you take such an ugly model?"
"It is my mother!" calmly replied the artist.
"Oh, pardon, a thousand times!" from the critic, in great confusion, "I ought to have perceived it. She resembles you completely!"

DOCTORS USING PATENT MEDICINES

The Honest Physician is Anxious to Cure and Uses the Best Available Remedies.

The proposed legislation through the Dominion Parliament for the regulation of the manufacture and sale of patent or proprietary medicines is of the utmost importance, and it is receiving a great deal of attention, not only by the proprietary medicine manufacturers, but also by the leading doctors and druggists. Every manufacturer of reliable and high class remedies welcomes the bill as a step in the right direction. The discussion has brought out the fact that the best physicians in Canada and on the continent approve of and prescribe Psychine in cases of the most difficult character. In a recent instance of very serious throat and lung trouble the patient had been using Psychine. Two leading United States specialists were consulted, in addition to two eminent Canadian physicians. Upon learning what the patient was using, a sample of Psychine was taken and analyzed, with the result that the physicians advised its continuance. They prescribed no other medicine but Psychine, with the result that the patient has fully recovered and is a splendid walking and talking advertisement for the wonderful curative power of a remedy that will "stand up" before the keenest professional criticism and analysis. As a builder up of the system and restorer of all wasted conditions, Psychine has no equal, and the best and most earnest physicians recognize this fact.

At the age of 27 my eyes were in a terrible state. I had in 1896 the year before; it settled on my eyes and I kept steadily growing worse till I got down so low I was in bed for six weeks. I had a consultation of doctors, and they said they could do nothing more for me. Then I started to use Psychine. I took the medicine for more than a year. It certainly did me my sickness. I am now as strong as I was before my sickness."
MRS. H. B. BRYE, Morpeth, Ont.
Psychine, pronounced Si-keen, is the greatest of tonics, building up the system, increasing the appetite, purifying the blood, aids digestion, and acts directly upon the throat and lungs, giving tone and vigor to the entire system. At all druggists, 50c, and $1.00. Dr. T. A. Stearns, Limited, 175 King Street West, Toronto.

On a similar occasion a facetious friend, inspecting a portrait, said to the artist:
"And this is Tom Evans, is it? Dear, dear! And I remember him, such a handsome, jolly-looking chap a month ago. Dear, dear!"

SHE SCORED ONE.
(Exchange.)
Write—The Bible says much in favor of women, John. I thought that the Israelites kept their women in the background, but if they did, the Bible which is their history doesn't.
Husband—Humph! The Israelites did well by keeping their women in the background, that's where women should be.
Wife—But still the Bible says that—
Husband—Oh, I know there are a few women mentioned in the Bible—there was Jezebel, she was a woman.
Wife—Yes, and there was Ahab, he was a man. And there was—
Husband—It's no use talking, Mary. The Bible is a history of men. Women are mentioned only incidentally, as they had influence on the action of men. The Book says very little about women compared to what it does about men.
Wife (musingly)—You may be right, John, now, when I come to think of it. There is one thing at any rate it says about men that it does not say about women.
Husband (smiling)—I thought you would come to your senses, Mary. What is it the Book says about men that it does not say about women?
Wife (placidity)—It says all men are liars.
Then the Husband arose and put on his hat and went out.

DEAR RIVER

(Telephone.)

We are pleased to note that Mrs.

O. O. Rice, who has been quite ill, is very much improved.

Mrs. V. T. Hadsick went to Yarmouth Monday on a few days visit to her daughter, Mrs. J. Harold Lovett, and

Harry E. Harris, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Dr. C. C. Archibald, visited friends in Bridgetown the first of the week.

Mrs. William E. Jefferson, of Bridgewater, arrived Wednesday on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Freeman

W. Benson.

Rev. N. A. Whitman, for three years pastor of the United Baptist church at Annapolis, has accepted a call to Barrington.

O. O. Rice, who has been making a tour of the west in search of green fields and pastures new, returned home Monday. Another case of "Bear River is good enough for me."

We are pleased to note that Mrs.

Joseph Nevis, who has been very ill for over three months with typhoid fever, is, under the skillful treatment of Dr. C. C. Archibald, able to be out again.

There was a representative gathering at the Merchant's Meeting on Monday evening, and it was unanimously agreed that the present system of closing Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 6 o'clock be continued during the summer months, with the exception of the drug store which will be open evenings.

On next Friday, May 24th, the management of the Gentlemen's Driving

Club, Digby, expect to have some very interesting horse racing on their track. There are three races looked for that day; gentlemen's named race,

a four-year-old race, in which M.

Armstrong's colt, William Mack, and

George W. Peck's colt, Beauty, are entered, and a special match race between Princess of Wales and Lady

Gay. A special amount of interest seems to centre in the latter race as it is for blood, horse against horse being the stakes. Should the day prove favorable a good day's sport may be expected.

REPLY TO J. W. PETERS.

'Capt. J. W. Peters, of the fire department, handed us a communication, which we published' last week, defending the fire department from what he evidently considered an imputation of inefficiency, in our remarks upon the fire which destroyed the Hicks building. Each of space last week prevented us from replying. The claim made by some of those present that "if twenty workers with ladders had been present the entire stock could have been saved" did not reflect upon the fire warden but rather upon the present silent fire alarm system, which does not arouse a sufficient number of people to cope with a conflagration of any size or importance. Not detracting from Mr. Peters' statement that the firm worked faithfully and that "the ladders were there as soon as they could be hauled there" the impression of the writer and of others who were present is that it was half an hour after the alarm was given before any ladders were in use. One disadvantage, under which the department labors, is that a number of the members live quite a distance from the fire station house. In this particular instance some of the fire warden were a little slow in responding to the alarm because, through some disorder of the system, the fire signals had been ringing at intervals all day. In our remarks we intended nothing reflecting upon the efficiency of the fire warden but think the facts will bear out our conclusion that the efficiency of the department might be increased. Mr. Peters' suggestion as to the appointment of a salvage corps appears to us to be worth following, and we have editorially given utterance before to the same suggestion. Had a dozen capable men with authority to direct volunteer assistance could accomplish a good deal in the way of preserving movable property from destruction.

MARKET REPORT.

There has been a sharp advance in the wheat and flour market, wheat having crossed the dollar mark. Millers have advanced the price of flour fifty cents per barrel. Cornmeal has also advanced ten cents per bag. Sugar has advanced thirty cents per cent in the last month. Potatoes are selling at seventy-five cents per bushel. Other staples remain about the same as reported last month.

CORRESPONDENCE

Dear Editor: Kindly allow me the use of your columns to ask:-

(1) The person who removed part of the organ stool from our school-room to kindly return the same as we are in need of it.

(2) The general public to refrain from making a short-cut across our Church-yard. This for obvious reasons.

Thanking you for space, on behalf of the Corporation. (Sgd.) ERNEST UNDERWOOD, Rector.

FARMER'S ASSOCIATION MEETING

At a meeting of the Farmer's Association held in the Bridgetown Council Room on Friday, May 27th, the following resolution was passed: Whereas a most dreaded scourge, the Brown-tail Moth, has been found in a number of places in the Annapolis Valley;

And whereas it is necessary in the public interests that every effort be made to exterminate the pest; Therefore resolved that this Association urges upon the public and those interested in the raising of fruit the great importance of destroying this dreaded pest, and would further urge upon all the necessity and importance of spraying with this end in view.

And also resolved that the Agricultural Departments of both the Dominion and Local Government be requested to assist in devising means to destroy the Brown-tail Moth.

Also a resolution endorsing the resolution of the Middleton Board of Trade asking the Government to locate the Experimental Fruit Farm at or very near Middleton.

L. W. ELLIOTT, Sec'y. A. C. F. A. PRESENTATION.

To Mr. William E. Bent, Belleisle: Dear Mr. Bent:

We, the staff and scholars of the Sunday School, together with members of the congregation of St. Mary's Church, Belleisle, desire to congratulate you on this day of your marriage and to tender you our every good wish for your future happiness and prosperity.

And you may depend upon us to give your bride a hearty welcome. That she will be a true helpmeet we have no doubt, and that you may spend a long life together under God's blessing in health and strength is our earnest prayer.

As a small token of our wishes we ask you kindly to accept the accompanying gift which we trust may prove useful in your home.

On behalf of the subscribers. (Sgd.) ERNEST UNDERWOOD, Rector.

LOCAL AND SPECIAL

We are glad to note considerable painting going on this spring. All the local painters are kept busy.

Owing to the absence of the Pastor, there will be no Friday evening service in St. James' Church this week.

The bright warm sunshine on Sunday reminded one of former springs, but a cold bleak wind chilled our reminiscences the following days.

Postmaster A. D. Brown has purchased part of a house lot on Granville street from Mrs. John Lockett and has begun the construction of a double house.

The firm of Williams & Tibert, Barbours, propose putting an up-to-date meat wagon on the road next week for the convenience of their outside customers.

J. H. Hicks & Sons have purchased from George A. Pearson, of Paradise, a handsome pair of matched blacks for use in their undertaking and furniture department.

Miss Vera B. Smith, who is now teaching in the Intermediate Department of our town school, has been appointed to her former position in the Wolfville school.

The annual meeting of the Upper Granville branch of the "Women's Auxiliary" arranged to take place next Friday afternoon, has been postponed till the following Thursday, May 30th.

H. R. McKay, of Annapolis, and R. J. Messenger have sent communications to the Monitor regarding the Brown-tail Moth but we think the subject of their letters is covered in the article published on our first page.

Among the bills legislated during the recent session of the House were an act to incorporate the Annapolis Valley Railway Company, limited, and an act to incorporate the Bear River and Caledonia Railway Company, limited.

J. W. Ross is remodeling his harness-shop, which is one of the oldest business stands in town. A fine plate glass front on two sides facing Granville and Washington streets with door across the corner and other new features will greatly improve its appearance besides which the interior of the shop will be considerably enlarged.

The paper and rubbish littering the street has been very noticeable and unpleasant during the past week. A portion of it has been carried and scattered by the wind from the ruins of the Hicks' Building which remains uninclosed for since the fire. It is a question whether the standing front is not a menace to the public safety during the strong winds which are prevailing.

On Sunday evening, May 20th, a public missionary meeting will be held in Clarence's church. A meeting of unusual interest is anticipated. Miss Cora B. Elliott, missionary elect for India, who has been attending the Gordon training school, Boston, during the past year, is expected to be present. A silver collection will be taken, and a good attendance is hoped for.

L. D. Shafter has purchased from Mrs. Vidito Manro her place on Granville street, (formerly the Jared Troop homestead) adding it to the adjacent lot previously purchased by him. In the rear of the lots, for the river edge he will build his new vessel for which preparations are begun. The new vessel will be 135 feet keel, and will be the largest vessel ever built here. Ship-building, it appears will be a permanent industry for Bridgetown.

DAILY SERVICE BETWEEN DIGBY AND ST. JOHN, N. B. Commencing Wednesday May 22nd, the Steamship Service between St. John and Digby will be daily all the year round, Sunday excepted. Times of departure from St. John and Digby will remain as at present.

P. GIFFKINS, General Manager.

The Making Over of Johnnie.

Johnnie, aged two and a half years, had given his mother considerable trouble by pulling the blooms from her house plants. As soon as a new blossom appeared it was quickly plucked by the little hands. Mrs. Irving threatened and scolded, but with no lasting results.

Like most children Johnnie was fond of stories, so one day when he pleaded "Mover, tell me a story, mover," his mother conceived the idea of originating a story that might serve as a corrective to her boy's fault. The story she told was in outline something as follows:

"There was once a poor little boy, his mother had plants in the window of her sitting room, but no nice flowers ever came to them, so they did not look very pretty. There was another little boy lived not far away.
His mother, too, had plants. This little boy helped his mother put water on her plants, he kept the kitten from jumping over them, and always cared to see that the window blind was up so that the sun would make the plants grow. At last nice flowers came that looked very pretty amongst the green leaves. The flowers stayed on the plants for so long. The people passing by on the street used to look at the window and say: 'Oh, see all those beautiful flowers in that window.' That made the little boy glad, so he watered the plants every day with a tiny cupful of water that was just enough. He wanted to keep the flowers staying on the plants as long as he could, for they looked so pretty and made all the people glad."

When Johnnie's mother had finished telling the story, she put her arms around him and said: "Now Johnnie, let's play this house is the little story-boy's house, and we'll be the people passing by on the street and looking in at the pretty flowers."

Of course, Johnnie was delighted with the proposition, so they went outside and continued the play for some time, walking up and down in front of the house and making such remarks as: "See all those lovely flowers in that window!" "I wonder how the people who live there manage to get such beautiful flowers on their plants." "Perhaps there's a little boy in there who helps look after them!"

Johnnie took great pleasure in the play, and often afterwards would convince his mother to "play about the flowers in the window mother."

The story was a complete success, for never once after the first telling of it had the mother to upbraid her boy for pulling the flowers from her plants. She had succeeded by her story in making the opposite line of conduct so attractive, that it overcame an idea to the child.

Johnnie, like many another small boy, had, when about four years old, in some inconvertible way, and much to his mother's horror, acquired the habit of doing what his brother please d to call "snagging things." When this propensity was first manifested in her child, Mrs. Irving tearfully talked it over with her husband in the silence of their own room, exclaiming in the bitterness of her anguish, "It ain't us though he inherited it from either of us, the dear knows! What have we done, Edward, that the Lord has seen fit to afflict us with a child of such sinful habits?"

Edward was more matter of fact, and cheerfully assured his wife: "Now's the time to break him of it, and we must do it some way before he is many months older."

That night, after Mrs. Irving went to bed, she thought it all over and, remembering how she had easily, when her boy was younger, broken him of another bad habit, she determined to follow the same plan again.

This time her story took something of the following form. (We give it only in outline.)

"Pierre went fishing. He sat on a big stone by the edge of the pond and near the roadside. When he was fishing, three tramps came along and wanted him to crawl through a hole in the high board fence, and get some apples for them. Pierre said he could not get the apples for them as they were not his. Then the tramps said they would 'duck' him in the pond if he did not get them, but Pierre would not go. They told him again, but he would not go. He said his mother had told him that it was wrong to take things that were not his own.

Then the tramps 'ducked' him. When he got home he was all wet, but his mother was proud of him, and was glad he was brave enough to do right."

While his mother was telling the story, Johnnie sat perfectly still with his eyes as wide open as possible, and at the close at once said: "Tell it again, mother."

Mrs. Irving was wise enough to make no practical application to Johnnie's own case, but at the close discussed the story a little with him, for she was somewhat doubtful about how parts of it might affect him.
She discussed very lightly over the description of the tramps, for she did not want to instill any needless fears into her small boy's mind, and did succeed in avoiding this. She noticed that after the story was told, the little fellow looked very thoughtful, as though working out something in his own mind.

No "snagging" was done for several days after this, and when next Johnnie was found guilty his mother took occasion to repeat the story, still making no personal application but only finishing with such remarks as:
"I guess Pierre was far happier than if he had taken the apples. People are always happier when they do right." How proud Pierre's mother must have been to have a little boy that was not mean enough to take anything that was not his own! Bit by bit, the story often retold, helped to accomplish the desired result, and Pierre became a hero in Johnnie's eyes and therefore an ideal, which the little fellow was evidently striving to copy.

Johnnie had another undesirable propensity which was common to many small boys: he was very fond of candy. In vain Mrs. Irving limited him to a certain amount for each day; all the cents that came into Johnnie's possession found their way to the corner store. When he was old enough to attend kindergarten he always visited grandma on the way, and on these visits was almost sure to be treated to chocolates or some other kinds of sweets. "Got any cents grandma?" was always his plea. The consequence was that the confectionery shop had to be visited again on the way home. At last the kindergartener called on Mrs. Irving and, as delicately as she could, tried to show her that Johnnie's health was beginning to be affected by his over indulgence in sweets.

So Mrs. Irving once more had to ask herself: "How shall I cure my boy of this?" Again she determined to try the story cure. For this story she took her cue from the fact that there was nothing in life that Johnnie so much admired as soldiers. The family lived in a military town, so Johnnie had frequently an opportunity of watching the soldiers drilling and marching. Over and over again he declared to his mother: "When I'm big I'll be a soldier."

Mrs. Irving got her "wits together," as she expressed it, and originated and told her boy this story, which again we give in outline:

"Two boys, Harry and Dick, were great friends. They both wanted, when they grew big, to be soldiers.
Dick bought candy with his cents, while Harry with his bought fruit or something that would help him to grow big and strong. The boys became older and older and bigger and bigger, but Harry's cheeks grew red and Dick's pale. Harry grew tall and strong, like his papa, while Dick did not grow nearly so tall and could not lift anything that was heavy. At last the day came for the boys to go to the captain to see if they would do for soldiers. The captain measured Harry and he was tall enough. He measured his chest and it was tall enough, his shoulders and they were broad enough, etc. Then it was Dick's turn. The captain measured him, but, alas, he was not tall enough, his muscles were not strong enough, and he was not straight enough. So poor Dick could not be a soldier, after all,
and just because he ate so much candy when a boy."

From the day the story was first told there was a marked change in the quantity and frequency of John-nie's use of candy, and several times he was actually heard to remark: "I cannot take any, for I want to grow strong and tall, so that I can be a soldier." And, as the mother herself remarked, "That story had certainly a stronger and more lasting effect on the boy than hours of reasoning, scolding or teaching would have had."

So into Johnnie's world entered these imaginary people, people who were just little boys like himself, but much more attractive than the real boys and girls of his acquaintance because—were they not "in a story?" Thus, these "make believe" children became his heroes and heroines, and, bit by bit, he began to "make himself over" after the story patterns given him.

WATERING HORSES WHEN WARM.

There is a common notion among users of horses that if a horse is warm he should not be allowed to drink, many claiming that the "first swallow" of water either "founders" the animal or produces colic. This is not true. It does not matter how much heated the horse may be, it is always safe to give him a half dozen swallows of water. If this water is given just before being put in the stable, the animal should be immediately given a lusk of hay, and should not be given grain until he has rested about an hour. The danger is not in the "first swallow" but is always due to the large quantity which the animal will take when warm, if allowed to drink without restraint. Over one half of the digestive disorders are undoubtedly caused by improper feeding and watering, hence one must readily see the importance of a proper understanding of these subjects. The question has also been asked "what quantity of water does a horse require?" When horses can get water whenever they wish it, they never drink enough at one time to injure them. When the horse is dependent upon his attendant for water, he commonly requires about eight gallons a day. This will vary with the class of food. If green food is used a portion of this is supplied and a less quantity needed than when fed on dry hay and grain. The horse should be watered at least three times a day when idle, and often when at work, and a bucket of water where they can get at it. To take a swallow while eating will not hurt them in the least, although some people have the idea that it will.

ATTEMPTED TO DERAIL TRAIN.

Maybourn Moore, a 17-year-old boy, has been arrested by the I. C. R. police, charged with attempting to derail a D. A. R. freight train near Halifax on the 26th April. Moore, who had been working at farming, left his position on that Friday afternoon and walked down the track bound for no place in particular. On his way along, he noticed the drawbar and spikes on the side of the track, and he placed the bar and a number of spikes on the rails. He told the officers that he concealed himself a short distance from the track, and for over an hour he waited for a train to come along. As no train passed during that period Moore became tired and leaving his place he proceeded down the track. That night he attended a dance at Beaver Bank. On Saturday he went to Halifax to work for Mr. Cross. While Mr. Cross' house one of the occupants of the household read from the Chronicle the account of the narrow escape of the train. That night Moore disappeared from the house and had been on the tramp ever since. He was greatly alarmed over the seriousness of the offense.

THE SPITTING NUISANCE.

In view of the steps which are being taken to enforce the anti-spitting ordinance in Halifax, it is interesting to note that the Massachusetts law may be made more drastic. A Bill pending before the State Legislature provides that an officer may arrest without warrant any person violating the law. This is somewhat summary, but it is held to be necessary. It is urged that one or two arrests and fines, or even imprisonment, where the offense was particularly flagrant, will do much to put a final stop to an inexcusable public nuisance and tanger.

RELIEF FROM RHEUMATIC PAINS.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," said Mr. Roland Curry, a patrolman of Key West, Fla. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by W. A. Warren, Phm. B.

Port Lorne

The death occurred at Boiestown, N. B., on the 7th inst. of Peardon Saunders, at the age of seventy-four years.
The deceased was a native of Nova Scotia, being the son of the late Benjamin and Sarah Saunders, of Round Hill, Annapolis County. He was a member of the Church of England.
He carried on a successful mercantile business in this village for nearly forty years. In 1872 he married Grace, daughter of the late Charles Avery, a resident of Boiestown and, in his day, one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of the Miramichi Valley.
Besides the sorrowing widow he is survived by three brothers, Samuel, Bernard and Arthur, of Nova Scotia, and three sisters, Mrs. Harvey, of California, Mrs. Payne and Miss Elizabeth, of Nova Scotia.
The late Mr. Saunders had enjoyed comparatively good health all winter, but was taken sick suddenly and passed quietly away after a very short illness. His death has removed from our midst one who has always commanded the utmost respect and regard of the citizens of Boiestown and the surrounding country, and the sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved widow.
The funeral took place on Thursday at one o'clock and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. Messrs. King and McDonald. Interment was made at Boiestown—N. B. Exchange.

RECENT DISASTERS.

On May 13th, an excursion train near Santa Barbara, Cal., running ninety miles an hour, struck a defective switch. The engine telescoped and several cars piled upon it. Many persons were crushed to death in the wreckage, others were scalded or burned to death. The deaths are reported at 20 and the injured at a score or more.
The French steamer Poiton went ashore on the coast of Uruguay. Of the 300 persons on board 200 were rescued. The remaining 100 are reported to have perished.
Despatches from Mexico City state that a mine in Northern Mexico was set on fire, it is said from a cigarette stump. Of over 100 men in the mine only 17 escaped. The fire gained such headway before it was discovered that only the men who were near the exit had any chance of escape.

Phinney Cove

James H. Young, of Parker's Cove, visited friends here a few days ago. Mrs. Watson Bent, who has been in ill health for some time, has gone to the Nova Scotia Hospital for treatment.
The song services were re-organized for the summer at the meeting announced in our last correspondence. There was a large number of interested friends present and some new features were introduced which will make the services even more interesting and helpful than before. The regular appointments for the summer will be as follows:
1st Sunday in the month at the home of Eros Burrow.
2nd Sunday in the month at the home of Alexander Turpie.
3rd Sunday in the month at the home of Watson Bent.
The remaining Sundays are open to invitations to other homes. These services are open to the public. Seats are reserved around the organ for the singers, and the remaining space is free to as many as can be accommodated. Thoroughly good order is required of all.
Snow fell here on May 11th during a big part of the day. Alex. Turpie measured a depth of six inches near his home.
On Monday, May 13th, Mrs. James Banks passed away at a good age. Her health had been failing for some time, but she retained her faculties to the end and was able to sit up a while the day before her death. She is survived by three generations of her descendants. Her husband died a few years ago. "Grandmother Banks" was well known and beloved by her neighbors, and her little cottage will seem strangely empty now that she is gone.
Capt. Strothard, of the Salvation Army, Bridgetown, accompanied by two of the soldiers, Miss Annie Ramey, of Bridgetown, and Miss Lilie Bent, of this place, held services here on Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon and evening. The Church was filled on each occasion by a large and appreciative audience.

Railways Needed.

Transport Difficulties in the Chinese Empire Are Enormous.
The lack of railways is one of the chief difficulties which China has to face in her struggle towards the progressive civilization of the western world. Transportation is laborious, slow and uncertain, and while the government is encouraging the building of railways, it naturally will be many years before the whole of that vast empire will be readily accessible to world trade. For example, missionaries going to inland China must be towed up the Yang Tze for hundreds of miles, a procedure which usually takes three months. A piano sent out from Toronto to Miss Isabel McIntosh at Wei Hwei Fu underwent this sort of thing, and must have been handled somewhat roughly at times. One it got wet and it arrived at the mission station with the pedals rusted and with blisters on the varnish of the lid. Yet when Miss McIntosh opened it, she found that it was in perfect tune. It is hardly necessary to explain that the instrument was a Goulay, manufactured by Messrs. Goulay, Winter & Leeming. That piano has already won a reputation for ease in manufacture and general durability, which this incident simply confirms. Miss McIntosh, writing to the firm, says: "The piano dried out without any injury and gives me much pleasure. I am very proud of our Canadian piano. There are now five pianos in our mission and the Goulay is the favorite." No wonder. There are many pianos in Canada and in spite of them all, the Goulay is the favorite in this country.
