The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

University of Toronto Library

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol  $\rightarrow$  (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol  $\nabla$  (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

University of Toronto Library

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole  $\rightarrow$  signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole  $\nabla$  signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

PORT HOPE.

XMAS 1906.

DR. WILLIAM BRODIE.

Dedication.

---

IT was fifteen years ago that I first met Dr. BRODIE and our acquaintance soon ripened into friendship. His house was the resort of many a 'other-naturalist as well as of artists and those interested in the world of books; one was always sure of a welcome and many of us fell into the way of calling at his home on some week-day evening or a Sunday afternoon to enjoy the discussions that so often took place there.

When Spring came round DR. BRODIE volunteered to take me out for an occasional tramp and help me get my bearings in the flora and fauna of Ontario. These rambles were a great pleasure and the memory of them is still fresh as yesterday. One time it would be a trip to High Park to see some of the gentians or gerardias, or over the heath towards Lambton in search of Lepidoptera; at another to Victoria Park to note the warblers on their Spring migration, or up the Don Valley collecting galls.

Then my work called me away to Eastern Ontario and during the next five years it was only occasionally that we met. But soon after my removal to Port Hope, our intimacy was renewed. A good part of my time had been devoted to botany and we greatly enjoyed comparing notes and discussing the range of our favorite flowers ; the Doctor took a kindly interest, too, in some verses I had printed in 1902, and it was a little later that there came to me the idea of "A Master Mind."

To those who knew the subject of the poem these verses, I take it, need no explanation. So far as one was aware DR. BRODIE depended for maintenance on his skill as a dentist. He was about this time afflicted with cataract in both eyes and could not see to do his work ; nor had any overtures as yet been made to him by the Provincial Government. At seventy years of age, after a long life of hard work and devotion to Natural History, he was doomed (it would seem) to fall on evil days and none in all Toronto to hold out the right hand of fellowship. A burning sense of indignation laid hold of me and out of it the "Master Mind" took shape.

Providentially DR. BRODIE soon after received the Curatorship of the Biological Museum in Toronto and was thus enabled to enjoy six years of bright and active service in the cause he had had at heart from boyhood. But it was only after the lapse of three years or more that the poem was first confessed to ; the Doctor had asked repeatedly whether nothing had been added to the "Day-Dreams" of five years before, and at last I made a clean breast of it. He begged to see the verses and declared himself well-pleased with them. So far from feeling shocked at the occasion of the poem—his imagined death, he used to say laughingly that I had written his epitaph.

It was in the midst of his labours that he was called away from us last summer ; for he was at work in his office on the last day of July when he first complained of feeling unwell, and on the 6th of August he succumbed to pneumonia. I am pleased to think that his consent is not withheld from this dedication of "A Master Mind" to the memory of DR. WILLIAM BRODIE.

A Master Mind.

" Guide, philosopher and friend."

I

Ah! you who own the sovereign sway
Of commerce and the busy mart,
You knew him not, he lived apart,
The king who passed in state to-day.

A king who recked not worldly gear,
A pauper—you who rate by gold,
But rich in knowledge manifold,
In Nature's lore without a peer.

He lived his threescore years and ten ;
He had his court of liegemen true ;
They loved him, like that chosen few
Who served the Master scorned of men.

"He is no king of ours," you say,
"We know him not ;"—yet bare the head,
Pay you your tribute, he is dead,
I saw him pass in state to-day.

II

To bow the knee he was not planned
With willowy grace and pliant form ;
Like stalwart oak he faced the storm
And bore its brunt—a monarch grand.

A shock of rebel locks upreared
Above the forehead bold and high ;
'Neath shaggy brow the deep-set eye
Challenged enquiry ; grizzled beard

Part hid the lip ; a man endued
With power of thought, you read the face ;
The Maker moulds in some for grace,
For strength those rugged features hewed.

In mind and will maturest man,
A boy at heart ; his eager quest
Of Nature's ways the boy confessed,
But through it all endurance ran ;

Bend as they might the sturdy frame
And quell the lustre of the eye,
Not years could daunt the purpose high
Or quench the ardent spirit's flame.

III

Greybeard and youth, a thoughtful throng,
Would gather round their Scottish sage,
Right gladly youth give place to age,
Listen and learn and ponder long.

Was life's dark riddle hard to read?
His vibrant tones would cheer. Were there
Who questioned truth? who fought despair?
He welcomed all, nor asked their creed.

Did they in earnest seek? He sought
In earnest too. From bounteous store
He loved with lavish hand to pour
Jewels of knowledge and of thought.

Responsive hearts, unwavering eyes
His steadfast gaze compelled again;
He loved the truth, his speech was plain,
He could not stoop to compromise.

Oh! all too rare the thoughtful mind
That keeps abreast of Science' way
And still reveres the older day,
The simpler faith that lags behind.

Dead now, but while the ages run
His work shall live; 'tis such as he
Alone inspire posterity,
Fathering their kind from son to son.

We know not when our days are sped,
And I who through his friendship stand
Would lift some falterer by the hand
Ere I lie nerveless with the dead.

“ Let knowledge grow from more to more,
But more of reverence in us dwell ;
That mind and soul according well,
May make one music as before,
But vaster. We are fools and slight ;
We mock thee when we do not fear :
But help thy foolish ones to bear ;
Help thy vain worlds to bear thy light.”

Tennyson.
