THE BOERS ARE NOW TAKING A MOST AGGRESSIVE STAND!

DR. DR. BORERHILL MAJOR-GENERAL HUTTON?

The Names Were Submitted to Lord Lansdowne for Approval and Every One Was Approved.

British Have Been Forced to Retire From Colesberg Under Heavy Boer Pressure and Probably After Brisk Fighting.

The Loyal Opposition Freely Express Strong Opinions of the Manner of His Treatment by the Laurier Government.

Mr. Wyndham Says the Army is to Be Made More Democratic—A Scandal and a Danger to the Empire in the Fact That Only Rich Men's Sons Can Join the Cavalry.

Commandant Delarey, by a Double Turning Movement, Has Compelled the British to Concentrate at Renberg, Besides Threatening Lord Roberts' Communications Between De Aar and Orange River.

General Hutton's Departure Will Be Universally Regretted by Both Militiamen and Citizens—Col. Donville Seems to Have Been Sore.

London, Feb. 13.—In the House of Commons today, Mr. Thomas Helderwick, advanced Liberal, gave notice of a resolution calling attention to the fact that the colonies are without representation in the Imperial Parliament. The resolution was set down for a month hence, but it is not likely that time will be found then for its discussion.

Office, Mr. George Wyndham, definitely set as rest all the stories of Government interference in the prerogative of the commander-in-chief, Field Marshal Lord Wolseley, to select the generals commanding in South Africa. Replying to a question, Mr. Wyndham said the commanders in the field were selected by Lord Wolseley, subject to the approval of the Secretary of State for War, and added that every selection put forward has been approved.

Germany and the Transvaal. The Under Secretary of State for the Foreign Office, Mr. William St. John Brodick, was asked whether the Government had received any communication from Germany modifying the declaration made in 1895 by the then Minister of Foreign Affairs, Baron Marshall Von Bismarck, to the effect that Germany's only policy was the maintenance of the Transvaal as an independent state in accordance with the treaty of 1884. He replied that no communication had been received from the German Government relative to the convention of 1884, which, he added, as a matter of fact, was terminated by the state of war.

Army to Be Democratized. When the debate on the army supplement during the course of a speech, again intimated that an attempt would be made to democratize the army, which, he said, he thought ought not to be closed to officers who did not enjoy an income of from £500 to £600 a year. Mr. Wyndham also said it was a scandal and a danger to the Empire that young men could not enter the cavalry unless their fathers were able to give them £500 a year.

Wolseley's Recommendation Goes. The Under Secretary of State for the War

London, Feb. 14.—(4:20 a.m.)—The news of the day is the retirement of the British from the Colesberg district under heavy Boer pressure, and probably after brisk fighting. Thus, at a time when Lord Roberts is apparently about to push an army into the Free State, the Boers make a counter-stroke in an unknown but seemingly great force not far from the vital line of railway connecting De Aar and Orange River.

Is It Only a Menace? Military observers do not regard this as more than a menace. Nevertheless, the news produces an unpleasant impression here. General French manoeuvred the Boers out of Renberg in December. On Jan. 31 it was reported that he could take Colesberg in two days with reinforcements. These were not, but the Boers also were reinforced. Since then the British lines have been extended east and west, so that the opening of the week, they constituted a great horseshoe, 25 miles in length. The lines were not continuous, but all the strong positions were held.

General French, when he joined Lord Roberts, presumably took most of his cavalry. General French was left with the infantry to hold the Boers in check, but Commandant Delarey, with a double turning movement, has compelled the British to concentrate at Renberg, besides threatening Lord Roberts' communications.

What Will Buller Do? The indications as to General Buller's immediate intentions are contradictory. One informant, who has intimate relations with the War Office, predicts a movement within the next few days, a number of corps headquarters will have been shifted. Buller, however, has gone to Durban for a few days rest under the impression that nothing is to be done immediately.

Her owners have abandoned her.

London, Feb. 13.—A private telegram received here says that the "force" commanded by General Wood has moved up from the southward and seized Zoutpan's Drift, which it now holds.

London, Feb. 13.—The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, writing Monday, says the crowd vociferously cheered the special military attaches when they started for the front, especially the American attaché, Captain Stephen L. Hommedieu Steun.

Sergeant Joseph Russell of 4th Canadian Mounted, Killed by a Boer Bullet.

New York, Feb. 13.—Concerning the abolition of the special rates on pulp wood shipments to United States points by the Grand Trunk Railway, it is said this morning that the shutting off of American pulp mills from the Canadian raw material supply.

New York, Feb. 13.—Practical confirmation of the report current for sometime that it had been decided to consolidate the Troy Steel Works, the Bessemer Steel Works and the Rensselaer Iron Works with a capital of $7,000,000, was received in this city today. The banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co. will probably finance the consolidation. It is proposed to erect a ship-building plant near this city. The total output of the amalgamated concerns will be about 250,000 tons of iron and steel a year. It is proposed to build a coke plant at Breakers Island.

London, Feb. 14.—Mr. Spenser Wilkinson, in The Morning Post, discussing the news from Renberg, says: "This intelligence is the natural price paid for a blow elsewhere. The concentration at Modder River is apparently accompanied by a weakening of the force at Colesberg, and of this the Boers have taken advantage to assume the offensive."

London, Feb. 13.—An undated despatch from Mafeking, via Gaborone, Feb. 2, says: Col. Baden-Powell has received a communication from Lord Roberts, promising relief would be sent in a few weeks. The food will last. The garrison is the same as ever. The Boers have expressed their intention not to fight, but to starve us out.

Sydney, Feb. 13.—The contingent of Bushmen to be sent out by the colonies of Queensland, Victoria, South Australia and New South Wales for service at the Cape is rapidly being equipped and soon will be ready to embark. The men themselves are rangers of exceptional dash, and of wonderful physique and they will be sent out—1000 of them—1150 mounts and 100 army wagons. The organization will be known as the 4th Inceps.

THE TORONTO WORLD.

THIS SEEMS TO BE THE SECRET OF THE GOVERNMENT'S QUARREL WITH MAJOR-GENERAL HUTTON.

WHO WOULD HAVE BELIEVED IT? John Charlton Talks Up the British:—The Third Party Makes a Show in the Commons.

declaring that the Opposition had raised the question merely to put a stigma upon Dr. Borden for Gen. Hutton's recall. After Dr. Montague had deprecated the idea, repudiated Col. Donville's denunciation, and intimated that there was no chance of a resolution being passed, Gen. Hutton had the interesting statement that he had been asked to withdraw his resignation.

This Knocked Borden Out.

Mr. Wallace asked a pertinent question: "Did the Government act for the recall of Gen. Hutton?" Dr. Borden was visibly disturbed, and asked Mr. Wallace to put it on the orders of the House.

Work of the Government.

After what happened in the House this afternoon there is no doubt that the Government requested the Imperial authorities to recall the resignation of Hutton from Canada. Never was there less generous treatment meted out to an Imperial officer by a colonial Ministry.

Third Party on Deck.

The third party resurged itself to-day, and introduced to the House Mr. Fettes, the new member for Winnipeg. Mr. Fettes, who is a member of the Liberal party, and Mr. Stubs were Liberals to all intents and purposes.

How Things Have Changed.

After dinner to-night, as grew a surprise was presented by Mr. John Charlton in a long speech, in which he stated that he had decided to leave the House after this session. He was primed with inextinguishable ardor, and was listened to with great attention by both sides of the Government.

Many Reverses Had Suffered.

Many reverses had suffered, but none that reflected dishonor on British arms. There was no need to borrow trouble about this war. He would not support a resolution which would have the effect of making "No Surrender"—[applause]—which he considered a resolution of national importance.

What He Had Resolved.

When he came out to Canada he resolved to win the Canadian instinct of nationalism. He felt that the militia service should be kept above the mere level of party politics, and to be a success should be above the atmosphere of political intrigue.

Government Mildly Reproached.

Continuing he said, "I should have been glad if circumstances had admitted of my assisting to bring about the continuation of these schemes, and I should have felt more confident of the ultimate success of this national effort if the Government had even indicated approval of my schemes, or at least interest in their evolution."

The "Semi-ready" brand in a garment is now the guarantee from the makers.

Last year we were only sellers, but now we are makers as well as sellers.

We make nothing in the "Semi-ready" factory nor sell any garments in the "Semi-ready" wardrobes but branded "Semi-ready" and unbranded $10 "Lonelies."

After March 1st there will be no guarantee on any not branded.

"Your money back if dissatisfied" will apply only to the brand.

We make this distinction because the "Semi-ready" brand emphatically means protection to the wearer as well as to its makers and sellers who are responsible for—

Its fit, wear and value. Suits and Overcoats $12, $15, $18 and $20. "Lonelies" $10. Money back if wanted.

NOTABLE SIEGES COMPARED WITH THE SIEGE OF LADYSMITH

Belaguered Cities That Have Surprised the Enemy By Their Ability to Hold Out.

One of the most wonderful things about warfare is the manner in which beleaguered cities manage to hold out. Ordinarily, there is not enough food in a city of any size to feed its inhabitants for three days. To store food in a city to stand out a siege of months or, as sometimes has happened, of years, is of itself such a gigantic undertaking that it would seem better to abandon the city and risk the fight in the open. The sieges of Ladysmith, Mafeking and Kimberley are of small duration compared with sieges which have been withstood in other years. If we may believe Homer, the siege of Troy lasted 10 years.

It is inconceivable that any city, cut off from the supplies of its surrounding country, could have stood a siege of such length. Yet we have the incontrovertible fact that Ladysmith stood a siege of three years. Incomplete investment and a contraband traffic thru the lines are the only things which make long sieges possible. Take the siege of Ladysmith. That city, supposedly, was cut off from any communication, except by hallography, with the outside world. Incomplete investment and a contraband traffic thru the lines are the only things which make long sieges possible. Take the siege of Ladysmith. That city, supposedly, was cut off from any communication, except by hallography, with the outside world. Incomplete investment and a contraband traffic thru the lines are the only things which make long sieges possible.

The number White has at Ladysmith is, after feverish bullets have done their work—together with 106 guns. That was a disaster to the British arms; but for the British to compare it to their recent defeats presupposes that Ladysmith surrendered. Even supposing that Ladysmith does surrender, the parallel would not hold. Suppose the British army at Ladysmith could up at Cape Town, and then surrender—that would be a parallel.

In the siege of Londonderry, which may be compared in some ways to the siege of Ladysmith, the garrison was surrounded by the troops of James II., and held the place against the besieging force for 105 days, since the Irish commander was obliged not only to feed the garrison and its 1000 men, but also to supply the 10000 men who had flocked in from the country.

One of the greatest sieges of history, if not the greatest, was the siege of the city of Vicksburg. The possession of the Mississippi Valley. Pemberton had with him 25,000 men and 60 guns. He was obliged to surrender before the 90 days were up, for there was starvation in the city and a gas fire which made the inhabitants live in dugouts. His 60 days' rations could not support the army in the city and the refugees and citizens at the same time. It is necessary only to read the detailed story of this siege to see the inevitable surrender.

In Lucknow, in the time of the mutiny, the garrison in that Indian city was besieged from July 1 to November 20. On September 20, Havelock managed to throw a small force into the city. This only made the situation worse, for there were many more mouths to feed. On November 20 the garrison marched out and joined the relieving force under Sir Colin Campbell, who then proceeded to average the horrors of the siege, and died as Lord Lytton.

The siege of Paris when that great mass of iron rolled from the Brandenburg gate to the Arc de l'Etoile and crushed the place lasted nineteen weeks. There were many sorties, as there are in sieges, and great suffering, especially among the non-combatants.

The siege which brought the Turks into Europe for a firm foothold was the siege of Constantinople, in 1453. There, after a siege of 55 days, was planted the standard of the cross. On July 8, 1709, Prussia laid siege to the French and Indian stronghold of Fort Niagara. The French General L'Etolle and crushed the place. The men defending the place were mostly New York men. Gen. Jacob Brown commanded the Americans.

On the 15th Gen. Drummond made an attack on the fort at midnight, but was better placed with the loss of one thousand men. (At Spion Kop the British lost about two hundred.) Not discouraged, Gen. Drummond pushed forward his works and had approached within a short distance of the fort which was dangerous to the Americans, when Gen. Buller, who had been severely wounded in the assault, left the fort and ordered a sortie on September 17, destroying the British works of circumvallation and taking 400 prisoners. How many the British lost is killed will never be known, but soon after Drummond raised the siege and retreated down the river and across the Chippewa Creek.

considerable moral effect on the border colonists.

Causing Much Anxiety. The Boer invasion of Zululand is causing much anxiety. Apart from the fact that it threatens Gen. Buller's communications, it is difficult to believe the Zulus can long be kept quiescent, and the Boer invasion is a most aggressive stand.

Rhodes' Friends Alarmed. The friends of Mr. Cecil Rhodes are becoming alarmed at his possible fate, and have sent an embassy to see Mr. Leyds, the diplomatic agent of the Boers in Europe, in regard to the probable course the Boers would pursue in the event of his capture.

Germany Has No Interest. A semi-official paragraph is published in The Globe this afternoon, saying Germany does not contemplate intervention. The German Government, it is added, does not consider itself concerned in the future status or in the existence of the Boer Republics.

English Women Are Busy. All are working for the soldiers—appeal to British residents of United States.

London, Feb. 13.—As the conviction grows in Great Britain that the war will be long, the efforts for providing for the sick and wounded and the families of the soldiers at the front are redoubled. There is scarcely a woman in England who, in addition to making articles of clothing for the men in the field and in the hospitals, is not working for and contributing to some special fund.

Mrs. Arthur Paget's entertainment to-night brought in over £5000 for the families of the household troops, in which her husband is a colonel of the Scots Guards, the Mansion House fund exceeds £600,000, and The Daily Telegraph fund amounts to £19,000, and The Daily Mail to £77,000. These amounts only cover the larger London funds and do not include numerous provincial funds of large amounts being raised to equip volunteers.

The Yeomanry Hospital. The equipment for the Yeomanry Hospital has just left England for the Cape. The ladies at the head of this charity have now decided to raise funds to keep the hospital going for six months, and the following appeal to the British residents of the United States:

"We are venturing to address an appeal to our fellow-countrymen who, although absent from their native land, are wrapped up in heart and soul in the progress of the war. At this moment, when we see our volunteers from every quarter of the British Empire linked in common bond of sympathy and shoulder to shoulder with English troops, fighting for the freedom of the oppressed, will Englishmen, Scotsmen and Irishmen not unite with us, and identify themselves with this same noble spirit, by assisting us to alleviate the sufferings of those who are risking their lives in Africa? America has generously given, and is still maintaining, a hospital ship for the wounded soldiers. This munificence is deeply appreciated in our country. It is not to America that we now appeal: it is to those who cannot, for various reasons, fight at their country's call. All the bravest and best of Great Britain's sons will shortly be at the front. We would ask their absent comrades to prove by their liberality that they are mindful of the sufferings of those who fall bravely in keeping up the traditions of the British soldier, (Signed) Beatrice Chessam, General Curzon."

Not Asking Americans. In speaking of the appeal to a representative of the Associated Press, Lady Curzon, who is an aunt of the Duke of Marlborough, said: "I do hope it will be clearly understood that I would not wish to ask for financial support from Americans. We know that their warm-hearted generosity has done, and is doing, and all Americans living here can testify how grateful this country is to them."

ALL ENGLAND IS WAITING.

The Problem of Modern Warfare. The British Generals Must Solve. London, Feb. 13.—All England is waiting eagerly for news from Modder River, according to latest London advices, and the fact that Lord Roberts is there in person adds to the great interest in the events which it is believed will soon be reported from that point.

Boer Raid in Zululand. A despatch received in London late last night from Durban says that the Boer raid into Zululand has been reported. Natal colonists in London declare that the natives will break away and fight the Boers on their own account, and the country where the Boers are is the best grazing land in South Africa, and the Transvaal will be able to seize vast quantities of cattle.

Problem of Modern Warfare. The London Daily Mail has received a letter from Bullen Bably, who is at Modder River. He tells in clear language of the new problem in warfare which the English are now forced to solve. He says: "British defeats at the hands of the Boers are due to the fact that the methods of modern warfare have been brought in by a power in the demonstrated power of the weapons of today. The essential qualities of the army of 20 years ago are no longer the supreme necessities for success. The man behind the gun stands more supreme than ever. Dig a trench and line it with good shots, supported by modern artillery, and no enemy can advance in the face of them."

SHARKEY WHIPPED GODDARD.

The Veteran Was No Match for the Sailor—Fight Lasted Four Rounds. Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 13.—Sailor Tom Sharkey and Joe Goddard, the Barrier champion, met to-night at Industrial Hall in what was to be a six-round bout. Goddard was clearly outclassed, and was saved in the middle of the fourth round from almost certain knockout by his trainer throwing up the sponge. Sharkey, in a series of terrific rushes, had warmed things for the veteran until defeat seemed to be due in the next blow. The first round was rather tame, Tom holding himself back. But one clean punch, a left straight on Goddard's head, was the only evidence of fight, the round ending in a series of clinches.

Green Beat Denny Gallagher.

Cleveland, Feb. 13.—Denny Gallagher of Ireland and Fred Green of this city fought a 20-round contest at the Business Men's gymnasium. The contest was a pretty one, Green forcing the fight in the eighth round and he was given the decision at the end of the 20th round.

Frank Erne and Joe Gans. Buffalo, Feb. 13.—Frank Erne, without a mark to show for his bruising 6-round bout with Chicago Jack Daly in the western city last Friday night, reached town yesterday morning. Bobby Smith, his manager, came east with Erne, but did not stop off in Buffalo, going direct to New York, to enter into the negotiations for the championship fight between his charge and Joe Gans.

Deep-Seated Cataract Was His Cause.—Dr. Agnew's Cataract Powder Lifted His Glimpse.

The Rev. James L. Burden, a well-known American divine, writing from Springfield, Mo., says: "Dr. Agnew's Cataract Powder has proved a wonder in my case. I had cataracts in both eyes, and I was unable to see for several months. I used your powder, and in a few minutes, and perspiration in its use cured me of a very distressing attack of cataract in the throat and lungs."

HIS VALENTINES. To Mand I'll send a valentine. All these bows and dilled lace. She's such a young sweetheart of mine. That she'll like a valentine of mine. She'll dance for joy, because you see. My sweetest heart and there's only three.

Who's tender eyes before me shine. Who's sweet face beams me, angel-fair. I that give the world a valentine. I breathe, instead, a trembling prayer. Dear she is, so to spare. And send her, smiling, my heart!

—Madeline Bridges.

One of the most amusing persons to be seen in the street car is the man who, when he enters the electric conveyance, is not disposed to willy-nilly yield up his seat. He will, in fact, be paid—yet does not like to remain seated. Some flickering oblivious instinct urges him to offer his chair to the woman suspended by the strap, yet his undeniable right to the seat, which is his right of purchase, causes him to withhold the courtesy which always marks the man of breeding. It is as though he were arguing to himself: "It is the Street Railway Company you are obliging if you get up, is it for the woman you rise, and not because you lack deference to women?"

Naturally, with this struggle going on in him, between his chivalry and his rights, he hesitates; he is not prompt to offer his seat, like some of those delightful men, who, where women are concerned, throw their rights and their comfort to the winds, and offer their places as though it were a pleasure. No; the man who hesitates between his right and the claim of a woman is easily discerned. He is really so polite and so courteous, that he is almost ridiculous in his tact. Instead of making the best of a bad job cheerfully, he fancies, sometimes furtively, sometimes shamefacedly, up and down the car, to see whether some other man will be obliging enough to offer himself up to the claims of a woman, so that he may retain his seat with an easy conscience. If such a victim declares himself, the hesitating man lapses into the war despatches with a sign of relief, and the woman folds herself into a well-known individual, this man who "halts between two opinions. If, however, no other man will come to the rescue of the swaying female, my lord rises, morking as slowly and as reluctantly as a cork-bottle is sometimes hauled from a bottle, and with a face in which the attempt to be cheerfully polite struggles with disgust, he offers his seat. It is the triumph of politeness over rights, but forced politeness is one of the most unattractive things a woman can take, and in her heart she thanks to the man who publicly plays the martyr at her expense. Much rather would she prefer to stand and enjoy the other varieties of non-compliance with the claims of the man, for example, who only rises when the woman happens to be a fashionable acquaintance—then, who so gentlemanly, so courteous, so suavely deferential, as this being who did not see the tired little scrub, or the plain dress factory girl, at a moment or so ago? Of another order is the man who is always so deeply immersed in his paper that he never sees a woman, young, old, pretty or ugly, even when a job of the car sends her right into his lap. He never looks up from the time he enters the car lest by any chance a touch of femininity should remind him of the old fact that he is a man. Then there is the man who can only be drawn to his feet by

CONFERENCES OF LIGHT AND BUSINESS

Another Architect Will Be Associated With Mr. Siddall in the Construction of the St. Lawrence Market Alterations, so the Board of Control Decides—The Proposed Site for a New Smallpox Hospital—General City Topics.

The three controllers gathered in the Mayor's office a few minutes before 11 o'clock yesterday. Mr. Siddall and Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, his lawyer, were exactly on time when they reached the Mayor's outer door. These they met the controllers coming out, and the announcement was made that there would be no "conference," but an open meeting. This was a complete surprise; but all hurried downstairs to the Board of Control room. The representatives of the Dominion Bridge Company were conspicuous by their absence.

The Mayor Explains. After consultation with the solicitor and Counsel the members of the Board of Control decided to hold a public meeting every standpoint themselves, and while nothing was done, we are here to do now whatever may be done. The consensus of opinion appeared to favor the view of the matter; that the city appoint a couple—or more—architects.

Control Space: That is your proposition. I am not aware of having had any consultation with the City Solicitor or counsel since our meeting here yesterday.

Control Space: We were not present in an official capacity for consultation. The Mayor: I may say, Mr. Spence, that you did not make any objection to my calling the meeting. The Mayor: I will say for myself, I do not think that Mr. Siddall should be charged with the whole amount. That was all in conversation, and we did not discuss it.

A Complaint Made Regarding the Arrears of Taxes—All Were Satisfactorily Settled.

Mr. Johnston: Well, I will say that the tendency of the board is very generous, considering what might have been done. I think we are right, but we may be wrong, and I would suggest a fair compromise. The Mayor: I will say for myself, I do not think that Mr. Siddall should be charged with the whole amount. That was all in conversation, and we did not discuss it.

WOMAN'S PLUCK WINS.

A Lady Who Cured Her Husband of the Liquor Habit Writes a Pathetic Story.

She writes: "I had for a long time been thinking of trying to get my husband to give up his drinking habit, but I was afraid he would discover that I was giving him medicine, and the thought unnerved me. I hesitated for nearly a week, but one day when he came home very much intoxicated, and his salary nearly all spent, I threw off all fear and determined to make an effort to save our home from the ruin I saw approaching. I sent for my Samaritan Pharmacy and put in my coffee as directed next morning, and watched and prayed for the result. At noon I gave him more, and also to supper. He never suspected a thing, and I then boldly kept going on giving it regularly, as I had discovered something that set every nerve in my body tingling with hope and happiness, and I could see a bright future spread out before me—a peaceful, happy home, a share in the good things of life, and a contented husband, comforted, and everything else that a woman's heart, for my husband had told me that whiskey was the cause of his trouble, and he was taking a dislike to it. It was only too true, for before I had given him the full course he had stopped drinking altogether, but I kept giving the medicine till he was cured, and then sent for another bottle from the Samaritan Pharmacy, as he had done from his promises before. He never said a word about it, and I will tell you how thankful I am. I believe it will cure the worst cases."

ANOTHER BIG ENTERPRISE

Which is Being Talked of in Financial Circles in Montreal. Just Now.

A SECOND GREAT STEEL CONCERN

IN THE CANADIAN NORTHWEST.

Talked of for Cape Breton, on Lines Similar to the Whitney Works.

Montreal, Feb. 13.—(Special.)—There is another important flotation on hand, but it is not yet certain whether the big financial transaction will come out of the West. The presence of Messrs. John F. Ross, ex-M.P. of Halifax, and Graham Fraser of New Glasgow, both of the Nova Scotia Steel Company here and in another steel plant in the West, is a sign of things to come. The Dominion Steel Company of Sydney, would soon be started in North Sydney, and that the financing of the same was being engaged the attention of the two gentlemen named. This rumor has been as good as confirmed, and it is also reported that Messrs. William Mackenzie of Toronto, Frank Ross of Quebec, D. Mann of Montreal, and perhaps Hon. George A. Cox of Toronto, will join Messrs. Stairs and Fraser in their great undertaking. It may be said that Senator Cox is already interested in the Whitney organization at Sydney, but like a good many others in Canada with the belief that there is room in the Dominion for two great iron and steel enterprises. The North Sydney scheme embraces the purchase of the General Mining Association's property at a figure which the West places at $1,500,000, and this, with the Nova Scotia Steel Company's immense iron reserve at Belle Isle, Nfld., constitutes a heavy asset when flotation is decided upon. Some steps have already been taken in the West, and it is believed that the purchase of the General Mining Association's property at a figure which the West places at $1,500,000, and this, with the Nova Scotia Steel Company's immense iron reserve at Belle Isle, Nfld., constitutes a heavy asset when flotation is decided upon.
