ALBERT MEDAL TO WRECK HERO

Reward for Bravery in Spanish River Disaster Pinned on Conductor Reynolds—A. O. H. Concert at Massey Hall.

For the first time in the history of Canada the very seldom bestowed "Albert Medal of the First-Class," was pinned to the breast of a Canadian citizen when, last night at Massey Hall, Lt.-Gen. Gibson, after a felicitous speech of congratulation, presented this badge of bravery to Conductor Thomas Reynolds of North Bay, hero of the recent railway wreck at Spanish River.

The ceremony was specially included in the regular annual celebration of St. Patrick's Day, conducted by the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Massey Hall was packed to the doors with enthusiastic Irishmen, and as was remarked by all, it was the greatest function of its kind yet celebrated in Toronto by the A. O. H. For Irishmen of Catholic and Protestant creeds had met under the city's auspices to do deserved honor to the land of their birth (County Cavan, Ireland) and the country of his adoption (Canada).

The presentation came in the middle of a musical and literary program of very entertaining quality. And the special speaker of the occasion was Hon. Charles Murphy, P.C., M.P., who hurried from his duties at Ottawa as secretary of state of Canada, to make the introductory speech in praise of Mr. Reynolds. Mr. Murphy, who was introduced by Nicholas Kennedy, chairman general committee, dwelt with felicitous illustrations on the part that rightness had played in the lives of the elements in the civilization of the world, and, incidentally, in that of Canada, mentioning especially the names of Archibald Campbell, Alexander D'Arcy McGee of Montreal, and Edward Blake of Toronto. The address was both inspiring and impressive and was, of course, made entertaining here and there with apt quotations from the poets and orators and with touches of the wittier kind of Irish-Canadian humor.

At the conclusion of his remarks he introduced Hon. J. M. Gibson, who explained the history of "The Albert Medal of the First-Class," and pointed out the great infrequency of its bestowal. It being in this regard very like the "Victoria Cross," awarded only for absolutely remarkable heroism in special danger of personal life, the lieutenant-governor then read a congratulatory letter from Lord Curzon, who, in acting for the King, also added his own meed of praise for Conductor Reynolds. After the general huzzas which were coincident with his honor's plucking the Albert Medal to the Irish-Canadian's breast, the lieutenant-governor turned to the audience and called for three cheers and a tiger from them for the hero of the evening, which were given with right good will. Conductor Reynolds was then presented with the medal.

Another Medal and a Gift. At this juncture, when the people thought the honors were all over, the secretary of state arose and announced that the Royal Canadian Humane Association had requested him to make a public presentation to Mr. Reynolds of the medal at the annual concert of the Hibernian Society in Massey Hall, in recognition of Reynolds' "most remarkable heroism in life saving at the Spanish River railway accident."

Inscription. The R. S. H. Association's medal is inscribed as follows: Reynolds for presence of mind and heroism in saving lives at the Spanish River railway accident on the 21st of January 1910. But still further gifts were in store for Reynolds, when after the presentation of the medal, Mr. Andrew T. Hearn, past county president of the A.S.O.H. in Ontario, rose and in his happy oratory explained the purpose and significance of the medal. He then presented a silver tea set, as a mark of the appreciation of the heroism of a fellow-countryman.

Musical Program. The addresses and presentations to Mr. Reynolds were sandwiched in between a brilliant popular program of music, vocal and instrumental, readings, bagpipes, solos and Irish dances. Of these the chief feature was the chorus of 40 children's voices, conducted by Professor Donville, chairman of St. Mary's Church. They sang Irish patriotic songs with great cheer and excellent musicianship. C. J. Devine was specially effective in his reading, "When I was Twenty-one." Bert Harvey, assisted by the chorus, made a hit with his singing of Robert Emmet. And Piper Sullivan, was as always, the delight of the audience. The hand reel by the members of the Gaelic League was also a feature. Those who sang, were: Mrs. C. J. Corbett, Christine Charbono, and Messrs. Thomas Bernard Kennedy and Connor Meohan, were superb in familiar Irish songs, while Miss Margaret Findlay, closed out a gallop for violin playing with Irish airs, Miss Angela Tone. Even proved a helpful accompanist. Altogether it was a really grand affair, in the history of the A. O. H.

Hon. Mr. Fisher For the Senate

Minister of Agriculture Will Shortly Leave the Commons, But Will Retain His Portfolio.

OTTAWA, March 17.—(Special.)—It is now considered certain that Hon. Sydney Fisher will shortly resign his seat in the commons for the County of Bromont, Quebec, and go to the senate as senator for the division recently held by the late Sen. Baker.

Mr. Fisher would take with him the portfolio of agriculture, and thus give to the upper house the cabinet minister for which it has been called.

In the event of Mr. Fisher going to the leadership of the upper house, which is practically assured, R. C. Smith, K.C., the batsman of the Montreal bar, who was a candidate against H. B. Ames in St. Antoine in 1908, and who is the counsel for the transcontinental commission in the Lumsden enquiry, will run for Bromont in the Liberal interest.

SPEAKER "JOE" CANNON UP AGAINST THE WALL

Fighting for His Political Life in Washington, Awaiting Arrival of Reinforcements.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 17.—With Speaker Cannon's power in the house of representatives hanging in the balance, his supporters fencing for time, and no one in a position to say what would be the outcome, the fiercest battle probably that ever has been waged against the house rules obliterated party lines in the historic chamber to-day. It had been raging for seven hours at 11 o'clock to-night.

At that hour the Cannon forces were fighting in the hands of unmerciful opponents. His object was above the mere commercial side, and looked to the welfare of the people, the biggest asset of the province.

Interests of the Alberta Central Railway Have Been Acquired.

CALGARY, March 17.—It is reported that the Canadian Pacific Railway has acquired the interests of the Alberta Central Railway, with the idea of getting an easier grade across the Rockies than the Kicking Horse Pass affords. It is said work on this new line will be commenced this spring. It will run eastward from the coast to Red Deer, and thence to Saskatoon.

"ON TO OTTAWA!"

Allan Studholme Tells the Opposition They Are Caustic, Critical and Reactionary, Instead of Progressive.

"What the opposition should do," declared Allan Studholme (E. Hamilton) in the course of his speech, moving the second reading of his bill for eight-hour working day, and a 29c an hour minimum wage, in the legislature yesterday afternoon, "is to get 25 years ahead of the government. It should get out in front, like Billy Maclean at Ottawa."

"The trouble with the present opposition is that it is caustic, critical and reactionary. Stop fault finding. Let the government jog alone and lead out in front."

When Mr. Studholme arose at 12:40 he asked whether, in view of the hour, the government would not be willing to adjourn for lunch.

The premier assured him that he was willing to adjourn until he would drop, and perhaps the honorable member will drop too.

Mr. Studholme, who continued speaking till 2 o'clock, complained of his bill being left till the dying hour of the session.

His object was above the mere commercial side, and looked to the welfare of the people, the biggest asset of the province.

"The trouble with conditions at the present day," he continued, "is that everybody is after the almighty dollar. The idea of shipping everything out of the Dominion was done in the hope of escaping a vote on the matter."

Members are said to be busy circulating round robins. If they were as busy working to earn 20 cents an hour to get a $2 bill, they would appreciate this bill better.

AL REEVES, MILLIONAIRE SHOWMAN. Thirty-five years ago he stood on the corner of Yonge and Adelaide streets and sold papers to support his mother. He is one of those upon whom fortune has smiled, and to-day he owns more than one of the biggest burlesque shows on the road, while his fortune is estimated at a million or more.

Mr. Reeves has not forgotten his boyhood days, and his big heart goes out to the hundreds of little street merchants of his native city. Consequently, this millionaire showman wants to do something to improve the condition of the boys who are to-day in the position in which he was 35 years ago.

Lansdowne Fears That the Best Men Would Not Attend—A Challenge to Premier Asquith.

LONDON, March 17.—(C.A.P. Cable.) In the house of lords, Lord Rosebery's resolution was carried without division. Lord Lansdowne accepted the principle of reform, but refused to surrender entirely the hereditary right of a peer to a seat.

He disapproved the suggestion that there should be a great number of representatives of the dominions overseas. An imperial parliament was one thing, a second chamber another.

"I do not think the colonies would part with their best men to attend regularly your lordship's house," said Lord Lansdowne. "I do not think they would be grateful for the amount of representation which, from force of circumstances, we should be able to give them."

Lord Crewe, in an ironical reply, declared the government favored a bicameral system. He pointed out that the reform of the lords, and the latter would, therefore, want a voice in the reform of the lords, and the latter would, therefore, want a voice in the reform of the lords.

Coroner Anderson Meets With Accident - Independent Labor Party's Election of Officers.

HAMILTON, March 17.—(Special.)—As the result of information secured by the new policemen who have been doing a little plain clothes duty while waiting for their uniforms to be made, a raid was made this afternoon on a store conducted by a Chinaman named Sam Lee Hing, near the corner of James and Murray-streets. Fourteen cases of liquor were seized.

Dr. Anderson was thrown out of his rig this afternoon. He was picked up unconscious, but no bones were broken, and it is thought he will be around again in a few days. The Ancient Order of Hibernians marked St. Patrick's Day by holding a concert this evening in the Grand Opera House.

J. R. L. Starr, K.C., delivered an address this evening at a banquet given by the laymen's missionary movement, at Zion Tabernacle. The Property Committee.

William Butler, 58 years of age, who sought to be admitted to the house of refuge because he said he was afflicted with work by heart disease, turned upon the members of the property committee this evening when they refused his application. He accused them of taking that step because he was a Roman Catholic.

Complaint was made that a Toronto firm was bringing in meat by the carload, but no action was taken, it being explained that the matter was in the hands of the city solicitor. Chairman Elwell and Biggar were appointed to wait upon the board of control to ask for an appropriation to cover the cost of removing some submerged pipes on Bay front.

Endorse Studholme. The Independent Labor Party approves of the course that Allan Studholme, M.L.A., has followed during the present session of the legislature, especially with regard to the seasonal indemnity, and it placed its approval on record in a resolution this evening. Approval of the crusade of Archbishop Bruchesi, Montreal, was also adopted.

Some of the residents of Barton Township have consulted W. A. H. Duff, their solicitor, with a view to setting the assessment of the new annex made by the city. The ground upon which they propose to proceed is that proper notice was not given to the property owners in the district.

Object to the Merger. Some of the shareholders of the Hamilton Steam Company are objecting to the proposed merger of their company with the Toronto Forge company and the Canada Screw Company. One ground is that it is proposed to make the earning of the companies for the past four years a basis of the valuation of the stock of the companies, which would work out to 250 a share for the Steel Company's stock. They think the steel stock should be valued for the purposes of the merger, which would work out to 250 a share for the Steel Company's stock. "THE DAY" IN MONTREAL. MAYOR WALKS IN PARADE.

A bishop Bruchesi Makes Reference to Eucharistic Congress, and Hopes to Excel London.

MONTREAL, March 17.—(Special.)—St. Patrick's Day was celebrated here with accustomed eclat, it being the first time since the days of Mayor McShane that Montreal's chief magistrate walked in the procession. Mayor Guerin was very much in evidence, wearing his regalia of office.

The sermon was preached at St. Patrick's Church by Father Walsh of Dublin. The Archbishop of Montreal also spoke. "Let us unite," he said, "to make the coming eucharistic congress one worthy of the event. In September next, I see before me, in this vast church, the Irish Catholic people of Montreal, surrounded by Irish archbishops and bishops from Ireland, England and the United States. I see here in this sanctuary the cardinal legate representing his holiness. Prepare, then, my people, for this great event. Let us outdo London and Cologne.

In the presence of our honored mayor, I thank the city council for their efforts to make this event great and glorious. Ottawa: Everywhere the green emblem is prominent. This morning high mass was celebrated in St. Patrick's Church, which was crowded to its utmost capacity. There will be no procession to-day, that annual function being observed last Sunday.

BRANTFORD'S PARK DRIVEWAY. Plans for a Nine Mile Boulevard Around the City.

W. G. Hanna pointed out Canada's problems in having its bilingual system of education. A strong moral sentiment built up by instruction, was the only safeguard. Officers elected are: President, Rev. J. F. Maxwell, secretary, J. S. Dowling; treasurer, W. G. Holliker.

Plans for a beautiful drive, giving a survey of the river for nine miles around the city, have been formulated. The drive extends from the Ontario institute for the blind around Tully Heights, and past the home of Dr. Alex. Bell, the telephone inventor, ending at the old Mohawk Church. The planting of 2000 trees will be commenced this year along the proposed drive.

Taft Spends a Busy Day Hero of Many Occasions in Chicago Yesterday. CHICAGO, Ill., March 17.—St. Patrick was notably remembered in Chicago to-day, but the brunt of it fell upon President Taft, and he was a thoroughly tired man when his train left to-night for Rochester, N.Y. During the day he spoke to members of the Chicago Press Club, the Traffic Club, a mass meeting, to members and guests of the Hamilton Club, and twice to functions provided at the Irish Fellowship Club, his host for the day. The president touched upon "statesmen correspondents" who colored facts to suit their views. To railway men, he averred that he had learned more in the first year of his administration than he could hope to assimilate in the next three. Speaking of the prosperity of the country the president referred especially to advances in the south. "I like to dwell upon that," said the speaker. At the newspaper men's luncheon, a hazy of shamrocks sent from Ireland by John E. Redmond, the Nationalist leader, was presented to Mr. Taft. Prolonged cheering interrupted the president when he mentioned the name of Roosevelt. "The conservation movement," said Mr. Taft, "owes its beginning to Theodore Roosevelt. (Prolonged applause.) Go it again. You don't enjoy that any more than I do, who was it inspired in Gifford Pinchot the wonderful activity of mind and body with reference to the conservation movement? (Applause.) I am in favor of giving credit where credit belongs, (applause), and of withholding it where it does not belong."

PROSPECTS FAR FROM BRIGHT New York Republican Organ's View on Tariff Crisis. The N. Y. Tribune Washington correspondent says: The prospects of an agreement with Canada are far from bright. President Taft has a keen appreciation of his duty in the premises, and will not be swayed by political considerations. The difficulty which confronts the negotiators is the complete unwillingness of Canada to make any concessions and an apparent indifference to the prospect of a tariff war—an indifference prompted in part no doubt by the conviction that such a result would prove inimical to the administration at Washington. There is some question, however, as to how far it would produce political results. In the opinion of the administration, the American people are neither supine nor lacking in patriotism, and if they appreciate to the full the attitude of Canada, they will be slow to punish the administration, which has made a stout stand for the rights of Americans. The Payne tariff law has made material concessions to Canada, and still others can be obtained by Canada by the abolition of the prohibition imposed on the exportation of pulp wood. Representations have been made to the president to the effect that Canada is following a consistent policy with the purpose of compelling American paper manufacturers to transfer their mills to the Canadian side of the border and that some provinces, with the consent of the Dominion Government, have taken steps to destroy the value of extensive American investments in Canadian forests. Ottawa has for ten years prohibited the

The president has been further informed that millions of dollars have been invested in Canadian licenses by Americans who expected under these licenses to cut out and export pulp wood, so that prohibition of importation amounts to virtual confiscation of the money paid for the licenses. It is with a keen appreciation of these facts that the president is disposed to insist on material concessions from Canada in return for the minimum tariff of the United States.

THE T. EATON CO. LIMITED

Philosophy in Its Relation to the Millinery of Spring: Inspired by a Peep at the Easter Hats at

EATON'S

Thomas Carlyle ascribed a soulfulness to clothes which lesser philosophers among us are unable to refute.

Certainly, if there is anything in the doctrine of affinity, it may be applied to hats. For who can study the expression of a bonnet that stands waiting its fate in a showcase and deny that one face in particular has rightful claim on its special turn of crown and droop of feather, and that other of nose and tilt of chin are as distinctly the inspired supplement for the hat that stands nearby?

How an observer shudders when a stolid personage with grim mouth and high brow lingers conclusively over the dreamy tulle and lace confection, whose romantic roll of brim and garlanding of buds calls oh, so loudly, for a pair of soft grey eyes and smiling lips! Why will she not pass on? we mentally cry. For there is a bit of headgear further along whose millinery pulse is beating for her alone—a wide flat toque, full of dignity and handsome austerity.

How forcibly, too, have we been constrained to obtrude upon the cogitations of the little brunette with the piquant air and coquettish droop of the eyelids, and beg her to consider the fore-ordained suitability of the cerise turban with the long grey quill! A limp little creature with fair hair is handling it speculatively, and in our fancy we see the turban's cold acceptance of the homage.

When hat and head are drawn together by the bond of true affinity, how happy, indeed, the alliance!

This season hats seem more redolent of soulfulness than ever. A preliminary peep into the handboxes that stand ready to disgorge their alluring contents for the exposition on Monday revealed a wealth of character underlying the prevailing chic.

A French model in ivory brim, owing its notable charm to the rolling upturn of the brim, caught with a broad silver buckle, and the encircling arrangement of osprey, suggested at first glance a well-groomed, well-tailored wearer.

A huge leghorn design smartly finished with a mass of ribbon bows in an old blue shade, with an artless garland of blossoms of the same tone, the whole completely veiled with black Chantilly lace, is destined for a more spiritual type.

Two models bearing illustrious names on the headlings bear witness to the vogue of the large mushroom shape. Both are brilliant examples of Parisian skill in the intermingling of contrasting colors; one presenting a combination of garnet sweet peas and purple velvet on navy blue straw; and the other a truly French exploitation on peacock blue straw of every blossom that a garden grows—eminently harmonious in result.

The popularity of leghorn is further instanced in a large flat model with a simple quilling and rosette of mustard color velvet cockaded with an ingenious little nosegay of wild flowers.

The same flat shepherdess design is also developed charmingly in navy blue, with crown of pink silk and low wreath of pink roses.

Blue, it will be seen, is the dominant note. It appears in touch, if not in substance, throughout the whole millinery story, from the strong King's blue to the faded "Blériot."

Striking paradoxes are shown. A delicate white chip picture hat, crowned with eyelet embroidery and tender pink buds, is heavily underfaced with black velvet; and a durable-looking black straw shape, substantially banded and lined with crimson velvet, is surmounted with a filmy white lace rosette.

The universal tendency towards a whimsical blending of decorative ideas is well exemplified in a very lovely Gainsborough hat, the white straw faced with pale blue chiffon, draped about the crown with Brussels lace, heavily decked with knots and sashes of rose ribbon, the whole peaked with a bouquet of prairie wheat and flowers—blue, pink, red, yellow, green and purple—representing in all a carriage or garden party chapeau of the most stunning order.

For immediate wear with tailored suits, some delightful little military and Oriental turbans are exhibited, as well as many larger designs severely trimmed with a single feather aigrette or chou of shot ribbon.

In addition to the foreign importations, the store's own creations include some delightful specimens. One in particular, a large grey chipped straw, veiled in blue chiffon and radiating a rainbow effect of grey, blue and rose, is, for graceful droop and curve, unrivalled by any French production, while a broad, flat-brimmed model of white mohair veiled in black lace and bearing clusters of tiny pink buds and blue forget-me-nots, is as interesting and picturesque as though from Romney's own palette and brush.

The array, too, of schoolgirl millinery is a very attractive feature of the great collection. Modishness, suitability and moderation of price have been most skillfully amalgamated.

But only a poet should carry the license to review, when colors are so rich, flowers so delicate and real, and the fashioning so suggestive of an artist's manipulation.

Table Hints

Table decorations—Cut out of green glassed paper shamrocks six inches in diameter; place one at each place and on each shamrock lay a clean Irish potato lengthwise and insert a green candle in centre of each potato. Have ferns, daisies, etc., in a vase, and a green plant for centre of table. To the guest whose candle burns longest give a candy potato box filled with mint pasties.

Fresh cod in ramekins—Tie in cloth one pound cod. Simmer ten minutes in following boiling liquid: One quart water, one teaspoon salt, one tablespoon vinegar, two bay leaves, two pepper balls, two all-spice balls, two cloves and half an onion which has been boiled at least ten minutes before putting in fish. Remove bone from fish when cooked, flake and add to white sauce made of one tablespoon each of flour and butter, one cup milk, one spoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. Fill buttered ramekins, sprinkle with cracker crumbs on top of each and brown in oven.

Bake and prepare potatoes when making muffins for breakfast and they will require same time to heat as it takes to brown fish.

Steamed rice—Wash and put in pudding pan one-half cup of rice, one minced green pepper (seeds removed), one teaspoon salt, two tablespoons butter and one cup water. Steam two and one-half hours in steamer over boiling shoulder of lamb.

Green Neufchatel cheese—Mash one cheese with four drops of cream and two drops of green vegetable coloring.

Marshmallow and date fuff—Whip very stiff one-half pint extra cream and add one-half of a dozen boxes of marshmallows cut into small pieces, one ounce of chopped dates and one one-tablespoon confectioner's sugar. Serve in tall glasses very cold.

Fashions and Fads

Men's neckwear will be in more vivid colorings.

Turn-back collars and cuffs are to be worn again.

Burtons of Dutch silver are fashioned into our links.

Some of the spring suits for men have two-button coats.

There is a tendency to have girdles quite wide in front.

The scarf cape is made of a single piece of satin a yard and a quarter wide and over twice as long. This is edged with several rows of marabou. When draped gracefully over the shoulders it is most fascinating.

Tankies vary in length to suit the taste and height of the wearer. Some extend to within a few inches of the hem of the gown, while others come but a few inches below the waist line. The lower edge, seemingly, may be as unusual in its outline as the wearer desires.

The pelum, which, after all, is nothing but a variation of the loose tunic worn in the days of Rome's supremacy, is coming to the fore this spring. Pattern dresses of silk and fancy woven woolen fabrics are to be had with a pelum, or drape, having a design which differentiates it from the material of the skirt.

CANADIAN ART AND J. W. L. FORSTER'S WORKS

Among Canadian artists of more than national reputation none is better or more favorably known than Mr. J. W. L. Forster. He is one of the veterans who have been faithful to their own people, and given to place the Dominion, in art, as in material developments, in line with countries that have had the benefit of centuries of artistic education and training. But like others who desire excellence, Mr. Forster in his formative period studied in the great painting centres, and he delights to recall incidents of his early experiences in the studios of Paris and in the sketching expeditions in which he joined. At intervals he revisits the cities of the old world, and renews acquaintanceship with his old countrymen now unfortunately a diminishing band. Mr. Forster, it is scarcely necessary to explain, has devoted himself mainly to portrait painting, not so much as a matter of deliberate choice but of natural inclination. Naturally he raises this branch of the painter's craft highly but is particular to add not on account of his own personal bias. But the art of portraiture needs no apology since in its highest phases it is of all others the most difficult in which to excel. It may be comparatively easy to present a superficial resemblance, but to penetrate beneath the external lineaments and to fix upon the canvas the essential character of the subject is a task and capacity of realization. It is because Mr. Forster had that aptitude and has schooled himself in all the qualities of expression that his work ranks so highly not only in Canada but in Europe.

To spend an hour or two in his studio in the Manning Arcade is a delightful experience. While most of his work of course passes at once out of his hands, he has not a little by him which reveals the fine characteristics of his art. Such, for example, as his portable portrait of General Booth, founder and head of that remarkable organization the Salvation Army, painted in 1907, and a replica of which he sent to London. These three years have mellowed the canvas which can only be described as a triumph of individualization. The strongly moulded features of the venerable general, the air of dignity, the poise but specially the underlying fire of the great evangelist all combine to create a lasting impression. The prevailing tone and the purity of the flesh color powerfully aid in the production of a vivid realism. Equally excellent but in a totally different style and manner is the fine portrait of Mr. H. S. Strathairn, another splendid piece of characterization.

Mr. Forster's latest canvas is a three-quarter length portrait of Mrs. Love. It is a very charming presentation of a highly attractive personality. The artist has achieved striking success in the portrayal of a bright, alert and expressive countenance. Clad in rich dark crimson, but kept in strict subordination to the fresh face color, the work would gain attention in any surroundings, and can be numbered as among Mr. Forster's chef d'oeuvres. He is now engaged on a splendid portrait in oil of the Hon. Justice of Manitoba, Mr. Howells which will find a place in the court house, and a splendid portrait of ex-Chief Justice Duggan.

In the course of conversation Mr. Forster spoke in very appreciative terms of the present state of British art, particularly in portraiture, where he considered the artists of the mother country lead the world. This he attributed to the development of its home life and the intimate knowledge of personalities thus induced. In decorative art also he holds Britain to rank high, as also in historical art, a branch which found ample scope in the events associated with the building up of the empire. Landscape was peculiarly the British field, but it had also fine exponents in the later Dutch, Flemish and Scandinavian schools. Regarding the position and prospects of Canadian art, Mr. Forster's view was entirely optimistic. Possibly, he remarked, Canadian artists have hitherto been too much inclined to paint in the European mode, and had not yet found the palette for Canadian color and atmosphere. But he regarded the present C. S. A. Exhibition as showing more marks than ever before of the distinctive Canadian environment. To his mind the St. Lawrence offered an unsurpassed field for the finest sky work and atmospheric effects. Then there was the picturesque people of Quebec and the romantic types found among the frontiersmen, and backwoodsmen, which presented a most suggestive opportunity for the painter. The prairies, mountains and coasts of Canada, too, were rich in subjects.

The Woman Beautiful

"No sense worrying," says the Little Spalpeen, "to-morrow something worse will happen."

The Recamier coiffure is merely a large cluster of loose natural-looking curls arranged on a light wire frame to be placed on the crown of the head instead of the ugly plain turban arrangement. One's own hair is drawn away from the face loosely, and no inside pompadour or rat is worn. Coiled close about the head is the long hair, real if you're lucky, and false if you're not. Above this is the Recamier coil. The effect is that of softness and delicacy. A fluffy hairdress is always more becoming than one made of flat coils or braids.

The Suffragette Martyrs

NEW YORK, March 17.—A London cable states that the report of the year's work of the militant suffragette organization records that 294 women were arrested, of whom 168 were imprisoned. Hunger strikes to the number of 119 were carried out. Pump feeding was resorted to on 26 occasions. Since the agitation began the sentences served by women amount in the aggregate to 25 years.

These people have kindly given their services to the cause of erecting in Toronto a club for the little street boys who, rain or shine, are to be found on the corners disposing of their wares to earn the little that keeps in many instances, the family out of the charitable institutions, and, therefore, relieves to that extent, the public, who are obliged to see that no one in this Christian city goes hungry or without a place to sleep. The program to be put on this afternoon at the Royal Alexandra, is not merely said, will be well worth the price that is asked for a ticket, namely, 50c. Editor World: Re the Newsboys' Home, it might be possible to arrange with the city for a site just back of the Harrison Baths, so as to have the use of the plunge bath in that building; the location would be fairly central, with a good sized playground about it. If such an arrangement could be made it would be equal to a substantial subscription from the city. A Well Wisher.

Clergymen in Sympathy. The movement has been largely supported by the clergy. Rev. Dr. Carman, superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada, is greatly interested, while Rev. Dr. Creighton, editor of The Christian Guardian, said that he had never known of a more needed institution.

"These boys," he said, "are only waiting for a chance to prove they can be most successful men. Their street training has made them sharper than the usual boy, while a great deal more important, it has taught them the value of money. The street has, unfortunately, also taught them many evil habits, but if we could only provide a home for them, such as The World is attempting to do, the evil habits would be overcome and we would raise them with all the good of their former life still before them, but the bad would be eliminated. It is only by having a home like this that the boys can be made into self-respecting citizens. I will most strongly support this campaign, for it seems to me to be a fight to save the boys from being criminals. Canada needs the best we can give her and it is our duty to train people so they will be of use to their country."

Rev. T. E. Shore and Rev. Dr. Stackhouse, two prominent officials in the Laymen's Missionary Movement, also endorsed the campaign. They looked at it in the same light as Dr. Creighton and declared it was a project that should be supported by all the churches. In their opinion it was a great movement towards making Canada's men of the future, and this was a work that no person should neglect.

ST. PATRICK'S BREASTPLATE

Translated by James Clarence Mangan

At Tara to-day, in this awful hour, I call on the Holy Trinity! Glory to Him who reigneth in power, His Begethen pure and holy, The Paraclete Spirit, which Three are the One, The everlasting Divinity! Our fallen race, And I put with the One, The virtue that leeth and liveth in His Incarnation lowly, His life of toil, and tears, and affliction, His dolorous Death—His Crucifixion! His Burial, sacred and ad and tone, His Resurrection to life again, His glorious Ascension to Heaven's high Throne, And, lastly, His future abiding, And terrible coming to judge all men— Both the Living and the Dead.

At Tara to-day, I put and I place The virtue that dwells in the Seraphim's love, And the virtue and grace That are in the obedience, Christe be under me! Christ be over me! On left hand and right! Christ be before me, behind me, about me, Christ this day be within and without, Christ, the lowly and meek, Christ, the All-powerful, be In the heart of each to whom I speak, In the mouth of each who speaks to me, In all that draw near me, Or see me or hear me!

At Tara to-day, in this awful hour, I call on the Holy Trinity! Glory to Him who reigneth in power— The God of the Elements, Father and Son, The Paraclete Spirit, which Three are the One, The ever-existing Divinity!

Salvation dwells with the Lord, With Christ, the Omnipotent Word, From regeneration to generation, From us, O Lord, Thy grace and salvation.

A splendid opportunity to learn what Christian Science really is and what it is accomplishing, will be afforded the public on Sunday afternoon next at 3 o'clock, at a lecture to be given in the Royal Alexandra Theatre by Hon. Clarence A. Buskirk of St. Louis, Mo. Not only is Mr. Buskirk an authorized lecturer of the denomination, but he is unusually well qualified to present this subject, having been a student of Christian Science since 1893 and an official lecturer since 1904. For many years he has been a prominent lawyer of Princeton, Indiana, and from 1874 to 1878 was attorney-general of the same state. The lecture is free to all.

He then took the matter up with Ottawa, and is instructed to take the matter up again with the Detroit officials.

He also claims to have had it insured for $2000. The building was burned in November, 1909. Realty and Building

NEW BELL TELEPHONE BUILDING ON WEST ADELAIDE STREET.

The Sparrow Farm (about 100 acres), on the west side of Yonge-street (N. 1-2 lot, 3, con. 1, west of Yonge), half a mile north of Eglinton-avenue, has been sold to a syndicate or company headed by W. S. Dinwiddie, managing director of the Standard Loan Co. The price is a little over $1200 an acre. The tenant in occupation is Alex. Bryce of the Hygienic Dairy. About two-fifths of the lot is in North Toronto, and the western three-fifths extends to Bathurst-street. The property is a 1-2 miles north of the corner of Yonge and Queen-streets. One of Mr. Dinwiddie's companies is the owner of Lawrence Park, on the east side of Yonge-street, a quarter of a mile north. The Sparrow Farm is the last one left in the town. The others have been or are being cut up.

The Standard Bank has purchased from R. S. Dinwiddie, No. 249 Avenue-road, opposite Dupont-street, for the purpose of establishing a branch. The price paid is said to be $6000 for the building. If C. P. R. does not construct a subway at this point the improvement will be proceeded with at once.

The old building, formerly a residence, on the south side of East Richmond-street, separated from Hobbart's by a lane, is being torn down because it has been found to be in a dangerous state. It is over 80 years old. Some of the timbers are 60 feet in length. The laths are of split cedar. This is one of the best evidences of its age. A coin of the reign of George IV, was found by one of the workmen yesterday.

What about the Yonge and Carlton mystery? All the newspapers tried their hands yesterday at it, and most of them came back to the same diagnosis, that the purchaser was the Canadian Pacific Railway. If it is the Canadian Pacific, then it means two and a half millions for the land, two millions for a station, and one and a half millions for a tunnel, with at least two million for an hotel, or eight million at least. The C. P. has found out that Toronto is the greatest city in Canada for railway revenue, and that the road that plays the biggest game will get the lion's share. This Carlton and Yonge move would make the best station, to control the railway business of Toronto. And the Toronto of today is not a city, but a city of what it will be as a railway centre ten years hence.

As a consequence of this story of the C. P. R. buying this big block, all the property owners in the vicinity are at fever heat. The one who will be who he takes big profits if they come his way.

And now to come back to the corner of King and Yonge-streets. Rumor was more than active yesterday afternoon. One paper said that the C. P. R. had renewed its lease of the present ticket office (S. E. corner), Bostwick lot, for 42 years, renewable, and also of the building lot occupied by the Elias Rogers Co., and that the railway would put up a handsome new "Caught Cold." Had a Distressing, Tickling Sensation in The Throat.

Mr. Albert MacPhee, Chignecto Mines, N.S. writes: "In Oct., 1908, I caught cold by working in water, and had a very bad cough and that distressing, tickling sensation in my throat-so that I could not sleep at night, and my lungs were so sore I had to give up work. Our doctor gave me medicine but it did no good so I got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and by the time I had used two bottles I was entirely cured. I am always recommending it to my friends."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup combats the potent healing virtues of the Norway pine tree with other absorbent, expectorant and soothing medicines of recognized worth and is absolutely harmless, prompt and safe for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Sore Throat, Pain or Tightness in the Chest, and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

There are many imitations of "Dr. Wood's" so be sure and get the genuine when you ask for it. Put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25 cents. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Cobalt Issues in Good Demand Market Displays Firm Tone

Small Volume of Floating Stock in Markets and Many Buying Orders Go Unfilled.

World Office, Thursday Evening, Mar. 17. Trading in Cobalt shares continues remarkably active on the local market today. A good demand was noted for many of the specialties, which have come into prominence during the last few weeks, and while these were particularly active in the morning, the market, and that prices were being held in check by profit-taking which came into action on any appreciable amount.

The higher priced Cobalts were only conspicuous by their absence, and prices in this section of the list were, if anything, slightly easier than the preceding session. The market closed with a firm tone generally displayed. Traders reported that some difficulty was being experienced in getting their buying orders filled and at the close it was understood that a considerable amount of unfilled orders were being held over.
