PRESBYTERIAN CLERGY NEED LARGER SALARIES.

Matter Fully Discussed by Assembly—Highly Encouraging Reports
From Various Funds

The Presbyterian General Assembly resumed its sitting at ten o'clock this morning, most of the previous day's proceedings, which were adopted.

The business committee reported the order of business for the day to be as follows:—
1. Unfinished business re Home Mission Report.
2. Widows and Orphans—Report.
3. Church and manse building report.
4. Report on colleges.
5. Report on Sunday school publications.
6. Report of Sunday school secretary.
7. Division of Calgary Presbytery.
8. Division of Edmonton Presbytery.
9. Foreign mission report.

The following committees were announced:—
Committee on reception of ministers: Dr. Armstrong, convenor; President Forrest, Drs. Scrimgeour, McNair, McRobbie, Messrs. T. C. Josh. Thym, Strachan, Bert. R. Baxter, D. J. McQueen, Alex. Neilson, James Muir, elders.

The committee to strike standing special cases of ministers asking admission into the church—Dr. Bryce, convenor; Principal Patrick, Prin. Gordon, Drs. E. D. McLaren, Carmichael, Hierman, Campbell, Sedgwick, Ramsay, ministers; D. G. McQueen, J. A. Turnbull, Robt. Murray, Wm. Anderson, Walter Paul, Hon. C. H. Campbell, Prof. Dyde and Judge Forbes, elders.

Committee for examination of special cases of ministers asking admission into the church—Dr. Bryce, convenor; Principal Patrick, Prin. Gordon, Drs. E. D. McLaren, Carmichael, Hierman, Campbell, Sedgwick, Ramsay, ministers; D. G. McQueen, J. A. Turnbull, Robt. Murray, Wm. Anderson, Walter Paul, Hon. C. H. Campbell, Prof. Dyde and Judge Forbes, elders.

Rev. Dr. Worden, referring to increased stipends, announced that the expense in living had increased about 14 or 15 per cent. and he thought the salaries of ordained ministers should be increased. He believed it would be a burning shame for the church to refuse to do so. Dr. Worden thereupon moved a recommendation, which had previously been prepared, that a committee be appointed to consider the whole matter of increased ministerial stipends, especially in regard to ministers in augmented charges, and that the committee report to the general assembly at a later date. The motion was seconded and strongly supported.

Whereas, it appears that the cost of living in the bounds of the Maritime Synod has materially increased in recent years, and whereas, the minimum stipend of settled pastors and ordained missionaries is in many cases insufficient to meet the increased expenditure, Therefore, the Presbytery of Truro humbly requests your venerable court to consider the advisability of raising the minimum stipend to a higher figure.

Dr. Smith, in support of the overture, said that he thought the church was better able to give $300 a year, as a minimum salary, than it was to give $200 a year, twenty-three years ago. There were lots of simple laboring men receiving far larger salaries than some of the ministers of the Presbyterian church. He believed that if an earnest appeal was made to the people the required amount would be received.

Dr. Smith moved that the overture be reported to the committee. Rev. L. W. Parker seconded the motion and said that he thought it was a matter which was coming to occupy the mind of the whole church. He believed the people as well as the ministers were thinking about it and he felt that it would receive their hearty support. No class of people undergo so much trouble and expense to prepare themselves for their profession as the ministers, and surely that was a reason why there should be some increase in salary.

Mr. Adamson, of Toronto, said that he was very sorry to hear such words as had been spoken by the two previous speakers. It was not fair to compare ministers with stream drivers and working men, as regards salary. He was prepared to raise the salaries of ministers, but expected very much to hear such common talk, as in his opinion, the working men earned all they got.

The moderator said that the Presbyterian ministry did not look upon any man as common or unclean. But it was a fact that ministers had to buy books and other necessary expensive articles for the advancement of their work, which the ordinary man did not have to secure.

The very first to whom the overture was referred is composed of Dr. Wallace, convenor, Dr. Lyle, Dr. Patrick, Messrs. Abraham, McLaren, etc. Referring to the Good Samaritan hospital, at Dawson, Dr. Pringle said that in 1893 when Rev. Grant visited Dawson he found that $2,000 had been collected for a hospital, not a very large sum then, especially when $15 a day would have to be paid for a man with an axe. With considerable difficulty the hospital was erected.

Grant, said Dr. Pringle, is a hero and has borne a burden for the Presbyterian church such as no other man in Canada has borne. He Dr. Pringle was here for the purpose of asking support to the extent of $3,000 or such a sum as they might deem themselves able to advance for the Good Samaritan hospital. He was a sort of crank on hospital work. As a church, the Presbyterians were doing only half of their work for the Lord said, "Preach the gospel and heal the sick." The government had promised valuable assistance not only to the Good Samaritan hospital but to all the hospitals in the territory. He would like to see hospitals erected wherever there are missions and he hoped that the Presbyterians would do only half of their work for the Lord said, "Preach the gospel and heal the sick."

The report of the Ministers' Widows' and Orphans' Fund in connection with the Church of Scotland was presented by Dr. Campbell, and showed that although the receipts were slightly diminished, the fund was in a thoroughly healthy condition and the chances are that there will be a considerable surplus over after all expenses are paid. The report of the Maritime Synod of the Maritime Provinces was submitted by Dr. Sedgwick. The expenditures for the year were $4,161.28, the receipts $3,535.77, leaving a balance of $5,224.49. Dr. Sedgwick, seconded by Dr. Scrimgeour, the report was adopted.

In the absence of Rev. Joseph Hendry, Dr. Worden presented the report of the Ministers' Widows' and Orphans' Fund (western section), which showed a balance to their credit of $1,068.

RUSSIAN FORCES AGAIN SUFFER SEVERE DEFEAT.

An Attempt to Relieve Port Arthur is Frustrated by Another Japanese Victory.

TOKIO, June 3, noon.—A body of Japanese encountered and defeated a mixed force of Russian cavalry, infantry and artillery near Lichenon, nine miles north of Polandien, on Monday last, May 30. The engagement began at 12:30 p. m. and lasted for two hours, the Russian troops finally being driven northward. The Japanese had one officer and 25 men killed, and four officers and 33 men wounded. The Russian losses are unknown. The movement of the Russian forces southward indicates a possible effort to relieve Port Arthur. Polandien is about fifty miles north of the Russian frontier.

RUSSIANS IN KOREA.
SEOUL, June 3, 7:30 a. m.—The Japanese consul at Gensan reports a Russian advance on Koyoen, 21 miles north of Gensan. Their communication began at 12:30 p. m. and lasted for two hours, the Russian troops finally being driven northward. The Japanese had one officer and 25 men killed, and four officers and 33 men wounded. The Russian losses are unknown. The movement of the Russian forces southward indicates a possible effort to relieve Port Arthur. Polandien is about fifty miles north of the Russian frontier.

RUSSIA'S ARMY A MYSTERY.
ST. PETERSBURG, June 3.—When the war commenced it was firmly believed that Russia had nearly 200,000 men east of Lake Balkal, and with the utmost confidence it was declared that this number could easily be brought up to 400,000 in two months. Everybody is now asking: Where are these 400,000 men? It has been stated so frequently and from so many different sources, that the garrison at Port Arthur numbers less than 20,000 men, that Gen. Kuropatkin has well over 100,000 men at Liao Yang and Mukden, and that Vladivostok is garrisoned by only a couple of regiments that these figures have come to be regarded as approximately accurate.

If, then, the whereabouts of less than 100,000 men are known, what has become of the odd 80,000 which were in the Far East at the outbreak of war, and where are the thousands of reinforcements that have undoubtedly been entrained since February?

Every week almost every day since the war began troop trains have left all the principal military centres to start on the long journey by the Trans-Siberian railway. But they do not seem to have reached their destination.

The explanation probably is that thousands of men are stranded at intermediate stations on the railway, waiting for trains to take them to Harbin, and that thousands more are scattered along the line from Harbin to Vladivostok, guarding the communications.

Thus Gen. Kuropatkin finds himself the centre of the Japanese attack with about 100,000 men to oppose double that number, while the rest of his forces are scattered over hundreds of miles of territory, and consequently useless.

SETTLED OUT OF COURT.
The McLeod-Atkinson arbitration which was announced a few days ago to open in St. John today will not take place, as the questions calling for settlement have been amicably disposed of. The parties to the intended arbitration are Kent county people, and are owners of large milling properties. Messrs. Dr. A. Stockton, J. D. Hazen and G. V. McInerney were to have been the arbitrators.

SUPREME COURT CHAMBERS.
In the Supreme Court chambers today hearing is taking place before His Honor Chief Justice Tuck in the case of John F. Fleming et al. vs. W. H. McLeod. It is an action on a promissory note. This morning evidence taken in England was read. C. J. Coster appeared for the plaintiff, and Dr. A. A. Stockton and Mr. Carter, of Richibucto, for defendant.

FUNERALS TODAY.
The remains of Miss Annie G. Fishery were brought to the city today from Petticoat for burial. The funeral took place from the depot at 2 o'clock this afternoon, to the Cathedral cemetery. At the Cathedral Rev. Father Cormier read the services.

Miss Minna L. Harding is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. F. B. Patterson, 278 Prince street. Miss Harding is a graduate of the Gresham School of Elocution and Dramatic Art of Boston.

Mrs. Geo. Peters arrived in the city today from Worcester, Mass., on her way to her home at Jemseg, St. John River. She was in a very enfeebled condition, and had to be removed from the train on a stretcher.

Lovers of baseball will be given all they could desire in the game which takes place this evening on the Victoria grounds between the St. Joseph's and the Portlands. Clean, fast ball is promised.

ance and 23 received their diplomas at the close of last session. $5,000 has been left to the college by its benefactor, Mr. Seymour. The total receipts for the ordinary fund have been $20,078.88. The revenue derived from the endowment fund last year was $15,833.39, against $13,713.31 received last year. Rev. J. D. Robertson, M. A., has been appointed to the chair of apologetics, homiletics and pastoral theology in succession to the deeply lamented Prof. A. Halliday Douglas. The report was adopted and the assembly adjourned for dinner.

THE WEATHER.

Forecasts — Light to moderate variable winds, a few local showers, but partly fair. Synopsis — Local showers have occurred in the maritime provinces and showery weather very generally elsewhere. Winds to Banks and American ports, light to moderate variable. Bermuda reports cloudy weather and moderate southwest breeze. The highest temperature in the city today was 70 above.

TIPS FOR POLITICIANS.

If some of the Newfoundland newspapers can be believed, the ancient colony, when it comes into Canada, will bring some politicians who will be able to impart much valuable instruction to the most expert of our machine men. Discussing the tactics of the Liberal party now in power—during the last election the St. John's Daily News makes revelation of some alleged devices that are fit to rank with the exploits of the Rothschild forgers or the West Elgin ballot box stuffers. One of the chief planks in the Liberal platform at that time was hostility to R. G. Reid, whom they declared their opponents were assisting to grab the greater part of Newfoundland. Frantic appeals were made to the people to "vote for Bond and save their homes." In some of the more ignorant districts where the fishermen are abundantly numerous it was represented, says the News, that if the present opposition won, Mr. Reid had imported collars bearing the legend "Reid's slave," and every fisherman would be compelled to wear one. It was also explained in the district of Burin to voters who wanted a road widened, that Reid owned the graveyard on one side of it, and as the space on the other side would be more valuable to him, the graveyard portion would be taken, and the line of road would pass through the graves and divide the houses resting in them. Taking full advantage of the reverence of the simple people for "God's acre" some genius, the night preceding the election, had graveyards, together with houses, fences, etc., in many districts of the colony, placarded with such posters as the following:

WARNING.

Anybody found trespassing on this land will be prosecuted. R. G. REID'S land.

And as a crowning device, a great trench was dug in the graveyard of the public announcement was made that on side of it the ground and graves belonged to R. G. Reid, and that the people who protested against his ownership, would be buried in the trench.

If these stories be true, together with the charge that, after being elected as a result of this cry, the Liberals promptly made a profitable compact with Reid and ceased their warfare, a warm welcome awaits the Newfoundland Liberals from their namesake party in Canada.

DIOGENES' JOB MADE EASY.

The following paragraph in this morning's Sun should close, for generations at least, the discussion as to the difficulty of finding honest men in St. John. "James Doherty picked up an umbrella on King street yesterday and it was handed over to the police. The owner can get it by interviewing them at headquarters." Now that is not a selection from the funny column, or even from the editorial column. It is a plain, unvarnished item of news for which the belief of that newspaper's readers is asked. And again is the saying justified, "truth is stranger than fiction." The man who found that $100 and went searching for its owner, was deserving of great reward; but what can be said of him who found and returned an umbrella.

If the Star learns after due investigation that the article found was really worth keeping, the editor promises Mr. James Doherty that if he ever visits this office the editorial umbrella will not be carefully hidden under the desk, a compliment that would be extended to very few in this hustling and acquisitive city.

IN AUSTRALIA.

The recently organized administration of Australia is already in peril. This labor party government attained power by uniting with the free traders against the protectionist cabinet though the members of the labor party are themselves nearly all in favor of protection. Not one of the three parties has nearly half the house, and consequently a combination of the two parties out of office can always defeat the ministry. At the present moment the protectionist and free trade parties led by Mr. Reid and Mr. Deakin, are arranging the terms of an offensive alliance.

Mr. Borden's epigram promises to be the watchword of the coming contest when the people have their chance to choose between "a government owned railway and a railway owned government."

Sheriff Rankin and Turnkey Clifford who took the three prisoners up to Dorchester yesterday, returned to St. John last night.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

CHILD LABOR.

Some factory and mill owners object to being asked to keep a list of children employed so that the public can see it at any time. The following law obtains in thirteen states of the American Union: Every minor under 18 years of age when employed in any factory, workshop, or mercantile establishment, shall be recorded by name in a book kept for the purpose, and a certificate verified by guardians shall be kept on file by the employer and a printed notice stating number of hours per day required of such minors, shall be posted in a conspicuous place in each work-room.

Illinois, under 18 years.

Massachusetts, under 14 years.

Minnesota, under 16 years.

Pennsylvania, under 12 to 16 years.

Rhode Island, under 12 to 15 years.

Vermont, under 14 years.

Connecticut, under 18 years.

Maine, under 16 years.

Michigan, under 14 years.

New Jersey, under 12 to 15 years.

Pennsylvania, under 12 to 16 years.

South Dakota, under 5 to 14 years.

It is to be noted that our next door neighbor, Maine, puts the limit at sixteen years. When will New Brunswick have similar legislation?

FRANK J. HATHWAY, June 3, 1904.

WHY THERE ARE NO TRAMPS IN GERMANY.

Today the lot of the laboring man in Germany is in many respects better than that of ours. The German recognizes the right of every man to live—we do not. When the German laborer becomes old or feeble the state pension him honorably. In Germany the laboring man can ride on the electric cars for two cents—he pays five cents in this country. In Germany the laboring man has public baths, public laundry establishments, big parks, free concerts and many other features which we lack—although they do not remove it.

The corollary to this is that the emigrants who leave Germany to seek their fortune in this country, are not the same as the emigrants who leave this country to seek their fortune in Germany. The latter are the better class of the laboring man, the former are the worse.

LOCAL NEWS.

Ticket 127 won the prize, a meerschaum pipe, offered by the Portland baseball club. The drawing was held last evening at Rogers' poolroom, North End.

The different companies of the Boys' Bazaar in the city made an excellent showing in their march out last evening and gave good promise of the manner in which they will do their part in the terecentenary celebration.

Mr. Westport III, Capt. Powell, arrived yesterday afternoon from Westport. She brought here a couple of tons of halibut, which will help out somewhat today's market. But the weather continues so unfavorable in Brier Island waters that the fishermen are unable to fish the greater part of the time.

Thirty Italians arrived here Wednesday night from Digby on the str. Prince Rupert on their way to Annapolis county, Me., from which place they went to Bridgewater, N. S., to work on the railway under construction there, for the winter months.

On their arrival here they were taken to the U. S. immigration office on Mill street, where a careful examination was made of them. They left yesterday for Maine.

The catch of gaspereaux in the harbor by the drifters continues good and the season will prove a paying one for the U. S. fishermen generally have failed to yield very much to the lessees thereof, except those on Navy Island. The total catch will be an average one with these exceptions, as compared with ordinary years. Large quantities of gaspereaux have been sold just after they were caught, for consumption here and at other places in this vicinity. They are now being smoked. After this big diminution it is expected between $500 and $600 barrels will be the shipment to the West Indies and South America as alive.

Railroad men in this city will be afforded an opportunity this evening of hearing of the progress of Christian and benevolent work among their brethren of the United States, from the lips of one who is probably the foremost worker in this particular branch of Christian labor. The person referred to is C. J. Butler of Philadelphia, who is coming to the city today and whose address will be delivered in the Y. M. C. A. building.

Champlain next a large body of local Salvationists leave here by the C. P. R. for Montreal, where they will take passage on the steamer Lake Champlain for Liverpool. They go as delegates from the maritime province division of the Salvation Army to the international congress, which is to open at Liverpool on June 20th and end at London on July 24th.

THE COLOR OF WRONGDOING.

It has recently been discovered by Prof. Elmer Gates that unpleasant emotions create harmful chemical products in the body which are physically injurious. Good, benevolent, cheerful feelings are said to create beneficial products in the body which are physically healthy. These products, it is declared, may be detected by chemical analysis in the perspiration of the individual. Prof. Gates says that he found more than forty of the bad products and as many of the good. Every man knows that grief will poison a mother's milk; in fact, it generates an injurious quality so extreme in character as to sicken an infant.

Of all the chemical products of emotion that of guilt is said to be the worst. A small quantity of the perspiration of a person suffering from an emotion of this kind is placed in a glass tube and exposed to contact with acetic acid it will turn pink. None of the other poisons similarly generated exhibited the same phenomenon.

Pink would appear to be the peculiar color of wrongdoing. It is found that for each bad emotion there is a corresponding chemical change in the tissue of the body which is life destroying, enervating and poisonous. On the other hand, every good emotion makes a life-promoting change.

WHO HAD THE LOGIC?

(Chicago News.) Jerome Hart tells this story: On the train between Jaffa and Jerusalem an elderly American woman objected to the smoking going on around her. She grabbed hold of a uniformed railway guard who was going through the carriage and shrilly set forth her objections. He very civilly replied that there was no rule against smoking in the carriages.

"Then there ought to be," she retorted, "when ladies travel on the train."

"But the Turkish ladies who travel on our trains all smoke themselves," replied the guard.

"Do they, indeed?" retorted the old lady, "but American women do not smoke."

"Very true, madam," replied the guard. "You are not in Turkey—still with much civility."

"I don't care if I am," hissed the old lady, "and I don't care if the Turkish women do smoke. They ought not to do so either."

"Perhaps they ought not to," said the guard, with unflinching courtesy. "but they do."

The old American lady looked at him hopelessly, gasped and subsided.

A THOUGHTLESS SLEEP.

A weary congressman, who could "snore upon the floor," occupied a room adjoining a German musician's. "You will have to give me another room, I guess," said the congressman to the hotel clerk. "What's the matter? Aren't you comfortable where you are?" "Well, not exactly. That German musician in the next room and I don't get along well. Last night he tooted away on his clarinet so that I thought I never would go to sleep. After I had caught a few winks I was awakened by a pounding on my door. 'What's the matter?' I asked. 'If you please,' said the German, 'dot you would schore der same key you go from B flat to G, and it spoils der music.'—Buffalo Inquirer.

SUN, MOON AND EARTH. (Harper's Magazine.)

The alterations now occurring in the distribution of the solar system have led Prof. George Darwin to predict that the moon will ultimately return to the earth which gave her sudden birth so many ages before; and it may further be prophesied that the planets and their satellites must ultimately yield to the gravitational influence of our dying sun and must return to the bosom of their parent. We must conceive of the solar system of today, then, as gathered into one central mass, closely aggregated around that point which from the beginning has constituted its centre of gravity. And what will be the stage of this stupendous object? It will be a dark star, dead sun. There are myriads of such in the heavens. Sir Robert Ball has said that to count as the bright stars that we can see and say "these are all there are" would be like counting the individual hairs on the head of a man.

This dark-to-be will, therefore, be just such another as millions of others will be no light upon it. We cannot conceive the terror of its cold, for the nebula has been dissipating energy, in the form of light and heat, into the chilly depths of interstellar space ever since the first hour of its longevous shrinkage.

What is the destiny of this dead sun, among whose constituent atoms, revolved in the printer's ink before your eyes and those in the eyes themselves. Are they forever—

"stable in desolation," as Stevenson has it—to be borne onward through infinite space? No; this shriveled globe, the common tomb of sun and earth and mars and of the bodies of the great that once breathed therein, may live again. Give it but the consuming energy of such another voyage and in a moment a new nebula will be born. The force of their impact will suffice to evaporate their substance into another cloud which will repeat the history of the old. The path of the two dead suns will determine the position of the "principal plane" which will form the ground plan of the new system.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 2. — It was announced today that negotiations are in progress for the amalgamation of the Le Roi, Center Star and War Eagle mines of Rossland. The combined capitalization is over $10,000,000.

The merger is being promoted in London, Eng., where is located the head office of the Le Roi. The other mines are owned by Toronto stockholders. The Le Roi is famous because of its sale for $5,000,000 by the Spokane owners to Whitaker Wright, who recently committed suicide. I was for a false declaration concerning that mine that he was condemned to imprisonment.

Bucksport Schooner Has Just Gone Clear of the Ice.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 2.—The American herring catcher A. M. Nicholson, of Bucksport, Me., adrift in a ice floe all winter, sailed safely into Bonney Bay yesterday.

The Nicholson's crew abandoned her January 29 and made their way over the ice to the mainland near Bay St. George. Five Newfoundland fishermen boarded the vessel April 5 for miles from Bonne Bay and after trying experience of fifty-seven day four of the fishermen brought her in port. The fifth having grown weak of the close confinement, left the vessel May 29th and walked across the toward Pottland Creek. He has not been heard from since.

The fishermen had very little to eat. They lived most of the time on bread and water and flour boiled in a vegetable cover, the only thing left on board that could be utilized for cooking. They arrived in Bonne Bay weak and exhausted.

WILL NOT LOSE MONEY.

Cotton Mills Are Safe Though Raw Material is Falling.

Although the cotton market is in very bad condition at present, yet B. Cudlip, superintendent of the Cotton wall and York mills, is hopeful. He does not predict anything in particular, but believes that if other lines of commerce remain normal, the cotton business must or should get back to its normal state. This would have, at the present time, the same effect as a boom, for the following reasons: For some time the market has been merchants all through the country. They have been holding back their orders. They have been reading the papers, and are led to expect a drop in prices. "I am being the case they try to get all the goods with very small stocks, and only order when they are compelled to do so. This condition of affairs, combined with other good reasons, among which is the very important one of low priced cotton, has led manufacturers to reduce the output. None of the men are anxious to be caught with heavy stock on hand, and Mr. Cudlip believes that when the market regains its normal condition many manufacturers will be unable to fill orders.

The Cornwall and York Co. cotton was away up, took advantage of a bad break in the market and chased quite a large supply of the material at about thirteen cents.

Now quotations are from eleven and a half to twelve cents, but the mills will not lose any money.

It is explained by the fact that the tations now receive at 10 cents a pound of cotton known as middlings, but the local concern uses a better grade of this, which can not yet be bought for less than thirteen cents. The present scale of prices for manufactured goods is based on a rate of twenty and a half cents for raw cotton, and even though the raw article drops to ten cents further the manufactured list will be kept up, so that in any case the mill and wall mills are not liable to a heavy loss. Of course there is so much uncertainty in the market that un-care is required in the conducting the business, to guard against contingencies.

There is no knowing what year's crop will be. The acreage greater than ever, and all that is grown will probably be required for the present supply is extremely limited.

Working Without License.

Wong Hing is not yet fourteen years old, Hum Wing is about fifteen years old, both look it, yet Sgt. Hastings was so hard-hearted as to report them for working in the city without a license.
Both were in court this morning, accompanied by Hum's brother, who runs a laundry on Main street, who in very broken English explained that his brother and friend had only been in the city but three weeks and came direct from "China."

Hum, senior, explained as best he could "that he was sorry a fellow Chin-

A DANGEROUS PASTIME.
But for the timely assistance of Officer Geo. Earle yesterday afternoon a child who was standing in front of No.
1 Hook and Ladder station when the fire alarm was sent in, would probably have been crushed to death under the hoofs of the horses. Parents who live in the vicinity of fire stations should be careful to warn their children from standing too close to the buildings when an alarm is sounded, as the police report that in almost every case children crowd around the doors to an extent that is very dangerous.

wired today to the effect that the strike situation remained unchanged.
Some sixty-five men are out. The strike was occasioned by the refusal of the men to be required, going out and his fellow workmen following in sympathy. The man referred to was considered incompetent.

Mr. Downie has gone to Megantic.

GROOM WOULDN'T DELAY.
So Bride's Relatives Had to Get a Hustle on With the Trousseau—
Wedded this Morning.

A very quiet wedding in which there is a trace of romance, was celebrated at the Park Hotel, this city, at an early hour this morning.
The steamer St. Croix last evening brought to this city W. H. Moran and family, of Brooklyn, who intend spending the summer months at St. Martins.
They went at once to the Park Hotel,
where they were met by Lorenzo H.
Vaughan, who was engaged to Mr.
Moran's oldest daughter, Lizzie M. Mr.
Vaughan, who is a big property owner in this city, and at one time ran a hotel near Westfield, asked that the wedding take place immediately, in fact in the morning, so that he and his bride could leave on the steamer for his present home in Berwick, N. S.

The bride blushed, as all brides are supposed to do, but the mother and sisters were amazed at the picture of their programme for a social wedding being upset. The father protested that he did not have his wedding toga handy, but like the good sea captain that he formerly was, took the helm and straightened matters out. He finally agreed to the pleading of the groom and at once there was a general overhauling of trunks and at a late hour all was in readiness. The license had been secured. Rev. G. M. Campbell was on hand bright and early this morning, and before any of the guests at the hotel had heard a whisper of what was going on, the ceremony had been performed in the parlors of the hotel and the jolly party were saying good by and showering good wishes on the bride and groom at the steamship wharf.

Captain Moran is a St. Martins man, who some time ago retired from the sea and has taken up his residence in Brooklyn, N. Y. His summers he spends at Quaco, and with his family left for that place by the noon train today.
