

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE WILL BE ORGANIZED IN CANADA

First Step Toward Formation Taken at Toronto Yesterday.

CANADIAN DELEGATES ACTIVE IN MATTER.

National Municipal League of America Interested—Committee Appointed to Carry Out the Preliminary Work—Civic Experts for Members.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—The first step towards the organization of a Canadian National Municipal League was taken today by Canadian delegates in attendance at the meeting of the National Municipal League of America at the City Hall. The conclusion was reached that the time had come for the formation of a society to be composed of civic experts and representatives of unofficial municipal associations, and to undertake the study of civic problems in Canada. They therefore appointed the following committee to do the preliminary work: W. D. Lighthall, K. C., member of the Metropolitan Works Commission, Montreal, chairman; Dr. W. R. Alberton, secretary of the City Improvement League, Montreal, secretary; Prof. Adam Shortt, LL.D., Kingston; John I. Sutcliffe, of the Municipal Improvements Association of Toronto; Alderman Morley Wickert, Toronto; Prof. J. G. Adams, F. R. S., president of the City Improvement League of Montreal; C. Meredith, Architects' Association, Ottawa; W. Sanford Housing and City Planning Association, Winnipeg; Charles Chaput, president of the Citizens' Association, Montreal; J. M. McIntosh Hey, Toronto; J. J. Hanna, provincial secretary of Ontario; Chairman F. B. W. Ellis, of Toronto; Thomas Plimley, vice-president of the Toronto Housing Company, and F. S. Spence, of the Toronto Harbour Commission, were the speakers.

INDICTED ON GRAFT CHARGE

Everett P. Fowler of Kingston, N. Y., Faces Serious Charge—John A. Hennessy Fighting Tammany.

New York, Nov. 14.—Everett P. Fowler of Kingston, N. Y., who was described by John A. Hennessy, graft investigator for former Governor Sulzer, as the Tammany "bagman" for contributions from state highway contractors, was indicted today on a charge of extortion. He is accused of forcing Seneca Hill, a highway contractor of Cortland, N. Y., an avowed Republican, to give up $250 as a Democratic campaign contribution under threat that the work on Hill's $25,500 state road contract in Cortland county would not be approved by the state highway inspectors and that his pay would be held up.

CHANGES MADE IN THE LOBSTER FISHERY LAW

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—An order in council is gazetted rescinding sub-section 7 of the lobster fishery regulations, and substituting the following: No one shall fish for, catch or kill lobsters from the 21st day of July in each year, to the last day of April following, both days inclusive on and along the coast of the waters thereof of the Magdalen Islands, including Bird's Rocks and Bryon Island; but no one shall, at any time, fish for lobsters in the lagoons of these islands.

DIVORCE APPLICATIONS

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—Special—Two more divorce applications are in this week. The petitioners being Mrs. Bertha Heaton of Edmonton and Mrs. Beatrice Fetheringham of Montreal, wife of Frederick H. Fetheringham of Toronto.

NEW POSTAL RULES ISSUED BY THE DEPT.

Information Regarding Use of Stamps Sold for Charitable Purposes.

MEXICO PROHIBITS IMPORTATION OF ARMS.

Warning Repeated Against Sending Repeated Announcements Through Mails—Ruling of Interest to Publishers.

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—Special—The Post office department in the quarterly supplement issued today states that the department cannot permit the affixing on the face or address side of letters or other mail matter of stamps issued in the interests of charitable institutions, etc., but there is no objection to such stamps being placed on the back of letters or other mail matter as stickers, provided they do not resemble postage in form and design and do not bear numerals or indications of value.

JUDGE STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS

Judge Chipman of Kentville Sustained Stroke at Windsor—His Condition Not Regarded as Serious.

Special to The Standard.

Windsor, N. S., Nov. 14.—Yesterday at the court house here Judge Chipman, of Kentville, was seized with a slight stroke of paralysis and is lying ill at the Victoria Hotel. His condition is not considered serious and in a few days he is expected to recover sufficiently to return home. His Honor had just finished the case of George Harris, and sentenced him to five years in Dorchester.

ST. JOHN MEN ENGAGE IN FOX FARMING CO.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—Letters patent have been issued incorporating the Gaspé Fur Farmers Limited, with a capital stock of $250,000 and head office at St. John. The incorporators are: E. R. Machum, A. H. Chipman, F. A. Dykeman, St. John; T. B. Calhoun, Calhoun, N. B., and J. C. Calhoun, Gaspé, Que., and the purpose is to engage in fox rearing and allied enterprises.

INTERVENTION FOLLOWED BY AN ANNEXATION DESTINY OF THE U. S. IN MEXICO

London Spectator Points to this as Logical Result of Present Situation.

AMERICAN TROOPS ONCE IN WILL BE UNABLE TO LEAVE

Reform Administration Such as U. S. Desires Regarded as Most Unlikely Unless United States Takes Even More Commanding Position.

London, Nov. 15.—Discussing the Mexican situation, the Spectator says that even if President Wilson succeeds in inducing President Huerta and his government to retire, it is impossible to believe that a reformed administration such as the Americans earnestly desire can be established. A far more likely result of Mexico's humiliation, the paper adds, would be the establishment of some sort of national party with the purpose of shaking off American domination, and war would only be postponed until Mexico was better prepared to fight. In one way or another, sooner or later, the Spectator continues, "the present American policy must lead in our opinion, to armed intervention followed by annexation. There is no other way in which one state can permanently control another, if an invasion comes, all President Wilson's resolves to make clear to foreign nations that nothing will induce the United States to acquire territory as a result of intervention will come to naught. We made just the same kind of a declaration in 1898, and in that case we went to Egypt, but we never have been able to carry it out and never shall be."

SUFFRAGETTE FIGHTS WITH BAG OF FLOUR

Attacks John Redmond and Mrs. Redmond on Train—Said He Didn't Assist Irish Women.

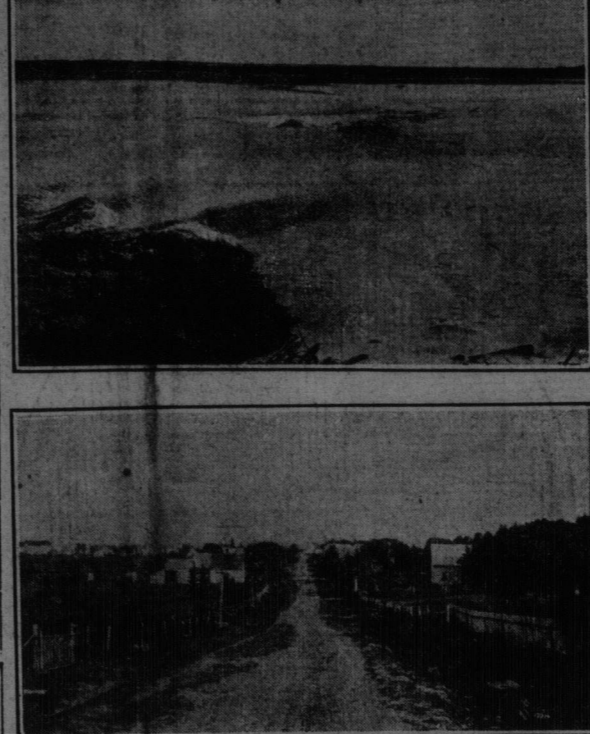

Newcastle, England, Nov. 14.—John Redmond, the Irish leader, and his wife, were attacked by a suffragette today while on board a train at Durham. The suffragette entered the compartment where Mr. and Mrs. Redmond were seated and after declaring that the Irish leader had not done enough for the women of Ireland, struck him on the head, and Mrs. Redmond on the back. She then scattered the contents of a bag of flour over Mr. and Mrs. Redmond. A train attendant forcibly ejected the woman from the train, and handed her over to the police.

HON. ROBERT ROGERS AT HALIFAX RECEPTION

Minister of Public Works Says Empire's Largest Dry Dock Will be Built in Halifax Harbour.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 14.—Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of Public Works, was given a reception by the friends and workers of the Conservative party in the Masonic Hall tonight. During the evening the minister announced that the largest drydock in the British Empire would be built on Halifax harbour, probably on the Dartmouth side. He also stated that he would give his support to the construction of a bridge across the Narrows, connecting Halifax and Dartmouth. Hon. J. D. Hansen, who was expected at the meeting, did not come to the city.

A JAPANESE BATTLESHIP TO MEXICO

Growing Conviction Now that Japan is Working on New Policy.

WILL INSIST ON A VOICE IN THE MATTER

Japs May Demand Place Among the Great World Powers—Ex-president Taft Does Not Believe War Probable.

Tokyo, Nov. 14.—There is a growing conviction here that the despatch of the Japanese armored cruiser Isumo to Mexican waters means the inauguration of new policies by the Japanese empire, namely, the affirmation of Japan's prerogatives as one of the great powers to participate in questions involving the powers, whether in the east or the west. The sending of the cruiser to Mexico is pleasing to these Japanese who pretend that Japan is backward in claiming her rightful place in the council of nations.

STRATHCONA'S REPLY TO OUR CONDOLENCES

Hon. George E. Foster Receives Pathetic Answer to Message of Sympathy in Lady Strathcona's Death.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—Special—The following cablegram was received by Hon. George E. Foster, acting prime minister, today from Lord Strathcona in reply to Hon. Mr. Foster's message of condolence from the Canadian government yesterday.

SOUTHERN STRIKE IS VERY SERIOUS

Railway Difficulty Will Cause Millions of Dollars Loss to Sugar and Rice Producers.

New Orleans, Nov. 14.—Except for two transcontinental passenger trains one arriving and one leaving here today, traffic on the Southern Pacific Railway in Louisiana is tied up by the strike of engineers and trainmen. An embargo has been placed on freight

S. S. Major Wrecked Off Whitefish Point in Lake Superior.

AWFUL TOLL TAKEN BY THE BLIZZARD.

Estimated Loss of Life 250, Damage $5,000,000—Identity of Capsized Vessel on Lake Huron Still a Mystery to Wreckers.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 14.—For the first time since Sunday, a day has passed without revealing more lives lost in the storm which overwhelmed the Great Lakes the early part of the week. Only one additional boat disaster developed today, and that was the wrecking of the steamer Major, off Whitefish Point in Lake Superior. She was abandoned by her crew last night after a futile effort had been made to weather the second storm of the week. The crew was picked up by a passing steamer.

STRIKERS FIRE AT PASSENGERS

Mistake Express for Train Carrying Strike Breakers for Calumet Mines—Many Return to Work.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 14.—A passenger train on the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic Railroad was fired on today when it reached Hancock, where a large number of copper strikers were awaiting the arrival of non-union men for the mines. One shot crashed through a window of the smoking car, just missing one of a party of ten men who had been mistaken for strike breakers.

WILL ABDICATE.

London, Nov. 15.—The Daily Telegraph asserts that, despite official denials King Ferdinand of Bulgaria will abdicate within a few months, perhaps a few weeks. It says his downfall is due to the king having offended Russia by seeking Austria's assistance against Serbia.

RAILWAY DIFFICULTY WILL CAUSE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS LOSS TO SUGAR AND RICE PRODUCERS.

New Orleans, Nov. 14.—Except for two transcontinental passenger trains one arriving and one leaving here today, traffic on the Southern Pacific Railway in Louisiana is tied up by the strike of engineers and trainmen. An embargo has been placed on freight

Says Mrs. Corbett, are "Fruit-a-tives"—They Keep Me in Perfect Health.

Mrs. Annie A. Corbett.

Avon, Ont., May 14th, 1913. "I have used 'Fruit-a-tives' for indigestion and Constipation with most excellent results, and they continue to be my only medicine. I am highly pleased with 'Fruit-a-tives' and am not ashamed to have the facts published to the world. When I first started, about six years ago, to use them, I took four for a dose, but I cured myself of the above troubles and gradually reduced the dose to one tablet at night. Before taking 'Fruit-a-tives' I took salts and other pills but the treatment was too harsh. I thought I might as well suffer from the disease as from these treatments. Finally, I saw 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised with a letter in which someone recommended them very highly, so I tried them. The results were more than satisfactory and I have no hesitation in recommending them to any other person. They have done me a world of good. I get satisfaction from them, and that is quite a lot."

ANNIE A. CORBETT. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

CLOSING STOCK LETTER.

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
New York, Nov. 14.—General developments—London reports the money outlook to be improving. The ministers of Huerter persuade him to compromise with the United States and ask for the return of Envoy Lind to Mexico City. Wells Fargo lost $1,250,000 to parcel post competition during the last fiscal year. Eastern railroads will appear before the I. S. C. C. to argue higher freight rates.
Stock market outlook—We believe the best attitude for daily operators at present is to buy on weakness, and react for turns. Profits should be taken during rallies on at least half of purchases.
Detailed—Offerings in Union Pacific are light. The shorts are supporting steel. Important short covering has taken place in Lehigh. Reading is held back by coal inquiry next week. Pacific Mail is reported well bought. There is investment buying in Great Northern and BO. The copper shares will be strongly taken on declines.
NEW YORK FINANCIAL BUREAU.

NEWSPAPERS ON THE MARKET SITUATION

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
New York, Nov. 14.—Commercial—The market is so narrow that selling real stock is hard work, and liquidation of New Haven by Boston investors is still in progress.
Herald—International Bankers seek bright lights just ahead.
American—There is a tendency to ward better prices.
Sun—The banking failure is important, for it is attributed to prevailing financial apathy and to the tying up of funds in properties and promoters which through recent agitation, have become virtually unsaleable, and also to extensive withdrawals of deposits by prominent customers.

EVARISTO MADERO.

Daniel and Evaristo Madero, brothers of the late President Francisco Madero, are now arrested at Monterey, in the State of Nuevo Leon, charged with complicity in a plot to turn over that city to the revolutionaries, according to stories printed in the newspapers in Mexico City. The two brothers are said to have been compromised by documents taken from dead rebels by federal officers after a fight near Monterey.

JOCKEY BURNS KILLED.

New York, Nov. 14.—T. H. (Tommy) Burns, internationally famous as jockey, either jumped or fell beneath an elevated train in Brooklyn today, and was ground to pieces. No one witnessed the tragedy. The last person to see him alive was the station ticket seller, who remarked him pacing up and down the platform just before the train pulled in. His fur-lined coat and hat were found on a bench.
Diamonds, a silver cigarette case, a considerable sum of cash, a bank-book showing deposits in a Berlin bank, and a contract to ride there next season were found on the body. Burns spent last season abroad but had been living at Sheephead Bay of late. Presumably he was on his way home when he was killed. Tommy Burns was one of the world's leading jockeys and was reputedly wealthy. He rode for such owners as W. C. Whitney, William G. Daly, and several years ago carried the colors of the German Emperor whose entries raced under the name of Count Lehndorf. He was married and had two children. Mrs. Rosalie Burns, the widow, said this afternoon she was convinced that her husband had not committed suicide. He had gone to New York yesterday, she said, to make arrangements for a contract during the coming season and had telephoned her at 1 o'clock this morning saying he would be home late.

Makes Face Young—Tightens Love Ties

"Aurilia" in Woman's Sphere.
A fretful expression, a wrinkled face and a faded complexion, do more to drive the man members from home than is commonly supposed. It was one of my greatest difficulties to appear smiling, fresh and elegant when my dear ones were with me. But I have overcome all that. I have changed my mental attitude and I now find it second nature to look cheerful. Due to this, partly to a remarkable treatment recommended by a friend, my appearance has so improved I look fifteen years younger than before.
A simple lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered salixite in a half-pint of water, proved a wonderful wrinkle-chaser. I still use this occasionally. To renovate my complexion I purchased an ounce of ordinary mercurized wax at my druggist's and before using this up, a marvellous transformation had taken place. It was like removing an unsightly mask, revealing a new face, a youthful complexion of distinctive delicacy, clear, white and velvety. I merely applied the wax like cold cream before retiring, washing it off mornings. Ten days' treatment sufficed.

Cause of Eczema

After years of debate medical authorities are now agreed that eczema and other skin diseases are not seated in the blood, but are caused by myriads of microscopic germs, gnawing the flesh just below the epidermis. The patient is perfectly healthy, it is only the skin that is diseased.
Hence, scientists are now agreed that you must cure the skin through the skin. The medicine must be in liquid form in order to penetrate properly, and we can say with confidence that we have the true remedy in our store—D. D. Prescription, made by the U.S. Laboratories of Toronto.
If your trouble is eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, dandruff, tetter, pimples, itching—any form of skin or scalp disease—of whatever nature, ask us more about this D. D. D. and also about D. D. D. Soap, the great skin cleanser.
D. E. CLINTON, druggist.

ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1913.

CAUGHT AT THE OLD GAME.

If there are honest patriotic Conservatives in St. John who do not believe that the Liberals, headed by Mr. Pugsley and the Telegraph and Times, have been attempting to use the mail boat situation to manufacture political capital, and that the same game is now being played by the Liberals of Halifax, they have only to read the editorial from the Halifax Chronicle of yesterday morning, reprinted elsewhere in this issue, and then read the articles recently published in the Telegraph and the Times.

This is how the game worked. When the Embessers were announced to stop at Halifax the Telegraph and the Times were up and with loud voices declared the Government was directly responsible for the change. Day after day the Pugsley papers continued to call down upon the heads of Premier Borden and Hon. Mr. Hazen all the wrath they could muster. St. John first, last and all the time, and never a hint of politics, never an intimation that behind the editorial fulminations was a smooth suave gentleman awaiting the opportunity to make his non-political suggestion that Mr. Hazen should resign. The port betrayed and humiliated—these were the lines on which the Pugsley organ proceeded to work the partisan mill.

to please patrons and their America's daring in surmounting obstacles." The truth of this cannot be denied, but there are some Canadians concealed enough, says the Edmonton Journal, to believe that the desired combination is largely to be found among themselves.

LET THE BETTER PORT WIN

The Halifax Evening Mail says: "Where steamship lines make their terminal ports must ultimately be determined by business considerations. The Royals leaving Halifax for this winter is no condemnation of Halifax, but merely indicates that Halifax stands to have more steamship traffic this winter than it can readily handle with existing equipment; but when our equipment is sufficiently enlarged, as it soon will be, all will be just right again. Halifax has never objected to a fair test."

The case of Halifax is the case of St. John. Let each port have an absolutely fair test as under the present arrangement it is sure to have, and let the better port win. St. John does not fear the outcome.

THE PROGRESS OF INVENTION

An invention by a Maine man is destined, according to the Boston Transcript, to take the place of the picturesque axe men in the lumber woods of the Pine Tree State. This machine the inventor declares can be operated by a woman of eighty or a boy of ten, and will save down the mightiest monarch of the forest in record time.

"The action of the Government is all the more reprehensible in view of the fact that it is indubitable that the C. P. R. decided to make Halifax the terminus for the Embessers steamer next winter solely on the merits of the port, without political considerations of any kind. We have unquestionable authority that the Government had nothing to do with the decision of the C. P. R. to Halifax. Premier Borden himself admitted to the St. John Telegraph that the Government did not know a thing about it, and that the arrangement was made solely by Mr. Gutelius, General Manager of the C. P. R., and the officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway."

"We have unquestionable authority that the Government had nothing to do with the decision of the C. P. R. to change its sailings from St. John of Halifax," says the Chronicle. Had the Telegraph and the Times the same unquestionable authority? If they had, they dared not say so for fear of injuring Mr. Pugsley's little game.

As the Standard has already observed, if the St. John Telegraph and the St. John Times are so deliberately lying to their readers then the Halifax Chronicle is, if in the first instance, the Government was not responsible for the stopping of the Embessers at Halifax, then the Pugsley papers have no cause to blame or censure Premier Borden or Mr. Hazen, and Mr. Pugsley's action in suggesting that Mr. Hazen should resign is all the more reprehensible.

The whole question simmers down to the indisputable fact that the Liberal papers, both in St. John and in Halifax, have been caught red-handed at the old game. One brand of political medicine for St. John consumption and a totally different article for the Grits in Halifax, but in any case blame the Government. Fortunately St. John people are familiar with the quality and capacity of the Telegraph and the Times. In those newspapers respect for all truth and justice is absolutely buried when their Grit masters crack the whip and order them to clear a space for action and dance to Mr. Pugsley's sugary music.

AN UNTRUE REPORT.

When the New York Herald's report of Right Hon. R. L. Borden's address before the Lotus Club credited him with the statement that the Canadian people would not object to recede to the United States it did him a grave, but possibly unintentional, injustice. The St. John Telegraph in republishing the report was even more culpable than the Herald because the Pugsley organ knew full well that Premier Borden would not make such a statement. The original report has been stamped as untrue by the Premier, and corrected by some of the papers originally publishing it. No doubt now that attention has been called to it, the Telegraph will be equally generous.

THEY APPRECIATE ENGLISHMEN.

The following from the Spokane Spokesman-Review shows a new spirit of appreciation of the virtues of Englishmen:

"If America could have 100,000 of its young men yearly imbibing English politics and courtesy and Britain as many of its youth acquiring American enthusiasm and vitality, an Anglo-American combine would result that the world could not rival. America has much to learn from England and it from the United States. Our business needs Britain's patient determination

DIARY OF EVENTS

HISTORIC DAYS IN CANADA

This date in 1885 was Louis Riel's last day on earth. Confined in a cell in the Regina jail, the half-breed agitator awaited, with all the stolidism of his Indian ancestors, the rising of the sun that would soon be blotted from his sight forever. While his tumultuous life was nearing its tragic conclusion, the French-Canadians in the East were clamorous in their demands for the commutation of Riel's sentence.

The last friends of the rebel leader believed that the government would yield before the storm of racial and sectarian passion. Sir John Macdonald and his advisers remained firm in their stand that Riel and his principal aids should be visited with the extreme penalty of the law. On the sixteenth of November, while Riel was expected to die, this stern vindication of law and order produced much excitement in the city.

Many French-Canadians hold that Riel was insane and that his execution was thus a perversion of justice.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

MANUEL OF PORTUGAL 24 TODAY.

Young Dom Manuel, the ex-king of Portugal, whose alleged matrimonial indiscretions have been aired in the press, will pass his twenty-fourth milestone today. The youthful scion of the House of Braganza—which, by the way, was founded back in 1400 by an illegitimate son of the last of the old line of Portuguese rulers—is now said to have patched up whatever difficulties he may have had with his rich wife, who was Princess Augusta of Hohenzollern. She is alleged to have recovered from the mysterious malady with which she was stricken soon after her marriage to the exiled monarch.

When Manuel was served with a dispositive notice by the Portuguese republicans and ousted from the royal palace in Lisbon three years ago, he immediately fled to Portugal. On his way to the throne, he recovered his quest in the Hohenzollern princess, after he had been refused by many other young ladies of royal blood. It is a coincidence that Manuel was born on the very day that another monarch, Dom Pedro II., was deposed from the throne of Brazil. The crownless king is very popular in London, where he has spent much of his time since he was invited to leave his country for his country's good.

Most young men who have inherited large fortunes devote considerable time and money to sowing wild oats, but William Vincent Astor—the William of twenty-two years old today—has a hundred million dollars or so, apparently prefers the tame variety of oats. He has commenced the agricultural vocation of Dutchess county, the seat of his ancestral estate, by introducing among his neighbors a new and improved variety of oats. Mr. Astor is twenty-two years old today, and is the son and heir of the late John Jacob Astor, who was lost on the Titanic. The young multi-millionaire is the greatest matrimonial catch in America, but up to date he has manifested no special inclination toward any favored maiden.

Grand Duchess Olga, who is the eldest of the four daughters of the Czar of Russia, will celebrate her eighteenth birthday today.

THE PASSING DAY

Canada's Chance.

Brazil's chocolate soldiers will parade today through streets decorated in green and yellow, the national colors, in celebration of the twenty-fourth anniversary of the overthrow of the emperor and the establishment of the republic.

With the exception of Cuba and Panama, giant Brazil is the youngest of American republics. Brazil became free and independent in 1822, but remained a royal house continued to reign as emperors until the fifteenth of November, 1889, when the great republican revolution broke out. The present president of Brazil, Marshal Hermes da Fonseca, was inaugurated three years ago today, and has just one more year to serve. He is the eighth Brazilian president, the first having been Marshal Deodoro da Fonseca, who resigned soon after his election and was succeeded by the vice-president, Don Floriano Peixoto. Dr. Prudente de Moraes Barros served two terms, followed by Dr. Campos Sales, and in 1902 by Dr. Rodrigues Alves. President Afonso died in office in 1909, and Dr. Nilo Pecanha was the head of the state until the election of Fonseca.

The Estados Unidos do Brazil is a federative republic of twenty states, one territory, and a federal district. Under the constitution each of the states is practically a law unto itself, without interference from the federal government save for its defence and for the execution of federal laws. The president is elected for four years by a direct vote of the people. No president may be elected to succeed himself, and the constitution also prohibits the candidacy of any man who is related by blood or marriage to the president or vice president. The senators, sixty-three in number, and the members of the house of deputies, 208 in number, are also elected by direct vote. The elections for president and lawmakers will be held on the first of March next, and the campaign has already commenced. The franchise extends to all men over twenty-one, except soldiers, beggars and members of monastic orders.

The railway system of Brazil, almost non-existent at the beginning of the republic, now has about 15,000 miles of lines in operation. When it is considered, however, that the area of Brazil is almost as great as that of the United States or Canada, it will readily be understood that a large part of the country remains undeveloped, and without transportation facilities.

The coming year, it is going to be one of the busiest yet—start now to get things in line and get a Remington Typewriter to help you. A. Milne Fraser, Halifax, N. S.

AN EXCELLENT

BEEF SUPPLY

Good Market Today has increased Supplies in Practically all Lines—Lamb and Pork High.

The country market today contains a large amount of produce, the supply of most being much larger than for some weeks past. During the summer and early fall the meat market was poor, the scarcity of pork and lamb being particularly noticeable. A corresponding shortage in these lines exist in the market today, but in the best market, which is still limited and high prices prevail. The lamb now brought to the city for disposal is small and inferior to the grade St. John received in past years. While the scarcity of lamb may be attributed to the pressing demand from outside centres, it is said that the local consumption is much greater than before, and consequently there is a close market. It is argued that New Brunswick offers special advantages in sheep and cattle raising and it is felt that should the opportunity be embraced this industry would yield good profits.

Fowl in the country market today is even more plentiful than last week, and the prices are moderately low. The good market which prevails today is attributed by the local merchants partly to the closing of the river trainings. Produce from the river sections has, during the past week, been coming in large quantities and the exceptional heavy down river traffic has added materially in giving a full market.

The approach of winter is also said to be the cause of a better market in feeding them during the winter, a great number of the farmers now kill and ship the best to the market. Vegetables are fairly plentiful today.

The retail quotations in the country market are: Beef, 12c. to 22c.; lamb, 13c. to 20c.; veal, 10c. to 16c.; chicken, 25c. to 30c.; fowl, 18c. to 20c.; turkey, 31c. to 35c.; duck, $1.50 to $2.00; geese, $1.50 to $1.75; venison and moose, 18c. to 20c.; ham and bacon, 25c.; eggs are selling at 45c. a dozen, and butter is bringing $5.00 a lb.

Real Beauty Demands A Perfect Skin

Lovely Complexions May Be Made To Take The Places of Pimples and Bad Color if You Use Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

Pimples, blotches, skin eruptions of all kinds, are simply the impurities in the blood coming to the surface. All the external treatment in the world won't do a particle of good unless you purify the blood. And there's nothing so humiliating as to see that all "broken out" and spotted.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers will cleanse the most obstinate complexion, because they go right into the blood and remove the cause of the trouble. The blood is cleaned of all impurities and foreign substances and the complexion is quickly eliminated from the system. You'll notice a wonderful change in a few days—you will hardly know yourself in a week.

And Stuart's Calcium Wafers are absolutely harmless to any one. The ingredients are just what a physician prescribes in most cases of skin eruptions and poor blood. These wafers are put up in concentrated form, which makes them act quickly and thoroughly.

Begin taking Stuart's Calcium Wafers today and then look at yourself in the mirror in a few days, and if all those artificial pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, liver spots, rash, eczema, and that muddy complexion rapidly disappearing and your face clear like the petal of a flower.

You can easily test Stuart's Calcium Wafers for yourself. You can get a free sample package for 50c. any drug store.

The Prince of Wales, heir to the throne of Great Britain, has fallen in love with the Princess Tatiana, according to reports in court circles.

Gossip has it that the young son of King George has been captivated by the beauty of the Princess, the second daughter of the Tsar, and regarded as one of the most beautiful girls in Europe.

It is known that King George and Queen Mary will visit St. Petersburg next Easter, and that the Prince will accompany them. The engagement, according to the reports, will be announced at that time.

Diplomats are certain that such an alliance would vastly strengthen the Anglo-Russian entente, none too popular in either country at the present time.

Piles

To many thousands of people the mere mention of "Piles" suggests Dr. Chase's Ointment.

The memory of the keen distress and suffering caused by the itching, stinging, burning sensations is almost blotted out when one recalls the quick relief obtained by the application of this wonderfully soothing, healing ointment.

SUFFERED 14 YEARS Doctor Decided on Operation, But Dr. Chase's Ointment Cured Him

Mr. Charles Beauvais, a respected citizen of St. John's, Que., writes: "For 14 years I have suffered from chronic piles or hemorrhoids, and considered my case very serious. I was treated by a well-known physician, who could not help me, and my doctor decided on an operation as the only means of relief. However, I resolved to try Dr. Chase's Ointment first. The first box brought me great relief and by the time I had used three boxes I was completely cured. This is why I give my such great pleasure to recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to everybody suffering from hemorrhoids as a preparation of the greatest value."

Arrangements are being made by the president of the sporting committee of St. Peter's Y. M. A. for a pool tournament, which will be started in their rooms on Douglas avenue, next Monday evening.

The tournament will consist of straight pool for a fixed number of points. All losers will be eliminated, and thus the play will be continued until only one is left.

The schedule in part is as follows: Monday, Nov. 17th, E. O'Hara vs. S. Martin; E. McCluskey vs. Joe Dever; L. O'Hara vs. Joe McBratney. Tuesday, Nov. 18th, Wm. McGovern vs. E. McBratney; J. Hagarty vs. E. Pierce; R. Cleary vs. T. McGovern. Thursday, Nov. 20, F. Doherty vs. R. Hansen; S. Hansen vs. F. O'Donnell; McCurdy vs. B. McGovern.

BASEBALL AGAIN.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 14.—The Boston National league baseball players will report for spring practice at Macon, Ga., about the first of March. A statement to that effect given out tonight from the club headquarters says the announcement will set at rest several contradictory reports that have been floating over the country.

MAN ANSWERING DESCRIPTION SEEN ON MONTREAL EXPRESS, NEAR MONCTON, BY COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER.

It is now thought probable that the alleged M. Y. Blow, who so cleverly succeeded in swindling a large sum of money along with valuable household articles from Hebrew residents of the North End, headed for Montreal and is now living in temporary luxury in the gay Canadian centre.

The description of the smooth swindler as given in the Standard seems to have given a material clue to the man's identity, and according to the opinion of a travelling man, G. De Mont, who was in the city yesterday, Blow, or the man representing himself by that name, went to Moncton on the Saturday noon train. It is believed that, after meeting the woman travelling with him at the railway city, both made connections with the Maritime Express and proceeded to Montreal, thinking they would leave no clue leading to their identity.

In conversation with a resident of the city yesterday the commercial man stated that he saw in Moncton on Saturday evening a man answering quite accurately the description given of the alleged Mr. Blow. He was in the vicinity of the depot and the attention of the travelling man was attracted by the apparent confidential manner in which he was conversing with a woman who was in his company.

When seen the couple had no baggage of any description and were walking up and down as if uneasy. A fair complexioned, short, smooth faced man, as seen by Mr. De Mont seems to correspond to at least partly to the description given in the Standard.

It is freely believed that Blow was an assumed name, and it would be difficult to tell what name the man is now travelling under.

It is understood that the man seen at the Moncton railway station connected with the train for Montreal, and this gives place to the theory not altogether unfounded, that the shrewd swindler is now in Montreal.

No effort as far as local victims are concerned has been made to round up the interests of those in the city who have been victimized.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

CURED A BAD ATTACK OF ECZEMA.

All skin diseases such as Eczema, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Rash, Boils, Pimples, and Itching Skin Eruptions, are always caused from the blood being in bad condition, and it is impossible to eradicate them from the system unless you put your blood into good shape.

It drives out all the humor from the blood, and makes it pure and rich, and not only are the unsightly diseases removed, and a bright clean complexion produced, but the entire system is renovated and invigorated at the same time.

Mrs. G. A. Day, Somerville, N.B., writes: "Last spring I had a bad attack of Eczema. I tried several patent medicines as well as the medicine of a physician, but they seemed to make the disease worse. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and I did so with the result that in two weeks time the sores began to disappear. I continued to take it until I had taken three bottles and they worked a complete cure."

NOON LETTER ON NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Nov. 14.—The advance which was in progress yesterday afternoon on the announcement from the White House that the Mexican situation was more encouraging caused a further advance in Europe this morning and our market opened in sympathy with the advances ranging about a point in the active issues. The highest prices of the morning were made in the first few minutes of trading, however, and trading fell by room traders. Stocks were freely supplied in this advance, and prices soon began to recede. By 10 o'clock they had lost good part of their early gain, and weakness once more developed in certain quarters. New Haven went through its daily pattern of making a new low record, and Missouri Pacific showed decided weakness. The rest of the market grew quiet and steady, with the active issues raising fractionally above last night's closing.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PRODUCE LETTER

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Wheat—Market has had a very strong undertone. Liverpool and Buenos Ayres showed little activity, but private cables from there declare conditions are serious. Would not be surprised to see large export demands of domestic wheat made any day but until they occur would not get enthusiastic on bulges. Corn—Firm. Forecast for less favorable weather has caused a number of the smaller shorts to cover. Trying to bull the more deferred futures at this level with the movement of new corn rapidly increasing is about as much of a task as man trying to lift himself by the boot-strap. Oats—Weak. Influenced by other grains; trade local. Provisions—Opened lower with hogs. Moderate volume of commission house selling.

CLOSING COTTON LETTER

New York, Nov. 14.—Today's cotton market took its cue from the report of the domestic mill consumption for the month of October, which was very heavy and seemed to convert bearish talk of stagnant trade conditions. There was a marked change of sentiment apparent, and many people who had been talking 12 cent cotton were buyers of contracts. If the gaining figures for the November 14th period should be smaller than last year's showing the short interest might find itself in a different position. Bears have been predicting decreased consumption month after month, making no allowance for the normal increase in the population of the world. Instead of the consumption seems to be increasing, and it is doubtful if remainder of say a 14-12 million bale crop would be marketed at as low an average as prevailing prices.

EVANS ON STOCKS

New York, Nov. 14.—The rally which started last night was entirely on the announcement from the White House that the Mexican situation was more satisfactory. The news in the morning's papers confirms this and lead to belief that the Mexican situation will once more work out as a triumph for Mr. Wilson, that he will accomplish what he set out after, the elimination of Huerta, just as he has already accomplished his tariff reform program, and as he probably will carry through his currency bill. The London market is quite buoyant on this news, and stocks should rally further sharply here. Such an advance, however, in my opinion, will be a rally on the shorts merely, and on any sharp bulge I favor taking profits on long stocks and going short for a turn. H. K. EVANS.

The General Manager of this Company was formerly a contractor, and he knows what contractors want. That's the reason why loss through bad bricks has been eliminated—there is that uniformity of size, color and quality so much desired by all who handle bricks. WEEKLY LETTER ON MONTREAL MARKET

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.) Montreal, Nov. 14.—The week closed amid a much more cheerful sentiment than prevailed at the start. One must not however count on the continuance of the good cheer in times such as these. Improvements have appeared periodically for months past but have in turn given way to the still greater depression. Whether this depression has yet reached a climax well not is of course the whole question. In reality it has long been anticipated by students of the financial situation that matters would be worse in November than at any time before that month and it was even doubted whether there would be any improvement worth mentioning during the remainder of this year. Those conclusions were reached by simply accepting the experience of the past, being most probably applicable to this year also. Each year the expansion of note circulation is greater during November. Interest rates are the highest and settlement on the stock exchange is least cheerful. That this should be the case this year also is not surprising more especially when it is remembered that the Balkan war is only recently closed and during this month has threatened to break out again. That there are rumors everywhere of increased expenditure in armaments which it is agreed are a pure waste of wealth, and that at the same time there is falling off in industrial activity the world over. As already said it need cause no surprise if the market at the moment has within twenty-four hours given away to a renewal of pessimism. There are however, reasons to hope that the worst has been passed. November is now well forward and the contraction in note circulation which began as in loans should shortly begin. Shippers of grain from this side have been this receiving their returns in cash and farmers, however, reasons to hope that the worst has been passed. FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL NEWS AND COMMENT

WEEKLY LETTER DOW JONES CO'S ON MONTREAL SUMMARY OF MARKET NEWS

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
Montreal, Nov. 14.—The week closes amid a much more cheerful sentiment than prevailed at the opening. There must not however count on the continuance of the good cheer in times such as these. Improvements have appeared periodically for months past but have in turn given way to the still greater depression. Whether this depression has yet reached a climax or not is of course the whole question.
In reality it has long been anticipated by students of the financial situation that matters would be quiet in November than at any time before that month and it was even doubted whether there would be any improvement worth mentioning in the remainder of this year. Those conclusions were reached by simply accepting the experience of the past as being most probably applicable to this year also.
Each year the expansion of note circulation is greatest during November, interest rates are the highest and sentiment on the stock exchange is least cheerful. That this should be the case this year also is not surprising, more especially when it is remembered that the Balkan war is only recently closed and during this month has threatened to break out again, that a critical condition exists between Mexico and the United States, that the low tariff has only recently been adopted and its effects have probably not yet been determined, that money is scarce the world over and that there are rumors everywhere of increased expenditure in armaments, which it is agreed are a pure waste of wealth, and that at the same time there is falling off in industrial activity the world over. As already said it need cause no surprise if the more cheerful feeling which is showing itself at the moment has within twenty-four hours given way to a renewal of pessimism. There are however, reasons to hope that the worst has been passed.
November is now well forward and the contraction in note circulation as well as in loans should shortly begin.
Shippers of grain from this side have ere this been receiving their returns in cash and farmers have been paying off accounts which have been carried forward for months awaiting the harvesting of the crop. Retailers are beginning to make their returns to wholesalers and it is generally thought that within a very short time there should be a very considerable diminution in outstanding accounts everywhere.

During the past week much interest has been displayed in the situation concerns the financing of the Dominion Steel Corporation. A meeting of the directors of the company was called early this week for the purpose.
It was admitted, of considering proposals submitted by President Plummer in connection with the new financing. The corporation has not been any too free with its information but it is understood that President Plummer has suggested a raising of $7,000,000 of five year six per cent.
notes. It is understood that these are to be offered to the public at ninety-seven but it is not known what price
the company is obtaining for them although ninety-two and a half to ninety-four seem to be the general ideas.
As a consequence of the report of the completion of the financing the stock is showing a much better tone having sold as high as forty-four on Friday. On the same day R. & O. showed marked strength following a previous decline and the stock jumped two points and sold as high as 108 1/2. The theory is that a large block of stock was liquidated the other day and has gone into strong hands.

Brazilian is showing a better tone than a week ago and has had a number of ups and downs but is at present holding firm.
Montreal Power is stronger than it has been for many days. The entire market is feeling more cheerful as a consequence.

LAIDLAW & CO'S
CLOSING STOCK
LETTER

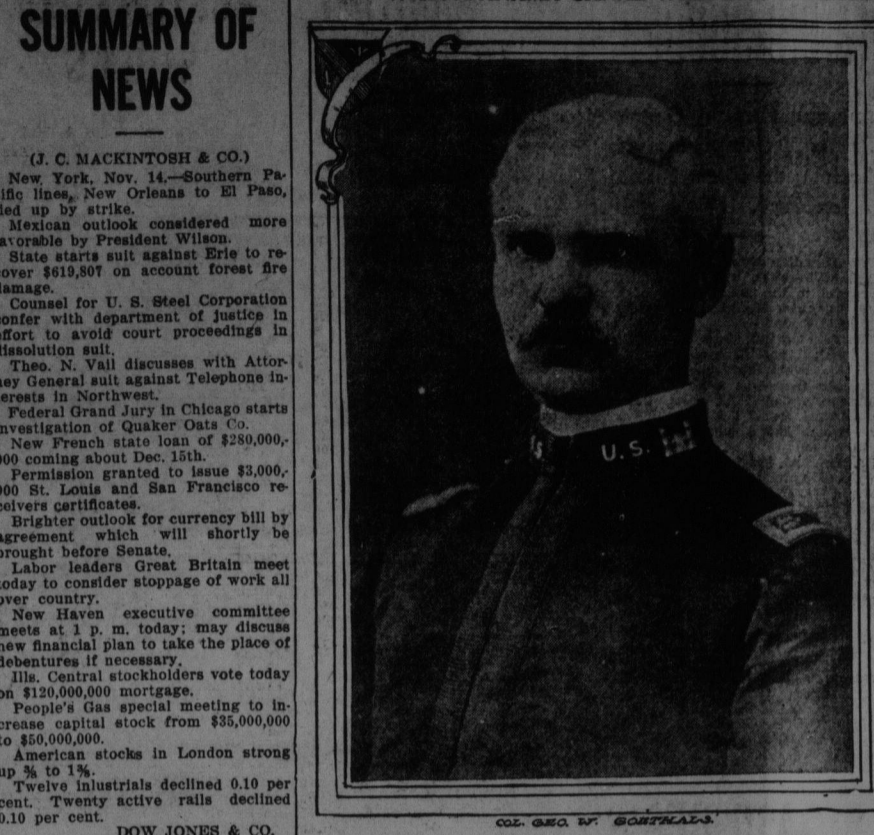

(J. C. MACKINTOSH & CO.)

New York, Nov. 14.—In spite of some very bearish rumors which were actively circulated during the morning, the stock market opened firm of undertone and showed a strongly advancing tendency during the early trading.
There was a somewhat better general demand for the leading issues and the short interest showed some signs of nervousness. There was no opposition in any quarter, however, to follow the advance pending developments in the Mexican situation and while the general undertone remained steady the list showed a sagging tendency in some quarters.
This in others positive weakness. In latter, however, was confined to a few issues of which New Haven was the most prominent. That stock touched new low level for the movement, however, any fresh adverse developments. The large gains indicated for the banks on the weak currency movement suggested another favorable statement tomorrow and further improvement of money conditions. The market looks to be in a technical position to recover smartly if there should be favorable developments in Mexico.

LAIDLAW & CO.

THE CALL LOAN.
We have reasons for believing that the call loan reform will be worked out to the satisfaction of brokers and bankers without important restrictions in trading. Buying orders under the market from 2 to 5 points lower are accumulating in considerable number.

COLONEL GOETHALS CANNOT PREDICT
WHEN PANAMA CANAL WILL BE NAVIGABLE

Colonel George W. Goethals, chairman of the Isthmian Canal Commission, recently said:—

"The blowing up of Gamboa Dike gave rise to some misapprehension. The dike was successfully shot on October 10, but Culebra Cut is completely blocked by the Cucaracha slide for a length of six hundred feet. The dredges are now preparing to attack the slide, but I cannot yet predict when the canal will be open for navigation. I am hoping, however, soon after the first of the year."

CLOSING LETTER
ON COTTON
MARKET

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
New York, Nov. 14.—The action of today's market has suggested a revival of the bullish confidence which developed toward the end of October.
The buying has been more general and aggressive than for some time past, and prices have sold about twenty-five to twenty-eight points above the closing figures of last night. A better trade in Lancashire and a report on domestic consumption, a bul-lish visible supply statement, talk of a better trade in Lancashire and a local crop estimate of 13,925,000 bales including linters were the main factors on the advance. Liverpool sold here early but was buyer during the afternoon, while there was a renewal of local bull support, and offerings were light. Naturally enough bulls are laying all the emphasis possible upon the fact that domestic mill consumption for the month of October this year was the biggest on record, being 542,000 bales against 511,000 last year. They have said less concerning the relatively rapid increase in domestic mills takings which are now 2-072,754 bales against 908,989 on October 31st last year.

CLOSING STOCK
LETTER FROM RANDOLPH

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)

New York, Nov. 14.—The market opened strong and active with advances ranging from good sized fractions to a point and a half throughout the active list. The reason for the advance was the much more optimistic view taken of the Mexican situation, and the confident feeling that President Wilson would be successful in forcing the elimination of Huerta. Europe helped along the good feeling by buying some 20,000 shares of stock on balance in this market, hastening at the opening and buying throughout the day on all recessions. The highest prices of the day, however, were made at or near the opening. Stock was freely supplied at the higher level, and before long recessions were in order, although these recessions did not go far and the undertone throughout the general list remained good all day long.
New Haven again made a new low record, as did also the new convertible bonds, and Missouri Pacific was heavy from the start. In the afternoon the market took a fresh spurt on the publication of a dispatch from Mexico

last long and the market once more

CONFUSION IN MARKET, BUT PRINCIPAL STOCKS GAINED

New York, Nov. 14.—After a day of mixed price movements and considerable confusion in speculative sentiment, the principal stocks showed net gains of fair proportions. Business was almost entirely professional, and traders concerned themselves primarily with attempting to interpret the news from Mexico in terms of stock market quotations. The Mexican situation has exercised a steadily increasing influence on the stock market during the last few weeks, until at present it is recognized as overshadowing all other considerations.
The improvement late yesterday, based on the hopeful utterances of the President, was continued in the early trading today. Advice regarding Mexico were conflicting, however, and the market gradually fell back until the early rise was lost. Late in the session, after the news clickers had denied sensational reports of serious developments and had given publicity to optimistic Washington dispatches, the market picked up again until it came close to the earlier high level.

STOCK ITEMS.

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)

New York, Nov. 14.—Many of the buyers for cash are taking the position that even if dividends are cut in a number of cases the return on standard dividend paying railroad stocks at current levels will be satisfactory.
Large speculative interests say they do not expect to follow prices at present, but will buy on weakness.
The tendency of money rates to decline under offerings is indicating purchases for investment by shrewd buyers.

A Splendid Opportunity for Investment
THE GULF SHORE SILVER BLACK FOX & FUR CO., LTD.
having applied for incorporation with a capitalization of FORTY FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS, have in breeding 2 pair genuine silver black, 2 pair silver grey, 2 pair patch crosses, and nine pups.
It is proposed to issue 450 shares at par value (One Hundred Dollars each) and owing to the low cost of capitalization this should prove an attractive investment with good returns.
PROBABLE FINANCIAL RETURNS:
Figuring an average of 2 1-2 to a litter there should be 5 Silver Black Pups at $5,000 each - - $25,000
5 Silver Grey Pups at $2,500 each - - 12,500
5 Crosses at $500 each - - - - 2,500
$40,500
As all expenses for the first year are included with the original cost of the foxes, there is practically no expense to be deducted from the very low average of production, so that the probable returns should be in the vicinity of 100% for the first year.
October auction sales of fox furs (report of C. M. Lampson & Co.'s sale of furs in London.)
On the 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th of October, 1913:

THE WEATHER. Maritime—Fresh to strong northwest winds; fair and a little colder. Toronto, Nov. 14.—Pressure is highest tonight over the Upper Lakes, while a moderate depression covers the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Rain is falling to-night in many parts of the Maritime Provinces, while elsewhere in Canada, the weather is fine, and everywhere mild, except in Manitoba, where it is moderately cold.

AROUND THE CITY. SUNDAY AFTERNOON. Sunday afternoon, special service Centenary church; address to men, by Rev. W. H. Barracough; subject, "Quo Vadis." Street Repaired. The city has repaired Princess street opposite city hall.

New Water Main. The Water Department is having a new water main laid to the Anchor Line wharf to supply the steamer Yarmouth.

Had Pleasant Evening. Miss Lenora Ingersoll entertained a number of her friends Thursday evening at the St. John Hotel. Those present were Ethel Ingersoll, Shelagh Ingersoll, Bertha McLean, Nellie Cox, Ethel Smith, Annie Slocum, Ruby Stevens, Myrtle Ingram, Bessie Collins, Allison Bonnell, Wilfred Cox, Roy Smith, Fenwick Tait, Harold Brown, Ralph Mackinnon, Harold Brown, George Collins, Emery Colwell and Howard Smith.

An Interesting Spectacle. A blaze in a tree in front of the residence of Robert A. Carroll, Tower street, West side last evening made an interesting spectacle and caused some excitement. A still alarm brought No. 7 hose and the blaze was speedily extinguished. Evidently the fire was started by an electric wire running through the branches. The blaze did considerable damage to the tree.

Was Not Murdered. The body of the infant found Thursday afternoon near the Public Gardens at Rockwood Park, will probably be buried today. A post mortem examination made by Coroner Roberts yesterday changed the complexion of the case and disposed of the theory of foul play as he has decided that the child was still born and which does away with the question of death from exposure as well as that of foul play.

25th Anniversary. Friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. Parker Hamm, to the number of about sixty-five, called at their residence, Douglas avenue, last evening, and rendered them a surprise. The occasion for the gathering was the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hamm. During the evening A. B. Farmer on behalf of the gathering, presented Mr. and Mrs. Hamm with a case of silver and a bouquet of twenty-five chrysanthemums. The presentation was accompanied by congratulations and best wishes for continued happiness. The recipients were very pleasantly surprised. An enjoyable evening was spent in cards and dancing.

ARRESTED FOR THEFT. Lad Named McCarthy Taken by Police, Last Evening, in Connection with Frances Robbery. Between 10 and 11 o'clock last night Policeman Briggs arrested a lad named McCarthy, aged ten years, on a warrant for stealing. At the time that the Francis store was broken into, Saturday, Oct. 25th, young McCarthy was mentioned in connection with the affair. Three other young lads were arrested in connection with the case, but the disposition of the case was stood over until the McCarthy boy could be located.

YOUTHFUL THIEF CONFESSES; HIS STARTLING REVELATION

Fred Wilson, Fifteen Years of Age, Tells Court He Stole $55 from Dufferin Hotel and Pocket Book from Girl on Train—Three Receive Reformatory Sentences.

In the police court yesterday afternoon a startling revelation of thefts on the part of youths was made, when the mystery surrounding two important cases which have taken place during the past few weeks was cleared up, by the confession of a fifteen year old lad, Fred Wilson. Before the magistrate he pleaded guilty to stealing $55 from the safe of the Dufferin Hotel and also confessed to being the one who stole the pocketbook belonging to the English girl, Miss Mason, who was robbed at the Union Depot a short time ago, and who because of the loss of her pocketbook was obliged to stay in St. John until friends came to her aid and made it possible for her to proceed on her journey. The two boys, Victor Cobham and Fred Wilson, aged fifteen, were arrested Thursday night on warrants for stealing. Since the theft of the pocketbook from Miss Mason, the police have been working silently on the case. The affair in the country market last Saturday night, when the sum of $40 was taken from the cash drawer in the stall of G. B. Cromwell, was traced to the two boys and they were taken into custody. Yesterday they were brought to trial on the latter charge.

Encouraging Progress of Association. The regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Y. M. C. A. held last evening in the Y. M. C. A. building with President J. Hunter White in the chair. Besides Mr. White, there were present at the meeting, Directors George A. Henderson, F. A. Dykeman, G. E. Barbour, Charles Robinson, Percy Steel and General Secretary O. S. Watt, Physical Instructor Howard and Boys' Secretary D. D. Milligan.

VOL. V. NO. 200. MISS MARJORIE THOMPSON. Dainty Little Ingenue of Thompson-Woods Co. Talks to Standard.

HOW SHE ACQUIRED "ROSIE'S" DIALECT. Amusing Manner in which Miss Davis Qualified Herself to Handle One of Her Parts—Her Ambitions.

With six years' experience in the dramatic profession Miss Marjorie Davis, the delightful little ingenue of the Thompson-Woods Stock Company is the baby of the aggregation as well as one of its most popular members. The conventional conception of an ingenue is a young lady who is childishly noted for her simple direct cut on life, i. e. an ingenue person, the old days before there was an attempt to elevate "drammer" to a serious, well-known quantity, a lady desiring to shine on the stage was young and petite she became a brunette, if young, not so petulant as the same dame endowed with an ability to handle "sobby" scenes was a due appreciation of their moist qualities she was utilized as an emotion actress and had her name in the electric sign over the door. Then it was realized that there was a demand for the character of the sweet girl graduate type, the young person who world was a mixture of matinee and chocolate fudge, dainty, innocent, & frivolous. Of such came the ingenue but of such did not come Miss Davis for the young lady who is the subject of this sketch is a very serious minded young person indeed who confesses that she is in sympathy with the campaign for votes for women, not at all taken with the methods of the militants.

Miss Davis also possesses another distinction which should make her even more interesting to St. John. She is a Canadian girl, born in Montreal and educated there. In a chat with "The Standard" this week she talked interestingly of her work in Canada, largely her work for the carries idea of seriousness with her habit the footlights in that she believes it is worth doing at all it is worth doing well. She illustrated this in novel fashion a couple of weeks ago when she was cast to play the part of "Rosie" in the play "Merely an Ann."

How She Did It. Well Miss Davis was cast as Rosie and if she could not juggle her "act" it was up to her to learn and do it. Coming out of the Opera House after a scene in a painted rehearsal when the "hatchet" refused to add the giggle could not be whit into the proper mustily mellow quality she came upon a woman who an infant in a carriage and talking it the while. MISS MARJORIE DAVIS DIGNIFIED AND AMBITIOUS

Dainty Little Ingenue of Thompson-Woods Co.
 Talks to Standard.

HOW SHE ACQUIRED
 "ROSIE'S" DIALECT

Amusing Manner in which Miss Davis Qualified Herself to Handle One of Her Parts—Her Ambitions.

With six years' experience in the dramatic profession Miss Marjorie Davis, the delightful little ingenue of the Thompson-Woods Stock Company is the baby of the aggregation as well as one of its most popular members. The conventional conception of an ingenue is a young lady who is chiefly noted for her simple direct outlook on life, i. e. an ingenue person. In the old days before there was an attempt to elevate "dramatic" the ingenue was an unknown quantity. If a lady desiring to shine on the stage was young and petite she became a substitute, if young and not so petite, at the same time endowed with the ability to handle "sobby" scenes with a due appreciation of their most qualities she was utilized as an emotional actress and had her name in the electric sign over the door. Then it was realized that there was a demand for the character of the sweet girl graduate who is not too young to be taken seriously, but of such did not come Miss Davis for the young lady who is the subject of this week's sketch is a very serious minded young person indeed who confesses that she is in sympathy with the campaign for votes for women, but not at all taken with the methods of the militants.

A Canadian Girl.

Miss Davis also possesses another distinction which should make her even more interesting to St. John folk. She is a Canadian girl, born in Montreal and educated there. In a chat with The Standard this week she talked interestingly of her "home" country, largely her work for she carries the idea of seriousness with her behind the footlights in that she believes that "what is worth doing at all is worth doing well." She illustrated this in a novel fashion a couple of weeks ago when she was called to play the part of "Rosie" in the play "Merely Mary Ann."

Now Rosie is not a large part but it has possibilities of being blighted to impress with the quality of work well done, and those who saw the production will remember that Miss Davis made of the slight, daughter of the Cockney boarding house keeper a delightfully romantic little person showing the lack of early training, but anxious to acquire the fashionable accomplishments which had been denied to her earlier in life. A feature of especial excellence was the manner in which she handled the difficult dialect lines, easy enough possibly for one born in the shades of "old London" but not so easy for a Canadian-born girl educated amid all the refinement of a covenant to whom a dropped or "flat" accent meant something almost disastrous.

How She Did It

Well Miss Davis was cast as Rosie and if she could not juggle her "latch" it was up to her to learn and she did it. Coming out of the Opera House one afternoon after a painful rehearsal when the "latch" refused to mix and the giggle could not be whipped into the proper musically mellow quality she came upon a woman wheeling an infant in a carriage and talking to it the while. Oh such a dialect! If she, the unconscious "heeler" of a parambulator, had been born in the very house with Miss Davis' Rosie she could not have talked more as the stage director had insisted that Rosie should talk. Quickly Miss Davis seized on the opportunity and as she herself tells it "I followed my unknown benefactor until I thought she would certainly suspect I had designs either on her baby or her parambulator but I did not care for every word she uttered was like a lesson to me. When she finally went into what I suppose was her home I was farther from the theatre than I ever expected to be but I had learned the dialect well enough to practise it and the papers were good though to say my performance was not altogether awful."

Started in Nebraska.

It was because Miss Davis possessed in a large measure the quality of ambition that she determined upon the stage as a career of possibly because she found herself unable to acquire stenography. "I tried for weeks to learn shorthand and copying, so I decided that I would try what I could do in other lines. I had been told I had something of a voice, so I tried to get engagements at singing, and succeeded for a time. Then I had a try at vaudeville and finally came to be a member of a really "truly company" My first part was in a play called "The Missouri Girl" and we opened in Nebraska.

It was a very pleasant engagement. Then I went with other companies where I assimilated quite a lot of experience, but not much else. Gradually, however, I did better. All the time my mother filed very serious objections to my being on the stage.

HOPPER SCOWS WILL PROVE GREAT AIDS TO WORK IN COURTENAY BAY

The two hopper scows for use in Courtenay Bay and which arrived in the harbor on Thursday are at present in Kennedy slip. The scows are propelled by their own power and are 165 feet in length. They are 187 tons register and draw about thirteen feet of water.

It is said that these scows are especially adapted for the kind of service for which they are required in Courtenay Bay. They are especially fitted for work in heavy weather and should prove a decided improvement on dredging scows so far seen in the harbor.

The above illustration gives a good idea of the appearance of the gigantic self-propelled scows.

WILL REQUEST PROTECTION FOR SAILORS

Recent Awful Disasters on Great Lakes Shows Needs.

R. R. GAMEY, M. P., TO TAKE THE MATTER UP

Absolute Disregard for Storm Signals a Very Serious Matter—Work for Law in Ontario.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 14.—The recent disasters on the Great Lakes has inspired R. R. Gamey, M. P. for Manitowish, to investigate the lack of protection for sailors, with the result that at the next session of the legislature he will seek to have placed on the statute books of Ontario some provision for the protection of the sailors and employees of sailing vessels and steamers of all kinds.

Mr. Gamey, speaking of the great loss of life in the recent storm, said: "Sailing is about the only calling where there is no effort made to protect human life.

"The absolute disregard of the storm signals by captains and vessel owners is a very serious matter. These storm signals are never displayed except when the circumstances warrant the precautions, yet they are rarely heeded. Every vessel owner should be compelled to insure the lives of the crew. Some provision must be made for the protection of the widows and the children of the men who are forced to take their lives in their hands at this time of the year. Men are compelled to go and in times like this fully 75 per cent. of the sailors go out against their own good judgment. If they decline to go they are accused of mutiny and liable to arrest. It seems they must either take a chance with death in the storm or be branded as mutinous or cowards.

"Every captain should be compelled to supply to the office of the shipping company or at the port of departure the names and addresses of the crew members with the next of kin the same as is done on the railways in the case of brakemen and conductors."

but I think she is rather reconciled to it now.

"I intend to stay for I like it and will try to work hard to succeed. It is all in the work after all. If one works at almost anything with energy and intelligence one can succeed."

Her Pet Ambition.

Asked as to her ambition Miss Davis said it was to have some one write a play for her like "Peg O' My Heart" and let her play the lead. "Oh that is a glorious part," she declared. "The best part I have ever played is that of Nora in 'The Chorus Girl,' which I believe we play here. In a stock company, however, one often gets good parts, and in that way it is better than playing in one role for an entire season.

"I like St. John, and I like the company. One can do better work when one is congenially situated, and I am happy here.

During the time the company has been in St. John Miss Davis, like the other ladies, has made many friends, all of whom have words of the highest praise for her. Thoroughly wrapped up in her work and possessed of the ability and the desire to succeed there is every reason to believe that the day is not very far distant when her ambition will be fulfilled, and she will play with much success the lead in a piece written especially for her.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY CO. OFFERS MEDIATION TO STRIKERS

Willing to Discuss Grievances with Four Labor Organizations Involved in Matter—Alternative Arbitration by Act of Congress—A Settlement may be Difficult.

New York, Nov. 14.—Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific Company, announced this afternoon that the railroad company was willing to discuss with a representative committee of the four labor organizations now on strike the question of inaugurating a system of dealing with controversies through a joint committee representing all four organizations.

WHOSHOREMANKETER WILL BE SETTLED SOON

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 14.—The Chronicle, Liberal, in an editorial under the caption "Halifax Sold-Out," says Hon. Mr. Hazen's announcement that the Royal Liners will be sent to the port of St. John during the coming winter, affords a fresh illustration of the way in which the present government juggles with the business interests of the country to serve partisan ends. For the first time in the history of Canada, since the Liberal policy of sending trans-Atlantic mails through Canadian ports was inaugurated, Halifax loses at least half the trans-Atlantic mail service. The announcement made by Mr. Hazen at St. John was not unexpected. For weeks past there have been rumors of a "deal" between the government and the Canadian Northern, and, in spite of the emphatic denials repeatedly issued by Mr. Hanna, of the Canadian Northern, it was well known that the government were trying to make a "dicker" by which the Royal line steamers would be stolen away from the port of Halifax. The "deal" has now been "pulled off" successfully, and Halifax, which from the inception of the Royal Line's trans-Atlantic service has been the winter terminus of the Royal Edward and the Royal George, is to lose two fine steamers. The trumpety excuse put forward by apologists for the government's trickery, that the Royal Line is withdrawing its boats from Halifax because of lack of accommodation at that port, has no vestige of foundation. In fact, as we have shown repeatedly in the discussion of the winter mail service, Halifax possesses ample facilities to accommodate the Royal Liners and all the steamers scheduled to make this port their terminus, or port of call during the coming season. The simple fact is that the Royal Liners had been forced by the government to change their winter terminus, not to abandon Halifax and to send their steamers to the port of St. John for political reasons.

It is admitted that the interests of the Royal Line lie in Halifax. Sir William MacKenzie has stated publicly and privately in the most emphatic terms that Halifax was to be the permanent port of the Royal Line. Mr. Hanna re-affirmed this determination on the part of his company in the mysterious telegrams which were issued at the very time that the pressure was being applied to the Canadian Northern to abandon the port of Halifax. The "gruel" fact of the story is that the interests of Halifax have been sacrificed in the hope of saving the political skin of Hon. Mr. Hazen in the City of St. John.

It is not a question of antagonism between this port and the port of St. John. There should be no such thing but the friendliest feelings and cooperation between the two cities. There is room enough for both to grow and prosper in friendly rivalry. But city begins at home, and the forcing of Royal Liners to leave Halifax, with which they have been associated ever since the inception of the service, is a blow at the prestige and business interests of this port.

The interests of Halifax have been basely betrayed to serve the partisan ends of the "Tory" party in St. John. The port of Halifax has lost the Royal Line for all time, simply because Hon. J. D. Hazen's political scalp was in danger in his home city, Halifax has been "sold out." We ask the people of this city to think it over.

HOW THE GRITS PLAY THE OLD FACTORION GAME

Grit Organ Very Wrathful Because C.N.R. Liners will Make Terminus at St. John this Winter.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—The Minister of Labor received this afternoon a unanimous report from the Board of Conciliation and Investigation, established under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, to deal with matters in dispute between the longshoremen of St. John, N. B., to the number of 1,049, and the various shipping companies trading to that port. The board submits the terms of a draft agreement which in its opinion should govern the parties concerned from year to year, 1914, and thereafter from year to year unless or until either party gives notice to the contrary. It is hoped that the same may be accepted as the basis of a satisfactory adjustment of the difficulties respecting wages, hours, and other conditions of employment, with which the board has been continuously engaged since the 18th ultimo.

The steamship companies concerned in this application include the Robert Reford Company, Ltd., Furness Withy and Company Ltd., Allan Line, Eldon Dempster and Company, New Zealand Shipping Company and the Canadian Pacific Railway Steamship Lines.

Since dealing with the foregoing dispute, the same board has taken up and is today considering a dispute between the Dominion Coal Company and its coal handlers at St. John, members of Local No. 810 of the International Longshoremen's Association.

The members of the Board of Conciliation and Investigation dealing with these matters are as follows:

Walter E. Foster, Esq., St. John, N. B., chairman, and Messrs. John E. Moore and J. E. Tighe, both of St. John, N. B., representing the employing companies and the employees respectively.

Will Meet Sunday.

A meeting of the 'Longshoremen's Union will be held Sunday afternoon to consider the report of the recommendation of the Board of Conciliation. The finding of the Conciliation Board is not forthcoming on either party, but there is said to be good reason to believe that the men as well as the companies will accept the award.

The contract which the men have been working under for five years expires today, and it is likely that some days will elapse before a new contract is signed. The companies are said to be anxious to have the men enter into a contract covering a period of several years, but following the policy of other big unions, the longshoremen are not inclined to sign an agreement for more than a year.

The shipping companies as yet have given no indication of their intention in regard to the award, but in view of the strike at Portland and the unrest at Halifax, it is believed they will be sufficient to avoid trouble with the longshoremen at this port. There may be a hitch when the question of the term the agreement shall last comes up, but it is hoped that a struggle will be avoided.

GOOD TIMES IN WEST ARE PASSING AWAY

An unusual number of young men who have been sojourning in the west have passed through the city recently, bound to their old homes in various parts of the Maritime Provinces. Many of them look as if the killing of the fatted calf would be a ceremony calculated to inaugurate their work to the west. It is expected that before Christmas a pretty large number of wage-earners who have been trying their luck in the west will return to the Maritime Provinces.

good health for some time and had been very ill for the last six weeks. Mrs. McGourty was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Heffernan. She was a woman of very fine qualities, a devout Catholic and esteemed by friends on every hand. OBITUARY.

Thomas L. Owens.
 The many friends of Thomas L. Owens will regret to hear of his death, which took place yesterday. Mr. Owens had only been ill a few days with pneumonia and his death was a great shock to the members of his family. He was 71 years of age and had spent practically all his life in Silver Falls, where he operated a farm. He leaves two daughters and three sons to mourn. The daughters are Mrs. John Magee and Mrs. William McNeil, both of St. John. The sons are Edward and Daniel of St. John and Michael of Lakewood, St. John county. Two sisters, Mrs. Mary Duffy and Mrs. Bridget Haney of St. John, and two brothers, Patrick Owens of Boston and John Owens of this city, also survive.

The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon at 3.30 from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. John Magee, 38 Elmwood street.

Mrs. Ambrose McGourty.
 There was deep regret felt by many yesterday on learning of the death of Mrs. Alice McGourty, wife of Ambrose McGourty, of the Globe's composing room staff, which occurred yesterday morning at their home in Watertown street. She had not been in

INDUCT MINISTER AT CHIPMAN CHURCH

Interesting and Impressive Service in Presbyterian Church on Thursday Evening.

On Thursday evening, November 13, an interesting and impressive service was held in the Presbyterian church, Chipman, N. B., when Rev. John T. MacNeill, M. A., B. D., was ordained to the Christian ministry and inducted into the pastoral charge of the congregation by the Presbytery of St. John. The members of Presbytery present were Rev. J. H. MacVicar, moderator, T. A. Mitchell and J. H. A. Anderson, minister, and C. G. Baird of Chipman, elder.

Dr. MacVicar presided. After conducting devotional services he called upon Rev. Mr. Anderson, interim moderator of Chipman session, to warrant the steps leading up to this service. He then put the regularly prescribed question, and after these were fully answered by the minister-elect, Mr. MacNeill was by prayer and the laying on of the hands of the Presbytery, ordained to the ministry of the Gospel and inducted into the charge of Chipman congregation. Rev. Mr. Anderson then delivered the charge to the minister and Rev. Mr. MacNeill entered upon his work in Chipman under most favorable auspices. The people are loyal and generous, and the minister-elect, Mr. MacNeill, possesses the personal and professional abilities, well disciplined by a successful course of study in the colleges of Canada and the old land.

ANXIOUS TIMES FOR PARENTS Children Often Seem Pinning Away and Ordinary Medicine Does Not Help Them.

The health of children between the ages of twelve and eighteen years, is particularly in the case of girls, is a serious worry to nearly every mother. The growth and development takes so much of their strength that in many cases they seem to be going into a delicate state. The appetite is rickety, nervousness gives way to depression, fits of anger, or occasional fainting and complaint of weariness at the slightest exertion. Ordinary medicines will not bring relief. The blood has become thin and watery, and the child must have something that will bring the blood back to its normal condition. At this time the best medicine can be equalled by the Williams' Pink Pills. Their whole mission is to make new blood, and this new blood brings strength and energy. They are advised by all the best physicians to take them. My daughter began to look very pale, and I advised her to take the pills. She did not take interest in her school work or in those amusements of girlhood. In fact she seemed to dread being tired; did not eat well, and did not sleep well at night. I took her to my doctor who said she was anemic. He advised me to give her the Williams' Pink Pills. She took the pills for nearly two months, when she was well and in the best of health. I have been advised by all the best physicians to take them. My daughter began to look very pale, and I advised her to take the pills. Canada is "making" money. The Government has to print more dollars every year to meet the demands of business prosperity—but the dollar you make must have purchasing power if it adds to your health and comfort. For a Canadian dollar you can get one hundred and that means a hundred wholesome, nourishing breakfasts. If you add coffee, milk and cream, a deliciously nourishing Shredded Wheat breakfast should not cost over five cents. Shredded Wheat Biscuit is ready-cooked and ready-to-serve—a boon to busy housekeepers and growing children.

SHREDDED WHEAT BISCUITS

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with hot milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work.

Try Toasted Triscuit, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon, with butter, cheese or marmalade.

This oven test means bake-day "luck"

If your baking results vary, you may find the reason in the flour. For there is only one way that a miller can assure you constant success. An oven test must be made.

So we take ten pounds of wheat from each shipment delivered at our mills. We grind this sample into flour. Then the flour is baked into bread.

If this bread proves to be the "lucky" kind—high in quality, large in quantity—we use the shipment. Otherwise we sell it.

You buy luck in flour bearing this name. No need to merely try your luck.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN Billie Burke

The first word—Why is Billie Burke? I have received so many letters asking me questions about myself that I have decided to make this article a little history of my life. Billie Burke is my real name. My father was a well known actor in the Barnum & Bailey circus when he was a clown...

I am not married nor engaged at present. I am tall, but slender. My hair is red; my eyes are blue. My chin is not pot, as some think, but rather the reverse, and my teeth are regular. I have the thin, fair skin of my Irish ancestors. Just at present I am not playing and am living at my country home. Early in August I shall begin rehearsals of my new play, "The Mind of the Great Girl," which was a London success last year and is the largest production Mr. Frohman will make this season...

as others see us," as well as observe feminine character and characteristics whenever we come in contact with them. Besides this we must obey the old biblical injunction and be "fair to look upon." Every woman is more or less of an actress, but it is only as she becomes a keener observer of life and is able to imagine situations which have form, facial changes that she can make her way upon the stage. Just one last word—The keen observation of others and the physical care of an actress gives herself as part of her business, could be used to advantage by all women.

The Guest Room

If it is the girl able to apply to her own surroundings the clever little hints she comes across, adding to them a wee spice of herself, rather than a wee piece of herself too original to need borrowed ideas, who makes life really comfortable and helps to cushion the corners of existence. Just by accident, Margaret found herself reading the other day a semi-humorous tale of the maiden lady who visited at her niece's home, rather unexpectedly, a tale which included a list of everyday toilet necessities that "were not" in that highly ornate spare room. The story ended with the aunt's suggestion that Mrs. A. might would do well to day herself a visit, and see what it was like. Margaret reflected. She was responsible for the pretty south room to which aunts, cousins, and friends were taken, when they came to town for a few days. Her first impulse was to inspect it...

fittingly most rightly; then the notion with which the story ended appealed more strongly to her, and she decided, literally, to make her own family a visit. Packing her small handbags with the usual articles, allowing to extras, and, merely mentioning to her invalid mother that she was going to sleep in the spare bedroom for one night, she took possession, determined to manage, for a day, exactly as any casual guest would need to. To her chagrin, the few items which she supposed would strike her as being necessary grew into a long list of nearly two dozen small conveniences, including toilet paper, ink tablet, mending materials, toilet water, a cushion with assorted safety pins, black and white, a carafe for drinking water, and—she admitted—some extra down quilt, which had thus far been kept in the hall linen-closet. "It wasn't but a step from the door," she confessed, "but I had been in a strange house I shouldn't have known where to find it when I woke up shivering at two in the morning. Nothing I know of goes so quickly to the inner side of hospitality as making one's self a short visit and holding strictly to the plan of forcing one's self to do without, for the time being, what is not provided. I know how I hated the stuffy-starched pillow-cases at Great Aunt Venable's, and slept miserably all night, because I was too small and shy to say anything, and didn't realize that the "night pillows" were in the big box-couch. Somebody else might be just as unwilling to ask for heavy black silk to sew a button on—or a soft whisk-broom to use on her hat. I spent the whole next afternoon shopping for our guest-room—and I shan't ever throw away that list!" —McCall Magazine

Tried Recipes

TAKE four bunches of blood beets. Pare them grate a semi-ounce of strainers through a cloth. Put on the fire and let scald. Let one pint of milk come to a boil and add to the hot juice; one saltspoonful of salt; cream two tablespoonfuls of sifted flour with two of butter and stir them slowly until the mixture is as thick as rich cream. Add a sprinkling of black or red pepper as preferred. Pan-Broiled Loins Chops. Pare broiling is a method of cooking employed when there is no suitable fire for broiling. For the best results it should be employed only in the case of meat from which most of the fat has been removed. Loins chops which are to be pan broiled should have the flank and most of the fat removed. After wiping they should be put into a hot frying pan and turned frequently. In order to avoid piercing the chops in turning them, they should be grasped between two forks or with a knife and fork. The time of cooking will depend, of course, upon the thickness of the chops and what er they are desired well done or not. From six to ten minutes is the usual time. Pressing the chop against the side of the pan will help to complete the cooking. Pan-broiled chops may be served plain or with savory, tomato or onion sauce.—St. Louis Republic. Feather Cake. Two egg whites, two tablespoonfuls butter. Place the egg whites and softened butter in a cup and fill the cup with milk or water. Pour into a bowl, add one cup of sugar and one and one half cups of flour. Beat with a Dover beater for five minutes. Add three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one half teaspoonful vanilla and beat again for two minutes. Bake in layers in a shallow pan in a very hot oven.—New Orleans Picayune. Plum Gumbo. Wipe five pounds plums, remove and discard stones, and cut pulp in pieces. Force two pounds seeded raisins through a meat chopper, or, if one is not at hand, chop. Wipe three oranges and cut in thin slices, crosswise, removing seeds. Put prepared fruit in preserving kettle, add five pounds granulated sugar, bring to the boiling point and let simmer until of the consistency of a marmalade. Fill jelly glasses with mixture, cool and seal.—Manitoba Free Press. Baked Bananas. Take off part of the skin of each banana and dust with sugar, bits of butter and a few drops of lemon. Bake for about twenty minutes in a shallow pan, into which a little water has been poured. Serve hot, with cream. Corn Bread. Cream together a tablespoonful of butter and one of sugar. Beat two eggs till light; blend with the butter and sugar. Add gradually one cupful of corn-meal, after sifting it with one cupful of flour and four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and a pinch of salt, one cupful of milk, and finally the well-beaten whites of the eggs. Bake twenty-five minutes in a quick oven in a large sheet or an angel cake tin. Then drain, wipe and broil three minutes. The slices should be thin. Tomatoes are delicious broiled. Cut them over a hot fire, when they are done, butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Paint marks can be removed by soaking them for a short time in kerosene and turpentine. Then rub them with emery paper or a little pulverized pumice stone. When frying fish, have the fat boiling hot before putting the fish in the pan. When the fat is in the proper condition, a blue smoke will be rising from it. Wax candles which have become dusky can be made perfectly white by rubbing them with a clean piece of flannel dipped in spirits of wine. Before broiling ham, it should be soaked one hour in lukewarm water. Fruit jars should be sweet and clean before they are put away. Full-impregnated.

Household Hints

Put cauliflower in plain water to draw out any insects. After the insects have come out, put salt in the water—it will kill them. Braas fenders and fire irons can be lacquered with a special preparation which will prevent them from requiring constant polishing. It is a good idea to rinse muslin hangings, children's dresses, and pinafores, in alum water. It will render them non-inflammatory. Wax candles which have become dusky can be made perfectly white by rubbing them with a clean piece of flannel dipped in spirits of wine. Before broiling ham, it should be soaked one hour in lukewarm water. Fruit jars should be sweet and clean before they are put away. Full-impregnated.

a pinch of soda in the jar when you give it a final rinsing. This will destroy all flavors. If dumplings are kept boiling steadily from the time they are in the pot until they are taken out they will be much lighter. Do not take the lid off oftener than necessary. To remove rust from steel cover it with sweet oil and let it remain covered for a day; then rub it with a lump of fresh lime and it will then polish in the ordinary way. A baked apple is the most easily digested of any way of serving apples. If a bit of butter is placed on top of each apple, before it is put in the oven, the flavor will be much more

FIGHTS FOR THE FLAG

Sir Edward Codrington at Navarino

October 20, 1827

"Navarino was as honest a victory as was ever gained by the arms of any power from the beginning of the world"—Lord John Russell (Speech in the House of Commons).

"Fast as the flaming beacon which conveys the news of the fall of Troy to Argos, the joyous tidings were transmitted from mountain to mountain, from crag to crag, from lole to lole, and one throbb of exultation and thankfulness was felt in every bosom. Never since the defeat of Hadrubal by the Consul Nero, on the banks of the Metaurus, had such a sensation pervaded the heart of a nation. Every one felt as if he himself were delivered from captivity or death. . . . Christendom had come to the rescue; again, as in the days of the Crusades, the Cross had been triumphant over the Crescent."—Alison's "History of Europe."

without trial. The tale of massacres in that war almost, if not quite, equals the Turkish performances in Armenia in our own times. Nobody quite knows how many were massacred in Smyrna in 1821; but the victims rose in numbers to tens of thousands. Cyprus was almost entirely depopulated by a similar massacre. In regard to quots Professor Ramsay, "20,000 people were massacred within two months; 30,000 were made slaves; 30,000 destitute refugees escaped to other lands." The story of Chios is almost more tragical still. "Every corner of the island was ransacked," says Alison; "every house burned or sacked, every human being that could be found slain or carried off into captivity. Modern Europe has never witnessed such an instance of bloodshed or horror. To find a parallel to it we must go back to the storming of Syracuse or Carthage by the Romans, or to the sack of Bagdad or Aleppo by Timur." It was calculated that 25,000 persons were slain, and 45,000 women and children dragged into slavery. A curious feature of that fierce struggle was the enormous number of Christians—mostly Turks sold as slaves, usually in the Egyptian market. As a postscript to Smyrna massacre, 10,000 women and children—all Christians—were publicly sold in the market-place of Salonica. After the capture of Missolonghi, Ibrahim Pasha boasted that he had collected 3000 heads, and sold 4000 women and children!

The Greeks, it may be frankly admitted, sometimes rivalled the Turks themselves in cruelty. They had suffered 1400 years' bondage, Byzantine or Mohammedan, and they had the vices of slaves. Massacre, too, was one remembered by massacre—deep calling unto deep. At the beginning of 1821 there was a Mussulman population of more than 20,000 persons scattered throughout agricultural Greece, and Finlay, "before two months had elapsed the greater part was slain; men, women, and children were murdered without mercy or remorse"—all by Greeks!

Memory has a very limited office in politics. The typical politician is essentially an opportunist, much exercised about today, but with no memory of yesterday, and not much thought of tomorrow. Yet it is curious how completely all the orators who have written, and all the orators who have discovered about the recent struggle between Greece and Turkey, forget how exactly, as far as the Eastern Empire is concerned, 1827 was a reproduction of 1827. The Greek struggle for Crete which we have just watched is, in all its essential features, the drama of the Greek War of Independence acted over again, on the Turkey of 1827, considered as a fighting power, was immeasurably stronger than the Turkey of 1827. France, too, that today bears to Russia the relation that the tall bore to the dog in Lord Dundreary's famous apologue, was seventy years ago hostile to Russia by the whole trend of its policy. The differences between the two periods, in a word, are almost as significant as their agreements. But the most tragical difference is that today we have no Navarino. English, French, and Russian admiral in the present struggle have been firing on the wrong side. We have Canes instead of Navarino!

The Greek revolt against Turkey broke out in 1821, and all righteous was on its side. The land of Homer and of Plato, of Marathon and of Salamis, was the prey of Turkish pashas. The governing methods of the pashas are described with great plainness in a Greek manifesto of that period. "Any virgins that pleased them they took by force. Any merchant who was making money they beheaded, and seized his goods. Any proprietor of a good estate they slew, and occupied his property. And every drunken vagabond in the streets could murder respectable Greeks and was not punished for it." Armenia makes that statement credible. The Turk of 1827 is the replica of the Turk of 1827. But the national life of Greece was beginning to revive. The trade of the Greek islands and education made slavery intolerable. When the Greeks revolted, their chances seemed as desperate as those of Holland against Spain under Philip II. A population of less than 2,000,000 plunged into battle against one of 30,000,000! The hopes of the Greeks rested at first on the Russian Emperor Alexander. Thrice already Russia had incited the Greeks to revolt; and the immortal policy of Russia seemed a sufficient pledge of help to a movement which would rob Turkey of one of her provinces. But there was a revolutionary movement throughout Europe; in Spain, and Naples, and Piedmont, there were risings against despotic government. And much as the Czar hated Turkey, he hated popular movements still more. "I discerned in the said, 'the revolutionary mark. From that moment I kept aloof from them. The Emperor William might have League of the Three Emperors in 1827, in a word, is but the reproduction, in another form, of the Holy Alliance which governed Europe in 1821. Left to themselves, the Greeks fought with magnificent courage. Nothing can well be more striking, indeed, than the contrast between the resistance power of Greece today, and that of seventy years ago. The struggle was a true Seven Years' War. On the part of the Greeks it was a guerrilla war, a war of sudden surprises, of wild onfalls and ambushes; while on the part of the Turks it was a conventional war, a war of regular armies, despatched by the emperor-Sultan, perished in the contest.

"That the war was marked by terrific savagery goes without saying. The Turk, when his wrath, or his religious fanaticism, is aroused, is the most cruel of human beings; and the Sultan Mahmud, during the early stages of the struggle at least, made stupendous cruelty his deliberate policy. Thus on Easter Sunday in 1821, he hung the Greek patriarch in Constantinople on the lintel of his own gate, with three of his own bishops. A few weeks afterwards, no less than five archbishops and three bishops were hanged in the streets of Constantinople in the streets of Constantinople

Europe at last intervened, Emperor Alexander was dead, and his successor Nicholas hated Turkey even more than he hated "the revolution." Canning had the merit of shaping the policy which delivered Greece. He opened communication with the Greek leaders, and sent the Duke of Wellington to St. Petersburg, nominally to congratulate the Czar on his accession, really to consult on the affairs of Greece. On July 6, 1827, what is known as the Treaty of London was signed between England, France and Russia. The object of the treaty was declared to be "the reconciliation of the Greeks and Turks." An armistice was to be proposed, and if necessary, enforced. Greece was to be self-governed under the suzerainty of the Sultan, to whom an annual tribute was to be paid. The Sultan with a paroxysm of wrath, rejected the treaty, but for once the "Concert of Europe" prevented that great first carrying out operations against Greece. In an interview with Ibrahim Pasha, Codrington warned him that any attempt to bring on instant attack by the allied fleet. Ibrahim replied that he was a soldier, and must obey orders, and that he would do as he was told, and this he would do at all costs. Finally, however, he pledged his word of honor to observe the armistice till he received fresh instructions from Constantinople. He broke his word. The smoke of burning villages told of the ravages of his troops. His fleet twice attempted to leave the harbor, and only retired before the grim menace of Codrington's open porpoises. To maintain a winter blockade outside Navarino, however, was impossible, and on October 15, Codrington determined to run in to the harbor and anchor his fleet, ship by ship, alongside the Turkish and Egyptian ships.

Never had a sailor a more difficult task than Codrington's. He commanded a mixed fleet—he is the only British admiral, indeed, in history who had a French squadron under his command. Only eleven years before, it must be remembered, Russian troops had occupied Paris; the retreat from Moscow was still a recent memory. And one of Codrington's anxieties was lest his French and Russian allies should turn their guns against each other! Scandal, indeed, has it that, in the battle which followed the French ships actually fired into the Russian squadrons to "avenge Moscow." It is certain that the war had lasted only two years; at the end of six campaigns the complete extermination of the Greek people was an end visibly near. The country was in a state of anarchy. The fields were unutilized. The sailors of the islands were lapsing into piracy as a vocation. At the end of 1826 the Greek Treasury contained only sixteen piastres—about five shillings! Turkey, too, had found a formidable ally in Egypt, where Ibrahim Pasha had, like Lord Kitchener today, trained and hardened the fellahen into soldiers of high quality. Pity for the free-lance of the sea, Lord Cochrane, at a generous rate, paying him £50,000, took command of his fleet; but even the genius and daring of Cochrane could achieve nothing in such a warfare. Sir Richard Church, too, was engaged to command the Greek land forces, but both Church and the Greeks misunderstood each other. The Greeks, to quote Finlay, expected Church to prove "a Wellington with a military chest well supplied from the British treasury; Church expected the irregulars of Greece to execute his strategy like regiments of the Guards! The truth is, Greek politics were a chaos, and Greek patriots, though they could fight, could not obey. The National Assembly appointed Church "arch-general," and Cochrane "arch-admiral," giving these titles as a substitute for ordinary power.

Byron was the most famous ally of the Greek cause won. After carrying "the banner of his bleeding heart" across Europe, this "pilar of sternity"—to quote Matthew Arnold—looked it to the assistance of Greece. Byron, in a sense, rendered the Greek cause no practical service. He was neither a politician nor a soldier. He hated war, while he regarded politics, according to one of his critics, as "the art of cheating the people by concealing one-half of the truth, and representing the other!" Byron landed at Missolonghi on January 6, 1824, and died on April 19, thus giving only the last three months of his life to the cause of Greek independence. But his fame, and the pathos of his death, helped to quicken the generous sympathy of Europe on behalf of Greece.

Byron, perhaps, served Greece better by dying so promptly than if he had lived longer and actually fought for her. The financiers of Europe rendered as little real help to Greece as its soldiers and sailors and poets. Thus in 1824, the first Greek loan was floated. It was for £800,000 at 5 per cent, and each £100 brought £59. The Greeks, that is, received £472,000, and contracted a debt for £800,000. A loan of £2,000,000 was floated next year at only £55, 10s. The money-lenders of Europe were greedy, and it is with not unmixed regret one remembers that they never received either principal or interest! The Greeks had no financial conscience. They appear to have considered the loan," says one historian, "as a small payment for the debt due by civilised society to the country that produced Homer and Plato!" Meanwhile, though the Greeks still continued to win victories, their cause grew desperate. One-third of the adult population had perished when the war had lasted only two years; at the end of six campaigns the complete extermination of the Greek people was an end visibly near. The country was in a state of anarchy. The fields were unutilized. The sailors of the islands were lapsing into piracy as a vocation. At the end of 1826 the Greek Treasury contained only sixteen piastres—about five shillings! Turkey, too, had found a formidable ally in Egypt, where Ibrahim Pasha had, like Lord Kitchener today, trained and hardened the fellahen into soldiers of high quality. Sir Richard Church, too, was engaged to command the Greek land forces, but both Church and the Greeks misunderstood each other. The Greeks, to quote Finlay, expected Church to prove "a Wellington with a military chest well supplied from the British treasury; Church

TRIMMING WINTER HATS AT HOME.

Shapes in velvet, plush, or felt, ready for trimming, and millinery ornaments in plumes, wings, fancy feathers or flowers, make it easy for the homemaker, this season, to trim her hat successfully.

There is a great variety in shapes to choose from, and they are complete, already lined, and need only the addition of a simple trimming. For simplicity is in high favor just now.

A hat in velvet, with low round crown, and a soft brim that can be gracefully trimmed with a fancy ostrich feather mounted on the under brim.

A gray plush hat may be embellished with a pair of shaded red wings, mounted at the back, and finished with a head of folded ribbon about the crown, in the same color as the plush. Brims of the plain shapes may be varied in many ways to suit the taste of each individual.

The home milliner will also find the butterfly bows of lace very attractive, as well as easy to make. A silk covered wire is run around a lace with deep scallops, an inch or two from the edge, and this portion turned back and stitched close to the wiring. The bows are usually four inches wide and about six inches long. A knot arranged where the bow is attached to the hat will finish the butterfly effect.—Woman's World for November.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In some cases easily chapped hands will yield to the treatment of glycerine applied immediately after washing when the skin is moist. Do not apply to the dry skin.

The easy method of adjusting a hem is to measure a skirt which fits one, take the length at the front, side and back. The intermediate spaces can easily be regulated.

To begin with, it is perfect. To the end it remains perfect—the Edison—Blue Amberol Record

No musical-mechanical triumph has approached this remarkable invention of Edison. The new composition of which it is made catches and holds the natural beauty of tone of the world's greatest singers, orchestras and bands, and holds it after you have played it over 3,000 times.

The Blue Amberol is a perpetual, practically unbreakable record that reproduces in an amazing way the art of the performers.

Don't miss the opportunity to hear it played. Any Edison dealer will be glad to demonstrate the Blue Amberol for you.

MR. GOULD SHOWS FRENCH SYSTEM OF PARI-MUTUELS WOULD BENEFIT AMERICAN TURF.

ECZEMA CAN BE CURED I Will Prove It to You Free

Mr. Frank J. Gould, who lives in France, gave a comparison between the French and American systems of racing. He said: "The government of France has had the good sense to regulate by law the amount of interest allowed to be paid to stockholders of the different racing societies, which, I think, is four per cent. This at once eliminates the question of speculation, as far as the racing societies are concerned, and brings together a body of men whose sole interest is to protect the breeding of horses, and to make it possible for the public to enjoy racing under the most favorable conditions. All the money over the four per cent goes into the upkeep and beautifying of the hippodromes and for premiums to breeders in the colonies and into prizes which are increased in amount each year, according to the revenues of the societies. "In America the government is unwilling to face the situation and understand that the breeding of pure blooded horses is a matter of national importance. The consequence is that racing societies there look upon their affairs as a speculation, and in the course of a year, if fifty, sixty, seventy or even one hundred per cent profit is made, it is distributed among the stockholders, and the public, which supported racing, gets no direct or lasting benefit, and the race prizes are often too small and inadequate. "The benefits which result to France from the operations of the pari-mutuel are incontestably many. Nearly all the great charities in the country are regularly supported by the percentage of profits which the government retains for the purpose out of the gross transactions of the pari-mutuel. The poor and suffering gain by the pleasures of the wealthy."

PROTEST IN FINAL GAME FOR THE STANDARD CUP

The final game in the interschool Football League, in competition for the Standard cup, which has been followed with the closest interest by the boys themselves, and all directly interested in their welfare, was played off Thursday afternoon between the Grade VIII, H. S. team and Albert School squad, giving the former team the victory with a score of six to nothing. This was the final and deciding game of the series and the result was to determine the winners of the league. A protest against Thursday's game, however, has been entered by the Albert team, and although the official score gives the Grade VIII, H. S. the game with six points against their opponents nothing, they yet may not carry off the prize cup as the protest is to be heard before the league committee before the final decision is arrived at. It is the intention to have representatives of either team state the case before the members of the league committee in the Y.M.C.A. building at the first of next week. Their decision in the matter will be final and may possibly result in another game being played to determine the leaders of the league. When the league was first formed in order to obviate matters, the competing teams, consisting of ten, were divided and formed into two separate leagues, known as League No. 1 and League No. 2. At the close of the scheduled league games Grade VIII.

Years Added to Life

Success may be spelled in dollars and cents, but the physical ability to accomplish something worth while keeps the enthusiastic worker at his or her task when dollars no longer offer an incentive. As age advances, we find ourselves unable to do some of the things we did formerly, and the realization that we are growing old suddenly dawns upon us. But everyone has the opportunity to forestall the ravages of advancing age, if he wills. Moreover, there are many degenerative maladies affecting the vital organs that are inaugurated by, or dependent upon, disturbances of the blood supply. The diseases affecting the heart, blood vessels, kidneys and other vital organs are on the increase in this age of preventive medicine. It fortunately happens that these maladies can be avoided if taken in time. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey gives to the aged the vigor of youth and the power to sustain strength and energy. When taken at mealtime it stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, thereby improving the digestion and assimilation of the food and giving to the body its full proportion of nourishment. Thousands of people in all works of life have enthusiastically testified they owe their long life to the wonderful restorative and sustaining powers of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It is a remedy you should not fail to try. Get it today. At most druggists, dealers and hotels.

MT. ALLISON WENT DOWN TO DEFEAT

Sackville, Nov. 14.—Mt. Allison went down to defeat before Acadia today in one of the hardest games on intercollegiate series. The fate of the team awaying in the balance, has been settled. The trophy now is the property of Acadia, who have won it three years in succession, and two years previous to 1910. Both teams lined up for the play and were eagerly scanned by the spectators. The general weight both teams compared favorably. Word for play was given and the Garnet and Gold kicked the ball well down the field. Play remained in the Acadia territory for some time, but gradually worked down in Mt. Allison territory, when Mt. Allison got a free kick which brought the ball back into the Acadia territory. Shortly after Acadia got a free kick and the ball went into Mt. Allison territory where it remained for some time. Andrews of Acadia, in one of his notable wing runs, took the ball well into Mt. Allison's territory. Play worked back and forward for some time, but gradually getting into Mt. Allison's territory. After some very nice pushing Welton got the ball and dashed over the line. The score was tied and converted. Fifteen minutes of the first half had gone; Mt. Allison tried hard to score, but were unable to do so. Leaman of Acadia, in the last part of the first half made a desperate effort to score again but was tackled by Hertz. The play was kept in the Mt. Allison territory for a short time when the whistle sounded half time. Second half started off with a rush. The ball was kicked into Mt. Allison's territory but was gradually worked into the Acadia territory. A free kick was awarded Mt. Allison, which took the ball very close to the scoring line, but Mt. Allison after some hard work failed to get it over. The ball went back into Mt. Allison territory, and with some more clever passing of Acadia's half line Welton, of Acadia, crossed Mt. Allison's line once more. The try was converted. Mt. Allison kicked off and play went into Acadia territory. The Garnet and Gold tried hard to score but failed and the ball was carried to Mt. Allison again. Mt. Allison got a free kick and got the ball down to the half line where it remained. All the finish of the game, Acadia emerged from the struggle the victors with the score 10 to 6. On taking the score into consideration one would be inclined to think that the game was very much one sided, but such was not the case. Both teams in play seemed to be evenly matched, but fortunes of war seemed to be against Mt. Allison, and Acadia won out. The following is the lineup: Mount Allison—Fullback, Herder; halves, Sears, Hertz, Appleby, Godfrey; quarters, Miersow, Malcolm, Appleton; forwards, Poole, McDonald, Frestone, Pickup, Durant, Bartlett, Palmer. Acadia—Fullback, Higgins; halves, Andrews, Leaman, Welton, Horton; quarters, Klitchen, Archibald, Gregg;
