

LEGISLATIVE CORRESPONDENCE.

Fredericton, March 2, 1878.

"Dear 'Standard'—Your readers will, I fear, have forgotten your old correspondent, who by reason of absence from the place last winter, missed the pleasure of reporting to you some-what of the 'sayings and doings' of the Legislature.

The opening ceremonies on Tuesday last, of the last session of the present House of Assembly, was accompanied with more showy demonstrations, than usual, of the deep interest this city of Fredericton takes in what adds so very considerably to the importance of this great seat of loyalty, and persistent adherence among the few, to the aristocratic association of "the good old times" which however are, happily for the place, rapidly giving way to the advancement which its energetic manufactures and other industries so clearly manifest. The utilitarian is driving out the old "faint" and Fredericton grows fast—with its fine City Hall, now the centre of Banks Mackenzieism, where temperance oratory weekly at least, and often times more frequently, scares the "polite" into hot quarters, where he is to be consumed by the fire which his own element will only make hotter—standing within a short distance of that noble Government Building the "Normal School," built since I was here, a monument of the honesty and integrity with which the question of education has been dealt with by the Government, in which your worthy country has through its representatives exercised so very considerable influence.

But as your good "old Standard" readers will want legislative rather than civic items, I note that of the Legislative Councilors only nine were in their places at the opening—that this distinguished body out of respect for the memory of the late Hon. Chas. Parley, who died since the August session, adjourned over for a day, that as yet three of its members are absent, of whom the Hon. Mr. Hibbard is one; that on Thursday they passed with some dignified criticism, yet with entire unanimity the address in reply to the speech of His Honor the Lieut. Governor at the opening, and that since that they have been chiefly occupied with matters of detail such as committee and other work.

Of the Assembly quite a number were absent at the opening. No special interest was manifested on Tuesday or Wednesday more than giving notice of motions for papers, organization of the usual committees, the principal committee being the public accounts committee, of which Mr. Marshall is the chairman. On Thursday at noon, however, all the members of the Assembly had arrived, and the address in reply to the speech brought every one down to the serious consideration of the interests of the country, his own constituency, and lastly and chiefly himself in view of the elections of the year. Every eye and ear was sharp to catch any motion or word, and every heart was warm and anxious to resent any attack that might be made on these special interests. The mover of the address, Mr. Swin, made a very satisfactory and evidently fairly digested presentation of most of the matters to which reference is made in the speech. He read however too largely from public documents towards the close, yet on the whole he acquitted himself quite ably. The address was seconded by your country member Mr. Murchie, who was quite satisfied with every thing connected with the address, except that the mover had left him very little to say, and so his speech in seconding was very short. The criticism by the opposition of the address, was very temperate, and elicited very little beyond mild charges as to want of matter in the speech, yet at times dropped out the admission, that there was a great deal in it, and in connection with matters to which they could not make any decided opposition. For the matter of the speech is much more extensive than is usual with speeches delivered at the opening of this Legislature.

Covert is not very comfortable under the tutelage to which Willis wishes to subject him, and Burns and Davidson rather laugh at them both. The whole debate of Thursday and Friday was characterized by a friend of mine as a most temperate example of politics in New Brunswick, when acrimony between individuals in the Legislature is the exception.

The Government did not appear to be very eager to press the debate, evidently preferring to give every member full opportunity of criticizing anything that had transpired, and making full answer on all matters discussed.

I should rather judge by the air of the Prov. Sec. that he feels very easy as to his budget and resources for the current year. The Atty. Gen. sharp to watch the temper of the House, did not give any sharp exhibition of his power to deal heavy blows, yet looks as if he too were ready for any fray that might be got up. The Surveyor General sits watchfully in his place and must have noted the absence of any unjust references to him, and his Department, such as he has oftentimes been subjected to.

This mutual admiration society of Government and opposition, was all put in very good humor by a very happy speech from Mr. Elter. The country will get good service out of this debate on the address, dealing as all the speakers did very fairly with the different questions in the speech, the most important of which was, of course, the $150,000 which the Government is entitled to from the Dominion Government. The Penitentiary matter is also an important one, and the views of New Brunswick are now fully before the country. Her contention involves a very considerable sum.

Every public man ought to do his best to support the ground taken in this matter, alike by the government and opposition.

On Friday about 4 p. m. the debate ended, and the address passed without division, with however some slight verbal amendments made on the motion of the mover, and by leave of the House.

So soon as the address passed, the Secretary laid on the table the Report on public accounts and the Surveyor General the Report of his Department, the former a volume of 280 pages contains the usual statements. The latter of 203 pages contains in addition to the usual tables some extended remarks on his administration of the Crown Land Department.

Yours, &c.

KAPPA.

WAR NEWS.—If reliance can be placed on the telegraphic intelligence, the treaty of peace has been signed, and the reported demands of Russia have been reduced.

The portion of the Turkish fleet now in the Egyptian harbor is not included in the terms. English however, is still making preparations on a large scale for war should it unfortunately take place. We must wait for more definite information before the real demands of Russia are known.

The Reform Club at Calais and St. Stephen are holding meetings almost every evening, and a large majority of the inhabitants have become members. The interest in the work is kept up by voluntary lectures and pleasing entertainments. An inducement, to the Youth's Club, they are permitted to occupy the Club rooms free of rent. This looks like encouraging the youthful members to persevere in the work, and is an example worthy of being followed where children's clubs have been formed.

The Steamer "Belle Brown" commenced her trips for the season on Monday last. The sound of her whistle reminded one that "Spring time of year is coming, coming."

Ottawa papers contain elaborate sketches of the Governor General's Ball on the 27th Feb. which was a brilliant affair, and the toilets beautiful and numerous. The hands of the supper room were lined with handsome draperies of scarlet and white stripes; and on the walls were hung twelve large shields, on which were painted the royal arms, the arms of Canada, and the arms of each of the Provinces. In addition to the members of the Cabinet and their wives, as were also the Senators and members of the House of Commons with their wives, and a few citizens of the United States. It was the Governor General's farewell ball.

The seventh annual Report of the Crown Land Department, just received, contains a large amount of information with reference to the public domain, which we will notice in another issue.

The Canterbury Station correspondent of the Carleton Sentinel, reports—that times in that section "are quite brisk," hauling bark for Shaw's tannery, and "large lumbering operations" by Messrs. J. Falconer, R. Robinson, and D. W. Grant, "affords employment to a large number of men." Canterbury Station is to have another aspirant for political honor at the next general election for Local and Dominion Parliaments. The Reform movement is gaining members at each meeting.

THE FINANCE MINISTER OF CANADA (Hon. Mr. Cartwright) has delivered his annual statement in the House of Commons. It was a lengthy and able document, and deals very freely with the various questions which affect the financial prosperity of the country. Notwithstanding a steady increase of population there has been a decline of revenue during the year. This arose from the general depression of trade, and a falling off in customs duties. The Finance Minister hopes, however, to meet all the requirements of the public service without any addition to the taxation of the country; whilst the free-trade policy of the Government will be persistently maintained. The estimates for the next year amount to $39,334,382, of which $15,894,331 is chargeable to the capital account and the public debt, and $23,440,051 to the consolidated fund. The estimate for last year in the consolidated fund account was $26,378,228, and the total estimates were $34,199,597.

SKATING CARNIVALS are becoming popular; even in Manitoba, where during the past month, a Carnival was held at Winnipeg, and witnessed by hundreds. Among the gay crowd of magicians, was a young lady, daughter of a St. Andrews gentleman Capt. G. W. Street, who was dressed as "Titania." The object of the carnival, as stated in the Free Press, "was in aid of the organ fund of Holy Trinity Church, and was a success financially."

Many British universities are showing a willingness to have woman participate in their teaching power. At Cambridge, Girton and Newnham Colleges (female) students are receiving instruction from the Cambridge professors, and female classes are being well served in Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dublin, and elsewhere. In University College, London, an institution established for the special purpose of "feeding" the University of London, women have been for some years admitted to some classes, and there is now to be a female college started in connection with it. A congress on the subject has been held at Cambridge. It was attended by over sixty eminent ladies, and a number of Cambridge professors, and an energetic scheme was decided upon.

The Astonishing Famine in India.

The startling news is telegraphed, on apparently good authority, that no less than seventy millions of human beings are now starving and likely to perish in the famine-stricken districts of northern China. The distress resulting from so widespread a calamity is almost incalculable, but some view of its enormity may be gained from the consideration of the fact that the famine directly reaches a sixth part of the vast population of China, and that the number of sufferers exceeds by fifty per cent the entire population of the United States, and nearly equals the combined populations of all the nations of North and South America. Such news is indeed appalling, and seems to preclude the hope of effective relief. It is thought by some persons that the famine may add to the existing complications attending the immigration of Chinese to this country, by acting as a fresh incentive to drive them from their own land; but it seems to us that a moment's consideration should lead to the opposite view. So overwhelming a desolation must necessarily diminish both the number of emigrants as well as the means for emigration.

INCREASE OF INSANITY IN LONDON.—The experience of the London Metropolitan Asylums Board is that imbecility, idiocy, and insanity are largely on the increase in that city. The Board have purchased 100 acres of land at Darenth, Kent, where an asylum to accommodate 500 idiot boys is being erected. A Committee of the Board will consider a proposal to build another asylum on the same estate for the accommodation of 500 imbeciles. The City of London and other asylums for the insane exist in the same neighborhood, the space to be devoted for the accommodation of the mentally afflicted of London being as large as the area of the whole of that city. Drunkenness, violent tempers, the worry and uncertainty of business, and other preventable causes of insanity are found far out number the cases of hereditary predisposition.

Fredericton News.

The skating carnival held last week at the Rink was very successful. It was more largely attended than the former one.

Another dime concert was given on Saturday night under the auspices of the ladies branch of the Reform Club to a crowded house. The entertainment consisted of vocal and instrumental music, tableaux, &c. and all the parts were well rendered. Dr. Clay, of Halifax delivered a short and stirring temperance address illustrating his remarks by some well told anecdotes, and was attentively listened to. The dime concert has become an institution here.

The "Drunkard's warning" was given last night by the St. Dunstan's Amateur Dramatic Club in their hall on Regent st. This evening the Reform Club Minstrel troupe will make their first appearance, in the City Hall and will no doubt be greeted with a full house.

Joseph Collins, correspondent of the Freeman, was fined $20 by P. J. Mag. Marsh for drawing a revolver, and threatening to shoot Robt. Sutherland a short time since.

Ice cutting is being prosecuted briskly by several parties who are storing it for next season's business.

The present session is not more than usually interesting so far. The members are just fairly getting to work.

The steamers of the International Line are making two trips a week.

The Government have sanctioned a load of warehouse at St. Stephen.

FOSTER'S TACK FACTORY.—Speaking of the St. John fire, the Acrostook Pioneer says: "Among the manufactories destroyed was the tack and nail factory of S. R. Foster & Son, who have with commendable activity, erected a new one, and is already in successful operation, with a large number of machines, turning out all sizes of tacks and nails. They exhibited at the Centennial, in 1876, three hundred and forty-six different varieties, and their orders come from nearly every civilized nation on the globe. Probably every minute throughout the year their tacks and nails are being driven by the skillful artisan. Thus enterprise rewarded and the world at large benefited."

Mrs. Pitman, lately terminated in Pennsylvania, left by will some money to provide medical treatment for women suffering constitutional ailments, but too poor to pay for the same, or unwilling to place themselves in the care of male physicians. A better deed was never done, nor any deed with a better or purer purpose. No one thing is so strongly desired by all delicate and sensitive women, rich or poor, as competent medical attendance from their own sex.

SUMMARY.

London, March 2. The Times says the announcement in Parliament yesterday evening will be welcomed as reviving some hope of a peaceful settlement of the question.

A telegram from the Turkish Minister of War orders the Government of the Danubian provinces to prevent any more men-of-war whether British, French, or Austrian from entering the Sea of Marmora.

A telegram to the Times says the Porte is prepared to sign the treaty of peace, except the clause concerning the iron-clads, on which Russia is unlikely to insist, and hence the signature is expected on Saturday.

General Sir Patrick Leonard McDougall will, in May, take command of all the forces in Canada. It is understood that the event of war McDougall will have authority to raise 10,000 Canadians for service in Europe.

Vice Admiral Sir Edward Aug. Inglefield, C. B., will in May assume the command of the fleet at the North American and West India stations. All officers on leave, yesterday received order to hold themselves in readiness to rejoin their regiments and depart immediately on the receipt of telegraphic notice.

A dispatch to Reuters telegraph company from Constantinople, under date of Saturday evening, says the Russian have made substantial concessions regarding the boundaries of Bulgaria.

London March 3.

Special to the "Standard" from Vienna asserts that two divisions of Austrians will enter Bosnia in about ten days.

The "Standard's" Constantinople dispatch dated Saturday, says the Grand Duke Nicholas will probably visit Constantinople on Monday, and it is said that when the treaty of peace is signed will move his headquarters to Frakeri, within two miles of Pera.

The "Standard's" correspondent at Vienna states that the Austrian and British Ambassadors have been instructed to protest if the Russians enter Constantinople.

Excessive Use of Tobacco.—Lately we drew attention to the prevalent and injurious habit among the working youth of our community, of chewing tobacco, and gave the result of an inquiry of a medical committee, appointed in deference to the express wishes of the French Government, to enquire into the effects of tobacco upon the human system. The New York Correspondent of the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser, writing on the subject, says:—A case of my own intimate acquaintance has this very week appalled a large circle of friends in this city. The victim was exactly of my own years, and a companion of early boyhood. For thirty years, at least, he had been a daily smoker of the choicest cigars, but in all other habits temperate and regular, and of excellent constitution—one who of all men would laugh at the suggestion that tobacco was killing him. A week ago he was stricken with progressive paralysis characteristic of nicotine and he died. His death was one most painful.—Montreal Herald.

THE EFFECT OF THE SILVER BILL.—The bill as not amended, permits business men to make contracts in gold, or greenbacks, and to ignore silver altogether. Concerted action on the part of the business men of New York and the bankers of the country would drive silver out of circulation, in spite of the passage of the bill. In the second place, the Secretary of the Treasury is not obliged to coin more than $2,000,000 a month, and is not obliged to pay it out when coined. He can, if he chooses, simply permit the silver to accumulate or he can at his option pay it out and retire at the same time an equal quantity of greenbacks. The bill was intended to inflate the currency, but advocates have succeeded in making it only an additional help to resumption, if Secretary Sherman chooses so to regard it.

As the bill now stands, therefore, it may be made practically inoperative. Its effects on the public credit would, nevertheless, be bad. It would be a standing menace against foreign capital lists, and would probably stop permanently the refunding of the debt at four per cent. For these reasons the President should veto it. His nearest friends are quite confident that he will do so, and he quite do otherwise without deserting the ground which he took in his message in favor of honest money and honest payments of debts, whether public or private.

Massachusetts has established a new reformatory prison for women in Sherborn, and put it under the immediate control of women. The experiment is hotly discussed by Boston philanthropists, many of whom regard it as unwise. One of the writers favoring it mentions the success of the great prison for women in Woking, near London, the superintendent of which is Mrs. Gibson, "a lady of education and good family, quiet and unpretending in manner, but with power of wise control that had been exercised with so much success in smaller institutions, where she had worked from motives of charity, that this great prison was built on condition that she would take charge of it."

THE GREAT CAUSE OF HUMAN MISERY.

We have recently published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY of the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Insuperable Impediments to Marriage, etc. resulting from excesses.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents, or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author in this admirable Essay clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured, without the dangerous use of internal medicine, or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and man in the land.

A Joke that Kicked.

Some practical jokes act on the joker like a rusty gun. One night a smart young man, who lives in a certain city, found a toad hopping around in the garden, and thought it would be a capital joke to put it in the table-drawer and, let it hop out suddenly and frighten his wife. Before he closed the drawer he was called into an adjoining room, and forgot all about the toad, which, during the night, hopped out upon the floor, and, crawling into a vacant boot, passed a pleasant night in it. The next morning the household was horrified by shrieks of masculine distress, and an old woman on the other side of the street, going home from market, was knocked nearly senseless by a flying boot that came crashing through the front window. The smart man said this custom of playing practical jokes on people was as dangerous as it was foolish, and if he ever caught any body fooling around his boots again with toads, or anything else, he would teach them a salutary lesson.

One way you manage a dog that bounces off you by daylight, is to look sharp at him and tell him you will take care. Ten to one he's a coward, or so well trained as to mind a mastery order. Another way, that a friend was telling me just now, was the practical idea of one of our school boys, a 'mam's down South when a fierce hound sprang at her. She punched her steel armadillo down the dog's throat and let him run off with it. The plan has one objection—it costs a parolous every time. Another way for a person with some nerve, is to seize the dog that means to hurt you by the under jaw, with a stiff thumb under his tongue. He'll call for his pen and ink then, says my informant, and you may pound the breath out of him at your leisure, for there's no chance of his biting. If a dog jumps at your throat with open mouth, receive him by jamming your elbow with all the force you can master between his jaws, and forcing the blow upon the lower one; it is easily dislocated. Commit these things to memory, for we are keeping a good many imprudent dogs now to drown the noise of our neighbor's snoring.

CRUMBS OF COMFORT.—Erasche, toothache, headache, neuralgia and deafness, can be instantly relieved and finally cured by Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. Get a bottle and read directions.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure a cough in one-half the time necessary to cure it with any other medicine; and it does it, not by drying it up, but by removing the cause, subduing the irritation, and healing the af-
