LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson cameron writes: "I was confined to Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good.

THE QUEEN'S

Serious Result of the Bear Island Fight.

A Porce of Eighty U. S. Troops Annihilated.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 6.-Arthur P. Pegler, the staff correspondent of the Journal, wires at 8:30 this morning, from Walker, Minn.;

"The force of 80 men under Gen. Bacon have been annihilated. I do not know whether Inspector Tinker has more information than I have, but he sent word to the war department last night that the Third Infantry detachment had been wiped out.

"Either the troops have been driven inland, or there is not a man of them left. No answer from the signals of any kind was received, although we lay off on the whole length of the headland. To land was an impossibility in the dark, as the reinforcements from Brainerd have not arrived."

TRAPPED. St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 6.-The Globe's staff correspondent at Walker, Minn., telegraphs as follows: "Company B of the Third United States Infantry, commanded by Maj. Wilkinson, Lieut. Ross, and under charge of Gen. Bacon, was ambushed and trapped by the Pillager Indians, at Bear Island. The attack was a complete surprise to the troops, and on the first volley four of the men were stricken down. There were several Indians seen about the few log houses on the shore, but when the troops landed through the surf all but one disappeared in the woods. "On landing, the soldiers proceeded to the house in which Bog-Ahe-Mah-Go-Shik resides when at home, but the chief, who had threatened to kill the soldiers in case they should be sent after him, was not at home. Marshal Sheehan, however, found Mah-Quod, a Pillager Indian, who was one of 22 who rescued the Pillager chief some weeks ago, and placed him under arrest.

"Mah-Quod put up a desperate fight, although the company of soldiers were draw up in front of the place. It required the assistance of four soldiers to subdue the prisoner and put the handcuffs on him. After Mah-Quod had been placed in the bow of the steamer, the troops formed columns of two and marched around the penin-

REINFORCEMENTS. Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 6 .- A special train left Fort Snelling at 7:40 this morning, with Companies B, F and H. of the Third Infantry. It will be rushed to the front, but cannot reach Walker before 2 o'clock. There are 200 picked men in the detachment, and they have three days rations and abundance of ammunition. A gatling gun is part of the equipment.

A HUNDRED LIVES LOST

News From the Flooded Districts in Georgia More Serious.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 6.-News from the storm-stricken districts along the coast indicates that a hundred lives have been lost. News by way of a boat is that 50 people were drowned at Fernandina. From Campbell Island, inhabited by about 40 colored people, it is reported that all but three were drowned. At Brunswick four people lost their lives.

Martin Anderson, master of the steamer Hesse, from Darren, Ga., reports that 80 bodies have been found on Butler's Island. This runs up the total deaths from the late tidal wave to 100. Butler's Island was populated mostly by negroes.

SICKNESS IN THE SOUDAN

Disease and Death Among the Troops Increasing-German View of the Lancers' Charge.

London, Oct. 6. - A dispatch from Cairo says that sickness and death are increasing among the troops who have returned from the Soudan.

The London Telegraph's correspondent says he hears that Major Von Tiedemann, the German attache who accompanied the expedition, severely animadverts in his report to his government upon the conduct of the operations. He describes the tactics as bad, and says that the charge of the Twenty-first Lancers on the dervishes was folly.

CABLE NOTES.

Herr Birkner, a land owner, has presented to Emperor William an estate of 5,000 acres at Cadinen, West Prussia. There is a splendid manor house on the property, and the estate is well stocked with game.

It is rumored in interested circles that the Petersen-Tate shipbuilding firm at Newcastle, England, is again attempting to negotiate for the construction of the proposed line of fast steamers for Canada. No confirmation of the report, however, could be strain-

While Out Driving at Balmoral, Scotland.

The Royal Party Severely Shaken Up -Prince of Teck in Bad Health.

London, Oct. 6.-Queen Victoria, her daughter, the ex-Empress Frederick of Germany, and Princess Adolphe of Schaumburg-Lippe, had a narrow escape while driving at Balmoral, Scotland, on Monday. The horses of her Majesty's carriage bolted, and the coachman lost control of them, and serious accident was only averted by the horses turning into the woods, where the carriage strok between the trees. The members of the royal party were severely shaken and much alarmed, but were not injured. Grave reports are in circulation regarding the condition of the Duke of Teck. His health is said to be extremely bad, and there is much anxiety. None but relatives are permitted to see him at present.

Chinese Foreign Office Brought to Time.

Reported Death of the Chinese Emper or Officially Denied.

London, Oct. 6. - The Tsung Li Yamen has amply apologized for the assaults committed on Oct. 1 on the wife of the Italian minister and several Americans. Several regiments have been sent to Pekin to keep order. The scene of the attack on Saturday was inclosed by ropes, and eight offenders were pilloried into the enclosure. They wore heavy wooden collars, on which were the inscriptions "Punishment for Assaulting Europeans." Li Hung Chang has not yet returned to power, and there is a division of opinion among officials as to whether he will be reinstated. The Chinese legation at Paris publishes an official communication, formally denying all reports of the death of the Emperor of China.

Prince Henry of Prussia has been appointed to command the squadron ininterests at Pekin and elsewhere in China. The United States cruiser Boston and the gunboat Petrel, accompanied by the collier Nero, have gone to China. 50,000 NAVVIES

GO ON STRIKE For an Advance in Their Small Wages The Peace Commissioners in Council.

Paris, France, Oct. 6.-About 50,000 navvies are out on strike for an increase from 10c to 12c an hour for a day of eleven hours. Although it is stated that private contracts made with the city prevent any other tariff the fact that the works of the great exhibition are pressing leads to the belief that the contractors will give way.

The United States peace commission held its usual session yesterday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. The commissioners continued their conference with Major-General Merritt, and practically con-cluded an extended canvass of the Philippine situation. The members of the commission refused to disclose the views of Gen. Merrit: or Admiral Dewey in regard to the policy to be pursued towards the people of the Philippines.

MANY CHARGES

Progress of the East Lambton Election Trial.

Liberals Already Congratulating Mr. Pettypiece, the Sitting Member. on the Result

earnia, Oct. 6.-The trial of the East Lambton election petition began before Mr. Justice Osler and Mr. Justice Ferguson at the court house here Tuesday afternoon. The Conservative petitioners had formulated 57 charges against Mr. H. J. Pettypiece, the sitting member, and when court rose comparativesmall progress had been made. Mr. Pettypiece was represented by Mesers. A. B. Aylesworth, Q.C., and Mr. R. A. Grant, while Messrs. Wallace Nesbitt, W. D. McPherson, of Toronto, and W. E.Fitzgerald, of Watford, looked after the petitioner's case After argument by counsel, Mr. Nesbitt then added the name of John Adam Govenlock, of Bosanquet township, as joint petition-

In charges 9 and 10 it was sought to show that Allan Cameron and Robert Douglas, college students, of Toronto, had been induced to vote by being given railway tickets to Watford, but Mr. Justice Ferguson made the statement that the evidence of the two witnesses had not proved agency.

Charge 35 was to the effect that on election day. Samuel Dew, Forest, had been given a load of cordwood by Montague Smith. the president of the local Reform organization. Witness Dew swore that he had been seen by Mr. Pettyplece, who had canvassed him on the morning of election day. Mr. Montague Smith had also canvassed

"Did you get a load of wood that day?" asked Mr. Nesbitt.
"Mr. Hillock delivered a walf-cord to me; I bought it from Mr. Smith a litwhile after I voted."

"Have you paid him yet?" demanded "I was to pay him in work, and am ready to pay him when he asks me to. He generally has me in the fall to cut and split wood for him," answered Decision on this charge was re-

WEDNESDAY'S SITTING.

As thickly as the leaves on the trees outside the court house swirled down to the sward this windy day, have fallen the charges in the election petition against H. J. Pettypiece, M. P. P. for East Lambton. Messrs. Nesbitt and McPherson, without attempting to justify them, abandoned seventeen cases at yesterday's sitting of the court, and after more or less show of trying to prove thirteen others, they, too, were crossed off the list of particular. ticulars. One case has been reserved for judgment, that in which Mr. Montague Smith is alleged to have given Samuel Dew, of Forest, a load of wood, when Dew was out of work and in actual want. Four cases remain to be heard today and the remainder will be abandoned. In Liberal circles there is much satisfaction at the evident col-lapse of a case, which, if report be true, would never have been gone on with if the same counsel had been congerned in it for the petitioner as now have charge of it. Mr. Pettypiece is receiving many congratulations, which are mingled with expressions of regret that Mr. Montague Smith, who was his member's right-hand man in the election, had been deprived of a much-needed holiday by the bringing on of the case. Mr. Montague Smith was spending a few weeks in the North-west, and, although the Conservatives did not subpoena him, he voluntarily opponents of the sitting member might ask him. The petitioner's counsel will not put Mr. Smith in the box, so that all he will get as a reward for his selfdenial will be the consciousnes that every man in Lambton, Liberal or Conservative, must know that he is ready at all times to give any information asked concerning the contest of March

Mr. McPherson asked that he be allowed to add a charge against William Douglass of having promised his

Quality and Price Govern the Demand -Growth of Our Perishable Food Exports.

Extract from report of commissioner of agriculture:

The activity and extent of the demand for perishable food products de-pends very largely upon the excel-lence of the quality and relative highness or cheapness of price. I am in-formed by retail merchants that when a family uses fresh-made creamery butter during the winter, the total quantity of butter consumed is more than twice larger than when the same family purchased only a good quality of autumn-made butter held over during the winter, as it used to be, in cellars and other unsuitable places When Canadian creamery butter, Canadian turkeys, Canadian tender fruits and Canadian eggs are delivered in Great Britain through the use of cold storage conveniences in a perfectly preserved condition, the increased de-mand which they will create for themselves will more than equal the capacity of the Canadian farmers to increase the production of these things. It is to be hoped also that by that means a large class of consumers of relatively high priced foods will pre-fer Canadian products to all others, and thus there will be returned to Canada a fair proportion of the price paid by the wealthy classes there for very dainty products. Then such pres servation of the quality of products will lead to such increased production that there will be a very rapid and great extension of the export trade. As an instance of what has already resulted largely from the cold storage service, which was provided in even a primitive way on steamships for the season of 1895, it may be cited that the total exports of butter from Montreal during the season of navigation have been as follows:

1894 32,055 packages 1895 63,664 packages 1897..... 220,200 packages

Another instance may be cited. In the autumn of 1897, a shipper of apples from Western Ontario divided a lot of 592 barrels into two shipments: journeyed 1,500 miles in order that he of the same varieties, of the same sort might be present to give categorical and all packed in the same way at the same time. One shipment of 267 barrels was forwarded in cold storage; they were reported to be landed all in good condition, and were sold at 18 shillings per barrel. The other part of the lot containing 325 barrels was sent without cold storage; 205 barrels of them were reported as landing in a slack or wet condition. The whole lot was sold at an average of 8 shillings per barrel. In the former case when the apples were sent in cold storage, none of them were reported as arthe law he could pay the expenses of latter case no less than 63 per cent riving slack or wet, whereas in the

Mass of Good Reading From Our Brightest Current Periodicals-Every Topic of Interest.

THE OUTLOOK.

Mr. Joseph Conrad is known to most novel readers as the writer of the extraordinary study of sea life called "The Children of the Sea"-a book which has both imaginative and realistic qualities of the highest. The same qualities are found in the curious and fascinating story called "Youth: A Narrative," which appears entire in The Outlook's Magazine Num-Outlook's Magazine Number for October. $3 a year. THE CANADIAN MAGAZINE.

Rather lighter than usual is the verdict which a reader is likely to give after cutting the leaves of the October "Canadian Magazine." The lightness is due to short stories and photographs in abundance. Among the heavier articles is one by Principal Grant, on "Newfoundland and Canada" in which he advented the ada," in which he advocates the confederation of Newfoundland and the extension to her of more liberal terms on the part of Canada. S. T. Wood, of the Toronto Globe, writes on "Social Amelioration," or the difference between doing good and doing right. R. W. Shannon has a short article on "Misquotation": J. Macdonald Oxley reviews Mt. Lighthall's new novel; and John A. Wan summarizes in his bruliant style the foreign events of the month Among the illustrated articles is one on "Rowing in Canada," which will please all lovers of sport, another on "Recent Premiers of Newfoundland," and the last of Sir John G. Bourinot's articles on the "Makers of Canada." This latter contains three splendid illustrations of the monuments at Ottawa to Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir George Cartier, and ta: one at Toronto to the Hon. George Brown. some amateur photographs showing scenes on the outskirts of Toronto; and photographs of all the provincial legislative buildings.

THE LIVING AGE.

With the first number for October, the Living Age, the weekly eclectic magazine which for more than 50 years has been a favorite with American readers, begins a new series and appears in a new and attractive dress, suggesting the Atlantic Monthly in the clear legibility of its page. The familiar cover is to be retained, but it has been newly engraved, and otherwise modernized.

McCLURE'S MAGAZINE.

Our fellow-citizen, Cy Warman, has one of his racy short stories in Mc-Clure's Magazine for October. Mr. Stephen Bonsal, in an article in the same magazine entitled "The Fight for Santiago," describes the campaign as it affected the American soldier, writing ence; while for the experience of the panic-stricken and half-starving people shut up in the city of Santiago we from his own observation and experiple shut up in the city of Santiago we have a very remarkable diary kept by the British consul at Santiago, who w all the time in the closest relations with the Spanish authorities, and was expending, as it later proved, his very life in relieving the general suffering.

EV'RY MONTH. Within the new and improved cover of Ev'ry Month, we find the usual departments; "Interesting Women" and "Men of the Month." Under the latter is the best collection of portraits and the most succinct summary of the American peace commission that we have as yet seen, together with photographs and biographical notes of M. Cambon, the signer of the peace protocol: Hon. John Hay, the new secretary of state, and George N. Curzon, the recently ap-pointed viceroy of India. Lovers of handsome women will appreciate the illustrations of Maxine Elliott; Attalie Claire and Ethel Barrymore, which appear in this number. An excellent descriptive article of the coronation of Queen Withelmina by an eye-witness, under the apt title of "Little Holland's Great Celebration," is profusely illustrated; this is followed by "Dog Miniatures on Ivory," with examples of the artist's work and an account of her methods. There are other charming features, literary and musical.

TABLE TALK. For reliable and new recipes-for a cursory and condensed outline of the many interests of the woman of today, read Table Talk. The September number gives in the usual departments, menus, decorations and suggestions for the dining-room and kitchen-fashions, entertainments, and so forth, to aid the entertainments, and so forth, to aid the hostess: and among its leading articles are "Amateur Illustration," by Mrs. Burton Kingsland; "Treasure Trove," by Martha Bockee Flint; "The Dollar Luncheon," by Grace Y. Kew; "Below Stairs," by Minna C. Hale; "Catalina Sea Food," by Isabel B. Winslow, and an article on books by Miss Mary Lloyd. Truly, the home-maker should not be without it. A Ample copy may not be without it. A sample copy may be secured free by our readers if they send their name and address to the Table Talk Publishing Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

ST. NICHOLAS.

The October number of St. Nicholas opens with two articles on Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, both of them illustrated from photographs. The articles are written by Annie C. Kniper and Jeannette May Fisher, and contain many pretty stories about the merry girl-queen. "Under the Sea" is a paper about diving, and the perlip and experiences that divers meet convilued. per about diving, and the perus and ex-periences that divers meet, contributed by James Cassidy. Charles F. W. Mie-latz gives "A Boy's Recollectens of the Great Chicago Fire," vividly re-called despite the lapse of years. Sev-eral times the author was almost hem-med in by the much of dames Gustav. med in by the rush of flames. Gustav Kobbe writes of "Battling with Wrecks and Derelicts," those constant menaces to navigation. Appropriately following this is a story of the West Indies, "The Triton's Chase of a Derelict," by Kate Upson Clark, telling how an enterprising boy picked up a rich prize.

FRANK LESLIE'S POPULAR

MONTHLY. Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for October is an admirable example of a seasonable and up-to-date illustrated family periodical. Its leading article is "The Rank and File of the Navy," by Joseph C.Groff, supplemented by Lieut. Hobson's spirited words in praise of the "Jackies." "The Last Days of Bismarck" are interestingly described Chronic Eczema Cured.

One of the most chronic cases of Eczema ever cured is the case of Miss Gracie Ella Aiton, of Hartland, N. B. On a sworn statement, Mr. Aiton says: "I hereby certify that my daughter, Gracie Ella, was cured of Eczema of long standing by using four boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment." William Thistle, druggist, of Hartland, also certifies that he sold four boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment, which cured Gracie Ella.

PERMANENT CURE

Burdock Blood Bitters Cured Mrs. C. Allard Eight Years ago, and she has had no Return of the Disease Since.

From the tortures of Rheumatism who would not give his all to get release, even though it were temporary. But when, for a small outlay, not only temporary but permanent relief can positively be procured through the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, who need endure the agony of this terrible disease.

The case of Mrs. C. Allard, of Pembroke, Ont., is another of those instances, some of which we are publishing from time to time, where B.B.B. not only gave relief for the time being, but made a cure so lasting that after eight years there has been no return of the disease.

This is the letter written by Mrs. Allard, Jan. 16th, 1894:

"About three years ago I was troubled with Rheumatism in my arm and shoulder, and a queer, sleepy feeling in my arms so that they pained me a great deal at night.

'I tried different doctors and a good many remedies, but found no relief. I was advised by a lady friend to try B. B. B., and after using one bottle I felt so much better that I continued using it until I had taken in all three bottles, when I was completely cured. "B. B. B. I consider a splendid remedy, and I cannot speak of it

(MRS.) C. ALLARD.

This letter was received July 6th, 1898:

"Since I was cured by Burdock Blood Bitters some eight years ago I have never felt any pains or aches in my arm or shoulder. I still have the same confidence in B.B.B. now that I had then. It gave me so much relief and made such an effectual cure that I never fail to (MRS.) C. ALLARD.

POULTRY POINTS

An English Authority Gives Some Information-The Advantage of Marking the Birds.

From an article by Mr. Edward Brown, F.L.S., a renowned author and authority on poultry matters in Great Britain, I condense the follow-

Fowls should be killed off after they have completed their second year. Birds may be marked so as to be easily distinguished, by putting a ring on one leg when they are pullets.
The best time is when the pullets are from five to six months old.

A round India rubber ring such as those used for umbrellas, or a ring of copper or any soft flexible metal, is The ring should be put on to fit fair-ly close, but not tight enough to injure

An examination should be made of

In order to distinguish between the fowls one year and two years old, it is a good plan to put the rings on the left legs only in one year, and the rings on the right legs only next year and so on in the alternate years. If the rings are put on the right legs in 1898, then all hens in the flock with rings on the right legs will be ready for killing in 1900. If the rings are put on the left legs in the autumn of 1899, then those hens will be ready for kill-ing in the autumn of 1901. It is desirable that a written record should be made of the facts, as the memory is apt to be faulty. The advantage to the poultry keeper from marking the fowls, far more than compensates for the trouble which is involved .- Prof. Robertson.

CLEANING THE UTENSILS. In the washing of churns and all other vessels for milk or cream, they should first be rinsed with cold or te-pid water. The addition of washing soda, or a small quantity of borax to the water, will increase its cleansing properties. They should then be washed with warm water, and scalded with water "boiling hot." The use of a brush for the cleansing of dairy utensils is much preferable to the use of a dishcloth.

All wooden utensils and vescels should be scalded, cooled and dipped every fowl a fortnight after the ring into cold water before they are used. Small wooden utensils should be kept floating or immersed in cold water. Where closed drains flow from a dairy or creamery, they should be flushed out occasionally with a solution of crude carbolic acid followed by hot water.-Prof. Robertson.

CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE. The Pillager and other neighboring Indians of the White Earth reservation, claim to have many reasons for their outbreak, although the direct trouble with the Pillagers comes over attempts to bring in some of the Indians to the United States court at Duluth in connection with liquor selling cases.

The grievances go back through many years, and there had been legislative and other attempts to settle them, one of the latest being the Nelson law, regarding the sale of the tim-ber on the Indian lands. However, the Indians claimed that the method of disposing of this was both cumbersome and expensive, and that they were the sufferers.

In regard to serving as witnesses in illegal liquor selling cases, they claimed that the deputy marshals left them to find their own way home from Duluth without having paid them the proper mileage. This is denied by the The death occurred on Friday last Anthony Crane. Deceased, who was in

We suppose the reason lies in eel-ing—which the modern, manly minister has discarded-but which another sort troller, know that it cannot be bought has not yet outgrown; namely, that laymen are a sort of inferior beings. Who must be content to be hectored, lectured, innuendoed, and traduced, even, but who must not venture to give reply to any one dressed in the brief authority of a white neck-tie. Thank heaven the laymen of today are sufficiently intelligent to see a difference between the authority of a Thus saith the Lord, and of a Thus saith

We do not quite understand our assailant's allusion to The Advertiser as having "yielded to the seduction of the iniquitous, unscrupulous, and tyrannous liquor traffic," etc. At the outset of the plebiscit campaign throughout the Dominion, a statement was sent abroad, that as many newspapers money payment, to oppose prohibition. If our antagonist, "willing to wound, yet afraid to strike," desires to insinuate something that he is afraid openly to affirm, namely, that The Advertiser-which gave an average of two letters for, to one letter against, prohibition-published the letters against prohibition, not with the view of giving received money for so doing, we here and now brand any such statement, or ple.' insinuation, in so far as it applies to The Advertiser as a slander pure and

The hectoring language heaped upon at the beck of certain cliques of exsome arrogantly set up as orthodoxy in temperance work and belief. This attitude of all or nothing, reminds one of the story of the mendicant who used to wait at a stile for a gentleman from whom he always received a shilling. One day the expectant got only a sixpence, whereupon the gentleman received a volley of abuse. What had been previously given had been accepted without gratitude, and had now come to be regarded as something to be demanded as of right,

Mr. Smith wants to know what it is that has modified The Advertiser's position. Probably the same reasons that have modified the position of the Christian people of Canada as a whole, as shown in a plebiscit which, as compared with the previous plebiscit, gives a largely reduced majority in every province, and throughout the Dominion; and which in our Province of Ontario reduced the former plebiscit majority of 81,740 down to 17,582, a plebiscit n which, with splendid weather and good roads, barely 25 per cent of the possible vote pro and con was polled.

Though at first sight this may look like a reaction against temperance views, per se, we do not think any such conclusion can be justly drawn. Doubtless there are many, like The Advertiser, strongly impressed with the view that any attempt to enact and work a prohibitory law, without a measurably unanimous population behind it, would be, from the standpoint of the temperance movement, not only senseless, but suicidal.

We are inclined to think the chief factor in the greatly reduced majority, n Ontario, at all events, has grown out a feeling of impatience, if not disust, with the style of management of me of those who have elbowed themelves, uninvited, to the front, to the rest disadvantage of the cause. "Oh, maybe," said editor at a general meeting of the shareholders, that his whole policy had been to knife and destroy the Government of Ontario. One has but to look back, and remember how Sir Oliver Mowat-who, on the whole, did more for the temperance cause, by statutory enactment, from legislature to legislature, than any other British statesman who has ever lived-during his whole career received from certain quarters barely a word of thanks or have prevailed. Hence the composite gratitude; but instead, a constant succession of Templar attacks and un-

Against Expansion.

The Republican party in the United States has been looked on as the party of expansion, but it is not unanimous, by any means. The Imperialists say they want more territory, because it will bring more foreign trade; but the Republican party is the party of all the great protected and monopolistic interests, which do not want foreign trade, except in one direction-the outward. The San Francisco Bulletin expresses their views as follows: "There are 700,000,000 of people facing the eastern shore of the Pacific as possible were to be induced, through Ocean whose wages range from 10 money payment to oppose prohibition. cents to 25 cents a day. These people may be taught to work as operatives in mills owned by British, American, French or German capitalists. Under a policy of free trade or of low tariff they would flood the United States with goods at from one-half to one-fourth the present cost. The ships that would steam across the Pacific Ocean with this cheap freight would not bring prosperity to this country. Such a trade would improve the coneach side a hearing, but because it had dition of the 700,000,000 Orientals, but at the expense of the American peo-

The Excess of Bachelors.

The United States Government has issued an odd publication, giving the number of unmarried people of both sexes in every state of the union. It contains a map printed in colors indicating where each preponderates. It should be a valuable matrimonial agency. Women may tell at a glance where their own sex is a drug on the market, and by judicious migration to areas where bachelorhood is densest, may equalize matters as far as possible, and facilitate the working of the law of supply and demand. These statistics point out that in the United States there are 5,427,767 bachelors and 3,224,494 spinsters, over 20 years of age. The states show great variations. The bachelors outnumber the unattached maidens in all of them, though the sexes are more nearly equal in the north and east than the south and west. The excess of single men in the Northern and Eastern States ranges from two-tenths of 1 per cent in Massachusetts-the banner state for spinsters-to 54 per cent in Maine. In Idaho there are 14,974 men over 20 years of age, and only 1,412 women. In Arizona there are 13,626 bachelors and only 1,321 available maidens. In Montana, Washington, Nevada and New Mexico the proportions are about the same. While the cheap railway

"We can have no commercial reciprocity, with an English-speaking nation at least, which does not hit some of the protected classes, and every time it is proposed to remove obstacles to a freer trade between ourselves and our Canadian neighbors we may expect a tremendous howl of opposition from these beneficiaries. Our rapidly expanding capacity of production, however, is forcing us to look for markets beyond the national boundary, and the 'open-door' theory and the commercial expansion doctrine are becoming popular in proportion as the interests of our foreign commerce are increasing. There is a chance to apply these beneficent principles right at our own door, if our commissioners at the Quebec convention can rise above the selfishness of one-sided reciprocity, and work for the common good of the people.

The World's Hop Crop. The National Association of English Hop Growers have issued the following report, dated London, Sept. 12, which states: The world's crop may thus be assumed to be as under: England, 350,000 cwt; European continent, 350,000 cwt; Canada, Australia, etc.

720,000 cwt; United States of America, (perhaps), 10,000 cwt. Total crop of the world, 1,430,000 cwt. The world's consumption is variously estimated from 1,650,000 to 1,845,000 cwt. Taking the mean of these figures we arrive at about 1,750,000 cwt as the approximate annual requirement, and this shows that a deficiency of fully 300,000 cwt has to be provided for in the present year. Stocks in hand cannot be drawn apon to any extent, as they are considered to be lower than at any time since the famine year of 1882 therefore they will not appreciably affect

Triumphs Over the Complicated Disease of the Liver and Kidneys—More Words of Praise for the Grand Old Doctor.

Kidney Disease.

Mr. Amos Carter, Melbourne, Ont. writes: "I was for over six months troubled with very sharp pains in the region of my kidneys, the spasme lasting for half an hour at a time and left me with great aching soreness and pain. I tried many remedies, but they did me no good. I commenced taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills according to directions. I had not much faith that they would cure me, but after taking but one pill I noticed a change for the better. It may seem incredible, but after taking the second pill the pains all left me entirely, and I have not had them since.' Mr. W. D. Wilson, Center street, London, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with frequent urine discharges, accompanied by scalding rensations. was induced to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and found them work like a charm. I had tried many remedies without any benefit. I can now sleep all night without inconvience."

SCIENTIFIC CONGRESSES

Result in Benefit to canada-rne Anglo-American Unity Idea.

The Globe of yesterday has an interview with Prof. A. B. McCallum, brother of Dr. H. A. McCallum, of this city, giving at some length his impressions formed while attending three scientific congresses—the British As-sociation at Edinburgh, the International Physiological Association at Cambridge, and the British Association at Bristol. An especially large number of Canadians attended the latter meeting, which was the most important from a general point, said the pro-fessor. The Toronto meeting last year, he found, had been an excellent means of making Canada better known throughout the British Isles.

As to the Anglo-American alliance, Prof. McCallum said: "On all hands I was asked as to the Canadian view of the present feeling of sympathy evinced by the Americans for England, whether it was genuine, and how long it would last, It is extraordinary among a certain class in England how strong the desire is for an alliance or some thorough understanding on points which affect the future of both nations." This eagerness, the professor thinks, is on the verge of the undignified, and is certain to be misunderstood in the United States. In many quarters he noticed the feeling that the United States are not equipped for a policy of expansion. Their diplomatic service is looked upon as the worst in the world, and Englishmen think there is great need of reform in American

OLD IN CRIME

Wm. Chisholm the Well-Known Horse-Thief in Jail at Woodstock Aged About 80 Years.

William Chisholm, who is well-known throughout Ontario as one of the worst old men who ever lived, is now in Woodstock jail. Chisholm is nearly 80 years of age, and all his life has been a horse thief. He has been sent from London several times to serve terms in Kingston and in the Central at Toronto. Just how the old man gets around is what astonishes the police authorities. The last time he was here, about two months ago, he was so decrepit that he was moved with difficulty, and was sent down for a short period for vagrancy. Chisholm, in his way, is a veritable "Fagan," and is most happy when in company with those of the "Bill Sykes" character. Chisholm wandered to Tilsonburg last week and was arrested by Chief Pow. Referring to his arrest the Woodstrek Sentinel-Review says: "A few days ago Chief Pow, of Tilsonburg, brought an old man named Chisholm, as a vagrant, without means of support, to Woodstock jail. The career of the old man is a pitiful ending to a life of crime. He was a notorious horse thief, and belonged to an organized gang that was in existence many years ago. He has spent the greater part of his life in prison. A few weeks ago he was provided with funds to go to the States, but was arrested at Jackson, Mich., and sent back last week. He has been wandering about in a pitiful condition, and on Saturday was in a state of helpless filth. Hospital Building Committee Will Stick to Their Plans.

While the Money Lasts the Work Will Go On -The Necessary Balance Lies in the County Treasury—Ald. Jolly's Attempt to Renew Negotiations Frustrated.

While the money holds out the hospital building committee will follow strictly the plan of the new building, as already begun. Chairman Carrothers wanted the plans altered, but his motion to that effect, as referred from the council, was discussed by the committee last night, and defeated. The motion was that the present contagious diseases' building be not taken down at present, and the erection of the new pavilion for males postponed until the committee has secured the necessary funds to complete the building. In opposition to this, the mayor elicited from Clerk of the Works Dodd that by such a course a saving of not more than $3,000 would be effected.

The mayor and Dr. Campbell agreed as medical men that the proposed change would materially interfere with the classification of the patients, and be most objectionable.

Ald. McPhillips gave legal advice that the city would be liable to the contractors for the specific performance of the contract; therefore, he was opposed to the chairman's motion. Ald. Wilkey's only objection was that the financial position would be very little bettered.

Ald. Jolly had a solution to offer also. There was $15,000 in the county council's treasury, he said, which the city might have been in possession of before now; only some of the aldermen chose to go against the interests of the city, and refused to negotiate with the

The chairman and the speaker locked horns on this subject, and some warm words passed.

Ald. Wilkey thought Ald. Carrothers "too short," and Ald, Jolly said if he (the chairman) knew all about it there was no use of the others saying anything. The county was acting just as the city would do, if in the same position.

Ald. Jolly moved that clause four in the proposed agreement with the county be amended to read as follows: 'The gross charge to the county for their patients, including admittance, maintenance and treatment to be the actual cost after crediting the county with the government grant of 30 cents per patient per day; and that, should the actual cost of maintenance, exclusive of the government grant, be more than 75 cents, the county to have the privilege to cancel this agreement by giving six months' notice; and that, should the grant from the government be withdrawn, the city should have the same privilege of canceling the agree-

This was ruled out of order, and Ald. Jolly appealed. The chairman was sustained by Ald. Gerry's vote. Ald. Wilkey refused to vote, and Ald. McPhillips stood by Ald. Jolly.

A complaint from the clerk of the works about some of the plastering done by Contractors Pritchett and Murray Bros. in the contagious diseases' building was considered. It is special work, and the contractors refused to follow the specifications.
"It is so bad," said Ald. Carrothers,

"that if a man went in there with the measles, he would come out with the smallpox."

Ald. McPhillips said someone should be engaged to do the work properly if the present contractors persisted in their refusal.

Ald. Carrothers said they should cancel the contract if the work is not done to the satisfaction of the architect. It was decided on motion of Ald. Wilkey to visit the hospital this morning at nine o'clock and decide what course to take.

FINE ART SALE TONIGHT

Collection of Genuine Pictures Ever Offered in London.

The Carroll collection of paintings to be sold by auction at Jones' rooms this evening contains some remarkably fine works by standard artists of the present day, many of them recognized masters in the old world. Unfortunately, the sale of objects d'art often proves a tempting field for unscrupulous persons to exploit, and before now many of London's citizens have been badly victimized by gentlemen (?) hailing from a distance, whose main qualifications are usually a nimble tongue. Purchasers of pictures can never exercise too great care or caution in establishing the value and authenticity of the works they buy. In this respect the Carroll collection is unquestioned. Every picture is known to be (and is guaranteed) the actual production of the artist represented, whose names can be seen in the various catalogues of British and continental art exhibitions. The sale is at 8 o'clock this evening, without reserve. **

Mr. Sanial's Lecture-Correc tion.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

We notice in Tuesday's issue of The Advertiser, in the report of the lecture delivered by Lucien Sanial in the Music Hall on Monday night, several mistakes, which you, having a sense of fair play, will no doubt take as much pleasure in correcting as we shall in seeing corrected. First, the article says, there were about "150 ladies and gentlemen present," whereas by actual count they numbered over 600. Again, it says that "Mr. Saniel is the great representative of the Social Labor Party of America," whereas we understand that he is simply one of many great exponents of the principles of the International Socialist Labor Party in America. In speaking of the votes polled in Germany at the last election, it says there were 800,000, while it should read 2,120,000, and in "France, out of 29 seats, the Socialists carried 24," should read, "in Paris, out of 29 seats, the Socialists carried 24." TO MOVE A CITY

It Doesn't Bother the Japanese a Bit

"Mr. W. E. Curtis, the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record, writes this week," says The Railway and Engineering Review, "of a scheme of the Japanese Government, ordering the destruction of the city of Teckcham, Formosa, and the removal of all its inhabitants to a new location. The city is situated on the northwest coast of the island, and been frequently subject to pestilence. In 1896 and 1897 plagues visited Teckcham with enormous fatality. This fact being called to the attention of the government an investigation was ordered by sanitary experts, who reported that the city was built upon a swamp, whereupon an order was issued to the governor to select a new location as convenient to the old one as possible, where natural conditions were healthful. A new city was laid out and each property-holder in the old one was assigned a site that corresponded in area with that he occupied in Teckcham, and was given twelve months to remove his buildings and belongings. Sewers, railroads and sidewalks, public buildings, waterworks and all other public improvements were laid out by out expense to the people, but they were required to pay the cost of the removal of their own property. Most of the houses and other buildings in Teckcham are built of very light

REV. IRA SMITH

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Your editorial in last Saturday's issue of The Advertiser, entitled "After the Battle," goes to show that some-one was hurt. The style of that article, and the virtual announcement that The Advertiser had abandoned its ancient prohibition principles compel one to say, "How are the mighty fallen!" That the management of the paper should be pleased with my remarks at the Auditorium meeting was not to be expected; but that they should have called forth the most violently abusive diatribe that has appeared in your columns for many a to have been swept away in a tornado

Now, forgetting whether this prohi-bition campaign was mismanaged or in his mental grasp, or anything else about him," or not; whether ministers

I never received nor expected thanks.

But why should that paper object to me doing what is the right of all its patrons, namely, expressing my discase? If my remarks are untrue or unwarranted, or misrepresenting, I must not be surprised if I am taken

NOT LOVED,

They were, then, to meet again. How her heart beat with joy. Informing Jeames that there was no answer, she sat down and reflected upon her great delight. Of course she ought to go. She loved Lucille too fondly to refuse her; besides, there could be no fear of Lord Cecil after all this time—over two years. Also Lucille was no longer at Belgrave Square. She was a wife, and, for her family's sake, would keep, the secret of the Italian's residence from her cousin. Who can estimate the priceless joy kind word or expressed thought brings to the friendless, but those who have experienced it? Never had Maria felt so happy. The knowledge that Lucille yet held her in affection filled her with a pleasant rapture, and her expression brighter, her step lighter than it had been since leaving Lady Westbrook's, she proceeded, the telegram in her hand, to Mrs. Mannering's boudoir. That lady was in rather an illhumor, if that deserved the term which was as different to the real thing as electro to silver. Mrs. Mannering's placid, easy, equable good-nature was incapable of bad humor. Yet it was very provoking that poor Miss Langshould be so suddenly indisposed, and, owing to private family matters, had had to giving warning. "And we were getting on so nicely altogether, that we were," she said. "I really considered myself blessed in the possession of so excellent a governess for Cassandra, and so skillful a lady's-maid. Now I suppose I may get someone who'll throw all things topsy-turvey, and whom Cassandra won't Yet, of course, if the poor thing's ill, and she really looks so, and worried, too, it can't be helped."

Mrs. Mannering was sighing over this very matter with her daughters, when Maria, after knocking, entered to prefer her request.

You want to go out for an hour or so this afternoon, signora?" said the lady. "Well, it's such a wonder, that it is, for you to ask for a holiday, that I couldn't find it in my heart to refuse you, even if you didn't promise to be back in time to dress us for dinner, and my son does certainly bring a friend home to dine this evening. Only, for goodness sake now, don't you get ill, or want to leave us, like Miss Lang-

"It is not very likely, madam," smiled Maria. "I thank you very much for your permission. I shall not be long away, for I am only going to see a lady to whom I once was lady'smaid, c rather, companion, for so she treat d me. This telegram is from her. Lady Westbrook says she will send a carriage for me at two."

"Lady Westbrook! You don't mean the present Countess of Lethrington?"

Mrs. Mannering ejaculated. "The same," answered Maria, smiling at the reverential awe suddenly present in tone and manner. "Her ladyship was very kind to me, and now she Wishes much that I should visit her."

"Why ever, my dear signorer, didn't you say this before?" exclaimed the lady, too natural to hide her rever-"You may take the whole day if you like-that is, if her ladyship desires it.

Thanks, very much, madam; but I shall not require so long a time," re-joined Maria, as she passed from the room, looking in the eyes of two of the ladies as if a nimbus shone abou the refraction of the ethereal light of noble patronage. "Maria Saproni, a lady's-maid, and a countess calling upon her! Non-sense!" exclaimed Cass. "I tell you, mamma, she is a princess in disguise -isn't she, Hector?" addressing her brother, who entered at the moment. "If she be, I'll marry her royal high-ess," he laughed. "Mamma, here, would not object.' "Ah," retorted Cass, roguishly, "but it's my opinion the princess would. To such an agreement the consent of two parties is required; and I think the signora's monosyllable would be 'No.' Hector shall not find in her a Helen. Come, Miss Cass, be more deferential to your superiors. Go to the nursery and learn manners by dinnertime, or you shall not join that meal and set you cap at Captain Selwyn." "Set your cap at!' Servant-girl language again, Hector. Your captain is safe from me; I pass him over to Honoria. I don't like widowers." Who said he was a widower, Miss Saucebox?

"You said you thought he had been married, but he was not now. not that come to much the same thing, you wise Edipus?" exclaimed Cass, firing a last shot as she quitted the

At two precisely a neat brougham stopped at Mrs. Mannering's, and Maria, entering it, was driven off. In scarcely half an hour's space it halted, and to the Italian's surprise she found it was before a large house having the appearance of a private family hotel. The sight of a respectable water attired in black, standing at the door, confirmed the supposition. Why had not the countess received her at her own residence? Perhaps there had been some mistake. She was on the point of questioning the footman who had opened the door for her to alight, when the waiter, advancing, remarked, civilly: "Signora Saproni, I believe. The Mine arose from a telegram purporting to come from your cousin, Lady Westbrook; I say purporting, my lord, for I begin to suspect I have been the dupe of a deception as base as cowardly."

"Signora, hear me," he pleaded. "Yes, my lord, for you to inform me where is your cousin. I demand to learn if the Countess of Lethrington cognizant of this assignation? Cecil, humbled, abashed, could not meet her glance. His hands worked nervously on the chair-back he had grasped; his head was bowed his cheek pale; he quivered at each word as if it had been a lash.

"It is, then, as I suspected," remarked Maria, with frigid contempt, after Cecil had made one or two ineffectual efforts to speak. "My lord," she added, passionately, "how dare you to insult me? What has there been in my conduct to give you the right? Until this moment I regarded you with respect; I feel now only the bitterest, most genuine scorn." Lord Carisford, stung to the quick, made a hasty movement intended to exculpate his conduct. Maria, who had prepared to cross to the door, mistaking the action, exclaimed:

"Stand aside, my lord, or am I to

"No, my lord. As yet no disgrace rests upon me for being here; there will be if I remain willingly a moment longer in your presence. If you prevent my egress I will summon help; I declare the cowardly trick that has been played upon me, and seek protection. No doubt you have already disgraced me in these people's eyes, but, at least, I demand the privilege of proclaiming my innocence." She stepped nearer. The movement aroused Lord Cecil.

Darting forward he caught her wrist, not roughly, but gently and with respect. She would have plucked herself free, but the pallor and passionate agitation of his features held her a space motionless. "By heaven, signora," he exclaimed, "you wrong me cruelly-most cruelly and unjustly. That I am to blame, I confess, but not as you imagine. In pity, hear me. Do not fear, for I have taken every precaution that not the slightest slur shall rest upon your name. Signora, how is it likely that I would do otherwise? How could I insult you?-I who value your honor even more highly than my own."

"Would have written you before now, but thought I would wait until I got entirely well," writes Mrs. Mary Tibbs, of Hitchcock, Galveston Co., Tex. "Now I am pleased to say that I am sound and well. I have been using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' We think your medicines the best in the world. I was troubled with female weakness, headaches, cold feet and hands, a disagreeable drain and general weakness; was exceedingly nervous, had poor appetite, constipation, distress in the stomach, too much flow, falling of internal organs, of two years' standing. Three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' completely restored my health."

Constipation and biliousness are nasty, Constipation and biliousness are nasty, nagging disorders that keep a man or woman dull and miserable. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a sure, speedy, permanent cure. One little 'Pellet' is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. Dealers sell them. Nothing is "just as good."

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF is safe, re-liable and effectual because of the stimulating action which it exerts over the nerves and vital powers of the body, adding tone to the one and powers of the body, adding tone to the one and inciting to renewed and increased vigor the slumbering vitality of the physical structure, and through this healthful stimulation and in increased action the cause of the PAIN is driven away and a natural condition restored. It is thus that the READY RELIEF is so admirably adapted for the CURE OF PAIN and without the risk of injury which is sure to result from the use of many of the so-called pain remedies of the day.

It Is Highly Important that every family keep a supply of RADWAY'S

ed-did The Advertiser intimate to the public its change of policy, dithe hostile flag, and train its guns upon its former comrades. Until that was done, until it had announced its change of allegiance, had not its patrons a right to expect it would be true to its old professions? And when it forsook and fell below its own standards, had we not the right to charge it with the weakness of vaccillation? Had we not a right to assume that it had yielded to the seductions of the iniquitous, unscrupulous and tyrannous liquor traffic which trades and grows fat upon the weaknesses of men, which seeks to shackle the press, and which, if we do not take good heed, will bind the country to its chariot wheels?

Do you wonder, sir, at our chagrin, disappointment and shame, at our indignation at what we regard as an act of perfidy and folly? I do not think I have been guilty of misrepresentation. I cannot help the facts; they were not of my creation.

The Advertiser has a right to change its policy as often as it pleases; but that change should have been announced before the day after the polling. However that came about, it was the worst and weakest feature of the whole affair.

Happily for the cause of prohibition, the Toronto Globe and Montreal Witness, two of the ablest and cleanest journals in all Canada, and both of the Reform party, are with us in this great movement. As a very insignificant friend of prohibition, if my word were of any value, however little, I should like, for Canada's sake, for right's sake, for love's sake, to invite The Advertiser back to its old allegiance, to its former good work, and to its ancient Then we should have a trio glory. of great dailies engaged in a cause far above petty party'sm, in the most patriotic cause in which Canadians can be enlisted, and worthy of the traditions and aims of the fathers who gave us reform. "A Bachelor's Honeymoon" Tonight-A Realistic Ferryboat Scene-Julia Arthur on Monday—Emerson's Benefit Yesterday.

A FERRY-BOAT SCENE. It is said that Lincoln J. Carter, author of "Under the Dome," the immensely successful naval comedy-drama which is underlined for a stay of one day at the Grand, matinee and night, Saturday, spent two years in perfecting the ferry-boat scene. As a result, it is as near the "real thing" as it is possible to make it. Not a single detail of such a trip has been omitted. Every sound of a boat or of the water, and all the appearance of leesening distances are correctly imitated. So perfect is the result that the audience seems to be carried with the boat across the river, the characters being grouped in the front, and the audience having possession of the rear.

"A LADY OF QUALITY." The new production of "A Lady of Quality," which Miss Arthur presents here on Monday, is said to be even more superb than was the first seen here last year. She brings here entirely new scenery and settings fresh from hands of the scenic artist and the stage mechanic. Audiences of next Monday night who have seen the play when it appeared here last year will also undoubtedly be eager to see how Miss Arthur has altered her former conception of the part, and how her repeated portrayal of it has added to it. Miss Arthur is supported by what is said to be even a stronger company than was with her last year. It will be remembered that the magnificence with which Miss Arthur embellished her production of this play has made it rank as one of the most beautifullystaged pieces ever seen in this city.

"A BACHELOR'S HONEYMOON." "A Bachelor's Honeymoon," which is to be seen at the Grand tonight, is described, and said to be one of the most rollicking and funny farces which has been produced in a long time. It was presented at Hoyt's Theater, New York, last September, and its stamp of success was readily given even after its first opening. It is accredited by the most skeptical New York newspaper most skephical New fork newspaper men as being one of the best laugh-producers. It is written by John Stapleton, a man of literary attainments, who has furnished some exceltheater-goers that the cast that will be seen will be one of the best from an artistic and reputable standpoint ever put together.

EMERSON'S BENEFIT. "Mr. Beane from Boston" was presented by the Gormans to a large house last night, as a benefit to Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Emerson. The performance was of that mirth-provoking nature so characteristic of the Gormans. Mr. Emerson, as the curtain dropped upon the second act, appeared before the audience and was greeted with prolonged applause. He made a short address, in which he thanked short address, in which he thanked them for all their kindness to himself and wife during their late trouble. He felt a great deal of gratitude toward them; "but," he said, "I have done nothing to be proud of, and I can assure you that no one deplores the affair more than I do." The afternoon performance was well attended, and Mr. Emerson thanked those present. The

Efforts Being Made to Secure the Erection of Typewriter Works Here,

Mr. W. C. Coo is in Montreal today, consulting with a large manufacturing firm, who intend to manufacture a new typewriter. It will be the first highclass machine manufactured in Canada. The typewriter business has developed so extensively in recent years that it is thought it will pay to manufacture them in Canada. Mr. Coo is interested in the machine, and will urge upon the company to have the works situated in London. They will employ about 200 hands, most of whom will be skilled mechanics, and receive good pay. He will return to the city on Monday morning, when he will be better able to speak upon the matter.

Three Economic Facts.

Kingsmill's leadership in the Drygoods and Carpet trade is nothing new. For 30 years this store has been first in style, first in quality and first in the hearts of all economical shoppers. It stands today not only the oldest, but the biggest, brightest and

The secret of the littleness of our prices lies in the bigness of our buying. Our stock is nearly as large those of all other London stores put together and you know that the merchant who buys in such immense quantities buys at ridiculously small prices. That's why you save money by doing your shopping

And remember that Kingsmill's leads not only in cheapness, but also and especially in style. Our buyer did not start for the European markets this summer until all the other Canadian buyers were on their way home. As a result our autumn styles in Silks, in Dress Goods, in Trimmings, in Millinery, and in Mantles are three months newer than theirs.

There were over 100 exhibitors, and more than 1,000 visitors. The roots were the largest and finest ever shown there. The horses were particularly good and the cattle a very fair exhibit. The dairy department and the homemade bread exhibit were among the best features of the show. The fruit display was quite large, and in the varieties shown the quality has never been surpassed. One of the prettiest features of the exhibition hall was a magnificent cornucopia, beautiful in design, and symbolizing all the rich agricultural resources. ricultural resources of Westminster township. The ladies' work department was fairly representative, and the work shown was of highly finished and artistic character. AT TILSONBURG. Tilsonburg, Ont., Oct. 6 .- The annual fair of the Dereham Agricultural Association was held here yesterday, and the directors are jubilant over its success. The membership was fully double that of any previous year, and the gate receipts were very satisfactory. The competition in grains, roots, vegetables and fruits was keen, and the articles gave evidence of a bountiful year. The show of dairy stock was exceptionally fine. Ayrahires, Jerseys and Holsteins were the principal breeds among the cattle. The exhibit of sheep was small, while the show of hogs was very large. The show of horses was by far the best that has yet been made, and all classes, from the large draught to the thoroughbred saddle horse, were in evidence, with the preponderance in the carriage and roadster class.
