RUPTURED RELATIONS.

Trouble Between Italy and the United States,

Resulting from the New Orleans Lynching Outrage.

Diplomatic Relations Suspended for the Present.

The Italian Minister Recalled from Washington.

Speculations as to the Result of the Misunderstanding.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—In an official note dated to-day Baron Fava, the Italian Minister, declared to the Secretary of State that the United States Government, not having given assurances that the murderers of the Italian subjects acquitted by the jury and murdered in prison while under the immediate protection of the authorities of New Orleans would be brought to justice, the Italian Government has found itself under the very painful necessity of showing openly its dissatisfaction by recalling the Minister of his Majesty from a country where the Italian representative is unable to obtain justice. The Baron will soon leave the United States, leaving the Secretary of Legation in charge only of the current affairs. The action of the Italian Government caused in official circles here when the fact became known. It had been generally supposed that the Italian Government would at least await the action of the New Orleans grand jury, which is charged with an investigation of the bloody episode at the jail. It appears, however, that the information received from its representatives must have led that Government to the conclusion that the grand jury investigation would fail to result in the punishment, or even indictment, of any person connected with the killing of the Italians. Gov. Nicholl's letter in reply to Secretary Blaine was also, it is thought, regarded as evasion of the real point at issue—reparation for an alleged wrong—and the Governor's assurances that further bloodshed would not follow, unaccompanied by any excuse for the failure of the State or municipal authorities to take precautions to prevent the killing, was, it is said, regarded by the Italian Government with extreme dissatisfaction.

CONSTITUTIONAL DIFFICULTY.

The relations between the National Government and the Governments of the States are so fixed by the American Constitution that when the Italian Minister sought for some assurance that the persons concerned in killing Italian subjects would be punished, it was not possible for the general Government to give any definite assurance of the kind. It could and did point to the fact that the grand jury was the American provision for calling before the bar of justice ...ns who had violated the law, but this ...ular grand jury was called together ...r the laws of the State of Louisiana, ...whether or not it would punish ac...ling to the Italian idea of justice was ...ething that no national official, from the ...esident down, could guarantee. The ...alian Government was not satisfied with ...ch views. With the relations between ...e State and National Governments and ...e peculiarities of our constitutional sys...m of government it had nothing to do, ...t it was necessary, according to its views, ...at Italian citizens in foreign countries ...uld be accorded the full measure of pro...tion fixed by the laws of these countries. ...e Italian Government could not go behind ...verdict of the American court. In the ...ent killing of these men the Italian ...le had been outraged and insulted. ...National Government of the United ...had failed to give any definite assur...that reparation would be made. ...re was but one recourse, and that was ...n to-day when the Italian Minister ...ied Secretary Blaine that he had been ...led because his Government was dis...fied with the negotiations. This is the ...ian view of the matter.

NOT AN EXTREME PROCEEDING.

There was great commotion among the State Department officials when the fact became known that Baron Fava had been recalled.

Baron Fava has not demanded his passports as had been first reported. A demand ...r passports is an extreme measure. It is ...ken only when war feeling runs high. A ...ll under the circumstances of this case ...a serious matter—there could be no at...mpt to disguise that fact—but it does not ...gnify that mutual explanation and ...iplomacy cannot restore the old status.

SPECULATIONS.

Unless events take an unforeseen and ...probable turn there will be no call issued ...r an extra session of Congress. ...ve Cogswell, of Massachu...ight that he deplored the lack of a navy suitable for the defense of the country.

The President and the Secretary of State, decline absolutely to be seen upon the subject, and no statement of any sort has come from them or been authorized by them.

It is also an opinion quite generally entertained in the corps that Italy has acted very hastily. It is believed that there must be some local reason in home politics in Italy which have seemed to the present Cabinet to necessitate a jingo demonstration of this sort.

A SIMILAR CASE.

The situation between the United States and Italy as it stands to-night is the same as that between the United States and Austria at the time that Austria declined to receive Minister Kiely under the Cleveland Administration. The only difference in a diplomatic sense is that Kiely simply was not received. The refusal to receive Kiely was resented by the United States, and another Minister was not sent to Austria by our Government for fully one year. The result of that was that the Austrian Minister to Washington was given what was called a leave of absence and left Washington. He never returned, and subsequently died in retirement. When diplomatic relations were renewed Austria sent a new minister. The relations between the United States and Austria were in consequence for a long period strained and there was a complete severance of diplomatic relations; but no one talked of war and the consuls remained at their posts. The commercial relations between the two countries were not interrupted, although the diplomatic relations were suspended.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

TORONTO, March 31.—The Provincial Legislature re-assembled to-day after the Easter recess, which began on Thursday last. Members say they hear nothing but complimentary things of Hon. Mr. Harcourt's budget speech.

Mayor Doherty, Reeve Manning, Clerk Coats and Mr. D. A. Forrester, of Clinton, are down on a deputation to attend upon the passage of a bill to consolidate the debt of that town.

Bruce County Council has sent in a petition, which was presented to-day by Mr. O'Connor, which prays that the Industrial Schools Act be amended so that no judge or magistrate shall commit any child to any industrial school at the expense of any municipality unless the municipality refuses to otherwise provide for it.

The council of the township of Blenheim, Oxford county, to-day petitioned that the law with regard to bridges 100 feet long be not amended, as is proposed by a bill the petitioners understand will be brought before the House.

Interim estimates of $300,000 were presented to-day to defray the expense of the public service until the Supply Bill is passed.

Mr. Dack, the member for Center Bruce, is very popular. He has been elected assistant to the Government whip.

One of Mr. Dack's bills, introduced on Thursday, is to amend the Public Health Act. It is to allow cases to be tried before one justice of the peace instead of two as is now necessary. A bill introduced by him to-day proposes to amend the Masters and Servants Act. As the act is at present if a servant has obtained judgment against a master he cannot issue an execution to recover the amount until 21 days have elapsed. This is often a hardship, and he proposes to reduce the time to five days.

To give municipal councils the power to insure the property of ratepayers against fire is the object of a bill introduced by Mr. Monk this afternoon.

The Patrons of Industry of Simcoe ask, by petition, that township councils may be empowered to take fire risks; that the officers of the township be the officers of the township fire insurance companies, with the addition of two inspectors.

The bill introduced by Mr. Balfour with respect to the Sandwich, Windsor and Amherstburg Railway provides for the increase of the capital stock and the extension of the time for the commencement and completion of the extensions thereof.

Mr. Waters introduced a bill to-day to amend the Assessment Act, which he had before the House two years ago and withdrew. It provides that on a two-thirds vote of any village, town or city council land used for farming purposes within the municipal corporation may be exempted from taxation for payment for municipal improvements which can be shown not to benefit said land.

THE BUDGET.

Mr. Sol. White resumed the debate on the budget, beginning his speech at 3:50 o'clock. The places of a considerable number of members were vacated soon after the honorable member for North Essex began his exordium and other honorable members began industriously to write letters. He first essayed to show that because of extravagance the Government had been unable to keep the expenditures of the year within the income of the Province—although the receipts had been larger than had been estimated. On the question of the expenditure of money on education he held that the Province was going beyond what a State may be rightly called upon to do. It was going too far for the State to undertake education in higher branches and classics. With reference to the temperance question he said that claims made for the Government were unfounded; the local option law, of which so much was being made to delude temperance people, really did nothing but remove the obstructions in the way of local prohibition, which the House itself had set in the way since Confederation. He followed the example of Mr. H. E. Clarke in declaring the surplus to be made up of assets.

There was a rattling round of applause from the Ministerial side when Mr. Balfour, of South Essex, rose to reply to the member of North Essex. It was the custom of the honorable members opposite, he said, to devote much time to the "mythical surplus," as they termed it. He referred them to the public accounts of the Dominion. There they would find a liability to the Province of Ontario of $4,827,640 acknowledged. The amount claimed by the Provincial Treasurer was only $118,000 more than the amount acknowledged by the Dominion Government. Some members even questioned the liability of the Dominion to the Province, and to answer them he read a letter from Mr. Courteney, Deputy Financial Minister of the Dominion, in which he declared that for the amount of the $4,827,640 the Dominion acted merely as the trustee to invest and pay out to the Province the interest thereon. Respecting the relation of the Crown lands to the surplus he quoted the statement of Mr. H. E. Clarke that the timber was a good asset, and showed that at the estimated value of that asset it might be sold at the rate now current, and yet the timber would last for over a century. (Cheers.) On the same basis, not only the forests but the minerals and lands owned by the Province might be counted as an asset, and he believed they were valued to-day for $200,000,000. The member for South Essex then took up the rather tangled criticisms by Mr. H. E. Clarke with regard to the subsidies and the opinions set forth by the Inter-Provincial Conference. He showed that the Liberals in this House had recorded their votes in formal protest against the changes made in the financial basis of Confederation by mere action of the Dominion Parliament, and further that the action of the Inter-Provincial Conference was strictly consistant with this in demanding that the financial basis should be made first and then fixed by Imperial statute so that it could not be changed as at present merely for the purpose of securing to the Government the support of particular Provinces. Respecting the license question Mr. Balfour was able to show that in one part of his speech Mr. Clarke represented the Government as a knot of tyrants keeping the liquor traffic under despotic rule, and a little later declared that it was impossible to say whether the Government controlled the liquor traffic or the liquor traffic controlled the Government. As to the plea that the Government should return to the municipalities all the money taken in liquor license fees, he showed that constitutionally the Government had as good a right to raise revenue in this way as the municipalities had, and that from the point of view of expediency the raising of a revenue was quite justifiable by a Government that returned so much to the municipalities as did the present Administration. He put in contrast these figures:

Taken in license fees by the Province	$ 3,000,000
Returned to municipalities in maintenance of public institutions, jails, etc.	21,000,000

He drew a parallel between the remarks of Mr. White and Mr. Clarke, one declaring that to the United States Canadians must look for a market for minerals, and from the United States must they expect the enterprise and capital to develop the mines, while Mr. Clarke declared that the policy of the Government was "educating citizens for a foreign State," that "there is not room in Canada for all the professionals we are turning out," this being a "sparsely settled country." "Shade of the N. P.!" remarked Mr. Balfour amidst applause, "where were you when that sentiment was uttered?" He said he was not surprised at the remarks made by Mr. White, he being a propagandist of annexation, but to hear such remarks from the loyal senior member from Toronto was strange indeed. Mr. Balfour had some fun with Mr. Clarke over the election figures, by which that gentleman proved to the satisfaction of such of his friends as have been content to take the result without examining the calculation that the Government is in a minority in the country. He showed how Mr. Clarke adopted a variety of contradictory principles, the result in each case being against the Government, and taking the rule he himself laid down in the majority of cases, proved that there was a popular majority for the Government of over 10,000. The Opposition have renewed their charges that supplies for the public institutions are bought of Government favorites and without tender, but up to this time they have not given any proof of their assertions. Mr. Balfour quoted the report of the Public Accounts Committee last session as adopted by the House, declaring that the principle of public tender was adopted wherever possible.

Mr. Clancy interrupted to ask who had voted for this report, and when told that it was adopted by majority vote of the committee he answered: "Aha!" as if no further answer was needed.

Mr. Balfour reminded him that if the Opposition members had voted against it in committee or in the House they had done so without being able to give a single fact in support of their contention, although they had the whole civil service at their disposal from whom to get evidence under oath before the Public Accounts Committee. Mr. Balfour pointed out in forcible style that no definite charge of corruption or even of extravagance was made against the Government, and that the only policy which could be inferred from the speeches of the Opposition was to deprive the Province of revenue from the Dominion subsidy and the liquor licenses and resort to direct taxation.

Mr. McCleary was the next speaker, and the Legislature heard him for the first time. He made an excellent impression. He spoke long enough to show that he had given attention to his subject, and yet not longer than becomes a young member who has his position yet to make. He began with compliments to the treasurer, taking especial pride in that gentleman's able speech because he claimed the maker of the speech as one of his own constituents. The speaker went on to pay tribute to Mr. Harcourt's sense of honor and fair play, and to declare that the new treasurer's natural inclination would be always to give a fair and frank statement of the financial condition of the Province if he were left to himself. He was rather dubious, however, about the influence of certain people whom he had heard spoken of as the "wicked partners" in the Cabinet.

"That's the Attorney-General," suggested Mr. Harvey with a smile, which was boisterously echoed by those who heard the remark.

Mr. McCleary went on to accuse the supporters of the Administration of taking refuge behind the Dominion Government, and remonstrated with them for justifying their position by the deeds of those whose every act they condemned. Mr. McCleary accused the Government of partisanship in the administration of the License Act, and attributed the repeal of the Scott Act to the failure of the Government to properly enforce it. The criticisms of the Opposition, he contended, had already resulted in good, particularly in the matter of French in the schools.

Mr. Waters rose and was received with loud cheers. Unfortunately for him an arrangement had been made for an adjournment at 6 o'clock, and it was impossible for him before that hour to more than fairly commence his speech. He is a vigorous and incisive speaker, however, and he made several points in good style before he moved the adjournment of the debate. He showed that the Minister of Education had begun to act in the matter of English in the schools before the Opposition had learned that anything was to be done, and that before the last election English was taught in every school in the Province. He reminded the House of the fact that before the Government took action in the liquor license question by the passing of the Crooks Act there were many unlicensed groggeries, and that these had been completely routed out by a firm and judicious administration of the law. As to the subsidy matter, he repudiated the idea that it was in any way a dole from the Dominion, and declared it to be no more than the Province was entitled to in view of the large contributions of the people of Ontario to the revenues of the Dominion.

The debate was adjourned and made the first order of the day for to-morrow.

The House adjourned at 6 o'clock.

THE ASSAM REVOLT.

Reports of the Recent Massacre Confirmed.

British Reinforcements Believed to Have Met a Similar Fate—Serious Character of the Situation.

CALCUTTA, March 31.—Official dispatches confirm the report of the massacre of Goorkhas at Manipur, in the Province of Assam. The fate of the British officers and of Chief Commissioner James W. Quinton, is still uncertain. In addition to the disaster at Manipur it is believed a force of British troops, composed of the Bengal Infantry and 80 Goorkhas who were marching to reinforce the troops there were massacred. Fifteen fugitive Goorkhas, report that Mr. and Mrs. Grimwood, Col. Skene and Mr. Simpson escaped into Cachar, where the natives are becoming restless. The party included twelve Europeans. It is surmised that Mr. Quinton was seized at Mr. Grimwood's house, which is four miles from the cantonment of the main Goorkha guard at Langthabat, and that 10,000 irregular Kuki levies, in the service of the Manipur Government, were ordered to attack and massacre the troops.

SIMLA, March 31.—Further particulars received from the scene of the Manipur massacre show the insurgent tribes have captured a number of prisoners, including the Rajah of Manipur, whose deposition by a powerful chieftain of Assam was the cause of all the present trouble. The insurgents have also captured Chief Commissioner Quinton, F. St. G. Grimwood, the British political agent at Manipur, and Col. Skene, who commanded the detachments from the 42nd to the 44th Goorkhas, which defended the camp of the commissioner. Mrs. Grimwood, the wife of the political agent, two assistant commissioners and one of the officers of the Goorkhas escaped in the direction of Silehar, when the insurgents made the final charge upon the camp. The fate of the remaining officers is still unknown. Four regiments have started for Manipur, with the object of effecting the release of the prisoners and punishing the rebellious tribes. The general opinion seems to be that the military authorities will have to punish the insurgent tribes severely and promptly in order to avert a more serious revolt. The population of the Province of Assam is estimated at 5,000,000. The hostile tribes are composed of well-armed, brave and cunning fighting men, who are liable to give the British forces considerable trouble before the revolt is entirely ended.

THE WORKING WORLD.

Serious Trouble in the Coke Regions.

The Card Coal Company dismissed 200 miners from its mines at Wadsworth, Ohio, Monday, as it was understood that the men intended to strike.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., March 31.—A mob of 1,500 strikers swept down on the Johnstown coke plant early yesterday morning, routed the workmen, assaulted several men and threatened the superintendent's life. A bomb was set off at West Leisining, and the men were notified not to go to work. The Leith works, near Uniontown, were also raided and the workmen put to flight.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 31.—The coke troubles have assumed a new phase. Mr. Frick states that heretofore he had not antagonized labor, but in the future he did not propose to stand idly by and see his property destroyed. He claimed the men are satisfied with the scale of wages he offered, but the labor leaders will not permit them to return to work.

THE WORKMEN'S PROGRAMME.

PARIS, March 31.—The Workmen's Congress has adopted a programme embracing the following propositions: That eight hours constitute a day's work; that the minimum of wages be fixed; that children under 14 be prohibited from working; that everybody declared by the workmen's syndicate to be unable to work receive public support; that masters be held responsible for accidents to workmen; that municipal butchers, bake houses and bazars be formed; that communes be allowed to borrow money without consulting the Central Government; and finally, that every trade organize in readiness for a general strike to vanquish the opposing employers. The socialist Allemane dominated the congress.

AUGUSTA, Me., March 31.—In the House Mr. Ham, of Lisbon, defended the Labor Bureau in an impassioned speech. Mr. Ham kept the members overflowing with laughter, and they were especially pleased when he recited the following poem, which he says he composed himself:

"They fight it out," is still the shout,
Adown the Saco River,
Along the Androscoggin's banks
We seem to hear it ever.
It echoes o'er the Kennebec,
Adown the grand St. John,
Among the manual laborers,
By the sounding sea.
It still goes rolling on,
It sounds within these very door.
Wherever we may roam,
And seems to echo back and down
From the very dome
Of this our own grand Capitol
Again and yet again,
Saying, 'Legislators, what at this session propose you to do
For Maine's hard laboring man?'

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 31.—A good many of the striking cutters were taken back yesterday. At a mass meeting of cutters, trimmers and foremen this morning it was voted to sever connection with the Knights of Labor and use all honorable means to further the interests of the employers, and to protest against boycotting goods of any description made in the city of Rochester. It is thought in view of the above action that the clothing manufacturers will decide to take back all the men to-morrow morning.

MINNIE'S MESALLIANCE.

Unhappy Sequel to a Middlesex Marriage.

"George Hill, a prosperous farmer at Newbury, Middlesex county, Ontario, wooed and won Minnie Gordon, daughter of Thos. Gordon, of the neighboring town of Florence. They were married in September last, although the girl's parents interposed many objections, the chief one being Minnie's age, 17.

"Gordon is a builder and soon after his daughter's marriage moved to Windsor, then to Detroit and subsequently to Chicago, where he settled with his family. Two months ago the prediction of the girl's parents that there would be trouble began to prove true, for Minnie wrote piteous letters home complaining of cruelty on the part of her husband. Finally she left him, and the latter, thinking she had started for Chicago, came to Windsor and waited for her arrival. For two weeks he has thoroughly scrutinized every west-bound train, without success until this morning. When the mixed train arrived over the G. T. R., Hill saw his wife in company with her father, and he immediately seized her.

"The father interposed a serious objection by knocking Hill down and otherwise roughly treating him.

"Detective Campau arrived in time to see the wind-up, in which all three were participating, and he took the trio before the magistrate.

"Minnie said she was only 17 years old, admitted that she had been cruelly treated, but intimated her desire to remain with her husband because she loved him dearly. After hearing the pros and cons Magistrate Bartlet decided that as the girl was under age she would have to do just as her father commanded.

"Minnie sobbed and said she did not want to go to Chicago, but the magistrate was firm. He said he had no jurisdiction in the premises, and that if any more fighting was indulged in he would have to fine the participants. The trio then went to the depot, where the hostilities were renewed, but no knockouts were reported up to the time the News left them. Both sides are determined, and when train time comes this afternoon there is likely to be more music."

BALFOUR BEATEN.

Mr. Morley Takes the London Times to Task for Its Recent Utterances.

LONDON, March 31.—Mr. Morley writes to the Times: "Nobody whose mind is not poisoned by faction will agree with you that the failure of the Crown to secure the conviction of the Tipperary riot leaders is without material consequence. The judge told the jury that Col. Caddell and the police witnesses were on their trial no less than the defendants. The verdict therefore shows in three instances that the jury disbelieved the case for the Crown and condemned Caddell and the police, and in no instance acquitted them. That is quite material enough for me."

Then dilating on the Crown precautions, changing of the venu, packing of the jury, etc., Mr. Morley asks: "Does this shed no light on the Irish Minister's unfaltering assumption during the past four years that every word of a constable or resident magistrate was gospel, and that any contradiction of a mere commoner was an exaggeration or a lie? The Irish Government should stick to their two resident magistrates in the snug Coercion Court and give careful, conscientious juries a wide berth."

The Queen in France.

GRASSE, March 31.—The battle of flowers in this town yesterday afternoon was witnessed by Queen Victoria and by thousands of visitors from all parts of the Riviera. After the battle a torch light procession was organized in honor of the Queen.

Chivalry and Shotguns.

LIBERTY, Miss., March 31.—At a school examination and concert last night, at the Parson Hill school house near here, where Miss Ada Dixon (colored) had just closed a session of the public school for colored children, while the teacher and her pupils were singing for the entertainment of a large audience, a double-barreled shotgun was fired into the assemblage by some unknown miscreant, wounding fourteen persons, some of them seriously.

How Life May be Prolonged.

Poets and novelists go into ecstasies over what they romantically call "beautiful spring," and "gentle spring," and while, no doubt, everyone is glad to see winter release its icy grasp, "beautiful spring" is, after all, one of the most deadly seasons of the year. Sudden transitions from warmth to extreme cold, with piercing, chilling wind; from dry to sloppy, "muggy" weather, all combine to make the season a most trying one, even to the hardiest constitution, while to those with weak constitutions the season is one of positive danger. Undoubtedly the greatest danger at this season of the year is from cold in the head, which very few escape, and which, if not promptly and thoroughly treated, develops into catarrh, with all its disagreeable and loathsome effects. Catarrh, neglected, almost as certainly develops into consumption, annually destroying thousands of lives. At this trying season no household should be without a bottle of Nasal Balm. In cases of cold in the head it gives almost instant relief and effects a speedy cure, thus preventing the development of catarrh. Where the latter disease has already secured a hold it is equally efficacious, and with persistent use will cure the worst case. From the outset it sweetens the breath, stops the nauseous droppings into the throat and lungs, dispels those dull headaches that afflict the sufferer from catarrh. Nasal Balm is not advertised as a cure-all—it is an honest remedy which never fails to cure cold in the head or catarrh when the directions are faithfully followed, and thousands throughout the country have reason to bless its discovery. Nasal Balm may be had from all dealers, or will be sent post-paid on receipt of price (50 cents, small, or $1, large size bottle), by addressing Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

ABOUT HAIR

Editor of the ADVERTISER:

Sir,—I have, as you know, for some time advertised in Canada and the States a prescription for the hair called "Dr. Dorenwend's Hair Magic." I have received some thousands of flattering testimonials from those who have used it as to its merits as a restorative of gray or faded hair; also as a promoter of the growth and a certain cure for dandruff.

A great many of my correspondents ask the questions: "Why is my hair turning gray so early? Why is my hair falling out?" As it is impossible for me to answer every one, I take the liberty of encroaching on your valuable space to make a general reply. A great many persons do not seem to be aware that excessive washing and rubbing is injurious to the growth of the hair; such is the case, however. Constant washing and rubbing the scalp and hair causes over irritation and removes the oily substance which gives strength to the hair; undue heat caused by the wearing of heavy headgear is also injurious. Anything that will tend to dry up the sap or life of the hair will cause dandruff, falling out of the hair, gray or faded hair and finally baldness. Of course there are other causes as diseases, hereditary tendencies, etc., but the first mentioned are the main and most common.

Dr. Dorenwend, an eminent German physician, has given to the world after years of toil and experiment his now famous "Hair Magic." The object of this preparation is to assist nature in the production of this oily substance absolutely necessary to the growth of the hair. It is now sold by all reliable druggists at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, or will be sent on receipt of price to any address. See that each wrapper bears the seal and signature of the manufacturer.

A. DORENWEND,

Too Much Marrying.

HAMILTON, Ont., March 31.—Alleged bigamists are getting thick around here just now. A bigamy case from Binbrook as on the judicial scales, and yesterday another was added to the list. A few days ago a Toronto fruiterer named Thomas H. Davis, about 40 years of age, came from Toronto to this city. Now he is in a prison cell, having been arrested by Detective Campbell on a charge of bigamy. It is alleged that about eight or nine years ago he was wedded at Barrie to Miss Annie Foster, daughter of Wm. Foster, a farmer living in Vespra township, Simcoe county. After living with her some years it is said he was married to Miss Jane Sebastien in Toronto on Dec. 16, 1889. It is not known whether wife No. 1 or wife No. 2 laid the information. Both wives, it is said, reside in Toronto.

The Binbrook bigamy case was called at the Police Court and formally adjourned until Friday.

"The Advertiser" is an organ of news and independent opinion. The ADVERTISER alone is responsible for opinions expressed in these columns.

"The Advertiser" advocates Continental Free Trade, and as early as possible after, free trade with the whole world. The British trade model cannot be improved upon.

"The Advertiser" looks forward with hope to Canada's future as that of an Independent Canadian Nationality, believing that such a status would be best for Canada, best for Great Britain, and promotive of the best attainable relations with the United States.

"The Advertiser" advocates prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor.

"The Advertiser" is an advocate of equal rights for women, whether as regards the franchise, or equal wages for equal work.

"The Advertiser" is a believer in Christian Union, and considers the time has come when the various Christian denominations should come closer together. Those bodies which are now nearest should unite first. Under the present system there is an unjustifiable waste of men, means and effort. The ADVERTISER will endeavor to promote the movement for Christian union not alone by direct appeal and argument, but by seeking to present the best rather than the worst side of each denomination.

"The Advertiser" advocates Obligatory Voting as both necessary and practicable. Nothing would so much purify electoral contests. Nothing would so much enforce the idea that the franchise is a duty, not a chattel.

We are aware that the foregoing planks of our platform are by no means endorsed in their entirety by the members of either of the present Canadian political parties. But we believe they will both have to get nearer and more near to the ADVERTISER'S platform with every succeeding year.

NATURE'S NOBLEMAN.

The days of heroism are not past. Eli Griffith, who yesterday risked his own life that he might save the lives of helpless children, is a hero if ever there was one. It was through no lack of bravery on his part that both the little ones, carried away by the swift-flowing waters of the Thames, were not saved. That one was rescued was undoubtedly due solely to his indomitable pluck. He deserves and will doubtless receive the highest honor awarded for saving a person from drowning—the medal of the Royal Humane Society. Mr. Hyman, M.P., has already taken action with the object of bringing the daring deed before the proper authorities.

SUGAR.

To-day the duty on sugar will be removed in the United States, and a fall in price to the consumer of from one to three cents will take place. The cheapening of this necessary of life to the people over the border may result in the increase of the tax on sugar entering Canada. It is reported from Montreal that, under the new arrangement in the States, sugar can be laid down in Canada cheaper than it is now sold by the combine. To meet this objection, the Canadian refiners are understood to favor an increase in the tax, and will ask the Government to so favor them. It is probable that the increase will take place. But the people who voted for a continuance of the present system will have no right to object.

The boss dyspeptic on the Atchison Globe says that "when a woman votes she commits two sins: She increases the number of politicians, and decreases the number of women." Women have voted in the municipal elections in this city. Are they less women to-day than before they exercised their rights at the polls?

THEY SHIVER ON THE BRINK.

A Washington dispatch says that the hitch in the matter of sending the Dominion Commissioners to Washington to negotiate a reciprocity treaty is due to two things: First, to the inability of Sir John Macdonald and Secretary Blaine to come to an agreement as to the articles which shall be considered; second, to the fact that Newfoundland and the Dominion have not come to an understanding.

It is known that Secretary Blaine has refused to enter on negotiations for reciprocity in natural products alone, in accord with his declared policy to have all-round reciprocity or nothing. But it must not be supposed that even reciprocity in natural products is wanted by the Dominion Government, if indeed it knows what it does want.

In the West, the Conservative leaders denounced the idea of reciprocity in farm products as inimical to the interests of the agriculturists. If they proceed with reciprocity in natural products, these men must belie their words, and leave supporters like Mr. Marshall in a strange quandary. Then in the East the Conservative leaders pledged their party's support to the continuance of the duties on coal, no matter how seriously they handicap the railways and the manufacturers in these great central Provinces. It is true that Sir Charles Tupper, when he attempted to bribe the Grand Trunk manager into intimidating his employes to vote solidly for trade restriction, professed to believe that Sir John Macdonald favors the removal of the tax on coal. The elder Tupper labored to convince Mr. Seargeant that his son (the Hon. C. H. Tupper), when he supported the coal duty in a mining constituency, was, to put it mildly, compelled by political exigency to resort to falsehood. But if there were any doubts as to the position of the Conservative wirepullers on this subject it is removed by the declaration of the Halifax Herald, which now strongly argues that Sir Charles Tupper was himself insincere when he held out to Mr. Seargeant the prospect that the duties on coal would be abandoned. The Herald asserts that the special privileges of the mining companies will not be abandoned, though it is known that some of the more enterprising of the mine owners would prefer perfect freedom to trade with our neighbors in the States to a restricted market that keeps them out of the trade of the New England States.

The fact of the matter is that the men now in power at Ottawa have twisted and turned so much that their most zealous adherent cannot tell what they do want. It would not be surprising if they had to declare, by word or deed, that they did not know themselves. They have professed a desire for reciprocity one day, and withdrawn it the next; have argued in favor of reciprocity in natural products with the States, when they knew they could not get it, and have on many occasions labored to convince the people that even that descriptions of reciprocity would be an injury to them. The United States Secretary is to be excused if he is pretty firm with a set of men who have been so persistently working at cross-purposes, and asks, with a pointedness that cannot be got over: "What do you want?" Because the adventurers do not know what they want, or are so hemmed in by promises to the combines, they hesitate to respond to Mr. Blaine's query. Indeed, the principal concern of the Conservative leaders seems to be to keep the question drifting until after Parliament meets, and thus, if possible, avoid discussion and exposure. In this they should be foiled.

NEGRO POPULATION.

An important bulletin has been prepared by the United States Census Bureau, giving the population by races of the South Atlantic and South Central States, Missouri and Kansas. The South Atlantic States are: Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. The South Central States are: Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma and Arkansas. This return will set at rest some of the wild estimates and alarming prophecies regarding the increase of the colored population during the last ten years. Only a few months since, the London Times sent a representative to investigate the so-called race war in the South, and he declared that the colored population of the black belt was increasing like flies, and in two decades would exceed the white population by 2,000,000. It is now made evident that estimates of this description were not well founded. The census recently taken proves that the total population embraced in these Southern States is 23,875,259, of which 16,863,205 were white, 6,996,166 negro and 10,883 Chinese, Japanese and Indians. In the States included were found in 1890 15-16ths of the entire negro population of the United States. The negro population shows an increase of 13.9 per cent. in ten years, against an increase of 24.6 per cent. for the white population. The fact is also brought ought that in but three decades—that is from 1800 to 1830—has the colored race increased more rapidly than the white. Since 1830 the whites have steadily increased at a more rapid rate than the colored people.

It has also been settled that since the time of the civil war the negro population has made no perceptible movement northward. With the exception of the District of Columbia, the States bordering on the South have lost colored population rather than gained, and during the last decade there becomes apparent a southward movement of the colored element from the border States into those bordering the Gulf, particularly into Mississippi and Arkansas, where they have increased proportionately to the whites.

Dividing these States into groups we find in the border State group the white increase was 22 per cent. and the colored only 5.5 per cent., while in the second group, or States bordering on the Gulf, the increase of whites was 31.8 and of colored people 19.1 per cent. There is, therefore, a perceptible tendency southward of the colored people, which, while by no means powerful, has resulted in drawing a notable proportion of that element from the border States and in producing in two of the far Southern States a more rapid increase of the colored element than of the white. Of the States under discussion three—namely, South Carolina, Mississippi and Louisiana—contained in 1890 a larger number of colored people than of whites. Of the population of South Carolina more than three-fourths are colored. Five other States, namely—Alabama, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina and Virginia—contained a colored element ranging from one-third to one-half of the population.

The cry that the colored race is likely, if not kept under, to push the white population to the wall, is thus not warranted. It has been raised for sinister purposes. There is no reason why the two races should not live and work side by side in harmony, without misgivings as to the future of either.

AVERT THE CRISIS!

A contemporary points out that Mr. Carling is no longer a member of Parliament, but that he is still Minister of Agriculture, and it suggests that he ought to resign. The suggestion is respectfully referred to our ex-member for his consideration. Meanwhile, while reminding our contemporary that great bodies move slowly, we would, in fairness, refer Mr. Carling's case, as well as that of the other defeated Minister, Mr. Colby, to that oracle of the proprieties, the Toronto Empire. On June 26, three weeks after the Ontario elections were held, the Empire reached the conclusion that an outrage of the most stupendous character was in process of perpetration because Mr. Drury and Mr. Gibson had been defeated, and no one had taken their place in the Cabinet. Here follows the Toronto organ's stirring arraignment:

"How much longer is Mr. Mowat going to indulge his taste for irresponsible dictatorship and centralized autocracy by governing the Province of Ontario with about half a Cabinet? . . . . When Ministers are disqualified by losing their seats they are in principle, and according to the spirit of our constitution, no longer responsible advisers of the executive and administrators of our public affairs. . . . . Mr. Mowat is setting this principle of our Government at defiance. Any executive action is in such circumstances a mere farce. The fact that Mr. Mowat thus shirks a further appeal to the people and hesitates to face the danger of fresh Ministerial defeats, emphasizes the truth that his position in the country, instead of being strengthened as his organs falsely boast, is really weakened."

The opponents of reciprocity in bananas, oranges and peanuts are not losing their sleep over the outrageous conduct of the Dominion authorities in extending the time limit in which Cabinet vacancies should be filled beyond the three weeks set by the Conservative organ; but it is just possible that there may be a crisis in the ranks of the Conservative office-seekers—among the M. P.s who would fain write Hon. before their names. For this cause, we earnestly request the Empire to come to the rescue, and once more formulate an indictment of the men who bring the country to the brink of a dreadful abyss by unconstitutional conduct.

SCENE OF THE MASSACRE.

The Province of Assam, in which a British expeditionary force chiefly composed of native infantry, sent to quell a local trouble, has been massacred, lies between two mountain ranges in Northwestern India. At one time it was governed by kings, who were strongly entrenched in power, and defied every force that attacked them. But by last century their influence had decayed, and in 1770 British troops occupied a portion of their territory. Not till 1826, during the war with Burmah, did the British take a portion of the territory. The Assamese are akin to the Hindoos, lithe and active, generally beardless and unusually smooth of skin. They have the reputation of being indolent.

SUNDAY FUNERALS.

Montreal Star.

Sunday funerals are to be done away with in London, Ont. The ministers of the various denominations and the undertakers have signed and published an agreement to discontinue attendance at funerals held on Sunday. Cases of extreme necessity are excepted. This reform is much needed in every city. Indeed, there is a pretty general feeling in favor of still greater reforms in the way of more privacy and less ostentation at funerals.

TO SLEEP AFTER NIGHT WORK.

Scientific American.

A Swiss doctor says that many persons who extend their mental work well into the night, who during the evening follow attentively the programme of a theater or concert, or who engage evenings in the proceedings of societies or clubs, are awaked in the morning or in the night with headache. For a long while the doctor was himself a sufferer from headache of this kind, but of late years has wholly protected himself from it by simple means. When he is obliged to continue his brain work into the evening, or to be out late nights in rooms not well ventilated, instead of going directly to bed he takes a brisk walk for half an hour or an hour. While taking this tramp he stops now and then and practices lung gymnastics by breathing in and out deeply a few times. When he then goes to bed he sleeps soundly. Notwithstanding the shortening of the hours of sleep, he wakes with no trace of headache. There exists a clear and well known physiological reason why this treatment should be effective.

Latest Developments in a Now Notorious Case.

A Mob Attacks Mrs. Jackson's House and Tries to Burn Her in Effigy—Her Relatives Accused of Conspiracy.

LONDON, March 31.—The Jackson family imbroglio, the latter phases of which were the abduction of Mrs. Jackson by her husband at Clitheroe, a few weeks ago, as the lady was emerging from church, the unsuccessful attempt of her friends, led by her brother-in-law, a lawyer named Baidwin, to storm the house of Jackson's brother in Blackburn, whither Mrs. Jackson had been conveyed, and her subsequent release by Jackson, upon an order of the Court of Appeals, has taken a new turn. When the abduction occurred popular sympathy was largely upon the side of Mrs. Jackson, but as the facts in the case became known, 99 per cent. of the people espoused the cause of Jackson.

Mrs. Jackson inherited a large fortune from a Mr. Anderson, who sought her hand in marriage prior to her engagement to Jackson, but whom she refused. Nevertheless, when Anderson died, a short time after her marriage, it was found that his will bequeathed the bulk of his estate to Mrs. Jackson. In the event of Mrs. Jackson dying without issue, her estate would fall to her nearest relatives, Mrs. Baldwin and Miss Hall, her unmarried sister, who is a member of Baldwin's family. Mrs. Jackson is childless, and the people of Clitheroe hold Baldwin responsible for the estrangement between her and her husband, in the first place, and for the subsequent attempts which have been made to keep them apart and prevent a reconciliation.

The popular feeling against Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin and Mrs Jackson has rapidly increased of late, and on Saturday evening a mob of indignant residents of Clitheroe attempted to burn Mrs. Jackson in effigy. In response to a call quietly circulated hundreds of persons gathered in the marketplace and marched in procession through the chief streets bearing the effigy aloft. The police became aware of the purpose of the mob, and when the crowd arrived at the house occupied by Mrs. Jackson they found the constables guarding it in strong force.

Finding themselves foiled in their original purpose, the mob became furious. After a hasty consultation of the leaders, the street lights were extinguished, and the crowd attacked the house with stones and other missiles, smashing the windows and doing other damage, the utmost efforts of the police being necessary to prevent the rioters from effecting an entrance to the building. The maddened people then proceeded to Mrs. Baldwin's house, which they pelted with stones, mud, sticks, etc., breaking many windows, and, but for the timely arrival of a large posse of police, would have battered down the doors. The mob fought desperately in their attempts to get into the house, but the police finally succeeded in dispersing them.

MR. JOAB SCALES, of Toronto, writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach and Lame Back; in fact, I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man out of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

WONDERFUL CURES

FOR THIRTY YEARS.—Mrs. L. Squire, Ontario Steam Dye Works, Toronto, says: "For about thirty years I have doctored for Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia without getting any cure. I then tried Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and the benefits I have received from this medicine are such that I cannot withhold this expression of my gratitude. It acts immediately upon the Liver, and its good effects are noticed at once. As a Dyspepsia remedy I don't think it can be equalled."

INDISPUTABLE EVIDENCE.

HARDENED AND ENLARGED LIVER.—Mrs. H. Hall, Navarino, N.Y., writes: "For years I have been troubled with Liver Complaint. The doctors said my Liver was hardened and enlarged. I was troubled with Dizziness, Pain in my Right Shoulder, Constipation, and gradually losing flesh all the time. All food soured on my stomach, even with the closest attention to diet. I was under the care of three physicians, but did not get any relief. A friend sent me a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and it affords me much pleasure to inform you that the benefit I have received from it is far beyond my expectation. I feel better now than I have done for years."

"I take Hood's Sarsaparilla as a spring tonic, and I recommend it to all who have that miserable tired feeling." C. PARMELEE, 349 Bridge Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Makes the Weak Strong

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any other preparation.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Mandrake, Dock, Juniper Berries, and other well known vegetable remedies, by a combination, proportion and process peculiar to itself, and by which the full medicinal value of all the ingredients used is secured. Hence it possesses superior and positive curative power.

Purifies the Blood

"Every spring for years I have made it a practice to take from three to five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, because I know it purifies the blood and thoroughly cleanses the system of all impurities. That languid feeling, called 'spring fever,' will never visit the system that has been properly cared for by this never-failing remedy." W. H. LAWRENCE, Editor Agricultural Epitomist, Indianapolis, Ind.

THE TRIGGER.

Captain Brewer, who defeated J. A. R. Elliott last week, has on three occasions killed 99 pigeons out of 100, but has never been able to make the complete score.

FACING THE TARGET.

The amateurs of No. 6 ward held another of their interesting shoots yesterday, the result showing very good scores. The target was a six inch, with half-inch bulls-eye, with a possible 50 to score in each round. Capt. Sammons' team won 3 out of 5 rounds to Capt. Macpherson's 1, with one a tie, and a total surplus of 17 points. Score:

THE RING.

Geo. C. Peters, colored pugilist, of this city, arrived here Saturday from Minneapolis, where he has signed articles with "The Black Pearl" to meet him in Detroit this week for $1,000 a side and receipts. Several Londoners intend going to the City of the Straits to take in the mill at $1 admission. George lives near Philip and South Street, this city. He leaves on Wednesday.

Bob Fitzsimmons has left Baltimore for Buffalo. In regard to his coming fight with Hall before the Astoria (Oregon) Athletic Club, George Clarke telegraphed to Charles Ross, his agent at Buffalo, that he had a guaranteed purse of $17,000, and furthermore that he would back Fitzsimmons for $10,000. With an equal backing on the Hall side this will make the largest stake ever fought for, the total amount being $37,000. Fitzsimmons says if he defeats Hall he will make Ted Pritchards, England's champion, his next mark and then retire from the ring.

TROY, N. Y., March 31.—The fight for the featherweight championship of the world and $4,000, between Cal. McCarthy and Geo. Dixon (colored), took place tonight. Betting was $100 to $75 in favor of Dixon, and about $25,000 were up on the result. Dixon won in the 22nd round. Between 1,200 and 1,400 people witnessed the fight.

BASEBALL.

When Catcher Decker, at one time behind the bat for Toronto, was arrested the other day he explained that the charges were made by some people interested with him in a patent turnstile, but the Philadelphia police say that Decker passed a forged check for $15 on George Bates, proprietor of the Oriental Hotel; a bogus check on S. Hassenger for $10, and a worthless check for $50 on Edward McLaughlin, the billiard player. He is also charged with stealing a suit of clothes.

The Louisville ball club is in trouble again. The minority stockholders refuse to respond to assessments or sell their stock, and a bad mix-up is the result.

The Sporting Life "Baseball Guide" for 1891 has just been issued. It is a neatly printed book full of interesting information, and compares favorably with any kindred work.

THE KENNEL.

The famous St. Bernard, Alton, died Sunday evening in Washington, D. C., from pneumonia. He was the champion dog of this country until the recent arrival of Sir Bedivere. He cost $4,500.

CRICKET.

The plan to form an American cricket league very much similar to the baseball organizations, arrange a schedule, play a certain number of games and the club winning the greater percentage of matches each year be awarded a pennant emblematic of the championship of the United States, finds considerable favor. The scheme is feasible, and if carried out will, it is believed, greatly enhance the popularity of cricket in the States. The league would probably include Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Boston, Pittsburg, Detroit and Chicago. The project is being energetically pushed in Chicago and has a number of promoters in Philadelphia.

ATHLETICS.

THE WHEEL.

The bicycle race at Detroit closed Saturday night, Ashinger beating Reading out by two feet. The scores were as follows: Ashinger and Reading, 396 miles 14 laps each; Clark, 386-5.

The classic event of the first half of the English cycle racing season in the Surrey cup race, which is run over a grass course. The prize is a challenge cup of solid silver weighing 140 ounces. The race takes place on April 18, when Osmond, the English crack, will compete on a pneumatic-tired ordinary.

PEDESTRIANISM.

McPherson, the amateur champion runner of Australia, is credited with covering 250 yards in 24 3-10 seconds, and 100 yards in 9 4-5 seconds in Auckland recently.

THE TURF.

The Royal Veterinary College of London has received as a gift the skeleton of ehe horse Hermit, winner of the Derby and Epsom races in 1867, when his owner won about $450,000 and another horseman lost over $500,000.

In the fourth race at Guttenberg on Saturday Jack Rose broke his saddle girth and a stirrup leather in a stretch, but Taylor kept his seat, and the horse ran straight and won.

Ed. Storms, well known as a rider and owner of race horses, died in Chicago on Saturday. Among his horses of late years were Lijero, Voltigeur II., Von Tromp and Justice Lyon. In his early days Storms was a steeplechase rider in Canada.

LORD LONSDALE'S DRIVE.

Lord Lonsdale had gone to great expense to win his driving match with the Earl of Shrewsbury, and when the latter declined to go on with the race Lord Lonsdale, as already announced by cable, set out and succeeded in doing the distance in the prescribed styles in less than an hour, and thus won a large amount that had been wagered on time. Late English papers give full details of the performance, which was on a five-mile stretch of road between Reigate and Crawley, Lord Lonsdale undertaking to do five miles each with a single horse, pair, four horse team and in postilion fashion all in a hour. There had been a heavy fall of snow, but the center of the road had been cleared by a snow plow, and the "going" was good. Says a London sporting journal: His Lordship, who was dressed in a brown covert coat, with leather breeches and brown Wellingtons to match, took his seat in the single horse buggy shortly before 1, when everything was in readiness. The horse was the well-known thoroughbred War Paint, aged, by Uncas out of Toilette. He has been seen out over hurdles several times this season, and it is stated that he has only been twice in harness. The buggy is of American make. A clock was placed in front to enable the driver to see how he was getting along. It may be mentioned that it was synchronized with three other clocks placed on the other vehicles, from which fact will be gathered the care with which each minute detail was attended to. Further, each vehicle contained a large pair of blue spectacles, and these, as it turned out, were of especial value in view of the muddy condition of the roads. Lord Lonsdale trotted up to the flags, shouted to the time-keeper, "Are you ready?" shook the reins, and away bounded old War Paint at full gallop. Save for a big crowd, which drew back, the road was quite clear, and in a second or two the buggy, which his lordship was keeping straight as an arrow, went flying over the hill. It should have been mentioned that a couple of avant couriers had been dispatched to clear the way, and this they did with such success that no obstruction was met with until nearly reaching Crawley. Then a brewer's dray, to which were attached a couple of horses tandem, obstructed the road. Lord Lonsdale shouted, and the driver did his best to clear out of the way, but the leader becoming restive it caused the racer to lose fully 20 seconds. This will account for the comparatively slow time accomplished by the single horse, the time on reaching the flags at Crawley being 13 minutes 39 1-5 seconds. In trials his lordship has done the five miles in 11 minutes. The pair-horse was in waiting, and with extraordinary celerity the driver jumped from one to the other, the change only taking three seconds. In less time than it takes to write it the return match was commenced. The horses were two American trotters, Blue and Yellow. Just at the start of the second journey a couple of policemen made a faint protest, but did not actively interfere, and the road was again found beautifully clear. Excellent progress was made this time, and a great cheer went up as the vehicle was descried in the distance from the starting post. At breakneck pace up galloped the Americans, steaming hot, making, with Lord Lonsdale, all mud-bespattered and blue-spectacled, a remarkable sight. Quickly leaping out, he ran a few yards and mounted the box of the char-a-banc. The second journey had been accomplished in 12 minutes, 51 2-5 seconds, giving 25 minutes, 33 3-5 seconds for the ten miles, and now everything pointed to a record of under one hour for the complete twenty miles. The change to the coach, freighted with two grooms, occupied 36 3-5 seconds, rather longer than at the other end and here occurred the most interesting scene of all. When Lord Lonsdale mounted the coach it was a few yards behind the starting post, and whilst his lordship adjusted his position the groom drove the coach. A yard before reaching the proper place the chief of the Lowthers "caught up," and standing on the box he sent the team away in grand style. As he swept by the crowd on the rise 100 yards away a chorus of admiration was raised, many old coaching hands expressing their surprise at the manner in which his lordship handled the reins. The leaders were thoroughbred geldings, Silk and Everton King, the wheelers being Conservative and Whitechapel. Again the road was all clear, and this journey to Crawley was accomplished in 15 minutes 9 2-5 seconds, the slowest of the four, as was to be expected. Last of all was the change to the postilion fashion. The change took 40 2-5 seconds, the reason being that Lord Lonsdale had to strip off his covert coat, jacket and hat before mounting. In the vehicle attached, made in New York, sat a groom, whose face, by the way, was in a dreadful condition of muddiness by the finish of the gallop. On Draper, a chestnut gelding, Lord Lonsdale rode, the other being Violetta, a bay mare. Little need be said about the fourth and last ride. At full tilt it was carried on throughout, and when the flags were reached the five miles had been covered in 13 minutes 55 4-5 seconds. The time for the full distance, including changes, was 56 minutes 55 4-5 seconds.

TERRESTRIAL HEALING

A branch office of the Magnetic Meridian Vitapoise Company is now permanently located at 204 Dundas street, for the purpose of giving practical demonstrations of the healing virtues of the "Vitapoise," (or miniature earth.) It is the most wonderful healing instrument ever discovered. It only fails to cure the afflicted when their case is hopeless, and it makes no difference what ails you.

If you would like to investigate "TERRESTRIAL HEALING," call at the office, and Prof. Reid, will cheerfully explain to you the mysteries of the subtle healing force contained in a Magnetic Meridian Vitapoise.

Separate rooms are fitted up for the treatment of ladies and gentlemen. We want every family and physician in Canada to buy a "Vitapoise," and we will accomplish our object if an afflicted member of every tenth family will give the instrument a trial by taking a "course of treatment." Its application is absolutely painless and is also harmless; but disease will flee from before it as if riven away by magic.

Physicians! try a "Vitapoise" on one of your patients, having either la grippe, inflammation, fever, insomnia, neuralgia or rheumatism, and thereafter your "medical case" will be a secondary consideration along as you have a "Vitapoise" with you.

Send for catalogue which fully explains everything; free. Address, The MAGNETIC MERIDIAN VITAPOISE COMPANY, 204 Dundas street, London, Ont. gm

THE SAME OLD GAME.

How Green Goods Men Impose on the Gullible and Greedy.

OTTAWA, April 1.—By nearly every New York mail Mayor Sherwood, commissioner of Dominion Government police, receives a batch of letters from alleged dealers in counterfeit money, which, instead of being delivered to the green goods men in New York, are stopped by the postoffice authorities there and forwarded to Ottawa. The latest dodge of these swindlers to escape detection was explained by Mayor Sherwood on Saturday. The circular sent out by the New York sharpers is constructed pretty much on the old lines. It offers counterfeit United States Treasury notes at the rate of $3,000 in bad bills for $300 in good money, or $10,000 worth for $650. The counterfeit paper is said to be printed from genuine plates stolen from the Printing Bureau in Washington, and in proof of this a newspaper clipping is inclosed which tells of the astounding revelations which followed the death of a supposed poor man who was found to have been really worth millions, all made by handling counterfeit notes printed from the stolen notes.

The clipping includes what is alleged to be the sworn report of the United States Treasury experts, setting forth the so-called facts of the theft of the plates, and the impossibility of detecting notes printed therefrom. The method of escaping detection through the vigilance of the postoffice officials is this: With the circular is inclosed a memorandum which the recipient is advised to "keep for future reference." It read:

"Send your telegram to Charles Towns, 209 Elm street, New York city. Your password and sign is 'Coal 88.' Do not sign anything else.

"Caution.—Be sure you have the numbers plainly written on the telegram after you sign the word 'Coal,' otherwise your telegram will positively receive no attention. The figures are very important. Positively no letters received at this address. Do not write to me till I give you permission, which will be within 30 days if I do not receive a telegram from you."

Communication thus quickly established between the sharper and his victim, it is an easy matter for the former to change his postal address so frequently as to lessen the chances of his letters being interrupted. How many of these circulars reach their destination and are acted upon by the greedy people who go into such business there is no means of computing exactly, but it is well known that people are taken in every day by the green goods men game. Mayor Sherwood estimates that, notwithstanding all precautions, a goodly proportion of green goods circulars reach those to whom they are addressed, with the result that a class of men, for whom no sympathy can be felt, are continually making trips across the line, paying good money for gripsacks filled with supposed spurious bills, and, after concluding the bargain, come to find that their precious parcel of counterfeits has been adroitly exchanged for a bag of sawdust.

Among other Quebec families suffering from la grippe is that of the Commissioner of Crown Lands.

Tables were spread in their commodious dining room and filled to their utmost capacity with delicacies provided by the ladies. After justice had been done to the inner man the tables were cleared off and a lengthy programme provided. Squire D. A. P. Graham being called to the chair, addresses were given by Reeve Malcolm McArthur, Messrs. Dougald A. Graham, Peter Crawford and others, interspersed with songs and music by the ladies. Afterwards all departed for their homes, well pleased with the enjoyment of the evening and wishing Mr. and Mrs. Campbell health and happiness in their future home.

Ingersoll.

The waterworks company finished the building of their stand-pipe on Thursday, having carried it to a height of 110 feet, and on Saturday afternoon the fireman were out testing its efficiency. Six streams were thrown at the same time, and continued for 20 or 30 minutes without the use of the pumping engines, without any apparent diminution of force, being of sufficient power to do efficient work if thrown to the top of the highest buildings in town. Nearly all who witnessed the test expressed themselves well satisfied with the investment.

A man named D. Callard, of Dorchester, had his hand badly mutilated by coming in contact with a circular saw in the mill here last week.

Messrs. J. L. Grant & Co. paid out last year for hogs alone the sum of $358,500, in addition to their extensive cheese and egg business. New buildings and new machinery are to be added this year that will double the facilities and trade of the firm.

The parishioners of the Roman Catholic Church subscribed the sum of $75 for the relief of the poor in the Diocese of Achonry, Ireland, which has been forwarded by Rev. Father Molphy to the bishop, the Right Rev. John Leister.

A barn belonging to Mr. W. C. Holland, who lives just outside the town limits, Wellington street, was destroyed by fire on Saturday evening about 9:30 together with its contents. Mr. Holland was in the barn attending to his horse for the night, when his dog started skirmishing around after a rat and knocked over the lantern, setting fire to a lot of hay and straw. The horse was the only thing got out. It was only through the greatest exertions of the neighbors who assembled that the dwelling-house was saved. Loss, about $500 or $600; insured for $300.

British Grain Trade.

LONDON, March 31.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says: "English wheats have been strongly held at an advance of 1s. Foreign wheats shared in the strength and prices showed an average rise of 9d. Trade was firmer all along the line. Corn, beans and peas are up 6d. Barley and oats are 3d dearer. The prospects of the wheat crops in Russia, Austria and Hungary give hopes of an increased export surplus amounting to 4,000,000 quarters. Against this must be set the certainty of a heavy import demand from France, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Germany. The deficiency in those countries, combined with the wants in England, is expected to absorb the surplus wheat of America, Austria and Russia, thus causing a decidedly higher value during the cereal year of 1891-92.

Live Stock Markets.

EAST BUFFALO.

EAST BUFFALO, N. Y., March 31.—Cattle—The only cattle received since last report were one or two parts of light, thin stockers, also held over from yesterday, for which there was very little demand except at low prices, but about all were cleaned up, and for good fat cattle the prospects are considered favorable.

Sheep and Lambs—The market ruled about steady for wool stock, and very dull and slow for clipped lots and for western sheep. The fresh arrivals were only 2 cars, and about 6 loads held over unsold from yesterday's trade. A few lots of clipped stock are still unsold. Prices on sheep closed as follows: Choice to extra heavy, $5 75 to $6 25; good to choice, $5 25 to $5 65; common to fair, $4 25 to $5; Texas and western, $5 50 to $5 75; clipped sheep, common to best, $4 to $5 25. Lambs quotable as follows: Choice to extra, $6 60 to $7; good to choice, $6 20 to $6 50; common to fair, $5 25 to $6; clipped lambs, common to best, $5 25 to $6.

HOGS—The offerings were light—only 7 cars. The market ruled excited and higher, with reports from Chicago and other western centers stronger; York weights, light to good, brought $5 to $5 10, and a few strong York weights $5 15; good mediums and heavy ranged from $5 15 to $5 20, and one load of choice heavy brought $5 25; pigs, light to choice, ranged from $4 50 to $5 25; pigs, light to choice, ranged from $4 50 to $4 75, and a few lots of very choice brought $4 95. Weather warm and raining.

TORONTO.

TORONTO, March 31.—The receipts at the cattle market to-day were 24 loads, 150 sheep and lambs, 500 hogs and 50 calves. Last week's were 413 cattle, 347 sheep and lambs and 735 hogs. The market for cattle was weak, and about five or six loads were left over unsold. The butchers appear to be overstocked, and until they dispose of their load the market will continue weak. The Montreal market was poor. A few loads sold from 4c to 4¼c and a few picked went a little better. The average for good stuff was 3½c, and medium 3¼c to 3½c; poor 3c to 3¼c and inferior 2½c to 2c per lb. Sheep and lambs were unchanged, and about half the stuff was left over. The prices were steady, mixed selling from $5 to $7 per head. The hogs were all sold; stores and light fat $4 to $4 25 per cwt, and heavy fat $4 10 to $4 80. All heavy hogs are wanted; stores and light fat are in poor demand and are weak. Calves are steady and good ones are wanted.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, March 31.—Hogs—Receipts, 19,000; quality poor; left over, 3,000; market moderately active on packing and shipping account and prices irregular; heavy lots sold early at 5c to 10c advance, but this improvement was lost later in the day; common and medium lots 5c to 10c lower. Sales: $3 30 to $3 50 for pigs; $4 35 to $4 95 for light, $4 45 to $4 65 for rough packing, $4 60 to $5 for mixed, $4 70 to $5 25 for heavy packing and shipping lots.

Cattle—Receipts, 5,400; quality fair; market quiet and prices without material change. Quotations: $5 45 to $6 40 for choice to fancy shipping steers; $4 75 to $5 40 for good to choice do, $3 75 to $4 50 for common to fair do, $3 25 to $4 for butchers' steers, $2 50 to $3 25 for stockers, $3 to $4 25 for Texans, $3 25 to $3 90 for feeders, $1 50 to $3 50 for cows, $1 50 to $3 for bulls, and $3 to $5 for veal calves.

Petrolea Oil Market.

PETROLEA, March 31.—Oil to-day, $1 35.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—An army of men was employed scraping the streets yesterday.

—Miss Jean Frazer, of the Brantford Ladies' College, has been spending her Easter holidays in this city.

—The assault case in which Mr. and Mrs. John Hackett, of North London, played the title roles, was dismissed by Squire Jarvis yesterday afternoon.

—Saturday's Ontario Gazette contains the appointment of Messrs. Daniel Regan, Geo. M. Reid and Frank E. Leonard as license commissioners for this city.

—Mr. N. S. Hays, of Bathurst street, who came to this city to be treated for cancer, is almost well again, and intends returning home to Atwood, Kansas, shortly.

—Mr. Gerald Card, of Huron College, London, who assisted at the services in St. George's Church on Sunday, is visiting his relatives here for a few days.—[Guelph Herald.

—Riley Soules, of Westminster, will appear before Squire Jarvis to-morrow for assaulting his wife. Soules was arrested by Detective Graham and is spending the interval in jail.

—The Easter services at St. Peter's Cathedral and St. Mary's Church on Sunday were characterized by special music, large congregations and liberal offertories. Father Ferguson, of Detroit, preached at the cathedral.

—The firemen have just about completed a new battery room in the rear part of the Central Fire Hall. The carpenter work and design of construction are admirable, especially when it is considered that the men had to use old timber.

—Edward Webster, a well-known character, was accommodated in the jail here yesterday, where he will remain for a month. Edward has been on his Strathroy circuit as a finished vagrant, and made himself so obnoxious that Squire Noble sentenced him to a month's imprisonment.

—Negotiations have been begun by the Masonic fraternity of Hamilton to have the officers of St. John's Lodge, No. 209a, of this city, pay them a fraternal visit, upon which occasion they will exemplify the third degree. The date has not been fixed as yet, it is expected to be about April 13.

—The M. C. R. Company intend putting two new passenger coaches on their line between St. Thomas and this city. The new cars are at present in the St. Thomas shops, and are models of the car builders' art. They will be finished in chocolate color, and will be put on as soon as the upholstering work is finished.

Called Away.

Among the many deaths that occurred in Chicago during the past week, was that of a former and much-esteemed resident of this city, Mrs. Ann, relict of the late Samuel H. Clissold, who peacefully passed away on Thursday night at the residence of her eldest daughter, Mrs. Mary C. Ure. Deceased, who was 82 years of age, was born in Chobham, Surrey county, Eng., coming to Canada with her husband and family in 1843, settling at first on a farm in the 4th concession of London, thence going to London West, which at that time contained less than half a dozen houses, and subsequently moving to the city, where, after the death of her husband in 1850, she carried on business for a number of years. Soon after the removal of her son Henry to Chicago in 1863 Mrs. Clissold decided to make that city her home, and had resided there ever since. Deceased was a member of the Congregational Church in this city, under the ministrations of the late Rev. Edward Ebbs, but subsequently identified herself with the Baptist denomination, being one of the early members of the old York Street Church. She was a woman of refined and cultured tastes. She took a lively interest in public as well as church matters, and by her unswerving integrity and her many sterling qualities won the respect and regard of a wide circle of acquaintances. She was a sister of the late Wm. Rowland, of this city, and the last living member of that family. Her surviving children are Mr. H. R. Clisssold, Mrs. Mary C. Ure and Mrs. Annie Harbridge, of Chicago, the children by Mr. Clissold's first wife being Mrs. Alfred Rowland and Miss C. Clissold, of Lake Geneva, Wis., and Mr. Edward Clissold, of the ADVERTISER. Deceased was buried on Saturday at Morgan Park, near Chicago, her six grandsons acting as pall-bearers.

Connective Links.

Connective links of evidence make up a chain of truth which cannot be broken, as for example: First statement—Mr. J. E. Bonsall, Clerk of the County, Perry county, Pa., writes from Liverpool, Pa., Feb. 28, 1882: "At fifteen was prostrated with inflammatory rheumatism and was given up by physicians. In 1866 had another violent attack; hardly ever free from pain. Winter of '79, '80, could scarcely walk. Used St. Jacobs Oil by advice. It effected a cure. For two years I have felt no rheumatism. I am cured permanently." Second statement—April 26, 1886, Mr. Bonsall writes: "Six years ago I used St. Jacobs Oil; it effected a permanent cure. No return of pain." Third statement—April 21, 1888, Mr. Bonsall writes: "No more rheumatism since 1880, when I was cured by St. Jacobs Oil."

THE MIDDLESEX ASSIZES.

SECOND DAY—TUESDAY.

The grand jury found true bills in the cases of the Queen vs. James Gray, larceny of a sheep, and in the Queen vs. John McMillan, assault and wounding.

In the case of Fildew vs. the London Street Railway Company, judgment was entered by consent, the plaintiff to receive the sum of $500 and each party to pay their own costs. Gibbons, Q.C., McNab & Mulkern for plaintiff; B. B. Osler, Q.C., and J. H. Flock for defendants.

The case of Reilly vs. the City of London, Rice & Chapple and V. Cronyn, an action to recover damages, which has been before several courts recently, was then taken up. The evidence adduced was substantially the same as that disclosed at the previous examinations. Mrs. Reilly claims that since the accident she has been totally incapacitated for household duties. She was attending the market and in December last, while walking along Market Lane, fell through a trap door in front of the premises of Rice & Chapple, which the plaintiff alleges was not properly protected. The case is still in progress.

Justice Falconbridge dismissed the jury in the case of Reily vs. the City of London, V. Cronyn and Rice & Chapple, as the case was very complex.

The plea advanced by Mr. B. B. Osler, counsel for the plaintiff, is that the accident occurred through negligence on the part of the defendants.

For the city Messrs. W. R. Meredith, Q.C., and T. G. Meredith make a general denial of the allegations of the plaintiff, and maintain that the liability, if any, is against the owner and occupants of the building.

The plea of the defendant Cronyn, owner of the property where the accident occurred, is that the trap is situated on private property and is not part of the sidewalk. The place was intended for the display of goods and was three feet back from the sidewalk. The space is inclosed on three sides, is overshadowed by the roof and could not be mistaken for public property. The property was leased to William Bryce, of Toronto, and sub-let to Rice & Chapple, and the tenants should keep it in repair.

Rice & Chapple maintain that they are not liable and that if any accident happened the plaintiff it was due to her own negligence.

The case is still in progress. Osler, Q.C., and Cameron for plaintiff; W. R. Meredith, Q.C., and T. G. Meredith for the city; Blackstock, Q.C., and Betts for Cronyn; Talbot & Macbeth for Rice & Chapple.

The grand jury brought in a true bill in the murder case of the Queen vs. Robt. Murry. The prisoner was arraigned and though pale was quite self-possessed while the indictment was being read to him. He pleaded not guilty in a firm voice, and was removed to his cell. The case will be proceeded with on Friday.

The Wyoming Burglars Sentenced.

SARNIA, March 31.—The two men, Marsterstone and Hart, who cracked Lang's safe at Wyoming and held up an officer who chased them, were to-day sentenced to five years each in the penitentiary. Albert E. Robbins, a young Moore farmer, was committed for trial on a charge of stealing feed from King's mill.

Bitten by a Mad Newfoundland.

AILSA CRAIG, Ont., March 31.—A Newfoundland dog owned by a farmer named H. Bowman, living near this town, went mad yesterday and bit two of Mr. Bowman's children. One was bitten on the arm and the other on the back of the head. The doctors think that as the dog's teeth went through cloth before reaching the flesh no poison may have entered the wounds. The parents are anxiously awaiting developments. The dog also bit three or four other dogs.

Everybody Knows

That at this season the blood is filled with impurities, the accumulation of months of close confinement in poorly ventilated stores, workshops and tenements. All these impurities and every trace of scrofula, salt rheum, or other diseases may be expelled by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier ever produced. It is the only medicine of which "100 doses one dollar" is true. x

AN ARMY PORTIA.

By Charles King, U. S. Army.

AUTHOR OF "THE COLONEL'S DAUGHTER," "THE DESERTER," "FROM THE RANKS," "DUNRAVEN RANCH," "TWO SOLDIERS," ETC.

For two days following the adjournment of the court Fort Ryan was fairly in a ferment. Schonberg, terrified by the jeers of his townspeople to the belief that he was to be prosecuted for perjury, had slid away on a night train—"gone to purchase goods in St. Louis," said his unhappy spouse. Welsh, the martyr, had essayed to desert the same night, and, as a cat plays with a mouse, old Kenyon had let him go until the intent was made plain by his boarding the eastward-bound train in civilian dress, and then had had him hauled off by two stalwart infantrymen and incidentally, by the nape of his neck, and once more Welsh was remanded to his familiar haunt—the guard-house at Ryan. This time a still more serious charge was hanging over his head—that of assaulting a non-commissioned officer in discharge of his duty; for Corporal Brent had recognized him as his assailant the instant he heard his voice. So had another witness. It was Georgia Marshall who turned to Kenyon the moment Welsh had finished his testimony, and said, "I have heard that man speak before," and who unhesitatingly declared after Goss appeared that, though by sight she could identify neither man, by voice she knew that the one who had assaulted the corporal of the guard that night was not Goss, but Welsh. Then Welsh himself broke down. Such was the feeling against him among the men, such were the threats which he could not but hear as he lay in his bared cell, that he begged to be allowed to see the commanding officer. He was in fear for his life—poor devil! and indeed nothing but the discipline so derided of the newspapers saved him from the tarring and feathering and riding on a rail that the soldiers were wild to give him. In piteous accents he implored Kenyon to have him sent away, even to prison at Leavenworth. He would plead guilty to desertion, guilty to theft, guilty of assault, guilty to anything, if the major would only get him away from the terrible scowls and curses of his erstwhile companions. Only, if the major would but believe him, he really had never struck the corporal at all; he had hurled the pepper in his eyes and run. Brent, blinded and raging, had rushed in persuit, and had struck his head against the sharp edge of the brick pillar at the south end of the troop-barracks. Very possibly this was true; for the gash was deep and jagged.

And Brent was convalescing rapidly, but, between the ladies of the Lane, Brodie, Cross and Graves households, stood in danger of being killed with kindness. There was just the least little spark of jealousy among the women of the infantry because it was to a comparative stranger that he should have revealed his identity and by her be brought to the front at so supreme a moment. But it was Miss Marshall who had been greatly interested in his case from the very night of his mishap, and she and Mrs. Lane had been most kind and assiduous in their attentions to him during his days of suffering. When he learned of the charges against Lieutenant Hearn and of the outrageous falsification of the Jew, Schonberg, his determination to conceal his name was at last overcome, and to Miss Marshall and Dr. Ingersoll he told his story. His father's sudden and lamentable death at the hands of the Apaches had left him no alternative but to make over to his sister every cent that had been hoarded up and set aside for his education—every cent that was his by the old soldier's will—and then, leaving with her the little box that contained the captain's papers and letters, and quitting college, he went to New York and enlisted choosing the infantry service rather than the cavalry because his father's old friends and associates were mainly in the latter, and, though he had seen none of them since his boyhood days, he thought recognition not impossible, and he determined to make his own way and owe nothing to any man.

"I'm glad he came to us," said old Kenyon. "I'd do pretty much anything to see him in any other profession; but as he is bound to be a soldier, I'll do all I can to place 'Candidate' alongside his name on our muster-roll, and then it would be just my luck to find him commissioned in the cavalry."

But if there was excitement as Ryan, just fancy the feelings of the officers and men in the Eleventh, now two hundred miles away in the Indian Territority, when the letters came detailing the events of the last day of that court-martial—Schonberg's exposure, Brent's unveiling, Welsh's disgrace, Hearn's undoubted acquittal, Lawler put to confusion and flight, and Georgia Marshall the heorine of the whole thing!

"A Daniel come to judgment, ay, a Daniel," quoth Martain, as Lane read aloud Mabel's enthusiastic description of what she termed the "trial scene." "The whole regiment sends heart-felt congratulations to Hearn and love to Portia," was the telegram that came flashing back to Mrs. Lane. Morris lost no time in dictating a diplomatic message to his absent subaltern, expressive of his desire to welcome him back to duty after so complete a vindication. But Morris felt very ill at ease, and was not surprised that no answer was vouchsafed. He retired to his tent, and was not seen for some hours after learning of Brent's identity.

Meantime, just when one would suppose that all was plain sailing, balmy breezes, sun-kissed wavelets, etc., just when nothing should have stood in the way of Mr. Hearn's rejoicing with all his heart, and just when the course of his true love ought to have been smooth and sweet, the very imp of perversity seemed to have suddenly developed in Georgia Marshall's breast, and she who had done so much to clear his name of "the clouds that lowered o'er" it, and had for two weeks been the young soldier's most valued friend and ally, now most unaccountably held aloof and fairly shunned his society. She met him only in a crowd. She simply would not meet him alone. On one pretext or another she avoided him, and poor Hearn, wounded, utterly unable to account for this sudden change, utterly incapable of fathoming a woman's whim, was now plunged in the depths of a distress exceeding that from which he had just emerged. She had rescued him from the toils only to plunge him into worse entanglement.

It was the fourth day after the adjournment of the court when Major Kenyon came to Mr. Hearn's rooms with a telegram just received from division head-quarters, and found that young gentleman dejectedly reading a long letter in the handwriting of Judge Hearn, his father. Kenyon had grown to know it well. "Released from arrest, lad! That means you can go and join the regiment as soon as you like. What does the judge say now?"

"Read that page," was the answer, as Hearn placed the letter in the major's hand. And with knitted brows Kenyon read as follows:

"And now again I urge upon you, my son, the step as I so earnestly counseled in my last. Major Kenyon's telegram just received says that your acquittal is assured and that you vindication is triumphant. This I felt would be the case. But what reparation have you for the wrongs and insults heaped upon you by the Northern press? What proportion of the people would have had you portrayed to them as a low bully, a drunken brute, a swindler will ever know the contrary? What paper that has vilified you will have the decency or the courage, now that it knows the truth, to make the faintest amends? Not one.

"The time has come for you now to quit at once and for all a profession which the people of the North so little appreciate and so persistently decry. I am aging fast, and shall be glad to have your strong arm to lean upon. A year or two in my office will fit you for the bar. Meantime, you can have nearly double the income that the government pays you, and when I am gone all I have, practically, will be yours. Come back to us, my boy; come to the mother, the father, and the people who love you; come home to us who know and need you; you are not wanted where you are."

For some time Major Kenyon stood in silence. At last, seeing that he was expected to express his opinion, he slowly spoke:

"I feared that that first letter would come, and I might have known that this would follow. When will you answer?"

"Not just yet. I must think it over. Not—not until after to-night, anyway."

That evening Mrs. Morris insisted upon everybody's coming to her house "to celebrate." The news that Hearn had been released by telegraphic orders was all over the post in half an hour, and that he would start to rejoin the regiment in the field was of course a foregone conclusion. Only, said that all-important personage referred to generally as "everybody,"—only he will probably want to delay a little while on Miss Marshall's account, for if they are not already engaged it is solely her fault, any one can see he is utterly in love with her.

That no remedy in the market affords such prompt relief in toothache, neuralgia and rheumatism as Nerviline, and its action in cases of cramps, colic, etc., is simply marvelous. Remarking this to a physician of experience he stated that from his knowledge of the composition of Nerviline no remedy could surpass it as a family remedy, and that in every household a bottle of Nerviline should be available for emergent demands. Readers of this paper should try Nerviline.

How to Become Rosy-Cheeked Women.

The political battle is over, but the battle with disease must be constantly and unceasingly waged else the grim reaper will come out victorious, and loved ones will be gathered to their long home. On all sides may be seen pale and listless girls who should be enjoying the health and glow of rosy youth. Everywhere we are met with women young in years, yet prematurely old, who suffer in silence almost untold agonies, the result of those ailments peculiar to the female system. To all such, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills come as a blessing. They restore wasted vitality, build up the nervous system, enrich the blood, and transform pale and sallow complexions into glowing, rosy cheeks that alone follow perfect health. In a word, they are a certain cure for all these distressing complaints to which women and girls are peculiarly liable. A trial of these pills will convince the most skeptical of their wonderful merit. For suffering men Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are equally efficacious. For overwork, mental strain, loss of sleep, nervous debility, and all those diseases that lead to broken-down manhood, they are a certain specific, stimulating the brain, reinforcing the exhausted system and restoring shattered vitality. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are nature's restorative and should be used by every weak and debilitated person. For sale by all dealers or sent post paid on receipt of price (50 cents a box) by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

An article whose sale increases day after day for a considerable time, must have real merit. A poor thing may be "boomed" for a while, but only what is thoroughly good has staying qualities. This is one of the chief reasons why we indorse VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA, and urge its use.

Eli Griffith's Bravery.

The chief topic of conversation around the city has been the wonderful pluck displayed by the young man, Eli Griffith, in his efforts to save the two Pritchett boys from drowning. Many have expressed the opinion that such bravery should not go unrewarded. Mr. C. S. Hyman, M.P., has taken the matter in hand and will address a petition for a suitable medal to the Royal Humane Society, of which the Queen is patron. These medals are only granted in cases of especial bravery where persons are saved from drowning or from the fatal effects of firedamp in mines. That Mr. Hyman's efforts will prove successful will be the wish of every citizen, as the rescue was one of the most heroic recorded for many a day.

Johnston-Reason.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at King Street Methodist Church yesterday when Mr. James W. Johnston, foreman at A. J. Watson's, led to the altar Miss Florence C. Reason, eldest daughter of Mrs. Reason, Elias street. The groom was assisted by Messrs. W. H. Watson, East London, and H. T. Reason, brother of the bride. The bridesmaids were Miss Fanny Miller and Miss Edith L. Reason. The bride wore a handsome blue serge traveling dress. The flowers of the entire party were white roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Stephen Bond, and the ushers were Messrs. Armstrong and Alfred Parker. Miss May Lacey, organist, played the wedding march. The bride has been a valued member of the choir, and her services will be greatly missed by the church. The happy bridegroom has been the leader of King Street Presbyterian Church choir, and prior to leaving that position was presented with a handsome easy chair. The contracting parties left on the 11:30 train for eastern cities, followed by numerous well wishes. They will return and take up their residence in East London.

Sewer for Northenders Proposed.

Aldermen Ivey (chairman), Wilkey, Wyatt, Mr. John Heaman, Dr. Gardiner, M. H. O. Hutchinson, Inspector Bell and Secretary Graydon met as the Board of Health in the City Hall yesterday afternoon. James Morris' communication offered to receive night soil on the Thompson farm, east of the racecourse, for $100 a year, provided the township authorities do not object. Robert Hill desired $200 a year for the same job, the refuse to be dumped on the Kent farm near by. Morris' offer being the cheaper, was accepted. It was decided to notify Mr. Smith, of Detroit, the owner of the house on Dufferin avenue, near Maitland street, in which the Perkin family were stricken down with diphtheria, that the premises are not fit for occupancy from a sanitary point of view, and that he must not rent the place until it is in a proper condition. On motion of Dr. Gardiner it was deemed advisable that a drainage scheme by way of a trunk sewer be constructed for the northern part of the city. Inspector Bell commences his house-to-house inspection on April 15. W. R. Meredith, M.P.P., wrote to say he would attend to the question of double closets in stores at the next session.

A few days ago a young man named Green, of Muskegon county, went to Clarksville, Ionia county, and married a lady named Mrs. Minard. Mr. Green is about 84 and Mrs. Minard is 70 years of age. They are living in Muskegon county as happy as kittens.

Mrs. Susan Messenger, of Grand Ledge, obtained a divorce from Sanford Messenger fourteen years ago and married Mr. Nostrant. Messenger recently died and left a mass of property, and now Mrs. Nostrant's attorneys are preparing to sue for a dower in the Messenger estate, as there seems to be a forgotten law that she can become interested and recover any time within fifteen years.

John Tosey and his wife, who live eleven miles northwest of Jackson, on their grandmother's farm, have been on unfriendly terms with the old lady for some time. The other night they ate a hearty supper, which the grandmother did not touch. After the meal the husband and wife were taken sick, and are now in a dangerous condition. Arsenic was found in the cabbage eaten at supper.

Lost in the Snow.

DENVER, Col., March 31.—Thos. Clark, aged 16, who carries the mail from Oil City to Rougy, Wyo., has not been heard from for ever a week. The snow in that section is five feet deep on the level, and the boy is supposed to have lost his way. His father, A. W. Clark, started to hunt for him on Friday in a driving snow storm, and has not been heard from since. Yesterday a horse driven by the father was found dead between Ervay and Oil City. It is feared that father and son have perished. The storm is the worst in the history of the country.

AWFUL SKIN DISEASE.

Child a Mass of Raw, Bleeding Sores. Miraculous Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.

A face, from the hair to the neck on both sides, a raw mass of bleeding sores, two little hands and arms in the same condition; a body, around the waist of which was a broad band of bleeding eruptions, and from the hips to the tips of her toes the skin was so raw as to be absolutely sickening to the sight. Said Mrs. H. A. Stout to me: "I have tried everything suggested to me on my little daughter, who has been so afflicted almost from birth. I have had three doctors experiment on her, but she seemed to be getting worse every day. I was almost distracted. Every night I had to bandage her all over, and tie mittens on her hands to prevent her from digging the raw flesh with her fingers. Mr. Faulkner said he believed that CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. He offered to bear the expense. At that time she was worse than I had ever seen her, and there seemed no prospects of recovery. CUTICURA, CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and CUTICURA SOAP have wrought a miracle. To-day her skin is smoothe and fair, and I believe she has entirely recovered." The above is true in every particular, and I refer to Mr. C. W. Woolever, druggist.
