The Dead Bull Fighter.

SEVILLE, Spain, May 31.—The body of Espartaco, the matador, killed in the bull ring at Madrid, arrived here yesterday. All the shops were closed, and 50,000 people followed it from the railway station to the Chapel Ardena, where it will lie in state two days.

Coming to Canada.

LONDON, May 31.—The manager of the Church Emigration Society of London says that notwithstanding the decrease in the total emigration to Canada, this year the number of families applying to the society for assistance to emigrate to Canada is steadily increasing.

Miss Ida Wells' Lecture.

LONDON, May 31.—Miss Ida Wells, the young colored woman from Memphis, delivered a lecture before the Democratic Club last night in denunciation of the practice of lynching colored men in the Southern States of America. Resolutions protesting against lynchings were adopted and a copy ordered sent to the United States ambassador.

More Bombs in Rome.

ROME, May 31.—Bombs were exploded simultaneously last evening in front of the ministries of justice and of war. The buildings in each neighborhood were shaken as if by an earthquake. Hundreds of windows were broken but no one was injured. The bombs were set, it is believed, by anarchists who wished to emphasize their disapproval of sentences in the cases of Deputy De Falco and his associates.

Fatal Hoax.

MADRID, May 31.—A young girl in the Church of San Ildefonso screamed during the services this evening: "Save yourselves; here is a bomb that will explode." The congregation, panic-stricken, started the doors. Many were trampled and unconscious on the floor. Three persons received probably fatal injuries. Police found no bomb in the building, and the girl then confessed that she had hoaxed.

Britain and Congo.

LONDON, May 31.—In the House of Commons Sir Edward Grey, Under Secretary, announced that the Government had notified Great Britain of the intention of France to maintain a permanent reserve of troops in the Congo. It was untrue, he said, that Germany had protested against the arrangement. There had been no protest.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 31.—An enormous gathering of troops invaded Sofia Park yesterday, and destroyed the bust of Alexander of Battenberg. The Canadian Cattle Difficulty.

LONDON, May 30.—Mr. Hugh Arnold Foster, M.P., has given notice that on Tuesday next he will ask in the Commons if the Board of Agriculture has seen the statement alleging that Canadian owners of cattle doubt the disinfectant of the experts who examine imported cattle, and for this reason would resent any decision adverse to Canadian cattle. He will also ask whether there is any foundation for impugning the good faith of the imperial officers charged with the examination of cattle, and whether Mr. McEachern, of Quebec, who was the chief certifier to the existence of pleuropneumonia in cattle exported from Canada, is still managing director of the Walcott Ranch in the district of Alberta, and interested in that other company which is exporting cattle from Canada to the United Kingdom.

The Liberal Programme Carried Out.

LONDON, May 31.—In the House of Commons Sir William Harcourt moved that all the time of the House during the remainder of the session be devoted to Government measures.

Mr. A. J. Balfour, Sir John Lubbock, and other Conservatives opposed the measure.

Mr. Seaton Carr moved an amendment postponing the operation of the motion one month. Mr. Carr eventually withdrew his amendment, that extra time be given to the Government for the disposition of financial questions only.

The amendment was lost, however, and Sir William Harcourt's motion was carried by a vote of 234 to 217.

Exciting Inaugural Session.

PARIS, May 31.—The vicinity of the Chamber of Deputies was jammed with sightseers long before the hour of opening the sitting of the Chamber to-day, and the galleries were packed. Premier Dupuy was the first member of the new Cabinet to arrive. He was loudly applauded and received congratulations of members of all shades of politics. After the opening ceremony Premier Dupuy ascended the tribune and presented the statement of the policy of the Ministry. The statement was terse and to the point, and occupied only five minutes in delivery. The Premier called the attention of the deputies to his known opinions and desire for reforms, and expressed his intention of carrying them out to the best of his ability. Vice-President Demilly announced that the Radicals demanded the interpellation of the Government concerning its formation and policy. Premier Dupuy suggested that discussion upon that question take place next Monday if agreeable to the Chamber. Mr. Goebel, amid tremendous Radical cheers and Republican counter-cries, demanded immediate discussion of that part of the Government's programme relating to its formation, but Premier Dupuy was sustained by vast majority of the Chamber and the discussion fixed for Monday.

The Chamber of Deputies to-day passed a vote of confidence in the Government on the Turpin question by a vote of 416 to 102.

World's Y. M. C. A. Jubilee.

LONDON, May 31.—The thirteenth international conference of the Young Men's Christian Association of all lands will assemble in Exeter Hall to-morrow. These conferences are held triennially. The credentials committee, of five members, representing as many nationalities, met at the hall this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Entertainment has been provided for all the delegates, of whom about 2,000 are expected. By special permission of the council of the city of London a large pavilion has been erected near Waterloo bridge on the Thames embankment. It seats 21,000 persons and in it all the delegates will be served each day with lunch and tea. It is handsomely decorated with the flags of all nations.

This conference is called the jubilee celebration, because it commemorates the 50th anniversary of the organization of the first Young Men's Christian Association, by George Williams, on June 6, 1844. There are already about 1,000 delegates here.

Prominent among the American delegates are: Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler, D.D., Hon. John W. Wadsworth, Rev. Henry H. Stephens, D.D., of Rochester; Warden King and Herbert Ames, of Montreal; W. W. Smith, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; and Lewis E. Lyon, of Auburn, N. Y. A conference of the English committee and the representatives of American international committee was held this afternoon, with Sir George Williams in the chair. A resolution was adopted congratulating Sir George upon his knighthood. W. H. Mills, of London, moved an expression of condolence to the American association upon the death of E. B. Monroe, of New York, the chairman of the international committee, which was adopted.

Noted Divorce Case.

The General Elections

An Able Successor to the Hon. C. F. Fraser.

South Essex Tories Clear the Way for the P. P. A. Man.

The "Salaries" Cry Started by Land Speculators—Latest Developments of the Campaign.

POLICY OF SOUTH ESSEX TORIES.

WINDSOR, May 31.—The Conservatives of South Essex met in convention at Kingsville when the resignation of W. Buchanan as the party candidate was accepted, and it was decided not to place a nominee in the field. The fight is now between Buchanan (P. P. A. and Ind.), Balfour (Lib.), and Dodson (Patron).

A GOOD MAN IN NORTH BRUCE.

Mr. Arch. MacCannell, jun., the Liberal nominee for North Bruce, is a young farmer, is a pronounced temperance man, is a good speaker, and of irreproachable character. As Mr. MacCannell, by his alliance with the P. P. A., has alienated a large section of Liberal Patrons, Mr. MacCannell will make great inroads into the Patron votes in Bruce and Saugeen.

VALUABLE ACQUISITION TO THE MOWAT CABINET.

The reputation gained by Mr. William Harty in Kingston has been well described by a distinguished fellow-townsmen, Principal Grant: "The better I knew him, the more he impressed me as a clear and strong thinker, a man of independent mind and a loyal, public-spirited citizen. In these respects he has no superior in Ontario. How well he has served Kingston everyone knows. I believe that he is capable of doing splendid service for the Province, and we must all desire to see Kingston represented by a man of more than local eminence. We want to make Canada the best country in the world, and one part of our share of this work is done when we put our ablest men in positions of public trust."

SOMETHING OF A SENSATION HAS DEVELOPED

in the political contest in North Oxford by the publication of a resolution passed by the Patrons of Industry lodge of which Mr. Horsman, Sir Oliver Mowat's opponent, is a member. It appears that at the Patron convention at Woodstock at which Mr. Horsman was nominated the gentlemen who represented Mr. Horsman's lodge at the convention were not appointed by the lodge, and therefore had no right to be delegates on its behalf. They were, however, active members of the P. P. A., or strongly in sympathy with it, and hence their support of Mr. Horsman as the nominee of the Patron convention. Their action seems to have caused deep dissatisfaction in the lodge, for at a meeting of the lodge Friday evening last the following resolution was passed by Alexander Douglas, seconded by Wm. McLeod, was carried: "That this association believes that it is against the wishes of the Patrons of Ontario that Sir Oliver Mowat or any of the members of his Cabinet should have position at this general election, and that the officers and members of the Kinross Association of the Patrons of Industry condemn the action taken at Woodstock on March 31st by those Patrons assembled there in nominating a Patron candidate." The publication of this resolution will, undoubtedly, have a serious effect upon Mr. Horsman's candidature. The circumstances of his nomination are becoming apparent as the contest progresses. Not a few were surprised when he was nominated by the Patrons, as he had not been known prominently as a farmer. The fact that he owns a farm may indeed be said to be his only claim to be considered a farmer. His wealthy and highly-respected father is still a strong supporter of Sir Oliver Mowat, but Mr. Horsman himself has for twenty years been an insurance agent, his time having been chiefly devoted to that occupation. Nor did he ever identify himself actively with the interests of farmers, hence the surprise at his nomination by the Patrons. The secret is now out. Mr. Horsman is a P. P. A. candidate, and it was chiefly P. P. A. influence that gave him the nomination of the Patron convention. The fact that he was a P. P. A. was probably not known to many of the delegates, and a great many Patrons in the riding feel that they have been deceived. Mr. Horsman has thus far refused to acknowledge publicly that he is a P. P. A., but it is currently rumored, and upon good authority, that he was present at the last meeting of the P. P. A. council held in Woodstock, and that he there declared that he was a member of the P. P. A. "First, last and all the time," though he said that he was also Patron and was the Patron candidate. The Patrons naturally resent such a position. They think that Mr. Horsman having accepted, their interests and not those of any other secret organization should be first with Mr. Horsman. This feeling will be intensified by the resolution which has been passed by Mr. Horsman's lodge in the township of East Nissouri. Then, too, it is known that both the nominator and the seconder of Mr. Horsman in the Patron convention were Conservatives, and Conservatives are now his most active supporters throughout the riding. These facts are opening the eyes of the Patron Reformers to the true position, and now that Sir Oliver Mowat's supporters have settled down to active work, Mr. Horsman's prospects may be expected to grow even darker than heretofore. The contest in the south riding of Oxford is being pushed vigorously on both sides, with the prospects of Dr. McKay, the Reform candidate, growing daily brighter.

LAND SPECULATORS AND FEES.

Referring to the Patrons of Industry, it is worthy of note that the Farmers' Sun, the official organ of the Patrons, expresses the opinion that the agitation for the election and payment by salaries of the Provincial officers in the countries "was started by land speculators, who wish thus to make other people pay for their transactions. It says: "They require the services of these officials most frequently indeed, no man who does not buy or sell land requires the aid of a registrar—and it seems right that the registrar should be remunerated by the person who requires his services. To abolish the fee system and put the man on salary, as some propose would be to call upon us all to aid in the payment of an official the services of whom 900 out of every 1,000 never require. This view and all other views will no doubt be fully heard by the commission now taking evidence from every source on the entire question of appointment and payment of public officials, and we have no doubt that in this matter, as in all other questions that he has been called upon to settle, Sir Oliver Mowat will take good care that the public interests shall be conserved."

This will produce another shock to the opponents of Sir Oliver.

PATRON, P. P. A. AND PREVARICATOR.

PORT ELGIN, May 21.—A meeting of the Patrons of Industry held here yesterday evening was well attended. Mr. McNaughton, M. P. P. for North Bruce, opened the meeting, giving a resume of his actions in the Local Legislature. He gave as a reason for voting against the Government, being alone in the House, and being there by the voice of the Patrons of Industry he had to support those principles. If again elected he would act on those principles, supporting good measures from either side of the House. He said he was a member of the P. P. A. and stated that he had prevaricated a little when asked on former occasions whether he was a member of the P. P. A., and thinks that being a P. P. A. will not hinder him from honestly carrying out the Patrons' principles.

Mr. Mallory, grand president of the P. of I., spoke two hours, giving a definition of Patron principles and what had been done by them in the Dominion since their inception.

NOTES.

Hon. A. S. Hardy will address a series of meetings east of Toronto next week, viz., at Havelock, county of Peterboro, on the afternoon of Tuesday, June 5; at Colborne on Wednesday evening, the 6th, and at Sunderland, Ontario county, on Thursday, the 7th.

A convention of prohibitionists is to be held in Waterloo on Monday, June 4, to organize a county association and ascertain what steps should be taken in regard to the coming Provincial election. F. S. Spence, of Toronto, will be present.

Mr. F. G. Gardiner, piano dealer of Berlin, announces himself as an independent candidate for North Waterloo.

IT FAILED!

The Coal Operators' Conference Accomplished Nothing.

And Now It Is Every Man for Himself—All Quiet at Cripple Creek.

DECEASED TOO LONG.

WATSONBURG, Col., May 31.—The proposition of the coal miners for a conference was refused by General Manager Kelsner in Denver yesterday, who sent a defiant reply to the strikers.

THE CONFERENCE FAILED.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 31.—The conference of coal operators of Illinois, called to attempt a settlement of the miners' strike, adjourned sine die this afternoon, having accomplished nothing. The operators say: "Every man for himself."

ROUGHLY HANDLED.

PANA, Ill., May 31.—Four hundred local miners marched to the Penwell mines this morning and tried to drive out the men at work. The deputy sheriffs finally succeeded in driving away the strikers. Several of the deputies and strikers were roughly handled.

PEACE AT CRIPPLE CREEK.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Col., May 31.—All is quiet on the hill. The Governor being detained by washouts, necessitated a postponement of the proposed meeting to affect a compromise. The miners may eventually be driven from their position, but any attempt to remove them by force will result in loss of life. The picket lines are so strong now that no man can enter the camp or leave it without an order from the commander. A regular court martial has been established and a session held nightly. The strictest military duty is now enforced. The strikers are now making prisoners of men they consider dangerous to their safety, and it is said that 50 persons are thus held in custody. Last night they took three mountain men from the Summit mine, andiddled the telephone in the office with bullets.

WAS HE POISONED?

The Late Caleb Hartley—Deceased Said His Wife Was Trying to Do It—Evidence of Neighbors.

BRANTFORD, June 1.—The adjourned inquest on the body of Caleb Hartley, who died at New Durham, a small village some eighteen miles west of this city, on Sunday, May 13, under mysterious circumstances, was resumed in the schoolhouse, New Durham, by Coroner Kerr, of Brantford, Wednesday. The analysis of the stomach of deceased, which had been sent to Toronto, was not completed.

James Secord, a young lad, saw deceased last on May 9. He said he would soon be up in the barnyard. Witness replied, "Why, how's that?" Caleb replied, "They are trying to poison me." Mrs. Hartley told him to "shut up your head, Caleb; they are doing no such thing." Hartley replied, "You are, and I know it." She made no answer. The above witness was corroborated by Louis Secord, his cousin, who heard the talk.

George Soaper last saw deceased the Saturday before he died. Mrs. Hartley told him Caleb was sick. "I went in to see him and said, 'Good morning, Caleb.' He said he was pretty sick. I sat down beside him, and while I was in there was a dispute between Mr. and Mrs. Hartley regarding some powders." He understood Mrs. Hartley to say that when Dr. McCurdy was attending him he left some powders, white and brown ones, and when it came time for him to take a powder Mrs. Hartley told him, "Witness, continuing, said deceased was bound to have the brown powder, and Mrs. Hartley got it from him, saying it was against the doctor's orders. The deceased said, 'You tried to give me a dose of poison.' Witness did not remember any reply. Mrs. Hartley laughed it off, and witness at the time thought no more about it.

The coroner adjourned the inquest until Wednesday, June 6, when the medical testimony and the result of the analysis will be produced. There have been many rumors connecting Mrs. Hartley and a certain hired man.

Rev. T. De Witt Talmage sailed from San Francisco for Honolulu on the steamer Alameda Thursday.

KINGSMILL'S

AN OPEN LETTER

On Business.

None of the advertisers in this town seem to have colds in their heads just now, such shouting and bragging is there.

One quacks "Cash! Cash!" as if there was only one in the community had cash. Another screams "Look at me, ME!" Another "This way, I am Mr. Mighty Great!" And another "There never was the like of WE!"

Fact is, if Solomon were to come along to-day there are some houses he would never stop at from sheer disgust, because of the people that claim to be wiser than he ever was.

Watch the barnyard roosters. See how they crow with their eyes shut, evidently knowing it all by heart. Are they not like many of the modern advertisers?

Hot cakes and bad customs ought to be broken. Just as a scalded cat comes to fear even cold water, buyers who find themselves hoodwinked by plausible advertising set all advertising down as good for nothing, and careful, straightforward advertisers suffer with all the rest.

It is a selfish interest, therefore, that we have in continually advocating a high standard in advertising. We strive to maintain it ourselves in order to make advertising valuable. When storekeeping is scientifically done there's

No need to mislead people,
No need to tarnish over old stock,
No need to magnify goods or befool.

Right Well Everyone knows that we bought the whole stock of the late firm of Spittal, Burn & Gentleman, successors to T. Beattie & Co., at Fifty-nine cents on the dollar.

Right Well Everybody knows that such a collection of Fine Drygoods of every choice quality known, under no circumstances was ever offered before at bankrupt prices.

Right Well Everybody knows that in this way we are able to offer inducements to cash buyers, that under ordinary circumstances would be impossible.

Right Well Everybody knows that lots of the goods contained in the above mentioned stock is worth full price, and if moved to our other store would put more money in our pocket. But not a dollar's worth has been transferred. What is left is for your choice.

Right Well We want everyone to know that this sale will only last until the 16th June, then we must get out. We want to move but little goods. Your dollar is the

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ADVERTISER: I have a horse 5 years old, on whose hind leg a swelling suddenly appeared. The whole limb from the body to the hoof is swollen. He is also troubled with worms, and has a ravenous appetite. Kindly say in your valuable columns what treatment you would advise and what you think has caused the swelling. R. D. McLEOD.

[ANS.—Your horse has lymphangitis. Give him a dose of purgative medicine (Aloes, 7 or 8 drams, according to the size of the horse), bathe the leg well with hot water and apply a good stimulating liniment afterwards. Give him one dram of saltpetre every night in feed, and give him exercise every day. For the worms, after he gets better of the swelling leg, you might give him every night two drams of sulphate iron in his feed and turn him on grass.]

A Rumor Corrected.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ADVERTISER: A rumor has somehow gained ground that the invitation so heartily and widely given to attend the meetings of the W. C. T. U. convention is intended only for pronounced temperance people. The very opposite is the case. The press and pulpit announcements all distinctly state that the audience desired is "the public." That surely is a wide sweep, and takes in every phase of belief in relation to the reform we are striving to bring about.

Mrs. Williams, of Montreal, the Dominion president, writes asking that this very point be clearly defined. We cordially invite not only our friends, but those whose opinions are adverse to ours, to attend the meetings, both day and evening, and judge for themselves the character of the work done. Particulars as to places of meeting will be found in the advertising columns of this journal. Sincerely, MAY R. THORNLEY.

SURGEONS' KNIVES

Failed to Remove the Disease from Hezekiah Vaughn's System—Dodd's Kidney Pills, Which Have Never Yet Failed, Cured Him in Short Order.

SANDWICH, May 28.—Hezekiah Vaughn, of the township of Gosfield, has lately gone through a severe surgical operation at Harper's Hospital, Detroit, for what different doctors diagnosed as liver complaint. Four surgeons cut away at him for 4½ hours, but when they got through none of them could tell what was wrong, and the patient was left as bad as ever. The benefits derived by a neighbor from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills induced Mr. Vaughn to try them. From the first he began to improve. His bowels soon became regular and the pains that afflicted him disappeared. Six boxes restored to his former vigor a man who had abandoned all hope of regaining sound health.

A Strange Nesting Place.

A few Sundays ago the family of Mr. W. A. Wykeham Musgrave entering their pew in Thame Park Chapel, Oxfordshire, were surprised to see a pair of robins building their nest on the back ledge against a prayer book and a hymn book. The family immediately decided to occupy another seat and to leave the little redbreast unmolested in its strange abode. On the following Sunday it was completed and contained five eggs, and on the succeeding Sunday the bird sat on the eggs during the whole of the service. It has now been found that the bird has hatched four young ones, and the mother flew in and out of the chapel during the service last Sunday with food for her young.

WESTERN ONTARIO.

ELGIN.

Mrs. Margaret Love, an old resident of Dunwich, passed away on Monday after a prolonged illness, at the age of 73 years and 6 months. She belonged to a hardy band of settlers who cleared the forest and laid the foundation of the now prosperous township. Her husband died 25 years ago. A family of two sons and five daughters survive her. The sons are Arch and Neil, Dunwich; the daughters being Mrs. McGregor, St. Thomas; Mrs. Campbell, Southwold; Mrs. McEachern, Michigan; Mrs. Arch. McMillan, Rodney; and Mrs. D. K. Thomson.

Mr. Donald McMillan, of Dunwich, celebrated on Wednesday his 50th anniversary as a Presbyterian elder. Oneida Indian Lodge has ordered a $100 banner in Toronto. Chief Fewins, of St. Thomas, went to Port Huron on Wednesday to bring back George McMillan, who stole a gold watch chain and two gold rings, the property of Mrs. G. H. Horton, owner of the Columbian Hotel. The Port Huron authorities would not let McMillan come back, though he was willing to do so.

The city of St. Thomas has had some dispute with the county over the amount to be paid as the former's share of the administration of justice. The city has offered to settle with the county at $2,950 annually, without prejudice.

ESSEX.

The fraternal societies of Windsor are determined to make June 11, Decoration Day, one of importance in the city. In the morning the committees of each society will decorate the graves of deceased brethren, and in the afternoon a parade will be held to the cemetery, where appropriate ceremonies will be held.

When the authorities got on to the gang that intended tapping the wires above Walkerville in order to beat the pool room in Windsor, they came to the conclusion that the material used must be somewhere near the wires that were tapped. Wednesday Detective Campbell and Officers Jackson, Livingston and Mahoney took a rig and went out to the place. In an old shanty on the Belleperche farm they found 32 batteries, wire, pliers and other tools. The outfit was brought to the city.

A telegram received Wednesday announced the death of Walter Elliot, a well-known and wealthy citizen of Windsor. Mr. Elliot had not been well for some time and went to California, where his death occurred. He came to Windsor when a boy and had been engaged in a number of enterprises. He married the late Thomas Waters' daughter, and she was with him when he died. The body will be brought to Windsor for burial.

KENT.

The estate of the late John Young, of Chatham, recently drowned in the Thames, has been admitted to probate. Personal estate, $3,143.96; realty $1,500. Chief Young, of Chatham, is sole heir and administrator. Mr. Young died without a will.

In consequence of an application by Thamesville for a lower rate of insurance, Robt. Howe, C.E., Inspector of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association, paid the town a visit Tuesday. Chief Radcliffe got out his engine, hose, staff, etc., in good style and made such a satisfactory display that there is little doubt the lower rating will be granted.

LAMBTON.

Betting on the election has started already. Two local partisans have put up $5 apiece. The bet is that the Reformers will carry both Lambtons—Sarnia East and Sarnia West. Sarnia is still wrestling with the electric light question. The council wants 40 arc lights of 2,000 candle power each, but has not secured satisfactory terms.

MIDDLESEX.
At the parish church at Bogorn, South Essex, England, on April 4, the Rev. C. Carruthers, M.A., rector of Dancton, Petworth, was married to Jane Hamilton, daughter of the young son of the late Rev. John N. Macleod, of Glenora, and daughter of the late Rev. John N. Macleod, of Glenora, Canada. The bridegroom is domestic chaplain to the Dowager Duchess of Abercorn, of Kintyre Castle.

John McKay, a former resident of Elfrid, dropped dead in the factory in which he was working in Detroit on Tuesday. Death was caused by the bursting of a blood vessel. The remains were brought to Glenora. The deceased leaves a wife and several small children to mourn his sudden end. He was the eldest son of the late David McKay.

WELLINGTON.

Guelph Mercury: Last week was announced the birth of triplets, two of whom had died, in the family of W. G. Scott, of Mount Forest. This week was chronicled the death of the mother and the surviving child. The case is a very sad one. Some 1,500 people attended the funeral. Mr. Scott is D. C. R. of Wellington district. A. O. F., and much sympathy will be felt for him in that order.

A little 5-year-old daughter of Wm. Hood, teamster for the G. R. Co., Guelph, was badly burned on Saturday. The children were playing around some paper which they had set on fire, and the little girl's dress became ignited. Had not prompt assistance been rendered she would no doubt have been badly burned. No serious results are likely to ensue, although her arms and the left side of her face are badly burned.

WATERLOO.

Isaac Master, registrar, has been appointed returning officer for North Waterloo, and Moses Springer for South Waterloo for the ensuing elections.

The shanty department of J. T. Huber's glue works and shoddy mill at Bevin was burned to the ground Tuesday afternoon together with all the machinery. The loss is very heavy. This is the second fire Mr. Huber has had in a year. Last fall his mammoth glue works here were totally destroyed by fire at a loss of $50,000. He moved to Doon recently, however, and started up business again.

Chief Ahern, of Galt, has demanded an investigation of charges made against him in the town council. The latter will advise for a new officer.

WINDSOR, May 31.—G. W. Dixon was arrested near Walkerville yesterday by Constable Buck, of Chatham, on a charge of bigamy, and was taken to the latter town. His first wife, Ethel Dixon, about 19 years of age, preferred the charge against her spouse. His alleged second wife is Margaret Burbank, of East Jordan, Mich. Dixon was committed for trial.

FAT FRYING AT OTTAWA.

Why the Tariff Was First Reduced and Then Hoisted as High as Ever.

The Cockey Army of Combine Bosses and Their Mission.

[From the Montreal Witness.]

The Trade Bulletin of this city, which is a purely commercial journal, and gives little attention to politics even in their connection with trade and industry, has a remarkable article this week on the extraordinary course of the Government in first reducing the tariff duties in many cases and then increasing them again within two or three weeks. Some time ago the Bulletin, on the strength of private advices from New York, predicted that the proposed sugar duties of the Wilson Bill would be amended in accordance with the views of the United States Sugar Trust, which the Bulletin had reason to believe had found the means of exercising a controlling influence upon the United States Congress, as well as great power over the New York Stock Exchange. Since this article was written the sugar duties of the Wilson Bill have been increased, United States legislators have made large fortunes out of speculations in sugar on the New York Stock Exchange, and the charge has been made with much circumstantial evidence to support it that Senators have been bribed by the Sugar Trust. In the United States the charges are believed, and an investigation is now going on. In any event it is certain that the trusts have made tariff revision in the United States a means of robbing the taxpayers by providing for the enrichment of the legislators and representatives in Congress of the people. The Bulletin suspects that the extraordinary rapid changes made in the Canadian tariff were made with the purpose and effect of compelling the protected manufacturers of Canada to contribute funds for the support of the Government in the approaching general elections. It evidently believes that protection duties were reduced in order to lighten and bring protected manufacturers to terms, and that the terms having been agreed upon the duties were restored. Nothing else so well accounts for the 70 odd protection duties which were first reduced and then restored. The Bulletin says:

Recent revelations, however, seem to confirm our statement, to the effect that the trusts ally themselves with the Government of the United States under its control and boldly and alleged that members of the Government had been bribed to the extent of $500,000. Whether the bribes were given in the shape of trust stock or money it is not known; but the papers hinted pretty significantly that there had been evidence in some shape or form, in order to effect certain changes in the tariff, that the trusts had been bribed. It is not without significance that the authorities at Ottawa have adopted precisely the same tactics as at Ottawa in the matter of first reducing the tariff, and then after receiving delegations representing the different manufacturing interests, putting in back some instances to the old rate, and in others considerably modifying it. It is to be hoped that the parallel between the authorities at Ottawa and Washington here comes, and that there has been no cause to suspect that any of the changes in the Canadian tariff, after being brought down in the budget speech, have been actuated by moneyed influences, or the promise of support in the coming federal elections; but we do say that some of the revisions have been made, to say the least, for a considerable purpose. Relying upon present, namely, that only in very exceptional instances would the tariff, as brought down to the House in the budget speech, be interfered with, a number of contracts were at once entered into under the new tariff; but in quite a number of lines our merchants stand to lose heavily through revisions in the duty being made at the last moment. The resort to such unusual expedients is not unnaturally given rise to grave misgivings, apart from the inconvenience and losses that have been sustained thereby.

Was the revision of the tariff a mere election scheme got up by the Government to lull the farmer with a great show and a small reality of tariff reform, and at the same time afford the Government the means of trying the fat out of the protected manufacturers?

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The official treasury statement to be issued June 1 will show that expenditures of the Government for the eleven months of the current fiscal year, have exceeded receipts by $72,000,000, the aggregate standing receipts, $268,000,000; expenditures, $340,000,000. These figures indicate a total deficit for the twelve months of fiscal year of about $78,000,000.

THE GREEN-EYED MONSTER.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 31.—At Village Springs yesterday, Tom Early, a miner, went up to Wash. Bailey, another miner, and deliberately shot him dead. He next sought Bailey's wife and murdered her. Then he fled to the woods, pursued by an officer and two citizens, who shot and killed Early. Mrs. Bailey, who had been married but a short time, had been unsuccessfully courted by Early, and jealousy is supposed to have caused the murders.

SENTENCED TO THIRTY YEARS IN PRISON.
HASTINGS, Mich., May 31.—Judge Smith this morning sentenced Asa Tefft, whom the jury yesterday found guilty of murder in the second degree, to 30 years in Jackson prison. Tefft murdered and then robbed his uncle Leroy Rogers, a farmer, who lived alone near the village. Rogers was shot three times and then terribly cut about the head and neck with an axe. The evidence, though circumstantial, was so complete that the defense never attempted to prove Tefft's whereabouts at the time of the murder.

THE CHARGES AGAINST MR. TURCOTTE.
(Special to the ADVERTISER.)
OTTAWA, May 31.—The committee on privileges and elections met this morning to investigate the charges against A. J. Turcotte, member for Montmorency, of having committed a breach of the Independence of Parliament Act by having entered into a contract with the Government. The Premier and several of the Cabinet and D'Alton McCarthy, Hon. F. Langille, Hon. L. H. Davis and Mr. Turcotte were present. On the witness being called, J. B. Prevost, grocer, and Edward Larose, grocer, both of Quebec, made default. They were summoned by telegram on Tuesday, there being no time to serve summons on them. Prevost said he would not come unless forced, while Larose complained of the absence of conduct money. Some discussion took place as to sending an officer to bring Prevost, but in consideration of the shortness of the notice it was decided to serve the witness with summons to appear this day week, to which date the committee adjourned.

MIDDLESEX ENDEAVORERS.
Proceedings of the Convention at Stratford—Londoners Active—The New Officers.

The streets of Stratford were alive at 6 a.m. on Thursday with delegates, who were hurrying to the sunrise prayer meeting, which was largely attended and full of interest. The sessions are held in the Presbyterian Church, which is gaily decorated with flowers and mottoes.

At 9:15 a.m. the president, Rev. P. K. Dayfoot, M.A., delivered the annual address, emphasizing the increase of interest as shown by the growth of societies, contributions, and the organization of junior societies.

Miss E. M. Carson, of London, the secretary, reported as the statistics of the year: Local unions, 60—Presbyterian, 22; Methodist, 19; Baptist, 4; Disciple, 2; Congregational, 2; Episcopalian, 5. In these there are 1,600 active and 900 associate members. In seven of these societies $725 have been raised for missions.

The programme of the morning included papers on the "Lookout Committee," Mr. R. J. Young, Glencoe; "Prayer Meeting Committee," Miss Waters, Springbank; "Social Committee," Miss Grundy, Parkhill. These papers were reviewed in a brief but energetic discussion. Rev. J. S. McKinnon, B.A., read a thoughtful paper on "Individualism in Christian Work."

The nominating committee reported the following official list for the coming year: President—Rev. T. E. Harrison, Melbourne.

Vice-Presidents—Revs. A. McMillan, Glencoe; A. L. Dewar, Carlisle; J. H. Hunter, Parkhill; Dr. J. H. Carson, Newbury; Mr. Whitehead, Delaware.

Secretary—Miss M. S. Dryden, Stratford.
Councilors—Revs. W. A. Cook, Dorchester, and P. K. Dayfoot, Stratford.

The afternoon was full of work. Rev. P. K. Dayfoot led a prayer meeting and spoke of Paul as a Christian Endeavorer. Rev. G. B. Sage, London West, gave an address on missions, Mr. C. R. Sayer, of London, gave suggestions as to the "Enlistment of Associate Members," Mr. W. J. Doherty, London, conducted an open parliament on "What is the Society Doing for Missions."

The afternoon concluded with an address on "Enthusiasm" by Rev. W. A. Cook, of Dorchester.

At 5 p.m. the delegates were entertained at tea in the basement of the church, and a season of sociability was there enjoyed.

The evening session was attended by an overflowing audience. Two excellent addresses were given by Rev. J. Philip, B.D., and Canon Richardson, London. The consecration meeting, led by Rev. John Morrison, Stratford, closed an enthusiastic and profitable gathering.

The invitation of the Glencoe Union it was decided to meet there next year.

HEAVY FAILURE IN MONTREAL.
MONTREAL, Que., May 31.—Marsam & Brosseau, hay and commission merchants of this city, have suspended payments. The liabilities will amount to over $100,000. The chief creditor is the Ontario Bank, and the large number of hay shippers in the Province will lose heavily by the failure.

UNCLE SAM'S SHORTAGE.
WASHINGTON, May 31.—The official treasury statement to be issued June 1 will show that expenditures of the Government for the eleven months of the current fiscal year, have exceeded receipts by $72,000,000, the aggregate standing receipts, $268,000,000; expenditures, $340,000,000. These figures indicate a total deficit for the twelve months of fiscal year of about $78,000,000.

THE GREEN-EYED MONSTER.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 31.—At Village Springs yesterday, Tom Early, a miner, went up to Wash. Bailey, another miner, and deliberately shot him dead. He next sought Bailey's wife and murdered her. Then he fled to the woods, pursued by an officer and two citizens, who shot and killed Early. Mrs. Bailey, who had been married but a short time, had been unsuccessfully courted by Early, and jealousy is supposed to have caused the murders.

SENTENCED TO THIRTY YEARS IN PRISON.
HASTINGS, Mich., May 31.—Judge Smith this morning sentenced Asa Tefft, whom the jury yesterday found guilty of murder in the second degree, to 30 years in Jackson prison. Tefft murdered and then robbed his uncle Leroy Rogers, a farmer, who lived alone near the village. Rogers was shot three times and then terribly cut about the head and neck with an axe. The evidence, though circumstantial, was so complete that the defense never attempted to prove Tefft's whereabouts at the time of the murder.

THE CHARGES AGAINST MR. TURCOTTE.
(Special to the ADVERTISER.)
OTTAWA, May 31.—The committee on privileges and elections met this morning to investigate the charges against A. J. Turcotte, member for Montmorency, of having committed a breach of the Independence of Parliament Act by having entered into a contract with the Government. The Premier and several of the Cabinet and D'Alton McCarthy, Hon. F. Langille, Hon. L. H. Davis and Mr. Turcotte were present. On the witness being called, J. B. Prevost, grocer, and Edward Larose, grocer, both of Quebec, made default. They were summoned by telegram on Tuesday, there being no time to serve summons on them. Prevost said he would not come unless forced, while Larose complained of the absence of conduct money. Some discussion took place as to sending an officer to bring Prevost, but in consideration of the shortness of the notice it was decided to serve the witness with summons to appear this day week, to which date the committee adjourned.

Not Up to the Mark—the imitations of Pearl line.

Not surprising that so great a household help should be so largely imitated; not surprising that these imitations fail; and not surprising that they make still more popular the article on which the fraud is attempted. The merits of Pearl line alone make its sales increase, and the claims of peddlers and unscrupulous grocers that they have "the same as" or "as good as" Pearl line—have placed Pearl line on the top notch.

After Scarlet Fever, Diphtheria, Pneumonia and other prostrating diseases, Hood's Sarsaparilla is unequalled to thoroughly purify the blood and give needed strength. Read this: "My boy had Scarlet Fever when years old, leaving him very weak and with blood poisoned with cancer. His eyes became inflamed, his sufferings were intense, and for 7 weeks he could not even open his eyes. I took him to the Eye and Ear Infirmary, but took no remedies did him no good. I began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla which soon cured him. I know it saved his sight, if not his very life."—Mrs. F. BLACK, May 28th, Washington St., Boston, Mass.

CORBETT'S LATEST.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The international heavy-weight championship battle between Corbett and Jackson will positively not take place in England. Corbett states that he has declined the National Sporting Club's offer of a $15,000 purse, and will only consent to fight the colored champion in America. This information was conveyed in a cablegram to-day to George Weitz, the theatrical manager, from Corbett himself. In the Corbett also stated that he had decided to accept the $35,000 purse offered by the Jacksonville Athletic Club, of Jacksonville, Fla., and authorized Mr. Weitz to sign articles of agreement.

RADWAY'S GREAT RIDE

In the Martin Road Race at Buffalo—He Covered the Distance of 25 Miles in 1 Hour 11 Minutes and 3 Seconds, Beating the World's Record—He Rode a 20-Pound "Quadrant"—There Were 121 Starters, and 35,000 People Witnessed the Start.

In the third annual Martin handicap road race of 25 miles at Buffalo Wednesday, now recognized as the foremost cycling event in America, Frank F. Radway, of this city, covered himself with glory, for although he was 26 seconds behind the winner of the time prize, there is no question as to which was the best performance. The Buffaloian was at home, familiar with the course, and under the best of care, and training for months past, while Radway was a perfect stranger to the road, had had no training whatever, and was fully fifteen pounds above his ordinary riding weight. In spite of these disadvantages he covered the 25 miles in 1 hour 11 minutes and 3 seconds, defeating Van Wegener (who won the prize last year), W. E. Buse, Penesvres, and other American cyclists, and lowering the previous world's record, made by Nat Butler, on May 3 last, by some 25 1/2 seconds.

Radway, who scales 177 pounds, rode a twenty-pound "Quadrant" Special Path Racer, and the manner in which the machine stood the strain of the road makes it an absolutely perfect piece of mechanism. It is safe to say it is the lightest wheel that has ever been ridden in a road race of this nature by a rider of Radway's weight, and the successful issue will doubtless place it on the topmost notch of popularity in Canada. Apropos of this is the company's old motto, "Quadrants for Excellence."

It is thought by the London boys that the handicappers were altogether too severe upon their man, there being nothing whatever in his past record to warrant his being placed on scratch, possibly, however, his success over the Buffaloians on May 24 last had inspired them with a little enmity against him, which worked itself out in this way.

London wheelmen may congratulate themselves on having in their midst one of the best long-distance men in Canada. "Means a Great Deal."
WASHINGTON, May 31.—"The resolution passed by the Senate this morning in relation to the Hawaiian Government," said a member of the foreign relations committee, "is couched in diplomatic language, but it means a great deal. It is an admission that this Government has cast about that little Government the most of protection of its flag, and that any effort of other powers to interfere will be an act we will not stand. No nation, however powerful, can fail to interpret the meaning of the resolution we this morning passed by a unanimous vote."

Sir John "At Sea."

An Important Religious Question Before the House.

The Premier Obligated to Qualify Several of His Statements.

Wednesday Taken for Government Business—The Georgetown Postoffice Appointment—Statements of the Opposition Press Confirmed—An M. P. in a Peculiar Predicament.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.]

OTTAWA, May 31.—In the House, under the head of questions, Mr. Daly stated that in 1893 there were fifteen heads of families, French-Canadians, who had returned to Canada and settled chiefly in Manitoba. There were two French-Canadian agents employed for the purposes of repatriation.

Sir John Thompson moved that Government business have precedence on Wednesday for the remainder of the session. Mr. Charlton noted that there were 26 public bills and orders on the paper, and asked that one more Wednesday be given for their consideration.

Mr. Mulock accused the Government of an invasion of the rights of private members. He reminded the House that time had been frittered away on Wednesday on certain orders to prevent other measures being reached, and if this motion was passed it would give color to the suspicion that it was done with the connivance of the Government. He demanded consideration for bills respecting ocean freight rates on cattle; respecting the Governor-General's salary, and respecting the acceptance of railway passes by members.

Sir John Thompson was satisfied there had been no effort to prevent the reaching of other bills on the paper, and that there would yet be time for the discussion on Mondays of the bills on the paper.

Mr. Laurier asked for the consideration of Mr. McMullen's bill abolishing the system of superannuation, as when it was called Mr. McMullen had at the request of the Premier allowed it to stand.

Sir John Thompson replied that there would be other opportunities to discuss this principle, outside of any bill.

Dr. Landerkin, having urged the importance of Mr. Mulock's bill, Sir Herbert Tupper read certain figures to show that at present cattle rates were lower from Montreal to Glasgow, Liverpool and London than from Boston, Philadelphia or New York.

Mr. Mulock replied that when he came to his bill he would show that the Minister's figures or any temporary relief did not do away with the necessity for legislation.

Mr. Mills (Bothwell) urged that it was time for the Government to say clearly just what their programme was for the remainder of the session.

Sir John Thompson replied that he could not say as to railway subsidies. They would ask the attention of the House to the Insolvency Bill if there was time this session. It might be that there would be time, but there was doubt as to that. An important bill concerning joint stock companies would be introduced in a few days with regard to a redistribution bill for Quebec. Honorable gentlemen were anxious to consider that subject and deal with it if they had time.

Mr. Laurier regretted that on such an important subject as another gerrymander the First Minister should be so indefinite. They should, he said, at once understand the intentions of the Government. He himself and his colleagues were anxious to see the constitutionality of any such measure.

Sir John Thompson said this time, seriously, that he would give an answer very soon, but he could not at the moment. The motion was carried.

In reply to Dr. Landerkin Sir Adolphe Caron stated that Herbert D. Henderson had been appointed postmaster at Georgetown, Ont. This is the case where the old postmaster, whose intellect became slightly affected, was supported by his daughter, who for some years performed the services efficiently and was enabled to shield her infirm father from the buffeting of the world. She was put out of the office and the young son of a parliamentary supporter appointed in her place. When these facts were published a few months ago in the press they were denied in the Ministerial papers.

On the motion to go into supply, Mr. Martin brought up a subject which was new to the House, and which turned out to be a religious one. In 1886 Parliament passed an act declaring that an allotment of land not exceeding 150,000 acres should be selected by the Dominion and granted to the Roman Catholic University of Manitoba for its maintenance, for the purpose of giving higher training in the higher branches of education, and held in trust for that purpose on a basis to be framed by the university and approved by the Dominion Government. A scheme was framed in 1889 and approved by the Dominion Government in 1891. The university then formed of the united colleges of St. Boniface (Roman Catholic), St. John (Anglican), Manitoba (Presbyterian), and Wesley. This union was on the basis of the university being an examining body and not a teaching body. In 1889, however, Archbishop Tache wrote to Sir John Thompson objecting to the handing over of this land grant to the university except on the condition attached that if the plan of the university was changed from what it was in 1877 when chartered the grant should revert to the crown. He urged this because of a project to make the university a teaching body. In 1880 the Government at Ottawa complied with the archbishop's request by transmitting to the university authorities a draft patent for the land which provided that if the university applied the income to any other purpose than specified or if the university was dissolved or ceased to be constituted as by act of incorporation then all the land remaining unsold should revert to the crown. The council of the university disputed Archbishop Tache's contention that the charges of the university did not contemplate the establishment of chairs and professorships in the course of time. The charter contained the words that it should for the present be an examining body. The council, by a formal resolution, expressed their disapproval of the terms of the draft patent and demanded that it should be free from conditions. All the Catholic members of the council voted against this resolution and it was carried by the votes of all the Protestant members. The Government of Manitoba approved of the resolutions. The archbishop, in a second appeal to Sir John Thompson, said that political influence was at work to change the character of the university.

Mr. Martin pointed out that this land grant was part of a solemn agreement with Manitoba and in part settlement of Manitoba's claims, and that, therefore, the Provincial Legislature and not Ottawa was the proper authority to which to appeal to object to the agreement or enforce it. The people of Manitoba would not allow the Dominion Government to settle a dispute of this kind, but the Government had undertaken to settle it and to settle it by the terms of the draft patent in favor of Archbishop Tache and against the views of the majority.

Sir John Thompson complained that notice of this proposed discussion had not been given, and said that Mr. Daly, Minister of the Interior, had never heard of it. This was afterward contradicted by Mr. Daly, who said he had been prepared on Monday to discuss it fully on a motion which Mr. Martin had on the paper concerning the subject.

Sir John also said that the scheme referred to in the act of Parliament had been approved by the Dominion Government, but he afterwards admitted that it had been. He held that the Province of Manitoba had nothing to say about this grant of land to the university, but Mr. McCarthy took a hand in the debate, and showed that the province had a good deal to say, because the very act granting the land recited that it was made in settlement of all disputed claims between Canada and Manitoba. It was, therefore, Mr. McCarthy contended, part of a treaty, and yet the Government assumed to issue the patent for the land fettered with conditions obnoxious to the university council and to the Provincial Government as well. Archbishop Tache, he said, evidently felt that he had more influence at Ottawa, where he resided, than in the province, where he resided. Mr. Laurier condemned the Government for its procrastination. They had waited five years and the patent was not yet issued. It was their old shortcoming, incapacity, neglect and delay. Mr. Daly promised to see now that the matter was dealt with.

The discussion went no further and the House adjourned. On the item $61,088 for the Senate salaries and contingencies Mr. McMullen objected to the purchase of writing cases and so forth for the Senators. The item passed without further remarks.

On the item of $200,000 for the revision of the voters' lists the Premier stated that he would not discuss the revision of the lists until the new constituencies as arranged under the Redistribution Act of 1892, but any bye-election before dissolution would be held on lists applied to the existing boundaries of the constituencies.

In the course of the discussion on the railway estimates it came out that the St. Charles branch of the Intercolonial, running from St. Charles to Point Lewis, opposite Quebec city, a distance of only thirteen miles, has cost $1,760,000. It is evident from this enormous expenditure that there is a large-sized nigger in the fence. It was Sir Charles Tupper who asked the House to build this branch, with the statement that it would cost $15,000 a mile. It now turned out that it had cost $135,000 a mile. The sum paid to persons along the route for land expropriated had enhanced the cost.

Mr. McMullen thought they should change the name of the road to the Sir Charles Branch.

Mr. Davies declared that the thing was a scandal. The item now asked was $17,000, and it was stated that the cost would, when all the claims were settled, run up to $200,000. The item passed.

On the canal estimates Mr. Haggart admitted that the new channel dug out in the St. Lawrence cost nearly $600,000, and was lying useless as navigators refused to use it.

The House adjourned at midnight.

NOTES.
The new tariff changes are given notice of to-night by Mr. Foster as follows: Iron and steel hoops, bands and strips, eight inches and less in width, No. 18 gauge and thicker, $10 a ton; eggs, 5 cents a dozen. A couple of years ago eggs were taken from the free list; in the budget they were restored to the free list, and now they are to be again made dutiable.

A thief entered the room of Mr. McNeill, M. P. for North Bruce, last evening and stole the member's pants. Mr. McNeill was absent from his place in the House today in consequence.

Mr. Lariviere, M. P., is returning to take his seat. He says his reported resignation is an invention.

STORM AND FLOOD

Cause Great Destruction in Colorado.

Pueblo Inundated—Bridges Swept Away—Houses Wrecked—Several Lives Lost.

PUEBLO, Col., May 31.—A storm which has been raging in this vicinity for the past two days broke in all its fury yesterday afternoon, causing the Arkansas and Fountain Rivers—whose junction is in this city—to burst over their levees and flood the whole lower portion of the town. At 1:30 p.m. over 100 dwellings had been swept away. The business portion of the city is entirely cut off from communication with the south and east sides. A few printers, the telegraph operators and United Press correspondent are locked in the Journal building by the flood, which is five feet deep, and the building is rocking very badly.

12:10 a.m.—The rain is now falling only lightly. The south side is from three to ten feet under water. For the distance of three miles up and down the river, and from Second street to the Mesa, a distance of one mile, the water is from four to eight feet deep. The water and debris are rapidly washing away the alley corner of the Journal building.

A tremendous crash was just heard, supposed to be the Santa Fe avenue steel bridge across the Arkansas. Three more bridges on the Arkansas have just been swept away.

LOSS OF LIFE.
Several persons were drowned in the flood. Two bodies have been recovered. The water has now fallen eighteen inches. The damage will reach $500,000. Traffic on the Pike's Peak Railway at Manitou has been entirely suspended for the first time in its history by reason of great damage to the roadway. The Rio Grande and Santa Fe Railroads are seriously crippled at many points by washouts, rock slides and washed-away bridges. The damage throughout the State will be very large.

A TOWN SWEEP AWAY.
SPOKANE, Wash., May 31.—Word reached here last night that the town of Cancunelli was swept away by a flood. It says every business house in the town was destroyed and nearly all the residences swept away. Mrs. Annie Keith lost her life.

DENVER, Col., May 31.—This city was practically isolated from the remaining portion of the State for most of the day owing to the damage done the railway, telegraph and telephone lines by the heavy rain storm that has prevailed for the past 48 hours. The extent of damage cannot be estimated further than to say it is unprecedented.

The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad was the worst sufferer. The Santa Fe route is badly washed between La Junta and Pueblo near Colorado City, on the Midland

Uppu Pass. The mountain branches were all blocked by mud slides and washouts.

PUEBLO, Col., May 31.—The cloudburst which last night sent a vast torrent of water down the valley, and into this city caused many deaths. The list of dead and missing compiled shortly before midnight, is as follows:

Dead—Dave Rafferty, Joseph Coppa, two bodies unidentified, Hop Lee.

Missing—J. Vadever, Wm. Bush, Harry Burch, Mrs. Williamson, Jessie Hart. Six others are reported by different families. A company of California Coxeyites numbering about 50, report that five of their comrades are missing.

Grave fears are expressed for twelve families of squatters on an island down the river. There is no means of reaching these people at present.

The property loss will be about $600,000. To-night both the Arkansas and Fountain Rivers are rising rapidly.

Tough on Turpin.

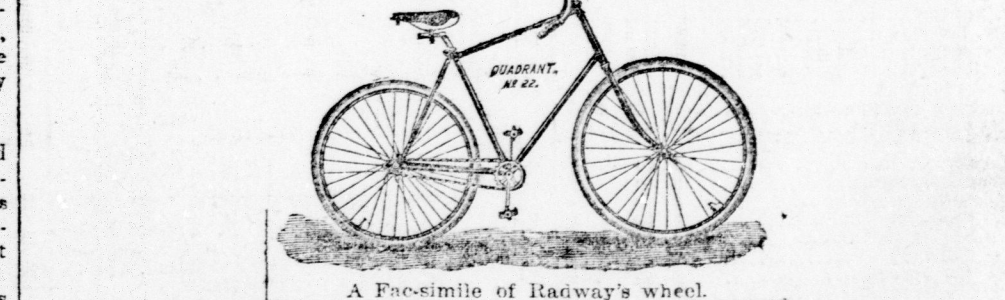

PARIS, May 31.—Gen. Mercier said in the Chamber of Deputies to-day that he had traced the life of Turpin and found him to be a traitor, a sharper and a black-mailer. "Turn to the Right."

"Madame!" she exclaimed. "Does she require assistance? I will stop."

"God forbid!" I cried.

I do not know how she understood the words, but her face, which had been full of softness, grew hard. She moved quickly towards me; but, mindful of the danger I carried about me, I drew farther back. "No nearer, mademoiselle," I murmured, "if you please."

She looked puzzled, and finally angry, turning away with a sarcastic bow. "No be it, then, sir," she said proudly, "if you desire it. M. d'Agén, if you are not afraid of me, will you lead me down?"

I stood and watched them go down the hill, comforting myself with the reflection that to-morrow, or the next day, or within a few days at most, all would be well. Scanning her figure as she moved, I fancied she went with less spirit as the space increased between us. And I pleased myself with the thought, a few days, a few hours, I thought, and all would be well. The sunset which blazed in the west was no more than a faint reflection of the glow which for a few minutes pervaded my mind, long accustomed to cold prospects and the chill of neglect.

A term was put to these pleasant imaginings by the arrival of Maignan, who, panting from the ascent of the hill, informed me with a shamed air that the tale of horses was complete, but that four of our men were missing, and had doubtless gone off with the fugitives. These proved to be M. d'Agén's two lackeys and the two valets. M. de Karamelle had lent us. There remained besides Simon Fleix only Maignan's three men from Rosny; but the state in which our affairs now stood enabled us to make light. I informed the quarry—was visibly paled at the news—that M. de Brühl lay ill of the plague, and like to die; and I bade him form a camp in the wood below, and sending for food to the house where we had slept the night before, make mademoiselle as comfortable as circumstances permitted.

He listened with surprise, and when I had done asked with concern what I intended to do with myself.

Someone must remain with Madame de Brühl," I answered. "I have already been to the bedside to procure the key of mademoiselle's room, and I run no further risk. All I ask is that you will remain in the neighborhood, and furnish us with supplies should it be necessary."

He looked at me with emotion, which, strongly in conflict with his fears as it was, touched me not a little. "But morbleu! M. de Marsac," he said, "you will take the plague and die!"

"If God wills," I answered, very lugubriously I confess, for pale looks in one commonly so fearless could not but depress me. "But if not, I shall escape. Any way, my friend," I cried, "I shall not quit you. Simon Fleix has an inkhorn and paper. Bid him bring them to this stone and leave them, and I will write that Maignan, the quarry of the Baron de Rosny, served me to this day a brave soldier and an honest friend. What, mon ami? I continued, for I saw that he was overcome by this, which was, indeed, a happy thought of mine. Why not? It is true, and will acquit you with the Baron. He it, and go. Advise M. d'Agén, and be to him what you have been to me."

He swore two or three great oaths, such as men of his kind use to hide an excess of feeling, and after some further remonstrance went away to carry out my orders, leaving me to stand on the brow in a strange kind of solitude, and watch horses and men withdraw to the wood, until the whole valley seemed left to me and stillness and the gray evening. For a moment I stood in thought. Then reminding myself, for a filip to my spirits, that I had been far more alone when I walked the streets of St. Jean friendless and threadbare (than I was now), I turned, and swinging my scabbard against my boots for company, stumbled through the dark, silent courtyard, and mounted as cheerfully as I could to madame's room.

To detail all that passed during the next five days would be tedious and an indifferent taste, seeing that I am writing this memoir for the perusal of men of honor; for though I consider the offices which the whole can perform for the sick to be worthy of the attention of every man, however humble, who proposes to see service, they seem to be more honorable in the doing than the telling. One episode, however, which marked those days filled me then, as it does now, with the most lively pleasure; and that was the unexpected devotion displayed by Simon Fleix, who, coming to me, refused to leave, and showed himself at this pinch to be possessed of such sterling qualities that I freely forgave him the deceit he had formerly practiced on me. The fits of morose silence into which he still fell at times and an occasional irascibility seemed to show that he had not altogether conquered his insane fancy; but the mere fact that he had come to me in a situation of hazard, and voluntarily removed himself from mademoiselle's neighborhood, gave me good hope for the future.

M. de Brühl died early in the morning of the second day, and Simon and I buried him at noon. He was a man of courage and address, lacking only principles. In spite of Madame's grief and prostration, which were as great as though she had lost the best husband in the world, we removed before night to a separate camp in the wood, and left with the utmost relief the gray ruin on the hill, in which, it seemed to me, we had lived an age. In our new bivouac, where, game being abundant and the weather warm, we lacked no comfort except the society of our friends, we remained four days longer. On the fifth morning we met the others of our company by appointment on the north road, and commenced the return journey.

Thankful that we had escaped contagion, we nevertheless still proposed to observe for a time such precautions in regard to the rest and having no communication with them, though they showed by signs the pleasure they felt at seeing us. From the frequency with which mademoiselle turned and looked behind her, I judged she had overcome her pique at my strange conduct; which the others should by this time have explained to her. Content, therefore, with the present, and full of confidence in the future, I rode along in a rare state of satisfaction at one moment planning what I would do, and at another reviewing what I had done.

The brightness and softness of the day, and the beauty of the woods, which in some places, I remember, were bursting into leaf, contributed much to establish me in this frame of mind. The hateful mist, which had so greatly depressed us, had disappeared; leaving the face of the country visible in all the brilliance of early spring. The men who rode before us, cheered by the happy omen, laughed and talked as they rode, or tried the paces of their horses, where the trees grew sparsely; and their jests and laughter coming pleasantly to our ears as we followed, warmed even madame's sad face to a semblance of happiness.

I was riding along in this state of contentment when a feeling of fatigue, which the distance we had come did not seem to justify, led me to spur the old into a brisker pace. The sensation of lassitude still continued, however, and indeed grew worse; so that I wondered idly whether I had over-exerted myself at my last meal. Then the thing passed for a while from my mind, which the descent of a steep hill sufficiently occupied.

But a few minutes later, happening to turn in the saddle, I experienced a strange and sudden dizziness; so excessive as to force me to grasp the cantle, and cling to it, while trees and hills appeared to dance round me. A quick, hot pain in the side followed, almost before I recovered the power of thought; and this increased so rapidly, and was from the first so definite, that, with a dreadful apprehension already formed in my mind, I thrust my hand inside my clothes, and found that swelling which is the most sure and deadly symptom of the plague.

The horror of that moment—in which I saw all those things on the possession of which I had just been congratulating myself, pass hopelessly from me, leaving me a dreadful gloom—I will not attempt to describe in this place. Let it suffice that the world lost in a moment its joyousness, the danger which I had just been endeavoring to ward off, the greenness and beauty round me, which an instant before had filled me with pleasure, seemed on a sudden no more than a grim and cruel jest at my expense, and I am atonish perishing unmarked and unnoticed. Yes, I am, a note: the bitterness of that feeling I will remember. Then, in no long time—being a soldier—I recovered my coolness, and, retaining the power to think, decided what it behooved me to do.

"Remarkable Cure of Dropsy and Dyspepsia."—Mr. Samuel T. Casey, Belleville, writes: "In the spring of 1884 I began to be troubled with dyspepsia, which gradually became more and more distressing. I used various domestic remedies and applied to my family physician, but received no benefit. By this time my trouble assumed the form of dropsy. I was unable to use any food whatever except boiled milk and bread; my limbs were swollen to twice their natural size; all hopes of my recovery were given up, and I quite expected death within a few weeks. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery having been recommended to me, I tried a bottle with but little hope of relief; and now, after using eight bottles, my Dyspepsia and Dropsy are cured. Although now 79 years of age I can enjoy my meals as well as ever, and my general health is good. I am well-known in this section of Canada, having lived here 57 years; and you have liberty to use my name in recommendation of your VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, which has done such wonders in my case."

WEATHERFORD, Texas, Feb. 24, 1892.

About three years ago I became a convert to my mother's teaching—that Pond's Extract was the best all-round curative medicine that she had ever used, and being a confirmed invalid and sick two-thirds of my days, I expect that I have used more of this medicine and in more ways than any other person ever did.

I have been threatened three times with abscesses during the past year, and each time I have driven them away by persistent and continuous rubbing with hot Pond's Extract. These abscesses were caused by the use of a hypodermic syringe, and I allowed a physician to try his hand.

He worked at it 48 hours and at the end of that time my leg was almost as hard as a rock from the hip joint down to the knee. I did him the most proper treatment. My limb was in a fearful plight and hourly growing worse. I rubbed it with nothing save hot Pond's Extract, and in four days I had it under perfect control, and in a week more there was scarcely a sign of the terrible pest. I use it for all sorts of pain. It always helps and frequently makes a cure. It never has failed me. I have been trying massage treatment and I make my rubber of the Extract. It has cured all sorts of pain for me—headache, sore throat, sore eyes, earache, abscesses, cystitis and all manner of pain.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Mrs. Rae, Winnipeg, is visiting in this city.—Mr. R. C. Struthers has returned from a purchasing trip in Britain.—Rev. Ira Smith is to preach in the Sarnia Baptist Church on Sunday next.—The high school entrance examinations will be held here on June 23, 24, and 25.—The International Walt Whitman Society was organized in New York yesterday.—To A. S. London—"The Devil's An-cution" appeared last in London on March 5, 1887.—The induction of Rev. James Ballantine, city, to the pastorate of Knox Church, Ottawa, takes place Monday, June 11.—Owing to the limited supply of coal,
two trains on the Glenora-Kingscourt branch of the G. T. R. have been canceled temporarily.—Compositors and proofreaders get much blame for the occasional errors they make and little praise for the many blunders they rectify.—Rev. Dr. Alex. Sutherland, missionary secretary of the Methodist Church, strongly opposes Mr. Meredith's view that a second pictorial on prohibition should be taken.—Mr. Wm. White, G. T. R. dispatcher, this city, has been attending the Railway Telegraphers' convention at Denver, Col., the past ten days. On Wednesday he was elected grand inside sentinel.—A flash of lightning killed five chickens and smashed the roof of Mr. O'Hagan's barn, corner of Victoria and Maitland streets, on Wednesday. Mr. O'Hagan and his son had just left the place.—The members of the London Amateur Opera Company who produced "The Grand Duchess" spent a social evening together in the Duffield block last night. There was a quiet little dance, refreshments and a good programme.—The Women's Christian Association desire to thank the members of the hospital trust for their kindness in offering to give for the use of the Home for Incurables anything in the way of house furnishings not at present required in the hospital.—Advertising is the sluice which leads the stream of custom into the mills of trade. See that your sluice is not defective, for in these hard times it is important that every drop of the precious stream be made to turn the wheels of your business.—Arrangements have been completed with the Michigan Central by the Independent Order of Foresters for an excusion to Detroit on Dominion Day. Every effort will be made by the committee in charge to make this the best excursion of the season.—Miss Lottie Armstrong has been engaged to play the large pipe organ in St.
James' Church, London, at a large salary.—Miss Armstrong has been organist for the last two months, but has never been engaged as regular organist.—[Alvinston Free Press.]—Rev. Dr. Ryckman, of Ottawa, formerly of this city, against whom a charge of untruthfulness was entered at the meeting of the conference at Kingston, has been unanimously exonerated from the charge.
The doctor is the popular nominee for president of the conference.—After a considerable period of repose the fire brigade were called out twice last evening. The first summons was to the Metropolitan Hotel, where an obstreperous chimey was smoking out the upper rooms.
The fire was put out with very little damage. Shortly afterwards there was another call to a barn at Mr. John Stephenson's, 129 Maple street, where two little boys had been indulging in that old time trick of playing with matches in the hay.
When the firemen got through there was considerable burnt hay and two badly scared boys. The damage was slight.—Miss Deborah, of Windsor, was to have been a candidate for communion at All-Saints Church, Windsor, last Sunday afternoon. Three weeks ago she was taken ill with typhoid fever, and for a time was not expected to live. In her delirium she constantly expressed regret that she had not been confirmed. When she began to grow better she hoped and prayed that she might recover in time to join with the class. Saturday she tried to sit up to show that she was strong enough to make the attempt. The matter reached the ears of the Bishop of Huron, and he took his confirmation robes and went to the bedside of the unfortunate young woman, where the ceremony was performed.

—Marter Gives Meredith Away.

Mr. Meredith's face was a study when he listened to Mr. Marter's statement that he did not accept the nomination for Muskoka because he thought that, being no longer a resident of Muskoka, a local man was better entitled to it. He is probably now seriously considering the advisability of letting Mr. Hobbs have the seat.—[Toronto Globe, on the Conservative mass meeting in Toronto.]

Board of Works.

The board of works met last night, and the members were in a jovial mood after their little trip to stone crushers. As the council went to hear the leader of the Opposition instead of attending to business the other night, there was very little for the committee to do except pass accounts, which accumulate whether the council meets or not. Mrs. Crawford was given permission to lay down a "dish-water" drain from her house at the corner of Pall Mall and Waterloo streets, to Carling's Creek, providing the work is done to the satisfaction of the engineer. E. J. Orndorf was given the contract for the erection of the cistern, shed and fence in Victoria Park, to cost $252. The pay roll amounted to $392 56, of which $100 25 is chargeable to "Roads." The matter of band concerts was laid over until warmer weather, with a view also of making the concerts last until along in September. The Seventh, it is understood, will give a free concert on their own responsibility to-night. The committee so far has spent $12,785 60 of their appropriation of $43,880. On motion of Ald. Garratt a "Western" stone crusher
