KINDNESS BROUGHT A FORTUNE

A Michigan Lawyer Befriended an Old Man Who Left Him $75,000.

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 7.—Attorney Jerome E. Turner, of this city, has been notified by May & Underwood, a law firm of Chicago, that he has fallen heir to $75,000, according to the provisions of a will made by Wm. Seymour, of 1,436 Kenwood avenue, and filed in the Surrogate Court of the latter city.

There is a story in connection with this surprising revelation, which Mr. Turner relates as follows:

During the World's Fair he was walking along Clark street, when he encountered several police officers, struggling with an old man, whom they put into a patrol wagon and took to the station.

Mr. Turner, for the novelty of trying a case in Chicago, gratuitously defended the old man, whose name was William Seymour, and had him acquitted. About a year after this event the old man, whom Mr. Turner had almost forgotten, made him an unexpected visit at his office in this city, remaining two days. From that time Mr. Turner had never heard from him until receiving the above news.

The letter also says Seymour was an eccentric individual, who lived alone and had no blood heirs. He was a peddler. Mr. Turner left this evening for Chicago.

London, Aug. 9.—The Board of Trade shows an increase in the imports of £1,745,365, and an increase in exports of £142,313.

CANADIAN INLAND NAVIGATION.

London, Aug. 8.—The effort of Canada to bring about a discussion with the home government as to inland navigation in the Dominion has been successful. A conference has been arranged between Mayor Stewart, of Ottawa, and the imperial authorities, to be held shortly, when the whole question of inland navigation from an imperial standpoint will be discussed.

A BALD FARCE.

London, Aug. 7.—The Westminster Gazette today, commenting upon the letter sent by Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, the chancellor of the exchequer, to the United States monetary commission, now in London, says: "Everybody knows that the mission of the silver envoys is a farce of the baldest kind. We hoped the English government would not have lent themselves to its prolongation. Of course, the answer of both the Indian and British governments in October is a foregone conclusion."

CLAIM IS MONSTROUS.

London, Aug. 8.—The Morning Post justifies Sir William Whiteway, premier of Newfoundland, in treating with contempt "the monstrous claim of France to the possession of the soil of the Newfoundland shore." With reference to the report that France has attempted to enforce this claim by a French man of war and by ordering a British company now working there under a concession from Newfoundland to cease working, the Post says: "It is not likely that the foreign offices will allow such a high-handed proceeding to pass without a severe protest. Indeed, we believe that a dispatch has already been sent demanding an explanation."

MORE TROUBLE IN INDIA.

London, Aug. 8.—A dispatch to the Times from Simla says that another outbreak is officially reported on the Afghan frontier. The mullah, who preached against England during the Chitral campaign, has again stirred up strife in the Mohammedan country by representing that the success of the Turks in Europe provides a favorable opportunity for defying English rule. He has gathered some thousands of followers. As it was too late for him to assist in the attack on Castle Malakand, he attacked Shabkadr, 18 miles from Peshawar. The attack was made Saturday. The police and garrison beat off the natives, who then burned a Hindoo village and killed some of the inhabitants. A strong force of cavalry and artillery has been sent from Peshawar to punish the rebels, and it is reported that they had fled and crossed the frontier.

EMPEROR WILLIAM AT CRONSTADT.

London, Aug. 8.—The Emperor and Empress of Germany arrived at Cronstadt yesterday on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern. Their majesties were met by the czar, and a cordial exchange of greetings followed. The roads were full of vessels, decorated with flags, and the shore was thronged with enthusiastic crowds of people. After the greetings on board the Hohenzollern, their majesties boarded the Russian imperial yacht Alexander, and, proceeding to the Peterhof Palace, where they were received by all the grand dukes, grand duchesses, and the distinguished guests of the czar. In addition to the Russian imperial yacht Alexander, the yacht of their German majesties was met by a number of steamers, having on board parties of German colonists from many different sections of the Russian empire. Royal salutes were fired from the batteries ashore and the band of the Hohenzollern replied with playing the Russian national anthem and other airs.

WILLIAM TALKS PEACE.

Says He Will Aid the Czar in Maintaining It Against Anyone Who Tries to Break It.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 8.—At the state banquet, given by the Russian emperor and empress to Emperor William and Empress Augusta Victoria last night, Emperor Nicholas, toasting his imperial guests said: "The presence of your majesties among us causes me very lively satisfaction. I desire sincerely to thank you for the visit, which is a fresh manifestation of the traditional bonds uniting us and the good relations, so happily established between our two neighboring empires. It is, at the same time, a precious guarantee of the maintenance of the general peace, which forms the object of our constant efforts and our most fervent wishes. I drink to the health of the Emperor-King William and the Empress-Queen Augusta Victoria and to the health of all the members of their august family."

Emperor William shortly afterwards raised his glass to his host and said: 'I thank your majesties with a warm heart, speaking also in the name of the empress, for the cordial and magnificent reception you have accorded us and for the gracious words with which your majesty has so affectionately welcomed us. I especially desire to lay at the feet of your majesty my most sincere and most grateful thanks for the renewed mark of distinction, which comes as such a surprise to me. I mean the enrollment of myself in your majesty's glorious navy. This is an especial honor, which I am able to appreciate to its fullest extent, and an honor which, at the same time, confers a particular distinction upon my own navy. It is a fresh proof of the continuance of our traditional intimate relations. Founded upon the unshakable basis of your majesty's unalterable resolutions to keep your people in peace in the future, as in the past, it finds in me also the gladdest echo. Thus we will pursue the same paths and strive unitedly, under the blessing of peace, to guide the intellectual development of our people. I can with full confidence lay this promise anew in the hands of your majesty, and I know I have the support of my whole people in doing so, that I stand by your majesty's side with my whole strength in this great work of preserving the peace of the nations; and I will give your majesty my strongest support against anyone who may attempt to disturb or break this peace. I drink to the welfare of your majesties."

The sentence in which Emperor William pledged Emperor Nicholas his support against any attempt to break the peace of the nations was spoken in Russian.

The whole city and the ships lying in the Neva have been splendidly decorated with flags and flowers today, and the streets have been crowded although the sky is overcast.

Emperor William and the Empress arrived at the landing stage at 11 a.m., where the municipal authorities presented them with bread and salt, on specially constructed dishes, as tokens of the hospitality of the city. With the Petrowski regiment as a guard of honor, they visited the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, and placed a wreath upon the tomb of Alexander III. Everywhere they were greeted with tremendous cheering. Subsequently they opened the new wing of the German Alexander Hospital, from which they proceeded to the Winter Palace. During the afternoon Emperor William received visits from the ambassadors and returned them.

Shot in Cold Blood.

Deliberate Murder of Senor Canovas Castillo, Spain's Premier.

The Assassin Arrested and Confesses His Crime

Says It Was Part of a Vast Anarchist Conspiracy.

Fired Three Shots—Victim Lived Only Two Hours—His Wife at the Death-Scene — Sketch of His Long and Notable Career—His Loss May Aid Cuba.

Madrid, Aug. 8.—Senor Canovas Castillo, the prime minister of Spain, was assassinated at Santa Agueda today by an Anarchist. The murderer fired three shots, two of which struck the premier in the head and the other in the chest. The wounded man lingered unconscious for two hours, and died at 3 o'clock this afternoon. His wife was but a short distance away when he fell.

The health of Senor Canovas had improved greatly of late. He had been leading a very quiet life, although he attended to the business of state. At the moment of the assassination he was waiting in the gallery of the bathing establishment for his wife, who was to join him for lunch. Suddenly the assassin, who had the appearance of an ordinary visitor, approached, and fired at him point blank, one bullet passing through his body and coming out behind under the left shoulder, and the other two lodging in his head. He fell instantly, and never recovered consciousness. Several medical men and his wife were unremitting in their attentions to the sufferer, but his wounds, unhappily, were mortal, and he died in two hours. Extreme unction was administered amid a scene of mingled sorrow and indignation. The assassin narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of the waiters and attendants who rushed forward. Detectives and civil guards immediately secured him. He was very pale, trembled violently, and feared evidently that he would be killed on the spot. He will first be arraigned before the local magistrate at Vergara.

The murderer declares that he killed Senor Canovas in accomplishment of a just vengeance and that the deed is the outcome of a vast anarchist conspiracy. He is believed to have arrived at Santa Agueda the same day as the premier, and he was frequently seen lurking in the passages of the bathing establishment in a suspicious manner.

The body of Senor Canovas will be brought here tomorrow. Marshal Martinez Campos has gone to San Sebastian to attend the queen regent.

The queen has intrusted the presidency of the council to Gen. Azcardaga, the minister of war, and the Cortes will be summoned to reassemble on Tuesday.

Santa Agueda is noted for its baths. The place is between San Sebastian, the summer residence of the Spanish court, and Vitoria, the capital of the Province of Alva, about 30 miles south of Balbao. The premier went there last Thursday to take a three weeks' course of the baths, after which he expected to return to San Sebastian to meet United States Minister Woodford, when officially received by the queen regent. The assassin was immediately arrested. He is a Neapolitan, and gives the name of Rinaldi. It is believed that it is an assumed name, and that his real name is Michele Angine Golli. At a special meeting of the Cabinet today, under the presidency of Senor Cos-Gayon, the minister of the interior, the latter announced that he had been intrusted by the queen regent with the premiership ad interim.

Senor Antonio Canovas Del Castillo was born at Malaga, Feb. 8, 1828. He took the course in philosophy and law in the University of Madrid and began his career as a journalist. In 1851 he made is debut, under the patronage of Senors Rios, Rosas and Pacheco, as chief editor of the Patria, in which he defended conservative ideas. About this time he published a volume of lyric poems and a series of historical papers. He was in doubt whether to follow a literary or a political career, but soon found himself turned to politics by the course of events. In 1852 he was named deputy for Malaga, and from that time to his death had never ceased to occupy a seat in the Cortes. In 1856 he was charge d'affaires at Rome, and prepared the historical memorandum on the relations of Spain with the holy see, which served as a basis for the concordat. After serving the crown as governor of Cadiz in 1855, director-general of the administration from 1858 to 1861, and, lastly, in that same year as under secretary of state for the interior, the queen called him to the ministry as member of the Mon cabinet. In 1865 he held the portfolios of finance and the colonies in the O'Donnell cabinet, and it devolved upon him to draw up the law for abolition of the slave trade. Shortly before the revolution of 1868 he became especially conspicuous as one of the last to defend with energy in the Cortes the principle of blending liberal and conciliatory ideas with the constitutional monarchy, when all the parties that had supported this political doctrine had deserted the parliament. He was banished a short time before the revolution occurred, and he took no part in it. In the face of the triumphant revolution, after his return from exile, and in the full constituent assembly of 1868, supported by Senors Cristobal Martin, Bugallal and two others, he hoisted the standard of legitimate and constitutional monarchy. This is his greatest title to fame. His fidelity and ability finally secured for him the supreme direction of the Alfonsist party, and on the proclamation of Alfonso XII. as king, on Dec. 1, 1874, Senor Canovas Del Castillo became president of the council and chief of the new cabinet, called the cabinet of conciliation. He retired in September, 1885, because of the demands of the extreme Conservative party, but he was called back to the presidency of the council on Dec. 2 of the same year, and charged particularly with the direction of the first legislative elections of the new regime. He was himself elected to the Cortes from the city of Madrid in January, 1876. It devolved upon him then to repress the second attempt of the Carlists to bring on a civil war and to deal with the first insurrection in Cuba. With the exception of an interval of a few months, he continued to hold the premiership down to 1879, when, on the return of Marshal Martinez Campos from Cuba, he retired from the premiership, and was succeeded by Campos, who accepted as his colleagues the principal associates of Senor Canovas. The opposition raised to the policy of Campos soon forced him to retire. Senor Canovas skillfully resisted, delayed and finally defeated the free trade and emancipation projects of Campos. On the reassembling of the Cortes in December, 1879, Campos gave up the attempt to conduct the government, and Senor Canovas formed a new Cabinet on December 10, with a second Cuban insurrection to be dealt with. He charged Gen. Blanco with this task, but the reactionary tendency of his home policy became more and more marked, until the financial projects in which he wished to embark drew upon him the bitter attacks, not only of Castler and the Republicans, but also those of Campos and of Sagasta, and he was compelled to resign. In 1881 he returned again to power, but his Conservative Cabinet was speedily overthrown, and a coalition government, with Sagasta and Campos at its head, took the reins of affairs. At the general elections of the same year he was returned to the Cortes from Madrid and became the chief and spokesman of the intermediate party known as the party of Conservative-Liberals. On Jan. 18, 1884, he was called upon to form a Conservative ministry. In order to secure a majority, devoted like himself to ideas of order and of liberty, in harmony with the monarchical principle, he dissolved the Cortes, and the new elections resulted favorably. But on Nov. 26, 1885, on the question of the occupation of the Caroline Islands by Germany, he was again compelled to resign, being succeeded by Senor Sagasta. The same day he was elected president of the chamber by 222 votes against 112 cast for Senor Romero Robledo, and he signalized his entrance upon his new functions by a funeral eulogy of King Alfonso XII., who had died the previous day; in 1890 a reversal brought him back into power, and on July 5 he took a presidency of a Conservative Cabinet, replacing the Liberal ministry of Sagasta. Two years later the pendulum swung to the opposite extreme, and the Liberals, under Senor Sagasta, won the general elections and retained power until 1895, when disagreements in the Sagasta Cabinet led the queen regent to summon Canovas again to the premiership. The Canovas Government was defeated on a vote of censure on June 3, 1895, but did not resign. The general elections of the Cabinet, and he did so, being confirmed by the crown in his ministerial powers, with the personnel and policy of the Cabinet unchanged.

MAY HELP CUBA.

New York, Aug. 8.—Emilio Agramonte, president of the Jose Marti Revolutionary Club, and the Marti Charity Organization here, heard the news of the killing of Premier Canovas tonight at his home on Lexington avenue, and exclaimed: "This is truly hard to believe." Then he said: "Sagasta, who is head of the Liberals, will surely succeed Canovas, and I feel certain that should Sagasta succeed Canovas, he will follow the same general policy in regard to Cuba as Canovas made every effort to do. It will doubtless be his idea to bring about a relationship between Spain and Cuba as exists between England and Canada. But such a relationship Cuba will never accept. She must have complete and absolute independence. Still, it is my belief that the killing of Canovas will be a great benefit for the cause of Cuba. It may even lead to independence. That is the only thing for Cuba. Canovas was directly responsible for the relations which existed between the United States and Spain as regards Cuba, because his instructions were so carefully followed out by Spain's representative in Washington, that President Cleveland could not act friendly to Cuba. The death of Canovas cannot but help the cause of Cuba."

A THREAT VERIFIED.

London, Aug. 8.—A week ago the French newspaper Courier De Lion published an interview with an Italian anarchist, who said he was going to London to see the Spanish anarchists, and that within a few days the world would be astonished by an event resembling the death of Carnot. The Spanish anarchist refugees from Barcelona are now in London. On being questioned this evening on the subject of the assassination of Canovas, they declared that the murder had nothing to do with them. Renladi, the assassin, they asserted, is quite unknown. One of them said: "Our methods are constitutional." They admitted, however, that they could not be expected greatly to deplore the death of the man responsible for the tortures that had been inflicted on them; but they reiterated their assertion that the act was the work of a solitary individual without accomplices.

Long Live Spain!

The Dying Exclamation of the Murdered Premier.

His Distracted Wife Upbraided the Assassin,

Who Replied That He Had Done "His Duty"—Was Obeying the Orders of His Superiors—The Fiend Identified—An Escaped Convict.

Madrid, Aug. 9—The assassination of the prime minister of Spain, Senor Canovas Del Castillo, who was shot and killed by the Italian anarchist, whose name is believed to be Michele Angine Golli, at the baths of Santa Agueda, yesterday afternoon, was undoubtedly premeditated. Golli deliberately watched for an opportunity to kill the Spanish statesman and he only fired when there was no chance to miss. In fact, the assassin, who was arrested almost immediately after the premier fell dying at the feet of his wife, has declared as much to the examining magistrate. The prime minister lingered for some time in agony and passed away with a cry of "Long Live Spain."

Further details of the assassination show that Senor Canovas Del Castillo and his wife were present yesterday morning at the celebration of mass in the chapel attached to the baths. After mass the premier was reading and conversing with some reporters when the assassin approached and fired three shots at him with a revolver, hitting him in the forehead, chest and left ear. The wounded man fell to the ground crying "Assassin, Long Live Spain." The premier was carried to his room and expired at 1:30 p.m., after extreme unction had been administered to him by a priest of the Dominican order.

The murderer, who was immediately seized by people who were in the vicinity of the scene of the crime, was severely beaten and might have been killed had it not been for the protection afforded him by a number of civil guards, who ran to the scene. The prisoner, who declared he had killed the premier, "in the accomplishment of a just vengeance," at first gave the name of Rinaldi, and claimed that the deed was the outcome of an extensive Anarchist conspiracy. Later, however, the assassin confessed that his real name was Michele Angine Golli, that he was 26 years of age, a native of Boggi, near Naples, and that he left Italy and came to Spain in 1896. After reaching Spain, Golli, according to his confession, resided at Barcelona, and participated in the doings of the various Anarchist associations of that place and vicinity. After sojourning at Barcelona for some time, Golli visited France and Belgium and returned to Spain in July last. After his return the Anarchist seems to have completed the plans for the assassination of the prime minister. He left Madrid for Santa Agueda at the same time as Senor Canovas Del Castillo, and awaited an opportunity to assassinate the statesman. Golli is of medium height, wears a full beard and spectacles, and his demeanor is that of a law-abiding citizen. He says he is satisfied with having done "his duty," and asserts that he had no personal grudge against the April, 1896, returned an overwhelming majority to the Cortes in favor of the policy of the Canovas Cabinet, though the opposition charged that the ministerialists carried many of the election districts by gross fraud. On June 2 last, Senor Canovas tendered the resignation of the Cabinet owing to the difficulty ministers experienced in carrying on the government in view of the Parliamentary situation caused by the refusal of the Liberals to take part in the deliberations of the Cortes. This refusal was due to a personal encounter between the Duke of Tetuan, minister of foreign affairs, and Prof. Comas, a distinguished Liberal senator, on May 21. After four days' conferences with the leaders of all political parties, the queen regent requested Senor Canovas to withdraw the resignation of premier and was merely obeying orders received from his superiors in the secret society to which he belonged. He frankly confesses anarchist doctrines, says he was sentenced in 1895 to eighteen months' imprisonment in the jail at Lucera, Italy, and claims that he escaped from there to Marseilles, from which port he made his way to Barcelona.

Senora Canovas del Castillo, wife of the premier, rushed to his side upon hearing the shots, and bitterly reproached the murderer for his crime. Golli, in reply to the agonizing words of the distracted wife, said: "I respect you because you are an honorable lady, but I have done my duty and I am now easy in my mind, for I have avenged my friends and brothers of Montjuich."

Montjuich is the fortress of Barcelona, outside of which the anarchists who have been sentenced to death for recent outrages have been executed by being shot in the back. The anarchists recently executed outside Montjuich were the last batch of the fiends who were guilty of throwing a bomb on June 7, 1896, into a religious procession about to enter the Church of Santa Maria De La Mar. Twelve persons were instantly killed and 50 others injured.

GERMANY'S PROTEST

Against the United States Tariff—Is a Written One.

London, Aug. 9.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times says: "The fresh German protest to the United States on the subject of sugar differs from the former protest in being a written one. It is a concession to agrarian agitation, and therefore does not pass unchallenged here. It is not known whether the protest represents an isolated act on the part of Germany or whether it is taken in conjunction with the other governments, some of which have more ground for complaint than Germany."

BASEBALL.

CLEVELAND KALSOMINED.

The Londons are in the whitewash business. They operated again Saturday on a gentle and unobtrusive lot of young fellows from Cleveland, who carried home an elegant coat of it on the steamer Flora, as a souvenir of their Canadian tour.

The Powers Athletic Club Nine—that's their title—are real nice boys, and took their medicine without a murmur. They are good ball players, too, in their own class, and it is not surprising that they beat St. Thomas; but whoever jollied them into the idea that they had any show against the Londons was no friend of theirs. The Bluebirds polished them off in the most artistic fashion. It was too much of a good thing, and the audience yawned audibly after the home boys finished their merry-go-round in the fifth inning.

Colonel Willie Kershaw hadn't pitched a game for a week, so he was in prime condition. The Powers were powerless when it came to punishing Willie's curves, and eight times their sticks bruised nothing but atmosphere. They could make only three little hitlets and only twice did they push the ball past the infield. It was a regular picnic for the colonel, and he made the most of it. He was utterly relentless, and after the fourth inning wouldn't let the poor chaps have a solitary single. Willie was determined to do a little kalsomining on his own account.

For so short an acquaintance the Londons took very improper liberties with Beldon's shoots, and kept the outfielders gallavanting all over the pasture for six innings. In the fifth, Cockman and Keenan smashed out doubles, Gunther, Kershaw and Hickey made singles, and the Clevelands helped along the work by three large ripe errors that reminded one of Guelph.

The St. Thomas team stuffed the visitors that they would have no chance in London unless they took along their own umpire. Accordingly they brought Taylor, of St. Thomas, but the Londons had had a taste of Mr. Taylor's work before, and they declined his services. Lute Johnson, the local pitcher, and Mr. Dubbs, one of the Clevelands, did the job between them very satisfactorily. Lute's rich and melodious warble compared favorably with that of Almighty Voice Phelps.

About 500 people were present, but if the management wish to draw good crowds in future to exhibition games they will have to secure swifter aggregations than the last two that have appeared here. Score:

NOTES.

Strowger can hold down first base with the best of them. He is all right anywhere.

Gunther's catching was A1, and he showed up in his old-time form at the bat. Keep it up, Andy.

Third Baseman Delehanty is a brother of the National League player.

The Clevelands are coming back to Canada shortly. The Irish nine of Lucan may have an open date for them.

The result of the game was sad news for St. Thomas.

THE CLEVELANDS GARNISHEED.

The Clevelands got $50 for their game with London, but the sum was immediately garnisheed by the Petrolea Base Ball Club. The Clevelands promised to play in Petrolea on Friday, but St. Thomas coaxed them to remain in the Railroad City. The Petroleans had gone to considerable expense in advertising the match, and took this means to recoup themselves.

AFTER CANADIAN LEAGUE PLAYERS.

The reputation of the Canadian League for fast players has attracted attention over the border, and the management here have good reason for believing that an agent from Springfield, Ohio, is in the city trying to secure players for the Ohio State League. So far, his efforts have not been successful, and it is almost certain that none of the Londons will leave the team at this time of the year. They are all well satisfied with their treatment.

KEENAN DIDN'T WANT TO GO.

The Guelph people are greatly struck on Keenan, of London, and before Crowe left them offered the latter and $50 cash in exchange for Jo-Jo. The matter was broached to Joe by Manager Holman. "No, papa," said the little third baseman, "I won't leave London." Of course the local management did not want to part with Jo-Jo, and finally secured Crowe for a cash consideration.

TORONTO LEADS.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 7.—Manager Irwin's team now leads the league, for winning the double-header from Montreal this afternoon put them on top. Syracuse was beaten by Buffalo, and when the word came over the wire and was put upon the score board at the island the 3,000 spectators yelled with excitement and cheered loud and long for Toronto. The first game started at 2 o'clock and was never in doubt. Toronto went to bat first and hit Becker out for seven runs, and they pounded him nearly every inning. Norton did the twirling for the Torontos for the first seven innings, and when Montreal started to find him warhorse Staley was sent out to take his place. Staley held Montreal down in good shape. The fielding of the visitors was rank. They fumbled and muffed the ball on nearly every occasion, and their throwing was wild at times. Score: R.H.E.

Montreal .....0 0 4 0 3 0 0 0 2— 9 13 3

Batteries—Norton, Staley and Snyder; Becker and McNamara.

After a few minutes' rest the second game was started. Montreal saw they had no chance and wanted to catch the train, so arrangements were made to call the game in the seventh inning, leaving Toronto the winners, and the leaders of the league. Score: R.H.E.

LEAFS' POOR FIELDING.

Guelph, Ont., Aug. 7.—The Leafs were whitewashed here this afternoon in their game with Hamilton. McDermott pitched a good game, but got disgusted with rank support, and was hit rather freely towards the latter part of the game. Cochrane held the Leafs down to six hits; he had perfect support. The principal feature of the game was McElroy's fielding. Score:

FLYS.

Crowe will be a good pitcher with the Londons back of him.—Hamilton Times.

Poor old "Sox." Too much firewater has put him out of the business temporarily. Five drunks in two weeks is his record. President Robson fined him $25, $50 and $100 for the first three, and suspended him without pay for the others.—Boston Herald.

London and Guelph will play only one game on Tuesday and not two, as advertised. Guelph plays twice in Hamilton today, and hasn't enough pitchers to play a double header again tomorrow.

The St. Thomas Baseball Club are suing the Petrolea papers for libel for alleging that members of the team imbibed too freely.

Beldon, the pitcher, and Delehanty, third baseman of the Powers Athletic Club, Cleveland, have been signed by St. Thomas.

The Scranton Eastern League franchise will be held by its present owners for at least the remainder of the season. This was decided at a meeting of the owners and President Powers last week at Scranton. Two or three of the high salaried players and as many others accused of dissiptaion are to be released as soon as new blood to fill their places is secured. At the close of the season it is the plan to form a new association, with the present owners partly interested.

Henry Clark, the University of Chicago boy, is no longer an Indian. He has washed the war paint from his face, laid away his tomahawk and severed his connection with Tebeau's aggregation of braves. In regard to his leaving the Cleveland team, Manager Tebeau said: "Clark is a ball player—every inch of him—but since he has been with us both he and the team have played in tough luck. He pitched good ball most of the time, but our unlucky work with the stick or in the field would lose his games. The principal reason, however, of my letting him go is that we can't very well afford to keep him on the pay roll just at present."

There is a Gannon, a Shannon and two Bannons in the Eastern League.

Pittsburg offered $5,000 and two of its best players for Shortstop Dahlen, but Chicago would not even consider it.

Arthur Irwin has a mint at Toronto if someone else has not big fingers in the pie. There were 10,000 spectators at two games the other day.—Detroit Free Press.

A pipe story comes from Reading that ex-Champion Corbett will purchase the Athletic franchise in the Atlantic League, transfer the team to Harrisburg, and play first base regularly.

A Boston paper says: "If there is a deal on between Boston and Brooklyn whereby the former may secure Kennedy, the Bridegrooms' best pitcher, the Boston management is silent on the matter. It is difficult to conceive that the Brooklyn club would sell the best pitcher it has unless for an extravagant figure."

Baltimore, which a month ago was apparently hopelessly out of the struggle as far as pennant honors were concerned, is an equal favorite with Boston for first place in the race. The dashing, concerted play of the champions in the field and at the bat is making up for their comparative weakness in the pitcher's box. In fact, only a reversal of form can give the pennant to any team outside of the Bostons or the Baltimores.

Guelph Herald: Tindall, who Friday morning wired that he would be here at once, is now wanting advance money. Kelb has also failed to show up. Secretary Morton is now in communication with three other infielders. They are good men.

Wonder why Crowe didn't exercise a little of his ability when with Guelph. —Hamilton Herald. So he did, but a pitcher isn't the whole team.

Hamilton Spectator: London has no license to win games from the Hams now. . . . Only twice did the heavy hitting Cockneys place the ball safely. . . . McGinnis pitched one of the best games ever witnessed in London.

Hamilton Herald: For a genuine hard luck yarn the Herald commends its readers to the report of yesterday's game at London. . . . But eleven runs have been scored all told in the last three games between Hamilton and London at Tecumseh Park.

A Waterloo county league ball game, played at Galt Saturday, between Galt and Hespeler, resulted in 8 to 13 in favor of Hespeler. Waterloo defeated Berlin by 7 to 5 in the presence of 1,000 people.

RED-HOT RACING AT CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, Aug. 7.—Carroll Reid lost his good selling plater Balk Line, at Newport today. Balk Line ran Henry Taunt to a nose on the post in the third race, and was afterwards claimed by J. H. Smith, whose horse Elkin finished third. Balk Line was in for $500. As a result of a quarrel between Starter Brown and Rome Respess, Newport came near losing the services of the former. Respess claimed his horses were not being located fairly at the post. Brown tendered his resignation, but the directors refused to accept. The judges ordered Respess to apologize for his language towards Starter Brown. The racing today was very exciting. Weather fine; track fast and betting brisk. Summaries:

First race, selling, 6½ furlongs—Est Ne Regina 1, Idle Hour 2, Czarowitz 3. Time, 1:21½. Kallitan, Little Land, Anna Garth, Imp. Rout, Con Reagan, The Navvy, Dr. Coleman, Santa Marie also ran.

GOOD RACING AT WINDSOR.

Windsor, Aug. 8.—There were a number of prominent visitors at the Windsor track yesterday that added considerably to the tone of the sport. Among the number were Ed. Corrigan, the veteran Chicago horseman, and Br. Germaine, the vice-president of the Fort Erie Jockey Club. The event of the day was the five-furlong heat race, last on the card. It went to Sidney Bender in straight heats. The first heat was delayed over half an hour by the unruly actions of Crocus, and finally the start was made with her almost left at the post. The 2-year-old five-furlong handicap was a very pretty race, and resulted in the victory of Harry Stover's good Blue Eyes filly Pearl. In this race Mirth, a filly bred by Mr. Corrigan, started and the Master of Hawthorne played her freely. She was evidently short, for after being prominent to the head of the stretch she tired and finished fifth. Traveler proved the best on the mile and a quarter affair, the favorite Anger finishing fourth. Sierra Gorda and Wild Mountain, the other two winners, were both well played. Most of the horses now at Windsor will be taken to the Grosse Pointe track Monday.

First race, 6½ furlongs, selling—Wild Mountain 1, Little Bramble 2, Longbrook 3. Time, 1:24. Nero, Howard M., Dixie Lee, Miss Florist, Glendaga, Hannigan, Katherine, Miss Kitty, Sweden, Narcissus, finished as named.

Second race, 5½ furlongs, 3-year-olds and up—Sierra Gorda 1, Daisy Maree 2, Mazeppa 3. Time, 1:07¼. Ray B., Lottie Hunter, Spokena, Glenbok, Leoncie, Bessie Browning, and Given finished as named. Trade Last and Loyal Prince left at the post.

Third race, ⅝-mile, 2-year-old handicap—Pearl 1, Marplot 2, Water Crest 3. Time, 1:01¾. Gilroy, Mirth, Corder, Bonadea, Komouraski, Talliwanda, Violent, finished as named.

Fourth race, 1¼ miles, selling—Traveler 1, Barney Adler 2, Cioja 3. Time, 2:09¼. Anger, Otto H., Cheatham, Font d' Or, finished as named. Wolsey bled.

Fifth race, ⅝ mile heats, selling—Sidney Bender 1, Rideau 2, Hartford Boy 3. Time, 1:02. Steve Ciolini, Whiff, Demirep, N. C. Creede finished as named. Alice W., Spoons, Crocus, distanced first heat.

WHEEL.

THE CIVIC HOLIDAY MEET.

Competitors intending to race at the civic holiday meet should send in their entries at once, as they will be entitled to the use of training quarters and track at Tecumseh Park from time of entry until civic holiday without charge. Entry forms and all information can be had from Jas. McCormick, secretary, care R. C. Struthers & Co.

COULDN'T PAY FOR A WHEEL.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 7.—Miss Louise Exinger, of 53 North Fourth avenue, attempted suicide last night by taking carbolic acid. Dr. Wessinger found the girl in violent spasms and for a time her life was despaired of. She was despondent over the fact that she had bought a wheel and could not at once pay for it, the dealer crowding her for payment.

GREATEST RACES EVER HELD.

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—The greatest race meet in the history of American cycling came to an end this evening at Willow Grove Park, when the eighteenth annual meet of the League of American Wheelmen closed. In attendance there has never been a national or local race meet that has approached it. During the two days of racing nearly 45,000 persons witnessed the cracks from all parts of the United States, two from Mexico, and the Canadian crack, Loughead, strive for fame and prizes. Yesterday's attendance of 13,000 was nearly doubled today with an attendance of between 25,000 and 27,000. In the particular of racing, all the circuit chasers showed themselves to be in fine form, which resulted in the closest, prettiest and most strategic competition that has been witnessed in a long time.

Fred Loughead, the Sarnia, Ont., lad, who carried off the honors yesterday, kept up his fine work today, but little Earl Kiser landed on top, winning the half-mile professional and the great mile open, professional. A purse of $500 was divided among the winners of the latter race. Eddie Bald also added to his reputation, and while no firsts appear to his credit, yet his seconds in the mile open and the five mile professional finals were within a hair's breadth of being firsts. In each and every race in which he competed he displayed remarkable judgment.

CAN'T TAX BICYCLES.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—Judge Tuley decided the new city ordinance establishing a vehicle tax to be void. The ordinance permitted the city to collect $1 a year license from each bicycle owner, and for every vehicle proportionately. The ordinance was passed for the ostensible purpose of raising a permanent street repairing fund. The new law aroused much opposition, especially among wheelmen. An injunction suit was brought against the city and the enjoining bill was sustained in Judge Tuley's decision. The court held that the city had no right to license bicycles, but only an occupation, and could not impose a license upon the specific property when not used in business or in an occupation. Counsel for the city took an appeal and the case will be heard in higher courts.

BROKEN RECORDS.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 7.—At Chester Park, on the one-third mile banked track, this afternoon, two world's amateur records, paced, flying start, were broken by Harry Sidwell, of Covington, Ky., in a run for record. A. A. Zimmerman, the famous wheelman, made several exhibition runs. Here are Sidwell's broken records: First, one-third mile, amateur, flying start, paced by quad and triplet. Time, 33 3-5 seconds. Former world's record, 34 1-5, by A. W. Porter, Walton, Mass., Nov. 2, 1894. Second, one-half mile, flying start, paced by quad. Time, 51 3-5. Former record, 53, by A. W. Porter, Walton, Mass., Nov. 2, 1894. A. A. Zimmerman tried the third of a mile, under the some conditions as above, and made it in 33 3-5, equaling Sidwell's time. Zimmerman also made two-third mile, tandem, paced, in 1:14 4-5, beating the track record.

Mr. W. Raines, 1,236 College street, Toronto, Ont., says: "I have been troubled with kidney disease for nearly eight years. When I began taking Munyon's Kidney Cure I was suffering extreme pain across the back, and was so bad that I had to be assisted from my bed. I only used the Munyon Cure for a few weeks, but I can say in all honesty that I am completely cured of my kidney trouble. I have the utmost faith in the Munyon Remedies."

TWO BOTTLES CURED HIM.

Mr. T. H. Reed, 749 Palmerston avenue, Toronto, Can., says: "I was suffering severely with kidney disease when I began treatment with the Munyon specialists, some three or four months ago. I also had very severe pains from stomach trouble. I used Munyon's Dyspepsia and Kidney Cure, and before I had finished two bottles of each I was satisfied that both diseases had been cured. I have the utmost faith in the Munyon Remedies."

"ENTIRELY CURED ME."

Mr. John Morrison, No. 152 Euclid avenue, Toronto, Can., says: "For several years I was troubled with a severe form of kidney disease, and for the past year with rheumatism also. After trying a number of other things, and not being benefited, I was induced to take Munyon's Rheumatism and Kidney Cure. One bottle of the former, and two bottles of the latter remedy entirely cured me, and I am now as well as ever. I can heartily recommend the Munyon Remedies, and am doing so daily to my relatives and friends."

Anti-British Outbreak in Germany—Urged That Continental Ports Be Closed Against British Goods.

The Dingley Bill Severely Felt in Germany—British Politics—A Tory Civil War—Lord Londonderry Denounces Government Measures—The Liberals Leaderless and Supine—British Telegraphers May Strike—Peter's Pence.

London, Aug. 7.—The cloudbursts and inundations which have devastated the eastern parts of Germany were the worst which have occurred since 1870. According to the local statistics, 105 persons were killed in Silesia alone, and in Saxony the casualties will not fall short of 180. The financial losses foot up over 150,000,000 marks. At Pillnitz, the country residence of the Queen of Saxony, the River Elbe rose so fast that it flooded the lower floor of the royal castle, forcing the king and queen to hurriedly flee from the place and seek refuge at Dresden. Prince Hohenlohe, the imperial chancellor, who was then on his way from his estate at Aussig to Berlin, had to leave the train at Assig and was conveyed ten miles in a sedan chair to another railroad station. Through a landslide of the highest summit of the Silesian Mountains, the Hotel Schneekopfe was carried down and buried with all its occupants.

Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria, has granted 30,000 florins from his private purse for the relief of the sufferers, and the Queen of Saxony has granted 20,000 marks for the same purpose. Emperor William of Germany has not yet made a donation to the people who have suffered from the floods, etc., in the eastern part of the country, although he has given 25,000 marks to the flood sufferers in Alsace. The newspapers are calling for special sessions of the reichstag and diet so that these bodies may make extraordinary grants of money for the relief of the suffering families; but, as the suggestion was first made by the Vorwaerts and other Socialist newspapers, it is being discouraged by the government. The municipality of Berlin has granted 500,000 marks for the relief of the thousands of people rendered homeless and penniless by the storms, and the city of Dresden has voted 300,000 marks for the same good work.

DINGLEY BILL HURTS GERMANY.

The German newspapers continue to discuss the new United States tariff, and to call for reprisals; but the Associated Press learns from the foreign office that the Government of Germany has no intention of beginning a tariff war. A high official of the foreign office said to the correspondent:

"There will be no tariff war, as Germany is too weak to carry it out, and because a large part of the American imports of foodstuffs, as well as cotton and other raw materials are indispenable to our industry. The formation of a large continental tariff union with its ram pointed at the United States, would miscarry because of England's opposition. As a matter of fact, our hands are tied, and even Baron Von Thielmann, the German ambassador to the United States, who has been named as the successor of Count Posadowski-Wehner as imperial secretary of state for the treasury) though his advice and intimate knowledge of the American tariff and financial affairs would be of great help to us during the coming crisis, cannot change the facts in the case."

Palpable effects of the new tariff are already noticeable. The manufacturers of Solingen are complaining of lack of orders and many factories have reduced the number of employes. In the Guban and Chemnitz districts there is already much industrial distress. Similar complaints are made elsewhere.

The Florists Association has sent a memorial to the imperial chancellor protesting against the tariff as seriously injuring the export trade of seeds and plants during the last few weeks.

EMPEROR WILLIAM THREATENED.

Before starting for Russia, Emperor William received a number of threatening letters from Nihilists and Pan-Slavists. In consequence of this one of the shrewdest criminal commissioners, Dr. Henninger, with a section of the Berlin political police, was sent to Peterhof Palace a week ahead of Emperor William, and this corps of detectives will accompany him everywhere during his stay in Russia.

JAPAN'S BATTLESHIP.

The Japanese Government has ordered from the Vulcan Works, in Germany a battleship of 9,800 tons, which is to cost 13,000,000 marks.

RACE TRACK FATALTIES.

The past week has witnessed a number of fatal accidents on German race courses. Count von Fech, a wealthy gentleman rider, and at one time the friend of the Barrison sisters, and Lieut. Bartels, also a gentleman rider, were killed during a race at Krueznach. At the Neuss races the most successful gentleman rider in Germany, Lieut. von Kayser, was killed, and Capt. von Suernomdt was seriously injured. Two jockeys also met accidental deaths.

A KIND ACT.

The Emperor of Germany recently descovered in a sailor of the Hohenzollern, named Obermeyer, a native of Baden, a remarkable talent for painting and sketching, and his Majesty has sent him to the Ara Academy of Berlin, charging himself with the sailor's education.

GERMAN-AMERICAN MARKSMEN.

The Independent Schuetzen corps of New York, while at Coblentz, deposited a wreath upon the Empress Augusta Monument and telegraphed the fact to the Grand Duchess of Baden, daughter of the ex-Empress. The grand duchess sent a very appreciative acknowledgment to Capt. Weber. At Mayence, Coblentz and elsewhere on the Rhine the visiting schuetzen corps was publicly feted. The German-American riflemen won several prizes at the Nuremburg national sharpshooting tournament.

TORY CIVIL WAR THREATENED.

The close of the session of parliament leaves neither of the political parties in an altogether enviable frame of mind. The latent antagonism of the different schools of ministerialists has threatened more than once during the past six months to bring about civil war in the Tory camp, and the recess leaves considerable numbers of Conservatives in a state of high indignation and resentment. The malcontents claim that the legislation has been reactionary and socialistic. Many of them are angry at what they declare to be a humiliating surrender of the national honor on the demand of America. The Marquis of Londonderry, representing the big class of Tory landlords has added to the discomfiture by publishing a letter in which he practically cuts adrift from the Unionists, saying in so many words that he cannot stand the Irish land bills, nor Mr. Chamberlain's pet measure, the workmen's compensation bill, which he duhs socialistic. The marquis adds that the Conservatives would never have permitted it to become law if it had been introduced by Mr. Chamberlain before the latter changed his politics. The members of the opposition are in no better mood. The rank and file are indifferent and quarrelsome, while the leaders seem to be lost in the shuffle. Lord Rosebery occasionally leaves his temporary retirement in order to make a humorous speech. Mr. John Morley is seldom heard except at academical lectures. Sir Henry Fowler and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman are quiescent, while Mr. Herbert Asquith has been earning Tory cheers for his speeches in behalf of the workmen's compensation bill. Sir William Vernon Harcourt is alone visible, though Mr. Henry Labouchere has tried to push to the front by issuing a manifesto early during the week, suggesting a new Liberal programme. His so-called presumption, however, has been snubbed by the heads of the Liberal federation, and his manifesto has fallen absolutely flat. As a matter of fact, The Liberal party seems opinionless, as well as leaderless. The conflict for the leadership of the party continues in spite of this far from hopeful outlook, and should the Liberals again be called to power the fight between Rosebery and Harcourt will undoubtedly be reopened.

POLITICS ON THE CONTINENT.

The leading question in continental political circles is, will the visit of Emperor William of Germany to St. Petersburg result in a German-Russian-French understanding directed against Great Britain? Such a combination is undoubtedly devoutly wished for in Germany, where the denunciation of the treaty of commerce between Great Britain and Germany has rekindled Anglophobism. The Deutsche Zeitung voices the general hope, saying: "The emperor will achieve imperishable renown if he succeeds in creating an alliance aiming at the annihilation of England's power." Continuing, the Deutsche Zeitung suggests that the emperor should endeavor to obtain the closing of the continental ports against English goods. Advices from Paris, however, show there is little enthusiasm there on the subject, the impression being that France, in entering into such an arrangement, is only playing Germany's game, and it is very doubtful if France will derive material advantages therefrom. On the other hand, Great Britain, judging from the tone of the press, is absolutely indifferent, and is content to continue in her position of "splendid isolation," satisfied that either the Dreibund or the Russo-French combination will receive her with open arms if she ever desires to join them, even though maps are already published showing the approaching partition of the British Empire.

LIBERALS LEADERLESS.

London, Aug. 8.—The discussion of the work done in parliament during the session which closed yesterday has served to emphasize the complete demoralization of the Liberal party. The opposition, as far as the House of Commons is concerned, has ceased to have any but a normal existence. This, despite the fact that the Salisbury Government by no means enjoys the popular support which gave it an enormous majority two years ago. The real seat of the trouble is the upper council of the party, where, instead of harmony, there are jealousies, indifference and lack of leadership. The Liberal press today is wonderfully outspoken in discussing the situation. The Chronicle throws discretion to the winds and says: "The session of 1897 has illustrated, above all, two great facts, the impotence of parliament in the absence of vigorous public opinion and the evil of a weak opposition. It would be idle to deny that whether the jubilee be to blame, or a wave of reaction, or the return of prosperity, the country is utterly supine. It would be equally idle to ignore the fact that the opposition, and above all, the opposition front benches, are useless as they are powerless. The paralysis of the official Liberal party may account in part for the dullness of public opinion in general. The English people want leading, and though it may disapprove and even detest the methods of its government, it will always find it hard to make its inner mind articulate unless there is a personality to give expression to its feeling. What leading has there been of late throughout the session which has established a record in ministerial blunders and misdeeds? There has not been a month in which any earnest opponent of the ministry can have been content with the conduct of the opposition in the House of Commons. The government majority is strong, and may be as reckless as ever. The joint dictatorship of Lord Salisbury and Chamberlain will apparently go on undisturbed by parliament unless they are unwise enough to quarrel. Neither the privileges and traditions of parliament nor the good name of England and her record as an enemy of oppression and a friend of freedom signify anything until public opinion, which is latent, but not dead, can find expression again, and gather itself once more into that resistless force before which the strongest dictatorships go down." The language fairly represents the opinion of the rank and file of the Liberal party. But there is no immediate prospect of reorganization or other radical remedy which might restore English Liberalism to its proper place in national politics.

ANOTHER POSSIBLE STRIKE.

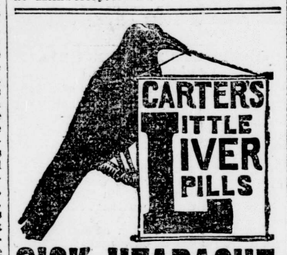

The trouble in the engineering trades is apparently not a whit nearer settlement. The employers declare they will not permit the union men to return to their shops unless they undertake to work amicably with the non-unionists. The attitude of the postoffice telegraphers is becoming threatening. The answer of the postmaster-general, the Duke of Norfolk, to their demands is not forthcoming, and if the telegraph operators carry out their threats an almost complete stoppage of the service is probable during the coming week. The delays in the transmission of messages are already scandalous.

PETER'S PENCE DECLINING.

The vatican, including the pope himself, is actively engaged in a campaign to stimulate the revenue of Peter's pence, which shows a serious decrease. The chief contributor to this fund has always been France; but the tendency of the vatican to support republicanism has cooled the ardor of the aristocratic donors, and while the gifts from America has increased, the latter do not cover the French deficiency. The receipts are steadily abating, while the expenses of the vatican are increasing.

MORE DIAMOND FIELDS.

The news comes from South Africa of the discovery of important new diamond fields in Griqualand West, in the same district as the Kimberley mines. Although the first discovery was made at the end of last year, it was not till May last that the governor of Cape Colony proclaimed it a payable diamond field in accordance with the Cape laws. Over 3,000 persons from Kimberley and Barkley rushed to the field and pegged out a large number of claims. These have been tested, and the results, as reported in recent letters and cablegrams, seem to put it beyond doubt that the find is a most valuable one, and fully equal to the famous Wesselton mine at Kimberley.

Capturing the British Market for Canadian Products.

One result of the Canadian preferential tariff in favor of Great Britain, and the vigorous efforts made to increase our sales of farm and other products in the motherland, is the marked attention which leading newspapers in the old country are now giving to the Dominion. We quoted from the Liverpool Post, the other day, a most laudatory notice of Canada as a country well fitted to supply, in ever-increasing quantity, the needs of the British consuming public. Today we are in receipt of a copy of the London Daily Telegraph, a journal enjoying a circulation of over 350,000 a day, which supplies its readers with the following highly interesting account of the new condition of affairs:

"Canada has passed into law certain enactments, giving new and preferential tariff rates to the manufacturers of the United Kingdom, and also to the consumers of food supplies imported from the Dominion. Uncompromising free traders may decry their legislation as suicidal or economic heresy. Meanwhile the Canadians claim to know their true interests better than outsiders, and the British public will reap clear advantages from the measures in question. When the wisdom of strengthening all the ties of the empire has been acclaimed by every subject of the Queen in this year of jubilee, no fitter time could have been chosen to inaugurate the scheme. Last week the first vessel of the fleet practically subsidized by the Canadian Government arrived with the first cargo of food stuffs, which have been disposed of in the English market.

"In these days of maxim of 'Whatever is worth doing is worth doing well' is stiffly held by in most of our colonies. In Canada, they have at least reduced to system and method much that concerns the work-a-day life of the people. Probably there is no more anti-Socialistic community in the world than what is called by the natives the 'Dominion.' Yet there are departments of the Government of Canada directly and deeply concerned with how best to develop the products of the country, the teaching of the best processes for production, and securing for their citizens the best markets. Their government has not only a minister of agriculture who is a practical agriculturist, but they have model farms, creameries, and what not, where the farmers can learn all about the newest processes. In fact, in the case of the creameries and some other establishments, they are invited to use them as going co-operative concerns. Almost needless to say these places contain the latest and most improved kinds of machinery, and the products are treated in the most approved manner. The object, of course, is to secure for Canadian produce a high name for excellence and a command of the best price. Very sanguine expectations have been formed in the colony that the policy indicated will pay all round, and, at any rate, it is regarded as a duty by the people and the authorities that the plan should have a fair trial. Possibly the great tariff wall built by the United States to block the admission of Canadian produce into that republic may have helped to precipitate events. The law defining the new policy of preferential tariff rates for goods from the United Kingdom gives this year a 12½ per cent rebate to the importer over and above whatever amount is leviable under 'the most favored nation' treaty of commerce with the Dominion of Canada. Next year a rebate or allowance of 25 per cent is to be granted on British goods.

"The food products are almost of equal interest to us as to Canadians. To extend and improve the supplies the Dominion Government has given grants for the erection of cold storage warehouses and cold storage compartments upon seventeen of the new liners running between this country and the colony. Amounts donated have not been large, but they are said to have been ample for carrying out the object in view. For cold storage warehouses the government guarantees for a term of three years 5 per cent on a capital outlay of £8,000. With respect to the seventeen steamers and cold storage compartments thereon, the allowance is for each a sum not to exceed £1,000. The shipping firms have to undertake that the freight rates for cold storage shall not exceed 10 shillings per ton over the current rates for freightage of the same class of produce upon ordinary craft. Nowadays in the market of the world, England, quality has become an even more important consideration than quantity, for the latter has become common. The Canadians have realized the fact, and are trying to keep in the front. Hitherto they have sent enormous shipments of wheat, flour, live stock, and so on, imports that did not require special precautions in transport or shipment. Now that they are seeking the market for dressed meat, i.e., bullocks and sheep ready for sale to the consumer, butter, poultry, eggs, and fruit, such as grapes, peaches, pears and tomatoes, cold storage has become a necessity. It may be of interest to note that the freight, say on cheese, which does not require special care, amounts to about 6 per cent of its value, and that the Canadians believe they are on the right economic road by striving to keep the quality standards of their produce in the front rank."

This is the best of advertising for our products, and proves how very valuable to our farmers, and through them to the whole people, the new policy is calculated to be. Canada is now on the right road.

The Turk seems to fatten on ultimatums.

As the French witness the effusive demonstrations in Russia in honor of the visiting German emperor, they rub their eyes and wonder whether or not they are dreaming. It is not so very long since the French went almost crazy over the Russian emperor, believing that an alliance, offensive and defensive, had been arranged between the empire and the republic. And the language of the Russian czar at that time was such as to give ground for that assumption. Now the czar is even more demonstrative over his fellow-autocrat from Germany. Perhaps Nicholas desires to be taken as the Universal Friend.

Newfoundland's Future.

What a pack of trouble Canada would have inherited if the recent attempt to annex Newfoundland to the Dominion had succeeded! The French government, according to the premier of Newfoundland, is as determined as ever to enforce the claims of its fishermen to territorial rights on the island, and it is made apparent that before these claims are disposed of there will have to be a complete settlement of the whole question of French rights in Newfoundland. It was never contemplated that the French fishermen from the islands of the St. Lawrence should be given any right beyond that of ability to land on Newfoundland and dry their fish. But as time has gone by, they claim much more, and it is just as well that these knotty problems should be settled once and for all before Newfoundland becomes a part of the Dominion. Newfoundland is fated to join Canada. Her union with us will round off the Confederation, and we know of no one who will not gladly welcome her in on fair terms. But it is easier to settle this question of territorial jurisdiction before union than it would be after amalgamation.

The taffy match at St. Petersburg between the two emperors seems to have been a most successful affair. Both pine for peace—and territorial expansion.

Sir John Macdonald urged John Sandfield Macdonald to appoint a minister of education for Ontario. He did not do so, but Hon. Oliver Mowat took the advice, and placed the education department under a responsible head. The people of Quebec are reminded of these facts now that it is proposed to place education in that province under ministerial responsibility.

Ireland in Parliament.

John Dillon, cabling his views of the late session of Parliament, says it was a very successful one for the friends of Irish home rule. The government opened the session with a policy for Ireland of extending the hateful and disastrous Castle system by creating a further series of nominated boards. But the strenuous opposition offered to that scheme by the Irish party compelled its abandonment and the adoption instead of the far more acceptable policy of promising Ireland next session a system of county government by popularly elected bodies similar to that already established in Great Britain. Mr. Dillon regards this concession as an immediate result of the cessation of faction in the Irish ranks. Mr. Dillon further asserts that the exposure of Ireland's grievous overtaxation, mainly due to the splendid ability of Mr. Sexton, brought the whole Irish representation into line in the memorable debate originated in the masterly speech of Mr. Blake, making a profound impression on Parliament and on the people of the country. Mr. Dillon says the features of the session to which he attaches most importance are the palpable proof that the united party of Irish Nationalists in the House of Commons would be practically irresistible and the great progress made towards effecting reunion among them. He is convinced that before another general election, unity and harmony will be restored in the ranks of the friends of self-government in Ireland, and that they will go back in the next Parliament with a solidly united party of at least 85 out of 103 Irish members. Mr. Dillon's optimism, which is shared by Hon. Edward Blake, will help to promote the unity which he champions.

On the European continent a prime minister has about as dangerous a job as an emperor. Senor Castillo, the aged premier of Spain, has fallen by the hand of an assassin, who says he is an Anarchist, and there is general alarm among those in authority. New developments with regard to Cuba may result from the tragedy. Castillo was a firm opponent of Cuban autonomy.

The ward system cleaves to aldermanic life in London closer than an oyster to a shell.

IMITATING ONTARIO.
[Hamilton Times.]

Mr. Marchand's determination to improve the school system of Quebec by more closely following the lines of the Ontario system, and placing the schools under a responsible minister, receives the approval of even the Montreal Gazette. It is only when hopelessly lacking a subject for complaint that Tory papers attack our school system. And then they deal in vague generalities and carefully avoid getting down to particulars.

SUBSTITUTE FOR LYNCHING.
[Miami Metropolis.]

Among the Seminole Indians of Florida there is no lynching. When any of those offenses are committed which usually lead to lynching, these Indians seize the offenders and turn them over to the alligators. A few days ago the tribe caught a missing couple and tied them to stakes near the water's edge, about 50 feet apart. Then they tied a dog between them to attract attention. For the entire day they were left there in the hot sun, and then at sunset the alligators crawled out, and first devoured the howling dog and then the man and woman.

"THE WORLD MOVES."
[Stratford Beacon.]

It was Mr. Foster who said to the premier, "My honorable friend has either got to repudiate these imperial treaties or he has got to act in accordance with them. What will he do? Repudiate them with the light and jaunty air of the minister of finance, who said: 'Well, the world still moves, you know.' Will he repudiate them or will he be loyally bound by them?" The premier did neither; the Imperial Government did the repudiating—and the world, commerce and the Liberal Government, "still moves, you know."

THRALLDOM OF THE THERMOMETER.
[Kansas City Times.]

We are the slaves of the whimsical thermometer. Though we know that it is not nearly so accurate a guide as our own feelings, such is our veneration for science that we prepare to freeze or sizzle according to the plans of the weather bureau. It is time to revolt. If we cannot throw off the yoke of the thermometer we ought to insist that it be so altered and improved that it will register the condition of the air in relation not to cooking or freezing ice cream, but to its effects upon the human body. What we need is a thermohumiuitymeter.

Masked Men

Enter a Yarmouth Farmer's House and Rob Him.

Secured $6 and a Gold Watch — Nine Tramps Arrested.

St. Thomas, Ont., Aug. 8. — This morning about 3 o'clock five men made an entrance into the house of a farmer named Secord, living about two miles east of the city. They had their faces disguised, so that it will be difficult to recognize them should they be brought to trial. After demanding the valuables in the house, from Mr. and Mrs. Secord, which they handed over to them, being $6 in cash and a gold watch, they proceeded upstairs to the children's bedrooms to see if more could be forced from them. One of the ruffians choked the oldest girl, about 12 years of age, until she was black in the face, and left the marks of his nails on her neck. Not being able to secure anything more in the shape of cash, they left. This morning Constable Fairbrother went to the scene and arrested nine tramps in the vicinity of the house, five of whom admitted they had slept in a barn not far from there. Mrs. Secord thought she recognized one of them. They are all lodged in the county jail.

Serious Stabbing Affray on the Windsor Dock

Over a Game of Craps—A Chatham Court Fracas.

Mr. Bagnall, Grand Trunk roadmaster at St. Thomas, has been transferred to Chatham.

The St. Thomas board of trade will run an excursion to Sarnia on Aug. 17, taking in the river trip.

North Essex Conservatives will nominate a candidate for the legislature on Aug. 28. Dr. Reaume is spoken of as the standard bearer.

The Grand Trunk Railway, it is understood, will make Sarnia the power terminus for the future, instead of Fort Erie. Already several train crews have been notified to move to Sarnia.

The longshoremen's, bricklayers', and other labor organizations of Windsor have begun preparations for the holding of a celebration in Walker's Grove on Labor Day. In the morning there will be a parade of different societies and in the afternoon there will be all kinds of sports and games at the grove.

A number of tramps on Thursday congregated in the barns of G. T. Crowe, at Prairie Siding, near Chatham. Some of them were smoking and set fire to the barns, three in number. The whole three were totally destroyed, along with the season's crops, farm implements, etc. The loss is estimated at $4,000. No arrests were made.

John Yates, butcher, Yarmouth, had his leg broken below the knee Friday. He, with Ald. McCallum and others, was killing cattle. He undertook to kill one of the animals, but did not strike a powerful enough blow. Instead of killing he stunned the animal, which staggered and fell over upon him, breaking his leg.

Before Squire McQueen, at Chatham, on Friday, Felix Shreeve, George Shreeve and John Shreeve were arraigned on a charge of larceny. The first two were committed for trial, and the case against the third dropped. A fracas ensued between the magistrate and one of the lawyers, which was stopped by the constable.

John E. Gordon, of St. Helens, Huron county, a prominent and much respected citizen, died Saturday after an illness of six days, of Canadian cholera. Mr. Gordon was a native of Forfar, Scotland, where he was born Jan. 31, 1827. Coming to Canada just after the rebellion of 1837, he settled with the rest of his family at Bayside, Whitby.

Col. Willis, the retiring United States consul at St. Thomas, is a wit. His successor, Michael J. Burke, of Chicago, desired to know if it would inconvenience Col. Willis if he (Mr. Burke) did not leave Chicago until the 28th, and the colonel replied that he would not be inconvenienced if Mr. Burke did not leave Chicago until four years hence.

A serious stabbing affray occurred on the Windsor docks Saturday. There was a quarrel between Wm. Foster and Walter Leech, two colored men, resulting in the latter being severely cut by the former. The quarrel was over a game of craps. Leech accused Foster of using loaded dice. Foster pulled a knife and gave Leech two severe cuts, one down the side and the other across the thighs. All those who were in the game immediately ran for shelter and Foster escaped to the ferry dock. Officer Livingston was notified of the cutting and he at once caught Foster and placed him under arrest.

SPIRITS USE TRUMPET.

Their Ignorance of the Indian Alphabet Leads to Tumult and Pistols.

Wichita, Kan., Aug. 6.—A party of Spiritualists from Fort Smith, Ark., gave a seance at Sallisaw, I. T., last night, which was attended by many Indians, half-breeds and a few whites. The mediums used a trumpet for the conveyance of messages from the spirit land, which was arranged so that the muzzle of it protruded through an opening in the curtain.

The audience watched the proceedings with awe and wonderment. Finally, an educated Indian named Walking Stick called for the spirit of Zquoyah. Walking Stick then asked: "Who invented the Cherokee alphabet?" The trumpet answered, giving a long Indian name. The Indians knew that Zquoyah himself was the inventor and became indignant.

A tumult arose, during which revolvers were fired and a rush made for the curtain. All the paraphernalia was destroyed, but the mediums escaped through a window into the woods or they would have been roughly used and possibly killed.

HANDLING RUNAWAY HORSES.
Philadelphia Press.

Do you suppose that you have strength enough to stop a team of runaway horses by simply pulling on the reins? It isn't a question of strength, but of skill, excepting, of course, those instances where the harness breaks or a broken whiffletree keeps banging against the horses' heels. Even then skill will count where mere strength would amount to nothing. If a team should become frightened, and set out to run away a woman can handle it as well as a man if she does not lose control of herself. All she has to do is to guide the horses judiciously and keep them in the road. Even a runaway team will respond to the reins, and if a collision can be avoided the horses will eventually stop, when they find that they are really in no danger. The man never lived who is strong enough to stop a runaway team with the reins only. The woman who knows how to talk to horses as well as to guide them can handle them as safely as any man that ever breathed.

The Dairy Market.

LONDON.

At the cheese board on Saturday 20 factories offered 3,479 boxes, 1,070 of which were white. The cable quotation for both was 39s 6d. These cable quotations do not, however, seem to have much effect upon the price of cheese in this country, and whether it be high or low there is little fluctuation on the London board. The bidding was brisk, and ranged from 8 3-16c to 8½c. There was a feeling of uncertainty on the part of some sellers whether to sell or hold for an advance, but the majority sold. The total sales aggregated 2,415 boxes, leaving 1,064 boxes divided between seven factories unsold. Following are the factories represented, showing offerings and the price for which they sold:

Annual Outing of the London and Petrolea Barrel Co.

The Most Successful Yet — The Programme and Prize Winners.

The employes of the London and Petrolea Barrel Company held their eleventh annual picnic at Port Stanley on Saturday, and it was one of the most successful yet held. After the arrival of the morning train the first item on the programme was a ball match between nines captained by W. Standfield and J. Noulty. The game resulted in favor of the former by a score of 7 to 2.

After the contents of the well-filled lunch baskets were fully discussed, the usual programme of races was held, all of which were keenly contested. Following were the winners:

Single men's race—1 J. Noulty, 2 J. Jones, 3 W. Beecroft.

Married men's race, under 40—1 C. Pinch, 2 A. H. Galbraith, 3 W. Smith.

FAGGED OUT.—None but those who have become fagged out know what a depressed, miserable feeling it is. All strength is gone, and despondency has taken hold of the sufferers. They feel as though there was nothing to live for. There, however, is a cure—one box of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will do wonders in restoring health and strength. Mandrake and Dandelion are two of the articles entering into the composition of Parmelee's Pills.

Law for Yukon.

Administrator to Be Appointed by the Dominion Government.

Maxim Guns Sent to the Gold Fields.

Size of Claims Reduced — Postal Arrangements—The World's Output of Gold.

Ottawa, Aug. 9. — The government have reached several important decisions in regard to the Yukon country, and the working of the gold fields there. They are determined to leave nothing undone that is possible to do in order to maintain law and order and enforce the regulations.

It has been decided to appoint an administrator for the district, who will have entire charge of all the officials there and be the chief executive officer of the government. This will be a very important appointment, and there are not a great many men who can fill the bill.

THE MAN.

There is one man, however, fitted especially by training and experience, whose name has been suggested. This is Major Walsh, of Brockville, who recently declined the appointment of deputy warden of the Kingston penitentiary, offered to him by Sir Oliver Mowat. Prior to 1883 Major Walsh commanded the frontier division of the Northwest Mounted Police, which had practically all the active work there was to do, and made such a reputation that when the rebellion broke out in 1885 the federal government sent for Major Walsh, but it was too late, and he would not go up. Combining courage with rare good judgment and discretion, Major Walsh is the very man needed in the Yukon country at the present time, because he has a large experience of the rough frontier life of the west, and is accustomed at the head of a few men to face large bodies of hostiles and quell disturbances. If the government decides to offer the position to Major Walsh, it is to be hoped that in the interests of all concerned he will accept, because his appointment would inspire a confidence that none other would.

TWO MAXIM GUNS.

The party of mounted police to leave next Saturday, the 14th, has been increased from 20 to 35, and two Maxim guns are now on their way to the coast and will be taken into the interior at once. One of them will be in charge of the police post at Tagish, just over the summit, and the other in charge of the detachment at Fort Cudahy. If a body of miners congregate to resist the law or any of the regulations they would think twice before proceeding in that direction if they knew that Major Walsh, at the head of 100 picked men, backed up by two Maxim guns, stood in their path.

While no trouble of this kind is expected by the government, it is nevertheless their duty to prepare for eventualities, and there is a determination to maintain law and order in that district at any cost. The knowledge of this will do much to prevent any disorder.

REGULATIONS AMENDED.

The regulations have been amended in an important particular. At present the size of a claim which a miner is at liberty to stake out is 500 feet, running along with the stream and back to the bank. This has been reduced to 100 feet, and the new regulation will go into effect immediately, or as soon as it can reach the gold commissioners.

LAW COURT ESTABLISHED.

The government has also arranged to constitute a court for the administration of civil and criminal justice. Mr. Justice McGuire, of Prince Albert, has at Mr. Sifton's request, agreed to go out and preside over this court. Judge McGuire was a partner of the late James O'Reilly in Kingston, has for about twelve years been one of the supreme court of judicature in the Northwest Territories, and has made a good reputation as a judge. The government are also constituting a registration district and appointing a registrar, who will be the Hon. Henry Aylmer, of Sherbrooke, Que., a gentleman excellently qualified for the position. There will also be a clerk appointed.

AMERICAN CITIZENS.

Winnipeg, Aug. 9.—Among the passengers on the Pacific Express Saturday evening was a party of United States citizens en route to the Klondike, including Mr. G. Currier, of Washington, and O.E. Jacques, of Atlantic City, N.J. It is said that C.P.R. authorities are in conference with the Dominion Government with a view to opening up a route to the gold fields via Edmonton. It is claimed that a more accessible and less dangerous route is possible than the existing one, and that it can be cut out during the winter, so as to be available for traffic in the spring.

Mr. Cadinghead, a local civil engineer, has received a telegram from Ottawa to hold himself in readiness to accompany a party of surveyors to open a route into the Yukon country. From another source it is learned that the party will leave here on Tuesday and that the route to be inspected is that via Edmonton.

CATTLE FOR THE KLONDIKE.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 7.—The steamer Capilano returned last evening from Dyea, Alaska, where she took 80 head of cattle and horses. All were landed safely at Pyramid Harbor, two miles south of Dyea, and from what can be heard it is thought the cattle can reach the Klondike this fall.

The British Columbia Board of Trade at Victoria, B. C., has, with commendable energy and enterprise, issued a neat pamphlet dealing with the Klondike gold fields.

CANADA'S GOLD PRODUCT.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Mr. Preston, the director of the mint, estimates the gold production of the world for 1896 to have been $205,000,000, of which sum the United States contributed over $53,000,000. That of Canada is given at $2,800,000. The director estimates next year's Canadian product at $10,000,000.

CURE FOR DROPSY.

Only a Positive Symptom—Not a Disease of Itself—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Campbellford, Aug. 9.—An unlooked for and remarkable recovery from advanced stage of dropsy is just made public here. It is the case of Mrs. John Weese, wife of the widely-known veteran stage proprietor, whose life, for months, had been depaired of. From the accumulated water peculiar to this disease she became so helpless as to be unable to drag one foot after the other. She now appears on the street, and says she is as well as ever in her life. And claims that after all other means had failed, she thanks Dodd's Kidney Pills for her unexpected cure

The Lost Found.

The Experience of a Trio of Children From Woodstock.

Came to London and Forgot Their Uncle's Name—Returned to Their Parents.

Mr. Sullivan, of 14 Bay street, Woodstock, who removed to this city from Woodstock on Saturday, had an unwelcome experience on arriving here. It seems that Mr. Sullivan, who carries on a blacksmith business in Woodstock, had sent word to his brother-in-law, Mr. Henry Curtis, who lives a little east of this city, that he would drive to London with his wife and baby, and would send his three children on the train. He asked his brother-in-law to meet them. Grace, aged 10, Hazel, 7, with little Russell, aged three years, came in accordance with arrangement, by G. T. R., to East London station. If their uncle was not there, they were told to go to Mr. Anderson's grocery store on the corner of Hamilton road and Rectory street, and inquire for Henry Curtis. The children did this, but in going down got the name Curtis mixed up with Henry Hicks. Rev. Mr. Hough, who happened to be there, saw the children's predicament, and went to every Henry Hicks in the town. The last one was 853 William street. Mrs. Hicks took the lonely-looking children in and dined them, while her husband set off on a detective mission. He made inquiry at the East London station concerning a man who came there looking for three children. The description secured, the man was traced as far as the Hamilton road. He found that a man answering the description given was named Curtis, and that he was greatly exercised over the loss of the children, whom he had missed at the station. Mr. Hicks went to Mr. Curtis' house, where the father and mother, who had arrived, were almost destracted with grief. They thanked him profusely, and drove to his place immediately, where the children were comfortably awaiting them. Mr. Curtis' home was one of great rejoicing afterwards.

PORT STANLEY DISTURBED.

A Sunday Rumpus Over Trespass on the Property of Mr. Robinson.

There was a nice little rumpus at Port Stanley yesterday morning just about church time over the right of way along the beach in front of Liberty Hill. This property, it seems, was purchased by Mr. J. A. Robinson, of St. Thomas, and as he was annoyed by cattle running at large on his premises, a fence was erected from the hill's summit to the water's edge. For the convenience of the public two turnstiles were put in on either side of the property, but this was not satisfactory to some parties. They took the turnstiles off on Saturday evening and made a bonfire of them. On Sunday morning the residents of Orchard Beach were informed that in future they would not be allowed right of way through his property, and a police officer was, it is said, placed on the premises to enforce Mr. Robinson's mandate. Hence the rumpus. It is likely that if no arrangements can be come to with Mr. Robinson the village will be petitioned to purchase right of way along the beach.

A DINNER PILL.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

A Long Chase.

Followed Through Half a Dozen South American Republics.

And Finally Run Down at Mount Kisco, N. Y.

A St. Catharines Man Evaded His Pursuers for Several Years.

New York, Aug. 9.—After a pursuit lasting seven years, in which the fugitive led his pursuers a chase from Canada, through the United States, to Brazil, and half a dozen South American republics, Alexander Matthews MacRae, a Canadian defaulter, was arrested in Mount Kisco, N. Y., on Friday night, and arraigned before United States Commissioner Shields, and held for examination on the application for his extradition.

The complainant in the formal papers against MacRae is John W. Murray, chief inspector of police of the Province of Ontario, but the real complainant is the Guarantee Company of North America, which has pursued MacRae over two continents and finally caused his arrest, when he was living with his family, in fancied security, having shaken the pursuers off the scent for more than three years.

Its object in pursuing him was to punish him for the loss of $5,000 which the company had to pay when he absconded.

POSITION MACRAE HELD.

MacRae was treasurer of the Security Loan and Savings Company, of St. Catharines, Canada, in 1890, and he held the position for several years. He was looked upon as one of the most trustworthy men financially in that city. Instead, however, he suddenly disappeared, leaving his wife and two children. Another baby came a few months after his departure, but the deserted wife, who still clings to him and tries to protect him, had no word from her husband for nearly four years.

$12,000 WAS MISSING.

After he was gone it was found that $12,000 was missing from the funds of the Loan and Savings Company. It was also found that he had forged a check on the Imperial Bank of Canada, drawn by the Security Loan and Savings Company, and payable to John Reilly, of Merriton, Ont., in discharge of a real estate transaction. The check was dated Oct. 6, 1890, and its amount was $3,310 16.

On the same day, it is charged, he issued another fraudulent check, also payable to John Reilly, for $3,704 02. On both these checks he is charged with having forged Reilly's indorsement.

GUARANTEE COMPANY FOLLOWED HIM.

The Guarantee Company of North America, through its Montreal office, was on MacRae's bond for $5,000, as treasurer of the Loan and Savings Company, and was forced to make that sum good. It immediately set to work, in conjunction with the Canadian police, authorities, to trace the fugitive. The detectives found that he had gone to Montreal from St. Catharines, and that there he had bought a ticket for New York.

MADE FOR BRAZIL.

When they followed MacRae to New York, however, it was found that he had sailed for Brazil a few days before. From Brazil they traced him to the Argentine Republic, and thence to Mexico. In Mexico they lost sight of him, but later learned that he had written to his wife to meet him in New York. This was early in 1894, and from that time until a few weeks ago all trace of him was lost.

ON THE TRAIL.

A Boston detective, who had once done some work for the Guarantee Company, and who had been furnished with a description of the missing man, noticed a guest at the Parker House last May who, he thought, was MacRae. The name on the register was Robert J. Gourley, of New York. He was said to be a traveling advertising agent for the Trotter and Pacer, a sporting paper published in this city.

The Boston detective wrote at once to the Guarantee Company. A Montreal man who knew him waited in Boston until the middle of June, when Gourley returned to Boston, and then was positively identified. From that time until Friday night the representative of the Guarantee Company never lost sight of the man.

FOUND

They traced him to Mount Kisco, N. Y., where they found him in a farm house a mile from the village, living with his wife and three children as Robert J. Gourley. The neighbors told them that the family had been there for three years. Persons who had known Mrs. MacRae in Canada declared she and Mrs. Gourley were the same.

The necessary extradition papers were procured from Canada with a warrant for MacRae's arrest. A watch was set on the house in Mount Kisco, but the detectives had to wait two weeks before McRae went there. Then he was summoned home on Friday night by a telegram from his wife to see their 9-year-old son, who was ill with scarlet fever.

ARRESTED.

When he came he was arrested. At first he denied that he was McRae, but when arraigned before United States Commissioner Shields admitted his identity. He was held for examination.

WIFE BELIEVES HIM INNOCENT.

His wife, who sat beside him, said that he had done no wrong as far as she knew. She also said that their son had suffered a relapse brought on by the shock of his father's arrest, and was in a dying condition when she left home.

McRae has been known in Mount Kisco, the postmaster says, as Henry J. Gourley. His home is a modest one. His wife is well and favorably known in Mount Kisco, but comparatively little is known of her husband, who was away most of the time.

NO ALIENS NEED APPLY

For Work in the Northwest—Unless They Mean to Stay There.

Winnipeg, Aug. 9.—Commissioner McCleary is enforcing the provisions of the alien labor law, and in examination of several men who reached here lately, seeking work on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, he discovered that they had no intention of settling on land, and to avoid further trouble the commissioner has written to all agents of the Dominion government in the United States to be careful in their selection of men. All men presenting themselves have to be suitable farm hands, and desirous of ultimately settling on land in the Northwest. If not, they are refused employment, and in future will be deported out of the country.

CANADIAN LUMBER.

Americans Anxiously Watching the Dominion Government.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 7.—The lumber dealers of this city are anxiously awaiting some move on the part of the Canadian Government regarding the export duty on logs. They are receiving advices daily from their Canadian correspondents regarding the intentions of the government, but up to this time it is difficult to tell what the result will be. An American lumberman, now operating on his own limits in Canada, says that he feels sure that Canada will put on an export duty on logs, although he does not wish to be quoted. Other owners of standing timbers here and there say that they will not operate in the woods this winter as they had intended to, but will wait until a more opportune time. They say that the market is already supplied with lumber for Canada, and their stumpage will not decrease in value, but on the contrary will increase, as the pine in the United States is depleted. One says he can afford to hold his pine ten to fifteen years, and then feel certain that the import duty will have been removed by the United States, and he can then come into this market with appreciated values, and make a pile of money, whereas lumbering at this time would be an uncertainty at least, to say nothing of a possible failure.

GOLD IN ONTARIO.

Rat Portage Wild With Excitement Over a Discovery on Hay Island.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 9.—Reports of rich placer gold discoveries at Hay Island, Ontario, about ten miles south of Rat Portage, are confirmed by news that reached here today. The little Canadian town is said to be wild with excitement.

The discovery was decidedly accidental. Frank Moore, one of the best known prospectors in the Northwest, ran across a deposit of black sand and decomposed rock. Out of curiosity he took up a handful of the dirt and panned it, and to his surprise small particles of gold appeared. The handful of dirt produced $5 in gold.

Assayer Hey, of Rat Portage, has since separated some of the dirt from the same place, and says that it will run from $4,000 to $5,000 to the ton. Samples of the dirt and pannings of gold are being displayed in store windows. Already the search for placer diggings has set in, and prospectors are at work all along the Seine river and Shoal lake.

Fifteen years ago about 3,000 bicycles were annually produced in England. During 1896 over 500,000 were manufactured here.

A Double Cure.

Mrs. James E. Elwood, St. Thomas, Ont., says: "My husband and myself have taken Doan's Kidney Pills. We used them for kidney and back trouble for which we had spent a great deal of money without getting relief. Doan's Pills cured us both in a remarkably short time. I believe they will cure even after all other medicines fail."

LITTLE JOHNNY.

Johnny—Say, pa, I want to ask you a question.

Mr. Sniff—Well, now, I don't know why the spring doesn't sometimes come in the fall, or where the wind is when it don't blow, or whether, if the almanac makers should leave out the month of August, the corn crop would be ruined by September frosts. But go ahead.

Johnny—Why pa, I only wanted to know how it comes that no one but children die in childhood?—New York World.

It is reported that the Canadian Pacific Railway and Dominion Government are conferring with a view to opening up a wagon road to the Yukon from Edmonton. Such a road is feasible, and only between 800 and 900 miles long, and passing through a rich, auriferous country. The object is to give a short and safe road for prospectors, and to be able to maintain winter communication.

THE COAL MINERS' STRIKE.

Situation at Coffeen Mine Said to Have Changed for the Worse.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 9.—A special from Hillsboro, Ill., says: The situation at Coffeen mine is changed for the worse. A number of arrests of strikers have been made. The prisoners were brought here for trial.

A special from Mount Olive, Ill., says the interest in the strike situation of the coal miners in this district is now centered in Coffeen. The president of the village has declared martial law, which has cut Coffeen from all connection with outside communication.

A Circus Row.

Quebec, Aug. 9.—A disgraceful row that almost attained the proportions of a riot marked Friday night's performance here of Washburn's circus. The exhibition was given in St. Sauveur, and the worst of bad blood was evinced between the residents of the place and the circus hands. One of the latter is accused of having violently struck a woman who was peeping under the tent at the afternoon performance. This produced threats of reprisals, and Deputy Chief Walsh, of the police force, warned the circus people that if they employed roughness they would have a bad time.

The evening performance had scarcely begun when a circus hand, for being drunk and abusive, was arrested. His comrades attacked the police, and as there were only four on the ground they were overcome and the prisoner released.

The policemen stood their ground bravely, and were subjected to great abuse. Constable Blackburn was struck so violently on the head with a tent pin that but for his helmet he would have been killed on the spot. Constable Marcoux had his arm struck and all but broken. Constable Bussieres was struck upon the head, and Constable Coleman was slightly stabbed. The entire police picket was then called out, and soon the fight became general. Sticks and stones were freely used, and several pistol shots were fired. Then the circus people started their large elephant into the crowd to scatter it, and several are reported injured.

Finally the elephant escaped from its keeper, and rushed to Lower Town, where it was captured in a back yard alongside the Chronicle. Its keeper had his arm broken by the crowd. Several citizens are slightly injured, and some of the circus people are badly hurt. One may not recover. The doctors in the vicinity were kept busy for some time dressing the wounds of the injured crowd.

Over a Year.

"I have been troubled with sick headache for over a year. Lately I have used Laxa Liver Pills, and find that they help me more than any other medicine I have ever taken. They are an excellent pill, causing no pain or griping, and leaving no after ill effects. Miss Mary Ellen Hicks, South Bay, Ont."

The hair of criminals is allowed to grow for three months before they are discharged.

THERE is not a more dangerous class of disorders than those which affect the breathing organs. Nullify this danger with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—a pulmonic of acknowledged efficacy. It cures soreness and lameness when applied externally, as well as swelled neck and crick in the back; and, as an inward specific, possesses most substantial claim to public confidence.

Topics of Today.

The London correspondent of the Edinburgh Evening News says: "I have been told several interesting details of the visit of the colonial statesmen to Hawarden Castle. While having tea under the hawthorn tree, Mr. Gladstone cross-examined Sir Wilfrid Laurier on a thousand matters connected with Canada. He denounced the old colonial style of administration, which had been provocative of so many evils. It was such administration which has resulted in difference of opinion between Downing street and the colonies, which are far from being extinguished. But it was the subject of the new Canadian tariff on which the veteran statesman enlarged most. He appeared to have every detail at his fingers' ends, and the items of a tariff schedule are not things easily remembered outside business circles. He had a lot to say, too, of his knowledge of colonial political history, the drift of which very few people outside the colony concerned know anything about. His conversation during that eventful hour was described to me as being of the raciest, and full of anecdote."

Hon. Thomas Ballantyne, ex-speaker of the Assembly, and one of Canada's largest exporters of cheese, said to the Toronto World Saturday:

"Ontario will have the largest hay crop in twenty years, and the yield of wheat and oats will be away above the average of late years. The weather is suitable for spring grains. Some damage was caused to fall wheat by late heavy rains, but they have done an immense good to root crops. I look for a great improvement in trade; in fact, prospects are exceedingly bright. Exports of cheese from Canada are much larger than last season, and prices are good."

A largely-increased crop of tobacco is being grown in Essex this year. It sells for 10 cents a pound, and a ton is a fairly good yield for an acre. It is liable to sudden extinction by frost, however. This year the fields which one sees along the line of railway are in excellent condition.

New Bicycle Industry.

London Capitalists Going Into the Manufacture of Wheels.

The Premises Leased and the Machinery Being Placed for Turning Out a "London" Wheel.

A new bicycle industry is in rapid course of completion in London, and next spring is likely to see a further material reduction in the price of wheels, which has been coming down now for some time. The company is composed of Mr. William Eacrett, of the 7-cent store, and two other gentlemen. Premises for the manufacture of wheels have been leased on York street, in which a portion of the machinery has already been placed. One of the bicycles to be made will be called the "London." Other grades will also be made. The company expect to have a large force of skilled mechanics at work all winter, which will thus enable them to put a wheel upon the market second to none in America, at a much reduced price.

ODDFELLOWS' OUTING.

Chorazin and May Queen Lodges at Springbank—A Ball Match.

Chorazin Lodge, No. 190, I. O. O. F., accompanied by May Queen Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, held a very enjoyable outing at Springbank Saturday afternoon and evening. The occasion was the 21st anniversary of the organization of Chorazin Lodge. About 150 attended. A baseball match was played between teams captained by Messrs. George Moore, N. G., and Fred Showler, jun. Six innings were played, and resulted in a score of 11 to 8 in favor of Moore's side. A feature of the game was a brilliant catch by ex-Ald. James Fitzgerald at second base. During the game, Mr. J. L. Goodburne, Linotype operator, of The Advertiser, was hit on the arm by a pitched ball, and severely hurt. He will remain at home for a few days and nurse the injured member.

After a splendid lunch, served by the ladies of May Queen Lodge, a programme of sports was carried out, and at 9 p.m. the party returned to the city. The committee of Chorazin Lodge members who made arrangements for the picnic were Messrs. ex-Ald. James Fitzgerald, A. E. Somerville, D.L.Hardey, J. L. Goodburne and J. Vining.

Canovas' Death.

Secretary Sherman Speaks of Its Effect on Spanish Policy.

Canovas Was a Strong Partisan—Senator Morgan Thinks Spain Will Become a Republic.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—Secretary of State Sherman who was interviewed on the murder of the Spanish premier said: "This deplorable event will have some effect of course on the political affairs of Spain, but to what extent I cannot say. The death of one man is not necessarily going to change the sentiment of the whole country. Spain is a very tenacious country. Her money is gone. Her resources have been exhausted. But she means, evidently, to hold on to Cuba. Just how she can do it under these circumstances I cannot see. Yet she is opposed to yielding a point. Premier Canovas was a strong partisan. He was the chief exponent of the element, which was determined to keep the islands at all hazards. Seemingly, Spain is almost a unit on this. Canovas was a strong factor in the government of Spain, but it is not impossible that another will be found to replace him in that important office, having similar views and the same pronounced ideas. How it may be in this case, I am not able to say, but the effects, political, of such an event, are not essentially far-reaching, and have not always produced radical developments. As to the consequences of the conflict in Cuba, I do not care to talk, I have no official information of the assassination, and must refrain from venturing guesses as to what it may effect in the future."

Senator Morgan, a member of the committee on foreign affairs, predicted in an interview last night that the assassination might be the forerunner of a complete change of government, a republic replacing the monarchy. This, he thought, was the present tendency, and yesterday's event he regarded as evidence of the disintegration of the Spanish government.

LITHOGRAPHERS LAMBASTED.

The printers collided with a nine from the London Printing and Lithographic Company on Saturday afternoon and found them "pi." Features of the game were the heavy stick work of the printers and the brilliant muffs of several of the lithos. In the ninth, the latter kicked so hard at the umpire that he threw up the job in disgust. Score:

In the games played by four clubs of the city amateur league Saturday, the Y. M. C. A.s were victorious over Knox Church, and the Waterloos won from the Maple Leafs. The former game was played at Springbank on the north side of the river, and possessed many interesting features. Lynd struck out ten and Creighton nine. Following is the score by innings:

TORONTO'S PLUCKY FIGHT.

Globe: At last the Torontos, under the guidance of Manager X. L. C. R. Irwin have attained to the eminence of being the leaders in the race for the Eastern League pennant. The struggle has been an arduous one, and at the first of the season the Torontos looked to be hopelessly out of it. But, by everlastingly sticking to business, playing the game in all its ramifications, the Torontos gradually crept up notch by notch, until, from last place in the league, they have gained the position of leaders. Their poor showing at the beginning of the season was due to the failure of the pitchers to round into form quickly, although the team worked well behind them. At the present time it is doubtful whether any other club in the league is as well provided with pitchers as Toronto. Dineen, Norton, Gaston, Williams and Staley are a quintet that is hard to beat. As far as hitting is concerned, there is not a team in the league that is performing so consistently in this respect as the Torontos. Every man, with the exception of a couple of the pitchers, is batting about the .300 mark.

TORONTO ENTHUSIASM.

Globe, Monday: Just as the second game commenced, the result of the first contest between Buffalo and Syracuse was bulletined, and the 4,000 people became aware of the fact that the Torontos were now leading the league, and a tumultuous burst of cheers broke forth, and it was some moments before the game could be continued. Shouts for Manager Irwin were heard on every side, but he would not show himself. Later on in the day Irwin walked across the field, and it was the signal for another uproarious wave of applause.

GUELPH'S HARD LUCK.

Hamilton, Aug. 9.—This is Hamilton's civic holiday, and two games are being played here today. This morning's game was a fine exhibition, and was won by Hamilton in the ninth. Score: R. H. E.

TAFFY FOR LUTE.

Umpire Phelps says there are two pitchers of the Canadian League who are sufficiently fast for the Eastern League. They are Johnson, of London, and Cochrane, of Hamilton. Buffalo may get one of them. Johnson has a world of speed.—Buffalo Express.

FLYS.

The Y. M. C. A. baseball team have made arrangements to play the dentists a game at Tecumseh Park Friday afternoon.

During the time that Klobedanz, of the Bostons, was laid off with a sore hand, he failed to show proper consideration for his club by taking on eighteen pounds of flesh.

The Bostons have eight men with a batting average of over .300. They are Stivetts, Duffy, Long, Collins, Tenney, Klobedanz, Hamilton and Stahl in the order named.

A crank has wisely asked, "Where would the Giants be if it were not for Amos Rusie?" Not to be curt, it may be answered that they would be floating around somewhere, down—well, they would not be in fourth place. That is certain. It really is wonderful how much confidence the New York players have when they know that they have Rusie in their midst. They look upon him as some big personage, to whom it is a privilege to be allowed to speak. And most assuredly Amos is something out of the ordinary. He is the greatest pitcher in the league. He has held the New Yorks together. It is phenomenal that he is pitching so well this season, considering his idleness last year.—New York Telegram.

The work of the Torontos since June 4, when they occupied last place, is noteworthy. Then they had 20 defeats to their credit, and have only lost 15 games since, while adding over 40 victories and working their way gradually through the ranks to first place.

The Torontos have been victorious in thirteen games in eight days, and have won four double-headers inside of a week.

ATHLETICS.

RUNNING RECORD BROKEN.

London, Aug. 9.—F. E. Bacon, the English champion long distance runner, at Halifax yesterday undertook to break the five-mile record of 24 minutes and 40 seconds, made in 1863 by Jack White. A thunder storm made the track heavy, but Bacon, paced by a bicycle and by Watkins, covered the distance in 25 minutes and 20 seconds, and finished first. Bacon recently broke the record for all distances under one hour.

At the annual meeting of the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen, held at Brockville Thursday, a communication was read from the London, Ont., boat club, stating that owing to the dormant condition of the club it was impossible to pay the membership fees. The accompanying resignation was accepted and the name of the club ordered to be struck off the roll.

Spain's Senstion.

A Successor to the Murdered Premier Chosen.

Madrid, Aug. 9.—The Spanish newspapers express great indignation at Golli's crime. Even the periodicals with republican leanings praise the services of the deceased statesman.

The cabinet sat until 2 o'clock this morning and decided to publish in the Official Gazette today, which will appear with a black border, the appointment of Lieut.-Gen. Don Marcelo De Azcarraga, the minister for war, as premier ad interim.

Barcelona, Aug. 9.—Golli, the asassin of Senor Canovas Del Castillo was known here under the name of Achillolli. He formerly worked as a compositor, and was also known under the alias of Jose Sonto. He was classed as a militant anarchist, and was an intimate friend of Ascheri, the perpetrator of the outrage in the Calle De Cambros. Golli fled from Barcelona after the outrage referred to.

Rome, Aug. 9.—The assassination of Senor Canovas has caused a feeling of horror here. Many flags are half-masted, and the premier, the Marquis Di Rudini, and the cabinet ministers have paid personal visits to the Spanish embassy.

King Humbert has telegraphed his condolence to the queen regent.

The pope is greatly upset by the news of the assassination, and, on receipt of it, immediately sent to the Spanish embassy for details of the crime. His holiness also telegraphed on the subject to Madrid.

London, Aug. 9.—The afternoon newspapers, in their comments upon the assassination of the Spanish prime minister, expressed themselves on the same lines as the morning papers, remarking upon the incomprehensible idiocy of the murder of the man who was mainly responsible for giving universal suffrage to Spain. They also advocate the suppression of anarchism by force, pointing out that the history of nihilism in Russia proves that force consistently and steadily applied is the remedy for clearing out the pestilent gang.

The St. James Gazette regards the death of Senor Canoves Del Castillo as being a heavy disaster for Spain.

New York, Aug. 9.—Advices received here today from the heads of the different Cuban juntas in the United States all voice the sentiments that Senor Canovas was more responsible for the outrages in Cuba than was Gen. Weyler. The Cubans do not believe in murder, but the killing of Canovas seemed to be an act of retribution.

AILSA CRAIG.

Ailsa Craig, Aug. 7.—Principal Althouse, of Rectory street school, London, returned home on Friday evening from visiting friends in Parkhill and McGillivray.

Mr. Alex. F. Stewart, of Bay City, Mich., brother of Councilor Stewart and John Stewart, of East Williams, is visiting his old home and friends around the neighborhood.

Mrs. J. H. Hey and family left here this morning on a two weeks' visit to her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Owen, of South London.

Messrs. R. J. Robinson, of Ailsa Craig, and Black, of Fergus, shipped two carloads of cattle for Montreal today.

Mr. Willie Shipley, of Boston, youngest son of Mr. Wm. Shipley, of this village, accompanied by his wife, arrived on Friday evening to visit his father after an absence of several years.

Mr. David Thomas, jun., arrived here yesterday with a carload of farming implements, household effects, horses, cattle, etc., from Granville, Ohio. Mr. Thomas will commence farming again on his old homestead near Fernhill, East Williams, where he had left about twenty years ago to seek his fortune in the land of the Stars and Stripes.

CHAPTER XVII.

"Where have you been, Nell?" says Cecilia in a fretful tone. She is lying on a lounge in her boudoir with her head buried in pillows, and a pale blue silk handkerchief. Pale blue, if you can't get green, is the best thing for making one look ill.

"Is your head hurting you?" asks Nell, advancing anxiously, but noiselessly.

"Oh, yes, of course. It is always aching, I think. And I had another letter from that horrid frock woman today, she says she must have that money. Fancy! A paltry £200, and to be so disagreeable, too, considering all I have spent with her. I don't know what I shall do, I'm sure. I suppose I'll have to tell Peter."

"I can't see why you hesitate," says Nell hastily, seeing Cecilia so prostrate, so evidently overcome, a second wave of wrath against Sir Stephen rises within her breast. It is impossible to let things go without telling Cecilia that at all events she has done her best for her. That she has tried her hardest to give her some of her money—and failed. Failure spells chagrin, and it is with a distinct feeling of humiliation that she makes up her mind to tell Cecilia, "all about it."

"I can't think myself," says Cecilia. "Peter is so good," puts in Nell, with a view to shaking off the evil moment of confession as long as possible.

"Ah! that's just it! I really think he is perfect," says Peter's wife, rising on her elbow and growing positively emphatic, "that is what makes him so impossible. If I could find a fault in Peter, I believe I should li—love him better than I do. But—— Do you know, Nell," she pauses, with an impulsive gesture, flings the blue silk kerchief off her head, and then, as if recollecting herself, throws it on again with a swift glance at the door. To Nell, watching her, a vague, half-sickening feeling comes: is Cecilia altogether real? Has she been posing? Making herself up for some occasion? Cecilia's pale face, and feverish air reproach her, for these thoughts. Even if posing, she is certainly suffering.

"Do you know," Cecilia is saying, "that—it's ridiculous, of course—but I'm a little bit afraid of Peter."

"Of Peter?"

"Not of him, you know, but of what he's thinking. I have a fancy that he thinks a great deal—a great deal that he never says.

"Why, that is the way with everybody."

"With everybody? Yes, perhaps—but I tell you, this, Nell, if ever Peter is driven to say any unpleasant thought of his, there will be bad work all round. It is the quiet people who are always so dreadful in the long run; like the Genii, they are bottled up all their lives, and when some unforeseen circumstance sets them free, they upset the whole apple-cart."

"Let us hope circumstances will stand to us," says Nell, "and keep the cork well in; in the meantime, I insist on saying you are slandering Peter."

"Well, you'll see."

"I'm sure I hope I shan't," says Nell, at which they both laugh, Cecilia somewhat frugally.

"Of course, I know perfectly well," says she, twisting gracefully round, and commencing a tattoo upon the ivory table near her, "that he would do anything on earth for me—anything. I am certain if I told him now about this wretched bill," pettishly thrusting from her a letter lying in the folds of her white gown, "he would not say one cross word to me, but he would think about it! He would think me extravagant."

"Well, so you are," says Nell bluntly. "But one wouldn't mind one's husband thinking that!"

It would seem from this speech that there is quite a gay old time awaiting Miss Prendergast's husband.

"One would, if one's husband was Peter. Besides, he wouldn't use the word 'extravagant,' it would be 'dishonest' with him. He used it that last time—so sweetly, so kindly, you will understand, but I haven't forgotten it."

"One would think you had," says Nell, and then catches her breath.

Her sister stares at her. If Nell had feared her anger from this rather sarcastic little speech, she finds herself mistaken.

"Don't cultivate that sort of thing," says Cecilia earnestly. "You'll never get married if you do! There isn't a soul on earth to whom irony, when directed against itself, isn't abhorrent. Even your good looks won't pull you through, if you persist in it. And as old maids are a blot on creation, I hear they are going to bring in a bill to shoot them!"

At this pleasantry they both laugh, Nell the more eagerly in that she is glad to escape with so small a scolding, though to do Cecilia justice, scolding is always far from her. Perhaps, being so incessantly in need of it herself, she has a fellow feeling for other delinquents.

"Nell," says she, suddenly, feeling a sort of increased camaraderie towards Nell, because of this incidental spurt of laughter. "I'll tell you something," she pulls the girl towards her. "It's a secret, mind! It has never passed my lips before. But——" she breaks off, "you will never so much as think of it again!"

"Never!"

"Well, then, the fact is—I was never in love with Peter. Not actually in love. See? I'm fond of him, you know, specially since Geoffrey came—but . . . it was a hurried thing, and mother . . . you remember, don't you?—it used to be all mother and not a bit of us girls. And—well—I don't regret it, you know, only—— And as you say, he is so good. And I'm quite happy with him, quite. You mustn't run away with things, you know."

She pauses.

"No, no," Nell is looking rather pale, "I'm coming to the funny part of it," says Cecilia, leaning back and laughing an airy, very joyless laugh. "What I want to tell you is that, though I'm not exactly in love with Peter, I want him to respect me! There—it's out. I —you're laughing, aren't you?"—with another very nervous laugh of her own —"It isn't a bit like me, is it? But I confess I value his respect more than anything in the world. That"—naively—"is why I am so afraid of him."

She ceases, but Nell says nothing.

"Come!" says Cecilia, sitting up on her couch, and making a faint grimace at her sister. "You never thought I was born to respect anything in heaven or on earth, did you?"

"Why not?" asks Nell. There is some pain in her voice. "You know right well what I think of you."

"Do I?" She flings herself back amongst her cushions. "I don't, then. I don't believe I know what anyone thinks of me, and simetimes"—with a reckless upward movement of her head —"I don't care what they think."

"You have a headache, you are unnerved." Nell bends tenderly over her. "It is this horrid bill. Tell Peter."

"No," says Cecilia, with sudden determination. "I shall not do that." She rises to her feet, and flings the boa scarf from her on the floor. "I thought I could do it. I wound my head up in that handkerchief to make myself look ill before him to enlist his sympathy; he's wretched when I'm ill. . . . All a pretense, you see, Nell, all a pretense! I'm only a drifting bit of froth upon the ocean of life—a bubble, a fraud. But I'll pretend no more today. And I shan't tell Peter—I haven't the courage. Come, let us talk of something else. Where were you this morning?"

"I can't bear to tell you."

"Why?" Cecilia regards her with astonishment.

"I met Sir Stephen down on Deadman's Beach, and I asked him to let me have this £200 you want so badly, and——"

"You didn't mention me?" coloring hotly.

"No, of course not."

"Well"—anxiously—"well?"

"He said he could not let me encroach upon my principal, or capital, or something like that. I felt so mad." Cecilia rise to her eyes. "I said all I could, I even—entreated. But, wasn't it"—choking—"horrid of him?"

"Beast!" says Cecilia, briefly, but forcibly.

"So you see, I can't be of any use to you," says Nell, sorrowfully.

"Nonsense! You're the joy of my life," says Cecilia, laughing. "And I'm only sorry you had such a bad time with Sir Stephen, especially," with a sharp sigh, "as no good came of it."

"But what will you do now? You will have to tell Peter of it."

"I couldn't," says Cecila, dismally.

No one heard the door open.

"What can't you tell me?" asks Gaveston, standing on the threshold and looking in a rather questioning way at his wife.

SIR WILFRID TELLS A STORY.

How a Duel Was Prevented After All Parties Were Ready.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the prime minister of Canada, related the other day at a dinner party in London, a somewhat amusing story of a duel at which he officiated as second. In the State of Mississippi, where Sir Wilfrid was staying for a short time, there were two lawyers between whom enmity existed as could be "bred out only by the shedding of blood. A challenge was sent and duly acknowledged. The hour was appointed, and the two men met in a secluded spot. One of them was a great sufferer from St. Vitus' dance, the other was cool and collected.

As they faced each other the afflicted man began to tremble from head to foot, while his pistol described an arc with varying up and down strokes. His opponent stood firm as a rock waiting for the signal to fire. Before it came, however, he laid his pistol on the ground, walked into the wood and cut a limb off a tree, with a fork in the end of it. This he brought back and stuck it in the ground in front of his antagonist. Then turning to the second, he said:

"I must request you to ask your principal to rest his pistol in that fork."

"What for?" asked his opponent's second.

"Well," replied the other, "I have no objection of running the risk of one shot, but I certainly do decline having one bullet making a honeycomb of me. If that man were to shoot me while his hand is shaking the way it is now, he would fill me full of holes at his first shot."

This was too much for the seconds, and by mutual agreement a truce was patched up, and no shots were exchanged.

Provisions Worth Their Weight in Gold — A Hard Country but It Grows Gold—Free and Easy Laws.

Toronto, Aug. 8.—Mr. Warren Shea, brother of Ensign Shea, of the Salvation Army, kept a valuable diary of his trip from Dyea to Dawson City last April-June, and a copy has reached Toronto. It is as follows:

I left Puget Sound on April 14. The voyage up was marked by several interesting incidents, among which was the marriage of a runaway couple, who went ashore at Fort Wrangle, April 9, where the wedding took place. On the 13th all hands turned to and unloaded freight as best we could on life boats on the rocks three miles from Dyea; hired a rowboat for $3 to get our freight to Dyea. Dyea has two stores and three dwellings.

April 16—Commenced work in dead earnest packing on our backs up Dyea River eight miles to the foot of the canyon. Easter Sunday and not an egg in sight.

April 22—Everything at Sheep Camp, 12 miles from Dyea. Plenty of snow, but two and a half miles to the summit. A large glacier half a mile distant, but the weather is moderately warm. Lots of people camped here; a city of camps. Dogs everywhere. I saw one team of 14 in a string, all Alaska dogs. They look like wolves, but nice and smart, and it is surprising how they pull. It is laughable to hear the driver yell, "Mush, mush," at them, and if they don't get in and dig you generally hear something stronger. A pack pony that was sold in Kent for $10 sells here for $200 or $500, and dogs $25 to $100.

On April 28 we got everything on the summit of Chilkoot Pass, except the tent and a little grub. Weather too rough to make the pass.

May 1—Started across the summit and made Lake Linderman at 8 p.m., nine miles, in a blinding snow storm. Ed. Whittemore and party were lost two days there in a storm, with no wood. Had to eat raw grub.

May 3—We crossed the Lake Linderman on the ice, eight miles, hoisted sails on our sleds and went along very comfortably with our entire outfit.

May 5—Made permanent camp for boatbuilding, twenty miles down on Lake Bennet, on what is known as West Arm. We joined hands with four other fellows and were six days whip-sawing lumber for three boats. Timber is small, average ten inches, mostly spruce.

May 14—Went on a two days' hunt up an unnamed river, plenty signs of moose, but got none.

On May 24 we celebrated by launching our boat. We had no champagne, but we slapped her with a side of bacon and christened her the Victoria. She was built by Taylor's plans, and he was named captain, with "Bill" as first mate. "Joe" and I were deck hands.

May 27—Made Cariboo Crossing, at foot of Lake Bennet.

May 28—Got up at 1 a.m., and made about 40 miles. Weather very rough, and several times we would have been swamped had we not had a good boat. We were obliged to camp for three days on account of ice, about the middle of Mud Lake. Plenty of game. About 200 boats tied up. Met Whittmore and party again, and other friends.

May 31—Got across Mud Lake and down Thirty River, 26 miles to Grand Canyon. Thirty Mile River is rather sluggish, with low, smooth mountains around it. Plenty of grass land.

June 1—The Grand Canyon is about three-quarters of a mile long and about 40 feet wide, with about 75-foot walls on either side. The water runs through like a mill race; saw two scows and three small boats swamp, losing all their goods, but nobody drowned. We got through, and only shipped about two buckets of water. After leaving the canyon we had two miles of swift water; river full of big boulders, and it was with the utmost care we got through safely. Then comes the White Horse Rapids, the worst of all. Only one, a scow, ran them, and swamped, but she was loaded with "booze," and didn't lose much. White Horse Rapids supports a pretty good-sized graveyard, and every year adds many to the list.

June 3—Made the head of Lake Le Barge.

June 4—Got across Lake Le Barge, 30 miles, and down Thirty Mile River, which is a bad river, very swift, and it makes a fellow squirm to go sailing along and see small boards here and there, marking the grave of some poor fellow, and wondering if you are next. We pitched camp at the mouth of Hootalinqua River, here we met the outgoing mail carrier and sent letters home. The river here takes the name of Lewis, and it is an elegant stream; no boulders; indeed, a beautiful country. Traded three cups of sugar for fifteen pounds of fish, with Indians, and paid $1 for a quarter of a mountain sheep.

At 4:45 p.m., June 6, we made Five Finger Rapids, so named by being five fingers or pillars of rock. We kept the right hand channel, getting through safely, and at 4:30 six miles below, made Pink Rapids. A good many swamped; plenty of ducks and geese. At the mouth of Pelly River we strike the Yukon proper, which is an immense river, with many small islands, about a six mile current.

June 9—Arrived at Klondike River, or Dawson City, and all feeling mighty good in getting here O. K. The town is on both sides of the Klondike. We pitched camp on the south side, on what is known as Louse Town. Everything is all excitement; lots of buildings going up; was offered plenty of work at $10 per day.

On the 13th we visited the mines, which are from 6 to 10 miles distant, and I hardly like to tell you what I saw for fear you might think the climatic changes had a bad effect on my cocoanut. But here goes: Most of the mines are just fairly prospected. A claim consists of 500 feet up or down the gulch and from rim rock to rim rock. Everything numbers from Discovery Claim. Bonanza Creek has 100 below and 70 above Discovery, and claims will average about 500 feet square, with from 2 to 6 feet of pay dirt, and ranging from 25 cents to $200 to the pan. Bonanza is a branch of the Klondike.

Then comes Eldorado, a branch of Bonanza, with about 100 claims, and surely the richest in the world. It is a common thing to get from $300 to $800 to the pan on bed rock, and on the dump one can see the gold thick in the gravel. Berry brothers have one of the richest. I got acquainted with them, and they showed me their gold dust in sacks, cans and bottles. One of them went out two days ago to San Francisco with $150,000 that four men took out in five months. This is a difficult country to mine in. The ground never thaws deeper than one foot, and the Lord only knows how far it is frozen down. They thaw the ground by building fires on it. It is a good thing this country is rich in gold. I do not see how people stay as long as they have. it tells on them. One can tell an old-timer as far as he can see him. Lots of cases of scurvy. One poor fellow was found dead in bed. He had $12,000 under his pillow, and was going on the first boat out to his sister's in San Francisco. There is lots of grub here now if you have the price, but I anticipate that it will be a little bit shy in the winter.

The postoffice is in a saloon, with no postmaster. Anyone wanting mail can help himself. It took me one hour to find two letters for myself, and I can safely say I was never more delighted in my life. I would hardly advise anybody to come to this country. I certainly shall make only one trip, and that will be out of here. It might be well for a single man with a rugged constitution to come in, but I tell you it's far from a pleasure trip. The weather is warm and nice now, but it must be "lightning" in the winter time. There were probably about 1,000 people on the trail. I spent several days prospecting, could get from two to ten colors most anywhere. It seems as though gold grew here. It takes about 20 days to sink a prospect hole to bedrock, say about 25 feet deep, but frequently there are plenty of colors on the surface when there is nothing on the bedrock.

There are 20 Canadian police here, but they let the miners settle all disputes and criminals. Anybody caught stealing will either be hung or given five hours to leave town, and if he has no grub he is given 75 pounds and a boat. Then if he does not go, out comes the hemp. There are a few women, some of them married and some not, one dance house, several saloons, three stores, one small saw mill; lumber is $150 per thousand; logs $50; flour, $60 a sack, and everything in proportion. News is almighty scarce. No papers. Any old paper is worth $1.

HUMAN BODY DESTROYED

Successful Experiment With the Use of Crude Potash.

Chicago, Aug 7.—The experiment of destroying a human body by the use of crude potash was successfully carried out today. The body was destroyed with the exception of a few small splinters of bones, in two hours. Of the fleshy substance only a small quantity of fluid about the consistency of molasses remained. The experiment was made under the orders of the prosecution in the case of Adolph Luetgert, the rich sausage manufacturer, who is charged with murdering his wife and disposing of her body in the vats at his factory.

The theory of the prosecution was that Lueigert placed the body of his wife in a solution of crude potash and cold water, raised the solution to a boiling point and destroyed all traces of his alleged crime. A few small bones were said to have been found in a vat in the factory. The state has wound a complete web of circumstantial evidence about the sausage maker, but the fact that a body could be thus destroyed has been disputed. Today's test settles that point beyond a doubt. The cadaver was cut up, placed in the solution, the fire was started, and in a short time the flesh had completely dissolved. The frame did not melt so quickly, but at the end of two hours nothing remained except a few splinters and a small amount of fluid. The attorneys for the state were entirely satisfied with the test and believe the last link in the chain of circumstances has been found to connect Luetgert with his alleged crime.

ARMY OF THE DEAD.

U. S. Veterans Fast Joining It — But Nearly a Million Pensioners Left.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The pension roll of the United States has almost reached the million mark. Commissioner Evans has just issued a statement showing that at the beginning of this fiscal year the pensioners numbered just 983,528, an increase of 12,850 for the past year. During that year 50,101 new pensions were granted and 3,971 persons were restored to the rolls. Old age and disease, however, is working great inroads into the lists, for there were 31,960 deaths during the year. Other sources of loss were 1,074 from remarriage of widows, 1,845 orphans attained majority; 2,683 failures to claim pensions, and 3,560 losses from unrecorded causes.

HE ATE FIVE MEN.

Denver, Aug. 7.—Alfred Packer, convicted of killing five companions who were lost in the mountains with him in 1873 and eating their flesh, and sentenced to the penitentiary for 40 years, has applied for a pardon. He claims that four of his companions were killed by the fifth, who had become crazy, and that he shot the madman dead as the latter was rushing to him with a hatchet.

ENORMOUS CROPS.

Kansas City, Aug. 7.—The report of the secretary of the state board of agriculture says the yield of winter wheat aggregates 49,502,087 bushels, or with the exception of the crops of '91 and '92, the largest in the state's history. The yield of oats is 25,151,379 bushels. In corn the average condition for the state is 60; in 44 counties it is higher, in 8 it is 90 or above.

A grain blockade is threatened here, there being 1,800 cars of wheat on the sidetracks and more coming.

"My daughter was suffering with catarrh of the stomach, and tried many different prescriptions without benefit. Finally she began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it helped her at once. She has taken fifteen bottles and is now able to work all the time. We prize Hood's Sarsaparilla very highly." ANNA MERRILL. Eaton, Que.

GALLEY'S LATEST SENSATION

Is the Marvelous Cure of Mrs. Yerepa Thomas, Who Had Suffered for Years With Rheumatism.

DOCTORS WERE NO USE

And Barrels of Medicine Only Made Her Worse—Had Given Up Hope Entirely and Began Galley's Treatment With Little or No Faith.

IS NOW FREE FROM PAIN.

Not a day passes that the postmen do not bring dozens of letters from people in all parts of London and surrounding towns, expressing admiration of the grand work Galley is doing in the interests of suffering humanity. Few people realize the magnitude of this work, from the fact that it is almost next to impossible to estimate its extent. Letters are received by the score, where it is requested that no publicity be made of the writers' names; nearly two-thirds of the people benefited by Galley's treatment are thus withheld from the public prints. There are many others, however, whose kindness of heart leads them, in the interests of other sufferers, to allow the facts of their recovery to appear in print. Wherever this is permissible, the names and nature of the cases are given as briefly as possible. But where this appears once, it is safe to say that at least 50 per cent. of names are withheld. Galley makes this explanation to show that only an infinitesimal part of the cures effected by his remedies are made public. Reports and treatment used successfully in some dozen or more (regarded as incurable) cases of Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Catarrh and Female Diseases are now on the desks of Galley's Specialists.

Two of these cases, being nearly a hundred miles from London, which have been treated successfully by mail. The others are in the city, and most marvelous results have occurred. One old gentleman, formerly a merchant, had been so badly crippled with rheumatism that his first visit to Galley's offices was with the utmost difficulty and pain, requiring the assistance of his two sons. In less than two weeks now he is walking around without stick or crutch. Numbers of similar cases might be given where the treatment has been even more effective, and recovery really marvelous.

It makes no difference how many years you have doctored, or how many different remedies you have tried. Do not lose time, but come and consult Galley's Specialists at once. If your disease is curable they will tell you plainly and honestly. If they do not think a cure can be effected your case will not be undertaken. At any rate, you are welcome to the best medical advice on your case, for which not a penny will be asked in return. Under such conditions if you suffer, you have only yourself to blame.

Galley's Invitation.

Galley extends a special invitation to all who suffer from any disease pronounced incurable. Among the long list of cures already effected a great number are Chronic cases of long standing. Hence the longer you have suffered the more necessary it is that you should apply for treatment. Do not think your case is a peculiar one and impossible to cure. Cases of the longest standing generally yield to Galley's advanced methods of treatment. Every variety of disease and deformity are treated.

MRS. YEREPA JONES, 511 Richmond street, says: "I have suffered severely from Rheumatism and Kidney trouble, and experienced some very bad attacks during the last few months. I used most every kind of remedy I could secure, but never got any relief. I finally gave them all up, and decided that it was practically useless for me to waste money any more, as I believed I could not get well. It was a happy day for me, however, when I tried Galley's new treatment. I noticed a change for the better almost from the first bottle, and before the third one was like a new woman. I have now used five of the 25c vials, and can say it has been a happy relief from my former state of pain and agony. I am unable to express my great joy at the benefit I have obtained, but advise others to go and do the same, and I will continue to praise Galley's the rest of my days."

GALLEY'S REMEDIES AT ALL DRUGGISTS.

Home Treatment by Mail.

Galley's new system of medicine is so perfectly arranged that sufferers at a distance, unable to see the great Homeopathist, can be treated at home equally as well as though present in person. If you cannot come to London, send for GALLEY'S GUIDE TO HEALTH, with blank forms for information and advice. Your case will receive immediate attention from members of Galley's staff of physicians, who attend distinctly to this work and no other. No charge will be made for medical advice by mail.

Omelet with Peas—Break six eggs into a basin, beat thoroughly, adding a pinch of salt, dash of white pepper, and two tablespoons of cream. Have spider hot and well greased; pour in and shake almost continually. If one has two tablespoonfuls of cooked peas or asparagus tops, or string beans, they may be heated and added now, scatter on top lightly and roll up in the omelet.

Hot Corn Bread—Scald two cups of cornmeal with one pint boiling sweet milk; add two tablespoons sugar or molasses, a pinch of salt; let it cool slightly, then stir in yolks of two eggs well beaten, also full tablespoon melted lard or butter. Lastly add the two whites, well frothed, stirring in lightly. Grease and heat pans; have oven hot. If in one pan bake one-half hour, if in gem pan twenty minutes.

Meat Rissoles—Make rich biscuit dough, roll out into little squares, put upon each of these a good spoonful of calves' liver, which has been boiled, seasoned, and finely minced into a paste, with a trifle of onion and butter added. Cold chicken, meat or veal is also nice if liver is not liked, but be sure whatever is used is well minced and seasoned; add the butter as you put upon the square. Now fold over the edges and pinch carefully together. Bake in rather hot oven; serve hot.

Creamed Apple Sauce—One quart cold apple (green) sauce, one light cup powdered sugar, one cup rich milk (cream if possible), whites of two eggs, well frothed. Mix sugar and cream until well dissolved, then add whites of eggs and pour over the cold apple sauce. This dish will only require six minutes if apple sauce is ready.

Baked Vegetable Soup—Convenient to make on baking day, as it can occupy the back of oven and be taken out for a time if space is needed and returned without detriment. Put into jar or deep pan that can be tightly covered about two pounds of lean beef or mutton, cut into many slices; one tablespoon salt, one teaspoon pepper, four onions, two parsnips, four carrots, two turnips, six potatoes, six tomatoes—the latter previously scalded and skinned, the others pared or scraped and cut into pieces the size of a pigeon's egg. Add to this three quarts of cold water when put in oven. Never use cooked meat for this soup and keep tightly covered always. Two hours will make this nicely. If water falls much below three quarts add boiling water upon opening to serve.

Rolled Beefsteak, with Browned Potatoes—Two pounds round steak, remove the bone. Make dressing of two cups of bread crumbs (dry), one-quarter pound salt pork, chopped very fine, dash of pepper; omit salt, but add seasoning of sage, parsley or onion, as preferred. Spread this over the steak, then roll up carefully, tying at least three places to keep carefully in roll form. Put in dripping pan, with half a pint hot water, and tablespoon lard; bake in moderate oven, basting often. Brown the potatoes in same pan. Make gravy of drippings and pour over meat and potatoes served on same platter. Cut meat from end

Re-Echoes From the Hop.

And Notes of Observations Taken on Fraser Heights.

Proof Positive of the Advantages of a Stay at the Port—Effective Way of Getting Over a Boundary Difficulty.

A harvest moon, white duck trousers, and a well-waxed floor wooed pretty belles from London, and neighboring towns, to attend the Fraser Saturday night hop.

* * * *

More notice should be taken of that fine piece of tennis ground that lies beside the Fraser House. It has also been suggested that that rousing champion of the racquet, Mr. Chas. Hyman, would find an appreciative audience if he should ever care to get up his muscle for an hour or so on the heights, taking care, however, to have himself placed with that famous serve of his, with his back to the wire netting, so that custom house officers in Cleveland may not be collecting duty on "cut balls" from the Canadian side.

* * * *

Mr. George Reid is with us again, and the heights know it! George finds dancing these nights as warm as stringing up six unprincipled disturbers of the peace of a lawful Grit mass meeting and appealing to their better natures with—"moral suasion."

But it's in the lake, when the breakers are rough, and at the taffy pulls, when the taffy won't "pull" that the girls can't do without him.

* * * *

The hop was the brighter for some minutes after the arrival of a gay party headed by "Maysie's" beaming smile, which came over from Rustico. There would be something wrong with the hop, to those who frequent it, were Miss Fraser's bright, familiar presence to be absent.

* * * *

Miss Pearl Edge, the dainty little fiancee, was present; and took the moderate share of enjoyment, which was all that was possible under certain existing circumstances (soon to be remedied) with the sweet equanimity of a Dresden China shepherdess.

* * * *

Oh! but the chaperones and the big brothers had a scramble for it Saturday night as it drew near to traintime, and the gentle fair were not forthcoming.

"Where is Alice?" "Oh! have you seen Gussie?" said the distressed mammas, rushing about wildly, as they peered, with all their glasses on, into shady nooks on the verandah, or even penetrated the sacred recesses of the "little summer-house where you just go to cool off for a minute."

* * * *

Senator Greene, from Springfield, is the best living advertisement possible of the good effects of never going back on Port Stanley. He was seen at the hop, looking better than he has done for years, and to the warm congratulations of his numerous hosts of friends he attributed it all to his having never missed a summer at Port Stanley for the last 25 years.

* * * *

Mr. Bert Lind seemed to be enjoying himself.

* * * *

Mr. W. Hobbs, M. Janie Hobbs and a party were down during the day; but did not stay for the hop.

A rarely winsome young maiden whom we depend upon to hold her own for "chic" against fair American cousins who are trying the Port this season, is Miss Ethel Richardson, and well she can do it.

* * * *

Apropos of American cousins, the Canadian girl is a Crawford peach; and a softer bloom is never seen anywhere than on her cheeks; but she can't put on her clothes like Miss Casey, of Detroit, and she is the very first to acknowledge it, for generous admiration and frankness are not among the least of her nobler characteristics. She can afford to be generous, for she knows she looks better on a wheel, under the sun, than any other girl in the world except her English cousin.

* * * *

Among the various parties from the cottages, the sweet face of Miss Margaret Burns was particularly noticeable. Miss Burns is adding to the young life along the heights, and for a few days is the guest of Mrs. Robert Burns.

* * * *

A very diminutive maiden, who pleaded hard to be allowed to stay up for the hop, and wear her "rose-veal" (veille) dress, was carried out by her indulgent uncle at a later hour, when she hardly knew whether her frock was "rose-veal" or "green-veal" (veille).

* * * *

Miss Brooks, of Detroit, is said to have severely damaged a brave Canadian heart, which she will bear away with her when she crosses the border again this week.

* * * *

The Orchard Beachers had too much business on Saturday night in attending to Mr. Robinson's fences, to put in much of an appearance at a tame entertainment like a hop. War to the knife is now raging between the orchardites, who wish to be allowed to pass along the beach, and Mr. Robinson, who, as I understand, puts barbed-wire fences down to the lake to prevent them. Meanwhile, like the gods of Olympus, we, seated on the heights, watch the play from afar. Our advice to the combatants is to come up here and cool off; for we have always held that it is hot down there on the beach; or, if it is war to the death, off with socks, doughty Orchard Beachers, and wade out into the water, past the obnoxious fencing, and never fear a summons in the morning from Mr. Robinson.

The confidence of the people in Hood's Sarsaparilla is due to its unequaled record of wonderful cures.

It is the custom in Lima, Peru, to keep animals on the roofs of the houses. A calf makes its first appearance on the roof, and never descends until it comes down for beef.

If you suffer from looseness of the bowels, ANGOSTURA BITTERS will surely cure you. Beware of counterfeits and ask your grocer or druggist for the genuine article, prepared by Dr. J. G. B. Siegert & Sons.

It is calculated that in large ocean steamers like the Campania more than 3,000 artifcles of glass and china are broken on every voyage.

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly, and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery etc., in the market
